Time to File for School Board Election Approaching Light Agenda for School Board

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

The Kewaskum Board of Education held one of its shorter meetings Monday night, making quick work of its agenda.

The majority of business came from the Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds Committee, covering various equipment purchases and repairs.

Among the items approved was the purchase of new rectangular basketball bankboards at the high school at a cost of $2,440. They will replace the outdated fan-shaped boards.

The board approved the spending of $1,890 to modernize and update the Wayne Elementary School's telephone system and a four-year maintenance program to begin placing safety restarts on district industrial equipment as addressed by the district's insurance carrier and the Department of Public Instruction's safety consultant.

The board also approved an administrative request to move the early childhood playground equipment and fencing. The equipment will be moved from the front, to the rear of the Administrative Offices building. The move is being made to allow for the creation of more parking space in front of the district offices. A major portion of the cost will be paid with money received from an early childhood funds grant.

The purchase of five various pieces of equipment for the tech area, costing $5,394, was approved. All the equipment was budgeted items.

The board approved another administrative request to have the Building Trades classes build ends for the KHS fieldhouse bleachers and construct cabinets for the Farmington Elementary School's art/music room. Board member Jean Goeden advised fellow members that Mr. Stradtman, who teaches the courses, estimated the cabinets could be built by his class for an estimated $2,500 as compared to a commercial estimate of $7,500.

The board appointed District Administrator David Heather as the Deputy Clerk for the 1992 school board election. Heather advised the board the dates for filing election papers is from Tuesday, Dec. 3, 1991 to 5 p.m., Tuesday, January 7, 1992. The terms of board members John Schulte and Paul Seymour will expire next spring.

Kewaskum Middle School principal David Jones gave the board a short report on the district's 1991 summer school program. He noted the attendance was up to 292, as compared to 200 in last year's program. That number generated the equivalent of 14 full time teaching positions, or an additional $28,000 in state aids. After salaries and miscellaneous costs, added Heather, that represented an approximate net income of $15,000. "The program has been profitable for us," said Heather.

In summing up his comments, Jones suggested the board may wish to consider busing of students for the 1992 program. "If you want to increase attendance numbers," said Jones, "I think this would help."

KHS Principal Charles Heidner advised the board that he and his staff are working on setting up a tutoring program similar to that of the middle school. He said he would be working with Jones to formulate the program along the general line of the middle school's program.

"When students are brought to my office for disciplinary problems, we also check into their academic performance," said Heidner. "We have also significantly reduced the number of out-of-school suspensions. If we keep them (the students) in school, we can teach them."

Heidner said the staff is working to identify students who could benefit by the tutoring program. "We are trying to develop a program to aid students who fall in the cracks between other programs," he stated.

The board again discussed the crossing guard situation at Highway H. After hearing some concerning comments from the area's crossing guard last week, board member Ruth Schmitt told fellow members, "I'm not convinced we have done much for the safety of the intersection."

Schmitt told the board the guard said, three times last week, cars went through the intersection while she and the kids were only half way across the street. Schmitt also noted that high school students were refusing to cross at the designated Highway H and 45, crossing because they do not want to be accompanied by the guard. The crossing guard has no choice, noted Schmitt, her job requires that she assist all students crossing the street.

Schmitt asked that the issue be placed on next month's agenda for reconsideration.

In final action the board accepted the resignation of KMS science teacher, James Hanson. Hanson advised the district he will be retiring at the end of the term. He has been with the district since 1968.

Campbellsport Youth Injured In Farm Accident

A Campbellsport youth was severely injured in a farm accident Saturday which resulted in the loss of his right arm.

According to available information, Chad Keller, 12, of W3239 Elmore Drive, was helping his father, Harlu Keller, unload shelled corn into an elevator. The boy's arm became caught in the power take-off shaft and was severed above the elbow.

Chad was taken by the Flight for Life helicopter to Froedtert Memorial Hospital, Milwaukee. Surgeons were unsuccessful in their attempts to re-attach the boy's arm.

Harlu Keller reportedly told authorities he was across the road when he saw his son on the ground near the tractor. He ran to the boy and saw that the arm had been severed.

Chad's left arm and leg were also broken.

The boy remains in the Intensive Care Unit at Froedtert.

Kewaskum Christmas Parade Set for Dec. 8

Remember last year's festive Christmas parade, when Main Street was lit up with hundreds of sparkling faces and children's laughter rang like bells? Its time once again to bring all those jolly feelings back as the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is proud to once again sponsor Kewaskum's Christmas Parade on the evening of Dec. 8th at 6 p.m.

Now's the time to start planning and building the floats, shine up the band instruments, and reserve your space in the parade.

The Chamber urges all members and Kewaskum businesses to support the community and the parade through participation. We hope this 1991 Christmas parade will top last years but need your support and involvement.

If you'd like to participate in the parade, or have any questions, please call 626-4734 or 626-2626. All individuals, clubs, businesses, and school organizations are invited to join in welcoming Santa and the Christmas Spirit to Kewaskum.

Support Christmas Parade With a 'Light' Donation

Did you enjoy last year's Christmas parade? Can you remember the look of excitement on the faces of shivering children as they eagerly awaited a glimpse of Santa Claus? Are you anxious to see the Christmas parade this year on December 8th?

If the answer to any or all of the above questions is yes, here is a chance for you to show your support of the Christmas parade!

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a fund raiser to financially support the Christmas parade. As the parade grows, so do the expenses of the parade. As we hire more bands and stuff more candy bags for the elves to give out to all the children, we incur more expenses.

This year, instead of asking just the businesses to support the parade, the committee has decided to ask for the support of the entire community. What a great way for everyone to get involved!

You can show your support by purchasing a light from the Chamber that will go around a huge wooden Christmas tree which will be placed on the lawn adjacent to Valley Bank in Kewaskum. As the lights are purchased by individual donors, they will be lit on the tree, one by one. Hopefully all the lights around the tree will be lit by the time the Christmas parade rolls through on December 8.

The green lights, which will go around the tree, can be purchased by individuals and families at a cost of $10 per light. A "thank you" board listing the names of the "green light" donors will be placed next to the tree.

Red lights, which will be used to decorate the inside of the tree, will be available for $25 (or more) per light, to area businesses and corporate sponsors. A "thank you" board listing the names of the "red light" donor businesses will be placed on the other side of the Christmas tree.

In addition to the Christmas tree, a large star will be placed either next to or directly behind the tree. White "memorial lights" will encircle the star. White "memorial lights" for the star can be purchased for $10 each. A "memorial" board will be placed in front of or next to the star with the message: "A star shines brightly for those who cannot share Christmas with us this year... IN MEMORY OF: The names of the deceased in whose memory the lights were purchased will also be listed on the "memorial board."

Every few days donors names will be added to the "thank you" boards and the recently donated lights will be lit, in addition to the lights previously donated. Both the tree and the star, (hopefully with ALL lights burning, depending on your generosity), will be turned on signifying the start of this year's parade at 6 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 8.

To donate a light, please fill out the coupon below and send to: Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 300, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

Lion's Club Honors Earl Buswell

In 1970 the Kewaskum Lions Club was formed with Richard Kirst as our first president and the secretarial duties being split between Francke and Hartwig.

Then in 1971, like a gift from the gods, Earl Buswell became secretary and for the next seven years he faithfully fulfilled the duties required of him.

Then in 1978, a man you all know and love, Ken Leitheiser took over the job of secretary. But bowing to the chants of Earl,

Earl, he again assumed the position of secretary in 1980 and held the job for the next eleven years.

Out of the twenty years this club has been in existence Earl has been secretary for 17 of those years. Finally in 1990 he asked to be released of his duties.

Thanks Earl and on behalf of the Kewaskum Lions Club I would like to present you this plaque and our thanks and appreciation.

UWWC's FINE Arts Series to Feature Plays

The Mixed Blood Theatre Company will be bringing two of their critically acclaimed plays to the University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County. The plays, "Dr. King's Dream" and "Daughters of Africa," will be performed on November 22, 1991 at 7:30 p.m. in the UWWC theatre. The shows are a part of UWWC's Fine Arts Series. This replaces the Ko Thi Dancers who were scheduled to perform.

The Mixed Blood Theatre Company was founded in 1976 in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Mixed Blood is dedicated to the spirit of Dr. King's dream and to the concept of "colorblind casting." According to the Actor's Equity Association, Mixed Blood is the nation's leading employer of minority professional actors. Since 1980, they have played to over 575,000 people, with performances in eighteen states. In 1987, Mixed Blood was nominated for a Tony Award for their contribution to American theatre.

"Dr. King's Dream" features the acting talents of Marvin Grays. This one man play follows Dr. King's life and career from the phone call about Rosa Parks to the time of his death. In forty-five minutes the play deals with King's thoughts on such diverse topics as fear, violence, and the war in Vietnam. The play also includes Dr. King's moving speech, "I Have A Dream."

"Daughters of Africa" is a celebration of determination, pride and courage. In this forty-five minute play actress Andrea Kim Walker will portray a wide range of important black American women. The play deals with a wide spectrum of women, from Elizabeth Freeman to Janet Jackson. Through the use of song, dance, and speech the audience will learn about women who have made a difference in the quality of life for the black woman.

Tickets are $6 for adults, $4 for seniors and children, and UWWC students are admitted free with a Valid ID. Groups of ten or more can get advance tickets at a discount rate of $1 off per ticket. For further information or to reserve tickets call 335-5208. The performance will be held on November 22, 1991 in the University Theatre, 7:30 p.m.

You're a grandfather now I know you'd love her, but how.

But now we must wait 'til the day we'll be together for all of eternity

Deeply missed by family and

FAST FOOD: The Good, The Bad and The Healthy

by Jana French, UW-Madison Center for Health Sciences

If the thought of a sizzling quarter-pound burger and fries sets your mouth watering, you're not alone. Studies estimate one out of five Americans, or 45.8 million people, dine in fast-food restaurants every day.

While fast foods may tantalize the taste buds, they're often loaded with calories, fat and sodium — major culprits in the development of heart disease, high blood pressure and obesity. Most fast foods are also low in calcium, fiber and vitamins A and C, which can help protect the body from diseases ranging from osteoporosis to cancer.

For healthier fast food dining, experts recommend choosing and combining menu items to create well-balanced meals that are low in calories, fat and sodium and high in calcium, fiber and nutrients. This can be trickier than it sounds, considering the advertising claims of some fast-food restaurants. Health-conscious diners may choose chicken or fish instead of beef, unaware that chicken patties or nuggets often contain ground chicken skin and may be fried in high-saturated fat beef tallow. Even when fried in unsaturated vegetable oils, chicken and fish patties typically contain more fat, calories and sodium than single-patty burgers.

Still, fast food can play a role in a healthy diet for consumers who make smart menu choices and think ahead, says UW Hospital and Clinics' registered dietitian Gail Underbakke.

"If you know that you eat one meal a day at a fast-food restaurant, you can plan accordingly," says Underbakke, who advocates selecting a variety of lower-fat, high-fiber menu items or adjusting other meals to make up for one low in vegetables, fruits and dairy products.

Underbakke suggests avoiding large portions of fried foods, meats and high-fat dairy products such as processed cheese and ice cream. Cutting back on high-sodium condiments such as ketchup, as well as high-fat sauces, dips and salad dressings — including mayonnaise — also makes for a healthier meal.

Underbakke recommends choosing whole grain bread whenever possible. "Any whole grain bread — even pizza crust — provides the healthy benefit of fiber and fills you up so that you eat a smaller portion of high-fat meats and cheese," she says, adding that "doubling up" meat and cheese is unnecessary since a single serving of either provides ample protein for one meal.

Fast food restaurants are meeting the demand for healthier foods by expanding menu choices to include grilled or broiled sandwiches as well as salads, baked potatoes and frozen yogurt. A growing number of Chinese and Mexican chains offer a break from burgers with entrees and side dishes full of vegetables and fiber-rich beans.

Pizza also remains a healthy option for the fast-food crowd, provided they order a single meat topping. Vegetables, mushrooms and green or red peppers make for a healthier pie, while a combination of spinach and broccoli — called "spinoccoli" — serves up a pizza rich in vitamins A and C.

So, the next time the fast food urge hits, try a grilled chicken sandwich, tossed salad and soft-serve ice milk. With fewer than 600 calories and 15 grams of fat, this meal falls within the guidelines set by the USDA for including these substances in the diet. In addition to minimizing calories and fat, it's relatively low in sodium and provides calcium, vitamins and heart-healthy fiber.

Compare the following fast food meals:

Meal No. 1: Quarter-pound cheeseburger, large fries, chocolate shake = 1,320 calories, 54 grams of fat, 1,535 milligrams sodium. More than half the recommended calories and fat for an entire day.*

Meal No. 2: Grilled chicken sandwich, tossed salad with vinaigrette, soft-serve ice milk = 570 calories, 15 grams fat and 1,005 milligrams sodium. Less than one third the recommended calories and fat for an entire day.

*USDA recommends approximately 2,000 calories and 65-70 grams of fat per day for healthy adults.

Announce Deadline for 1992 Concerto Contest

A deadline of January 18 has been announced for music students wanting to enter the 1992 Concerto Contest for Washington County youth.

Auditions for the contest will be held on February 1 at the University of Wisconsin - Washington County. This annual contest for pianists and instrumentalists is co-sponsored by the Moraine Area Private Music Teachers and the UWVC Music Department.

This year a new division has been added, sixth grade piano. This has been done so that the sixth grade pianists would have an equal chance and "makes it a little more special for the sixth graders," said Anna J. Asch, head of the sponsoring teachers group. The other groups are: senior high school piano and instrumental, middle school instrumental for grades 6, 7, and 8, and middle school piano for grades 7 and 8.

Winners of the Sixth Grade Piano division will perform in a Honors Recital at UWVC on April 5, 1992 at 2:00 p.m. Winners of the junior and senior piano and instrumental division will perform in concert with the Moraine Symphony Orchestra on March 14, 1992 at West Bend High School.

In addition to the performances, a $100 award will be presented to the senior division winners, grades 9 through 12, and a gift to the junior division winners, grades 6 through 8.

Contestants must perform a movement of a concerto or solo with orchestral accompaniment. Memorization is also required in all of the divisions. It is permissible, however, to make cuts of repetitive motifs in the selection for audition purposes.

Suitable piano works include any concerto by Haydn, Mozart, J.S. Bach, J.C. Bach, Kabalevsky's Concerto No. 3, Kassein's Teenage Concerto (Pub. Schirmer), Rowley's Concerto in D. (Pub. Peters), Beethoven's Concerto No. 2 or 3, or easier concertos by Holst, Kasschau, Gurlitt, Cauer, Williams, Boykin, and Eckstein. These concertos are suggested not required.

All contestants must be residents of Washington County, they must furnish their own accompanist for the auditions, and must provide an original copy of their piece for the judge.

Winners of the middle school division will not be eligible to audition again until they are in the senior division. Winners in the senior division must wait a year between winning and auditioning a second time.

All applications must be received by January 18, 1992 along with a $4.50 entry fee for the senior division, and a $3.50 entry fee for the middle school and sixth grade division. Checks should be made payable to the "Moraine Area Private Music Teachers" and sent to, Mrs. Anna J. Asch, 7483 Brookhaven Dr., West Bend, WI. 53095. Call 335-5200 for more information.

Letter to Editor..

Dear Fellow Wisconsinites;

We need your help! My Social Studies Class would like to put together a book all about Wisconsin. We are looking for places or things that might be unusual in your area; something that might be worth driving a few miles out of the way to see. Perhaps there is an unusual rock formation or small museum in your area, or maybe some other attraction that doesn't get all the attention you feel it deserves. It doesn't have to be a major tourist attraction. Instead, we are looking for the unique or "hometown" things that bring out the true character of Wisconsin, demonstrating its diverse cultural heritage and Midwest charm.

If there is something like this in your area please send us a description of it, along with your name for publication in our book. Photos would be helpful, but not necessary.

Thank You

GUEST EDITORIAL...

American Education Week Focuses on School and Community Partnerships

by Herbert J. Grover, State Superintendent

The thoughts of America have been riveted on education more than ever this past year. As well they should be. National education goals and the measure of our attempts to meet those goals have given impetus for renewed commitment and change.

American Education Week began 70 years ago from the same social condition we are seeing today. During World War I, draft boards discovered that about 20 percent of America's draftees were illiterate and some 29 percent were physically unfit. They were unprepared for the demands society was placing on them. Our recent national report card showed us that fewer than one in five students in grades four, eight, and 12 is competent in mathematics, that most adults lack analytical literacy skills, and that our schools — which should be safe havens of learning — are plagued with violence and the effects of alcohol and drug use.

Solving the problems of today, like changing the conditions the draft boards discovered during World War I, will not occur overnight or be handled by schools alone. The 1991 American Education Week theme focuses our attention on the partnerships needed to invoke change. It says, "Schools and Communities: Partners for a Strong America." What an important statement of commitment. The strength of America surely lies in its children. Communities and schools working together to help young people reach their highest potential will propel America to an even greater future.

This year, as in all the years past, American Education Week is set aside as a time to reflect upon the successes of public education in America and to work to ensure that the goals we hold for our children become a reality. There are reasons other countries look to the United States model of education. We can take pride in our success at extending public elementary and secondary education to all children regardless of race, color, sex, religion, socio-economic status, or handicap. In some countries this is not so; only the elite are educated.

As a further commitment to lifelong learning, I applaud the industries that extend training and continuing education programs to their employees. I encourage others to emulate the school-business partnerships that provide learning experiences for students, school staff members, and the business' employees. There is much more that can be done. I urge Wisconsin citizens to visit their local schools, to share their talents, and to make sure they are part of the school and community partnership that will make America's schools strong.

Education is at a crossroad. Our past success is a foundation for the loftier goals we have set for the future. During American Education Week, November 17 to 23, I hope Wisconsin will focus on forging more partnerships that will prepare students for the technological society that awaits them in the 21st century and beyond. Schools and teachers cannot possibly accomplish the monumental task alone. They need the support and partnership of parents, business and industry, social service agencies, government, senior citizens... indeed the entire community.

County Volunteers Make A Difference

In America volunteers put in more than eight billion hours a year, but there is no way to measure the human value of their contribution. Volunteers make a difference in the lives of millions of people who might otherwise stop trying. Perhaps you would like to join this nationwide program. Call the Volunteer Center at 338-8256 and we will be happy to help you find the right job. We're waiting to hear from you!

Puppeteer — Make puppets say "words" while a tape actually does the talking. Takes 7 or 8 minutes at a session. The subject is traffic safety and "beware of strangers." This is a program for elementary school children. Volunteer should plan for a half day at a time. Bring a friend and have a great time.

The Historical Museum is looking for someone to vacuum the museum floors. This would take two hours once a month. Should be able to climb stairs.

Library Aides - To do filing, cover books and put video cassettes in plastic cases. This would take one or two half days per month.

Curatorial Help To matt and frame posters and photographs or drawings at a local art gallery. Takes one or two days per month.

Art Aware - Visit an elementary school class one day a month and help children learn about the wonderful world of art. This is a great way to be with children while you also enrich their lives. Training is provided for this.

Some disabled adults in Washington County need someone to stand by them. Because they have been legally declared unable to care for themselves they need a guardian to look after their needs. More volunteers are needed. Competent and caring adults will find this a very rewarding volunteer job and a great way to make a new friend.

Food Sorters - On November 16, the Boy Scouts will be conducting their annual food drive for the Full Shelf Food Pantry. People are needed at St. John's Lutheran Church to sort and stack the food as the scouts bring it to the church. This will be done in two shifts from 8 to 11 a.m. or 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. This would be a good job for church youth groups, girl scouts, etc. We will also welcome individuals who want to help.

People are being recruited to call on businesses for donations for Jam for Kids. These funds help Washington County residents be able to participate in Special Olympics. Give as much time as you would like.

A local agency is in need of some one to do repairs. If you are handy with a hammer and have a few hours to spare there is a need for your talents. Good job for a retired person.

File Clerk - For two hours a week at a local nursing home. Must be able to work individually and to keep information confidential.

Drop in Hostess - Greet parents and children, help with art activity, snack and music. This takes a friendly outgoing person who enjoys small children and babies. Thursday mornings 9 to 11.

Someone who enjoys working with words might like to write articles and organize a newsletter. If this is for you we would like to hear from you.

Office Assistant - To do filing, answer phone and assist professional staff. A perfect place for a retired secretary or someone who wants to keep their office skills active.

Ding Dong - The Salvation Army will have kettles at two locations each Saturday of December. Bell ringers are needed to ring at a kettle, indoors, for a two hour shift. Here's your chance to help a hungry or homeless person. Just donate two hours. Call now to be listed as willing to help. Times will be assigned closer to Christmas.

Lasers Reduce Blinding Effects of Age Related Eye Disease Say UW Researchers

MADISON... A nationwide study involving eye researchers at the University of Wisconsin Medical School has found that laser treatment can be used more broadly to slow the progression of an eye disease known as Age-Related Macular Degeneration (AMD).

AMD is among the leading causes of blindness in people aged 55 and older, inhibiting the ability to read, recognize people or see virtually anything straight ahead. Peripheral or "side" vision remains intact.

There are two forms of the disease, "dry" and "wet," only the latter of which can be treated. About 15 percent of people who develop AMD have the "wet" form, which is caused by abnormal blood vessels that form under the retina. These vessels bleed and form scar tissue, which in turn causes vision loss. Laser treatment seals the blood vessels, slowing or stopping vision deterioration.

In treating the "wet" form of AMD, ophthalmologists traditionally have been wary of using lasers to destroy lesions directly under the central portion of the retina, or fovea, because the laser leaves a scar that causes further central vision deterioration.

However, researchers involved in the Macular Photocoagulation Study, including Dr. Suresh Chandra, a UW Medical School ophthalmology professor, found that even though laser treatment causes initial vision loss, the loss is greater in the long run without treatment.

The study, conducted at 15 clinical centers, showed that while 189 eyes of patients treated with lasers had an initial vision loss averaging 20/320, their eyesight remained stable for up to two years. That means that patients could read at 20 feet what someone with normal vision could read at 320 feet. Conversely, after 24 months, 184 eyes of patients who did not receive laser treatment had average vision of 20/400 or worse.

"What we're saying is that you initially lose some vision to preserve a greater degree of eyesight down the road," said Chandra, also an ophthalmologist at UW Hospital and Clinics. The benefits of laser treatment were greatest when the lesions were detected and treated in their earliest and smallest states, he added.

The study results will likely double — from 15,000 to 30,000 — the number of people who may benefit from laser treatment in the United States each year, according to Chandra. Earlier results of the same study found that laser treatment can also successfully reduce vision loss to retinal areas other than the central portion of the retina.

Chandra said the study's findings are especially significant, considering that the incidence of AMD will increase as the older adult population continues to grow.

"Macular degeneration is going to become an even greater problem, so studies like this are very timely in treating age-related eye diseases," Chandra said.

Chandra is involved in another nationwide study investigating whether certain vitamin and mineral supplements prevent or delay the onset of AMD and cataracts, which cloud the lens of the eye and are another leading cause of blindness in older adults. Anecdotal evidence has suggested that zinc, beta carotene and vitamins C and E may prevent AMD, but this is the first controlled study investigating the question.

Some experts estimate there are more people studying English in China than there are people in the United States.

Parents and Reading Month

November has been declared Parents and Reading Month in Wisconsin. This annual celebration is sponsored by the Wisconsin State Reading Association, a non-profit educational organization dedicated to excellence in reading education.

During the month of November the Wisconsin State Reading Association encourages community organizations and schools to focus on the important role parents play in their children's development as life-long readers.

How can parents help their children become readers? It's really not difficult; the biggest investment is time. Parents can begin by being readers themselves. Children need to see their parents reading, whether it be reading recipes, magazines, newspapers, or books. When adults demonstrate that they value reading, children will value it as well.

One of the most valuable activities parents can do with their children is to read to them daily. This will become a very special time of sharing the adventure, fun, and excitement of wonderful children's books. Bedtime provides a perfect opportunity to enjoy reading together. Visit the library often for great books to read.

Parents need to listen to their children read. They also need to discuss what their children read. Understanding what they have read is the most important reading skill children can acquire.

Parents also need to show an interest in their children's schoolwork and homework. Be a good listener when your children share the excitement of their day. When it comes time for homework, children need a quiet place and the proper materials.

Finally, some important reminders - monitor television viewing, keep your children in good health, give plenty of hugs, and build confidence with praise and encouragement. Children have to feel good to be able to learn.

Single copies of the following parent brochures are available free upon request with a No. 10 self-addressed envelope from the International Reading Association, 800 Barksdale Road, PO Box 8139, Newark, Delaware 19714-8139:

"You Can Encourage Your Child to Read"

All recruits participate in an active physical conditioning program and gain proficiency in a variety of military skills including first-aid, rifle marksmanship and close-order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline are emphasized throughout the cycle.

The 1991 graduate of Kewaskum High School joined the Marine Corps in June 1991.

Study Finds Many Farmers Applying Too Much Nitrogen and Phosphorus

Most farmers know the benefits their soils get from manure and legumes. But a recent study found that most don't take full advantage of the nutrients these natural fertilizers supply.

"More than half the farmers in our study are overapplying nitrogen fertilizer because they don't adjust application rates for the nitrogen found in manure and legumes," says Pete Nowak, University of Wisconsin-Madison soil and water conservation specialist.

The study evaluated how farmers manage nutrients by looking at their commercial fertilizer use, manure applications and crop rotations. The results so far are from a survey of 700 farmers in three priority watersheds.

Nearly 60 percent of the farmers applied too much nitrogen fertilizer on their most productive corn field. More than 40 percent overapplied nitrogen by at least 65 pounds per acre; 85 percent also applied too much phosphorus to their corn fields.

Farmers overapply nitrogen and phosphorus primarily because they don't make appropriate use of the nutrients found in manure, says Nowak. By improving both manure and legume management on corn ground, he adds, farmers could increase their profits by $8 an acre while reducing the risk of groundwater and surface water contamination.

The challenge to find better ways to inform farmers about the value of manure and legumes is not new, Nowak says. "We've been talking about manure and legume credits for almost 100 years," he says. "But we have not succeeded in convincing farmers of the benefit."

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection and the Department of Natural Resources administer priority watersheds under the state non-point source pollution abatement program. Specialists from the UW-Madison and UW-Extension agents conduct special educational programs for these farmers. Farmers in priority watersheds also may qualify for cost-sharing programs to encourage their participation in efforts to clean up surface water pollution in the watersheds.

Programs such as cost-sharing of manure storage facilities didn't improve farmers' nutrient management practices. This shows that agencies should look at new ways to help farmers better use on-farm nutrient sources rather than focus on structural solutions, says Nowak.

"If we're going to achieve our water quality objectives in the priority watersheds, we're going to have to change farmers' practices, not pour more concrete," says Nowak, a College of Agricultural and Life Sciences rural sociologist.

Nowak also found that farmers who use soil tests did not manage crop nutrients any better than those who didn't take a soil test.

As farmers started to use commercial fertilizers, they lost some of the knowledge they once had about the value of manure, says Joe Van Berkel, County Conservationist in Sauk County. Crop consultants, farm supply dealers and extension agents also need to know more proper nutrient use because they often make fertilizer recommendations to farmers, Van Berkel notes.

"It's obviously going to take a lot more of an educational effort rather than designing and installing structures," he says.

Van Berkel adds that many farmers in his area are interested in and concerned about water quality. More than 100 farmers attended a recent field day that addressed manure management and nitrate testing, he says.

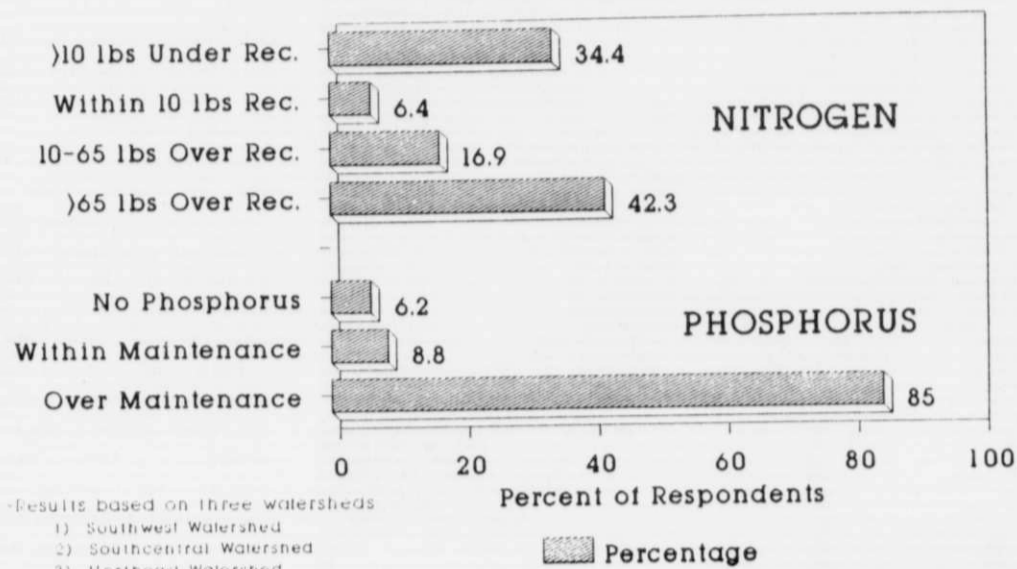

Nowak and UW-Madison Nutrient and Pest Management Program research associate Robin Shepard will eventually report on a survey of 1,700 farmers in eight separate water quality projects throughout Wisconsin. Additional projects are expected this fall.

Known as the Farm Assessment Technique, the survey identifies current nutrient and pesticide management practices. Survey questions address topics such as nutrient application, manure storage, yield goals, pesticide use and farmstead design.

"This survey allows us to listen to farmers first, with the ultimate goal of educating agency staff to farmer needs and capabilities," says Nowak, who led a team of researchers and farmers in developing the survey.

The Nutrient and Pest Management Program is conducting on-farm demonstrations throughout Wisconsin to evaluate practices that are both profitable and protect water quality. Results from 1990 show that many farmers could reduce their nitrogen fertilizer inputs and still get good yields.

Barbara Bush Honorary Chairperson Of 1991 Salvation Army

The Salvation Army is excited to introduce its 1991 Honorary Christmas Chairperson, Mrs. Barbara Bush. As First Lady to the nation, Barbara Bush's gentle yet tough demeanor has lent a human touch to the White House, a touch that is in keeping with the goals of The Salvation Army. It is her strong desire to meet the needs of all suffering people that has made her one of the most popular First Ladies of all time, and an excellent Chairperson for The Salvation Army's Christmas campaign against hunger, homelessness, depression, and illness.

This is not the first time Mrs. Bush's enthusiasm has been channeled in such a way. She has consistently been active in many different areas of social concern, ranging from homelessness to illiteracy. When considering The

This year marks the 100th Anniversary of The Salvation Army Kettle, and a better Chairperson could not have been chosen. Barbara Bush has been "Standing Together" with needy people throughout her life, and it is this selfless attitude that genuinely reflects what The Salvation Army has always stood for, sharing and caring for those in need.

The Public Service Commission of Wisconsin has ordered a public hearing on the application of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company for authority to remove the depot building in Kewaskum and to eliminate less-than-carload freight traffic at such station from tariffs. The hearing will be held at the village hall in Kewaskum on Monday, Nov. 14 at 10 a.m. and any interested citizen from this area is welcome to attend.

The Kewaskum Fire Department answered a call at 5:15 p.m. last Thursday when a car driven by Ronald Loof, R.1, Kewaskum, caught fire at the intersection of Fond du Lac Ave. and Second St. There was alcohol in the car radiator and apparently the pressure cap came off and the alcohol spilled on the hot manifold causing the blaze. Firemen extinguished the fire but extensive damage was caused to the vehicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Korth, parents of Jim Korth, fullback on the Kewaskum High School football team the past season, were hosts at a dinner on Wednesday evening, Nov. 2, for members of the team at their Hon-E-Kor Country Club. All the varsity players were invited along with the coaches.

Mrs. Emma Schulz, nee Stern, aged 62 years, 11 months and 8 days, beloved Town of Auburn resident, was called in death on Tuesday, Nov. 11, after an illness of about four weeks. She underwent an operation for a tumor two weeks ago and pneumonia set in causing her demise.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Nov. 8 for Otto Dickman, 82, prominent and widely known town of Auburn farm resident, who passed away, Tuesday, Nov. 4, at his home north of Kewaskum of hardening of the arteries.

A $12,500 damage suit resulting from the fatal injury of William Gessner, 25, of R.1, Kewaskum farm youth on Sept. 25, was filed in circuit court at Fond du Lac last Thursday and with it a stipulation providing for settlement. Plaintiff in the action was Mrs. Emilie Gessner, widowed mother of the boy and the defendants were Adolph Heberer, Roland Heberer and Irvin Seifert, doing business as Adolph Heberer and Sons Company and the firm's insurance carrier.

Damage estimated and between $500 and $700 resulted from a fire at the A.G. Koch, Inc. elevator and feed grinding mill along side the railroad tracks Tuesday night. The fire originated in the southwest corner of the building just above a stove and spread rapidly through the old frame structure. Except for the wall and roof on the south end, little exterior damage was done. However the interior was damaged so it will have to be rebuilt.

A patriotic daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Buslaff of this village on Tuesday, Nov. 1, Armistice Day. The Buslaffs have one other daughter, Marion.

The funeral of Michael Johannes Sr., held last Saturday, was one of the largest funerals ever held in this locality. Services were held at the Holy Trinity Church and interment was made in the congregations cemetery.

Frank Heppe of this village was elected clerk of the court of Washington County last Tuesday, defeating John Klessig, also of this village, by the small majority of 79 votes. Mr. Heppe was the only Democrat county officer elected. He and Mr. Burke, former Congressman, were the only Democrats to carry the county.

Isrel Chesley who is nearly 90 years old and a resident of the Town of Eden since 1850, cast his vote at the sixteenth presidential election of the United States last Thursday.

A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beisbier, Jr., Thursday and died the same day. The funeral was held Friday.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Regular Meeting
November 4, 1991
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Mary Krueger presided. Trustee Thomas McElhatton asked to be excused and indicated he would be arriving late. (Trustee McElhatton arrived at 8:30 p.m.) All other Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Wagner, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of October 21, 1991 meeting were approved as printed.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles reported on the State Meeting Superintendent Peter Albers and he attended the week of October 28, 1991. A well abandonment letter (notice) was reviewed with the Board as prepared by the Director. The Board was informed the DNR is enforcing this action and the Village is obligated to carry out its Well Abandonment Ordinance in a timely manner. A brief update was given regarding the capital improvement projects, with a note on the asphalt portions of the work possibly held over until the spring of 1992.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed a variety of correspondence with the Board as follows:

A. Invitation to attend a Washington County board meeting scheduled for November 6, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. to discuss the Six-Year Plan for Washington County Highways including the Jurisdictional Highway Planning.

B. Review of Legislative Bulletins.

C. Review of Taxpayers Alliance bulletins.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Mark Vechart and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the payment of bills as recommended by the Administrative Committee. The total of all claims as recommended are as follows:

General	$60,538.92
Sewer	48,235.73
Water	43,851.67
Payroll	22,806.33
Total	$175,432.65

P/R Check #3027-#3087
A/P Check #3910-#4007

Chairman of the Protection and Public Safety Committee, Trustee Robert Beisbier discussed with the Board a need to request the Department of Transportation to review the speed limit at the southern most village limits along Fond du Lac Avenue (USH 45) and to consider the placement of a traffic light at the intersection of CTH "H" and USH "45". The Administrator was directed to prepare such a letter requesting the aforementioned.

Chairman of the Park and Recreation Committee, Larry Williams informed the Board that the Athletic Association has paid their bill for the use of the NE diamond for the summer of 1991 and that if all goes well after the books are closed for the year the Village's 50 percent will equal more than $1,000. Trustee Williams also informed the Board that a Committee Meeting has been scheduled for January 20, 1992. It was noted that the meeting should maybe held earlier. The final item was the announcement of the Winter Recreation dates and hours. (November 16, 1991 being the first date and March 21, 1992 being the last).

Board Representative for the Plan Commission, Trustee Gary Gavin informed the Board that an informal discussion was held on the proposed developing of the Braatz and Rosenheimer land which lays west of Edgewood Road. The proposal was to develop the area in four phases. The proposal was well received by the Commission.

Board Representative for the Library Board, Trustee Gary Gavin informed the Board that circulation had increased, also the number of patrons.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 91-25 a Resolution Establishing The Rent At 1102 & 1102A Fond du Lac Avenue as attached hereto:

Action was taken on Ordinance No. 91-11 an Ordinance to Amend Chapter 12 Licenses and Permits (dog & cat) as attached hereto:

Action was taken on Resolution No. 91-26 a Resolution requesting exemption from the County-Wide Library System Tax Levy under provisions of the Statutes 43.64(2) as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee Robert Beisbier, seconded by Trustee Robert Wagner and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the rental and purchase of the Articulating Front End Loader as bid October 21, 1991 and as recommended by the Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles from Brooks Tractor Inc. at a cost of $84,900. It should be noted that after calculating out the rental purchase using option #3, Brooks Tractor Inc. with the John Deere would be an estimated $2,000 higher than Bark River Equipment Co. but offers the quick attachment as bid and other beneficial features. It was noted the unit would be rented for a period of five (5) months and then purchased through John Deere lease purchase plan or a private lender with having 100 percent of the rental apply to the purchase price.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed with the Board the "Lottery Credit Against 1991 Taxes Collectible 1992." The county will be conducting a training session for the implementation of the program. Information will be made available to the residents and the credit should equal approximately $134 to those individuals qualified.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt informed the Board of a new requirement to report fair market values on all tax exempt property on an every other year basis beginning in 1992. The cost for the Village's work may be billed back to the exempt properties. The consensus of the Board is to have the Administrator prepare a resolution establishing appropriate charges.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed proposed budget explanation sheets with the Board for the departments. The Budget, as mailed to the Board, reflects an increase in the budget of $79,775 or 6.1 percent, which would increase the levy by $31,397 or 8 percent leaving a projected tax rate of $7.43 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, a $.44 increase or 6.3 percent increase in the rate. The Administrator suggested some additional changes and cuts altering the figures to reflect an increase in the budget of $77,383 or 5.9 percent, which would increase the levy by $19,397 or 4.9 percent leaving a projected tax rate of $7.22 per $1,000 of assessed value, a $.23 increase or 3.3 percent increase in the rate. It was noted that State Shared revenues reflect a decrease of $18,870 for 1992 and that the budget and tax rate for last year decreased by $.37 per $1,000 of assessed value or decreased 5.1 percent. It was mentioned that this rate would cost a $70,000 assessed home owner $16.45 for the year. It was noted that some additional cuts in the budget should be made by the Board. On a motion by Trustee Gary

Gavin, to reduce the budget to reflect an increase of 1.5 percent on the tax rate died for lack of a second. On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee Gary Gavin and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board directed the Administrator to work with all departments to reduce the budget to reflect a 1.5 percent to 3.0 percent increase in the tax rate for 1991 taxes collectible in 1992. The budget public hearing is scheduled for December 2, 1991 at 8:00 p.m.

On a motion by Trustee Mark Vechart, seconded by Trustee Robert Wagner and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85(1)(c) of the statutes to consider employment, compensation and performance of public employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction and Chapter 19.85 (1)(e) of the statutes to deliberate and negotiate the disposition of public lands. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 0 "Absent."

MADISON... Deer hunters looking to harvest an extra deer during this year's gun deer season are reminded that leftover bonus permits will be distributed at some DNR offices throughout the state beginning Saturday, Nov. 16, on a first-come, first-served basis.

A bonus permit allows a hunter to take an additional deer, which must be antlerless, from the unit designated on the permit, during Wisconsin's 1991 gun deer season, which runs from Nov. 23 through Dec. 1. Bonus permits and Hunter's Choice permits are also required to tag a deer during the special muzzleloader season that runs from Dec. 2-8. Bonus permits cost $12 each for residents, $20 for nonresidents.

Bonus permits for any deer management unit where leftover permits are available may be purchased at any of the following DNR offices:

EW Athletes Shut Out in WIAA Action

By Statesman Sports Writer

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Despite Eastern Wisconsin Conference athletes being excluded from top spots in both the WIAA State Cross Country run and the WIAA football playoffs, several area runners and teams fared pretty well in post-season action.

Kewaskum's former Scenic Moraine Conference rival Mayville is having a banner post-season. While the Cardinal football team remained undefeated at 12-0 and will challenge Stanley-Boyd (10-1) for the WIAA Division 4 football title this Saturday, both of Mayville's cross country teams finished in the top four in last Saturday's State Meet.

The Cardinal girls took third overall with 102 points, 13 behind Park Falls' winning total. Laura Verwiehe was the top Mayville finisher with a 13:23 time.

For the Mayville boys squad, Jesse Decker finished fifth in 17:14 to lead the Cardinals in a fourth place showing. Mayville's 132 score as well behind Clinton's first-place total of 70.

Other area athletes faring well were West Bend West's boys team, which finished in ninth place in Division I, as well as led by Division 2 champion Sue Daggett. Lomira's Jill Kuhn also placed eighth in the Division 3 run.

UWWC Spikers Fifth at State

By Statesman Sports Writer

FOND DU LAC — After finishing seventh in regular season conference action, the UWWC women's volleyball team accomplished quite a bit just by qualifying for the WJCAA State Tournament.

So the team, along with coach Debbie Butschlick, wasn't complaining after finishing in fifth place in the meet, just missing advancing to the finals.

The Wildcats were tied for second place in their pool of four teams, and were forced into a one-game playoff against UW-Marshfield, for the right to advance to the finals. (The top two teams from each of the two pools advanced to the finals).

The Wildcats fell short in the playoff, however, losing 11-15, settling for fifth. Angie Muller led the Wildcat attack with four kills, while Kelly Rohlinger and Jenny Meyer had just one missed serve between them.

The Wildcats opened action against the Marshmen in the first round, losing both games 13-15 and 7-15. Muller performed well in that match as well, with an 80 percent reception rate, while Sally Fechter was 11 for 15 in spiking, with five kills.

UWWC lost the first game in the second round to UW-Sheboygan, 10-15, but then bounced back to win the second game 15-6. Fechter led UWWC with four service aces and three kills, while Jackie Murphy was the star setter, assisting on seven kills, and missing just one set the entire match.

In the third round, the Wildcats blew past UW-Richland Center 15-8 and 15-2 as the UWWC front line was just too much for Richland Center to handle. Fechter had four aces and six kills, while Meyer added another six kills, while Meyer added another six kills and Muller a pair of aces to pace UWWC.

The Kewaskum 8th grade girls track team finished in 5th place at the Scenic Moraine Conference Track Meet. Placing for the Kewaskum 8th grade team were the following individuals, their place, their respective event and their time or distance:

Angie Breitag - 4th place discus with a personal best throw of 77' 10" and 6th place shot put 24' 0".

Michelle Thull - 5th place in the 800m run 2:53.6 and 6th place discus 71' 11".

Kelly Schreffler - 1st place and Conference Champion in the high jump with a personal best jump of 4' 7".

Tanya Krahn - 6th place 75m hurdles with a personal best time of 14.7 seconds.

Holly Krahn - 5th place 100m dash 15.5 seconds.

The 800m relay team of Debbie Neumann, Holly Krahn, Tanya Krahn and Kelly Schreffler finished in 4th place with their best time of the season in 2:10.6.

The 400m relay team of Angie Bindrich, Jessica Gerlach, Jackie Olivarez and Keri Turner finished in 6th place in 1:07.6.

The 1600m relay team of Michelle Thull, Carrie Michaels, Debbie Neumann and Kelly Schreffler took 4th place with their fastest time of the season in 5:17.9.

Even though the season was not very successful from a team standpoint, many of the 8th grade girls worked extremely hard during the season and show much progress for the effort they put into track. For the 8th grade girls plan on track at the high school in the spring of 1993!

The coaches wish both the 8th and 7th graders success in the classroom and in sports for the rest of the school year!

The Girls Middle School track coach Eric Christie and Jerry Gosa would like to thank the parents, teachers, Mr. Jones, the Middle School principal; David Drexler, the Middle School Athletic Director; and all the people who worked the dual meet, for their support of the track program.

Indian VB Team Fourth Best in State

By Statesman Sports Writer

OSHKOSH — It didn't win the state championship, or even finish in second for that matter. But the Kewaskum girls volleyball team can lay claim to at least one positive aspect from the WIAA State Volleyball Tournament, held here, last Friday and Saturday.

"The best part, for us, was that we were able to beat every team in at least one game, and not every team can say that," Kewaskum coach Dave Rizzardi said about the meet. The only other Division II school that can make that claim was Waunakee, which beat the Indians 2 games to 1, and went to capture the Division II crown.

Waunakee beat Lakeland 15-13 and 15-7 in the final round to finish the round-robin competition with a 3-0 mark and take home the first-place trophy. Lakeland finished 2-1 and in second place, while DePere ended up 1-2 to take third, and the Indians were 0-3 in taking fourth.

Despite not being able to win a match in the tournament, Rizzardi said he was happy with the way things turned out, and that his team had nothing to be ashamed of as the fourth-best Division II squad in the entire state.

"I was pleased with the weekend," he said. "We played the most volleyball out of any team. We won a game against every team, and that's nice. These last three weeks have really been a dream. The only sadness I have in my heart is for the seniors. They probably wanted more."

What the Indians did get more of was playing time. All three matches that the Indians played went to three games, including the final match against DePere, which was the final game of the entire tournament.

"That was something," said Rizzardi, remembering that in the other third-round match Waunakee beat Lakeland in two quick games. "We had everybody in the place sitting back watching us. And the game took a lot longer than the score (7-15) might indicate."

The loss in the third game against DePere came after the Indians had battled back to win the second game 15-11. DePere had opened with a 15-12 win in the first game.

That completed a trend which saw the Indians lost the first game of every match, but then battle back to win the second, something that didn't go unnoticed by Rizzardi.

"Somebody said to me that it looked as if the whole thing was scripted, that we were going to play good in the second game," he said. "We just played with more intensity in the second games. Our passes were there. The parts of the game that you need to have working, were working."

In the opening round against Lakeland, the Indians jumped out to a 5-1 lead over the Thunderbirds, but Lakeland then outscored Kewaskum 12-1 in a span that made it 13-6, T-Birds. Lakeland went on to win the game 15-8.

"At that point (up 5-1), I don't know if Lakeland just got that good, or if we just got poor," Rizzardi said of the turn-around.

The second game was almost the exact opposite, as Lakeland went out to a 3-1 advantage, only to have the Indians go on a 14-2 the rest of the way to win easily 15-5. The Indians fell behind 10-1 in the third game, on their way to a 15-5 loss.

Kelly Korth played exceptional against the taller T-Birds, several times blocking the powerful spikes of Lakeland's 6-1 Katie Voigt.

"I think Kelly, all day, did an excellent job. Kelly and Jackie Hintz," Rizzardi said of his two senior blockers. "I'd say those two really rose to the occasion and did a nice job for us."

In the second round, the Indians were paired against the 1990 runner-up, Waunakee, the top-rated team in Division II. Again the Indians got out quickly, scoring the game's first three points.

But the Warriors' Heather Willihnganz got her team on track with three straight spikes, and Waunakee went up 4-3. The Indians retook the lead and led 7-5 when the Warriors used their spiking power and solid blocking to score eight straight points and go ahead 13-7. The Indians battled back, pulling to within one, at 13-12, before Waunakee won 15-12.

The second game was all Indians, however. Kewaskum jumped all over the Warriors, holding leads of 3-1 and then 6-3 before scoring the game's final nine points to roll off an easy 15-3 win.

"We blocked number 11 (Willihnganz) a couple of times in that game, and that just took her out of it," Rizzardi said about the win.

But Waunakee regained control in game three, jumping out to a 6-1 lead. After the Indians got to within three, the Warriors rolled off five straight to open up a 11-3 lead. But the Indians, true to their nature, didn't fold. Kewaskum rallied for five straight points to make it 11-8, but Waunakee proved to be too strong in the end, and won 15-8.

"They definitely were the best (Div. II) team up there," Rizzardi said of the Warriors, who were appearing in their third straight tournament, and fifth in the last seven years. "They were the best-rounded team. They just seemed to play the whole game."

"The best part was that we were able to beat them, rather soundly, in a game," he went on to say. "That made me feel real good."

The state tournament atmosphere had a somewhat adverse effect on the Indians, Rizzardi felt, and that may have been a factor in the Indians not being able to pull out a win.

"I think that they were just overwhelmed by the noise and just the feeling that you get playing in front of that many people," he said. "One of the girls said to me that it was like she was mesmerized all day. And I can understand that."

Despite the nervousness, the Indians performed admirably, according to Rizzardi. "I praise them for their ability to hang in there, and I think that they learned a lot up there. Each of the girls had their moments. Everybody did have some good play."

"We just didn't seem to have that glow...the spark in our jump that I've seen when we feel like we're in control," Rizzardi concluded. "Our passing game was either up or down all day. Plus, I think we saw the toughest blocking against us that we've seen all year."

Rizzardi also had words of praise for the fans that made the trip and showed great support. "I just want to say thanks to those who supported us all year, especially the parents," he said, adding thanks to "all those who came up to Oshkosh to cheer us. Those who came saw some good volleyball."

Senior Kelly Korth spikes in the Indians' match against Waunakee.

Indian blockers Jackie Hintz (9) and Christa Schmidt (15) attempt to stuff a Lakeland spike.
