Board Looking to Trim More Off 1992 Budget

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

Apparently Kewaskum's 1992 'bare-bones' budget isn't bare enough for at least one of its village trustees. Gary Gavin, Monday night, told fellow board members he would like to see the proposed $1,388,848, budget trimmed more.

While the proposed budget represents only a 3.36 percent increase over last year's tax rate, Gavin feels it is still too much. He told the other trustees he would like to see that brought down to around the 1.1 percent figure of last year.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt told the board the proposed budget was not entirely responsible for this year's increase. He reminded the trustees that the village was able to keep last year's budget down an additional 5.1 percent because it had received what Schmidt called a "windfall" in additional state shared revenues. That windfall, last year, was the result of the state Demographics Department's census miscalculation of the village's population.

Schmidt told the board, "I told you last year, we would have to pay back the excess we received and for that reason our share revenues will be down this year."

Schmidt also reminded the board that, for the past seven years, the average annual increase for the village was 1.1 percent. "That's virtually unheard of," said Schmidt.

Schmidt told the board it also has to remember the village is now providing more services to more people with the annexation of properties on Bonnie Lane and Old Fond du Lac Road. "That means more refuse collection, road maintenance, snowplowing, etc."

Trustee Bob Beisbier agreed with Schmidt's comments. "I don't see much in there that we can cut, I don't think we're wasting money," said Beisbier.

One of the budget areas Gavin questioned was snow and ice control. He wanted to know why the village has been budgeting roughly $5,000 more than was being spent. Schmidt indicated that was due to snow conditions. If the village were to have a severe winter with a lot of snow, which has happened, it could cost the village even more than what was budgeted.

If the funds are not used, they go into a contingency fund, noted Schmidt, which is used to cover unbudgeted items such as emergency repairs like the well breakdown a few years ago, or under budgeted items.

In going through the Public Works Department's budget, Gavin questioned some of the equipment replacement items. Both Schmidt and Public Works Director Jerry Gilles noted the village has two 1975 dump trucks both of which are in very bad shape and need to be replaced. "One truck was scheduled for replacement in 1991 and was budgeted for," said Gilles. "We want to get that truck so we can get the plow and wing mounted to handle this winter's snowplowing."

The department also used funds from the restricted fund to replace its 1975 pickup truck. Gilles told the board, most municipalities have a five to eight year equipment replacement program, the village is running at about fifteen years. The second dump truck is scheduled for replacement in 1992.

Schmidt told the board that the proposed budget's tax rate of $7.22 is only up 23 cents over last year's rate of $6.99. "That is still less than the 1989 rate which was $7.36. On a $70,000 home, that would mean an increase of $16.45."

Gavin's motion to send the budget back for review in an effort to keep the rate increase to 1.1 percent, died for lack of a second. "I think that figure is somewhat unrealistic," said Beisbier.

The board then approved a motion to send the budget back to the department heads asking that they try to reduce their budgets to keep the rate increase below 3 percent.

In other business Schmidt advised the board about another property tax issue, the Lottery credit. When taxpayers receive their bills this year, noted Schmidt, they will see two payment figures. One figure will show a payment with a 'no Lottery' credit and a second payment figure less the Lottery credit.

"In order to receive the credit," said Schmidt, "taxpayers will have to sign the tax bill requesting the credit." He also noted that taxpayers are only eligible to receive the credit on their "primary" residence, the home in which they actually reside. They may not receive the tax credit on any other properties they may own. Commercial properties are not eligible for the credit. "For property owners who own a property which includes their home and business, they will be required to fill out a separate form," said Schmidt. "What this all means for us (tax collecting agencies)," said Schmidt, "is a lot of paperwork."

He's now retired and tired, but he does bowl, fish and watch T.V. and reads, as time marches on.

In other action the board approved Gilles' recommendation to purchase a new front-end loader from Brooks Tractors, Inc., on a six year lease/own purchase agreement.

The board also approved resolutions increasing dog and cat licenses, the rents of its rental property and the village's request for its annual exemption from the county library tax.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

More Kettle Kountry Winners

The two photos depict the growth of Kewaskum. Eileen Backhaus (Hein) is shown standing next to the Kewaskum sign on the outskirts of Kewaskum in 1945 with a population then of 1,097. In the other photo, she is standing next to the sign with the population of 2,381, the 1980 population. The present population of the census of 1990 is 2,619, an increase of 1,522 in 46 years. (The sign has not been changed since the 1980 census was taken).

There are a few winners from the Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival held October 12 and 13 that many of you have been losing sleep over. Now you can put your mind to rest.

The winner of the 1992 membership at Hon-E-Kor's Hole-In-One Golf Contest was David Wietor of West Bend. (What's going on here? Brother Dick won last year! But who taught the "boys" all they know about golf? Papa Cy Wietor will probably have to show the "boys" up next year by actually hitting the hole-in-one!)

Not only did Hon-E-Kor offer a $500 prize for a hole-in-one, there was also a shoot-off on Sunday for everyone who qualified with a green shot on Saturday and Sunday. There was a total of 75 qualifiers in the shoot-off. Of the 75, four survived until the finals. Those four were Marshall Alf, Mike McGuire, Jeff Schleif and Dave Wietor, with Wietor being the eventual winner.

Winners in the Big Wheel Races sponsored by My Little Friends Day Care Center were: 3-4 Year Olds - Spenser Rodenkirch; 5 Year Olds - Mitch Dreher; 6 Year Olds - Josh Timblin; 7 Year Olds - Brad Kriegel. The kids really burned up the track and warmed it up for the Bed Races for the "big kids." Winners of the bed races were: First - Stockhausen Construction; Second - Barrel Haus, and Third - West Bend Savings Bank. The Best Bed Race Costumes was won by the Wendi's Pink Panthers team and the Best Bed Design was won by the Barrel Haus.

And last but not least was the winners of the My Little Friends Day Care Center Pretzel Eating Contest. (It took this long for the kids to get their mouths moist enough to tell us their names!) Winners were: 3 Year Old - Melissa Vollbrecht; 4 Year Old - Stacy Van Langen; 5 Year Old - Lindsey Klass; 6 Year Old - Jennifer Koth; 7 Year Old - Alex Charland, and 8 Year Old - Samantha Galligan.

That just about wraps up all the information on Kettle Kountry Kolors 1991. Just think only 8 or 9 more months and we'll be starting this all over again! (Whew! my brain can go on hold for a few months!)

Music, Music, Music

What would the world be without music? As long as I can remember, it has always been a part of our family.

Before I was in existence, Mother said she and Grandpa played at house parties or receptions held in the homes years ago. Mother played an accordin, and Grandpa a "fiddle" or violin as it is called when played at more auspicious occasions. He also played a clarinet.

Grandpa had an Edison phonograph with cylinder records and a "Morning Glory" horn. Often we would crank up the old Victrola with 78 RPM records and listen to the strains of the "Cuckoo Waltz" or "La Paloma."

My oldest sister played the organ in church, and I sang while we still had Latin Masses.

Whose heart hasn't swelled with pride when the local school band marches by in the annual home town parade? And what a thrill it is when the National Anthem is being sung before the start of a ball game.

Speaking of bands, my two brothers played French Horns in a community band up home. They annually attended the State Fair in Milwaukee and part of the Neshkoro band is pictured in the Milwaukee Journal Roto-gravure section October 30, 1932.

A nephew played guitar and banjo in a recording orchestra, his sister is a church organist in Milwaukee, and her daughter had a piano recital at age 12.

Me? I took organ lessons for two yeras until my teacher passed away, then I sort of gave it up.

What would a church service be without music, be it a wedding, funeral, or Sunday observance.

Have you sung a song lately? Life can be beautiful, if we keep a song in our heart.

National Bill of Rights Tour Arrives in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, WI — Ten tractor trailers, four vans, three Jeeps, two buses and a secure transport vehicle roll into Milwaukee next week from Louisville, Kentucky, escorting a priceless cargo — an original, scribed copy of the Bill of Rights — which will be on display at MECCA as part of a 50-state tour presented by Philip Morris Companies Inc.

The exhibit, open to the public free of charge, features Virginia's original copy of the document, on loan from the Virginia State Library and Archives. The tour celebrates the 200th anniversary of the ratification of the Bill of Rights and will cover more than 26,000 miles over a 14-month period before the document is returned to its home in Richmond, Virginia.

"For the first time, the citizens of Wisconsin have the opportunity to view this historic document in their home state," said Mary A. Taylor, director of special projects for Philip Morris Companies Inc. "The logistics of this enormous project have been overwhelming, taking more than 18 months of advance planning and arrangements."

The 15,000-square-foot exhibit, housed in a high-tech pavilion, presents a kaleidoscope of video images from Martin Luther King to Chief Justice Earl Warren, interspersed with other civil liberties issues falling under the protections guaranteed by the Bill of Rights. Film clips from classic movies, such as Mr. Smith Goes to Washington in which the principles of the Bill of Rights are eloquently and dramatically expressed, are presented on monitors throughout the exhibit. A musical fanfare heralds the arrival of the document itself, and visitors stand within two feet of the parchment as it rises from beneath the floor.

The exhibit designed to appeal to all age groups, will be on display from Nov. 7 - 10. Hours are: Nov. 7 - Nov. 9: 10 a.m. - 8 p.m.; Nov. 10: 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. From Wisconsin, the tour moves on to Detroit, Michigan.

The Bill of Rights Tour is presented by Philip Morris Companies Inc., the world's largest producer of consumer packaged goods. Its major domestic operating companies include Kraft General Foods, Miller Brewing Company and Philip Morris U.S.A.

Good Scents?

Could "No Smoking" signs soon be joined by those proclaiming "No Perfume"? Yes, if certain "anti-aroma" activists have their way.

Around the country, a movement is afoot that would add fragrances to the list of restricted or banned substances. In New York, for example, state Sen. Martin Connor has sponsored a measure that would require publications to either discontinue scented pages or wrap their journals in odor-proof sealant. The bill was introduced in response to postmen who complained of headaches and librarians who said they were sick after receiving certain magazines, the Chicago Tribune reported.

Fragrance bans also are popping up in public places. Chicago restaurateur Jimmy Rohr has declared his eatery, Jimmy's Place, smoke-free — and scent-free. Perfume has been banned from the premises. In Marin County, Calif., the county board of supervisors has been asked to provide fragrance-free areas at public meetings. According to Business Week, the request came from the Environmental Health Network — a group of 500 "environmentally sensitive" people.

Enforcing the policy, however, could be a difficult task. As the chairman of the Marin County Parks Commission, Merritt Robinson, stated in The New York Times, "I will not have sniffers at the door." ■

The streets of America may not be paved with gold, but the U.S. is the country with the largest gold reserve.

It's On To State for Indian Spikers

By Statesman Staff Writer

SHOREWOOD — It's two titles and one to go, with this week's destination for the Kewaskum girls volleyball team being Oshkosh, site of the WIAA State Volleyball Tournament.

The Indians advanced to the State Meet by virtue of their conquest at the Division II Sectional competition held here, last Friday night. The Indian girls finished the four-team round robin meet with a perfect 3-0 mark, this sending them to the State Meet for

TICKETS FOR STATE MEET AVAILABLE AT HIGH SCHOOL

KEWASKUM — Advance tickets for this weekend's State Volleyball Meet in Oshkosh will be on sale at the Kewaskum High School office Thursday and Friday.

Prices for the tickets are $4.00, and can be ordered by calling the high school office at 626-2166.

The State Meet will be held at the Kolf Sports Center on the campus of UW-Oshkosh.

the second time. Kewaskum finished third in 1986.

"We played some good volleyball. All phases of our games are clicking at this point," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi said regarding the Sectional meet. "We're playing good defense, serving well, and we were able to withstand a little threat by Slinger to move on."

When Rizzardi said little, he obviously meant it in the utmost immense proportion. Down 7-0 in the third and deciding game in the third round against the Owls, the Indians were looking at elimination. Instead, the Indians looked a little deeper, and found a little extra something.

After winning for most of the first game, the Indians allowed five straight Slinger points in the end to lose 14-16. "We just weren't passing real well," Rizzardi said of the first game.

But the Indians came right back and buried the Owls in the second game, shutting them out 15-0. "I can't remember us playing that well in one game all year," the Indian mentor said of the whitewash, although adding "Slinger didn't play all too well. They were standing around a lot."

That set up the crucial third game. The Indians entered the third round 2-0, while Slinger came into the match 1-1, meaning that if the Owls pulled off the upset, they would have the right to advance, making the final game a winner take all affair.

Down 7-0, Rizzardi said "At that point our girls just looked at it, and said 'if we want to win this thing, we've got to get tough.'"

And that's exactly what occurred, as the Indians fought back to tie it, and eventually pull away to a rather easy 15-9 win.

As for the first two games against Union Grove and New Berlin West, "We pretty much controlled those two," Rizzardi said. The Indians got by UG in the opening round match against the Broncos. "Our girls were really passing well, and we had a really good net game."

As for New Berlin West, "I thought that would be the matchup of the night," Rizzardi said, obviously incorrect in his prediction. "They were emotionally drained, after Slinger took them to three games in the first round. But still, we did a really nice job of blocking in that match."

Standing out in Rizzardi's mind was the effort of Julie Mertz, who "had three blocks in a row against a girl who was 5-10. That really demoralized them."

Rizzardi wasn't ready to single out any one individual effort, however, as he mentioned that the entire Indian team is peaking. "They are starting to believe in themselves," he said, noting that the team, which finished fifth in the final state Division II polls, didn't really know just how good they were.

As for his team's chances in this weekend's meet, I think we have just as good a chance as anybody," to win the state title, Rizzardi said. Also taking part in the Division II round-robin will be DePere and Waunakee, with the other participant being decided Monday night. Followers of Indian volleyball might remember Waunakee, which beat the Indians at the 1986 State Meet, and went on to win the state title.

"They've been strong," Rizzardi said of Waunakee, which has a new coach. Although he knows little about either team already qualified, he added that he should be receiving a brief scouting report during the course of the week.

"Realistically, I think we have a good shot," he concluded, also adding that he hopes to get continued support from Indian backers in the stands as well. "We're going to put up a good showing."

Action gets underway for the Indians at 3:00 Saturday afternoon.

Wildcat Spikers Advance to State

WEST BEND — Despite finishing in seventh place in the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference during the regular season, the UWWC women's volleyball team got tough when it counted, resulting in a first place tie in the WJCAA Regional Tournament here, last Wednesday.

By virtue of the top finish, the Wildcats advanced to the WJCAA State Volleyball Tournament at Fond du Lac.

The Wildcats finished the round-robin competition with a 4-2 mark, the same as UW-Waukesha, as the top two teams both advanced to state competition. UW-Fond du Lac was third (3-3) while Milwaukee Area Technical Collee was fourth (1-5).

The Wildcats were beaten soundly by UW-FDL in the opener, 4-15, as a couple of UWWC players were injured, putting UWWC against a wall in their first match of the night.

The Wildcats put forth a gutsy effort in the second game with FDL, though, as Jackie Murphy and Angie Muller came through with big serving games and the Cats were able to beat their foes, 15-3.

The Wildcats had a big easier time with MATC in the second round. Sally Fechter returned to serve 13 for 15 with five aces, as UWWC rolled pat MATC 15-4 and 15-6.

The Wildcats then won their first game with UW-Waukesha, thus assuring them of at least a two-way tie for first (Waukesha had also entered the third round with a 3-1 mark), but the Cats' became a bit lackadaisical in the second game, as Waukesha came back to win 15-8.

Jenni Schroeder led UWWC in serving, hitting all 15 in the two games against Waukesha, while Kelly Rohlinger also served well while being a force at the net as well.

The Wildcats avoided a playoff at the end, as UW-FDL, who entered their final match against MATC with a 3-2 record and could have forced a three-way tie with a pair of wins, lost their final game 11-15.

Schmidt, Korth Make EW First Team All-Conference

By Statesman Sports Writer

KIEL, It is rare, especially in Eastern Wisconsin Conference balloting, when all-conference selections go pretty much as anticipated, making last Thursday's conference volleyball selections all the more satisfying for Kewaskum coach Dave Rizzardi.

Two of Rizzardi's players, senior Kelly Korth, and junior Christa Schmidt were named to the all-EW first team, while another two Indians were named to the honorable mention list.

Sheboygan Falls' Kelly Regan was the EW's Player of the Year, according to conference coaches, and she was joined on the first unit by Chilton teammates Stacey Reimer, Tracey Winkler and Charlotte Turney. Regan, Reimer and Winkler were unanimous selections.

Korth and Schmidt were almost identical in the EW's point standings, Korth finishing in fourth place with 91 points, and Schmidt right behind with 85.

"It's great to see the two of them get named to the first team," Kewaskum coach Dave Rizzardi said of the selections. "We only finished 7-5 in conference, and normally you don't really get a lot of attention."

But Korth and Schmidt "always posed a threat at the net. They were both strong spikers, and I think coaches realized that, and that's why they got selected. It's good to see them get some recognition."

Also getting noticed was Indian setter Jackie Hintz, who was named to the honorable mention list. Hintz, who accumulated 104 assists in a two-setter system used by Rizzardi, was a good choice according to her coach.

"It's nice to see one of our setters getting some mention," he said. "We split our setting duties between Jackie and Stacey (Heberer), and for that reason, they don't get as much respect as they deserve."

"Setters are a very important element to the offense," Rizzardi went on, "and I try to stress that with our girls."

Joining Hintz on the second team were Sheboygan Falls' Sara Lorens and Leanna Sangerl, New Holstein's Angie Schmitz, Plymouth's Sibil Weedmen and Two rivers' Gwen Gates and Michelle DeWitt.

Fire Practice at St. Michaels

On Thursday, October 31st the Kewaskum Fire Dept. participated in fire practice with the burning and demolition of several buildings located in St. Michaels. A two story frame house, a garage and one small outbuilding were all that remained of some old buildings that required removal from property purchased by St. Michael's parish.

The first burning occurred on Sept. 7 when the Kewaskum, Beechwood, Boltonville, Campbellsport, and Fillmore Fire Departments joined efforts to burn a house, a large garage, and a tavern.

The newly cleared land will provide additional parking for the church and improve the visibility at the intersection of Hwy. 28 and Forest View Rd.

Saukville Wastewater Treatment Plant Headed By KHS Grad, Named Best in County by EPA

The wastewater treatment plant, located in Saukville, WI has been given top honors by the United States Environmental Protection Agency. The plant is being recognized as the best small secondary plant in the nation for operations and maintenance excellence in an awards ceremony being held Monday evening in Toronto, Canada at the 64th Annual Water Pollution Control Federation Conference.

According to Jeffery Knight, Village of Saukville president, "We are very proud of this award, particularly because of the large number of industrial wastes being treated at this facility. We generate revenues by treating industrial wastes from neighboring communities in addition to the waste generated through our own industrial, commercial and residential base. We have done this successfully because of state-of-the-art and innovative methods of waste treatment that enable us to keep the needs of the environmental and our community at the forefront," he said.

In its sixth year, the National Operations and Maintenance Excellence Awards recognize plant personnel and local officials for outstanding operation and maintenance of publicly-owned wastewater treatment facilities. In particular, these awards focus attention on sludge techniques, cited by the EPA as vital to the nation's efforts to protect and improve the county's soil and water resources. Careful attention is given to programs that use sludge beneficially, are environmentally safe, economical and acceptable to the public.

The Saukville plant, a $3.2 million facility built in 1981, treats waste from a large and diverse industrial base that includes chemical and steel mill companies as well as waste from dairy and cheese producers that is trucked in from neighboring communities. Dairy waste is widely recognized as one of the most difficult products to treat.

Both clean water and solid sludge are by-products of wastewater treatment. Carefully monitored by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, clean water discharged by the plant into the Milwaukee River is usually 45 percent to 85 percent below allowable DNR discharge limits. Although volume of waste treated continues to grow, sludge production has been cut by 45 percent due to innovative treatment methods resulting in an annual cost savings of about $30,000. In addition, computerized plant controls reduce annual electricity costs by $10,000 to $20,000. Other annual operational cost savings are estimated at about $7,000.

"Much of the credit for these achievements belongs to Glen McCarty, plant superintendent," said Knight. "He is young and aggressive and reflects the 'can do attitude' of the Village of Saukville and the entire state of Wisconsin. He has taken the initiative to introduce innovative treatment methods that reduce costs and increase services," Knight added.

According to Knight, the village has worked closely with the State of Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. Saukville was one of the first two Wisconsin plants to computerize monthly discharge monitoring reports for the DNR. And, the Saukville staff has been used by the DNR and other organizations for training purposes.

"The letter from the EPA thanks us for our commitment to excellence in wastewater management. It is a commitment we fully intend to continue," Knight said.

Washington County Agriculture Agent
Jack Trzebiatowski

Milk Production Plateau

Many dairy producers had success increasing their milk production per cow over past years. However there comes a point in time when production increases seem to stop and producers reach a plateau. For many producers this tends to occur at about 16,000 to 17,000 pounds of milk sold per cow.

There are a number of factors that can limit production per cow. Some of the major ones are listed below. Producers may wish to consider evaluating their management program and make changes to get beyond these and other limiting factors.

1. Evaluate the forage production program. Is high quality forage being produced and made available to high producing cows?
2. Is forage being full fed? Do cows have free access to fresh forage all day long, if not production may be held back.
3. Are rations being adjusted at a regular basis for stage of lactation and cow body condition? Are cows either too thin or too fat?
4. What is the average length of lactation? Is it longer than normal, are cows getting bred on time? Heat detection and other reproduction management may need to be changed.
5. Are early lactation cows receiving an adequate amount of energy and bypass protein in their diets? Along with recommended amounts of minerals and vitamins.
6. Is your feed bunk space for feed delivery system adequate for a number of cows eating together?
7. Are feeds of adequate quality to encourage intake? If feeds are moldy or of lower quality animals will not consume added amount.
8. Has the milking equipment been thoroughly evaluated to assure that it is operating properly or is of adequate capacity to milk higher producing cows without limiting production?

9. Is high somatic cell count or a mastitis problem limiting the production potential of your cows?

If you have questions about any of the above items it might be useful to discuss them with your feed consultant, veterinarian, equipment representative or county Extension agent.

Tic-Tac-Toe Returns Thanks to Lottery Player Demand

MADISON — Tic-Tac-Toe makes its third appearance as a Wisconsin Lottery instant scratch and win game as initial deliveries are completed to Wisconsin Lottery retail partners.

"Tic-Tac-Toe is back for a third time because our players tell us they enjoy the game and want us to offer it for sale," Lottery Executive Director William F. Flynn, Jr. said.

"While we have changed the appearance of the ticket each time we have offered TIC-TAC-TOE, the way the game is played has remained constant.

"Players remove the latex on the play area and if the ticket has three X's or O's in a row, either vertically, horizontally or diagonally, the ticket is a winner.

"To see how much the player has won, scratch off the latex area that says 'Prize.' If there is a dollar amount between $1 and $1,000 that is the prize. If the prize area of a winning ticket has a TV symbol, the ticket is a TV Winner," Flynn explained.

"Many instant scratch and win game players want to win the TV Winner prize which includes a $100 instant cash prize paid by the Lottery as well as participation in a MONEY GAME television show taping with an additional prize ranging from at least $400 to more than $50,000," Flynn added.

The MONEY GAME show has awarded more than $12 million in prizes to TV Winners and Home players since it made its debut February 25, 1989.

Each week 45 TV Winners participate in a MONEY GAME show. Five of the 45 TV Winners in the television studio become on-stage finalists, winning money for themselves as well as for the remaining 40 TV Winners in the audience. The on-stage finalist with the most money after four rounds of the MONEY GAME spins a Bonus Wheel to win an additional $25,000 or $50,000.

"The MONEY GAME show is watched by more Wisconsin residents than any other entertainment program produced in the state," Flynn noted.

Valley Reports Third Quarter Earnings Declares Dividend

Valley Bancorporation has reported net income of $7.979 million for the quarter ended September 30, 1991, up from $7.846 million in the same period last year. Earnings per share for both periods amounted to $.65. On a year to date basis, Valley earned $22.473 million or $1.84 per share in 1991 versus $22.694 million or $1.89 per share in 1990.

Commenting on the third quarter results, Peter M. Platten, III, Valley's President and Chief Executive Officer, said, "Based on our 1991 operating plan, Valley's earnings were substantially on target. Our backroom centralization effort was completed on schedule in the third quarter and our data processing conversions are proceeding on plan. The prolonged recession has caused a slowing in our internal asset and loan growth which, along with the recent drop in the prime rate placed pressure on our interest margin. Valley experienced a modest increase in nonperforming loans, however Valley's credit quality remains fundamentally sound."

On January 2, 1991, Valley completed the cash acquisition of the $55 million-asset Exchange State Bank, LaCrosse. On April 3, 1991, Valley completed the acquisitions of the $180 million-asset Great American Savings Bank in Milwaukee, and the $90 million-asset Western Federal Savings and Loan Association in Sparta. These acquisitions were accounted for as purchase transactions, therefore the consolidated results of operations only include the operations from their respective dates of acquisition forward.

Shareholders' equity totaled $266.222 million, an increase of $17.149 million over the $249.073 million on September 30, 1990. At September 30, 1991, book value per share was $21.69 compared with $20.68 per share at September 30, 1990, an increase of 4.9 percent. Weighted average shares outstanding totaled 12,205,886 for the first nine months of 1991, and 11,993,981 for the same period in 1990.

At its recent Board meeting, the Valley Board of Directors declared a dividend of $.30 per share ($1.20 annualized.) This dividend is payable December 6, 1991, to shareholders of record November 29, 1991.

Valley Bancorporation is the third largest bank holding company headquartered in Wisconsin. Valley, with assets of $3.9 billion, currently serves Wisconsin through 138 banking offices and additional financial service companies engaged in insurance, trust service, securities, credit card servicing, and bank operational services. The company's common stock is traded on the National Market System under the NASDAQ symbol VYBN.

Internal Revenue Service Urges Parents To Obtain TIN's

The Internal Revenue Service encourages parents to get ready for the upcoming tax filing season early by obtaining taxpayer identification numbers (TIN's) from their daycare providers and making sure their dependents have social security numbers.

Anyone claiming the credit for child and dependent care expenses must include on their return the name, address, and TIN of each care provider. If the provider is a nonprofit charitable, religious, or educational organization, only the name and address are required.

A TIN is a social security number if the provider is an individual. It's an employer identification number if the provider is a partnership or corporation. The same requirement applies to a person who receives benefits through their employer's dependent care assistance program.

Form W-10 can be used to request this information from the provider. To get a free copy of this form, call the IRS toll-free at 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676).

In addition, anyone claiming a dependent age one or over on their 1991 return must enter that person's social security number. For low and moderate income families taking that Earned Income Credit, a similar rule applies to qualifying children ages one and over. For help getting a number, call the Social Security Administration toll-free at 1-800-772-1213.

Radon Test Kits Available

Test kits for home radon testing are now available, from the Washington County Community Health Nursing Service, through a cooperative effort with the State Laboratory of Hygiene (SLH).

Radon is a colorless, odorless radioactive gas that results from the decay of radium and uranium in the ground. The gas may seep into homes through foundation cracks and other openings and may build up to dangerous levels. Inhaled over an extended period, radon presents a lung cancer risk.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) attributes 16,000 to 21,000 lung cancer deaths each year as radon-related, making radon second only to smoking as a cause of this disease.

The Environmental Protection Agency recommends all homes be tested for radon in air. Radon levels can vary dramatically from home to home—even next-door neighbors can have dramatically different levels because of geological and home construction differences. Radon levels are highest in the winter months when the house is kept closed. The cold months are the preferred time to do the testing.

The radon test kits, available from the Community Health Nursing Service for $9, is a screening test using a charcoal detector. The detector is left in a lower level of the home for a few days and then mailed to the State Laboratory of Hygiene for analysis. The State Laboratory of Hygiene is on the Environmental Protection Agency's Radon Measurement Proficiency list of laboratories with demonstrated capability in measuring radon.

For more information about testing your home for radon and/or obtaining a test kit, contact the Community Health Nursing Service, 432 East Washington Street, West Bend. Telephone: 335-4462, 644-5204, or 342-2929.

Moraine Park Board Approves 1991-92 Tax Levy

The Moraine Park Vocational, Technical and Adult Education Board approved a tax levy of $12,130,874 for the 1991-92 fiscal year at its Oct. 24 meeting. This levy represents an increase of $764,735 or 6.7 percent over 1990-91.

While the amount of revenue generated by local property taxes increased from 1990-91, the tax rate each property owner is assessed went down slightly due to a larger than expected increase in equalized valuation, explained John Willis, Moraine Park's vice president for business and finance. The 7.17 percent increase in the equalized valuation of property within Moraine Park VTAE District yields a combined mill rate (operational and debt service) of $1.6288 per thousand dollars of equalized value, down from a 1990-91 rate of $1.6356.

The Board heard an information report on the College's occupational competency program, which provides funding to allow Moraine Park faculty to update their occupational skills in businesses related to their field of instruction. Since 1983, more than 45 Moraine Park instructors have taken advantage of this program. The Moraine Park Board provides $16,000 in support with an additional $3,500 coming from the state.

The Board also approved payment on remodeling projects at the Beaver Dam and Fond du Lac campus totaling $172,710. The Beaver Dam project involved the creation of a laboratory for the College's new public safety telecommunicator program while the Fond du Lac remodeling focused on energy improvement.

Bids totaling $344,865 were accepted for additional remodeling at the West Bend and Fond du Lac campuses; these projects will commence shortly. The West Bend project will increase the size of the main office, provide for improved faculty office space and transform a drafting room into a general-purpose classroom. The remodeling at Fond du Lac will reconfigure space to allow for two additional classrooms and provide for greater efficiencies in the College's offset press and duplicating areas. In addition, the laboratory previously used for the suspended auto body program will be turned into an expanded automated manufacturing center to accommodate instruction in robotics, metrology and computer integrated manufacturing; faculty offices and a computer lab will also be part of the facility.

WINDOW ON WASHINGTON

A Weekly Commentary by U.S. Senator Bob Kasten of Wisconsin

Free Ride for Foreigners... As Loans Dry Up for Americans

If you have tried to get a loan from your bank recently, you are probably well aware that banks are having trouble making loans these days.

The economy is just not performing as well as we would like. From 1954 to 1988, the economy grew an average of 3 percent every year. But for the last two years, growth has stayed below 2 percent.

It's difficult for banks to make loans when the economy is slow. In effect, the banks have to wager that the person or business they are lending to can weather tough economic times... and that can be a very tough bet.

The chief culprit in this slow growth is the U.S. government — with its tax increases, over-regulation and increased red tape and paperwork burdens. Governmental excess is taking a heavy toll on our economy, and it is essential for the future of our economy that we get it under control.

But there is an additional factor contributing to this economic problem — THE INSURANCE OF FOREIGN DEPOSITS.

In effect, our local community banks in Wisconsin are being forced to pay higher premiums to protect foreign deposits in major New York megabanks. These dollars are protecting wealthy foreigners — WHILE DESERVING AMERICAN TAXPAYERS ARE BEING DENIED CREDIT EVERY DAY.

Under current law, the banks pay premiums only on the amount of their domestic deposits. They don't have to pay a premium for the deposits which foreigners make. But foreign depositors have ended up receiving insurance anyway — ON OUR TAB!

Very few small banks have foreign deposits, but every single one of them is assessed deposit insurance premiums that may end up being used to pay off or protect the uninsured depositors of larger banks.

The Federal government admits that it has expanded the scope of its deposit insurance to cover foreign deposits. One example: The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) has paid off $37 MILLION IN DEPOSITS at the Nassau, Bahamas branch of the National Bank of Washington.

I don't think very many of our small local banks in Wisconsin have branches in the Bahamas. But depositors in Ashwaubenon and Menomonie are being denied loans so that their local banks can help Washington insure these Caribbean mai-tai sippers.

I think insuring foreign deposits during an American economic crunch is outrageous, and I'm working to change it. I am co-sponsoring the Deposit Insurance Fairness Act of 1991... legislation that would charge premiums for the foreign deposits that are currently being insured for free.

This bill calls for other important banking reforms — but I think that putting an end to this practice of insuring foreign deposits is the most important. It's an issue of fundamental fairness — and I'll be working to get this measure passed in this session of Congress.

Funding for State Veteran Home Loans Announced

The Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs (WDVA) now has an additional $5.7 million of funds to make primary mortgage home loans at 8.1 percent interest to eligible Persian Gulf War veterans from Wisconsin.

The $5.7 million funds will also be used to make primary home loans at 8.1 percent interest to eligible veterans who entered service after Jan. 1, 1977, or have been out of service for more than 30 years when applying for the loan.

To be eligible for a WDVA primary mortgage loan the veteran:

*Must be a state resident and have lived in Wisconsin for at least five years or have entered military service from Wisconsin.

*Must meet criteria for military service (active duty service during a wartime period or a period of hostilities) Veterans who served between the Korean War and Vietnam War also are eligible.

*The combined annual income of the veteran plus spouse cannot exceed $40,300.

Funds are limited, so veterans interested in a WDVA primary mortgage loan should contact their County Veterans Service Office as soon as possible to get a certificate of eligibility and a listing of authorized lenders.

The most common first name of U.S. presidents is James.

Valley Bankers Commit to Education

We live in an age when more skilled workers are needed, yet the pool of skilled employees is dwindling. Not only has the birth rate declined, but more and more of the young adults leaving American schools are ill-prepared to meet the challenges of the workplace. By 1995, it is estimated that some 14 million Americans will be unprepared for the jobs available.

Both nationally and statewide, improvement to our education system has become a goal. To help educate Wisconsin students in the areas of basic economics and personal financial management, Valley Bank continues to prepare a corps of trained volunteers as a resource for local schools.

Volunteers in 89 Valley Bank communities have been schooled in giving presentations on handling a checking account, establishing personal budgets, applying for loans and preparing for careers in banking.

These volunteers are part of the Personal Economic Program (PEP) developed by the American Bankers Association to help students learn basic money management and about careers in the field of banking.

Recently, 81 Valley employees attended all-day training sessions across the state to learn about the PEP program and examine the materials developed for the various grade levels. In 1990, the first corps of 57 Valley Bankers went through the same training. To-date, Valley's PEP volunteers total approximately 135.

"The response from the student's has been great," commented Colleen Wolff, Valley Bank, Appleton, one of the PEP Coordinators. "They enjoyed learning how to handle savings and checking accounts and they monitored their own 'fictitious' accounts while learning financial planning skills."

The PEP Program includes presentations for Kindergarten through high school. The program for grade-schoolers includes a cartoon video and comic book. The high school programs, includes "problem and solution" videos that address situations like obtaining and using a credit card, handling a checking account and obtaining an auto loan. Additionally, the presentations can be tailored to an adult audience and bankers make themselves available to civic organizations as well.

Peter M. Platten, III, President and Chief Executive Officer, Valley Bancorporation, said, "Valley has embraced this program whole-heartedly because financial education is one of our top community priorities. The idea behind PEP is to educate people about banking and personal finances. Many people feel uncomfortable with banks and their services. With this program we are able to talk with them at an early age and explain what banks and banking is all about. We think it just good business, for consumers to better understand how to use credit wisely, budget their money, evaluate investment alternatives and plan for their future."

Valley Bancorporation is the third largest banking holding company headquartered in Wisconsin.

"Pass the glue, please" was heard frequently as area children participated in a craft activity at the Kewaskum Public Library. In addition to the craft session, the children had the opportunity to check out books from the library. A Christmas craft activity is planned for early December.

EW Teams Eliminated from Playoffs

By Statesman Sports Writer

BEAVER DAM — The two respective playoff representatives from the Eastern Wisconsin Conference football loop quickly showed that they were competitive with strong teams from other area leagues.

Unfortunately, both Plymouth and Sheboygan Falls were ousted from WIAA Playoff action almost as quickly.

EW Champ Plymouth faced Little Ten Conference runner-up Watertown in the first round of the Division II playoffs, and it looked as if the Panthers would stage a last-minute comeback to advance.

But down 13-8, Plymouth's Clayton Moore, the EW Player of the Year and bruising rusher, fumbled on the Watertown two-yard line with under a minute to play, thus preserving the win for the Goslings, who scored on an 88-yard pass play in the final period to go ahead for good.

Sheboygan Falls, meanwhile, beat Brown Deer in their Division III first-round matchup, 21-13, but then ran into an undefeated Jefferson squad in the second round, losing 28-12.

Corn Bookings at Record Pace New Stealth Hybrids Lead the Way

Hybrid corn bookings for 1992 planting are on a record pace for new product introductions according to Dairyland Seed.

"Never before have we had so much seed booked of new hybrids this early in the season. The reception to our new Stealth Hybrids has been excellent," said Tom Strachota, Dairyland Seed Executive Vice-President.

Earlier Dairyland Seed had announced that it was introducing 15 new Stealth Hybrids for 1992. These hybrids range in maturity from 75 to 115 days. Farmers from northern Minnesota to central Illinois will have Stealth Hybrids available to choose from for 1992 plantings.

"We are excited to bring these new genetics to the farm for 1992. There is no question that with proper management the use of these new Stealth Hybrids will provide farmers with a better opportunity to improve their income in 1992," said Dr. Paul Sun, Vice-President of Research.

One of the keys for placing these new hybrids is to understand the strengths and weaknesses of each product according to Strachota. "While we have some very powerful genetics available in these hybrids, we have yet to develop the perfect hybrid that will work for everyone and every situation. For this reason we have undertaken special research efforts to identify the strengths and weaknesses of each hybrid. The role of our sales and marketing staff is to communicate that information to the farmers who plant these products," said Strachota.

The prospect of record new hybrid sales also brings with it some challenges. The Dairyland sales management team allocated these new hybrids to sales districts this past summer. As fall harvest continues, both supply figures and demand figures begin to firm up. With this information in hand, products can be placed as fairly as possible.

"Despite the fact that we've produced a record quantity of new product for 1992, there is no question that these hybrids will be sold out by spring planting time. I would urge any dealer or customer who has not already placed their hybrid corn order to do so promptly," said Strachota.

For more information, on the new Stealth Hybrids, contact Dairyland Seed at (414) 338-0163 or write P.O. Box 958, West Bend, WI 53095.

Tips on Handling Venison

By Joyce Albrecht
Extension Home Economist

Venison is a nutritious game meat that you can enjoy as roasts, steaks and ground venison; or use it as an ingredient in various kinds of sausages. How you handle venison just after the kill affects the wholesomeness and eating quality of the final product. Proper care begins as soon as you down the deer.

Key points when handling venison are: One - keep it CLEAN; two - keep it DRY; and three - keep it COLD. These tasks aren't always easy to accomplish under the wide ranging conditions you may find when you handle the deer carcass, but here are some tried and tested tips you can use to help assure safe and good tasting venison.

You do not need to further "bleed" a downed deer. Remove the viscera from the body cavity as soon as possible, especially if the deer was hit in the gut area. Be careful NOT to cut into the intestines, stomach or bladder.

If the intestinal contents have spilled in the body cavity or if the cavity is very bloody, use a clean cloth or toweling to clean up. Some recommend thoroughly rinsing out the cavity with cold water soon after the deer has been killed. However, it is very important that the cavity dries out quickly. Bacteria thrive in water, especially in warm weather. Spread apart the walls of the body cavity with a clean stick to promote drying and cooling.

If you plan on saving the heart or liver, carry a clean food-grade plastic bag with you. In most cases, leave the hide on the deer until you have it processed; this keeps the meat surface clean and fresh.

To slow bacterial growth and improve meat quality, the carcass should chill to under 50 degrees within six hours. You can improve cooling by propping open the body cavity, keeping the carcass in the shade and exposing it to air movement. Never transport a carcass on the warm hood of a car. If the carcass freezes within the first six hours in extremely cold weather, the meat may toughen. In such cases, you can slow chilling by putting the carcass in a garage or shed, or by wrapping something around it. If you have the deer processed as a meat plant, get to the plant as soon as possible to place the carcass under controlled temperature conditions.

"Aging" refers to holding carcasses at 35-45 degrees to allow naturally present enzymes to tenderize the meat. The tenderizing does not occur if the carcass is frozen, and proceeds more quickly at temperatures above 45 degrees. Opinions differ on if and how long venison should be aged. Some feel young deer need little aging, while others believe older deer may be improved by five to six days of aging. You must weigh the possible benefits of aging against the drying of exposed surfaces and possible bacterial spoilage accompanying longer aging periods. In warm weather, it's risky to try to age venison, and it is better to process it as soon as possible. If you have an entire carcass made into sausage, it does not need aging. If you're cutting up the deer yourself or preparing the meat for sausage making, trim off dehydrated areas or areas that show signs of spoilage such as discolored lean and fat, objectionable odors or sliminess. Be especially careful when skinning and handling venison to remove stray hairs. Many people like to remove most surface fat from the meat, since venison fat goes rancid rapidly, and can produce off-flavors.

Although thorough cooking may destroy any spoilage bacteria that are present, the products of their growth remain in the meat and can lead to off-flavor and other defects. Highly contaminated trimmings do not yield quality sausage, and are unfair to others whose meat is processed in large batches with it.

Don't use black garbage bags for storing venison trimmings destined for sausage making. These bags are often made from recycled plastics and are not intended, or approved, for food use. Instead, store venison in clear or white food-grade plastic bags or rigid plastic containers. Some meat plants can provide the proper storage bags to you.

Unit 69 Applicants Unsuccessful

The chance of getting a Hunters Choice Permit in Unit 69 is lower than any place else in the State. In Unit 69, 492 persons with preference were unsuccessful in receiving a hunters choice permit. Only three other management units in the State had preference applicants that were unsuccessful and the highest was Unit 61A with 40.

Hunters in Unit 69 are eligible, none the less, for bonus deer permits in other management units throughout the State. These bonus deer permits do not affect a persons hunters choice preference in up coming years. They are available at designated DNR Stations on a first come first serve basis for a cost of $12.00 each. Hunters are eligible for a maximum of two bonus deer permits. This would be in addition to the regular hunters choice permit. The nearest office in the Campbellsport Area would be the Plymouth DNR Office or the Horicon DNR Office. These permits will go on sale beginning November 16th from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Also of interest, approximately 5,000 hunters choice applicants will receive a postcard notification that they were not included in the drawing because their application was: 1) missing a hunting license number or indicated an invalid license number (some used last year's or a small game license number), or 2) missing the management unit number or indicated an invalid unit number, or 3) submitted their application after the September 20th deadline.

For more information on the bonus deer tags or other questions, feel free to give me a call.

General Information On Deer Permits

It's almost that time of year when thousands of hunters bundle up for bitter Wisconsin weather in pursuit of that trophy deer.

We all know that every hunt must be planned to be successful. There is a lot of preparation prior to the hunt, including purchasing licenses and gear...and the list goes on. Here is some general information concerning hunter's choice and bonus deer permits, that could be of some interest to you.

First, those who applied for bonus deer tags should have received notice for one or two tags. Whether you were sent one or two tags depends on the number of applicants and the availability of tags in that particular management unit. Each bonus permit costs $12, and must be sent to the address on the permit and postmarked on or before Nov. 8. Hunters who submit $12 per permit will receive that bonus deer permit prior to Nov. 16. The bonus permit allows you to shoot an antlerless deer only and only in the management unit on the permit.

The bonus deer permit doesn't effect the drawing for the normal hunter choice permits. Extra bonus permits will be available on a first-come, first-served basis at specified DNR stations. The leftover bonus permits will be available starting Nov. 16. Offices in our area that will issue bonus deer permits are the Plymouth, Horicon and Oshkosh DNR offices.

Hunters are eligible for a maximum of two bonus deer permits. The permits do not have to be in the same deer management unit. For example, a hunter receives one bonus deer permit for unit 51B through the mail. The hunter could pick up a second bonus deer permit on first-come, first-served basis in unit 63A.

Unit 69 applicants for hunters choice are also eligible for the bonus deer permits in other management units, also on a first-come basis at $12 per permit, with a maximum of two permits.

The hunters choice permits will show up in your mailboxes soon - if you're lucky! They will be mailed starting on the 31st of Oct. and continue for about seven days or so. They are mailed out according to your zip code, with the lower codes getting their first.

One last reminder: The hunters choice permit and the bonus deer permit can be used in any order.

Deer Mating Season Makes for Dangerous Roads

MADISON, WI — Picture 38,000 cars and trucks lined up side by side, each with smashed headlights and grills, dented hoods and fenders, an occasional broken windshield. You'll get some sense of the scale of the problem motorists face each year with deer in Wisconsin roads.

Department of Natural Resources Conservation Warden Jon Bronsdon of Black River Falls frequently deals with the other side of the problem. Deer injured in collisions with vehicles will often elude sheriff's deputies called out to investigate the accidents, and then conservation wardens such as Bronsdon are called.

With 351 of the state's 38,313 reported car-deer kills last year recorded in Jackson County, Bronsdon has had to track numerous animals into the woods and end their suffering.

"You can't let them suffer," Bronsdon says. "It's pretty sad to see that. Sometimes they've made it into the woods up to an eighth of a mile off the road before they're found. We're lucky here in that a lot of people in the area enjoy venison and make use of the deer."

Bronsdon says Jackson County, like many others in the state, has had to hire a service specifically to dispose of unusable car-killed deer. In the fall, the deer mating season will contribute to upwards of ten car-kills per day, he says. Sheriff's departments overwhelmed with the annual surge of accident reports find they have little time to actually dispose of the animals.

"If more people exercised caution on the road during the mating season," Bronsdon says, "we'd probably be able to reduce the number of accidents."

Bronsdon says he's found that deer are most active during the last week of October and the first three weeks of November. While deer are generally careful around roads, he says they seem to throw caution to the wind during the mating season.

"The best thing you can do is slow down and keep an eye on the ditches," Bronsdon suggests. "If you see a deer, slow to a stop and use your horn. And remember, it's a good bet there's another deer or two following right behind the first one."

Muckerheide Named 1st Team All-EW

KEWASKUM — Eastern Wisconsin Conference football champion Plymouth dominated the balloting in the all-conference selections as expected, but Kewaskum was not shut out in the first team honors.

Junior Todd Muckerheide was the lone Indian to make the first team all-EW ballot, as he was named for his efforts from his defensive linebacker position.

"He made a lot of big plays ... had quite a few sacks," Indian coach Clark Pearson said of Muckerheide, whose responsibilities grew as the year progressed. "As the season wore on, we blitzed him more and more. We let him pick his openings. He was our big play man."

While Muckerheide was the only Indian named to the first team, three Indian standouts were voted to the second unit. Senior Kim Marx led that trio by getting named to both the offensive and defensive second teams.

"Kim did a real super job. He was our leader," said Pearson. "There's just so much competition at the defensive back position, because every school has their best athletes at that spot."

Marx, one of 12 defensive second-team nominees, also received second-team honors for his skills at wingback. Marx led the league in receiving yards (277) and receiving touchdowns (4), but was overlooked on the first team in favor of Two Rivers' Teague Maxfield, who recorded 18 catches for 265 yards. Marx also had five interceptions from his DB position. "He was a clutch performer," Pearson added.

Senior Jason Steilow also made the second unit as a defensive end, while junior Dan Schulties was named as the second team noseguard.

"Jason did a fine job for us," Pearson said of Steilow, who was also named to the EW second team last year. "Teams ran away from him. He was a real force on the line."

As for Schulties, "He switched back-and-forth for us," Pearson said, referring to the four or five man front that the Indians used throughout the year. "He is strong, and has good quickness. He made quite a few plays behind the line of scrimmage this year."

Receiving honorable mention for their efforts were offensive guard Joel Fleischman, linebacker Randy Schlice and offensive tackle Jim Rix.

The season as a whole, according to the Indian boss, was "frustrating, very frustrating. I watch the Packers every Sunday and it's like I see our season over and over again."

"We were in just about every ballgame this year," Pearson went on. "Some how we just always found a way to lose."

The Individual honors, meanwhile, help out in getting his players some recognition for their efforts, he said. "It's got to help. If we could have won a few more games, I'm sure we could have gotten a few more players recognized."

That was evident by EW champion Plymouth placing eight players on the first teams, including running back Clayton Moore, who led the EW in rushing, and was named Player of the Year.

Indian Runners Eliminated at Sectionals

By Statesman Staff Writer

MAYVILLE — While the Kewaskum boys and girls cross country squads were both eliminated in the WIAA Sectional race here, the Indians' showing in the Division II meet has the program looking ahead to next season.

The Indian boys finished eighth in the 17-team field and the Indian girls were 13th out of 18 teams in the meet, which was plagued by standing water on the course, due to the recent heavy rains in the area.

No Indian runner was able to finish in the top six in order to advance to the WIAA State Meet, but several Indians posted good times in their final run of the year.

Freshman Chrissy Neumann, an all-conference Eastern Wisconsin runner, was the girls' top finisher, coming in 16th with a time of 14:20. Random Lake's Sue Daggett won the girls race in 12:27.

Greta Kuphal was the next Indian to finish, taking 42nd in 15:14, followed by Rachel Chambers (57th, 15:39), Teresa Anderson (76th, 16:26), and Suzi Gavin (87th, 16:56).

For the Indian boys, Dean Kreis led the way, coming in 19:35, good enough for 26th place. Host Mayville's Jesse Decker took boys honors in the race, crossing the line in 17:20.

Josh Kurtz was the next best Indian runner, placing 34th with a time of 20:05, followed by Jeff Dirmeier (39th, 20:13), David Gosa (40th, 20:21), and Willie Kreis (62nd, 21:15).

Mayville won the boys competition with 47 points, while Kiel was second with 66. The Cardinal girls also took first, with 33 points, compared to second-place Random Lake's 38.

Five Elected To Rock River Hall of Fame

Five new members have been elected to the Rock River Baseball league's Hall of Fame, and a sixth will be enshrined in its Posthumous Hall.

Rock River Oldtimers' Association President Carl Heimerl, Jackson, has announced the five elected from the 10 nominees on mail ballots sent to all Oldtimer members last month.

In very close balloting, only 14 votes separated the top from the candidate receiving the least votes.

To be inducted at the association's 12th Hall of Fame Dinner at the Mayville Golf Club on November 2 are: Wally Baumann and Gary Schwefel (Lebanon team), Dave Wajefel (Waupun), David "Hawk" Jaeger (Ashipun) and Edgar "Zark" Kahlow (Mayville).

The five unsuccessful nominees, who'll be carried over on the 1992 ballot, are: Roy Maass (Lebanon team), Marv Klawitter (Burnett), Don Beilfuss (Lowell), Bob Kampstra (Randolph) and Bob Kay (Rubicon). The late Augie Bischoff, Juneau, league commissioner (1938-50), will have his name engraved on the Posthumous Hall of Fame plaque.

Elmer Marks, Watertown, who retired last fall after 26 seasons heading the league (1965-90), is the dinner's guest speaker.

He came into the Rock as a right hand pitcher at Hustisford in the league's inaugural season (1930) and will have a lot of statistics, all-time all stars and unusual experiences to detail.

A gold hunter, Jimmy Angel, was the discoverer of the highest uninterrupted waterfall in the world (3,212 feet) when he flew through one of the canyons in southeastern Venezuela in 1935.
