Memorial Day Parade, Ceremony Here Monday

On Monday, May 25, the Robert G. Romaine Post No. 384 of the American Legion will hold their annual Memorial Day Parade. The parade to honor those who gave their all will be held at 9 a.m. beginning at the Kewaskum High School and proceeding to the American Legion on Fond du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum. A short memorial service will be held there.

All Legionnaires, Fire Department members, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H youth groups, etc. are invited to march in the parade. Participants are asked to meet in front of the Kewaskum High School at 8:45 a.m.

The parade route is from the high school to Third Street, south along Parkview to Main Street, west on Main to Fond du Lac Avenue and north to the Legion grounds, where the ceremony will then be held.

In case of rain, the program will be held in the high school auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Marching groups will assemble in the halls and march into the auditorium.

The Memorial Day address will be delivered by Sergeant Major Michael Livingston.

Livingston joined the Army in July, 1970, and trained as an Avionics Mechanic. He served in Vietnam from 1971-72, and flew as an observer on light observation helicopters.

SGM Livingston received additional training as an air traffic control equipment repairman, and served as a Navigational Aids Repair Chief and Platoon Sergeant.

He was selected by the Dept. of the Army to serve as a Recruiter in 1979. He recruited in Sacramento, CA, and commanded a recruiting station in Modesto, CA, becoming the First Sergeant of the most successful Recruiting Company of the western states.

Promoted to Sergeant Major in July 1990, he assumed the duties as Sergeant Major of the Milwaukee Army Recruiting Battalion in August 1990. He is a graduate of class 33, United States Army Sergeant's Major Academy.

His decorations include the Meritorious Service Medal with oak leaf cluster, Army Commendation Medal with two oak leaf clusters, the Army Achievement Medal, the Good Conduct Medal 7th Award, the National Defense Service Medal with two campaign Stars and the Vietnam Campaign

Memorial Day Has Deeper Meaning For Those Who Suffered Losses

JAMES W. MANTHEI
Born May 23, 1950
Died March 21, 1971

By Kate Gauvin

Squinty and Annie Manthei used to observe Memorial Day the way most of us do. It was just a day off from work, a time to attend a parade or go to a picnic, a holiday heralding the unofficial beginning of summer. Today, the Mantheis see Memorial Day as a reminder of the tragic loss of their son, James, in the Vietnam War.

Rather than parades, cookouts and relaxation, the holiday has become a time for tears, grief and the reopening of a wound that, while 21 years old, is still as painful as ever.

James Manthei was born and raised in Kewaskum. A friendly, outgoing young man, he was involved in football and band while attending Kewaskum High School.

"He was gutsy," remembers Squinty. "In his grade there were some rough characters and they all hung together. There was one kid that was a little different and the kids would pick on him. But James would stick up for him and help him along a little bit. He was the kind of kid you couldn't get mad at, and if you did, you couldn't stay mad."

After graduating from high school in 1968, Manthei spent a short time working in a service station, then went on to attend a computer school in Milwaukee. It was this training in the field of computers that first caught the eye of an army recruiting officer.

"He found out he had gone to computer school," says Squinty, "and they needed computer operators in the service. But he didn't want that. He wanted to learn to fly helicopters. The recruiting officer decided to take him anyway, thinking he'd probably wash out with the helicopters and they'd have him there for running the computers. But he didn't wash out. I wish he would have."

While terribly frightened by the prospect of their son fighting in a war, the Mantheis decided to let James do what he wanted to do.

"I thought 'he knows what he's getting into. If you stop him, someday he may regret it and blame you.' So we let him go and just hoped."

But all the hoping just wasn't enough. A little over three weeks after arriving in Laos, Manthei, by then a helicopter pilot, was hit by a missile and killed. He was just two months from his twenty-first birthday. The news was absolutely devastating to the Manthei family, who were not even used to the idea their son was fighting in the war, much less that he would never return.

"We wanted him to go into the computers and then, when his time was up, he could re-enlist and go into the helicopters. By then the war would've been over," says Squinty, his eyes filling with tears. "But he just wouldn't listen."

Manthei was given a military funeral. The Army supplied

Sewer, Water Improvements for Edgewood Road North Firm Hired to do Archaeological Study on Cemeteries

By Gerry Mueller
Statesman Staff Writer

In its regularly scheduled meeting, following a special meeting Monday night, the Kewaskum Village Board unanimously voted to hire a company to do an archaeological study of the southern edges of the Holy Trinity and St. Lucas Cemeteries on East Main Street. The study will determine whether or not there may be some unknown, unmarked gravesite in the path of the sidewalk construction proposed for that area.

B-Z Engineering, Inc., of West Allis, has been hired to do the study at a cost of $2,516.00. The investigation is expected to be done within the next month.

In discussing the issue, Trustee Gary Gavin questioned how the firm could find out if there are graves in the area. The village's engineer said by removing some top soil, the company can tell by ground impressions whether or not there is a gravesite.

If the village decides to proceed with the sidewalk project, the cost of the investigation will be divided between the two churches as part of the sidewalk construction costs.

In other action the board approved special assessments for sewer, water, curb and gutter and other related work for the Edgewood Road area, north of Knights Avenue.

The job was awarded to Mueller Excavating at a cost of approximately $16,175. Of that cost, $16,000 is assessable to the three parties involved, the village, property owners Robert Kirst and James Wessing. Work should begin within the next two weeks, with completion by the first part of July.

Public Works Director Jerry Gilles informed the board that the new sun shelter at the Kiwanis Park pool has been completed and will be available for use when the pool is officially opened for the summer.

In other DPW business, Administrator Dan Schmidt advised the board that the Zahn's transfer station, to which the village has been hauling its garbage, has been closed. Schmidt said Zahn's has merged with Hechimovich and the village now has to transport its refuse to their transfer station on North River Road, in West Bend. He also noted that Lynn's Recycling will become a part of the same operation.

For the near future, Schmidt indicated he did not expect any changes in dump charges.

In final action, the board approved the sale of another multi-family lot in the Wildlife Drive area (the former industrial park), to Michael Johnson.

The board then adjourned to closed session.

Student Council Hosts Seniors

On Sunday, afternoon, May 17, the Kewaskum High School Student Council hosted a dinner and Bingo for area Senior Citizens.

The dinner began at 12:00 noon and had many dishes prepared by students - (or maybe their moms). Approximately forty guests and thirteen students enjoyed a fun afternoon and great meal.

The Student Council would like to thank all of the Senior Citizens who attended this event and also thank the Kiwanis Club for helping with the Bingo prizes. More get-togethers such as this are being planned for next year and the council members hope to see more people at upcoming events. If any senior citizen would like to be included on our mailing list, please contact the Kewaskum High School and leave your name and address.

Booster Club to Host Professional Wrestling Tour Saturday

The Kewaskum Indians Booster Club is bringing professional wrestling to Kewaskum High School! The organization is bringing the superstars of Nu-Age Championship Wrestling to town Saturday, May 30 at 1:00 p.m. as part of the 1992 Nu-American Wrestling Tour.

The 5-bout card, scheduled as the "PowerSlam Spectacular", will be high-lighted by a defense of the Nu-Age Heavyweight Championship. The title holder is Tony the Annihilator, a 300-pound powerhouse who will be defending his title against a mysterious masked "assassin", The Slayer. This 340-pound behemoth will be seconded by longtime Annihilator nemesis the Cobra.

Other matches will feature the Cobra and his "Vipers", who will square off against Duke Apollo, Brett Striker and a mysterious partner. Pvt. Moondog will meet Mr. Dynamic. Lady wrestling sensation Stephanie Starr will be featured on the card as well. Her opponent will be determined at a later date. Also appearing at the PowerSlam will be the enforcer of law and order, Boss Hoss, the senior official of Nu-Age Wrestling.

Tickets are $5.00 for children 12 and under in advance, $6.00 at the door. Adult tickets are $7.00 in advance, $9.00 at the door. All tickets can be purchased at Kewaskum High School, Amerahn's, Buffy Village Inn, Sentry Foods, Team Video, Video Post all in Kewaskum, or at Kerry's Korner in Boltonville. For more information contact Dave Rizzardi or Larry Ammel at the high school at 626-2166 or call Nu-Age Wrestling at (414) 766-2768.

Early Deadline Next Week

Due to the Memorial Day holiday next week, news and ad copy must be in our office by 5 p.m. Friday, May 22 if you want to be in next week's issue.

As our recent policy mandates, any ad copy that is not camera ready turned in after the deadline is subject to a late fee of 25c additional cost per column inch.

Thank you for your cooperation. Have a safe and Happy Memorial Day.

Losses

everything. "All we could do was sit and cry," whispers Squinty.

Today, twenty-one Memorial Days later, it would seem that the agony over the loss of their son would have given way to a calmer, more subdued emotion. Not so.

"That's a hurt that never goes away," says Squinty. "You'll be doing fine and all of a sudden something will bring it up again, like Memorial Day. The pain is just as hard to take as ever."

No doubt this Memorial Day will prove no different for the Mantheis.

Maybe we can learn from the hurt and sorrow families like the Mantheis feel on this holiday. Memorial Day is not just a day filled with picnics, parades and shallow displays of patriotism. It is a day set aside for all of us to pay our respects, not only to those who have died, but to the families who continue to live with this great loss.

It is a time to think of people like Squinty and Annie Manthei, and to be thankful that our Memorial Day is not wracked with pain as it is for them. It is a time to think about where we've come from and who has gotten us to where we are today. But, most of all, it is a time to remember...

"Memorial Day is something you look forward to," says Squinty, "until you lose someone. Then you hurt. You remember... and you hurt."

Isabelle Muckerheide supplies us with yet another postcard from the past, this time from 1912, entitled Decoration Day. Pictured is a Veteran paying tribute to the memory of our soldiers.

Cemeteries Sidewalk Meeting Draws Full House

By Gerry Mueller
Statesman Staff Writer

Interested citizens and congregation members from two village churches, Holy Trinity Catholic Church and St. Lucas Lutheran Church, attended Monday night's special meeting of the Kewaskum Village Board. The informational meeting was held to discuss the village's plans to install sidewalks adjacent to the two churches' cemeteries on Main Street at the east edge of the village.

At previous meetings, some concern was expressed that unknown grave sites could be disturbed by the construction of a sidewalk along the southern edges of the cemeteries which come almost to the roadway. Because of the possibility of there being missing or incomplete grave records, there is no accurate way to determine if there are gravesites in the way of the proposed sidewalk.

A petition of interest, signed by citizens, was submitted to the State Historical Society. Village Administrator Dan Schmidt noted he felt fairly certain that no graves would be found. But, to avoid problems, the board indicated it would hire a firm to do an investigation of the areas.

If graves are found, the archaeological study firm, in conjunction with the State Historical Society, will determine what action should be taken. The information would then be passed on to the Village Board.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all the members of the faculty and this community for their kind thoughts wishing me well in my retirement. I know I will miss the pleasure of working with the students and the joy of seeing their progress and development. Thanks to all who have helped me and supported education in Kewaskum for the last 34 years.

WISCONSIN TRAVEL FACTS

One-third of the nation's anglers (15 million) reside or recreate in the Great Lakes Basin. Nearly 4 million of them fish the Great Lakes. The region includes more than 3.5 million registered boats, of which 461,000 are registered in Wisconsin.

California's redwoods are the world's tallest trees, towering more than 360 feet.

Gosa, Schill Honored by Kohl Foundation

A banquet to honor the achievements of northeast Wisconsin students and teachers was held Sunday, May 17th, at St. Bernadette School in Appleton, according to the Herb Kohl Foundation.

Area students honored included Rachel Gosa of Kewaskum High School and Rebecca Schill of Campbellsport High School.

In March, the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and the Kohl Foundation announced the recipients of the scholarships and fellowships. The banquet recognized and honored the achievements of the area's outstanding educators, schools and students.

The Kohl Foundation Scholarship Program was established in January, 1990 by Esther Kohl to honor Wisconsin students who have demonstrated academic potential, outstanding leadership, citizenship, community service, integrity and other special talents to help them pursue postsecondary studies.

The Kohl Teacher Fellowship rewards teachers who have demonstrated superior ability to inspire love of learning in their students, have motivated others and have provided meritorious service both inside and outside of the classroom.

Makes the Herb Kohl Foundation grants to the postsecondary institutions the student will attend. Each teacher received a $1,000 fellowship and an additional $1,000 grant was awarded to the teacher's school for use in innovative educational projects.

In Honor Of Those Who Served

Thank you to all the service men and women who fought to secure our freedom and those who sacrificed their lives so that we could live in peace.

From 1935 thru 1946 the Erwin Kempf family operated and managed the factory for the Heberers. In late 1946 Mr. Heberer sold his New Fane and Cranberry Marsh businesses to the Memorial Day...

Veterans, America and the Flag are as one and on Memorial Day the entire Nation will honor and pay tribute to our Veterans and most especially to those who gave their all.

These young men and women had no chance to see what we have today. Their lives were snuffed out at an early age, but respect for them will live on forever. They unselfishly gave their lives for you... our country and our flag.

America is the land of the free... home of the brave only through blood, sweat and tears; triumphs, struggle and defeat. America is what it is today because of our veterans.

There are several ways you can give them thanks: respect and salute your flag; tell them personally or go to the church of your choice and give thanks for AMERICA, our FLAG and our VETERANS.

War Stories

HAPPY BIRTHDAY DAD!

John Karshen, a former resident of Kewaskum, now resides at Hope Nursing Home in Lomira.

By June Sandra Karshen

War stories. I was raised on them. Scrunching up my nose to oatmeal on a typical school day morning years ago, I can still recall my father's justifiable anger as he would begin what I callously believed to be rhetoric, "You know Sandy, when we were in (New) Guinea, we would have given anything to have..." And so the story went.

So when I decided to accompany Dad to his 45th reunion of the 11th Airborne Unit, I thought I had heard it all, or so I believed.

Arriving early, I watched as Dad's former comrades assembled, some recognizable, others forgotten as so many years had passed since Dad attended the last reunion, that being in 1950, five years after World War II had ended.

"Remember me, John?" exclaimed a gentleman, approaching us, walking with a discernable limp.

"Why, Silent Yokem! Where the hell have you been?" responded by father. "After I got back to the states, I tried to look you up, but I never had any luck."

"I've always had a non-published number, John. That's why."

Turning to me, Rudy

Kwiatkowski, alias Silent Yokem, said, "I owe a lot to your old man. If it hadn't been for him, I wouldn't be alive."

You see, when we were in Leyte, I smashed my knee and couldn't walk. Both the medics had just been shot down and everyone was movin', with all the bombing going on. Your dad stayed behind, refusing to leave me. I kept saying 'go on without me' and your father would't listen... he carried me out of there on his back."

"I didn't do it alone," interjected Dad, "one of the other guys helped me. We traded off. I could've never done it alone."

Speechless, I eventually managed to ask Dad why he never told me this particular story. "These kinds of stories are common. I wasn't the only one. We all helped each other out," was his reply.

For many, like my father and other veterans of past wars, there are no medals to proudly display. Sometimes the only reward for honor, courage, and humility seems to lie within, perhaps rising to the surface only when the grateful recipients of such acts choose to speak of them.

care at an affordable price is a problem that many working families face. The State of Wisconsin, in order to address these child care needs and strengthen existing services, will provide start-up and operational funds to establish Child Care Resource and Referral services in all Wisconsin counties by 1995. Currently 10 state designated CCRR's exist serving 13 counties.

CCRR's help strengthen and build upon existing child care delivery systems. Basic CCRR services help families find child care which meets their needs and helps them make informed child care decisions. It helps recruit new providers where needed and provides technical assistance to existing programs. It also collects data to help local decision makers in planning for child care.

The development funds require broad based community involvement at the local level to insure that the CCRR agency reflects the needs of their community.

School Board Student of the Month

By Gerry Mueller
 Statesman Staff Writer

Scott Wiesner, a senior, has been selected as the Board of Education's Student of the Month for April. Scott is the son of Alvin and Francis Wiesner of St. Kilian.

This semester Scott is taking Mass Media, General Physics, English Communications, Woods/Mass Production and Single Living.

Wiesner is also a four-year letter winner as a member of the Chess Team serving as secretary-treasurer last year and president this year. During the 1991-92 season, he earned the following honors: tied for first place on first board in the conference varsity honors; tied for first place on first board in the conference varsity tournament; the best varsity record and was chosen as the most valuable player on the team.

Scott's achievements are impressive because they show his determination and courage to maintain an active life as a member of the Kewaskum High School student population despite serious illness. Due to that illness, Scott has spent the last year and a half in a wheelchair, enduring significant pain. Not once has he ever complained or sought special favors or sought special favors. Scott's cheerful outlook and positive attitude have served as an example to his fellow students that adversity can also be opportunity.

As one of Wiesner's nominators states, "considering the cards Scott has been dealt, he has been a chess club member and has done much more than could be expected with the situation he has had to deal with."

Bicycle Safety Program June 6

All children in Kewaskum and the surrounding community are invited to participate in a Bicycle Safety Program at Kewaskum Middle School on Saturday, June 6th from 9 to 11 a.m. Children completing kindergarten through fifth grade as of June, 1992 may attend. The event will be co-sponsored by the Modern Woodmen of America, the Kewaskum Police Department and the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club.

Modern Woodmen of America sponsors these events to promote bicycle safety on a nation-wide basis. Bicycle riders will have their bicycles safety inspected and also be tested on their riding skills and safety knowledge.

The Bicycle Safety Program has been endorsed by law enforcement officers. Bicycles present a challenge to every community. Each year, thousands of children and adults are injured in accidents that could have been avoided if they would have kept their bikes in good running order, obeyed traffic laws and handled their bikes skillfully.

All participants will receive a Certificate of Participation, reflective decal, spoke reflector and a safety booklet. Additional prizes will also be given. Members of the Kewaskum Police Department and Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will administer the mechanical inspection, score the test for knowledge of traffic safety laws and basic bicycle safety, will judge and score the skill tests for riding.

This educational program is one of six sponsored by Modern Woodmen of America, a Fraternal Life Insurance Society with their home office in Rock Island, Illinois. The Bicycle Safety Program will be donated by Tim Reis, a local area representative of Modern Woodmen of America.

What's Going On at the Kewaskum Public Library?

PROGRAMMING

Nine children are attending the series of evening story sessions that began Wednesday, April 29. These sessions are sponsored jointly by the Kewaskum Public Library and the Kewaskum Junior Women. At the first session, the children enjoyed a surprise visit by Woodsy the Owl, who reinforced his message of "Give a Hoot, Don't Pollute!" At the second session, under the direction of Merilou Chambers, the children made their mothers teapot-shaped Mother's Day cards. Karen Kletti, Holly Knurr and Luci Bledsoe worked together to plan a variety of activities for the children. Louise Martin also helps out with the children.

SCHOOL VISITS

The school year is coming to a close. Mrs. Bledsoe, library director, would like to thank the following classes for coming so often to the library. Sister Janet has brought her fifth graders from Holy Trinity every Friday. They listened to book talks by Mrs. Bledsoe and learned how to use the card catalog.

The first grade class from St. Lucas, along with their teacher Mrs. Matthies, has come to the library every other Friday. They listen to a story and check out books. Mrs. Hoenecke has brought her kindergarten class for a monthly visit to the library. They listen to stories read by Mrs. Bledsoe, learn fingerplays from her, and share with her the fingerplays they learned at school. They also check out library books. In April, there were also visits from Tot Time and the My Little Friends Day Care Center. These children toured the library and listened to a story.

DONATIONS

The staff of the Kewaskum Library would like to thank the Kewaskum Education Association for their willingness to pay for the library card protectors. These card protectors are the small brown envelopes given to patrons to use for carrying their library cards. The library would also like to thank Bartelt Insurance for their donation to the summer library program.

SUMMER LIBRARY PROGRAM

Summer is coming! Mrs. Hlavaty and Mrs. Bledsoe have been hard at work planning activities for the 1992 summer library program. This year's theme is "Summer Quest," and the children will be urged to broaden their horizons by reading a variety of books. The program will run from June 22 to August 14, with registration to begin June 1. Area children, ages three and up to include those students just completing fifth grade, are invited to participate. Mondays will be preschool day with children ages 3 to 6 (including those just having completed kindergarten). Wednesday afternoon and Friday morning will be "school-age" days for those children who have completed kindergarten through fifth grade. More specific information will be released the end of May.

DON'T BE PUZZLED!

Area families are invited to participate in a "jigsaw puzzle" contest to be held in a few weeks. There will be a limit of four members per team; each team must have its members related to each other. Puzzles will be furnished and each team will "race" to complete their puzzle first. Look for more information in the weeks to come.

COULD YOU HELP?

Do you buy juice or milk in plastic containers? If so, could you save the caps? They come in a variety of colors and if enough are accumulated, they could be used with the summer library program.

SUMMER HOURS

Summer hours will begin the weekend of Memorial Day and will run through the weekend of Labor Day. During this time, the library will be open Mondays and Wednesdays, 8:45 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Fridays 8:30 to 5 p.m. The library will NOT be open on Saturdays during the summer.

Many Bicycle Crashes are Avoidable

It's Bicycle Safety Month, and Catherine Ratte, Wisconsin Department of Transportation's bicycle safety program manager, is urging parents to talk to their children about how to ride safely.

"Of the 12 people who died in bicycle-motor vehicle crashes in 1990, 10 were under the age of 14, and an additional 932 children were injured in bicycle crashes. Parents really need to talk through the different hazards their kids can face when they bike, and they should encourage their kids to wear a safety helmet every time they ride," Ratte said.

According to the Department of Transportation, four types of crashes account for the majority of bicycle crashes occurring in the Badger state.

MIDBLOCK RIDEOUT: Midblock rideout crashes account for 15% of all bicycle-motor vehicle collisions. A crash is classified as a "midblock rideout" when a bicyclist enters the street from a driveway, from an alley, or over a curb or shoulder without looking for oncoming traffic and collides with an approaching motor vehicle.

Nearly all midblock rideout crashes occur during daylight hours at a location near the bicyclist's home. Three of every four midblock rideout crashes involve children between the ages of 8 and 14.

Ratte says that bicyclists could prevent many midblock rideout crashes.

"The best way to avoid a midblock rideout crash is to come to a complete stop before entering a roadway from midblock. Look left, right, and left before entering the roadway. Motorists don't anticipate the sudden appearance of bicyclists, and they may not see you, even if you see them," Ratte said.

STOP SIGN RIDEOUT: About 10% of bike-auto crashes occur at two-way stop intersections when a bicyclist enters from a "signed" leg of the intersection and collides with a motor vehicle approaching from an uncontrolled leg of the intersection. While bicyclists of all ages are involved in stop sign rideout crashes, the vast majority, about 75%, are 14 years of age or younger.

In most cases, the bicyclist is at fault for failing to stop, to slow down, or to search for approaching traffic before entering the intersection.

"Bicyclists need to remember that signs and traffic signals apply to bikes, not just cars. Bicyclists should stop at intersections, check for approaching traffic, and remain stopped until they are sure that they can cross safely," Ratte emphasized.

UNEXPECTED BIKE LEFT TURN: Some bicyclists put themselves in harm's way when, while riding along the right-hand edge of the roadway and travelling in the same direction as motor vehicle traffic in the adjacent lane, they make a left hand turn without looking to the rear or signalling. As with midblock and stop sign rideout crashes, most of the bicyclists involved in this type of bike-motor vehicle collision are youths, between the ages of 8 and 14.

Over 8% of all bicycle-motor vehicle crashes are caused by unexpected bike left turns, and tragically they often result in very serious injury or death because of the relatively high vehicle speeds at impact.

"Bicyclists should not ever make left turns from the right edge of a roadway. To turn left, they should (1) check for traffic from behind by looking over their left shoulder, (2) clearly signal their intention to turn, (3) when it's clear, move into the left lane of traffic and make their turn from the left lane," Ratte said.

MOTORIST STOP AND GO: More than 17% of all non-fatal crashes occur at intersections when a motorist, after stopping at an intersection and searching the street for approaching traffic, proceeds into the intersection and does not see a bicyclist until it is too late to stop.

Both bicyclists and motorists can be at fault in motorist stop and go crashes:

"In some cases, motorist stop and go crashes occur because the bicyclist is going the wrong way (riding against traffic instead of travelling with the flow of traffic).

"Motorists may also fail to see a bicyclist entering the intersection from a sidewalk.

"In other cases, the motorist simply fails to check traffic adequately before entering the street intersection.

"Too often, bicyclists involved in motorist stop and go crashes report that they saw the motor vehicle soon enough to avoid the crash, but they proceeded on the assumption that they were seen by the motorist and that the motorist would remain stopped until they passed," Ratte said.

"Bicyclists should never assume anything. While bicyclists do have all the same rights and responsibilities as motor vehicle drivers, bicyclists are a lot more vulnerable in the event of a crash, and they've got to look out for their own safety," she added.

Use Caution Motorists: Deer Are On the Move This Time of Year

As the summer vacation season gets underway, motorists are warned to take extra precautions during the months of May and June for increased deer activity.

According to figures released by the state Department of Transportation, nearly 10 percent of all car-deer collisions occur during May, and nearly 10 percent occur during June. The highest numbers of car-deer collisions occur in October (15 percent) and November (25 percent) due to increased deer activities resulting from the rutting (mating) season. More than 30,000 deer were killed on Wisconsin's highways last year.

There are several reasons for the increase in car-deer collisions during the spring and early summer months.

According to Bill Ishmael, Department of Natural Resources deer, bear and furbearer ecologist, the white-tails' social behavior causes increased deer movements. Adult does about to give birth to this year's fawn crop become secretive and solitary, not wanting to attract any attention to their newborn fawns.

"Before adult deer give birth in the spring, they chase away their young from the previous year," Ishmael said. "Because this will be the first time many of these yearling deer have been separated from their mothers, they tend to wander widely. This spring dispersal results in an increased chance of accidents as they cross highways and move to new areas."

According to Ishmael, most deer in Wisconsin are born within about a two-week period during the last week in May and the first week in June, with Memorial Day being considered peak birthing time. Statistics show that many deer killed on Wisconsin's highways during this time are only one year old.

In addition, Ishmael points out that new spring plant growth also causes an increase in deer movements as deer move out into more open green areas. Roadside ditch and right-of-way often begin to green up more quickly than wooded areas and agricultural fields, drawing deer to these areas to feed on the succulent new grasses... and making them a dangerous traffic hazard.

Increased use of highways by motorists as the weather warms and the tourism business picks up also adds to the increase in car-deer collisions. Drivers should be alert for the presence of deer during all times of the day, but especially during evening and early morning hours and while driving in rural areas.

Ishmael offers these tips for motorists travelling in deer country:

- *Always wear your seat belt (it's Wisconsin law);
- *Keep your vehicle under control at all times. Swerving to avoid a collision may cause you to lose control or collide with another vehicle;

*Always be prepared to stop quickly if necessary;

*Remember that deer often travel in groups. Where there is one, there's likely to be more close by.

Insects Make Good Water Quality Indicators

Insects are helping assess the water quality of Wisconsin streams.

A biotic index developed by University of Wisconsin-Madison entomologist Bill Hilsenhoff enables state water resource specialists to monitor rivers and streams. The index is a measure of a stream's water quality based on the insects present there. Resource specialists in a number of other states are also using the index, which was first developed in the late 1970s.

"It's particularly useful for detecting non-point source pollution," says Hilsenhoff, an aquatic insect specialist in the College of Agricultural and Life Sciences.

To develop the biotic index, Hilsenhoff sampled insects in a number of Wisconsin streams and assigned each insect species a pollution tolerance value. Values range from 0 for insects found only in streams with very high water quality, to 10 for insects that thrive in severely polluted or disturbed streams. Most species fall in between those extremes.

Water quality specialists at the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources evaluate streams throughout the state using the biotic index, along with water chemistry tests and examination of fish populations and habitat.

"We use all the various tools to get a picture of the water quality of a stream, and the biotic index works into that scheme," says Joe Ball, a DNR water quality specialist.

"The nice thing about using insects is that they are in a stream for long periods of time and reflect its ups and downs," Ball adds.

Insect monitoring is essential for identifying streams and preparing environmental impact statements, Hilsenhoff notes. However, many aquatic insects in the larval stage have not been identified, and their distribution and abundance are poorly known.

"One of my goals is to ultimately be able to identify the larvae and adults of all species of aquatic insects in Wisconsin," he says. "It's an unrealistic goal but we're making headway."

Kurt Schmude, a graduate student working with Hilsenhoff, is currently studying all the 'Stenelmis' species of riffle beetles in Wisconsin. Stenelmis is one of the most diverse and abundant riffle beetles in North America. Riffle beetles are small insects that live in streams, lakes and ponds.

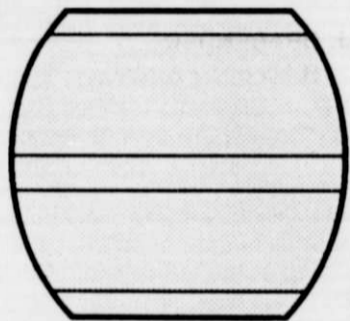

Like other aquatic insects, 'Stenelmis' make good water quality indicators because they become stressed if oxygen levels in a stream are low, Schmude says.

"When you're biologically monitoring a stream and cow manure or some other oxygen-depleting nutrient is present, intolerant insects will not be found there after a period of time," he says.

Schmude has found that some species of 'Stenelmis' live in a variety of streams and rivers throughout Wisconsin, while others are found only in isolated areas. A few species live strictly on large pieces of wood or sandstone rocks in warm sandy areas such as the Lower Wisconsin River, Schmude says.

It's important to preserve such uncommon or endangered insect species to maintain ecological diversity, he notes. "The more diversity in a community the healthier the environment."

AVOID THE ORANGE BARREL BLUES

When driving in road construction zones, be sure to:

- Watch for electronic message signs;
- Merge into correct lane early and cautiously;
- Slow down to a safe speed;
- Be ready for surprise slow-downs or speed-ups;
- Watch out for construction vehicles and workers;
- Buckle up!

Washington County Exceeds Federal Air Quality Standards

West Bend, Washington County, exceeded Federal air quality standards for ground-level ozone on an average of two days per summer between 1987 and 1991, according to a recent study released by the Wisconsin Division of Health (DOH).

Ozone is a lung irritant at concentrations at or above the Federal standard of 0.12 parts per million (ppm). Some people who are outdoors on days when the standard is exceeded may feel 'tightness' in the lungs. Those exercising outdoors or who have asthma or other chronic respiratory diseases may be especially susceptible to ozone's effects.

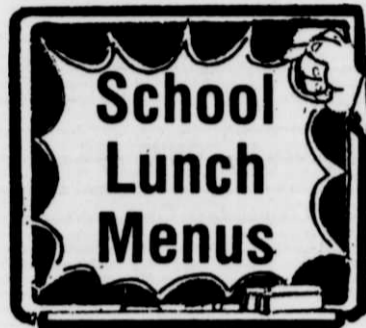

The authors of the Division of Health study, published in the May issue of the Wisconsin Medical Journal, estimated that approximately 3,500 people work or regularly exercise outdoors in Washington County, and about 10,000 people in the county have chronic respiratory diseases. The authors concluded that many of these people may experience symptoms ranging from mild to severe shortness of breath on high-ozone days. Some people may also have difficulty breathing when ozone levels exceed 0.08 ppm for 6 consecutive hours. According to the Division of Health study, this condition occurred in Washington County on an average of 10 days per summer between 1987 and 1991.

Ground-level ozone is formed by the reaction of air pollutants and sunlight. The major source of ozone-producing pollutants is automobiles. Conditions for ozone formation are most favorable in Wisconsin between May and September. Ground-level ozone should not be confused with the stratospheric "ozone layer" 2-7 miles above the Earth's surface which provides a shield from the sun's ultraviolet rays.

When the ozone concentration exceeds the Federal standard of 0.12 ppm, the Washington County Community Health Nursing Service and the Wisconsin Division of Health recommend that individuals limit outdoor exercise when possible, and that those with asthma or other chronic respiratory diseases stay indoors. In addition, individuals with pre-existing respiratory conditions might wish to curtail physical activity when the ozone concentration exceeds 0.08 ppm.

The Department of Natural Resources informs local health departments and media when ozone levels are expected to exceed the Federal standard. For daily air quality updates, individuals may call the Department of Natural Resources Air Quality Hotline at 1-800-242-4747 or, in Milwaukee County, 263-8382.

ATTENTION TEENS: A Concerned 'Stomach' Talks Food Safety

You've heard the expression, "If only the walls could talk!" Well, what if a teenager's stomach could communicate? It might go like this:

MEMORANDUM
To: Teenager's Brain
From: Stomach
Subject: Taking Care of Me

Hi, remember me? I'm the one you shove that food into... those cold pizzas, warmed over nachos and tacos, and hamburgers that were left out on the counter too long. You know what I mean.

Look, I know you are a teenager, but how you and I have survived so far beats me. For both our sakes, may I offer some friendly food safety advice that may help us get into adulthood?

After all, I am not really made of cast-iron as you may think. Now that you have been asked by Mom and Dad to prepare another dinner for the family, I would like to offer some food safety and preparation advice. Goodness knows you could use some.

The statistics say that one of every seven teenagers prepares the family dinner at least three times a week. Lucky me, you have to be the one in seven! Well, it's time you learn what food safety is all about.

Oh, by the way, do you remember that case of the "flu" you had a while back? I've got news for you, that was food poisoning, not the flu. Millions of people, including many teenagers like you, get sick every year because of improper food handling.

Maybe this time you will listen to me. I've sent enough warnings to you in the past, but last night's meal was the last straw. This memorandum is "do or die" for both of us... and for the family as well.

1. SHOPPING. Okay, the next time you are in the grocery store, try to be more careful.

For example, please read the labels carefully. If the words "keep refrigerated" appear on the label, make sure it is cold to the touch in the store and then get the perishable item home right away. Forget about running errands on the way home and stopping off at a friend's house. Go right home.

Also, make sure the packages are not torn or opened.

And when buying cans, remember what I said about those that may be bulging or otherwise deformed. Also look out for rust marks and cans that may be leaking.

2. COOKING INSTRUCTIONS. Okay, this time you have to read the labels for cooking instructions. If you are microwaving, do both of us a favor and don't mix up cooking times for the conventional oven with microwave cooking times. There's a big difference. The conventional oven takes much longer.

3. THE MICROWAVE. When using the microwave, watch the cooking levels. Don't microwave on high when the instructions say "defrost" or "simmer."

While we are on the subject, don't forget to use the appropriate cookware for thawing and cooking in the microwave. Foam and plastic may melt.

And don't forget to cover foods in the microwave so that steam will help cook them evenly. When finished, uncover microwaved foods carefully, definitely don't hang your face over the dish when you do it. Let the food stand for a few minutes so temperatures can even out. That way, you won't burn my good friend, your tongue!

4. THOROUGH COOKING. Whether you are microwaving or using the conventional oven, it takes thorough cooking to kill harmful bacteria. Forget the heroics and don't eat raw or partially cooked meat, poultry, fish or eggs.

Let's make a pact. From now on, will you cook red meat to 160 degrees Fahrenheit and poultry to 180 degrees? If you can't find the meat thermometer, at least make sure the meat is brown or gray inside. Poultry juices should run clear and fish should flake with a fork.

5. SERVING FOOD. Now let's go over a few basics on proper serving. Use clean dishes and utensils to serve food, not those you left out on the counter from the meal before. Never leave perishable food out of the refrigerator for over two hours at room temperature! It's even less than two hours at higher temperatures.

As for your parties, keep cold party food on ice, or serve from platters taken from the refrigerator.

Also divide hot party food into smaller serving platters. Keep them in the refrigerator and warm them up just before serving.

6. LEFTOVERS. Let's talk leftovers. Boy, have you done a number on me here a couple of times. PLEASE refrigerate perishable food within two hours, not two days! Don't leave that pizza out on the counter overnight! And divide large amounts of leftovers into small, shallow containers for quick cooling in the refrigerator.

7. REHEATING. Here's another delicate subject. Contrary to what you may think, leftovers do have to be thoroughly reheated, even though they were cooked once before.

Bring sauces, soups and gravy to a boil. Use a meat thermometer to make sure leftovers reach 165 degrees

Fahrenheit.

8. CAUTION! I know you don't like red lights, but here are the real red lights in food handling: NEVER taste food that looks or smells strange to see if you can still use it. Remember what I said before? I am not cast-iron. Wrap and discard suspect food carefully so that animals can't get into it.

As for moldy food, the mold you see is only the tip of the iceberg. The mold can be underneath as well. So most moldy food should be pitched. You can save some moldy food, however. Hard cheese, salami, firm fruits and vegetables can be saved by removing a large area around the mold.

Congratulations, you have now graduated from Basic Food Safety, Steps 1-8. If you will just follow these simple, common sense rules, you could save me and yourself a lot of stomachaches... or is that heartburn?

Four New Members Elected To Citizen Advocacy Board

Richard Bell, Anna Garcia, Thomas E. Larsen and Ray Lipman have joined the Board of Directors for Citizen Advocacy of Washington County, Inc. They were elected to two-year terms at Citizen Advocacy's 14th anniversary dinner, held at Barth's Linden Inn early in April.

Bell, a resident of the Town of West Bend, is owner of Continental Properties. Garcia lives in West Bend and is a member of the St. Frances Cabrini parish. Larsen works for the Kewaskum School District and lives in West Bend. Lipman, of West Bend, is president and chief operating officer of West Bend Savings Bank. Re-elected to the board were Carol Bauer, West Bend; Floyd Brenholt, Hartford; Frank DeRaimo, West Bend; Hallie Stollenwerk, Town of Wayne; and Jerry Ziegler, West Bend. They join Lynn Camin, West Bend; Joan Christian, Kewaskum; Constantine Hall, West Bend; Joan Kaiser, Colgate; Joan Pick, West Bend; Bettie Schuler, West Bend; and Nancy Seeger, Hubertus, who have one year remaining on their terms in office.

Citizen Advocacy is a nonprofit community organization that recruits volunteers to develop one-on-one relationships with people who have disabilities. In 1991, Citizen Advocacy established 20 new voluntary matches, an increase of 14 new matches over the 1990 total. "We involved more children and men in long-term matches in 1991 than ever before," said Sue Moser, director of Citizen Advocacy. "We greatly increased our goal for new, long-term matches last year, and we reached it. That's an indication of the caring and sense of fellowship we find in Washington County. We hope to build on our success in 1991 and develop even more advocacy relationships this year."

The word bank comes from the Italian word banco, meaning bench. Early Italian bankers conducted their business on benches in the street.

FINANCE-TRANSPORTATION-BUILDINGS & GROUNDS SUB-COMMITTEE - External Resource

April 15, 1992

Meeting was called to order at 7:35 p.m. in the high school library.

Members were all present and include: Jeff Rohrer, Otto Ramthun, Emily Land, Al Fleischman, Chuck Voge, Jim Fix, Sue Buechel, Dean Scheel, Terry Heberer, Jean Goeden, Glen Hartmann.

Minutes of the April 11th meeting were distributed. Additions or corrections will be done when the full committee meets on May 6th. It was requested that all members get a list of members and their phone numbers.

The purpose of this meeting was to start focusing on brainstorming the projects and problem areas. Jeff Rohrer reiterated where problem areas are: football field, lighting; fencing; bleachers, track being increased to eight lanes instead of six locker rooms, press box, auditorium, tennis courts, road height next to courts.

Concerns of Jeff Rohrer, co-chair of committee.

1. Finance - loans - mil rate. Volunteer a) individuals (b) business (c) civic groups

2. Approach village board with planning or layout

(a) Architect names and prices (b) ordinance & flood plain

3. Public awareness of problem areas

(a) do "open houses" tours of grounds (b) do news releases (c) Give outline of what needs doing on day of tours but do not give out any figures attached to outline, so public is not swayed only by costs involved.

4. Order of importance on projects. Discussion was done on a few of the above items.

2. Planning or layout for village board

(a) Architect - Sue Buechel will contact Mr. John Norman, Jr. from Norman Architects, Cedarburg, to have him come to our May 6th meeting to give us information on a number of items to be determined.

4. Order of importance on projects. Our first project will be the tennis courts and road improvement.

Jean Goeden reported that the school board tabled the improvement on the road next to the tennis courts at their April 13th meeting. Some board members think the road should not be done til a decision is made on the tennis courts and possibly combine the two projects. Dr. Heather wants to appropriate funds to install fiber-optic cable to link the schools for computers and the T.V. systems used in the classrooms.

Now there are four varsity singles games and three varsity doubles teams playing at one time on the courts. They now split the games between the high school and the Kiwanis Park courts. Some concerns expressed: What is the cost of a tennis court; how to finance them, loans, etc. Volunteer efforts - district buying the materials and having qualified volunteers do the work to save money. New Holstein just did a project and the majority of work was done by volunteers.

These directives were proposed at this meeting.

1. Repair tennis courts that are there. What is condition of fencing.

2. Build two or more tennis courts - discussed in above paragraphs.

3. Road costs to improve road east of the high school.

4. Lighting costs if football field is moved.

1. Tennis Courts.

(a) Jeff Rohrer will get permission from Dr. Heather to do core samples of tennis court area to check on what base is there. This will determine if it is a base problem or a water problem.

(b) Otto Ramthun will do core samples to determine base. He will also get soil maps, flood plain maps from D.N.R., maps from Dan Schmidt, Kewaskum Village Administrator to use as comparison with D.N.R. maps. Otto will also get grade readings on the present road. A concern was expressed that coaches be asked if water was ever seen bubbling up on court surface or just water runoff from road to west of courts.

(c) A questionnaire was formulated. Jean will check with the internal committee if they want additional questions added to the survey, or schools added to the mailing list. The administration will send these questionnaires out to these groups: Union Grove School District, Ripon school district, Village of Kewaskum, West Bend school district, Campbellsport school district, Slinger school district, Mayville school district, Random Lake school district, the conference schools - Chilton, Kiel, New Holstein, Plymouth, Sheboygan Falls, Two Rivers.

Send the questionnaire with an introduction of our committee and the reasons for our survey. Give them one week to complete and return the survey. Also include a self-addressed envelope to speed its return. Have the surveys sent to Jeff Rohrer rather than to the administration office.

Survey questions done in meeting.

Tennis Courts:

1. How many courts do you have?

2. Who was the designer engineer or architect?

3. Who was the contractor doing the work?

4. When were your courts put in our upgraded?

5. What were the costs involved?

6. Do you have lights?

7. What would you have done differently?

8. How was the project financed?

(d) Approach the Kiwanis group to see about their support. They have previously expressed an interest in helping to fund other projects such as a pool.

3. Road Improvement: The administration wants to see the road put in as soon as possible to avoid future problems with bus interference with student-faculty parking lots. $18,000 was a bid that came in for road improvement. This committee wants to see some bid specifics on: how wide the road would be; costs of excavation; gravel - what kind and what depth; asphalt - 4" compacted or loose; how many feet of road; how much traffic expected on the road - buses, cars, semis.

The ideal road path according to this committee would be one way straight through to the middle school, then over, and out Feigle Drive. It would create a traffic loop and avoid congestion.

Dean Scheel will locate the telephone cable that runs diagonally across the road in question.

4. Football Field: Lighting costs if football field remains where it is and lights are maintained or costs if moved to the inside of the track to cover both the track and football field. Al Fleischman and Terry Heberer will check into those costs.

The concern was raised about the financial shape of the Kewaskum School District. Jean Goeden, school board member, reported that the district is in good financial shape. They have loans that will be paid up soon and the need to borrow money to stay sound financially will be coming up also. Dr. Heather would be glad to come to a meeting to discuss the budget and how monies are spent. Jean also added that the school board would like this committee to set up a number of plans with costs involved, so they can make final decisions on what to do.

Examples: No. 1 plan - auditorium; band, chorus, art rooms added; move football field - bleachers, locker rooms, etc.

No. 2 plan - School additions: cafeteria w/effect; move football field, ball field.

We should try not to come up with more than three plans to keep it simple.

The idea was brought up that we have our spokesman, Jeff Rohrer, approach the school board at one of the next meetings on what we've done so far. It will help the board see that we're moving ahead and are serious about our committee.

May 6th agenda 7:30 p.m. in high school library.

1. Report on internal research items. Dave Rizzardi, Larry Ammel

2. Report on tennis courts & road a) Core samples - Otto Ramthun b) Cable locating - Dean Scheel c) Costs of projects info - Mr. John Norman, Jr. architect.

d) Progress on questionnaire about tennis courts.
3. Budget - Dr. Heather
4. Formulate questionnaire on auditorium
5. Discussion on opening dialog with state and state agencies - Chuck Voge
6. Football Field (a) lights costs - Al Fleischman, Terry Heberer
(b) discuss direction we want to go in.

Jean Goeden made a motion to adjourn, with Dean Scheel seconding. Meeting was adjourned at 9:14 p.m. Respectfully submitted Sue Buechel

This Saturday, May 20, will be a big day for Kewaskum. It is the date of the annual Dairy Day observance which this year will be highlighted by the Fifth District Alice In Dairyland contest which will be staged in conjunction with the affair. Five Washington County girls will be among the 19 competing in the District 5 contest. The girls are Marcella Brummond, Hartford; Kristin Williams, Congate; Frances Jackson, Allenton; Kathleen Bruendl, West Bend and Gloria Eichstaedt, Slinger. Although none of the contestants are from the host village, Miss Jackson is a resident of the nearby rural area. She is a graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Steven Heisler received word on May 3, from the Green Bay School of Vocational and Adult Education that he has been accepted in their September Barbering program. Only 18 boys are accepted each year and he was one out of 100 applicants who were tested in April. He is the son of Mrs. Ralph Hein, West Bend and Louis Heisler of Kewaskum.

75 Years Ago

May 19, 1917

On Tuesday, May 15, 1917, at her home in the Town of Scott, occurred the death of Mrs. Richard Doman, nee Annie Rmel, after a lingering illness of three month's duration. Deceased had attained the age of 21 years, 4 months and 13 days. On October 27, 1907, she was united in marriage to Richard Doman. Her grief stricken husband and three children remain to mourn her untimely death.

On Friday, May 11, 1917, at his home in the Town of Scott, Walter Engelman passed away in everlasting sleep. Death came after an illness of nine days with pneumonia. He had reached the 31st milestone of his life. Mr. Engelman was born on the old homestead in 1886. On September 10, 1898, he was united in marriage to Miss Annie Koepke. His wife and one daughter, Malinda mourn his early demise.

The following received new cars recently: Jacob Batzler a Buick Little Six; John Foerster, a Dort car; Theo Weiland, a Ford car, Strachota Bros., a 1 1/2 ton Kissel truck.

A fire which started in a garage, caused by overheated oats, on the Marion Gilboy farm east of Dundee, last Saturday, caused considerable excitement in this section. Mr. Becker who rented the farm, did not discover the blaze in time to prevent the building from being destroyed. Through good work of the neighbors, the other buildings were saved.

Little League Receives Donation

The Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association recently donated a check for $250.00 to the Kewaskum Athletic Club Youth Division, intended for any additional equipment or other materials needed by the Club. Above, Tim Rohlinger (left), the 1991 VKAA secretary, presents the check to Dean Scheel, the organizer of the Youth Division. Also present is 1992 VKAA president, Rick Krahn (right). The VKAA wishes to thank Scheel and the KAC Youth Division for their time and effort in helping the VKAA last year.

Indian Runners in Mayville Regional

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Both the Kewaskum boys and girls track teams will be heading to Mayville on Tuesday, May 26th, for the WIAA Track and Field Division II Regionals.

The Regional will be held at Mayville High School, with the field events slated to get underway at 3:30 p.m. and the running events getting started at 4:00 p.m.

The first two finishers from each event will qualify for Sectional competition, which will be at Parkview High School in Orfordville, WI, on Thursday, May 28th, beginning at 4:00 p.m. (field events) and 4:30 p.m. (running events). Those wishing to attend Sectionals in Orfordville should travel to Janesville, and take Hwy 11 west approximately 15 miles to Orfordville, and locate Hilgendorf Field, near Parkview High School.

There is also a provision in all Divisions (I, II, and III) for additional qualifiers from regional to sectional competition, as determined by standards based on the average sixth-place qualifying effort from Sectionals to state during the past three years.

The regional to sectional provisional qualifying standards for Division II are listed below:

- Pole Vault — boys, 12-6.
- High Jump — boys, 6-3; girls, 5-1.
- Long Jump — boys, 21-0; girls, 16-4.
- Triple Jump — boys, 42-5; girls, 34-2.
- Discus — boys, 147-2; girls, 111-11.
- Shot Put — boys, 52-0; girls, 36-0.
- 110 Hurdles — boys, 15.3.
- 100 Hurdles — girls, 16.0.
- 100 — boys, 11.2; girls, 12.8.
- 1600 — boys, 4:29.5; girls, 5:24.6
- 800 Relay — girls, 1:50.2;
- 400 — boys, 51.7; girls, 1:01.0.
- 400 Relay — boys 45.1; girls, 52.3;
- 300 Hurdles — boys, 40.9; girls, 48.1;
- 800 — boys, 2:00.3; girls 2:25.0.
- 200 — boys, 23.0; girls, 26.7;
- 3200 — boys, 9:55.0; girls, 12:05.9.
- 1600 Relay — boys, 3:30.9; girls, 4:11.9.

Athletes who are winners or runners-up in their events at Sectionals are automatic qualifiers for state. Also, athletes whose performances in sectionals (finals) rank among the eight best of all sectional performances, including sectional winners and runners-up, are additional qualifiers for state.

Thus an athlete finishing third, fourth or even lower in the sectionals, could qualify for state if the performance is among the eight best of everybody in the sectionals. It all depends on the various winners around the state in that Division. This eliminates athletes not advancing to state because their sectional is stronger, competition-wise, than another.

The WIAA State Track and Field Meet will be held Friday and Saturday, June 5-6 at Memorial Stadium in LaCrosse.

Campus Notes

The University of Wisconsin - Stevens Point has honored 108 upperclass students by inducting them into membership in the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

To be eligible for organization membership, second semester juniors must rank in the top five percent of their class and seniors must rank in the top 10 percent of their class.

Ceremonies and a dinner on campus recently were highlighted with an address by Associate Professor C.Y. Allen, an organizational communication specialist of the UW-SP Division of Communication.

The primary objective of the National Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi is the recognition and encouragement of superior scholarship in all academic disciplines. There are about 245 chapters nationwide.

Deborah A. Dossinger, 3936 Hi Mount Rd., Kewaskum, (dietetics) was a student inductee.

Blowouts Rule First Week of Softball

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Close games were a rarity as the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association opened up its first slate of softball action at the Kiwanis Community Park last week.

In Thursday night's games, C.C. Cody's headed the list of blowouts, as Todd Waechter homered and six of Cody's players registered three hits in a 37-4 thumping of McKee Buildings in five innings.

In other contests Thursday, Dennis Butz hit a pair of homers and Mike Coulter added another as C.C.'s downed On-R-Own 14-2 in five innings. In another five-inning affair, T's Lounge used a 10-run third inning to beat up on Mugshots, 18-4, while Tropical Pool and Spa and L and R Trophy hooked up in the lone game going the distance, with Pool and Spa getting the victory, 10-7.

C.C. Cody's had another easy game on Tuesday night, as Waechter and Mike Ciriacks each homered to lead Cody's to a 12-0 rout of Hometown in five innings.

In other tilts, Brian Spartz went 2x4 with three RBI's, including the game-winner in the bottom of the seventh, as Schluffy's playing with just eight players, downed Neuville Chevrolet 12-11.

In the only other game played Tuesday, (one contest was rescheduled) Amerahn fell behind 5-1, but came back with six runs in both the fifth and sixth innings to defeat Campbellsport Building Supply 16-8.

Men's softball games are played each Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the park, with women's action getting started this week on Monday nights. Food and beverages are sold, and the public is invited to attend.

Indian Linksters Tip Kiel

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — A win is a win, and that's all that matters to the Kewaskum boys golf team, and coach Joe Harlow.

The Indians rode the consistency of senior Aaron Laatsch to squeek out a 178-179 win over Kiel here, last Monday, as the Indians improved to 2-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, and to 6-3 overall.

Having not lost an EW dual meet at all in the previous two years, the Indians were in danger of losing their second this year, but Laatsch, along with fellow senior Eric McElhatton, came up with big efforts to help the Indians tip the Raiders.

Laatsch was once again the medalist in the meet, shooting a 42 on Hon-E-Kor's back nine, while McElhatton, despite struggling the last couple of holes, was one shot back at 43.

Andy Coopman was the low man for the visiting Raiders, who also fell to the Indians in the JV meet, 197-213.

Ryan Amerling was next low for the Indians with a 46, while Ryan Ramthun, who has been playing well as of late, struggled to a 47.

KEWASKUM — Aaron Laatsch 42, Eric McElhatton 43, Ryan Amerling 46, Ryan Ramthun 47.

Kiel — Andy Coopman 43, Chad Ramminger 44, Eric Faust 45, Curt Pitzen 47.

Indian Tennis Team Drilled

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — It's been a long season already for the Kewaskum boys tennis team, and the agony continued here, last Monday, as the Indians ran into a tough Two Rivers squad.

As they did in the first meeting of the two teams, the Raiders dominated the Indians, winning 7-0, to send the Indians' record to 0-5 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, and to 0-7 overall.

Paul Janik, at No. 3 singles, was the one Kewaskum player to win more than two games in their respective matches, as he fell to Greg Gordon 0-6, 3-6.

TWO RIVERS 7, KEWASKUM 0 SINGLES — No. 1 - Brian Blair lost to Matthew Karman 1-6, 1-6. No. 2 - Jim Zautner lost to Drew Pecone 0-6, 0-6.

No. 3 - Paul Janik lost to Greg Gordon 0-6, 3-6.

No. 4 - Chad Landvatter lost to Jeremy Wildman, 0-6, 0-6.

DOUBLES — No. 1 - Kevin Hein and John Gildersleeve lost to Dale Brotski and Brian Kust 0-6, 1-6;

Kevin Gundrum and Tim Strigenz lost to Scott Krall and Erik Engstrom 2-6, 0-6;

No. 3 - Mark Dziedzic and Chad Bindrich lost to Glenn Kapelmann and Nate Stan 1-6, 1-6.

New School Records Set

KHS Boys Fourth at Ram Invite; Fifth in Relays

By Statesman Sports Writer
-RANDOM LAKE-

Competing in a star-studded field, the Kewaskum boys track team managed several fine efforts in the Random Lake Invitational here, last Monday. But even a record breaking run by senior hurdler Kim Marx wasn't enough against some talented individuals.

Marx set a school record in his specialty, the 300 intermediates, but only managed a second place showing in the event, thereby showing the strength of the meet, in which the Indians finished fourth as a team with 69.5 points.

West Allis Hale would up winning the meet with 124 points, followed by Eastern Wisconsin Conference power Sheboygan Falls (120.5) and Slinger (103).

Marx hooked up with an old nemesis, Slinger's Josh Nelson, in the 300 race. After beating Nelson earlier in the year, Marx came up just a hair short this time around, losing 40.5 to 40.5+, but still the 40.5+ mark broke the school record held by Marty Schulteis by a couple tenths of a second.

Despite the tough competition, the Indians did manage one first in the meet, that coming from Schulteis' younger brother, Dan. Dan Schulteis got off a toss of 145-6 in the discus, almost two feet better than the second place finisher. The mark was a personal best for Schulteis, almost 14 feet farther than his previous best.

Kewaskum managed several seconds in the meet, headed by Brian Bruendl's personal best of 39-1 in the triple jump. Travis Jacak also tied his best jump in the high jump competition, clearing the 6-0 mark to take the runner-up spot.

The Indians nearly pulled off a second record breaking time in the 400 relay, as Marx, Beau Coulter, Brian Harycki and Schulteis teamed up for a 45.8 clocking, just .1 off the school record. The mark was good enough for second place, just .2 behind Sheboygan Falls meet record time of 45.6.

Jeff Dirmeier also turned in a personal best, crossing the line in 4:43.7 in the 1600, placing him second, while teammate David Gosa wasn't far behind (4:46) in fourth.

Jim Rix added a fourth in the shot put (42-10.5), as did both the 3200 and 1600 relay teams. Dirmeier also took fifth in the 800 (2:09.6), while Coulter added a sixth in the high jump (5-6) and Chad Harlow a sixth in the 110 hurdles (18.8).

- PLYMOUTH -

There were a couple of disappointments, but the surprises easily outweighed those for the Kewaskum boys track in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Relays held here, last Thursday.

The Indians registered a pair of firsts in the meet, as well as three more seconds, but it was not nearly enough, as Kewaskum had to settle for fifth place in the meet.

EW powerhouse Sheboygan Falls easily outdistanced runner-up Plymouth for the title, winning 91-77. New Holstein was a point behind the Panthers in third, while Two Rivers was a close fourth (73). The Indians finished with 52 points.

Despite not finishing first, one of the definite highlights of the day for the Indians came in the 400 Relay, where the unit comprised of Kim Marx, Beau Coulter, Dan Schulteis and Brian Harycki ran a 45.5 race, placing them second, but more importantly, earning them a spot in the KHS record books. The unit broke the old mark by .2.

The Indians also got a pair of surprise first place finishes by the pole vaulters and the long jumpers. Brian Jackson led the trio of vaulters, as he cleared a personal best of 12-0, while Wade Kreis (11-0) and Dean Kreis (10-0) also put forth fine efforts to pace the Indians.

Wade Kreis also had a hand in the long jump, as he was one of three Indians to jump past the 19-0 mark. Kreis (19-0.75), Dave Bowser (19-7.25) and Jim Wichtowski (19-9), who has been out for the sport just over a month helped the Indians earn another top spot, combining for a jump of

Taking second for KHS was the 6400 relay team (David Gosa, Dean Kreis, Joe Rehbein, Jeff Dirmeier), which crossed the wire in 19:45.1, led by Gosa's personal best of 4:46 in his 1600 leg.

The 900 hurdle team of Marx, Chad Harlow and Dan Schulteis added a third, with their time of 2:12.4.

The Indians will take part in the regular EW conference meet on Thursday at New Holstein, and will then ready themselves for Regional action at Mayville on Tuesday.

State High School Notes

By Statesman Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE — Several Eastern Wisconsin Conference and other area boys track athletes were included in this week's track and field honor roll, including:

* Sheboygan Falls' Aaron Scheilke's time of 50.6 in the 400 placed him eighth.

* New Holstein's Joe Paul, whose time of 40.4 in the 300 intermediate hurdles placed him ninth. Kewaskum's Kim Marx, whose best time in the event in 40.8, was no longer included in the top ten.

* Both Sheboygan Falls' (3:27.3, fifth) and New Holstein's (3:28.5, seventh) 1600 relay teams are among the state's best.

* Plymouth's Shawn Hochrein throw of 56-1 in the shot put placed him fourth in that event. Hochrein came up with that throw on Friday in the Vanderpan Invitational.

* Jefferson's Todd Goldbeck, whom Kewaskum's state champion wrestler Josh Kurtz lost to in a very controversial sectional championship bout this past winter, is in the number five slot in the 300 hurdles (39.8).

Registration information for both the adult and junior events is available at all Wisconsin Hardee's restaurants, or by contacting the Badger State Games at (608) 251-3333.

Major sponsors of the 1992 Badger State Summer Games are: AT&T, Dairy Farmers of Wisconsin/Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board, Hardee's, GTE, Wisconsin Bell, and Wisconsin Physicians Service Insurance Corp. (WPS).

Regional Qualifying at Hon-E-Kor University Ridge New Home for Badger State Games Golf Classic

University Ridge, the University of Wisconsin golf course ranked among the top new public courses in the United States, is the new home for the Badger State Games Golf Classic finals. The finals are set for June 27.

"The Badger State Games are pleased to announce that the adult finals will be contested at University Ridge," said Otto Breitenbach, executive director of the Badger State Games. "The opportunity to utilize this challenging new course will give the participating finalists a great golfing experience as they compete for gold, silver and bronze medals."

University Ridge, located just outside Madison near Verona, opened for play in 1991. Designed by Robert Trent Jones Jr., the layout has quickly established itself as one of the country's premier courses.

"We're excited to host the Badger State Games," said Mike Urben, head golf professional at University Ridge. "Golfers of all abilities from around the state will get a chance to challenge University Ridge. We're looking at this as the beginning of a long relationship with Wisconsin's sports festival."

The Badger State Games Golf Classic features competition for men and women in low net and low gross, which means a golfer with a high handicap could fare as well as a club champion. To be eligible for the low net event, a participant must have an accredited handicap as computed by the Wisconsin State Golf Association (WSGA). The handicap is based on a golfer's average score for 18 holes.

Men's and women's low net and low gross regional qualifying is scheduled for June 13 at eight courses around the state; Mill Run Golf Course, Eau Claire; Merrill Public Golf Course, Merrill;

Sparta Municipal Course, Sparta; Meadow Links Golf Club, Manitowoc; Sun Prairie Country Club, Sun Prairie; Hon-E-Kor Golf and Country Club, Kewaskum; Evergreen Country Club Elkhorn; and Brown Deer Golf Course, Brown Deer.

The top five men in low gross and low net, the top three women in low net and the top two women in low gross from each regional advance to the finals at University Ridge June 27. Entry fee is $15, which includes regional play, green fees and Badger State Games T-shirt. Finals qualifiers will pay an additional $25 fee to cover green fees at University Ridge. Entry deadline is May 29.

Yahara Hills Golf Course, Madison, is again host for the BSG junior golf competition, June 26. The $25 entry fee includes green fees, lunch and official BSG T-shirt. Boys and girls compete in three age divisions (12-14, 15-16, 17-18). The event is open to the first 140 boys and girls who enter. Entry deadline is June 12.

Kewaskum to Host Softball, Golf Regionals Starting Friday

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — A pair of Kewaskum sports teams will have the home field advantage in the first round of the spring WIAA Tournaments scheduled for the next two weeks, KHS Athletic Director Dave Rizzardi said this week.

The Indian softball team will be hosting Slinger in the two teams' opening Regional contest this Friday, May 22nd, beginning at 4:00. Rizzardi said that admission is free, and the community is encouraged to attend and cheer on the Indians in their first appearance in the Tournament.

This is Kewaskum's first year of WIAA competitive softball, as the Indians initiated the program on a trial basis last year.

Kewaskum will also be the host of the WIAA boys golf Regional, tentatively slated to be played at the Hon-E-Kor Country Club on Tuesday, May 26th.

However, the meet may be pushed back a day or two, or perhaps even moved to a different site, Rizzardi reported that the golf course is experiencing some problems with the greens, due to this past winter.

"I don't really know what our alternatives are," Rizzardi said, regarding the meet, adding that he was to contact the WIAA offices in order to find out what route he should pursue in case the course is not in good enough condition.

Anyone wishing to attend the golf meet should look for local announcements regarding any changes, or call the high school office the day of the meet.
