Village Looking at Facilities Plan to Upgrade Treatment Plant

Mary Krueger Appointed Interim Board President

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At its regularly scheduled meeting Monday night, members of the Kewaskum Village Board voted to appoint Trustee Mary Krueger as interim president to fill the unexpired term of Paul Blumer who died unexpectedly December 25th. President Blumer's term would have expired in April.

Krueger, last week, submitted her papers as a candidate for the vacant position. She had originally planned on seeking her fifth term as a trustee. Krueger is now the senior member of the board.

With four months also remaining in Krueger's term as trustee, the board discussed whether to leave that position vacant until the spring election or advertise the position and make an appointment.

Since Mark Vechart is already an announced candidate for one of the three expiring trusteeships, the board decided the most logical and proper action would be to appoint Vechart to complete Krueger's unexpired term. Because the issue of filling Krueger's vacated post was not on the agenda, the board decided to place the item on its next agenda for formal action.

Unless there are write-in candidates in the spring election, the board could be faced with advertising the third vacant position and making an appointment for that term.

Incumbent Robert Beisbier, who holds one of the three expiring positions, is also a candidate for re-election. The decision of incumbent Kenneth Bonlender not to seek re-election has resulted in the open trusteeship on the board.

In other action the board gave Village Administrator Dan Schmidt and Water Pollution Control Superintendent Pete Albers permission to seek proposals on the upgrading of the sewage treatment plant.

Albers advised the board that, while the plan itself is more than adequate to handle the village's treatment needs, treatment processing and the materials that go out of the plant are under more stringent regulations every year and they will keep getting tighter.

"Right now we're hauling out sludge every four weeks and eventually the state will eliminate allowing us to dump sludge in the winter," said

Albers. "That means we will need a storage facility for that sludge. Its been 20 years since we've had any major expansion and a Facilities Plan will tell us how far we will have to go." Albers said the village had already been unofficially told it will have to do the facilities plan. "We might as well get at it before we're under orders to do it, then we'd be in a rush to get it done."

Albers told the board the village is looking at three years down the road before we're finished. Schmidt added the Facilities Plan itself is a long involved project which could take up to a year-and-a-half to complete.

The board gave Schmidt authorization to seek a proposal to do the facilities plan from the village's engineering firm of Ruekert and Mielke. Schmidt indicated the study itself, could run between $10,000 and $30,000.

In other action the board approved a minimum charge of $25 for shoveling any sidewalk where property owners have not complied with the village's ordinance to have walks cleared of snow within 24 hours after the end of a storm.

With the last storm, noted Schmidt, there were 31 unshoveled walks by the deadline. By the time the village went around to shovel there were eleven walks still left unshoveled, he noted, so people had more than enough time to get the work done.

Schmidt said the village does not want to be in the business of shoveling private walks. With the charges being set on an hourly basis with a minimum charge of $25, we're hoping to eliminate that work for the village. Schmidt noted the City of West Bend charges a minimum fee of $38 for each time a walk has to be shoveled. Trustee Tom McElhatton said they probably keep it that high to discourage people from leaving their walks snowcovered.

In other business the board discussed some confusion between the Library Board and Municipal offices regarding the sharing of costs for the library's FAX machine. The board cleared up the matter and will send a letter to the Library Board indicating it is willing to pay the $40 monthly phone fee, the village's long distance calls if any and 50% of the paper costs.

The board approved the issuance of a proclamation recognizing President Paul Blumer's 12 years of dedicated service to the village.

The board also approved a building permit for the St. Lucas School addition and a bartender's license to Larry Giese.

The Parks Committee will hold a meeting at 7 p.m., January 21, and the Plan Commission a meeting at 8 p.m., on January 22. The board then adjourned to closed session.

Freshman Parents Night at KHS

Kewaskum High School will be sponsoring a Freshmen Parent's Information Night on Tuesday, Jan. 15 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Information regarding scheduling, policies and procedures will be presented. All parents and perspective freshmen students are welcome to attend.

Arbitrator Rules in Favor of Support Staff Union's Proposal

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

In a decision handed down December 31, David B. Johnson, arbitrator for negotiations between the Kewaskum School Board and the Kewaskum Auxiliary Personnel Union, chose the union's final offer over the district's as an appropriate settlement in their contract dispute.

KAP members have been working without a contract for 1½ years. The ruling represents a 5% increase for 1989-90, and another 5% for 1990-91.

The board had proposed 35 cents and 45 cents per hour increases with employes picking up 3% of the health insurance cost beginning in 1990-91.

Because KAP won the arbitration, the thirteen employes who qualify for insurance will not have to pay any part of the premium.

Employes with 15 years service will also receive four weeks vacation.

The Kewaskum Police Department recently received a $300.00 donation from the New Fane Sportsmen's Club for the purchase of fingerprint equipment and supplies to be used in the Child Identification program to be offered to the local grade schools.

Chief Richard Knoebel, of the Kewaskum Police Department said, "We will be taking a single set of finger prints, which will then be sent home to be kept on file by the parents in the event their child would be missing."

The following donations have been received by the Kewaskum Public Library: "The Adventures of Squeek the Rabbit" from Donna and Mark Ziarkowski; "Wish Me Well," "The Little Angel Earns His Halo," "Little Luv Angel," and "The Art Lesson" from the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club.

These donations were greatly appreciated.

Angioplasty

What the Future May Hold

Here are a few of the developments which Medtronic researchers foresee in angioplasty devices of the future: 1) Catheters with tiny laser tips which vaporize blood vessel blockage; 2) A device with a cutter at its tip which will actually cut and remove the plaque of the clogged artery. 3) Advanced balloon catheters maneuverable to more-difficult lesions. 4) A tiny implantable stent likely made of stainless steel which will hold a vessel open after angioplasty. The stent may be delivered to the site by a balloon catheter.

Love, Mom and Dad

50th Anniversary Observed by This Old House County's First Woman Lawyer

Linda Rosenheimer [Kroncke]

January 2, 1941, marked the 50th anniversary that Miss Linda Rosenheimer of Kewaskum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Rosenheimer, invaded the professional field in the practice of law, to be the first woman lawyer in Washington County. She began her practice with the firm of Cannon and Meister, West Bend.

Miss Rosenheimer practiced law in West Bend until she married Robert G. Kroncke and moved to Milwaukee in June of 1942. She later, as Linda Kroncke, was admitted to the Integrated Bar in 1964 and practiced law in connection with acting as an officer of the L. Rosenheimer Malt and Grain Company, Kewaskum, from 1964 to 1975, when she retired. The Company was a family held corporation. After the death of her father, her husband Robert became president of the corporation.

Linda recalls that Judge Frank Bucklin placed a picture of her and captioned it "First Woman Attorney," and it was in the lawyer's room of the Old Court House for a number of years.

The Kronckes had three children, Robert, Mary and Kathleen and eight grandchildren. Mr. Kroncke passed away on April 29, 1989.

Mrs. Kroncke lives at Cedar Lake.

While driving south of Wayne on Christmas day, I passed a vacant delapidated farm house, slumbering beside the highway. The barn has long since succumbed to the elements. No windows remain in the house, no doubt the target of some youngster's sling shot. The brick wall on the north side leans precariously, as if to collapse any minute.

One wonders at the sight, just who were the inhabitants? No doubt it was the dream house of a family who is no longer in existence. Do you suppose the patter of little feet was heard, or just the loving couple working side by side, trying to eke out a living from the rocky soil? Nevertheless, its sad to see a dwelling fall into such disrepair.

I'm reminded of another "old house" in central Wisconsin which was my home when I was growing up. It is still in fine shape, but stands empty. My folks have long since passed on, and we six children have dispersed to other areas since marrying. It still belongs to the family, or on weekends it's an ideal spot for nephews and their families when they come up to hunt or fish, so it's still like going home.

Memories are piled sky high in that little dwelling. I can remember the beautiful flowers Mother had around the house and in her vegetable garden.

Dad had Martin houses on the little red barn. When radios made their appearance he had an aerial from the house to the barn. The old Atwater Kent radio brought Amos and Andy and the Lone Ranger into our living room. Later a black and white television took its place with a different kind of aerial. This past Labor Day the old place was jumping with a reunion of all the children, and their families. Stories were told, and songs were sung. Balloons were sent up with messages, one of which landed in Kewaskum. Another went to Michigan. It ended up with a display of fire works.

This "old house" is silent now, but is a sweet reminder of days that used to be.

Mozart Remembered

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart was born Jan. 27, 1756, in Salzburg, Austria. Considered one of the greatest composers of the classical period, Mozart left over 600 compositions when he died in 1791, just short of his 36th birthday.

Revered as a musical genius, Mozart began performing when he was only 3 years old and completed his first composition at the age of 5.

His brilliant compositions include sonatas, operas, symphonies, serenades, and piano and violin concertos — many of which are still performed throughout the world. One of Mozart's best known and admired works is the opera "Don Giovanni."

Mozart came from a musically gifted family. His father, Leopold Mozart, was a conductor with the Austrian Symphony.

Mozart never attended school. And while his genius is celebrated today, he died in poverty.

Wisconsin OWI Rules Change For Out-of-State Drivers

Out-of-state drivers who have been unable to renew driver licenses in their home states because of a drunk driving conviction in Wisconsin now have an opportunity to clear the record.

Joyce Gelderman, deputy administrator of the state Department of Transportation's Division of Motor Vehicles, said a rule will go into effect Feb. 1, 1991 permitting non-resident drivers to go through the assessment process in their home states, and comply with a driver safety plan under their home state supervision.

Currently, drivers who are arrested for operating while intoxicated are required to have an alcohol or drug use assessment and complete a driver safety plan. Previously, this meant that out-of-state drivers had to return to Wisconsin for the assessment or their license to operate in Wisconsin would be suspended. When the Wisconsin suspension was reported to the person's home state, he or she frequently ended up revoked or suspended there as well.

Gelderman said letters are being sent to about 4,000 non-residents who are currently in non-compliance because of convictions that occurred between 1982-87.

The New Year Means Tax Law Changes For Some Taxpayers

For many taxpayers, the 1991 tax law will have very little impact. Taxpayers in upper-income brackets may, however, see some changes.

According to John T. Ader, Director of the Milwaukee District of the Internal Revenue Service, "The law will affect couples earning over $82,150 and single people earning over $49,300. For those taxpayers, the top tax will be 31% next year. For some taxpayers (those who were in the 33% "bubble,"), this is good news. But for the wealthiest taxpayers, whose joint incomes exceed $162,770, this may come as bad news, since they have been paying 28%."

Ader adds that some upper-income taxpayers may also find themselves in an alternative minimum tax situation. "That tax goes from 21% to 24% next year. It's designed to ensure that all taxpayers pay some tax, even if they have a number of deductions, tax-exempt income, and capital losses."

All taxpayers should know that the deduction for "personal interest" (charge cards, car loans, etc) is eliminated in 1991.

If you have questions about the 1991 tax law changes, the IRS is ready to help. In Milwaukee, call Taxpayer Assistance at 271-3780. Elsewhere in Wisconsin, call toll-free, 1-800-TAX-1040 (829-1040).

IRS Ready to Make Taxes Less Taxing Throughout Wisconsin

The tax season has arrived, and if you're like most taxpayers, you're busy gathering the information you need to file your federal tax return to meet the April 15 deadline. Also, if you're like many taxpayers, have you questions you need to have answered in order to complete your tax return. The Internal Revenue Service has the answers you need. They have trained personnel standing by to give you free tax assistance, by phone and in person.

Tax assistance is available by phone, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. The number to call in Milwaukee is (414) 271-3780. Elsewhere in Wisconsin, call toll-free 1-800-TAX-1040 (1-800-829-1040).

If you want to visit an IRS office for assistance, there are offices located throughout Wisconsin that offer walk-in assistance. Included is Milwaukee - 310 W. Wisconsin Avenue, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

If an office is scheduled to be open on a Monday, and if Monday is a holiday, the office will open instead the next day (Tuesday).

MS Readathon Gains Team Of Holy Trinity Readers

The winning tradition of the MS READaTHON continues with Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum joining this year's reading team. 34 readers from 7th - 8th grade have approximately six weeks to read as many books as possible while gathering pledges on a per book basis for the fight against multiple sclerosis.

The goal of the MS READaTHON is to fight illiteracy while supporting the battle against MS. Since 1976, Wisconsin elementary and middle school students have read over one million books, generating more than $1.3 million to support Chapter services for over 6,000 Wisconsin residents and international research projects.

Multiple Sclerosis is a chronic progressive disease of the central nervous system with no known cause, effective treatment or cure. Its symptoms can range from blurring of vision to poor coordination to complete paralysis. Ms. is usually diagnosed in young adults between the ages of 20 and 40. It affects more people than cystic fibrosis, hemophilia, muscular dystrophy and myasthenia gravis combined.

The READaTHON reading program is a team effort where school, parents, educators, communities and children make a difference in the fight against multiple sclerosis. We are proud to welcome Holy Trinity School to that team!

OPINION

The Big-Waste, High-Tax, Budget Bill Rip-off

by Alan Keyes

The recent budget agreement, touted by its supporters as the "largest deficit reduction program ever enacted," fails to address the root cause of the deficit explosion: government waste.

In 1983, the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, popularly known as the Grace Commission, came up with 2,478 cost-cutting, efficiency-enhancing recommendations — the implementation of which could save taxpayers $424.4 billion over three years and prevent accumulation of trillions of dollars in additional deficits by the year 2000. But because the Washington establishment rejected and ignored hundreds of the most critical Grace Commission recommendations, the national debt tripled during the past decade.

The federal government accumulates chronic deficits because Washington refuses to cut waste. And this year's budget agreement only continues the tax-and-waste approach. The budget compromise contains $164.6 billion in new taxes and a minimum of $245 billion in new domestic discretionary ("pork barrel") spending.

Here are some of the expenditures our legislators consider so vital:

- $67,000 for Belgian endive research in Massachusetts.
- $995,000 for a performing arts and cultural center in North Miami Beach, Fla.

- $500,000 to restore the home of Lawrence Welk in North Dakota.
- $5 million to design and construct a parliament building in the Solomon Islands.
- $4 million for a Japanese-American museum in Ontario, Ore.
- $1 million for a Seafood Consumer Center in Oregon.
- $120 million for 56 highway demonstration projects not requested by the president.

And, of course, outrageous examples of waste still abound in the Department of Defense for large purchases of small items, including:

- $120 for a cup dispenser that retails for $25 in commercial outlets.
- $67.50 each for 4-inch-wide rubber gaskets, while similar plug-type seals for toilets sell for about $1 in commercial hardware stores.
- $1,868 for a steel-reinforced toilet cover assembly for the C-5 cargo plane, while similar covers for commercial aircraft go for one-tenth the price — about $182.

Why focus on these bathroom supplies? They are the obvious signs that our tax dollars are being flushed down the drain in Washington.

Staggering cost overruns, expensive program failures, multimillion-dollar procurement scandals and billion-dollar losses in federal programs occur so often they almost seem to be our government's stock-in-trade. The budget agreement only compounds the problem by transferring additional billions from the private sector to the inefficient public sector, and from taxpayers to the congressional pork barrel.

Fortunately, this year saw the birth of a nationwide taxpayer's action movement. On Oct. 27, many thousands of people rallied all over the country to protest higher taxes and government waste. This event, known as Taxpayer Action Day, was the first time in American history taxpayers gathered in this fashion during a non-presidential election year.

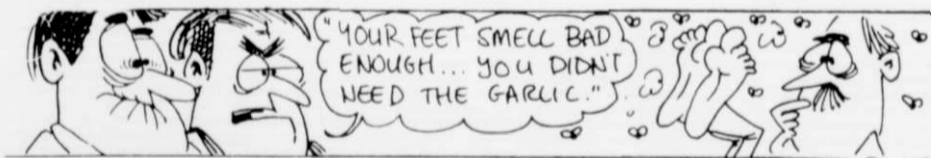

Their message was simple: "Time for a clean sweep."

- Time to eliminate the hundreds of billions of dollars in government waste.
- Time to stop being squeezed between higher property taxes and state and federal income taxes.
- Time to adopt reforms with real "teeth" in them.

As our overtaxed economy declines, as state and federal deficits soar, and as billions of new tax dollars vanish down the sinkhole of government waste, we can expect more and more Americans to join the taxpayer's action movement.

The tax-and-waste politicians in Washington may be riding high this year, but their days are numbered. ii

Annual Candlelight Ski/Hiking Night at Pike Lake State Park

Pike Lake State Park will be hosting its third annual candlelight ski/hiking evening on Saturday, February 9, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The candlelight skiing concept was initially formulated by the staff at Mirror Lake State Park located near Wisconsin Dells. The crew assembled several hundred candles out of plastic cups and canning wax. Just prior to the 6 p.m. starting time, the crew grooms and tracks the trail surface and simultaneously lights and places the candles at 30 - 40 foot intervals on the right side of the trail. The park rangers patrol the trail on skis during the evening for problems and to relight blown out candles.

Pike Lake State Park has a warming shelter available with refreshments, a fireplace, and electricity so skiers are encouraged to bring cookout items and spend the evening picnicking and skiing/hiking. A slide program entitled "Throughout the Year at Pike Lake State Park" by Robert J. Zehner of Fox Point, will be continuously shown in the warming shelter.

In addition, several astronomy organizations will be on hand with their telescopes to provide an evening of star viewing (weather permitting). In the event of no snow, a candlelight hike will be held.

A state parks admission sticker is required for each vehicle entering the park and will be available at the entrance gate.

For further information call Pike Lake State Park at 1-644-5248 during regular business hours of 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Another special referendum on the borrowing of $646,500 for construction of an addition and improvement of the Kewaskum Community High School has been called for Tuesday, Jan. 18, in the high school gym. The referendum was called following circulation of a petition requesting same. The petition, bearing 570 signatures, some of which were reported to be invalid, was submitted, calling for the vote. The referendum will be the third one held on the building project.

Sp 4 David Degnitz, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Degnitz of Fillmore, was killed on New Year's Day, in an auto accident on Okinawa, where he was stationed with the U.S. Army. He was apparently struck by a civilian car. Details of the mishap were not immediately available here.

At the annual meeting and reunion of the Kewaskum "Gashouse Gang" held at Hon-E-Kor Country Club on New Year's Day, Ray "Little Foot" Zeimet was elected the new president for the next year. President "Foot" who was elected over several other candidates, immediately reappointed Miss Ione Terlinden, who has served as faithful secretary of the group for many years, to that office.

Virginia B. Gundrum, 47, of West Bend, suffered a back injury, bruises and shock in a freak auto accident in the village at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. The northbound driver reported to Chief of Police Roland Plehl that, in passing a truck on Hwy. 45, near the Len & Rog service station, she stepped on the gas and the accelerator stuck increasing her speed and she was unable to slow down the vehicle. The car raced on over the Kewaskum Hill and into the village at a high rate of speed. The woman said she panicked, causing her to open the window and yell for help while speeding through town. The auto speed on until it reached the north village limits where she lost control in front of Mrs. Selma Backhaus home. The vehicle went into a ditch, traveled along an embankment where it finally came to a halt after clipping off a stop sign about 200 feet south of the junction with Hwy. 28.

Henry Weber, a prominent farmer of the Town of Scott, near Beechwood, dropped dead of heart failure in John Van Blarcom's saloon at Beechwood Wednesday morning shortly after 9 o'clock. Mr. Weber, who was 47 years of age, was apparently in good health when he left his home in the morning with the milk. He had been in the saloon only a few minutes when he was stricken and sank to the floor dead. A widow and four children survive.

Kettle Moraine Vineyards Offers Free Home Beer-Making Classes

For the second year, Kettle Moraine Vineyards will be offering their popular home beer making classes.

The class will cover beer styles, ingredients, techniques and a demonstration of brewing. The only thing prospective students need to know about beer is that it comes in brown bottles. The class is conducted at Kettle Moraine Vineyards at 1 p.m. on Saturday afternoons during January, February and March. Each class is completely self contained, so the student can learn the basic techniques to brew their first batch of beer in one afternoon. The class is free, but due to space limitations we require advance registration.

The first class will be on January 12, 1991, we suggest that students register early to assure themselves of a spot in a class.

Homebrewing is one of the fastest growing hobbies in the United States, with an estimated 1 million people brewing their own beer. Homebrewing has become even more attractive since the excise tax on beer was increased on January 1, 1991.

Kettle Moraine Vineyards is located, in Sheboygan county, 3 miles west of Cascade, just north of the intersection of county highways F & S. The street address is N 3211 Highway S.

For more information or to register for a class contact Don or Lani Parsons at 528-8697.

No loopholes. Just thousands of dollars in fines, fees, court costs, and high-risk insurance for three years. That's what driving drunk in Wisconsin will cost you.

Specialization in Agriculture Programs

By Jack Trzebiatowski, Extension Agriculture Agent

Extension Agents from Washington, Ozaukee and Sheboygan Counties recently were presented with an award for their specialization in agricultural programs. The awards were presented at an awards program held in Madison as a part of the Annual Extension Awards Banquet.

The awards were presented to Randy Thompson, former Sheboygan County Dairy and Livestock Agent, Mike Ballweg, Sheboygan County Crops and Soils agent, Dan O'Neil, Ozaukee County Agricultural Agent and myself.

The specialization effort started in the fall of 1989. With this process each agent still handles programs at the county level, but then takes an area of specialization and programs in that area in all three counties.

Mike Ballweg programs in the agronomy area, Randy Thompson in the dairy area, Dan O'Neil in livestock and farm buildings and myself in the area of farm business management and finance. Randy Thompson has recently accepted a Dairy and Livestock position in Rock County. Don Mier will be filling the Sheboygan County position effective January 1, 1991.

This specialization has allowed each of the agents to develop and maintain a high degree of knowledge in their specialized area. Agents prepare and teach educational programs in all three counties in their area of specialization. Agents are also available to make farm visits in all three counties when needed to respond to the needs of clientele.

The process of specialization is being implemented in other parts of the state. The agents from Washington, Ozaukee, and Sheboygan Counties were recognized for developing the specialization process ahead of other areas. The format used is being adopted by other areas and Extension Administration as a model process.

Specialization has enabled agents to offer and provide more educational program alternatives to clientele in the three county area. It also reduces some duplication of efforts, as one person can take leadership in communication with farm organizations, program planning, and implementation.

Clientele wishing assistance in any of the specialization areas make contact with the Extension Office in their home county and a referral is made to the specialized agent. If clientele do wish to make direct contact they can contact the following agents at the following locations:

Letter to the Editor:

I was driving thru Kewaskum last Thursday when I noticed I had a low tire. It was very cold. I stopped at the Kohn's Mobil station to air it. The air hose was frozen, I went inside to see what I should do to get air. The lady in charge came out and untawed the hose and very graciously aired my tire. (I didn't need gas just then) but did want the people of Kewaskum to know what good service they have there. I go thru there quite often and I certainly will stop the next time down there.

Dairyland Releases New Alfalfa

Dairyland Seed Company recently announced the release of a new alfalfa designed to perform well in low, wet areas. The new alfalfa is called "Magnum III-Wet" and has shown an advantage over other alfalfas in very wet conditions. Magnum III-Wet has shown an ability to persist under these conditions when other alfalfas have failed. Magnum III-Wet also features very good disease resistance including resistance to aphanomyces.

"We believe that Magnum III-Wet gives farmers their best alternative for growing alfalfa on their poorly-drained soils," said Tom Strachota, Dairyland Seed Executive Vice-President. "We believe it offers a very real advantage over other alfalfas available to farmers today."

For more information, contact Dairyland Seed at P.O. Box 958, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095 or call (414) 338-0163.

Create Your Own Hearing Aid With Beltone's New Composer

If you're going to buy a hearing aid, you want it to sound great and to help you hear everything that you've been missing. And with Beltone's new Composer programmable hearing aid, you help create a personalized instrument that delivers the best possible sound for you.

By listening to various words and sounds through the Composer system, the customer can compare different settings and choose the combination that sounds best — in much the same way an optometrist shows a patient different lenses to select the ideal prescription.

Modern advances in digital technology give the Composer unbeatable flexibility. "Customers can't find a more personal choice for better hearing," said Debra Hoops, of the Beltone Hearing Aid Service Center at Kewaskum Pharmacy, 927 Fond du Lac in Kewaskum.

Unlike most conventional hearing aids which may need to be adjusted at the factory, the Composer is fine-tuned in the Beltone office. "Since customers can now help choose the best settings for their Composer hearing aids, they leave our office ready to enjoy the best hearing possible," said Hoops.

For people who frequent noisy places, the optional noise reduction system in the in-the-ear model dramatically improves their ability to hear and understand when background noise is present.

An exclusive benefit of Beltone's Composer is its ability to be readjusted at other Beltone offices offering the Composer system as the customer's hearing changes over time. This makes the Composer a lasting investment in good hearing.

The Composer comes in both discreet in-the-ear and small behind-the-ear versions, so more people can experience the truly customized fit and sound of today's programmable hearing aids.

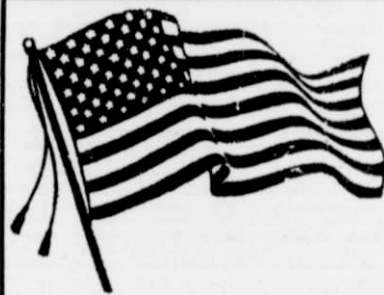

The Composer is available at the Beltone Hearing Aid Service Center of Kewaskum which is offering free demonstrations of the Composer hearing aid system. Call (414) 626-2087 to make an appointment.

UWWC Alumni Games Held

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — Over fifty UWWC alumni got together last Saturday for the annual basketball games between the former players and the current Wildcat basketball teams.

The former players showed they still can play the game, as they split in their two games with this year's UWWC teams. The men's alumni squad outlasted the current Wildcats 86-67, while the women's alumni team couldn't keep up with this year's Lady Wildcats, who won 65-53. In the Old Timers game, the White squad held off a furious comeback by the Green team to win 75-69.

"I was very, very pleased by the turnout," UWWC women's coach and Athletic Director Tom Brigham said. "Considering the weather conditions and everything, it was nice to see so many players there."

Brigham was referring to the brief snowstorm that arrived early Saturday morning and threatened to limit the turnout. But not even the snow could put a damper on the day, as players from as far back as the late 60's showed up to prove they still had what it takes to compete.

In the women's matchup, the current Wildcats got balanced scoring from Rocky Justmann (16), Jenny Meyer (14) and Lisa Gardapee (13) to claim victory. Justmann also added nine steals and six assists, while Meyer pulled down 10 rebounds. Tammy Becker, who led last year's Wildcat team to the state finals, led the alumni team with 31 points.

"Skill-wise, it was a pretty even matchup," Brigham said of the women's contest. "I think the difference was conditioning, and that our team plays together. We had our timing down."

In the men's contest, the alumni raced to a 51-26 halftime lead, and then saw their lead dwindle to just 11 points in the second half, before eventually pulling away at the end.

Steve Albinger scored 26 points to pace the alumni, which also got 11 points from both Brian Arndt and Andy Langlois. Karl Klosowski had 23 to pace the current Wildcats.

In the Old Timers game, Steve Neja was a one-man wrecking crew for the White team, as he scored 22 of his 36 points in the first half, as the White team jumped out to a 42-24 lead at intermission.

But the Green squad battled back behind the John Wiedmeyer, who scored 17 points in the second twenty minutes, but it was not enough as the White held on for the win. Pete Neja added 18 points for the Green, while Tim Felt chipped in 16 for the White.

"It was really interesting for me to see all of the former players," Brigham said. "It gave me a real proud feeling to be a part of it all. I think it gave a real positive feeling to the program as a whole."

Excise Taxes Extinguished

The votes are in — proposals to increase the consumer excise taxes on cigarettes were defeated by 25 state legislatures this year. In addition, when an initiative to increase cigarette excise taxes was put before Montana voters in November, the proposed measure was defeated 60 percent to 40 percent.

As the dust settled on the 1990 legislative sessions across the country, state legislators who looked to increased cigarette excise taxes as a means of reducing state budget deficits or for funding specific state programs were told to look elsewhere.

States defeating proposed legislation included: Alabama, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Vermont, Missouri, Mississippi, Michigan, Maryland, Kentucky, Kansas, Illinois and Iowa.

Thailand Opens Tobacco Market

Thailand will open its borders to foreign cigarettes. That announcement was made by the Thai government after an international trade panel ruled that the country's ban on importing American cigarettes was illegal. The panel was part of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), a world trade body based in Geneva.

The GATT panel determined that American cigarettes cannot be kept out of Thailand as long as they are legal both there and in the United States. A spokesman for the United States trade office, Timothy O'Leary, told the New York Times before the Thai announcement, "What the Government of Thailand has done is create a monopoly under which they alone sell cigarettes. It is simply discriminatory."

The ruling that the Thai ban on imported cigarettes violated international fair-trade rules came as a result of the U.S. trade representative's request that GATT consider the issue.

WB East Defeats Indian Gymnasts Port Washington Flotilla 5-13 Offers Boating Course

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — While the Kewaskum gymnastic team has been showing marked improvement over the past few seasons, the Indians still have had trouble competing against the likes of a West Bend East team.

That story held true again last Thursday, as the Suns were able to use their experience and all-around effort to down the Indians 86.7875-77.4875.

Kewaskum's best effort in the meet came in the floor exercise, where the Indians finished 1-2, and also added a fourth place finish.

Wendy Fideler won the floor exercise with a fine 7.15 mark, which was just enough to edge Indian teammate Ingrid Anker-son, who tallied a 7.0. Stephanie Reindl added to the Indians' success in the event, as she posted a 6.7, which was good enough for fourth.

Reindl was the only Indian performer to finish in the top five on the balance beam, as her mark of 7.2 placed her second, behind East's Tricia Nehrbass.

Stacey Heberer was the lone Indian vaulter to have any success. Heberer's score of 7.1 placed her fourth in that event.

Fideler and Jessica Rohrer rounded out the Indians top finishers, as they finished 4-5 in the uneven bars, sporting marks of 5.2 and 4.8, respectively. Fideler's score also helped her take second in the all-around competition, in which she finished behind East's Tanya Schmidt with a 5.5875 score.

Starting in February, 1991, the Port Washington Flotilla 5-13 will be offering a course on boating skills and seamanship. This course is designed to bring the boater up to date on the following:

Boating terms, Operation and seamanship, Legal Requirements, Navigation rules, Aids To Navigation, Basic Piloting, Trailing, Boater's Knots, Weather, Radiotelephone, Inland Waterways, Locks & Dams, Engines, Use of float Plan, Accident Reporting, Hypothermia Prevention, Effect of Substance Abuse and weather.

This course will serve beginning boaters as well as those with experience who wish to brush up on their knowledge.

The course will start Monday, February 4, 1991, at 7:00 p.m. at the Port Washington Yacht Club, 430 N. Lake St., Port Washington, WI 53074. There is a course fee of $18.00 per student. The class sessions will last about two hours every Monday evening and end in late April.

Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be awarded a certificate and may become eligible for a discount on boat insurance allowed by many insurance companies.

Mrs. Joe Dreikosen cuts the ribbon at ceremonies dedicating the Campbellsport to St. Cloud snowmobile trail in memory of her late husband.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

On Saturday, Jan. 5th, clubs of the Fond du Lac County Snowmobile Association held a ceremony at Dotyville to dedicate a thirty-five mile stretch of funded trail, running from Campbellsport to St. Cloud, to the memory of Joe Dreikosen of Campbellsport.

Joe died last August after fighting a valiant but losing battle against Cancer. He is gone but his fellow snowmobilers wanted to recognize Joe's contribution to the sport.

Joe did not make a public name for himself, nor did he want to. He would have thought of himself as just another snowmobiler. But Joe was much more than that. He was, in fact, an avid snowmobiler who wanted to see the sport he enjoyed grow and improve, not only in his own community of Campbellsport, but throughout the state.

Joe was actively involved in snowmobiling on the local, county and state level. When the Campbellsport Sno-Cougars organized in 1971, he became a club director. In 1977, Joe became the club's vice president. During the years of 1978 through 1981, and again in 1983 through 1987, he served as the club's president.

Joe represented the Sno-Cougars in the Fond du Lac County Snowmobile Association and held offices on its board.

In 1982, Joe became the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs' District

Director for Fond du Lac County, serving in the position until 1985.

In 1988, Joe was presented with the Snow-Cougars first award for leadership and dedication to the sport of snowmobiling. He was instrumental in bringing the county trail from Campbellsport to St. Cloud into existence. It took many long hard hours but Joe persisted, working with the local clubs along the proposed route. In 1988, Joe's determination paid off and the trail became a reality.

According to fellow club members, Joe was a friend of all snowmobilers. "Because of his care and enthusiasm, that trail, along with many others, are pleasure spots for many snowmobilers. Without his dedication, this trail would not have been a realization. Joe Dreikosen touched nothing he did not leave a lasting impression on."

Among those attending the dedication ceremony were representatives from the Fond du Lac County Association, Dick Killian, Executive Secretary of the AWSC, Jim Gescheidle of Fond du Lac, past president of the AWSC, and Glen Mueller of Kewaskum, present District Director for Fond du Lac County.

Indian Grapplers Swept by Panthers

With an almost clean sweep loss on Friday against the Plymouth Panthers, the Indian's Mark Morell kept them on the scoreboard as they lost in an upsetting 68-3.

After six very discouraging matches, four of them being pins, Mark Morell came through for the team to keep them in the match. Facing a very tough first period, the sophomore was the first to show his strength as he took Brian Brandl down two consecutive times which were followed with two reversals to keep on top of Brandl.

Brandl, being tough to beat, managed to gain five as he nearly struck Morell. Morell, however, beat out Brandl as he defeated Brandl 11-8.

Perhaps the most discouraging match of the evening came when senior Jeff Sabish lost to Tony Kaczowski 8-0, after his 7-0 undefeated record. Unable to come up with any points, the senior was totally taken by Kaczowski.

Another downer came for the Indians as Josh Kurtz was pinned for the first time this season. Against Keith Backhaus, Kurtz was faced with one of the toughest conference matches which he'll come across this season. As with Sabish, Kurtz was also unable to come up with any points.

Indians losing with pins were Kevin Kapp, Mark Dziedzic, Chad Bindrich, Brett Rauch and Todd Muckerheide.

At 152, freshman Chad Muckerheide loosened the reigns on the Panthers Mark Pool. Although Pool defeated Muckerheide 17-5, Muckerheide was able to continuously fight back and escape Pool. Unfortunately Pool had the upper hand and defeated Muckerheide.

Friday the Indians hope to bring a victory to Kewaskum as they host the Falcons in their parents/alumni night. All past wrestlers and parents are invited to attend.

Sabish Wins with Sixth Straight Pin

The Indians were led by senior Jeff Sabish against the Slinger Owls in their last match before Christmas, leading to a 39-30 Christmas victory.

Leading the Indians, Jeff Sabish sky rocketed his record to 7-0, earned by six pins and one forfeit. Up against Slinger's Corey Foelster, Sabish showed great strength as he completed the first period 13-2 and followed through to pin in 2:27.

Other strong performances with pins by the Indians were sophomores Todd Muckerheide, Mark Morell, Josh Kurtz and Mark Dziedzic.

Todd Muckerheide easily defeated Brian Schmidt as he quickly struck him in a brief :45 and Josh Kurtz also pinned quickly in a time of 1:04. Mark Dziedzic came in with the next quickest pin in 1:38 against Haluzak at 125. Morell who led Briet Kreutz in a very close match until the last period, finally gathered enough strength to pin Briet Kreutz in 5:40.

Winning for the junior varsity were Chad Bindrich, James Schaeffer and Willie Kreis.

Bindrich pinned in 3:30 as well as James Schaeffer, who in 3:45 pinned Jason Schmidt at 145. Willie Kreis easily defeated Kevin Rate at 171 by default.

The Indians will host the Sheboygan Falls Falcons Friday and will then travel to Waupun to compete in the Waupun Invitational on Saturday starting at 10:00. Indian Girls Down Powerful Oostburg, 29-28

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — When two teams combine to make about one out of every five shots, a run of two or three baskets by one team can just about put the game away. That was the scenario in last Thursday's girls basketball contest between Kewaskum and Oostburg.

But neither team ever did put together a run of points. Instead it took a single free throw by Kewaskum's Nicole Doherty with :12 to play, giving the Indians a 29-28 win over the Flying Dutchmen, who are the defending Class C state champions.

While he was pleased to pick up the team's first home victory of the season, and also what he considered to be the Indians' first win over a quality opponent, Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt wasn't necessarily overwhelmed by his team's performance.

"I'm not sure we can say we actually won the game," Eichstedt said. "It's better to say that we were ahead when the game ended. Neither team shot very well at all."

That was an understatement. The Indians made just 11 of their 57 shots, good for a meager 19 percent, while Oostburg didn't exactly light up the nets either, connecting on just 10 of their 48 tries.

Oostburg's shooting woes may have been attributed to the fact that they hadn't played a game since Dec. 21st, when they lost a tough double overtime game to Howards Grove. That was one of just three losses that the Flying Dutchmen had entering the game, two of the losses coming in overtime.

"They are usually a very good shooting team," Eichstedt said of Oostburg. "We did a very good job of not letting them take the shots that they wanted to."

The Indians meanwhile, got the shots they wanted to, but they weren't falling. Nevertheless, the Indians jumped out to a 7-1 lead after the first quarter.

"Had we shot anything reasonable (for a percentage), it could have been 17-1," Eichstedt was quick to point out. "We got very good shots, and good shot selection, but we just couldn't put a basket."

That allowed Oostburg to slowly creep back into the ballgame. By halftime the lead was just three (14-11); by the end of the third quarter, it was just one (20-19); and just into the final quarter, the Flying Dutchmen forged ahead for the first time on a basket by Melanie Leet.

The two teams battled back and forth until it was finally tied at 28-all with just under two minutes to play. The Indians then tried getting the Flying Dutchmen to come out of their zone defense, but instead Oostburg stayed back, electing to foul.

That strategy worked until a foul was whistled with :12 left to play, sending Doherty to the line. The senior made up for a miss about a minute earlier, as she sank one of the two charity tosses, giving the Indians the one-point lead. A last ditch effort by the Dutchmen for the win was off the mark, and the Indians improved their overall mark to 4-7 on the year.

"There wasn't much difference statistically," Eichstedt said, reporting that the field goals made, free throws made, team fouls, rebounds and final score were all decided by just a single point. "Any run of points (by either team) could have won the game."

The Indians were led by Doherty, who finished with a game-high 13 points, despite sitting on the bench quite a bit with foul trouble. Amy Chesak chipped in eight points and "did a good job of handling the ball," according to Eichstedt.

Another player that Eichstedt wanted to single out was Wanda Jacobs, who, although she didn't score, did an exceptional job filling in for Doherty while she was on the bench. "She came up with some important rebounds and solid defense when Nicole got in foul trouble," Eichstedt said.

Straub Wrestling For UW-Whitewater

Former Kewaskum wrestler Rich Straub is off to a good start this season wrestling for the Whitewater Warhawks.

Straub, who competes at the 142 pound weight division, currently has a record of 13-5 with four pins to his credit. In recent competition, Straub placed second at the Whitewater Invitational in a 36 man weight class. Straub won four matches on the day, including three decisions; 7-5, 6-1 and 8-3 and a pin in 1:04 before dropping a close 6-5 decision in the championship match. The Warhawks had three other place winners on the day; Rob Llorca - 1st at 158 lbs., Kent Wieler - 2nd at 126 lbs.; and Rob Schmidt - 3rd at 150 lbs.

Straub also finished third at the Wisconsin Collegiate Open at U.W. Parkside. Pinning his first two opponents in times of 4:36 and 2:45, Straub lost his semifinal match by a score of 7-6 to Division II All-American Mike Bruner of Lake Superior State College. Rich then went on to beat Kelly Becker of U.W. Parkside 5-2 before winning 11-1 in his match for third place, beating Dust Sownon of Waubesa College. Badger State Games Torch Travels Through Kewaskum

Bob and Jeanne Staehler of the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs Snowmobile Club, carried the torch Sunday signalling the kickoff of the Badger State Winter Games to be held in Wausau next month.

The torch run will make seventeen stops throughout the state before culminating in Wausau on February 1st.

Indian JV Girls Trounce Oostburg

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum girls JV basketball team kept right on rolling along against their non-conference opponent Oostburg last Thursday. The Indians used some balanced scoring and a good all-around effort to down the Flying Dutchmen, 43-19.

"It was a real good team effort," Indians coach Keith Amundson said of his team's effort. "Everyone participated well in all aspects of the game."

The young Indians were led in the scoring column by Christa Schmidt, who poured in 11 points. Robyn Winninghoff chipped in 10 points and 11 rebounds, and Bonnie Schlice, Marty Schlice and Debbie Stegar each added six points apiece.

"We played some really good defense," Amundson went on to say, adding that Kim Sabish and Julie Mertz, "although they don't usually get a lot of points, they are really scrappy defensive players."

The win upped the JV's overall record to 8-3, including a 3-1 record in the Eastern Wisconsin.

The JV and Freshman boys team were not as successful in their outings against Plymouth last week.

The JV boys were manhandled by the Panthers 69-42, despite 12 points from Matt Schlosser. Meanwhile, the frosh were outscored 42-16 in the second half, en route to a 71-41 loss to the Panthers. Beau Coulter led the Indians with nine points.

Wausau, Central Wisconsin Ready for Third Badger State Winter Games

Experience, organization and enthusiasm. Those are the three elements that have combined to make the first two Badger State Winter Games a success in Central Wisconsin. And organizers believe those same three factors will ensure the most successful Winter Games yet, Feb. 1 - 3 in Wausau and several surrounding communities. Badger State Games officials outlined details of the third annual Winter Games at a news conference this morning in Wausau.

"We have been tremendously pleased with all aspects of the first two Winter Games," said Otto Breitenbach, executive director of the Badger State Games. "The entire Wausau area effort, from the local sponsor support to the volunteer work force, has been absolutely superb. Our organization greatly enjoys working with these dedicated individuals and organizations."

Wausau Insurance Companies is the presenting sponsor of the Winter Games. The Wausau area's organizational effort are spearheaded by the Badger State Winter Games Committee, which is made up of sport, business and promotional leaders in the area. According to committee co-chairman Jim Force, it helps to bank on two years of Winter Games experience.

"This third year of planning has been sparked by enthusiasm that's as high or higher than in the previous two years," Force said. "We have a better feel for what it takes to make the Games a success. Many of the committee members have been driving forces of the Winter Games from the beginning, and we're fortunate that they have come back every year to stay involved in the effort."

Force said that the expansion of Winter Games events and facilities is just one of the indications that the Games' are heading toward their biggest year yet. The Rib Mountain Ski Area will open another hill for racers, and ice hockey and ski jumping have added divisions of competition.

Force also welcomed Rhinelander to the cluster of north central Wisconsin communities which hosts Badger State Games events.

Along with their Wausau venues, the Games use facilities in Stevens Point, Medford, Iola and the Town of Rib Mountain.

"The support from area communities has definitely been a key to our success," Force said.

The Badger State Games, Wisconsin's largest amateur sports festival, made its winter debut in 1989. Despite sub-zero temperatures, more than 1,600 athletes competed in five sports. In 1990, the Winter Games expanded to eight sports and attracted more than 2,400 competitors. As of mid-December, close to 800 athletes have registered for the 1991 Games, some 300 ahead of last year's pace. Youth hockey has already filled its competition.

Corporate Wisconsin also plays a vital role in the success of the Games. Major sponsors of the Badger State Winter and Summer Games are: Dairy Farmers of Wisconsin (Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board), GTE, Wisconsin Bell, and Wisconsin Physicians Service Insurance Corporation (WPS).

Fleischman Hits 3-Pointer Late in Game

Indians Overcome Miller, Plymouth

By Statesman Sports Writer

PLYMOUTH — While having one superstar on a basketball team can be a real asset, the Kewaskum boys proved last Friday night that having balanced scoring can be just as beneficial.

Despite having three players in double figures, the Indians needed a three-pointer by junior Joel Fleischman with :05 left to play in order to pull out a hard fought 70-69 victory over the Panthers.

Fleischman's game-winner helped offset a brilliant performance by Plymouth's Gabe Miller, who poured in 33 points, but according to Indian head coach Jim Westphal, could have had much more if not for a good defensive effort by Matt Seiser.

"It almost sounds like a joke, but Seiser actually did an exceptional job guarding him," Westphal said in all seriousness of the junior forward. "Miller can score just about any time he wants to. He's just an exceptionally good offensive player. But Matt made him work for every basket."

All of Seiser's hard work almost didn't pay off, however, as Miller turned a 46-41 Indian lead into a 50-46 Plymouth advantage in a matter of about a minute at the end of the third and beginning of the fourth quarters.

Kewaskum had battled back from a five-point deficit at the end of one quarter of play, and cut the Plymouth lead to just one, at 31-30, by intermission.

After Miller's outburst gave the Panthers their lead, the two teams battled back and forth, with the Panthers opening up a five-point margin (62-57) at one point, only to have the Indians chip away.

"We were always playing from behind," Westphal went on to say. "They would take a bit of a lead, and then we'd keep cutting it down."

Still, the Panthers held on to a 69-65 lead with about a minute to play. The Indians missed a pair of shots, but kept the ball alive on the offensive boards, giving Kim Marx the opportunity to nail a jumper, cutting the lead to 69-67 with under a minute to play.

The Indians were forced to foul, and they sent Chris Jacquat to the line with :12 to play. He missed the front end of a bonus opportunity, giving the Indians one last chance. The Indians were also able to talk about what they wanted to do with that chance, as Plymouth called a timeout before the free throw.

"I'm not really sure why they did that," Westphal said of the timeout, seeing as the Indians didn't have any left to use. "It gave us a chance to regroup and talk about what we wanted to do."

Fleischman rebounded Jacquat's missed free throw and drove the length of the court, passing it to Seiser on the wing. Seiser took a dribble and returned the ball to Fleischman, who was stationed at the top of the key, and he drilled the three-pointer giving the Indians a 70-69 lead. Plymouth had one more opportunity to win the game, but a last second shot was off the mark, and the Indians had an important road win.

"We weren't necessarily looking for a three-point shot in that situation," Westphal said of Fleischman's game-winner. "But the shot was definitely there. The defense sagged underneath and he was wide open."

Fleischman finished the game with 20 points, including 16 in the second half. Senior Mark Felix led the Indians with 21 points, as well as grabbing 10 rebounds. Fourteen of Felix's points came in the first half.

"They both played very well," Westphal said of the Fleischman-Felix combination. "They (Plymouth) were having their problems with them, and that left Marx open quite a bit."

And Marx took advantage of the situation by scoring a season-high 16 points, "which really helped out," according to Westphal. "It was really kind of a surprise." Not so surprising was his team's overall effort, which helped them reach the .500 mark, both in conference (2-2) and overall (5-5).

"We had a really good team effort," Westphal concluded. "We played good overall defense. Plymouth is a very explosive team, but we never lost our poise out there. It was just a very close game."
