New Look at Kewaskum's Strobel Propane

Myron and Becky Strobel are pleased to announce a new look at their recently opened propane bulk plant located south of Kewaskum. The distinctive blue-on-blue paint scheme and the familiar Strobel flame logo provide an attractive commercial display addition to the Highway 45 corridor.

Strobel Propane Gas Company began operations in July of this year with its headquarters together with Strobel Oil Company at 331 Clinton Street in Kewaskum. Owner Myron Strobel said that the portability and versatility of propane are what make it such a first-rate fuel. "Propane's uses in the home include space and central heating, hot water heating, cooking and clothes drying," he says. "And its applications on the farm are numerous, most notably for livestock confinement heating, water heating for milkhouses, grain drying, and motor fuel for trucks and tractors." Myron indicated that he and Becky were motivated to enter the propane business because there were no locally owned and operated propane marketers serving Kewaskum. "Many of the propane dollars being spent in our area end up in Kansas City or New York - even Canada!" he said. "If those dollars stay here in Wisconsin, it can only benefit our own economy and standard of living."

Becky Strobel, the firm's business and office manager, stated that Strobel Propane offers a wide variety of extra services as part of their propane delivery program. "We provide every home heating customer who wants it with automatic keep-full deliveries via a computerized degree day routing system. We offer a Budget Helper plan to even out fuel payments so they're the same every month. 24 hour emergency service is a standard feature, of course, and Myron is thoroughly trained to provide professional safe gas installations." Strobel Propane also participates in the nationally recognized safety program called Gas Appliance System (GAS) Check to ensure the integrity of every installation they service.

"Cisco" did allow someone else to win the next three smaller prizes, however. Third prize of $100 was won by Joal Prochnow of Adell. The $50 fourth prize went to Jeff Kudek of Kewaskum and the $50 fifth prize was awarded Laurie Johnson of West Bend. (daughter of Dennis

AIW Local 849 Fundraiser Friday For Four-Year-Old Kerri Wondra

Kerri Wondra

A benefit dance to help the parents of a four-year-old who is battling a brain tumor will take place Friday, Nov. 1, at the Amerahn Bar & Hall on Highway 45, Kewaskum.

The child, Kerri Wondra, is the daughter of Joe and Lori Wondra, both members of AIW Local 849 (Regal Ware). The local is working with the family to coordinate the benefit, according to Carol Vetter, Local 849 president.

Kerri has a tumor, called an ependymoma, at the stem of her brain. The location is particularly dangerous because the tumor could fall down her neck into her back and spread. Since the tumor was discovered in 1990, she has had nine surgeries, including two brain surgeries, which have resulted in hospital stays of one to two weeks. Although the most recent brain surgery has slightly improved her sight and muscle support, she is unable to walk without a leg brace and a walker.

The best hope for recovery, her doctors advise, is surgery plus

United Way Drive at 86%

Tom Kieckhafer, Chairman of the 1991 United Way of Washington County's "Sharing is Caring" Campaign, announced that as of Monday, October 28, the campaign was at 86 percent, or $612,133 of the $710,000 goal.

"Kewaskum has done a good job this year," said Kieckhafer. As of Monday, the Kewaskum total was $28,733, or 84 percent of their $34,025 goal. Outstanding efforts have been realized in the following divisions: Miller's Furniture Employees - 38 percent increase over last year; Valley Bank Employees - 20 percent increase; Kewaskum School District - 18 percent increase.

"Many individuals and businesses are also responding well," said Tim Miller of Valley Bank, who serves as the 1991 Kewaskum division chairman.

"I'm pleased with how things are going; we'll be wrapping up our efforts this week," he said. Other volunteers assisting with the Kewaskum portion of the Washington County campaign are Sandy Amerling, Jerry Gosa, Larry Martin and Tom Timblin. Carol Vetter and Gene Akin also serve on the United Way Board of Directors.

The next report will be given at the November 13 Campaign Celebration. "There's still time to make a donation to the campaign if you have not done so," Miller said. Donations can be dropped off at Valley Bank or mailed to United Way, P.O. Box 304, West Bend, 53095.

This year's effort will fund the programs and services of 28 agencies in Washington County.

"I know how much Kewaskum cares," concludes Miller. "We want to meet and exceed our goal, because every dollar is truly needed."

National Exchange Bank & Trust Opens New Bank at Campbellsport

The National Exchange Bank & Trust has announced that it has opened a new bank in Campbellsport. The 3,000 square foot office opened on October 25th at 350 Sheboygan Street.

Michael Burch, president of National Exchange Bank, said the decision to open a new bank in this rural community was based on the tremendous growth being experienced in nearby West Bend and surrounding communities. Burch said, "We have been looking at opening a bank in Campbellsport for a long time. We have a number of customers in the area already. To better serve those customers, we thought we would build a new banking facility."

"We are proud to become part of the Campbellsport area community and look forward to serving its business and consumer needs," Burch said.

John Klotz, assistant vice president, will be responsible for all lending functions, including consumer, mortgage, agriculture and commercial. Klotz had been employed with Bank One in Campbellsport where he was an assistant vice president in lending for the past six years.

Trudi Marquardt will be responsible for all retail and operational functions of the bank. Marquardt is a five-year employee of National Exchange Bank.

Patty Zielieke will serve as customer service officer of the new bank. Zielieke has been with the bank for 23 years.

Klotz, Marquardt and Zielieke, plus three additional employees, will work at the new bank.

National Exchange Bank & Trust opened in Fond du Lac in 1933 and acquired the Mount Calvary State Bank in 1989. National Exchange Bank & Trust is a locally owned-independent bank.

A grand opening is scheduled for the week of November 11th.

Kettle Kountry Kolers on TV

For those of you who missed the Kettle Kountry Kolers Festival on October 12 and 13, here is an opportunity for you to see it firsthand.

West Bend Community Cable TV productions attended the festival on Sunday and videotaped all of the numerous highlights.

The edited (good grief, I hope they took me out!) broadcast will be shown on Wednesday, Oct. 30 at 5 p.m.; Thursday, Oct. 31 at 8 p.m.; Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 8, 9 and 10 at 5 p.m.; and Friday, Nov. 15 at 3 p.m.

You can tune in to West Bend Community Cable by turning to channel 33 or 34, depending on your cable hookup.

Be sure to watch one of the broadcasts and see if you missed anything while you were watching the lumberjack shows. Besides, I hear that Lee Kempf and Richard Thieme will be up for Academy Awards for their performances (comedy, of course).

Local Students Attends Lawrence University Music Program

Stacey Pamperin, and Renee Kertcher, seniors at Kewaskum High School, were among 250 high school music students from across the nation selected to attend "Experience Weekend" at the Lawrence University Conservatory of Music, September 13-15.

The program, now in its fifth year, is a comprehensive, intensive experience in music scholarship and performance that focuses on the life and work of one composer. This year, students of orchestra and choral music explored the work of Austrian composer Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart through lectures, performance, master classes and theory instruction. The weekend culminated in a concert of Mozart's Jupiter Symphony, the Requiem, and several smaller choral works under the direction of Richard Bjella and James Plondke of the Lawrence conservatory faculty.

Pamperin, who sings under the direction of David Bertelsen at Kewaskum High School, is the daughter of Walter and Sandra Pamperin of West Bend. She studies privately with Sherri Hron / Albert Asch.

Kertcher, who sings under the direction of Dave Bertelsen at Kewaskum High School, is the daughter of Allen Kertcher and Kathryn Hughett of Campbellsport.

Lawrence University, chartered in 1847, is a highly selective liberal arts college with a Conservatory of Music located

The third balloon ride was raffled off following the cash drawings at the Chamber meeting. The winning ticket belonged to Eileen SearVogel of West Bend. Eileen, who "can't wait" for her balloon adventure to begin, won't have to wait too long. Weather permitting Eileen's ride starts at 7 a.m. on Saturday.

Congratulations to all our lucky winners and many thanks to all those who graciously purchased tickets (even if Jane twisted your arm!) Without the support of the ticket-buyers, many things at Kettle Kountry Kolers would not have been possible.

Lectures, Workshop At WB Gallery

The West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts is pleased to present a lecture / demonstration on the Japanese art of flower arranging on November 9 from 1:30 - 3:30 p.m. There is a diversity of approaches, based on one fundamental principle, that every arrangement must in some way symbolize HEAVEN, MAN AND EARTH. Flower arrangement is an important factor in the decoration of a Japanese room. The word "flower" is used broadly in Japan, and is used to describe flowering fruits, trees and flowerless trees and shrubs.

Instructors include Nobi Sacia, West Bend; Kikuko Otuka, Milwaukee; Helen Inai, Milwaukee; Sei Pramenko, Milwaukee; and Maradel Sager, West Bend.

The fee for gallery members is $6.00 and non-members $8.00.

The gallery is also hosting a BONSAI LECTURE / DEMO AND WORKSHOP with Instructor: John Connolly of Bristol, Wisconsin on November 2 (lecture & demo), 2:30 - 3:30 p.m. and November 9 (workshop) 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon.

The fee for the Bonsai workshop is $10.00 for members and $12.00 for non-members.

The lecture / demonstration is open to the public at no charge.

To register for either workshop, send a check for the full amount and indicate which workshop to the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts, 300 South 6th Avenue, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095. For additional information, call (414) 334-9638.

Happy Birthday Mom I LOVE YOU!

I couldn't let another birthday go by without letting you know just how much you are loved. Much too often I get caught up in the day-to-day existence and tend to forget to say thank you for all you do.

After God had created you, he sat back and said to himself, "there, now that is what I want a mother to be."

You are such a GOOD person, whom I admire so much, I wish the world could know you as I do! Your patience... (dear Lord, why couldn't I have inherited more of it?) your optimism... the smile which rarely leaves your face... your uncanny ability to find good in everyone, your perserverance, the way you pitch in to help everyone you can and NEVER complain... the way you protect the ones you love and always have excuses for their failiures and shortcomings, even though, I think, in your eyes, none of us have ever failed... your compassion for your fellow man... the tears in your eyes when you talk of children starving in Bangladesh... your guidance... the gentleness you show me when you know I am hurting... the ear that is ALWAYS available to listen to my problems, no matter how busy you are... the many, many times I've seen you sacrifice your own pleasures to help your family... the way your eyes sparkle when you have a special gift or secret... your ability to accept people just as they are without trying to change them... your indignation when you've seen injustice, especially to those you love... the unconditional love you have for ALL your children and grandchildren, even though sometimes I'm sure we must have disappointed you... the way you anticipate my needs, sometimes even before I know them... the beauty of your unselfishness... your girlish smile... your innocence, (even though we sometimes teasingly try to corrupt you)... your unfaltering faith in the Lord, never questioning Him, just accepting what He deals you as His will.

These are just a few of the things that make you so special... there is so much more! If my own children love me just half as much as we all love you, I can be happy. Even though I'm just a "younster" (29 again, right?), I surely hope when I "grow up" I will be just like my mommy!

If I had one gift I could give to the world, I would give every child a mother like I have. The world would be such a better place and every child in it would always be smiling.

With All My Love,
Respect and Admiration,
HAPPY, HAPPY BIRTHDAY and MANY, MANY MORE to You
MOM... MY BEST FRIEND!

Kewaskum Receives Preschool Grant For Handicapped Children

MADISON — State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover has notified the School District of Kewaskum that it will receive $16,200 to support special education programs for preschool-age children with exceptional educational needs (EEN).

The grant is made available under Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). Administered by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, grant funds provide an incentive for districts to maintain and improve quality services to handicapped children between the ages of 3 and 5.

Statewide, all local educational agencies will share in more than $8.2 million available under this federal program during the 1991-92 school year. Seventy-five percent of these federal entitlement funds will flow directly to local school districts.

The preschool grants provide a broad range of local programs and services to handicapped preschoolers. Funds may be used to pay salaries of instructional and support staff, purchase special materials and equipment, arrange for specialized evaluations, develop parent training programs, and support inservice training activities.

Commenting on the grant, project director Richard E. Zarling said, "These funds become increasingly more significant as the cost of providing services to the younger handicapped children continue to escalate and the service needed become more complex.

Young Wife: What is this ticket, darling? Hubby: Only a pawn ticket. Young Wife: Why didn't you get two, then we could both go?

They say that witches tonight will roam...
And Goblins and Spooks may invade your home.

The Salvation Army Says Thank You

After the enjoyable, hopefully restful summer months, fall comes rushing in. The children are off to school; the pace at work quickens and there never seems to be enough time to accomplish our plans.

The services of The Salvation Army also return to their rapid pace. Food vouchers written, gasoline provided, shelter sought for those with no place to stay, clothing given to help one face the cold months of winter in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

Fall marks the beginning of another year of service for the men and women of The Salvation Army and we feel the time is most appropriate to say thank you for your love and generosity over the past year.

Your kindness has made our service possible.

Thank you again for being loyal and faithful friends of The Salvation Army.

Kewaskum Girl Scout News

This past Friday, Oct. 25th the Kewaskum Girl Scout Troop 39 had a Halloween Party at Billy Jeans Dance Hall in New Fane. Girl Scout troops that had a hauntingly good time were troops, 9, 13, 39, 25 and 268.

They enjoyed our haunted house, bobbing for apples, hoping not to get the green poison apple, Cemetery Road and a Spooky Story (what body part is next?) Then we had break the Pinata. One of our most popular booths, was the booth of Madame Zelda the Fortune Teller.

Troop 39 would like to thank Billy Jeans for the use of their hall and of the other Kewaskum Girl Scout Troops for making our party a success.

The following letter was submitted to the Statesman as part of an eighth grade activity at Holy Trinity Catholic School during Fire Prevention Week.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to you to tell you how important fire prevention is. Every 13 1/2 seconds, a fire breaks out in the United States. Many of these fires start in homes, and most are caused by carelessness.

Many fire hazards start in the home. The causes are smoking in bed, playing with matches, throwing away cigarettes that are still burning, and storing flammable liquids near a furnace. Everybody should be aware of these examples.

Fire prevention is very important. In our school, Holy Trinity, we have fire drills so we know what to do. We have to keep our hands at our sides, and be quiet. Fire prevention saves lives. So, plan an escape for when a fire happens at your home or school, because fire won't wait.

Sincerely,
Helen Klahn

You left us so suddenly
The shock was so severe.

You were gone before we knew it and

IN MEMORY

In memory of BRENDA OELHAFEN, who passed away six years ago, on October 23, 1985:

"From the Class of 1988"
"To BRENDA"

Everyday of my life, for at least one moment, I think of you.
I see a person, I hear a song - there's always some type of clue.

Sometimes it makes me happy,
other times - I cry.

It just seems so hard to believe,
that six years have gone by.

If you were here with us right now, I wonder where you would be.

In college, or working - maybe happily married, like me.

4-H LEADERS HONORED

Kewaskum Statesman, Thursday, Oct. 31, 1991, Page 11

Gladys Ramel honored for 35 years of service

Washington County 4-H would like to thank over 225 adult volunteer leaders for their service to over 650 Washington County 4-H youth. Volunteer leaders give time, expertise, money and genuine support to help youth develop life skills. Volunteers are the heart of the 4-H program. Without their time and dedication to help youth develop leadership skills, communication skills, decision making skills, and project knowledge the 4-H program we know today would not exist. Volunteers enable us to extend the knowledge from the University to both youth and adults. Adult volunteer leaders support the county 4-H program in many ways: training other leaders, supporting local clubs, teaching 4-H youth, coordinating 4-H programs, and serving as resource leaders.

Special recognition is given to those leaders who have contributed to the Washington County 4-H Program.

Gladys Ramel, Kewaskum, was honored for 35 years of service, receiving a sapphire clover. Ione Stodola, West Bend, was honored for 30 years of service, receiving a ruby clover. Fire Department Holds 'Jaws of Life' Demonstration for Kiwanis Club

The Kewaskum Fire Department held a private 'Jaws of Life' demonstration for the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club on Monday, October 21. The purpose of the demonstration was to enable the Kiwanis Club to see firsthand how valuable their donation was to the fire department and the community. The Kiwanians were all very impressed with the state of the art jaws unit and with its capability. The fire department, along with the entire Kewaskum community is extremely grateful to the Kiwanis Club for their donation.

radiation therapy, which would give her a 30 to 60 percent chance of being cured.

Although some of the expenses for treating the tumor at the stem of the pre-schooler's brain are covered by the parents' medical coverage, "a lot of the charges for some treatments are not covered, and then there's the old 'usual and customary' clause, which means the parents must pay the difference between what the hospital or doctor charges and what the insurance will pay," Vetter said.

Also not covered are non-medical expenses the family must bear, including transportation from the family's home in Fond du Lac to Milwaukee for radiation treatment and chemotherapy, lodging and meals for the parents (who sometimes are able to stay at the Ronald McDonald house but often end up at a motel), and care expenses for the family's other child.

The benefit dance Nov. 1 will include music by the Romy Gosz Band, donated by Norb Meyer, a Teamsters Local 200 member.

Donations for the family can be sent to AIW Local 849, 1230 Fond du Lac Ave., P.O. Box 350, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

Pheasant Stamp Design Contest Now Underway

MADISON, WI — Information and rules for the 1992 Wisconsin Pheasant Stamp Design Contest are now available from the Department of Natural Resources, said Bill Vander Zouwen, contest coordinator for the DNR.

This contest marks the first of what will become an annual design competition, according to Vander Zouwen. The new pheasant stamp was approved by the state Legislature as part of the state budget bill. Beginning with the 1992 pheasant season, hunters will be required to possess a current pheasant stamp to hunt pheasants statewide. The stamp will cost $7.25 annually.

The design contest opened Oct. 15; the deadline for entry is Jan. 2, 1992. All entries must be received or postmarked by Jan. 2 to be eligible. Judging will take place in mid February of 1992.

The contest is open to any Wisconsin resident, 18 years or older, who is not a member of the judging panel or a member of a judge's immediate family. Artists who have won recent state hunting or fishing stamp design contests are eligible to compete this year; however, in the future, each year's winning pheasant stamp artists will be ineligible for the following three years.

For information, contest rules and entry forms, please contact the Department of Natural Resources, Wisconsin Pheasant Stamp Contest, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.

For more information contact: Bill Vander Zouwen — 608-266-8840.

IRS Checks Claims With Bank Forms

Over the next few months, people who may have failed to report various kinds of income or properly claim mortgage interest deductions on their 1989 federal income tax returns will be receiving letters from the Internal Revenue Service.

The letters are part of a computer program that matches financial information sent to the IRS by banks and other businesses with amounts reported on 1989 tax returns. For example, the IRS says when your bank sends you a form or statement showing interest earned on a savings account or interest paid on a home mortgage, they send the same information, usually on computer tape or diskette, to the IRS. If the information reported to the tax agency by the bank doesn't match the figures on your return, you will receive one of these letters.

You must reply within 30 days, the IRS emphasizes. The letter lists the items the IRS believes were omitted or improperly reported. In most cases, the letter will also propose an increase in your 1989 tax, plus interest, and in some cases, a penalty.

The IRS urges you to check your return and see if you agree with the changes listed. If you do, sign the statement on the last page of the letter and return it to the IRS. To avoid further interest charges, also send a check for the amount due. If you disagree, the IRS says, send a letter within 30 days explaining which items are wrong and giving the correct information.

KMS Sixth Graders Enjoy Outdoor Educational Experience

The sixth graders at Kewaskum Middle School recently returned from their two-day outdoor educational experience at Camp Whitcomb/Mason near Hartland. The camp is a Boys' & Girls' Club of Milwaukee and is staffed with a camp director, two environmentalists, and full-time cooks. They help us plan our two-day camp and also work with the groups while we are there.

The activities the students enjoyed while there were: Canoe Safety, Backpacking, Outdoor Survival, Pond Study, Orienteering, Creative Writing with the Senses, Astronomy, Archery, Arts, and Fishing.

Along with these classes, they had time for some recreational games, crazy songs, cabin time, snack times, and a memorable night hike and campfire.

A great thanks goes to the devoted KMS staff members who volunteered to leave their classrooms and teach at Camp Whitcomb. They were: Floyd Brenner, Marlene Domasky, Dave Drexler, Ken Erickson, Peggy Nelson, Dennis Reha, Renee Roels, Lynne Rompelman, Diane Stangl, and Kathy West. A thank-you also goes to the Principal, Dave Jones, and some parent helpers who stayed overnight: Mrs. Heise, Mr. Ogi, Mr. Rammer and Mr. Stangl.

Kemps Dairy was gracious enough to donate ice cream bars for one of our snack times and we greatly appreciate their generosity!

This outdoor experience is a wonderful time for the teachers and students to really get to know each other. The students are asked to write their reactions when they get back to the classroom and almost all of them respond that it is the BEST time they have ever had, or they wish they could have stayed longer. They also hope that many groups in the future can continue to have this excellent experience!

Mrs. West leads her Outdoor Survival group through the woods. They gathered materials to add to the lean-to shelter down the path.

Nathan Lozano, front, and Jeff Czerniak learn canoe paddling instructions from the camp's environmentalists.

Indians planted stringbeans along with the corn crops. Corn, wheat and cotton deplete the land of its natural nitrogen. Bean plants replace this loss naturally. Only lately have non-Indian farmers learned to do this.

Prevent Influenza: Get a Flu Shot Today

The flu... it happens every winter. Chills, weakness, loss of appetite, aching head, back, arms and legs. It's a contagious disease that affects the whole body and when combined with pneumonia, has ranked as the sixth leading cause of death since 1979.

For healthy adults and children, flu is usually a moderately severe illness, but for high-risk individuals it can be life-threatening. The American Lung Association of Wisconsin recommends that high-risk individuals contact their physicians or local health departments about being vaccinated between October 15 and November 15 to be protected for the 1991-92 flu season.

"Flu shots have to be taken every year since the virus strains change annually," said Pamela Wilson, M.D., Lung Association president. "Since the flu vaccine is made from inactivated viruses, no one can get influenza from receiving the flu shot."

Contact the American Lung Association at (414) 258-9100 in Milwaukee, or toll-free at (800)242-5160 outside the Milwaukee area for a free flu brochure. It's a matter of life and breath.

Mrs. Ida Lacke, 59, of R.2, Kewaskum, who resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gunther Uhlig, fell and broke her hip while feeding ducks on a pond some distance from her home Tuesday. She was carried home by two hunters who heard the woman's cries for help. Mrs. Lacke fell about noon and laid outdoors at the pond on a hill behind her house for more than two hours before her cries were heard by the passing hunters. The hunters were not from this area and their identity was not learned. Mrs. Lacke was removed by the Kewaskum firemen's ambulance to St. Joseph's hospital where she was to undergo surgery.

On Saturday evening, Oct. 22, a surprise dinner party was held at the Glacier Inn in honor of Walter Schmidts' 25 years of employment at Kewaskum Frozen Foods. He was presented a watch by his employers Mr. and Mrs. Greg Nigh. His fellow employees also surprised him with a ice fishing drill.

While doing repair work in a cottage at Forest Lake, Dick Dreher and Reuben Schultz of Kewaskum found an old newspaper from 45 years ago. The paper is a copy of the Chicago Daily Tribune dated April 13, 1921. It is addressed to August Bartelt, R.6, Campbellsport, the late husband of Mrs. Alma Bartelt of Kewaskum. The banner headline reads "Harding for Peace at Once" and the subheading reads "Message Asks Declaration of end of War." Although yellowed with age, the paper was in good readable condition.

Oscar Weinhold, 57, farmer residing two miles west of Adell, was instantly killed at about 10:30 a.m. Sunday when the car he was driving was struck by a south-bound train of the Milwaukee Road at an intersection on the edge of the village of Adell. The victim was well known in this vicinity, especially east of Kewaskum and was a prosperous farmer. Mr. Weinhold was alone in the car and was returning home from church when the accident occurred. He was intent apparently on the car immediately ahead of him and didn't see the train speeding toward him. The locomotive caught the car squarely and carried it along the track for 400 yards demolishing it completely.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bies of this village are the parents of a son, born Saturday, Oct. 25, at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend. The baby was born on the same morning of the burial of the couple's little daughter Helen, aged 15 months, who was strangled to death by the rope of a swing while playing in the Bies' backyard last Thursday.

A large number of women of this village and on the rural routes are among the thousands of victims of the so-called National Brokerage Exchange, which offered a $4.50 silk petticoat to every woman who would send the concern 10 cents in silver and write five letters to her friends urging them to join the "exchange". Thousands of letters, each containing 10 cents are pouring into the Minneapolis post office daily from women in various parts of the country who have joined the "endless chain scheme" promoted by the so-called National Exchange. Federal agents are searching for officers of the "exchange" who are wanted for using the mails to defraud.

Germantown Woman Receives County Tourism Council Business Award

The annual Washington County Tourism Council business award was presented to Irene Blau of Germantown, the owner of Sinter Klaasen Christmas Markt. Sinter Klaasen is a Christmas shop on Main Street in Germantown and was one of the first businesses to implement the German architectural style.

But Sinter Klaasen is just one of Irene's activities to promote Germantown. Irene is on the Chamber of Commerce, the Historical Society and the Deutschtadt Heritage Foundation — the official tourism organization for Germantown.

In addition, Irene is currently a member of the board for Wisconsin's Ethnic Settlement Trail. This is one of four projects in Wisconsin developing under a grant from the National Historical Trust.

The intent of the ethnic trail, states Blau, "is to preserve our past for future generations. The Germantown settlement of Dheinsville contains twenty-two of the original sites settled between 1840-1870 including the church, a hotel, a livery stable and several homesteads. This is a wonderful educational resource and attraction."

The tourism business award was presented by the Washington County Tourism Council at it's annual dinner. Over 50 people attended the dinner at Jerry's Old Town Inn. Previous award winners were W B Place & Co. in Hartford in 1990 and Timmer's Resort in 1989.

OIL HEAT BEATS LP GAS!

Gallon for Gallon OIL gives you 50% More Heat!

When you buy LP Gas or Fuel Oil, you're really buying heat units!

So if you buy a gallon of LP Gas and it only gets 2/3rds of a gallon of heat compared to a gallon of oil, you're paying 50% more for your LP Gas if both were exactly the same price per gallon.

If LP Gas and Fuel Oil were the exact same price per gallon, you'd have to buy $1.50 worth of LP Gas to get the same heat units you get from a dollar's worth of Fuel Oil!

When you know the facts YOU'LL CHOOSE OIL!

We are proud to expand our service into the Kewaskum, Boltonville, New Fane, Beechwood and Fillmore areas.

Our dedication to our customers will be further enhanced with VERN WIEDMEYER from Kewaskum serving these areas.

WE Introduces 'Mr. Ouch' to Children

MILWAUKEE — He's not a Halloween character, but his mean face is becoming familiar to more and more children. And they're keeping their distance from him.

He's Mr. Ouch a menacing ball of electricity whose picture is being used by Wisconsin Electric as a warning to keep people, especially young children, away from electrical equipment, said Fred Trebatoski, vice president, Customer Operations, at the utility.

"We recently completed installing Mr. Ouch warning stickers on approximately 82,000 pieces of electrical equipment throughout our service area in Wisconsin and Michigan," he said. The equipment includes ground-level transformers and electrical switching devices.

"This mean-looking guy is helping us get across the safety message of staying away from electrical equipment," said Trebatoski.

The Mr. Ouch sticker, endorsed by the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, shows a child in distress and includes the word "Hazardous voltage inside. Can shock, burn or cause death." Mr. Ouch has been tested among various age groups, including pre-school children, and he has been proven effective for children too young to read.

The 30 Wisconsin Electric workers who installed the Mr. Ouch stickers noted that many people, especially children, were familiar with Mr. Ouch when they were approached about coming on their property to place the stickers on the equipment.

More than 90,000 Mr. Ouch brochures and posters have been sent to grade schools and day care centers in Wisconsin Electric's service area. In addition, a Mr. Ouch video has been produced for use in schools to help get the safety message to children, Trebatoski noted.

The Warden's Notebook: License Fee Increases

by Randal G. Rossing,
State Conservation Warden

DODGEVILLE, WI — "You're trying to price us right out of hunting!" "Where's all this money go?" "It's getting to be a rich man's sport." "You just raised the fees last year!"

I heard the above comments recently while working at the Conservation Warden booth at the Wisconsin State Fair.

Yes, the budget bill was passed, increasing the hunting and fishing license fees. Do I agree with the increases? Yes and no. Nobody likes higher fees — including me. However, it has been four years since the last increase and costs on everything have gone up.

License sales pay a big percentage of the cost to run the DNR. Sure, the licenses could be cheaper, but your taxes would probably be higher and nobody likes that.

I like the idea of a turkey license. However, why should we still have to buy a turkey stamp to make that license valid. Seems like two licenses for the same purpose.

The $3 application fee is reasonable. It costs a lot of money to process the applications. Several states have an application fee of $3 to $5. Other states have a general hunting or license fee, in the same price range, that people must buy in addition to their license. It is the same thing we have, only under a different name.

Bonus tag fees? Let's put the tags in the hands of the people who want them. If you pay for one, I'll bet you will try real hard to fill it. In the last few years a lot of people have applied for tags just to throw them away. That is a waste of our time processing that application and sending that person a tag that costs money to make.

What about our prices compared to other states? Wisconsin tries to maintain its fees so that they are comparable to neighboring states.

For those of you who buy a Sports license, the price is now $38. In Michigan you would pay $45.35, Montana is $45.50, Iowa is $43.50, and Colorado is $35.50. Most states don't even offer combination licenses — you pay full price for everything. As you can see, we are right in the middle of the price range, especially for deer, which is what most people are concerned about.

You don't like the application fee and bonus tag fee for your deer. For those two tags and a license you will pay $33. If you live in Colorado you pay $40.50 and in South Dakota it's $35.

In most western states the resident buys a buck license and then can buy a doe license for the same full price. We are not out of line with this here in Wisconsin.

Let's take it a step farther. For $21 you stand an excellent chance of getting a Hunter's Choice permit and one adult deer that should yield about 50 pounds of boneless meat. In other words, that meat costs you 42 cents per pound. If you get 25 pounds of steak and 25 pounds of hamburger from your deer, you would pay roughly $152 for the same amount of deer at the store. Your bonus deer would only cost you 24 cents per pound. Sounds cheap to me.

Finally, for those who still think it is too much, think about the other things you spend your money on: pop $7/case; beer $12/case; cigarettes $16.50/carton; 20 lb. turkey $18; 5 lb. ham $11.50; brandy $10/liter; steak supper at a restaurant $13; a dozen red roses for that special other in your life $24; one large pizza $12; and Lotto ticket $1 for two chances (for $3 I like my odds in the Hunter's Choice drawing better).

I'm not saying you should do without any of these to pay for your license — especially the roses for the special other. I'm just trying to put it into perspective.

For the $38 Sports license, you could hunt or fish every day of the year. Is it worth a dime a day to be outdoors doing this, even if you don't harvest very much? I would hope so.

If you think it's too much, then you don't have to buy it. Nobody is forcing you to spend time outdoors hunting or fishing.

Hunter's Choice Permit Recipients Should Check Their Forms

MADISON, WI — Hunters receiving bonus antlerless deer permit notifications and Hunter's Choice permits for the 1991 gun deer season should check the permits for accuracy, Steve Miller, director of the Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Wildlife Management, said last week.

As of Oct. 18, nearly 145,000 notices had been mailed to successful applicants for Hunter's Choice permits who are also eligible to receive bonus antlerless deer permits.

"What is going out in the mail now are the notices of eligibility for bonus antlerless deer permits," Miller said. "These are postcards informing applicants that they have been picked to receive a Hunter's Choice permit for the unit they selected, plus they're getting a notice that they are eligible for bonus antlerless deer permits."

These cards must be checked for accuracy. The department for the first time used an optical scanning procedure to process the more than 400,000 hand-written applications, and Miller said there is a possibility for some error.

The most critical scanning error possible is a misreading of the deer management unit number that the applicant applied for.

"There have been a very small number of errors noted already," Miller said. "We're working with the individual applicants to correct those errors."

In some cases names have been misspelled and address numbers are incorrect, but because of errors not picked up in the scanning process, a few permits have been issued for the wrong deer management unit.

Name and address error corrections can be made at local DNR Offices. Management unit errors must be corrected through the License Section at the department's central office in Madison.

"Hunters receiving notification that they are to receive a Hunter's Choice permit for a different deer management unit than the one they applied for are asked to call the DNR License Section in Madison," Miller said. "We will make the changes if the management unit listed on the notification card is different than what appears on the application form we have on file here."

The telephone number of the DNR's License Section is (608) 266-2105.

All successful applicants will be notified by postcard during late October of their eligibility for bonus antlerless permits, according to Miller. They will have until Nov. 8 to mail in the appropriate fees in order for the department to process the bonus permit requests.

Miller emphasized that the bonus permits cannot be issued unless the postcard accompanies the permit fees. The postcard must be returned with the correct fees to the special post office box in Milwaukee where the permits will be processed.

Bonus antlerless deer permits will be issued at a cost of $12 each for residents and $20 each for nonresidents. Some applicants may be eligible to receive up to two bonus antlerless deer permits this year in addition to their Hunter's Choice permit.

Miller added that some 5,000 applicants for Hunter's Choice permits will receive notification that they were not included in the drawing because of errors on their applications. The errors included: missing hunting license number or invalid license number (some used last year's license number or a small game license), missing management unit number, invalid unit number, or submitted their application after the deadline.

Hunter's Choice Permit Drawing is Underway

Bonus Antlerless Deer Permit Sales Sites Announced

MADISON, WI — The drawing process to select successful Hunter's Choice applicants is now underway, reports Bill Ishmael, deer, bear and furbearer specialist for the Department of Natural Resources.

The DNR received more than 400,000 applications for Hunter's Choice Permits for this fall's gun deer season. The application deadline for the permits was Sept.

20. Applications are being processed this year using a new computerized system which is expected to speed the distribution to successful applicants.

Wisconsin's gun deer season runs from Nov. 23 through Dec. 1. A Hunter's Choice permit allows a hunter to shoot a deer of either sex in a specified deer management unit.

Indians Dominate, Still Lose to Kiel

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM - In a way, it was perhaps fitting that the Kewaskum football team's season end the way it did here, last Thursday night.

Fitting because the season ended on the same path that much of the season took, with good defense, offensive turnovers, and another Indian loss, this one to Kiel, 21-14.

The Indians defense shined once again, allowing the Raiders just four first downs and just 73 total yards, all of which came on the ground. It followed an all-year trend that saw Kewaskum's defense keep the Indians in almost every ballgame.

Despite the good 'D', the Indians found themselves down 14-0 early in the first quarter, thanks to a couple of Indian miscues. The first occurred deep in Kewaskum territory, when a Raider surge into the Indian backfield caused a fumble, and Kiel was in business on the Indian two-yard line. One play later, Jason Grube scored, and Brian Neils' point after made it 7-0.

The Indians were forced to punt on their next possession, and anyone following the Indians this year knows that the Indian kicking game can always be an adventure. The saga continued as Kim Marx's punt was blocked by the Raiders, who once again recovered at the two-yard line. Kiel's Chad Sabel ran it in this time, and the Indians were looking at a 14-0 deficit.

The offense finally came alive in the second quarter, as FB Dan Schulteis pumped some life into his team with a couple of nice runs. After a couple of passes to Aaron Rettler kept the drive going, Schulteis finally barreled in from five yards out, making it 14-6. The Indians faked the PAT, and holder Randy Schlice scrambled into the end zone, and Kewaskum was back in the game at 14-8, just before the half.

In the third quarter, the Indians drove deep into Raider territory, before the drive finally stalled at the Kiel six yard line. The Indians appeared to be going for a field goal, but then faking the attempt, Schlice again found himself with the ball, this time opting to throw to Marx in the end zone, tying the game at 14. The Indians went for two, but the run failed, leaving the game deadlocked.

That's the way it stayed until the final period, when another Indian turnover gave Kiel the ball once again deep in Kewaskum territory. Grube again made sure that the Indians pay for the blunder, running the ball in from the two. Neils' third kick of the night made it 21-14, and that's the way it ended.

The loss gave the Indians a 1-5 mark on the year in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. Plymouth wrapped up the EW title by edging New Holstein 7-0. Plymouth (5-1) and second place Sheboygan Falls (4-2) will be the EW's representatives in the WIAA State Playoffs, with the Panthers taking on Little Ten runner-up Watertown at Fond du Lac, and the Falcons traveling to Brown Deer to take on the Parkland Conference runners-up.

DNR to Stock County Ponds

The Department of Natural Resources soon will stock several ponds with 10-12 inch rainbow trout in southeast Wisconsin. The special stocking is part of the state's Urban Fishing Program.

About 26,000 will be stocked in 21 park ponds in Sheboygan, Washington, Ozaukee, Waukesha, Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha and Walworth Counties. This is in addition to the more than 80,000 trout stocked last spring.

"These are specially-fed trout that reach a larger size sooner than the more common trout stocked," said Ron Piening, a Southeast District Fisheries Biologist. "Fish will average more than ten inches in length and be ready to provide both fun and food for the frying pan."

The Department selects the ponds based on their size, location and ability to provide icefishing should there be any carryover into the winter.

Stocking will begin after October 20 when the water temperatures are around 60 degrees Fahrenheit or colder. "Trout are cold-water fish and these colder water temperatures will help ensure that they will survive," added Piening.

UWVC Kickers Beat Rock

By Statesman Sports Writer

JANESVILLE - The UWVC men's soccer team had to face a full UW-Rock County squad in the two teams' second meeting of the year, but it didn't really matter to the Wildcats.

After beating a shorthanded Rock County team 11-0 earlier this season, the Wildcats didn't seem to mind a couple of more players, as they steamrolled over Rock in the second encounter 7-2.

Jim Rasmussen and Mike Starzman both had big days for the Wildcats. Rasmussen had three assists and a goal, while Starzman chalked up a pair of assists to go along with a goal, as they led a balanced UWVC attack.

Five different Wildcats scored in the contest, led by Eric Zunke and John 'Zip' Ziperski, who each tallied a pair of goals. Scott Yeomans added the final UWVC score. Randy Staus also played well for the Cats, contributing three assists, while Ziperski, Dave Pflueghoef and Jay Leberecht each added an assist.

The win allowed the Wildcats to finish in second place in the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference with a 3-2-1 record.

Wildcat Spikers Seventh in WCC

By Statesman Sports Writer

JANESVILLE - After finishing their regular season with a 3-8 conference record, the UWVC women's volleyball team fared about as well as expected in the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference tournament here, last Friday and Saturday.

The Wildcats wound up seventh in the eleven team field, and had a 4-6 record in the two-day meet.

On Friday night, the Wildcats took on host Rock County, and the two teams split in their games, with UW-Rock winning the first 15-11, and UWVC taking the second 15-6. The Cats had UW-Fond du Lac next, and eventually lost both games to FDL, 11-15 and 6-15.

The Wildcats bounced back from their defeat to Fond du Lac, and rolled over UW-Manitowoc in two straight games, 15-12, 15-6.

On Saturday, UWVC came out flat against their first opponent, UW-Sheboygan, and lost the first game by a 15-12 count. The Wildcats then completely fell apart in the second, as Sheboygan destroyed UWVC 15-1. The Wildcats ended their day in better fashion against a tough UW-Waukesha squad. After losing a close 11-15 game in the opener, UWVC regrouped and outlasted Waukesha in the second, winning 16-14.

The Wildcats will now tune up for the Wisconsin Junior College Athletic Association regional playoffs, which UWVC will host this Wednesday. A win Wednesday will propel the Cats to the WJCAA State Tournament this weekend at UW-Fond du Lac.

32 Area High Schools Link Together in Second Year Studying the Milwaukee River

Pollution in the Milwaukee River affects the quality of life, economic efforts and health of more than one sixth of Wisconsin's population. The complexity of this local environmental issue requires thoughtful, innovative and provocative educational approaches. The challenge of providing youth with the knowledge, skills and desires to solve this local environmental issue is the goal of a unique consortium of public and private organizations.

The project "Testing the Waters: Linking Students and the Waters through Technology" unites thirty two high schools in Milwaukee, Washington, Ozaukee, Waukesha and Sheboygan Counties. Teachers and students from rural, suburban and urban areas are monitoring the Milwaukee, Memomonee and Kinnickinnic Rivers and their tributaries for ten chemical and biological indicators of water quality. The results of the test help determine a water quality index. The students communicate their test results, their concerns and their goals for the river immediately after testing through telecommunications and annually during a spring student congress.

The organizations involved with this cooperative venture are Riveredge Nature Center, Havenwoods Environmental Center, Schlitz Audubon Center, Wehr Nature Center, University of Wisconsin Extension, Milwaukee River Priority Watershed Programs, Milwaukee County Extension, Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District and the Department of Natural Resources.

Funding for this public/private effort is being provided in part by the Milwaukee Foundation, the Wisconsin Energy Corporation Foundation, and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

High Schools who are participating during this second year of the project are: West Bend West, Northern Ozaukee, Grifton, Germantown, Whitefish Bay, Messmer, Hamilton (Milwaukee), Vincent, Juneau, King, Kewaskum, Wauwatosa West, Nicolet, South Division, West Allis Central and University.

Indians Capture VB Regional Title

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — The scene couldn't have been much more dramatic here, Saturday. The two top teams in the WIAA volleyball regional, Kewaskum and Waupun, battling in the final round to determine which would advance to Sectionals.

Both squads came into the match undefeated in the round-robin action, and after splitting the first two games in the last round, it was the Indians who came away the victor in the deciding third game, 15-11, thus sending Kewaskum to the Shorewood Sectional this Friday night.

"It was a good day all around," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi said of the meet. "I was real pleased with everybody's performance. We never gave up. That third game against Waupun was one of the more outstanding games that we've played all year."

After disposing of Plymouth and Campbellsport earlier in the day, the Indians had their work cut out for them against the Warriors, who finished third in the tough Little Ten Conference this past season.

The Indians followed a similar path in all three games against Waupun, falling behind early. In the opening game, Waupun jumped out to a 7-1 lead before the Indians began chipping away. Kewaskum battled back to close the gap to 11-10, but Waupun quickly regained control, and suddenly it was 14-10 and the Indians were facing going down 1-0 in games.

But the Indians showed some heart, fighting off a total of four game points, and with Beth Kempf on a roll serving, the Indians tied the game at 14. After going up 15-14, the Indians capped off their improbable comeback, as Kelly Korth's spike found the floor, and the first game went to Kewaskum, 16-14.

"I have to give a lot of credit to Beth," Rizzardi said of the 5-10 junior. "We ran out of substitutions and she had to stay in and serve," he said, noting that Kempf was mainly a spiker and hadn't served in games much all year. "That was just fantastic the way she performed."

The Warriors showed their own resiliency, coming out on fire in the second game to run up a 12-1 lead on the Indians. Waupun's Martha Meyer and Missy Schraufnagel were successful in stopping the Indian attack with some strong blocking, while Meyer provided the offense with some strong spiking, and the Warriors took the second game easily 15-4.

"I think we let down a little bit," Rizzardi said of the second game. "We got a little lead-footed, and did a lot of standing around."

In the final game, Waupun once again got out quickly, leading 4-1 until Rizzardi brought in Rachele Krahn to serve. Krahn ran off three straight points to tie the game at 4-all, and for the next several points, neither team was able to grab more than a one-point lead.

The Indians finally went up 11-9, but Waupun came right back with two points of their own to tie the game once again. But that's when Indian front-liners Julie Mertz and Kelly Korth came up with a couple of big blocks to turn the match in Kewaskum's favor.

"I think the key in that third game was when Julie and Kelly twice blocked their spikes," Rizzardi said, referring to a couple of misses by Meyer.

After going up 12-11, the Indians got two spike kills from Christa Schmidt to make it 14-11, and then closed it out when Waupun's final spike attempt never made it over the net.

"It was a classic back-and-forth match," Rizzardi went on. "Our girls showed a lot of heart in that match (against Waupun)."

The Indians easily took care of Plymouth and Campbellsport in the first two rounds, beating the Panthers 15-3 and 15-4, and downing the Cougars 15-4, 15-11.

"Plymouth didn't look like the Plymouth team we've faced," the Indian mentor said, noting that the Panthers "committed a lot of errors. They just weren't in gear yet. Our girls were pretty fired up too, so that didn't help them out either."

Against Campbellsport, "We pretty much dominated that match as well," he said. The Indians had a bit of a mental let down at the end of the second game, but still pulled out the win. "I think our girls knew that the match was in our control."

As far as this Friday's action is concerned, "I really do feel good about our team's chances," Rizzardi concluded. Also included in the Sectional are New Berlin West, Union Grove and Slinger.

In the first round, which gets underway at 6:00 p.m. Friday night, the Indians will take on Union Grove, followed by New Berlin West and Slinger in the subsequent rounds. Rating West as probably the best of the other three teams, Rizzardi says "I think the first two rounds will pretty much tell us if we're going to advance (to state)."
