Week's Wit

A deer hunting party became lost and one of the members was quite panic-stricken over "being lost." His companion said, "don't worry. We'll shoot an extra deer and the game wardens will be here in a couple of minutes."

Ground Broken for New Apartment Complex

Contractors participating in Wessing's groundbreaking were, left to right: Jeff Del Ponte of Del Ponte Brothers Construction, Del Ponte employee Todd Rohlinger, Albert Fleischman of Campbellsport Building Supply, Nick Mueller of Mueller Excavating, developer Jim Wessing of Kewaskum, John Gitter of Gitter Construction, and Ric Leitheiser, representing M & I First National Bank of West Bend. Missing from the photo was Al Beisbier of Kettle Moraine Electric.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Tuesday for the construction of a new ten-unit apartment complex being built by developer James Wessing of Kewaskum.

The recent completion of the Knights Avenue extension through Wessing's Creekview Estates subdivision, out to Highway 45, has made it possible for Wessing to go ahead with the project which is expected to be completed next spring.

Wessing's plans also include the future construction of a second 24-unit apartment complex just north of the present construction site.

In addition to the two apartment sites, the subdivision also contains thirteen 100-foot lots for single family homes which are now available for construction. These are large lots said Wessing, most city lots are about 70 feet.

Wessing noted his subdivision has many extra amenities not normally offered by a developer. Some of them are an underground sump pump line which will allow all the homeowners to hook up their systems to drain off their properties without running water into the streets or sewer, a parcel of land which will be developed into a small village park for the neighborhood and natural gas which has already been run into the subdivision.

One lot has already been sold, said Wessing and the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Miller, expect to be in their new home by Christmas.

Wessing said he is especially proud of the fact that all the work on the project is being done by local contractors and suppliers. The excavating is being done by Mueller Excavating, the mason work by Del Ponte Brothers Construction and the building materials coming from Campbellsport Building Supply, all of Campbellsport. Gitter Construction will be doing the carpentry and Kettle Moraine Electric will do the electrical work. Both companies are from Kewaskum. The project is being financed by M & I First National Bank of West Bend.

KMS Principal Jones to Finish Out School Year

Board to Study Recommendations On School Boundaries Realignment

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

In a non-action presentation, School District Administrator David Heather asked the members of the Kewaskum Board of Education to look over his recommendations and plan to re-align the boundaries of the three elementary schools beginning with the 1990-91 school year.

By moving boundaries to the east, enrollment in the kindergarten through fifth grades would be changed significantly, eliminating some of the larger class sizes which have been of concern to parents of elementary school students this year.

Heather said he was not seeking any action from the board on his plan. He merely wanted them to see and study one of the options open to the district in reducing class sizes. Heather noted that before any actual changes were made all families involved or affected by the plan would be notified by letter and invited to attend informational meetings which will be held at the schools so parents could see the plan as well as give their input to the board.

Heather did feel the boundary line changes he is proposing are more equitable than those presently being used. "Right now the boundaries follow roads, which, in some areas result in students on one side of the road going to one school while students on the other side are bussed to another school." With the new proposal, all the students along a road would go to the same school.

As far as numbers, Heather projected the realignment would result in 30 students moving from Farmington to Kewaskum, and 29 going from KES to Wayne. Heather's plan also includes leaving the Wayne 5th graders at Wayne, if the boundaries are moved. He also felt the move would increase the WES enrollment from 95 to 143 students, thereby making better use of that school.

After hearing Heather's presentation board member John Schulte said he would like to see class sizes drop down even lower to 20 students districtwide, at least on the kindergarten through 3rd grade levels. Heather asked Schulte, "Do you realize the expense?" "Not really," replied Schulte.

Board member Ron Beimborn said he would like to have the appropriate facts of what it would cost to re-open Beechwood School. Heather said he would need to know just what Beimborn was looking at. Heather also noted he was against having a school with split classes such as 1st and 2nd, grades, etc. Heather was asked if Beechwood were opened, what kind of enrollment he would project for the school. He thought the figure would be about 78 students.

In other business the board approved the appointment of David Jones as interim Middle School principal for the remainder of the school year and Heather as interim business manager.

The board also approved the addition of two new courses for high school students. They are Creative Writing and Horticulture.

The purchases of a gymnastic mat, two internal walls for the Farmington School and an air make up unit for the high school shop area were approved.

Dr. Heather announced that papers for school board candidacy could be picked up at the Administration Office, with filing dates running from December 5, 1989, to 5:00 p.m., January 2, 1990.

Young Area Man Dies in Accident

An accident over the weekend claimed the life of a 21-year-old Kewaskum area man.

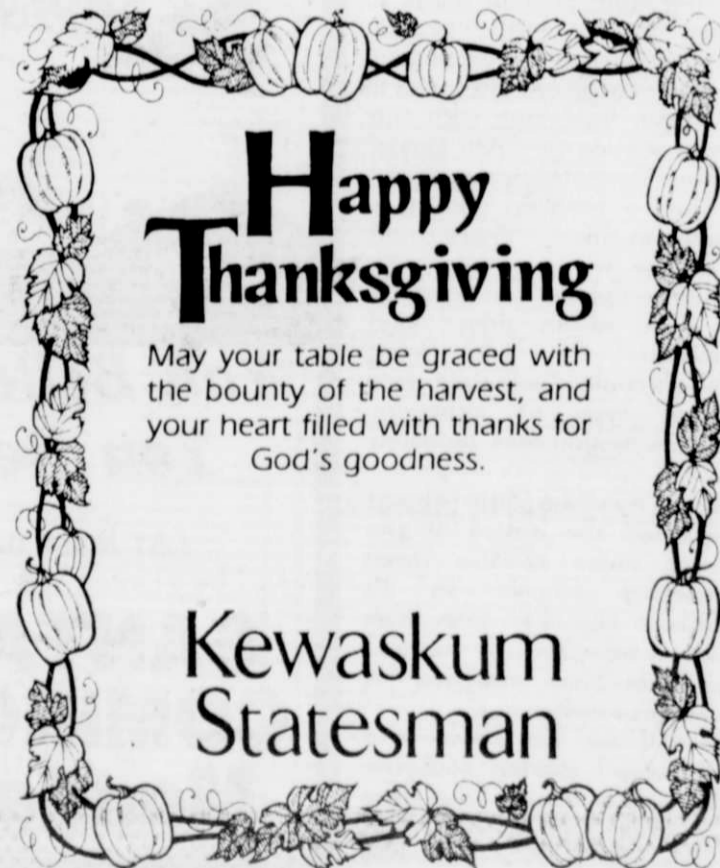

According to the Washington County Sheriff's Department report, Stephen J. Sekeres of 8290 Trading Post Trail, West Bend, was injured when his vehicle skidded out of control on Highway 144 at Sunnybrook Drive in the Town of Farmington at about 1:39 a.m. Sunday.

Sekeres' vehicle struck a culvert, entered a farm field where it overturned, ejecting him.

Sekeres was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital, West

Family Financial Aid Night at High School

On Monday evening Dec. 4th at 7:00 p.m., Kewaskum High School Guidance Department will be presenting "Family Financial Aids Night." All college or technical school bound seniors and their families are urged to attend this informational meeting in the high school cafeteria.

During the session seniors and their families will be introduced to the processes and procedures involved in getting financial aid. Mike Murphy from U.W.W.C will review the procedures necessary to be considered for financial assistance. This meeting is a MUST for seniors and their families who need help in providing financial assistance for continued education.

Board Not Moving Fast Enough, Far Enough

Parents Discouraged by Board's Action on Aides

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Discussion at Monday night's school board meeting was involved, confusing and, at times appeared to be going around in circles. At issue was a request by parents that the district hire more instructional aides to assist teachers, specifically grades K-3, at the three elementary schools.

Mrs. Kathy Boyd, a parent, had brought the issue to the board as a non-agenda item at its October meeting. In a letter dated October 15, Boyd formally asked that the request to hire additional aides be placed on the November 13th agenda as an action item. She specifically requested that "one full time aide be hired, their time to be split between two classes of 25 students or more in the elementary schools, grades kindergarten through 3."

While District Administrator Dr. David Heather was in general agreement with the need for aides, the request, he felt, was discriminatory against the fourth and fifth grade classes.

The matter became more involved and clouded when other factors were brought into the discussion, including adding teachers, reducing class size and Heather's earlier presentation on the possibility of shifting school boundaries for the 1990-91 school year.

After some discussion, board member John Schulte made a motion to adopt a policy to hire an aide when classes reached an enrollment of 26 or more, with a cap of 30, beginning with the second session in 1990. Board member Ronald Beimborn said he "had a problem putting a number on this." "There could be a time when a class with smaller numbers could be in dire need of an aide," said Beimborn. He felt using numbers could eliminate a class in that type of situation. Schulte's motion was defeated 5-2.

Board member Ruth Schmitt questioned the duties of the present aides at the three elementary schools. In all situations she was told their duties were primarily clerical with little time assigned to classroom assistance.

Mary Gosa, the mother of a KES second grader, told the board her child was "in a class of 26 kids, 90% of which had behavior problems. My child is a low to moderate achiever," said Gosa. She felt the disruptive class had a detrimental affect on her child's ability to concentrate in the classroom. Kathy Charland, another parent, felt an aide would free teachers to allow individual and small group work.

Mrs. Gail Van Ess told the board that elementary studies are the fundamental foundation of skills on which students will build for the rest of their lives. "If we settle for average," said Van Ess, "that's what we're going to get."

Marcia Theusch, an FES parent, said the issue of numbers has to be discussed further, however, she noted something still had to be done for this year. "The boundary issue could alleviate some of this and I think that proposal should be looked into quite seriously," said Theusch.

Board member Perry Ankerson told the audience, "I think it's important people understand what the process is. It is very, very difficult to effect change in mid-stream." He indicated it was another example of a special interest pressure group coming to a meeting when the issue concerned them. Ankerson told the parents he would like to see them at meetings where the budget is discussed and decisions have to be made that affect all the people in the district. "If one pressure group gets their wishes mid-stream, then another group will say they want their way and on and on."

While the board was in general agreement that some action should be taken, several members said they had a "hang-up" with putting a specific number into a motion. The majority of the board indicated they were more willing to let the administration look into the matter and return to the December meeting with a recommendation of what was needed and where, in the way of time and personnel.

Boyd became somewhat upset with the way the discussion was going. She told the board it was "skirting the issue of having to make a decision" by putting it back in the hands of the administration.

Several parents felt the board should take specific action immediately. One parent suggested the district follow the procedure of a neighboring district by allotting a set amount for additional aides. When that money is gone, she said, no more aides are hired. That would eliminate the problem of using a specific figure in the number of aides hired.

After more than two hours of discussion between the board and audience, a motion to direct the administration to come back to the board at a special meeting on November 27, with its recommendations, was approved.

Many of the more than a dozen parents who were in attendance then left the meeting somewhat disgruntled that the board had not taken more specific action. They felt a decision on Boyd's request, based on all the input given to the board, should have been made at the meeting that night.

Breakfast With Santa

For five years the FHA-HERO club has sponsored the annual breakfast with Santa, for children and adults.

This exciting day will be taking place on December 2, 1989, from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. Santa will be making his visit to the Kewaskum High School cafeteria, and he will have a gift for every child who comes.

Mr. Bertelsen and his Swing Choir will be filling the air with the holiday spirit by singing Christmas carols at the breakfast.

The FHA will be serving a traditional breakfast of scrambled eggs, sausages, assorted sweet rolls, and beverages.

The cost of the ticket is $2.50 per adult or child. Tickets can be purchased in the high school office. The cost of this event is defrayed in part by the FHA-HERO's funds previously raised.

In the past, there have been sell-out crowds so interested children of all ages are urged to purchase tickets as soon as possible in order not to miss this fun-filled event! Tickets will not be sold at the door.

Building Booming in Kewaskum

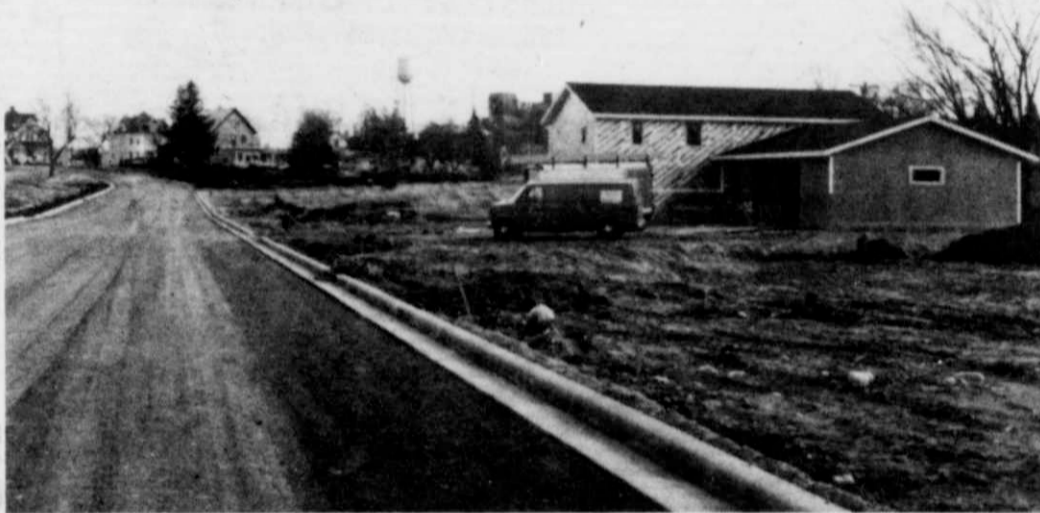

Kewaskum Statesman,
Friday, Nov. 17, 1989, Page 7

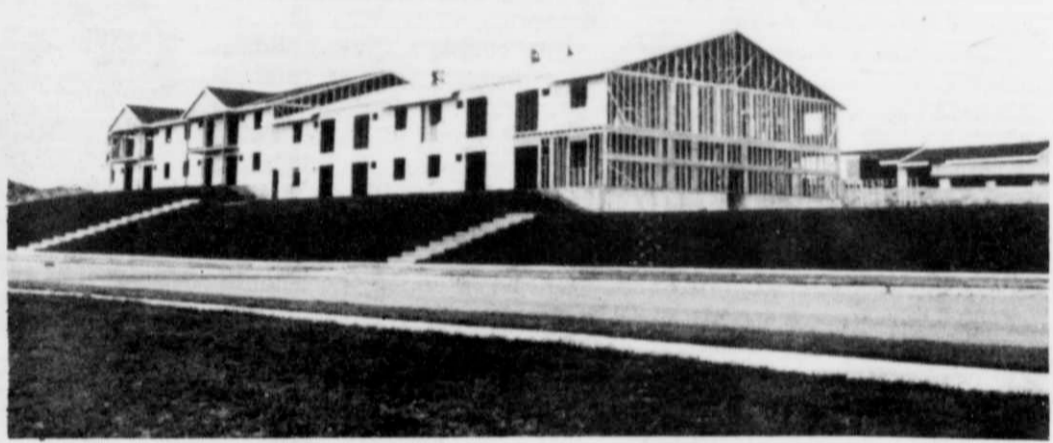

Contractors began working on the footings for the new 10-unit apartment on Knights Avenue and Edgewood Road, being built by developer James Wessing of Kewaskum.

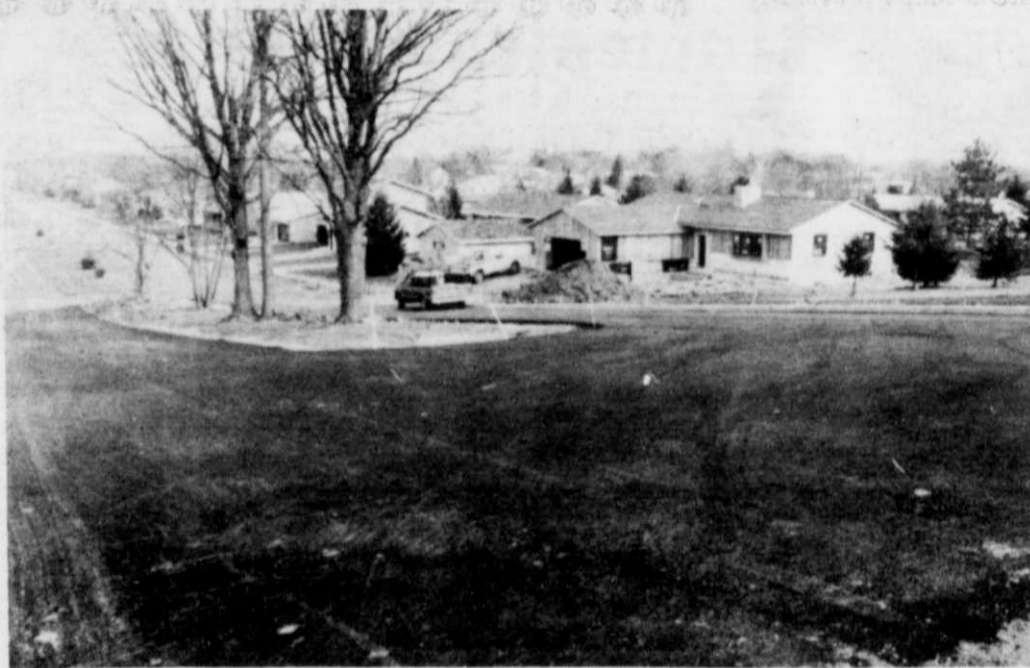

Ground was broken Monday for the construction of an apartment complex for older adults. The project is being built by Drs. Cesar and Aurora Sison directly behind their medical clinic on Fond du Lac Avenue in the village.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Miller is under construction in the new Creekview Estates subdivision located on the northwest side of the village.

The Timblin Townhouses on the southern edge of the village are expected to be completed by early 1990.
Statesman photos by Gerry Mueller

The extension of Edgewood Road has opened more land for residential development. Pictured is the partially completed home of Mr. and Mrs. David Goeden.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

For the Village of Kewaskum, 1989 already looks like it will be one of the best years in recent memory as far as residential construction is concerned.

New or recently completed construction can be seen in almost every quarter of the village. What is most unusual about Kewaskum's construction boom is the fact that there is great diversity in what is being built.

Scattered throughout the village are several new single family homes which are in various stages of construction ranging from recently completed to just breaking ground.

On the south edge of the village the Timblin townhouse project, containing 24 units, is well under way with completion projected for early in 1990, possibly as soon as late January.

Moving a little farther north, ground was broken just off Fond du Lac Avenue, Monday, for the construction of footings for the new Sison apartment complex which is being designed to provide another 42 units for older adults, including a section which will contain Community Based Residential Care facilities (CBRF's) which will provide assistance with living needs.

On the far west side of the village, the extension of Edgewood Road has opened more land for building, with one new home already under construction.

At the northwest side of the village, the extension of Knights Avenue to Highway 45, and the extension of sewer and water service to that area have also opened that portion of the village to include construction of both single and multi-family units. That area includes the Creek View Estates Subdivision where developer James Wessing has already begun construction of a new ten-family apartment building which is expected to be finished next spring. One new single-family home is already under construction on Knights Avenue and a permit was recently approved for a second home.

Not only is new construction up this year, permits for remodeling projects have also increased. To date, according to figures obtained from Village Administrator Dan Schmidt, there have been five new single family building permits issued, three apartment permits representing a total of seventy-two units, thirty-nine residential remodeling permits, five residential additions (including apartments and garages), one new commercial building and eight commercial remodeling permits.

With the completion of the Highway 45 bypass, it is more than likely Kewaskum will continue to see steady growth for the next few years. As more and more people consider getting away from the large cities, communities such as Kewaskum will continue to see growth because they offer both easy access to those large communities while still maintaining their rural atmosphere.

50th Anniversary

Albert and Marie Thill of W4754 Hwy. K, Random Lake, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Oct. 21, 1989 at the Fiver Pillars Supper Club.

There was a dinner for 320 neighbors and relatives, followed by a reception and dancing.

On Oct. 29 a Mass of Thanksgiving was celebrated at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Dacada, with Bishop Arnold Cotey, S.D.S., the celebrant.

The Thills were married Oct. 25, 1939 at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Kewaskum, with Pastor Philip Vogt officiating. The former Marie B. Schaeffer was born June 13, 1916 at Campbellsport, the daughter of John and Regina Schaeffer. Her husband was born Oct. 13, 1915 at New Fane, the son of Nick and Lizzy Thill.

Wedding attendants present for the 50th anniversary included best man Elmer Thill of West Bend and maid of honor Loretta Rheingans of Random Lake.

The honorees enjoy good health and both remain active in the operation of Thill Farms. They are members of St.

Nicholas Catholic Church. Albert is a member of the Holy Name Society, while Marie is a member of the Christian Mothers.

The couple's five children were present for the celebration: Al, Jr. of Parkville, Mo., Jerry of Random Lake, Laura Michell of Cocoa, Fla., Vince of Random Lake and Betty Pardee of Random Lake. They have 10 grandchildren.

Guests attended the celebration from California, Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois and Florida.

Openings in KHS Nursery School

Kewaskum High School Child Development classes have eight openings for nursery school. Nursery school will take place Tuesday, Dec. 5, through Thursday, Dec. 14 from 8:20 a.m. 10:00 a.m. Children should be between the ages of three and five years old. If you are interested and would like your child to be a part of this, please contact the high school office at 626-2166 by Wednesday, Nov. 23.

Holy Trinity Music Specialist to Perform Recital

Ellen Schmid

Soprano Ellen Schmid, of Mayville, will present a vocal recital Sunday evening November 26th at 6:30 in the Commons, Marion College.

Vocal selections will include music of Purcell, Schubert, Mozart, Copland and others. Schmid will be assisted by Ralph Schwartz, bass, David Thompson, piano and Dan Oppenheim, violin.

Schmid has been a soloist with the Marian Community Orchestra, St. Patrick's Choir in the Mozart Mass and Jazz

Mass, the Fond du Lac Symphonic Band at the recent inauguration of President Flanigan at Marian College, Sabre Show, the Marian College Chorus and countless weddings in the surrounding area.

She is currently a music specialist at Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum, and at St. Malachy's School in Horicon. She is also a choral director, cantor, and organist at St. Mary's Church in Mayville, and a member of the Fond du Lac Symphonic Band and the Green Lake Festival of Music.

A Kettle Country Christmas

Connie Polzin Dornfeld of Horicon, recipient of the 1988 KJWC Best of Show Arts Award, will participate in the club's 1989 show scheduled for November 25th at Kewaskum High School in Kewaskum from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"A Kettle Country Christmas" is the theme of the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club's seventh annual art and craft fair, to be held Saturday, November 25th 1989 at Kewaskum High School in Rose Hall, Kewaskum.

Artists and craftspersons from across southeastern Wisconsin will exhibit their original work for sale from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The Junior Club will offer a free quilt raffle ticket with a $1 admission fee. A wide variety of fine arts and crafts, including oil paintings, folk dolls, ceramics, hand-crafted wooden items, country accent items, pottery, stained glass mosaics, stitchery, baskets, lawn ornaments, wedding candles, applique sweatshirts for adults and children, wreaths, and Christmas items of many shapes and sizes will be on display.

Exhibitors from the area include: Kewaskum - Kewaskum High School Booster Club, Christmas evergreen wreaths of various sizes; Debbie Lettow, ceramics; Chris Schoofs, wood painting; Mary Schoofs, floral arrangements, crocheted items.

West Bend - Joanne Habersetter, wooden painted accent pieces; Dolores Marshall, needlepoint and ornaments; Sandy Miller, children's baskets and hand-painted miniature wood items; The Threshold, Inc., ornaments, wooden items, ceramics, Edna Wiesner, beaded ornaments and crocheted items.

Campbellsport - Edith Koerble, geese, brooms, fabric items; Lora Nitschke, Christmas lawn ornaments; Andy Stoffel, wildlife paintings; Kathy Whitty, ceramics with silk flowers.

Lomira - Jerry Davison, woodcrafts, stitchery, doillies. Slinger - Jackie Graff, grapevine wreaths, hand sewen items.

Adell - Dorothy Gasner, craftstick items, hoops, crocheted items.

Cascade - Elsie Jadro, T-shirts and ornaments.

Allenton - Patricia Schulz, wedding candles, glasses, floral arrangements.

In addition to the exhibitors, the Junior Club will be hosting a Santa's Bake Shop and Candy Cane Lane featuring home-baked bakery and candy. Luncheon plates will be available to the public from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The drawing for the Amish Dahlia quilt will be held at 3:30 p.m. during the fair.

Proceeds from the event help to fund educational scholarships, conservation projects, hygiene kits for underprivileged children, safety programs for children, car seat safety, Helen Mears Art Contest for middle school art students, Thanksgiving baskets for needy families, as well as story hour for preschoolers and other service projects.

The Kewaskum Club is affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest volunteer women's organization in the world which is celebrating it's centennial in 1990.

The nice thing about being single is that you can have custody of everything.

Ayer Ensemble Performance to Benefit KEYS

Start your Holiday Season with an enjoyable evening of Christmas music on Sunday, December 3, at 7 p.m. at the High School. The Ayer Ensemble will present their 5th annual concert to benefit the Kewaskum Youth Scholarships Fund.

Tickets are a bargain at $2 each and are available at Miller's Furniture, KL Home and Hardware, B.C. Ziegler, G. W. Music and Kewaskum High School office, as well as at the door. All proceeds benefit the Kewaskum Youth Scholarships Fund.

KEYS invites everyone to come and listen to this very harmonious group.

KEYS also expresses their thanks to the Ayer Ensemble for donating their time and talents.

Peter Ayer, professor of music at UWVC directs this talented group. He and his wife, Carol, are residents of the Kewaskum School District. Three other members of this group also have Kewaskum connections. Bass Gary Gerhartz is the vocal instructor for all the Kewaskum Elementary Schools. Tenor Dave Bertelsen is the vocal instructor at Kewaskum High School and Al Marschner, also singing tenor, is the husband of Kewaskum teacher, Diane Marschner. The Ayer Ensemble was formed in 1982.

Area Departments Battle House Fire

Flames leapt almost 20 feet into the air and huge black clouds of smoke billowed across the sky as firemen from Boltonville, Fillmore and West Bend fought a huge house fire at the Patrick Pischke residence on Hwy. 144.

Flames burned through the roof of the Patrick Pischke home and quickly spread throughout the structure. Firemen were still on the scene at 1 p.m. Wednesday afternoon.

Firefighters from Fillmore and West Bend aided the Boltonville Fire Department in battling a raging house fire late Wednesday morning.

When firemen arrived at the Patrick Pischke home, located at 7966 Hwy. 144, just north of Sunnybrook Drive in the Town of Farmington, the entire second floor was engulfed in flames.

The fire quickly spread throughout the upper portion of the structure. Trucks hauled water from a pond located at the home of Pischke's neighbor Howard Fischer just to the north.

Flames shot 10 to 20 feet into the air and thick black smoke billowed above the house as wind fed the fire.

Firefighters remained on the scene through the afternoon. Boltonville Fire Chief Joe Enright said the fire which began in an upstairs bedroom, was still under investigation and the cause of the blaze had not been determined. No estimate of the fire damage was available.

Pot holders will stay cleaner longer if given a heavy treatment of spray starch.

Home Visits Available for Flu/Pneumonia Vaccine

Washington County Community Health Nursing Service announces an additional service available to Washington County residents who are unable to attend flu and pneumonia clinics because of age and/or disability.

Those individuals who are unable to attend a scheduled community clinic may call the Nursing Service to arrange for a home visit. A nurse will schedule an appointment and come to your home to administer the flu and/or pneumonia vaccine. There will be a charge of $5 for the home visit, in addition to a charge of $4 for flu vaccine and $9 for pneumonia vaccine.

To arrange for a home visit or obtain further information, call the Washington County Community Health Nursing Service at: 338-4462, 644-5204 or 342-2929.

Dan Wilson Recognized

Six Cooperative Extension Service county agents were recognized for innovative agricultural, educational programming at a banquet in Madison, Nov. 8.

They are: Jane Fanta, crops and soils agent in Dodge County; Ruth Hilfiker, crops and soils agent for Racine and Kenosha Counties; Melinda Myers, home horticulture agent in Milwaukee County; John Roach, dairy and livestock agent in Outagamie County; Dan Wilson, community and resource development agent in Washington County; and Jim Schroeder, horticulture agent in Dane County. The awards were presented by Donald Peterson, Extension Agriculture and Agribusiness Program Leader.

Wilson's educational efforts with commercial fruit growers in eastern Wisconsin earned him the excellence award. He takes a leading hand in organizing growers' summer tours and special programs, and proposed additional content such as marketing to programs that have traditionally concentrated on production information.

to Jeffrey Jonathan Spurgat, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Spurgat of Whitewater.

Mary is a 1983 graduate of Kewaskum High School and a 1987 graduate of UW-Whitewater, where she received a BBA degree in office administration. Mary is currently employed as a supervisor at Credit Union National Association in Madison.

Jeff is a 1982 graduate of Whitewater High School and a 1987 graduate of UW-Madison, where he received a BS degree in electrical engineering. Jeff is currently pursuing a Masters degree in electrical engineering at the University of Minnesota. He is employed as an electrical engineer at Control Systems in St. Paul.

Take Precautions When Preparing Turkey

For many people, this is the time of year to start thinking turkey. Taking the right precautions when buying, preparing and cooking your turkey will help you safely enjoy your holiday meal.

If you prefer to buy a turkey well in advance, you'll probably want to get a frozen one. Keep the turkey frozen at 0 degrees F or below until you're ready to thaw and cook it, says University of Wisconsin - Madison extension food management specialist Mary Mennes.

You can thaw your turkey in a refrigerator or cold water without risking bacterial growth, Mennes says. Thawing a turkey in your refrigerator takes four or five days. If you don't want to take up so much space in your refrigerator, thaw the turkey in a sink filled with cold water. Allow ½ hour per pound of turkey.

Buy a fresh turkey only if you do your shopping one or two days before you plan to cook it. Fresh turkeys, like other meats and poultry, are highly perishable. Keep the turkey in the refrigerator at 40 degrees F or below until you are ready to cook it, Mennes advises.

From a food safety standpoint, the U.S. Department of Agriculture does not recommend purchasing whole, stuffed fresh poultry. Raw turkey and stuffing is highly perishable. The cavity of a stuffed turkey fosters incubator - like conditions that promote bacterial growth.

Mennes suggests using ready-to-cook items such as boneless turkey breasts, chicken breasts, cornish hens and pork chops as quicker alternatives. You can save money by stuffing them yourself. If you buy them stuffed, use them by the date indicated and prepare as directed to ensure food safety and quality, says Mennes. Frozen, prestuffed turkeys do not pose a problem but should not be thawed before cooking.

If you buy a pre-cooked turkey, serve it immediately. Eating it right away also assures the best quality, as cooked meat often develops a warmed - over flavor when reheated.

If you don't want to serve a pre-cooked turkey immediately, says Mennes, cool it down as quickly as possible to below 40 degrees F.

To cook the turkey, use a 350 degree F oven. While turkey recipes that promote long cooking at a very low temperature (250 degrees F) have been popular recently, Mennes does not recommend this method because of safety risks. Because of the low temperature, the turkey might take more than 4 hours to reach a temperature high enough to destroy bacteria.

A meat thermometer is best for determining if a turkey is done, Mennes says. A whole turkey is done when the temperature reaches 180 to 185 degrees F in the inner thigh. Dark meat turkey pieces are done at 180 to 185 degrees F and white meat turkey pieces at 170 degrees F.

Using a commercial roasting bag can save an hour or more of cooking time, depending on the size of the bird, says Mennes. Using a microwave to cook the turkey can also save time, but it may cook unevenly.

Avoid leaving the cooked turkey out for more than two hours because bacteria can multiply significantly, Mennes notes. To play it safe and save time, make up smaller platters of food ahead of time and keep them in the oven until you need refills for the table.

To store leftovers, first remove the stuffing from the bird and the meat from the carcass, Mennes recommends. Store them in meal-size portions in shallow containers in the refrigerator. Don't let them stand at room temperature, she advises. Leftover turkey will keep in the refrigerator for three or four days. Freeze the turkeys if you can't use it that soon. Stuffing and gravy should be used within one or two days.

Thanksgiving Origin

"They begane now to gather in ye small harvest they had, and to fitte up their horses and dwellings against winter..." That's the way Governor Bradford's brief report of the first Puritan Thanksgiving in 1621 began.

There were only fifty-five in the colony at the time to observe the oldest and most distinctive of American festivals — a holiday that antedates July 4 by more than one and one-half centuries.

C. L. Norton reports in the Magazine of American History, 1885, that Thanksgiving was observed irregularly until 1680 when it received recognition as an annual festival.

As the West was settled, Thanksgiving was one of the customs the pioneers carried with them. It was not until 1862-3, however, when President Lincoln recommended a special day of Thanksgiving, that the holiday really became a national institution, observed in every section of the nation.

This Thanksgiving women throughout the country will prepare a Thanksgiving dinner quite similar to those served for close to three centuries. Instead of an electric stove or modern gas range, however, colonial dames used old-fashioned ovens or an open wood fire. In Governor Bradford's day they feasted for almost a week instead of a day. But the basic Thanksgiving menu hasn't changed.

Town of Farmington Landfill Now Permanently Closed

Saturday was the last day the Town of Farmington Landfill was in operation. The landfill will be closed and covered Nov. 15. However both Farmington residents and non residents will still be able to take their recyclables and garbage to the Paradise Dr. location. Michael Berres, who has been the landfill custodian will operate a private recycling center and garbage collection station at the landfill location.

Berres plans to be open three days a week. The new hours will be: Tuesday 9-12, Thursday 2-5, and Saturday 9-1. He will accept scrap metal, tin, aluminum, small household appliances (toasters, mixers, etc.), wire, cardboard, paper, magazines, books, glass, plastic, drain oil, and lead acid (car) batteries for recycling. Garbage will be accepted but there will be a charge of 50 cents for each 30 gallon bag.

Larger items such as stoves, refrigerators, TVs, furniture, bed springs and mattresses may also be brought to the old landfill site, but there will be a nominal fee from $2 to $5 for each item. Barrels full of ashes will also be accepted for a fee of 50 cents to a $1.

Tires and construction materials, (drywall, etc.) will not be accepted, according to Berres. If there are any questions on an item, Berres asks that he be contacted at 692-2972.

Berres offered the following procedures for recycling:

Drain oil — Bring in milk jugs, or containers which may be left.

Wire — Crushed or rolled, free from all posts.

Newspaper — Bundled, tied, packed in grocery bags (not plastic) or boxed.

Magazines and books — Separated but handled like newspaper.

Cardboard — Flattened and boxed or tied.

Plastic — Pack in large bag or tie handles together.

Tin cans — Rinse, labels may be left on, don't have to flatten.

Glass — Separate by color, rinse, DO NOT CRUSH! Labels may be left on.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

A big thank you and scout salute to the thousands of residents, businesses, news media, volunteers and scouts who helped to restock the food pantries in the county area served by the Bay-Lakes Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The success of this third scouting For Food Good Turn is due to you. This year's total is 600,000 cans and nonperishable items, 300 tons of food. Glacier Edge District, which serves Ozaukee and Washington Counties, accounted for 34,000 of that total.

A special thank you to the Schowalter, Edwards & Sanfilippo law firm which donated their $1,000 food prize plus $300, and George Prescott of the Prescott's Pick & Save Store, who allowed ten scouts to have a "Collection Spree" at his store and donated the additional $874 worth of food they collected.

Thanks to Captain Michael Stylianos and the 961 Engineer Battalion of the Army Reserve for providing trucks and personnel at the outlying collection sites, and transporting the food to local pantries.

Our appreciation to Dora Zillmer, District Good Turn Chairman; Lynn Ehren, our Collection/distribution Chairman; and James Kasper, Participation Chairman.

Some Rule Changes for 1989 Gun Deer Hunting Season

MADISON, WI — Deer hunters are reminded that some new rule changes are in effect for some certain deer management units for the 1989 gun deer hunting season, which runs from Nov. 18 - 26.

First, boundaries for deer management units 54B, 70B, 70G and 72 have been changed. Hunters with Hunter's Choice permits for those four units must be aware of the various boundary changes.

Deer hunting in Units 74A and 74B is buck only for this season. These two units are located in western Vernon and western Crawford counties.

The deer season firearm options have been modified in Unit 59B for Buffalo, Chippewa and Pepin counties. Handguns, shotguns or muzzle-loaders are required the first two days in Pepin County, while rifles may be used the remaining seven days. For Chippewa County and the small portion of Buffalo County in Unit 59B, the season is open to all firearm options, including rifle, for the entire season.

Some continuing rules are important to remember.

It is illegal to hunt within 50 feet of the centerline of a roadway or discharge a firearm, shoot an arrow or bolt from a crossbow from or across a highway. This rule applies to all public roads which are either paved or indicated on a current Department of Transportation county highway map. The exception is on unpaved firelanes, which are usually shown as dotted lines on the county highway maps.

"This makes practically all hunting along, down or within 50 feet of the center of any road illegal," Ralph Christensen, DNR chief warden said.

Hunters are reminded that coyote hunting is closed across the northern part of the state. The coyote season is closed to protect an endangered species, the eastern timber wolf, known to inhabit this territory.

Shooting a wolf is subject to both state and federal fines.

Night shining is illegal between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. from September 15 through December 31. Shining is casting a beam of light on a field, forest or other area for the purpose of illuminating, locating or attempting to illuminate wild animals. Legal shining can take place prior to 10 p.m., but the individual cannot possess or be in the company of anyone possessing a firearm, bow and arrow, or crossbow.

A person may use a light at the point of kill while hunting on foot for raccoon, fox, or unprotected animals during the open season for the animals hunted. Hunters may still use a flashlight to find their way into and out of hunting areas, but are warned not to shine the surrounding areas while passing through, as it is then considered shining and is illegal.

For more information contact: Bureau of Law Enforcement — 608-266-2141 or District Law Enforcement or Wildlife staff.

Lyme Disease and Deer Hunting

Lyme Disease is an infectious bacterial disease primarily carried by ticks commonly found in deer. The major natural carriers of the Lyme Disease bacterium are the white tailed deer and the white footed mouse. The incidence of the disease in Wisconsin has been increasing each year. Deer hunters ask: "Can I get Lyme Disease in the cold weather? Should I be concerned about cleaning the carcass? Is the meat safe?"

The bacterium which causes the disease has been found in deer ticks (also called the bear tick). Many, but not all, deer ticks carry the causative organism. Deer ticks found on the western side of the state seemed to be more highly infected than those on the eastern side of the state.

There is no evidence to date that the disease can be transmitted by handling venison or coming in contact with deer meat or blood, although hypothetically, this would seem possible. As a precaution, you might wear rubber gloves when dressing out the deer carcasses.

The main threat in working with venison comes from having the ticks transfer from the deer to people. Long sleeves and long pants with tight fitting cuffs are recommended when handling deer carcasses. A daily check of the entire human body for ticks is important. These preventive measures are recommended even if a hunter doesn't bag a deer, since the tick can be picked up walking through the woods.

Unattached ticks can be simply brushed off the skin. Imbedded ticks should be removed by grasping them with a tweezers and tugging gently but firmly at the place where the barb enters the skin. Save the tick for possible later identification.

If the bacterium should survive in the raw meat of deer, it would be destroyed by cooking the meat or processing sausage to an appropriate temperature (145 degrees or higher). Tests have shown that bacterium is destroyed if internal temperature reaches or exceeds 145 degrees F.

It is important to cook your meat well done.

If hunters follow precautions in the field and while dressing out the deer and if the cook prepares the meat properly, there should be no problem in acquiring Lyme Disease.

Weekly Health Tip

From Tom Kennelly

DIVERTICULITIS

It occurs when tiny pouches form in the wall of the colon and become inflamed. Avoid constipation and bowel straining. Don't take laxatives, which can irritate the large bowel. The U. of Cl. Wellness Letter advises adequate dietary fiber, obtained from eating more fruits and vegetables [raw and unpeeled are best] - also whole grains. Wheat bran in casseroles and bakery is very helpful. These are good practices for the health of any digestive tract, whether diverticulitis or not.

Steve Joas and Tom Strachota discuss the important role of the Dairyland weigh wagons. Dairyland will have more wagons available for plot harvest and yield checks this year than ever before.

Dairyland Seed recently added four weigh wagons to its fleet of 20 wagons for 1989. This will give Dairyland Seed the most weigh wagons it has ever had. Dairyland purchased the weigh wagons because of the increased need among farmers for more precise information as to how products are performing in their fields. In addition, Dairyland Seed will have a record number of DST (Dairyland Strip Trial) plots to be harvested this fall.

According to Dairyland Executive Vice-President, Tom Strachota, "Weigh wagons play two important roles for us at Dairyland Seed. First, they allow us to obtain accurate information from our DST plots. These DST plots are an extension of our research because they have check varieties, we are able to compare our product lineup to other products being offered in the industry. In addition, they give us an excellent opportunity to see how our new products and experimental hybrids will perform across a wide range of locations and farm management practices. This information will be vital to the selection and introduction of these experimental hybrids into our product line in the future."

The second purpose for these weigh wagons is to allow Dairyland Seed to do side-by-side comparisons with competitive products. "Many farmers would like to put up extensive DST plot on their farms, but just do not have the time or tools available to conduct such a plot. Everyone can plant hybrids side-by-side. This provides us with an excellent sales opportunity to go nose-to-nose with the competition. We thrive on this as we can prove to the farmers that our hybrid corn lineup is superior," said Strachota.

Dairyland Seed is a third generation family seed company, headquartered in West Bend, Wisconsin. Dairyland presently has research facilities located in Clinton, Wisconsin, Sloughhouse, California, and Gibson City, Illinois. Dairyland's major research thrust focuses on hybrid corn, soybeans, and alfalfa.

November is Big Month for Deer/Vehicle Accidents

Motorists are more likely to hit a deer during November, October and December, in that order, than any other time of year, according to the Department of Transportation.

Most crashes will occur between 5 and 10 p.m. with the peak time between 7 and 8 p.m.

"It's the rutting season for deer," explained Dave Cipra, analyst for the Traffic Accident Section of the Division of Motor Vehicles. "The season begins in early October and reaches its peak about the third week in November. The deer are very unpredictable, and the number of vehicle accidents rises proportionately."

"In 1988, deer caused 15,583 accidents with 445 causing injuries compared to 14,873 crashes and 453 injuries in 1987," said Cipra. "Some 97% of the deer accidents in 1988 involved only property damage."

Statewide, deer-vehicle accidents accounted for 12% of all accidents.

Cipra pointed out that the greatest number of deer accidents occurred in the counties of Marathon (825), Marinette (630), Dane (590), Waupaca (584), and Portage (748).

"Numbers show that hunters are becoming more careful and safety conscious during deer season and I hope that the same will happen with motorists when they're traveling through deer country," said Cipra.

He recommended several techniques to avoid hitting deer:

* Always be on the alert for deer, especially at dusk and dawn when they're feeding. Try to travel during daylight hours.

* Watch for deer warning signs on highways, which indicate a large deer population in the area. Also be on the lookout when driving on roads near densely wooded areas or open fields where deer may be grazing.

* Remember that deer often travel in groups. Always look for a second deer.

* Don't swerve to avoid a deer. You could hit an oncoming car or overturn your car in a ditch.

* If a deer jumps out in front of you be prepared to come to a complete stop. Watch the stop lights of the vehicle in front of you as a warning signal.

THE AFFORDABLE DIFFERENCE...THE AFFORDABLE DIFFERENCE...

25 Years Ago

Nov. 13, 1964

A rural Campbellsport youth was killed last Friday and his brother was quite seriously injured when dynamite exploded in a tree stump at their farm home on County Trunk W, south of Eden. Killed in the blast was Allen Waldschmidt, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Waldschmidt. Taken to St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, with severe facial injuries was his brother Paul, 15. Fond du Lac County Coroner Frank Decker related that a charge had been set under the stump but did not look as though it would explode. He said Allen apparently moved closer to investigate and just as Paul moved up to warn his brother to get away because he heard something "sizzling," the charge went off. The younger, boy, standing almost on top of the blast, was killed instantly by the explosion as it hurled his body 100 feet through the air. Paul standing further away, received a blast of dirt in the face.

George Bauer, 51, owner and operator of the Bauer Hotel and Supper Club in Campbellsport, who formerly operated a tavern in Kewaskum, died Monday, Nov. 9, at University Hospital, Madison. He had been ill for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Butzke of R. 2, Campbellsport, will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary, on Sunday, Nov. 15, with open house for relatives neighbors and friends at St. John's Church and School New Fane.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thill, R. 1, Random Lake, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 25, by entertaining 75 relatives and friends at a dinner at their home and supper in their honor in the St. Nicholas parish hall, Dacada.

Now at home in Kewaskum are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heider, newlyweds of Oct. 17. Mr. Heider and his bride the former Lucille Bergin, both of R. 2, Kewaskum, were married in Ev. United Brethren Church Cascade.

Miss Mary Jean Klug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Klug, Random Lake and E. Michael Dovegan of Milwaukee were married Oct. 24, at St. Michaels Church, St. Michaels. Miss Barbara Ehnert of Kewaskum served as one of the bridesmaids.

Henry O. Stenzel, Milwaukee, was elected president of the Kettle Moraine Bike-Hike Club at the annual meeting in Fond du Lac last Sunday. Curtis Romaine of Kewaskum was elected vice-president, Victor Broome of Fond du Lac, secretary and Kenneth Mokrose of Shorewood, treasurer.

The following guests attended the 64th birthday celebration of Mr. John Kral and the 13th birthday of his grandson, Lloyd Kral of West Bend, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kral in the village. Sunday, Nov. 12, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Skalitzky and family, Racine, Mr. and Mrs. Kilian Kral, West Bend, Arnold Kral and Mrs. Elizabeth Kasten, Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Kral and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Uelmen and family, Kewaskum and Miss Dorothy Sabish of Elmore.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Christ Schaefer, Sr. in this village Tuesday evening to help the venerable lady celebrate her 85th birthday anniversary.

Patricia Twohig was the only pupil of the Armstrong School, Osceola District No. 8, who had perfect attendance for the first nine weeks of school. Six students were enrolled.

Banns of marriage were announced in the St. Michaels Church Sunday for Sylvester Klein of East Valley, Town of Auburn, and Miss Veronica Staehler of St. Michaels.

Members of his former congregation and numerous friends here were at a loss to learn of the death of Rev. Fred Greve, retired Lutheran clergyman and former pastor of the St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran Church in Kewaskum. Rev. Greve passed away at his home in Jordan, Minn., where he had moved after spending 39 years as pastor of St. Lucas Church in this village.

Nov. 14, 1914

The sudden death of Miss Nettie Schiltz, daughter of Chas. Schiltz, Town of Scott, on last Tuesday morning has caused a sensation. The cause of death up to the time of going to press still remains a mystery. The circumstances surrounding the death of the sixteen-year-old girl were of such peculiar nature that Dr. N. E. Hausmann of this village became suspicious and called upon Dr. E. Bemis of Batavia to conduct an investigation. The coroner after questioning various parties about the circumstances leading up to the death determined that a post mortem be held, whereupon the stomach and one kidney were removed and sent to the state board of health at Madison where they will be examined by experts. It is expected that a coroner's inquest will be held next Tuesday to determine the cause of the death of the young girl.

Charles Rietz, proprietor of the noted Silver Creek Distillery No. 18, was instantly killed shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday

Madison, WI — The most important things hunters should take with them when they venture out into the woods for the annual deer hunt this fall isn't their guns, licenses or tags, according to a Department of Natural Resources official.

"When hundreds of thousands of people with firearms all head out to our state's forests and fields on the same weekend, it is vital that they are armed with a knowledge of hunting safety and common sense," says Robert Tucker, a hunter safety specialist with the DNR's Bureau of Law Enforcement.

Tucker credits Wisconsin's Hunter Education Program with helping reduce the number of hunting accidents. Persons born after January 1, 1973 must successfully complete a hunter education course and receive a hunter education certificate in order to purchase a hunting license.

While the certificate is not required for people born before that date, Tucker recommends all hunters complete the course. More than 350,000 people have completed the course since it began in 1967.

Another factor Tucker cites as helping reduce accidents is the mandatory use of blaze orange clothing. State law requires hunters wear clothing above the waist that is at least 50 percent blaze orange, including hats or hoods.

"Last year was our safest year since we started keeping night when his auto ran off the road and turned turtle about one and one-half miles northeast of Boltonville. The wreck was discovered about 9:30 by William Groshaus and investigation disclosed the fact that Mr. Rietz was lying under his car and had died instantly of a broken neck.

John Herriges, successor to Joe Uelmen, took possession of the saloon and mercantile business at St. Michaels Wednesday, having purchased the same. Mr. Uelmen and family moved into the former Joe Theusch place across the street which he bought and will only work the farm on the former place.

Make Your Deer Hunt a Safe Hunt

records," Tucker said. "Still, there were 65 reported accidents, including five fatalities." Those statistics don't include what is becoming one of the most common accidents involving injuries: hunters falling out of trees.

"We've had people fall out of trees and break their backs and necks, but because the injuries were not the result of a gun discharging, they are not technically considered hunting accidents," he said.

However, Tucker added that tree stands can contribute to firearm accidents. "Sometimes hunters drop their guns or try to climb with loaded guns, and end up with an accidental discharge that strikes a companion or themselves."

To avoid such accidents, Tucker suggests hunters using tree stands should use a rope to raise or lower the unloaded gun. Additionally, always use a safety line around yourself when in a tree stand to prevent an accidental fall.

Other hunting safety tips Tucker recommends include:

- * Be sure of your target and only shoot when you have a clear, unobstructed view;
- * Be sure of the background behind your target;
- * Hunt with a partner, know where your hunting partner is at all times and make sure your partner is a safe hunter;

* If you must hunt alone, make sure someone knows where you are and when to expect you back;

* Never hunt within 100 yards of a building occupied by people or within 50 feet of a road

* Keep your firearms safety on until ready to shoot and check the safety while hunting;

* Unload your firearm whenever crossing fences, climbing trees, maneuvering around other obstacles or taking a break;

* Count shells when unloading, visually inspect to be sure your firearm is empty

* Never use alcohol or other drugs before or during the hunt;

* Carry a compass and a compact survival kit to prevent and treat injuries, start a fire and provide nourishment;

* Know your firearm, get it accurately sighted, target practice before the hunt.

Tucker said DNR officials want hunters to enjoy the hunt and bring home their deer, but emphasized that no deer is worth taking a chance that might injure yourself or another person.

Quality Hay Auctions Important This Year

If you're going to need hay this year, it will pay to visit one of the 124 Quality Hay Auctions scheduled throughout the state from late November through April.

Dan Undersander, University of Wisconsin - Madison extension forage specialist says some hay quality is so poor this year that you'll need the added assurance of quality that you get at these auctions, where every lot is tested with near infra-red analysis.

And if you have good hay to sell, Undersander notes that the auctions will attract a lot of potential buyers, and you'll be able to get the price that high quality deserves.

The auctions are sponsored by livestock associations, forage councils, University Extension, and the state Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. You can get dates and locations for auctions nearest you from your county UW-Extension office, from Equity Cooperative Livestock Sales (608) 356-8311 or Midwest Livestock Producers (414) 782-6378.

Hunters Advised To Save Deerhides

To many sportsmen autumn means deer hunting. Although most hunters look forward to dining on venison, fewer consider keeping the deerhide.

"All too often, hunters do not request that the butcher return the deer hide," notes Lyn Schuette, president of W.B. Place deerhide tanning and garment manufacturing firm in Hartford, Wisconsin.

According to Schuette, many hunters don't realize the value of a deerhide. "The hide can be tanned and manufactured into a custom-fit garment for much less than it costs to buy a similar item from a retail leather store.

Generally speaking, one deerhide can produce three pairs of gloves, three pairs of moccasins or a purse. Four to six hides are required for a jacket; six to eight for a long coat.

"A hunter can have his deerhide made into smaller accessories or save tanned hides for a few years to make a coat or other garment," says Schuette.

Other hunters prefer to have the hide tanned with the hair on for display as a wall trophy.

Schuette recommends that hunters use the following procedure to prepare a deerhide for shipping to the tanner:

1. Remove the hide using the knife as little as possible.
2. Spread the hide flat, flesh side up.
3. Salt the entire hide on the flesh side with three to five pounds of table salt.
4. Dry the hide with the hair side out.
5. Roll up the hide with the hair side out.
6. Wrap the hide in paper for shipping. Do not use plastic! Include a note indicating whether you want it tanned into leather or as a hair-on trophy.

Once a hide is tanned it will last indefinitely. It may be stored in a cool, dry place until enough hides have been saved to make the desired garment.

"Just a little effort can result in a beautiful, durable garment that will last for years to come," says Schuette. "After all, it's your hide. You should benefit from it."

For more information about preparing a deerhide for tanning, call W.B. Place & Co. at 1-(800) TAN-HIDE.

KHS Spikers Put Three On All-Conference Teams

Senior Karen Felix provided enough "spike-kills" for our Kewaskum volleyball team to earn herself a spot on the EW conference first team. Felix, a two year regular for the Indians was noted for her aggressive net play and strong spiking ability. "When the coaches vote for "All-Conference" they go on who they remember and who is outstanding," Coach Rizzardi stated, "and Karen is definitely our best spiker." Felix also led the "block" category for the team with 17.

All-around athlete senior Tina Weddig was named to the 2nd team and noted by Coach Rizzardi as one of the top setters, said Rizzardi about Weddig, "she plays a real smart game...knows how to cover the floor." He also noted however that its tough to get a setter on the first team line-up.

Weddig led the team in serving with a 96% average, missing only five serves out of 126 attempts. Weddig now goes from volleyball to concentrate on basketball, where she is a starter, and from there, throws shot put in track. Quite a contribution she makes to the KHS athlete program putting out a super effort in everything she does.

Senior Andrea Fliess received "honorable Mention" to cap off the Indian honored recipients. Fliess, at 5'10" used her height well at the net for KHS and was second on the team in spikes with 36. She also led the team in "tips" with 7.

Said Coach Rizzardi with these selections, "Given our 6-6 record, to get girls on each team level is excellent."

In their awards banquet celebration, Tina Weddig was voted Most Valuable Player, while Karen Felix and LeeAnn Winninghoff shared "captain" honors. Most Improved Players were Rachelle Zuehlke and Kelly Rohlinger.

KHS Gymnasts Look Forward To An 'Eventful' Season

Senior Chris Ramthun is this year's gymnastics hopeful.

Coach Sue Paul-Kenfield is looking optimistically into the 89-90 gymnastics season, with 13 returning gymnasts including six letterwinners.

There are also 11 new gymnasts out this season including 10 freshmen to add to the sold core of veterans and prove for an exciting year now and in the future.

Letterwomen returning to the mats, beams and other various apparatus include Senior Chris Ramthun, juniors Ingrid Ankerson, Wendy Fideler, and Tisha Stradtman, sophomores

Stephanie Reindl and Stacey Heberer.

According to Coach Paul-Kenfield, "the base of our team is very strong this season...the sophomores and juniors have matured which will help the quality of our routines."

Goals for the team include getting some gymnasts to STATE this year, which is probable given the experienced gymnasts, breaking 100 points this season, and improving on each event score.

Gymnasts likely to contribute to attaining these goals include: junior Ingrid Ankerson who led the team last season on balance beam and in floor exercises; senior Chris Ramthun the team's second leading competitor, who according to Coach Paul-Kenfield "we are expecting good things out of;" sophomore Stephanie Reindl will be very competitive with Ankerson on the balance beam while junior Wendy Fideler is improving by leaps and bounds and will definitely be an asset to the team.

Other point-maker possibles include junior Tisha Stradtman and sophomore Stacey Heberer who both have varsity experience and the team will be looking to them for some strong

Updated Fish Consumption Advisory Issued

Several fish species from 10 lakes and a stretch of the Wisconsin River have been added to the state's fish consumption advisory due to mercury contamination, the Department of Natural Resources has reported.

The advisory is routinely updated each autumn and spring.

"Fewer inland lakes are being added to the fish advisory now than earlier in the 1980s," said Lee Liebenstein, toxic substances specialist for the Bureau of Water Resources. "We believe that reflects the success of our sampling effort over the past five years."

Earlier this decade the Department began extensive sampling of fish from northern lakes that were considered sensitive to acid rain. Acidic lakewater is believed to play a role in mercury contamination of fish. Large, old, predator fish often contain mercury levels higher than the state's health standard of 0.5 parts per million, Liebenstein said.

The Department also concentrated sampling efforts on lakes that were popular with anglers or suspected of containing toxic pollutants.

"We believe that strategy was successful in helping us identify the waters containing fish that posed the most health risk to consumers," Liebenstein said.

The state recently expanded its mercury monitoring effort statewide to learn more about distribution of the heavy metal in various species and sizes of fish from a variety of lakes.

Overall, Coach Paul-Kenfield has much to look forward to with some exceptional talent and experience and many other hopefuls just looking for a chance to break in.

and Forest L., Fond du Lac Co.

Also added was the Wisconsin River below the Wisconsin Dells dam to the Highway 78 bridge, Sauk Co. Children under 18, pregnant women and women who wish to have children should not eat walleyes between 18 and 22 inches long and smallmouth bass 15 to 18 inches long. Other adults should eat no more than 13 meals a year of these fish.

Walleyes from the Wisconsin River below the dam at the Dells contained 0.8 to 0.9 parts per million mercury. Mercury levels between 0.6 and 0.7 ppm were detected in the smallmouth bass.

Harkner Flowage, Jackson Co., was officially added, but had been announced earlier this year. In addition, Dam L. in Oneida County's Sugar Camp Chain of Lakes, and Round L. of Price County's Pike Chain of Lakes have been added to the list.

Both lake chains were subject to previously - issued fish advisories, but Dam and Round lakes had not been included until the Department confirmed this year that fish freely travel among all the lakes in each respective chain.

"Health advice now covers the same species and sizes of fish in all of each chain's lakes," Liebenstein said.

Wisconsin's statewide fish advisory recommends reduced or no consumption for various species and sizes of contaminated fish from tested state waters, said Dr. Henry Anderson of the Wisconsin Department of Health and Social Services.

"Children under 18, pregnant women and women who wish to bear children face the highest health risk from eating contaminated fish," he said.

Since 1982, the Department has tested several thousand fish from more than 600 waters statewide, including inland lakes and rivers, the Mississippi River and the Great Lakes. About 170 waters have been placed on the fish advisory.

Besides mercury, fish are tested for the presence of other heavy metals, PCBs, dioxin and the pesticides dieldrin, chlordane and toxaphene.

Historically, autumn updates of the state fish advisory have focused on mercury contamination in fish from inland waters.

The spring advisory, issued before the statewide fishing season opens, usually is larger and reflects test results on many contaminants in fish from a greater number and variety of waters.

Dr. Anderson said later this fall health and environmental officials from neighboring states would meet to review the fish advisory issued for Lake Michigan and discuss improvements.

"The Great Lakes Governors Toxic Substances Control Agreement of 1986 calls for states in the region to issue uniform fish advisories covering the Great Lakes," Dr. Anderson said. "We routinely meet to share new information and determine whether the existing advisory is based on the best information available."

Copies of the fish advisory may be obtained from any DNR office or by contacting the Department's Bureau of Water Resources Management, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707, (608) 267-7610.

For more information, also contact fishery managers or water resource biologists in local DNR offices.

Indian Boys Look to Improve Under New Coach

The Kewaskum Indian boy's basketball team, once again under the direction of Head-coach, Jim Westphal, will be looking to improve on their record from a year ago with the help of five returning lettermen, including Steve Gerhartz, a second team all-conference selection a year ago.

Gerhartz, a 6-4 senior forward, will definitely be a key to the team's success this year. A year ago, Gerhartz seemed to have trouble getting untracked offensively in the first half of the game. Coach Westphal doesn't seem to be bothered by that thought, however, as he is convinced that Gerhartz will hold up his share, both offensively and defensively.

"Steve was one of the best players in the conference last year," said Westphal. "Many of the other top players have graduated, so he should be one of the best, if not the best (players in the conference)."

Another top prospect on the team this year is 6-4 senior Rich Radtke. Radtke has been playing well in practice and, according to Westphal, will surprise some people this year.

"Rich worked real hard during the off-season. He's playing much more aggressive this year, and I think he's going to be a force to be reckoned with," said Westphal of Radtke. "Radtke and Gerhartz underneath will definitely be one of our strengths."

Other letterwinners include 5-11 guard Mark Heather, 5-10 guard Brian Leitheiser, and 6-1 forward Bruce Waechter, who was recently injured in practice and will miss a few games. Junior Mark Felix, a 6-1 forward, has been playing well and will be challenging for a starting spot. Other players on the team include seniors Chris Schmid, a 6-5 center, Tim Butschlick, a 6-0 guard, and Tim Schultz, a 6-4 forward. Rounding out the team are juniors Craig Krell, Scott Heller, Scott Haas, and Corey Krahn. Westphal is also trying out some sophomores for the team and will be deciding whether or not they can play on the varsity level.

"I don't want to bring them up too quickly," said Westphal of the sophomores. "It's a big jump to the varsity level, and I want to make sure they will be able to contribute before I make a decision."

Westphal returns to coaching the Varsity after a six year absence from that level. He stepped down after the 1983-84 season in which he posted a 11-10 overall mark, including a trip to the sectionals, a feat which he is very proud of considering the record of the team. He has 11 years of coaching experience, including six at the varsity level. He has coached the freshman team the past two years and posted a 12-4 mark last year.

As far as weaknesses are concerned, Westphal says his team will lack experience at the guard positions. He feels that someone will have to step forward and take over the ball-handling duties and be able to make the right decisions on where the ball should be.

The conference, according to Westphal, is going to be very competitive, as always. Two Rivers and Plymouth continue to be perennial favorites, but New Holstein has some "good, young players" according to Westphal. The Eastern Wisconsin is "a tough league" reminded Westphal. "It is one of the most competitive around. The league consistently rates among the best in the state."

Waechter Heads KHS All-Conference Selections

The Kewaskum Indians football team squad is proud to boast of its selections to the Eastern Wisconsin All-conference teams.

Leading the pack was 6-1, 165 pound defensive end Bruce Waechter. Waechter, who transferred to Kewaskum his sophomore year and played just this year on varsity, led the league in pass receptions with 22 for 205 yards and one touchdown. Said Coach Pearson about Waechter, "He did a great job catching the ball in traffic and once he caught the ball, he was always a threat."

Second team selections from Kewaskum were the Heller brothers, Scott and Brian. Scott, a 5-10, 188 pound linebacker led the team in defensive points. He was noted by Coach Pearson for his consistent aggressive play. "Scott had two fumble recoveries and also several other forced fumbles...he did a fine job for us right from the start."

Brother Brian at 6-2, 190 pounds was in just about every play for the Indians, doing a very consistent job at defensive tackle. Brian led the linemen in points and also was noted as a good pass rusher. Both of these second-team players are juniors and will be out to break that Indian losing streak next season.

Honorable Mentions were given to seniors Noel Stradtman who played linebacker for the Indians and Tim Oelhafen who ended up playing "both ways" at tackle. Although Stradtman wasn't the biggest linebacker, he used every pound of himself to capacity to be one of the hardest hitters on the team. This is the second year in a row Oelhafen has received Honorable Mention and he was also noted by Coach Pearson as having received the KHS, MVP award.

Over-all Coach Pearson was real pleased with the boys that got on the All-Conference teams. He felt selections went very well and the coaches from all schools were very fair.
