Herriges Oil Now a Phillips Petroleum Station

It's business as usual as a Herriges Oil Co. employee puts the finishing touches on the new Phillips Petroleum colors on the station on Fond du Lac Ave.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

After a lengthy relationship of 36 years, Herriges Oil Company has been reluctantly forced, for reasons of economics, to change its gasoline supply company.

Since 1954, the company, owned and operated by Raynor Herriges, has been associated with the Shell Oil Company. "Shell, however, has recently moved its terminal out of Milwaukee," said Herriges, "and the next nearest terminals are either Green Bay or in Illinois." We could have transported fuel from Green Bay, he noted, but the cost would not have allowed us to remain competitive and continue to provide our full service at self-serv prices.

"We are now a Phillips 66 gas station, but we will continue to handle Shell's full line of motor oil and greases."

Raynor's association with Shell dates back to July, 1954, when he became a distributor. In 1963, Herriges started the old shell station on the corner of Main Street and Riverview. He later bought out his partner Arnold Martin. On July 1, 1971, Herriges purchased the station at 1245 Fond du Lac Avenue.

"Over those thirty-plus years approximately sixty young fellas have worked for us," said Pat Herriges. "It was really interesting looking back in our records, remembering all those young men and where they've gone on, after working here."

Raynor would like to remind his customers that nothing has changed at his station except the gasoline brand. "We will continue to give that full service at self-serve prices and we will honor the Shell credit card until customers receive their new Phillips cards."

Cyclist Killed

Anthony J. Balistrieri, 22, of 3888 Victoria Dr., West Bend was killed instantly last Thursday, when the motorcycle he was driving collided with a car driven by Peter Wiedmeyer, 26, of 3462 Town Hall Road.

The accident happened around 8:45 a.m., according to the report, when Balistrieri was heading westbound on Town Hall Road at an apparently high rate of speed. He cashed into the Wiedmeyer's car as it was coming out of a driveway.

Balistrieri was pronounced dead at the scene, due to severe head and internal injuries. Wiedmeyer escaped without injury.

County Fair Area Departments Called Opens July 25 Out To Weekend Fires

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Area departments responded to two fires over the past weekend. The first fire occurred at Star Auto on Highway V, in the Town of Auburn. The second blaze destroyed a barn in the Town of Farmington.

Kewaskum Fire Chief Robert Stoltzmann stated his department was called out at about 7 p.m., Friday, to extinguish a fire in a pile of tires, rims and a gas tank at the Star Auto yard.

Stoltzmann said employees had been working in the area with a cutting torch which apparently ignited the materials. The department remained on the scene approximately an hour.

On Sunday, the Boltonville Fire Department was called out at 2:05 p.m., to battle a barn fire at the summer home of a Milwaukee woman.

Boltonville Fire Chief Joe Enright said a neighbor, Willie Blecher, notified the department of a fire at the Margaret Schumacher residence, 9565 Boltonville Road, Town of Farmington.

The upper portion of the barn, which was being used for storage, was completely engulfed in flames when firemen arrived. Enright said the structure contained a complete workshop, antiques, motorcycles, snowblowers, a snowmobile and a completely restored 1972 Cadillac, which were lost in the blaze.

Boltonville received mutual tanker aid from Kewaskum, Fillmore, Batavia and Beechwood. The department remained on the scene for 3 1/2 hours.

Enright said he and Washington County Sheriff's Department Fire Investigator Tom Smith were at the scene Monday trying to determine the cause of the fire. "We ruled out arson," said Enright, "but we were unable to pin down the exact cause." There was no dollar damage estimate available.

Weekend Accident Seriously Injures Milwaukee Woman

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

A Milwaukee woman was critically injured Saturday night when the vehicle in which she was a passenger was involved in a two-car accident just north of the Village of Kewaskum.

According to a Washington County Sheriff's Department spokesperson, the accident occurred at 8:12 p.m., 1/10th of a mile north of Werner Drive.

The department report stated that Michael Buchel, 23, of Rt. 1, Adell, was southbound on Highway S, when he passed a truck and then struck a car in the left rear quarter driven by Ralph Kruse, 73, of 5740 South 38th Court, Milwaukee.

The Kruse vehicle skidded off the road into a cornfield, overturning three times. Kruse, his wife Elizabeth Kruse, 66, and a second passenger in the Kruse vehicle, Renae Fox, 38, of Cudahy, were injured.

The accident victims were transported to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend. Elizabeth Kruse was later transported to the Milwaukee County Medical Complex, Milwaukee, where she remains in the Intensive Care Unit, listed in critical condition with multiple trauma. Her husband and Fox were treated and released from St. Joseph's.

According to the report, none of the injured were wearing seatbelts.

Buchel was cited for passing in a No Passing Zone and operating a vehicle while intoxicated.

Moraine Park Instructor is First State VTAE Teacher of the Year

Martin Potter

Martin Potter, a corrections science instructor at the Fond du Lac campus of Moraine Park Technical College, was named the winner of the first Teacher of the Year award competition held by Wisconsin's 16-district technical college system.

Dwight York, state director of the vocational, technical and adult education (VTAE) system, presented the Technical College Teaching Excellence Award to Potter May 23 during the monthly meeting of the Wisconsin Board of VTAE in Madison.

In addition to the award, the former Chippewa Falls resident will receive a $1,000 cash award donated by the Wisconsin Foundation for VTAE, the Wisconsin Education Association Council and the Wisconsin Federation of Teachers.

He will now be a spokesperson for the Wisconsin Board of VTAE as an advocate for quality instruction. "This is a tremendous honor for Marty and for Moraine Park," said Moraine Park President John Shanahan. "This has been quite a month for the college, winning both the top student and teacher awards in the state technical college system."

Earlier this month, Karen Koenig, a graduating student in the medical record program at the college's West Bend campus, received the state's Vocational, Technical and Adult Education Star Award as the outstanding technical college student for the year. Nearly 500,000 students attended the state's 16 technical colleges.

"If my students didn't have the desire to be here, I wouldn't be getting this award," Potter said. "I do not think I'd be an effective teacher if I did not have students who wanted to be involved at this level. They're a good group."

He was one of 42 instructors from all three Moraine Park campuses nominated in February by members of the college's management, instructional and support staffs. Potter then received the most votes cast in an April election involving the entire college staff to become Moraine Park's nominee for the state competition.

At the state level, he was chosen over 15 other nominees from the other VTAE districts. There are approximately 3,500 full-time instructors in the state's technical colleges.

Potter has been a full-time instructor at Moraine Park since 1986.

After a seven-year career in corrections, first with the Wisconsin Division of Corrections working with parolees, then as a youth shelter care counselor in Kenosha, Potter decided to return to school to obtain a master's degree in vocational education in 1983.

An opportunity to be a last minute replacement instructor for a juvenile after-care worker workshop gave Potter a taste of the teaching profession. He liked it and eventually enrolled at the University of Wisconsin - Stout for his master's.

His ambition, Potter said, was to teach in one of the two correctional science programs in the state, at Moraine Park or Northeastern Wisconsin Technical College in Green Bay. After receiving his master's in 1985, Potter worked for a year as a youth transition program coordinator for the Wisconsin Division of Corrections and taught part time at Moraine Park before joining the college full time the following year.

Potter's interest in corrections science comes naturally; his father was a clerk of courts. After high school, Potter enrolled at Florida State University, graduating in 1976 with a bachelor's degree in social work with an emphasis in corrections.

Since Potter became an instructor at Moraine Park's Fond du Lac campus, enrollment in the corrections science program has tripled to 60 students. He is also involved in ongoing training for corrections officer and teaches self-esteem and parole survival skills to inmates at Waupun and Taycheedah correctional institutions.

Potter is chairperson of the Wisconsin Corrections Association, American Corrections Association and the Corrections Education Association. He is the advisor for the Moraine Park Corrections Science Club and is active in several other campus and community organizations. "He exemplifies the expertise and commitment the faculty of the Wisconsin technical college system provides to its students and the community at large," York said. "Wisconsin is fortunate to have educators such as Martin who strive to keep Wisconsin at the forefront of education excellence."

Potter is married to Christine Jaglowski, an administrative assistant at Taycheedah. They have two children, ages 4 years and 14 months, and live in St. Cloud.

Potter, 36, will be entered in the competition for the William H. Mearly Faculty Award, a national program to recognize quality instruction in two-year postsecondary institutions sponsored by the Association of Community College Trustees.

Why I am Proud of America

Each nation on earth has a unique characteristic - a landmark, a custom, or a heritage - that sets it apart from the rest of the world. In America we are not without landmarks or customs, yet the characteristic that brings us the most fame is our democratic freedom. Man has discovered that all the beauty of this earth cannot hold a light to the beauty of being free.

Man can claim to be the master of the land, yet if he is not a part of the force that governs it, the land is not truly his. America is a land to be proud of because it is ours and it is beautiful. We, the people of America, can truly know life because we are free. As the majestic bald eagle soars high above the earth with no hindrance so we are free to inhabit this country.

America holds many great freedoms including: the freedom of religion, the freedom of speech, the freedom of the press, the freedom of assembly, and the freedom to petition. These five are provided for in the first amendment of our Constitution. Each freedom relies on the existence of the others in order for its own beauty to be enhanced.

What if we had the freedom of speech, the freedom of the press, and the freedom to assemble in all matters excluding religion? If one freedom is taken away, a part of all freedoms are taken away.

Knowing that my country provides me with religious freedoms fills me with pride. Although I am not yet an adult, I am still free to choose my own beliefs. There is nothing hindering the growth or beauty of what I believe, it is up to me to decide what is religiously right and wrong.

My pride in America stems from this freedom. I am allowed to be me, not what some ruler - who cares not for me - wishes, nor even what my parents wish, but what I truly am.

Only in America can people who believe in God and those who believe no God exists live in harmony. Each person has the right to choose beliefs for himself and is prohibited from forcing another to believe the same. Because of this, freedom is not limited to only a few Americans, we are all free.

There is no anarchy in America, the people rule. We rule not each other, but ourselves. Our Constitution accurately draws the line where our rights begin and end. The limits set up for us allow for our protection from others and for our country's protection of its freedoms. We are safely guarded by the Constitution, and no one can steal our freedoms.

When I stand looking up at our flag I am thankful. Our freedom was bought with a dear price; men's lives. So many men laid down their own desires and became totally selfless, they looked ahead to the country's future and were willing to lay down their own lives for our sake. I am thankful for what these men and women have done, and I will do my best to take care of the priceless freedoms they've given to me.

America has done much to instill pride in me. And I am proud; proud of our landmarks, proud of our culture, and proud of our heritage. Most of all, I am proud of our freedom, the wellspring of our existence.

Letters to the Editor

June 20, 1990

Dear Editor:

Local Lions club members have advised me that a few individuals in your community expressed concern about the Lions-Quest curriculums. As president of Lions Clubs International, let me assure you that we fully support the Lions - Quest Skills for Adolescence and Skills for Growing programs. In fact, Lions have helped establish these programs in over 17,000 schools worldwide — the largest drug education and prevention program in the world.

We are proud of our efforts to halt drug abuse. I think every parent shares our concern over its human and economic costs and after observing Lions - Quest for five years in schools in every state and 18 countries around the globe, I can emphatically state that it's making a positive difference in the lives of young people and their families.

In fact, U.S. Education Secretary Lauro Cavazos said recently that there is strong evidence that drug education is critical in combatting this country's drug problem. He added that showing students how to resist peer pressure and actually confront the issue is a key ingredient.

You might not be aware that these programs are also supported by the National PTA, the American Association of School Administrators, the National Association of Elementary School Principals and the National Council of Juvenile and Court Judges. Recently, Lions Clubs International was awarded the United States Presidential Citation Award for Private Sector Initiatives for sponsorship of the Lions - Quest Skills for Adolescence program.

Lions Clubs International will continue to support these fine curriculums. I'm proud that the Lions club in your community has chosen to support it too. After all, our motto is "WE SERVE."

Sincerely,
William L. Woolard
International President

Kewaskum Schools to Receive $7,232

New Grants Afford Variety and Depth In School-Community AOD Programs

MADISON — State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover recently announced the names of 189 school districts and groups that will share more than $4.5 million in grants for programs addressing student use of alcohol and other drugs (AOD).

The Kewaskum School District will receive a grant of $7,232 for the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program.

Four grant programs, new this year, increased both the available funds and the ways groups can address AOD-related problems. In addition to the standard grants for comprehensive AOD programs, the 1990-91 grants will fund programs for after-school and summer, Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) and Families and Schools Together; and enable districts to expand their pupil services teams with additional school counselors, psychologists, and social workers.

"Those of us who work with our young people must help break the dangerous cycle that leads people to alcohol and other drugs," Grover said. "We must break that cycle because so many other problems follow. These grants will enable schools and other groups to focus next school year on factors we've identified as problem areas."

Ninety groups will share nearly $2.3 million for developing comprehensive AOD programs. The district wide kindergarten through 12th

- grade program must

* train teachers and other school staff members in prevention methods;

* provide a pupil assistance program for intervention;

* develop and implement an AOD curriculum for K-12 students;

* provide students with instruction in communicating, solving problems, making decisions, dealing with peer pressure, thinking critically, reducing stress, and developing self-esteem; and

* enable teachers to participate in training by releasing them from other duties.

Eighteen groups will share nearly $400,000 for after-school and summer programs for students in grades one through nine. The department is developing plans to award an additional $320,000.

Thirty-six groups will share $600,000 for DARE programs, in which a uniformed law enforcement representative instructs students in grades five through eight in methods of resisting drugs.

Thirty-one groups will share more than $950,000 for FAST programs that bring together professionals from school and community agencies and families of students between 6 and 11 years of age who are at high risk of dropping out of school, abusing alcohol or other drugs, or becoming delinquent.

Seize the Power: VOTE Gruber Appointed to PowerVote 90

In 1986, the last gubernatorial election, only 43% of those eligible to vote in Wisconsin cast their ballot. This was the second lowest state voter turnout since the Depression. To counteract this decline and to provide a guide to others interested in encouraging greater voter participation, the League of Wisconsin Voters has initiated PowerVote 90, a statewide project to increase voter turnout by 10%. Activities will fall into four categories: voter registration, motivation, education and attitude research. President Mona Steele stated "The League of Women Voters of Wisconsin Education Fund, as a nonpartisan tax exempt organization dedicated to encouraging informed and active participation of citizens in government, is ideally suited to coordinating and funding PowerVote 90. However, undertaking our 10% increase goal is not a project for League members alone. Support from community, school, corporate and union leaders is essential to League's success in making a significant impact on voter attitudes and actions in 1990."

The League of Women Voters of Wisconsin Education Fund is proud to announce the appointment of the PowerVote 90 Advisory Committee: Tony Earl and Warren Knowles as co-chairs, Jerry Benjamin, John Bubolz, Richard Collins, Bert Grover, Joseph Gruber, Camilla Hansen, Donna Shalala and Rik Warch. The League invites all citizens to join our growing list of supporters and help us and this distinguished Advisory Committee to Seize the Power: Vote in 1990.

Milwaukee's German Fest Chooses West Bend as 'Honor City'

German Fest officials have chosen West Bend to be the "Honor City" at the popular festival this year. German Fest will be held Friday through Sunday, July 26, 27 and 28 at the Henry W. Maier Festival Park on Milwaukee's lakefront.

West Bend will be quite visible to those attending the fest, according to local planners for the event. The West Bend tent will invite visitors with "Guten Tag Meine Damen und Herren; West Bend, The City of Gemutlichkeit." An extensive historical photo display of the city will show the strong German influence settlers had on the area. Gehl Company, Serigraph Inc., The West Bend Company, Amity Leather Products Company, and B.C. Ziegler and Company, will each display their products and history. Photos of West Bend Germanfest memorabilia will be available.

West Bend will be highly visible in the hour-long parade Saturday afternoon. Mayor Mike Miller will ride in a convertible and the River City Irregulars and the West Bend High School band will march in the parade. A float will proclaim "Brats to Do In West Bend."

Friday will be a big day for all graduates of West Bend High School. An all-year class reunion (including those from the old WBHS, West Bend East and West Bend West) will bring together friends and acquaintances. Upon arrival on the fest grounds on Friday, graduates are asked to register in the West Bend tent. A half-hour program is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. in the Beer Garden. If you or someone you know graduated from high school in West Bend, any year, we encourage your attendance.

A full schedule of ethnic entertainment is in store for all those attending German Fest. Music, singing, yodeling, dancing, food and beverages, plus a large genealogy section, free children's arts and crafts, a live Glockenspiel and a schafskopf (sheepshead) tent are topped off each night by a gala fireworks display. Many of the groups are directly from Europe.

People are encouraged to purchase tickets in advance, as the $5 advance tickets cost $1 less than at the gate, they include a raffle ticket, and $1 goes to help defray the expenses of West Bend's involvement at the fest. Advance tickets are available at all locations of Bank One, M & I First National Bank, and Pick & Save, Benidt's Super Valu Foods and the Chamber of Commerce in West Bend.

For more information call the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce, 338-2666.

Home-Buying Kit Available from County UWEX Office

Food For Thought —
by Joyce Albrecht
Extension Home Economist

If you've been thinking about buying a home, you may wonder how much home you can afford.

Experts suggest that your monthly housing payments not account for more than quarter to one-third of your monthly income before taxes.

A kit for Wisconsin home buyers, "Buying A Home: The First Time Around," is now available at the Washington County UWEX Office.

Written by a UW-Madison professor and Extension housing specialist, the kit is designed to help first-time home buyers go in with their eyes open.

It includes worksheets and case studies to help prospective buyers simulate what buying a home will mean for their taxes, savings and budget.

The key steps in the home-buying process are covered — from narrowing down what you're looking for and working with a real estate agent to new mortgage options and the legal and technical aspects of closing on a house.

UW Extension's "Home Inspection Guide" comes with the kit. This booklet helps home buyers assess if a home will require major repairs, before they buy.

For a copy, stop at the U.W. Extension Office, located in the Courthouse, Room 235. The price for the kit is $4.50.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of RAYMOND KLUG who passed away 15 years ago, July 18, 1975:

God took him home
It was His will;
But in our hearts we love him still.
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.

Sadly missed by his wife, daughter, sons and their families.

Many High School Grads Don't Make the Grade at Wisconsin Small Businesses

By Bill G. Smith, State Director,
National Federation of Independent Business/Wisconsin

Thousands of Wisconsin high school students will graduate and enter the work force. Traditionally, many of these graduates will begin working for a small business.

But are the skills our graduates learned in school strong enough to help them hold those jobs?

Not according to our latest survey of more than 13,000 NFIB members in Wisconsin.

The good news is that 70 percent of the state's small businesses have hired Wisconsin high school graduates during the past two years. The bad news, however, is that many of the report cards of these new workers contain failing marks.

For example, 14 percent of the business owners said recent high school grads could not read sufficiently to perform their jobs. A whopping 23 percent of the business owners report that the math skills of these new employees don't add up. In addition, 22 percent of the companies said the grads were unable to understand written and oral instructions.

When the National Commission on Excellence in Education asserted that the United States was a "nation at risk" due to slipshod educational practices, people were shocked. With the latest findings from NFIB, however, we all should be outraged.

One of the biggest costs to business in the years ahead will be educating, training and retraining the labor force. What can be done to ensure that our students at least get their careers off on the right foot? Here are some suggestions.

* If you're a student, stay in school and approach your studies seriously. Your education is the key to your future;

* As lawmakers and educators, we should continually strive to improve the state's educational system to ensure that our students are getting "the most bang for our tax dollars".

* As parents, we all must take a more active role in encouraging our children to do their very best in school. Mediocre grades should not be tolerated.

Small-business owners also can play a role in helping to improve our educational system by taking a more active role with local school boards. We believe classroom studies should reflect work place realities. If someone can't read well enough to understand the words in this document, how can we expect them to correctly prepare an invoice, write a receipt or provide correct change?

We need a smarter and more flexible work force if our country wants to regain its competitive edge. Change itself be the only constant factor in the American work place in the years ahead. Training will become a lifelong phenomenon - not something that happens just through grade 12.

Local Women Make 'Living Dolls'

by Sharon Callaway Roznik

In this day of Ninja Turtles and Ghostbusters, two Kewaskum women are bringing some culture into the world of make believe. They've each created their own line of "one of a kind" dolls, and the response has been tremendous.

Remember paper dolls? The hours young children spent in days gone by cutting and coloring, snips of paper everywhere. Even during the depression imaginative youngsters cut whole "families" out of Sears and Roebuck catalogs so they could play house. Fond memories you say? Joan Katchever of Kewaskum brings it all back to life with her original, personalized paper dolls.

Joan also loved them as a child and spent hours creating costumes for her doll friends. Her talents led her to the Chicago Academy of Fine Art where she pursued a career in fashion illustration, and after graduation landed a job at a large Chicago studio on Lakeshore Dr. She also freelanced for several different stores. But time marches on and photography gradually replaced illustration in the fashion world. Joan settled down to raise a family.

Artwork was virtually impossible with three small children underfoot, but Joan believes in versatility and threw herself into designing and sewing clothes for her family. The Katchevers moved to the Kewaskum/West Bend area eighteen years ago. She remembers, "as the children grew I wanted so badly to get back into drawing and design, but in a small town, there just isn't the demand for it, not even in Milwaukee. It wasn't like Chicago."

For fun she started sketching kids and painting, taking classes here and there, until an idea hit her that was unique enough to combine all of her talents, including her fashion illustration background.

"My Own Doll," her copyright name, is a collectible paper doll figure hand-colored in acrylics, and accompanied by an ensemble of finely illustrated clothing. The best part is they're personalized. Send her a picture of your son/daughter, grandchild, the neighbor's kid, along with photos of some of their favorite outfits, favorite toy, or beloved pet, and Katchever creates a painted likeness of the child and the clothing. It's one of a kind, each time.

"The clearer the photograph, the easier it is for me to match the likeness," says Joan, and it's clear she enjoys her work and takes pride in every assignment, knowing they remain keepsakes for years to come.

The detail in the clothing alone - tiny crayons or intricate flower prints - is truly amazing, obviously the work of a trained artist.

These days Joan doubles as a student and a teacher at the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts. She takes classes in watercolor painting and also teaches a two-day doll workshop for children ages 8 to 12. Classes are three hours long, and she provides the cut-out doll, designed of course, by herself. The kids have fun creating the clothes. The next workshop is slated for fall.

Joan is a member of the National Paperdoll Guild, and her ads appear in Doll Reader's Magazine. She also designs greeting cards and coloring pages, all with the same paper doll theme.

Joyce Schultz of Kewaskum and her partner Jane Schoedel of Farmington have a long-standing "best friends" kind of friendship. What's kept them together for the past 14 years? Dolls. Dolls everywhere.

Not one, or two, or even three kinds of dolls. Over one-hundred, including clowns, brides and grooms, Santas, fisherman, ghosts, grandmas and grandpas, pilgrims, the Nativity, ballerinas, cheerleaders, sports figures, and hobos, to name just a few.

"It all started in 1976 because of a bowling banquet," says Joan, a kind of person who is naturally clever in all kinds of crafting. "We got the idea of making dolls for centerpieces in red, white and blue, out of a craft book. The first doll took between 50 and 60 hours to make. People placed orders for them right there at the banquet!"

Since then Lil' Twinkle Eyes - the trademark name, has grown so large and is in such demand they are available in only a few exclusive stores. They prefer to work by mail order and have sent orders out all over the Captivating eyes and an innocent smile are trademarks of these dolls that appeal to young and old alike.

One of Jane Schoedel's favorites, fisherman and friend, decorates her living room.

Candidates Vie to Be Official Hostess of the County Fair

The new Washington County "Fairness of the Fair" will be crowned on Wednesday, July 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the Main Stage of the fairgrounds in Slinger. Six candidates will compete to be the "official hostess" of the fair, and to represent Washington County in the "State Fairness of the Fair" competition. The winner will be selected based on her personality, poise, appearance, community activities, and speaking ability.

The reigning "Fairness of the Fair" is Katie Soba of Hubertus. Katie has had a busy year which included handing out ribbons and awards at the fair, emceeing stage shows, riding in parades, appearing on radio and TV, assisting at 4-H events, and competing in the state contest. Katie feels one of the best aspects of being "Fairness of the Fair" is meeting lots of wonderful people, as well as joining in the spirit of community efforts.

Following is a profile of each of this year's contestants.

JILL PETERSON

Studying for a degree in occupational therapy at UW-Milwaukee, Jill is a West Bend resident and a Kewaskum High School graduate. Her goal is to help as many people in this world as she can. She has been active in church activities, Peer Listening, and Students Against Drunk Driving. She has no lack of enthusiasm - she has been a cheerleader, Key Club member, AFS member, and forensics participant. She considers singing to be a special talent and sang in Honor Choir. She has been active in 4-H and has enjoyed the opportunities to learn through 4-H projects.

DEANN RAE MUNDINGER

After winning a scholarship for playing volleyball and softball, DeAnn enrolled at Livingston University in Alabama. She is pursuing a business administration degree and hopes to follow that with a masters in business management. Eventually, she hopes to own her own business or hotel. A graduate of West Bend West High School, she was active in volleyball, softball, gymnastics, saga, German Club, Letterwomen's, forensics, and medical explorers. She also made the honor roll. Now she's a Delta Chi "little sister." She had a special learning experience while studying for one month on the island of Guernsey in the Channel Islands. Dawn considers that one of her special talents is getting along with others.

DIANA BUCKMANN

A speaker at her West Bend East graduation and now a

UW-Madison sophomore, Diana is majoring in Marketing with a minor in Public Relations or Advertising. She'll be on the Freshman Welcome Committee in the fall. One of Diana's special talents is caring for children, and her goal is to do volunteer work with children with special needs. Diana has been active in cheerleading, cross country, track, French and Spanish Clubs, forensics, church youth group, and math team and has also made National Honor Society. Involvement in 4-H has kept her busy with baking, sewing and crocheting. It also took her to 4-H Congress in Madison and then the National 4-H Congress for bread baking. She attended "Washington D.C. Focus" in 1987. Diana received the 4-H Achievement Award and the 4-H Leadership Award in 1986, and the 4-H Home Economics Award a year earlier.

BAMBI HATHAWAY

A Slinger graduate and now a junior at UW-Milwaukee, Bambi plans to teach secondary English. She likes to write biographies and eventually write/produce her own film. Bambi writes poetry and considers her special talents to be acting, singing, and playing flute. She has won several awards from the Modeling Association of America International and has taken modeling courses. In high school, Bambi was in six different musicals; since then, she was in "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" with the Hartford Players and in "The Magic Flute" by Mozart with the Milwaukee Players. She played the role of Laura in "The Glass Menagerie" at UWWC.

DENISE MECHEMICH

A recent graduate of Slinger High School, Denise will be a freshman at UW-Washington County. Her interests lie in the business field, and she has polished many secretarial skills in classes and part-time jobs. Denise had lots of school spirit and lettered in cheerleading her junior and senior years. She enjoyed cheerleading camp and clinics. Denise has participated in softball for the last ten years plus a variety of community activities. She has sung in chorus, been in a play with her church youth group, and assisted a den mother with a cub scout troop.

Living Dolls

United States and parts of Europe.

The original idea has evolved over the years. Each doll is different, originally designed and created, and everything is made from scratch, including the outfits they wear. The design is pattern registered and involves starting with styrafoam forms which are draped and molded using a "dip and drape" method, a cast-like material which is put on wet. After it dries and hardens, the dolls are assembled and painted with the exclusive "Twinkle Eyes" expression.

Joan specializes in the clown series, while Jane works with the rest, including some special orders. "Someone wanted a Scotsman with bagpipes," Jane remembers, "and I researched in books for quite awhile because I wanted to be sure my bagpipes looked real." Her very first Lil' Twinkle Eyes project was a Nativity scene including Mary, Joseph, and Jesus.

Joan and Jane are now hard at work getting ready for the upcoming summer shows. "We used to do about 18 shows each summer. Now we've narrowed it down to between 6 and 8 shows a season," explains Joan. "We usually sell out in one day." Each doll is so personalized, that no one else can be hired to help them do the work. It can be 'round the clock work at times, but it's evident they enjoy working together and their families support their efforts. Just look out for the "twinkle" in their eyes. It'll get you every time.

on the softball team and yearbook staff and was captain of the pom-pom squad. She was elected to the National Honor Society and has been on the Dean's List. She earned the JFK Leadership Scholarship and the Voice of Democracy Award. She is a Circle K member and a member of a service group.

ROBIN BUCHMEIER

Robin keeps fit in aerobics and benefit runs and also is a municipal soccer referee. She graduated from Hartford Union High School and is a sophomore at Marquette University. She is becoming fluent in Spanish and wants to help others understand and appreciate other cultures. Besides a class trip to Mexico, Robin had the honor of attending a national conference at the United Nations Building in New York. One of her goals is to study in Madrid for a semester. Active in 4-H as a teenager, Robin has been the Rabbit Showmanship Winner, State Fair exhibitor for her crocheting projects for two years, and a merit award winner in both crocheting and sewing.

WMH Announces Hemodialysis Affiliation with UW Hospitals

At Saturday's dedication service of the Regional Hemodialysis Center at Waupun Memorial Hospital, hospital president James Sexton made an announcement. Effective July 1, the Center is an affiliate of the University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics in Madison.

Sexton made his remarks during the dedication ceremony for the new building. Richard Bishop Skiba of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee officiated at the blessing service. The Center was dedicated in memory of Sister Kathleen Rhey and Sister Michaela Crowley of the School Sisters of St. Francis, who died in January in an automobile accident. Both nuns had previously been involved with Waupun Memorial Hospital, which is now sponsored by the Congregation of St. Agnes.

According to Sexton, the affiliation with the University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics will provide Waupun Memorial Hospital hemodialysis staff with additional resources and educational opportunities. The Center has been providing care to patients with chronic kidney failure since 1970 under the direction of nephrologist Dr. Her Lang Tu. With the affiliation agreement, Dr. Stephen Zimmerman of the University hospital will join Tu as co-director.

Zimmerman, director of the Nephrology Clinical Program, is a board-certified nephrologist. He has been associated with the University of Wisconsin Hospitals since 1975. Together, he and Tu will be responsible for patient care supervision, quality assurance, and other administrative and medical issues. Zimmerman and other University of Wisconsin nephrology staff members will also provide continuing education programs for the Waupun Memorial medical staff and interested physicians in the region.

Continuing professional education will also be a benefit for Waupun Memorial's dialysis nurses. Topics for planned programs include kidney and pancreas transplantation and management of multi-system failure. Access to the most current literature and other library services will also be provided.

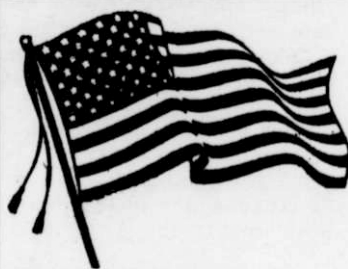

The Waupun Memorial and University of Wisconsin hemodialysis staffs will collaborate on nursing care plans, quality assurance monitors and policies and procedures.

Sexton commented, "Over the years, the Regional Hemodialysis Center at Waupun Memorial Hospital has built a reputation for providing high quality, personal care to patients. We plan to continue to enhance that service. That's why we built our new freestanding center. And that's why we're affiliating with the University of Wisconsin Hospital ... because our goal is continuous improvement."

The largest crowd in the history of the Badger Firemen's Association attended the organization's 47th annual picnic held last Sunday. The firemen estimated that between 9,000 and 10,000 people attended throughout the day. The firemen expect to clear about $1,500 after all bills have been paid, which proves what an outstanding success the celebration turned out to be.

Ray Van Kampen, representing the Lansing (Ill.) Mattress Factory, one of the largest mattress companies in the eastern section of the state of Illinois, has opened a branch factory in Kewaskum, located in the Kippenhan garage building on Fond du Lac Ave. The branch, to be known as the Kewaskum Mattress Company, opened for business this last Saturday. Richard Babbs is the sales manager of the company. The company will specialize in the rebuilding of old mattresses into innerspring mattresses and will also do a retail and wholesale business.

Miss Dorothy Becker, formerly of this village, who has been employed in Milwaukee, left for Washington D.C., where she has received a position in the War Department. Miss Becker is employed in the office of the Chief Signal Officer, which is under the immediate supervision of the Secretary of War.

William Bunkelmann, Sr. of this village, suffered a heart stroke at his home last Sunday. He had been feeling fine in the morning and the stroke was very sudden. The aged man is resting as well as can be expected at his home at this time.

Miss Alice Schneider of R. 2, Kewaskum, aged 18, daughter

Emil Korth, residing at 351 West Sibley Street, Fond du Lac, was instantly killed Saturday morning when he fell beneath the wheels of a northbound Soo Line freight train at Schleisingerville. He and two of his friends were running on the top of the cars when jumping from one car to another and fell between the cars, the wheels passing over him, cutting him in two. The young man was eighteen years old and up to several months ago was employed at the Moore and Galloway Lumber mill. Besides his parents Mr. and Mrs. August Korth, he is survived by two brothers Herman and Roach.

No more quick marriages. No longer will Wisconsin couples board trains for Waukegan and then get married in Illinois. The county clerk of that Illinois county, who has received many a fee from Wisconsin couples who sought to escape the eugenic law, has cause for sorrow. No marriages will be considered legal in Illinois which are not legal in the state in which contracting parties live. This law was passed by the Illinois State Legislature. It will make invalid marriages of persons who evade the eugenic law, those who marry within a year after a divorce degree is entered, those who avoid the five day license law and those who marry under age.

Ford Owners to Get Check. The Ford Motor Co., is making preparations to attend to a little office detail in connection with the $15,000,000 bonus to be distributed among Ford owners in August. The company is about to write 300,000 checks for $50 each to be mailed to owners throughout the world. A staff of 30 stenographers is to be employed in this task requiring six weeks for completion. It will require $5,000 in postage to send out the mail in connection with the rebate. The above dispatch means Ford owners will be richer by $50 in a few days. The cars have been selling for $490, with the guarantee that if the Ford Company sold over 300,000 cars up to August 1, of this year that a $50 rebate would be given.

Farmers Can Get Help with Furnaces

(Madison) - Farmers who want to update their household furnaces are eligible for a program that provides a rebate for installing high-efficiency oil, LP or wood heating systems, according to Senator Carol Buettner (Oshkosh). "Farmers must first submit an application to the Energy Bureau including a heating proposal bid and a copy of their 1989 federal tax return documenting that they had at least $5,000 in gross farm income," Buettner said. People may be eligible for a maximum rebate of $525 from the program run by the Wisconsin Energy Bureau of the Department of Administration. Funding comes from oil overcharge money that the state received. A total of $608,800 will be available for rebates.

"There are health and environmental benefits from using an energy saving oil, LP or wood heating system," Buettner said.

Applications can be obtained at Sen. Buettner's office, P.O.

Box 7882, Madison, WI 53707, local county UW-Extension offices or by contacting the Wisconsin Energy Bureau, Box 7868, Madison, WI 53707 or call 608-267-2706. Applicants will be notified within 15 days if they are eligible or if rebates funds are remaining.

Illegal Dumping Increasing on State Properties

MADISON, WI — Scott Thiede has only been assigned to the Lower Wisconsin State Riverway for eight months. But in that time, he's seen a lot of trash. Enough, in fact, to convince him something needs to be done. As a state conservation warden, Thiede has grown accustomed to finding bags of household waste dumped along trails and roadsides in state parks and hunting grounds.

"With the town dumps closed now, a lot of people don't know where to go with it," Thiede says. "When they dump their trash I guess they figure someone will come along and pick it up."

Thiede says he's found garbage, worn out appliances and drums of waste liquids left up and down the 93-mile riverway project. He's still bothered by a mess he discovered on a scenic overlook near Mazomanie last month.

While walking along a commonly used trail, Thiede says he discovered heaps of scrap wood, dry wall and tattered insulation. Strewn in with the mess he found old auto parts, including used oil filters. Thiede admits the discovery took him by surprise.

"The spot looks out over a nice marsh area. There was no other trash there. I guess it was the large quantity of material that really got to me."

While no one can calculate the effect of illegal dumping on public enjoyment of the outdoors, Thiede says the complaint he hears most often comes from people who are angry about trash violations. If those who dump illegally realized the costs involved in cleanup, he says, they'd probably take the time to find legitimate disposal sites.

"It's frustrating. Trash can spoil an entire area. And without witnesses, there's really not much you can do," Thiede says. If people were more observant, he adds, some trash problems would be avoided. "A lot of times, it's simply a matter of reading a license plate on a car, or making note of the registration number on a boat," Thiede says.

Witnesses can contact DNR employees to report dumping on state lands, or local authorities when dumping occurs elsewhere.

"If we know who's responsible, we can make them take care of the mess they've made," Thiede says. He adds that people who've had to clean up illegal dump sites plus pay fines usually find it a lot easier to dispose of trash legally next time.

Donath Trucking Wins Championship In Kettle Moraine League Tournament

Donath Trucking (like the weather) stormed through the Kettle Moraine League Tournament held at Random Lake July 6 and 7th.

The powerful and colorful Roadmen slugged their way to the title for the 2nd consecutive year, by averaging 17 runs a game.

In an exciting quarter final contest, Donath Trucking beat Chissy's Pub of Waldo, 18-17 with Jerry Marx scoring the winning run with two outs in the bottom of the 8th inning.

Donath Trucking continued to advance by squeaking past Adell, 3-1 in a tense defensive thriller.

The game was highlighted by the pitching of Joe Theisman and a Tony Michaels home run hit into the teeth of a galing wind.

After beating Kampys Bar of Sheboygan Falls 23-16 in the Winners Bracket Final Donath Trucking had to sit back and wait for the survivor of the Loser's Bracket.

The Championship game featured Donath Trucking against Kampys Bar in a rematch of the Winners Bracket finals.

Donath Trucking started fast scoring, four runs in the first inning behind home runs by Willie Mueller and Tom Rettler.

After Donath Trucking upped their lead to 7-0 in the top of the 2nd, Kampys stormed back. The game became a slug fest, until after seven complete innings of play the score stood tied at 17-17. Then the rains came washing out the rest of the tourney.

Donath Trucking by virtue of their undefeated record was declared Kettle Moraine league tournament champions. Kampys finished 2nd, Adell 3rd, and Chissys Pub 4th.

Donath Trucking had defeated the 2nd, 3rd and 4th place teams in earning their championship.

Leading hitters for Donath Trucking were Willie Mueller .846; Tony Michaels .643; Tom Rettler .625; Bob Fellenz, Bob Wiedmeyer, Jim Krahn, and Terry Ziegelbauer all at .500.

Other team members were Jerry Marx, Joe Thiesman, Jim Donath, Dave Donath, Greg Eichstedt, Mike Drapbe, Bob Krahn, Mike Kleinhaus, and Dan Marx who only played in one game because of prior commitments.

Early Canada Goose Hunters Must Apply Before August 3

MADISON, WI — Goose hunters need to apply before August 3, 1990 for permits to participate in a special early Canada goose hunting season in southeastern Wisconsin, says Department of Natural Resources Waterfowl Ecologist Jon Bergquist.

The special hunting season for giant Canada geese begins Tuesday, Sept. 4 and runs through Monday, Sept. 10. Those applicants who receive the Experimental Hunt permits are allowed to harvest five Canada geese daily; the possession limit for this special hunt is 10 geese.

The special hunting zone is bounded by Highway 33 on the north, highways 175, 83, 36, 120 and 12 on the west, the Illinois border on the south, and Lake Michigan on the east (see the map on this page).

"The Natural Resources Board approved this special goose hunt earlier this year to control the giant Canada goose population that's been causing a variety of problems in southeastern Wisconsin," said

Bergquist. "Hunters who participate in this hunt will still be able to participate in the regular goose hunting season held each fall."

Application forms are available at most DNR offices throughout the state. Applications must be postmarked on or before August 3, or received at the DNR's Madison office, 101 S. Webster Street, no later than 4:30 p.m. on August 3. In addition to the Experimental Hunt permit, hunters must possess a current Wisconsin hunting license plus the Wisconsin and federal waterfowl stamps.

All usual state and federal waterfowl hunting restrictions will apply. Bergquist advises hunters to check with local law enforcement authorities to see if there are any local restrictions on discharging firearms in the area you plan to hunt. And with little state-owned land in the area, he reminds hunters to get permission from landowners before hunting on private lands.

Indians Rally to Beat Germantown In Regional Opener Here Friday

GERMANTOWN — All indications pointed to a Kewaskum Indians loss in the team's regional baseball game with Germantown here, last Friday afternoon.

The Indians spotted the host Warhawks three runs in the bottom of the first, didn't get a hit in the first three innings, and were outthit in the game 10-3.

But the Indians showed plenty of heart in battling back from the early deficit to rally with four runs in the top of the sixth to come through with a come-from-behind 5-3 victory over the Warhawks, champions of the North Shore Conference.

The win gave the Indians a 17-9 mark on the season, and advanced them into the regional final against Slinger on Tuesday.

Things didn't look good for the Indians early, however, as the hosts jumped on Indians starter Shawn Schneider for three runs in the opening inning, using a mental mistake by the Indians to their advantage.

Germantown's Chad Meier opened the first with a single up the middle. The next batter, Frank Wilson bunted down the first base line, and when Brian Leitheiser tried to field the ball instead of covering the bag, both runners were safe and the Warhawks had something brewing.

Meier and Wilson pulled off a double steal, which was followed by a Parrish Wagner single, scoring both runners. Wagner advanced to third later in the inning, and then Ryan Peck executed a suicide squeeze, scoring Wagner and making it 3-0 Germantown.

Meanwhile, Andy LeTourneau was mowing down the Indians in the first three frames, not allowing a base hit. The Indians finally broke Conference championship.

The sophomore pitching duo of Shawn Schneider and Chad Cook teamed up with a stingy defense and a timely - hitting offense to upend the Kiel Raiders 3-2, here last Tuesday, giving the two teams, along through to LeTourneau in the fourth, when Bruce Waechter got a base hit and came around to score, making it 3-1, but the Indian's big outburst came in the sixth.

After LeTourneau struck out Dan Heisdorf to open the inning, Indian catcher Chris Weddig drew a walk. That brought up Chris Donath, who hit a grounder to the shortstop and promptly threw the ball away at first, leaving runners at first and second with one out.

Waechter came through with his second hit of the game, a line shot that caromed off LaTourneau's leg and finally was recovered by the second baseman, but not before Randy Schlice, courtesy running for Weddig, crossed the plate, cutting the deficit to 3-2.

LaTourneau was removed in favor of the Warhawk's closer, Wagner, who got the next batter, Rich Radtke, to ground into a fielder's choice, leaving runners at first and third with two outs. Dave Pauer then hit a grounder to third that suddenly shot over the head of Meier and into leftfield, allowing Donath to score, tying the game at 3-3.

After Wagner walked Mark Felix to load the bases, Leitheiser made up for his indecision in the first inning with a bloop single to rightfield, scoring both Radtke and Pauers to give the Indians their first lead at 5-3.

With Schneider having settled down after the three-run first inning, the Indians bench was going wild with anticipation of their seventh straight win.

Schneider allowed just a two-out single in the sixth and then set down the order in the seventh, giving the Indians the big win over the powerful Warhawks, and keeping their hopes alive for a second straight trip to Stevens Point and the state tournament.

with Plymouth, 12-6 records and each a share of the conference crown.

The Indians luck began Monday night, when Chilton upset the Raiders 5-3, giving the Indians a golden opportunity to make history by becoming the first Kewaskum boys varsity team since the 1983 football team to win a conference championship.

The luck continued when juniors Chris Donath and Dave Pauers became eligible to play on Tuesday, after being sidelined for much of the second half of the season due to grades. Both played significant roles in the victory, as did many familiar faces.

For a good part of the game, however, it didn't seem as if the Indians luck would hold up, as the Raiders scored first and then got strong pitching from Craig Neils, Mike Lepisto and Dave Meyer to handcuff the Indians in the early going.

Kiel jumped out to a 1-0 lead with a run in the top of the second. Neils led off with a walk and moved to second on a single by Arnold. It looked as if Cook, who started for the Indians, would get out of the jam as he got a 4-6-3 double play ground ball to record a pair of outs, but Brian Neils then came through with a clutch single to give the Raiders the lead.

The Indians had a golden opportunity to jump on Neils in the first, as the big Raider lefthander had problems finding the plate in the early going.

Neils walked both Dan Heisdorf and Jason Krahn in the opening frame, and after the two each stole a base, the Indians had runners on second and third with one out. But Neils got out of the jam as he got Bruce Waechter to strike out looking, and then got Rich Radtke to ground out to the shortstop.

Kewaskum finally broke through for a run in the fourth. Radtke opened things up with a single and moved to third on a one-out single by Pauers. After a strikeout, Brian Leitheiser came through with a clutch RBI single, scoring Radtke and knotting the score at one apiece.

That's the way it stayed until the top of the sixth, when the visitors broke through for a run off Schneider, who replaced Cook in the fifth, before the play of the game got the momentum back on the Indians' side.

C. Neils led off with a single and went to second on another single by Arnold. After Held's sacrifice moved the runners up a base, B. Neils lashed a single right, scoring C. Neils.

But when Arnold tried to follow Neils home, rightfielder Ken Krause's throw to catcher Chris Weddig gunned him down. C. Neils, seeing the throw go to the plate, tried advancing to second on the play, but Weddig fired down to shortstop Rich Radtke, who was covering second, to nail Neils and complete an unorthodox twin killing.

While the momentum didn't lead to an immediate run in the sixth, the Indians decided to make for a thrilling finish in the bottom of the seventh.

Donath led off the rally with a single down the rightfield line, and when the rightfielder bobbled the ball for an instant, Donath never let up and hustled into second base standing up.

Waechter then laced a 1-0 pitch from Lepisto into left-centerfield for an RBI double, tying the score at 2-2. Meyer then replaced Lepisto on the mound and got Radtke to line out to short, but then threw a pitch that the catcher couldn't handle, a passed ball which allowed Waechter to advance to third with just one out.

Schneider then strolled up to the plate with the game in his hands and promptly delivered a ground ball to the hole at short. While Waechter watched at third, the shortstop's throw sailed over the first baseman's head, allowing Waechter to scamper to home plate, where he was mobbed by his celebrating teammates.

By getting the game winning hit, Schneider was rewarded with his seventh victory of the season in conference against just one loss.

The Indians outthit the Raiders 10-8, while the host's defense continued to draw rave reviews. In addition to the double play which proved to be the turning point in the ballgame, the Indians didn't commit a single error. Kiel, meanwhile, had a pair of miscues, none more lethal than the one on the final play of the game.

The Indians finished the regular season with a 16-9 record overall.

Late Indian Rally Edges Random Lake

RANDOM LAKE — The familiar combination of strong pitching and good defense once again proved to be a winning duo for the Kewaskum baseball team, although the fine pitching performance did come from an unfamiliar source.

Bruce Waechter, limited to spot starts all season because of a sore arm, went the distance, allowing just two base hits, but needed some runs in the late going to pull out a 4-2 eight-inning victory over the Random Lake Rams here, last Monday.

Waechter struck out six and walked just one in picking up the victory, and he also came close to matching teammate Shawn Schneider's no-hitter of just a few weeks back. The senior lefthander retired the first 14 batters he faced, and he had a no-hitter going until the bottom of the sixth, when the Rams finally touched him for a couple of base hits and a pair of runs.

But in the early going it was both Waechter and Random Lake starter Keith Miller who were putting goose eggs on the board. Just as Waechter cruised through the opening five frames, Miller, although allowing the Indians' leadoff hitter to reach third in each of the first three innings, continued to match him, and the game remained scoreless into the sixth inning.

The Indians finally broke the ice with a single run in the top of the sixth, manufactured solely by sophomore catcher Randy Schlice. Schlice led off with a single, and then proceeded to steal both second and third base, and when the catcher's throw was wild on the throw to third, Schlice scampered home with the game's first run.

The Rams immediately answered in the bottom half of the inning, however. After Waechter got the first batter in the inning to ground out to short, Miller drew a walk, stole second and came home on Orth's single. Orth moved to third on an Andy Beger single and came around to score on a grounder to third, making it 2-1 in favor of the hosts.

But as has been the case in recent weeks, the Indians rallied in the top of the seventh. Just three outs away from defeat, pinch-hitter Dan Heisdorf walked, stole second and third, and scored on an error by the shortstop on a grounder hit by Brian Dobke. After Dobke stole second and third as well, Miller got out of the inning by striking out the side.

After Waechter set down the Rams in order in the seventh, the Indians wasted no time in the extra inning, using four hits to score twice.

Schlice led off with a double, his second hit of the game, and scored on a Mark Felix single. After Felix was picked off first by Miller, Chris Weddig singled, stole second and came around to score on Heisdorf's two-out single. All totaled, the Indians swiped eight bases in the game, with Dobke, Heisdorf and Schlice each stealing a pair.

Ken Krause came in to pitch, setting the Rams down in order to pick up the save and give the Indians their 15th win of the year against nine losses.

Schlice scored a pair of runs to go along with his two hits, while Rich Radtke was the only other Indian to have two hits.
