The Scheer Family of Lumberjacks from Hayward, Wisconsin will be an exciting feature of Kettle Kountry Kolors.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik
Statesman Staff Writer

Kewaskum is proud to bring you the Scheer's Lumberjack Show of Champions from Hayward, Wisconsin; the most authentic and professional lumberjack show in the world.

The Scheer family and their old world skills have been featured on national television, including ABC Wide World of Sports, CBS Battle of the Sexes, and ABC

Superstars. They've graced the pages of People Magazine, Time, Newsweek, and National Geographic.

As competitors, the family has been a dominant force in lumberjack sports across North America, and have traveled throughout the United States, Canada, Africa and Australia, competing and performing at fairs, sport shows, and specialty events.

Robert and Fred Scheer, founders and performers in Scheer's Lumberjack shows, have been in the lumberjack entertainment business for more than a decade. The brothers have long excelled in logrolling and speed climbing and hold many world champion titles. Both the men and their crew are hardy, clean-cut, good-humored young men and women who pound for

Video Post Opens

By Sharon Callaway Roznik
Statesman Staff Writer

Mario and movie fans will be happy to know that Kewaskum's newest business, Video Post opened its doors on Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 355 Main Street.

Located in the same building as Kuehl's Suds and Spirits, proprietor Joan and Russ Herriges are excited about their new store and its ideal location. "Customers can pick up movies, and at the same time stop in at Kuehl's for snacks and beverages," Joan explains.

One of the most popular features is expected to be the new Super Nintendo Game System, available for rental, along with the new games, including Super Mario World. Video Post will be receiving the new games each month, as Nintendo releases them.

The Herriges have always been interested in starting their own business. "We always wanted to do something the entire family can be involved with," says Joan. "and this will be a way we can spend more time together." Their family includes three children: Crystal age 10, Steve age 7, and four year old Mandy.

Video Post will carry all the latest releases, regular feature movies, Nintendo games and rentals, video player rentals, and will also have new and previewed videos for sale.

"We are specializing in children's entertainment with a big selection of games and movies," Joan adds. All regular movies will be available for 99c, and new releases are priced at $1.99. "We also carry a large selection of holiday rentals, including many Christmas favorites." Their plans for the future include camcorder rentals available sometime in December.

Russ will be working in the store part-time helping Joan, as he is employed full-time at Super Excavator where he's worked as a foreman for the past twelve years.

Hwy. H Crossing Guard Relocated

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

At the request of the Kewaskum Board of Education, the Highway H, Kewaskum school crossing guard has been relocated effective immediately.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel stated the board has asked that the guard be moved from the intersection of Highway H and Milan Drive, to the intersection of Highway H, and Highway 45, (approximately one block east of the former crossing).

The move was made as an alternate response to safety concerns brought to the board in a petition by parents of elementary school children traveling to school from the Bel-Ric and Timblin Apartments areas. The petition initially asked that the school district provide bus transportation for the students.

The crossing guard's afternoon on-duty schedule has also been changed, by request of the board, to run from 3:55 p.m. to 4:10 p.m., ten minutes later. That move was also in response to parent concerns that they felt it took the younger children longer to walk home and some youngsters arrived at the crossing after the guard was off duty.

Chief Knoebel asks that parents make their children aware of the new crossing location so that they cross Highway H, under the supervision of the crossing guard.

Lumberjack Show

pound, are the best athletes around.

Watch the sawdust fly as powerful stock chain saws cut through fourteen inches of white pine in seconds, thrill to the excitement of highly skilled, logrolling as birlers bounce and spin on the logs with the sure-footedness of mountain goats.

Other spectacular events include spar pole climbing, in which two men race up the 60 foot poles and return to earth with lightning speed, and bucksawing, with blades up to six feet in length slicing through a foot of pine with the speed of modern day power saws.

Don't miss the axe throwing, the springboard chopping, or the standing block chops which uses five-pound Austalian racing axes - and many more exciting contests!

Holding true to tradition lumberjacks dress in the style of the late 19th century loggers. All competitors use specially - designed racing axes and American built crosscut or "bucking" saws. Chain saws add a touch of modern day logging.

The Sheer's Lumberjack show combines a unique blend of sport, history and comedy that guarantees fun for the whole family. Audience participation is the key to success and the lumberjacks are available after each show to answer questions and to sign autographs. When you want quality entertainment, there is no finer, all-around family show.

Shows will be provided free of charge 12:30, 2:30, and 4:30 p.m. on Sunday at Kettle Kountry Kolors. So bring a blanket to sit on the hill, and get ready to experience The Show of Champions at River Hill Park.

Normally there is up to an $8.00 admission fee charged to see the lumberjack shows. Thanks to the generosity of the Kettle Kountry "King" voters, the Chamber of Commerce will be able to offer free admission to all the lumberjack shows. Also, please give all our "candidates" a pat on the back for graciously going along with the whole crazy "king" idea. (You can still vote up until 6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 11 at the "polling places" or until 3 p.m. Saturday at the Kettle Kountry Kolors information booth.)

and Sunday. This authentic recreation of the past includes their famous main battle, union and confederate drills, uniforms, night fire demonstrations, evening guided light tours, and much more. On Sunday the group will travel from house to house in the village, foraging for food. All collections will be then donated to a local food pantry.

The Buckskinners are back for their second year at Kettle Kountry Kolors, complete with authentic deerskin clothing, a trader's camp alive with campfires, music and laughter, knife and hatchet throwing, teepees and primitive cooking as they spin stories and tales of "the good old days."

Cushings Battery and their civil war encampment will once again make their home among Kewaskum's autumn hillsides, and echo the thunder of an original 1847 cannon, fired every hour. Experience them both days, along with Native American traditions shared by our local Dreamcatcher lady, Karen Hartman and Kathy Kasberger of Fredonia. Enjoy native fry bread, beadwork, traditional jewelry and storytelling.

Browse through the open air market of artisans, crafters, antique dealers, and retailers - the sights, sounds and smells promise something for everyone with over 50 exhibitors featured at our fall festival!

Aromas will lead you every which way, as the crisp autumn air ignites appetites. Appease your appetites with mouth-watering food items...brats, burgers, French fries, tacos, nachos, Mexican finger food, pizza, Native American fry bread, chili, egg rolls, hot dogs, sloppy joes, corn dogs, Canadian cheese soup, hot beef sandwiches, chicken filet sandwiches, pancakes, meatball sandwiches, sour cream fries, pork rib sandwiches, sausage, garlic bread, creme puffs, apple strudel, homemade desserts, and baked goods, cake, cheesecake, caramel corn, caramel apples, drumsticks, popcorn, cotton candy, wine coolers, beer, soda, milk, coffee, hot chocolate, apple cider, and many other delectable foods you won't be able to resist!

But we've only just begun! Saturday offers kids' Big Wheel Races, Bed Races, Bingo in the Gazebo, Hot Air Balloons (enter the raffle and win a free ride!), the crowning of the Kettle Kountry King contest winners, and, back by popular demand, live music by the Bear Creek Band from 4 to 8 p.m.

Start Sunday off right with a Pancake Breakfast (open at 8 a.m.) followed by a festive Polka Mass in the Beer Garden (bring your own chairs). A Spanferkel

The Kewaskum Fire Department will be demonstrating the "Survive Alive" program on Sunday, Oct. 13, at Riverhill Park during the Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival. The "Survive Alive" training trailer, courtesy of the Richfield Volunteer Fire Department will be located in front of the bandstand.

The "SURVIVE ALIVE" program is a national effort in which local fire departments are working to train both children and adults to survive a typical house fire by safely exposing them to the smoky conditions that are present in a fire.

This program allows our fire departments to work one on one with youngsters and their families, in a simulated fire condition, teaching them the importance of staying low in a heat and smoke filled environment, along with what to do and what to look out for to survive a fire.

will be available, with generous portions available starting at noon. The Buchel-Klass Orchestra will live up the Beer Garden from 1 to 4 p.m., with live radio broadcasts by WTKM. Don't miss the pretzel eating contest!

Win cash prizes up to $500! Tickets are available at various businesses throughout Kewaskum, and can be purchased at the information booth during the festival. Sink a hole-in-one at the Hon-E-Kor golf contest and win $500. There's also a chance to win a Hon-E-Kor membership, and don't forget a chance to win a hot air balloon ride.

Kettle Kountry Kolors is a great opportunity for the entire family to spend a fall weekend together. Good food, great entertainment, friendly people ... all waiting for your pleasure in the panoramic heart of the Kettle Moraine during the peak of fall colorama.

OM Coaches Needed For School District

Odyssey of the Mind will begin recruiting and selecting teams in the Kewaskum School District. This marks the eighth consecutive year the School District of Kewaskum has participated in this program.

Odyssey of the Mind is a program that provides opportunities for children grades 3-12 to work cooperatively as part of seven member teams and build life-long skills in leadership, problem solving, and risk taking. OM also allows students to be inventive and creative and learn through trial by error. It is a proven program for building lasting friendships and self-confidence.

Kewaskum has a long tradition of successful participation in OM having sent numerous teams to regional, state and world competition.

The program needs creative adults to act as team coaches at elementary, middle and high school levels. Interested adults can apply for a coaching position by contacting the OM coordinator at Kewaskum High School, 626-2166, ext. 304.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

My name is Jenni Camin, I'm 13 years old and a member of the West Bend Teen Factory. On August 24 we did a food drive for the Full Shelf Food Pantry. Myself and Kim Schramm collected donations at the Sentry in Kewaskum that day. We would like to thank the Sentry shoppers that helped us out, but most of all we'd like to give a special thanks to the Sentry store itself. It contributed most of the food we collected. Thanks Sentry!

Fire Department Holds 'Simulated' Bus Crash

The Kewaskum Fire Department and Rescue Squad held a joint rescue practice with the Campbellsport fire and rescue departments on Thursday, September 26 at 7 p.m. in the evening.

It was a simulated school bus crash on Sandy Road and Ironwood involving 18 "pupils" and one adult bus driver. Campbellsport fire department assisted in a mutual aid call with transport and triage. Being in such close proximity with each other, it is very important for the Campbellsport and Kewaskum departments to hone their skills and improve their coherence if the time would ever arrive that the two would have to work together in time of need.

The Kewaskum department got to practice with their new Jaws of Life by cutting a hole in the top of the overturned bus to make an opening to remove "victims."

When firemen responded to their page and arrived on the scene, they found the overturned bus, courtesy of Star Auto, and the "victims" trapped inside. They quickly went to work removing "victims," setting up the triage, and transporting those "injured" that were stabilized in triage.

They worked quickly and adeptly and the entire unit can be proud of the excellent job they accomplished together. Being a nighttime maneuver made the "rescue" that much more difficult. Should the need ever arise, the unit can take pride in being able to handle the situation because of the hours of practice that were put into this simulation.

While involved in the practice, the Kewaskum squad was alerted to a rescue call when a young female from Two Rivers hurt her right ankle at Kewaskum High School. She was being transported by her parents to the Kewaskum fire house where the rescue unit intercepted the family, treated the girl and then transported her to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend.

Members of the fire and rescue units remove "victims" from the overturned bus.

Young "patients" are examined, treated and stabilized in triage before being transported to area hospitals.

Convocation Series to Open At UW-Fond du Lac Oct. 2

"The Special Consensus" will open the 1991-92 Convocations Series at the University of Wisconsin Center - Fond du Lac on Wednesday, Oct. 2 at 7:30 p.m. Admission is $4.50 for adults and $3.50 for seniors. Children and students are $1.

The Grammy nominated four person acoustic bluegrass band has been performing in the midwest since the spring of 1975. The group, based out of Chicago, has produced four albums and has appeared on the Nashville Network and National Public Radio. The Chicago Tribune calls them "truly outstanding and versatile," and come "highly recommended" from Silver Lake College near Manitowoc.

The Special Consensus presents a repertoire that includes traditional bluegrass standards, songs by Flat and Scruggs, Bill Monroe, and Jim and Jesse. They also do their own compositions, such as "A Hole in My Heart" and "Lone Star." The group will also play contemporary songs like "Ramblin' Man" by the Allman Brothers' and Merle Haggard's "Ramblin' Fever" and Sam Cooke's "That's Heaven to Me."

Incorporated into the series is the UW Center-Fond du Lac Theatre Department's production "A Streetcar Named Desire" by Tennessee Williams. The play will be performed on November 7, 8 and 9 in the Student Center. The Thursday night performance is included in the Convocations' season ticket. Otherwise, all seats are $4 and are available for sale in the General Office starting in mid-October.

This play changed the face of American theatre forever, bringing a style of poetry and realism that startled and thrilled its audience. This play is not suitable for children.

The remainder of the series will be performed in February and March when the internationally born trio, "Artistrio," from the UW-System will perform on February 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center. The trio is composed of a piano, a violin and a cello.

"A Tribute to Will Rogers," will be performed on March 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center. Actor/musician, Lance Brown, plays and sings cowboy songs and popular music of Will's day as a backdrop to Roger's life story. He explores how Will's wisdom and humor was influenced by his early contact with the working cowboys of the late 1800's.

Admission for "Artistrio" "Will Rogers" is $4.50, $3.50 seniors and $1 for students.

For more information or a brochure on the series, call 929-3600.

Kettle Moraine Colorama Open House on Saturday

Village workers were surprised last Monday, when the load of garbage they were collecting, started to smolder in the truck en route to Zahns Dump in West Bend. Smoke got so thick across Hwy. 45, the lack of visibility stopped traffic. The Village crew acted quickly, dumping the smoldering debris on the side of the highway, where the fire dept. took over.

CAMPBELLSPORT — A celebration of color marks the annual Kettle Moraine Colorama Open House scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 5, according to Walter J. Adams, superintendent of the Kettle Moraine State Forest-Northern Unit.

Free admission is granted to all patrons of the Forest on that day, Adams said, so stickers are not required. Campers, however, will be required to pay the regular fees and have vehicle stickers.

Scheduled events during the Open House include:

"Take a Walk on the Wild Side" Walk-A-Thon, sponsored by the Ice Park & Trail Foundation, with assistance from Bank One, starting at 8 a.m.

"Sights, Smells & Sounds of Wisconsin's Autumn", a short walk starting at the Ice Age

Center on Hwy. 67 near Dundee, narrated by Roger Reif, forest naturalist, at 9:30 a.m.

A geological auto tour originating at the Ice Age Center at 1:30 p.m. Reif will lead the tour.

Adams said that special points of interest in the Forest, during the fall Open House, are the five loop-type hiking trails, the Ice Age Trail, and the panoramic views from the Ice Age Center or the Parnell Tower.

VFW TO MEET

The Kewaskum Memorial Post 11036, will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 8th, at 7:30 p.m. at Johann Building, 2450 Hwy. 28E, in St. Michaels.

Harry E. Koch, Cmdr.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my family, neighbors, and friends for their visits, phone calls, cards, flowers, gifts and especially prayers, while I was in the hospital and convalescing at home. Special thanks to Pastor Jim, the doctors and nurses at St. Joseph's Hospital and the Milwaukee Medical Complex and the Kewaskum Rescue Squad.

All your kindnesses were greatly appreciated.

UWWC Ninth Annual London Theatre Tour

Two weeks in England for $1,100, including round-trip transportation and tickets to three productions in London's West End, are features of the annual London Theatre Tour at the University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County.

Brad Ford, assistant professor of communication arts at UWWC, will be leading the tour for the ninth time. He said, "The tour offers the opportunity to explore a different culture without having to contend with a language barrier. And it is a chance to partake in the best theatre in the world — all at an affordable cost. This trip is ideal for community members as well as college students."

A free one-evening orientation session, "London by Limelight," will be held sometime in November, "after the final bookings are made," Ford said. Ford and his wife, Jan, director of student services at UWWC, will provide briefings on the London theatre season, British culture and the logistics of the tour.

The tour is offered through the UW Extension outreach program at UWWC.

Tour members leave West Bend on Dec. 26 and return Jan. 9. Costs include a 2-bedroom, fully equipped apartment for four participants (double occupancy flats are available at a slightly higher cost), a 14-day pass providing free land transportation in London, and the aforementioned theatre tickets.

Ford said, "The schedule is primarily free time so the traveler will have ample sight-seeing or additional theatre-going experiences. Short week-end trips to Paris, Amsterdam, or Dublin can also be arranged."

For further information or to hold a spot for the trip, call UWWC at 335-5222 or 335-5208.

Before any of the above gentlemen (with the emphasis on gentle) begin to organize a local "lynch mob," please be aware that the editor of this newspaper will be out of town for the next three or four weeks (I'm not stupid!).

I really can't be blamed for this idea. I knew if I asked any of the above finalists if I could take their picture for the paper, I would only hear a resounding "NO!" from all 15 of them. So I simply settled for the next best thing (maybe even better). So you guys just have to accept the cruel irony of refusing to let me take your picture. Besides we all pretty much know what these guys look like now. It's much more interesting to check out these cuties. We were going to leave the names off and let everyone try to guess who they were, but we figured the thousands of people from out of this area who read the paper just wouldn't be able to handle it. We would be getting phone calls on top of phone calls.

In defense of all the people who were coerced into assisting me in this quest, please realize I had to use charm, persuasion, blackmail and one serious threat of physical violence in order to get ahold of these pictures. (In all honesty, 99.9 percent of all my "helpers" were delighted to turn over these precious gems.)

You have to admit... aren't all these guys just the cutest little things? And just check out the innocence on those faces! Isn't it a good thing we didn't run these pictures sooner? My goodness, how would one know who to vote for judging from these photos.

For example, the prime timers... you can tell just by looking at Kelly's smile that he would grow up to be a law officer. And after his mom took him to the barber before his second grade picture, it's easy to see now why Trev doesn't want to take a chance on getting his hair cut again. Larry had that "devilish" look in his eyes way back in grade school. Could this future fireman possibly have been thinking about all the pranks he would be pulling when he grew up?

It seems as if baby Dick Laubach thinks life is pretty much of a joke. Look at that smirk! If you look real close at Dick nowadays, you can still see that smirk. And then there's Richard... you can just tell this baby was destined to become a barber because he has the least amount of hair. And look at that expression on his face... it's vintage Richard!

Don't know all that much about our teen idols. They all look pretty happy except for young Ritchie. But I think he was upset because the nurses just told him he had been born to a barber. Chris Schmidt looks as if he's hiding some dimples. Don't you wish you were young enough to be that happy again? We don't want to tattle on Tory Laubach, but the reason he's so happy on the above photo is because he's tormenting his poor little sister who was blocked out of the photo. You should see her expression!

Jesse Korth and Eric McElhatton are the spittin' images of their dads. Now whether that will garner any votes for them, will soon be determined. And speaking of daddies, in case any of the teen idol finalists are planning on attending the prom and can't make it to the Kettle Kountry Colors coronation, the judges have decided their dads can come and stand in for them and accept their crown. Quick kids... there's still time to ask some girl and order a corsage! HA! And 'Jonesy' and Dan Schmidt thought they got out of it! Guess again...

And last but not least, there is our sexy seniors. Seeing little Alex in a dress is worth the price of a year's subscription alone.

You can see the strong family resemblance in Alex, Dick and Tory. The Laubachs are the only three generation candidates to make it to the finals.

And would you catch a glimpse of those knees on "Crickets"? Personally, I prefer the little playsuit. It would be just a tad chilly though during those mid-winter watermain breaks. "Mixie" looks as if he would just like to get outside to play baseball. Pictures were meant to be put on baseball cards, not the school yearbook, right?

What I really want to find out is who swiped all the baby pictures of Bud Korth and Barney Strobel. These guys must have gotten wind of this idea and confiscated all the photos before anyone else could get their hands on them. Come on guys... no one's baby pictures are that bad! Actually, Barney should be used to crowns. The above photo was taken after he had won a bowling crown. Did Bud spend his army days thinking about the layout of a golf course? (He must have been thinking about something... if you notice, he totally ignored the "knock" sign on the door.)

Well there they are folks... you voted for these little darlings thus far and now the final decision is up to you. Which one of these lads will eventually reign as "king" of Kewaskum? Just remember, if you run into "hit men" looking for me... I'm outta here!

How long does a contract usually run? Does plastic surgery hurt? These and many more philosophical questions will be answered after our "kings" are crowned and I can move back to Kewaskum. It didn't hurt so real bad now, did it guys? Heck in ten or twenty years from now, no one will even remember this "king" contest!

Dear Dr. Sylvia,

My four-year-old granddaughter is often uncontrollable. Everyone who sees her tells us she needs discipline and although my daughter is trying, she is nearly beside herself in just what to do.

Last time I visited, we had supper together, and we told her she must eat all of her supper to get a piece of pie. She didn't eat all of her supper and later, of course, she wanted pie. When she was told she couldn't have any because she hadn't eaten her supper, she started crying and screaming. My daughter took her to her room. She cried and screamed and kicked the door. My daughter returned to the room and spanked her. That stopped the kicking, but she continued to scream and cry until she fell asleep.

We don't know what the right things is to do anymore. We love the child, but she just won't listen. Can you give us some advice?

A Loving Grandma

Dear Loving Grandma,

I feel certain that I can help you, your daughter and your granddaughter. Begin by putting very small portions of food on her plate. Let her know she may ask for more if she'd like. Use the pie in the same reward manner that you have in the past. If she doesn't eat her meal, place it in the refrigerator until pie time. When the pie is served, offer her the choice of eating her remaining cold dinner and pie, or no dinner and no pie.

If she continues to refuse her meal and cries and screams, quietly escort her to her room and explain that she must stay there until she quiets down. Don't call in to her, don't let her out, and definitely, don't spank her. I understand that your daughter doesn't want to abuse her, but it sounds as if she may be losing control. When she's been quiet for five minutes, let her know she may come out. If she asks for her supper, give it to her (don't reheat it). If not, forget it. She will surely remember this lesson next time.

It sounds as if your granddaughter has too much power for her four years and is mainly in control of her mother. That may cause many problems in the future. *Time-out, properly and consistently carried out, keeps everyone calm and permits parents to take charge. If your daughter takes charge now, parenting will be more satisfying to her, and childhood will feel more secure for your granddaughter.

WDVA Home Loans For Sale Veterans

West Bend — Eligible Wisconsin veterans and their spouses now may have a combined annual income of up to $40,300.00 and still qualify for Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs (WDVA) home loans with an 8.1 percent rate.

Previously, the combined annual income could not exceed $39,000.00. However, this income limit was raised through a provision in the recently enacted state budget bill.

WDVA home loans can be used for purchasing an existing home, building a new home or making home improvements.

WDVA primary mortgage home loans have several advantages including no requirements for private mortgage insurance or loan guarantee, no discount points and no limit on the down payment. Veterans who qualify for a WDVA home improvement loan may borrow from $3,000.00 to $15,000.00 at 8.1 percent annual interest with 15 years to repay. The home improvement loan may be used for alterations, repairs or improvements that increase the livability or energy efficiency of the veteran's primary residence.

To be eligible for a WDVA primary mortgage or home improvement loan the veteran:

*Must be a state resident and have lived in Wisconsin for at least five years or have entered military service from Wisconsin.

*Must meet criteria for military service (veteran served honorably on active duty service during a war period or is eligible for an expeditionary medal for service in hostilities). Veterans who served between the Korean War and Vietnam War are also eligible.

Veterans interested in WDVA home loans should contact their County Veterans' Service Officer or Richard W. Baker, Washington County Veterans' Service Office at 335-4457 to get a certificate of eligibility and a listing of authorized lenders.

Hunters Should Check State Laws

They Sell It - It Must Be Legal. This is not always the case.

I'm often contacted by hunters, and at times I contact hunters, who have come upon some new technology or gadget for sale in a sportsmans magazine or even a local sporting goods store. Most often it is legal for the item to be sold and it may have a practical legal use. State hunting laws will vary from state to state and often the seller will ask you to check local regulations for the legal use of the item.

A few examples which I have come across include the laser sight, as it is commonly referred to. The laser sight emits a very concentrated beam of light which shows up as a colored dot on your target. It is being sold for use on both bows and firearms. The laser sight is not legal for hunting in Wisconsin for you can not hunt with the aid of an artificial light. One exception to this is that it can be used to take raccoon, fox, or unprotected species at the point of kill. A spotlight can also be used in this situation.

Don't confuse the laser sight with a lighted sight pin on a bow or gun scope which has illuminated crosshairs or dot. Both of these are legal for they do not project an artificial light that shows up on your target.

A lot of ammunition is also sold which is not legal for some hunting in Wisconsin. For instance, 410 slugs and 00-buck shot are sold but not legal for deer hunting. Steel shot in size F is sold but it is not legal to hunt waterfowl with it in Wisconsin. Lead shotgun shells are sold in shell boxes marked as "Duck and Pheasant Loads," when lead is not legal for waterfowl hunting. I have contacted hunters who thought the shot shells they were using were legal for waterfowl because it said so on the box.

One last item gaining popularity is the automatic game feeders. It is not legal to hunt over one of them because you can not use or hunt over a bait containing metal, plastic, glass, paper, or wood and most of the automatic feeders are made out of these materials.

These are just a few examples of items for sale that may have a legal use, but are restricted when it comes to hunting in Wisconsin. Before you spend your money, be sure to check the Wisconsin hunting regulations or give me a call.

One quick note - Hunters Choice Permits should be mailed out around October 28th.

Local Police, Fire Dept. Members Attend State Governor's Conference

On September 18-19, Richard Knoebel, Chief of Police and Officer Thomas Bauer from the Kewaskum Police Department and Larry Rauch and James Schaub from the Kewaskum Fire Department took part in the Wisconsin's 25th Annual Governor's Conference on Emergency Management. The nationally acclaimed Conference attracted an audience of more than 600 local, state, and federal emergency management and first response officials.

The highlight of the session was a presentation by Major General Yaacov Lapidot of the Israeli Defense Force who spoke about the civil defense system in Israel.

Other featured speakers included nationally recognized author, lecturer, and expert on terrorism, Neil Livingstone. His presentation was entitled, "Terrorism in the 90s. A Concern for All Emergency Managers." Officials of the City of Madison Fire Department were also present and talked about their response to the unusual grease fire they fought in May at the Central Cold Storage Warehouse. In addition, representatives of the Department of Natural Resources and Health and Social Services told the attendees of the assistance they can provide subsequent to spills and other emergencies.

Conference attendees also participated in topical Seminars of their choice. Among them was a presentation by Dr. James Abernathy of Lawrence Technologies Institute on determining tornado-safe areas in buildings. Dr. Abernathy is an architect and design expert who has studied tornado-damaged structures for more than 15 years.

Alice Gray imparted the latest information on Wisconsin's Critical Incident Stress Debriefing Network. Ms. Gray, Coordinator of the network, described stress reactions, identified the resources available to both the general public and responders who are suffering from such reactions, and provided information on how to access those resources on a 24 hour basis.

Other topical seminars were on "Search and Rescue - Resources Available to Local Government," "Current Issues in Hazardous Materials Planning and Response," and "The Role of Local Officials in Disaster Response Operations and in Obtaining Disaster Assistance."

The Conference, which was held in Madison, was sponsored by the Division of Emergency Government of the Department of Military Affairs.

Insect Control in Stored Grain

There are a number of different pests that can infect grain when stored on farms. Many producers only store the grain for a few months and then use it for livestock feed. This short term storage usually does not allow insect populations to become a great concern. We need to recognize that more producers are storing grain for a longer period of time to try and take advantage of improving market conditions or providing more flexibility for their feeding programs.

On farms, infestation of insects are primarily due to insect infested grain, handling equipment and storage facilities and grain molds that attract fungus feeding insects. The best approach to this problem is to start with clean, dry grain and clean equipment and bins. Most insect problems are with insects that feed on mold. One of the best ways to reduce insect problems is to manage the grain in such a way that it does not become moldy.

It is also helpful to properly prepare bins for grain storage. All grain and debris should be removed from the inside and outside of the bin before adding new grain. Producers should never put new grain on top of old grain. Areas where insects could be hiding such as feed sacks, boxes, boards and accumulation of crusted grain or dust should be cleaned up around the grain storage area. This debris can contain eggs, larva, pupae and adults of various insects that then can infest the grain. When cleaning the inside of the bin use vacuum cleaners, brooms, hoes or other scraping devices to do a thorough job. This is also a good time to check for any holes and patch them to keep out birds and rodents. The bin should also be checked to be sure that it is water tight and be sure that rain or snow will not be able to blow in.

Once bins are clean, the inside surface can be treated to the point of runoff with an insecticide about two weeks before harvest. Malathion 57 percent EC and Methoxychlor are both labeled for this use. Spray all cracks and crevices around doors and direct spray into the sub floor area, aeration ducts and other areas of the storage facility. Follow label directions and precautions when using these materials.

Preparing grain storage facilities is only part of the process of keeping grain free of insects. Grain should be dried to the recommended moisture levels and managed in a way to keep the product from becoming moldy. Grain should be inspected on a regular basis to determine if insects are present or if other problems are developing. Early detection can prevent significant losses in stored grain.

Ice Age Trail Hike-A-Thon Oct. 6

MADISON, WI — Hikers and other outdoors enthusiasts can enjoy an autumn day hiking over the moraines, around the kames, along the drumlins, and past the kettle ponds that are part of Wisconsin's glacial history, while helping preserve those unique features for future generations during the fifth annual Take A Walk On the Wild Side Hike-A-Thon. The Oct. 6 hike is a fund raiser for the National Scenic Ice Age Trail, sponsored by the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation.

This year hikers have their choice of 13 trail segments along the proposed 1,000 mile Ice Age Trail, according to Bill Moorman, Ice Age Trail coordinator for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. Six of those segments are located partially or completely on DNR properties, including Devil's Lake State Park, the Northern, Southern and Lapham Peak units of the Kettle Moraine State Forest, and the Glacial Drumlin and Ahnapee state trails.

Participants in the hike-a-thon are encouraged to seek sponsors to make a pledge for each mile they walk, but pledges are not required to participate in the hike-a-thon. Funds raised during the hike-a-thon are used for trail acquisition, development and maintenance.

When completed, the National Scenic Ice Age Trail will trace the furthest advance of the last glaciers to cover Wisconsin about 12,000 years ago. From its eastern end at Potawatomi State Park in Door County, the trail loops to the south to Rock and Green counties, then heads north through Langlade and Lincoln counties, and finally follows the moraine to the trail's western end at Interstate State Park in Polk County.

The Ice Age Trail has been designated a National Scenic Trail by the U.S. Congress and a state scenic trail by the Wisconsin Legislature. The trail is being developed through the cooperative efforts of local volunteers, municipal and county governments, the DNR, the National Park Service and the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to completing and maintaining the trail. Nearly half the trail has been developed and is currently open to the public.

"Wisconsin has some of the finest examples of glacial geology in the world and getting to know our geologic features can really enhance your appreciation of our environment," explains Moorman. DNR naturalists and trail managers who can point out unique glacial features will be on hand at several locations during the hike-a-thon.

Hikers may find out more about specific hike-a-thon segments and receive a registration form by calling the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation at 1-800-227-0046 or (414) 457-8608.

Hikers may also register between 8 - 10 a.m. on the day of the hike at any location. There is a $5 registration fee, or a minimum pledge of $5. Children under 12 may participate for free. Anyone who participates in the hike-a-thon at Devil's Lake State Park or at any of the state forests locations will need a vehicle admission sticker if they plan to park a vehicle in the parking lot while hiking.

For more information on the Hike-A-Thon contact: The Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation, 414-457-8608.

Alfalfa Grower Has Greatest Impact on Forage Quality

Kewaskum Statesman, Thursday, Oct. 3, 1991, Page 18

The Dairyland Seed research staff, headed by Dr. Paul Sun, has determined that forage quality is determined by forage handling and management practices, not the alfalfa.

Forage handling and management practices used by today's alfalfa growers affect the quality of alfalfa forage today more than genetic differences present in varieties. This includes the latest batch of multi-leaved varieties being brought to the marketplace. At least that's the opinion of Dairyland Seed's Vice-President of Research, Dr. Paul Sun.

Dr. Sun has been involved in alfalfa research for nearly 25 years. He has been involved in the release of Dairyland's Magnum alfalfa, Magnum Plus alfalfa, Magnum III and Magnum III-Wet alfalfas.

"Forage quality is much more complex than other alfalfa traits. Traits such as disease resistance often times follow simple inheritance patterns. Other traits such as forage yield, winter hardiness and persistence are more complex. However, raising the forage quality of alfalfa appears to be even more complex," stated Sun.

It is this level of complexity that Sun points to as the reason for lack of significant difference in genetic forage quality among today's varieties.

"Throughout the 20th century, basically one-half of the yield gain attained in hybrid corn, alfalfa, and soybeans is due to genetics. The other half is done to improve farm management practices. However, when one considers the role of forage quality, farm management practices are far more important," said Sun.

Sun used one of his own alfalfas as an example. Magnum III alfalfa recently finished first in pounds of milk per acre in two studies conducted at Michigan State University, one study conducted at Purdue University, and one study conducted at the University of Minnesota. Despite the fact that Magnum III produced more milk per acre than any other alfalfas entered in these studies, Sun sees no genetic quality advantage in Magnum III.

"It is important to differentiate between the total amount of milk per acre and actual forage quality. Because the timing of the harvest is critical, the farmer determines the forage quality that he harvests. The genetics present in each variety will determine the yield and persistence of his hay crop. The reason Magnum III took first in these trials is because of its excellent overall performance for yield and persistence. The superb forage quality obtained from Magnum III was due to the management practices used by the universities in the various studies," said Sun.

Sun pointed out that there is potential room for improvement in genetics to raise the forage quality level of future varieties. "There are many fine alfalfa research programs looking at the forage quality issue at present. Dairyland Seed is certainly striving to improve forage quality in its future alfalfa releases. Unfortunately, there is a lot of work yet to be done," said Sun.

In conclusion, Sun added, "As much as I'd like to say Magnum III has superior forage quality genetics, this would be a misleading statement. In my opinion, there are no significant forage quality differences among any of today's alfalfas. Dairyland Seed hopes to be the company that changes this picture in the future."

For more information on Dairyland's alfalfas, contact Dairyland Seed Co., Inc., at P.O. Box 958, West Bend, WI 53095 or call (414) 338-0163.

Wisconsin State Professional Dog Groomers, Inc., held their second annual seminar and grooming contest on June 28th.

Joy Kuhnke, owner of Joy's of Grooming, St. Kilian, was awarded second place for statewide.

"All-Around Groomer", out of nearly 40 entries from Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota. Kuhnke received 3rd place in poodles with Jay Jay Becker; 3rd in mixed breed with Snoopy Stoffel (both of Campbellsport), and 3rd place in creative styling with a miniature poodle, Saks Harter of West Bend.

Creative styling was a new class this year at the show, and shows the groomer's ability to execute good scissor work and creativity. Joy chose a Wisconsin theme in red, white, and blue with "I love Wisconsin" clipped out of the back, represented with an "I" in silver glitter, a heart in red, and an outline of our state in yellow. The dog's side was decorated with the Brewer's emblem, and red, white and blue rosettes.

These placements put Joy Kuhnke as 1st place groomer for Washington and Fond du Lac counties two years in a row.

Veterinarians Hold Meeting

The Ozaukee-Washington County Veterinary Medical Association recently featured Fromm Pet Food representatives as speakers at the Association's September 26 dinner meeting at the Grafton Hotel.

"We were pleased to have the Fromm representatives at our meeting," said Dr. Daniel Bushard, veterinarian at Woodview Veterinary Clinic in West Bend and secretary of the Association. "Fromm's protein efficiency concept is unique in the industry, and I think everyone of us learned something new to take back to our individual offices."

According to Bushard, the Veterinary Medical Association, which holds three regular meetings and one dinner meeting per year, provides a good opportunity for veterinarians to interact and exchange information in a casual, social setting.

Bushard said, "I encourage other veterinary associations to invite Fromm to speak. The company's protein research is an example to all pet food manufacturers, and the company's business philosophy is refreshing in today's world of commercialism."

Bushard said that the next Association meeting is scheduled for November 14, 1991. Information on time and place will be announced at a later date.

Design Contest Opens for 1993 State Parks Admission Sticker

MADISON, WI — Wisconsin's high school seniors are again invited to enter the state park admission sticker design contest sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources' Bureau of Parks and Recreation, said contest coordinator Pamela Birschbach.

"The contest has worked successfully for the past five years, providing the department with professional-looking vehicle windshield stickers," Birschbach said. "The contest gives young artists an opportunity to apply their skills and talents."

The design contest is open to any 12th-grade student attending public or private schools in Wisconsin. The winning artists will be awarded a $500 post-high school scholarship; second and third place finishers will each receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond; and seven honorable mention winners will each receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond. All 10 winners will receive an engraved plaque and a copy of the Traveler's Guide to Wisconsin State Parks and Forest.

The winning sticker design will be displayed on more than 150,000 vehicles across the state. Entries are due March 1, 1992, with the winner announced during March.

The winning entry for the 1992 sticker was submitted by Erika Martinson of Barron Senior High School; it depicted three black-eyed Susans. The 1991 design featured stylized trilliums, 1990's stickers showed a pair of ducks with a setting sun, and in 1989 a butterfly was the winning design.

"The design must be the artist's own original creation and not copied or duplicated from previously published art, including photographs," added Birschbach. "Artists are limited to four colors total, with black and white each counting as a color."

The contest is sponsored by Laacke & Joys, Inc., a Milwaukee sporting goods retailer, the Milwaukee Sentinel Sports Show, and the DNR. The awards, provided by Laacke & Joys, Inc., will be presented at the Milwaukee Sentinel Sports Show and at the high schools of the winners. Children of DNR employees, judges or sponsors are not eligible.

Wildcat Spikers Improve to 3-2

By Statesman Sports Writer

APPLETON — The University of Wisconsin Washington County women's volleyball team improved to 3-1 in Wisconsin Collegiate Conference action and 3-2 overall by sweeping a triangular meet, here, last Friday.

The Wildcats opened play against UW-Fox Valley and destroyed them in the first game 15-6. Fox Valley came back tougher in the second game, but UWVC was able to sweep the games by winning 15-12.

"Angie Muller just played some exceptional defense," said Wildcat coach Debbie Butschlick, reporting that Muller had an 80 percent reception average in the match.

The Wildcats then faced UW-Manitowoc in the second match of the evening. After losing a tough 13-15 game in the opener, UWVC roared back to win the next two games 15-9 and 15-5 to beat Manitowoc and complete the two match sweep.

Butschlick reported that Jenny Meyer and Sally Fechter "dominated the offensive end of the game." Fechter wound up with 16 kills in the Manitowoc match, while Meyer was not far behind with 11. Jackie Murphy also "did a nice job setting," according to Butschlick, as she chalked up 17 assists.

Indian Netters Finally Defeat Plymouth

By Statesman Sports Writer

PLYMOUTH — It came oh so close last season, and even closer this season. So when the Kewaskum girls tennis team finally was able to defeat Plymouth here, last Thursday, it was reason to celebrate.

The Panthers had rung up eight out of nine conference championships before slipping to third last season. In that run, Plymouth had never lost to the Indians, although Kewaskum came up on the short end of 4-3 scores last season.

So after losing 4-3 to the Panthers at home earlier this year, in which one match went to a third set tiebreaker, the Indians finally "were able to get the perverbal monkey off our aching backs," as Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt put it, beating Plymouth on their home courts, 5-2.

Several reversals of decisions in the earlier loss to Plymouth helped pave the way for the monumental win. One of the biggest came at No. 1 singles, where Kewaskum's Jessica Rohrer got revenge on Plymouth's Jenny Beaver, the Eastern Wisconsin Conference champ in 1990, by dominating the first set en route to a 6-0, 6-4 win.

Also, at No. 2 singles, Jenny Thull came back from losing a second set tiebreaker to beat Terra Blanke in three sets 6-4, 6-7 (6-8), 6-1. Thull had lost to Blanke in two sets in their previous encounter.

And while No. 4 singles player Karyn Dossinger was unable to repeat her winning performance against Alicia Miller, losing 0-6, 4-6, the Indians got a big boost from the No. 3 doubles duo of Stacey Pamperin and Heidi Gruhle, as that pair won their match in three sets, 2-6, 6-3, 6-0.

Those wins, coupled with Melissa Rohrer (No. 3 singles) coming back from a set down to beat Angie Zwerg 4-6, 6-0, 6-3 enabled the Indians to post the win. The No. 2 doubles tandem of Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank put the icing on the cake as the twosome handled the pair of Nikki Hein and Angie Goetsch by a 6-2, 6-3 count.

The Indians "put forth their best collective effort this season," according to Eichstedt, who also said that the victory "ranks very high in my personal experience, but hopefully even more in that it becomes the springboard for our tennis teams to come."

3rd Annual Fall Wild Turkey Season Begins Oct. 14

MADISON, WI — Wisconsin's third annual fall wild turkey hunting season begins Monday, Oct. 14. All the 1991 fall turkey hunting permits will be mailed to successful applicants late this week, reports Bill Vander Zouwen, upland wildlife specialist for the Department of Natural Resources.

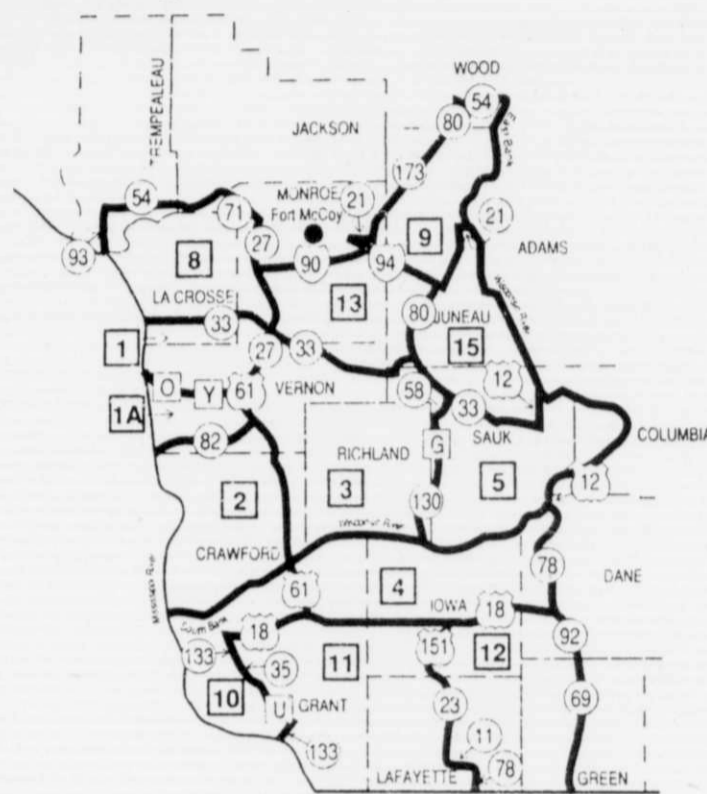

Vander Zouwen said there were 28,953 applicants for the 16,665 permits available for 15 hunting zones. Last fall 12,465 permits were issued for 12 hunting zones. The three new zones open for fall turkey hunting are zones 8, 13 and 15, (see map).

The fall turkey hunt consists of three consecutive Monday - Sunday hunting periods: Oct. 14-20, Oct. 21-27, and Oct. 28-Nov. 3. Permits are valid for one designated hunting zone during one designated hunting period.

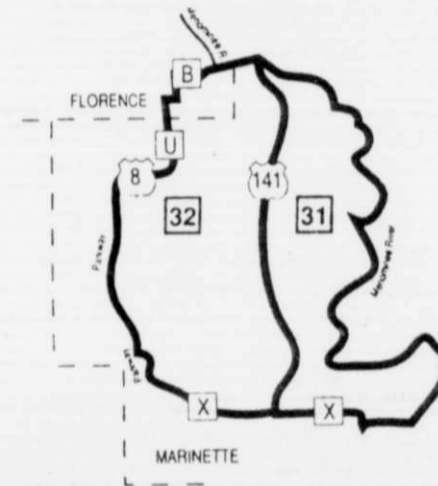

Beginning with this fall's turkey season, hunters must have a turkey license to participate in the hunt. The turkey license cost $8 for residents and $50 for nonresidents, and is valid only for this season.

Vander Zouwen also reminds turkey hunters that a 1991-92 Wisconsin Turkey Stamp is required to hunt. Turkey stamps cost $5.25 and are available at DNR and County Clerk offices. Only Senior Citizen Recreation Card holders are not required to have a turkey license and stamp. All others, including first year Wisconsin Hunter Education Course graduates and military licenses, need both a turkey stamp and turkey license.

During last year's fall turkey season, hunters took 3,433 turkeys. In the first fall turkey hunt held in 1989, 7,260 hunters harvested 1,570 birds.

Indians Bounce Back to Beat Raider Spikers

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — It was a bit of sweet revenge for the Kewaskum volleyball team here, last Thursday. But the satisfaction of getting even with Two Rivers for a loss earlier in the year was made less satisfying after the Indians lost a key player in the process.

Junior Robyn Winninghoff collided with the Raiders' Kim Peters at the net late in the first game, and both players had to be taken to the hospital, not to return. It was later diagnosed that Winninghoff had suffered a severely sprained ankle, and would be out of action for an unknown period of time.

With the injury on their minds, the Indians managed to close out the first game for a 15-8 win, but then went flat in the second game, losing by a lopsided 15-3 count. Fortunately the Indians regrouped for the final game, and came away 15-5 winners, thus splitting with Two Rivers on the year.

"We were on a real emotional roller coaster that whole night," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi said of the match. "We were able to close out the first game (after Winninghoff's injury), but we just went flat in the second game. We weren't passing and moving our feet. It was just an emotional let down. We didn't even get around our rotation in the second game."

But the Indians readjusted their efforts in the break between the second and third games, and "We really took it to them" said Rizzardi.

As for standouts on his team, Rizzardi pointed to Kelly Korth. "She came in and really took over," accumulating seven spike kills on her way to leading the Indians with 12 total points. "Her and Christa (Schmidt) really did a nice job in the third game."

JV, Frosh Lose To Raiders

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — The Junior Varsity and freshman volleyball teams were not as successful as the Indian varsity was in their respective matches against Two Rivers, here, last Thursday.

Both of the young Indian teams fell victim to the Raiders, with the JV's losing 3-15, 3-15, 16-14, and the freshman losing 11-15, 10-15, 15-11.

For the Indian JV's, Tricia Butschlick, Mandy Theimer, Cheryl Michaels, Joanne Lemke and Andrea Haberman helped "to pull out the third game," according to coach Mary Holfelz. "We tried a new offense and were not passing well," she said. "We just did not have the intensity we needed."

As for the freshman, Sara Weinreich served six balls in the third game to help the Indians avoid the shutout. "Mary Yahr had a lot of nice blocks," according to Janet Molebash, freshman coach. "Becky Braun, Joanne Theusch and Stephanie Heberer all played with consistency."

"We looked like a total team," Molebash went on to say, but added "serves, however hurt us, and probably were the reason for our loss."

Heberer also performed well for the Indians. The pair had 14 and 10 assists, respectively, to lead the team's passing attack. "The setters really did a nice job. They are starting to think at the net. They are doing more backsetting, which really helps to freeze the defense a little bit."

But the key to the night was Korth's play, according to Rizzardi. "With Robyn out for an undetermined period. I think it's important for her to step forward," which she did against the Raiders. Schmidt ended the night with six spike kills, while Heberer also contributed three saves.

The win improved the Indians to 4-3 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, good for third place. Chilton closed out the first half of the season undefeated to hold down first, while Sheboygan Falls suffered just one loss to remain a game back.

The Indians have a tough schedule this week, traveling to Plymouth on Tuesday and Chilton on Thursday, before taking part in a tournament in Grafton on Friday.

Indian VB Squad Ranked

KEWASKUM — While they are hovering just above the .500 mark in the tough Eastern Wisconsin Conference race, the Kewaskum girls volleyball squad is still impressing coaches from around the state.

The team is impressing enough to be ranked sixth in the latest Wisconsin Interscholastic Volleyball Coaches state poll. The Indians got enough votes to accumulate 27 points in the poll.

"That's news to me," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi said, noting he was unaware of his team being ranked. "That's great. That just made my day."

Waunakee was at the top of the most recent polls, as they had 56 points to remain ahead of second-place Monroe, which had 52.

KHS Indian Runners Continue Improvement

By Statesman Sports Writer

PLYMOUTH — Although depth or lack thereof, prohibits the Kewaskum cross country teams from battling for team titles, several individuals from both teams continue to show marked improvement.

The Indian boys finished 11th out of 13 teams in the Lomira Invitational recently, and while the girls squad consists of just three members, not allowing for a team score, the Indians are still getting stellar efforts.

Freshman Chrissy Neumann continued her fine season by placing 11th in the girls race with a 13:44 time, just :02 from eighth place. Theresa Anderson (43rd, 14:54) and Rachel Chambers (54th, 15:15) rounded out Kewaskum's effort in the 90 girl field.

The Indian boys were led by Dean Kreis, who was 21st with a 18:43 clocking. The times dropped off a bit from there, with Jeff Dirmeier next (40th, 19:14), followed by Josh Kurtz (60th, 19:48), Willie Kreis (74th, 20:17), and John Gildersleeve (82nd, 20:35).

The Indian runners were back in action last Tuesday, with the Indian boys team finishing 9th out of 14 teams here at the Plymouth Relays. The Indians had a team total of 99:32, while the host Panthers won the team title with a time of 90:43.

Dean Kreis once again topped Indian runners with a 19:24 time, while Kurtz was next (19:38), followed by Dirmeier (19:41), Willie Kreis (20:05) and Wade Kreis (20:53). Two Rivers' Scott Jansky won the individual title with a time of 17:11.

In the girls race, Neumann finished 12th with a fine time of 13:16, which happened to be a personal best. Anderson also ran her best ever, finishing 37th (14:12), while Chambers was right behind in 38th (14:12⁵).

UWWC Kickers Open Season

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — The University of Wisconsin Washington County men's soccer team recently opened its season, and after two weeks of action has accumulated a 1-2-1 record.

The Wildcats, who start the season with a basically young and inexperienced team, opened the year by losing to the UWWC Alumni squad by a 2-1 margin. Doug Wilkens scored the lone goal for this year's squad, while Steve Thomann and Pat Kent each scored for the Alumni.

The Wildcats then opened regular season action with a match at UW-Fox Valley, and wound up tying the hosts 3-3 in double overtime. The Wildcats got on the board first, and actually led at halftime 1-0 on Eric Zunke's goal on an assist from Randy Starzman.

Fox Valley erupted for three second half goals, while UWWC was able to get scores from John Ziperski and Dean Blankenberg to tie things at three at the end of regulation. Neither team was able to score in the two 15 minute overtime periods.

UW-Waukesha rolled in next and left town as 4-0 winners over the Cats', but UWWC chalked up its first victory of the year here, last Tuesday as the Wildcats destroyed an undermanned UW-Rock County team, 10-1.

Against Waukesha, the Wildcats held the guests scoreless through the first half and for half of the second half. But a Waukesha goal midway through the second half helped the visitors take control of the match.

The Wildcats had no problem against Rock County though, scoring eight goals in the first half to blow out their guests. Randy Staus and Jim Rasmussen each connected for two goals, while Ken Breuer and Doug Wilkens held Rock County in check as they shared goalkeeping duties.

Slinger Controls Clock, Beats Indians

By Statesman Sports Writer

SLINGER — The records are the same, and when you look right down to it, the early season struggles of the Kewaskum football team and the Green Bay Packers almost mirror each other.

"We're playing pretty good football, but it's just a play or two here and there." That comment may sound like one that Lindy Infante has used recently, but the words came from the mouth of Indian coach Clark Pearson, whose team dropped to 1-4 on the year, not unlike the Packers' mark, after falling to Slinger 13-7 here, last Friday afternoon.

And while a couple of strange plays loomed large in the defeat, there was the old asset of smashmouth football that was the difference in the game, that being ball control.

"They controlled the ball and the clock," Pearson said, noting that the Owls got off 57 plays to the Indians' 33. "That really hurt. We couldn't sustain any long drives in the first half."

The Owls did manage to put together a time consuming possession the first time they touched the ball. Starting at their own 29, the Owls drove down to the Indian 20 yard line, from which Slinger RB Matt Becker took a handoff and romped in for the score.

The Indians were unable to mount much of a threat in the first half, and it wasn't until late in the third quarter that they were able to put forth a charge.

Indian QB Chad Cook hooked up with Matt Seiser for 15 yards, and Shawn Schneider for another 30, putting the ball at the Slinger 25 yard line to begin the fourth quarter.

After Todd Muckerheide put together a pair of runs totalling 22 yards, Indian running back Randy Schlice bolted in from the three to pull the Indians to within one, at 7-6. After a bit of deliberation, Pearson and the Indians decided to go for the two-point conversion.

"We felt like we could get it in there for two (points)," Pearson said, adding that his team's weak kicking game also played a part in the decision. "It (kicking) hasn't been that solid so far. If we were more sure of our kicking game, we probably would have went for the point."

Instead, the Indians called for a pass play, and all hopes of it being successful faded, as Schneider, the intended receiver, was knocked to the ground by a defender as the pass was thrown. Still, the Indians were within one point with almost the entire fourth quarter to be played.

The Indian defense stiffened on the next series, forcing Slinger to punt, but the Indians were unable to move the ball either, forcing them into a punting situation.

But Indian punter Kim Marx was unable to get the ball off, as the Owls stormed up the middle to block the kick, and took over possession at the Indian 24.

"That put them right into scoring position," Pearson said, recalling that the block was due to a combination of missed blocking and the Owl surge. "We blocked the wrong person. We blocked out instead of in."

The Owls proceeded to take valuable time off the clock before

Owl workhorse Greg Zuern scored from the three yard line. But the point after was unsuccessful, leaving the Indians down by 7 with about four minutes to play.

After taking over at around their own 20, the Indians drove inside Slinger territory, only to have a Cook pass intercepted with just over 2:00 to play.

"We had enough time," Pearson said of the final drive, but Cook's pass was underthrown, allowing the Owls to hang on. Pearson had nothing but words of praise for the Owls, saying "They are a good football team."

As for Zuern, who finished with 134 yards on 26 carries, Pearson said "He's a very good back...runs hard. They've got an excellent line. They give him some nice holes to run through. But I don't want to take anything away from him, he's a good runner."

The Indians, meanwhile, were led on the ground by Muckerheide, who finished with 56 yards on 10 carries. Cook finished six of 13 for 76 yards, but Pearson was quick to add, "We really didn't score enough points to have any real standouts on offense."

But defensively, "Dan Schulties played a real fine game," Pearson said, also adding that "The defensive interior line played a real good game." Included in that effort, Pearson mentioned Jason Steilow, Ryan Amerling and Joel Fleischmann as each having stellar efforts.

While they dropped to 1-4 overall, the Indians remained 1-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. The Indians get back into the flow of things in the EW this week when they travel to Two Rivers for a battle with the Raiders, who beat New Holstein 33-0 last Friday.

In other action from the EW last week, Chilton took over sole possession of first place by beating previously undefeated Kiel, while Plymouth broke into the win column with a 27-21 victory over Sheboygan Falls.

KHS Indian JV Frosh at .500

By Statesman Sport Writer

KEWASKUM — Both the Kewaskum junior varsity and freshman football teams remain at the .500 mark after action last week.

While the freshman were idle, the Indian JV team gave up a first half touchdown and two point conversion to Slinger, who then held off the Indians in the second half to win 8-6.

The lone Indian score was by Beau Coulter, who took off for paydirt from about 35-40 yards. Slinger's score came on a fourth down play from one yard out late in the first half. The Owls added the two-point conversion on a receiver's diving catch of a tipped pass.

In the JV's previous game, the Indians improved their Eastern Wisconsin Conference record to 1-1 as they destroyed Chilton by a score of 33-0.

Mark Strobel rushed for a pair of touchdowns, while Coulter rushed for another. QB Jason Gaffke hooked up with Steve Johahn on a 40-yard scoring strike, while Rob Donath accounted for the other score when he picked off a Tiger pass and roared for a 45-yard interception return.

The freshman were also victorious over the Tigers, 16-14. QB Dan Survis hooked up with Travis Jacak for a pair of first half touchdown passes, covering 10 and 25 yards, respectively. Survis added one two-point conversion, while David Gosa handled the other, allowing the Indians to pull off the win.

With the win, the frosh evened their record in the EW at 1-1, after a season opening loss to Sheboygan Falls, 38-6. Gosa scored the only Indian touchdown on a 6-yard run.
