Considering Girls Fast Pitch Ball Team Recommendation

Board Accepts Ankerson's Resignation

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

With regret, the Kewaskum Board of Education, Monday night, accepted the resignation of member Perry Ankerson. Ankerson, in a letter January 30th, to fellow board members had addressed his reasons for leaving.

Prior to the vote, board president Neal Weare made a personal statement concerning the resignation. Weare stated he "shared Ankerson's frustration of not being able to do what we feel is in the best interest of the district residents, and more importantly, what is educationally sound for our students."

Weare said the people of the district elect seven board members and charges them with the responsibility of setting policy which is in the best interest of its students. "We, in turn, do our best to hire administrative personnel to carry out these policies. One of their duties is to hire staff that will enhance our education system. After careful consideration, Robin Foerster was selected and offered a contract with the DPI granting her the temporary certification."

"As far as I'm concerned, that should have been the end of the subject. However, several people saw fit to contact the DPI and continue to question and pursue the issue until the final outcome was the board being forced to terminate her contract without any chance for an extension on her temporary certification. I strongly feel that if the DPI hadn't continued to receive these phone calls, Robin Foerster would still be at the Middle School and Perry Ankerson would still be on the board."

Weare said Ankerson was a vital link in the system and his absence will be sorely missed by the residents and students of the district.

In other business, the board heard the recommendation of KHS Athletic Director David Rizzardi to, at least on a trial basis, form a girls fast pitch softball team. A survey showed about 27 girls interested in going out for the spring sport.

Rizzardi told the board that he would have budget money available for the initial cost of equipment but not enough to cover the cost of coaching salaries.

District Administrator Dr. David Heather told the board that, while he was in favor of the recommendation, he wanted the board to know the district "does not have a lot of extra money running around." He suggested the Kewaskum Education Association be contacted to see if something could be worked out regarding salaries which would be mutually satisfactory. Heather said the union had, in the past, been cooperative and willing to work with the district concerning other situations.

Rizzardi told the board, because the team would be set up on a trial basis and not an official WIAA team, it would not be eligible for tournament play. He felt, however, he could set up enough games with other varsity and JV teams which would allow the girls to gain experience for next year. Rizzardi also indicated that once the sport was offered it is quite likely more girls would come out for the team.

Looking at the KEA' contract language concerning coaching salaries, Rizzardi thought these salaries would fall in the $1,200 - $1,400 range. He said assistant high school principal Jim Connell and Mary Holfeltz had expressed an interest in the coaching duties. Connell had previously coached a team at Sparta.

Weare asked how the addition of the girls softball team would affect the equality of sports offered for boys and girls. Rizzardi said at present the district is two behind for the girls.

The board was receptive to the recommendation but decided to table action until its next meeting to review the issue of salaries.

Heather told the board, "I also think Mr. Rizzardi should

Proposal Would Nearly Double Size of Moraine Park's Campus

Additional classrooms and labs for new and expanding programs nearly double the size of the West Bend campus in the current, scaled-back building proposal for Moraine Park Technical College.

The current $11.3 million plan directs $4.5 million to the West Bend campus with the remainder designated for Moraine Park's Beaver Dam and Fond du Lac campuses. Although this proposal is $2.5 million less than a plan presented last fall by Moraine Park, the West Bend campus portion of the expansion has remained unchanged — 47,000 sq. ft. would be added to the campus, essentially wrapping around three sides of the existing building.

The proposal includes classroom and lab space for two new programs that will soon start at the West Bend campus, industrial screen printing and manufacturing tooling engineering technician.

Industrial screen printing will

Kindergarten Registration At St. Lucas

Registration of new five year olds will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 26th at 7:00 p.m. in the upper level of the school.

Parents may come at this time to receive all necessary forms and to hear a brief presentation by Mr. Bollinger and Mrs. Hoenecke.

It is important that parents register their children that evening so that provisions can be made for the coming school year. Your child must have attained the age of five years by Sept. 1st to be able to start school this fall.

Chris Schoofs Receives Art Award

Senior Art 4 student Chris Schoofs, Kewaskum, has designed an award-winning creative study. Chris entered the Art Center of Pasadena, California Creative Art Problem Challenge. The Center sent an ink blot design to High Schools nationwide. Students were to study the shapes and draw what it reminded them of. Kewaskum High School had three entries: Renee Kertscher, Art 3; Bekki Byers, Art 2, and Chris Schoofs, Art 4. There were 7,000 total entries. Five were awarded top honors and twelve honorable mentions. Chris received an honorable mention for his work. Chris was awarded a $100 rapidograph seven pen set. The photo below is Chris' award-winning entry.

hold its first classes this August in 2,300 sq. ft. of space subleased from Serigraph, Inc., at the screen printing firm's Plant 3. Although these facilities are adequate to start the new program, the sublease arrangement with Serigraph is not intended to be a permanent location.

"It's strictly a temporary situation," said Lee Flanders, West Bend campus administrator. "We want to get it on campus — Serigraph would like to get it on campus — because the program can operate more effectively here."

Permanent facilities for the new program, which will produce entry-level screen press operators for a rapidly expanding industry, are included in the expansion proposal.

A manufacturing tooling engineering technician could be described as a high-tech tool and die maker. "We see it as a state-of-the-art program with a strong emphasis on computers," Flanders explained. The program includes courses in computer aided design/-computer aided manufacturing and metallurgy. It will include a heavy emphasis on numerical control equipment.

Graduates of this program will be involved in the design, installation and estimating of tooling, Flanders said.

"It really is a career opportunity that is in high demand and will increase in popularity significantly as more manufacturers get into world-class manufacturing methods," he said.

The new program will compliment Moraine Park's existing machine tooling technics program, a popular program with an enrollment waiting list. "The manufacturing tooling engineering program is going to reduce some of that waiting list," Flanders said.

Currently, Moraine Park has a machine tooling technics lab slightly larger than 3,000 sq. ft. The West Bend campus has no facilities to now house the new program, which is expected to start in 1992. The proposed expansion would provide space for the program.

The proposal would increase the capacity of the existing science lab from 16 to 24. This lab is used to teach courses in anatomy, physiology, chemistry and microbiology. A simulated hospital room in the nursing lab would also be provided.

Those improvements represent a 50 percent increase in space needed to match the 50 percent increase in enrollment Moraine Park has had in its associate degree nursing program. Enrollment in that program was recently raised to 120 at the request of local health care providers experiencing a chronic shortage of nurses.

In the proposal, the West Bend campus library would "virtually double in size," Flanders said. "We have a need for more group study rooms in the library." Currently, Moraine Park has one such study room. The proposal calls for six or seven.

The proposed telecommunications center would provide dividable, multipurpose space for seminars, workshops and Moraine Park's expanding satellite teleconferences.

It would also give the campus a room large enough to assemble its largest classes in one area for special lectures. "We have 120 nursing students enrolled, 76 machine tooling technics students," Flanders said. "We don't have a room in the building that would accommodate either group. This would be particularly useful when we bring in guest experts to speak to a class."

The use of computers has grown rapidly in all programs at Moraine Park, especially for word processing. There has been an emphasis on written assignments in all of Moraine Park's programs, and several programs require computer time for other course assignments as well.

The West Bend campus has three computer classrooms which are kept busy. "We can't keep up with the demands for microcomputer applications," Flanders said.

The proposal includes an academic computer center which would provide an open lab for all Moraine Park students to use computers for their individual assignments. Now, students can only gain access to a computer when a classroom is not in use. "Right now we're not satisfying a lot of students," Flanders said. "This should also allow us to increase our evening and Saturday computer application courses for employed people who want to improve their skills."

These are only a few examples of the need for larger facilities at Moraine Park's West Bend campus. Similar arguments could be made for other classrooms and specialized labs included in the proposal.

A referendum on the plan will be held Feb. 19.

Happy Valentine's Day

A priest named Valentine made his home
Many years ago in the land of Rome.
He had a garden where children played,
Where lovers could wed
and where Christians prayed
He shared his faith with whomever he could,
And everyone knew him as loving and good.

But it broke the law in that pagan place,
To share the message of goodness and grace,
And when the government learned his name,
A detachment of Roman soldiers came.
They accused him of crimes
that he wouldn't deny,
Then Caesar commanded that Valentine die.

But before he died, he composed a note—
To all of the children and lovers he wrote,
"Always remember my final prayer
That you tell the world of the love you share"
And to this day we remember that line
When we send all our love in a "Valentine."

investigate Soccer, either co-ed or boys and girls teams. "We have had a request from some students that the sport also be offered."

In other discussions, the board considered the recommended amending of two district policies to raise the minimum eligibility grade point average for all extra curricular activities from .5, to 1.5.

"I fail to see where a .5 GPA would instill a desire in someone to become eligible to participate in extra curricular activities," said Weare. Policy Committee Chairperson Ruth Schmitt told the board, "I believe extra curricular activities are a privilege, not a gift." She also indicated if she could have her way, she would raise the minimum GPA even higher.

Schmitt said the 1.5 GPA is an umbrella for "All Activities," it does not just single out sports. Board member Ron Beimborn stated, "before this there were no guidelines for non-sport activities."

In other action the board approved the recommendation of the Finance - Transportation - Buildings and Grounds Committee to have engineering plans drawn up to improve ventilation in two KHS rooms at a cost of $1,800. The actual work is expected to cost about $14,000.

Recommendations to purchase software to update the EEN record system at a cost of $1,920 and a new welding machine for the KHS Tech Ed Department at $1,116 were also approved.

The board approved a limited term contract to Mary Harju as KMS 6th grade teacher to finish out the semester. Harju will replace Mrs. Foerster whose temporary license was terminated by the DPI.

Mrs. Foerster was retained on staff as a half-time EEN-LD teacher for the remainder of the year after the district received a temporary license from the DPI

West Bend Savings Posts Record Year

1990 marked West Bend Savings Bank's 64th year in business and Richard A. Larson, Chairman and CEO reported that the bank's profit for the year ending December 31, 1990 was a new record.

Larson indicated that while many banks and thrifts are reporting poorer results this year and despite the very competitive marketplace, West Bend Savings posted net income before taxes of $1,060,393 and after tax income of $702,642, a 3.2% increase over the previous year.

West Bend Savings increased its key net interest margin, an important measurement of a financial institutions profitability and soundness, 18.3% over that of 1989. "Delinquent loans were virtually non-existent" stated Larson as total losses and provisions for reserves in 1990 amounted to only $62,246 out of a total gross income of almost 12 million dollars. This is considerably better than state and national levels and attests to the soundness of the bank's investment portfolio.

"Many institutions are still putting a premium on growth and expansion" Larson said, but the board of West Bend Savings has opted for conservative, controlled growth. The bank's 1990 asset growth of $5,036,169 or 4.1% was in line with their 1990 business plan. During the year, West Bend Savings made major improvements to their branch network as they built a new Jackson office building and doubled the drive in capacity at their Slinger location.

The bank reported that its affiliates in the Financial Resource Group consisting of Realty World West Grove Realty, A.C. Larson & Co. Insurance, Citizens/Weis Corporation, Citizens Homes, Invest and Citizens Financial Service Corporation all reported sizeable year end profits. Larson added "The affiliates as a whole earned approximately a 15% return on invested capital in 1990."

Cast Selected for UWWC's Spring Musical 'DROOD'

The cast has been selected for "DROOD" (The Mystery of Edwin Drood), UWWC's Theatre on the Hill's annual spring musical production. The play will be performed on March 8, 9, 15 and 16 in the University Theatre.

"The Mystery of Edwin Drood" the Tony Award winning Best Musical of 1986 is light and fun and entertaining. The play is based on the unfinished book of Charles Dickens who died halfway through writing the work. Dickens left no notes and there are conflicting theories as to the outcome of the plot. The incompleteness of the book serves as one of the best tools of the play — the audience gets to solve the mystery by choosing the ending of the play. Each night the audience is asked to vote on how the second act should end, making each performance different.

The play is really a play within a play. It is set in 1880 in the tradition of the English Music Hall (a style similar to American Vaudeville). The format of the show has the performers of a Victorian Music Hall troupe attempting with very limited means to put on its own version of the novel.

The cast includes Shari Wittman, West Bend, who plays both the title role and Miss Alice Nutting. The master of ceremonies of the night, Mayor Thomas Sapsea and the theatre owner Mr. William Cartwright, Your Chairman, is played by Jim Wittman, West Bend.

The rest of the cast includes:

Mike Vetrovic, Menomonee Falls, as John Jasper/Mr. Clive Paget; Chuck Marx, West Bend, as The Reverend Mr. Crisparkle/Mr. Cedric Moncrieff; Aimee Woog, West Bend, as Rosa Bud/Miss Deirdre Peregrine; Pam Theisen, West Bend, as Wendy/Miss Isabel Yearsley and Shade of Jasper; Lori Vetrovic, Menomonee Falls, as Beatrice/Elizabeth Sinton and Shade of Drood; Michelle Nigh, Milwaukee, as Helena Landless/Miss Janet Conover; David Rieley, West Bend, as Neville Landless/Mr. Victor Grinstead; David Campanella, Saukville, as Durdles/Mr. Nick Cricker; Joe Bretz, West Bend, as Deputy/Master Nick Cricker; Mary McNamara, West Bend, as The Princess Puffer/Miss Angela Prysock; Rachel Reger, West Bend, as Succabae/Miss Isabel Yearsley; T.J. Little, West Bend, Bazzard/Mr. Phillip Box; Sue Keyes, West Bend, as Flo/Miss Florence Gill; Annette Reese, Campbellsport, as Succabae/Miss Gwendolen Prynne; Sally Deniston, West Bend, as a servant/Miss Violet Balfour; Michelle Albert, West Bend, as a servant/Miss Gwendolyn Prynne; Chris Carey, Menomonee Falls, as Stage Manager/Miss Jane Throttle; Kevin Richter, West Bend, as Horace/Mr. Brian Pankhurst.

Reservations for the play can be made by calling 335-5200. Tickets are $5 for adults and $4 for senior citizens and children. UWWC students are free of charge.

Wau-Bun Girl Scout Council is joining 332 Girl Scout councils throughout the country in a national service project to tackle the problem of literacy. Called "Right to Read," the service project features a spectrum of activities designed to spark enthusiasm for reading and writing and to help bring about a literate society that exercises its right to read.

The girls of the Kewaskum area will be taking the challenge to spread literacy. They, along with the almost 2,500 girls of Wau-Bun Girl Scout Council, will be participating in a council read-in on Friday, February 22, from 4:00 to 6:00, at the Kewaskum Library.

Activities at the February 22 read-in will include all Girl Scouts reading or being read to. All activities will be centered around GSUSA's newest contemporary issue, Right to Read.

In the spring of 1991, Girl Scouts of the USA will present a report card and project summary of nationwide efforts to Girl Scout Honorary National President Mrs. George Bush and to President Bush. Wau-Bun Girl Scout Council expects the read-in to be included in the report.

Letters to the Editor

OPEN LETTER to the People of Wisconsin

By State Representative Robert T. Welch (R-Redgranite)

Rep. Welch is the Republican Caucus Chairman in the Assembly. His letter is based on remarks made at the recent statewide rally in Madison supporting the U.S. Armed Forces serving in Operation Desert Storm.

With many soldiers from Wisconsin assigned to dangerous and honorable duty in the Persian Gulf, the demagogues of peace here at home would ask us to believe that there is no such thing as a glorious war; that war is death and fear and unimaginable horror; that we should take every step to avoid it... and they are correct!

But the demagogues ask more of us... they ask us to forget who we are... that we are Americans and we are free. They ask us to forget the lessons of the past... they ask us to believe in a world where evil can be negotiated away... but we can never forget.

We are Americans, and we are free!

America stands in history as the shining example of what the world can be. We see history as the struggle for individual liberty. We see in ourselves, and in our system of government, the strongest example of individual freedoms in the history of mankind.

America is more than a country... it is a way of life... a lighthouse for people of all the world to look to with the hope that some day, they too can live like Americans. People who are free.

Some would ask that we close our eyes to the suffering around the world, to ignore our brothers and sisters on this shrinking planet. I ask, "how many times can a man turn his head and pretend that he doesn't see."

Can we ignore the genocidal murders with chemical weapons of Hussein's Kurdish countrymen? Can we ignore the brutal invasion of a peaceful neighbor and the rape of its citizenry? Can we ignore the random bombing of innocent civilians in Tel Aviv? Can we ignore the attempted destruction of an entire ecosystem for no reason other than spite? Can we ignore the continued threat to the entire world posed by a madman, intent on achieving nuclear capabilities?

The world cannot afford the price which non-action would bring down upon all its nations!

When should we act? When Hussein parades through Riyadh; when they open gas chambers in Tel Aviv; or when the nuclear bombs strike the Vatican?

When does it become our business? When is our freedom threatened; when is America, the land of Freedom, willing to risk its soldiers?

In World War II, how many lives would have been saved if we had come to the aid of Austria or Czechoslovakia? If all the allied powers had set a deadline and massed at the border of Poland?

About one year ago I was in the Soviet Union at Katyn, a memorial site at a former village. The Nazis killed over 400 villages... killed... massacred... 186 of those villages have never returned. They are dead! Imagine your home town or neighborhood, dead. I don't think Neville Chamberlin imagined this when he was talking peace. Hussein has already destroyed villages like this in his own country!

There is no country in the world with our freedoms... with our opportunities... where our children can look forward to such a bright future full of hope and expectation.

We are American, and we are free. In return, our country asks very little of us, but our world is asking us to lead them. They didn't turn to Japan or Germany or the USSR. America will lead them in struggle, to the true destiny of history... individual liberty for all, and yes, PEACE.

There can be no peace until every citizen in this world is free. Until freedoms ring from every mountainside; until they can say: "I'm an Iraqi, and I'm free."

We need to look beyond our community; look beyond our country; and have compassion on our brothers and sisters in Kuwait and Iraq. Do not turn our heads. Do not pretend not to see. Resolve to act. Pray for peace... pray hard, and long. But remember, there is a fate worse than war... to live as a slave... to live as a prisoner of fear in your own country, or a captive nation. To raise a family without hope. There are things worth dying for; how many would not give their lives and gladly, so that their children could live free. We know this. We are Americans, and we are free.

Why God sends us these tyrants, I do not know... but I do know that WE, the world, must stop them; and we, AMERICA, must lead the world struggle, because we are able and because we understand better than any other people. Because we are Americans, and we are free!

February 5, 1991

To the Editor:

It is time for voters in the MPTC district comprised of Waushara, Green Lake, Marquette, Columbia, Winnebago, Calumet, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Washington, and Dodge counties, to ask themselves some serious questions concerning how their hard earned property tax dollars are being spent. They include, but are not limited to the following issues:

1. How does the administration justify spending $314,249.44 in advertising, marketing and public relations for 1989-1990, when it is claimed that the campuses are already overcrowded? This figure does not include overhead expenses and fringe benefits.

2. How can the spending of $11.3 million on further expansion be justified when a facility is considered fully occupied when in fact it is only 50% filled?

3. How can classes such as cake decorating, etching on glass, creative drawing and other such hobby courses scheduled during prime time be justified when there is such an urgent need for classroom space for the retraining or training of job skills demanded by business and industry? Many of the non-job related courses are duplications of courses being offered at local craft stores, hospital education courses, UW-Extension courses, etc. — all being offered to the public without cost to the property taxpayer.

4. We have been told that the construction of these facilities will not raise property taxes! But we have not been told how much more money will be needed (and have to be paid for by property taxpayers) for operation and maintenance, additional personnel (janitors, teachers, etc.)? It is already costing taxpayers in the MPTC district approximately $60,000 just to hold this referendum at this time of year!

5. The Friends of MPTC donated $18,741.05 to promote a "yes" vote on the referendum in September, 1990. A look at the financial report which had to be filed for the public record, indicates that much of the money was donated by overpaid administrators and companies doing business with MPTC ($2,000 donated by Blue Cross Blue Shield!)

In the last referendum on Sept. 11, 1990, 69.2% of the voters in Beaver Dam voted against the referendum. The only "Friend of MPTC" in Beaver Dam appears to be the local MPTC administrator, according to the financial report.

According to the Public Expenditure Survey the MPTC budget increase in 1991 was 5.4%, (total $23,849,361). To stop it from increasing even more in 1992, vote NO on February 19th!

Vote 'NO' on MPTC Expansion

A yes vote will cost the taxpayers $11.3 million dollars for the building plus almost 9 million dollars in interest, for a total of over $20 million for just brick and mortar (this might include some of the furniture). The 20 million dollars is only the beginning — add to that figure heating, lighting, air conditioning, maintenance and the "Biggie" instructors, adding up to a figure that boggles the mind.

We attended the public hearing on Jan. 7, 1991, at Moraine Park Technical College (right beside University of Wisconsin, another college, both supported by tax dollars). The room was packed with interested parties.

The agenda that was passed out, was very interesting - consisted of 16 pages covering the proposed building construction project and issuance of bonds not to exceed $11.3 million dollars and the resolution adoption thereof ... where to vote...how to vote... absentee, etc...just election info — nothing on room description and usage.

The District Board has called a Referendum for Feb. 19, 1991 for the purpose of submitting to the electors of the district the proposition of whether the building program and the issuance of the bonds or promissory notes to finance the program shall be approved...

This decision to have this vote on a Primary Election, when hardly "NOBODY" bothers to vote is a very, very sneaky thing to do, especially when it was voted down in the last election.

There were many speakers pointing out the fact, that there was so much wasted space that could be used. Who needs to fiddle around in the exercise room with all the latest equipment when the space is needed to train the unemployed so that they can clothe and feed their families. It was pointed out that when a room is 50% occupied, it is considered to be 100% in use. There are 12 months in a year, containing days and evenings, so what is the reason why this can't be taken into consideration? Also, we have numerous schools that are only used about 180 days a year, so what is wrong with putting some of this space to use? They are all paid for by taxpayers.

Practically all of the speakers wanting the building expansion program, were either on the "public dole" or with "tax-free organizations"...that should tell you something!

To take us into debt over $20 million dollars at this time, is sheer insanity. We are being taxed to death, with school taxes leading the parade...right behind is the taxes to support our gigantic government bureaucracy. How are you going to look your children and grandchildren in the face, when they find out what you have done to them?

It was very interesting to notice the fact, that there were no major employers at the hearing to support such a fiendish program. Guess they realize it is going to hit them in the pocketbook too and the much publicized benefits for such a program must not be there.

VOTE NO-NO-NO!

Dear Editor,
Lana Harbeck Kuehl

I'm glad that you invite everyone in this country to participate in freedom of speech, and freedom of the press, and I hope you are "American" enough to print both sides of every issue, because that's the only way you can make intelligent decisions.

In my opinion, all the yellow, orange, and red, white and blue pieces of "material" cannot in any way, support our troops in the Middle East. Displaying these items supports U.S. intervention into a situation we do not belong in, causing bloodshed of our own sons and daughters, and more destruction of our precious earth.

One of our founding fathers, Thomas Jefferson, wrote that the United States should not be a nation that becomes involved in "the barbaric injustices" of other countries. He felt we should take care of the needs of our own people first and foremost. If we chose to involve ourselves in ridding the world of all the so-called "madmen" there are at least a dozen other countries we should be occupying right now!

Anti-war protestors are being labeled communists in this fever of patriotism. But are not the people who are striving to bring our children (and they are children) home alive and well and not in body bags, the true patriots of this nation? Truly they value the lives of our people!

I suggest we display the flag upside down, as many did during the Vietnam War, and in this way we are showing that we believe our children are not commodities that can be sacrificed for political ambitions. Are they not worth more than that?

We cannot begin to comprehend the reasons for the struggle for power between nations in the Middle East, and hundreds of years behind these reasons, and until we understand another nation or race of people, we should not be there to take anyone's lives into our own hands.

I, for one, pray for peace. How many of you can join me?

County Tourist Guide Available

The 1991 Visitor Guide for Washington County is now available and includes features on all local communities, as well as information on our parks, hiking trails, cross country skiing, biking, golfing, and fishing. The museums, art gallery and Holy Hill are also highlighted and a 1991 Calendar of Events lists happenings for the year.

A special highlight this year is the painting of Holy Hill by P. Buckley Moss, on the cover. The Valley paintings of Pat Moss incorporate the ethics and life styles of the Amish people as she came to know them while living in the Shenandoah Valley. The application of her style to Holy Hill creates a unique portrayal of the county's number one visitor attraction.

The tourism guide is published annually by the Washington County Tourism Council. Copies can be obtained from your chamber of commerce or the Washington County Department of Economic Development at 335-4778.

General Clinic Sports Medicine Clinic Hosts Sports Screening for High School Athletes

The Sports Medicine Clinic at the General Clinic is offering student athletes a free health and fitness screening in preparation for spring sports.

All young men and women athletes from West Bend East and West and Kewaskum High Schools are being invited to the free Spring Sports Screening to be held Saturday, Feb. 23 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the General Clinic West Bend, 205 Valley Ave.

According to Dr. Francis X. McCann, Jr., one of three General Clinic physicians with special training in Sports Medicine, the Sports Screening will help detect joint abnormalities, and will test basic strength and performance levels. The screening is specially tailored to spring sports, including track, baseball, tennis, soccer and golf.

As part of our commitment to 'Caring for your health,' the General Clinic is offering continuing pre-season evaluations for our high school youth," he said. "Each athlete will go through eight stations, including a health history interview, checks of individual joints such as knee, shoulder, ankle, hip and back, as well as a gait and endurance tests."

Dr. McCann said the purpose of the screening is to help detect potential problems for the prevention of injury. He said the screening also helps athletes plan their pre-season training based on information about their strength and performance levels.

The screening will be conducted by several General Clinic physicians, the General Clinic athletic trainer now on staff, and by physical therapists at the General Clinic.

Students are being asked to pre-register by calling 338-7107 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. prior to the screening day. Walk-ins will be seen as scheduling permits.

Athletes should bring athletic shorts or a swim suit to wear for the screening, which will take place in the Lower Level of the General Clinic at 205 Valley Ave.

For convenience, participants may park in the Lower Level parking lot. Signs will be posted.

Dr. McCann said that each athlete should plan on about a 45 minute visit. He said that each student will be contacted with the results of his or her screening.

The free Spring Sports Screening is sponsored by the General Clinic Sports Medicine Clinic in conjunction with high school athletic departments.

Integrated Crop, Pest Management Workshops

Corn and soybean production are the main topics for the 1991 Integrated Crop and Pest Management Workshops Feb. 25-28 at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

The workshops are split into two separate sessions. The basic workshop on Feb. 25 and 26 is geared toward less experienced consultants or agronomists and will provide basic UW-Madison recommendations for crop production and pest management. The advanced workshop on Feb. 27 and 28 provides more detailed information and is intended for experienced agronomists or consultants.

The basic workshop will cover a variety of topics, including using Wisconsin's soil test recommendations, fertilizing for conservation tillage, using the pre-plant profile nitrogen test, managing and maintaining crop residue under various tillage systems, and becoming a corn plant mechanic.

Participants in the basic workshop will also learn about perennial weed control in corn and soybeans, weed control with less herbicide, the principles of groundwater contamination, and corn and soybean disease and insect identification, biology and management.

The advanced session will cover reduced insecticide rates for corn rootworm control, no-till corn planting into alfalfa/grass sod, what efficient growers do to grow corn and soybeans at lower costs per bushel, tillage systems to manage and maintain residues on the soil surface, quackgrass control alternatives, management control practices for soybean diseases, and new research on insecticide spray timing for controlling of second generation European corn borer.

The workshops will include an evening laboratory session Feb. 25 with three 50-minute labs on disease, insect and weed identification in corn and soybeans. Both daytime and evening sessions will be held at the J.F. Friedrich Center on the UW-Madison campus.

Registration costs are $65 per session and cover the costs of instruction, training manual (basic session only), handouts, lunch, parking, and other expenses. Rooms are available at the Friedrich Center at additional cost.

To register, contact Bryan Jensen, Dept. of Entomology, 1630 Linden Dr., Madison, WI 53706. Make checks or money orders payable to University of Wisconsin-Extension.

UW Farm Short Course Preview Is Feb. 19-20

High school juniors and seniors interested in the Farm and Industry Short Course at the University of Wisconsin - Madison can get an advance look at the classes they might be taking if they decide to enroll.

They and their parents can attend a short course preview Feb. 19 or 20, where they'll have a chance to sit in on this term's classes, as well as find out general information about the 105-year-old instructional program.

The program each day begins at 9:30, with registration in one of the Short Course dormitories, Jorns Hall. An introduction by short course director Richard Daluge follows, and then the group tours the short course dormitories.

The students visit classes for an hour before and after lunch. A cafeteria lunch is followed by talks from present and former students and a question period. The program each day will end shortly after 2 p.m.

Reservation forms are available from high school agriculture teachers or Richard Daluge, 116 Agriculture Hall, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis. 53706.

1990 Was a Good Year for Traffic Safety

A long term emphasis on traffic safety and a snowy winter have combined to make 1990 the safest year on record, according to the Department of Transportation.

The state's fatality rate per 100 million vehicle miles of travel declined to a record low, at 1.736 in 1990, compared with 1.896 in 1989 — an 8.44 percent improvement.

The number of fatalities also declined. There were 54 fewer deaths on Wisconsin highways in 1990, down 6.6 percent from 1989. A preliminary total of 763 persons were killed in 1990 traffic crashes.

Traffic fatalities resulting from speeding or alcohol-related crashes were down 2.13 percent during the first ten months of 1990, as compared to the same period a year earlier.

"This is outstanding news. Wisconsin's commitment to safer driving has paid off," Transportation Secretary Ronald R. Fiedler said. "Wisconsinites are less likely to drink and drive, more likely to be punished severely if they get behind the wheel drunk or drugged, and more likely to be wearing their safety belts when they travel over Wisconsin roads. In addition, our roads and our cars are being built to be more safe."

While Fiedler is proud of the progress Wisconsin has made, he says that more remains to be accomplished. "Even one death on Wisconsin's roads is one death too many. The Governor and I have placed improved highway safety at the top of our transportation agenda for the 1990's, and I expect the safety picture will be even more rosy in coming years," Fiedler said.

Topping his list of traffic safety initiatives: getting at least seven of 10 car occupants on Wisconsin roads to buckle up regularly — only 52 percent currently wear their safety belts; improving highway designs via the Corridors 2020 plan, which will upgrade 3,400 miles of highways to high quality four lane facilities; and getting drunk drivers off the road through targeted law enforcement efforts.

The long term improvements in driver behavior were accompanied by especially safe driving during the winter months. Icy road conditions meant fewer people on the roads and more slow and cautious driving by those who ventured out.

December of 1990 was the sixth snowiest on record for Madison — an all-time high of 17.3 inches of snow fell on the capital city during the December 3 blizzard.

According to preliminary estimates taken from the state's automatic traffic recorders, the average amount of travel for December was down 2.65 percent. The reduced travel this December helped make the fourth quarter of 1990 the safest on record, with a total of 171 fatalities.

Preliminary data on Wisconsin's 1990 traffic injuries are promising as well. During the first 10 months of 1990, the severe injury rate per 1000 vehicle occupants was down 4.36 percent compared with 1989.

Fiedler attributes this decline in part to increased safety belt use. "More and more people are buckling up on Wisconsin roads. Safety belts significantly reduce the likelihood of serious injury if you are in a traffic crash," Fiedler said.

The Department of Transportation will release a final report on traffic fatalities and injuries this spring. In addition, the Department will begin issuing a Quarterly Crash Report of preliminary 1991 statistics.

Recycling Declines at Town Of Farmington Landfill

Recycling participation has declined to 10 percent from 50 percent in the Town of Farmington, members of the recycling committee were told Wednesday evening (Feb. 6) by Mike Berres, operator of the town recycling station. Berres said the reason was two fold. Since the town landfill was closed last November, many town residents have switched to residential pickup of garbage. The state recycling law has also added to the decline.

Berres explained that since the state has mandated recycling there is a glut of recycled material available to processors and they are fussier about what they will accept and pay less for it. At present milk, soda, and detergent bottles, and oil bottles with the caps on are the only plastic that Berres is able to recycle. Glass processors are also more demanding that the glass is clean and have no foil labels.

The need for education was the main theme at the state recycling workshop, Berres said. He pointed out that since Jan. 1, state law requires that all oil, appliances, and batteries must be recycled. Most of the public does not know this and there is no effort to educate them. He said that he gets bags of garbage with oil in it. If people would put the oil and old oil filters in a pail rather than the garbage bag he could recycle it. He also will take batteries and appliances.

Lowering the volume buried in landfills is the main reason to recycle at this time. Until the technology for using the recycled material improves, small recyclers are not going to show profits. Berres has found that the cost of hauling eats up any money received for the recycled material. There is such a surplus of newspaper, it can not be given away at this time. Berres accepts it and shreds it for animal bedding. He also accepts, flattened and tied cardboard; magazines and books, separated from newspapers; clean tin cans; clean glass, separated by color, with foil and caps removed; scrape metal and wire, crushed or rolled and free of posts, and the plastic mentioned above.

The Farmington Recycling Center on Paradise Dr. is open 9:30 a.m. to noon Tuesday, 2 to 5 p.m. Thursday, and 9 to 1 p.m. on Saturday. In addition to accepting recyclables, tires at $2, burn barrels from $1 to $3, appliances, furniture, etc. from $2 to $10 and 30 gallon garbage bags at 50 cents are accepted.

Valentine's Day

Far from the romantic occasion it now connotes, St. Valentine's Day historically is the celebration of the feast of two Christian martyrs bearing this name. Both Valentines were reportedly beheaded on the Flaminian Way at Rome in the Third Century.

Some reports claim Feb. 14 was chosen to celebrate the Christian martyrs as a diversion from the ancient pagan observance of Lupercalia, the Roman fertility festival. Ironically, it is this celebration that is considered the forerunner of modern Valentine's Day customs. lil

OFFICE OF AUBURN TOWN CLERK

TO THE ELECTORS OF TOWN OF AUBURN

Notice is hereby given of a primary election to be held in the several wards in the Town of Auburn, on the 19th day of February, 1991, at which the officers named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been filed in this office, are given under the title of the office in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, an elector shall give his or her name and address before being permitted to vote. Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth or machine and cast his or her ballot except that an elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate for whom to vote.

At a nonpartisan election, the elector shall make a cross (X) or other mark in the square at the right of or depress the button or lever next to the candidate's name for each office for whom he or she intends to vote, or insert or write in the name of his or her choice for a candidate.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. If the elector spoils a ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the elector shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place. Not more than five minutes' time shall be allowed inside a voting booth or machine. Unofficial ballots or a memorandum to assist the elector in marking his or her ballot may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

After an official paper ballot is marked, it shall be folded so the inside marks do not show, but so the printed endorsements and inspectors' initials on the outside do show. After casting his or her vote, the elector shall leave the machine or booth, and where paper ballots are distributed to electors, deposit his or her folded ballot in the proper ballot box and shall leave the polling place promptly.

An elector may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the elector declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the elector's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the elector.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Regular Meeting
February 4, 1991
8:00 P.M.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Mary Krueger presided. All Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a moment of silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee Larry Williams and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of January 21, 1991 were approved as printed.

On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the advertising of the 1989 Chevrolet Caprice for sale upon receipt of the new squad car.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Kenneth Bonlender and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the building permit application of James and Diane Kleinke, for a new home at 1168 Kewaskum Street. The office was authorized to issue said permit upon proper payment of fees and final approval of the Certified Building Inspector. The permit was approved by the Zoning Administrator.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed several correspondence with the Board as follows:

1) The 1990 tax collection process collection was slightly better than last year.
2) A review of the building permit report from 1990 was also discussed and it was noted that there was a 10 percent increase in permits issued in comparison to the prior year. It was also noted that following the April 1, 1990 census count a total of 63 more living units were opened for occupancy.

3) The census figures as just received indicate the Village of Kewaskum's 1990 population is at 2,515. This is up substantially from the preliminary count which would mean our recount appeal and work were well worth the effort.

4) The Board was informed that the annexation of the land along Old Fond du Lac Road would take place on February 18, if all goes as planned.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Beisbier, seconded by Trustee Mark Vechart and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the payment of bills as recommended by the Administrative Committee. The total of all claims as recommended are as follows:

General	$470,002.10
Sewer	13,521.66
Water	7,100.45
Payroll	29,206.87
Total	$519,831.08

A/P Check #2924 to #3036
P/R Check #2347 to #2413

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Kenneth Bonlender and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the placement of one U.S. FLAG to be displayed on each streetlight post along Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue in support of the troops involved in Desert Storm.

Chairman of the Park and Recreation Committee, Trustee Thomas McElhatton informed the Board that a committee meeting is scheduled for February 18, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. It was noted that only a typed financial statement was received from the Softball Association. The Administrator was directed to ask for full documentation of funds. Also he was directed to prepare an ad regarding the leasing out of the NE diamond and concession building to be reviewed at the committee meeting.

Board Representative for the Plan Commission, Trustee Gary Gavin informed the Board that the Commission reviewed two requests for Conditional Use Permits, recommending them and sending them to the Board for public hearing on February 18, 1991. Also the commission recommended the temporary and permanent zoning of R-2 on the land being considered for annexation.

Board Representative for the Library Board, Trustee Gary Gavin informed the Board that the third quarter revenue was down from the county due to the usage reflecting a decrease of 4,253 for the quarter. The dollars received in 1989 for the fourth quarter was $3,750 compared to $1,797 in 1990.

Board Representative for the Mid-Moraine Municipal Association, Legislative Committee, Trustee Robert Beisbier reported on the last meeting indicating the topic was the Milwaukee River Basin.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt asked the Board to think about the sidewalk repair and replacement program for 1991. The area scheduled is the balance of the sidewalk east of the river. The Board was advised of three areas of concerns; two along the eastern end of Main Street and on the corner of Main and Riverview Drive.

On a motion by Trustee Kenneth Bonlender, seconded by Trustee Gary Gavin and carried by the majority by voice vote with Trustee Robert Beisbier voting against, the Board approved the Conditional Use Permit No. 84-CUP-01 for Thomas Bartelt, 1304 Fond du Lac Avenue, eliminating the annual review requirement.

Wildcat Women Improve to 15-3

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — The UWWC women's basketball team keeps rolling along, as the Wildcats appear to be primed for a return trip to the state championships. UWWC improved its record to 15-3 with a pair of victories last week.

On Monday night, UWWC used a huge advantage on the boards to trounce Waukesha Tech, 70-22. UWWC coach Tom Brigham called it "just one of those games you wanted to see get over with."

"I was concerned that somebody was going to get hurt," Brigham went on to say, somewhat questioning the quality of the officiating in the blowout. "I found myself sitting there worried that somebody might go down."

UWWC's Heidi Wagner did indeed go down with a slight ankle sprain, but the injury didn't appear to be serious.

Behind the solid effort of Jenny Meyer, UWWC jumped out to a 34-11 halftime lead, and then held Waukesha to just three points in the first 14 minutes of the second half to win going away.

Meyer finished with some impressive numbers, as she scored 35 points and pulled down 20 rebounds. "Jenny had a real nice game," Brigham said of the freshman from Hartford. "I really don't think that there was anybody out there that could really challenge her."

Other key contributors for the Wildcats included Rocky Justman, who poured in 14 points, Wagner who had 10 points and 10 rebounds before her injury, and Julie Best, who hauled down 15 more rebounds.

Rebounds were a problem for the Wildcats in the first half of their game Friday night against UW-Marathon. The Huskies controlled the boards in the first half in building an eight-point lead against UWWC. But a pep talk at halftime led to an improved Wildcat effort in the second half, as UWWC pulled away for a 72-62 win.

"We had a long talk at halftime," Brigham said. "We just weren't getting any rebounds in the first half."

The Wildcats used their full-court pressure in the first half to battle back from the deficit, and actually led at the half 38-29. UWWC went to a trapping zone defense in the second half and built as much as a 17-point lead on the Huskies before lapsing in the final minutes of play.

"They just got complacent and sat back on their heels," Brigham said of his team, which saw its lead dwindle to just six late in the contest. But the Wildcats recovered in time, and in doing so, improved to 9-1 in conference.

Meyer and Justman each connected on nine of 13 shots, as the two totalled 24 and 20 points, respectively. Wagner chipped in 14 points and ten rebounds, while Best grabbed 12 boards.

The Wildcats shot 58 percent for the game, but just 59 percent from the free throw line. "I was a little disappointed in that," Brigham said. "We could have done a much better job at the line."

"Overall, I was pleased with the way we played," he went on. "It was a tense game. We knew it was an important game."

Wildcat Men Continue Struggle

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — The UWWC men's and women's basketball teams have taken very different paths this season. While the Wildcat women move closer to a conference title, the men continue to struggle, as they dropped three more contests last week.

On Monday, UWWC was thoroughly overmatched against a talented Waukesha Tech squad, and came out on the short end of a 99-69 tally.

There were some bright spots for UWWC in the defeat, though. Karl Klosowski led the Wildcats with 19 points, including three three-pointers, before being ejected in the second half after an altercation with Waukesha's D.A. Vincent.

Terry Howell also had a fine game for UWWC, scoring 17 points and hauling down 15 rebounds. Noel Stollenwerk also reached double figures for the Wildcats, scoring 12 points on four three-pointers.

The Wildcats came back on Wednesday night to give UW-Sheboygan all they could handle. The Wildcats came up just short, however, losing to the visitors, 87-81.

UWWC led in the contest 21-13, before a 20-4 Sheboygan run gave them a 33-25 lead and control of the game. The Wildcats were never able to regain the lead, although they did cut the deficit to just two late in the contest before faltering. Sheboygan outscored UWWC 22-8 at the free throw line in the game.

Howell led UWWC with 28 points and 14 rebounds, while Klosowski chipped in 19 and Stollenwerk added 11, including three three-point goals, while Jay Leberrecht also hit for doubles figures, contributing 10 points.

On Friday night, the Wildcats hosted UW-Marathon in a rematch from earlier in the season. Unfortunately for UWWC, the result was the same, a seven point loss, 87-80.

The two teams battled each other evenly in the first half, but Marathon held a slight edge at the half, 40-36, thanks much in part to Scott Barres, who canned five three-pointers in the first half for the visitors.

UWWC didn't fold in the second half, as they stayed within striking distance. UWWC's Darren Schlenvogt, along with Klosowski, teamed up to score 30 of the Wildcats' 44 second-half points, but it wasn't enough, as UWWC fell to 2-19 on the year.

Klosowski led the Wildcats with a game-high 30 points, including six three-pointers, while Schlenvogt chipped in 22 and Leberrecht 14. Klosowski also added eight assists. Berres finished with 28 to lead Marathon.

Milwaukee River Revitalization Council Submits 'Riverway Plan'

The Milwaukee River Revitalization Council today called for expanded multiple recreational, entrepreneurial and cultural activities along the Milwaukee River. The Council made the recommendation in the "Riverway Plan" it developed over the past six months.

In the Riverway Plan executive summary, the Council calls for the formation of public and private partnerships to preserve and develop land along the river for public use and enjoyment. One plan recommendation suggests developing a continuous corridor of greenspace along much of the Milwaukee River's length. Another calls for incentives for urban and rural residents and developers to help control storm water and soil runoff now contaminating the river.

"The Council recognizes the need to preserve the environmental integrity of the Milwaukee River while allowing development consistent with the public interest," said Richard Snow, Council Chair. "The Riverway Plan takes this into account while recognizing the need of the people who use and enjoy the river."

The Council also calls for unprecedented cooperation between the state, local governments and the private sector to use many existing aid programs. It also calls for new programs to help rehabilitate the Milwaukee River.

The 13-member, governor-appointed Council was created by statute in 1987. It advises the Department of Natural Resources, the legislature and the governor on the future of the Milwaukee River Basin. The Basin covers 830 square miles in portions of seven counties and over 30 municipalities.

THE RIVERWAY PLAN

The Riverway Plan pertains to approximately 330 square miles of land along the mainstem and east and west branches of the Milwaukee River from the Lake Michigan harbor to the headwaters in Fond du Lac County.

There are 27 communities within the study area which was divided into five segments:

Segment 1, the Fond du Lac County Headwaters includes: the village of Campbellsport, and the towns of Ashford, Auburn, Bryon, Eden and Osceola;

Segment 2, the Washington County Mainstem includes: the village of Kewaskum, the city of West Bend, and the towns of Barton, Kewaskum, Trenton, and West Bend;

Segment 3, the Ozaukee County North Mainstem includes: the villages of Fredonia and Newburg, and the towns of Farmington and Fredonia;

Segment 4, the Ozaukee County South Mainstem includes: the villages of Grafton, Saukville and Thiensville, the city of Mequon, and the towns of Grafton and Saukville;

Segment 5, the Milwaukee County Mainstem includes: the villages of Brown Deer, River Hills, and Shorewood, and the cities of Glendale and Milwaukee.

An inventory of each section was taken to identify the existing resources, including natural and cultural features which deserve to be protected or acquired and developed for public use. Local governments and Department program managers supplied information on resources in their areas, along with existing recreation or land management plans. Local representatives completed a survey in which they assessed existing resources and future priorities.

The Council sent an executive summary of the plan to Governor Tommy G. Thompson and to the chairs of the Legislative Committee on Surface Water Resources and the Scenic Urban Waterways Subcommittee. Department of Natural Resources staff also will distribute the Executive Summary to the legislature, government officials, community organizations, conservation groups and other interested persons. Copies of the full report will be available for further distribution in early March.

Five of Seven Wrestlers Advance

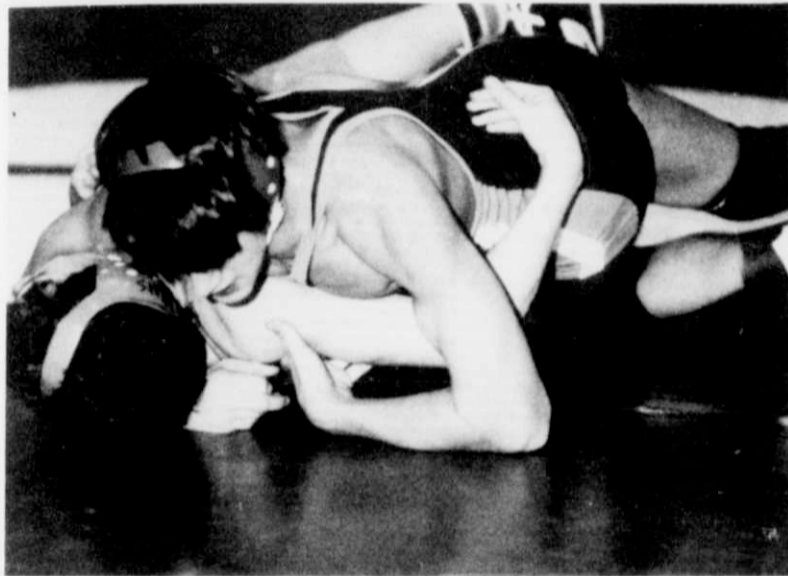

Sabish, Kurtz Capture Regional Title

Kewaskum's Josh Kurtz got a dynamic 3-2 victory over Random Lake's returning state qualifier Jed Beaver in the regional finals.

Kevin Kapp, Kewaskum, scores back points in his first round match against Campbellsport's Rick Breitzman. Kevin went on to win the match 11-0.

Sue Heisdorf Photos

With five out of seven possible wrestlers winning berths to the 1991 Sectional Wrestling Tournament held in Whitewater Saturday, the Indians placed fourth as a team at Regionals held at Random Lake this past Saturday.

With 119 points, the Indians were right behind Sheboygan Falls who had 127. Capturing the Regional Championship with 216 points was Random Lake with a gigantic lead against the second place Campbellsport Cougars with 157. The Indian's Senior Jeff Sabish and sophomore Josh Kurtz both captured the first place title at 130 and 145. Sabish advanced to the finals as he pinned both Sheboygan Fall's Dave Christian and Random Lake's Jamie Hammen in 2:45 and 5:11.

Kurtz also defeated Brown Deer's Dane Sanderson with a strong pin in 2:24, followed by a decision against Huibregtse of Falls, 7-0. In the championship match, Kurtz faced Jed Beaver of Random Lake.

With a tough match to beat, Kurtz proved easily that he could defeat Beaver. Holding out until the last period, Kurtz came up with one point to give him the victory.

Finishing in second were Kevin Kapp, Mark Dziedzic and Todd Muckerheide. Kapp came in strong defeating Campbellsport's Rick Breitzman and Ryan McNaulty of Sheboygan Falls 18-8 in overtime. Tied 6-6 at the end of the match, Kapp was the dominating force in overtime where he nearly pinned McNaulty. The victory earned him the advancement to the championship match.

Dan Depies of Random Lake proved too much for Kapp. Unable to do anything, Depies took total control over Kapp and pinned in 1:58 giving Kapp second place and also a berth to the WIAA Sectional meet.

Winning by wrestlebacks, were Dziedzic and Muckerheide. Dziedzic wrestled Slinger's Chris Halizak and defeated him in 3:42 advancing him to sectionals as did Muckerheide as he stuck McCready of Campbellsport in 5:41.

Freshman Chad Muckerheide had high hopes as he arrived, but head injuries acquired against Fall's Dayton Behnke forced Muckerheide to forfeit the championship match to Random Lake.

Although Muckerheide did defeat Behnke Muckerheide's forfeit put him in the position of a wrestleback to earn second place, but unfortunately the injury persisted, not allowing Muckerheide to wrestle.

Sophomore Mark Morell pinned Paul Reneau of Brown Deer and then went on to lose against Fall's John Schuler. Wrestling for third and a possible wrestleback Random Lake's Mike Rush defeated him 6-3.

The five wrestlers will victoriously travel to Whitewater Saturday for the 1991 WIAA Wrestling Sectionals. Any questions about sectionals can be answered by calling the high school. Hope to see you there.

Indian Gymnasts Top Markesan

By Statesman Sports Writer
MARKESAN — Competing in three meets in a five day time period, the Kewaskum gymnasts probably should have been a bit tired going into last Monday's meet against Markesan here.

But the Indians were anything but tired, as they posted one of their highest point totals of the year and came away with a 93.7 - 88.9 victory over the Hornets.

Several Indian performers put forth their best efforts of the year in helping to post the win. The Indians also accomplished another first for the year, sweeping the floor exercise competition.

Wendy Fideler led the Indians in their 1-2-3 finish, as she posted an impressive 8.3 for her routine to take the top spot. Right behind Fideler was senior Ingrid Ankerson, who was just edged out of first, as she came through with an 8.2. Karen Junk completed the sweep, taking third with a score of 7.8.

Ankerson also teamed with Stephanie Reindl to finish second and third on the balance beam. Reindl nosed out Ankerson for the third spot, as she posted a 7.75 score, compared to Ankerson's 7.7.

The vaulting competition was also good to the Indians, as Stacey Heberer scored 8.0, which was good enough for a second place finish. Sophomore Rachelle Krahn also fared well on the vault, scoring a 7.3 to place fourth.

Also adding a fourth was Jessica Rohrer, who came away with a 6.35 to lead the Indians on the uneven parallel bars.

The Indians have some time to rest after their hectic schedule. The Indians are idle until this Thursday, when they host Manitowoc for their annual Parent's Night meet. The Indians conclude the season on Tuesday, when they host Chilton.

Indians Fall to Mayville

By Statesman Sports Writer

MAYVILLE — Just as they did years back when they were both members of the now-defunct Scenic Moraine Conference, the Kewaskum and Mayville boys basketball teams hooked up in another hard-fought dual here, last Tuesday night.

The two teams battled back and forth the entire ballgame, before some missed free throws down the stretch by the Indians proved costly, as the Cardinals came out on top in the two schools' annual matchup, 60-57.

"It was a very evenly matched game," Indian coach Jim Westphal said of the contest. "I thought we played well enough to win. I was real happy with our effort."

That effort helped them jump out to a 14-11 lead on the hosts after one quarter of play. But Mayville battled back to tie things at 33 by intermission.

But the missed free throws and a lack of rebounds started to hurt the Indians in the second half. With Tom Pagel underneath grabbing boards and putting the ball back in, the Cardinals were able to open a slight two-point lead heading into the final stanza.

"We played very good defense, but we're not that strong on the boards," Westphal went on to say. "They hurt us pretty bad on the boards. That's something that's been hurting us a lot."

It hurt them in this game as well, as Mayville was able to open as much as a six-point lead in the final quarter, thanks in part to a stretch in which the Indians missed five straight free throw attempts.

"Some of those were bonus opportunities," Westphal pointed out, showing that the Indians could have made up even more ground had they converted.

The Indians were still able to mount a brief comeback bid, as they cut the deficit from six to just two with under :20 to play. "We had to go after and ball and foul at that point," Westphal reported, noting that the Indians fouled sophomore Kyle Gassner.

Gassner obliged by missing the free throw, but once again, the Cardinals were there to snare the offensive board. Kewaskum was forced to foul again, and Darren O'Neill made one of the two shots.

The Indians rebounded and actually had a chance to tie the game, but Mark Felix's shot as time ran out was off the mark, and the Indians came up on the short end of things for the sixth time in their last seven games.

"We're really not a powerful team," Westphal went on to say, talking about the Indians' free throw woes. "We really needed to make those free throws. That's almost a part of our offense. We're not going to get any easy baskets underneath because we are so small."

The Indians had made it look as if free throw shooting would be a strength earlier in the year, as they sank all 21 of their tries against Chilton, but "since then we've been very inconsistent," according to Westphal. "That definitely was the difference in the ballgame."

Pagel ended up leading the Cardinals with 18 points. "Several of those were putbacks off the offensive boards," Westphal noted. Gassner chipped in 12 points as well.

For the Indians, Joel Fleischman led the way, as he canned 18 points to tie Pagel for the game's scoring honors. Felix poured in 13 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, while Matt Seiser and Ryan Ramthun each contributed eight points.

"He's been doing a good job," Westphal said regarding Felix, who continues to lead the Eastern Wisconsin Conference in rebounding. "That's quite an amazing feat considering he's only 6-2."

The loss left the Indians at 6-11 overall, and after hosting conference co-leader Plymouth on Tuesday, the Indians will end their brief homestand with a game against Sheboygan Falls on Friday night.

Indian Girls Beat Up on Falls, 34-16

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — While the competition wasn't exactly the likes of the Pius XI girls basketball team, the Kewaskum girls' performance against Sheboygan Falls in their final home game of the season was a definite bright spot in an otherwise down year for the Indians in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

The Indians played their best defense of the season in limiting the Falcons to just seven baskets the entire game, as the Indians came away with a 34-16 win over Falls, thus keeping the Falcons winless in ten starts this season in conference.

The win gave the Indians a 2-8 mark in the Eastern Wisconsin, with one game left to play against New Holstein Thursday night. Kewaskum improved to 5-14 overall.

Neither team did much damage early in the contest, as both teams were having trouble finding the mark offensively. The first eight minutes of play produced just ten total points, but the good news was that it was the Indians who held the 6-4 advantage.

The Indians offensive production picked up in the second frame, as Brenda Falk provided some spark off of the bench. Falk, who missed most of the season due to injury, returned to the lineup and had a couple of assists, as the Indians put up 13 points themselves, and led by nine at the half.

The two teams reverted back to the opening quarter early in the second half, as neither could muster much offense again. But the Indians defense came through in big ways, as they limited the Falcons to just two points in the period, and the Indians were comfortably in front, 25-12.

In the fourth, it was a matter of tying up the loose ends, and the Indians did that nicely as well, outscoring Falls 9-4 in the final stanza, thus holding the Falcons to a season low for points.

The Indians spread around the offense pretty well, as Nicole Doherty led the way with a total of 13 points, while doing a quality job on the boards as well. Kelly Rohlinger chipped in six markers for the Indians, while Kelly Korth contributed five. No Sheboygan Falls player scored more than six points in the ballgame.

An area that brought added delight in the victory was the Indians' free throw shooting, an area that has been a problem all season. Not in this game though, as Kewaskum canned 10 of their 14 tries from the charity stripe, compared to the Falcons two-of-six effort.

Girls Teams Sweep Falls

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — It was an all-around good night for the three girls basketball teams last Tuesday, as both the JV and freshman joined the varsity in the win column against Sheboygan Falls.

The Indian JV's were able to squeak out a 20-18 win over the Falcons in a defensive battle. Marty Schlice led the Indians' weak offensive attack with six points.

The freshman, meanwhile bounced back from their first loss of the year with a 47-38 win over Falls. Ginger Wiesner led ten different Indians in the scoring column, as she tallied 12 points. The win improved the freshman's record to 14-1, while the JV's improved to 15-4 overall.

The younger Indian boys squad were not as successful in their games with Mayville. Again it was a sweep, but unfortunately, it was the Indians who dropped all three contests.

The JV's self-destructed in the second half of their game with the Cardinals, as they dropped a 49-30 decision. Keith Herman was one of the few bright spots for the JV's, as he canned 11 points.

The Freshman boys had their four-game winning streak abruptly, as the Indians were beaten soundly by the hosts, 65-43. Tory Laubach led the Indians offensive with 16 points.
