Everything Set for Kettle Kountry Kolors

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Fasten your seatbelts Kewaskum... it's once again time to head for the Milwaukee River and do some traveling through time. It's better than "Back to the Future." It's the second annual Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 12 and 13, and this year's spectacular weekend promises to excite and delight the imagination of young and old alike.

Join us at Riverhill Park, where you'll find our fall festival nestled among the autumn hues of the northern Kettle Moraine, bustling beneath rolling hills, and winding along the banks of the Milwaukee River.

Get ready for action packed adventures, historic recreations, hayrides and hot air balloons, "kings" and crafters, pancakes and polkas, contests and cash prizes, races and raffles, live music and radio broadcasts, artists and antiques, not to mention vast varieties of ethnic food, guaranteed to tempt all your taste buds.

Kewaskum is proud to offer a special feature this year, the Scheer's Lumberjack Show of Champions from Hayward, Wisconsin... the most authentic and professional lumberjack show in the world. The excitement of old world lumberjack competition will keep you on the edge of your seat with events such as log rolling, pole climbing, power sawing, axe throwing, and much more. Three shows are offered on Sunday at 12:30, 2:30 and 4:30, so bring your blankets and find yourselves a great viewing seat from "fireworks hill" overlooking the river.

See history come alive as Kewaskum presents the "Battle of Fredricksburg," a Civil War re-enactment complete with ongoing skirmishes both Saturday and Sunday. This authentic recreation of the past includes their famous main battle, union and confederate drills, uniforms, night fire demonstrations, evening guided light camp tours, and much more. On Sunday the group will travel from house to house in the village, foraging for food. All collections will be then donated to a local food pantry.

The Buckskinners are back for their second year at Kettle Kountry Kolors, complete with authentic deerskin clothing, teepee lodges, a trader's camp, alive with campfires, music and laughter, knife and hatchet throwing and primitive cooking as they spin stories and tales of "the good old days."

Board Begins 1992 Budget Review

The Kewaskum Village Board began its lengthy job of reviewing departmental budgets for the coming year. Monday night's discussion centered on the Kewaskum Fire Department's proposed budget for 1992 and the effect it will have on fire contracts for the three municipalities, the Village of Kewaskum, Town of Kewaskum and Town of Auburn, which it serves.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the board that the budget, at this time, was strictly preliminary and he was still lacking some information necessary to formulate the final 1992 fire contracts. Based on the data available, however, he felt the three communities would see fairly minimal increases over 1991.

One of the major factors in calculating contract costs is the number of fire calls, noted Schmidt. From the data I have on hand now, said Schmidt, it looks like the village will be looking at an increase of about $2,100, the Town of Kewaskum, $1,600, and the Town of Auburn, an increase of around $226. Those figures, however, are not final.

In reviewing the department's budget both Schmidt and Fire Chief Bob Stoltzmann noted a major factor affecting the budget is the phenomenal rise in schooling costs for the firefighters, as required by DILHR (the State Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations).

Schmidt told the trustees he would be bringing the final contract figures to the board's next meeting for approval.

The Fire Department's budget is always the first to come before the board so that the fire contracts can be formulated and forwarded to the municipalities so they can be included in their budget preparations.

In other budget related business, Schmidt asked the board if he should continue looking into the costs of switching to private garbage collection.

Schmidt told the board that if the village did decide to change over to a private contractor, it could have an effect on the budget. Schmidt said what most of the communities who have gone to private collection have done is taken the cost off the tax rolls and billed taxpayers for the service along with the charges for sewer and water service.

Some of the trustees noted that the cost for private contractors was quite a bit higher than the cost assessed through the budget, for village trash collection. Schmidt noted that private garbage collection would also include curbside pickup of recyclable materials. "That would make recycling mandatory for everyone," said Schmidt.

The trustees unanimously agreed that Schmidt should continue to look into the idea and return with more facts and figures.

Trustee Gary Gavin, who serves on the Village Library Board, also advised his fellow trustees that a substantial drop in library useage numbers for this year will affect the general budget.

Gavin said statistics show a drop of 10,000 library patrons from last year. "Library useage has been very good," said Gavin, "the September count shows 836 Washington County residents used the library as did 220 Fond du Lac and Sheboygan residents and 1,195 village residents." "I personally think we are beginning to see realistic counts and while they are still very good, they are down," Gavin said he just wanted everyone to be aware of the fact that this will have an affect on the aid the village will receive from the county system and as a result will also affect the village's budget.

In discussing the village's sidewalk program, Schmidt told the board that he has been informed that the installation of sidewalks, curbing, etc., along Highway 45, from My Little Friends Day Care north, has been postponed from 1994 to 1995. He said the Village will also be responsible for 38% of the cost, which will amount to about $138,000. The state and federal government will pick the cost for the remaining 62%.

In other action the board approved the recommendation of Police Chief Richard Knoebel to set Sunday, October 27, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., as the official time for Trick or Treat in Kewaskum. Knoebel said that schedule coincides with the times set by neighboring communities and it helps to discourage people from traveling from town to town.

KHS to Present Pirates of Penzance

"The Pirates of Penzance," Kewaskum High School's musical production for the fall of 1991, is in the middle of its rehearsal schedule.

Written in 1879 by W.S. Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan, "Pirates" is the story of Fredric (played by Chad Harlow), a lad of twenty-one who has mistakenly become a private because of his hard-of-hearing nursemaid, Ruth (Rachel Gosa). He has served well the Pirate King (Brian Bruendl) and his fellow pirates and, having reached his twenty-first birthday, has fulfilled his pirate duties and seeks a more respectable life.

After going ashore to seek other employment, Fredric spies a "bevy of beautiful maidens" and is love-stricken with Mabel (Renee Kertscher) who is sympathetic to his plight. The maidens happen to be the daughters of Major-General Stanley (Keith Herman). When the pirates reappear to forcibly marry the daughters, the Major-General tells them that he is an orphan (a little white lie) and asks if they really mean to take "the sole remaining props" of his old age. As the pirates are also orphans, they leave the Major-General and his daughters alone.

As the second act unfolds, the pirates find that they have been duped. They vow revenge on Major-General Stanley. Also, Fredric is informed that he was born on February 29 and, therefore, has had only five birthdays and must serve the pirate band until his twenty-first BIRTHDAY. Oh, how will this strange turn of events be resolved?

Kewaskum High School will perform "The Pirates of Penzance" on Friday and Saturday, November 1 and 2. A free senior citizen's performance will take place on October 31 at 4:00. All performances are in Rose Hall in Kewaskum High School. Ticket information will be publicized at a later date.

St. Michaels Fall Festival Draws Large Attendance

Everyone enjoyed taking a chance at the clothespin game while they waited for their dinner numbers to be called at St. Michaels Fall Festival.

Besides the games, youngsters stopped at the face-painting booth where the artists applied rainbows, butterflies and messages such as "I love Grandma" on little cheeks.

Although the weather could have been better, it did not deter almost 2,000 people from attending St. Michael Catholic Church's annual fall festival.

Besides the hearty souls who enjoyed sandwiches and good music in the beer tent, 1,450 guests sat down to a Swiss steak and turkey dinner in the church hall.

While people waited for their dinner numbers to be called, they had a chance to browse around and buy craft items, some of the homemade baked 'goodies,' or play some games including everyone's favorite, BINGO!

Protect Yourself Against Home Fires

October 6-12 is National Fire Prevention Week which marks the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire in 1871. The goal of National Fire Prevention Week is to remind people about fire hazards.

"Fires can destroy everything so quickly," said Randy Gust, an American Family Insurance agent in Kewaskum.

Gust has seen and heard examples of couples who realize the importance of practicing safety techniques after a devastating catastrophe like a fire.

Somewhere in America, a fire station is called to a fire every 16 seconds. Every 18 minutes someone is injured by a fire, and every 100 minutes someone is killed because of it.

Over 5,000 people die each year because of fire. When you consider that over 80 percent of these deaths occurred when people were in their homes, that number is staggering.

"Nobody expects it to happen to them," says Gust. "Your home is where you feel safe. But this false sense of security is at the root of the problem concerning home fires. I'd like to pass along these fire safety tips from the National Fire Protection Association."

Space heaters are the number one cause of home fires in the United States. Simply moving these heaters at least three feet away from anything flammable, and turning them off when out of the house or sleeping, can drastically reduce the threat of fire in your home.

When cooking, stay in the kitchen. If a flame sprouts from the stove's burner, you can be there to quickly put it out. It takes only two minutes for a flame to engulf an entire room.

Smoking is the number one cause of fire-related deaths in America. Nearly 2,000 people died in 1989 from smoking in bed and on upholstered furniture. Fire deaths caused by cigarette lighters and matches were responsible for 200 deaths in 1989. Of those who died, 140 were children, most under the age of five.

"You should have a smoke detector in your home," said Gust. "They're cheap, easy to maintain and are your best chance of surviving a home fire." In fact, a smoke detector decreases the chances of being killed in a home fire by more than 50 percent.

Other common sense adjustments can make the difference as to whether you survive or become a statistic.

Prepare an escape plan for your home. Make sure there are at least two ways out of every room. Then practice this plan, making sure that everybody meets at a designated "safe spot."

You can also practice the "stop, drop and roll" technique with your family to make sure you all know what to do in case your clothes catch fire.

Finally, check around the house for any possible fire hazards. Make sure that electrical outlets aren't overlooked and that electrical extension cords are in good condition, not frayed. Also check the garage and work areas to make sure flammable liquids are properly stored and that old rags and towels are kept away from anything that can generate a spark.

If statistics are an indicator, there's a great likelihood that you'll be in a serious fire at least once in your lifetime. "People should think about the dangers of fire for more than just a week in October," said Gust. "Prevention should always be a concern. Ask yourself if you're protected against this kind of disaster. Practicing fire prevention and having insurance will give you the peace of mind you need to enjoy your home," added Gust.

American Family has six homeowners policies to choose from to meet your specific needs. Policies are also available to fit the special needs of renters or owners of condos, apartments and townhouses.

A public service message from the National Association of State Fire Marshals

Ten Tips For Fire Safety

DO'S

- DO have enough smoke detectors to adequately protect your home. There should be at least one smoke detector on every floor of your house, including the basement and attic.
- DO replace the batteries in all of your smoke detectors twice a year. Remember to install fresh batteries in the fall and spring, on the same day that clocks are set backward or forward one hour. Check batteries once a month by pushing the battery check button, and replace batteries immediately if your smoke detector starts to signal a weak battery by "chirping."
- DO have a plan for getting out of your house in the event of a fire. If possible, have at least two exits from every room. Hold family fire drills to practice escape routes.
- DO have a prearranged meeting place outside near your home where everyone in your family knows to gather. Remember, infants, young children, the elderly and the handicapped need extra help.
- DO have a fire extinguisher in your home at every location where a fire is likely to start. Purchase fire extinguishers that are rated "ABC," and, therefore, appropriate for all three of the basic types of fire: wood and paper, grease and flammable liquids, or electrical. Make sure the fire extinguisher you buy bears the seal of an independent testing laboratory. Once installed, check fire extinguishers periodically to ensure adequate pressure.

DON'T'S

- DO NOT place flammable materials, such as curtains, potholders or containers of grease, near stoves or other sources of fire.
- DO NOT store flammable liquids or rags soaked in flammable liquids any place in your home.
- DO NOT attempt to put out a fire yourself unless the fire is very small and easily contained. No matter how small the fire may be, make sure you have an unobstructed exit, even small fires can spread quickly, trapping you before you know it. If you have any doubt about your ability to extinguish a fire, raise the alarm, evacuate the premises and call the fire department from a neighbor's house.
- DO NOT attempt to rescue pets or retrieve valuables before exiting a burning building.
- DO NOT go back into a burning building for any reason whatsoever. M at Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival Sunday, Oct. 13

Sponsored by the Kewaskum Fire Dept.

The Kewaskum Fire Department will be demonstrating the "Survive Alive" program on Sunday, Oct. 13, at Riverhill Park during the Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival. The "Survive Alive" training trailer, courtesy of the Richfield Volunteer Fire Department will be located in front of the bandstand.

The "SURVIVE ALIVE" program is a national effort in which local fire departments are working to train both children and adults to survive a typical house fire by safely exposing them to the smoky conditions that are present in a fire.

This program allows our fire departments to work one on one with youngsters and their families, in a simulated fire condition, teaching them the importance of staying low in a heat and smoke filled environment, along with what to do and what to look out for to survive a fire.

The Kewaskum Fire Department encourages everyone to take advantage of the "Survive Alive" program while attending Kettle Kountry Kolors October 13. Coordinator Tom Fay of Kewaskum assures everyone there is no danger in inhaling the "Hollywood" smoke used in the "Survive Alive" training trailer.

St. Martin's Church Celebrates 130th Anniversary

On October 20th, St. Martin's United Church of Christ in Fillmore, Farmington township, on Hwy. 84 will be celebrating its 130th anniversary. The public is invited to all events for the day.

The celebration will begin with a service of worship at 10:00 a.m. Our guest speaker will be the Rev. Mr. Thomas Degnitz, a son of the congregation who was ordained into the Christian Ministry on June 5, 1983 at St. Martin's. He has served churches in Illinois, and in Wisconsin at Germantown church of Our Savior and presently is pastor of Immanuel UCC in Neenah. His sermon title is: A Proud Heritage and a Hopeful Future.

Former Pastors will be participating in the service also: Rev. Ralph Maschmeier of West Bend who served from 1971-72 and the Rev. Edwin Stanford of Mequon who served from 1972-76. At noon all will share a pot luck meal topped off with ice cream and birthday cake. Then at 1:00 there will be a hymnfest led by our organist Pat Birenbaum.

St. Martin's United Church of Christ was actually founded 130 years ago on September 21st, 1861. It was then called St. Martin's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Rev. Vorberg was its first pastor. By June, 1862, the cornerstone for the church building was laid in what is now St. Martin's Cemetery and by August 16, 1863 the first worship service was held in the building.

In 1891, a move was made to construct a larger church edifice on its present site and the new building was dedicated in December 1891. The old stone church was used as a Sunday School and a confirmation instruction building until it was raised in the 1930's.

St. Martin's is actually the merger of two churches in Fillmore. On February 14, 1943 the local German reformed church across the street from St. Martin's Cemetery and St. Martin's voted to merge, becoming known as St. Martin's Evangelical and Reformed Church. When the German Evangelical and Reformed Church united with the Congregational Christian Church it became known as St. Martin's United Church of Christ.

St. Martin's has been part of several yoked ministries; with the Reformed Church of Waubesa from 1926-1963, with St. John's of Boltonville from 1963-1976, as part of the five star parish from 1976-1981, and presently with St. Paul's Community United Church of Christ since 1981 under the pastoral leadership of the Rev. Mr. David P. Jerger.

In the past 30 years there have been some major improvements which include carpeting the sanctuary and fellowship hall. The pews have been padded. To conserve energy insulation has been added and ceiling fans installed. The church sanctuary has recently been reroofed, the parsonage completely resided and a new septic system for both has been installed.

The carillon whose chimes can be heard daily was a memorial gift given in memory of David Degnitz who was killed in an accident in Okinawa while serving in the US army.

Events for this day of celebration were planned by the anniversary committee of: Roger Degnitz, Renee Esselmann, Dan Ebert, Norma Lemke and Dan Noennig.

SPECIALIZED COLLECTIONS AT THE LIBRARY

Do you enjoy reading a romance novel? Are you good at solving mysteries? Does the thought of a "shoot 'em up" western have you looking for a book to read?

The Kewaskum Public Library has separated some of its adult fiction books and placed them into specialized collections. There are Westerns written by such well-known authors as Louis L'Amour and Max Brand. These books are shelved together and are labeled with a special Western boot sticker to make them easier to find on the shelves.

A second specialized collection consists of mystery books. Mysteries are labeled a blue sticker that shows a detective. Authors represented in this action include Sue Grafton, author of the best seller H is for Homicide; Barbara D'Amato; and the famous comedian, Steve Allen, who has written several mysteries with himself as one of the main characters.

The Romance books are also shelved together and are labeled with a heart sticker. This section includes books by Sandra Brown, author of the best-seller Texas! Sage.

These books, and many others, are available at the Kewaskum Public Library. Come and check out a book today!

Kiwanis Clubs Honor Free Press During National Newspaper Week

More than 7,000 Kiwanis clubs in the United States and Canada are honoring the role of a free press in free societies during National Newspaper Week, October 6-12. Kiwanis International is the oldest participating organization in the annual observance.

This year's Newspaper Week theme is "Celebrate the First—200 Years of Free Speech." This theme reflects the celebration of the bicentennial of the U.S. Bill of Rights and refers to the First Amendment, which guarantees free speech and a free press.

"A free press plays a unique role in a free society," says John D. Morton, Sr., president of Kiwanis International. "Nor can you have a free society without a free press, or a free press without a free society. The two cannot be separated, because each is essential to the other."

Kiwanis is currently chartering clubs in Eastern Europe for the first time, and Morton points to recent events there, and in the Soviet Union, for dramatic demonstrations of the value of an independent and uncensored press. "The former totalitarian regimes didn't permit the publication of a single newspaper that wasn't controlled by the authorities, and for good reason," says Morton. "Now, a free press is giving citizens the information they need to govern themselves."

The Kiwanis president also emphasizes that newspapers share the Kiwanis goal of serving the community. "Newspaper stories and editorials contribute to the success of almost every good cause in the community, including our own Kiwanis service and fund-raising projects," he says.

CELEBRATE THE FIRST

200 YEARS OF FREE SPEECH

There are currently 8,700 Kiwanis clubs with 327,000 members in 70 nations. During the past year, Kiwanis clubs raised and spent more than $60 million for their community service activities and sponsored more than 130,000 different projects.

Each Kiwanis club decides which service projects it wishes to conduct, according to local needs and member interests. But most Kiwanis clubs are also currently conducting at least one major project in a three-year service program called "Young Children: Priority One." This program calls on each Kiwanis club to identify the greatest needs of children, from prenatal development to age 5, and undertake a project to meet those needs in each community.

KHS Peer Listeners To Host Ministry Team

Hunting Season Will be Costly

By Senator Don Stitt

Last January when the Governor submitted his 1991-93 budget to the State Legislature, one of the more debated issues was the proposal to increase hunting and fishing fees.

In July, by majority vote in both houses of the State Legislature, a state budget was passed that did indeed increase a host of hunting and fishing fees.

A good portion of the new hunting fees have been in effect since mid-August.

With Wisconsin's deer hunting season fast approaching, one particular fee increase has been thrust under the microscope — as well it should be.

Not only was the deer permit fee increased from $15.35 to $18.00, a bonus deer permit fee was created at a cost of $12.

That's right. Last year, it did not cost an individual one dime to receive a bonus deer permit — this year it'll run you $12.

The issue troubling many avid hunters is not only the substantial fee for the bonus deer permit, but the seemingly new interpretation it effects as to why a bonus deer permit exists in the first place.

To some extent, the role of a bonus deer permit was to encourage hunters to shoot additional deer in order to help deplete the deer population.

For decades, deer and other animals have been a hindrance to landowners, especially farmers, due to property damage. The state of Wisconsin has a long history of compensating private property owners for deer and other animal damage.

From 1931 to 1980, the state had a Wildlife Damage Compensation Program which covered bear and deer. In 1965, coverage was extended to Sandhill cranes and waterfowl.

For damage claims, a claimant is eligible for up to $5,000 with a $250 deductible. If funding is inadequate to fully pay claims, then compensation is prorated.

The Department of Natural Resources reimburses participating counties for administrative costs. Abatement costs are shared with landowners on a 50:50 ratio.

In 1980, this program was terminated, and in 1983 the State Legislature created the Wildlife Damage Program. The Wildlife Damage Program has largely been funded by a one dollar surcharge on hunting licenses.

Enter the new fee for the bonus permit.

The twelve dollars that will now be collected from this permit will be used to help finance the Wildlife Damage Program.

The argument being made is that more deer are creating more damage — which means it's costing the state more money to compensate private landowners for the damage.

For example, in 1990, 534 farmers received assessed damage of $1,659,758, but funds were only available to cover 42 percent of the assessed losses.

The new $12 fee is expected to relieve this funding shortage.

There are many problems with the new fee structures, not the least of which is the simple fact that it's going to cost individuals more money to hunt and fish.

For example, the Department of Natural Resources predicts that requests for the bonus deer permit will either increase or remain steady.

I contend there's a good chance that the total number of registrants for the bonus deer permit will decrease due to the prohibitive cost of the permit.

If this does indeed occur, the DNR's revenue projections will fall short and the need for compensatory dollars will still exist.

In addition, while the increased fee will help pay for crop damage, it should be understood that the majority of bonus deer permits that are issued tend to cover a geographical area in northern Wisconsin.

The idea behind issuing permits in the northern tier of the state is to encourage more hunting in those regions.

The problem with this notion, as it relates to crop damage abatement, is that the majority of damage tends to occur in the middle and southern regions of the state.

It seems to me that the bonus deer permit is possibly being utilized for the wrong reasons in the wrong areas.

If we are going to use the bonus deer permit to reduce the deer population in order to minimize damage to landowners, than the effort should be whole, not partial.

Or, if the bonus deer permit is to be utilized for some other endeavor, then the proceeds from the permit ought not be earmarked for something else.

Regardless, the bonus permit fee of $12 is simply too much!

When the State Legislature convenes in January 1992 to conduct work on the 1991-93 budget adjustment bill, it seems the perfect time to revisit the fee structures set forth this year.

Otherwise, the deer population will likely continue to rise, landowners will experience increased property damage, and hunters will continue to shake their heads in dismay.

IN MEMORY

In memory of
JOHN WORNARDT
"LITTLE JOHNNY"

who passed away thirteen years ago on October 13, 1978.

This time brings with sad regret, The day, the hour, we will never forget.

There is an emptiness we feel inside, Its been there since the day you died.

No longer in our life to share, But in our hearts you're always there.

Silent thoughts, tears unseen, Wishing your absence was only a dream.

Deeply missed by his wife Helen, and children Ruth and DuWayne, grandchildren Shelly and Nathan John.

IN MEMORY

In memory of GARY VOLM, who went home to be with the Lord five years ago, October 14, 1986:

Those we love remain with us, and for itself lives on, For cherished memories never fade because a loved one's gone...

Those we love can never be more than a thought apart, For as long as there is memory, they'll live on in the heart.

Not forgotten,
Your Family

Organizations interested in joining with these groups in the Crop Walk Against Hunger are asked to call Jill Waite, 677-4481 or Ray Lipman, 334-5563 days or Group representatives heard Gaston Razaft, Madison, a representative of Church World Service tell of the type of work done by the Service, especially his last six years working in the drought-stricken Somaliland area.

In a first program, these people how first they gave the people who were refugees of the wars in the area water, then blankets for shade-protection from the sun and then food.

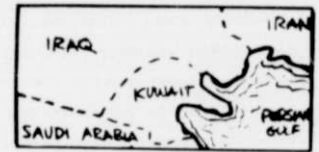

After being fed, the refugees were organized into village-type units, crop seeds were given out and irrigation projects were started. These projects are still working, with the emphasis on self-help.

Crop Walk funds are used to help fund projects like those shown at the meeting according to Razaft.

The representatives were reminded that when collections are made, persons giving money may direct the funds to other organizations than Church World Service and the Service cooperates with a large number of World-Wide services such as Lutheran World Service and Catholic Relief. They also work with these organizations on an ongoing basis around the world.

In addition, 25 percent of the funds collected on the drive are kept in Washington County. These monies will be donated to the food pantries in the county.

Crop Walk '91 will step off about 1:15 p.m. Sunday, October 13, from the St. Frances Cabrini Parking Lot. Registration will start at 12:30.

4-H Celebrates National 4-H Week October 6-12

Washington County has over 650 4-H members and 225 adult volunteer leaders who are planning special activities and events to celebrate National 4-H Week October 6 - 12 according to Kandi O'Neil Washington County 4-H & Youth Agent.

"Our youth today, are our future tomorrow," says O'Neil. Through 4-H, young people can acquire knowledge and develop life skills that enable them to become self-directing, productive and contributing members of our society. Youth develop respect for themselves and others, explore new careers, share responsibility for preserving the environment, learn how to use technology, and develop leadership and citizenship skills through participation in 4-H.

"But 4-H is not only for youth," O'Neil added. "It's for adults, who volunteer as leaders to share their skills and expertise with young people. It's for families, who can participate in the fun and learning together. It's for the community, which benefits from the community service carried out by youth."

It is through this network of volunteer leaders, state land-grant universities, state and local government, and the USDA, that 4-H has been able to stimulate youth to develop life skills.

Four-H is for youth who are 9 - 18 or are in third grade. There is also a special Cloverbud program for youth ages 5-8 who are not older enough to join 4-H. So why not consider joining one of the largest youth organizations in the world?

What is 4-H? Fun, learning new things like launching a rocket, raising a rabbit or conducting a meeting, making new friends, experiencing personal growth, developing self-confidence, and much more. Four-H is an opportunity to learn by doing in a special project that interests your son or daughter.

Four-H is changing. How? Over half of the youth involved in 4-H today are from cities and towns. There are over 650 youth involved in 4-H in Washington County and 225 adult volunteer leaders. Four-H is an opportunity to learn and have fun at the same time. Projects you can explore include: clowning, rabbits, rocketry, foods, cultural arts, drama, archery, woodworking, photography, model horse, horse, and over 60 other areas to choose from.

There are 20 4-H clubs in Washington County. Now's the time to join a club near you. How do you join? Call the UW-Extension Office at 335-4478 for more information.

Serigraph Completes Environmental Clean-Up Project

West Bend — Serigraph Inc. has completed the major portion of an environmental clean-up project on property the company owns at 760 Indiana Ave., West Bend, company officials said.

More than 3,200 tons of soil have been treated and replaced at the site, on the northwest corner of the company's property, according to Tom Ravn, Serigraph's environmental engineer. Four wells on the site will monitor groundwater for up to two years.

The cost to date of the project is approximately $205,000. Of that, $185,000 will be covered by cleanup funds administered by the state. Remaining and any future monitoring costs probably will be borne by Serigraph.

The company discovered the contamination early this year, and working with the Department of Natural Resources, initiated a project to remove, treat and return the soil to the site. The three-week project took place in August.

Ravn said company officials believed the contamination took place during the 1960s and 1970s when a bulk oil storage facility was located on the site.

The DNR approved a thermal treatment method for the clean up. A mobile kiln was used to heat the contaminated soil to 1600 degrees Fahrenheit, burning off the contaminants.

Gehl Employees Send Urgent Message To Washington: 'Help Our Farmers'

West Bend, WI — Over 700 Gehl Agriculture employees showed their concern for the plight of farmers by sending a petition to Washington D.C.

Gehl machinist Charles Williams, West Bend, suggested that Gehl employees have the opportunity to sign a petition to encourage legislation to help farmers cope with the financial hardships caused by recession, drought and low milk prices.

"Farmers, particularly those in the dairy industry, can't even earn a living wage," says the Gehl employee and former dairy farmer. "I felt that all of us at Gehl would want to lend support to our customers and send a message to Washington that farmers still need help."

The Gehl employees' petition points out that other people and businesses associated with the farming industry, like manufacturers of feed, chemicals, tractors and farm implements, are suffering along with the farmers. Gehl Company is a leading non-tractor manufacturer of agricultural equipment in North America, selling a broad line of implements. "To help farmers and businesses like ours have a better future," reads the petition, "we strongly recommend legislation to support farmers through these difficult times."

The petition was informally circulated to Gehl Company's 900 agricultural employees in West Bend, and Myerstown, Pennsylvania. Approximately 700 signatures were obtained. Copies of the petition were sent to President Bush, the governors of Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, the Agricultural Committees of both houses of Congress and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Gehl Company (NASDAQ: GEHL) produces a broad line of niche capital goods equipment used worldwide in the agricultural and light industrial and construction industries. Founded in 1859, the company is headquartered in West Bend, WI, with agricultural manufacturing facilities in West Bend, WI; Myerstown, PA; and light construction manufacturing facilities in Lithonia, GA; and Yankton and Madison, SD.

Conservation Tillage Field Day

By Jack Trzebiatowski
Extension Agriculture Agent

A Conservation Tillage Field Day is scheduled to be held on Wednesday October 16th from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. It will be at the Kratz Farm Partnership located at 4390 Sherman Road in Ackerville.

The event will feature reduced tillage equipment and other equipment supplied through implement dealers from Washington County. Participants will have an opportunity to see the equipment operating in a harvested corn field.

There are a number of producers that have included reduced tillage in their conservation plans. These plans need to be implemented by 1995 in order to remain eligible for many government programs. Observing the various type of equipment and talking to dealers and others will help producers learn about reduced tillage and assist with the implementation of their conservation plans.

Implementing a reduced tillage system on a farm requires more than changing the type of equipment used to till the soil. The goal is to have a target amount of crop residue on the surface at the time of planting next year's crop to reduce soil losses. It usually involves some adjustments in fertility and pest management in order to be successful. Conservation tillage can accomplish these goals and also the goal maintaining profitability.

Representatives from U.W. Extension, Soil Conservation Service, and the Washington County Land Conservation Department will be there to discuss the following topics and answer questions. 1. Residue Management 2. Implementing Conservation Tillage 3. Fertility Management.

No advanced registration is needed for the event. Producers and other interested persons are encouraged to stop by at their convenience during the day and participate in the event.

The event is being sponsored by U.W. Extension, Soil Conservation Service, and the participating implement dealers.

Refreshments and door prizes will be available at the event.

On a motion by Trustee Larry Williams, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board approved the application for a Special Picnic and Gathering License for the Robert G. Romaine Legion Post No. 384 for October 12 & 13, 1991. (Kettle Country Colors) Roll call vote was 7 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 0 "Absent."

Discussion was held on the Regular Non-Represented Employees that to date have not had a wage/salary adjustment for 1991. The Job Study took into consideration the positions of the seventeen Regular Employees of the Village of Kewaskum. The overall implementation of the Study would take five years. The Study recommends all employees reach their midpoint after three years of satisfactory performance in their job. There are a total of fourteen grades on the classification structure. The salary structure also reflects those fourteen grades and would be upgraded annually. A total of twelve similar communities were contacted for comparisons as well as local employers and other data sources.

Three employees included in the Study are represented by the Wisconsin Professional Police Association and ten employees included in the Study since voted to be represented by Wisconsin Council 40, AFSCME, AFL-CIO. The five remaining employees are considered management, supervisory and confidential employees. Two of these employees have recently been hired and placed on the Job Study grade classification and salary structure, while the three remaining employees have been held in abeyance.

Retired Superintendent of Public Works August Bilgo and Mr. Donald Ehnert were present and spoke against the Study and stated they wanted the Board to treat everyone fairly.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Wagner, seconded by Trustee Mark Vechart and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board authorized the placement of the Administrator and Deputy Clerk at the midpoint of the Job Study grade classification and salary structure and the placement of the Police Chief to the third and fourth year point of the Job Study grade classification and salary structure, with an effective date of January 1, 1991, and to use the Job Study as a reference pertaining to all employees. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye," 2 "Nay," 0 "Absent," with Trustee Gary Gavin and President Mary Krueger voting "Nay."

On a motion by Trustee Larry Williams, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 0 "Absent."

Indian Netters Blank Tigers

By Statesman Sports Writer

CHILTON — Although it will be virtually impossible to catch Two Rivers for the top spot in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference tennis race, the Kewaskum Indians did just about as well as they possibly could last week, winning 13 out of 14 possible points.

The Indians capped their late season surge by blanking Chilton on their home court 7-0. That win, coupled with a 6-1 win over Sheboygan Falls two days earlier, gave the Indians a firm hold on second place heading into the conference championships.

"What a tremendously gratifying way to end our regular dual meet conference season," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the finish, which he says should be a "great confidence builder," heading into post season action.

Just one match went to three sets against the overmatched Tigers, that being at No. 1 doubles, where Shawn Erdman and Lisa Berres gutted out a 5-7, 6-3, 7-5 come-from-behind victory in "the match of the day," according to Eichstedt.

Elsewhere, the No. 2 doubles team of Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank finished their conference season undefeated with a 6-4, 6-2 win. Cayner and Frank upped their mark to 8-0 in conference and 14-1 overall.

Stacey Pamperin and Heidi Gruhle continued their winning ways as well, beating Roxanne Hemauer and Shannon Owens 6-3, 6-0. The win enabled Pamperin and Gruhle to finish the year winning their last three conference matches.

Jessica Rohrer improved her mark to 5-3 with a 6-0, 6-2 win over Jamie Kuba, while Jenny Thull finished with the same mark at No. 2 singles after beating Molly Hofberger 7-6 (7-2), 6-3.

Melissa Rohrer positioned herself for a top seed at No. 3 singles with a 6-2, 6-1 whitewash of Kathy Kurscheidt. Melissa upped her conference record to 7-1 with the win. And Karyn Dossinger finished at 4-3 in the EW with a decisive 6-0, 6-0 bashing of Kim Geiser. After dropping the first sets against Geiser earlier in the year, Dossinger rolled off four straight 6-0 games to win both matches.

Indians Crown Two Champions on Way to Second Place Finish

Two of the big reasons for the Kewaskum girls tennis team's improvement this year have been the play of freshman Melissa Rohrer and junior Karyn Dossinger. Rohrer (left), playing in Monday's EW Conference meet, catches Two Rivers' Jenny Kreisa out of position in the No. 3 singles final, won by Rohrer, 7-5, 6-0. Dossinger (right) returns a shot by Raider Naoko Ishibashi in the No. 4 singles final, won by Ishibashi, 6-4, 6-2.

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Ideas of catching Two Rivers for the first place spot in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference tennis race were quickly vanished here, Monday afternoon, but nonetheless, it was a big day for the Kewaskum girls tennis team.

The Indians crowned a pair of champions in the EW conference meet, and even more importantly, capped off their regular season by finishing second in the conference race.

The Indians would have had to have an incredible day to accumulate enough points to oust Two Rivers from the top spot (the Raiders entered the meet with a 13 point advantage), and those hopes were dashed when all four Raider singles players, and two doubles teams reached the finals.

But the Indians racked up 15 points in the meet, leaving them in sole possession of second place with 50 points, this coming after the Indians had scored 18 and 30 points, respectively, the last two years, and both times finishing in fourth place.

"I'm really proud of our girls," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said near the end of the meet. "We had a lot of great efforts out there today."

None were greater than the efforts of his No. 2 doubles team of Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank, and his No. 3 singles player Melissa Rohrer, who each mowed through their respective brackets to take first place honors.

Cayner and Frank capped off their year as undefeated champs at No. 2 doubles, as they finished with a 10-0 mark in conference, and will take a 16-1 overall mark into subregional play at West Bend next week.

The Cayner/Frank combination downed Chilton's Debbie Wingers and Jessica Austin 6-1, and 6-0, before beating Plymouth's Nikki Hein and Angie Goetsch in the finals 6-0, 6-4.

Rohrer, meanwhile, beat Sheboygan Falls' Kristi Beathien in the semis 6-0, 6-4, and then had her hands full with Two Rivers' Jenny Kreisa in the finals. Rohrer and Kreisa split in their two matches this year, and each came into the meet with 7-1 records.

The two battled back and forth in the first set, before Rohrer eventually took control and won 7-5. With the momentum on her side, Rohrer rolled over a frustrated Kreisa in the second set, 6-0.

"Melissa drove the ball deeper in the second set," Eichstedt noted, adding that Rohrer, just a freshman, cruised in the second set.

The Indians' No. 2 singles player, Jenny Thull finished second in the meet. Thull beat Falls' Amy Feider in the semis 6-3, 7-6 (7-2), and then beat Two Rivers' Keli Wilsman 6-1 in the first game of the finals.

"She just put on a fantastic display of sheer confidence and desire," in the first set, according to Eichstedt. But Wilsman rallied in the final sets, winning 6-2, 6-3. "There was about a 10-15 delay before the second set," as Wilsman removed her contact lenses in favor of glasses, and the delay, Eichstedt felt, caused Thull "to lose her momentum."

The big surprise of the day occurred at No. 4 singles, where Karyn Dossinger "played her best tennis of the year," said Eichstedt. Dossinger beat Falls' Rita Goodlet in the semis 6-3, 6-3, but then lost to undefeated Naoko Ishibashi of Two Rivers 4-6, 2-6. "She just played outstanding."

At No. 1 singles, Jessica Rohrer had her hands full in these semi finals, where she faced longtime nemesis Jenny Beaver of Plymouth. Beaver played better on this day, besting Rohrer 6-4, 6-3. Rohrer did come back and earn the Indians a valuable point by destroying Falls' Katie Matszek for his place, 6-1, 6-2.

To show how well Beaver was playing in order to beat Rohrer, he pointed to the fact that Beaver went on to the finals, facing Two Rivers' Karen Wallace, who didn't lose a set all year. Beaver upended Wallace in the first set 7-5, before eventually losing to the Raider powerhouse.

Each of the other Indian doubles combinations finished in third place. At No. 1, Lisa Berres and Shawn Erdman were beat by Plymouth's No. 1 team 6-1, 6-2, before coming back to beat Chilton's duo 6-4, 6-2.

The No. 3 combo of Heidi Gruhle and Stacey Pamperin, meanwhile, and five match points in their opening match against Rae Sturzl and Amy Shafer of Plymouth. The Indian pair was unable to convert any of the points, though, and lost 2-6, 6-2, 6-7 (7-2). The pair upended Chilton's No. 3 duo for third place, 7-5, 6-0.

Respect the other fellows right of way, safe driving is a game where all must play.

Indians Down Falls 6-1

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — According to Kewaskum girls tennis coach Glenn Eichstedt, last week's effort by the Indians "will be very crucial" heading into post season play, and the Indians responded well in their first challenge, a 6-1 win over Sheboygan Falls.

Playing in front of a partisan Parent's Night crowd, the Indians were "determined to put some distance between themselves and" the Falcons, who are currently pushing the Indians for second place in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference race.

The Indians did just that, dominating the doubles matches, and taking three out of four singles spots.

Jessica Rohrer improved her No. 1 singles mark to 4-3 in the EW by besting Katie Matek in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1. As a matter of fact, all four singles matches were decided in straight sets.

Jenny Thull, now 4-3 at No. 2 took care of Amy Feider 6-4, 6-4, while Melissa Rohrer upped her conference mark to 6-1 by beating Kristi Beutheine 6-3, 6-2. The only setback of the day came at No. 4 singles, where Karyn Dossinger, now 3-3, was edged by Rita Goodlet in a close match, 6-7 (3-7), 4-6.

Senior Shawn Erdman teamed with soph Lisa Berres to capture a tough, three-set victory at No. 1 doubles, winning by scores of 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Juniors Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank continued their winning ways, improving to 7-0 in the EW, 13-1 overall, by destroying Becky Edwards and Michelle Piper 6-1, 6-1. Also, Heidi Gruhle and Stacey Pamperin completed the doubles sweep by winning their match 6-3, 6-2.

"(We) seem to be peeking at the right time of year," Eichstedt went on to say, noting that this match, along with last Thursdays against Chilton would be key in accumulating points for the conference championships.

Indians Win Blackhawk Invitational

By Statesman Staff Writer

Grafton — While it won't do much to improve their standing in Eastern Wisconsin Conference action, their first place showing at the Blackhawk Invitational here, last Friday, will do quite a bit for the Kewaskum girls volleyball team's moral.

The Indians, who dropped a tough match to Chilton just a day earlier, rebounded in championship fashion by posting a 7-2 mark in the round-robin tournament, and captured first place by beating Brookfield East in a one game playoff.

The Indians opened the tournament by destroying Milwaukee King 15-2 in their first game. But the Indians suffered a giant let-down in the second game, losing 13-15, and causing their coach, Dave Rizzardi, some concern.

"I was a little worried at that point," Rizzardi commented of the loss. "We should have never lost that game."

The Indians came right back in the second round, though, posting consecutive 15-5 wins over Brown Deer to regain their momentum.

The Indians then jumped out to a lead against East in the first game of the third round, but "We started playing tentative," according to Rizzardi, and the result was a 11-15 loss. "We just lost our concentration."

The Indians regrouped to pull out the second game easily, 15-3, and then went on to beat the host Blackhawks in the fourth round 15-6, and 15-12.

The Indians had a bye in the final round, and had to watch as Brookfield East, 5-1 through the first four rounds, played Grafton. East "won easily...15-8 or something like that," in the first game, Rizzardi said, but Grafton came back in the second game "and took a huge lead, like 11-1."

The Blackhawks eventually won the second game, leaving both East and the Indians with 6-2 records. A one game playoff was to follow, with the Indians, who had been resting four about 45 minutes, being the fresher of the two teams.

The rest certainly helped, as the Indians easily took care of East in the playoff, 15-5, thus earning the first place trophy, as well as individual medals.

"I was really pleased with the way we played," Rizzardi went on to say. "The girls really rose to the occasion in the playoff," naming Christa Schmidt, Kelly Korth, Beth Kempf and Julie Mertz and standouts in the victory.

"We committed very few error in the final game," he said, although he did note that the Indians did miss four serves against East, compared to averaging just three missed serves for every two games prior to that. "We served pretty consistently the whole day."

Rizzardi did limit the playing time of Robyn Winninghoff, who is coming off of a severe ankle sprain. "I really want her to recover so she can be 100 percent for regionals," Rizzardi said. "I think she knows that, but it's still real hard for her to just sit (on the sidelines) and watch."

The Indians wind down conference play this week with home games against Kiel and Sheboygan Falls, and then wrap up the EW schedule at New Holstein next Tuesday.

can do the job if the passes are up, but they just weren't there in the second game, and they took it to us."

Indian Spikers Fall to EW-Leading Tigers

By Statesman Sports Writer

CHILTON — The match was a mirror image of the one just two nights earlier, and unfortunately for the Kewaskum girls volleyball team, this time it was the opponent coming from behind to win.

After winning the first game in dramatic fashion, the Indians fell apart in the second and third games, and eventually lost to Eastern Wisconsin Conference leading Chilton, 15-13, 3-15, 8-15, here, last Thursday night.

"It was like night and day," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi commented, a quote he has used a couple of other times this season. One such occasion was when he was describing a match against Plymouth just two days earlier, when his Indians came back to beat the Panthers after losing the first game.

"This was almost the same thing, but in reverse," he said, noting that the Indians were down 13-10 in the opening game, but came from behind to edge the powerful Tigers. "We were playing smarter in the first game, mixing up our hard hits with dinks. We placed the ball well."

But things fell apart right in front of his eyes in the second game, as poor passing by the Indians led to an easy Tiger victory.

"We didn't play very well...didn't pass well," Rizzardi said of the second game failure. "We just have these lapses where we don't pass well. Our setters can do the job if the passes are up, but they just weren't there in the second game, and they took it to us."

The Tigers continued their flawless play in the third game, racking up a 13-4 lead before the Indians were able to make a slight run. Despite his team's poor play at times, Rizzardi had nothing but praise for the hosts.

"They recovered well...showed a lot of poise," he said, adding that Chilton's two main guns, spikers Stacey Reimer and Tracy Winkler "made very few errors."

For the Indians, spiker Robyn Winninghoff returned to action following her recovery of an ankle sprain. While Winninghoff was limited to spot action, her return is encouraging.

Just as encouraging to Rizzardi was the play of another key spiker, Christa Schmidt, who had a big night. Schmidt finished with a total of 15 points, including eight spike kills, but even more promising to Rizzardi's eyes were Schmidt's four tip kills.

"She likes to hit the ball hard," Rizzardi said of the 5-8 junior. "But she's learning that you don't have to hit it hard to get the point. She did a real nice job mixing it up."

Kelly Korth also had another fine outing or the Indians, accumulating nine total points, while setters Jackie Hintz and Stacey Heberer also played well, with 14 and nine assists, respectively.

And while he was disappointed that his team wasn't able to hand the Tigers their first taste of defeat in conference action, "I was happy to see us beat them in a game."

The Indians fell to 5-4 in the EW.

KHS Spikers Defeat Plymouth

By Statesman Sports Writer

PLYMOUTH — It wasn't necessarily one of their best efforts of the year, but Kewaskum volleyball coach Dave Rizzardi found a lot to be happy with in his team's victory over Plymouth, here, last Tuesday.

"It was a nice win, because we made a good comeback," Rizzardi said regarding his squad's 9-15, 15-2, 15-12 win over the Panthers. The win upped Kewaskum's mark in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference to 5-3, while Plymouth dropped to 1-7.

The Indians were without one of their main weapons, spiker Robyn Winninghoff remained sidelined with an ankle sprain, so the team was forced to pick up the slack in other areas.

"Serving was a big key," Rizzardi was happy to report. After dropping the first game, Jackie Hintz and Julie Mertz helped the Indians regain life with some big service aces in the second. "That (Serving aces) helped us out a lot. We just wiped them out in the second game."

But the Indian roller coaster match, as has been the case all year, turned again in the third game and the Indians found themselves down 9-12, late in the match. "We got tough in the end and pulled it out, though," Rizzardi said.

Hintz finished with six aces, while Mertz wasn't far behind with four. In all, Kewaskum came up with 14 service aces, allowing the Indians to pull out the win, despite another sluggish beginning.

"It wasn't our best effort of the year," Rizzardi was quick to point out, yet he saw some good in the match, notably that the Indians didn't give up after falling behind. "We were able to overcome a slow start, and that's a good sign."

Christa Schmidt and Kelly Korth helped pick up the slack in Winninghoff's absence at the net, as each accumulated seven points. Stacey Heberer, meanwhile, did a nice job setting, as she chalked up seven assists on the night.

A relief pitcher is allowed eight warm-up pitches when he comes into a baseball game.

JV Spikers Win Pair of Tourneys

GRAFTON - The Kewaskum JV volleyball team may have set the tone for the Indian varsity to capture the Grafton Invitational volleyball tournament, as the younger Indian squad took the top spot in the Grafton JV Invite, held a week prior to the varsity tourney.

The Indian JV's chalked up an impressive 7-1 mark in the five-team meet. The lone defeat suffered by the Indians came in their first game of the day, a 15-12 loss to the host Blackhawks. The Indians quickly recovered, and took the second game from Grafton, 15-7.

After that, the Indians had little trouble the rest of the day. The Indians, in order, beat Port Washington 15-10 and 15-6; Brown Deer 15-7 and 15-7; and Menomonee Falls 15-10 and 15-12.

The young Indians followed their triumph at Grafton by hosting and winning the Eastern Wisconsin Conference JV championships the following day. The Indians posted a 10-2 record in the round robin action, tying them with Kiel for first. The Indians then captured the tiebreaking game by a 15-7 count, thus giving them the JV title.

Possibly the highlight of the entire weekend came in the second round against Chilton, when Ginger Wiesner served 11 straight points, helping the Indians shutout the Tigers 11-0 in their first game.

Indian scores from Saturday's action were 11-7 and 11-8 against New Holstein; 11-0 and 11-7 against Chilton; 10-12 and 11-6 against Kiel; 9-11 and 11-7 against Two Rivers; 11-4 and 11-6 against Plymouth; and 11-8 and 11-2 against Sheboygan Falls.

Members of the triumphant JV team include Wiesner, Michelle Gundrum, Angie Klug, Tricia Butschlick, Alison Brundl, Missy Radtke, Christa Fleischman, Sara Tykoe, Shannon Breit, Amanda Theimer, Joanne Lemke, Cheryl Michaels, Cara Cechvala and Andrea Haferman.

In conference action last week, both the JV and freshman teams split in the respective matches against Plymouth and Chilton. The JV's lost to Plymouth 11-15, 6-15 and 15-10, while the freshman were also losers to the Panthers, 15-8, 6-15, 10-15.

But both squads rebounded against Chilton, as the JV's won 15-5, 15-9, 15-0, while the freshman were victorious 15-11, 15-6, 11-15. For the JV's, Wiesner and Tykoe "provided the serving power," according to coach Mary Holfeltz.

For the freshman, Stephanie Heberer had 10 good serves, while Shelly Williams and Sara Steinert both played well when the team needed them, according to coach Janet Molebash.

Against Plymouth, Missy Radtke, "played an aggressive net game," for the JV's, Holfeltz said, but overall "We did not play very well."

For the freshman, Williams again "had a good night at the net," said Molebash, while Steinert "did a good job when she was in. Sara Weinreich also played consistently for us."

Indians Flat in 16-0 Loss to Raiders

By Statesman Sports Writer

TWO RIVERS — It was a combination of many things. A steady rainshower... a tough Two Rivers defense... their own lack of execution. They all added up, and they all contributed to the Kewaskum football team's downfall here, Friday night.

Not even the day-long rain could put a damper on Two Rivers Homecoming festivities, as the Raiders put up a pair of touchdowns early, and let their defense do the rest, as they beat the Indians 16-0.

The Raiders wasted no time in getting on the board, as they took their first possession in for the game's first score.

Two Rivers moved 62 yards on just 10 plays, with Raider quarterback Chad Haucke hitting Teague Maxfield from eight yards out to give the Raiders the early lead. Cubby Schmidt kicked the extra point, as Two Rivers held a 7-0 lead.

The ensuing kick was mishandled by the Indians, and when the ball bounced free, Two Rivers' George Klein recovered the ball at the Indian 43 yard line, giving the hosts prime field position.

The Raiders quickly moved the ball, using a Haucke to Schmidt pass covering 26 yards to move deep into Indian territory. The Raiders needed just eight plays, as Haucke once again culminated the drive with an eight-yard scoring strike, this one to Erik Duerschmidt, putting the Raiders in front 13-0.

Two Rivers made it 16-0 midway through the second quarter, as another Indian miscue gave the ball to the hosts. The Raiders recovered a fumble by Indian junior Matt Schlosser, who was unable to field a Two Rivers punt, and moved the ball inside the Indian 10-yard line. The Indians held, however, forcing the Raiders to settle for a 28 yard field goal by Schmidt.

Kewaskum, meanwhile, could get absolutely nothing going for them on offense in the first half. The Indians failed to register a single first down in the opening quarter, and managed just two in the entire first half. They did manage to get a break early in the second half, though.

The Indians looked to be in business after Raider punter Brian Smogoleski couldn't handle the snap from center, giving Kewaskum the ball in Raider territory at the 45. But the momentum quickly changed, as just a couple plays later Chad Cook's pass was intercepted.

Both defenses tightened the rest of the way, but the Indian offense didn't come close to putting up enough yards to match the Raiders. Kewaskum finished with under 60 yards to total offense, while Two Rivers rolled up over 200 yards on the ground alone, led by Smogoleski's 93.

For the Indians, defensive end Jason Steilow played well, as did lineman Joel Fleischman and defensive back Kim Marx, according to Indian head coach Clark Pearson.

The loss left the Indians with a 1-2 record in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, while Two Rivers moved above the .500 mark to 2-1. The Indians have a big contest this week, as they host Plymouth, who is also 2-1 in the EW, and are coming off a big win against Chilton.
