Defeats Rams Bieber for Sectional Championship! Kurtz Earns Berth to State

Sophomore Josh Kurtz earned a berth to the WIAA Class B State Wrestling Tournament this past weekend. The only Indian to become a sectional champion, Kurtz defeated the Random Lake Ram's Jed Bieber for the second time this season.

Held in Whitewater, the sectional tournament marked the second matchup between last year's Ram State qualifier, Bieber, and the Indians Josh Kurtz. Defeating Bieber at Regionals the previous weekend by a mere 3-2 victory, Kurtz expected to meet Bieber at Whitewater for the sectional championship. Kurtz worked his way to the finals by first defeating Big Foot's Adam Kirkpatrick by default which then led him to Edgerton's Jeremy Jackson whom he defeated also by default, 8-6. Seeming to have a powerful move, Kurtz defeated both opponents after they apparently both became injured. Kurtz then went on to take the title away from Bieber. After being tied in the first period 2-2, Bieber took control of Kurtz for the second period and advanced with a 4-2 lead. Bieber led into the last period, but only maintained it for a few seconds. Kurtz succeeded in throwing Bieber on his back and nearly pinned him but time ran out.

As before, Kurtz came from behind in his match with Bieber to take both the Regional and Sectional title away from Bieber.

Kurtz added the excitement but perhaps the most disappointment came when senior Jeff Sabish lost a heartbreaker to Cameron Zablocki of Lake Mills in overtime. Sabish first pinned

Blood Drive Scheduled Here

A community blood drive will be held in Kewaskum from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m., on Wednesday, March 6, at the Field House at 1510 Bilgo Lane. Kewaskum's last community blood drive on October 3, 1990, collected 49 units (pints) of blood.

Anyone in good health over the age of 17 and who weighs at least 110 pounds may donate blood. There is no upper age limit. All donors are asked medical history questions prior to donating. The actual amount of time involved in drawing the unit (one pint) of blood is about seven minutes, but donors should anticipate spending a total of approximately 45 minutes to an hour, including time for the medical history, donating and refreshments.

The drive will supply volunteer blood donations for The Blood Center of Southeastern Wisconsin, a non-profit service organization which provides all of the blood and blood components used by patients in 29 southeastern Wisconsin hospitals. The Blood Center also offers specialized laboratory service on a regional and national level, and is recognized internationally as a leader in blood-related research.

Village Trustees Views Differ on Park Concession Stand Operation

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Parks Committee spent the major portion of its meeting discussing the operation of the KCP concession stand and later, the full Kewaskum Village Board spent nearly an hour of its meeting time on the issue. The end result after all the discussion was that there was no unanimous consensus of opinion on how the stand and the baseball diamond should be run for 1991.

The only thing the trustees seemed to agree on was that they were not happy about how things had been run in the past or the cooperation they were getting from those in charge of the operation.

Things came to a head Monday night as representatives of the Kewaskum Softball Association were in attendance at both meetings trying to get a commitment from the village for a three-year contract to run the diamond and stand.

Trustee Gary Gavin, who has been the most vocal about his unhappiness with the situation, told fellow board members he thought the issue should be looked at as two separate items, the operation of the diamond and the operation of the concession stand.

Gavin indicated he had no problem with how the association was running the diamond and tournaments. "I think on that point they are doing a good job." The concession stand, however, is another thing, he indicated.

Gavin also said if a private individual wants to reserve the diamond, they should be able to come to the village and get the key and not have to deal with some organization.

The board did seem to agree that the village was going to have more control over the situation than it has had in the past.

Trustee Bob Beisbier suggested the village give the association a one-year lease. "If problems aren't resolved, then we just won't issue the contract next year," he said.

Board president Mary Krueger added, "another thing with the agreement, it should be absolutely clear what we mean when we say we want decent records." "My idea of what decent records are and the association's are two entirely different things. I can see where they've got to have an answer right now but I think it's their own fault. They fooled around for so long they're in a rush." Krueger told the association's reps. "I once voted for a stand that I thought was going to be a small hot dog stand and you could sell beer from it." "It ended up a $30,000 stand with Andersen windows. I'm not going to get stuck again voting for something like that. I made one big mistake. I'm not going to make another one."

Gavin also said, "who said there has to be leagues up there seven days a week." He was against association representative Harry Roecker's plans to set up a new Wednesday night league when the youngsters are at the park for softball league. "For one thing, I see major problems with parking."

Trustee Larry Williams questioned why Roecker was trying to bring in teams from out of the area such as Plymouth and Jackson for that Wednesday night league. Williams felt the association should be thinking about leagues for the local people.

Krueger said she would go with a one-year agreement "depending upon how the contract reads." Gavin said he was against any lease now because there were still too many questions left up in the air. Williams indicated he had not made a decision one way or the other. The remaining trustees, Tom McElhatton, Mark Vechart, Ken Bonlender and Bob Beisbier, said they would be agreeable to a

Eight Page FFA Insert Included with This Issue

In honor of National FFA Week, February 16-23, the Kewaskum Chapter, under the guidance of Dave Rizzard, Voc-Ag Instructor, is sponsoring an eight-page insert included with this week's issue.

The FFA officers along with the help of their instructor and other chapter representatives were instrumental in soliciting the ads, writing the news items and laying out the eight pages. It was then brought to the Statesman for typesetting, ad makeup, proofing and paste-up.

FFA Week traditionally is marked from the Saturday before George Washington's birthday to the following Saturday. Washington is honored for his significant contributions to American agriculture as well as his military and patriotic contributions.

Through their FFA experience, students will develop skills and knowledge to help them prepare for a career in agriculture. Their future in farming is our future as well.

We join the community in saluting the FFA during this, their special week.

The members of the Kewaskum FFA have a great deal to be proud of.

Please help support your high school's Vocational Agriculture FFA program, and the advertisers who so graciously took out ads again in the FFA promotion.

Kewaskum Kiwanis Club Honored

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum, Wisconsin received the Wisconsin Soil and Water Conservation Society (SWCS) Chapter Conservation Achievement Award.

Roy Esser, Chairman, Farm-City Program from the Kewaskum Club accepted the plaque at the SWCS Chapter annual meeting in Stevens Point on Jan. 31st.

The Club was honored for their outstanding effort in honoring two outstanding Conservation Farmers at their annual Farm-City banquet for 33 consecutive years.

This program by a civic group has contributed substantially to furthering the objectives of the SWCS at the local level-getting conservation on the land. It has also narrowed the gap between city and farm people in creating an awareness and better understanding of total resource conservation.

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club accomplishments has also been forwarded to the National SWCS headquarters in Ankeny, Iowa for consideration of a National Merit Award.

one-year contract written up on the village's terms.

The board directed Village Administrator Dan Schmidt to write up the lease to be presented at the March 4th meeting for review and possible action.

In other business, the board approved the issuance of conditional use permits to Charles Serwe for a used car sales and service business at 885 Prospect, and to Shefond Oil for a gas station/convenience store at 890 Fond du Lac Avenue.

An individual in the audience questioned the need for another gas station. He was advised that Shefond is looking to the future expansion of Highway 45 to a four-lane road. The station would provide diesel service to trucks as well as gas service. "Right now, there's no place in town where a truck can get fuel," said McElhatton.

The board also approved Ordinance 91-2, which provides for the annexation of six residential properties and a garage on the northern village limits along Old Fond du Lac Road.

Dan Schmidt presented some revised recommendations on proposed facilities charges for the Water Pollution Control Department. He told the board the new recommendations are more equitable in spreading the cost than the original presentation. Schmidt said the figures would be used in revising the sewer charges ordinance which will be brought back to the board for a hearing and approval.

The board also approved the request of the various departments to advertise for temporary part-time summer help.

On the recommendation of the Police Department, the board denied an application for a bartender's license to Candy Sweeney because she had falsified a statement on her application regarding a criminal record.

A resolution supporting the men and women serving in Operation Desert Storm was also approved.

National FFA Week to Be Celebrated February 16-23

FFA members all over the country will promote FFA, agricultural education and the food and fiber industry during National FFA Week, Feb. 16-23.

This year's theme is FFA - Leadership for a Growing Planet. During FFA Week and throughout the year, FFA chapters will pursue activities which show that they are leading the effort for a better environment. Planting trees, starting community recycling efforts and restoring mining areas are just a few of the initiatives planned by various chapters across the country.

The week also provides FFA members in thousands of chapters across the U.S., Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands the chance to create awareness of and support for agricultural education and the FFA. Public service announcements at the local, state and national levels will help spread the message.

Agricultural education classes stress hands-on experience in diverse areas of agriculture. FFA activities provide leadership development, career training and award incentives for young people.

Mark Timm, national FFA president from Fillmore, Ind., said FFA Week is an opportunity for members and communities to recognize achievements and activities available through FFA and agricultural education. This year's theme challenges FFA members to make a difference in their communities; to think globally but act locally.

"We're young people trying to strike a balance between progressive agriculture and a healthy environment," Timm said. "As FFA members and students in agriculture classes, we are learning to wisely manage our resources, and gaining the leadership skills necessary to prepare for the diverse and challenging careers in agriculture."

Each year FFA Week is held during the week of George Washington's birthday (traditional) to recognize his leadership and commitment to American agriculture. The National FFA Center is located on part of Washington's original Mt. Vernon estate near Alexandria, VA.

FFA is a national organization of 387,042 members in 7,634 local chapters preparing for careers in the science, business and technology of agriculture. Local, state and national activities and award programs provide opportunities for students to apply knowledge and skills acquired through agricultural education. FFA members strive to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship.

Blood. What Every American Should Know.

1. Each year four million Americans depend on blood transfusions.
2. The safeguards on the blood supply include conducting seven separate laboratory tests to screen out AIDS, hepatitis and other infectious agents, educating donors on transmissible diseases and encouraging at-risk donors to disqualify themselves from giving blood.
3. Blood banking is one of the most highly regulated areas in health care, governed by multiple federal and state rules, laws, policies and regulations.
4. As an alternative to blood transfusions, today a growing number of people benefit from autologous (self) transfusions.
5. There is no risk of AIDS or other infectious diseases when blood is donated, as sterilized needles are never reused.

4-H Leaders Honored

Washington County 4-H would like to thank over 225 adult volunteer leaders for their service to over 650 Washington County 4-H youth. Volunteer leaders give time, expertise, money, and genuine support to help youth develop life skills. Volunteers are the heart of the 4-H program. Without their time and dedication to help youth develop leadership skills, communication skills, decision making skills, and project knowledge the 4-H program we know today would not exist. Volunteers enable us to extend the knowledge from the University to both youth and adults. Adult volunteer leaders support the county 4-H program in many ways: training other leaders, supporting local clubs, teaching 4-H youth, coordinating 4-H programs, and serving as resource leaders.

Special recognition is given to those leaders who have contributed to the Washington County 4-H Program.

Valley Announces Preliminary 1990 Earnings

In a preliminary announcement of its 1990 net income, Valley Bancorporation today announced that full-year earnings would range between $2.40 to $2.45 per share, down from earlier estimates of $2.50 to $2.55 per share. Valley reported earnings of $2.50 per share in 1989. As in prior years, Valley will release final audited results for 1990 in late January.

Gary A. Lichtenberg, Valley's senior vice president and chief financial officer, attributed the lower than anticipated earnings to up-front costs associated with consolidating bank backroom operations into a centrally managed service corporation. Earnings for 1990 will be reduced by $.05 to $.10 per share because of these costs. Lichtenberg said, "Long-term operating efficiencies and cost-savings will be realized from this significant and strategic investment in Valley's future."

As part of Valley's market and operational reorganization which was announced in October, 1990, Valley reorganized its bank management structure into four geographical regions to enhance market and management focus and is implementing a service corporation concept where all day-to-day bank operational activities, including data processing, are being managed centrally and performed at two regional centers.

Valley Bancorporation is the third largest bank holding company headquartered in Wisconsin. Valley with assets of $3.3 billion, currently serves Wisconsin through 121 banking offices and additional financial service companies engaged in insurance, bank operational services, trust service, brokerage, and credit card servicing. The company's common stock is traded on the National Market System under the NASDAQ symbol VYEN.

Quick Refund Program Offers Quick Response

Tax time is never particularly pleasant, but it needn't be the frustrating experience that it once was. With the April 15 deadline for filing income taxes growing ever nearer, it seems appropriate to discuss some methods to insure the easiest filing possible. The Department of Revenue has made several suggestions to expedite the income tax filing system.

Perhaps the easiest and best way for taxpayers to make filing more efficient is the "Quick Refund." The "Quick Refund" is designed to get the simple returns separated from the rest and processed very quickly. Due to their more complicated nature, those returns with Homestead Credits, returns without the pre-printed mailing label, and returns filed by people with tax delinquencies or other debts to the state are not eligible for this program.

Now for the good news, those taxpayers submitting qualifying returns can receive their refund checks in as little as two weeks. Qualifying taxpayers can apply for "Quick Refund" by: filing their state tax return by April 1, 1991, using the pre-printed mailing label, completing the "Quick Refund" box at the top of the tax return, and finally, mailing the return to the special address on the tax form (Quick Refund, P.O. Box 38, Madison, WI 53787).

The Department of Revenue has also published what it calls the "Wisconsin Taxpayer Bill of Rights," in an effort to make the tax system more accessible and less confusing for all citizens. The rights enumerated in this publication include: The right to courteous treatment by Department of Revenue employees, The right to assistance from Department of Revenue with state tax forms, The right to prompt refund of overpayment, and many others.

The "Wisconsin Taxpayer Bill of Rights" and many other tax related publications are available at no cost from the Department of Revenue at (608) 266-1961.

Buettner Sponsors Property Tax Credit

(Madison) Property taxpayers would receive a direct credit from lottery proceeds on their property tax bills under a bill co-sponsored by State Senator Carol Buettner (R-Oshkosh).

"This is one of the basic forms of relief Wisconsinites have asked to see," Buettner said. "They want to know, 'Where are those lottery proceeds?'"

"Now each property taxpayer will know exactly what his or her share of the lottery proceeds is," Buettner claimed.

"While it doesn't amount to all that much per person, this is a much more visible method of distribution. Last session, the state legislature passed this money back to the local taxpayers by picking up the cost of district attorneys' salaries, increasing state aid to schools and providing money for the farm tax credit."

"The local money saved on these items was eaten up on other local costs, so there was never any tangible property tax relief experienced by the local property taxpayer," Buettner said.

"This bill will credit lottery proceeds where they were meant to be: on property tax bills," Buettner concluded.

Science Fair Held at Holy Trinity

The first all-school Science Fair at Holy Trinity was a success. Students from all eight grades participated, some individually with others in groups. The projects ranged from clouds to M & M Meltdown, and How Acid Rain Affects the Growth of Plants. The students had fun planning and constructing their project and parents and friends had fun viewing them.

The first place winner for grades 1 and 2 was Emily Rinzel and 2nd place was Paul Mertz.

In the 3rd and 4th grade division there was a tie for 1st between Ricky Lettow and the team of Chris Koth and Nick Kallmyer. In this division 2nd place also had a tie between Carol Neumann and the team of Jason Strobel, Curt Koth, Pat Bohn and Tim Bonlender.

First place for division 5-7 went to David Mertz and 2nd to the team of Jeff Heller and Tim Bunkelman.

The 7-8 grade division first place went to Anne Mertz. This division also tied for 2nd place between the team of Sarah Lettow and Chrissy Neumann and the team of Heather Amerling, Laura Fleischman and Carrie Stoffel.

The fair was great fun and we are looking forward to next year.

Catfish Offers Impeccable Taste During Lent

For those observing Lent, or just wishing to prepare a delicious meal with fish, The Catfish Institute suggests an elegant recipe that's easy to make.

"Catfish with Cabernet and Green Peppercorns" features tender fillets of Mississippi Prime farm-raised catfish in a red wine sauce, with fresh green peppercorns for a wonderful flourish.

One of the most versatile and popular sources of protein, farm-raised catfish has only 145 calories per 3.5 ounce serving. It is lower in calories and fat than equal portions of beef, lamb and pork, and compares favorably with skinless chicken. In addition, farm-raised catfish is widely distributed across the U.S., and found in many local groceries or fish markets.

Catfish With Cabernet and Green Peppercorns

- 4 Mississippi Prime farm-raised catfish fillets
- 1 cup cabernet sauvignon (or other dry red wine)
- 2 large fresh mushrooms, julienned
- 2 tablespoons shallots, finely diced
- 1 teaspoon green peppercorns, slightly crushed
- 10 tablespoons unsalted butter
- 1/2 cup flour, seasoned with salt and pepper

Saute the julienned mushrooms in 1 tablespoon butter in a saucepan over medium heat until golden brown. Add shallots, peppercorns and wine. Reduce until almost dry. Whisk in additional 7 tablespoons butter over low heat. Add salt to taste and reserve in a warm place. Heat remaining 2 tablespoons butter in skillet. Dredge fillets in seasoned flour, and saute 3-4 minutes per side until brown or flaky. Spoon circle of sauce onto each plate and top with fillet. Serves 4.

To Our Beloved Mother

Dear Mother we miss you,
As someone to talk to when a word of wisdom is needed,
For your understanding in times of trials,
Your strength in times of sickness,
Also the giving of your time and talents.

Dear Mother we miss your smile,
Your love for us and our loved ones.
And still, Mother, we are so happy for you.
For now we know you have no more pain.
Nothing on earth can hurt you.
No words, no trials, no sickness, no sorrows.
Till we see you again in Paradise, Mother.

With all of our love,
Your family

A change in the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) law effective January 1, 1991, will allow more working disabled people to qualify for SSI checks. The cost of work expenses related to their impairment can be excluded when determining their income for SSI purposes.

Some examples of work expenses that may be excluded are a wheelchair, attendant care services, braille devices, prescription drugs, and medical services and supplies. The individual must pay these expenses himself for them to be excluded — they can't be excluded if they are covered by insurance or paid by another third party.

SSI is a Federal program administered by Social Security. It provides monthly payments to people who are blind, or 65 or older, or have a disability and who have little or no resources and income. In addition to a monthly payment, people who get SSI in Wisconsin are also eligible for Medical Assistance. Now that the cost of work expenses are being excluded from their income, people with a disability may qualify with higher income.

People can apply for SSI or get more information about it from Social Security by calling 1-800-234-5SSA (1-800-234-5772).

Cholesterol screening and blood pressure measurement will be offered to West Bend area residents by the Community Health Nursing Service Cardiovascular Risk Reduction Program. Screening tests will be available once a month at the Washington County Court House, 432 E. Washington.

Screening schedule: Feb. 28th beginning at 9:30 a.m. in room 243, (main level of the court house).

Blood Pressure and Cholesterol screenings will be done BY APPOINTMENT

ONLY. Cholesterol screening will be done for a charge of $5.00.

To schedule an appointment for cholesterol and/or blood pressure screening, call 335-4707 or 644-5204 or 342-2929 (toll free, ext. 4707).

Income Tax and Homestead Returns Prepared Free

Under the AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) volunteer program, your federal and Wisconsin income tax returns will be prepared for you, free of charge.

This same AARP volunteer program, also, will prepare your Wisconsin homestead credit return.

Many citizens are not required to file a federal or state return, but by filing a Wisconsin homestead credit return, are able to receive a refund check for a portion of the real estate taxes they have paid, or rents they have paid on a unit that has the heat furnished or does not have the heat furnished...if your household income is under $19,154.00 you could very easily qualify for a refund check...

The AARP volunteer is at the Campbellsport Community Center every Wednesday between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. to assist thru 4/15/91.

If you are unable to come to the Campbellsport Community Center, the AARP volunteer will come to your home after 3:30 on Wednesday...this is to accommodate shut-ins.

If you would like more information or to make an appointment, please call 533-8711 or come to the community center at 163 East Main St. on Wednesdays. (Phone 533-8342).

When coming to have your returns prepared, please bring documentation of all income (W-2's, 1099's, pension plan income, etc.) Also, please bring a copy of your last years returns, if possible...

1990 Outstanding Conservation Farmers Named

The Kewaskum Kiwanis have named DuWayne and Leroy Schulz and Kevin Thull as their 1990 Outstanding Conservation farmers. The award was established in 1958 to recognize the soil conservation efforts of farm families living within the Kewaskum school district.

The award is presented as a part of the Kiwanis annual farm city meeting and to date 64 farmers have been recognized for their conservation efforts. This year marks the first time that second generation operators are being selected. The Schulz's parents Allen and Patricia, received the award in 1977. Kevin's family, Norbert and Marylin Thull, were the 1981 Outstanding Conservation Farmers.

DuWayne and LeRoy Schulz

Annual Rabies Clinic March 11

The Washington County Humane Society will hold its annual Rabies Clinic on March 11, 1991, from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m., and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Dr. Gregory Ogi of the Kewaskum/-Allenton Veterinary Clinic will be the attending Veterinarian. The cost per shot is $5.00 per animal.

Due to an increased interest in animal identification, we will also be offering leg and ear tattooing. Leg tattooing will be done from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. and ear tattooing will be done from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. The cost of the tattooing is $7.00 per animal.

Wisconsin State law states that you must have your dog licensed by April 1 of each year. In order to buy a license, you must have proof of a current Rabies vaccination. Assembly Bill No. 751, which was signed into law by the Governor of Wisconsin on May 17, 1980, requires that all dogs in the State of Wisconsin be vaccinated against rabies. The Bill states that all dogs over 5 months of age have a current Rabies vaccination. Cats should also be given the Rabies serum. The vaccination is good for 3 years on cats and dogs. Animals under 1 year must be revaccinated within 1 year.

There is no appointment necessary. Animals will be given their shots on a "first-come, first-served" basis. If you wish further information, feel free to call The Washington County Humane Society between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. daily at 677-4388.

base their farm operations in Section 21 of Wayne township where they are actively involved in the operation of the family farm. In addition DuWayne and LeRoy recently have expanded on their own by purchasing a farm just East of St. Killian which they have converted into a 180 head Holstein beef operation. Immediately after purchasing the farm the Schulz's established 30 acres of contour strips on a hill that previously had been badly abused by renters.

In addition to crop rotations and strip cropping, the Schulz's use conservation tillage to complete their erosion control system. DuWayne and LeRoy use a combination of no-till and chisel plowing to control soil loss on all of the 550 acres of cropland that they manage.

To enhance their tillage program the Schulz's have adopted a cultivation system to control weeds and apply side dressed Nitrogen that is capable of operation in fields with heavy crop residues. This cultivation system relies less on herbicides for weed control and reduces the amount of Nitrogen applied by efficiently placing fertilizer.

Kevin Thull operates a 210 acre dairy operation in Farmington township. He currently milks 35 cows and has 65 young stock as replacements. Kevin has effectively controlled soil erosion on all the land he operates using crop rotations and field strips.

A unique aspect for the Thull farm is that since 1967 no chemical fertilizers or pesticides have been used for crop production. Kevin uses animal manures as fertilizers and a combination of crop rotations and cultivation to control weeds and insects. In addition Kevin raises some beef and pork "naturally" using no drugs or chemical growth supplements.

This idea of alternative or sustainable agriculture is becoming popular but has been in effect on Thull's farm 24 years. Last July, Kevin held a field day on his farm to share his experiences using sustainable agriculture. Over 300 people from four states attended.

Finally, Kevin agreed to be a demonstration project for the Milwaukee River Watershed. He installed a barnyard runoff control system and a manure storage structure to keep manure out of a nearby drainage way.

DuWayne, Kevin and LeRoy have been recognized for their commitment to practicing soil and water conservation on their farms and for their willingness to share what they have learned with others. Their efforts benefit all of us by protecting the productivity of the land and keeping our lakes and streams free of excessive sediment and nutrients.

Living Mulches Can Reduce Herbicide Use in the Garden

"Living" mulches can enable home and market gardeners to control weeds with less herbicide and fewer cultivations, says University of Wisconsin-Madison horticultural researcher Astrid Newenhouse.

Living mulches are grasses, legumes or small grains that are grown between garden rows to suppress weeds. Because many gardeners traditionally have kept the ground between their rows clean, Newenhouse says that living mulch in the garden requires a new way of thinking: that bare ground is not necessarily good.

Living mulch is a management tool to solve problems with pesticide use, soil erosion and weed control," says Newenhouse.

Some possibilities for mulches include annual and perennial ryegrass, chewing and hard fescue, field brome, white clover and small grains such as rye or oats.

Choose different mulches depending on your needs, advises Newenhouse. A legume will add nitrogen and improve the fertility of poor soils. Match the mulch with the type of crop grown, she adds. For example, a perennial crop such as strawberries or asparagus requires a perennial mulch such as perennial ryegrass.

Fall seeding is the best time to establish mulches. This helps insure that the mulch will grow enough to compete with the first weed flush in June. This can be a problem with spring planting, says Newenhouse. If you have to plant your mulch in spring, winter rye is a good choice because it won't develop seeds under normal growing conditions.

To seed small gardens, you can use a drop seeder or walk-behind fertilizer spreader. A grass seeder or grain drill is more practical for large gardens. Use the correct seeding rate so your mulch will be dense enough to compete with the weeds.

You can seed the mulch in strips, leaving rows for the crops. Or you can seed the entire garden and then cultivate or use a herbicide to clear a row for the crop. The second method requires completely removing the mulch from the row to avoid competition with the crop, says Newenhouse.

During the growing season mow the mulch two to three times to prevent it from forming seeds. If the mulch is perennial, mow it before September. This allows the plant to build up food reserves for the winter. Allowing the mulch to grow at the end of the season also provides supplemental cover for overwintering plants such as strawberries, reducing the need for straw.

While you can suppress a living mulch with a herbicide, Newenhouse prefers that home gardeners avoid this method because preventing herbicide drift in a small garden is tricky, and gardeners usually apply more herbicide than is needed.

Gardens with living mulches will require more fertilizer and water because the mulch competes for soil nutrients. By applying fertilizer in bands, you avoid fertilizing the mulch, says Newenhouse, who adds that you want the mulch to compete with the weeds, but not with your crops.

Living mulches provide other advantages to the garden. They add humus to the soil and improve water percolation in the soil. They also provide wind protection for crops such as flowers, strawberries and asparagus, and make the garden accessible in wet conditions by allowing a place to walk between rows.

Newenhouse, UW-Madison horticulturist Helen Harrison and graduate student Laura Paine are studying ways to reduce pesticide use by substituting living mulches, plastic mulches and polyethylene row covers. They are also looking at new speciality crops for the home and market gardener.

1990 Final Crop Estimates Show Record Breaking Year

Production of major crops grown in Wisconsin and the United States increased in 1990 according to Wisconsin Agricultural Statistics Service Statistician Heidi Furseth. In most cases, an increase in harvested acreage as well as higher yields accounted for production increases.

Wisconsin's corn for grain crop produced yields that tied the record level of 118 bushels per acre. The final estimate of corn for grain production was set at 354.0 million bushels, up 14% from 1989. Corn harvested for silage showed increased yields, but due to the decrease in acreage, production was off 6 percent.

Nationally, corn for grain production was estimated at 7.93 billion bushels, up 5 percent from 1989. The yield, at 118.5 bushels per acre, was 1.3 bushels below the record set in 1987.

Wisconsin's soybean crop set record yields. The average yield of 41.0 bushels per acre was 4 bushels above the 1989 level.

The higher yield and a 5 percent increase in harvested acreage resulted in a record production level. Production, at 17.6 million bushels, broke the previous record of 15.2 million bushels set in 1989.

Soybean production for the U.S., at 1.92 billion bushels, was virtually unchanged from the previous season; the average yield of 34.0 bushels per acre is the second highest on record.

Wisconsin farmers also produced more hay during 1990. Total dry hay production reached 9.1 million tons with an average yield of 2.68 tons per acre. When looking at alfalfa hay only, production increased 18 percent over last year with an average yield of 2.80 tons per acre.

Production levels and yields are representative of acreage taken for dry, baled hay only. Wisconsin's total hay production, including haylage, will be published by counties in the "Agricultural Statistics"

Chilton Barley Available For 1991 Spring Planting

Chilton, a high yielding feed barley, will be available to farmers for spring planting in 1991.

Chilton is a six-rowed, early maturing barley that has produced high yields and quality grain at University of Wisconsin-Madison trials from 1985-90. Chilton had the highest test weight and crude protein (CP) of all barley varieties tested. It averaged 46.6 pounds per bushel and 14.3 percent CP during the trials. Chilton also yielded 60.2 bushels per acre.

Chilton barley has performed particularly well under high fertility rates in tests by UW-Madison agronomist Ed Oplinger. The 1989 Foundation Seed production field near Arlington produced 87 bushels per acre with a 50 pound per bushel test.

The barley has good lodging and disease resistance. It is not a malting barley. UW-Madison plant breeders Robert Forsberg and Marshall Brinkman developed Chilton from two unreleased test selections and Morex barley.

bulletin in July, 1991. National production of all dry hay is estimated at 147 million tons, up 1 percent from 1989. The increase is a result of higher yields, which were partially offset by reduced acreage. Alfalfa production increased 8 percent from last year.

Proposed Atrazine Rule Will Alter Weed Control Practices

A proposed rule limiting atrazine use in Wisconsin will force farmers who use the herbicide to change their weed control practices.

University of Wisconsin - Madison weed scientist Ron Doersch, says atrazine has been detected in a number of Wisconsin drinking wells, leading the state to regulate use of the herbicide in 1991. The Wisconsin legislature is currently debating whether to pass or even toughen the proposed rule (Wisconsin Ag 30).

Under Wisconsin Ag. 30, growers with medium or fine-textured soils can apply a maximum of two pounds of atrazine per acre if they didn't use atrazine the previous year, and one-and-one-half pounds per acre if the herbicide was applied in 1990. Growers on sandy soils may apply only one pound per acre if they used atrazine last year and up to one-and-one-half pounds per acre if they didn't apply it in 1990. Previously, growers could apply up to four pounds of atrazine per acre.

Herbicide containing atrazine - as Bicep, Lariat and Sutazine - are also affected by the proposed rule. But because these products contain less atrazine, fewer limits are placed on their use.

Wisconsin Ag 30 also allows the state to set atrazine management areas where especially high levels of the herbicide have been found or where there is potential for ground water contamination. The Lower Wisconsin River valley is the first such atrazine management area in the state. That region's sandy soil combined with a shallow water table and atrazine's persistence in the environment have led to a high number of contaminated wells there.

In 1991, growers in the Lower Wisconsin River valley can apply a maximum of three-quarters of a pound of the herbicide per acre. Growers also cannot irrigate for two years after atrazine is applied. The proposed rule continues a ban on atrazine in some areas of the valley where the herbicide exceeds the enforcement standard of three-point-five parts per billion in the groundwater.

Doersch says Wisconsin Ag 30 is fair because it regulates atrazine in specific problem areas and not on a county-wide basis, unless warranted. He adds that many growers are prepared to reduce or eliminate their atrazine use.

There are a number of chemical and non-chemical alternatives to atrazine. Doersch notes, however, that other herbicides may cost more, lead to greater corn injury, and provide less broad-spectrum weed control. Growers should also expect changes in the weed make-up of their fields when reducing atrazine use.

Doersch recommends that growers take a hard look at weed control to determine what changes they can make to use less atrazine. Some growers may want to "spike" non-atrazine herbicides with a rate of atrazine that falls within the range allowed by the proposed rule. For example, if growers normally tank mix Lasso and atrazine they could switch to a Lasso and Bladex mix and add atrazine. Adding atrazine will require less Bladex be used. Another option is to apply only Lasso at planting, and follow with an early post-emergence application such as Buctril and atrazine to control broadleaf weeds.

Growers also could reduce atrazine rates by rotary hoeing and cultivation. Timing the tillage is important, especially when using lower herbicide rates. If no rain falls within seven to 10 days after planting, Doersch advises growers to rotary hoe immediately to kill emerging weeds. If there is sufficient rain, a single cultivation 30 to 50 days after planting should provide adequate weed control.

In the past, many growers have applied atrazine plus crop oil concentrate postemergent to kill problem weeds such as quack grass and yellow nutsedge which escaped earlier treatment. These weeds may be more difficult to control at atrazine rates of less than 2 pounds per acre. Postemergent herbicides such as Accent and Beacon can control some of these weeds, although at a much higher cost. Doersch warns that growers who apply an herbicide in a band will not be able to increase their atrazine rate. For example, a grower whose soil type and past atrazine use allows only a maximum of one pound of atrazine per acre cannot use two pounds per acre in a 15-inch band on a 30-inch row spacing. Other provisions in Wisconsin Ag 30 state that atrazine can no longer be applied in the fall or through irrigation systems. Atrazine can be applied only between April 15 and July 31. Because atrazine is now classified as restricted use, all applicators who apply the herbicide must be certified.

Lower Milk Prices May Force Out 3 Percent of State's Dairy Farms

A close look at financial records of Wisconsin dairy farms suggests that while many will have to skimp and cut corners, relatively few will be forced out of business in the short run by the recent plunge in farm milk prices.

University of Wisconsin - Madison agricultural economists examined detailed financial records of 362 farms, and found that 7 percent face the double-whammy of high debt (they owe more than $7 for every $10 in assets) and cash expenses that exceed cash receipts.

About half of these potentially vulnerable farms have enough off-farm income to make up the cash shortfall. The rest - about 3 percent of all farms - could fail in the short run because of heavy debt and cash expenses that will exceed their income from both farm and off-farm sources.

But many others may decide to leave voluntarily because of reduced profits, the economists add. On an "average" Wisconsin farm - 48 cows each producing 14,000 pounds of milk annually - a $3 per hundredweight drop in milk price translates to a $20,000 drop in gross sales, the economists note in their annual "Status of Wisconsin Farming" report.

The anticipated drop in gross income makes other options - other farm enterprises, off-farm work or retirement - more attractive, notes Bruce Jones, a farm finance specialist.

"Those that are able to maintain cash flow in the coming year should be able to get by without borrowing more. They should be able to survive in the long run," he says.

If off-farm income isn't counted, about 30 percent of the farms analyzed have a negative cash flow, but most of those can get by because they have low or moderate debt loads, Jones reasons. If prices stayed low and those farmers couldn't reduce costs or sell assets to pay off debt, eventually lenders would refuse to extend credit.

"But they won't sit back and do nothing," he says. "They'll find ways to cut back until prices rise. For example, maybe they'd use less fertilizer for a year or two, and get by with the nutrient reserves in their soil."

The farm records analyzed come from the St. Paul Farm Credit Services. Compared to the state average, these farms had somewhat larger herds, higher milk production, more tillable acres and higher debt levels.

New Board Members Elected to WMC

Seven members were elected to the Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce Board of Directors at WMC's annual business meeting held January 22 in Madison. Art Nesbitt, President and Chief Executive Officer of Nasco International, Inc., serving as Chairman of WMC's Board of Directors, welcomed the following new members: Thomas Boldt, President, The Boldt Group, Inc., Appleton; Phil Gelatt, President, Northern Engraving Corporation, Sparta; Bernard Kubale, Chief Executive Officer of Foley & Lardner, Milwaukee; Nan Nelson, Executive Vice President, Green Bay Area Chamber of Commerce; Robert Stamstad, President, Suratco Products Company, Poynette; John Torinus, Chairman/Chief Executive Officer, Serigraph Inc., West Bend; Steven Van Dyke, Chairman/Chief Executive Officer, Foth & Van Dyke, Green Bay.

As Wisconsin's largest statewide business association, WMC represents Wisconsin businesses and local chambers of commerce and educational institutions. Wisconsin Manufacturers & Commerce, a unification of the Manufacturers Association and the State Chamber of Commerce, has been involved in efforts to promote Wisconsin businesses since 1911. The Wisconsin Council of Safety is also a division of the Association.

In Zablocki's match, Sabish was behind until the last period, 13-2, when he came from behind to tie the score 17-17 to wrestle in overtime. With time permitting, Sabish most likely would have defeated Zablocki, however, a lack of attention from the timekeepers failed to start the clock. Timeout led to a decision to take away ten seconds from the match.

Wrestling in overtime, Sabish couldn't grasp the lead from Zablocki. Sabish lost 21-23 which put him in the position to take third place and a possible wrestleback for second, which would have entitled him a berth to the state tournament. However, Sabish's hopes were diminished as he lost 2-8 to Elkhorn's Gerry Walter putting him in fourth place.

Kapp, Dziedzic and Todd Muckerheide failed to gain victory in the first match. Junior Kevin Kapp was defeated 2-0 by Thad Keehan of Wilmont, while sophomore Mark Dziedzic was pinned by Whitewater's Chris Bollerud. Todd Muckerheide was also pinned by Jeff Delange of Elkhorn.

The team championship was captured by Random Lake for the second consecutive year with 96.5. Whitewater placed second with 79 and Elkhorn third with 65. Kewaskum tied for ninth place with Campbellsport having 29 points.

Straub Takes Second At Wheaton Tourney

Several members of the University of Wisconsin Whitewater wrestling team traveled to Wheaton, Illinois the weekend of February 8th and 9th to compete in the 54th Annual Wheaton Invitational. Former Kewaskum wrestler Rich Straub captured second place at the 134 pound weight division.

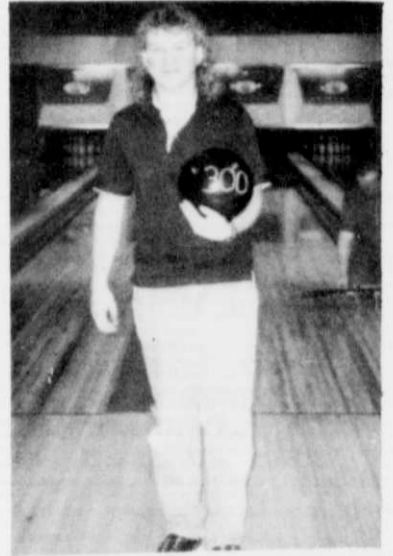

Seeded third in a nineteen man weight class, Straub opened the tournament with a pin in 4:07 over Chuck Schmidt of Mount Union College, (Ohio). He then pinned sixth seeded Mike McGuire of Wabash College, (Indiana), in 1:29.

The semifinals pitted him against the number two seeded Bryan Smith of Macmurray College, (Illinois), where Straub won 7-4 before dropping a 6-1 decision in the finals to Dennis Duchene of the University of Wisconsin Parkside. Duchene finished second in the nation last year at the Division II National Tournament.

Straub, who recently dropped down to the 134 pound weight class after wrestling most of the season at 142, has compiled a record of 10-3 since he moved down. His overall record now stands at 30-11 on the season with 11 pins. Rob Schmidt also finished second for the Warhawks at the 142 pound weight class while Luke Francois was sixth at 158 pounds.

Miller, Jacquat Lead Plymouth Past Indians

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — While the Kewaskum boys basketball team hasn't put together a glossy win-loss record, the Indians definitely cannot be blamed for giving up when they get behind in a ballgame.

Once again, the Indians made a nice comeback bid, but eventually fell a bit short in their 80-74 loss at the hands of Plymouth here, last Tuesday night.

After using Joel Fleischman's three-pointer late in the game to beat the Panthers 70-69 in the two teams' initial meeting earlier this season, the Indians were looking to come up with a sweep in the season series, a feat never accomplished before against the perennial-powerful Panther team.

The duo of Gabe Miller and Chris Jacquat made sure that it wouldn't happen this year, either.

After nailing 33 points in the Jan. 4th game against the Indians, Miller came up with 36 in the rematch to lead the Panthers. Jacquat was the big difference for the visitors, though, as he scored 24 points Tuesday to provide Plymouth with a deadly 1-2 punch.

Despite those two, the Indians were able to stay close to the Panthers in the first half. Kewaskum trailed by just one (20-19) after one quarter of play, and still were behind by only six, at 41-35, at the intermission.

Plymouth started to pull away in the third quarter however, and heading into the final period, the Indians found themselves down by 11 points, 61-50.

But as has been the case all year, the Indians didn't fold up their tents. Instead, Fleischman, along with senior Mark Felix, started the Indians on a flurry that pulled the Indians to within three, at 72-69 late in the fourth.

The Indians proceeded to miss a pair of free throws, however, and Plymouth answered with a score to make it 74-69 in the visitors' favor.

Indian junior Chad Cook came up with a big three-pointer to cut the lead to just two (74-72) with under two minutes to play, but all the offense the Indians could manage after that was a layup by Kim Marx.

The free throw shooting turned out to be a big factor in the ballgame, as the Indians got to the line just 16 times in the game, compared to Plymouth's 29 tries. The Panthers outscored the Indians 22-10 from the line.

The two teams combined to hit exactly 50 percent from the field in the contest, as Plymouth shot a sizzling 56 percent (28 of 50), while they Indians hit at a 45 percent clip (31 of 68).

Felix would up leading the Indians with 19 points, while Fleischman hit for 17. Matt Seiser also played well, as he had the tough task of guarding Miller, but still managed to pump in 15 points on the offensive end before fouling out of the game.

Indians Down Falcons with FTs

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — After starting off the season on fire at the free throw line, the Kewaskum boys basketball team has struggled from the line in recent outings.

But the Indians showed their early-season form once again Friday night, as they hit on 84 percent of their tries from the charity stripe, leading them to a 63-55 win over Sheboygan Falls.

Kewaskum connected on all 21 of their free throw tries in a loss to Chilton earlier in the year, but had been hitting at less than a 70 percent clip in their last few games.

But the Indians came up with a stellar effort against the Falcons, making 21 of 25 shots in the game, compared to Sheboygan Falls' eight-of-14 effort.

The Indians needed just about every one of their free throws, as well, seeing as how the Falcons battled back from as much as eight points down to tie the game at 51-all midway through the final period.

But the Indians got the better of things down the stretch, as they upped their mark in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference to 3-9, the same as Falls.

The Indians got off to a good start, as Joel Fleischman and Mark Felix did their usual things in combining for 10 of the Indians 12 points in the opening quarter. Kewaskum jumped out to an early 12-4 lead, but then watched as the Falcons battled back to cut the lead to just two, at 12-10.

The Indians extended their lead to six points midway through the second frame, as Fleischman hit a pair of jumpers to put the Indians out in front. At halftime, the Indians held the same six-point cushion, at 32-27.

The two teams turned up the defense a bit in the third period, as each team was able to hit for just 13 points, and the spread remained six (46-40), heading into the final stanza.

The Indians scored first in the final period on a short jumper by Matt Seiser to make it 48-40, but Falls scored the next six points, going on a 11-3 run overall, to pull even at 51. But the Indians defense stiffened down the stretch, and made their free throws to hold on for the win, never trailing in the contest.

Fleischman ended up with a game-high 19 points, while Seiser did a nice job in the game, connected for a season-high 17 points. Felix wound up with 12, and the Indians also got strong games from their backcourt duo of Kim Marx and Chad Cook, who tallied seven and six points, respectively.

Paul VanEngen led the Falcons with 14 points, while Tom Kuplic was next high with 13.

UWWC Men End Season With Pair of Losses to UW-FDL

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — The UWWC men's basketball team capped off a disappointing season, as the Wildcats dropped a pair of contests to UW-Fond du Lac, the second of which took place in the state playoffs, thus eliminating UWWC from post-season play.

In last Monday's regular season finale, the Wildcats gave up a pair of three-point baskets late in the game, as the visitors came away with a 63-58 win.

With the score tied at 52-all, with under two minutes to play, the Centaurs Chris Williams, one of the state's leading scorers, got hot. Williams came into the game averaging over 21 points a game in conference, and up until that point, UWWC had held him to just 10 points.

But Williams somehow was left wide open for a pair of three-pointers to give the Centaurs a lead which they would never give up. Williams also added a three-point play late in the game to finish with 19 points.

Terry Howell did his best to keep the Wildcats in the contest, as he scored 13 of his 17 points in the second half. Howell also was a force on the boards, as he pulled down 20 rebounds to lead both teams.

The Wildcats managed to take an early lead in the game, despite being down 4-0 before they even took the floor. UWWC was assessed two technical fouls before the game started, as some players' numbers were incorrectly written in the scorebook. Williams made all four charity tosses.

But UWWC battled back to take a 10-6 lead, and then extended that lead to 21-13, before the Centaurs made a 16-5 run that put them up 29-26. The two squads battled each other evenly in the second half, as neither team could take control of the game until Williams' late flurry.

Karl Klosowski shared UWWC scoring honors with Howell, as he also hit for 17 points, while Jay Leberecht also reached double figures with 10. Leberecht added seven blocked shots, and Howell also added four 'Patriots,' the new Wildcat handle for blocked shots.

The two teams got together for a rematch Saturday night, but the result was the same, a UWWC loss. A 14-4 run early in the second half helped UW-FDL take control, and go on to post a 72-52 decision over the Wildcats. UWWC finished with a 2-21 record.

UWWC fell behind early as they had trouble finding the mark from the field. But Howell and Klosowski played a two-man offense towards the end of the first half, to pull the Wildcats to within six, at 33-27, at halftime.

The Wildcats came out and scored the game's first two baskets of the second half, to pull within 33-31, but then went cold from the field, as they watched UW-FDL take a 47-35 advantage.

Shooting was a problem the entire night for the Wildcats, as they connected on just 36 percent of their tries for the game, including just 30 percent in the decisive second half.

Klosowski led UWWC with 20 points, while Howell and Leberecht chipped in with 10 and 11, respectively. Williams led four Centaurs in double figures, as he tallied 20 points.

Wildcat Women Drop 2 Games

WAUKESHA — The UWWC women's basketball team ended their regular season on a down note, as they dropped a pair of games to UW-Waukesha and Madison Tech, while also losing leading scorer Jenny Meyer for an unknown period of time.

Meyer sprained her ankle just minutes into the Wildcats contest with Waukesha, and UWWC was never able to recover, losing 68-66. Meyer played sparingly in the Cats' 68-37 loss at Madison on Friday, and UWWC coach Tom Brigham noted that her status for the Wildcats' opening round playoff game against UW-Marshfield was still unknown.

After wrapping up the conference title just two days earlier, the Wildcats may have suffered a letdown for their game against Waukesha, as they struggled throughout. Still, UWWC held a one-point lead at halftime.

But due to Meyer's injury, as well as their ever-apparent foul problems, the Wildcats had just four players on the court with under two minutes to play, and they couldn't make up the difference.

Rocky Justman played an inspired game, scoring a season-high 27 points, as well as grabbing a team-high seven rebounds, and coming up with three steals and two assists. Next high for UWWC after Justman was Julie Best, who score 12.

Poor shooting was a big key in the loss, as UWWC hit on just 30 percent of their field goal tries, compared to the hosts' 48 percent.

The poor shooting continued on Friday night, as the Wildcats connected on less than 30 percent of their shots in the 68-37 loss at Madison.

"It was just one of those games," UWWC coach Tom Brigham reported afterwards. "We had lots of turnovers... we weren't rebounding. We were just really flat."

It didn't help to have both Meyer and Justman not at full strength for the game, either. Meyer was out with her injury, while Justman was a bit under the weather, according to Brigham.

The two combined for just nine points in the game, after averaging more than 34 collectively during the season. "When you have two starters in the position," Brigham noted, "It really hurt us."

Jenny Jankowski led the Wildcats with 12 points, while Best chipped in 10. Heidi Wagner played a solid game, according to Brigham, scoring nine points and pulling down 10 rebounds.

The number of players contributing also told the tale. Madison Tech suited up 12 players for the game, all of whom scored. The Wildcats, meanwhile had just seven players make the trip, six of which had suffered various ankle injuries this season. So it's no wonder that Brigham is

UWWC Women Win Conference

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — The UWWC women's basketball team had their backs up against the wall in their showdown with UW-Fond du Lac here, last Monday night. But in the end, the Wildcats reigned as champs once again.

It was a battle of the number one and number two junior college teams in the state, and when all was said and done, the Wildcats remained the best in the state with a 73-66 win over the Centaurs. The win helped UWWC clinch the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference Eastern Division championship.

According to coach Tom Brigham, the key to the victory wasn't particularly hard to find.

"Our free throw shooting down the stretch was the key to the win," said the UWWC boss. "We made some big shots down the stretch."

In all, the Wildcats connected on 15 of 19 free throws in the second half, many coming in the final three minutes, when UW-FDL was forced to foul in order to try and catch up.

Things didn't look very bright for UWWC midway through the second half, though. With just over eight minutes to play, UW-FDL's Kelly O'Brien scored on a short jumper to give the Centaurs a 45-43 lead.

To make things worse, UWWC was in some severe foul trouble. The Wildcats' leading scorer of the year, Jenny Meyer, picked up her fifth personal foul soon after, and UWWC already had two other starters on the bench with four fouls apiece.

"We weren't moving our feet on defense in the first half," Brigham said, regarding his team's foul problems. "We were doing a lot of reaching and picking up some silly fouls."

But the Cats free throw shooting down the stretch helped them to regain the lead, and eventually the victory, as UWWC moved to 16-3 on the year, including 9-1 in the conference.

Balanced scoring was also a key to the Wildcats' success, as they had five players reach double figures, led by Rocky Justman and Heidi Wagner, who each scored 15.

Julie Best and Wagner led the team on the boards as they snared 13 and 12 rebounds, respectively, while Jenni Jankowski was clutch down the stretch, hitting five of her six free throws attempts.

concerned with their health.

"We're just going to have to take it one day at a time," he said. "It's just a matter of getting to the task at hand."

That task started on Tuesday, as UWWC hosted UW-Manitowoc in the opening round of the state playoffs. Brigham hopes the road ends back in Madison, where the state semifinals and finals will be held this weekend.

Indian Girls Upend Huskies In Regular Season Finale

By Statesman Sports Writer

NEW HOLSTEIN — After struggling from the free throw line and scoring-wise all season long, the Kewaskum girls basketball team finally put the two together to come up with a big victory in their regular-season finale.

"It was kind of a pleasant surprise," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the point total. "We played with more confidence and ease. Without a doubt, it was our best performance of the year."

The win helped the Indians gain some momentum heading into the start of the WIAA State playoffs. The Indians, who finished 3-9 in the Eastern Wisconsin, good for sixth place, opened regional action at Campbellsport on Tuesday night.

The Indians got off to a good start against the Huskies this time around, as they were able to hold a slim 21-19 halftime lead. The Indians never trailed in the contest, as they held control of the ballgame throughout.

New Holstein did pull into a tie at 21 early in the second half, but the Indians quickly went back out in front and never surrendered the lead.

"We played very steady, within ourselves...did the things we're capable of doing," Eichstedt went on to say. One of those things was hitting free throws.

In all, the Indians hit 23 of their 31 free throw shots, good for 76 percent, while New Holstein, on the other hand, struggled, missing 23 of their attempts.

"They certainly had their chances," Eichstedt said of the Huskies woes at the line. "Usually it's the other way around." Noting that his team never gave up the lead, he said "It's a lot easier to shoot (free throws) when you're ahead. It takes a lot of the pressure off of you."

Nicole Doherty continued her good play, as she canned 15 points to lead the Indians. That offset a 14-point effort by the Huskies' Ann Lautenslaeger, who entered the game as one of the EW's leading scorers.

"She did a steady, consistent job," Eichstedt said of Doherty, who also pulled down 14 rebounds in the game. "We had a lot of people contributing."

Among those cited by Eichstedt was Brenda Falk, who saw extended playing time returning from injuries which have sidelined her most of the year. Carrie Krause scored nine points, which "is a high mark for her this year," according to Eichstedt. "She's really starting to come on."

Also putting forth one of her best performances of the season was Kelly Rohlinger, who, although she had just nine points, contributed "five or six steals," according to the Indians boss.

The win helped the Indians finish the regular season with a 6-14 overall mark.

Indian Gymnasts Score Well Against Manitowoc

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Despite having just two individuals place in the top three, the Kewaskum gymnastics team fared quite well against Manitowoc in its annual Parent's Night meet, as Stephanie Reindl highlighted the night by setting a school record on the balance beam.

The Indians had a number of fourth-through-sixth places, in coming up with one of their highest point totals of the year, but still came up on the short end of a 101-91.3 score to the powerful Ships.

Reindl made sure that the evening was not a total loss, though, as she tallied a 8.3 mark on the beam to better the school record that she set last season by .1 of a point.

The only other Indians to break into the top three places was Wendy Fiderler, whose 8.05 in the floor exercise was good enough for third, and helped her finish in the same spot in the all-around competition, in which she averaged a 7.0 score.

Reindl had a good night overall, as she also added a sixth place finish in the floor exercise, scoring a 7.05. The floor competition ranked as one of the Indians' best in the meet, as Ingrid Ankerson also placed in the event, capturing fifth with a 7.7 mark.

Ankerson added a fourth place on the beam, as she scored a 7.5 in that event.

Fiderler finished fourth in the vaulting competition, coming up with a 7.5 score, while sophomore Rachele Krahn also placed in the event, taking home a sixth with a 7.3 tally.

Fiderler kept rolling along, as she also came up with a fifth on the uneven parallel bars, scoring a 6.2, while Jessica Rohrer added a 5.6 on the bars to take sixth place.

EXPLORE HIGH SCHOOL AGRICULTURE

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

By Tim Herman

The FFA is a national organization that is in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

The letters FFA no longer stand for Future

Farmers of America. This was changed to stand just for FFA at the 61st National FFA Convention two years. The words on the FFA emblem were also changed from Vocational Agriculture to Agricultural Education.

The FFA is not by any means trying to get rid of the farming image, it is just trying to get more non-farm kids involved in the FFA. There are many agriculture related jobs not associated with farming like being a salesman for machinery of feeds, hauling milk, and working at a butcher shop.

In FFA you learn great leadership skills and responsibility. You can choose to be actively involved or you can be moderately involved. It's all up to you. For people to get involved, they can get involved in judging, Fruit and Cheese Sale, attend monthly meetings, apply for awards either Chapter, State or National. You can also show at County and State Fairs.

What you make out of FFA is what you will get out of FFA!

STATE CONVENTION. On June 10, Ricky Kreif, John Hupfer and Tim Herman were delegates at Green Lake, and Jenny Degnitz was in the State FFA Chorus. We received awards for Boac, National Chapter, and Safety. The guys sat in three sessions each day. At the beginning of each session the State FFA Chorus and Band performed for them. We arrived back in Kewaskum on June 14 in the afternoon.

On November 7, 1990, Becky Reysen, Rick Kreif, Jeff Steinert, and Jenny Degnitz left Kewaskum to go to Kansas City, Missouri. On the way down we stopped at the John Deere plant in Iowa and toured it. We arrived in Kansas City at 9 p.m. that day. On Nov. 8, we sat in sessions all day and listened to speakers. Nov. 9 we sat in sessions and went to the rodeo. Nov. 10 we sat in the closing ceremonies and then headed for home. We arrived back in Kewaskum at 4 a.m. on Nov. 11.

RABIES CLINIC — In April of every year the sound of 150 dogs and cats can be heard in the school parking lot, as they anxiously await their yearly vaccination shot. VARIETY OF ACTIVITIES KEEP FFA'ers INVOLVED

The FFA Fruit Sale was another huge success with members selling over 1250 cases of fruit. Money from this project is used to fund various FFA activities and community development projects. Pictured above are a few FFA members sorting through the piles of fruit before they are delivered.
