KHS Forensics Team Brings Nine Perfect Scores Home from State

KHS FORENSICS TEAM READY TO BOARD THE BUS FOR STATE COMPETITION

Being perfect is a goal that few people ever achieve, but this year's KHS forensic team had nine perfect speakers at the state contest. This amazing feat was accomplished on Friday, April 27, at the University of Wisconsin's Madison campus by nine of Kewaskum's twenty-four team members. The five students in group interpretation (Heidi Gruhle, Angie Schoofs, Stephanie Gildemeister, Kim Petrie, and Shawn Erdmann) received perfect 25's as they read Bill Cosby's "The Ark and the Tower." Angie is a junior, and the other girls are sophomores. For all five this is their second year at state. Juniors Nicole Doherty, Pam Gauger, and Brenda Behling were perfection in solo acting, four minute, and storytelling, respectively. Nicole had presented "The Answer" from memory, and Pam had written and memorized material about date rape. Brenda entertained with "Hello, Aurora." All have gone to state for three years in a row.

Brenda was last year's MVP on the team. Sophomore Jennifer Brigham also scored a perfect 25 with a Dr. Seuss reading. This is also her second year at state.

Scoring nearly-perfect 24's were senior John Hazlewood and junior Curt Ammel in play acting with a cutting from Neil Simon's "Sunshine Boys." Junior Jason Miller analyzed cheating in American

United Way Donates $1,000 Toward KHS Post-Prom Party

The United Way of Washington County donated $1,000 toward the cost of Saturday night's Post-Prom Party for Kewaskum High School. The event was held on April 28 at the YMCA in Fond du Lac.

Sponsored by the Kewaskum Booster Club, the Post-Prom Party was an alcohol-free and drug-free activity for youth.

Funding came from a Special Request Fund that the United Way uses for funding requests and programs that occur outside of the regular campaign funding cycle or for new programs to fill special community needs and requests.

According to Daniel Holtan, president of the United Way of Washington County Board of Directors, "We are very pleased to be granting these funds to benefit youth in areas served by our United Way. We believe it is an effective way to send a message to teens and parents that alternative activities can be fun and rewarding without the use of drugs or alcohol," he said.

Awards of $1,000 each have also been set aside for West Bend and Hartford High Schools for their senior graduation parties to be held in early June.

KMS to Present Musical 'Hurricane Smith' May 11

On May eleventh, 1990, 7:30 p.m., on the Kewaskum High School stage, Kewaskum Middle School will be presenting "Hurricane Smith - The Musical." This Extravaganza is a hilarious spoof of movies like "Indiana Jones" and "Jewel of the Nile."

The action starts when Gloria Daily (played by Mandy Thiemer), a lively young screen writer, tries to sell her new movie "Hurricane Smith" to a cheap, greedy director, Eddie Diamond (Eric Rahlf). She then proceeds to act out the movie with the help of her faithful drama team.

In the movie, Hurricane Smith (Mark Stephani), a daring, adventurous explorer, and Linda Zest (Greta Kuphal), a zealous free lance photo-journalist, get a mysterious message and set off to find the Garden of the Golden Monkey and the forgotten city somewhere in the South American jungles. While they are there, they meet up with all kinds of troubles and pitfalls namely Cobra Woman (Krysten Ammel) and her band of ruthless cannibals.

How will Hurricane and Linda get out alive? More importantly, will Eddie Diamond buy the Film? You will have to come and see for yourself. Tickets are $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. Pick them up at the door or from cast members. This is too good to miss!

secondary schools in group discussion, sophomore Rachel Gosa presented "From Mother, with Love" in solo acting, and both received 24's. Close behind with 23's were Eric Giese, a senior who this year made his first attempt at forensics in prose reading with Fahrenheit 451, and Stacey Pamperin, a sophomore who made her second trip to state reading Erma Bombeck's "I Loved You Best." John was at state for his third time, Curt and Jason were there for their second times, and Rachel made her first trip to state.

Jill Peterson and Dana Neuser each scored 21. Jill has the accomplishment of being the only senior team member to have been at state every year of her high school career. She did a solo acting presentation of Bob Newhart's "The Driving Instructor." Dana had written and memorized material about date rape. Dana is also a senior, making her third trip to state.

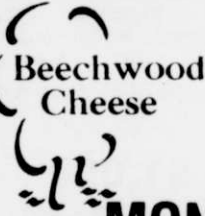

Rounding out the team with 20's were freshman Christy Towler in poetry reading, sophomores Adam Pilachowski in four-minute and Jennifer Beimborn in demonstration, and senior Becky Manthei in solo acting. Christy read "The Man with the Broken Fingers" by Carl Sandburg, Adam had written and memorized his thoughts on living in America, Jennifer showed stamp collecting techniques, and Becky memorized "Audition."

Seniors Nathalie Stercq and Jeff Brigham and junior Erin Hein tallied nineteen points. Nathalie presented from memory her original composition regarding her parents' reactions to JFK's 1963 assassination. Jeff read Delia Ephron's prose article "How To Die of Embarrassment," while Erin read four selections that deal with "War" in farrago.

Barbara York, head forensics coach, accompanied the team to state. She has been quoted as saying: "This is the best that any KHS forensic team has ever done. In 1986 we also took twenty-four students to state, but only three came away with perfect scores (they were Mitzi Nigh, Cheryl Kurtz, and Leighton Peterson). So 1990 is tops in quantity and quality! Mrs. Jacak, assistant coach, and I will miss John, Jill, Dana, Becky, Eric, Nathalie and Jeff after graduation; however, there is a strong nucleus of juniors and sophomores to carry on the tradition of excellence."

Road Construction To Resume on US 45

Road construction is expected to resume the week of May 7, 1990 on the construction of the second roadway on the West Bend Freeway (USH 45), from STH 145 to CTH "D", in Washington County. The remaining work consists of shoulder paving on the northbound roadway, landscape work, and the completion of signing and pavement marking.

The shoulder and landscape work will be performed under two contracts let to Roddie E. Beaudoin & Son Co., of Menomonee Falls, WI, at an estimated total cost of $5,086,140.00. The signing and pavement marking work will be performed under a contract let to Century Fence of Waukesha, WI at an estimated cost of $225,330.00.

Financing will be shared on approximately 76/24 percentage by the Federal government and the State of Wisconsin, respectively, from funds provided primarily by gas taxes.

This work will be done under traffic with northbound traffic restricted to one lane through the construction zone. Motorists are urged to be aware of the lane closures and use caution in the construction zone.

It is anticipated that this project will be completed by mid-June 1990.

Teacher Appreciation Week Message

From State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover

The 1990 observance of Teacher Appreciation Week, May 6 through May 12, is a special time to recognize and salute the significant contributions teachers make to our children, to our communities, and to the future of our state and nation. I encourage all of you to say thanks to the teachers in your community. We are fortunate in Wisconsin to have educators who strive to keep this state a model of educational excellence as we approach the 21st century.

Throughout the decades, teachers have faced numerous challenges to their profession. With increased demands for student achievement, an ever-expanding curriculum, and the prevalence of social pressures such as single-parent families, domestic abuse, latchkey children, and homelessness, teachers must make adjustments to ensure that all students receive the best possible education.

Wisconsin has 48,540 public school teachers. They have an obligation to be positive role models. To remain top-notch, they must increase their knowledge of teaching and their subject areas. They must pursue an awareness of social issues in order to develop the best methods to evaluate their students; to teach them to read, write and compute; as well as to guide, inspire, and encourage them to become good citizens.

Teachers must be constantly aware that the students they teach today will be the educators and leaders of the future. Many times, students look to their teachers as a model of adult behavior. A teacher's influence is limitless; it can last forever, and this is what makes them one of our nation's most valuable human resources. They educate and guide our youth, establishing themselves not only as an investment in excellence, but also as an investment in the future.

Just as students need encouragement and praise from teachers throughout the learning process, teachers also need positive recognition of their talent and dedication to their profession. Therefore, I urge each Wisconsin school and community to celebrate the fine accomplishments of its teachers.

Every day teachers reach out to their students, and every day children's eyes widen with astonishment as they learn something new. Although Teacher Appreciation Week is set aside by the National Parent-Teacher Association to recognize teachers and their contributions, appreciation and respect for educators should be apparent every day of the year. Dedicated teachers give compassion, encouragement and support every time they enter a classroom. Now it's our turn to give it back to them.

Extension Homemakers Week Display at Paradise Mall May 5-6

The week of May 6 through May 12 is National Extension Homemakers Week. This year the Homemakers will again be at the Paradise Mall for their 2nd annual Extension Homemaker Display on Saturday, May 5, from 10 a.m. til 6 p.m. and Sunday, May 6, from 10 a.m. til 4 p.m.

The women have been working very hard to come up with a display of what Homemakers is all about. On display will be a presentation on canning, freezing and microwaving fresh vegetables from your garden. Their will be handouts about different techniques and a sampling of some no cook pickles.

The Fair Park Homemakers will be selling starter plants, Beefsteak Tomatoes, California Wonder Peppers, Snowball

Cauliflower, and Green Sprouting Broccoli. Plants will sell for 50c apiece. Proceeds will go back into community charities.

Back by popular demand is the Water Testing. This will take place on Saturday May 5 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. ONLY... please place 1 quart of water in a clean container and bring it with you to the mall. The cost is only $1.00. There will also be someone there to answer any questions you have with regards to your water concerns.

The women will be showing off their culinary talents, with a bake sale of cookies, bars, cakes and breads. The proceeds will be used for the development of the Washington County Fairgrounds.

A display of various styles of quilts will be set-up for your viewing pleasure. Also a presentation of different quilting tools, patterns, and books will be on hand.

In addition the Washington County raffle quilt, pillow, wall hanging and Amish doll will be on display. To receive raffle tickets please contact any Homemaker.

These are just a few of the many items that will be on display. Just to mention a few more... medical update information, recycling the new game in town, county fair display and dinner tickets on sale, and also information on homemakers and how to become a homemaker. Because Homemakers aren't just for coffee clutches anymore, we are a vital part of the community.

A still blew up just before officers entered the place. The drinks were on the house.

WHY I LIKE SCHOOL!

I like school because I can learn how to read and write. I also learn lots of other stuff.

I like all my classes except social studies. I mean it's OK but it just doesn't interest me as much as some other classes do.

I do well in art because I like art. Gym is one of my favorite classes.

And that is why I like school.

TEACHERS: An Investment in Excellence

WHY I LIKE KHS

It is hard to sum up, in just one paragraph, why I like school because there are so many things that I like about it.

For instance, I like the teaching staff. The teachers are always there to help you if you ask. They are also very fair; if you don't do so "hot" on a test, there is always extra credit that you can do.

Another reason I like school is all of the extra-curriculars that are available. There are many different sports from which you can choose, and, if you don't like sports, there are other things such as music, forensics or chess. For me, the extra-curricular activities take away most of the stress that classes may put on me.

All in all, school helps to build character by letting you make your own choices. It is a time not only to learn academic material, but also to grow, mature and enjoy.

THE THINGS I LIKE MOST ABOUT KMS

I think that the best thing about Kewaskum Middle School is that it is small.

It allows teachers to get to know the students on a one-to-one basis. We can feel free to talk to them if we have a problem, or if we just want to say something that we feel is important.

The teachers try their hardest to make their classes interesting and fun, and laughter is not an uncommon sound to hear as you walk past the classrooms.

The one thing that makes my school great is our teachers. Without them it would be nothing but an empty worthless building.

BRIDGET RITGER

WHY I LIKE MY SCHOOL AND MY TEACHERS

Our school has students who work hard at their work and usually make sure it's done. Students who work hard at things will get a better education than if they didn't. Yet kids can have fun in school. The different activities in intramurals can be exciting for kids. Intramurals have different activities such as bowling, roller skating and more.

I haven't yet met a teacher who didn't have at least a little bit of fun! There is something good about each of them. I haven't had all the teachers in this school, but the way they act with kids makes me think of them as good teachers.

So really there is a lot of good things about school.

MISTY LUEDTKE

QUALITIES OF GOOD TEACHERS

Give about 35 math problems (or less) every day.

Don't let students get away with bad things they do.

Don't use readers but regular books.

Let kids pick science they want to find out about.

Do reports all the time with science and social studies

Write stories for language, and spell downs instead of using spelling books.

Give longer recesses too!

Pay Day for MEGABUCKS Winner!

Harold Zimdars, left, received the first of 20 annual installments which will total $8 million on the Wisconsin Lottery's MONEY GAME show April 21. George Prescott, right, handed Zimdars the check. Zimdars, 51, a retired truck driver who lives in West Bend, bought the winning ticket at Prescott's Pick 'n Save on West Bend's south side. "Harold, over the years you have given me many checks, I am happy to be able to give you one for a change," Prescott said. On hand for the presentation were Zimdars' wife Joanne and Wisconsin Lottery Executive Director William F. Flynn, Jr. Zimdars will receive the remaining 19 checks on April 4, the day he matched the six numbers drawn. Zimdars or his heirs will receive all 20 payments on the prize. The $400,000 payments net Zimdars $292,280.

Nursing Students Raise Funds for Karen Schmidt

Nursing students at Moraine Park Technical College's West Bend campus have started a fund-raising campaign as part of the effort to save the life of a Hartford teenager in need of a bone marrow transplant.

The Moraine Park Student Nurses Association (MPSNA) is conducting a month-long campaign to raise money to aid in the search for a compatible bone marrow donor for Karen Schmidt, 18. The Hartford Union High School senior has aplastic anemia, a disorder that destroys her body's ability to produce red and white blood cells and platelets.

The disease can be fatal if a patient does not respond to drug therapy or a compatible bone marrow donor is not found.

Bone marrow produces new blood cells.

Dorothy Rabenhorst, MPSNA vice president, said the organization started its campaign on April 3 to raise at least $200 to assist in the search for a donor. The fund drive will continue through the end of the month, the Fond du Lac resident said.

All of the nursing students were asked to contribute, Rabenhorst said. A canister for donations from other students at Moraine Park's West Bend campus is located in the campus bookstore, she said.

In addition, the MPSNA plans to contribute proceeds from its next bake sale to the campaign, Rabenhorst said. The bake sale is scheduled for April 23.

Instructors and staff members at Moraine Park's West Bend campus have also said they will contribute to the fund-raiser, according to Rabenhorst.

The money is needed to help finance the screening of potential bone marrow donors being conducted by the Blood Center of Southeastern Wisconsin. It costs $75 for each bone marrow screening. Grant money the Blood Center had available to pay for the screenings has been used up.

The community of Hartford has organized a drive to raise $150,000 to pay for the screening of 2,000 new volunteers in an effort to find a match for Schmidt. So far, the Hartford campaign has raised well over $110,000 for the on going donor screening.

Schmidt is receiving antibiotics and blood transfusions while the search for a donor continues.

The MPSNA is conducting the fund-raiser because of its commitment to community service, Rabenhorst said. The nursing student organization tries to have one service project each semester, she explained, "We like to help out in the community."

Schmidt was in need of assistance and was from the area, "that's why we decided to help," Rabenhorst said.

FFA Banquet 'Udderly' Successful!

By Sharon Callaway Roznik and Cheryl Kuehl

Dedication to farming and pride in accomplishment were never so prevalent and celebrated than at the Future Farmers of America - Kewaskum Chapter's 39th Annual Awards Banquet, held at the Amerahn, Thursday evening, April 26th.

FFA members, parents, teachers, alumni, and business persons from the community came together to honor each other and lend support to Agricultural Education.

Over 160 people attended the dinner, catered by Homeplate, and numerous member awards and recognitions followed, including winners of FFA week, record book, speaking and judging contests, fruit and cheese sale and truck raffle sale.

Star Greenhand award was given to freshman member Jeff Steiner. Sophomore Ag student Tom Batzler received the Roman Muckerheide award. Local Proficiency winners included Mike Ramthun and Curt Arndt.

Recognized for their outstanding service to the Kewaskum FFA and named Honorary Chapter Farmers were brothers Ed and Harvey Klumb, and Dr. Greg Ogi, DVM.

Numerous scholarships and awards highlighted the evening. Bruce Theusch was the recipient of the $500 scholarship from the Kewaskum Vet Clinic; Kewaskum Frozen Foods awarded their $300 scholarship to Mike Ramthun and Shelly Petsch was named $500 FFA Alumni scholarship winner.

Other honors included: Pat O'Brien, Auctioneer, presented the Midwest Livestock Producers Award to Tim Oelhafen.

Mike Ramthun accepted the Dekalb Outstanding Senior Award, and Dave Hahn from East Central/Select Sires awarded Chris Michaels the Outstanding Dairy Award.

FFA president, Kevin Bartelt, was selected as Member of the Year, and the closing ceremony included the drawing of door prizes, and parting mementoes given to Dave Rizzardi and Terry Schaub for all their help.

In parting, President Kevin Bartelt shared some words of wisdom to remember the evening and share some basic agricultural knowledge with us "greenhands." "What do you call a cow with no legs? Ground Beef."

Dave Hahn, representing East Central Select Sires, with the recipient of their award, Chris Michaels; Mike Ramthun, winner of the DeKalb Outstanding Senior Award; and Tim Oelhafen, who was awarded the Midwest Livestock Breeders Award.

Dave Rizzardi, right, congratulates Kevin Bartelt, FFA president, for being named Member of the Year.

Dr. Greg Ogi was named an Honorary Chapter Farmer, for his dedication to the FFA and for all his help at the annual rabies clinic.

A Night of Sadness, But Luckily Not Tragedy

The southern side of the Riekkoff home, including the two-story windowed bay area engulfed in flames.

Three hours later (same view). Nothing was left standing except the fieldstone fireplace and portions of the lower floor's brick walls.

Living in a rural area with farms all 'round may make a person subconsciously more attuned to any hint of smoke or fire and maybe that's what woke me up shortly before 4:00 a.m., last Wednesday.

Oddly enough, it was the first time we had our bedroom window open at night this spring. Did I really smell smoke or was it a dream? Since our house sits on a rise, I walked around looking through all the windows but saw nothing.

Then I looked at the small windmill in our front yard, it was pointed southwest. I woke my husband. "There's a fire someplace but I can't see anything. It must be to the southwest of us because that's where the wind is from." Glen got out of bed and looked around, he could not see anything either but he also thought he detected a hint of smoke.

I went back to the south window, still nothing. Then, like a fine golden thread reaching for the sky, I saw it. In the minute it took us to throw on some clothes, it turned into a wide orange ribbon in the sky.

It looked like a grassfire in the woods. I told my husband to call the fire department. But we can't tell exactly where it is, he said, it could be a lot farther away than we think.

We jumped into our truck and headed in the direction of the fire. Surely someone else had noticed it by now and reported it. We headed south to the next road, Moraine Drive. As we turned west on Moraine and came up the hill we could see the shadow of a structure engulfed in flames to the south of the road. It must be an old barn back in the woods that we didn't know about, I said.

We then turned south on Hickory Drive, still no activity from nearby homes. The wind was blowing the smoke away from them. We pulled into the yard of George Allmann, whose home was directly across the street from where we could see the fire through the trees.

We blew the truck's horn waking George and his wife up. "Call the fire department," I yelled up to the window, "there's a fire in the woods." George turned in the alarm and then came outside.

My husband and I told him we did not know there were any buildings in those woods. He said it was a brand new home under construction.

We then went to the home's driveway which appeared only to be a road into a field. I continued to walk up the winding road while George and my husband waited for the fire trucks. When I reached the end of the drive, I came upon an unbelievable sight. The huge house was totally engulfed in flames, fanned by those same strong winds that had carried the smoke to our window.

The fire department arrived but there was little they could do except to contain the blaze which was threatening an LP gas tank at the rear of the home, and work to extinguish the fire. There was nothing the firemen could do to save the home which, in a matter of a few short minutes, was nothing more than a towering inferno with flames actually boiling out of every side of the large home.

The next morning I went back to the fire scene. Knowing I had been there most of the time the firemen were battling the blaze, one of the tired and sooty Kewaskum firemen remarked to me, "I suppose it seemed like forever before we got here."

In any emergency situation like that I suppose it always does seem like an eternity and no doubt it always will. But actually the time which elapsed between when I first woke up to the smell of smoke and firefighters arriving on the scene was just a few minutes.

For home owners Wayne and Rose Riekkoff, they probably felt the night would never end as we all sadly and helplessly stood by and watched their beautiful home go up in smoke. There is one happy side to this story and that is no one was injured or died because of the fire. Homes can be replaced, lives cannot.

While the cause of the fire has not been conclusively determined, it is suspected that it was spontaneous combustion from staining rags left in the garage.

KEWASKUM CUB SCOUTS HAD A BUSY APRIL

Den One — In Den One using tin lids and punching holes, we made a star constellation. We toured the National Guard Unit and were able to sit in a helicopter. We made Easter egg trees, melting the ornaments in the oven.

Den Two — This month we worked on string art Easter eggs and tissue paper eggs. And we made paper bag kites.

Den Three — On April 2nd we had an all game night with refreshments after the meeting. On April 9th Jerod Weisse's father Tom told us about trapping and hunting rules in Wisconsin and how trapping is done.

Flying Eagles — For April we went for a hike in Kiwanis Park to collect rocks and stick for our weather rocks. We identified trees and played several physical fitness games.

Panthers — We went to the High School track and worked on our athlete award. We also went to the fire house and learned CPR and first aid.

Road Runner Patrol — We worked on our Athlete and Naturalist Badges. We also made plans to attend Pathways next month in May.

Badger Patrol — This month we went to the YMCA to work on our Aquanaut Pin. We also worked on sports, we learned about skateboards and skateboard safety.

In addition to all these things that keep the boys busy, the Kewaskum Cubs will be going bowling at Weiland's on Sunday afternoon.

GOOD NEWS FROM UNITED WAY

This is a part of a continuing series of United Way-funded agencies in Washington County.

Providing ongoing support for grieving people, the Bereavement Support Group is one service of Kettle Moraine Hospice. Serving the Washington County area, the group meets the first Thursday of the month at 7:30 p.m. in the Parish Center at St. Francis Cabrini Church in West Bend. Your United Way contribution enables Hospice to provide services for the terminally ill and their families.

The West Bend Red Cross recently provided assistance for a family of seven whose home burned. The Red Cross has also been active in teaching CPR and First Aid Classes and providing transportation for people receiving medical treatments in the Milwaukee area.

The new Respite Care program for Lutheran Social Services provides support for family members who need to "take a break" from the ongoing care of a loved one. The program will be limited to seventy families this year and already, fifty-eight families have enrolled.

The Volunteer Center of Washington County is a clearinghouse, matching community needs and volunteer skills. People of all ages and experience volunteer their time to benefit the community through the Volunteer Center.

The Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County are recruiting men and women to be a Big Brother or Sister to a child from a single parent family.

'Critter Passes' Approved for Wisconsin

This spring will be the first test of the effectiveness of "critter passes," which are small holes in concrete highway barriers and barrier walls along the Great River Road in Wisconsin.

Ronald R. Fiedler, DOT Secretary, said critter passes are 10-inch pipes installed at the base of the concrete barriers so that ducklings, reptiles and small mammals can reach the river.

Critter passes were invented by the La Crosse transportation district after a local newspaper editor called their attention to the fact that the 3-mile long barrier, designed to keep falling rocks off traffic lanes, also made it impossible for young birds, reptiles and small mammals to reach the river.

"It was his theory that small animals trying to migrate toward the river, particularly wood ducklings, became trapped behind the barrier and died or were eventually eaten by predators," explained Don Mouchka, area construction supervisor.

"It's a fact that wood duck hens fly across the road to nest on the side of the bluff, then attempt to lead their hatched ducklings across the road to the river. Upon reaching the barrier, the mother ducks fly over it leaving their ducklings stranded behind," Mouchka said. "The area also produces a variety of other fauna, such as turtles, snakes and small mammals whose migration patterns require access to the river," he added.

The Great River Road is a scenic highway which follows the Mississippi River from the Gulf of Mexico to the Lake of the Woods in Minnesota. In Wisconsin, a particularly scenic portion along Highway 35 in Crawford County lies between the River and the adjacent bluffs.

Because of the proximity to the bluffs, concrete barriers were installed as a safety measure to keep falling rocks from flattening passing vehicles. Unfortunately, it has proven equally effective in keeping other animals and reptiles which habitually migrate from wooded areas along the bluffs from reaching the river, Mouchka said.

The concept of critter passes, so dubbed by Gary Bolstad, DOT District Project Engineer, evolved through discussion with the state Department of Natural Resources, and the construction contractor.

The first test site was installed along a couple of miles of Highway 35 between De Soto and Ferryville in 1989, where the openings are spaced about 250-300 feet apart at a cost of about $138 per opening.

Fiedler said the DOT requested Federal Highway Administration approval so that federal funds could be used for the passes. While the concept was approved, the FHWA refused to permit the use of federal funds in building the passes.

Fiedler said the DOT District Office will keep an eye on the project to see if there is any evidence that it is successful. "If we find that it is beneficial, then we'll go back to the FHWA and re-open the funding question," he promised.

Beware of Prize Scams by Phone

Prize rip-offs now trick consumers out of their money by use of (900) telephone numbers, reports the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP).

Telephone numbers with a (900) area code are capable of charging the caller a fee in addition to the normal long distance charges.

"The fact that it only takes a phone call misleads many consumers. People who would not normally participate in other scams which ask for a credit card number or other kinds of payments think they have nothing to lose," says Melanie Hayes, DATCP regional office supervisor. "When they receive their phone bill, they find charges they were not aware of."

Consumers across the country have been notified by mail that they have won a prize and need only call and give an assigned code number, says Hayes. When the consumer dials the (900) number, a recorded message will instruct them to dial the assigned code number.

In some instances, the answering machine claims to be unable to receive the code number and asks the consumer to call back again from a touch tone phone. Consumers often call back a number of times, unsuspecting the high phone charges each time they connect.

One woman from Washington D.C. was charged $49.95 on her phone bill even though she was never able to leave her code number on the answering machine.

The laws regarding (900) phone numbers require disclosure to inform the consumer that extra charges accrue when they call, reports the Consumer Protection Bureau.

"It appears that consumers have become more sophisticated and will no longer give out credit card information over the phone," says Hayes. "The operators of these scams have come up with a new way to take their money."

Consumers with complaints or questions about other consumer issues should contact any DATCP Consumer Protection office in Madison, Altoona, Green Bay or Milwaukee. Consumers can also call the DATCP consumer hotline at 1-800-362-3020.

In memory of LAWRENCE THEUSCH who passed away 10 years ago, May 6, 1980.

A "heart of gold" stopped beating.

Working hands at rest. God broke our hearts to show us He only takes "THE BEST."

We cannot bring the good times back

His hands we cannot touch. But we still have the memories Of one we loved so much.

Our family chains have broken And nothing is the same But as God calls us, one by one, The chain will link again.

Only a cluster of memories Sprayed with a MILLION tears Wishing God had shared him Just a few more years.

Deeply missed by wife, Bernadine, children and grandchildren.

Bickle Takes Leinenkugel Crown at Slinger

By Bob Schafer

SLINGER — Rich Bickle, Jr., drove his Chevrolet Camaro to the overall crown in Sunday afternoon's Leinenkugel Twin 75's at the Slinger Super Speedway.

By winning the first feature race, setting fast time, and finishing second in the Leinenkugel trophy dash, Bickle, Jr., outpointed Tony Strupp, who picked up the other feature win by a mere 80 markers.

Sussex driver Doug Duncan picked up the sportsman main event, topping veteran Roger Otto in the 40-lap affair.

"The car was a little loose, but overall we're alright," Bickle, Jr., said after his feature win. "It just feels good to get to victory lane."

The first 75-lapper saw Green Bay chauffer Scott Hansen muscle his car to lead from his outside front row starting spot and, prior to a Robbie Reiser spin on the eleventh circuit, Hansen has built up a comfortable advantage over Strupp, John Muller, and Al Schill.

When the green reappeared, Hansen and Strupp proceeded to stage a furious battle for the top spot, swapping the lead several times before Strupp gained the upper hand on lap 25.

By the 30th go-around, Bickle Jr., had moved the Rapco Brakes car to the second spot. Bickle, Jr., then proceeded to sweep past Strupp on lap 33.

Meanwhile, Joe Shear, who was the day's second fastest qualifier and winner in the Leinenkugel dash, moved into third and began to Pressure Strupp for the runner-up spot, a position he would take on lap 40.

At that point, Shear and Bickle Jr. battled it out for the top spot, with neither giving an inch. Bickle, Jr., eventually pulled out to a two car-length advantage when the checkered flag fell.

Following those two were Strupp, Jim Weber, Bob Brownell, Hansen, and Jim Sauter. Ted Musgrave, Dave Klein, and Al Laufer rounded out the top 10.

The second main saw 14 cars inverted, putting Fred Winn and Mueller on the front row. At the drop of the green, Winn jumped into the top spot with defending Red, White and Blue State Champion Doug Herbst on his heels.

The first of three cautions flew on the 8th circuit as John Zimmerman looped the Wegner Automotive entry after a mixup in the pack that sent cars scattering everywhere. Casualties of the altercation included pre-race favorite Sauter, who left and never returned, and Bickle, Jr., who did rejoin before the green flag came back out.

Herbst, fighting an ill-handling race car, was able to get by Winn on lap 13, holding the top spot for just four laps, before Musgrave shot by into the lead.

Musgrave's glory was short lived as Sun Prairie's Jerry Wood drove Past Mugrave on lap 20. Followed closely by Hansen, Strupp, Shear, and Dennis Lampman, Wood held his line and remained the leader through the half-way point.

Shear, making a bid for the win, snuck past Hansen for second on lap 45 and began to apply pressure to Wood. Challenging on the outside, Shear ran side-by-side with Wood for 12 laps, allowing Strupp, now in third, to close up on the duo's rear bumpers.

Nosing ahead slightly on lap 56, Shear lost control of his mount going down the backstretch and spun, touching the wall going into turn three. Shear returned to the back of the Pack, but the mishap kept him out of contention.

With Wood still in front, Strupp took to the high groove in hopes of taking the lead and, after a hard fought battle, took the lead for good on the 63rd lap.

Wood held onto the second spot. Al Laufer finished third followed by brother Joel, Hansen, Bickle, Jr., and Richard Lofy. Shear, Musgrave, and Winn rounded out the first 10.

"It feels great to win one for the sponsor," Strupp said after driving the Leinenkugel car to victory. "We've had a lot of trouble over the past few weeks with the car. We've changed every possible thing on it and finally we found the right set up."

Duncan, winner of four features at Slinger in 1989, took the lead on lap 18 of the sportsman event and then held off Otto in the late stages to take the win.

Al Papini, who lead the first 17 circuits, finished third followed by John Rucker and Mike Vogt.

Scott Koch returned to the figure eight course and won the 10-lap feature for his division.

A total of 60 cars - 37 late models, 14 sportsman, and 9 figure eights - competed in the program.

This Sunday night will see the Slinger Super Speedway open its 42nd point season with "Pontiac Excitement Night" by Bob Fish Pontiac of West Bend. Action in the late model, sportsman, amateur, and figure eight classes is slated to start at 8:00 p.m. Qualifying will begin at 6:30.

'Lazy, Hazy, Crazy Days of Summer'??

Kerry Klein, Kewaskum, heads for the Milwaukee River last week Tuesday, one of the first "hot" days of Spring, to try out his kayak with his daughter, Natasha. It was "Tasha's" third birthday, so she's modeling her white party dress for a special "cruise" with dad.

Three-year-olds from the Kewaskum YMCA Tot Time class enjoyed some outdoor fun with a parachute-shaped cloth of multi-colors with teachers Gail Ramirez and Vicki Fenrick. Sponsored by the West Bend YMCA, classes are held for three, four and five year olds at Peace Church in Kewaskum.

Holy Trinity Students Turn On to Art Awareness

Mrs. JoAnne Schacht, Sister Phyllis Wirtz and the fifth grade enjoy the art awareness demonstration.

Students at Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum were treated to an Art Awareness Program demonstration by artist Carol Adkins of Newburg on April 4th.

Sponsored by the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts, the program is aimed at extending the art curriculum and developing art enrichment for all children.

At the heart of the AWARE (Art With Aesthetic Resources for Enrichment) program are the volunteers. Volunteers at Holy Trinity are Isabelle Straub, Mari Lou Chambers, Pat Solar, Joan Stoffel, and Joal Albers and these "picture ladies" make regular visits to the school, working to involve the parents and community in the effort.

From a collection of over 100 Art Reproductions and sculptures furnished by the West Bend Gallery, the children are made aware of the functions of Art in history and in contemporary society.

During Carol's visit to Holy Trinity she completed an oil-painting for her informative demonstration. The painting was then hung in the school for all to enjoy.

Badger State Games
Adds Equestrian
Competition for 1990

Wisconsin's largest amateur sports festival keeps on growing.

Athletes are now able to compete in equestrian events at the 1990 Badger State Summer Games.

"Equestrian is a natural addition to our summer sports roster," said Kari Douglas, director of competition for the Badger State Games. "It also expands the competitive chances for more state amateur athletes."

Equestrian events will be held June 23 at the Columbia County Fairgrounds off Highway 51 in Portage. Check-in time will be from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. Competition begins at 9 a.m.

The one-day equestrian program includes three age divisions - Youth, 12 years and under, Intermediate 13 to 17 years old, and Senior, 18 years and older. Equestrian events include: Saddleseat Pleasure, Saddleseat Equitation, Huntseat Pleasure, Huntseat Equitation, Western Pleasure, Western Horsemanship, Cloverleaf Barrels, Polebending.

Entries will be limited to the first 24 entries in each age division per class. The entry deadline is June 11. The events were selected based on the basis aspects of the English and Western riding done in Wisconsin.

"There are a wide range of events to choose from in the sport," said Michael McGowan, the Badger State Games Commissioner for equestrian. "We are starting with a one-day show. But the potential is there to make the event a two-day show in future years, based on the interest of the athletes."

Corporate Wisconsin continues to play a crucial role in the success of the Badger State Summer Games. A committee of equestrians from GTE and the Wisconsin State Horse Council worked throughout 1989 to petition the Badger State Games to add the sport. GTE is also providing corporate support as a sponsor of equestrian at the 1990 Summer Games.

"It's takes a lot of time and effort to provide a quality competition," McGowan said. "The support of GTE has been crucial in getting equestrian added to the Badger State Games. We also appreciate their financial and volunteer support."

The sixth annual Badger State Summer Games offers competition for all ages and all abilities. Regional competition in seven sports will be held at eight sites throughout the state June 8, 9 and 10. Finals competition in a record 26 sports will be held in Madison, June 22, 23 and 24.

To request an athlete handbook or for more information, contact the Badger State Games office at (608) 251-3333 or write: P.O. Box 1377, Madison, WI 53701-1377.

Major sponsors of the 1990 Badger State Games are: Dairy Farmers of Wisconsin (Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board), GTE, Wisconsin Bell and Wisconsin Physicians Service Insurance Corporation (WPS).

Children's Trust Fund Awards Over $600,000 For Seven Wisconsin Family Education Centers In the Service

The Children's Trust Fund has announced that they will be funding seven pilot Early Childhood Family Education Centers for Wisconsin families with children infant to age three. The Fund awarded more than $600,000 to these programs, which will begin operation immediately.

"The goal of these Family Resource Centers is to build on families' strengths and promote good child-rearing," said Elaine Olson, Executive Director.

Each Center has been designed to meet specific local needs but all will provide core services of group-based and home-based parent education and support, as well as Information Resource and Referral services. "Family Resource Centers are a new concept in delivering community based services designed to prevent problems before they occur. Parents are made more aware of what services are available, while service providers can work more closely and avoid costly duplication," Olson said.

Included in the pilot programs selected from 35 proposals submitted statewide is:

West Bend Public Schools

who will receive $100,000 to establish the Family Center of Washington County. The Family Center will offer a variety of centerbased and in-home interactive and educational activities for parents with young children in Washington County. Project Director: Dr. Dwain Ehrlich, Superintendent of Schools, 697 S. Fifth Avenue, West Bend, WI 53095, 414/338-5435.

Marine Cpl. Guy L. Schumacher, a 1987 graduate of West Bend West High School of West Bend, was recently commended while serving at Marine Corps Tactical Systems Support Activity, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Schumacher was recognized for his outstanding performance of duty, professionalism, and overall dedication to the service.

He joined the Marine Corps in August 1987.

Conservation Wardens on the Lookout for Unlicensed Anglers

MADISON, WI — When anglers take to Wisconsin lakes and rivers for the May 5 fishing season opener, all they'll be thinking about is catching fish. But if anglers head out to their favorite fishing hole without a Wisconsin fishing license, there is a good chance they are what will be getting caught.

State conservation wardens will be making a concerted effort to check fishing licenses after a recent study indicated the number of anglers fishing without licenses is increasing, according to the chief warden for the Department of Natural Resources.

A 1989 report indicates the number of people fishing without a license is increasing, according to Ralph Christensen, chief warden and director of the DNR's Bureau of Law Enforcement. The report showed the number of people apprehended for fishing without a license went from 2,220 in 1985 to 2,600 in 1989.

The number of people caught fishing without a license increased despite the fact that wardens spent less time looking for license violations, Christensen notes.

"That indicates to us that there are substantially more people fishing without licenses," Christensen says. More people may be willing to take the chance because in recent years conservation wardens have had less time to spend checking fishing licenses than they have in the past, he says.

In recent years wardens have had to assume numerous other responsibilities in addition to enforcing the state's fish and game laws, according to John Daniel, a fiscal and planning officer with the Bureau of Law Enforcement. "Wardens are spending more time enforcing environmental regulations and responding to environmental emergencies such as chemical spills," Daniel says.

Christensen says that past experience has shown that when there is a strong presence of wardens on the water, the public tends to comply with regulations, including having current fishing licenses. "We intend to make our presence known this year," he says.

Indian Golfers 17th In Hartford Invite

HARTFORD — The Kewaskum golf team ran into some strong competition in the annual Hartford Invitational here, last Friday. Going up against Class A competition, the Indians wound up the day in 17th place in the 20 team meet.

"We beat the other Class B schools in the meet, but lost to all of the Class A ones," Indian head coach Joe Harlow said over the weekend. Grafton, behind meet medalist Stu Brown's 73, won the meet with a 336 score, while Hartland was a close second with 338. Kewaskum finished with 382.

"We had a real good performance from Mark Heather," Harlow went on to say, reporting that Heather, the lone senior on the team, shot rounds of 44 and 45, respectively, to lead the Indians.

Ryan Amerling also continued to play well, firing rounds of 42 and 48 to finish just behind Heather with a 90. Aaron Laatsch also had a decent round, hitting a 46, then a 48 for 94; while Scot Backhaus rounded out the Indians scorers, carding a 109 on rounds of 54 and 55.

"We were just a couple of shots away from competing with the bigger schools," Harlow added. "But we're making progress."

BOATING SAFETY COURSE 1990

A department of Natural Resources Boating Safety Course will be held starting Monday, May 14th, 1990, and ending Friday, May 18th, 1990. The course will run daily from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The class will be held at the Ice Age Center, located 1/4 mi. west of Dundee on Hwy. 67. Persons age 12 and older are welcome to attend and the cost will be about $3.00 per student. To pre-register please contact the Mauthe Lake Office at 626-2116.

The course will be taught by Warden Doug Bilgo, along with two Boating Safety Instructors.

Boater's Safety Check

With the abnormally warm weather we have been experiencing lately and the opening of the general fishing season on May 5th, many of the stored boats are coming out of the garage. In preparation for the upcoming boating season a few safety checks should be made.

To operate a motor driven boat equipped with a storage battery be sure the battery is secured against shifting and that the battery terminals are covered with a nonconductive shield to prevent accidental shorting of battery terminals.

Make a check of your fire prevention gear. Specifically the fire extinguisher which is required on all gasoline powered inboard boats along with boats that have enclosed construction. Enclosed construction will entrap explosive or flammable gases or vapors. Also be sure to check that the fire extinguisher is properly charged.

Finally, be sure you have the proper type of PFD's (life preservers), the proper number, and that they are in good condition. Ripped, damaged or unserviceable PFD's are not legal. PFD's must be of the appropriate size for the person for whom it is intended, and they must be readily available for use. Consider wearing your PFD at this time of the year. Even though the temperature of the air maybe 70 degree - 80 degree the water temperature is still probably only 50 degree - 60 degree, an accidental dip could be fatal.

For anymore specific questions, feel free to give me a call, Doug Bilgo, Conservation Warden at 533-5041.

Indian Girls Win County Outdoor

WEST BEND — The Kewaskum girls track team continues to pile up a list of impressive wins thus far this season. The last of which came last Wednesday, when it claimed the distinction of being the county's best by winning the Washington County Outdoor Track Meet held here.

In the end it was the Indians on top with 108½ points, beating out Germantown with 103½. West Bend West, powered by four first place finishes by standout Rebecca Butt, was next with 97½, followed by Slinger (93), Kettle Moraine Lutheran (49), Hartford (27), and West Bend East (18).

The Indian boys, lacking in the numbers and quality that the girls possess this year, struggled in the meet and finished in sixth place overall. West Bend East won the boys meet with 113 points, followed by Hartford (109), Germantown (105½), Slinger (67½), West Bend West (60), Kewaskum (30) and Kettle Moraine Lutheran (11).

The Indian girls had at least one individual place in the top six in every event, with the exception of the 100 meter hurdles and the 3200 meter run. With that in mind, girls' head coach Perry Koth knew what put his team on top.

"We have a lot of depth this year and that really helped," Koth said. "We had a lot of double places and that was important in a meet like this."

Kewaskum had four double-places on the day, headed by the discus team of Tina Weddig and Lora Delcore. Weddig, who's "been really consistent," according to Koth, won the event with a throw of 107'6", while Delcore finished fourth with a toss of 88'2". Weddig also added a third in the shot put, throwing 32'10".

Melissa Braun also had a good day, winning the 100 meter dash in 13.3, while just getting nipped at the wire in the 200 meter dash, coming in second to KML's Kristin Hahn with a 28.1+ time, compared to Hahn's 28.1. All this on a day when Braun was battling other factors besides her competition.

"After the preliminaries of the 100 meter dash (one of the first events run), she came up to me and told me she had a sick stomach," Koth said of Braun, who continued to run. "It was just an outstanding effort by her."

Kristi Lubahn continued her dominance in the 300 meter hurdles, winning easily in a time of 49.1. The other Kewaskum first was in the 800 meter relay, when Braun and Lubahn teamed up with Trisha Schwartz and Kelly Korth to win the event with a 1:50.4 clocking.

Laurie Vogt continued to be a steady performer in the middle distances, coming in second in the 800 (2:38.3) and third in the 1600 (6:00.4). Freshman Julie Mertz also added a fifth in the 1600 with a time of 6:10.3.

Tammy Michaels also placed in a pair of events, finishing third in the long jump (15'2½") and sixth in the triple jump (30'9¾"). Ingrid Ankerson gave the Indians another double finish by placing fourth in the triple jump (31'5½").

The other Indian double-place occurred in the 400 meter dash, where Rachel Zuehlke took third (1:03.5) and Nicole Doherty finished sixth (1:06.4). Pam Osterbrink also scored some valuable points when she finished in a three-way tie for fourth in the high jump, leaping 4'10".

The 1600 meter relay team, finished second with a time of 4:20.5. The 400 meter relay team, also placed, finishing third, with a time of 54.0.

Asked if he was surprised by anybody in particular, Koth pointed to Mertz's finish in the 1600. "She surprised me a little bit, but our win in Oshkosh (at the 39-team Titan Invitational early this season) showed that we do have a lot of talent."

As for disappointments, Koth said "There was one or two, but I guess that's expected. Not everyone will have their best performance on a given day, but for the most part, everyone did well. I was pleased with everyone. There were a lot of personal bests."

Even though many of the Indians' boys' tracksters posted personal bests as well, most of their performances didn't quite match up with those of the stronger teams from the Class A schools in the meet.

There were a few Indian athletes who placed, however, headed by Brian Jackson in the pole vault. Jackson cleared the 11'6" mark, but by virtue of having more misses, had to settle for second place behind Dave Geise of Slinger.

Randy Schlice came away with a fourth place finish in the 100 meter dash with a 11.8 clocking, just .4 of a second slower than the winner, Mike Kelly of Hartford.

Kim Marx and Doug Mueller were the only other Indian individual participants to come away with points. Marx had a 44.9 in the 300 hurdles final, placing him fourth, while Miller cleared the 5'10" mark in the high jump, also placing him fourth.

Kewaskum's 400 meter relay team finished third in the meet, with a time of 47.1, while the 1600 meter relay team came in at 3:58.8, good enough for a fourth place finish.

KHS Golfers Improve, But Lose to Falls

SHEBOYGAN FALLS — The Kewaskum golfers shot well against the host Sheboygan Falls Falcons, here last Monday. But improving their scores didn't help against the Falcons as the Indians lost by seven strokes, 175-182.

All of the Indian golfers broke the 50 barrier, led by Aaron Laatsch who carded a 40 to take medalist honors in the meet. John McCabe led the hosts with a 42, while defending Eastern Wisconsin conference champion Jason Schlegel fired a 43.

KEWASKUM (182) - Laatsch 40, Ryan Amerling 46, Scot Paulson 47, Mark Heather 47.

SHEBOYGAN FALLS (175) - McCabe 42, Schlegel 43, Chad Abts 44, Andy Iliff 46.

Indian JV's - Matt Seiser 51, Eric McElhatton 51.

Indian Golfers Bow to Cougars

CAMPBELLSPORT — Aaron Laatsch fired a 46 to tie for medalist honors, but it wasn't enough as the Kewaskum golf team lost to Campbellsport 191-197, here, last Wednesday.

Laatsch's 46 tied the Cougars' Chad Schmitt for low round of the meet. Laatsch's score came despite a 9 on the par 5 sixth hole. Ryan Amerling was the only other Indian golfer in the 40's, as he shot a 49.

Campbellsport also won the JV meet as well, knocking off the Indians, 198-200.

Kewaskum's Scott Backhaus was the medalist for the JV meet, shooting a 46, while Ryan Ramthun added a 49.

Indian Golfers Drop One to Two Rivers

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum golf team is still looking for that elusive first dual meet win of the year, but nevertheless, the Indians do have a distinction to their credit thus far.

"We've had the meet medalist (or co-medalist) in every dual meet so far this year," Indian head coach Joe Harlow said, after reporting that Ryan Amerling's 41 took that honor in Kewaskum's 187-190 loss to Two Rivers, here, last Thursday.

"He had a nice round... did a nice job," Harlow said of Amerling, who notched his second medalist honor of the year, despite shooting a 7 on the par 4 ninth hole. "But besides Ryan, nobody really had an outstanding round."

The weather may have played a role in the outcome, which saw just one other Indian, Mark Heather (49), break the 50 barrier.

"It was very windy," Harlow said adding "We don't play very well in high winds."

In the JV meet, the Indians also came up on the short end, this time losing 235-206 to the Raiders. Ryan Ramthun had the low Indian score, carding a 53.
