Then there's the woman who says her husband is a do-it-yourself kind of person. Every time she asks him to do something he says, "Do it yourself."

Manpower, Not Money, Is Primary Concern of Village's Rescue Squad

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

"Our purpose in calling this meeting," said Kewaskum Rescue Squad Captain Todd Van Langen, last Thursday night, "is basically to make everyone aware of our problems in recruiting members for EMTs." "This is not a problem just in this town, there are other towns that are in the same shape we are. What we're hoping tonight, is to get feedback from you people here."

That was Van Langen's opening statement as he greeted approximately a dozen people representing four of the seven communities which are provided rescue and ambulance service by the Kewaskum Fire Department. Those governing bodies are the Village of Kewaskum, Town of Kewaskum, Town of Farmington, Town of Auburn, Town of Scott, Town of Barton and Town of Wayne.

Van Langen told representatives of those townships, "we've been wrestling with the problem for the last 1 1/2 to 2 years. We've even run ads looking for new members."

A gradual depletion of the squad's membership, from a variety of causes such as retirement, moving out of the area and resignation, have reduced the number of EMTs (emergency medical technicians) to what the department feels is nearing the critical point.

Van Langen told the representatives, Kewaskum presently has 14 EMTs on the register, five trainees and eleven drivers. "Ideally, it would be great if we had 25 EMTs," said Rescue Squad Lieutenant Tim Miller. "we have another person retiring and the trainees coming up aren't available during the day." Miller stated, "Our worst time is daytime." "Thank goodness we have Regal Ware, Kemps and a couple other companies who are willing to release their employees to answer calls otherwise we would really be hurting," said Van Langen.

Van Langen told the meeting, "volunteerism isn't what it used to be, there are a lot of organizations out there and they're all looking for people to give of their time." Van Langen said, "the biggest thing is the commitment in hours on duty." "Even with the people we have, not everyone can be scheduled regularly because they have other commitments. We've got a lot of dedicated people who have been around here a long time, our trouble is getting new recruits."

In supplying some statistics based on 1989 records, Van Langen said the average EMT covered sixteen weeks. A week, however, equals 60 hours, five twelve-hour days or a total of 960 hours. A weekend is a 24-hour shift for 14 weeks equalling 336 hours, for a grand total of 1,296 hours. Broken down into a regular 40-hour week, the average EMT was on duty 32 weeks.

"We do get some compensation," Van Langen stated, "$75 a year for EMTs and $50 a year for drivers." "For covering a week of duty, an EMT receives $2.50, for a weekend you get $1.25. A driver receives $1.60. Adding those figures together, it comes out to 10c an hour for the hours you put in."

Van Langen said the hours he mentioned do not include any schooling, training or other activities they do. Just to become an EMT requires 36 weeks of education, plus every two years a 12-week refresher course and yearly certification in CPR. "If this meeting were called for the purpose of recruiting EMTs and you gave them this kind of information," said Van Langen, "I think that would shock a lot of people." Now you see what we mean by dedication, you would have to agree none of us is in it for the money.

After listening to Van Langen's presentation and hearing a few comments from the floor, Kewaskum Town Board Chairman George Allmann said he appreciated the department's situation. "I think the rates you charge could be increased and we could bill back to those receiving the services," noted Allmann. "I would suggest paying you members $8 - 10 an hour and schooling cost." Allmann said he would like to know what the EMTs were asking for.

Van Langen said they (the EMTs) certainly are not going to turn down an increase. The overriding problem, however, is still getting "new" people. He conceded that people do not want to put in this kind of time for 10c-an-hour.

Farmington Town Chairman Jack Theusch said Jackson was having the same problem and they were paying their crews. "Paying them may not be the answer either," he said.

Van Langen said the Town of Scott had donated $750 to the Rescue Squad and had been donating to it in the past. Theusch said Farmington had four different services which answer their emergency calls. Would the other three expect consideration also if financial support was given to Kewaskum, he wondered.

I personally feel if you make it lucrative enough you can recruit people, noted Allmann. He told those attending the meeting he could see three options for the department to consider: #1 - com-

Stern to Compete in Wisconsin Finals of National Geography Bee

Jim Stern

Jim Stern, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Stern of Fredonia, has advanced to the state finals of the National Geography Bee.

Jim advanced to the state finals after St. Lucas participated in the second annual National Geography Bee for students in grades fourth through eighth. Nearly 32,000 schools in the country participated in this event sponsored by the National Geographic Society.

After several rounds of testing the students on geographic knowledge, each school determined its winner. Jim, a sixth grader, became the St. Lucas champion and competed for advancement to the state level by taking a written qualifying test. Jim placed in the top 100 out of thousands of students from more than 1,100 Wisconsin schools participating in the bee.

Jim will now compete in the Wisconsin Finals, March 30th at the Olympia Resort and Convention Center, Oconomowoc, WI. The winner of the Wisconsin Finals will win $100 and an all-expense paid trip to the National Finals in Washington, D.C., May 22 - 24. Congratulations and good luck, Jim!

Fire Chief Ehnert Retires

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board was informed Monday night, that the Fire Department had received a letter from its Chief, Donald Ehnert, stating he was retiring effective March 1st.

In the letter Ehnert indicated health reasons as influencing his decision to retire.

Ehnert served on the Kewaskum Fire Department for over thirty years, joining as a firefighter and later serving as assistant fire chief. He was elected to the position of fire chief upon the retirement of former Chief Augie Bilgo in 1985.

Administrator Dan Schmidt said the department has several options in filling the vacancy. It could operate with the position open until the next regular department elections, or the assistant fire chief could serve as acting chief. The department could also hold a special election and select an individual to fill Ehnert's unexpired term or it could hold a special election for a three-year term.

Schmidt said the department will decide just what action it will take at its April 5th meeting.

Where to Go With Your Garbage a Real Dilemma

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

While there was no action to be taken, the Kewaskum Village Board, Monday night, listened at length to Village Administrator Dan Schmidt address the issue of garbage, landfills and recycling.

At a previous meeting, trustee Richard Schlice had asked that the village formulate and adopt a resolution directed to state legislators asking them to take a stand on landfills and recycling programs.

After attending a recent meeting on those subjects, Schmidt recommended that the board hold off on its resolution. He based his comments on that meeting's discussion of Wisconsin's Senate Bill 300 and the EPA's Clean Air Act, both of which will have serious and far-reaching affects on everyone regarding refuse disposal and recycling in almost every way, shape and form. Most of the mandates set out by these two items would go into effect by 1995.

Some of the examples Schmidt cited were bans on landfills accepting appliances, batteries and waste oil which will go into full effect by January, 1991. What this means is only those individuals and companies who are licensed will be allowed to pick up and dispose of these items and, of course, there will be substantial charges for the service.

Appliances, including refrigerators, stoves, microwaves, etc., will have to be taken to a business that is licensed to remove the capacitors which contain PCB's. Only licensed battery salvage companies will be allowed to accept old batteries because of their lead and other contaminants.

As for waste oil, Schmidt said, in 1966 there were 160 refineries, today there are only 4. He noted in the near future it will be illegal to burn waste oil. Many garages and filling stations have furnaces which use waste oil to heat their buildings. They will no longer be able to operate because of the pollutants in the oil.

Schmidt said the EPA's Clean Air Act is even going to make it illegal to have burn barrels.

The legislators are also looking at outlawing incinerators. "Where do they expect us to go with the stuff," asked Trustee Mary Krueger. Schmidt replied their reasoning is, that after all the mandatory recycling, the things that are left will not burn hot or completely enough to efficiently operate an incinerator.

"If we can't burn," said Krueger, "we're going to see a lot of garbage dumped along pensation, #2 - take a look at bringing in individuals from other fire departments and #3 - contracting with a private carrier to supplement service, possibly during the daytime.

Allmann said he felt the rates should be set on a user basis and he did not feel doubling the department's fee would be out of line with other carriers. "The state says we have to provide fire and ambulance service, not how much to charge," said Allmann. This is a user society, he noted, and people are used to paying for the services they receive.

Allmann said a bill presently being considered in Madison might provide some financial relief. Assembly Bill 308 calls for a payment of $300 by the state for each call answered on a state highway. So far, noted Allmann, the bill has received favorable response. Van Langen indicated approximately 20 - 25 percent of his department's calls were car accidents, however, he did not know what percentage of that figure were on state highways.

Tom McElhatton a member of both the Kewaskum Fire Department and Village Board, told Allmann and the other representatives, "what we're looking for is help, we're looking to you for suggestions. I don't think we're going to settle anything tonight." McElhatton said he would like to see the representatives go back to their townships and set up some kind of format.

In closing the meeting Van Langen asked all the representatives to get back to his department with any recommendation or ideas they might have to solve the recruiting problem.

Memories...

According to Harry Koch, who submitted the above photo taken in front of their residence on the River Road, the flood waters were much higher in April, 1959, then they were last week. At that time the water was directly below the embankment of the road. The middle of the river shows the ice still frozen and the jammed up ice. On the other side of the river the flood waters extended way back into the fields. You can see the fence posts and how far the water has flooded beyond that. The Bill Ramthun home and Seefeldt woods can be seen to the right.

Constitutional Amendment On the April 3 Ballot

On Tuesday, April 3, 1990, Wisconsin voters will consider a proposed constitutional amendment to limit the governor's authority to partial veto appropriation bills, according to the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance (WTA), Madison.

The question on the ballot will read:

"Partial veto of appropriate bills. Shall section 10 of article V of the constitution be revised, and shall an additional provision be created in that section, so that the governor's power to veto appropriation bills in part does not permit the creation of a new word formed by rejecting individual letters in the words of the bill passed by the legislature?"

The WTA, a nonprofit government-research and citizen-education organization, said the governor was given the authority to partial veto appropriation bills in 1930 by constitutional amendment. The rationale for the adoption of that amendment was to give the governor a power that would counterbalance the legislature's capability to include a wide variety of matters in a budget bill. Without the authority of the partial veto, the governor had only the choice of vetoing or signing the entire bill.

Recent governors have devised imaginative ways to use the partial veto power. They would strike out zeros to reduce an appropriation, reverse legislative intent by striking the word "not" or strike individual letters to create new words. After this type of veto was upheld by the Wisconsin Supreme Court, the legislature twice passed the joint resolution to amend the constitution to limit the governor's authority to form new words from individual letters of other words.

Supporters of the amendment argue that:

1. The division of power between the executive and legislative branches of government never contemplated giving the governor the authority to create statutory language without legislative approval. This amendment would prohibit him from doing so.

2. The state constitution divides the governmental power among the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government. This amendment would restore equal balance.

Those who oppose the amendment say:

1. The governor is an equal partner in the law-making process and, through the partial veto process, he should have the authority to create different statutory language. This amendment would prohibit the exercise of that necessary authority.

2. With the inclusion of so much special-interest legislation through the budget process, the balance of power has been tipped toward the legislative branch. The governor needs the authority of the partial veto, including the creation of new words by rejecting individual letters, to maintain the power of the executive office.

District Hoping to Work Out Package Deal To Retain Jones as Middle School Principal

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At the regular school board meeting March 12th, without mentioning any names or specifics, board member Perry Ankerson questioned whether action taken by the board during a February 12th closed session had to be taken up in public for formal action. Ankerson made it clear he did not approve of the situation referred to and he wanted the public to be aware of the board's proposed action.

It was recently learned that the issue Ankerson was referring to concerned asking interim Middle School principal David Jones to continue on in the position for the 1990-91 school year and to add Jones' wife to the district's staff as an additional social worker.

District Administrator Dr. David Heather said the recommendation to retain Jones was somewhat complicated by the fact that Jones, who is retired from another school district, is limited by his pension as to how much money he can earn.

A closed session agreement was apparently worked out which will allow the district to hire Jones and his wife for the one salary. Heather said there would be no increase in cost to the district as Mrs. Jones' salary would come out of Jones' wages. Basically, the district will be getting a part-time social worker as part of the arrangement to keep Jones as full time middle school principal, said Heather.

Details as to how the wages are to be paid to meet IRS and Social Security guidelines are being worked out.

Heather said he was in favor of the proposal since it added another needed social worker to the staff without any added financial cost to the district. The district currently has one part-time social worker for its five schools. Heather indicated he felt it was a good idea since it solved Jones' financial question and the district benefits by the addition of another social worker.

At the March meeting, Board President Neal Weare agreed with Ankerson's comments and said the issue should be placed on next month's agenda for formal action.

River Receding After Last Week's Flooding

Residents along the Milwaukee River woke up Wednesday morning last week to find the river at alarming flood levels. Village crews worked diligently on Tuesday to keep the dam free from ice jams and floating logs and debris, but an all-day rain here and torrential rain further north caused the river to spill over its banks. The dam could not keep up and water spewed alongside both sides, drastically flooding the banks up and down the river.

Playground equipment along the river, normally high and dry, was under water. Plastic heads of riding horses and turtles looked as if they were struggling to keep their little heads above water. The worst of it was the residents who live very close to the river ended up pumping water out of their basements and praying water levels would not go higher.

Village crews again set out to fight the water and immediately boarded up the doorway of the lift station located just west of the river. The lift stations on both sides of the river did contain some water, but the generators inside did not suffer any damage. Three to four men stayed on the dam most of the day to prevent more flooding by keeping debris away from the dam.

Although some residents felt this was the highest level the river has been at, many old-timers (and Jim Schaub) say it has been much worse. Mother Nature had her way of compensating by sending us sunshine and high winds the days after the flooding to help dry up waters and putting us back to near normal.

Board Presidents Meet At Governor's Mansion

Governor Thompson and Terri Fredrich

Terri Fredrich of the Washington Board of Realtors recently met with Governor Tommy Thompson during a reception at the Governor's Mansion in Madison. The reception was attended by Board Presidents and officials from the Wisconsin Realtors Association.

All boards are part of the Wisconsin Realtors Association, one of the largest professional organizations in the state. The Association has over 10,000 members in all facets of the real estate field.

WEST BEND — The sheng mouth organ and guban drum-clapper are among the unusual Chinese instruments coming to the UWWC campus on Friday, March 23.

The instruments will be featured during an evening performance and afternoon master class by the 14-member orchestra of the Chinese Music Society of North America. Both events are part of the 1989-90 Fine Arts Series at the University of Wisconsin Center — Washington County.

Area music teachers and their students have been invited to the 4 p.m. master class in the UWWC Union theatre. The public is invited. Admission is free.

Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. performance in the theatre are $6 or $4 for students and senior citizens. Free parking is available in a new lot just north of the theatre area.

Along with the sheng and guban, area audiences will see instruments such as the liuquin and ruan lutes of the plucked string family and the erhu vertical fiddle of the bowed string family.

Arts Midwest has granted UWWC an award that partially underwrites the master class and performance.

The Chinese Music Society is committed to the research and promotion of Chinese music. The group is based in Woodridge, Illinois and tours throughout the United States with its featured group, the Silk and Bamboo Ensemble.

A spokesperson for the society said, "Through a systematic and open-minded approach, we strive to create an artistic climate for the advancement of music as an art as well as a means to further human understanding."

To obtain more information on the orchestra or reserve tickets for the performance, call 338-5208 at UWWC in West Bend.

Weekly Health Tip

From Tom Kennelly

SENSITIVE TO COLD

Those who often feel cold may be deficient in iron. When exposed to cold, normally the thyroid gland pumps out more hormone, which stimulates the body cells to produce more heat. Iron deficiency inhibits this thyroid response. Women, because of the loss of iron with menstruation, tend to be iron deficient. If very sensitive to cold, consult your doctor or pharmacist about iron supplements.

PRODUCING QUALITY MILK

The production of quality milk is important to dairy farmers and the dairy industry. The production of quality milk will resolve in higher profitability for dairy farmers and higher quality dairy products for consumers.

A lot of attention and discussion has been directed to the topic of producing quality milk in recent years. This has resolved in a substantial improvement in the quality of milk that many dairy farmers are producing. However, as any industry there are changes and new developments that are occurring that will help dairy producers to meet their goals of improving milk quality.

Two quality milk programs are scheduled for dairy producers in Washington County. They will be held at the Hartford Town Hall on March 28 and in the Washington County Courthouse in West Bend on March 30. Both meetings will run from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

The topics to be discussed are as follows:

1. Can Somatic Cell count get too low? - Randy Thompson, Dairy Agent from Sheboygan County will address this topic. Somatic cells help fight off infection and some people have been concerned that counts may be getting too low.

Prevention and control of Mastitis in your herd. This will involve a discussion of the primary Mastitis causing organism and the various techniques and management practices that can be used to control them. Dr. Jay Trick, DVM from Country Veterinary Clinic will present the information at the Hartford meeting - Dr. Greg Ogi, DVM from the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic will present the information at the West Bend meeting.

3. The new DHIA Staph test - Can it be used effectively in my Herd? This is a new tool that can be used to help producers that have cows infected with Staph organisms. Randy Thompson will discuss the benefits and limitations of the new Mastitis test.

Dairy farmers attending either of these sessions will have an opportunity to receive updated information and ask questions from the program presenters.

Pre-registration for the session would be helpful but not required. Individuals planning on attending can contact the Washington County Extension Office at 338-4477; 644-5204, 342-2929, Ext. 4477 to register for either of the programs.

The 19 men and 11 women in the group come from 23 counties. Seven are farmers, 11 work in agriculture - or conservation - related fields, and seven work in other businesses. In addition, there are two health care professionals, a teacher, a state trooper, a Native American tribal worker, and an owner of a rural bed-and-breakfast establishment.

Included in the Group IV participants is: Roger W. Neumann, Kewaskum, dairy farmer, member of Kewaskum Planning Commission and ASCS board.

March 16, 1965

St. Patrick's Day of 1965 on Wednesday will be remembered for many years to come by residents of this area as the "day of the big snow storm" when wearin' o' the white was more appropriate than wearin' o' the green. This area was still digging out Friday after the worst blizzard of winter on Wednesday and Thursday. Between 8 and 10 inches of snow fell in this area and was accompanied by 40 mile-an-hour winds which piled the snow into mountainous drifts. Tuesday was a fine spring-like day and when residents retired for the night a full moon was shining though somewhat overcast. When they arose in the morning a blizzard was raging outside to their surprise. The storm began at 4 a.m. and in only a couple hours traffic was almost at a standstill. The snow and gale-like winds continued all day Wednesday and through the night. Only light snow fell Thursday but winds increased with gusts between 40 and 50 miles-an-hour, blinding motorists and closing roads.

One machine shed burned to the ground, all of the machinery and other contents it contained were lost and another shed was damaged in a fire early Thursday afternoon on the Arnold Schmidt farm located on Hwy. 28 about a mile west of the village. Kewaskum firemen were called to the scene at 12:10 p.m. and when they arrived at the scene half of the frame machine shed was already destroyed. The flames were fanned by a severe wind and there wasn't any chance of saving the shed. Firemen poured water on an adjoining shed which had caught fire and saved this building, then continued to douse the smoldering remains of the destroyed structure.

A steer belonging to Daniel Rodenkirch, R. 1, Kewaskum, was injured to such an extent that it had to be destroyed when the animal broke out of a barnyard at the Rodenkirch farm and was struck by a car when it wandered onto Hwy. 144 about 1,000 feet south of the intersection with Hwy. 28 east of Kewaskum. The mishap occurred at 8:40 p.m. Sunday. The driver of the car was Jacob Biertzer, 58 of West Bend.

Dr. B. O. Bendixen of Dundee, whose new home together with all furniture and fixtures was destroyed by fire last week, received a "black hand" letter on March 16th, telling him to leave Dundee immediately and if he failed, do so he would be a victim of a dynamite plot. Over the telephone the doctor refused to state the contents of the letter but merely thought it a bluff and is not the least frightened. The latter, however, turned same over to the insurance companies, who in turn forwarded same to the Fire Marshal for further investigation. Since the receipt of the "black hand" letter by Dr. Bendixen, it is the belief of the companies who carried the insurance on the destroyed building and contents, that the home was set afire. The doctor had received threats some time ago that if he did not leave "that he would be burned out" which was the case.

Herman Lawrenz of the Town of Scott has a two-year-old heifer which gave birth to a calf last week which tipped the scales at 109 pounds.

Wm. Heberer moved his sawing outfit to Herman Weinbauer's place Monday where he commenced sawing timber for a new barn.

While Mrs. Adam Kohl and her two-year-old son Max were visiting at Milwaukee the little boy took sick with pneumonia and died last Tuesday. The remains were returned to Kohlsville Wednesday morning and laid to rest in the Ev. Lutheran Church.

A baby boy was born to Barthol Thill and wife, Ashford. Congratulations.

Those attending from this area were Jenny Degnitz, Kewaskum; Ken Lubert, Slinger; and Koreen Gehring, Carol Loosen, and Mr. Ehrinberg, Hartford. They were sponsored by F&M Bank of Slinger.

The Forum provides an opportunity for high school agriculture students to discuss their roles as future agricultural leaders.

Gary Rohde, dean of the College of Agriculture at UW-River Falls, spoke at the opening luncheon. He said that the challenges ahead in agriculture will require good technical and communications skills and "can-do" attitude. That evening, Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation President Don Haldeman talked about the changes occurring in agriculture and the importance of farmers in controlling those changes. Rep. Ben Brancel (R-Endeavor) spoke at the closing luncheon on Saturday.

Workshop sessions dealt with agricultural careers, developing leadership skills, cooperatives, getting started in farming, livestock marketing, transferring the family farm and producing for a consumer-oriented market. New this year were two workshops designed for ag teachers — farm chemical safety and commodity marketing issues.

DETACHMENT HEARING February 17, 1990

A joint meeting of the West Bend School District Board of Education and the Kewaskum School District Board of Education was held at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, February 17, 1990 for the purpose of hearing a petition of detachment/attachment filed by Steven and Sharon Strachota and Marie Strachota in accordance with the provisions of Section 117.11 and 117.12 of the Wisconsin State Statutes.

Kewaskum Schools District Administrator David Heather introduced those in attendance.

West Bend Schools: Board members Judie Lewis, Kathleen Limbach and Steve Bauer; District Administrator Dr. Dwain Erlich.

Kewaskum Schools: Perry Ankerson, Ruth Schmitt, John Schulte, Neal Ware, Ron Beimbom, Paul Seymour.

Also present: Steve Strachota, Suzanne Strachota, Judy Harlow - West Bend News, and Jeanne Jacak, Board Secretary.

Ron Beimbom moved to appoint Neal Weare as chairperson. The motion was seconded by Paul Seymour and passed by a voice vote.

Steve Strachota outlined his reasons for filing the petition to detach from the Kewaskum School District and attach to the West Bend District. He stated that their property is closer to West Bend. His intentions are to bring a new road into his property from Kettle View. The current roads are poor and very dangerous and he wants direct access to Hwy. D. Presently his children attend Holy Angels and St. Mary's Springs. He explained that boundaries were originally set up according to section lines. He lives in the Town of Barton and all taxes are paid to Barton except for school taxes.

Questions from board members.
Ron Beimbom: Have you begun building the road or are you just planning to do so?

Steve Strachota: No definite plans are made yet - will do so if detachment is allowed.

Ron Beimbom: Will it be a town road?
Steve Strachota: We will build the road and then dedicate it to the town.

Suzanne Strachota: It was a partial road at one time.

Steve Strachota: The partial road was made when Hwy. D was rebuilt 15 years ago.

Dr. Heather showed the board members exactly where the property was located on the map.

Steve Strachota: The property is off of High Mount Road, a 65 acre area. The road would not go to High Mount - it would go to our driveway.

Neal Weare: Any other plans for the rest of the property?

Steve Strachota: No plans at the present time. It is mostly high land, very little farmable. There is a chance it may be subdivided at some time but there are no plans at this time.

Paul Seymour: Your current residence is in the odd shaped patch?

Steve Strachota: Yes, the property used to be 100 acres. My mom purchased 65 acres and the other 35 went to another buyer. The irregular shape was created so both would have access to High Mount Road.

District Administrator Dwain Erlich stated that the West Bend Board would not be able to vote due to the lack of a quorum but that the matter would be presented to their full board at a meeting to be held Monday evening, February 19, 1990 and their board would vote at that time.

Chairperson Weare asked for anyone opposed to the petition to come forward.

Dr. Heather asked that both boards deny that request. He stated that no educational values were presented as differences. He felt a compelling reason educationally was needed to detach. A detachment for convenience is not valid.

Dr. Heather warned that the board needs to be careful in considering all parcels to be detached. The present property pays $2400 in taxes to the district. Should this property be detached the tax burden would be shifted to the other property owners in the district.

Based on the lack of educational reasons for detachment, Dr. Heather urged both boards to deny the request.

Steve Bauer: The statute does not state specific reasons to allow or deny detachment.

Dr. Heather: Statute 117.08 states educational values, closeness, compelling needs and hazardous transportation.

Steve Bauer: Has anyone measured the distance?

Dr. Heather: I would assume it is about 6 miles from Kewaskum Elementary School to the property.

Suzanne Strachota: Barton is definitely closer.

Dr. Heather: There is about 2 miles difference between the property and Kewaskum Elementary and the property and Barton Elementary.

Perry Ankerson: I don't believe there would be much difference in high school distances, in fact, Kewaskum is probably closer.

Neal Weare asked if anyone would like time for rebuttal.

Steve Strachota: Dr. Heather's primary contention is that I have no valid educational reasons for requesting detachment. I don't feel qualified to condemn one school district over another. Neither of my children use either Kewaskum or West Bend schools. It is not a question of whether one school or the other is better. I feel Holy Angels is better than Holy Trinity and that's why my child attends there.

As far as the roads being hazardous - I don't know who would be qualified to determine if the roads are hazardous or not. All I know is the roads are narrow

- there is no shoulder - the roads are curvy. It is difficult at any time, but especially at night when you meet another car on the road. It is especially hazardous in winter. We have been lucky not to have an accident but there have been accidents by others.

As far as setting a precedence, I am not an attorney and do not know the laws but my understanding is that this opportunity is a one-time deal that needs to be filed by February 1.

Dr. Heather: You can file a petition every year but it would not take affect until the following year. Because this law was just passed this one time clause was created to accommodate families this year.

Steve Strachota: Because we are not currently using either school system I don't think we should be setting a dangerous precedence.

Kathleen Limbach: Are there other families that live close to your property that might want to do the same thing?

Steve Strachota: There are a few families. I don't know what their intentions are. They presently use the Kewaskum system.

Neal Weare: How many families are there?

Dr. Heather: Three or four.
Steve Strachota: Two families live on the other, 35 acres I think. I don't know how many children they have, if any.

John Schulte: How would you change to safety of the roads traveled if the detachment was granted.

Steve Strachota: I would create immediate access to Kettle View and then to Hwy. D.

John Schulte: What precludes you from doing the roads now?

Steve Strachota: Nothing.

John Schulte: Either way, there is no change in the safety.

Ruth Schmitt: Have you been assured by the Town Board that you can put in a road to Kettle View?

Steve Strachota: I'm sure there is no question. I have not petitioned for permission but I don't think they can deny us being as there were plans once before to do so because there is a partial road there now.

Dr. Heather: I believe excellent education is being provided in the parochial schools as well as in both public systems and therefore an argument regarding the educational values is mute. There are many roads in our district which could be considered hazardous which are traveled by our buses everyday with no problems. The Strachota's could put in a road whether they detach or not and that would solve the hazardous driving problem. I strongly recommend that the Kewaskum Board of Education deny the petition for detachment.

Neal Weare: Does the West Bend Board have any questions?

The hearing was then closed to further public participation. The public was invited to stay, however, to observe the action taken.

Neal Weare: The board has three options to consider:

1. Grant the petition detaching all of the property from the Kewaskum School District and attaching it to the West Bend School District.

2. Modify the petition by detaching a portion of the property from the Kewaskum School District and attaching that portion to the West Bend School District with the remaining property remaining attached to the Kewaskum School District.

3. Deny the petition.

John Schulte: Would option #2 create an island?

Neal Weare: I believe so.

Perry Ankerson made a motion to deny the petition. Ruth Schmitt seconded the motion and it passed on a voice vote.

Dr. Erlich: Let the records reflect that the West Bend Board did not have a quorum present. An emergency meeting will be scheduled to be held in the West Library on Monday, February 19, 1990. The three board members present today will report to the rest of the board at 7:00 and a vote will be taken at that time. The Strachota's are welcome to be present.

Dr. Heather advised the Strachota's that they have an opportunity to appeal by March 15.

The meeting adjourned at 9:15 a.m.

In Memory of Brian Leider

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of friends; to appreciate beauty, to leave the world a bit better, to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived... Letters to The Editor

March 11, 1990

Dear Editor:

I have had two daughters in Gymnastics at Kewaskum High School for a total of seven years. They are out of school now but we still follow the activities of the KHS Gymnastics team. Needless to say I am very disappointed in your coverage of this sport. If you don't have a reporter to cover this sport, the least you could do is to get the information from the school.

As I have said, we do still follow the activities of this sport, but have to rely on a competing newspaper to do it.

What really got me mad was that our own local newspaper did not even mention the fact that Chris Ramthun one of the KHS gymnasts had succeeded in placing high enough in the Sectionals to go to State. This is the first time a student has gone to State for Kewaskum for Gymnastics under Ms. Paul as coach.

I think there should be as much credit and coverage given to the Gymnastics team and their coach for all the many hours they've put in training, achieving and coaching through out the season.

Congratulations KHS Gymnastics and Ms. Paul on a job well done.

Thank you.
Mrs. Nancy Voge

Teamwork Vaults KHS Gymnasts Into Great Season and State Competition

Kewaskum Statesman, Thursday, March 22, 1990, Page 16

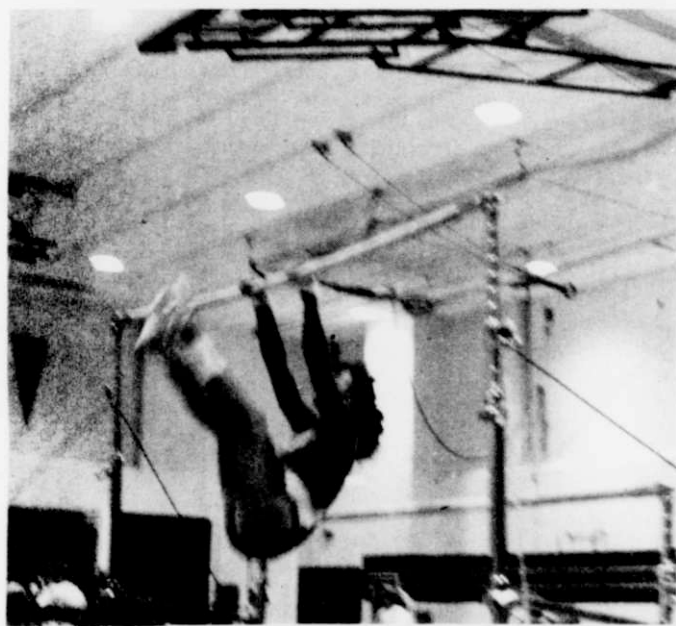

Ingrid Ankerson performing a ring leap on floor during sectional competition.

Stephanie Reindl holds the school record on balance beam with 8.2.

Chris Ramthun receiving her 5th place medal at the DePere Sectional.

Unevens is one of the events Chris Ramthun competed on at the state competition.

By Sue Paul-Kenfield

The Kewaskum gymnastic team started out the season with their hopes high for a chance to get someone through to the state competition. As the season progressed the highlights began.

"The individuals on the team worked hard which made it difficult to decide who would compete varsity at times" said

Coach Sue Paul-Kenfield. Karen Junk was also one of the hard workers that earned herself a varsity spot on floor and beam. Karen had an average score on floor of 6.94 and a personal best of 7.7. She was voted by her teammates as the most dedicated at Tuesday's banquet.

Jessica Rohrer helped the team on unevens. Her consistent performances gave her a personal best of 6.05 and an average of 5.54.

Tracy Ruplinger improved remarkably this season. "You wouldn't recognize her as the freshman that competed last year," said Coach Paul-Kenfield.

Stacey Heberer should have been voted most likely to..., said Paul-Kenfield, "because she did anything that was asked of her. As a sophomore, she has the most vault and tumbling potential."

Ingrid Ankerson injured her back the second meet of the season and did not return until mid-February. When she returned on beam she scored her personal best of 7.65.

Angie Clements, who had a chance at varsity beam, was out for the season with a chronic shoulder injury.

Wendy Fideler was voted most improved this season. She competed on all four events (all around) with floor being her strongest. Her personal best is 7.9 and her season average a 7.51. "Wendy combines grace and strength and has the potential to be at state next year," said Paul-Kenfield.

Chris Ramthun earned the most valuable gymnast award voted on by her teammates. Chris was the only senior on the team and was the role model for her teammates. In her four years on the team Chris has earned bronze and silver medals on all five events (four plus all-around). No other gymnast has done this.

Chris set the school record on floor with a 8.6 and is the first Kewaskum gymnast to participate in the state gymnastic meet. Chris qualified on unevens and floor. She was the first competition on Class B unevens. Coach Paul-Kenfield said "She was nervous and slightly rushed but she performed a solid routine, good for 20th place. Floor exercise was the 7th round for Chris. "She was mentally prepared but still a little nervous. She performed an excellent routine and scored an 8.4 good for tenth place," said Paul-Kenfield.

It's been a great season now the door is open for the rest of the team to believe that they can be there. I'm excited for next year because we have a lot of potential on the team."

Ramthun Does Well In State Gymnastics Meet

Wisconsin Rapids - Chris Ramthun, who became the first Kewaskum High School gymnast ever to represent her school at the WIAA State Gymnastics meet, performed well in representing her school at the state meet, here.

Ramthun scored an 8.4 in the floor exercise, just falling short of the 8.467 score needed to become one of the finalists in the event. Nevertheless, her score was tenth best among the state's finest.

In the other event that she qualified for, and the uneven parallel bars, Ramthun had the difficult task of being the first athlete to compete. Drawing the tough spot, Ramthun may have been a bit nervous, although she did come through with a score of 6.967, good enough for 20th place.

With the top six finishers in each event receiving medals, Ramthun wasn't fortunate enough to bring home any gold, but her accomplishments this season definitely are noteworthy and will set a precedent for future KHS gymnasts to shoot for.

Heisdorf Captures Top Honors at Wrestling Banquet

Larry Marchionda, John's high school wrestling coach, came to the banquet as a surprise, and to "roast" Coach Nell.

By Patti Aupperle

On Tuesday, March 6, the Kewaskum Wrestlers, their parents, and coaches attended the Annual Banquet at John's Country Inn in Silver Creek.

Senior, Dan Heisdorf, who placed 2nd in the WIAA "Class B" state championships, not only was selected by his teammates to receive the 89-90 MVP award, but also received the Roman Muckerheide Memorial Award, which is given to a senior who has shown the most dedication to the sport of wrestling.

Dan also received two other honors, one for most takedowns - 72, (which beat the previous school record of 52, and most pins - 14. Dan finished his senior year with a 31-4 record.

Among others receiving awards were Seniors Dave Kuphal (23-9) and Noel Stradtman (11-5) who received the co-captains awards. Dave Kuphal also received the most improved wrestler award and was in the finals of every tournament, placing 1st in two of them, except for the "Class B" Sectional meet.

Other letterwinners for the Indians were junior Jeff Sabish (18-11), sophomore Kevin Kapp (11-16), and freshmen Josh Kurtz (17-13), and Todd Muckerheide (12-14). Managers receiving their letters and awards for the 89-90 season are senior Joy Castro and junior Patti Aupperle. Dan Rober captured top honors by receiving the JV award after finishing the season 16-7.

Not only did the wrestlers receive awards but there were also some surprises for the coaches, John Nell and Kevin Chambers. After many years of roasting the wrestlers it was

Mr. Nell's turn to be roasted. Going to the banquet was Larry Marchionda, John Nell's high school wrestling coach, who is now currently Fond du Lac wrestling coach at Goodrich High School. After hearing of Mr. Nells many embarrassing moments it was time for the gifts by the wrestlers, Dave Kuphal and Noel Stradtman presented Mr. Nell and Mr. Chambers with the "Worlds greatest Varsity Coach" and the "Worlds greatest JV Coach" plaques.

After four years of picture taking of all the tournaments and dual meets Dan Heisdorf presented Mr. Nell with three photo albums containing pictures, stats, and records for all the boys who wrestled under him from 1986-1990. The albums were put together for Mr. Nell by Sue Heisdorf for his dedication, not only as a coach but also as a friend to the wrestlers.

Also surprising Mr. Nell at The Banquet were alumni wrestlers Rich Straub, Bob Castro and Chris Charland, who each told a little of how Mr. Nell has influenced their lives. This years banquet has been planned for three years and was regarded as not only a huge success but a time of laughter and fun.

Beaver Trapping Season Open Until April 30

MADISON, WI — Several changes were made in the 1989-90 beaver trapping season by the Natural Resources Board last fall, including extending the closing date to April 30, 1990, Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Manager Chuck Pils reminds trappers.

The current 1989-90 trapping regulations incorrectly state that it's illegal to possess pelts of beaver that have been shot. Because of the liberalization of landowner's rights to hunt or trap beaver on their property, beaver can now be legally shot and possessed.

Some of the other changes include use of snares as water sets for taking beaver. A trapper is allowed no more than 75 snares or traps in combination to take fur bearing animals. Trapping or snaring is allowed within 15 feet of a beaver lodge. All snares and traps must have a metal tag attached that is inscribed with the name and address of the owner.

Taking a 7-6 record into the 16 team basketball tournament at Northwestern Prep in Watertown did not stop the Sixers from playing their best.

The Sixers opened the tourney against Zion, Illinois. Jumping to an early 15-8 lead using the inside game of Laubach and Bartelt, the Sixers cruised to a 26-13 halftime advantage. The second half saw Zautner's outside shooting open the middle for Laubach and Bartelt.

St. Lucas came out on top 50-34. Scorers: Zautner 16, Bartelt 12, Laubach 19, Krueger 4, Stoltzmann 3, Fredrick 2, Ramel 2, Jeserig 2.

The second round game proved to be much more of a struggle for St. Lucas. St. Matthews of Oconomowoc matched up with the Sixers in height and skill positions. The first half saw Bartelt and Laubach score just seven points collectively, but some outside shooting helped knot the score 20-20 at halftime.

The third quarter was a defensive struggle with both teams scoring but four points. However, the fourth quarter belonged to St. Lucas and in particular Zautner. He went three for three on three point plays, had two steals for lay-ups, and went four for four from the charity stripe. All tolled Zautner ended with 21 points in the fourth quarter.

Final score St. Lucas 47 - Oconomowoc 42. Scores: Zautner 29, Bartelt 7, Laubach 5, Fredrick 2, Jeserig 2, Stoltzmann 2.

The semifinal game pitted the Sixers against St. Matthew's of Janesville. The Sixers jumped out to an early commanding lead 17-8 after the first quarter. The inside play of Bartelt and Laubach, combining for 20 points in the first half, and the outside shooting of Stoltzmann and Zautner opened a 28-16 halftime lead.

The record half saw the big guys take control of the game. Final score: St. Lucas 57 - St. Matthews 36. Scorers: Bartelt 21, Laubach 20, Zautner 8, Stoltzmann 4, Krueger 2, Schneider 2.

The championship game saw St. Lucas come up against the number one seed in the tourney, St. Marcus of Milwaukee. Each team matched up well, but the quickness of St. Marcus was evident from the outset as they stole several passes and made the early lay-ups. This gave St. Marcus a 12-6 first quarter lead.

The second stanza saw the inside game of St. Lucas get untracked and Zautner go 5-7 on free throws. St. Lucas dwindled the lead of St. Marcus to one point, 21-20 at halftime. St. Marcus was able to pad their lead 31-27 at the end of three quarters.

The fourth quarter saw an even battle with St. Lucas pulling to within three points, 36-39, with 1:51 remaining. From here on St. Lucas was forced to foul and St. Marcus converted on 4 of 5 free throws to seal a 43-36 victory. Scorers: Laubach 19, Zautner 9, Bartelt 8.

Congratulations 76ers. Job well done! Special thanks to all the fans for cheering the boys on.

'Washington County's Business' to Be Published May 1

WEST BEND, Wis. — Washington County will have its own business-to-business magazine, Washington County's Business beginning May 1, 1990. The bimonthly publication will be mailed directly to area businesses, including manufacturers, retailers and service companies, free of charge.

Washington County's Business is being published by F/D Typesetting Plus of West Bend. The company's owner, Frank DeRaimo, is the magazine's director of advertising sales. Liza Tuttle, a Milwaukee native and graduate of Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism, is the editor.

"Local business people have long voiced interest in this sort of publication," said DeRaimo. "The real purpose of Washington County's Business is to let professional people know about the growing number of quality business services available in their own community."

The magazine will contain short, informational articles on various aspects of business. Seven regular features will cover accounting, banking, the environment, legal counsel, marketing, personnel management and lastly, a profile of a local business person. A special, longer feature in each issue will provide in-depth coverage on an issue not treated in the regular features.

Stories planned for the premier issue include a special feature on the Washington County real estate market; computer accounting programs for businesses (accounting); one banker's advice on obtaining a small business loan (banking); Superfund liability (legal counsel); trends in employee benefits (personnel).

"Washington County's Business is designed to provide a new forum for business communication within Washington County, as well as a place for advertisers to reach a targeted readership," said Tuttle.

"The articles will be based on interviews and insights from local business figures. Whatever the subject, these articles will be written by local people for local readers," she continued.

Washington County's Business is a full-size, 40-page journal with a glossy, four-color cover. Advertising space is available throughout, varying in size from full-page ads to reproduction of business cards in a special business directory. Pam Osterbrink Selected as Honorable Mention All-State

Pam Osterbrink, a 6-1 senior center who led Kewaskum to the sectional finals this past season, was recognized for her efforts by being named to the Honorable Mention All-State team, chosen recently by the Associated Press.

Osterbrink, a four-year member of the varsity squad, finished her career as the Indians' second all-time leading scorer.

Thorp's Dolly Rademakers, who averaged 28.8 points per game, was named Wisconsin's player-of-the-year. She was joined on the first team by Pius'

Kristin Sobocinski and Milwaukee/Washington's Charlotte Adell, who both led their schools to state championships. Pius' Joll Claasen, who guided his team to its national record 9th straight state title, was named coach-of-the-year.

Plymouth's Erica Young and New Holstein's Sherri McNamara, who led their respective teams to a share of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference championship, were both named to the third team.

WHITE PERCH: An Unwelcome Visitor to Wisconsin's Waters

MADISON, WI — Bait dealers and sport shops should be especially careful when checking their shipments of minnows and should remove all unwanted fish and destroy them, reminds Department of Natural Resources fisheries staff.

On Jan. 19, 1990, an alert employe at a Green Bay bait and tackle shop noticed a strange fish mixed in with the minnows. The fish was identified as a white perch by DNR fisheries biologists — a fish whose release into Wisconsin lakes and streams could have potentially devastating results.

According to Lee Kernen of the DNR's Bureau of Fisheries Management, every effort must be made to prevent the spread of white perch and other exotic fish. White perch are a "close cousin" to white bass; they compete with native fish for food and space. Though edible, white perch rarely grow large enough to be sought by sport anglers. White perch are already present in the Fox River at Green Bay and in Superior harbor in Lake Superior.

Current laws prevent the possession of fish such as white perch or ruffe, another exotic species. However, shipments of bait minnows occasionally contain some unwanted species, especially if the minnows are from wild stock that were seined from a lake or stream.

Kernen also advises sport anglers to check their minnows and to NOT dump them into the lake when through fishing for the day.

Washington Boys Complete Sweep

MADISON — Just one week earlier, the Milwaukee Washington girls team took center stage here by winning the WIAA Class A championship. The Washington boys team wasn't going to be outdone.

Jamaal Turrentine scored 15 points while Calvin Rayford added 14 as the Purgolders completed a championship sweep, beating Appleton East 70-63 in the Class A boys state championship game, which marked the end of the high school winter sports season.

Eastern Wisconsin co-champion Plymouth was knocked out in the quarter finals of the Class A tournament by the eventual champions, 71-57. The Panther girls team, who also shared the EW championship, also made it to the state tournament the week before, and were also eliminated in the quarterfinals.

In the boys Class B championship, Freedom's Jim Bartels scored 31 points and grabbed eight rebounds as the Irish celebrated St. Patrick's Day with a 75-72 victory over Monona Grove, whose girls basketball team beat Kewaskum in the sectional final, thus also earning a trip to state.

In the Class C championship, Darlington, who advanced to the state tourney by winning the West Bend Sectional, beat Elvia-Strum Central 58-44 to claim its first championship in the sport. Aaron Lancaster put on a show, as he scored 30 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead the Redbirds.

The All-tournament team, made up of all three classes, without regard to position consisted of: Lancaster; Rayford; Bartels; Ernie Peavy, Whitefish Bay; Dan Allen and Mikey Steger, Appleton East; Mike Blang, Monona Grove; Cory Vande Wattering, Freedom; Silas Mills, Milw. Washington; Kent Higley, Elvia-Strum.

Anderson Sets Records at UWWC

This season has certainly been a record-breaker for the UWWC mens' basketball team, at least for 6-5 center Ted Anderson.

Anderson, who prepped at Kewaskum High School, where he was an 88 graduate, averaged 26.6 points per game for the Wildcats, eclipsing the old mark of 23.4. Anderson also averaged 15.1 rebounds per game, grabbing 296 total boards, both marks representing school records.

Anderson also finished fourth in the career scoring category while his season scoring total of 505 points also netted him a fourth place on the all-time list.

Youth Hardball League Needs Volunteer Support
