Principal Resigns from Holy Trinity to Pursue Goals

Sister Phyllis Wirtz

"I think of myself as an ordinary person," remarks Sister Phyllis Wirtz, although there are many who would disagree with her.

For the past seven years, Sister Phyllis has been a constant source of light at Holy Trinity Catholic School in Kewaskum, and now parents, teachers and children face the task of passing on the torch as she relinquishes her position as principal at the end of the school term.

A believer in "progress," Sister Phyllis became Holy Trinity's first full-time principal in 1984 after leaving St. Mary's in Hales Corners, which enrolled 420 students as compared to Holy Trinity's 160. "I thought I was coming here for 'R and R'... you know, a smaller school, slower pace and less demand," laughs Wirtz. "Was I in for a surprise! A little school is the same as a big one, only with more opportunities for contact with families, instead of committees."

At that time, the school lacked essentials such as an art and phy ed program, science for the upper grades, and computers. Through the years, she has hired a science, art, and phy ed teacher, set up a computer program, created self-contained classrooms, initiated a Student-At-Risk Program, and began Forensics and Odyssey of the Mind teams.

"We needed to increase our credibility as a school," states Sister Phyllis. "Even though we're a small school, it doesn't mean we can't provide as well as the large schools can." And to prove her point, Holy Trinity recently won the 1991 State Champion Physical Fitness Award.

The school itself is 110 years old, and the enrollment includes students from St. Michaels, St. Kilian and St. Bridget parishes. Volunteerism is the glue that holds everything together, and helps fill the gaps between teacher's time and student's needs. Parent involvement runs high and Sister Phyllis feels now is the time to pursue some new directions. "There are enough people being trained for Catholic School Administration. I want to train lay people to organize and administer to their parishes."

Her next calling will take her to St. Joseph's Convent in Campbellsport as Coordinator of Activities, where her love of organization will benefit retired nuns from around the area. "I'll be taking theology classes during the summer and hope to obtain certification in pastoral leadership," Sister Phyllis comments, as the shortage of priests has been taking its toll on the church.

Sister Phyllis takes with her many memorable moments leading the life of a school principal. "One, I challenged the kids to sell 600 magazines and I'd dye my hair. I ended up having to do it... and the looks I got that day!" she laughs. One of her most difficult projects was putting the Human Sexuality program into motion, entitled "New Creations." There was an uproar, and it was a difficult time. I couldn't have done it without the help of the people."

Her dreams for Holy Trinity include a kindergarten class to

New Principal Selected For Holy Trinity School

Mrs. June Gauvin

Mrs. June Gauvin, Principal of St. Bridget's Catholic School in River Falls, Wisconsin, has been selected to fill the position of Principal of Holy Trinity Catholic School in Kewaskum.

The Principal's position was recently vacated with the resignation of Sister Phyllis Wirtz, who has served as Holy Trinity's Principal for the past seven years. Sister Phyllis intends to pursue her goal of obtaining certification complete the Elementary program, and a language teacher. Languages teaches children about cultural awareness, "which is something they don't normally get out here." She sees the fruits of her labor in the graduates who return to visit her and the other teachers. The bonds run deep; and it isn't always easy to move on.

To show their appreciation, Holy Trinity School has sent Sister Phyllis off with a grand reception, special masses and school programs plus numerous tokens of remembrance. She takes with her a quilt, handmade by the students and sewn together by two volunteers, and a check for $1,400 to fulfill yet another dream. With the check, she hopes to finally take that long-awaited trip to Italy, for a retreat in Assisi.

"One of my philosophies is... try it once, if it works, keep doing it." Apparently it has been working for Sister Phyllis, and it is obvious she will continue to keep on "doing it" wherever life leads her.

in pastoral leadership. Meanwhile, she has accepted a position as Coordinator of Activities at St. Joseph's Convent in Campbellsport.

Mrs. Gauvin began her tenure at St. Bridget's School in 1972, where she began teaching grades 6 through 8 until she accepted the position of Principal in 1986. She has also taught various grades at St. Gertrude School in Franklin Park, Illinois, St. Joseph School in Wesley, Iowa, St. John School in Union Grove, Wisconsin, St. Patrick School in Hudson, Wisconsin, and St. John the Baptist School in Jefferson, Wisconsin, where she also served as Principal from 1966 to 1970.

Mrs. Gauvin obtained a B.A. degree from Cardinal Stritch College, Milwaukee, in 1966 and an M.A. degree from the University of Wisconsin-River Falls in 1976. She has also undertaken classes at the University of St. Thomas, St. Paul, to obtain her license as an elementary administrator in Wisconsin, which she received in June of 1989.

She is married to Daniel Gauvin and they have two children, Kayti, age 18, and Suzanne, age 14. The Gauvins will relocate to this area sometime during the coming summer months.

The families of Holy Trinity School, along with the entire Kewaskum community would like to extend a very warm welcome to Mrs. Gauvin and her family.

County's 911 System Delayed

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Washington County has decided to push back the implementation date of its new 911 emergency system from September 11, to mid-December. The approximate 90-day extension will allow for the installation of newer, improved equipment which will permit the installation of the 911 system without having to modify the county's present telephone system.

Under the original plan, mechanical connections for the county's pushbutton phone system would have had to be made to make it compatible with the 911 system's operation. With the new equipment, those modifications will not be necessary.

With the 911 system, emergency calls will be routed automatically to one of four dispatch centers which will be staffed 24-hours-a-day. The caller's address will appear on a computer screen at the center so that even if the caller is unable to speak, the dispatcher will know the origin of the call.

The county will be seeking bids for installation of equipment at the four centers which will be located at the Washington County Sheriff's Department and the Germantown, Hartford and West Bend Police Departments.

Equipment for each center is expected to be about $65,000. Countywide, the cost for equipment and installation is estimated at $230,000.

During the first three years of operation, the monthly cost to county residents is expected to be 32c, after that, it is expected to drop to 15c a month.

Ozaukee County's 911 system has also met with some delays due to the construction of its new courthouse and jail complex.

Ozaukee, which had planned to implement its system about the same time as Washington County, has decided to hold off on starting their system until the complex construction is completed.

KHS Army Reserve Award winners Nicole Doherty and Craig Krell.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Nicole Doherty and Craig Krell were recently awarded the U.S. Army National Scholar/Athlete Award. Nicole is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Doherty, Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Krell.

The prestigious award is presented annually by the U.S. Army Reserve to high school students who have shown outstanding ability in both academics and athletics.

West Bend area recruiter SFC Riebe and Sgt. Miller presented the two Kewaskum High School graduating seniors with bronze, Olympic style, Scholar/Athlete medals at a school ceremony on May 15th.

The Reserve has presented the National Scholar/Athlete Award since 1981. Since then, it has become a tradition in many high schools. Each year teachers, coaches and administrators from more than 12,000 high schools nationwide choose some 20,000 students as the award recipients.

"Like the award it sponsors," said Riebe, "the Army Reserve also has an impressive tradition." It is the nation's oldest federal reserve force. More than 280,000 members serve in more than 3,000 units nationwide.

This Week's 'KING' Nominations

May 22nd-May 28th

Ladies... Ladies... Ladies...

I'm disappointed in you! I realize it was a busy holiday weekend, but that's no reason to slow down in sending in your "King" nominations.

Believe me, I realize that for "working moms" holidays mean cleaning all the mess that has accumulated all week, catching up on the laundry and searching for the missing dirty socks (generally kept under the bed) so that you can match them up with all the "singles" from the last holiday!

For the first holiday of summer, it also means scrapping last summer's and a little of this spring's mud off the "summer shoes," packing away the shorts that are four sizes too small and the biggie... throwing away all the coupons that have expired.

Well, the nominations are a chance to add some "sparkle" to your life and show your beloved AND all those "tidy teens" just how much you appreciate the opportunity to follow them throughout the house picking up all the things they drop as items no longer are useful to them. (In other words, it's PAYBACK TIME!)

I mean, what's the absolute worst your teen can do to you? Ignore you? Give you the silent treatment? Think you're stupid? They ALREADY do that!

And how will the hubby punish you? Refuse to let you pick up his wet towels? Or perhaps he will refuse to fix that closet shelf he promised to take care of three months ago.

Besides, maybe he'll win the prize money and take you to the "golden arches" for an evening of romantic delight.

Speaking of prize money, we have already collected $5 for the winning "king" in each category. (And the prizes are mounting!) Anyone wanting to donate money or prizes for the winners (sensible or otherwise) please contact the Chamber of Commerce at 626-2626.

If we manage to come up with enough prize money, it might help overcome some of the FEAR our candidates seem to be suffering.

And remember gals, if you want the little kids (you remember, the ones you still like) to see the lumberjack show, you have to support the "King" kontest. Because that's what is funding the lumberjacks.

One nomination won't do... The winners will be the 30 candidates in each category who have the MOST nominations. So pick your favorites and start stuffing the nomination boxes.

Our apologies to Alex Laubach. We inadvertently omitted his name last week on the "Sexy Seniors" list. Alex is the patriarch of the three generations of the Laubach family that were nominated last week. Therefore we added his name to this week's nominees. Alex also received at least one nomination this week.

Surely there must be more "three generation" candidates out there. Let's hear from you. And there certainly must be a whole high school full of "teen idols" but we haven't heard too much from that generation yet.

Well, here we go... this week's candidates are the lucky guys listed below. REMEMBER... these are this week's candidates ONLY. This list DOES NOT include the nominations from the previous two weeks. (NO, LARRY... you cannot buy your name off the list!)

There's only three week's left! If you need a few hundred more nomination papers... call Lana at the Statesman.

Living Waters Church to Celebrate Third Anniversary

Kewaskum Living Waters Church, 100 N. Clinton, will be celebrating its 3rd anniversary on June 2nd.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Lormis came to Kewaskum in June of 1988 and began holding services at the Union Labor Hall, Fond du Lac Ave. on Thursday evenings. On July 1 they began Sunday morning services as well as Thursday evening services. In December they purchased the building located at 100 N. Clinton Street, previously owned by William Edwards. Lormis did extensive remodeling on the building to make a sanctuary, three Sunday school class rooms, an office, and a fellowship hall. In June 1989, the church began having Sunday evening services.

Rev. Lormis was born and raised in Lebanon, Missouri. As a young man in Missouri, he ministered frequently in many churches in the Lebanon area. He moved to Horicon, in 1983 where he served as Youth Pastor for the Pentecostal House of Prayer. In addition he held the office of an Elder and taught Bible school for three years.

Robert and his wife Laura were ordained for Pastorship by the Presbytery of Pentecostal House of Prayer on September 25, 1988. Together they served the community of Kewaskum faithfully for three years.

The public is welcome to attend their 3rd anniversary celebration at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, June 2, 1991. Refreshments will follow the service in the fellowship hall. The guest speakers will be Rev. Mansfield Samples, of Pontiac, Michigan, and also Rev. John Beauprey of Pentecostal House of Prayer in Horicon, WI.

Come and be part of what God is doing in your community. For further information, call the church at 626-8337.

When Boltonville Says 'Rain Days,' It Rains!

Despite the heavy downpour during Boltonville's parade Sunday, the flags still waved for Chapter 448 of the Vietnam Veterans of America.

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

As if Mother Nature didn't want to disappoint the Boltonville Fire Department for its annual picnic, she made it rain.

O boy, did she! Those who attended the doings Friday night found a sea of slippery grass and mud in the beer tent and parking area. In fact some vehicles which couldn't get going were still parked there Saturday morning.

Worst of all though, ole "MN" was really bad when she brought in a heavy downpour just as the parade began at noon Sunday. There wasn't a dry eye, shirt, or anything else around by the time the parade ended which, of course, was exactly when the rain also ended.

Despite the wet weather, spirits definitely were not dampened and another great crowd turned out for Sunday night's closing entertainment and activities.

Desert Storm Appreciation Day At County Zoo

A welcome home party, officially named "Desert Storm Appreciation Day," will be held Sunday, June 16, at the Milwaukee County Zoo. Parking, admission, picnic, music (for all ages) and all Zoo events will be free for those wearing the wristband.

Wristbands may be picked up at the Washington County Veterans Service Office located in the Courthouse in West Bend, phone 335-4457.

Proof of eligibility (ID Card, Discharge, Orders or Veteran Organization Membership Card) is required.

Washington County has been allocated 500 wristbands. They will be issued on a first come, first served basis.

County Park to Be Listed in National Geographic Magazine

Washington County has been notified that Lizard Mound County Park in northeastern Washington County will be listed as one of 300 important American Heritage sites in the October "National Geographic Magazine." The park is internationally known as an important site of American Indian effigy mounds constructed at the site around 400-1200 A.D.

The park is listed as site #1 for Washington County in the National Register of Historic Places by the U.S. Department of the Interior. It is also, along with Holy Hill, listed as a site of interest in the American Automobile Association Wisconsin Tour Book. Thousands of visitors from around the country walk the trail through the park every year, including hundreds of local school groups studying Wisconsin history.

Work is nearing completion on the establishment of a new series of 20 information stations to be sited along the one mile trail that winds through 25 different mounds. A joint project between the County Land Use Park Department and the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee Program for Southeastern Wisconsin Archeology, new signage is being printed and will be installed later this summer.

The park was formerly owned and operated by the State but was transferred to the Washington County Park System in 1986. Located on Hwy A just east of Hwy 144, the park is open 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. from April 1 to November 15.

Veterans Invited to Register For 'Operation Troop Support'

This year's Ninth Annual City of Festivals Parade is inviting Wisconsin's returning Operation Desert Storm veterans to march in the Saturday, June 22 Parade, which steps off at 1:30 p.m. Veterans of WWI, WWII, Korea, Vietnam, Granada and Panama are also invited to march through downtown Milwaukee as an exciting centerpiece.

The Parade is the centerpiece of "Operation Troop Support," a full day of special activities, including a Veterans Reception, free admission (for veterans and their families) to Summerfest's "Big Q" barbecue and a free concert featuring Johnny Cash. Preregistration is required to march in the Parade and to obtain tickets for the day's events. Veterans are asked to call 351-4811 (in Milwaukee) or 1/800-232-0115 (in Wisconsin) to register.

The City of Festivals Parade is the nation's largest summertime Parade with 8,000 participants. Joining the veterans will be color guards and military bands, as well as floats, clowns, drum & bugle corps, celebrities and international performers.

County Receives Park Grants

Washington County Land Use and Park Department has been officially notified by the State that two park development grants have been awarded in statewide competition. Sites approved for 1991 funding include Heritage Trails County Park, a 233 acre undeveloped site in the Town of Plover near Ackerville, owned by the County since 1978; and the recently donated Goeden County Park, a 3 acre site on the Milwaukee River in the Town of Trenton near Newburg. Work on these projects is expected to be completed in 1993, according to Department Administrator, Paul E. Mueller.

A total of $66,800 in state funds have been awarded, to be matched by County funds and labor for the development proposed. Each park will receive road, parking lot, toilet and water facilities, picnic shelter, play apparatus and walking/hiking trails. In addition, Goeden County Park, off Hwy M near Hwy. 33, will include a canoe launch area. Heritage Trails County Park, off Hwy J near Hwy E, will include a sled/toboggan hill development.

These two projects were listed as goals in the Washington County Park and Open Space Plan, adopted by the Washington County Park and Planning Commission and the County Board of Supervisors in 1989. Efforts continue toward the establishment of a major new park site in the Hartford-Addison area, the other key project contained in the plan.

Stone Circles and Petroforms Reveal 2,000 Year Old Calendar

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

What if evidence suggests that 2000 years ago astronomers, surveyors, and engineers were busy constructing an accurate calendar out of rocks on a chosen site in Campbellsport, Wisconsin? What if nations of people from across the continent traveled to this same spot to exchange goods and information?

These are the kinds of questions researchers, scientists, students and investigators are trying to answer as they explore approximately 15 acres of wooded drumlin located on the Bob and Audrey Krug farm in rural Campbellsport.

The area contains numerous stone circles and petroforms (intentionally placed rock configurations) scattered throughout the wooded hillside, first discovered by Krug while his grandchildren were playing nearby. Brushing away the leaves underfoot, Bob thought it awfully strange that so many stones seemed symmetrically arranged; patterns that could not have occurred by nature. The more he explored, the more he discovered, and decided to call in the help of some experts.

Researcher Herman Bender of Fond du Lac and UW-Oshkosh archeologist Jeffrey Behm have undertaken an intensive four year study of investigative archeological fieldwork which has led to some startling discoveries and unveiled what looks to be the second largest intensity of petroforms found in North America (the largest is located in Winnipeg, Canada). Their findings were published in the March 1989 issue of Fox Valley Archeology, and the site has attracted visitors from as far away as Siberia, Mongolia, China and Japan, where similar types of petroforms can be found - proposing a theoretical link between races and cultures on this planet.

The main stone circle (discovered by Bender when he literally tripped into it) measures 28 feet across, with stones of varying sizes spaced equal distances apart. The area inside the circles are slightly lower than the surrounding elevation. The apparent elevation of the hillside itself creates an ideal location to view the surrounding countryside, and the horizon lines from different directions. After clearing out much of the undergrowth, and accurately mapping as many stones as possible, a pattern began to emerge.

With the aid of a computer, Bender began to equate points of equinox sunrise and sunset, and using "key stones" aligned with points on the horizon, plotted the yearly movements of the sun. This confirmed his suspicions - the stone circle was astronomically aligned to solstice and equinox sunset/sunrise positions. With this kind of information, a society of people living 2000 years ago, could precisely predict the spring and fall equinoxes (March 21 and Sept. 21) and summer and winter solstices (June 21 and December 21).

Astronomers from UW-Whitewater charted and confirmed all sunsets, proving Herman Bender's predictions true. All measurements were fed into a computer to verify points of alignment, and the results create astonishing visual maps of the ancient calendar and how it works. "The computer will actually come up with a new location for where another key stone should be found, so we'll go out and look and sure enough, underneath the brush is the stone right where the computer calculated it would be," says Bender.

There are eleven similar sites in North America where Sun Circles, also called Medicine Wheels, are collectively found, all located on sub-continental divides. Divides are located on major river ways where water drainage goes separate ways. "The water on one side of this hill flows to the Milwaukee River and on to the Atlantic; the other side contains the Rock River which eventually empties into the Gulf of Mexico." There has also been evidence found of ancient trails interlocking these sites and Herman is now in the process of working on a thesis about these trails as a possible trade route between the Krug site and the other locations of petroforms.

Playing host and hostess for a variety of international visitors has become commonplace for the Krugs. They have welcomed Native Americans from across the country, which has sparked Bob's interest in the anthropological side of this discovery. "Herman is the scientist, but the Indians have talked with us about the sacredness of this place," explains Bob. "They leave offerings at various entranceways, and there are tears in the eyes of some as they knew such a place existed in their legends... but to stand in that very spot... it's a moving experience for them."

The Krugs point out rock formations in the shape of a turtle, a bear, and a bison. Pieces of red ochre have been found, which is native to Canada and is an iron ore used as a pigment. There are remnants of cooking pits, fifteen found so far, 20 feet around and four feet deep. They were lined with skins and their contents cooked with heated rocks, also found on the location. The Ojibway people related to Bob how ceremonies were held four times a year during the change of seasons. "They had four days of fasting, four days of spirituality, and four days of celebration. Flat stones were used as platforms for places of honor, where Shaman may have stood to bless food. Medicine wheels were also used for healing ceremonies, and other related rituals."

"There is no way to prove these things scientifically," Bob says quietly. "That's why I have to say I was 'told' these things. The various Native American cultures differ in their ideas on what went on here." So while the scientists study the geographical and astronomical viewpoints of the Krug site, Bob and Audrey take time listening to the voices of the people whose roots go deep into this history behind this group of petroforms. "Not an American alive today can do something like this," laughs Bob.

They estimate the stone circles were built over a period of many decades, with 800 to 1000 people meeting there, whether it be to exchange information, celebrate seasonal changes, gather food, trade goods, or worship, it is open for speculation. "We have found no artifacts here," Krug points out. "The place was kept clean as if it had been used for sacred things, like a church."

Bender states that 2000 years ago the area was basically prairie with an unobstructed view. The trees covering the drumlin did not exist at that time, and the people were hunters and gatherers. Agriculture was just beginning to take hold, and the woodland was beginning to take over. Every year erosion is unclearing more stone and circles, as they are being pushed up by ice to the surface.

Their plans for the summer include mapping and investigating an area of marshland from which a stone lined spring originates. Here a large lake was once located, and they believe a canoe landing marked with more stones leads to a part of the trail which ran from the Horicon Marsh to Kewaskum (name denotes a crooked path, or "one who walks a crooked line" in Algonkian). A large, bent over tree grows parallel to the ground, scars on the trunk shows evidence of once being tied down to mark the trail.

"I'm certain we will be resea-ching the area for at least five more years," Bender says, as he is now in the process of writing three papers simultaneously, dealing with trails, trade routes, and the eleven North American sites. The Krug site is identified by the Wisconsin State Historical Society as 47-Fd-274.

Audrey and Bob spend most of their free time clearing ground-cover from the stones, many covered with broadleaf nettle, hauling trees and logs, and in general making the area more accessible to exploration. "It's a good thing I'm strong," laughs Audrey. Married only four years, it's apparent the couple enjoy every minute together, rising early in the morning to head for their hill. Each day brings a new discovery, or a new perspective, and the hard work is secondary to the feeling of traveling back in time and learning the secrets of an ancient society.

The stone circles and petroforms have revealed only a part of the in-genius surrounding, a method of recording the passage of time. Other questions remain, but can be seen as doorways Bender and the Krugs plan to step through someday. Their discovery has uncovered a part of Wisconsin's history that lay untouched for thousands of years... a history that may provide key links to continental migrations and economic trade, to ancient ceremonies and beliefs, and to agricultural and social developments of our North American predecessors and their complex societies.

The fourth, and most recent, ice age melted off the northern Canadian mainland barely 6,000 years ago.

A stone configuration in the shape of a turtle, raises many questions as to what they were used for.

Mark Koth, 9, of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Koth of 315 Forest Ave., Kewaskum, suffered a fractured left thigh bone Tuesday evening when he was almost buried alive while playing in an open water line excavation trench on Brooklane Drive as a portion of the ground from the wall of one side of the ditch caved in on him. He was partially uncovered by playmates who attempted to rescue him. A companion ran to the nearby home of Mrs. Allen Tassar who turned in a call to the fire department. The boy was almost uncovered by the time firemen arrived and they finished digging him out. The boy was transported to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was reported in good condition.

Loren Reed "Butch" Coulter, 21 of R. 3, Campbellsport, was killed at 6:55 a.m., Tuesday when the large semi-trailer truck he was driving, loaded with 20 tons of washed sand, was struck by a northbound Soo Line freight train about a mile and a half northeast of St. Lawrence. Coulter, was leaving the Cedar Lake Sand and Gravel Co. pit next to the Olsen Lumber Co., but across the tracks, apparently failed to see the approaching train and for some reason failed to halt his truck before crossing the tracks. The semi, owned by the Howard Kruepke Trucking Service of Jackson, was struck on the right front corner of the trailer. The impact threw the trailer to the west side of the tracks and the cab and tractor were tossed to the east of the right-of-way. Coulter was thrown from the cab which was torn loose from the chassis by the impact. The train blew for the crossing according to reports. The northbound train was made up of 78 cars. The lead diesel engine was badly damaged. Two trainmen, engineer Arvis Brockway, 52, of Fond du Lac and brakeman Raymond Schmitz, 42, of Fond du Lac also sustained injuries.

Margaret Rodenkirch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rodenkirch of Boltonville, was selected to receive the Clifford M. Rose Memorial Scholarship award this year. Peggy will graduate with high honors scholastically and an impressive list of extra curricular activities in which she has been active.

Situated near the entrance to the Kettle Moraine State Park, about seven miles northeast of Kewaskum the Bar-N Ranch, only wild west ranch in the state of Wisconsin, recently opened, is attracting many visitors from different points who enjoy riding horses. Bridle paths are being constructed over about 1,200 acres of state park among beautiful lakes and streams and through virgin forests. Two Kewaskum businessmen, Dr. F.E. Nolting and Atty. Bartelt, are the owners of the Bar N and they have engaged Harry Koch to be in charge of the ranch.

August Bilgo, Sr., of this village, rural mail carrier, proved himself a hero early last Sunday afternoon when he saved a child from probable drowning at Lake Seven. Mr. Bilgo was fishing at the lake. Three children were occupying the pier near where Mr. Bilgo was fishing from shore when one of them fell off the pier into the lake. August heard the splash and then noticed there were only two children left on the pier. When the third child failed to appear on the surface of the water, Mr. Bilgo ran to the pier, leaped into the lake and pulled the child to safety. We were unable to learn the name of the child, but the rescuer was forced to cease fishing and come home to change his clothing.

Births - Mr. and Mrs. Lester Borchert of this village are parents of a son, born at their home, Wednesday evening, May 28. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Backhaus, Sunday, May 25. Twin sons were born Saturday morning, May 24, to Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Muckerheide of West Bend. A 9½ pound baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Felix of St. Kilian, Monday, May 26.

75 Years Ago

May 27, 1916

Last week Friday while coming to the village to do some shopping Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Roehrdanz of the town of Kewaskum encountered an accident which they will long remember, and that nothing more serious happened is a miracle. While approaching the top of the Kewaskum hill from one direction, an auto driven by Kilian Reindl of St. Kilian come from another direction. Not being aware of the approach of the auto, the horse shied and before it could be controlled, the buggy was upset throwing Mr. and Mrs. Roehrdanz forcibly onto the ground. Mr.

Roehrdanz received only a few minor bruises but his wife was more unfortunate, her right arm breaking just above the wrist. The horse ran as far as Roman Backhaus' place where he was stopped. The buggy was damaged considerably. Mr. Roehrdanz stated Monday the accident was purely unavoidable.

Art Koch and Orin Kaiser of Beechwood sold nine Ford cars the past two weeks. It appears from accounts that the little Ford sales are jogging along.

Into our lives you arrived so baby fresh and new.

Instantly we were charmed by everything about you.

Our precious, first born infant son, your life had only just begun.

Then, as quickly as you came, you went.

Now, down from heaven you have sent the strength to help us through each day.

Though, we'd much rather have you here to play with your little brother in your way.

Intermatic Donates Thousands of Lights To Gulf War Veterans Around the Nation

The Cox family of Grayslake, Ill., installs a Malibu "Welcome Home Light" that greets Earl Cox, Jr. Intermatic Inc. donated thousands of the lights free of charge to Gulf War families across the nation.

SPRING GROVE, ILL. — Families across America are keeping a light on for their loved ones returning from the Persian Gulf. And Intermatic Inc. is trying to make it easier for them.

The Spring Grove, Ill., company is distributing thousands of its popular Malibu "Welcome Home Lights" free of charge to Gulf War families across the nation. The low voltage outdoor lights are being given out at several bases around the country.

"We wanted to recognize the important contribution our veterans made in the Persian Gulf," says Vice President of Marketing Donald Ferguson. "The Welcome Home Light was a perfect choice because it's made right here in the U.S.A. and the name sums up the nation's mood. We donated the lights to the military as a gesture of our appreciation for a job well done."

The Welcome Home Light program was suggested by Intermatic's Inventory Manager, Pat Knierim.

"We're pleased that Intermatic is making this nice contribution to our veterans," says Knierim. "We hope the lights will continually remind them of our thanks."

The first recipient of a Welcome Home Light was Earl Cox, Jr. of Grayslake, Ill. He recently returned from service on the aircraft carrier USS Midway.

Intermatic Inc. is a leading supplier of low voltage outdoor lighting, electronic time switches, in-wall timers, photo controls, pool and spa controls and surge suppressors.

Take 21 teachers in the 17 to 18 year old range; mix in 21 three to five year olds and you'll find lots of giggles mixed in with lots of learning. At least that's what happened as the Kewaskum High School Child Development class opened its semi-annual preschool on May 7th.

Most parents look for enriching preschool experiences to help their children make the transition to kindergarten go smoothly. The high schools do an excellent job of that. After their study of the developing child they are able to provide quality experiences in many areas of development.

Each day the children begin with 20 minutes of free play during which they learn to interact with other preschoolers. This is followed by story time where in most cases the preschoolers participate in some way in the stories. Circle-time comes next, and this semester the children are planting marigolds, doing math bingo, playing balloon volleyball, and doing matching and sorting games. Art follows; in this activity children enjoy the process while parents appreciate all the decorations they get for their homes. The children are making wind socks, painting T-shirts, decorating cookies, painting with match box cars, making masks, among other things.

Music concludes each day's session with songs like Parade of Colors, Hokey Pokey, Sally the Swinging Snake, Bean Bag Boogie, Where is Thumbkin, The Ear Song and Scat Like That.

While the preschoolers are learning skills needed for kindergarten, the high schoolers are applying what they learned in class to practical situations. This will help many of them in careers dealing with children or becoming a parent themselves at some point in the future.

This sessions preschoolers include: Justin Batzler, Caitlin McDonald, Nathan Behring, Tracy Halfmann, Justis Clayton, Lora Christie, Nathan Johann, Amanda Bunkelman, Stuart Van Ess, Nicole Behring, Craig Johann, Leslie Schultz, Ryan DeLaurier, Stephanie Walters, Mark Moser, Ashley Gasner, Jason Tuszynski, Crystal Marquardt, Jerry Zorn, and Jacob Clayton.

The high school students are: Craig Krell, Krissy Heisdorf, Tina Jaycox, Lelia Byers, Jenny Schinker, Dina Heckel, Jenny Harper, Krissy Schmidt, Kris Bruckert, Lynn Higgins, Cheri Westphal, Tracy Lulich, Corina Wenzel, Terri Grahl, Brian Heller, Amy Chesak, Deanna Leiberg, Jessi Bubb, Carrie Kuehl, Linda Jacobs, and Nicole Gaffke.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

It has been brought to the Village of Kewaskum's attention that several properties located within the village have vehicles standing around the yard on driveways and streets as well as other items being stored.

Under Chapter 7.09(1) of the Kewaskum Municipal Code it states:

Any vehicles, licensed or unlicensed, remaining on any street, highway, or road in the Village for more than 7 days without the written permission of the Chief of Police or his authorized agent, shall be an abandoned vehicle, with the meaning of this section. Under Chapter 7.09(3) Removal and Storage states: the Police Department may direct removal of any abandoned vehicle. Such vehicle shall be removed to an area for storage and remain in storage not to exceed 30 days. At the end of 30 days, the Police may direct the removal and sale of the vehicle. Any costs received in the sale of the vehicle shall be used to offset the cost incurred in storage of the vehicle. Upon removal and sale of the vehicle, the Police department shall keep a record setting forth the name of the party removing the vehicle, the price paid for the vehicle, the costs of the storage of the vehicle and reasonable identification of the vehicle.

Chapter 9.08 of the Municipal Code also addresses the storage of vehicles, junk and etc.

Another concern would be leakage of oil onto the streets and yards. The oil causes a deterioration of the asphalt and does eventually run into the storm sewer system. This is an environmental issue and one we should be concerned about.

You are hereby requested to comply with the above order immediately. If you choose not to comply, the Village and District Attorney will undertake to correct the condition by whatever means may be necessary and will charge the expense thereof against such owner.

Your cooperation in reference to this matter is appreciated. Thank you!

THE VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM

A Map for Fun and Learning

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Students at Wayne Elementary School completed a major project last week, the creation of a map of the 50 United States.

What is "major," is the fact that the map measures 15 x 30 feet in size and is painted in a multitude of colors on the east end of the school's blacktop playground.

The map idea was the suggestion of school board member Paul Seymour and his wife Kathy, whose children attend WES. "We saw it done at another school," said Kathy, "and we thought it would be a great project for our students." Mrs. Seymour said the actual creation of the map was a learning experience for the youngsters. "Since we had more students than states to paint, there had to be some sharing and it was amazing how even some of the youngest students remembered which state they were painting and where it was located."

"The map will be used for a variety of purposes including games as well as educational purposes; stated Mrs. Seymour. The paints and supplies were furnished by the Wayne PTO.

Mrs. Seymour said the youngsters completed the painting in two days, but it took a group of PTO parents more than a week to draw the map to scale and draw the outline on the playground. The finishing touches will be the permanent outlining of the states after all the paint has dried.

Four Kewaskum Athletes to Compete at State Special Olympics

Even though the weather was cold and windy at Sheboygan North High School, on May 18, Kewaskum Special Olympic track and field athletes did a superb job at the area meet.

Justin Petermann earned a first place ribbon for both his events, standing long jump and 100 meter dash. Jennifer Strancke took home a third place ribbon for the softball throw.

Our swimmers didn't need to worry about the cold weather and their accomplishments proved that fact. Julie Morgan took a first place in the 50 M backstroke and a third place in the 50 M freestyle. Joanne Stautz placed second in both the 50 freestyle and 50 M backstroke.

Lisa Loomis swam 50 M freestyle winning a fifth place and the 50 M backstroke to win a third place. The only male swimmer, Brian Hanrahan, placed fourth in the 50 M backstroke and took a first place in the 50 M freestyle.

After working hard at the area meet, four athletes will compete at the State meet in Stevens Point on June 28th, 29th and 30th. Justin, Julie, Jenny and Brian will get that chance.

The State meet is set at a later date this year in hope that the area meets could get warmer weather by holding the events later in May. But our area meet did not luck out with warm temperatures.

We want to take the opportunity to thank our donors for their generous funding to keep the Kewaskum Special Olympics active. The Modern Woodman held their fund raiser for us this year and presented us with a check for $1,004.00. The Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs gave us $100.00. The support is greatly appreciated.

Athletes, parents and coaches are to be congratulated for a great season! Our thanks also to our dedicated helpers Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Tessar.

If you see us between now and the end of June wish us luck for our State track meet!

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Mid-Monthly Meeting
May 20, 1991
8:00 P.M.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Mid-Monthly Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First St.

President Mary Krueger presided. Trustee Robert Beisbier asked to be excused and was absent. Trustee Robert Wagner arrived a minute late. All other Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a moment of silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee Larry Williams and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes from May 6, 1991 were approved as printed.

Chief of Police, Richard L. Knoebel reviewed with the Board some statistics regarding the use of a full-time officer versus the use of a number of part-time officers. It was noted the State requirements in reference to training time have changed as well as the elimination of the state picking up training cost, pay and benefits. The Board requested some additional information before final consideration.

Superintendent of Water Pollution Control Department, Peter Albers asked about the progress being made with setting up the meetings with the industries. Administrator Daniel Schmidt informed the Board the engineers sent a letter to the village which was prepared and then sent to the industries on May 16, 1991. The engineers will be following up with the scheduling of the meetings and tours.

Superintendent of Water Pollution Control Department, Peter Albers informed the Board that samples were to be taken at one of the industries the morning of May 20, 1991 and it was impossible, due to the amount of grease in the manhole where the sampling was to take place. It was noted that a grease trap is to be provided per state and local code, but has always been overlooked. The Board directed that a notice be sent to the industry ordering that the grease trap(s) be installed within a certain time frame and if they do not, the village will order such work and bill back the industry.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt brought a building permit to the board for the construction of a detached garage. Trustee Gary Gavin indicated seeing it was only a formality in bringing permits to the Board the matter should be discontinued. If a controversial permit is to be taken care of then that should come before the Board. The office should just maintain a listing of permits as in the past and share that information with the Board. No action was needed on said permit.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Thomas McElhatton and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the application for an Operator's License upon proper payment of fees and authorized the office to issue said license for 90/91 as follows: Ziehr, Laura Jean - West Bend, WI.

Note: The Police Department had no objections to any of the applications.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed a variety of correspondence with the Board as follows:

- 1) Review of the budget control sheet for the month ending April 30, 1991.
- 2) The DNR's information on the requirement for a storm water discharge permit.
- 3) Review of legislative bulletins.
- 4) Review of a News Notes that addresses abandoned and junk vehicles.

5) A letter from the old Kewaskum Softball Association was reviewed by the Board. The letter acknowledged the disbandment of the association and the disposition of funds.

Chairman of the Public Services Committee, Trustee Mark Vechart informed the Board that Administrator Schmidt attended the meeting of the Washington County Board when the County wide clean sweep program was discussed. Administrator Schmidt reported that the findings regarding cost savings if the County handled the program would equal an estimated $27,000. The County Board will be continuing looking into the matter.

Board Representative for the Mid-Moraine Municipal Association, Legislative Committee, Trustee Mark Vechart gave an update on the last meeting which covered the topic of recycling.

The Board reviewed the streets and lots to be slurry sealed this construction season. The number of square yards is estimated to be 9,841. The Board directed the Administrator to ask for a proposal as to the installation of slurry seal coating.

The proposals on the electrical work for the Public Works storage Shed and Recycling Building were tabled for further clarification.

On a motion by Trustee Mark Vechart, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Municipal Building interior painting proposal submitted by Gavin Painting in the amount of $695.00.

Discussion was held on the proposed Ordinance Amendments proposed regarding the screening/fencing of mobile garbage containers, as well as establishing criteria for the requiring of mobile container. The Administrator was asked to check into two other points regarding the pick up of garbage. The first was the elimination of picking up more than one mobile container per parcel and the second was the elimination of picking garbage up by any apartment complex with 5 or more units.

The answer to the first was that all we had to do is serve notice for service to be discontinued if more than one mobile container is being used without any ordinance amendments. The second is basically the same and that is to serve notice that a complex garbage will no longer be picked up and that the owner must provide his or her own.

The Board was in agreement regarding some points under consideration, but indicated more time was needed to think about the matter. No action was taken on Ordinance No. 91-6.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Larry Williams and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85(1)(c) of the statutes to consider employment, compensation and performance of public employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction and Chapter 19.85(1)(e) of the statutes to deliberate and negotiate the disposition of public lands. Roll call vote was 6 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 1 "Absent."

Indian Golfers Capture Regional Crown

By Statesman Sports Writer
HORICON — After struggling at times late in the season, the Kewaskum golf team looks to be peaking, and just in time.

The Indians put together a fine four-man total of 327, and finished the WIAA Regional tournament here tied with Shorewood for first place. The Indians then went out and won a sudden death playoff on the second hole of extra golf to win the title outright.

The Indians and Greyhounds tied on the first hole of sudden death, each coming away with 19 strokes on the hole. But the Indians nipped their foes on the second hole, scoring a 17 compared to Shorewood's 18.

The Indians were led on the day by Matt Seiser, who golfed one of his best rounds of the season in taking third overall with a 77 (40-37) total.

But Seiser wasn't the only Indian to shoot well, as their consistency, which had been lacking a bit near the end of the regular season, shined brightly

Indians Wrap Up Trial Year

By Statesman Sports Writer
LOMIRA — While the Kewaskum boys baseball team was gearing itself for its first encounters of the new season, the Indian girls softball team put the finishing touches on its inaugural year here, recently.

The Indians took care of the Lomira varsity team 12-9, and ended the season with a sparkling 11-4 record that included games against both JV and varsity competition.

Both squads got out of the blocks quickly in this one, as each managed to put four runs on the board in the first inning. It was the Indians though who were able to keep up their hot hitting throughout the game.

Kewaskum came right back with three more runs in the second, and then scored single runs in each of the next three innings. The hosts, meanwhile, could only manage a lone tally in the bottom of the second, and trailed 10-5 heading into the ninth.

The Indians came up with two more runs to make 12-5, but then things got a bit hairy, as the Lions came back in their half of the inning to put four runs on the board, cutting the margin to 12-9. But that's where it ended, as the Indians stopped the rally, and put the season to rest on a high note.

Jackie Hintz was the star of the game at the plate for Kewaskum, collecting four hits on the day, while Monica Wodsedalek drove in three runs with a pair of hits.

A man bought a cigar and started to light it. "Didn't you notice the sign?" asked the salesgirl. "What!" exploded the customer. "You sell cigars in here but you prohibit smoking?" The salesgirl smiled sweetly. "We also sell bath towels."

in this meet.

Corey Krahn came through big for Kewaskum, firing an 82 (40-42). Ryan Amerling also played a steady round, as he followed right behind Krahn by shooting an 83 (42-41). D.J. Slaughenhoup, who has struggled as well late in the season, was the Indians final counter, hitting an 85 (42-43), despite just making the trip after returning home from Toronto, where he attended a trip with the school band.

By virtue of winning the regional, the entire Indian team now advances to the Sectional tournament, which will be held at the Indians' home course (Hon-E-Kor). Not surprisingly, the Indians have played much better on their home links this season, and the opportunity to advance to state with a good round will be there.

Letters to The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Mrs. Rose Slaughoup of Kewaskum had written a letter to the Guinness Book of Records, relating to them the story of her son Mark, and her grandson D.J., each bowling a perfect 300 game, only nine weeks apart. The following is the answer she received:

May 13, 1991

Rose Slaughoup
P.O. Box 622
Kewaskum, Wisconsin 53040

Dear Mrs. Slaughoup:

Thank you for your inquiry concerning your "record" proposal to be included in "The Guinness Book of Records." This is a most unusual story and I believe it is the first of its type that we have received. For this reason it is very difficult for me to be able to say whether or not you have established any kind of record. While I certainly do not underestimate your proposal, I do think this item is too specialized for a reference book as general as "The Guinness Book of Records." I'm afraid that unique occurrences, interesting peculiarities, or "firsts" are not necessarily records and therefore are rarely included in the book.

I am sorry that I cannot be more positive at this stage, however all letters are kept on file for possible future reference. Thank you again for your inquiry and interest in "The Guinness Book of Records."

Sincerely yours,

Mark C. Young

Records Fall As Indians Qualify for State Track Meet

GIRLS SHINE IN SECTIONAL; FINISH SECOND

By Statesman Sports Writer
CLINTON — Although it was unable to duplicate its feat of a year ago when it won the WIAA Track Sectional, the Kewaskum girls team made a fine showing at this year's meet, held here, last Thursday, finishing second as a team.

The Indians qualified three individuals in four events, as well as a relay team, in racking up 50 points, which was second to Waterford's 62. In addition to those already qualified, the Indians' 400 relay team also may go to LaCrosse for the state meet, depending on other times in Division II throughout the state, this weekend.

Going for sure is Ingrid Ankerson, who continued to improve on her school record in the triple jump. The senior added another six inches to her mark, as she leaped 35-6.5 to win that event. Ankerson also qualified to participate in the high jump as well, as she cleared 4-11, and took first place in virtue of misses over Campbellsport's Andrea Bertone.

Melissa Braun also set a new school record in the process of qualifying for state. Braun's 12.34 time in the 100 dash put her second behind Waterford's Ronetta Hardin, who qualified in three events, and proved to be the difference in the team totals. Braun also provided the 800 relay team with a big lead early in the race, and the unit was able to hold on in the end to finish second (1:50.72) and qualify. Other members who will try and defend their state championship in that event are Rachelle Zuehlke, Tina Schwartz and Kelly Korth.

Korth will be participating in the long jump competition in LaCrosse as well. Korth leaped 16-0.25, which was good enough to place her second in the field.

Kewaskum's 400 relay team (Braun, Schwartz, Korth and Rachel Gosa) also has a good shot at advancing. The unit finished third with a school-record time of 51.93, which may be enough depending on how other schools in Division II fared at Sectionals.

Kewaskum's only representative in the boys portion of the meet, Kim Marx, also just missed qualifying for the state meet. Marx finished third in the 300 hurdles, coming across in 41.44, almost a half-second to slow to qualify for Madison.

Fellow Eastern Wisconsin Conference participant Sheboygan Falls won the boys meet, racking up 70 points to outdistance Elkhorn (55).

Marx is Lone Boy Qualifier

Indian Girls Second in Track Regional

By Statesman Sports Writer
PEWAUKEE — A little more depth, especially in the longer distances. That was all that separated the Kewaskum girls track team from their counterparts at Slinger. And it also meant the difference between first and second place.

And it was the Indians who settled for the latter, putting together a fine team total of 97 points, to finish behind the Owls (112) in the WIAA Track Regional here, last week.

The Indians qualified runners in six different events on the day, and just missed sending another four individuals, as well as a relay team, which wound up finishing third in their events. Only the top two finishers in each event qualified for sectional competition.

Leading the way for the Indians was senior Ingrid Ankerson, who will represent the Indians in two events. Ankerson jumped a school record 35-0 in the triple jump, which placed her first, over two and a half feet better than the rest of the field. Ankerson also put forth her best effort of the year in the high jump, clearing 5-1, which was good enough for second.

Melissa Braun also had a great day for Kewaskum, as she won the 100 dash in 13.0, and then came back to help both the 400 and 800 relay teams advance.

The 400 unit, consisting of Braun, Tina Schwartz, Kelly Korth and Rachel Gosa, set a school record with a time of 52.6, while the 800 team (Braun, Schwartz, Korth and Rachelle Zuehlke) outdistanced the field by over four seconds (1:51.4).

Korth advanced without the help of her teammates, as she once again outjumped the rest of the competitors in the long jump. Korth leaped 16-0 to beat the rest of the field by almost a full foot. Finishing third for the Indians were the 1600 relay team, as well as Christa Schmidt in the 100 hurdles (17.8), Tammy Schmidt in the shot put (34-0), Marlene Wodsedalek in the discus (99-3), and Erin Fleiss in the high jump (4-9).

The Indian boys had a tougher time of things in their half of the regional. The team was missing a few of its better athletes who were unable to make the meet after going on a band trip to Canada. Still the Indians managed to send one individual to sectionals, as well as just missing a couple of others. The Indians boys eventually settled for sixth place, scoring 33 points. Eastern Wisconsin's Sheboygan Falls won the boys portion with a whopping 153 points, 67 points ahead of second-place Brown Deer.

Kim Marx will be making a return trip to sectional competition, as he took second in his specialty, the 300 hurdles. Marx's time of 42.2 earned him a second place finish. Marx also just missed qualifying for the 200 dash as well, as his 23.51 was just .01 slower than the second place finisher, Tyrell Perkins of Brown Deer.

Brian Jackson also fell into the 'just missed' category, as he cleared the 11-0 mark in the pole vault, which placed him third. Right behind him was the Indians Brad Jackson, who cleared 10-6.

The Indians' 400 relay team, which had been their bread and butter unit this season, finished fourth (46.5). Had the Indians been at full strength, it is very possible that the foursome would have qualified, seeing as how the Indians had already beaten the first and second place finishers (Sheboygan Falls and Slinger) earlier in the year.

When the male fighting fish gets excited, it becomes colored with reds, greens, purples and blues.
