The trust funds were established at statehood and constitute revenues generated from the sale of land grant lands and from penal fines.

Labor Day Weekend is Safety Question

The State Patrol is anticipating record travel on Wisconsin's main traveled roads over Labor Day weekend, and advising motorists to take care.

Capt. Sterling Standiford, Eau Claire Patrol District Commander, described the traditional Labor Day celebration as a time when people eat and drink too much, play too hard and don't get enough sleep. Then they all head home at once, driving on roads clogged with other tired, bleary-eyed drivers.

"This year is likely to be even worse," Standiford predicts.

All State Patrol districts are anticipating unusually heavy traffic, as people try to cram a summer's worth of fun into a single weekend.

"Labor Day is traditionally the most dangerous of the holiday weekends," according to Ted Meekma, administrator of the Wisconsin State Patrol.

"It's the last weekend before school starts, so people try to cram too much activity into a single three-day weekend," he said. "After picnics, ball games, beach parties and other strenuous outdoor activities, drivers are not always sober enough or alert enough to drive home safely," he added.

Labor Day has traditionally been the most dangerous holiday weekend, with an average of 14.5 deaths over the three days. The most deadly in the last decade was 1984 when 20 people died, while the safest was 1989 when only eight deaths were recorded.

People can protect themselves. "I always advise my family and friends to stay off the road during the peak travel hours," according to Capt. William Harvey, Wausau State Patrol District. "If you get rested up before the trip, it's easier and safer to drive at night when the roads are lightly traveled."

Mechanical breakdowns have been plaguing traffic this year. Capt. Harvey pleaded with travelers to check their vehicles over carefully before leaving home, paying particular attention to tires...on trailers as well.

Strangely enough, the State Patrol says that radial tires have been contributing their own special hazards.

Harvey said "Radials last so long now that people forget about them. More and more tire shops use impact wrenches to install tires. Over a couple of years, the lug nuts become frozen and impossible to remove with standard tire irons. "If you have a blowout, you're likely to have to have repairs made at a garage or filling station...and the tow bill will be high.

Boat trailer tires often fail under sustained high speeds. Trailers frequently have oddly sized tires which are difficult to find in smaller towns and on short notice. Make sure you have a spare, and that it is properly inflated, Harvey advised.

"Check hoses, particularly radiator and heater hoses, and if they're soft have them replaced at home before you go. It's a lot cheaper to have repairs done locally than to pay a tow bill along with the repair bill," Harvey said.

The designated driver is a safety "must" over Labor Day. "You need somebody who's sober and well rested to drive everybody home safely," according to Meekma.

"Every state, county and local law enforcement officer in the state will be looking for drunken or drugged drivers. Give it a miss. A drunk driving arrest is expensive, humiliating, and there are no loopholes in the administrative suspension law. If your alcohol level is .10% or greater, you will lose your license...it's guaranteed."

Meekma, who serves as Transportation Secretary Ronald R. Fiedler's safety belt liaison, said the law of physics is inescapable. "In a crash, the car stops but its occupants keep going forward. Seats are anchored to the frame, and provide the greatest safety. Use safety belts. It's far better than being thrown into the crash or having the crashed vehicles end up on top of you," Meekma said.

Showtime, Disney Now Cable Friendly

Star Cablevision proudly announces that Showtime and The Disney Channel is now cable friendly.

"You no longer need the extra converter, A/B switch, and/or decoder. Now you can use all the functions of your cable ready TV and VCR," said Sinclair, Area Manager.

For customer satisfaction, all current Showtime and Disney customers need no extra equipment. At the customers convenience, the small brown decoder will need to be returned to our office. Business hours are 8:00 - 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Customers who have questions regarding these changes can contact us at 334-4909.

Auditions for UWWC Production

Professor Brad Ford, Director of Theatre at The University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County, West Bend, announces auditions for the Theatre-on-the-Hill's fall production of PLAYBOY OF THE WESTERN WORLD.

Deemed a classic by the likes of George Bernard Shaw and W.B. Yeats, this Irish comedy had its premier at the famous Abbey Theatre in Dublin in 1907. The story itself is set in County Mayo in the remote and rugged west of Ireland. A young stranger comes into this desolate area and confesses to killing his father after a quarrel. The small village, unaccustomed to this type of excitement, makes a sort of folk hero of this young man. So esteemed is he by the women for this horrible deed that two of them fall desperately in love with him. As it turns out, our hero is cleared of the murder and the end brings a raucous free-for-all certain to have audiences rolling in the aisles.

Auditions for this Irish comedy will be Thursday, September 6 from 7 - 9:30 p.m. in the University Theatre. Needed for the case are 7 men ages 18 and over, and 5 women ages 16 and over. Scripts will be available for perusal at the UWWC library. Production dates are October 19, 20, 26 and 27. For more information on auditions contact Prof. Brad Ford at 335-5222.

Villains In the Food We Eat

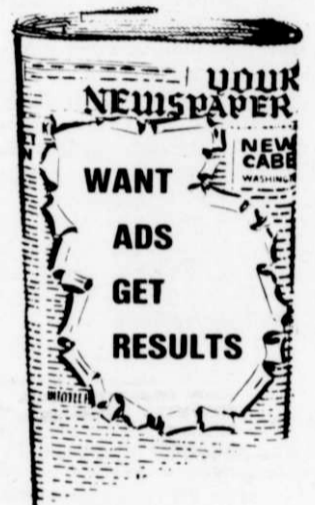

As you snack on a luscious, creamy, and sweet banana split, do you ever stop and think about what you're actually eating? Probably not. Neither did I, until that fateful day my mom announced we had to eat more nutritiously. After a doctor's appointment, my mother was told her cholesterol level was slightly high. Since she didn't want it to rise any higher, her only choice was to decrease the amount of saturated fats that are in the foods we eat. I know what you're thinking; you're asking yourself what the heck saturated fats are. There are three different types of fats: (1) Monounsaturated fat, it is found in olive oil and some sunflower seed oils, (2) Polyunsaturated fat, when used in place of saturated fat, may lower cholesterol like monounsaturated fat does. It is found in corn, cottonseed, soybean and safflower oils, (3) Saturated fat, raises blood cholesterol, which is found in most meats and dairy products.

Well, this answers your questions for now. So all we had to do was cut down on the amount of fats we eat; easy, right? Now way! This strict diet excludes cheese, eggs, butter, ice cream, whole milk, red meats, and shortenings of any kinds. You then may ask what we can eat? Basically, fruits and vegetables are our staples.

Another difficult thing to do now, is grocery shopping. What used to be a brief, thirty-minute trip to the supermarket has now become a tedious, hour and a half of squinting and straining to see the ingredient list on each individual purchase we make. But, if you think shopping was difficult to find something low in fats, try finding a fast-food restaurant that is nutritious and has food that tastes good. There were certain guidelines we had to follow. For instance; nothing can be deep-fried, fried, or prepared with shortening. This signaled out Dairy Queen, Burger King, Mc Donald's and Kentucky Fried Chicken. We don't really have too many places to choose from; Subway and Taco Bell are the most nutritious, comparatively. Being on this diet isn't all bad, though. We started this diet in May, and since then, both my mother and I haven't gotten sick. I've learned that if I have good eating habits, I'll stay healthier later on in life. Now, I don't miss those banana splits as much, but I surely wouldn't mind having one once in awhile.

Making School Lunches More Fun

Remember the kid in your elementary school who always seemed to bring the best sack lunches from home? Everyone wanted to swap lunches with this kid, because he or she usually had something much more interesting than the standard peanut butter and jelly or bologna sandwich.

Times haven't changed. With the start of school just around the corner, parents are still struggling to pack lunches their children can brag about. If the fare you prepare for your child is met with a response such as "Do I really have to eat this?" don't despair.

"A school lunch does not have to be boring," says Kerry Lyman, a spokesperson for Hostess®. "All parents need to do is use a little creativity to pack a lunch their children will be excited about."

It's not hard to pack a lunch your child will open with enthusiasm. Packaging improvements in the food industry now make it possible to include items that previously would have been inconvenient and messy to eat on the go. For instance, the makers of Hostess Breakfast Bake Shop® products have introduced a new line of bite-sized muffins called Mini Muffins, which are ideal for packing in school lunchboxes because of their crush-resistant packaging.

Some children have small appetites and require snacks between meals to sustain their energy level. Several school districts have recognized this need and allow students to bring snacks for recess or other breaks during the day. Thanks to the miniaturization of many popular foods, parents can include a variety of small snacks to keep energy up without spoiling appetites.

Although it's important to use ingenuity when making a lunch, you never should compromise safety. When packing a lunch, place all foods that are not prepackaged in clean, air-tight containers. Vacuum bottles for hot and cold beverages or foods, thermal bags, and re-usable plastic containers keep foods fresh at the right temperatures. Never use glass and be sure to clean the containers between each use.

Remind your children not to store their lunches next to radiators or in direct sunlight and to try to keep them in a cool place. In addition, children should know the hazards of trading lunches with their classmates. Remember, your child will be less likely to trade a fun and tasty lunch.

By following a few simple tips, you can make a hit with your child's lunch and move onto the next challenge: wrestling your youngster away from home video games long enough to complete nightly homework assignments.

Schiek - Remmel

Sandra Ann Schiek and John Wayne Remmel were joined in Holy Matrimony on Saturday, July 7, 1990 at St. Mary's Church in West Bend, during a 2 p.m. ceremony. Fr. John Furtmann officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wierzba, West Allis, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Remmel, Kewaskum.

The bride chose her sister, Sue Bussard, as her matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Debra and Jill Remmel, sisters of the groom, and Michelle Hahn, niece of the bride.

Dale Remmel, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Michael Goodman, nephew of the bride; Jerry Sese, friend of the couple, and Matt Hanrahan, friend of the groom.

Kristin Schiek, the bride's daughter, served as the miniature bridesmaid.

Ushering duties were shared by Clyde Hahn, brother-in-law of the bride; and Mark Remmel, cousin of the groom.

A reception and dance followed at the Kettle Moraine Bowl, Slinger.

The bride is a graduate of Nathan Hale High School in West Allis; and John graduated from Kewaskum High School, and UW-Stout.

The couple enjoyed a honeymoon trip to Acapulco, Mexico, and they now reside in West Allis.

Junior Women to Coordinate St. Jude Hospital 'Wheels for Life' Bike-a-Thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced that Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon at Kewaskum High School track and parking lot on Sept. 15, beginning at 9:00 a.m.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research - treatment - education center in America. Although located in Memphis, TN, the hospital has a local impact because area doctors and hospitals can use, at no cost, treatments and procedures developed at St. Jude.

St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, interracial and provides medical care for over 3,200 active patients. Currently, over $183,000 is needed each day to keep the doors open. These funds come primarily from public contributions.

This year's Bike-A-Thon is dedicated to Brooke Simon. Five-year-old Brooke, from Delcambre, Louisiana, developed Wilms Tumor in November, 1988. Following the removal of her left kidney, she has undergone radiation and chemotherapy. Though her prognosis is good, her fight still continues.

We are grateful for the concern that the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club has for our work and we hope the citizens of Kewaskum will support the Bike-A-Thon to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset. "Our Children."

*Perfect Pair... Fun and Fitness
That's Square Dancing*

Think of all the items that really go together. Things that belong together. Things we like to eat. Things we like to do, and activities that are good for us. The list is endless. Crackers and cheese. Peaches and cream. Pie a la mode. Coffee and donuts. Corned beef and cabbage. Moonlight and roses. Sugar and spice. We could go on and on.

But there's another unbeatable combination - Fun and Fitness! Today everyone is concerned about being fit. What better way to achieve that perfect pair than through square dancing? There's romance and sociability. There's music and rhythmic movement. There's food and fellowship. There's color and friendly people. There's mental stimulation and mild exercise.

There's action and interaction. And what better way to be fit? Square Dancing is an excellent cardiovascular exercise. In an average evening of Square Dancing, you will walk (shuffle) three to five miles. In one hour of square dancing, you can burn off 300 calories. And let's face it folks, this is a lot more enjoyable than walking around the same block night after night because the doctor says you need to get more exercise. Why not mix exercise with fun and be learning something new and meet new friends at the same time?

So double your pleasure - two by two - with the perfect pair.

FUN AND FITNESS GO HAND IN HAND WITH SQUARE DANCING.

Come and join in on the fun at a Square Dance "Try It." It's free! This dance is on Sunday, Sept. 9 from 7:00 to 9:30 at the West Bend Recreation Center at Eighth and Elm. For more information, call 338-0943 or 334-7156. But don't be surprised if they're not home. They're probably out Square Dancing.

'Eat Smart' Promo at Sentry Foods Here Friday

According to the American Cancer Society, the link between diet and cancer has now become a major area of American Cancer Society research. Studies indicate that as much as 80 percent of all cancers may be related to the environment and to the things we eat, drink and smoke.

Residents of Kewaskum will have the chance to learn more about diet and cancer on Friday, August 31st between 1 - 3 p.m., when ACS volunteers will join forces with Sentry Foods in a nutrition campaign called "Eat Smart." This nationwide program is designed to promote public awareness of diet and cancer.

ACS Public Education volunteer, Mary Ann Peterson, said, "It's interesting to think that anything so familiar as the food we eat could have an impact on risks for cancer. We hope to inform people of the importance of making wise decisions when choosing foods they eat. Eating a well-balanced meal, composed of all the necessary food groups - fish, meat and poultry; fruits and vegetables; breads, grains and cereals and dairy products - is essential to good health."

Families in Education Educating Everyone...Takes Everyone

BACKGROUND

The Department of Public Instruction's ongoing Families in Education program has chosen the theme "Educating Everyone... Takes Everyone" for 1990-91 to remind schools and communities of their shared responsibility in educating children. Elected officials, business leaders, community service agencies, school support personnel, senior citizens, families — everyone has a role to play in educating today's students for the complex world they are about to inherit.

Effective schools research has proven that children learn more when their families are involved in their education. The Families in Education program is founded on this principle. Because the nature of families has changed since research proved the importance of family involvement, the Families in Education program has extended the meaning of "family" to include all those people who help children grow and develop. It is natural then to focus on and explore the schools' and communities' roles in education.

The 1990-91 Families in Education observance is designed to:

- build community support for education
- recognize schools and families that have made exceptional progress in establishing home and school partnerships
- link community services and school resources to better serve families
- assist schools in implementing comprehensive family involvement programs
- develop new resources that will enable schools to reach culturally diverse families and build partnerships that will encourage all families to be involved in their children's education

SETTING THE PACE

The DPI has selected themes for each quarter of the yearlong observance. Each theme will focus on an important aspect of partnerships needed to make education thrive.

Family and Cultural Diversity.

The first quarter will focus on how classrooms have become more diverse to serve children from different cultures, those who speak different languages, and those of differing lifestyles and socio-economic status. Resources will provide teachers and administrators with tips on working effectively with multicultural and bilingual students and their parents.

Volunteerism and Community Service. Parent and community involvement often takes the shape of volunteerism, which schools encourage not only from parents but also from grandparents, business leaders, young adults, older citizens and other education and social service agencies. The second quarter also will focus on how young people's involvement in community service can help them develop a better understanding of their individual responsibility to society and overall community needs.

Parents and Learners. Parents are their children's first teachers. As teachers, parents also are learners. The third quarter of the 1990-91 Families in Education program will focus on how parents can help their children by learning about child care and human development, developing parenting skills, earning a high school equivalency diploma and learning about family management and other self-improvement issues.

Children in Need. The fourth quarter will take a look at the academic and emotional-support programs schools use to help educationally disadvantaged or "at-risk" students. It also will explore how schools can work with community resources for such projects as getting parenting information to teenage parents or encouraging multilingual parents to become interpreters. Some materials will be printed in Spanish and Hmong.

ACTIVITIES FOR 1990-91

The 1990-91 Families in Education observance "Educating Everyone...Takes Everyone," is similar to earlier DPI family involvement activities. Started in 1987 as the Year of the Family in Education, the project evolved into the Families in Education program. The home and schoolhouse logo, widely used during the previous three years, is retained for the 1990-91 observance. This year's materials include the Families in Education name and the yearlong theme with the logo, which can be reproduced on district letterhead, school newsletters, or other materials.

Packets and Newsletters. The DPI is producing theme-based resource packets to support the 1990-91 Families in Education program. Each public school district administrator or the district's Families in Education coordinator will receive two packets. Members of the Wisconsin School Public Relations Association, library representatives and other education agencies and associations also will receive packets. Quarterly newsletters to school principals will include the news of program and school district activities throughout the state.

Other Publications. The DPI will publish "Parents and Education: A Handbook for Teachers Working with Parents" and a book on model family involvement programs. In addition, the DPI will distribute school contact cards and community contact sheets that are intended to facilitate two-way communication between home and school.

Workshops. The DPI is organizing up to a dozen workshops across the state that will assist schools in developing comprehensive family involvement programs. The University of Wisconsin-Extension will work with the DPI to offer workshop leadership.

Recognition Awards. The DPI will recognize one school or school district and one family from each of the state's 12 cooperative educational service agencies (CESAs) for their successful family involvement activities. An awards program during Family Day at the Circus in Baraboo in May 1991 will recognize the 12 "Family Friendly Schools" and 12 "We Care About Education" families.

Additional information about the 1990-91 Families in Education program observance, "Educating Everyone...Takes Everyone," is available through the Families in Education program.

Contact Jane L. Grinde, director, Bureau for School and Community Relations, (608) 266-9356, or Marie App, coordinator, Families in Education, (608) 266-9757, at the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, P.O. Box 7841, Madison, WI 53707-7841.

The largest painting now in existence is probably The Battle of Gettysburg, completed in 1883, after two and a half years of work, by Paul Philip Teaux and 16 assistants. The painting is 410 feet long, 70 feet high and weighs 11,792 pounds.

"Educating Everyone...
Takes Everyone"

A Back-to-School Message from State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover

As preparations begin for the coming school year, I would like to focus special attention on the purpose of education and a theme we will see often, "Educating Everyone...Takes Everyone."

The official theme for the 1990 American Education Week Observance, "Educating Everyone...Takes Everyone," also is the theme for Wisconsin's yearlong Families in Education program. Started three years ago, the Families in Education program focuses attention on the importance of family and community involvement in education. In our interdependent society, schools alone cannot educate children. Everyone has a role.

America's tradition of providing a free, appropriate public education to every child is the envy of other nations. Nowhere else does an educational system attempt to educate all children for the common good. In some countries, only the wealthy receive an education. In others, children with learning disabilities or some other handicap have no opportunity to overcome these conditions.

In the United States, education serves children from all walks of life, helping them achieve their fullest potential. Thomas Jefferson, Horace Mann, and many others envisioned education as the cornerstone of our democratic society. Lyndon B. Johnson said, "The answer for all of our national problems... the answer for all the problems of the world... comes to a single word. That word is education."

"Educating Everyone...Takes Everyone." Quality education demands involvement not simply of teachers, students, and parents, but the whole community. Elected officials, business leaders, community service agencies, school support personnel, senior citizens, employers... everyone has a role to play in educating today's students for the complex world they're about to inherit.

As the school year begins, let's pay special attention to the core of public education... providing every child the best education possible. A school's climate must be one that nurtures young minds and stimulates learning. Families must ensure that a child's job is to attend school and learn, and families must support continued learning at home. Communities must ensure that school buildings are well maintained; that teachers, support personnel, and administrators have the tools and resources they need to help children learn; and that children know that they are valued in and of themselves. Everyone's future depends on an educated citizenry.

The strength of a community can be measured by the schools it keeps. Research shows that strong parental and community involvement in schools demonstrates to children the importance of learning. When families and communities aren't behind education, the schools suffer. A united effort by everyone will keep public education strong...Educating Everyone.

Recommendations Made for 1990 Waterfowl Seasons Back to School Breakfasts to Keep Kids Alert

By Lisa Brunette, UW-Madison Center for Health Sciences

MADISON, WI — Wisconsin's 1990 goose season should improve considerably from last year, while the duck season will be similar to 1989's, according to Jon Bergquist, wetland ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

Bergquist based his predictions for Wisconsin's waterfowl seasons after hearing the recommendations for waterfowl season frameworks made by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Canadian Wildlife Service when they met last week with state and provincial representatives from the Mississippi Flyway Council in Bemidji, Minnesota.

Although the nest success rate is down this year for the Mississippi Valley Population (MVP) of Canada geese, there's some very good news for goose hunters in Wisconsin, according to Bergquist.

"The production, or nest success, of Canada geese is below average this year for the MVP flock," said Bergquist. "However, the MVP flock contains a large number of adult breeding birds and we are again looking for over 400,000 goslings in the fall flight."

The total fall flight forecast is similar to last year's, in the range of 1.3 million to 1.45 million Canada geese.

With lots of breeding adults in the MVP flock, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service recommended a harvest objective of 500,000 birds to stop the population growth of the flock. Bergquist said the MVP flock is probably the largest flock of Canada geese in the world. The flock of Canada geese nesting in Wisconsin continues to increase and add birds to the fall flight.

"Wisconsin will be able to harvest about 200,000 of those 500,000 birds, more than double the quota of Canada geese we had available last year," said Bergquist.

One reason for the increased harvest quota recommended for Wisconsin is that some other states in the Mississippi Flyway Council have not been harvesting their assigned quota, noted Bergquist, so their unused quotas were reallocated to Wisconsin.

"The increased harvest reallocated to Wisconsin will help us address the agricultural damage taking place in the Horicon area," added Bergquist.

If the recommended harvest objective is approved by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service following public hearings on the proposed waterfowl season frameworks being held in Washington, D.C. this week, Bergquist anticipates that a good portion of Wisconsin's increased goose quota will be applied to the Horicon Zone.

"If this recommendation gets approved, hunters applying for Horicon Zone permits could very likely receive five to seven goose tags," said Bergquist. That's quite an increase compared to the two tags hunters in that zone received last year. The number of goose tags hunters will receive will depend on the final allocation to the Horicon Zone and the number of people who apply to hunt in the Horicon Zone.

The deadline for submitting applications to hunt in Wisconsin tag zones is Sept. 7. Applications are available at DNR and County Clerk offices. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, Sept. 7.

The 1990 duck hunting season should be similar to the 1989 season, said Bergquist.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Canadian Wildlife Service estimate that the total fall flight of ducks will be similar to last year's figure of 64 million. The mallard fall flight is predicted to be about 9.7 million, also similar to the 1989 estimate.

"It's another below-average year for ducks," said Bergquist. "However, wetland habitat conditions in prairie Canada did improve considerably from last year because of good spring rains, but the duck populations are still in a poor situation overall because of the past drought."

In Wisconsin, the breeding pair survey for 1990 estimated the number of breeding ducks in the surveyed areas at 395,000 similar to the 398,000 estimated population in the same areas in 1989. The breeding pair survey for mallards in 1990 estimated a breeding population of 155,000 birds in the surveyed areas, compared to 160,000 mallards in the same areas last year. The blue-winged teal breeding pair survey this year calculated a population of 108,000 in the surveyed areas, down from the 136,000 estimated population in the same areas in 1989.

Based on the population estimates provided by the U.S. and Canadian wildlife officials and the states, the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service that it establish a 1990 duck season framework similar to last year's.

This framework, according to Bergquist, includes a 30-day season that could begin no sooner than Oct. 6 and end no later than Jan. 6, 1991. Bergquist also anticipates a daily bag limit similar to the 1989 season, which allowed a daily bag of three ducks of which not more than two could be mallards (only one hen mallard) and one black duck, pintail or redhead, or two wood ducks. The canvasback season was closed last year.

As with the goose season, Bergquist said that Wisconsin will be notified of the duck season framework by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service following public hearings in Washington, D.C.

MADISON, Wis. — Mom was right: Breakfast is the most important meal of the day. And when your child heads back to school this fall, one of the best things you can do is to send the sugar gremlins packing.

"There are two big mistakes both children and adults make at breakfast time," says Mary Marcus, clinical dietitian at University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics. "The biggest mistake is skipping breakfast altogether. The other problem is loading up on sugary cereals, sweet rolls and pastries — or in the worst case, chips and soda — for a quick burst of energy and then a crash."

When everybody in the household is busy getting ready to leave for the day, breakfast is often the first casualty. But kids pay a price for dashing out the door without any nourishment. A number of studies confirm what common sense suggests: Children who skip breakfast don't perform as well in school as those who've had a nourishing meal.

"It's well worth getting up 15 or 20 minutes earlier to make certain that both you and your child have a healthy breakfast," says Marcus. "The body will be far more grateful for the nourishment than for the extra sleep. And if it's just impossible to get going in the morning, consider preparing part of the breakfast the night before."

When it comes to selecting your family's breakfast menu, the rules are actually pretty simple, according to Marcus. Your child needs protein to maintain alertness throughout the morning, as well as complex carbohydrates — found in whole-grain cereals and breads — to supply energy. Ideally, of course, the foods will also be low in the saturated fat that has been implicated in heart disease.

"The typical American kid's breakfast of presweetened cereal and a half-glass of milk sets up a 'crash' later in the morning because it's too high in sugar and too low in protein," Marcus explains. "If your child eats a sugary breakfast at 7 a.m., he or she will probably come down from the sugar high by 8:30 or 9, and there goes the concentration for the morning."

One rule of thumb in choosing cereals, says Marcus, is that the shorter the list of ingredients, the more nutritious the cereal is likely to be. One classic cereal, for example, has only one ingredient: 100 percent shredded wheat. Several of the trendy cereals named for cartoon or movie characters have much longer lists of ingredients and comparatively little nutrition.

And some unconventional breakfasts — even cold pizza — aren't all that bad, nutritionally speaking. Marcus recalls one youngster who favored a morning concoction of leftover rice, warm milk and sugar. Strange as it sounds, the dish — when combined with fruit — offers fiber, carbohydrates and protein, a far better combination than he'd get from a sugary pastry.

Other tips for healthy breakfast include:

- * Offer children a choice rather than dictating foods.
 - * Add protein in the form of peanut butter, cheese, or even yogurt.
 - * Keep in mind that fruit adds fiber and vitamins, but it shouldn't be the mainstay of your child's breakfast.
 - * Remember that children older than 2 can drink low-fat milk.
- The payoff for a good breakfast — more energy and better concentration — is one that most parents would agree is worth the investment.

You must listen to your heart
To know that it's true.

And that you must be Ready and willing
To help someone in need.

The V is for victory;
You will always win
If you give from your heart
And let others in.

Letters to the Editor

August 16, 1990

Dear Editor:

Enclosed is the report from my Task Force on Youth Employment. Responses to the recommendations have been varied and interesting.

Let me clarify that I am not against teenagers working, but their first priority should be school, where they can develop their intellectual potential. I do not want Wisconsin youth to trade the long-term economic benefits of education for short-term payoffs.

Our country is in trouble, and education is under scrutiny, yet we have some teenagers spending more time during the school year working in monotonous, low-wage, deadend—even hazardous—jobs than getting an education. The majority of these working teens are sacrificing time they could be using to participate in extra-curricular activities or to take tougher, more challenging courses.

The following points from the report are of particular interest:

* Current state law allows 14- to 15-year-olds to work up to 24 hours during a school week.

* Current state law allows 16- to 17-year-olds to work up to eight hours on a school day and up to 40 hours during a school week. (Federal law is stricter).

* Under current state law, parents do not have the right to "pull" a child's work permit.

* No method currently exists to compare a student's grades and attendance with hours worked.

* Students currently can obtain work permits from more than one source.

* More apprenticeships and other types of school - supervised work experiences should be developed.

I believe in the value of work, but education must be the priority. If students aren't challenged in their formal learning years, we need to address that as well. Students should be provided quality homework assignments, and they should be given opportunities for extra-curricular activities that help them develop academically, socially, and culturally. Opportunities for supervised work experience should be provided as well, and summer jobs should be encouraged.

Surely there are good reasons for teens to work during the school year, but to do so at the expense of getting an education helps no one.

Thanks for taking the time to review the report.

Sincerely,
Herbert J. Grover
State Superintendent

Nutrition Education Tours for Shoppers at West Bend Supermarkets

Free nutrition education tours for grocery shoppers will be held at two West Bend supermarkets during the American Heart Association's sixth annual Food Festival Sept. 23-29.

Patricia Puestow, a registered dietitian and volunteer for the American Heart Association of Wisconsin, will help shoppers select low-fat, low-cholesterol foods that can help reduce their risk of heart disease.

Puestow, the local Food Festival volunteer coordinator, said that tours will be held:

Tuesday, Sept. 25, at 7 p.m. at Pick 'n Save North, 2380 W. Washington St.

Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 7 p.m. at Sentry Food Store, 1800 S. Main St.

Puestow will guide shoppers through each major section of the stores, explaining how to choose lean cuts of meat and low-fat dairy products; how to read food labels to identify foods that are lower in cholesterol, saturated fat and sodium; and how to prepare meals that are "heart healthy."

All tours are free but they are limited to 15 participants and pre-registration is required.

The American Heart Association's Food Festival is a nationwide nutrition awareness campaign that teaches consumers that high-fat, high-cholesterol foods can contribute to heart and blood vessel disease, which is the number one killer in America and in every county in Wisconsin.

The national 1990 Food Festival campaign will involve approximately 10,000 supermarkets and more than 5,500 restaurants and hospital, school and corporate cafeterias throughout the United States.

Gov. Tommy Thompson has proclaimed Sept. 23-29 as "Food Festival Week" in Wisconsin and September as "Cholesterol Education Month" to encourage state residents to adopt healthier eating habits.

To pre-register for the supermarket tours, call the American Heart Association at 1 (800) 242-9236.

Community Support Sought for Victims of West Bend House Fire

On November 15, 1989, a house fire destroyed the home of Pat and Elaine Pischke and their five children, at 7966 Hwy. 144, West Bend.

The American Red Cross provided temporary housing for a two week period; followed by temporary housing offered by a member of the Pischke's church until January 1990. The family occupied an apartment until June, and are currently living on the site of their original home.

When the original home was destroyed by fire the Pischke's were without homeowners insurance. Consequently they lost everything. Construction of their new home has been financed so far by contributions from their local union and their church. Pat is a member of Allied Industrial Workers, Local 579.

As a Community Service Project of the Washington County Central Labor Council, nicknamed "Home-Work," the Council is asking for help to raise additional funds, offer supplies and provide the labor required to complete the house for the Pischke's.

A Trust Fund has been established at the M&I First National Bank of West Bend. Anyone wishing to make contributions can send them to the M&I First National Bank, 321 N. Main St., West Bend, WI 53095, in care of "Friends for the Pischke's."

On Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 25 and 26, workers and supplies were organized at the Pischke homesite on Hwy. 144. We asked anyone who wanted to help with labor or donations of food or supplies, to meet us at the Pischke's and many lent their support.

For further information on volunteering please contact Lee Eichstedt at 533-5058 or Carol Vetter at 626-4382.

MDA Telethon and Festival Set for Labor Day at TV6

It's time, once again, for the annual Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy. The Telethon will be broadcast live from WITI-TV6's Atrium beginning Sunday, September 2 at 7:00 p.m. and continuing until 6:30 p.m. on Monday, September 3.

Beginning at 9:00 a.m. on Labor Day, all the fun and excitement of the MDA Telethon will take to the great outdoors for the start of the TV6-MDA Festival. Located on TV6 grounds, 9001 North Green Bay Road, the festivities will last until 6:30 p.m. Admission to the Festival is free.

Festival-goers can enjoy delectable ethnic cuisine and other tempting treats. The 1990 Festival menu includes favorites like the Brown Deer Lions and Lioness' corn roast, Italian Community Center's Italian sausages, Chi-Chi's tacos and nachos, Subway sandwiches, brats and rollbraten from Germanfest, South Shore Cafe's gyros, Gourmet Cheesecake, Crestwood Bakery brownies, Jolly Good soda, Budweiser beer, among other mouth-watering treats.

In addition to sampling all the savory food, Festival-goers can also participate in games and activities including: K-Mart and McDonald's kids' games, Eagle Snacks frisbee toss, Barrel O'

Fun fishing pond, IRS dunk tank, Erik of Norway face and nail painting, Milwaukee County Trolley, Harley-Davidson motorcycle display, Milwaukee County Deputy Sheriff's Assoc. horse rides, Pampers Ping-Pong Pitch, a Nestle Crunch game, Not Just Nuts Pick-A-Pack game, and other not-to-be-missed fun.

The Great MDA Auction, hosted by former Bucks superstar Bob "Lanier-the-Auctioneer," is always a favorite among Festival-goers. This year's item up for bid include: Golden Book encyclopedia sets, a solar-powered sun oven, MTV black satin jacket, 14 karat gold ladies bracelet from Shaw's Jewelers, one-of-a-kind sports memorabilia, concert tickets, and much, much more.

The MDA Festival also offers loads of family-style entertainment. Kids will have the time of their lives with the Ronald McDonald show at 11 a.m. and Chuck E. Cheese at 1:30 p.m. Parents will be able to enjoy Bocci Ball tournaments, and various bands — Park Place, Spider George and the Web, and Showdown — on the WOKY/WMIL entertainment stage.

1990 marks the 20th year WITI-TV 6 has joined in the fight against Muscular Dystrophy. TV6's Tom Hooper and Jill Geisler are hosting the Telethon for their 19th and 16th years consecutively. One-hundred percent of the proceeds raised at the Telethon and Festival are donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. MDA is a voluntary national health agency dedicated to fighting Muscular Dystrophy and 40 other neuromuscular disease.

Wisconsin State Chartered Thrifts The Wisconsin Difference

Wisconsin currently has 46 state chartered savings and loan associations and 22 federally chartered institutions. The state chartered thrifts operate 336 offices with consumer contact 46 home offices and 290 branches). The assets of these 46 thrifts total $10.64 billion as of June 30, 1990 compared to assets of $10.68 billion on December 31, 1989, a modest decrease which reflects conservative growth strategies.

The capital level of Wisconsin's state chartered thrift industry remains one of the strongest in the country. On June 30, 1990, the 46 institutions had capital of $909.6 million, general reserves of $40.1 million and a ratio to total assets of 8.92%. It should be noted that Wisconsin state chartered thrifts have maintained their books on a GAAP (generally accepted accounting principles) basis which makes this ratio even stronger.

Savings and loans throughout the nation have taken a severe public relations pounding and their earnings are down severely. Despite this, Wisconsin's state chartered industry earned $14.6 million in net income the second quarter, the best in quite some time.

Depositors earned $334 million of interest on their accounts during the first six months of 1990. Deposit accounts for the state chartered institutions totaled $9.16 billion in December 1989.

Mortgage loans and mortgage backed securities remain the primary asset of Wisconsin thrifts. At June 30th, these assets exceeded $7.8 billion and represent 73% of total thrift assets. This punctuates a strong commitment to housing.

Because of the Wisconsin capital position, and continued emphasis on mortgage lending, the FIRREA legislation passed by Congress effective August 9, 1989 has not resulted in any major restructuring of the Wisconsin thrift industry.

* We are in desperate need of volunteers to staff the new reception and sales area, especially on Saturday and Sunday.

* For more information or to volunteer, call Mary (675-6888, local or 375-2715, metro) to indicate your interest.

Riveredge is a nonprofit environmental education institution located on Highway Y, one mile north of Newburg.

Adult Ecology and Natural History Course

An indepth look at the natural world is the focus of the Adult Ecology and Natural History course which begins Friday, September 7. This class will meet weekly on Friday mornings through May, 1991, at Riveredge Nature Center.

The comprehensive course, designed to develop curiosity, understanding and a holistic view of the earth, is taught by Riveredge's Executive Director, Andy Larsen. Participants will find themselves investigating the river by climbing into it. They will discover the world of the protists of a pond through a microscope, and they will explore winter wildlife habitats via snowshoes. Through observation, analysis and discussion, a better understanding of the nature of life on this planet will be developed.

There are no prerequisites for participation other than a willingness to learn.

The fee for the course is $95 for members and $110 for non-members. If you are interested in registering or would like more information, please call Riveredge at 675-6888 (local) or 375-2715 (metro).

All players interested should fill out the application below along with the $5.00 and send it to Jerry Marx or Tom Bartelt.

All players must attend an organizational practice on September 8th at 1:00 p.m. at the Varsity Football field behind Kewaskum Elementary School.

This is the second program sponsored by the Youth Division. The summer baseball program was a huge success again with the team being very competitive in the Lakeshore Baseball League.

More Than 500,000 Hunter's Choice Deer Permits Available

MADISON, WI — A record 514,370 Hunter's Choice permits are available for Wisconsin's 1990 gun deer season, says Bill Ishmael, Department of Natural Resources Deer, Bear and Furbearer Ecologist.

The gun deer season begins Saturday, Nov. 17 and runs through Sunday, Nov. 25. A Hunter's Choice permit allows a hunter to kill a deer of either sex in a designated deer management unit.

Applications for a Hunter's Choice permit must be postmarked by Sept. 28, 1990, and mailed to: DNR License Section, P.O. Box 7186, Madison, WI 53707.

"With so many Hunter's Choice permits available this year, I really encourage deer hunters to send their applications in early so we can get the permits processed and mailed out on time," said Ishmael.

Wisconsin's deer herd is estimated to number more than 1.3 million statewide. A mild winter helped Wisconsin's deer population grow from last year, especially in the northern part of the state, according to Ishmael.

If excess Hunter's Choice permits remain after all applicants for a given deer management unit have received their permits, those extra permits are available as "bonus" permits to hunters already holding permits in that unit. A bonus permit allows a hunter to tag an antlerless deer in addition to the regular Hunter's Choice deer. Hunter's Choice permits and bonus permits may be used in any order.

"Based on the number of applicants we had for deer management units last season, there could be 139,000 bonus permits available," added Ishmael.

The 1989 season saw a then-record 342,321 Hunter's Choice permits issued; the gun deer harvest hit an all-time high of 310,192.

Participation is the key to the success of these programs. Any parent or person interested in coaching or helping to run this program should contact Jerry Marx or Tom Bartelt, or attend the organizational meeting on September 8th.

Madison, WI — Quadrangle maps are accurate, reliable and available to hunters, cross country skiers, trappers and others in pursuit of Fall and Winter outdoor activities in Wisconsin.

The United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, has completed mapping Wisconsin in the 7.5 minute quadrangle format. The format for the U.S.G.S. map illustrates in readable form the physical characteristics of land terrain by precise government surveying.

Topographic maps also reveal landmarks that otherwise would remain unknown. The nature of these maps allow the user to properly plan the journey in advance.

The map scale is 1:24,000 or about 2.5 inches to the mile. Each sheet covers an area about 6.0 by 8.5 miles.

EW Champ Rohrer to Lead Team Indian Girls Netters to Return Ten Letter Winners

KEWASKUM — With no less than ten letterwinners returning to the fold this year, including last year's Eastern Wisconsin Conference No. 2 singles champion Jessica Rohrer, the Kewaskum girls tennis team will be more competitive this season, according to coach Glenn Eichstedt.

"For the first time since the inception of the EW girls conference tennis competition, several teams have a legitimate chance to win the title," Eichstedt said, evaluating the coming season. "I would have to consider our team the darkhorse in this year's race. We will be much more competitive."

One reason for Eichstedt optimism is Rohrer. The junior, who is in her third year as a varsity regular, went 10-6 in 1989 at No. 2 singles, finishing her season in style by capturing the conference title at that spot.

Rohrer will be pushing another letterwinner, senior Brenda Falk, for the number one spot this year. Falk, who went 6-11 at No. 1 singles last year, is a two-time letterwinner.

Senior Tammy Troeller, who was 4-12 at No. 4 singles last year, will probably be taking over the No. 3 spot this year. Last year's No. 3 singles player, Debbie Rimmel, has since graduated. Her skills will no doubt be missed, as she went 7-1 in conference meets last year, eventually finishing second in conference.

Eichstedt looks to a non-lettering senior, Kelly Berres, to occupy the No. 4 singles spot. Berres went 5-6 on the JV squad last year.

There are numerous girls who are competing for the doubles positions. Top letterwinning candidates are Chrissy Survis and Heidi Gruhle, who, at No. 1 doubles, finished fourth in conference last year.

Other top prospects include letterwinners Angela Clements, (SR), Shawn Erdmann (JR), Kim Frank (SOPH), and Jenny Thull (SOPH). Non-letterwinning candidates include senior Karie Reichart, juniors Jenny Brigham and Stacey Pamperin and sophomores Nicki Cayner and Karyn Dossinger.

As for team strengths, Eichstedt points to the experience of his singles players, as well as "Leadership, competition, positive attitude and team spirit." The major weaknesses of his squad are inexperience in the doubles combinations, and "We have no tradition, or very limited history of success in team tournaments."

1990 Kewaskum Indians Girls Tennis Team Roster

SENIORS — Kelly Berres, Angela Clements, Brenda Falk, Robin Rehbein, Karie Reichart, Chrissy Survis, Tammy Troeller.

performance with a come-from-behind 5-7, 6-2, 6-3 win over Slinger's Pam Held in a match that lasted nearly two hours.

Returning conference champion Jessica Rohrer debuted at No. 1 singles with a convincing 6-3, 6-4 win over Laura Zalewski. Two Indian doubles teams, which has not been a strong point in recent years, also posted wins in their season-opening matches.

At No. 2 doubles, the Indians' Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank dropped their first set 2-6, but came back to win the next two 6-2, 6-1. At No. 3 doubles, in what Eichstedt called "the surprise of the day," Karyn Dossinger and Stacey Pamperin teamed up to post a routine 6-3, 6-4 win.

Kewaskum 5, Slinger 2

SINGLES — No. 1 - Jessica Rohrer beat Laura Zalewski 6-3, 6-4. No. 2 - Tammy Troeller lost to Steffi Griggs 4-6, 2-6. No. 3 - Jenny Thull beat Tammy Klafka 7-6 (8-6) 6-1. No. 4 - Angie Clements beat Pam Held 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.

DOUBLES — No. 1 - Heidi Gruhle and Chrissy Survis lost to Kristin Lenz and Tracy Roever 2-6, 0-6. No. 2 - Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank beat Jane Beck and Jenny Becker 2-6, 6-2, 6-1. No. 3 - Karyn Dossinger and Stacy Pamperin beat Marlene Hetzel and Jenny Tennies 6-3, 6-4.

Indians 4th in County Tennis

WEST BEND — While Kewaskum girls tennis coach Glenn Eichstedt wanted to finish in the top half in the Washington County Tennis meet, he was pretty satisfied to take fourth, considering the circumstances.

The Indians tallied 13 points in the meet, which was won by West Bend East, who scored 34. Second was West Bend West, which had 27 points, followed by Hartford (16), Kewaskum, Germantown (12) and Slinger (8).

"We lost 9 of 12 tiebreakers," Eichstedt said after the meet, adding "if we'd have won even half of those, we'd have finished in third place. But we did show marked improvement."

Number one singles player Jessica Rohrer topped the list as she won the consolation championship, beating Germantown's Jenny Wimmer 6-2, 6-1 in the final. Rohrer was beaten by West's Claire Hickmann 6-4, 7-6 (7-5) in the first round, sending her to the consolation bracket.

"I feel that those two are two of the top three players in the county," Eichstedt said of Rohrer and Hickmann, adding that it was unfortunate that they had to meet in the first round. "She played very well," Eichstedt said of Rohrer, adding "She was up 4-2 in the tiebreaker, only to lose."

No. 3 singles player Jenny Thull turned in "a super effort," according to Eichstedt, in placing third in the meet. Thull received a bye in the first round, and then lost her next match to West's Jenny Hausmann, before coming back to defeat Hartford's Catherine Holmburg 6-4, 7-6 (7-4), in what Eichstedt termed "a very physically demanding match."

The No. 3 doubles combination of Kim Frank and Nicki Cayner also placed third, as they beat Slinger's Christa Courchane and Jenny Tennies 7-6 (7-3), 6-1, and then lost to East's Memorie Laughrin and Pam Harter 7-6, 2-6, 7-6.

Probably the closest and toughest match of the day came at No. 3 singles, where the Indians' Tammy Troeller lived up to her nickname of "Tiebreaker" by taking all three sets of her third place match against West's Annette Werner to a tiebreaker. Troeller eventually lost to Werner 6-7, 7-6, 6-7, with the last tiebreaker score being 7-5, and had to settle for fourth place.

"All three sets went to a tiebreaker, it was unbelievable," Eichstedt said of Troeller's final match. "She played her usual hard matches, and she just came up a little short."

But for the most part, Eichstedt was quite pleased with the effort. "We had wanted an upper-level finish, so it at least shows that we're heading in the right direction."

Barrel Haus Wins Championship

KEWASKUM — When a team enters the playoffs with an 8-6 record and is the last team to nail down a playoff spot, it usually isn't suppose to do that well in post-season play. Tell that to the Barrel Haus III team.

Barrel Haus III capped an improbable post-season flurry with a 23-3 whitewash of Bar-N-Ranch in the championship game to take the title in Thursday night Kewaskum Softball Association action.

Barrel Haus waited until the final week of regular season action to qualify for the playoffs, and then it went 3-0 in the quarterfinal and semifinal games the following week, sending it into a best 2-out-of-3 championship series against the Bar-N-Ranch, the regular season champs with an 11-3 record.

After falling behind 4-1 early in the first game, Barrel Haus turned their game up a notch and scored four runs in the fifth inning to take the lead for good. Dan Lehman and John Engelke had three hits apiece as Barrel Haus won 8-4.

The second game was a defensive battle, with both teams making some fine plays in the field. When it was said and done, Bar-N-Ranch evened the series at one game apiece with a 5-3 victory, setting the stage for one game for the championship.

Barrel Haus jumped out to a 5-0 lead early, and had extended their lead to 13-3 when they exploded for 10 runs in the sixth inning to seal the win. Bob Hetteberg, Greg Engelhard, Ralph Steilen and Tom Klug each had four hits to pace Barrel Haus' 30 hit attack. Brian Schoemmer also went 7-12 in the three games, while Engleke went 6-12.

Indian JV Netters Lose to Slinger

SLINGER — While the Kewaskum girls JV tennis team didn't fare as well as their varsity counterparts did at Slinger, the younger Indians did bring home three wins in their 10 matches.

Heading the list was sophomore Carrie Fellenz, who downed the Owls' Christa Courchane 6-3. Freshman Lisa Berres also brought home a win, beating Slinger's Susan Beck by the same 6-3 score. The Indians' number one doubles team, consisting of Erin Fleury and Jenny Brigham, also was victorious, beating Courchane and Beck 5-4.

Girls Win Tennis Opener at Slinger

SLINGER — Kewaskum girls tennis head coach Glenn Eichstedt knew his team's opening meet at Slinger would be an interesting one, and it proved to be more interesting than he had anticipated.

The Indians won three out of four singles matches and two out of three doubles matches to breeze to a 5-2 win over the Owls, despite having two top players miss the meet.

Two late developments caused Eichstedt to revamp his lineup prior to the start of the non-conference meet. First, Kelly Berres, the regular No. 4 singles player, injured her right knee while practicing the night before the meet.

Then the meet was moved to an earlier time, forcing the team's No. 2 singles player, Brenda Falk, to miss the meet due to a schedule conflict.

Thus, a couple of junior varsity players were forced into varsity matches as last-minute replacements. Fortunately for the Indians, both replacements, sophomore Jenny Thull at No. 3 singles, and senior Angie Clements at No. 4 singles, won their respective matches, allowing the Indians to match their win total of last season.

Thull, won a first set tiebreaker and then dominated the second set, beating Tammy Klafka 7-6 (8-6), 6-1. Clements, meanwhile, turned in a gummy

Defense Has Eight Takeaways Indians Shut Out Cougars

CAMPBELLSPORT — An intense, aggressive defense coupled with a strong game from quarterback Mark Felix helped the Kewaskum football team open its 1990 campaign on the right foot here, last Friday night.

The Indian defense forced eight Campbellsport turnovers, while Felix ran for two touchdowns and passed for another, leading the Indians to a 19-0 shutout of the Cougars.

"We had a real good team effort," Indians head coach Clark Pearson said regarding the win. "Our defense played very well. We were really aggressive."

They were aggressive enough to recover six fumbles and intercept two passes, while limiting the Cougars to just 36 yards passing and 14 yards rushing. The Indian offense meanwhile, rolled up 121 yards on the ground and 70 through the air.

The defense set up the Indians first score, as Craig Krell recovered a fumble deep in Campbellsport territory, allowing Felix to find Matt Seiser open for a 14 yard score with 5:45 remaining in the first quarter. The ensuing two-point try failed, and the Indians were up 6-0.

After a scoreless second period, the Indians found the end zone again in the first quarter, as Felix scampered for a 6-yard touchdown run. Again the two-point conversion was unsuccessful, but the Indians had opened up a 12-0 lead.

Felix did a nifty bit of scrambling and found Randy Schlice open for a 22 yard gain in the fourth quarter, setting up another Felix run for a touchdown. This bootleg covered nine yards, and Jeff Sabish kicked the extra point to account for the final tally.

"Felix did a nice job for his first game of the year," Pearson said of the 6-3 senior. "He played very well. He even punted quite well."

Felix led the Indians in rushing, piling up 50 yards in just seven carries. Junior Randy Schlice added 34 yards on 16 attempts. Felix didn't have as much success through the air, completing just three of his 15 passes, but they were productive, as the completions accounted for 57 yards.

But Felix had to share the spotlight on this night, as the entire defensive unit was praised by Pearson.

"Our defensive line did a real nice job. We had a good rush on the passer," Pearson said, lauding the play of junior defensive end Joel Fleischman, who "really put some heat on their quarterback."

Pearson also noted that Brian Heller recovered three fumbles and led the team in defensive points. But he added "I really can't say that one or two persons did well, because it was really a tremendous team effort. They all played well."

Despite the fine effort put forth by the Indians, Pearson still feels that his squad has much improving to do, especially on offense.

"We still have a lot of work to do," Pearson commented. "We didn't move the ball (on offense) the way that I thought we could. But overall, I guess I was pretty pleased."

The Indians, now 1-0 on the young season, will look to add another victory on Friday when they host Horicon, which was trounced 47-0 last week by Columbus.

Dean Competes In State Open

MEQUON — Although he struggled in his two rounds of golf at the Wisconsin State Open Golf Tournament held here at North Shore Country Club, Kewaskum's Gregg Dean says just being there was good enough for him.

"It was a great experience," Dean said last week after his second round of play. Dean shot a 81 on Monday, then struggle to a 87 on Tuesday to finish with a total of 168, thereby not making the cutoff point of 154.

Monday's round saw Dean playing in a heavy downpour during the afternoon, which made for some pretty tough conditions. Playing on the North Shore layout for the first time didn't help Dean's chances either.

"I had 36 putts (Monday), and that really killed me," Dean said of his opening round, although even at that point he was optimistic that he could make the cut.

While better weather conditions and a round under his belt may have brightened his outlook for Tuesday's round, all the optimism in the world wouldn't have been able to overcome a single hole early in his round.

"I had a 10 on a par 3," Dean said, explaining his problems on the 205 yard hole number 4. He reportedly hit three shots out of bounds before finally hitting the cut grass, settling for the 10, and realistically knocking him out of the tournament.

"After that hole, it was just like 'Oh well, what can you do?'" he said. "At least I made it that far, even though I didn't do that spectacular," he went on. "It was just an honor to make it that far."

Adding that this was only his third tournament in which he has participated, the junior at UW-Stout added, "Eventually I'm going to get more into it (the tournaments), and hopefully I'll just continue to improve."

The tournament was won by Canadian Tour professional Steve Stricker, who finished with a 72-hole total of four-under par, 284.

Gitter Wins Monday Night Crown

KEWASKUM — The final champion was crowned Monday night, as the Kewaskum Softball Association playoffs came to an end.

Regular season women's league champ Gitter Construction made sure there would be no more upsets in post-season play, as it beat T's Lounge twice to win the Monday night championship.

T's Lounge advanced to the best 2-out-of-3 championship series with a 17-5 win over Kewaskum Frozen Foods in the semifinals. Kewaskum Frozen Foods finished the year with a 6-7 record.

While Gitter didn't blow away T's in the finals, it did reassure which was the better of the two teams. Gitter beat T's 7-4 in the first game, and 6-4 in the second to finish the season with a 13-1 record. T's finished 8-7.

Indian Spikers Place Second In Invitational Held Here

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum volleyball team had its chances, but still had to settle for a second-place finish in its own tournament held here, last Saturday.

The Indians finished with a 4-2 mark, the same record as Shorewood in the round-robin invite. But in a tiebreaker to determine the winner, Shorewood outlasted the Indians 15-10. Chilton finished third in the meet with a 3-3 mark, while Kiel was fourth, sporting a 1-5 record.

The Indians opened up against the eventual champion Greyhounds in the first round. After getting beaten soundly in the first game 15-3, the Indians bounced back to take a 15-10 decision.

In the second round, Kewaskum matched up against fellow Eastern Wisconsin Conference member Chilton. The Indians held off the Tigers in the first game 15-9, but the Tigers came back to post a 15-12 win in the second game.

Against Kiel in the final round, the Indians swept the Raiders 15-11, 15-8 setting up the tiebreaker with Shorewood, whose second loss came at the hands of Kiel.

"We're doing pretty good," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi said when assessing his team thus far. "We've got some good experience (in the meet) and found out some of our weaknesses. Hopefully, we should be in good shape for conferences."

The Indians will be anchored this year by frontliners Nicole Doherty and Rachele Zuehlke, a pair of "strong spikers," according to Rizzardi. "They have shown some definite spiking ability," he said of the two seniors.

Senior setter Tisha Stradman returns to the fold from last year's squad, which went 6-6 in conference, and "will be our floor leader," says Rizzardi. "She'll run things out on the court."

Rizzardi has also been pleased with the effort put forth by sophomore Christa Schmidt, who broke into the starting lineup this season. "She's really been doing a nice job," he said. Tracey Steinert and Lora Delcore fill out the rest of the starting lineup.

Kelly Rohlinger and Kelly Korth "will contribute coming off the bench," according to Rizzardi, who is in his 11th year of coaching at KHS.

As for conference favorites this season, Rizzardi points to New Holstein, even though it lost "one of the best players this conference has ever had," in all-stater Sherry McNamara and also Sheboygan Falls. However, Rizzardi feels that his squad can contend.

"We're still getting used to each other, still learning who's going to cover who," he says, adding "but I think finishing in the top three (in conference) is a realistic goal."
