Christmas Parade Here Sunday

Plans for the Annual Kewaskum Christmas Parade are marching along smoothly, and residents of the community are busy tying up the phone lines as they invite family, friends and neighbors to join them on Sunday, Dec. 8 at 6 p.m. in celebrating Christmas in Kewaskum. Your hosts for the evening are the jolly members of the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, with a lot of help from their friends.

Holiday surprises include over 30 parade entries, musical marching units, sparkling floats, costumed characters to delight young and old, church choirs, elves handing out bags of candy, llamas, reindeer and many more festive participants.

Student and community organizations and local businesses are encouraged to join in the parade. There's still time to register your entry! Come on, you don't want to feel left out, and as a very special attraction the Jolly

Old Man himself, yes, that's right, Santa, will be making his grand appearance.

Cash prizes will be awarded for first, second and third prizes, plus honorable mentions, selected by a panel of seven distinguished judges that take their job very seriously. Preliminary judging will take place on the north side of the firehouse at 5 p.m.

Lineup for the parade will originate behind the Kewaskum firehouse (NORTH SIDE ONLY) at 5:15 p.m. The parade is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. Parents are requested to drop off any children participating in the parade (scouts, marching units, band members, etc.) by pulling onto Roseland Drive (right across the street from the firehouse) and

Christmas Spirit Shines A'Top Old Kellers Hill

A group of village residents joined forces last week to resurrect an old Kewaskum tradition which ended some fifteen years back. This group, comprised of Bob Staehler, John Kudex, Gordy Becker, Augie Bilgo, Steve Ebert, and Warren Dunn, braved the wind, the wet, and the cold last Friday, slipped and slid their way up old Keller Hill, and erected a 24 foot Christmas Tree at the top of the hill, on the east side of the Village off Stark Street. The property is now owned by Gary Gavin who is providing the electricity to light the tree. The beautiful evergreen was donated by Mrs. Eugene Zehren and her son Dave. Tom Clark cut down the tree and Kettle Moraine Electric provided 600 feet of electric cable to reach the top of the hill, and Bill Gruhle constructed a new star for the top. The community can be proud of this group that worked so hard to bring this Christmas tradition back to life, and the tree lit up at night can be seen for miles and truly represents the spirit of the people of Kewaskum and their attitude of giving.

Total Net Tax Levy to Be $29.07 per $1,000 of Assessed Value Kewaskum Village Board Okays $1.5 Million Budget for 1992

By GERRY MUELLER
Statesman Staff Writer

There was no opposition to the Village of Kewaskum's 1992 budget as presented at Monday night's public hearing. Next year's general budget of $1,381,638, is up $70,173 or 5.4 percent over 1991. (The inclusion of the TIF Fund's budget of $177,531, brings the total budget to $1,559,169 for 1992).

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt told the trustees the good news for village taxpayers is that the levy for 1992 reflects only a 3.1 percent increase, with a 1.48 percent or 10 cent increase per $1,000 of assessed valuation in the levy rate itself. The new rate will be $7.09 per $1,000, as compared to this year's rate of $6.99. Schmidt drew the board's attention to the only major new item on this year's tax bill, the "Lottery Credit," which is estimated to be about $130, for the Village of Kewaskum. That credit may be claimed on the property which is the owner's primary residence.

While the numbers make it look like the State is really giving taxpayers some money back, Schmidt noted village taxpayers will probably only see a net gain of about $26 with the lottery credit. The reason being that the "State Tax Credit" for 1992 has been decreased 9.3 percent or 21 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation, literally cancelling out the major portion of the lottery credit return.

Schmidt told the trustees the 1992 total gross levy for Village of Kewaskum taxpayers will be $31.11 (up 5.38 percent from last year's figure of $29.83.) Less the 1992 state tax credit of $2.04, the net total levy will be $29.07. (The 1991 tax credit was $2.25).

While the village collects the entire levy, only 22.8 percent or $7.09 of it goes to the village to provide approximately 75 municipal services. The remaining 77.2 percent or $24.02 of the $31.11 gross tax rate is collected for the remaining four agencies which include the school district, county, state and MPTC.

Other increases which are a part of the new levy for 1992, include; Kewaskum School District up 3.1 percent or 52 cents, Washington County up 13.3 percent or 54 cents, MPTC up 5.7 percent or 10 cents, and the State up 6.2 percent or 1 cent. Schmidt reminded the board that the village has no control over these increases, it has no authority to approve or disapprove these rate increases, it is simply required by law, to collect them for the taxing entities.

Schmidt told the board that a memo with all the information he had discussed will be sent to taxpayers along with their tax bills.

Schmidt stressed the fact that if taxpayers plan on claiming the lottery credit, they MUST sign their tax bill where indicated, to receive that credit.

The first installment of the property tax must be received by January 31, 1992, with the second and final payment due, paid to the county treasurer, by July 31, 1992. Schmidt said the Municipal Building will remain open on Tuesday, December 31st, from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., for tax collection.

After their public hearings, 1992 proposed budgets for the

Lehman Announces In-District Hours

MADISON... Rep. Michael Lehman (R-Hartford) announced today that he will be holding in-district office hours on Saturday, December 7, 1991 in the Village of Kewaskum.

Representative Lehman will be at the Kewaskum Village Hall at 9:30 a.m. He will be at the hall for approximately an hour.

"The in-district hours provide an opportunity for me to meet with area residents on issues of concern to them. The input I receive from my constituents is greatly valued and used when I make my decisions on the floor of the Assembly," stated Lehman.

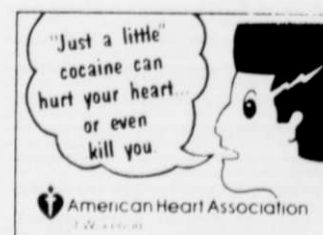

The Legislature will be reconvening at the end of January for the final floorperiod of the 1991-92 session, therefore, area residents are encouraged to stop by and express their concerns on upcoming state issues and other issues of concern to them.

Grand Opening at Shefond's New Amoco This Weekend

Shefond's newest addition to the community, Amoco Food Shop and Gas Station, located at 890 Fond du Lac Ave., Kewaskum, is celebrating their Grand Opening this weekend, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 5 through 8.

The Food Shop features a Hot Stuff Pizzeria with regular and breakfast pizza, freshly baked breadsticks and cookies, hot soup, cold sandwiches, snacks and soda, along with all their mini-mart products. The gas station carries gasoline as well as diesel fuel and has plenty of room to accommodate large trucks. Join in the Grand Opening festivities this weekend. Stop in for great specials, food samples, a visit with Santa Claus and don't forget to register for the prizes that are being offered!

letting the parade participants out. They will then be escorted across Main Street by a traffic officer. PLEASE DO NOT DRIVE YOUR VEHICLE ON THE FIREHOUSE GROUNDS. It is very important that we keep the congestion at the firehouse to a minimum. Floats only will be permitted to pull into the firehouse parking lot. The firemen have generously offered to open the firehouse up for everyone to warmup while waiting for the parade to begin. Let's show our cooperation by keeping unnecessary off of their grounds.

The parade route will follow Fond du Lac Avenue, turning east on Main Street, north on Park View Drive and finally west on First Street where it will arrive in front of the Municipal Building.

Everyone is invited to remain after the parade to join in the Aid Association for Lutherans Annual Tree Lighting Ceremony. The AAL sponsors this event yearly with church choirs from the area singing carols during the ceremony, accompanied by the Kewaskum High School Band and Swing Choir. Hot chocolate and cookies will be available inside the Community Room of the Municipal Building. Police Chief Richard Knoebel will do the honors of lighting the tree. Don't miss this moving event to help get yourself in the holiday spirit.

Winners of the parade entries will be announced at the end of the tree lighting ceremony.

Businesses and residencies along the parade route are encouraged to help "light up" the evening with their own creative Christmas decorations, and add to the festivities of the evening.

Donations to the parade through the "Holiday Magic" Christmas tree lights are greatly appreciated and can be mailed directly to the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce. (More information on page 5).

Parade Marshalls this year are none other than Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Sexy Senior King, Alex Laubach and his lovely wife, Claudia.

Please join us as spectators or participants in welcoming the Christmas season to Kewaskum. For more information, contact Richard Thiemer at 626-4734 or Lana Kuehl at 626-2626 (work) 626-4518 (home).

Receives Scholarship

Appleton, WI — Janelle Peterson, a senior at Concordia University, Mequon, has been awarded a scholarship from Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL). Peterson is the daughter of Joan Peterson, 7725 Highway 144, West Bend.

AAL is a not-for-profit organization which provides a wide variety of benefits, including insurance and volunteer opportunities, to Lutherans and their families.

Peterson is participating in AAL's Lutheran Campus Scholarship Program. Scholarships usually range from $200 to $1,000 and are available to AAL members attending Lutheran institutions of higher learning. Recipients are selected by financial aid offices at participating schools.

Village Board

Water Pollution control and Water Departments were also approved. While the WPC Department is showing a slight profit, the Water Department is just breaking even, said Schmidt. "The Public Service Commission tells us we should be showing at least a 5.5 to 8 percent profit," said Schmidt, "so we will be applying for a rate increase early next year."

When Schmidt had advised the trustees of the Water Department's situation at an earlier meeting, Trustee Gary Gavin asked Schmidt, "how do we decide how much to increase rates?" At that time Schmidt told Gavin, "we don't determine that, the PSC tells us what the rate increase will be, we have no say."

In other action the board approved a three-year contract with the Kewaskum Police Association which covers department personnel excluding the chief. The contract contains a 4 percent salary increase for 1992, 3 1/2 percent for 1993, and 4 percent for 1994.

The board also approved the sale of two village-owned lots on Wildlife Drive, (the former industrial park) to John and Mary Ellen McElhatton and Kim and Mary Rodenkirch, and the signing of the Town of Kewaskum fire contract for 1992.

In the report of department heads, Police Chief Richard Knoebel advised the board that his department had received a donation of $250, for its Officer Friendly program, from the Kewaskum Kiwanis. Knoebel also noted that village winter parking regulations are now in effect.

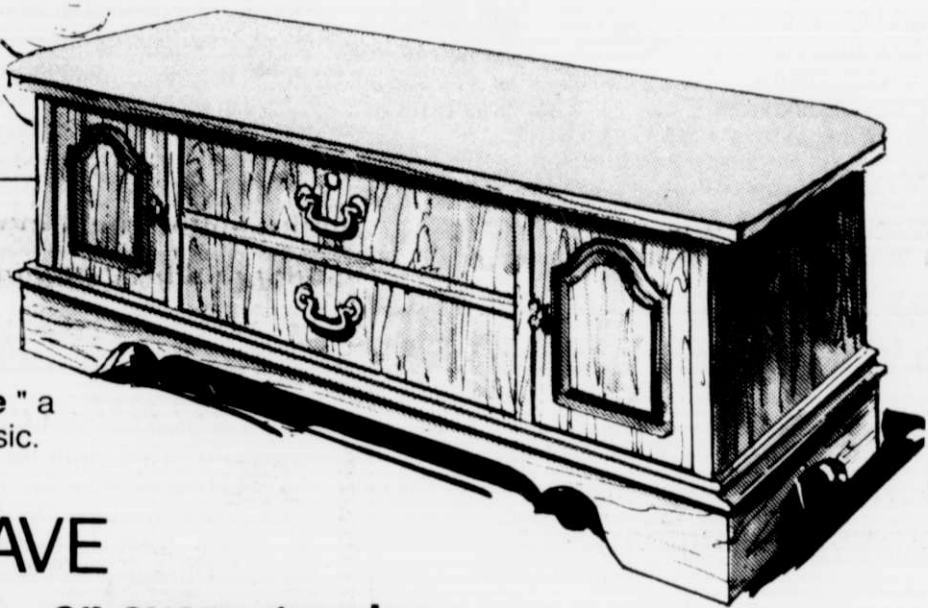

Public Works Director Jerry

Gilles informed the board that his crew had located the cause of the lights going out on Main Street last week. Burnt underground wiring was located near Kohn's Mobil station and repairs are expected to be completed by the end of the week. Gilles said the exact cause of the failure could not be determined, however, it appeared that some form of repair had been done on the wires some time in the past.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

Most Property Tax Bills To Receive Lottery Credit

A completely new form of property tax relief will be available to most Wisconsin homeowners on this year's property tax bills according to assemblyman Michael "Mickey" Lehman.

"The new 'lottery credit', financed by proceeds from the state lottery, will provide an average benefit of between $125 and $150. It is based on the first $8,200 of a qualifying home's value times the school tax rate. The credit is only available for owner-occupied homes.

"Because this credit is new and the claim procedure is different than earlier property tax relief programs, homeowners will have to pay close attention to this year's property tax bills to claim the benefit," Lehman said.

"Most 1991 property tax bills sent to homeowners will show the potential lottery credit. But the fact that a credit is shown on a bill does not necessarily mean the property qualifies for the benefit. Each homeowner has the responsibility to determine if his or her property qualifies. Homeowners who qualify must claim the credit by signing the tax bill and returning it with the tax payment," Lehman stressed.

Local treasurers cannot allow the credit unless the tax payment is accompanied by a signed property tax bill. Taxpayers who attempt to claim the credit without signing the tax bill could face tax delinquencies and other complications.

To qualify, the taxpayer must own the home described on the tax bill and use it as his or her primary residence. For example, taxpayers should not claim the credit if the bill is for a vacation home. Claims will be audited by the Department of Revenue.

Barrel Haus to Host Sharps Holiday Patrol To Benefit Cerebral Palsy

The Barrel Haus, Kewaskum, will be hosting a very special fund raising event for United Cerebral Palsy on Wednesday evening, Dec. 11, starting at 7 p.m.

Sponsored by Miller Beer, the Sharps Holiday Patrol will be making a special appearance, selling paper wreaths for a donation of $1.00, or more. The wreaths will then be signed by the purchasers and used to decorate the walls of the Barrel Haus, giving it a festive, holiday appearance, as well as helping to fight Cerebral Palsy.

The Miller girls' Sharps Holiday Patrol will also be available for picture taking sessions, so stop in for a snapshot or two. All donations are appreciated, and the public is welcome to attend this event for United Cerebral Palsy.

The more things change... the more they stay the same. Main Street in Kewaskum, (at least the south side of the street), has not changed a great deal as you can readily see in the above photo, taken around 1930. Most of the buildings on the south side of the street (left on the photo) are still here, remodeled but the basic structure is still easy to distinguish. The buildings on the south side (left) now house Eckl's Main Street Inn, Kewaskum Saloon, Team Video, Jacob's Barber Shop, Bier's Jewelry and the Village Bootery. Looking down the street (west), you can spot the building which is now home to Sausage Surplus (partially hidden in photo) and Schmitt's Never Inn. On the north side (right) there is the former Corner Drug Store, the old Kewaskum Bank building and Lay Lumber. Since then the bank building and Lay Lumber have been razed. We think there was some type of livery stable on the site where West Bend Savings Bank and McKenna Law Office now stands, but we're not 100 percent sure on that (way before my time, I'm just going by some photos I've seen). If you know, call our office and we will share the information with our readers.

Help Us Light the 'Holiday Magic' Tree

Weather permitting, the first set of green lights on the "Holiday Magic" Christmas tree, located in front of Valley Bank in Kewaskum, will be turned on Wednesday evening. Many more green light sponsors are needed if we hope to have the entire cycle of green lights lit on the tree by the time of the Christmas parade on Sunday.

A total of seven sets of lights were placed on the tree. Each set contains 40 bulbs. As of this writing, one set of red bulbs has been donated by area businesses. The red bulbs will be used to decorate the center of the tree. That leaves six sets of green lights for the rest of the tree. If my second grade level math serves me (look Ma, no calculator!) that adds up to 240 green bulbs around the tree. Considering there are only 36 green lights already donated... it's a long road ahead to Sunday. Oh well, I guess a half of a lit tree is better than no tree at all! However, Kewaskum, your overwhelming generosity concerning the "Holiday Magic" tree lights in support of the Christmas Parade is truly commendable and you deserve our genuine thanks.

But I still think a green bulb in your child's name is a super way to get the kids involved in the community spirit the parade evokes. The boards which lists all the names of the donors have been put up alongside the tree, and see the display during the next week or two, you stroll past Valley Bank and make the surprise.

The star which contains the white memorial lights will also be put into place on Wednesday. To date there have already 67 white memorial lights donated. Many people have commented that it feels so good to donate a white light in memory of deceased members of their families. It says, even if you can't be with us... our thoughts are with you.

The cost of the green lights and the white memorial lights is $10 each. The red business lights are $25 each. Please send the coupon located elsewhere on this page with your donation to: Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 300, Kewaskum, WI 53040 or drop it off at the Kewaskum Statesman on Main Street. Help us to make some "Holiday Magic" for the young and old alike.

This is YOUR Christmas Parade Kewaskum... Some way... some how... whether through a float, marching, music, finances or however you can... get involved with it. You'll be surprised how much "Christmas Spirit" you'll find hidden way down deep within yourself!

Lisa Jones and Steven Gauger exchanged vows of marriage on Saturday, October 12, 1991 during a 2:30 p.m. ceremony at St. Lucas Lutheran Church, Kewaskum. The Rev. Edwin Fredrich officiated.

Parents of the couple are Donald Abraham, Fond du Lac, and Patricia Abraham, Sacramento, CA; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gauger, West Bend.

Music was provided by organist Coralee Kolbow.

The bride chose her sister, Franci Abraham of Sacramento, CA, as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids included sister-in-laws Sharon Gauger of Kewaskum, and Sharon Gauger of Random Lake.

Randy Jentsch, the groom's friend, served as best man. Groomsman were the groom's brothers, Ken Gauger of Kewaskum, and Keith Gauger of Random Lake.

Holy Trinity Thanks Community for Successful Craft and Bake Sale

The Holy Trinity Christian Women would like to extend a big "Thank You" to all of who helped make our Christmas Craft and Bake Sale another fine success. Many braved the inclement weather that day to partake of the delicious lunch and to shop from a fine array of affordable craft items and/or the abundant selection of homebaked goods.

Your support was much appreciated. We truly hope you are happy with your purchases.

The lucky raffle winners were: Log Cabin Pattern quilt - Pat Geidel, Stitched Flower Cart picture - Ernie Mitchell, Set of two crocheted pictures - Rosemary Keller, Crocheted pillow - Diane Piwoni, Padded album - Emily Triebe, Dried Seed picture - Angie Koepke, Oatmeal Patty crocheted doll - Martha Kudek, Teddy Bear - Florence Ruth, Set of flower prints - Marion Mitchell, Set of bird prints - Ann Bruendl.

Ushering duties were shared by Lon Abraham, Fond du Lac, friend of the groom and Rick Cortez, West Bend.

A reception and dance was held at Turner Hall, Fillmore, with music by the J. Bryan Band of Mayville.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of L.P. Goodrich High School, Fond du Lac.

The groom is a 1979 graduate of West Bend East High School of West Bend. He is employed with J.T.E. Transportation of Adell.

The couple reside at 9296 Windy Acres Dr., Kewaskum.

Beth Metz

PLATTEVILLE — Beth Metz, 9446 St. Kilian Heights Road, Campbellsport, daughter of Mathias and Margaret Metz, is the associate art director for the 1991 TV-5 Christmas Telethon at the University of Wisconsin - Platteville.

The telethon is a television production put on by the students at UW-Platteville and proceeds are donated to Wisconsin Badger Camp. The camp serves developmentally challenged children and adults.

About half as much hot water is used in the average shower as in the average bath.

"Knowing that I am helping to make a difference in the lives of others is what I enjoy most about the TV-5 Christmas Telethon," Metz said.

One for the Road
It's not a drink, it's your Designated Driver.

Thinking about going out tonight? Then set up your "one for the road" now. They'll be the one to drive everybody home... the Designated Driver. Because last year in Wisconsin, over 300 people were killed by drunk drivers. Need another reason? Get busted for driving drunk and you'll lose over $3,000 to fines, fees and raised insurance rates. Not to mention losing your driving privileges for six months. So, next time someone asks you, "One for the road?", tell 'em you've already got one... your Designated Driver.

Friends of Abused Families To Sponsor Christmas Party

Friends of Abused Families serves many victims of domestic abuse in Washington County. Friends is sponsoring a Christmas Party for these victims. The party will provide an opportunity for victims to share in the holiday spirit who many times can not afford to celebrate Christmas. The party will be held on December 14th and there will be entertainment, games for the children and pictures with Santa. Each child will receive a stocking from Santa and the mothers will be given gifts and/or food for Christmas Day.

Friends has already received donations and support from many businesses, organizations, and individuals to help provide these families with an extra special Christmas. Many are participating in the "Adopt-A-Family" program, the shelter provides the ages and needs of the family members and the group can then provide the family with the gifts.

On Friday, December 6 and 7, Friends will also be sponsoring a Gift Tree at ShopKo in the Paradise Mall in West Bend. Shoppers can choose an ornament, off the Christmas tree and purchase the gift and then donate it to Friends for a family on Christmas. If you would like to donate or become involved contact Theresa Ludwig at 334-5598, 255-9488, or 673-7298 or you can drop off your gift at the Maintenance Department of the Outlet Mall, West Bend. All gifts and donations are greatly appreciated.

Yul Log Celebration

Join the lords and ladies of Riveredge in this traditional Yul time celebration on Saturday, December 14, from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m.

A potluck dinner featuring the famous "Yul Stew" will be followed by a search of the grounds for the Yul log. The celebration will end with songs sung around the Yul fire.

Food and entertainment is from 5:30 to 7:30 and the search for the log, Yul fire and songs of the season will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. If you are unable to attend the meal, you are welcome to join the search for the log at 7:15 p.m.

This event is open only to Riveredge members. Preregistration and Prepayment is required, as seating is limited. Bring a salad, bread or dessert to share.

The fee is $4.50 for adults and $3.00 for children, 16 and under. For more information and to preregister, call the Center at 375-2715 (metro) or 675-6888 (local).

Riveredge Nature Center is a non-profit, 350 acre nature center dedicated to environmental education, located on Highway Y in Newburg, Ozaukee County.

United Way Total Grows

"I am so pleased and overwhelmed at the continued support of United Way and the agencies we serve," says Tom Kieckhafer, 1991 United Way of Washington County Campaign Chairman.

"As of November 25, we are at a total of $741,860 in gifts and pledges for the 1991 drive." This represents one hundred and four percent of the $710,000 goal for 1991. Two weeks ago, a total of $731,342 was reported at the Campaign Celebration.

"People in Washington County continue to give, even though we've achieved our goal," said Kieckhafer. "It is so heartwarming that people care and share to benefit others. The spirit is still there."

The Slinger Division had the most substantial increase; they are now at 105 percent of their goal.

Donations will continue to be counted until December 31. "It does my heart good, especially during the holiday season, to see such a tremendous effort continue," concluded Kieckhafer. "We all benefit with an improved quality of life."

Christmas - A Busy But Worthwhile Season For the Volunteers of the Salvation Army

Community Christmas dinners, food baskets, nursing home visits, coats for kids, food drives, prison visitation, toy projects — these are just some of the community projects provided by The Salvation Army this Christmas season.

Christmas, thankfully for many, is a time to remember those in need. The volunteers of the Service Extension program so willingly give of themselves to operate the seasonal programs of The Salvation Army in addition to their Salvation Army unit work, their regular jobs and family responsibilities.

"We are looking for capable, bright volunteers to help The Salvation Army provide for those in need. What we ask of our volunteers is a heavy burden during the Christmas season, and it is humbling to see them continually respond to the needs of the residents in their community so readily," said Stuart Merritt, Divisional Service Extension Director. "Without them we could not provide many of the services we do, especially in the rural areas. We are very proud of our volunteers and their kind, compassionate service given throughout the year."

Richfield Fair This Weekend

Kewaskum Statesman, Thursday, Dec. 5, 1991, Page 8

It's a busy time of year for Washington County's craftspeople as they prepare for the 33rd annual Richfield Fair being held this year on December 7 and 8 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Kettle Moraine Bowl, located on the corner of Hwy. 175 and Hwy. 60 in Slinger, just off Hwy. 41.

The Richfield Fair is unique in that the exhibitors try to recreate an old-fashioned country Christmas atmosphere by dressing in costumes of yesteryear and by going the extra distance to make the fair a special experience for their customers.

Fun activities include strolling carollers, Kris Kringle and his elves who give free treats to children, free door prizes for the adults and "Kid Krafter Korner," an area set aside for children to show their own craftwork.

Some of the wide variety of quality handmade articles available include stitchery, Christmas ornaments and decor, rugs, toys, ceramics, tapestries, woodworking, homemade candies and bakery, live wreaths, honey, produce, home decor, and many gift items.

Admission and parking are free.

Pine Cone Crafts

Learn to make inexpensive pine cone crafts for the holidays at Riveredge Nature Center on Sunday, December 8, from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Bring a bag of cones, dried flowers and berries to complete your creations. There will be a separate charge for materials we supply. The fee is $2.00 for children and $3.00 for adults.

For more information, call the Center at 675-6888 (local) or 375-2715 (metro).

Kewaskum Booster Club News

The November meeting of the Kewaskum Booster Club was called to order at 7:05 p.m. by President Larry Ammel. The secretary's report by Eileen Kurtz was approved as read. Cheryl Ammel gave the treasurer's report noting a $150.00 profit on the musical and a $74.00 profit on the Brat Fry at a Homecoming. The bill is still out on the new cheerleading uniforms. It was approved as read.

OLD BUSINESS

The business will be held the next four Saturdays in the Sentry parking lot from 8:00 to 4:00. The prices are as follows: 18" $6.75, 30" $10.00, and 40" for $16.00.

The Kewaskum Indians sweat-shirts are almost sold out but a new order will be placed and orders will be accepted during the wreath sale at the Booster Van. Larry Ammel brought samples in for the new seat cushions. We are looking for sponsors to buy advertising space on the cushions.

A sample of the future "Indian Trails" map directory was displayed. Mr. Amundson's class will do the printing and these will be finished by the end of the year.

The Post Prom Party was discussed. Prom date is April 4th. Sites being discussed are: West Bend YMCA, Fond du Lac YMCA, and at the school. Discussion ensued on putting the money used for bussing the prom goes into bigger and better prizes. A car giveaway was also discussed as a lure to getting the students to attend the Post Prom Party. The Booster Club is very concerned about the amount of drinking that is done by the students and are urging parents to become more aware of this situation.

NEW BUSINESS

Parents Nite for girls' basketball will be held 11-26-91. Mr.

Eichstedt is planning on more get-togethers with the parents. A brat fry was held Nov. 30, before the Holiday Tournament.

Cheryl Ammel suggested the NESCO cooker. If anyone has one that they would like to donate, the club will be very grateful.

JV Wrestling tournament will be held Dec. 14. Volunteers are needed. Remember you don't have to be a Booster Club member to donate your time and talents for our youth.

Midnight Movies — Games Night — The Music Council is planning a Friday night of fun. The Booster Club will provide the food. We are looking for parents to help.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Long Range Committee - Booster Club Members are being urged to go to the School Board and encourage them to plan for a new sports field. Interest is growing in soccer. Future plans should include room for football, soccer, and girls softball. Letters will be sent out letting people know of the need and requesting money to start a KEYS type fund.

Fund Raisers - Jeff Rohrer strongly suggests we go into the candy making business.

Booster Club Minutes - Motion was made and seconded to publish the minutes in the Statesman so the public is aware of what we're doing.

SCHOOL PRIDE - SPIRIT

It's sadly lacking in Kewaskum. There must be a way to raise the spirit. Buses for away games are always available but very few take advantage.

Mark Vechart motioned to adjourn with a second from Dave Felix.

The next Booster Club meeting will be held Monday, January 6, 1992.

Juniors Donate Rulers For Education Week

To show our appreciation, Kewaskum Juniors recently delivered to approximately 150 area teachers, stenciled paint stir sticks in conjunction with Education Week.

The stir sticks were stenciled by club members as rulers with a small appliqued wooden apple applied to one end and a red ribbon tied to the other making a wall decoration hanging. In addition, each ruler had an appropriate message for National Education Week printed on it. The sticks were delivered in decorated gallon paint cans. Education Committee members Terry Christie and Louise Martin are pictured with some of the rulers.

Wisconsin Bankers Assoc. Sponsors Training Workshop

Gerald H. Zimmel, William J. Haskey, Allen Schaetz of Valley Bank, Kewaskum and Daniel Schmidt, Administrator of Village of Kewaskum, recently attended a special economic development training workshop, sponsored by the Wisconsin Bankers Association and presented in conjunction with numerous state development agencies.

The one-day workshop, which was held November 12, 1991 at the Grand Hotel in Milwaukee, included presentations by the Department of Development, the Small Business Administration, the Wisconsin Business Development Finance Corporation, Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority and Forward Wisconsin, as well as various utilities and local and regional development organizations.

The workshop is part of a statewide workshop industry initiative to better serve the needs of Wisconsin communities by fostering greater economic health.

The Wisconsin Bankers Association (WBA) is the state's primary banking trade organization, representing 461 commercial banks.

Students Communicate at Mapledale

Residents of Mapledale Manor here in town, once again enjoyed the good company of Mrs. Jacak's communications class. Students played cards with, sang to and with the people, used the piano, celebrated a birthday and just mingled, making for a very nice morning. Hope to see them again soon!

Washington County Historical Society Elects Officers

Officers elected for 1992 are President, Shirley Stoffel; Vice President, Keith Keehn; Secretary, Helen Rilling; Treasurer, Mae Groh. Chris Calenberg and Joan Pick were reelected to the board of directors for a term of 3 years. They join board members Lloyd Wenzel, Mildred Wagner and Carol Beverly. Shawn Graff is the advisor for the expansion to the old courthouse.

The large attendance was treated to some of the slides that Edith Heidner took of the old buildings and we were treated to seeing Edith Heidner on some of the slides. As no one at the meeting knew the name of George Washington's famous horse, the prize is in the museum office until Dec. 5th. The doll room is open for viewing. Come and see the lighted doll house and some of the childrens clothing exhibited. We tried in our little space to make this as a little girls room. The only way we could expand until we get into the old courthouse.

December 8th is the date of the museum Christmas Open House, from 1 to 4 p.m. As in years past we will be serving hot and cold cider and homemade cookies. Music again will be provided by the talented Marion Albrecht on her zither. Sing-a-longs will be done as visitors are interested. The museum itself will be decked out in Christmas splendor of years past. Don't miss this date to have some family Christmas entertainment.

Remember all those years when, as you were walking into the Kewaskum High School Christmas Concert, you thought you must be late since the High School Swing Choir was already performing? Well, that will not happen this year! Instead, the Swing Choir will be featured performers, not at the High School Concert, but, along with The Moraine Chorus, at the 7th annual KEYS Christmas Concert. This year, the High School Swing Choir, along with the Moraine Chorus, will be lending their considerable talents to benefit Kewaskum students on December 9 at 7:30 p.m. in Rose Hall of Kewaskum High School.

The Swing Choir, in its 15th year under the able direction of David Bertelsen, has been rehearsing twice each week for the last four weeks, honing and polishing their singing and dancing for its performance. The numbers include a jazz version of "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town," uptempo "Christmas Feeling" and "Have A Very Merry, Merry Christmas," the reverent "One Child," and a medley of the favorites "Frosty The Snowman" and "Jingle Bell Rock." Many of these selections will feature solos by Swing Choir members. Accompanists for the Swing Choir will be Shawn Schneider on bass, Shane Oppermann on drums, and David Bertelsen on keyboards.

"It is a pleasure to help out the KEYS scholarship fund," says Mr. Bertelsen. "The kids are really looking forward to performing." Working Saturday morning at Breakfast With Santa and Sunday evening for the Citizen Advocacy Board Christmas Party in West Bend, the Monday KEYS concert will be the third performance, in as many days, for the group.

Also featured at this year's KEYS Christmas Concert is the Moraine Chorus. This very talented organization, spotlighted in an article in last week's Kewaskum Statesman, is performing in its second consecutive KEYS Christmas Concert.

Proceeds from the KEYS Christmas Concert are used to provide scholarships for graduates of Kewaskum High School. The $2.00 advance tickets are still available from any KEYS or National Honor Society member or at Kewaskum High School. If preferred, tickets can be purchased at the door the night of the concert. Remember, additional donations are always

Family Center Has Warmline for Parents

The Family Center of Washington County operates a telephone "WARMLINE", for families with children birth to four years old. The "Warmline" will put parents in touch with child development experts who provide sound advice and ideas on handling the normal problems of raising children. In addition, the "Warmline" serves as an information and referral guide for Washington County families looking for services such as; licensed day cares, drug and alcohol counseling or pediatricians.

So, if you have any questions or concerns from breastfeeding to temper tantrums, call the "Warmline" at, 338-9461. The Family Center is open Monday thru Thursday, 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. and Fridays, 9:00 a.m. - noon. All calls received after business hours will be recorded on our answering machine and returned promptly. For more information on the Family Center and our excellent workshops, parent education groups and parent/tot classes ... call or stop by at 279 S. 17th Avenue, West Bend (former General Clinic Building). All programs are free of charge, with child care available.

Share Christmas spirit and community fellowship at the 1991 KEYS Christmas Concert on Monday, December 9. KEYS, on behalf of the students of Kewaskum, thanks you for your continuing support.

USDA Helps Towns Obtain "Dry Hydrants" For Fighting Fires in Rural Communities

WASHINGTON — "It's probably the biggest boost for rural fire protection since the organization of volunteer fire departments."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Walley Turner used that comparison to describe "dry hydrants," whose application for fire fighting is a recent development in many rural areas.

Turner, assistant state conservationist for programs with USDA's Soil Conservation Service in South Carolina, said there are many rural families throughout the nation which can't obtain fire insurance on their residences because of an inadequate water supply for fire fighting equipment.

However, many rural communities are attempting to resolve this dilemma by installing "dry hydrants" — non-pressurized pipe systems permanently installed in existing farm ponds, lakes, and streams.

"A dry hydrant provides a ready supply of water to be tapped for fighting rural fires," Turner said. "Specifically, a dry hydrant system reduces the need for fire fighters to travel long distances to refill the tanks on their fire trucks, when battling fires in rural areas."

According to Gerald Seinwill, director of SCS's Engineering Division in its headquarters office in Washington, D.C., dry hydrants are simple in design and construction. A typical dry hydrant system includes a pipe buried about three feet below the lowest likely surface level that the pond would be in a dry year. The pipe generally runs from the pond to an all-weather road — or some other equally accessible spot — where it is capped above surface with the dry hydrant itself.

Each dry hydrant is normally equipped with a snap-off lid, or other appropriate devices, so the hookup to a fire truck hose can take place with no tools and during a typically pitch-dark country night.

Costs for installing a dry hydrant range from $300-$500, depending on the depth and length of the pipe, and installation can take an average of three to four hours to complete.

SCS conservationists have been assisting with site selection and design of the dry hydrant systems throughout rural South Carolina — as well as in a number of other states. Local Resource Conservation and Development Councils in the state have been coordinating installation of the systems and promoting the overall program.

"Dry hydrants are not only helping to reduce the loss of lives and property," said SCS's Steve Edwards, "but as an additional benefit, they're also bringing about a significant decrease in the cost of fire insurance for homeowners and businesses."

Edwards, the agency's coordinator of the Lowcountry Resource Conservation and Development Council Office in southwestern South Carolina, explained that the greatest factor affecting fire insurance premiums is the availability of a water supply. Homeowners' insurance premiums are based on a rating scale. A rating of 10 indicates there is no practical fire protection available.

"Many rural areas have a rating of nine or 10," he said. "So this means that few insurance companies will consider writing a policy in such an area — or if they do, they'll charge really high premiums."

To get a lower rating, a fire department must be able to pump a minimum of 250 gallons of water per minute for two hours. "The only way rural fire departments can meet this requirement is to have a source of water within one to two miles of the fire — preferably through use of a dry hydrant," said Jerry Williams, chief of the Lesslie Fire Department in York County, S.C.

Williams said that the Lesslie

Fire Department received a lot of cooperation from pond owners when SCS and fire department officials were looking for sites to install dry hydrants. "Once we explained how the hydrant would give us better fire fighting capabilities and would let all the people in the community save on their insurance premiums," he said, "we didn't have any opposition at all."

In fact, the installation of nine dry hydrants in Lesslie resulted in the lowering of fire insurance premiums on an $80,000 home from $519 to $336 per year in 1990. In addition, according to Williams, by reducing the miles traveled by fire fighting transportation equipment, the use of dry hydrants saved an estimated $2,500 gallons of fuel in 1990 — as well as wear and tear on the equipment.

Turner pointed out that dry

hydrants offer still another advantage. "They allow the use of natural, unprocessed water to fight fires," he said.

"This saves the more expensive, processed drinking water for its intended use."

Kettle Moraine Kids 4-H Club

The monthly meeting of the Kettle Moraine Kids 4-H club was held November 14th at the Labor Center on Main St. in Kewaskum. The meeting was started by Kevin Stahler saying the Pledge of Allegiance and Jackie Briggs saying the 4-H Pledge.

We voted on our revised constitution for the year of 1992.

Anne Mertz and Christine Schmidt reported on the Halloween Party we held in October. Nick Bailey reported on how the Christmas Party planning is going and Mrs. Mertz told us about the Music and Drama Festival that we're planning to participate in.

The Kettle Moraine Kids want to thank Mrs. Briggs for taking our collected food to the Food Pantry. Also brought up in the meeting was a very well done story about 4-H written by Christine Schmidt which was read at a business breakfast in support of 4-H. The meeting was adjourned by Paul Mertz and Becky Guileg.

Cedar Lake Home Receives 'Smart Money' Rebate Checks

The Cedar Lake Home received $8,090 from the Wisconsin Electric Power Company as part of their "Smart Money Program" which rewards commercial electric power users for the installation of energy saving equipment. New energy efficient lighting and other energy saving equipment has been and is currently being installed as part of the Cedar Lake Home Campus, Fellowship House renovation project.

Since 1987 Wisconsin Electric has given Cedar Lake Home over $70,000 in rebates toward the purchase of energy efficient equipment; resulting in an estimated annual electric bill reduction of $31,012.

Members of Mrs. Gremminger's third grade class at Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum all took part in a special Thanksgiving feast on Monday, November 25. The children came to class in Thanksgiving costumes and each one brought traditional Thanksgiving food. Needless to say the children love this annual event in third grade. It involves two of their favorite things... dressing up like pilgrims and Indians and EATING!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Apathy these days seems so rampant and very few people will go that extra mile for themselves let alone for someone else. That is why it is so important for us to tell you about our rare and special Farmington School Parent / Teacher Organization. They are truly wonderful and we are extremely grateful to them. As we count our blessings during this holiday season, it is impossible to include in this space, all the benefits they have brought about for our school. A partial list includes: establishing a nature trail on our school grounds and an extensive parenting library. They sponsor numerous events including the Halloween and Easter parties for the children, the quarterly rewards for student good behavior, the book fair and our buses to attend various plays. They are responsible for bringing many varied, educational programs to our school to enhance the curriculum and broaden our students' experience base. They provide funding for many extra supplies, books, and other school materials which we would not otherwise be able to obtain. Each year they continue to surpass themselves in providing unique culinary masterpieces for our staff to savor on conference night.

The list could go on and on. Our P.T.O. is a constant source of support for our school, our students and our staff. We take great pride in them as we express our thanks to them for all they do.

Sincerely,
Farmington School Staff

To the Editor:

The legislature put into the state budget an energy tax credit. Governor Thompson vetoed it because he says it is not good for the "business climate." Whose business climate? We all are too dependent on foreign oil, the big oil companies and domestic power companies. Conservation strategies, cleaner alternative energy installations, and new technologies can only help Wisconsin businesses compete as they head into the twenty-first century. Energy tax credits reward innovations and conservation by Wisconsin's businessmen and home owners. It would also increase energy efficiency and make us less dependent on traditional energy supplies.

Should Wisconsin stick with old technologies and import increasingly expensive oil? Should we be at the mercy of the big oil companies, foreign dictatorships, and domestic power companies? It seems obvious the business climate the Governor is creating is not progressive Wisconsin's.

Should Wisconsin build an estimated forty new power plants when the sun is shining and the wind is blowing, or should Wisconsin strive for energy independence? The Governor's veto speaks to the direction he wishes to lead Wisconsin.

Sincerely yours,
Daniel Holzman

50th Anniversary of Pearl Harbor

by General Carl E. Mundy, Jr.

December 7, 1991 will mark the 50th anniversary of the Japanese air raid on Pearl Harbor, the event which thrust this Nation into World War II. More than 2,400 Americans died during the attack, an ordeal which President Franklin D. Roosevelt aptly named "a date which will live in infamy." The uncertainty that the Nation faced in the aftermath of the attack gave way to confidence, and ultimately to victory, because of the sacrifices and contributions of the fighting men and women of this great country — and the unwavering support of Americans on the home front.

Typical of the heroism shown by American service members during the attack were the actions of Sergeant Thomas E. Hailey, a Marine assigned to the ship's detachment of the battleship USS Oklahoma. When his ship capsized, he dove into the flaming waters, swam to another ship to aid in the rescue of his crew, and then manned an anti-aircraft gun in the heat of enemy bombing and strafing, even though he'd never handled that type of weapon before.

Marines at the Marine Corps Air Station at Ewa on Oahu showed the same indomitable fighting spirit when the air station came under attack at the same time as the fleet in the harbor. An official report later noted that "practically to the last man, every Marine at the base met the attack with whatever weapon there was at hand, or that he could commandeer, or even improvise, with the limited means at his command. They displayed great courage and determination against insurmountable odds."

As Commandant of your Marine Corps, I am constantly inspired by those who served before me in the Corps, and by veterans of World War II in particular. I can also say unequivocally that the men and women who are today's Marines are also a tremendous source of inspiration. They are sons, daughters, brothers and sisters from your hometown, and I know you share my great admiration and respect for them.

Although much has changed in the world since 1941, the human element remains the most important constant in maintaining the security of our great Nation... The strength and capabilities of the U.S. Armed Forces, combined with the skills and spirit of our young men and women in uniform, are the most dependable safeguards of American interest in an increasingly unstable and dangerous world.

America and its allies began a war in 1941... Then as now, the steadfast determination and heroism of young Marines, soldiers, sailors, airmen and Coast Guardsmen preserved and protected their country, and left the world a better place for all.

We must never forget those heroes nor lose sight of the fact that our armed forces continue to preserve the peace today that was achieved with such difficulty and bloodshed in World War II.

As we commemorate the 50th anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, join me in saluting the veterans of that war and our military men and women of today.

New Logo for Washington County Tourism Council

The unveiling of the new tourism logo took place during the recent annual dinner of the Washington County Tourism Council at Jerry's Old Town Inn in Germantown.

The new logo "Washington County - Naturally" was designed to better promote the recreational advantages enjoyed by all of Southeast Wisconsin and Northern Illinois.

The new logo was received with great enthusiasm and approval by tourism industry owners and representatives.

The new logo was created by Bob Fehring of Artel Design of Allenton. Artel is a small art studio specializing in designing and producing printed brochures, point-of-purchase materials and magazine advertising.

Artel serves clients in West Bend, Fond du Lac, Menomonee Falls and the surrounding area with the personal service necessary to meet demanding details and tight deadlines.

The logo will be featured on the cover of the Tourism Council's annual Visitor Guide publication for the promotional piece. Over 50,000 copies are distributed throughout Wisconsin and surrounding states.

Farm Income Tax Management

By Jack Trzebiatowski,
Washington Co. Agriculture Agent

Farm families, tax professionals and other interested persons are invited to participate in a Farm Income Tax Management session scheduled for Thursday December 10, 1991. The session will be held in room 119 of the Washington County Courthouse in West Bend starting at 10:00 a.m.

The morning topics will focus on providing information on the following topics. Update on new federal and state tax items, Identifying and addressing tax problem areas, and Tax concerns when disposing of assets. This information will be presented by Berwyn G. Westra, Mark J. Linzmier, and Dean Tillema, CPAs with Berwyn G. Westra & Associates, Waupun, WI.

This information will help farm families prepare for the 1991 tax season. Having a better understanding of current rules and procedures can help reduce the tax liability that needs to be paid. There are less tax management tools available today than in previous years, however there are still items that can be used to manage taxes. There are tax concerns that must be recognized when disposing of assets. Tax planning can reduce the tax impact.

The major discussion in the afternoon will focus on how farm families can take advantage of tax laws to reduce the out of pocket cost for health insurance and health costs. Many employees receive health benefits as a part of their non-taxable compensation. Self employed individuals and their families can deduct 25 percent of their health insurance costs if they meet the requirements of the I.R.S. Additional health costs can be deducted with limitations on Schedule A with other items.

There is another provision of the I.R.S. code Section 105(b) allows employees to exclude from income tax the value of accident and health benefits provided by the employer to the employee, employee's spouse and dependents. I.R.S. 162(a)(1) allows the employee to deduct the costs of these benefits.

Some farm families have used these rules to establish an employer - employee relationship between the farm operator and spouse to allow the purchase of these benefits with before tax dollars. This can significantly reduce the net cost of providing health care for farm families.

Don Rashke of Insurance Center Administrators will discuss the topic of the Section 105 health plans.

There is no charge for this Farm Income Tax Management program. Persons planning on participating should register in advance by December 9, 1981. Registration can be made by contacting the Washington County U.W. Extension office at 335-4477, 644-5204 or 342-2929.

She was born on October 4, 1905 in the Town of Auburn in Fond du Lac County the daughter of the late George and Caroline (Gremminger) Straub. In 1928 she graduated from the Marquette School of Nursing in Milwaukee and was a nurse for Dr. S.J. Dressel for many years.

On June 6, 1942 she was united in marriage to Leo Schladweiler at Holy Angels Catholic Church in West Bend and he preceded her in death on November 24, 1971. From 1952 until her retirement in 1974, Mrs. Schladweiler was a nurse at St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend and for many of those years served as head nurse.

She was a member of St. Frances Cabrini Catholic Church in West Bend.

Survivors include a daughter, Carol (Robert) Butzke of Slinger; two grandsons, Bradley and Ryan, both of Slinger; two sisters, Caroline (Ervin) Fellenz of Kewaskum and Cordelia (Dr. Roy) Knappenberger of Colorado Springs, Colorado; a brother, Venice (Betty) Straub of West Bend and Mesa, Arizona; a sister-in-law, Marie (Jerome) Stockhausen of West Bend; a brother-in-law, Chester Clark of Portland, Oregon, and other relatives and friends.

In addition to her parents she was preceded in death by four sisters, Marcella Klinka, Eunice Clark, Anna Simon and an infant sister Mildred and a brother, Lewis.

Funeral services will be held at the Miller Funeral Home, Kewaskum at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 4, 1991 with Father Charles Walter officiating. Burial will be at Holy Trinity Cemetery, Kewaskum. Friends may call from 4:00 p.m. until time of services at the funeral home on Wednesday.

PAUL L. MATENAER

Paul L. Matenaer, of West Bend, died Thursday, Nov. 28, 1991, at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, at the age of 59.

He was born Dec. 9, 1931, in Kewaskum, to the late Joseph and Florence (nee Berres) Matenaer. At an early age, the family moved to a farm in the Town of Trenton.

After his marriage to Janice Koth at Holy Angels Church, West Bend, on Oct. 26, 1950, they settled in West Bend where he owned and operated Matenaer's Service Station until his retirement.

Survivors include his wife; five children, Deborah (Paul) Gassner of Wausau, Sandra (Guy) Engelhardt and Michael (Joni) both of West Bend, Jill (Tim) Walsh of Grafton and Carrie Matenaer of West Bend; 10 grandchildren; four sisters, Beatrice (Leonard) Peter of Campbellsport, Rita (Charles) Dwyer, Sylvia (Lee) Bohn and Ann (Herman) Casper, all of West Bend; four brothers, Joseph (Euna) of West Bend, Jerry (Diane) of Tempe, Ariz., Jim (Kitty) of Glendale, Ariz., and Robert (Carol) of Brookfield; and other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Sunday, Dec. 1, at 6:30 p.m. at the Schmidt Funeral Home, West Bend, with a Mass of Christian Burial at 7 p.m. at St. Frances Cabrini Church. Fr. Charles Walter was the presider, and burial was on Monday in Washington County Memorial Park, West Bend.

Visitation at the funeral home was on Sunday from 4 until 6 p.m.

The family prefers memorials.

FELIX R. HIRSIG

Mr. Felix R. Hirsig, age 85, of Ocala, Florida, passed away on Sunday, December 1, 1991, at Munroe Regional Medical Center in Florida.

He was born on April 5, 1906, in Burnett, Wisconsin, the son of the late Rudolf and Theresa (Wittman) Hirsig.

Mr. Hirsig was stationed at Chico Air Force Base in California as a mechanic during WWII. He was a member of the Robert G. Romaine American Legion Post No. 384 of Kewaskum. He was employed by Mercury Marine in Fond du Lac for many years, retiring in 1974. He has resided in Florida since 1975.

Survivors include a brother, Oscar Hirsig, of Kewaskum; two sisters, Laura (Joseph) Miller of Kewaskum and Beulah (Floyd) Grosklaus of Orlando, Florida, nieces and nephews.

In addition to his parents he was preceded in death by a sister, Verna Dobke, and a sister-in-law, Pauline Hirsig.

Special Services for People with Disabilities

By David W. Becker, Branch Manager

People with disabilities should know that there are a number of special services provided by the Social Security Administration to help them take advantage of rights under the Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) programs. These include special public information materials for the blind and the deaf, and special arrangements for taking claims.

For deaf people with general questions about Social Security, a special TDD (telephone device for the deaf) number is available. That number is 1-800-325-0778. The TDD is generally available through organizations that work with deaf people. In addition, if a deaf person plans to visit a Social Security office, they may request an interpreter for their claims interview if they call ahead of time.

For blind people, the Library of Congress (LOC) publishes "Talking Books" of Social Security information - recordings of key Social Security publications. These materials will be available from LOC libraries around the country in October. In addition, blind beneficiaries can request to receive Social Security notices by telephone or certified mail rather than regular mail.

People with limited mobility should note that most Social Security business can be conducted by telephone, including applying for disability.

Wisconsin Monthly Electric Utility Bills Are 2nd Lowest in the Nation

An analysis prepared by the staff of the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin indicates that the average monthly electric utility bill paid by a typical Wisconsin ratepayer is the 2nd lowest average monthly bill in the entire nation.

The PSC staff analysis evaluated information provided by the Edison Electric Institute in its most recent Statistical Yearbook of the Electric Utility Industry. Wisconsin has steadily improved in this area since 1982 when the state had the 13th lowest average electric utility bill in the nation.

"The low electric bills paid by the citizens in Wisconsin can be traced to the significant conservation effort undertaken by the state's major electric utilities," said Scott Neitzel, the PSC's Executive Assistant. "Wisconsin's major gas and electric utilities, with the encouragement of the PSC, have increased the amount they spend on conservation over the last five years fivefold, from $30 million annually to $150 million annually. This voluntary effort on the part of our utilities represents 4 1/2 percent of total revenues. This far exceeds the efforts in neighboring states where conservation is legislatively mandated," added Mr. Neitzel.

Mr. Neitzel was referring to Minnesota where energy utilities are required by law to spend 1 1/2 percent of total revenues on conservation and Iowa where energy utilities are required to spend 2 1/2 percent of total revenues on conservation. He added, "Although we have done very well in Wisconsin, we do not intend to rest on our laurels. We have established the Wisconsin Demand-Side Demonstration Pilot which will work to determine how to get more utility customers to participate in energy conservation programs. Although Wisconsin' major electric utilities already offer conservation programs to all residential, commercial and industrial customers, the purpose of this project is to do even more."

Wisconsin electric utility conservation programs now in place offer a variety of customer incentives, including rebates and low interest loans and are available to any residential, commercial and industrial customers. For further information about these different programs contact Paul Newman of the PSC staff at (608) 267-5112.

Stitt Supports Extended School Year Pilot Program

MADISON....State Senator Donald K. Stitt (R-Port Washington) announced his support for legislation creating a pilot project allowing school districts to voluntarily develop and implement programs extending their school years.

"Giving schools the opportunity to experiment with extended school year programs will expand educational opportunities without imposing another state mandate," Stitt said.

The bill, which was just recently introduced in the State Senate, creates a pilot program similar to current learning assistance programs that would allow schools to demonstrate and evaluate the benefits of extended school year programs.

As introduced, the bill provides $5,000,000 for extended school year grants. Eligible schools could implement these programs starting with the 1992-93 school year.

Stitt, a cosponsor of the proposal, said "the idea of extending the school year is being successfully implemented in several other states. A pilot program would allow Wisconsin schools to experiment with the concept committing to a mandatory program."

"This is another step toward providing an educational system that enables our children to compete in a global economy," Stitt concluded.

Feed Inventory Management

Agriculture by Jack Trzebiatowski
Extension Agriculture Agent

The 1991 harvest season will soon be completed. The growing season weather conditions this fall have allowed most producers to be ahead of schedule with their fall harvests. After the harvest has been completed or is close to being completed is a good time to make a feed inventory. The next step is to develop strategies for the upcoming feeding season.

The first step in a feed inventory is to determine the physical quantity or amount of various feeds in storage. There are a variety of silo tables and charts that can be used to estimate tons, bushels or other units of measurement.

In addition to the quantity of feed its important to have an estimate of the feed quality. This is useful in being able to target high quality feeds to those livestock that can best utilize them. There are a number of ways of getting information about feed quality, feed testing facilities are available through most ration consultants and private and state laboratories. Information on feed testing is available from the Washington County UW-Extension Office.

After the inventories have been completed a feeding plan for the upcoming feeding season can be developed. Managing the feed inventory to target feeds to livestock that will best be able to utilize them can significantly reduce overall feed costs. Producers should work with their ration consultants or feed representative to develop feeding plans for the upcoming season.

A feed inventory taken in the fall will help producers estimate whether or not they have a surplus or a shortage of any feed commodity. This can assist with planning for purchases of additional feeds as needed or marketing of surplus feed if surpluses exit.

★ WINTER PARKING ★

The Winter Parking Restrictions and Snow Emergency Parking Restrictions go into effect on December 1, 1991.

Municipal Code Section 7.04(3) Night Parking Restrictions, reads as follows: Signs have been erected at or reasonably near the corporate limits as provided in Section 349.13, Wisconsin Statutes, no person excepting physicians or licensed emergency vehicles on emergency calls, shall park or stop any vehicle on any public street or highway within the village between the hours of 2:00 A.M. and 6:00 A.M. from December 1, to April 1, of each year; provided that, notwithstanding such restrictions vehicles may be parked a period of time not longer than 3 minutes for actually loading or unloading of passengers, and provided further that no other regulation restricting parking as to place, time, or manner violated thereby.

The fine for violating the ordinance is:

$5.00 if paid within three (3) days of the issuance of the parking citation.

$10.00 if paid after ten (10) days but before 28 days.

After 28 days, the amount is $20.00 and a notice will be sent to the Motor Vehicle Department to suspend your vehicle registrations and refuse renewals until the citation is satisfied.

An important fact is the owner of the vehicle is responsible for the payment of the citation whether or not he was the operator.

Municipal Code Section 7.04 (4) Removal of Illegally Parked Vehicles. This section covers the issuance of citations to and possible removal of such vehicles in violation of this ordinance. In addition to other penalties provided by Section 7.04(6) of this code, the owner or operator of a vehicle so removed shall pay the cost of the towing and storage.

For the ninth consecutive year, the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club honored two soil conservation district cooperators in the Kewaskum school district. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fickler and Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Scheunemann were presented plaques as the outstanding conservation farmers for 1966 by the Kiwanis Club.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bunkelman, 329 Prospect St., Kewaskum, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday, Nov. 13. Mr. Bunkelman and the former Malinda Klumb were married in St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Town of Addison on Nov. 18, 1916, by the late Rev. William Weber.

Army Private First Class Terry Shaske, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Shaske, 1344 Kewaskum St., was recently assigned to the 855th General Supply Company in Vietnam. Pvt. Shaske, a supply clerk, entered on active duty in June, 1966. He was stationed at Ft. Lee, Va., before being assigned to Vietnam, Nov. 2.

Maurice Hovland, Washington County Agriculture Agent, recently presented the Herdsman-ship trophy to Dale Moths, president of the Kewaskum FFA Chapter and Club herdsman winner. The Kewaskum FFA Chapter won the trophy at the 1966 Washington County Fair. The trophy is presented to the club that displays their herd best to fair visitors. It includes showmanship, clean barns and decorations.

The harvesting and hauling of the annual crop of sugar beets grown in this community was completed last week after going ahead for the last five weeks. The beets were hauled to Kewaskum where they were loaded into freight cars. A new high of 71 carloads of beets were shipped out of the village, topping last year's record of 62 cars.

Charles Krueger, who conducted a blacksmith business in the former Stark shop on Main St. alongside the river the past couple of years, has discontinued his trade and last weekend he and Mrs. Krueger moved onto her folks farm near Greenbush.

Next Saturday, Dec. 13, will be a big day for the kiddies of the area. On that day Santa Claus is coming to town for the biggest children's Christmas party ever held in the village. Santa will arrive at 2 p.m. by sleigh if weather permits. Upon arriving, Santa and his convoy will head for the village hall where the Good Saint will have a large amount of gifts and goodies to distribute free to all the kiddies.

Harold Marx, who was employed in the shipping department of the Kewaskum Aluminum Company, resigned last week to be employed in his father's IGA store.

Relatives and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. John Bendel of St. Michaels on their 30th wedding anniversary. The couple received many fine gifts.

Dec. 2, 1916

Another of our esteemed citizens passed away in eternal sleep Saturday, Nov. 25, at her home here after an illness of over a year's duration with diabetes. Mrs. Maggie Dricken was born February 14, 1847. On the 27th day of May, 1867, she was joined in wedlock to Mr. Peter Dricken.

The public schools of Cascade have been closed indefinitely by orders of the village board when four cases of Small Pox were discovered in the home of Louis Hefling, the village butcher, whose children were attending the school. The cases were all said to be light and no further spread of the disease is anticipated.

Last Wednesday evening at about 10 o'clock, fire destroyed the Boltonville Hotel and saloon, the barn, ice house and garage adjoining same and the Schoetz wagon shop nearby. The fire started in the wagon shop and was of unknown origin. In account, of heavy wind blowing at the time, the flames spread rapidly. The hotel and saloon, owned by the Random Lake Brewing Co., was in the path of the flames, also caught fire and burned to the ground. The hotel was run by William Raetzer. The Batavia fire company was telephoned for and arrived in time to save other buildings in the vicinity.

A very bad accident happened here last Tuesday to Math Kohn, who is employed by the L. Rosenheimer firm. Mr. Kohn was helping unload a car of coal near the Rosenheimer warehouse when a team of horses standing beside the car became frightened and started to run away. Mr. Kohn, is trying to get out of the car which was of the gondola type, caught his foot on the edge of the car and fell to the ground, striking his side on a large piece of coal. After he was picked up and conveyed to his home it was discovered by the doctor that he had suffered one broken rib and another split. Although Mr. Kohn suffers considerable pain, he is getting along nicely.

Overcoats Not Only Means Of Winter Protection

As the thermometer drops this winter, remember your body needs more than a sweater and coat to keep you healthy... it needs a balanced diet.

According to nutritionists at the Dairy Council of Wisconsin, maintaining a good diet is the first line of defense against winter enemies like a cold or the flu.

Building balanced meals around the food groups of milk, meat, fruits, vegetables and grains provide the necessary vitamins and minerals your body needs to keep you strong and help ward off infection. A balanced diet acts much like an extra layer of insulation in a jacket or coat.

The Dairy Council of Wisconsin is a non-profit nutritional marketing and communication association funded by the dairy industry. DCW serves Wisconsin, northern Illinois and north-west Indiana.

WASHINGTON COUNTY WE-TIP CRIME OF THE WEEK

November 27, 1991

Sometime on Sunday night, November 17, 1991, a construction trailer was broken into at Richfield School. Richfield School is located on the southwest corner of STH 175 and 167 in the Town of Richfield. The construction trailer was parked in the parking lot directly in front of the school. Entry was gained through the rear door of the construction trailer, and numerous construction tools were taken. Total losses due to this burglary exceeded $4,900.00. On November 10, 1991, a janitor reported a suspicious vehicle at the school, and described the vehicle as being a white pick-up truck, possibly a Ford or Chevrolet. This vehicle was observed at approximately 6:30 p.m. a week prior to the actual burglary. The pick-up did leave the area of the school without headlights activated.

Also, over the past several months, Washington County has been experiencing numerous burglaries to construction trailers, especially along STH 60. The Washington County Sheriff's Department would appreciate any information that anyone might have that could be related to these burglaries.

Washington County's We-Tip phone line is 1-800-232-0594. Any information can be provided anonymously and if a conviction results from the information obtained, a cash reward will be awarded to the caller. The caller will be identified by using an assigned number recorded at the West Bend Police Department. All law enforcement agencies within Washington County would appreciate any information relating to ANY criminal activity that may have been witnessed or that anyone may have knowledge of. Cash rewards can be quite substantial if a major crime is cleared and convictions are obtained.

Huge Menominee Nation Casino Expansion Set for December Grand Opening

A 1,000-square-foot expansion to the Menominee Nation Casino in Keshena, Wis., looms over the existing facility. The addition, which will include more gaming space as well as services, will open Dec. 19.

An expansion project currently underway at Menominee Nation Casino will nearly double the total size of the facility, according to Casino Manager Laurie Swiney.

"This expansion, the third since we opened in 1987, will bring the Casino to 25,000 square feet," she said. "The Menominee Nation is committed to maintaining our status as the largest and most complete Las Vegas-style Casino in Wisconsin."

Swiney said the Casino is planning special festivities for the grand opening of the new addition, scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 19.

The dominant aspect of the project is a two-story structure that will connect to the front and rear buildings. The first floor will be devoted to additional gaming and food services, according to Swiney, with the second floor for offices.

"We plan to greatly increase our number of slot machines, from the present total of 297 to more than 450," she said. "The machines will be progressive — from 5 cents to $1 — and 'loose' meaning they will generate bigger and better paybacks."

For the first time, the Casino now will offer short-order food service and a separate dining facility.

In addition, the front portion of the existing Casino is undergoing a facelift that includes carpeting, wallpaper, a new coat-check area, and a redesigned heating-air conditioning-smoke removal system.

Already in place, according to Swiney, are electrical outlets in the Casino parking lot for recreational vehicle hook-ups.

Menominee Nation Casino, located on State Highways 47 and 55 just north of Shawano, Wis., is Wisconsin's first Las Vegas-style casino, offering Blackjack, Slot Machines, Pull Tabs, and Video Reel Machines.

The Casino is open every day of the week — 24 hours a day on weekends, beginning at 1 p.m. Friday. Sunday through Thursday, the Casino is open from 1 p.m. until 2 a.m.

Menominee Nation Casino is located near the shores of the picturesque Wolf River, one of north central Wisconsin's favorite vacation areas. Bus tour groups and fans of fast-paced casino action are always welcome, Swiney said. For more information on Casino activities, call 1-800-236-IWIN (4946).

Tom Strachota, Executive Vice-President for Dairyland Seed Co., Inc. recently announced that it will introduce five new DSR soybean varieties for 1992. These new soybeans cover maturity range O+ through III. In Group O+ maturity, Dairyland is introducing DSR-088. DSR-088 features terrific yield — over 3 bushels per acre better than Dassel. This product has excellent lodging resistance, very good tolerance to iron chlorosis and excellent white mold tolerance. For the Group II- maturity, Dairyland has released DSR-217. DSR-217 will give you excellent, consistent yields. It carries excellent lodging resistance as well as very good tolerance to phytophthora root rot and brown stem rot. Also released in the Group II maturity is DSR-263 (Group II+). DSR-263 brand combines the yield of DSR-262 and the standability of DSR-288. This combination provides you with an excellent package that also features excellent brown stem rot resistance and emergence. A second edition to the Group II+ lineup is DSR-288. This variety features excellent standability. Yields comparable to DSR-262 in research trials. DSR-288 features excellent

MARCOE'S RECYCLING

Dear Dr. Sylvia,

My son has been begging to have a television in his room. We just got a new TV for our living room and now have a spare one we could give him. My husband doesn't like the idea because he's afraid he will watch too much. I think it would be good to let him choose his own programs, but I'm not sure. What do you think? He's a good kid.

Mom, Trying to be Fair

Dear Too Fair Mom,

I don't believe children or teenagers should have TVs in their rooms for multiple reasons. As a matter of fact, I feel so strongly about that issue that I wish all teenage in-room televisions would self-destruct immediately. You might even help that to happen. Television, at best, can be a nice family activity which includes some interludes for family laughter and conversation. Sometimes, parent interpretation or discussion is even appropriate. Certainly, television can be shared entertainment.

Bedroom television isolates adolescents from their families. It distracts children from homework, hobbies and books. Most seriously, by high school age, if often becomes a sleep robber. Kids often tune into nighttime talk shows or films and spend important rest time watching absorbing programs which add little to their well-being but leave them sleep-deprived and drowsy. They easily become "hooked" on nighttime television and quickly assume that they are "night people." Their biological rhythms change to fit their habit, and rising for school becomes more difficult. Dozing at their desk or staring dazed out the window become their school routines. Daytime alertness becomes part of the past. They watch television while the world sleeps and sleep while their fellow students learn.

Mom, I hope I have convinced you that while it may feel fair to give your son his own television since he is a "good kid," that it is a risky plan. Even if he wished to earn the money for his own television, I don't believe he should be allowed to keep it in his room. I can be convinced about playroom, family room, kitchen, or adult bedroom, but absolutely not about children's or adolescent's bedrooms. I vote for destroying a television rather than risking destroying your child. As to your husband's instincts about the issue, give him a hug and congratulate him on his good advice.

How did New York's Coney Island get its name? In early days it was overrun with rabbits. One of the earlier words for rabbit is coney.

Deer Season Extended Through Dec. 8 In 72 Deer Management Units

MADISON, WI — Following what is being called by many the worst deer season opening ever, Wisconsin's 1991 gun deer season will be extended one week throughout much of the state, Department of Natural Resources Secretary C.D. "Buzz" Besadny announced today.

After last weekend's blizzard reduced opening weekend deer registrations as much as 50 percent or more in areas hardest hit by the storm, Besadny said it was necessary to extend the season to reduce Wisconsin's large deer herd.

The extended gun deer season will run from Monday, Dec. 2 through Sunday, Dec. 8 in 72 deer management units running from southwest Wisconsin to the northeast corner of the state (see the attached map). In addition to having their harvest decreased with the weather, most units included in the extended season also have deer populations 20 percent or more above overwinter population goals established by the department.

The extended season is essentially "just a continuation of our regular gun season," according to Bill Ishmael, DNR deer, bear and furbearer specialist. "Except for the River Block Units — 61, 59D, 74A, 74B — which is antlerless only, the rest of the units in the extended season will have buck hunting and antlerless deer hunting."

The following rules apply to the extended gun deer season running from Dec. 2 through Dec. 8:

* The extended season is ONLY open in 72 management units

(see the map);

* Only antlerless deer may be taken in the Mississippi River Block units 61, 59D, 74A and 74B. Hunters do NOT need a Hunter's Choice or Bonus permit to hunt antlerless deer in these four units.

* Buck hunting is allowed in the remaining 68 deer management units. In addition, only those Hunter's Choice and Bonus permits ISSUED FOR THESE UNITS may be used to take an antlerless deer during the extended season. Hunters with unused Hunter's Choice or Bonus permits for units not included in the extended season may NOT use these permits to take a deer in an extended unit.

* The muzzleloader season will be held as planned on Dec. 2-8, and will run concurrent with the extended season. One change for muzzleloaders: hunters WILL be able to harvest an antlered deer if they are hunting in a unit included in the extended season.

* Deer hunting will NOT be allowed in state parks during the extended season.

* Raccoon hunting at night will be allowed.

* Bow deer hunters are reminded that they must wear blaze orange clothing Dec. 7-8.

* All other gun deer hunting regulations apply.

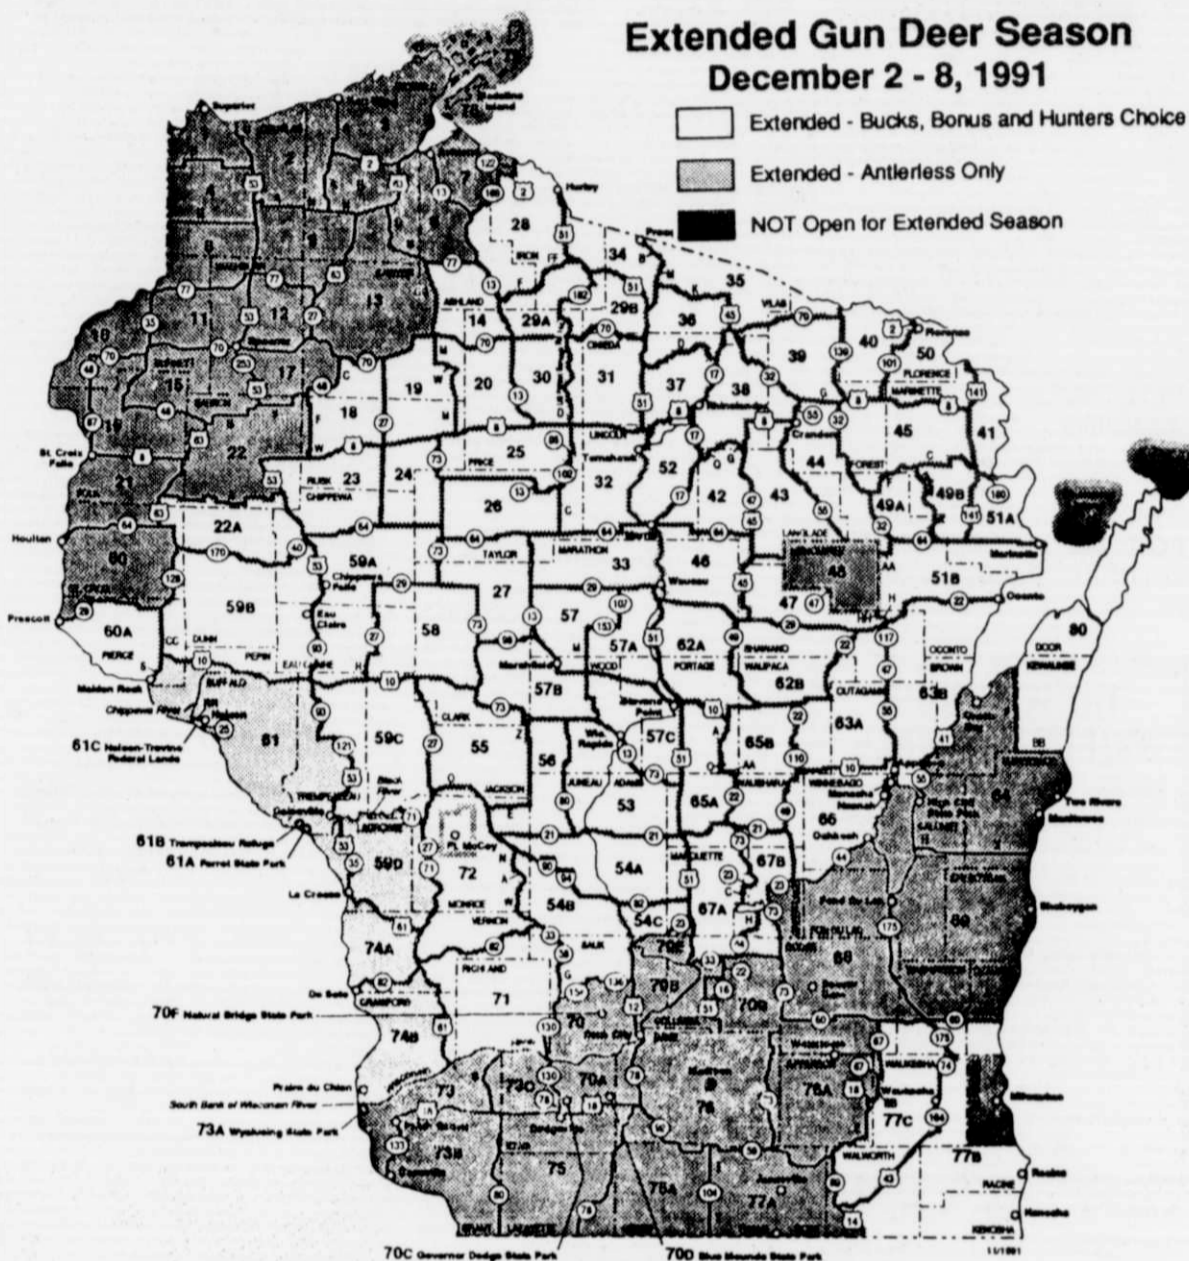

Wisconsin's deer population statewide was estimated to be approximately 1.35 million previous to the start of the fall hunting season. Ishmael said that under ideal conditions hunters might have harvested 380,000 deer during the gun deer season this year. However, due to poor opening weekend hunting conditions and the forecasts for continuing bad weather this week,

Ishmael believes that the snow-affected areas would fall far short of harvest objectives. He said the extended season is being implemented to help increase harvests in these areas.

For more information contact: Bill Ishmael — 608-266-2194.

Hunting in state parks NOT open during extended season.

Road Hunting, Uncased Guns Top The List of Deer Hunting Violations

The traditional image of a deer hunting violator as a backwoods deer shiner with a barn full of venison doesn't square with the facts, according to law enforcement officials with the Department of Natural Resources.

These days, the typical violator who runs afoul of state conservation laws is likely to be a hunter with either an uncased gun in the back seat, an untagged deer, or an extra deer tag "borrowed" from a friend.

Conservation law violations involving road hunting and transporting guns in vehicles accounted for half of the 2,050 arrests made statewide by Wisconsin conservation wardens during the 1990 firearm season for deer, according to Larry Kriese, warden supervisor for the DNR's Lake Michigan District.

Records from the DNR's Bureau of Law Enforcement show that conservation wardens made 1,030 arrests for illegal firearms transportation and violations related to road hunting during the first nine days of the 1990 gun season, said Kriese.

The arrests were on such charges as transporting uncased or loaded guns in vehicles, hunting or shooting within 50 feet of a paved road, discharging firearms from or across highways, shooting from vehicles, and carrying a loaded gun on an all-terrain vehicle. All are violations of state statutes.

"The accident potential of having a loaded gun in a car is obvious, and road hunting is the number one source of conflicts between hunters and landowners," Kriese said. "Almost half of the complaints we receive from landowners are about road hunting, and we know these conflicts lead to more posting of private land."

The next largest class of deer season violations concerned misuse of licenses or tags. Wardens issued 429 citations, about 20 percent of the total, for these offenses during the 1990 gun season.

Kriese said 143 hunters statewide were cited for failure to validate the carcass tag as soon as the deer was shot. Many other citations were issued for group hunting violations and the practice of loaning or borrowing deer tags.

"More than 698,000 people hunted during the 1990 gun deer season, and the vast majority of them were law-abiding," Kriese said. "But a thousand or more road hunters can make a bad impression that's way out of proportion to their numbers."

"It's strange that in a state with a surplus of deer, there are still some hunters who try to beat the system and break the most obvious rules," added Kriese. "The fact is that every hunter who is patient and makes an effort has an excellent chance to take a deer in Wisconsin."

Deer Harvest Down 50% In Some Areas of State

MADISON, WI — Miserable weather over the weekend caused deer registrations from the opening two days of Wisconsin's 1991 gun deer season to be down 50 percent or more in some areas of the state compared to last season, according to registration totals compiled by Department of Natural Resources wildlife officials.

Northwest Wisconsin was the only area of the state to report an increase in opening weekend deer registrations. The 12-county Northwest District reported registrations totalling 30,278 deer, which was up almost 11 percent from the 27,326 deer registered last year.

"The buck harvest is down in every county in the northwest, though," reports Jim Bishop, DNR information officer, Spooner. "Hunters appear to be taking advantage of the Bonus (antlerless) permits."

Bishop said that the winter storm dropped from 8-14 inches of snow in some parts of the northwest, slowing deer movement and thwarting hunter efforts. In those areas of the northwest with heavy, wet snow, deer registrations were down; however, in other areas with little snow the deer registrations were up.

Opening weekend registrations in other areas of the state were down compared to last year.

* In the DNR's 10-county North Central District, registrations totalled 14,694 deer, down 53 percent from 1990's 30,987 opening weekend total. Registrations in the district's Woodruff Area were 4,426 (8,064 in 1990) the Antigo Area had 3,643 (10,838 in '90), and the Wisconsin Rapids Area had 6,625 (12,095 in '90).

The northeast corner of Wisconsin saw a decrease of 35 percent in deer registrations. The 14-county Lake Michigan District had 22,141 deer registered over the weekend, down substantially from the 34,344 deer registered in 1990. Registrations in Marinette County, which last year led all other counties on opening weekend with 7,578 registrations, saw its total drop 44 percent to 4,249.

The western region of the state also saw large drops in the number of deer registered on the opening weekend. Registrations in the department's Western District fell 41 percent to 26,527 from 1990's 45,343 total. Registrations in the Eau Claire Area were down 25 percent to 8,962 (12,076 in 1990), the Black River Falls Area was down 45 percent to 10,998 (20,056 in '90), and the La Crosse Area was down 50 percent to 6,567 (13,209 in '90).

Southern and southwestern Wisconsin saw opening weekend registrations fall 23 percent compared to 1990. The DNR's Southern District deer registrations totalled 23,692, down from 30,660 deer registered last year.

Registrations in the Southeast District were 793, down from 1990's opening weekend total of 2,181.

Indians 4th In Own Invite

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Home court usually means a big advantage, but the home cooking wasn't enough for the Kewaskum girls basketball team, which ended up taking fourth place in the Indian Invitational held, here, last Friday and Saturday.

The Indians opened up against St. Mary's Springs of Fond du Lac on Friday night, and the Ledgers got off to a quick start and then held off Kewaskum in the closing minutes to win 58-50.

That sent the Indians into the consolation game on Saturday, where they met perennial rival Campbellsport. The Cougars also got in front early in the contest, and took advantage of poor shooting by the Indians to win 42-32.

Against St. Mary's Springs, the Ledgers' Michelle Guse got the visitors going in the opening period, hitting three 3-pointers to help Springs to up 19-11.

"We did not start out very strong," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said. "They caught us in a poor defense. We came out in a passive press, and that fell right into their hands because they're a good passing team."

Springs stretched the lead to 34-21 at the half, and it looked as if the game would turn into a blowout, as the Ledgers went on a 7-4 run to start the final period, giving them a 51-35 cushion.

But the Indians chipped away at the lead, cutting the deficit to just seven late, but that's as close as they'd come, even though Springs had its trouble at the foul line, making just five of 19 tries. The Indians weren't any better however, as they missed 16 of their 21 attempts.

"Defensively, almost everyone did a nice job in the second half," Eichstedt went on. "We played much better in the second half. We narrowed it down a couple of times, but we just weren't able to get over the hump."

Bonnie Schlice led the Indians, connecting on three 3-pointers, for a total of nine points. Debbie Steger was next with eight, while Christa Fleischman added seven. Guse finished with 24 to lead all scorers.

So the best the Indians could hope for was third, as they then set their sights on the Cougars, who had lost to Cedar Grove on Friday night, 46-35. Once again it was a couple of three-pointers, this time by Campbellsport's Michelle Majerus, that put the Indians behind early.

Down 10-6 after one quarter, the Indians went stone cold from the field in the second, as the Cougars widened their lead to as many as nine points, before settling for a 20-14 lead at the half.

"We came out flat once again," Eichstedt responded. "We didn't play with the defensive intensity that we should have."

Plus, we shot terribly. We just were not able to stick the ball in the hole," he said, noting that the Indians had 15 more offensive rebounds than the Cougars, yet had less second-chance points.

The poor shooting continued in the second half for the Indians. They did cut the deficit to four at one point in the third quarter, but were never a threat after. For the evening the Indians connected on just 12 of 73 shots from the floor, which equates to a pathetic 17 percent.

"We played pretty well defensively, holding them to 42 points," Eichstedt continued. "But we just couldn't get anything going offensively."

"We're trying some new offensive schemes this year," Eichstedt pointed out. "It's taking some time for the girls to learn the flow of the offense, and get comfortable out there."

Robyn Winninghoff led the Indians with eight points, while Schlice added six. Jodi Klotz paced Campbellsport with 14 points, while Majerus finished with 10.

Cedar Grove went on to win the Invitational with a rather convincing 78-58 win over St. Mary's Springs in the championship game.

The losses gave the Indians a 1-2 mark on the year.

UWWC MEN LOSE TO ROCK

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND - By the looks of the final score, the new defense that the UW-Washington County men's basketball team tried against UW-Rock County was not a success.

Still, UWWC coach Tom Brigham was not entirely disappointed with his team's 109-67 loss to Rock, the defending Wisconsin Collegiate Conference and state champs.

"We did some things well once again, but we still have a long way to go," Brigham said of the loss, which dropped the Wildcats' record to 1-2 on the season.

The story of the game was shooting. Rock shot an impressive 53 percent for the game, compared to the Wildcats' 34 percent. In addition, UWWC made just 16 of 30 free throw attempts, for only 53 percent.

That allowed Rock to jump out to a comfortable 42-12 lead just midway through the first half, but the Wildcat defense tightened thereafter, holding Rock scoreless for seven minutes, and cutting the halftime deficit to 44-27.

Indian JV'S Place Third

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — It was an action-packed weekend for the Kewaskum girls JV basketball team in the Indian Invitational held here.

The Indians worked overtime in their opening contest, double overtime in fact, before coming up on the short end of a 50-45 decision against St. Mary's Springs Fond du Lac.

"I was a little disappointed in the way we played in the first half," JV coach Keith Amundson said about this team's play against the Ledgers. "But we picked up the pace in the second half and came back nicely."

They came back enough to send the game into overtime, and then seemed to have the game won in the first overtime. But the Ledgers tied the game with a three-pointer in the final :14 of play in the first OT period, sending the game to a second extra session. "We had it won, but they just outplayed us in the second overtime," Amundson added.

Amundson got balanced scoring from Tricia Butschlick, Alison Bruendl and Missy Radtke, who all chipped in nine points in the losing effort.

The loss sent the Indians into the consolation game against Cedar Grove, which was beaten by Campbellsport in their first-round game. The Indians, despite being shorthanded for the game, came out on top 36-34, to take third place.

"We only had seven players for the game...actually six and a half," Amundson said, pointing out that one of his players was nursing an injury and wasn't up to par. "They just did a great job."

Butschlick once again led the Indians, this time chipping in a game-high 16 points. "She had a real good game," the JV boss went on to say. "Just about everything she threw up went in the basket."

The win was the first of the season for the JV's, upping their record to 1-2.

The new defense, similar to the one employed by UW-Green Bay coach Dick Bennett, "is a stop the ball, help and recover" type of defense, according to Brigham. And, for being the first game in which the Wildcats used the new defense, "we did a decent job."

It wouldn't appear that way considering Rock broke the century mark, but one has to understand that Rock came into the game averaging over 100 points, using a 'run and shoot' type of offense. "They shoot within seven seconds every time down the court," explained Brigham.

The beneficiary of the fast break offense was Tracey Wilde. Nine different times the Rock players kicked the ball out to Wilde for three-point shots, as Wilde rolled up 34 points in all. Matt Simonsen also added 23 for Rock.

For the Wildcats, Terry Howell led all scorers with 18 points. "He did a nice job," Brigham said of the Wildcat captain, who also contributed six steals. Dave Swanson also hit double figures, scoring 13.

Wildcat Women Beat Sheboygan

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — Cutting down on turnovers and getting efforts out of each individual were the goals of the UWWC women's basketball team in their second game of the year against UW-Sheboygan here, last Tuesday, and the Wildcats were successful in each goal.

The result was the Wildcat's first win of the young season, a 63-50 decision over a much bigger Sheboygan squad. The win evened UWWC's record at 1-1.

"It was just a real team effort," Wildcat coach Debbie Butschlick said of the victory, the first of her head coaching career. "Everybody played a real active role in the win."

Jenny Meyer paced the Wildcats, collecting 23 points on 10 x 19 shooting. Meyer also added nine rebounds to her effort. Michelle Kraus contributed 18 points, while Kelly Rohlinger grabbed nine rebounds, and Judy Rosenthal added four steals and three assists.

"We cut down big on our turnovers," Butschlick added, noting that the Wildcats had just six, compared to 28 positive points, including steals and assists. UWWC ended up shooting just over 40 percent from the field for the game, and led 30-21 at the half.

Butschlick was also pleased to see that her team held its own on the boards. "They were very, very tall. Their center and two starting forwards were bigger than our tallest girl."

Great Milwaukee Open Judo Championships

The Great Milwaukee Open Judo Championships were held this past weekend at the Holiday Inn south West Bend. Judo Coaches Jon Sanfilippo, Joseph Sanfilippo and Ronald Rodamer traveled with the West Bend judo Club tournament team to the event. A total of 115 Judoka from Wisconsin, Indiana, and Illinois, including eight West Benders, competed in the tournament.

Jessica and Jennifer Sanfilippo entered the girls eight year old division. Jessica won 1st place with Ippon (full point) mat hold wins and Jennifer placed 4th.

Winning 1st place in the girls ten year old division was Shrine Kline with an Ippon mat hold win in the championship match against national champion Kelly Perner of Judo Inc., Milwaukee.

Kerri Sanfilippo competed in her first senior womens' division in the light weight class. She captured 2nd place with her only loss to Lori Cook from IN.

The boys 13-14 year old division saw Rick Hanson and Casey Kline participate. Rich captured 3rd place in the division with a win over his team mate Casey.

Ryan Boerner - Bolling fought in the boys 15 year old division and captured a 3rd place finish.

The senior boys division saw Nick Nordquist place 2nd. His final match was with Charles Cook of IN. Nick gave up over a 20 lb. advantage to Cook, but still beat him with an Ippon back throw.

In other club news senior Judo belt promotions were awarded as follows: Keith Darmody - Black Belt, 1st Degree - Shodan; Barry Bertram - Brown Belt, 1st Degree - Ikkyu; Joshua Kesting - Brown Belt, 1st Degree - Ikkyu.

Kerri Sanfilippo - Brown Belt, 1st Degree - Ikkyu; Nick Nordquist - Brown Belt, 1st Degree - Ikkyu; Robert Laduha - Brown Belt, 3rd Degree - Sankyū.

Indian Girls Down Slinger in Opener

By Statesman Staff Writer

The Indians made just 15 shots from the floor in the game, yet it was enough to down the Owls, 36-25, in the first game for both teams this year.

"We didn't shoot very well," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the effort against the Owls. "But we took advantage of some second shot opportunities, and in general, we played pretty consistently defensively."

That for the most part was the reason that the Indians never trailed in the contest, and were tied just once. After the Indians had staked claim to a 9-4 lead after one quarter of play, Slinger went on a 6-1 run to tie things at 10-apiece, midway through the second.

But the Indians came right back to reclaim the lead, and stretched the margin to four, at 18-14 by halftime. The Indians then put the game away in the third, outscoring the Owls 13-7, to go up by ten heading into the final stanza.

"I was waiting for a run to get us ahead comfortably," Eichstedt went on to say. "But it never really happened."

The Indians, playing without their only letterwinner, Terry Vogt, was led by Robyn Winningshoff, who tallied 11 points. Tammy Schmidt added nine.

"She had an outstanding game overall, both offensively and defensively," Eichstedt said of Schmidt, who also hauled down 12 rebounds in the contest. Winningshoff led the team with 14 boards.

Nicki Parentice led Slinger with six points.

Frosh, JV Girls Split Against Owls

By Statesman Sports Writer
KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum girls freshman and JV basketball teams started out and finished on different ends of the spectrum here, last Tuesday night against Slinger in the season opener for both teams.

The Indian JV squad got off to a good start, but then were plagued by foul trouble and ended up on the losing end of a 41-26 score.

"We started out real well," JV coach Keith Amundson said of the effort against the Owls, which saw the Indians up by as many as six in the first period. "I think we just ran out of steam."

The JV's were paced by Tricia Butschlick and Missy Radtke scored, as they tallied 11 and 7 points each. Those two, along with Alison Bruendl and Jenny Kreuser "did a nice job," according to Amundson.

The Indian freshman, meanwhile, found themselves down after one quarter, but then kicked it into gear and came away

Indian Boys Open Thursday

By Statesman Sports Writer
KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum boys basketball team will use a little bit of home cooking to get their season started on the right track. The Indians open the season with three straight home contests, the first being this Thursday against rival Campbellsport.

Thursday's action gets underway with the JV and freshman tilts at 6:15 p.m., while the varsity follows immediately after.

The Indians will then play host to another annual rival, old Scenic Moraine Conference foe Slinger on Saturday night. The JV game once again gets things started at 6:15, while there will be no freshman game.

Ozaukee will then roll into town on Tuesday, with all three Indian teams taking part once again. A complete season preview on the Indian boys will appear next week.
