A Victory for KMS Parents Board Approves Two Staffing Positions for Middle School

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

For the past few months, Kewaskum Middle School parents and Principal David Jones have been waging a series of losing battles to add two positions to the school's staff and reinstate the house plan. After some more discussion, parents attending Monday night's school board meeting heard the vote that signaled they had finally won the war.

After Jones' presentation that the added staff would not only help re-institute and expand the house plan but would aid dramatically a program to provide tutorial assistance to all the students, the board voted 4-3, to add the positions for the 1990-91 school year.

In stating his case again, Jones noted that by definition, the school did not have any "Children At Risk," however there was a large number of students who were academically in that category. Jones said his present temporary remedy to help these students was tutorial sessions during lunch hour and the institution of a 9th hour for about four students. It is a negative approach to the problem, said Jones, but at least we are getting them some help. Jones said he presently has one student who had received a grade of F, in all seven classes.

While Jones noted he was not using these students as leverage to force the board to approve the request, he indicated the additions would help tremendously in improving the middle school's total programming.

Board member Perry Ankerson again noted his opposition to the request by commenting, "Are we, in fact, in violation of state mandates to provide these services to At-Risk students?" He wondered if this was a way of intimidating the board by suggesting it was in violation of state laws.

School District Administrator David Heather said he could not, at this time answer that accurately, indicating he would have to wait for the receipt of the district's formal curriculum audit report which he expected later this week.

The DPI mandates an At-Risk program be in place starting at the fifth grade level, said Heather. We do not have such a program in place at this time, noted Heather, however, we also do not know if some of our students officially fall into that category.

Jones indicated that the added staffing would also allow for the expansion of the computer literacy course and general industrial arts program.

Paul Seymour, Chairman of the Finance - Transportation - Buildings and Grounds Committee, updated the board regarding the repair and lowering of ceiling in the three-story portion of Kewaskum Elementary School.

Before making any major repairs, noted Seymour, we would like to have a complete inspection of the building to determine it is in sound condition.

Seymour said he had no question as to the building's soundness and felt it would receive a good report. He recommended the board consider hiring an engineering firm to draw up repair specification and seek bids. One thing we will have to decide is, are we going to do this room by room, floor by floor, or can we do this all at once. He suggested the work also include energy efficient lighting and insulation to aid in lowering operating costs.

Board member Perry Ankerson indicated he was in general agreement with Seymour's comments. He did, however, recommend that when the district does seek bids, they be broken down into phases which would help the board determine how much, if not all, of the work could be done at one

Poppy Sales Aid Hospitalized Vets

Again this year the Robert G. Romaine Post #384, American Legion, will distribute poppies. All donations received will only be used to aid our hospitalized veterans.

The veterans are the men and women whose wounds, mental and physical, require them to be institutionalized. They are the ones who have given so much - now we are asking you to give generously to show them we do care.

Our Legion Post has but one World War I Veteran still living. He resides in a Campbellsport home.

Show you care! Get your Poppy on May 18, 1990 from any American Legion Member.

Holy Trinity's Fr. Berghammer Transferred to Leroy

Father Robert J. Berghammer

Father Robert J. Berghammer, pastor of Holy Trinity/St. Bridget's Parishes, will be leaving for his new assignment at St. Andrew's Parish in LeRoy effective June 26th. During Father Berghammer's tenure the parishioners were introduced to the concept of tithing, Renew Program, institution of parish council and parish committees to conduct the business of the parish, and the re-decoration and renovation of both parish churches. Holy Trinity Congregation celebrated the 125th Anniversary of its founding on May 25, 1986.

Father Berghammer, a dedicated pastor, will always be remembered here for his generosity, Masses for special occasions which actively involved parishioners in the Mass celebration at all age levels, individual attention given to all recipients of the sacraments, and his strong support of the Catholic educational system which offered the opportunity for a choice in education.

A party for Father Berghammer will be celebrated with an 11 a.m. Outdoor Mass at River Hill Park on Sunday, June 24th. A pot luck dinner will follow the Mass.

Father Thomas Venne, pastor of St. Philip Neir Parish in Milwaukee, has been appointed pastor of Holy Trinity/St. Bridget's effective June 26th.

March Winds, April Showers and May Snowstorms?

Mother Nature must have enjoyed herself the last couple of weeks. First teasing us with beautiful 80° plus temperatures and then bringing us back to reality with a snowstorm we won't soon forget last Thursday.

The area was hit by anywhere from 4½" to over 10" inches of heavy, wet snow which caused severe damage to trees everywhere.

There wasn't a yard that escaped the fury of the snow which began in the early hours. For some residents it was a few branches, but for many the heartbreak of seeing entire trees broken and twisted was truly saddening.

Power outages were common throughout the area. Some homes and businesses were without electricity for a few minutes while others were out of service for as long as 24 hours.

These poor tulips hung their heads apparently afraid to look up into Thursdays snow laden sky. Between 4½ and 10" of snow reportedly fell in Kewaskum and neighboring communities.

This pine plantation on the William Ruth land along Auburn-Ashford Drive looked like it had been hit by a tornado. The heavy wet snow broke the huge pines off as if they were match sticks.

Large Maple trees on the Henry and Carole Timblin residence on Kewaskum Street snapped their branches in protest of the heavy load they were forced to carry. Almost every property in Kewaskum sustained some type of damage to trees and shrubs. Property owners were forced to trim trees whether they wanted to or not.

Crab apple trees, almost in full blossom, bent and broke under the pressure of the snow.

Are you kidding? Who ever heard of building snowmen in May? That's what we get for bragging about the "lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer" two weeks ago. This little fellow on Fond du Lac Avenue, however, didn't last too long, as temperatures in the 60s the next day quickly erased the shock we all felt when we woke up Thursday morning.

A large tree limb narrowly missed a little red Mustang parked behind the apartments on Main St. and Parkview Dr. The car seems to be almost buried by smaller branches.

Fr. Berghammer Auctioneer for Holy Trinity White Elephant Sale

For those that missed the last meeting of the season held at Holy Trinity Catholic Church Hall for the Christian Mothers/-Ladies Altar Society held on Tues., May 8, at 7 p.m., it was a most memorable "fun-night" mixed with laughter and yet a night of goodbyes, in more ways than one.

The meeting opened with prayers of the Our Father, Hail Mary and Glory Be. Officers gave their report and committee reports were given as follows:

Spiritual Development Chairman Helen Schoofs gave a History of the Rosary and Mother Mary. Missions Chairman, Lucy Weiland reported she sold one quilt at the rummage sale and donated a quilt for the raffle prize. Membership chairmen, Rosie Williams and Janet Martinson stated the need for younger women to get involved.

Cheer and Sunshine Chairman Bernice Groh announced that she sent Irene Dreher, a sympathy card on the death of her grandson; Rosie Ritger, a get well wish and Steve and Mary Rahn, a 50th Wedding Anniversary Congratulations. Pro Life Chairman Marcella Schaefer asked those present to keep on writing their legislators until they listen to us about abortion. Rummage Sale Chairman Rita Etta reported that it was a big success. Correspondence received a beautiful letter of appreciation from Tom Larson.

The election of officers took place and the new officers were sworn in. Joan Stoffel handed the church key and officer books over to Kathy Fay, President. Kathy presented Vivian Stommel with the Vice-President's officers book. Eileen Petri gave her secretary's book over to Henrietta Gremminger and Diane Pesch bestowed her treasurer's book over to Rosemary Keller.

The program for the evening then started, which was a "White Elephant - Auction Sale." The sale brought in African Violets, candles of all sorts, playing cards, a Kewaskum Fire Dept. pitcher and mugs marked 1894-1984, which went for $4.25.

One had to be there to really have the full enjoyment, but, in a few words the auctioneer stole the show away, along with his helpers, Rosie Williams and Jeaneen Kudek. He was a "bowl full of Jello," as one Christian Mother put it. And of course, he is known for his humor, and it was present throughout the entire auction.

The auctioneer happened to be none other than the good pastor, Fr. R. J. Berghammer, with his wit and straight-faced looks.

When there was a call out for a vase to be auctioned off, Isabelle answered, "You have it, I don't have room for it." It brought laughter to the already wet eyes. With a twinkle in his eyes, Father then auctioned off candleholders. He said, "Here's two candle holders, one for Irma and one for Roger, come on, come on, you can't go wrong. Spend some of your husband's money, for your husband." Then there was "5 angel potteries, sold to an angel herself," a "deck of cards wrapped in the original wrapper made in Taiwan," or the totally irresistible cologne; for your mother-in-law." Yes, that voice of firmness and strongness will be sadly missed next year.

The auction ended on a happy note with many laughs shared and passed on. Father was saying for the last time, "going once, twice and three times" to his Christian Mothers. He will be sadly missed.

The meeting ended, with the Christian Mothers donating money with the intention that Father spend it for his own personal use only. Father Berghammer, with such sincerity, expressed his "thank you's" for our cooperation, as an organization, and gave a brief summary of his new parish. He, also mentioned the joys of living in such a fine civic community as Kewaskum.

The raffle winners were then drawn. Winners are announced in another section of this newspaper.

Hostesses for the evening were Sue Bingen, Geri Bodden, Evelyn Beisbier and Chris Schoofs.

HEART HEALTH

Light exercise for 45 minutes a day is as good as 2 hours of hard exercise in preventing heart disease, reports a federal study of 12,000 patients. Light exercise includes gardening, home repairs, walking, hoeing, weeding and pushing a lawn mower. The moral: do your own 'home work' instead of paying someone to strengthen his heart.

Filling your prescription is our most important work.

Schulte Critical of Quest Program

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

John Schulte, a member of the Kewaskum Board of Education, expressed his concern during Monday night's school board meeting regarding the 'Quest' program which has been presented at the Kewaskum Middle School for the past four years. In a memo addressed to his fellow board members and anyone else concerned, Schulte stated, "As for the Quest Program, specifically - I believe it to be counterproductive and that it severely undermines a majority of families values. It is a means of social change/behavior modification that is anything but healthy for our community and society as a whole."

Schulte questioned whether the program, sponsored nationally and locally by the Lions Clubs, was beneficial or detrimental to the district's students.

Schulte's personal opinion appeared to be, rather than teaching youngsters to stay away from alcohol and drugs, the programs instead, merely opened the door to more questions and experimentation. Schulte also said, from his own daughter's experience in the program, decisions arrived at during discussions by the students were that it was "all right to lie."

KMS teachers Linda Bastable and William Wuebben, who conduct the nine-week program, told Schulte they only use portions of the program which they feel are applicable and work into their overall teaching programs for facing the issues of adolescence, self awareness and problems and pressures related to drug and alcohol abuse in today's society.

Bastable told those attending the meeting she had received good comments regarding the program. Over 80% of the parents who attended the parent seminars, which are a part of the program, answered questionnaires and rated it good to excellent.

Bastable also told Schulte she was somewhat upset by his frequent referrals to class activities and discussions as therapy sessions. As for Schulte's comment that she and the program condoned lying, Bastable indicated that was not correct. If anything, it was a hypothetical situation, she noted. A student is pressed by some of his friends to go out and drink. The student knows it is wrong and doesn't want to go. Instead of just saying no, the student says his parents won't let him go out that night. For a particular student, they may feel that is the best way to handle and solve a difficult situation. I wouldn't consider that condoning lying, she noted.

Bastable noted she was distressed by Schulte's criticism of how Kewaskum's program was being run especially since he was one of the few parents who had not attended the Quest seminar when his daughter was in the program.

Schulte then questioned the materials and methods used by Wuebben to address drug and alcohol abuse in his Health classes. Wuebben told Schulte that while he used some information from a section of the Quest program, most of his data and facts came from the Department of Public Instruction. I also have guest speakers come in and address the students, he said. Wuebben then asked Schulte if he had actually looked at and was familiar with the course curriculum set up for the class. While Schulte would not actually admit he had not looked at the curriculum, he did admit he was not familiar with its actual content.

Schulte held up several articles which he said confirmed his opinion and the fact that the Quest program was not working and should not be used, especially on children. Connie Strand, the district's curriculum coordinator, told Schulte they could trade reports and articles, pro and con, all evening long and nothing would be accomplished. She suggested that if Mr. Schulte felt so strongly about this issue, it would be better served if he met with herself, Mrs. Bastable, Mr. Wuebben and the Human Growth and Development Committee, where his concerns could be addressed in greater depth.

Village Officials Tour Kewaskum's Latest Residential Construction Projects

The 24-unit Rustic Timbers Townhouses, north of Kewaskum shopping mall, were recently completed and are 99% occupied.

Westfield Apartments are located on the villages north side. Landscaping is all that remains to be done at the ten-unit building.

Mapledale Manor, Kewaskum, the elderly and CBRF project of Drs. Cesar and Aurora Sison is still under construction. The building is expected to be finished by mid-July.

Bob Kirst, general contractor for Mapledale, explains some of the features being incorporated into the building.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board, early this month, toured the community's three newest apartment projects which will add 77 new living units to the area.

Two of the complexes, the Timblin Rustic Timbers Townhouses, owned by Tom and Debbie Timblin, and the Westfield Apartments, owned by Jim and Sue Wessing, have been recently completed except for the finishing touches of landscaping.

Timblin's 24-unit building, located on the southern edge of the village, has one unit open which Tom anticipates will be occupied in the near future.

The ten-unit Westfield Apartments, located on Kewaskum's north side, has seven of its units rented and the Wessings also expect to have the remaining three units occupied within the next few months.

The third apartment project, still under construction, is that of Drs. Cesar and Aurora Sison. The Sison project, known as Mapledale Manor-Kewaskum, will be available to residents 55 years of age and older or persons of any age with disabilities. This unit is designed to offer both independent living while having the availability of living assistance services if needed. It will contain 28, one and two-bedroom apartments along with 15 Community Based Residential Facility (CBRF) units.

Mapledale will offer privacy and independent living but it will also be able to provide personal care and meal preparation in accordance with the needs of the residents.

Bob Kirst, general contractor for the project, expects construction of the building, located behind the Sison Medical Clinic, to be completed by July 15th.

Mary Renzalgia, administrator for two similar facilities in Slinger and West Bend, will oversee the operations of the Kewaskum project.

25 Years Ago 50 Years Ago

May 14, 1965

Plans are nearly completed for Kewaskum's 7th Annual Dairy Day to be held Saturday, June 5th. The entire program will be completely new this year, including the date.

The Kewaskum Chapter of the Future Farmers of America held its annual parent and son banquet at the Kewaskum High School cafeteria on Wednesday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. Wayland Tessar of the Bank of Kewaskum presented two short course scholarships of $150 to Kenneth Becker and Kenneth Ramthun, the outstanding seniors of the Kewaskum FFA. The bank gave two awards this year due to the fact that the applicants were very close in the merit of the award.

Prom night came to Kewaskum High School on April 30 and brought with it some pleasant weather. King Larry Coulter and Queen Jeanne Reindl reigned over the evening and led the royal dance, "The Old Lamplighter." Court members were Richard Reysen and Lucille Kirchner; Roger Mertz and Janet Breit; Ralph Bier and Ellen Sengpiel; Robert Coulter and Dorothy Buczek; Richard Wietor and Jennifer Nolting; Anthony Gundrum and Betty Spartz; Edward Czaja and Rosie Zehren; James Ramthun and Diane Vetter.

The Hon-E-Kor Golf and Country Club of Kewaskum this week announced the hiring of a new pro, C.M. "Biddy" Bidwell, now of Fond du Lac. He succeeds Tom Larsen who has been selected to participate in a summer mathematics institute sponsored by the National Science Foundation at Eau Claire State University.

Birth — A son, Jeffrey Charles to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilke, R. 3, Campbelsport, Monday, May 10.

May 17, 1940

Henry "Hank" Fickler, who formerly conducted the White Front Tavern at Barton and the Wilson House at Port Washington, purchased the tavern at Kohn's curve, one mile north of Kewaskum, on Highway 55, in a deal completed recently. The tavern was formerly operated by Alfred Ludwig and later the Kirkpatrick family. As there is a fine grove surrounding the tavern, Mr. Fickler has changed the name of the place to Fickler's Grove. The grove can be used for picnics, camping grounds and tourist camp. Light lunches will be served and gas and oils will be sold by Mr. Fickler, who is well known in this section.

Mrs. Elwyn Romaine and daughter Lucille entertained 16 guests at a miscellaneous shower at their home last Friday evening, May 10, in honor of Miss Kathryn Johnson of R. 2, Kewaskum, Town of Farmington, whose approaching marriage to William F. Schaefer of this village has been announced. The wedding will take place on May 25.

A group of eight children will receive their first holy communion at St. Michaels Church, St. Michaels during Mass at 7 a.m. Sunday. They are Gerald Herriges, Donald Herriges, Gerald Staehler, Victor Herriges, Angeline Bremser, Adeline Vorpahl, Priscilla Brown and John Dreher.

A marriage license has been issued to Sylvester Schmidt R. 2, Campbelsport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schmidt and Ione Backhaus of R. 2, Kewaskum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Backhaus. The wedding will take place Saturday, June 1st.

75 Years Ago

May 15, 1915

About 11:30 a.m., Thursday,

May 13th, the spirit of Herman W. Krahn passed away from this earth to the great beyond. Death being due from chronic brights disease and chronic heart of which he has been a sufferer for the past three months. Up to the last week there were still hopes of rallying, but since then it was an open secret that his time was short, although his friends were hoping against hopes. He was in his fifty-fourth year. Mr. Krahn was one of Kewaskum's most popular businessmen and an excellent type of the good, sturdy progressive citizen. Mr. Krahn was thoroughly public spirited. He was among the first to arouse interest in the incorporation of this village and organization of the Kewaskum Fire Department. That he stood within the good graces of his townsmen is evident from the fact that he held the office of Village Trustee, being at present an appointee caused by the vacancy of a member, who moved from the village.

The marriage of Miss Ellen Dwyer of the Town of Wayne and Edward Schmidt of Hartford was solemnized at the St. Peter and Paul Church, Nenno, Tuesday, May 11th, Rev. Joe Gabriels officiating. Miss Mary Dwyer, sister of the bride acted as maid of honor and Miss Lillian Sterr, cousin of the groom, as bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Nicholas Sterr, cousin of the groom, and Edward Dwyer, brother of the bride.

Don Harbeck attended the funeral of his father at Lake Mills, Wis., on Wednesday.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stelpflug died suddenly shortly after dinner last Sunday. The funeral was held on Monday morning with services in the Holy Trinity Church and interment made in the congregation's cemetery.

Special for Saturday and Sunday at the Delicatessen store, strawberries, lettuce, green onions, spinach, celery and pineapples.

IN MEMORY

In memory of ARCELLA HEISDORF who passed away 3 years ago, May 19, 1987:

As the years go by,
Whatever we do;
There's always something around,
That remind us of you.

You left an impression on us,
To love, to honor, to share;
Your memory will never be forgotten,
For we know, God has you in his care.

Deeply missed by her family.

IN MEMORY

In memory of ARCELLA HEISDORF, who passed away May 19, 1987:

She always learned to watch for us,

Anxious if we were late
In winter by the window
In summer by the gate.

Her thoughts were all so full of us,

She never could forget!
And so I think that where she is,
She must be watching yet.

Waiting 'til we come home to her

Anxious if we are late —
Watching from Heaven's window

Leaning from Heaven's gate.

Deeply missed by her family.

Wisconsin Tourism Week May 13-19

Tourism is big business in the 1990s. In Wisconsin a recent study indicates that tourism was a $5.4 billion dollar business in 1989 and 44 percent of that was generated in the months of June, July and August. The tourism industry also provides more than 114,000 full time jobs in the state. In recognition of this growth of the tourism industry in the state, the week of May 13-19 is declared Wisconsin Tourism Week.

In Washington County, the Washington County Tourism Council has just released a study on tourism. Based on a survey of local businesses, the Wisconsin Bell Economic Development Study contains conclusions and recommendations for businesses in the county and for the Tourism Council. The survey was provided by Wisconsin Bell as a service to the community.

Over 400 surveys were mailed to tourism related businesses including dining, lodging, selected retail and entertainment throughout the county. The responding 123 businesses reported a total of 1,815 jobs. Forty percent of the businesses were established since 1981, over half are corporations and own their building. Ninety-six percent of the respondents feel more tourists should be encouraged to come to the area, and most agree tourism is good for business and the community.

As a result of the study, the Washington County Tourism Council will be expanding their role to encourage coordination and cooperation in the tourism promotion area. "One of the primary activities will be to develop a countywide tourism marketing plan," stated Dennis Bandle, Tourism Council President. The marketing plan would include a review of the existing logo, encouraging joint advertising, and improving our coordination with the state's promotional activities.

Bandle also indicated that the Tourism Council wants to work with local businesses to provide informational resources and assist all businesses to provide the best possible service to our visitors making them feel welcome.

As the tourism industry grows, trends are apparent; and Washington County is in a prime position to capitalize on this. One major trend is families taking shorter vacations that are closer to home. "For this county, where many of our visitors are from the Milwaukee and Chicago area, this is good news," according to Marcia Theusch, the Economic Development Director for the County. "This offers a great opportunity for the local businesses and attractions."

More information or copies of the study may be obtained at the Economic Development Office in the Courthouse or by calling 338-4777 or 644-5204 ext. 4777.

Indians Loss to Kiel Blamed On Poor Putting

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum golf team and Mother Nature haven't been the best of friends so far this spring, and that trend continued here, last Monday.

High winds seemed to be a factor as the Indians were outshot by Kiel, 186-194, on Hon-E-Kor's front nine. The young Indian golfers managed to get the ball to the green alright, but it was there that their problems began.

"I don't know if it was the high winds or what, but we putted terribly," Indian head coach Joe Harlow said. "We lost the match on the green."

Kiel's Brad Schneider took medalist honors in the meet, shooting a nice round of 40 on the par 35 course. Minus Schneider, the two teams would have been extremely close.

But the Raiders had Schneider and the Indians' best effort came from Ryan Amerling, probably the Indians' most consistent golfer this spring, who had a 46. Fellow sophomore Aaron Laatsch was right behind with a 47, while Matt Seiser had a 53. And Chad Cook, making his first varsity appearance of the season, shot a round of 48.

"He came along well," Harlow said of the sophomore Cook, who has been working hard this spring. "He's settled down and looks like he's back in stride."

Meanwhile, the Indian JV squad was busy on the back nine, as they shot consistently and beat Kiel 205-231. Tim Butschlick came in with a round of 50 to lead the Indians, while Joel Fleischman added a 51. Eric Paulson cared a 52, as did Eric McElhatton.

KEWASKUM (194) — Amerling 46, Laatsch 47, Cook 48, Seiser 53.

KIEL (186) — Schneider 40, Brian Vogel 47, Mike Detroye 48, Eric Faust 51.

New Holstein Sweeps Conference Relays; Indian Girls Place Second

SHEBOYGAN FALLS — Known over the years as a power in track and field, New Holstein backed up its claim as the best, or at least the deepest, in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Relays held last Friday.

The boys team piled up 114 points on its way to the team title, edging Sheboygan Falls (106). Third was Chilton (61), followed by Plymouth (59), Two Rivers (45.5), Kiel (25) and Kewaskum, who had 20.5.

The girls meet was much closer, however, as New Holstein won it with 95, just squeaking by the Indians, who were second with 93. After that it was Chilton (57), Two Rivers (54), Plymouth (53.5), Sheboygan Falls (53), and Kiel (25.5).

The Indian girls piled up five first place finishes to go along with four seconds. It wouldn't be enough against the ever-tough Huskies however. Even though New Holstein had just four firsts and three seconds, it backed that up with four thirds and three more fourths to outdo the Indians. Totaled, it meant that the Huskies finished fourth or better in 14 of the 15 events.

"We knew we'd be right up there," Indian head coach Perry Koth said of his team's finish. "It's hard to predict how a team is going to do."

Kewaskum got first place finishes out of its 400, 800, 1600, and sprint medley relay teams, at least proving that the Indians had the fastest runners in the meet. The 400 relay, consisting of Melissa Braun, Kelly Korth, Tina Schwartz and Rachel Gosa, came across the tape in 55.5 just ahead of Chilton's 55.7.

The 800 relay, meanwhile, had a little bit easier time of things. The foursome of Braun, Korth, Schwartz and Kristi Lubahn finished in 1:55.3, more than three seconds ahead of Chilton.

The 1600 relay was not to be outdone. "They really had a great time," Koth said of Lubahn, Laurie Vogt, Nicole Doherty, and Rachele Zuehlke, who crossed the finish line in 4:20.5. "They won easily...were way out in front," as evidenced by the six-second differential between them and New Holstein.

The spring medley, a race with the competitors running different distances, was won by Kewaskum's Lubahn (200 meters), Gosa (100), Braun (100), and Zuehlke (400) in 2:00.0.

Kewaskum's other first place came in the high jump competition, an event the Indians are quite deep in. Pam Osterbrink, Ingrid Ankerson, and Adrea Fleiss teamed up to jump 14'2", with Osterbrink leading the way with a 5'2" mark, once again tying the school record she already co-holds.

Three of the Indians' seconds came in the field events. The long jump team of Tammy Michaels (14'10"), Terri Vogt (14'6"), and Korth (13'11.75") combined for 43'3.75", while the triple jump trio of Fleiss (31'2"), Ankerson (31'0") and Michaels (30'.25") was just two feet short of New Holstein's winning total.

The discus team (Tina Weddig, Robyn Winninghoff, and Lora Delcore) put up a good battle against the Huskies as well, before settling for second. Weddig's throw of 114'6" led the group. "She's throwing real well right now," Koth said of the senior Weddig.

The Indians' other second came in the distance medley, where Doherty, Terry Vogt, Schwartz and Laurie Vogt teamed up for a 4:49.0 finish, earning a solid second.

A third was recorded by the 300 hurdle shuttle team (:58.24), while the shot put team took fourth (91'8") and the 900 hurdle team sixth (175.4).

"That's twice now that they've nipped us," Koth said of the New Holstein squad, referring to just three days earlier, when the Huskies beat the Indians by a single point in a triangular. "They're the school to beat."

While the Indian girls have their sights set on the top spot in Thursday's conference meet at Chilton, the Indians' boys team will be doing its best just to challenge the middle of the pack. In the relays, though, the Indians, hurt by a lack of numbers this year, struggled and eventually wound up last.

The Indians did get some nice performances out of some individuals, however. Foremost, the pole vault team of Brian Jackson, Rob Kertscher and Jeff Sabish had the Indians best finish of the day, taking a third, led by Jackson's clearing of 11'0". Kertscher added a 10'0" mark and Sabish 9'0" to total 30'0".

The 900 intermediate hurdles team of Kertscher, Kim Marx and Doug Mueller brought home a fourth place finish with a 1:39.91 clocking. Marx had the best split of the three, running a 45.3.

Kertscher and Marx teamed up with Randy Schlice and Aaron Miller to post a 1:40.5 in the 800 relay, good enough for a fifth, while they ran together again in the 400 relay and posted a 46.7 also good for a fifth.

Two other field events brought fifth place finishes for the Indians. In the shot put, Greg Holl, John Schmitt and Willie Kries teamed up to throw 104'6.5", while in the high jump, Rich Radtke, Doug Mueller and Jackson teamed up for a 16'0" mark.

The Indians got four sixth place finishes, two from the field events. In the long jump, Radtke, Dale Bowser, and foreign exchange student Bernd Gusinde combined for a 43'7.75" showing, and the same three teamed for a 99'1" leap in the triple jump.

Schmitt, Dean Kries, Willie Kries and Jeff Dirmeier clocked 9:36.5 in the 3200 relay, good enough for sixth, and Jim Rix, Dean Kries, Miller and Schlice teamed up for a 4:20.79 in the sprint medley, drawing them a sixth place finish.

Indian Netters Trowned by Ripon

KEWASKUM — For the second time this season, the Kewaskum tennis team just didn't have enough zest to stay with a tough Ripon squad, falling 7-0, the same score recorded in their April 23rd encounter.

Indian head coach Jan Rosenthal switched his regulars around a little, but it wasn't enough as the Ripon athletes showed their earlier victory was no fluke.

No Kewaskum singles player won more than one game against their opponent, although a couple of the doubles teams had a bit more luck.

The number one doubles team of Ira Sison and Mark Piowarczyk bowed 0-6 in the opening set, before coming back in the second set, only to lose 6-7. The newly formed number two doubles team of Bruce Waechter and Shawn Schneider battled Steve Martin and Tom Gabridski to three sets before losing 4-6, 6-2, 1-6.

New Holstein Edges Indian Girls in Triangular Meet

KEWASKUM — At the time, it didn't seem so significant. It was still early in the triangular track meet here, last Tuesday. The 400 meter dash had just been completed and Kewaskum's Nicole Doherty apparently had finished third, just ahead of New Holstein's Flynn. But, after a conference between the timers, it was decided that Flynn had actually edged Doherty.

That little flip-flop of places turned out to be the deciding factor in the meet, however with 71 and Sheboygan Falls 24. The one point difference in the standing equalled the one point difference between third and fourth place.

"Nicole thought she had finished third," Indian head coach Perry Koth said, although he was disappointed in the final outcome, had no bitter feelings about the situation, adding "those things happen, and there's nothing you can do about it."

That bit of controversy didn't take away from the fine effort of the Indians against the perennial-power Huskies. The Indians got excellent performances from a number of individuals, including their sprinters and relay teams.

Melissa Braun headed the list, as she accounted in four of the Indians' nine first-place finishes. Bruan won both the 100 meter dash (13.6) and the 200 meter dash (28.0), while helping both the 800 meter relay (1:57.3) and the 1600 meter relay (4:21.5) teams to victories as well.

In the 1600 relay, Braun teamed with Rachel Gosa, Rachel Zuehlke and Kristi Lubahn for the victory in one of the most exciting races of the day. Lubahn, running the last leg of the relay, made up about 30 yards on her competitors to eek out a win.

"That was pretty typical of her," Koth said of his senior ace. "She's a very competitive person, and that's the first race this year that somebody's really pushed her."

Lubahn also teamed with Braun on the winning 800 relay, joining Tina Schwartz and Kelly Korth on the first place team. Lubahn won the 300 hurdles as well, this one with east as she crossed 49.0.

Schwartz and Korth teamed up with Gosa and Stacey Heberer to pull out a win in the 400 meter relay as well, running a 55.4. Korth added another first in the long jump, joining 14'1". Zuehlke took the top spot in that controversial 400 dash, winning in 1:05.6. Gosa, who has shown steady improvement all year, added a second in the 100 meter dash, finishing right behind Braun in 14.1.

"Her times have come down considerably," Koth said of Gosa. "She's one of our top three sprinters (along with Braun and Lubahn) now. She's just been really steady all year."

Kewaskum's only other first came in the high jump, where Pam Osterbrink went 5'2" to tie her own school record. Osterbrink tried to clear 5'3" to set a new record, but "she just barely knocked it off," according to Koth. "She's right there though," he added.

Not far behind Osterbrink was Ingrid Ankerson, who cleared 4'10", which was good enough to take second in the event. Ankerson was also the Indians' top finisher in the triple jump, leaping 30'10" good enough for third.

Laurie Vogt also had a second and a third place finish. Vogt placed second in the 800 run (2:41.3), and third in the 1600 run (5:58.9).

In the 100 hurdles, Jessica Rohrer (18.6) and Joy Castro (19.2) finished 3-4, respectively, while in the shot put, Lora Delcore and Tina Weddig also placed 3-4. Weddig though, took second in the discus, throwing 111'7", while Delcore was fourth with 89'4.5."

Shelley Kasseckert took fourth in the 400 meter run, as she crossed the finish line in 30.6 seconds, while Tammy Michaels rounded out the Indians' scoring with a fourth in the long jump (13.25").
