Peter M. Platten, III, President and Chief Executive Officer of Valley Bancorporation announced recently that approval has been received from the Federal Reserve Board for the affiliation of the Citizens State Bank, Kiel, with Valley. The transaction is expected to be consummated on December 3, 1990.

Platten states, "We are enthusiastic about expanding Valley's presence into these strong and growing communities. We look to expand the excellent services Citizens presently offers to these communities. Affiliation with Citizens represents an extension of our current market and provides Valley with an opportunity to expand further into eastern Wisconsin. This acquisition fits Valley's philosophy of expanding existing markets to meet our goals relative to growth, market presence, and profitability."

Citizens will continue to be directed by its existing management team, with current Vice President of Lending, Larry LeMahieu becoming Chief Operating Officer of the bank. In order to further strengthen Citizens management, Gerald H. ## New KHS Student of the Month Program to Start School Board OKs KES Ceiling Repair Contract

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Board of Education unanimously voted Monday night, to accept the low bid of the W.B. Corporation of West Bend, to repair ceilings at Kewaskum Elementary School. Quotes on the project ranged from W.B.'s low bid of $49,991 to a high bid of $84,269.

The project will be funded by approximately $40,000 still available from the 1989 Capital Improvement Loan, $4,100 from the 94-142 Exceptional Education Needs Fund and the balance of the cost coming out of the 1990 Capital Improvements Loan.

In new business, Administrator Dr. David Heather presented the board with an idea to establish a "Student of the Month" program at the high school. The plan was initially brought to Heather by board president Neal Weare. Weare said he would like to see students recognized not only for their academic achievements but other activities and accomplishments as well. "Whether it be participation in the school musical, tutoring a fellow student, things that should receive recognition by a student's teachers and peers," said Weare.

The program, basically, would be set up to recognize one KHS student each month. The Student Council established several guidelines it felt should be used in the selection process. Teachers would make the nomination including giving their reasons why the student should receive recognition. The Student Council, or a committee of its members, would then review the nominations and select a winner. The award would be open to any high school student and the monthly winner would have their picture in the paper with a write-up, similar to the Kiwanis Students of the Month. Each monthly winner would be presented with a certificate or plaque of recognition and their picture displayed at the high school for the school year.

After some discussion, the board approved Heather's recommendation and the first award will be presented at its December meeting. Weare said Tuesday, he would eventually like to see the program expanded to include the Middle and Elementary schools.

In non-action discussion, middle and high school

Peace Church 'Knits' the School Meaning of Mission

A total of 137 hand-knit caps and 18 pairs of hand-knit mittens for grade school children with special needs in inner-city Milwaukee Schools will be delivered this week to coordinating social worker by Rev. and Mrs. James Bettin of Peace Church, Kewaskum.

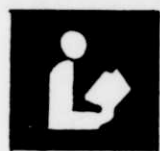

Lorena Wagner of Kewaskum, who knit 120 pairs of mittens and 8 caps herself has already sent a box, making the 1990 grand total of 145 caps and 149 pairs of mittens. This project is an on-going mission of Peace Church women who knit all year to insure that there will be fewer cold heads and hands in at least three Milwaukee grade schools.

Betty Clark, formerly of Kewaskum, Coordinated the project before moving to Illinois. She still contributes knitted items for the local effort. Rose Wagner, a friend and former parishioner of Pastor Bettin from Lafayette, Indiana, is also a major supporter. Supplying most of her own yarn and hours of year-long effort, Rose topped her more than 100 knitted items in 1989 with 126 colorful caps in 1990. A widow, whose "family" is those she helps so willingly, Rose cherishes paper cards of thanks the children send her.

Other non-knitters at Peace Church donate 4-ply yarn for local knitters to use, the caps and mittens are distributed directly to the children by watchful teachers as needs arise in the cold, winter months. Last year, a pair of mittens became emergency foot warmers when a small girl arrived at school in frigid weather with no socks in her shoes. This then is mission!

principals David Jones and LeRoy Kopecky gave a presentation on the district's "Child at Risk" and tutoring programs for the two schools.

In other action the board approved Heather's recommendation to include supervision of the weight room as part of an intramural assignment. With the addition of that position, along with the present coaching staff supervising the weight room, it is anticipated there will be better utilization of the room. The district is trying to make the weight room available, with supervision, two to three evenings a week for approximately 1 1/2 hours per night.

In other business the board approved the purchase of three tables for the high school at a cost of $1,948, the purchase and installation of three replacement doors at the high school, cost $1,716 and an asbestos reinspection to comply with federal and state regulations. 1990-91 snowplowing contracts for the various school properties were also approved. The board approved the purchase of a computerized scanner at a cost of $1,500. The scanner will be used with a MacIntosh Computer in graphic arts and for the production of newsletters.

The board approved the request of board member Ruth Schmitt to attend the National School Board Convention at San Francisco in March, 1991, and the addition of two O/M coaches for a team at Farmington Elementary School.

Dr. Heather advised the board that the terms of members Perry Ankersen and Neal Weare expire in April, 1991. The filing period for nomination papers for the positions will open Tuesday, December 4, 1990, and run through the end of the business day, Wednesday, Jan. 2, 1991. Heather noted that if more than four candidates file papers, a primary election will have to be held in February.

United Way Near Goal

At a Campaign Celebration of the United Way of Washington County on November 8, campaign volunteers were honored for their efforts in raising funds to support 30 United Way agencies in 1991.

Held at the Hartford Country Club, the celebration had a record crowd of 150. Campaign Chairman John Dedrick thanked the volunteers for their hard work and also recognized the in-house campaign co-ordinators who facilitate the employee campaigns each year.

As of November 8, the campaign reported 97% or $663,460 towards the goal of $685,000. "We're confident that we will exceed our highest goal ever within the next few weeks," said Dedrick. "There are still pledge cards out in the area, and some divisions report that more funds will be coming in," he said.

The 1990 goal is 11% higher than the 1989 goal of $610,000. United Way Executive Director Barbara Hurula stated, "Our United Way did not take the easy way out and raise the goal only 3 or 4 percent, practically ensuring a victory. Instead, we looked at the needs of our agencies, the past performance of our donors, and the potential for giving and set a goal that was significantly higher than last year's final result."

"By asking for 9 to 10 percent increases, companies and individuals were challenged to try and meet that goal. Many did meet - and surpass - the challenge and that is part of what we celebrate tonight," she said.

Division reports were given by division chairs. They were reported as follows: Key Firms: $294,015 - 100.3 percent; Small Industry: $18,671 - 81 percent; Retail: $26,468 - 86 percent;

Commercial: $8,167 - 102 percent; Transportation: $9,353 - 85 percent.

Financial: $44,813 - 104 percent; Education: $20,340 - 102 percent; Public: $16,243 - 103 percent; Agencies: $17,317 - 91 percent; Professionals: $18,500 - 80 percent; Special Gifts: $42,386 - 101 percent.

Hartford: $64,104 - 90 percent; Jackson: $18,547 - 112 percent; Kewaskum: $29,179 - 83 percent; Slinger: $15,896 - 114 percent; Allenton: $18,219 - 97 percent; and Newburg: $1,242 - 124 percent.

"Already on Friday morning, Allenton had met their goal and was at 100 percent," said Dedrick. "That giving spirit is evident throughout the seven communities served by United Way of Washington County: West Bend, Hartford, Jackson, Slinger, Allenton, Kewaskum and Newburg."

If you haven't sent in your donation yet, please do so. The address is: United Way, P. O. Box 304, West Bend, WI 53095.

"One of four county residents depend on the support you give to United Way," said Dedrick. "Our campaign theme: 'Touch a Life - The United Way enables donors to do just that. Touch many lives the United Way.'

Federal Budget Will Punish Wisconsin

A Commentary by U.S. Senator Bob Kasten of Wisconsin

The budget just passed by Congress will punish families in states like Wisconsin with hefty tax increases, but will do little to help boost our economy or reduce out-of-control spending by Washington.

This bill contains a mammoth $170 billion tax increase over the next five years — the largest tax increase in U.S. history.

I voted against this package. Here are some of my reasons why:

It will raise income tax rates, gasoline taxes, beer taxes, payroll taxes and business taxes. I'm especially angry because it will raise taxes on the middle-income families of Wisconsin.

It will hurt families with children by phasing out the personal and dependency exemptions for certain taxpayers. The more children in the family, the higher the marginal tax rate they must pay.

It will punish self-employed individuals by increasing their payroll taxes by as much as 150 percent.

It will weaken the competitiveness of U.S. businesses in world markets.

It will kill the economic expansion of the 1980s, which created 21 million new jobs and raised family incomes.

But here's where the real trouble comes in: DESPITE TEARING A HUGE HOLE IN THE FAMILY BUDGETS OF MANY AMERICANS, THE TAX INCREASE WILL DO NEXT TO NOTHING TO REDUCE THE FEDERAL BUDGET DEFICIT.

To begin with, the new budget is based on unrealistic economic assumptions. For example, it counts as "savings" in the budget the revenue gains we would reap if interest rates are down to 5 percent in 1992 — EVEN THOUGH HARDLY ANYONE EXPECTS THIS TO HAPPEN.

I won't be surprised if next year, when tax revenues start falling short of Congress's ever-growing spending levels, they'll be back again asking for another tax increase to cover the shortfall.

History shows that every $1 in higher taxes leads to $1.52 in higher spending.

Under this supposed "deficit reduction" package Congress is offering the American people, only defense spending is cut. IN ALL OTHER AREAS OF THE BUDGET, SPENDING IS SLATED TO INCREASE BY A TOTAL OF ALMOST $70 BILLION.

And this massive spending continues to grow over the whole five years of the budget package — a total of $245 BILLION IN OVERALL SPENDING INCREASES OVER FIVE YEARS.

Congress has redefined the meaning of the word "cut." For most Wisconsin families, a spending cut means SPENDING LESS. In Congress, if spending does not increase quite as fast as the politicians had planned, they call THAT a spending cut.

When Congress comes back next year — probably to face a deep economic crisis of its own making — I would hope that the tax-and-spend crowd would finally start listening to common sense, and pass a no-tax-increase budget that gets the deficit under control through spending restraint.

WE CAN DO IT. From 1986 to 1990, tax receipts have risen from $769 billion to $1.1 trillion. Tax receipts are already projected to rise by $397.8 billion between 1990 and 1995. This flood of new revenue that the American people will send to Washington — an average of $80 billion more each year — is more than enough to fund the Nation's true priorities and trim the budget deficit.

All we have to do is freeze federal spending — and SPEND NO MORE THIS FISCAL YEAR THAN WE SPENT IN THE PREVIOUS FISCAL YEAR. Freezing total outlays at 1990 levels would cut the deficit by $70 to $90 billion next year. That's real deficit reduction — not the smoke-and-mirrors masquerade that Congress is inflicting on the American people this year.

KHS Report Cards Have New Look

The report cards at Kewaskum High School will have a new look this year. As of November 20, parents and students will see the benefits of the in-house computer system. Previously all reports were created through an outside agency and then shipped back to the high school.

One benefit of an in-house system includes speed of return. Instead of waiting up to three weeks for the report cards to be returned, they can now be obtained conceivably within a week. Another benefit is that multiple comments can be issued per each course if the teacher desires.

The whole system is still pretty new to everyone. Though excitement is apparent, everyone is still quite cautious. Thanks for your patience, cooperation and understanding as KHS enters this new territory.

KHS Academic Letter Winners

Kewaskum Statesman,
Thursday, Nov. 15, 1990, Page 4

Each year Kewaskum High School issues Academic Letters to deserving students. The award is a K letter with the word "academic" embroidered on it.

Eligibility for the letter is based on a 4 point system determined on a stringent grade point average: 3.75 to 3.90 - 1 point, 4.00 - 2 points. The points are cumulative. The first four points result in a letter. Every subsequent four points will result in a Lamp of Knowledge pin that may be pinned on the original letter.

Earlier this year, Mr. LeRoy Kopecky, principal, awarded Academic Letters and Lamp of Knowledge pins to those individuals who accrued the needed points from last year's grades.

Those honored students who received letters are: Carrie Fellenz, Julie Mertz, James Rix, Daniel Schulteis, Nancy Neumann and Matthew Kuehn. Those students who received pins were: Stacey Pamperin, Brenda Behling, Melissa Miller, Nicole Gafke, Amy Redig, Christian Wunsch, April Wulff, Christine Ramthun and Michelle Marx.

Congratulations to those students on showing excellence in Kewaskum education.

Wisconsin Electric to Introduce 'Mr. Ouch' to Warn Children

A threatening character soon will make himself known to many area children. But his purpose is to protect them, rather than frighten them.

Next month, Wisconsin Electric Power Company will begin attaching "Mr. Ouch" stickers to more than 100,000 transformers in residential areas to warn children of the dangers inside a transformer. Mr. Ouch also will be incorporated in educational materials including videos, posters and activity pamphlets.

"A transformer doesn't look very threatening, but people need to be aware that it contains high voltage equipment that is potentially dangerous if handled by anyone other than utility personnel," said Dallas Wytonick, chairman of WE's Hazard Awareness Committee.

"Mr. Ouch" is a menacing ball of electricity. The sticker also shows a child in distress and includes the words "Hazardous voltage inside. Can choke, burn, or cause death."

The sticker is endorsed by the National Electrical Manufacturers Association and has been tested among various age groups, including pre-school children. Mr. Ouch has been proven effective for children who are too young to read.

The sticker also advises the reader that the equipment should be locked and asks them to notify Wisconsin Electric if it is not.

The sticker is the latest addition to the electrical safety information, including brochures and coloring and comic books for children, already offered by WE. For a free copy of any safety material, call the Energy Facts Phone at 221-2000, or toll-free 1-800-222-9288.

Holy Trinity Students Celebrate 'All Hallow's Eve'

The students of Holy Trinity School participated in a different kind of Halloween celebration this year. Students learned about the traditions behind this holiday.

One tradition tells us that many years ago, on the night before All Saints Day, Christians dressed up as saints to remind them to be holy. Then these dressed-up people collected gifts, food and money for the poor people. This day was called "All Hallow's Eve."

The students celebrated their own "All Hallow's Eve" this Halloween. The activity was a big brother/big sister project with the upper grade students matched up with lower grade students. They helped them find out about their patron saint, assemble their costume, and provided a party for them, following a prayer service in Church.

The entire student body, faculty and staff participated in this enjoyable event.

Reminiscing

The approaching Holidays cause one to look back at days gone by when we were still a family, and so I reminisce about:

My Mother's Letters

To me, a letter is a precious thing. It brings the writer close to us in mind and heart. Thus it was when my mother used to write to me. I couldn't bare to throw her letters away. Since her passing in 1973, I treasure them even more.

As I untie the string that holds them together, I pause to brush away a tear. The postage was 5c at the time, and later 6c. Of the 38 letters I saved, each one has a bit of wit and humor that Mother often quoted. Take for instance when she gathered the eggs, there was enough for her own use, and one chicken was laying for good.

For their annual church picnic, she would make a braided rug to sell chances on, and was proud of the fact that she made over $50.00 on it.

My brother built a home near the river, not far away, which Mother christened "Misery Flats." She loved to go bullhead fishing at night, and often stayed until 10:00 p.m.

One letter said she was busy canning: dill pickles, tomato juice, chow-chow, bread and butter pickles, pears, and pepper relish. Some of my favorite recipes are from Mom. She was also drying apples in a screened case that Dad had made for her.

Baking break one day, she said it was so windy, she thought the bread and all would go up the chimney!

There were church card parties which she attended. Her favorite game was "smear." Then she recorded the proceeds, as she had been treasurer in their Sodality or over 20 years.

She mentioned illnesses and deaths of friends and neighbors in what she called this "Vale of Tears."

Enough reminiscing. Her letters were simply signed:

Lyme Disease, Deer Hunting and Venison Safety

FOOD FOR THOUGHT... By Joyce Albrecht, Extension Home Economist

Lyme disease is an infectious bacterial disease spread primarily by ticks commonly found on numerous animals in the wild including deer. The major natural reservoir of the Lyme disease bacterium is the white-footed mouse. Deer serve as a large animal host for ticks and may attract large numbers of deer ticks under favorable conditions. The disease occurs in almost all Wisconsin counties except a few in the southeastern portion of the state.

The disease is being studied at a number of medical centers in Wisconsin as well as the UW Department of Entomology, Food Science and the School of Veterinary Medicine. Although much information is available about Lyme Disease, many questions still remain unanswered. The following information relates to deer hunting and venison processing.

1. The bacterium which causes the disease has been found in deer ticks (also called bear ticks). Many but not all deer ticks carry the causative organism. Deer ticks found on the western side of the state seem to be more highly infected with the organism than those found on the eastern side of the state. In a few rare instances, the Lyme organism has been found in other tick species, but there is no evidence that these types of ticks transmit the disease to humans. The species of tick and its location in the state are directly related to the number of Lyme cases.

2. There is no evidence to date that the disease can be transmitted by handling venison or coming in contact with deer meat or blood, although hypothetically this would seem possible. Some people have suggested hunters and processors wear rubber gloves while dressing out deer carcasses as a precautionary measure. The main threat in working with venison comes from having the ticks transfer from the deer to people. Long sleeves and long pants with tight fitting cuffs are recommended when handling deer carcasses. A daily check of the entire human body for ticks is also a good idea. These preventive measures are recommended even if a hunter doesn't contact a deer, since the ticks can also be picked up by walking through the woods. A deer tick requires 24 hours or more of feeding on the host before it transmits the organism. Therefore, regular skin checks offer a measure of protection from contracting the disease.

3. Ticks are most likely to bite people from April through October, although ticks can be found each month. Some ticks may persist on deer in cold weather. Ticks eventually drop off the dead host; however, many can linger on the hide, and pose a threat in this way.

4. Unattached ticks can be simply brushed off the skin. Imbedded ticks should be removed by grasping them with a tweezers and tugging gently but firmly at the place where the barb enters the skin. Ticks must attach and feed (24 or more hours) to transmit the organism. Follow removal by washing affected skin with soap and water or alcohol. Save the tick in a plastic vial containing moistened tissue paper for possible later identification or to determine if it is infected.

5. If the bacterium should survive in the raw meat of deer, it would be destroyed by cooking to 160 degrees F. (medium degree of doneness) or higher. Although some venison summer sausages may be heated to only 145 degrees F., these products should be safe because their cooking process is relatively slow, and the combined effect of longer heating times at lower temperatures is sufficient to destroy the Lyme organism if it should be present.

6. Know the symptoms of Lyme disease for early detection. These signs may include a red rash at the bite site (and possibly other body areas), fatigue, stiff neck, headache, and generally rhythm abnormalities. Others may develop nervous system problems such as Bell's Palsy (weakness of muscles on one side of the face) or symptoms of a pinched nerve. Lyme disease is treatable with antibiotics

PARTY PERMIT

Now is the time for this deer hunters story.

Four deer hunters took off for the north woods. When they were settled in the woods one of them started playing the guitar, another the banjo and the other two were singing and dancing.

Another group of hunters came upon them and were confused by the foursomes antics.

"What are you doing out here?" asked one of the hunters. "You've got every buck spooked for miles around."

One of the hunters answered, "We thought before we did any shooting, we'd use our party permit."

Mary who is one of the twelve children of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fellenz of R.1, Kewaskum, was chosen from nine applicants to represent the association. Champion at four of the five area stock car tracks this past season, Billy Johnson will be the top award recipient at the MSCRA Awards Night party at the Nightingale Ballroom Saturday night. Johnson of Slinger, won his second area crown in three years. "Etchie" Bierterz of rural West Bend took top honors in 1964. Bill Goeden, Kewaskum, finished fifth.

Lloyd R. Hron, Jr. 17, of 366 First St., Kewaskum, was fatally injured Wednesday, Nov. 10, when the car he was driving north on Hwy. 45 left the road north of Eden and struck a tree. According to Fond du Lac authorities, Hron was killed instantly when his late model 1965 Mustang car left the roadway on a curve and struck a tree on Hwy. 45 about 500 feet from County Trunk UU. Hron was alone in the car. Witnesses said the vehicle, in rounding the curve, struck gravel and traveled onto the shoulder. He apparently lost control and struck the tree.

Two area farmers, Leo Bodden of R. 1, Theresa, and Paul Pamperin of Allenton, were honored at a dinner by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club. These men were selected as having done an outstanding job in applying soil and water conservation to their farming practices.

50 Years Ago

Nov. 15, 1940

Extensive damage in the village and all parts of this section resulted from the first blast of winter which started Monday afternoon and continued unabated during the night in one of the worst late fall storms in local history. Thousands of dollars of damage was suffered in this area and hundreds of thousands throughout the state and middlewest. A windstorm out of the southwest which at times touched more than 70 miles an hour, brought with it snow and bitter cold. Rain fell over the weekend and continued Monday when the temperature stood at close to 60 degrees. In the afternoon a high wind sprung up and reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. The mercury dropped from 52 degrees to 24 degrees between 2 and 4 a.m. The temperature continued to drop throughout the night and early Tuesday fell to 11 degrees. Wisconsin Gas and Electric officials estimate that between 200 and 300 poles carrying electric lines in every direction out of West Bend were snapped off in the fierce wind. The largest amount of damage in the village was to Schaefer Bros' new garage and service station where the wind blew down the chimney which stood about 25 feet high above the building. The chimney crashed down onto the garage roof with such force as to bend the steel beam under the roof. Large plate glass windows were also blown out in the local post office, Joe Mayer shoe shop and Holy Trinity Church. A cross was bent on top of the Holy Trinity school.

Housewives and consumers of butter will soon be able to identify Wisconsin highest quality butter by a new Grade A label on the carton. The state advisory butter committee composed of 20 representatives of the butter industry, has recommended the adoption of regulations for inspecting and labeling butter that scores 93 or above.

Robbers entered the saloon of August Krueger at Elmore some time Monday night and secured between $17 and $20 from the till. They entered the saloon by forcing the door. There was no clue to the identity of the robbers. A few weeks ago the hall owned by Mr. Krueger, next door to the saloon was burned. The circumstances were so peculiar that it was thought at the time someone had set the fire.

National Farm-City Week Nov. 16-22; Farm or City: Problems, Issues Same

World hunger... quality education ... waste disposal ... employment opportunities. Are these issues different depending on where you live? In the city or on the farm?

Of course not. But, as generations of Americans have never lived on or even visited farms, walls of misunderstanding and mistrust have sprung up like weeds along rural roadways.

One group has taken to dismantling those artificial walls, and is bound and determined that one day, the barriers which divide farm and city people will tumble. The group — the Wisconsin Farm City Council. When — National Farm-City Week, November 16 - 22, 1990 and all year long.

"In today's society it's easy to lose sight of the daily interaction between farm and city. Farmers produce food. But they purchase products made by workers in cities," says Council President Arnold Cordes. "We share groundwater, roads and educational institutions. Now more than ever, it's important for us to understand one another — our similarities, our differences, our circle of interdependence."

Issues which confront urban centers, such as crime or the decline of the inner city, are just as important to rural areas experiencing economic struggle of the small town and increased crime on isolated farms, Cordes explains.

Farm-City organizations around the country and in foreign countries have helped to build greater understanding between rural and urban residents since the National Farm-City Council was established in 1955. Today, more than 15,000 communities nationwide are involved in Farm-City programs.

In Wisconsin, the volunteer council made up of farm, education and government groups, promotes Farm-City observances year around.

"Although National Farm-City Week is always the seven days preceding and ending on Thanksgiving, we see FFA chapters, 4-H clubs, Chambers of Commerce, Kiwanis clubs and others working all year to make 'Partners in Progress' in rural and urban areas," Cordes adds.

"Together, Farm-City partners work at getting to know one another better, to overcome social and cultural misconceptions and prejudices, to reach out in times of need," he says. "We need to work together if we're to reach our full potential and find solutions to issues that concern us all — farm and city alike."

National Farm-City Week, November 16-22, is a time for rural and urban residents to learn about each other and take credit for what they do together to make Wisconsin agriculture strong.

"Agriculture is an industry that supports many other businesses in Wisconsin. In fact, one out of every four jobs in the state relates to agriculture," says Alan T. Tracy, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP).

Thousands of jobs alone are created to transport, process, and market the food Wisconsin produces, says Tracy. Additional jobs are created because farmers need to buy machinery, building materials, farm supplies, fertilizers, and other supplies to make the food.

With those inputs, farmers have been able to make Wisconsin the number one producer of many food products. "Both rural and urban folks can celebrate Wisconsin's leading food production. They have all had a part in it," says Tracy.

And through this cooperation, Wisconsin has become the top producer of many foods used to make dinner every night: the milk, the green peas and the butter on them, the cheese that goes into the casserole and even the sweetened condensed milk used in the dessert.

Wisconsin is also number one in the production of snap beans for processing, sweet corn for processing, corn for silage, mink pelts, total number of milk cows, and whey products, including dry whey, lactose, and whey protein concentrate for human consumption.

"This diversity not only helps keep Wisconsin agriculture strong, but Wisconsin cities as well," said Tracy. He notes that cash receipts from agricultural product sales total $5.5 billion annually, with agribusinesses generating additional billions of dollars for the state's economy.

State Changes Commercial Drivers Licenses

The State of Wisconsin is in the process of changing over to a new driver's license. This is part of a nationwide adoption of a uniform driver's license system. For most drivers, the only noticeable change will be a designation on the license of a "Class D," indicating that the person can operate a non-commercial motor vehicle.

Persons who operate for-hire vehicles, such as commercial trucks and tankers, will be issued a license that replaces the current chauffeur's license. Some types of vehicle operation, such as hazardous waste transport, will require the operator to take a proficiency test. Persons currently holding a chauffeur's license will be notified by the Department of Transportation regarding this.

Of special interest are people who drive buses or vans for church groups, senior citizen centers, and other activities. If the vehicle being used holds 16 or more people, the driver must also obtain a Commercial Driver's License by January 1, 1991.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Regular Meeting
November 5, 1990
8:00 P.M.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Paul Blumer presided. Trustee Thomas McElhatton asked to be excused and was absent; all other Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Mary Krueger and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of October 15 & 29, 1990 were approved as printed.

Police Squad replacement bids for 1991 were opened as follows: Schwartzburg Chevrolet, West Bend, WI, Caprice Chevrolet - $14,954.22; Ewald Chevrolet, Oconomowoc, WI, Caprice Chevrolet - $14,895.00.

On a motion by Trustee Larry Williams, seconded by Trustee Kenneth Bonlender and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board turned the bids over to Police Chief Richard Knoebel for review and a recommendation.

Superintendent of Water Pollution Control Department, Peter Albers and Administrator Daniel Schmidt reviewed the departmental budget for 1991. It was noted revenues are proposed to see a 4.8% increase and that expenses are proposed to see an 8% increase. The bottom line would reflect a larger spread if the capital outlay items would be included. It was noted that the engineers are working on a new rate structure which will come before the Board later this year. The public hearing tentative date is November 26, 1990.

Superintendent of Public Works Department, Augie Bilgo and Administrator Daniel Schmidt reviewed the Water Departmental budget for 1991. It was noted revenues are proposed to see a 2.2% increase and that the expenses are proposed to see a 10.2% increase. This is consistent with the auditors report regarding a need for a rate increase for the water utility. The public hearing on the proposed budget is scheduled for November 26, 1990.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt informed the Board of the DOT's response regarding the bridge replacement on Fond du Lac Avenue. A meeting is scheduled to resolve the sidewalk issue and to establish a timetable for the additional work.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed a variety of correspondence with the Board, including the letter that was sent to the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce was reviewed with the Board regarding the Chamber's Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolers.

On a motion by Trustee Kenneth Bonlender, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the payment of bills as recommended by the Administrative Committee. The total of all claims as recommended are as follows:

General	89,899.84
Sewer	71,707.62
Water	56,950.54
TIF	49,978.84
Payroll	23,094.69

Total $291,631.53
A/P Checks #2606-2723
P/R Checks #2128-2193

Trustee Gary Gavin informed the Board that it appears the Jaycees would no longer be able to sponsor the Little League program, but that the same individuals want to keep the program alive and would like permission to run it under the direction of the Village's Recreation Department. The Administrator is to check into the legal and insurance issues regarding the change.

Board Representative for the Library Board, Trustee Gary Gavin informed the Board that the Board had reviewed the proposed budget and basically agreed with it; however the matter of moving the fax machine as suggested by the Village Board was rejected. It was so noted that the general budget should possibly be modified to allow for the purchase of another fax machine. It was noted that when this purchase is to take place money would be moved from the restricted fund, rather than making any further budget adjustments.

The proposed Library budget was reviewed and it reflected an increase in expenses of 5.1% or with the support facilities 7.2%. The revenue side of the budget reflects an increase of 5.5%

The General budget and notice for public hearing was reviewed. It was noted the budget is proposed to increase by 3.2% while the tax levy will decrease by 2.6% and the tax rate for the village portion will also decrease by 5.1% or $.37. The estimated gross tax rate appears to be almost identical to the gross tax rate from 1990. On a motion by Trustee Mary Krueger, seconded by Trustee Gary Gavin and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the Budget Public Hearings for all departments and funds. The Public Hearing is to be held on November 26, 1990 at 8:00 p.m.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Mary Krueger and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the purchase of the 1991 replacement squad from Ewald Chevrolet, Oconomowoc, WI, the low bidder at a cost of $14,895.00. The Police Chief indicated the basic bids were identical with the only difference being the dollar amount.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 90-31 supporting the efforts of the men and women who are serving in the Armed Forces of the United States of America operation Desert Shield as attached hereto:

Action was taken on Resolution No. 90-32 requesting exemption from the County-Wide Library System Tax Levy under provisions of Wisconsin Statutes 43.64(2) as attached hereto:

Action was taken on Ordinance No. 90-6 to amend Licenses and Permits in the Village of Kewaskum as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee Mary Krueger, seconded by Trustee Larry Williams and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the signing of the contract with Bowmar Appraisal, Appleton, WI, for assessing services for 1991 at a cost of $3,300, an increase of $100 over the annual fee since 1984.

On a motion by Trustee Kenneth Bonlender, seconded by Trustee Gary Gavin and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the snowmobile route as prepared and approved for the 90-91 season.

On a motion by Trustee Larry Williams, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board adjusted the December meeting schedule as follows: The December meetings scheduled for the 3rd and 17th have been canceled with one meeting night of December 10, 1990 scheduled.

Discussion followed regarding the holiday schedule. It was noted the Municipal Building is to be closed on Monday - December 24, 1990, Tuesday - December 25, 1990, Monday - December 31, 1990 and Tuesday - January 1, 1991.

On a motion by Trustee Mary Krueger, seconded by Trustee Kenneth Bonlender and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board confirmed contracting the sale of land adjacent to Wildlife Drive with Realty World of West Bend.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Larry Williams to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85(1)(c) of the statutes to consider employment, compensation and performance of public employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction and Chapter 19.85(1)(e) of the statutes to deliberate and negotiate the purchase and/or disposition of public lands.

WANTED: Wired Whitetails

If you shoot a deer this fall that's wearing an eartag or a radio collar, University of Wisconsin-Madison researchers would like to hear from you. You have done nothing wrong by shooting the deer, and the information you provide will help out a five-year-old study of whitetail deer activity in Wisconsin.

The state's record deer herd includes several hundred "wired" whitetails, which have been fitted with radio transmitters to allow researchers to study their movements and population dynamics. Tagged does have battery-powered neck collars, which can be slipped off over the animal's head. Bucks have solar-powered eartag transmitters. Both sexes also have an ear clip that indicates they were tagged, even if they have somehow shed the transmitter.

The numbered ear clip is crucial, according to Orrin Rongstad, UW-Madison wildlife ecologist. "The small metal ear clip is easy to miss, but it's very important, even if the transmitter is gone. It gives us information on the age and movement of the deer," he says. "If you run your hand over the ears, you can feel the clip even if it's been obscured by hair."

"If you notify us, we'll be happy to tell you everything we know about the tagged deer you shot," Rongstad says. "Place a collect call to the phone number on the ear clip, and have the tag number ready when you call. The secretary will take your name and phone number, and we'll get back to you."

Rongstad has placed transmitters on 217 deer in northern Wisconsin and another 40 near Montello. The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources has put radios on deer relocated around Milwaukee, and researchers at UW-Stevens Point have also wired local whitetails.

Rongstad monitors his tagged deer monthly. This project began in 1986, and he is still following some of the deer that were tagged that year. Several of those 1986 deer are bucks. He says about 30 bucks remain in the study, 15 of which still have active transmitters. The ear-tag transmitters can work for eight years or more, but sometimes fall off before the animal dies. Rongstad hopes to tag more fawns in spring 1991.

The DNR tries to notify the researchers when tagged deer are registered, but the information sometimes vanishes during the crush of processing more than 300,000 registrations, which is why Rongstad is appealing directly to hunters. "If people shoot them and don't tell anyone, then all that information might be lost," he says.

Rongstad would like to get the transmitters back whenever possible. They're expensive and reusable, and of use only to someone who has the proper receiving equipment.

Deer Hunting and Trespassing

Believe it or not, trespassing during the deer gun season is one of the major problems in our area. Trespassing is still defined under the law as entering any enclosed (fenced) or cultivated land without the express or implied consent of the owner, or entering on any other land after having been notified by the owner not to do so.

It is still a good idea for landowners to post signs if they want to control trespassing. The law requires the signs to be at least 11 inches square, carry an appropriate notice with the name of the owner or occupant and be posted in at least two conspicuous places for every 40 acres.

One of the situations that occur in the deer season is, "If I wound a deer and while trailing the animal, it enters onto private property, can I go on to private property to recover the deer, because the law requires I make a reasonable effort to do so?" The answer is NO! You can not enter onto private property without permission to recover a wounded animal. In addition, a Conservation Warden will not recover the animal for you in this situation.

Although trespassing has been "decriminalized" the maximum fine has been doubled. Without the constraints of the old law, police should more vigorously enforce and judges more frequently convict violators. Ultimately, this should decrease trespassing.

Enforcement of trespassing complaints should be reported to your local law enforcement officials. Conservation Wardens are not authorized to issue citations for trespassing.

Show respect for others, whether they are hunters or non-hunters this coming deer season and take time to think about safety before you shoot.

Good Luck This Season...

Warden Doug Bilgo

Extended Gun Deer Season Limited To 67 Deer Management Units

MADISON, WI — Wisconsin's extended gun deer hunting season only applies to 67 deer management units and is not in effect statewide, reminds Department of Natural Resources Deer, Bear and Furbearer Ecologist Bill Ishmael.

Wisconsin's regular nine-day gun deer season begins Saturday, Nov. 17 and runs through Sunday, Nov. 25. The seven-day extended gun deer season opens Monday, Nov. 26 and runs through Sunday, Dec. 2 only in 67 deer management units (see map).

The state Natural Resources Board approved the extended season in some areas of the state to help reduce a burgeoning deer herd estimated to number more than 1.3 million animals statewide.

Special rules are in effect for the seven-day extended season:

* Antlerless deer only may be taken during the extended season.

* Only hunters with unfilled Hunter's Choice permits, bonus tags or disabled hunters permits valid for the 67 deer management units may participate.

* Group hunting is allowed. While only hunters with unfilled Hunter's Choice permit or bonus tags may tag a deer during the extended season, other hunters may accompany a hunter with an unfilled permit in accordance with Wisconsin's group hunting law provided that they are in visual or voice contact with the permit holder (without the aid of mechanical or electronic amplifying devices other than a hearing aid).

* Bowhunters hunting on the opening weekend of the late bow deer season (Dec. 1-2) must wear blaze orange in the areas where the extended season is in effect.

* The coyote season in northern Wisconsin will remain closed during the extended season; raccoon hunting will be allowed during the extended season.

* All deer harvested during the regular 9-day season must be registered by 5 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 26; all deer harvested during the extended season must be registered by 5 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 3.

* A two-day, either-sex season is open for deer management units 59D and 61 on the last two days of the regular nine-day deer season, Saturday, Nov. 24 and Sunday, Nov. 25 in addition to the regular either-sex season on Nov. 17-18. Shotgun-only restrictions apply on Nov. 17-18, but rifles may be used thereafter.

* Firearm restriction are the same as required during the regular nine-day gun deer season.

Marking Bonus Deer Tags

Hunters attempting to mark the date of kill on the 1990 Bonus Antlerless Deer Tag will find that the tag does not include the dates of the extended season. For those hunters who take an antlerless deer using a bonus tag during the extended season, they should: 1) slit the tag as usual to note the time of day and type of antlerless deer; 2) slit the DAY

OF THE WEEK the deer was taken but don't slit the corresponding date above it.

Small Indians Plan to Run

KEWASKUM - While the talent level won't be nearly the same, fans attending Kewaskum boys basketball games this season may see a bit of similarity between the Indians and the Denver Nuggets of the National Basketball Association.

If you are a fan of a high-powered offense, you're going to love the Indians' new run-and-shoot style of play this season. With just two returning letterwinners and no players taller than 6-2, Indians head coach Jim Westphal plans on employing an offense similar to Nuggets coach Paul Westhead.

"We're going to be running alot," Westphal said while preparing his troops during a recent practice. "We're not very big at all, and I think we have the personnel to be able to fast break alot."

The Indians lone returning letterwinners are 6-2 senior forward Mark Felix, and 5-7 junior guard Chad Cook. Felix, a second team all-conference pick last season, is an exceptional athlete and a good leaper, as he has been drawing Westphal's ire in practice by bending rims when he dunks.

Cook, on the other hand, won't be doing any dunking this season. But the tiny point guard will be shooting the jump shots and running the offense as the likely starting point guard.

Besides Cook and Felix, Westphal is undecided about the rest of starting lineup. Although the Indians don't have the height that Westphal would like to put on the court, they do have the numbers, as nine other players will vie for playing time.

Top prospects include juniors Joel Fleischmann (6-0 F-C), Kim Marx (5-6 G), Matt Seiser (6-0 G), Shawn Schneider (6-0 F), Ryan Amerling (5-10 G), Keith Butschlick (6-0 F), Scott Paulson (6-1 C) Ryan Ramthun (6-0 F), and Randy Schlice (5-10 G).

Quickness and athletic ability will be the Indians strongest assets this year, according to Westphal. The Indians will have to try and get the most out of those strengths if they are to compete with the likes of Plymouth, who will be eyeing a return trip to the state tournament this year.

"We're going to have our work cut out for us," Westphal said matter-of-factly. "We are definitely small, so we're going to have to do other little things in order to win."

While it may take some time in order to tell if the Indians new run-and-shoot offense results in some victories, Westphal is predicting one thing about the Indians offense this year.

"It's going to be exciting."

UWWC Women Cagers to Open Season

After last season's UWWC Women's basketball team finished with 20-3 record, you would think losing all but three players would hinder this year's squad from making a return trip to the state finals.

But one thing that the Wildcats do have going for them is depth. The 1990-91 Wildcats will have 10 players to work with, while the 1989-90 version had just seven.

"I think we are deeper than last year," UWWC coach Tom Brigham said, in evaluating this season's talent. "I think there are probably eight girls that I could start. They are all that equal. It's a good position to be in."

The Wildcats will be led this year by returning point guard Rocky Justmann. Justmann, a graduate of Kettle Moraine Lutheran, led the Wildcats fast-breaking offense and was a key element in the success of last year's squad. Also returning to the fold this year will be Heidi Wagner of Hartford, and Jenni Jankowski of Sussex Hamilton, both of whom contributed extensively last year.

Other girls on this year's team who will be looking to earn starting spots will include Lisa Gardapee (West Bend East), Laurie Goring (West Bend West), Dawn Dotsler (West Bend West), Connie Peterson (Ozaukee), Jackie Murphy (Port Washington), Julie Best (Mequon), and Jenny Meyer (Hartford).

"We have strength across the board," Brigham went on to say. "We have a lot of talent, it's just a matter of getting the right chemistry between the players. That will be the key."

The loss of all starters Tammy Becker and Kelly Koller from last year's team will definitely hurt the chemistry aspect. Becker and Koller played together for four years in high school and another two in college, a continuity not evident on this year's club.

"With all the girls coming from different high school programs, we may struggle a little bit at first," Brigham noted. "It takes time to melt together."

Brigham says the team sets three goals at the beginning of the year. One, enjoy themselves and have fun on the court. Two, win the conference championship. And three, go on to state. "Two out of the last three years, we've accomplished those," so Brigham feels that this team has as good a chance as any to do the same.

One Less for the Hunters

One deer that didn't make it to the gun season was outwitted by Chucker Dreher on November 9, in the Auburn Lake area.

Depth to Help UWWC Men

WEST BEND — Despite losing the most prolific scorer and rebounder in school history, UW-Washington County men's basketball coach Jerry Meulemans has reason to be optimistic about his team's chances this season.

"I think we have two things going for us this season," Meulemans said regarding the 1990-91 Wildcats. "I think we're going to have more speed and more depth. We have 11 guys out this year, compared to just 5 or 6 last year."

What Meulemans won't have back this year is 6-5 center Ted Anderson, who last year became the all-time leading scorer and rebounder in UWWC history.

"We don't have Ted back, and that is definitely going to hurt," Meulemans said of the former Kewaskum high school athlete. "That's going to leave us with a big hole in the middle."

But Meulemans has a number of individuals who are looking to fill that hole. The Wildcats look to have decent height inside with 6-6 Jay Leberecht of Kettle Moraine Lutheran, 6-5 Terry Howell of Kewaskum, 6-3 Karl Kloswski of Germantown and 6-3 Dave Anderson of West Bend competing for spots on the front line.

The backcourt jobs are also quite competitive, with 6-1 Marty Dobson of Ozaukee, 6-0 Mike Struebing of Kewaskum, 6-0 Noel Stollenwerk of Kewaskum, 5-10 Matt Ebel of Germantown, 6-0 Chris Schwalbe of Hartford, 6-1 Tim Lochen of West Bend West, and 6-0 Ken Breuer of Slinger all battling for starting spots in the backcourt.

"I think we are going to be stronger this year," Meulemans said in addressing his team's chances this year. "We are much more diversified this year. Last year it was basically give the ball to Ted and let him shoot."

Coming off a 4-15 record last season, Meulemans says it's "much more enjoyable," this year because of the bigger turnout of athletes. Because of the quality of this year's team, Meulemans says he might be able to do things that he couldn't last year.

"That remains to be seen yet," Meulemans said of the style of play he plans on employing. "But I think there is the potential there that I think we can full court press quite a bit and run the fast break a little bit more."

The Wildcats opened their season Wednesday against UW-Marshfield, and are back in action Tuesday, at home against UW-Fox Valley, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Indian Wrestlers Host Triple-Dual

by Patti Aupperle

With the loss of last year's graduates Dave Kuphal, Noel Stradtman, and state runner-up Dan Heisdorf, the Indians will need to fill three varsity positions by Wednesday's triple-dual hosted by Kewaskum. Campbellspport, Grafton and Brown Deer will participate and action will begin at 5:30.

Coach John Nell, who is on his tenth year as the wrestling coach and his seventh year as head coach at the high school stated "there are a lot of young wrestlers and they're working real hard."

With three varsity positions being lost, the Indians have only four varsity wrestlers returning. Jeff Sabish, who is the lone senior returning, wrestled at 125 last year and junior Kevin Kapp wrestled at 112. Sophomore hopefuls, Todd Muckerheide and Josh Kurtz, whom both had a very successful season last year, wrestled at 171 and 135 respectively.

With seventeen wrestlers remaining, wrestle-offs will take place to pick weights for the remaining varsity positions. Among those athletes are seniors Dan Roher and Bret Rauch; sophomores Mark Morell, Willie Kreis, Brad Riekkoff, Mark Dziedzic, Chad Bindrich and David Rahlh; freshmen Brad Jackson, Ben Belger, Mike Jandre, Wade Kreis, Chad Muckerheide, James Schaeffer, Wayne Sterns, Tony Strancke and Rachel Chambers.

Although the Indians may be young and inexperienced, Coach Nell feels he has "a lot of real nice prospects." The Indians are looking forward to a successful season.

Following the Indians opening meet, the Booster Club is sponsoring an ice cream social for both the wrestlers and spectators. Eight large buckets of ice cream were donated by Kemps. Thanks to both the Booster Club and Kemps!!! Remember to come cheer the Indians on to VICTORY!!!

Three Indians On Eastern Wisconsin Football Squad

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum football team didn't have a banner year in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, although it did put an end to a five year losing streak in league play.

So it may have come as a bit of a surprise that three Indian players were named to the EW first team All-Conference squad, while another two individuals were picked on the second team.

Seniors Craig Krell, Scott Heller and Brian Heller were named to the elite unit for their efforts this past season, while senior Jason Thull and junior Jason Steilow were named to the second team.

Krell, named for his efforts as the Indian center this year, was a hard worker, according to Indian coach Clark Pearson.

"He was the anchor of the offensive line," Pearson said, also noting Krell's talents as a linebacker. "He didn't have a bad snap all season. We ran a lot up the middle, so he provided much of the blocking also."

"He worked really hard on the weights over the summer," Pearson went on to say about Krell, a three-year letterwinner. "He was real dedicated and a real team leader."

Scott Heller was an inside linebacker, who led the team in defensive points. Heller had a pair of interceptions on the year, and he also played some offensive guard as well.

"He did a heckuva job on defense," Pearson said of Heller. "He was a real hard hitter. He's a very intelligent ballplayer."

Scott's brother, Brian, made the first team as a defensive tackle. Heller recovered five fumbles on the year, while being second in defensive points.

"That's really good for a lineman," Pearson said regarding his second place in defensive points. "He was very quick off the ball and an excellent pass rusher. He did a really nice job this year."

"All three players worked hard all of the time," Pearson noted of the first-team selections. "They always gave one-hundred percent, even in practice."

Pearson also had much praise for Thull, who just started playing football his junior year. The offensive tackle "did everything we asked of him," according to the Indian boss. "He too was a really hard worker."

Steilow, a junior, played defensive end, as well as offensive guard. "Opposing teams didn't gain many yards running to his side of the field," said Pearson. "He was very aggressive and we're expecting him to be a two-way performer next season."

When in the 1920 Olympics Theresa Weld of the U.S. became the first woman to attempt a jump in figure skating competition in the 1920 Olympics, she was reprimanded for her "unfeminine behavior."

Nicole Doherty Unanimous All-Conference Selection

KEWASKUM — While the Kewaskum volleyball team struggled at times in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, finishing the year with a 5-7 conference mark, the Indians were loaded with talent.

That was evident at the coaches all-conference meeting, as the Indians placed three players on the first and second teams.

Senior spiker Nicole Doherty was only one of two players in the EW to be named to the first team unanimously. Doherty led the Indians in spike points, demonstrating all season long that she was a force for the Indians.

According to Indian coach Dave Rizzardi, the unanimous selection "shows that the other coaches respected her spiking ability and her net play. She led us in spike points all season."

Senior setter Tisha Stradman was voted to the second team all-conference squad, quite an accomplishment considering setters normally don't get the attention that the spikers do.

"It's real tough for a setter to make the all-conference team, so that shows what kind of a year she had for us," Rizzardi said. Stradman was consistent for the Indians all season, leading the team in assists and saves for the year.

Another senior, Rachele Zuehlke, also made the second team for her spiking ability. Zuehlke was the Indians' hardest hitter this season, despite missing a few games due to an ankle injury early in the season.

"She was our power hitter this year," said Rizzardi, who noted "a lot of teams remembered her for that. She was the one who would finish off the rallies with a spike hitting the floor."

Despite finishing 5-7 in conference, and ending the year by losing three games in the Shorewood Sectional, Rizzardi was pleased to have the three seniors named to the all-conference squads.

"It's just a real tribute to our team that we got three people on the first or second teams," he said. "That's as good as any other team in the league," including undefeated conference champs Sheboygan Falls, which also had three players on the two teams.
