Village's Equalized Value Up Almost 10% Village Receives Request to Adopt Smoking Ordinance

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Village Board has been asked to adopt an ordinance to handle infractions regarding smoking in designated 'no-smoking' areas. Kewaskum Police Chief Richard Knoebel told the trustees Monday night, the request has come from the new Kewaskum High School principal, Charles Heidner.

Knoebel said Heidner's concern is with students smoking on school district property. The village presently does not have any ordinance or regulations regarding the issue, said Knoebel. "What Mr. Heidner is looking for is some way to put more bite into enforcing the 'no smoking' rules at the school."

Right now, all that can be done, noted Knoebel, is give the student a warning or suspension and to some kids a suspension just means a day off. "With an ordinance, an individual would receive a verbal warning for the first offense, for the second offense, they would receive a written warning and suspension, for the third offense they would receive a citation which carries a $55 fine," said Knoebel. He also said that if the fine is not paid, his department can then take away the offender's driver's license.

"I've talked to people in the cities of West Bend and Oshkosh and they say the smoking ordinance really works well for them," stated Knoebel. He said he would be bringing some model ordinances in for the board to review.

In other Police Department business, Knoebel informed the board that the Police and Fire Commission had held a meeting on August 15th, but it had not made any decision regarding the hiring of additional officers. "They will be meeting again on August 29th."

Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the trustees that the village had been contacted by the School District about the possibility of relaxing parking restrictions on Third Street.

Board president Mary Krueger noted the village had imposed parking restrictions around the elementary school to improve conditions for the students and school buses and now they want something different. "We've offered, a couple of times, to work with them regarding the parking problem and made suggestions," said Trustee Tom McElhatton, "and they've never come back to us with any solutions, now the ball is in their court."

Schmidt also updated the board on the Riverhill Park dam repairs. He told the board members that Lunda Construction had discovered, while preparing to do the finishing tuckpointing, that the concrete decking is in bad condition and separating from the course base. In reply to why this wasn't found out before, Schmidt said that the firm knew there was some breakup, but it wasn't found out how bad it was until the company began sandblasting and airhosing out the cracks.

Schmidt said the additional repairs would cost $8,300, if done now. "If we have them come back next year, it will cost us an additional $2,000 to bring in barges." Money for the work will come from the village's Dam Repair account.

The board also approved a recommendation to have Scott Construction grind and overlay a portion of the roadway at the recent Main Street watermain break (in front of the Barrel Haus) at a cost of $697.50. Schmidt said the company would do the work when it came in to work on Riverview Drive.

Schmidt said that this was the second watermain break in the same area. On New Year's of 1989-90, the first break occurred. A week ago, the second break occurred directly east of the first. Schmidt said that section of watermain was laid in 1929.

In non-action business, Schmidt informed the board that the state had released its equalized value figures for 1991. The new figure shows the village's equalized value at $68,388,500, an increase of 9.8 percent over the 1990 figure of $62,263,100. Less the TIF district, that represents a 7.2% increase. That shows the village has had good growth this last year, said Schmidt. In terms of money for the village, he noted, that means a $40,000 increase in revenues without the village increasing taxes.

Schmidt also told the trustees that a recent state population count for the village showed a discrepancy of 194, less than according to counts at the time of the 1990 census.

Schmidt said he had filed an appeal for the village. "At $175 per person, we're looking at at least $9,990 more in shared revenues for the village. I feel that is worth the appeal."

Schmidt advised the board that the 1991 segment of the sidewalk improvement project should begin next week.

Trustee Gary Gavin, who represents the village in the Countywide Library system, said that committee has submitted its budget of $294,000 for the coming year, up approximately $30,000 over this year.

Gavin said the increase was the result of many different factors including reductions in state aid.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

St. Lucas School to Begin

St. Lucas Lutheran Grade School, 1410 Parkview Drive, will begin its new school year on Wednesday, August 28th at 7:45 a.m. Kindergarten will begin at 9:00 a.m. A special school opening service is planned at 11:00 a.m. in the church. All parents of school children, congregational members and guests are invited.

Kindergarten children will be dismissed at 11:40 a.m. and grades 1-8 at 2:30 p.m.

This is an exciting time for St. Lucas Lutheran School. A portion of the students and staff will be moved into the much needed school addition this school year. Two classrooms on the lower level of the new addition will be finished and available for grades 6-8. Additional classrooms and offices will be finished during the course of the year. Because of the addition, the kindergarten and preschool will no longer be held in the church basement as it had been for the last three years, but in a regular sized classroom in the school.

This year's enrollment (preschool-8th) stands at 155 students. A faculty of seven will handle the teaching assignments. The teachers include: Deborah Hoenecke, Bethel Matthes, Laury Schumacher, Cory Kolbow, Ron Martinson, Steve Strassburg and Rod Bollinger. Mr. Bolloinger also serves as principal. Special education and secretarial duties will be under the supervision of Mrs. Karen Bollinger.

In addition to a strong academic program, St. Lucas has many other activities to challenge and encourage students to use their abilities. Athletics offer the following: football (boys), soccer (boys), volleyball (girls), basketball (boys & girls), cheerleading (girls), track (boys & girls), and softball (boys & girls). St. Lucas is also involved in forensic, spelling, art and science competitions and fairs, and offers Jr. Choir and band to those who are interested.

If you would like more information about St. Lucas Lutheran School, please contact Rod Bollinger at 626-2680 (school) or 626-4655 (home).

Opening Day for Holy Trinity Students Aug. 26

Peace Church Women's Retreat To Feature Guest Speaker

Carol Dibiasio-Snyder

"Just Clowning Around" is the theme for the fourth annual women's retreat of Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum.

It will be held Thursday, September 12 from 6 to 9 p.m. at Peace Fellowship Hall. The Rev. Carol Dibiasio-Snyder, co-pastor at First Congregational Church of Oshkosh will be this year's featured speaker.

Involved in Christian clowning techniques for ten years, Rev. Dibiasio-Snyder stresses the combination of spirituality and the arts in her presentations. Her willingness to encourage group participation makes this approach especially appealing. The child-like quality of loving acceptance set forth by Christ is a vital part of the clowning concept. The history and functions of the Christian clown will be explained by the speaker as she emphasizes the celebration aspect of Christianity.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, and a resident of Wisconsin for the past ten years, Rev. Dibiasio-Snyder now shares the Oshkosh pastorate with her husband Ralph. She is a graduate of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education in Richmond, Virginia.

Peace UCC welcomes all interested women of the area to this retreat event sponsored by the Women's Guild. Members from St. Paul's UCC Church, Sheboygan, and Salem UCC, Wayne, will participate. The retreat will begin with a supper, and reservations are necessary at $6.00 each.

For information and reservations, call Betty Bettin at 626-2911 or the Peace Church office at 626-4011 before September 6.

Moths to Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Melvin and Dorothy Moths of rural Kewaskum are planning a celebration for the 50th anniversary of their wedding, inviting relatives, neighbors and friends to come to an Open House from 2 until 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, September 1st, at the fireman's hall in Silver Creek.

The former Dorothy Haack was born in the Town of Scott, in the same house they reside in now. Melvin was born about six miles east, also in the Town of Scott.

They were married August 30, 1941 at Immanuel Lutheran Church in the Town of Scott by the late Rev. Gustave Kaniess.

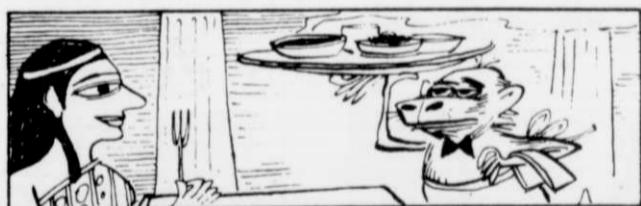

Attendees at the wedding were Wilmer Moths (deceased), Ruth (Haack) Frauenheim, Norton Risse, Arleigh (Ehnert) Peterman, LaVern (Moths) Junge, and Bernice (Haack) Goedde.

The couple farmed all their lives until their retirement seven years ago. They are members of Immanuel Lutheran Church where Melvin taught Sunday School for many years, and is a member of the Lutheran Layman's League and Dorothy is a member of Lutheran Women's Missionary League. Melvin also served on the board of the Random Lake co-operative for many years.

The Moths have four children: Darlene and husband Wilfred Strack Jr., Colby; Dale and wife Mary Jane, Denair, California; Melva Jean and husband Martin Stockwell, Salem; and Joel and his wife Jaquyn of Caledonia.

They are also blessed with 13 grandchildren, one step-grandchild, and four great-grandchildren.

The couple requests that gifts be omitted.

It is claimed in some legends that, in ancient Egypt, baboons were trained to wait on tables.

High School Is Your Ticket to the Future

FIRST IN A SERIES

By Scott Goplin, Dean of Admissions, St. Norbert College

A word of wisdom for high school students: it's never too early to prepare for college. If you lay the groundwork for college in high school, you'll be prepared to go to any kind of college — two-year community or technical, large public university or a small private college like St. Norbert.

Even if you are not college-bound, preparing for college can get you ready for other kinds of post-secondary education, vocational training, or skills that are needed in the workplace.

Think of your high school education as the ticket to your future. Here are a few college-prep steps students and parents should keep in mind!

Most 9th graders don't realize that college preparation begins during the first year of high school. Although it's a time when many freshmen are adjusting to a new school and new teachers, it's also the first chance to lay the groundwork for the years to come.

Freshmen should make sure that they are taking "college prep" courses. These courses will establish a solid foundation in basic skills which will be needed throughout high school and in college. Also, freshmen should realize that grades count.

During the second year of high school, sophomores begin to be introduced to college, without the deadline and pressures experienced by upperclassmen. Many 10th graders take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT). This preliminary exam helps them get used to taking college entrance exams, and allows them to work on their weak spots before they take the SAT or ACT tests.

Tenth graders should also meet with their high school guidance counselor to talk about college. The guidance counselor's office can be an invaluable resource. Browse through the many college guidebooks such as Barron's or The College Handbook, or look at individual college viewbooks.

Start to get an idea about what college is like through reading or by talking to older students about their college plans.

Ask them about the colleges they are considering and why. Compare their reasoning with your own. The more research you do, the better idea you'll have of your own needs and goals in selecting a college.

Junior year is an important time in the college preparation process. Juniors should schedule enough time to study for, and take, the SAT or ACT. Students who want to take the exam a second time to improve their scores should give themselves extra time to take the test before applications are due.

The junior year is also when students begin to think seriously about the kind of college you want to attend: large or small, public or private, urban or rural. When first considering colleges, students should be open to all types — without ruling out any because of selectiveness or cost. Many juniors visit colleges to get the feel of different campuses and to further narrow their choices.

When considering colleges, don't sell yourself short either academically or financially. Your grades and extracurricular activities count throughout high school. If you didn't do well during your first two years, there is always a chance to show improvement. And don't forget to ask your guidance counselor about financial aid packages. No matter what your family's income you may be eligible for financial assistance.

By the start of senior year, the college preparation process goes into full gear. Students carefully select a list of colleges to apply to. Besides location and size, consider other important factors such as majors or course offerings, athletics, atmosphere, and social life.

Your list should include several colleges; some more selective than others and some which are considered "safety" colleges. Fine tune this list with the help of your parents and guidance counselor.

Next comes the application and interviewing process. Many guidance counselors' offices are equipped with resources to help students hone their essay writing (many college applications require a special essay) and interview skills.

Remember that preparation for college begins the first day of high school — and continues all the way through graduation.

Education is the Vision That Shapes the Future

By Herbert J. Grover, State Superintendent

The young people in our classrooms today are the foundation that gives us hope for the future.

Any number of reports tell us society is hurting, and they all point to education as a key to lifting people out of poverty, despair and joblessness. The American educational system has problems. It has been asked to confront social ills such as AIDS, drugs, teen pregnancies or any of dozens of others in addition to providing each student a quality education.

Despite its shortcomings the American educational system remains the envy of the world. Yes, we read about and hear about how students from other countries exceed our students in various academic measurements. But no other country exceeds our educational system in scope and range of providing opportunity to all children, regardless of station in life, physical impairment, or any other condition that limits access to education in other parts of the world.

Our schools need support. The future brings a call to reduce the dropout rate in our high schools, provide better preparation for students to enter the world of work, provide more training opportunities for teachers, get parents and the extended family more involved in the education of children, give more emphasis to the basic academic areas and much, much more.

To do all these things requires additional resources. Along with dollars and buildings and hardware we need imagination and commitment and innovation. The latter three on the list are most likely to spring from teachers, administrators, principals, parents, and all the others in the community on whom, finally, our vision for the future depends.

Aptly, the Department of Public Instruction's Families in Education program focuses its 1991-92 observance on a description of what elementary and secondary education should be all about: Visions for the Future. So, as the 1991-92 school year begins, let us rededicate ourselves to education as a Vision for the Future.

Dear Dr. Sylvia,

My fifth-grade son and I seem to be at war every morning. First I wake him five or six times. Then I find myself nagging him to eat his breakfast, brush his teeth, brush his hair, get his books together and finally, to leave the television set to be ready for my driving him to school. Sometimes I'm late for work because he delays me, and the nagging and arguing are so awful that we both leave in a terrible frame of mind.

Single Parent of Single Son

Dear Single Parent,

We have a foolproof morning routine that works for all elementary and middle school students. It avoids all the nagging and arguing and mornings can become very pleasant. Many, many parents have told me that it's made a tremendous difference. Please try it.

"HOW TO" -

FRESH MORNING START!

1. Announce to your children the guidelines for the new beginning. They will now be responsible for getting themselves ready for school. As parent, your job will be to await them at the breakfast table for a pleasant morning chat. The purchase of a new alarm clock of their choice may usher in the new routine.

2. Night before preparations include the laying out of their clothes, getting their books ready in the book bag and setting the alarm early enough to allow plenty of morning time. They will feel only as tired at 6:30 a.m. as they do at 7:00 a.m., but the earlier start will prevent their usual rush.

3. They wake themselves up (absolutely no calls from others), wash, dress and pick up their room (as itemized in a checklist, which you've prepared together). Breakfast comes only when they are all ready for school. Absolutely no nagging!

4. Now have a pleasant family breakfast and conversation about the day ahead! The parent waits at the breakfast table and is not anywhere around the children prior to their meal together.

Question: What happens if they don't dress in time for breakfast?

Answer: No breakfast (That will only happen once or twice for children who like to eat).

Question: What happens if they don't have enough time in the morning?

Answer: They go to bed 30 minutes earlier and set the alarm 30 minutes earlier until they find the right amount of time necessary for independent mornings.

Question: What happens if I have to drive them to school or day-care on the way to work?

Answer: Insist that they are in your car on time, in whatever state they are. They may finish dressing in the car or on the bus. Stay calm. They'll get the idea.

Question: Does this routine work?

Answer: Always with elementary-aged children. Sometimes with high school students. Never with high school students who like to skip school.

Sheriff Warns Patrons Of County Fair About Credit Card Scheme

Patrons of the Washington County Fair who entered a drawing to win a free cruise can expect a phone call soon.

Both the sheriff's department and the county fair office have received complaints from people who received phone calls, advising them that they were grand prize winners in the drawing and had won a cruise. The caller asks a series of questions and then asks for a credit card number. If the "winner" refuses to give this information, the caller hangs up.

The company sponsoring this contest is Vacation Breaks USA, of Florida. The Wisconsin Department of Justice has received 29 complaints about the company from consumers.

A company representative told the sheriff's department that the offer was not a contest and that participants had to pay $169 for the cruise and hotel accommodations. The spokesperson denied that its telephone salespersons refer to the promotion as a contest or demand a credit card number in order for a person to participate.

Consumers who have already provided credit card information to Vacation Breaks USA should contact their credit card company for assistance. The sheriff's department does not approve or disapprove of the activities of Vacation Break USA, but counsels consumers to find out what they will be billed for, prior to revealing a credit card number.

St. Joseph's Offering 'Work Hardening' Program for Injured

The Rehabilitation Services Department at St. Joseph's Community Hospital is now offering Work Hardening. This is a multidisciplinary program with the patient, physician, physical therapist, occupational therapist, employer, insurance carrier and others actively involved.

This program is intended for injured workers who need reconditioning to return to their regular job and for those who require job modification. Benefits of Work Hardening include: improved strength and flexibility; improved endurance; improved knowledge and demonstration of good body mechanics; improved tolerance for work activities; improved total body conditioning, as well as, rehabilitation of the injury; increased patient confidence in their ability to return to work; an opportunity to perform job oriented tasks, not disability oriented; improved symptom control.

Initial evaluations in the Rehabilitation Services Department include a review of the medical and vocational history and a functional capacities evaluation including general body fitness, knowledge of body mechanics and proper work positioning.

As part of the Work Hardening Program, the Occupational Therapist frequently performs a job analysis at the job site to determine the critical physical demands of the job. This is helpful in setting up the work simulation aspect of the program. Work simulation activities are an integral part of the program to assure realistic evaluation of the worker's readiness to return to work.

The cost of disability is staggering. In the United States for low back pain alone the cost is an estimated $11.1 billion annually. Much of the cost is in paid time off and medical expenses. Research shows that workers away from their job for more than 6 months have only a 50 percent likelihood of returning to work. This figure drops to 25 percent after 1 year and zero after 2 years. As a result prompt referral to a Work Hardening Program is encouraged.

It is our intent to better serve the community by assisting injured workers become reconditioned for a safe return to gainful employment and a productive lifestyle.

Letters to The Editor

12 August 1991

To the Editor:
and all parents, grandparents,
and concerned friends....

A 17 year old youth is dead. He did not die alone however. One minute he was playing in a small boat in front of a noisy-people crowded resort and the next he was struggling for his life. Somehow the craft over turned. It must have happened quickly. When his calls for help were heard those responding were too late. In front of the resort they later pulled the body from the water. On lookers crowded around wondering at the circumstances that caused the death. In my office I have a file full of speculative circumstances surrounding many other such water fatalities. All of the laws that I and my fellow conservation wardens enforce will not help those in my file now. For had those persons worn a life preserver, a personal flotation device (PFD), they would be alive today. In the time it takes to turn off the cabin stove a watercraft can flip over. In the time it takes to reach the watercraft user, he or she can drown. Yes, we as conservation wardens do make arrests for those who do not have an approved PFD on board. Wisconsin law states that anyone in a "boat or vessel... capable of being used as a means of transportation on water" must have a personal flotation device on board for each person. Our concern is for the living. My file contains many incidents of persons without PFD's who have slipped from inner tubes, overturned canoes and rubber rafts. If only the 17 year old youth had taken the trouble to put on one of those clumsy life preservers or have a parent or friend insisted that he wear one, my file would have had one less addition.

County Crash Survivors to Receive 'Saved By the Belt' Awards

The Washington County Sheriff's Department and Wisconsin State Patrol will present "Saved by the Belt" awards to persons who survived serious motor vehicle accidents because of their use of safety belts. The awards will be given by Sheriff Robert H. Schulteis and Captain William C. DeGuire, commander of District #3 of the State Patrol, on Thursday, August 22, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. at the Washington County Sheriff's Department.

The recognition of these survivors is part of a nationwide program to encourage the use of safety belts and child restraint seats, under the guidance of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the Office for Highway Safety of the Wisconsin Department of Transportation. The goal of the program is to increase the use of this equipment from the current estimate of 49 percent to at least 70 percent.

Persons are selected to receive the "Saved by the Belt" award by the law enforcement officers or emergency medical personnel who were at the scene of the accident.

The Wisconsin State Patrol and the Washington County Sheriff's Department are pleased to recognize these responsible drivers and passengers for their good judgement. They are living proof that safety belts do save lives.

TRACY FIDELER — On June 30, 1989 the vehicle that Tracy was driving left CTH D, which was under construction, striking a culvert. Although seriously injured, Tracy survived the accident because of the safety-belt. She was nominated by the Kohlsville Fire Department.

CHERYL L. WERBELOW — Cheryl was driving on USH 45 on January 19, 1991 when her vehicle hit an icy patch on the highway and rolled over. She escaped injury because of her use of the safety belt. Nominated by the Wisconsin State Patrol.

ROMAN & CHARLEEN BRUER — Charleen was driving southbound on USH 41 at Lovers Lane Road on July 9, 1991, with Roman as a passenger. Another vehicle, crossing the highway from the west, failed to yield from a stop sign and pulled out in front of the Bruers. Both Bruers received minor injuries, and would have been seriously injured without their safety belts. Nominated by the Wisconsin State Patrol.

JOSHUA BUTLER — Joshua was a passenger in a vehicle which was struck by a Fox River Valley Railroad freight train, at the Lighthouse Lane crossing (Town of Barton) on May 4, 1991. The driver and another passenger were not wearing safety belts, were ejected from the vehicle, and suffered serious multiple injuries. Joshua was wearing his belt and sustained a minor injury. Nominated by Deputy Robert Konstanz of the Washington County Sheriff's Department.

GREGORY SCHUMACHER — Gregory was driving on CTH E (Town of Polk) on July 17, 1991 when his car was struck by another vehicle which pulled out from the stop sign on Slinger Road. The other driver left the scene, but reported the accident 14 hours later. Gregory suffered minor injuries, but would have been seriously injured without his safety belt. He was nominated by Deputy Patrick Pankratz of the Washington County Sheriff's Department.

Tornados, large hail, damaging winds and pouring rain swept through a portion of central and southeastern Wisconsin about 4:30 p.m. Monday and Kewaskum was one of the areas hard hit by the severe storm. The "twister" passed from west to east and also did extensive damage in the St. Kilian area. The "twister" was the second to touch down in this area in a week. Monday's storm left a path of devastation in Kewaskum. At least 25 to 30 trees, most of them large ones, were downed in the village. The trees were not uprooted but twisted off. Some of the trees fell on houses damaging roofs, sidings and windows. The large baseball grandstand on the school grounds was shifted from its concrete block foundation. Dozens of television antennas all over town were snapped off or bent. Chimneys were damaged and one was blown off at the Clayton Stautz home. Traffic on Hwy. H, near Kewaskum was reported tied up by a fallen tree across the road.

The Kewaskum Floral Shop, which has a feature booth in the flower building at the Wisconsin State Fair, took second place in the judging. Their theme is, "Make Mine Country Style." The Tom Hermans, proprietors of the shop, invite area people to stop in and look at their display while at the fair.

Jocelyn Fellenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fellenz, 218 First St., Kewaskum, won a fourth place award on the national level for a play she entered in the 44th annual essay poster stewardship contest sponsored by the United Church of Christ. Jocelyn is a member of the Middle High Youth group of Peace Church.

Birth - A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Breit, R.2, Kewaskum, Saturday, August 13.

Finish in Second Place

A's Win a Pair; Lose a Pair

By Statesman Sports Writer
KEWASKUM — Even when the team has stumbled on occasion this season, one element has remained a constant for the Kewaskum Athletics this year - good pitching.

In four games over the last few weeks, the two A's lefthanders, Timmy Heberer and Don Menzel, have combined to allow the opposition just 10 runs. But that was only good enough to split the four games, and the result was the A's falling from first place in the Rock River Northern Division.

Heberer and Menzel teamed up to shut down Juneau on just seven hits in a 2-1 victory here, recently. Heberer pitched eight innings, before Menzel came in and shut the door in the ninth, striking out a pair of batters.

A third-inning RBI single by Bob Yahr scored Mark Schlosser with the first Athletic run, and after Juneau tied things in the fifth, the score remained 1-1 until the eighth.

That's when Greg Rinn started the winning rally with a single. Rinn then moved to second on a fielder's choice, stole third, and came around to score on a wild pitch.

Heberer went the distance against Waupun, scattering six hits, but his teammates committed five costly errors, as the Athletics fell 4-0. Heberer struck out nine in the game, but walked eight as well.

The Athletic didn't fair too badly at the plate, collecting seven hits and forcing three Waupun errors, but luck seemed to be on Waupun's side all day, as several well-hit balls by the A's somehow found their way into Waupun gloves.

Waupun pecked away all day at Heberer, scoring single runs in the first, third, fourth and fifth innings to take home the win. Terry Koth and Andy Hoenecke led the A's with a pair of hits each.

The A's seemed to have things in hand against Oakfield last Wednesday night. Menzel started for the A's and was rolling along with a 1-0 lead heading into the eighth.

After striking out the first batter in the inning, Menzel gave up a double to Gary Ryan, who had fouled off three 3-2 pitches from Menzel. After Curt King dribbled a hit through the infield to put runners on first and third, Mike Urban drilled an RBI single to score Ryan and move King to third.

Heberer, who replaced Menzel at that point, walked the next batter to load the bases. Next up was Bill Ryan, who hit a short fly ball to Mark Schlosser in the outfield. The throw home from Schlosser was late, and A's player/manager Doug Gonring argued that the runner from third had left early on the tagup. The appeal was denied, and the next batter promptly delivered a two-run double.

"It was a very well played game," Gonring said, trying not to take away from his pitchers. "Donny pitched real well. He deserved to win that game."

The loss left the A's with a 11-4 record in the Rock River, thus falling behind first place Oakfield (12-3). Oakfield went on to win last Sunday over Waupun 11-3, keeping the Oaks in first. The A's meanwhile beat Horicon 3-1. Details will appear next week.

WB Judo Club Competes in Ohio

Two members of the West Bend Judo Club traveled to Elyria, Ohio for the 1991 U.S. Junior Olympic Judo Championship recently. Over 500 Judoka from the United States competed in this event.

Nick Nordquist competed in the boys 14-16 yr old 150 lb. division. He won one of the matches of the tournament by throwing his first opponent with morate-slonage (two-arm shoulder throw) for Ippon (full-point) in less than 5 seconds. Nick went on to win 5th place in his division.

Stacie Lee Thiesen competed in the girls 14-16 yr. light wt. division. She captured 3rd place and qualified to compete for the U.S. Junior team in the upcoming CAN-AM Judo Tournament which will be held in Canada later this year.

The 1991 Wisconsin State Fair Junior Judo Championships were recently held at the State Fair. Competition was limited to boys and girls ages 4 through 11 years old. Jennifer and Jessica Sanfilippo competed in the group 7 girls division and won 3rd and 4th place respectively.

W.B. Team member Lynn Roethke won a silver medal in the Pan American games being held in Havana Cuba. Her only loss was at the hands of the Cuban national team player who won the gold medal.

Gruber Wins Thursday Second Half Title

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Back to back wins in the final two regular season games in the Thursday night men's softball league vaulted Gruber Tool and Die into the playoffs this coming week.

Gruber ousted Barrel Haus from second half title contention by scoring four runs in both the fifth and sixth innings to down the Haus, 8-1. Barrel Haus finished the second half with a 4-2 mark, 7-5 overall.

The win set up a showdown with Bar-N-Annex, which had already won the first half crown, and could have clinched the second half, and overall title, with a win over Gruber. But a Scott Krahn home run highlighted another four run fifth inning for Gruber, propelling them to a 8-7 win. Gruber thus finished at 6-0 in the second half, 10-2 overall. Bar-N-Annex ended at 4-2, 9-3.

In the other contests Thursday night, T's Lounge capped off an 8-4 year with an 8-7 squeaker over West Bend Elevator (0-6, 0-12). T's finished 3-3 in the second half. McNeeley reached the .500 mark overall as they pounded Bar-N-Ranch 13-0. McNeeley finished 3-3, 6-6, while the Ranch ended up 1-5, 2-10.

In Tuesday's action, T's Lounge made it a 1-2 finish in the second half race as T's II beat Campbellsport Building Supply 13-9 in nine innings. T's II finished 5-1, 8-4, while T's I, which had a bye the final week, already clinched both titles with a 6-0, 12-0 mark.

In other games Tuesday, Tropical Pool and Spa finished with the second best overall mark after beating Neuville Chevrolet (2-4, 3-9) 12-4. Tropical finished 4-2, 9-3. Meanwhile, Amerahn (2-4, 4-8), kept the Kewaskum Saloon winless on the year with a 15-5 win over Saloon (0-6, 0-12).

PLAYOFFS

TUESDAY — Because T's Lounge I won both the first and second half titles, there will be no playoff for the Tuesday night crown.

THURSDAY — First half winner Bar-N-Annex (9-3) will play second half winner Gruber Tool and Die (10-2) on Thursday, August 22, in a two-out-of-three championship, beginning at 6:30 at the Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park.

The man with the most Olympic gold medals for speed skating is American Eric Heiden who got all five of his at Lake Placid in 1980.

August 30 Is Application Deadline Flyway Council Recommends Wisconsin Goose Quota of 185,600 Birds

MADISON, WI — The Mississippi Flyway Council, following its recent summer meeting, has recommended a Canada goose harvest quota of 185,600 for Wisconsin in 1991 to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, reports Jon Bergquist, Department of Natural Resources waterfowl and wetland wildlife ecologist.

"This year's quota is down about 10,000 geese from 1990," Bergquist said. "The fall flight forecast of Mississippi Valley Population Canada geese is similar in numbers to last year."

The department is now working on the season framework and will take it to the August 29 Natural Resource Board for action.

"We are again looking at a five zone Canada goose hunt just like in 1990," Bergquist added. "This gives us good control of the harvest, which allows Wisconsin to stay within its delegated harvested quota."

According to Bergquist, the following proposed season framework will be presented to the Natural Resources Board for its consideration:

The Exterior Zone (all parts of the state not included in the other four zones) hunt will last 93 days, starting on Sept. 21 and allowing a two bird per day limit.

The Horicon Zone time periods will be between 58 and 72 days long. Previously there were four time periods, but the department is considering overlapping the time periods to allow hunters more opportunities to hunt. The bag limit per day will be two birds; the total season bag limit per time period will depend on the number of tags allotted, which is based on the number of applications received. "If applications are similar to last year, hunters should get seven tags each," noted Bergquist.

For the Theresa Zone the department proposes doing away with the mandatory registration and setting up two time periods to hunt. Each hunter will get a combination of tags for each time period, probably including three of four tags for the first half of the season and three tags for the last half of the proposed 84-day season. The bag limit will be one bird per day.

The Pine Island and Collins Zone hunts have no proposed changes from last season. The limit will be two birds per day based on the number of tags allocated.

The deadline for application for the Canada goose hunt tag zones in Friday, August 30, 1991.

"Even though hunters may receive seven tags for the Horicon Zone hunts, hunters are issued more tags than we expect them to fill," Bergquist noted. "Canada geese become very smart very quickly when hunted around a refuge like Horicon and hunters have to learn how to hunt geese using decoys and calls to be successful."

13 Lettermen, 8 Starters Return

Indians Open Football Practice

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — After ending a five-year conference losing streak in their final Eastern Wisconsin battle last season, the Kewaskum football team enters the 1991 season with something it hasn't had in a long time - a winning streak.

Albeit one game, but it is something on which to build for coach Clark Pearson and his troops, who will return a total of 13 letterwinners, including eight starters to the fold this season.

Another plus that the Indians will have this year is numbers. With 16 seniors, 22 juniors, 34 sophomores and 40 freshman out for the sport, things are beginning to look up for the program, which in recent years has barely had enough players to scrimmage in practices.

"We hope to move the program up to the middle of the pack this year," said Pearson, who begins his fourth year as head coach of the Indians, and 19th year of coaching the sport overall. Assisting Pearson this year will be mainstays Perry Koth and Jim Westphal, as well as Al Brunke, Russ Freeman and David Rockhill.

Pearson and his staff will try and find the right blend of players to improve on last year's 1-7 overall mark. The Indians finished 3-5, but had to forfeit a pair of wins because they used an ineligible player in those games.

Heading the list of lettermen who will help this season are a pair of starting offensive ends, seniors Matt Seiser and Shawn Schneider. They will be joined on the offensive unit by fellow returning starters, Kim Marx (RB) and Eric McElhatton (WB).

Cook, along with junior Scott Donath, will vie for the starting quarter back spot, while Marx, Schlice and juniors Jim Rix, Matt Schlosser, Dan Schulties and Brad Weinreich will battle for the running back positions.

Fleischman and Steilow will anchor the offensive line from their guard spots, and will compete for starting positions with fellow linemen Ryan Amerling, Aaron Laatsch, Sheldon Oppermann, Brian Bruendl, Keith Herman, and Todd Muckerheide. Aaron

TEAMS NEEDED FOR FALL SOFTBALL LEAGUE

KEWASKUM — Teams are needed for a proposed fall softball league in Kewaskum. The league is looking to play on Wednesday nights and is now taking applications for teams willing to play.

If you are interested in fielding a team in the fall league, contact Joe 'Benji' Klahn at 338-4204, or Rick Krahn at 626-2736.

Rettler, Thad Koontz and Keith Butschlick look to provide Schneider and Seiser some competition at the end spots.

Moving up in the Eastern Wisconsin standing will rely heavily on the Indians finding a running back, according to Pearson. And while his squad is not very big, "better overall speed," and "better athletes" hopefully will help the Indians' cause.

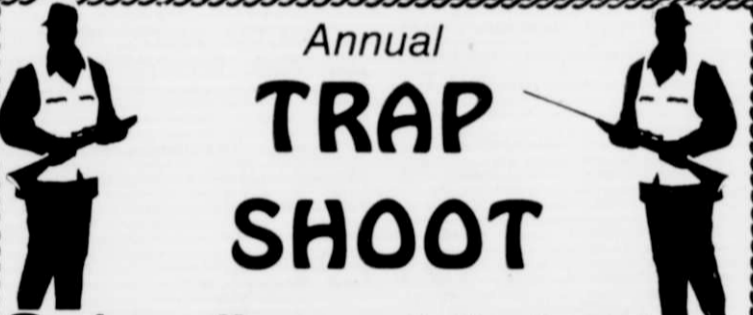

Pearson points to perennial powers Two Rivers and Plymouth as being the top teams in the EW, and notes that Sheboygan Falls is "always tough."

The Indians get their first taste of an opponent this Saturday, when they travel to Slinger for a scrimmage with the Owls.

Kewaskum A's Play At Home Sunday

The Kewaskum A's playoff game will be played at the Elementary school diamond on Sunday, Aug. 25, at 1:30 p.m. They will be hosting the winner of the Waupun and Slinger game of Aug. 24.
