Week's Wit

The more you listen to political speeches, the more you realize why America is called the "land of promise."

Local Business Moving to New Location Decathlon Sunday to Support Rescue Squad

The Kettle Moraine Agency Inc., a well known local insurance agency will soon be moving to the Kewaskum Mall. They will be moving into the space previously occupied by the Coast to Coast store which has been vacant for several years. The entire area, approximately 5000 square feet, will be totally remodeled to accommodate the insurance agency and related business.

"We have been experiencing continuous growth and simply did not have the necessary space in our current location to handle the needed expansion," stated agency founder Eugene Bohn. "Our new location will provide additional offices for expansion of our sales staff and provide our customer service representatives with a more modern and efficient work area" stated Mitchell Ogi, a Principal in the agency.

"Kewaskum is fast becoming known as a very desirable place to live. We are finding many new clients are moving here from more Metropolitan areas in order to take advantage of our friendly, small town way of life. Kewaskum is just beginning to experience what we believe will be a tremendous growth phase. We are eager to service this growing population and are positioning ourselves for the rest of the 90's and beyond," stated Ogi.

"We feel that this move will provide us with greater visibility, as well as better accessibility, so that we can better serve our clients. In addition, the newly designed offices will make for greater efficiencies in our way of doing business. We are excited by the new opportunities this move will offer," stated Bohn and Ogi. "We are proud to be associated with the Kewaskum Mall and continue as an active participant within the Kewaskum business community. We look forward to continuing our policy of providing quality insurance products and services to the community." The agency hopes to be in its new location on or about October 1st, 1992. A Grand Opening is planned and future announcements will be forthcoming.

The Kewaskum Rescue Squad members will be sponsoring a Co-ed Decathlon on Sunday, Aug. 30, starting at 10 a.m. at Kiwanis Park in Kewaskum.

THEY TOOK THE SOFTBALL CHALLENGE: Kewaskum vs. Campbellsport Fire Department

By Louise Martin

Members of the Kewaskum Fire Department recently accepted an intriguing challenge from the Campbellsport Fire Department to a softball game which was played on Friday, August 21, in Campbellsport.

Kewaskum gave it their all but despite double and triple base hits, outstanding catches and throws, superb pitching, some awesome double plays, fancy slides and a few stumbles, they were not able to defeat their Campbellsport neighbors. At game's end the scoreboard reflected a 24-9 score. (Ouch! We'll get them next time!)

Those courageous members from the Kewaskum Department included: Dennis Anderson, Joe and Mary Baasch, Jeff Boden, Ken Bonlender, Ben Edwards, T.J. Fay, Mark Groeschel, Mark Herriges, Al Martin, Larry Martin, Jeff Paulus and Angela Rodenkirch.

The Campbellsport Fire Department was a most courteous host, providing refreshments during the game and a lunch following the game's conclusion.

Sr. Ruth Battaglia, Kewaskum Native, Now a Published Author

Casual visitors to Gallup, New Mexico, might call it a pleasant and friendly town with a refreshing slowness of pace.

Life can get busy, though, for someone who serves as evangelization co-ordinator at Sacred Heart Cathedral, secretary for the diocesan pastoral council, liturgy instructor in the diocesan permanent deacon formation program, and secretary of the Gallup Area Ecumenical Conference. Sister Ruth Battaglia is all of these and more. She is an author of religious education materials for HI-TIME Publishing, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Sister Ruth's latest work appears in the September-October issue of "Family Gathering," a Catholic family publication mailed five times a year. For the current issue, Sister Ruth wrote a prayer to celebrate Mary's patronage of the Americas, and she described one creative new way for families to pray the rosary together.

Earlier this year, Sister Ruth co-authored a new HI-TIME course for teens called, "Catholics and the Creed: The Faith That Gives Us Hope." This six-part course examines the Apostles' Creed line by line to help Catholic teens explore the most ancient and powerful mysteries of their faith.

Sister Ruth, a native of Kewaskum, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Battaglia of Kewaskum. She is now beginning her fourth year of ministry in the Diocese of Gallup.

Those wishing to see her work in "Family Gathering," and in "Catholics and the Creed," may receive free samples by calling 1-800-558-2292. Or they may send a written request to HI-TIME Publishing, P.O. Box 13337, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53213-03337.

The Outdoor church service has become a tradition at St. Lucas and is usually held in late August. The pot luck dinner is always delicious with an array of main dishes and desserts.

Everyone is welcome to join in a day of worship and fellowship. Please join us at 10 a.m. this Sunday, August 30th.

Indian Trails - Guide Available at High School

Can you tell me where the high school is? Do you know where the freshmen play? These are typical questions asked by parents of new high school athletes.

The Booster Club has the answer - INDIAN TRAILS. Indian Trails is a complete guide, not only to locations of the high schools in the Eastern Wisconsin conference, but any school Kewaskum might be playing against or at. Indian Trails gives you locations and names of restaurants, gas stations, off-campus activities, possible routes to take, and a map of the surrounding area.

Indian Trails is available at the high school office and also at athletic events for the small fee of $2.00.

Girl Scout Recruitment Night

Possible new and returning Girl Scouts are invited to an informational parent meeting September 2nd, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Labor Center, Kewaskum. The Girl Scout program and the needs of the existing troops will be explained at this time.

Every girl needs a supportive place away from home to make new friends and explore the adventure of being a girl. In Girl Scouts, girls build self-esteem and leadership skills. Girls find in the Girl Scouts - the girl is first. Kewaskum is part of Wau-Bun Girl Scout Council serving almost 3,000 girls in Fond du Lac and Green Lake counties, and portions of Dodge, Waushara, and Washington counties.

Tuition Waiver - Special Cases

Each year we receive many inquiries about students attending school in the Kewaskum School District when their actual residence is located in another school district.

Wisconsin Statute 121.84 provides the school districts with guidelines in determining if this is proper or not. A school board may permit a pupil who is enrolled in a school under its jurisdiction and is a resident of the school district at the beginning of the school year to complete the school year at the school without payment of tuition, even though the pupil is no longer a resident of the school district.

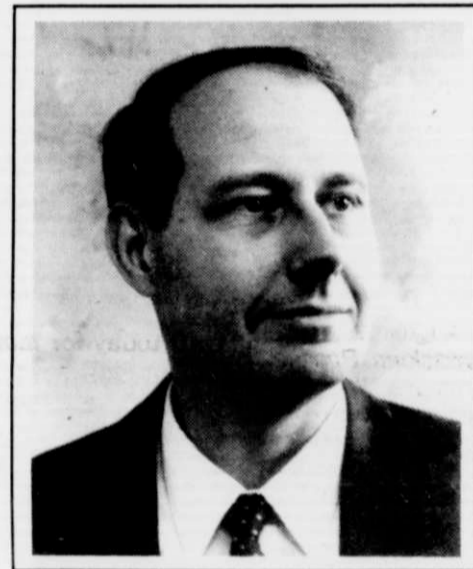

Also, upon request of a pupil's parent or guardian, a school board of a district operating high school grades shall permit a pupil who has gained 12th grade status in a high school under its jurisdiction and is a resident of the school district at the time of gaining such status to complete 12th grade at the high school without payment of tuition even though the pupil is no longer a resident of the school district.

In both cases cited above, transportation is not provided to the students residing outside of the district and the school district of attendance counts the student in its membership count.

We hope this will provide an adequate explanation to this yearly concern by citizens of the school district. If more information is needed, please call the school district administrator at 626-8427.

Regal Receives Tremendous Turnout at Tent Sale

Over 3,500 people shopped at Regal's tent sale August 12 - 15, on Hwy. 45 and Badger Road.

Kewaskum — On August 12-15, Regal Ware, Inc. held a tent sale off of Highway 45 on Badger Road. The turn out was impressive, with over 3,500 customers shopping during the four day sale.

The tent sale was an opportunity for Regal to move out their supply of overstocked and discontinued merchandise. There was merchandise from all product categories, from household electrics to stainless steel and aluminum cookware.

According to John Tassar, Director - Retail Stores, "This sale provided us an opportunity to free up some much needed warehouse space and to offer people in the area some real bargains. This tent sale went so well, that we're considering having similar sales in our other locations."

Regal Ware, Inc. is a multi-plant manufacturer of cookware and portable electrics headquartered in Kewaskum, Wis.

Monday is Last Day to Vote For Ten Semi-Finalists

By L.L.K.

There's only five days left to vote in the preliminary semi-finals of our famous pig kissing contest and our little pink, fuzzy friend is growing extremely impatient to find out which ten of our twenty candidates are in the lead, in anticipation of which ten will actually make it to the semi-finals on September 1st. (Piggy plans on going out campaigning for his personal favorites.)

However, never say never... there is still one "minus votes day" left, and I, for one, am investing the family fortune on minus votes.

Yours truly finally stayed up all night one evening this past weekend and tallied all the votes from the past three weeks. Some of us can breathe a sign of relief (whew!) and then there are others that can start some serious sweating.

Because of all the time needed to total all the votes from our various voting stations, this week's writeup from your normally long-winded author will have to be brief. That should also help squelch some of the rumors floating around town about the lucky people I have been "picking on" of late in my writeups.

I generally only "pick on" the people I am sure won't harm me physically. (I have a hard time handling pain.) I know my mama won't let my two mean sisters (kinda like Cinderella, hey?) hurt me and the other guys are basically non-violent, pacifists. (They won't threaten me). If you wouldn't mind me "picking" on you, just let me know... I have some dandies saved up for next week!

Remember... there's only five more days to make sure your favorite candidate reaches the semi-finals. (Many were called, but only ten will be chosen). Personally, I will continue to vote on Thursdays. (Thank you, Jeanne Marchant!)

Which reminds me... voting has actually been rather light on Thursdays. I am told it is because some people might be confused. It's really very simple. All paper money — dollar bills, checks and stock certificates counts as minus votes ON THURSDAY ONLY. All change — halves, quarters, dimes and nickels (notice I didn't mention pennies... they're hard to count) count as plus votes EVERY DAY! Paper money, however, does count as plus votes every day except on Thursday. We take the money out on Wednesday night and Thursday night so we are sure we won't mess up. Simple... right?? An easy way to remember Thursday's rule is: paper money for Lana; change for all the other guys. Got it?? Wonderful!

However, I truly wish whoever is voting for sister Carole at Hon-E-Kor would stop putting the bills in on Thursdays. How can she win if you keep giving her minus votes?? And Dave... if we catch you taping your envelope shut again at Video Post, Doug is going to the Supreme Court to have you default the winner by default.

I know you would all feel terribly left out if I didn't keep you abreast of what's been happening with our little friend, piggy. He is having a TERRIBLE week. First of all, his good pals all went back to school. So he figured a little vacation trip to the Bahamas and Florida was in order. Well, Hurricane Andrew screwed that up. (I told everyone a Hurricane named Andrew would be looking for trouble) Well, piggy decided to settle on a trip back up to the Dells to bone up on his miniature golf and bungee jumping and then it started to rain here. Bummer. Oh well, time to catch up on your sleep piggy... next week is just around the corner and there will be ten people just dying to kiss your soft little piggy lips. Sweet dreams!

P.S. TO JUDY AND MICHELLE... great idea, kids... but let's not and pretend we did! Better yet... save this idea for AFTER Kettle Kountry Kolers and we'll all enjoy it... together... a little quality bonding time.

TOP TWENTY AND AMOUNT OF VOTES As of August 21, 1992

(Who said minus votes on Thursday wasn't a good idea? I'm not STUPID! And I don't think it's confusing at all. I love it! Now if only I could find a part-time job to fund it.)

Adding water to beaten eggs, rather than milk, will make for a more tender omelet.

Early - Childhood Screening in Sept.

The Kewaskum School District continues to examine effective programming for children's development and psychological wellbeing. Such programming helps ensure school success.

An early-childhood screening for 4-year-olds will be held all day, Friday, Sept. 11 and Saturday, Sept. 19, for children with dates of birth from Sept. 2, 1987, through Sept. 1, 1988.

The screening will determine the developmental stage (language, visual, intellectual, motor and perceptual) skills of your child. You will receive results. This screening replaces the five year old screening process.

Parents are asked to call for a screening appointment on either day. Call Phyllis Schwartz, at 626-8427. 8-27-2t

The School Bully is Back!

By Judy Kay Moore, UW-Madison Center for Health Sciences

Every school seems to have at least one: the child who steals your lunch money, pulls your hair and calls you names. The school bully is back, and his main targets are often insecure, vulnerable classmates who allow him to compensate for his own lack of self-esteem, according to an expert at the University of Wisconsin Children's Hospital.

"The bully feels inferior, but has to act superior," says Dr. Jack Westman, a psychiatrist at UW Children's Hospital and professor at UW Medical School. "Their aim is to reduce the other person to physical or mental submission so they can feel better about themselves."

Frequently, the bully has low self-esteem because of problems at home or because of poor social or academic skills, Westman says. The bully may be experiencing physical or emotional abuse by his parents or siblings, and is attempting to assert himself at school. Other times the parent may be neglectful or absent, and the bully becomes accustomed to getting his own way.

Bullying may also result from a child's learning difficulties or inability to make friends, which result in attempts to prove himself through physical prowess, according to Westman.

Bullying is especially prevalent in elementary school, when children are gaining a sense of who they are and how they compare to others, Westman says. Hence, the targets of taunts are often those who, for whatever reason, are different.

"Children who are short or overweight may be targeted. They may have a lisp or be thin. They may have low grades or be the smartest kid in the class," says Westman.

While they're often boys, bullies can be girls, too. They may not always prove themselves physically, but seek to gain power by spreading stories or otherwise attempting to embarrass their peers, Westman says.

While insecure kids are typical targets, no one is really immune from bullying, according to Dr. Hugh Johnston, a child psychiatrist at UW-Children's Hospital and assistant professor of psychiatry at UW Medical School. Some bullies stay away from those who are bigger and stronger; other bullies try to take these people on in an attempt to prove themselves. Similarly, some bullies avoid the popular kids because they have the power the bully is trying to assert; other bullies taunt those who are well liked to embarrass them and bring them down a notch.

As children mature, the physical aspect of bullying usually stops, if only because the bully meets his match, or because parents and teachers are alerted to the situation, Johnston says. As children grow, they are also exposed to more activities, such as competitive sports, which allow them to excel and gain self esteem.

However, while the fear of getting beaten up may fade, bullying takes on a more emotional form as we age, says Johnston.

"You see it manifested in adults through such means as sexual harassment, and power struggles," says Johnston. "It becomes more of a mind game, but it's still bullying."

As your child headed back to school, experts offer these tips for dealing with bullies:

*Get all the facts. Encourage your child to talk to you about problems he may be facing. If the situation is minor, suggest that your child turn away and leave. If the bullying is persistent and severe, contacting the teacher is an appropriate measure.

*Avoid showing evidence of being intimidated. Tell your child not to taunt back. Simply ignore the bully; signs of fear and weakness merely encourage him.

*Role play with your child. Go over potential situations and discuss how to best handle them.

The Kettle Country Cloggers at the recent Fun Dance at Paradise Mall.

Clogging is a true American folk dance whose roots are buried deep in the heart of the Appalachian Mountains. The word clog is a Gaelic word meaning time. Clog dancing is "time" dancing with the heel being the time keeper. Cloggers wear double taps on their toes and heels which produce the double sound.

The steps performed by cloggers are combinations of eight basic toe and heel movements of the dance. Cloggers learn routines to all types of music from 50's numbers like Old Time Rock and Roll to the modern sounds of Cover Girl and Locomotion to the sounds of Country Western music such as Get Back to the Country and Louisiana Saturday Night.

Clogging routines can be done as solos, duets, or they may be done in lines as line dances where no partner is necessary. This is one type of dance when a partner is not a requirement.

Clogging is fun. It's challenging. It's healthful. People of all ages can clog - from small children to senior citizens. It's a great activity that a whole family can enjoy together.

All individuals and couples, adults as well as children are encouraged to give clogging a try. There will be a FREE TRY IT on Wednesday, September 16 from 6:30 - 7:30 at the Threshold, 600 Rolfs Road. No prior experience or special shoes are necessary for lessons. Just come with an eagerness to try something new. There is no age restriction; however, parents are required to attend classes if their children are under twelve years of age.

The first clogging lesson will be Wednesday, September 23 at 6:30 at the Threshold. New members will still be accepted on this date. Call 338-1369 or 338-0943 for more information.

When making meringue, make sure the eggs are room temperature and add a pinch of baking powder before beating.

Letters to the Editor

To Concerned Residents Of the Village of Kewaskum,

On Thursday, August 27, from 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., representatives from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation and engineers from Mid-State Associates will hold an Open House at the Kewaskum Municipal Building. This informational meeting is taking place to explain designs and answer questions pertaining to the expansion of Highway 45 (extending four lanes from West Bend to the stop and go lights in Kewaskum).

As a Village Trustee, I would encourage all village residents to attend the meeting and voice their concerns. All comments will be documented and considered in the final design process.

It is my opinion that the extension of four lanes should be halted at the southern edge of the village. To extend into the village would mean the elimination of the little parking available presently and increased traffic which causes unsafe conditions for our citizens.

If you are unable to attend, but would like to respond, you may write your concerns to me and I would be glad to send them to the proper department. Mail your comments to:

David A. Goeden
1010 Edgewood Drive
Kewaskum, WI 53040

Thank you,
David R. Goeden

Editor:

I have a rhetorical question...do police officers write tickets to obtain revenue? Sergeant Grover and Mr. Braun refer to the fact that a seatbelt ticket costs more to process than the person receiving the ticket pays?! To my understanding, tickets are written to deter people from violating the law, not to make money. I have heard talk about quotas from Sergeant Grover. If the word 'quota' is used to say you want to make sure our officers are working, there is nothing wrong with it. I do not believe that police officers are going to write people tickets if drivers are not violating the law.

I am a newcomer to the state and all I have seen are non-issues in the Sheriff's race. This business about quotas and awards for seatbelt tickets is moot. If people wear their seatbelts, as they are required to by law, officers would not have to write ANY tickets! As a psychiatric nurse, I see absolutely nothing wrong with giving a token coffee mug or key chain to encourage productivity. It is called pro-active supervision. It is human nature to want positive strokes and it appears to be sound management technique to utilize tokens to promote a good feeling about one's performance. I have received awards such as coffee mugs, pens and other tokens for my job performances in the past and have felt very rewarded.

There are two other issues that have been heard in the race. One of the budget. Sheriff Schulteis has explained the deficit to my satisfaction. His approving authority, the Washington County Board, is aware of it and seem to have no problem with it. Enough said. The only other issue I have heard are problems from within the department. As a past director of nurses, I would have been very offended if one of my nurses had a problem and tried to take my job away from me, rather than try to solve the problem through team work and communication. This really sounds like Sergeant Grover simply has a personality problem with the Sheriff.

I have not heard any 'real' issues being discussed by Sergeant Grover. Again, as a new resident of Washington County, the level of police service provided by the Sheriffs Department, is a high, if not higher, than any I have observed in other areas of the country. There appears to be a high level of integrity in our police and I have experienced no problems with the department. I also, would like to commend Sheriff Schulteis for the professional manner in which he is handling this non-issue criticism. Keep up the good work!

GIVING CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE!

Aug. 10, 1992

To the Editor:

Enclosed is a letter that I recently wrote to the Washington County Sheriffs and District Attorneys Committee. A cordial acknowledgement was sent to me by the District Attorney:

Dear Sirs:

On Sunday, June 28, a friend of mine and I became lost while trying to locate a delicatessen, named Schwai. We wanted to purchase some of their fine sausages.

We were about 2 1/2 miles from it and totally confused. In just a short while a sheriff department squad car, No. 25, license plate 2191, driven by a fine young officer, D. Schmidt, stopped to offer assistance. This incident occurred at about 7:50 p.m.

Officer Schmidt was courteous, understanding, professional, and ended up escorting us to the Schwai business establishment. We were grateful, but more impressed with his attitude and disposition, and the sincere rapport he immediately established with us.

Obviously he is a well trained officer, and a credit to your sheriff's department. If he is as proficient in all other aspects of police work as he is in traffic, I would ask you to seriously consider him for promotion. I am not related to him. I had never seen him before.

Further, a pat on the back to you, Sheriff Schulteis, for properly utilizing the services and talents of the personnel on the pay roll.

Keep up the good work, my best wishes to all of you.

Editor, The Kewaskum Statesman:

This letter is not an endorsement for either candidate for Sheriff but a clarification of some items that have come up during the campaign.

It is suggested that Law Enforcement in Washington County is doing little or nothing about the gang related activities in our County, when in fact we have been pursuing this problem with all resources available. When the "problem" began escalating in the fall of 1991 the Law Enforcement agencies in the County started putting extra patrols out to both identify gang type activity and to be able to have people ready to respond if an incident took place. At the same time we did something unique in that we formed a group of people from Law Enforcement in general, Juvenile Law Enforcement, the Schools and the Department of Social Services to exchange information and ideas on how to handle problems at present and in the future. This group meets once a month during the school year and can be called together at other times if need be. This group has opened up a new dialogue between the people of diverse, yet like agencies.

It should also be mentioned that in other matters of law enforcement we hold weekly meetings with all Law enforcement agencies from the County involved. There is also a monthly meeting of a group of Law enforcement Professionals that include the Police Chiefs, the Sheriff, and representatives from their agencies and from the Coroner's office, the District Attorney's office, the Wisconsin State Patrol, the Emergency Government Director, the County Corporation Council, etc. and information from these meetings is sent to all Law Enforcement Agencies in Washington County to keep all officers informed with the most up to date information available.

We, the Association, feel the Citizens of Washington County should be informed of the cooperative efforts by all Law Enforcement agencies in Washington County dealing with gangs, drugs and any other issues that may affect their safety.

Sincerely,
Washington County

Russ Peck Named State Commander of Legion

Russ Peck

Russ Peck, a member of Edgar Zimmerman American Legion Post 321 in Germantown, was elected State Commander of the Wisconsin American Legion for 1992-93. The election was held on July 18, 1992 at the Department's annual Convention in Stevens Point.

Peck, a resident of Jackson, was installed as State Commander at installation ceremonies held the next morning. He will serve as the leader of over 83,700 Wisconsin American Legion members for a one year term.

Peck has served as Commander of the Germantown Post, the Washington County Council and the Second District. This past year he served as State Vice-Commander. He has also been an active member in his Post, County, District and State serving in various other offices and on numerous committees. Peck, who served in the Marine Corp. in 1967-69, served in Vietnam in '68 and '69 in the Northern "I" Corps. Peck is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9202, Washington County Voiture 898 of the 40 et 8, Vietnam Veterans of the American Legion Squadron 321. His wife Sherry, and daughter, Bonni, are both members of the Germantown Auxiliary Unit 321.

Other officers elected at the State Convention were State Vice-Commanders - Bill VanderLoop, Kaukauna, Louis Arndt, Brooklyn, Donald Desch, East Troy, and Robert Parr, Hillsboro, Assistant State Chaplain Stan Shefveld, Ellsworth, and State Sergeant-at-Arms Chuck Cooney, Waupaca and Harold Kapelke, Butler. Lloyd Wagener, Horicon, was elected National Executive Committeeman and Robert Zukowski, Thorpe, was elected Assistant Executive Committeeman.

As Schools Open, Motorists Should Learn the "Three S's," AAA Advises

Schools are opening across the state, and motorists should learn the "three S's" to ensure that child pedestrians and bicyclists get to and from school safely, according to the American Automobile Association's Wisconsin Division.

"Younger children, especially those in kindergarten and first grade, are venturing from their homes and neighborhoods into unfamiliar roadways, intersections and street crossings," said Joe Laubmeier, Triple-A Wisconsin spokesman. "These young children don't have a fully developed sense of judgement and often can't make the split-second decisions that are needed to avoid hazardous traffic situations."

Motorists can help prevent accidents involving school children by learning and remembering the "three S's" of safety: Speed, Space and Seeing.

Speed: Whenever motorists drive in school zones or other areas marked, "Slow," they should obey the signs. "The faster you drive, the less time you have to stop for a child who pops out of nowhere," Laubmeier said.

Most child pedestrian accidents happen in residential neighborhoods, during daylight hours, and involve a driver who lives nearby, according to Laubmeier. "Look for clues that warn of children in the area, such as safety patrols, crossing guards, bikes and school buses," he said. "When you're driving in an area where there are children, slow down."

Space: Drivers should leave a wide margin between their vehicles and objects that might hide children, such as bushes, parked cars or stopped school buses. "The more space you leave on either side of your car, the farther you can see, and the more chances you have to stop a child and stop in time," Laubmeier said.

A motorist must be prepared to stop at least 20 feet from a school bus that has its red lights flashing, according to Laubmeier: "The only exception to this rule is if you are facing the bus from the opposite side of a multi-lane road divided by a median," he said.

Seeing: "Ground-view searching" is a technique motorists can use to improve their chances of spotting a child that may dart into harm's way, according to Laubmeier. "As you drive, scan from the ground up, watching for anyone or anything that might enter your path," he explained.

Laubmeier also recommended that drivers use their headlights in the early morning hours and during inclement weather. "If you have your headlights on, children are more likely to see you and your car, and you are more likely to see them," he said.

Motorists also should be extra alert for children at intersections. "When turning on a red light, come to a complete stop and, before making your turn, check to be sure that there are no pedestrians trying to cross the street," Laubmeier said.

As a public service, Triple-A clubs across the country-through the annual "School's Open-Drive Carefully" campaign-are reminding motorists of their responsibility to drive cautiously as schools begin to open. Triple-A Wisconsin, in conjunction with local police departments, is distributing throughout the state thousands of bumper strips, posters, placements and newspaper announcements as part of this year's campaign.

ME AND MY DAD

by June Sandra Karshen

She had told me this many times, even up until the day she died. But I never believed her because the words came from her, not my dad. Until now. "I kept the reins tight on you. I didn't let you get away with anything. I love both my girls. I just raised you differently. That's all."

"You're just like your old man... a chip off the old block." "No I'm not. You're stubborn, quick tempered, impatient, and you always think you're right!" "Sandy, you've just described yourself."

I always believed I was more like my mom. We were so close that I thought by the process of osmosis I'd be just like her when I grew up. But Dad and I liked to do the same things. We had the same interests. We liked the same foods... radishes, cheese, steak and candy. We even looked alike, or so we were told. Yet, I believed that we were pals by default.

I remember one vacation. We were driving along some wooded highway. Joan and I were in the backseat listening to our parent's conversation up front. As we heard only bits and pieces of what was being said, I asked my parents what they were talking about. After some hesitation, my mom told us in so many words that she had miscarried a twin... my twin brother. My first reaction was, "Would that have been neat." I'd always begged for a brother, let alone a twin! However, when I thought about what could have been for me, I suddenly realized how delighted my father would have been. He would have liked to have a son.

For years, I held that thought. Until recently. We had just been hit by a somewhat heavy snowfall. Nothing major. The decade was ending and beginning with a mild winter. With Dad by my side, I was hooking up the tractor to the battery on our tractor, getting ready to plow out the long drive leading to the house. Dad was quiet... too quiet. He had an odd look on his face and I was just waiting for one of his lectures on "how to" or "how not to" do what I was doing. But instead he said softly, so softly that I could barely hear him, "I raised you to do just as much as any man and more. You're more to me than any son could ever be."

"Why didn't you tell me!" "Your mother was going to tell you in the summer. She didn't want to interrupt your studies. The doctors told us she'd probably live at least six months."

Although years have passed since my mother's death, I remember our conversation so distinctly, as if it were only yesterday. Dad had just picked me up from the hospital. He had called me earlier that morning, around 4:30, to tell me that Mom had taken a turn for the worse and that I should come home immediately. Thinking I could study at the hospital, I packed my books and headed home.

I had a long drive. Three hours. I had called Mom's nurse the day before and was told that she was doing fine. Mom just had a fever and her doctor wanted to monitor her condition. I didn't want to go home. I was going to go directly to the hospital where I could visit Mom and study by her side.

Standing at the information desk, a woman looked up my mother's name and then told me to move back against the wall because she had to make a quick phone call. After a brief and inaudible conversation, she hung up, gave me a room number, and told me to stop at the nurse's station.

Acknowledging, yet ignoring her instructions, I walked into an empty room where there was no sign of Mom. "They gave me the wrong room," I thought. Upon leaving, I saw a nurse come running around the corner. She was coming toward me. I started asking her where they had moved my mom and before I could question further, she grabbed my arm and looked directly in my eyes. "Your mother died this morning around 4 a.m. She woke up, had difficulty breathing, and passed away peacefully without any pain."

Sitting in the car with my dad, I remember wanting Mom. In my mind, Dad and Mom were two opposites. Mom was warm, kind, and full of love. All I had to do was just sit in the same room with her and I knew that everything would be okay. But with Dad it was different. With him I was always on edge. He had no patience with me and nothing that I ever did seemed to please him. At that time in my life, I believed the only thing that held us together was that we both loved Mom more than any other human being on this earth.

I watched Dad as he was driving. He was telling me how he was doing. Rare, incurable cancer. His eyes began to well with tears and he spoke genuinely from the heart when he said, "I would have traded my life for your mothers. If I could have, I would have transferred that damn disease to me."

"How do you feel today Dad?" "Oh, I'm fine as frog's hair. Yes, fine as frog's hair."

He speaks to me so earnestly and it is that adorable side to him that captures my heart.

He also breaks my heart. I watch him as he moves slowly, stooped, leaning on his cane. At times he looks so pale and I can sense immediately when he hasn't slept well. He goes for days sometimes with little or no sleep caused by the disease he tries so hard to fight.

I now welcome his anger, as I always did his laughter, because then I know that all is well. It is those moments when I can see some life in his expressionless face and it is that spark that reminds me of earlier times.

I can still recall watching him and his dog Bodo prepare for the hunting season. It used to give me such a feeling of awe to see them running together... side-by-side, so erect and toned. Without even knowing the season you only had to observe them both and know that fall had arrived.

UWWC Offering Many Classes

The University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County is offering nearly 100 classes this fall. Courses range from Anthropology to Zoology. UWWC offers students a chance to earn up to half of their university credits in a small, nurturing environment where classes are taught by a faculty dedicated to teaching.

Registration for UWWC classes will be held during designated times until the first week of classes beginning September 2. Anyone interested in attending UWWC should contact the Student Services Office at 335-5201 as soon as possible since classes generally fill early.

In early July, the students who received admission letters were also notified that because of heavy interest in UWWC and the University of Wisconsin mandates to hold to enrollment management targets, the campus does not guarantee that a student can take all the credits he/she wishes. A similar notification was sent out to students in 1989.

According to Jan Ford, Director of Student Services, there are many factors that affect the number of credits students will be able to register for. "It's going to be close but I am hopeful we will be able to accommodate everyone," says Ford.

The newly forged link between the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and UWWC will bring an upper division course to the freshman/sophomore campus this fall as well. English 350-465 is a UWM course that will be taught by Susan Brodie, Associate Professor of English at UWWC.

The course, "Major Women Writers: Anne Sexton, Adrienne Rich and Margaret Atwood: Remaking Myths," will meet at UWWC from 5:30 to 8:10 on Tuesday evenings beginning September 8. "This is a course that studies three extremely important writers who have looked at greek mythology, what we've grown up with, and the roles of women coming from myth and religion," explains Brodie.

Brodie, who has taught upper division courses for UWM before, is excited about the class because the work of the authors, especially Rich, points to ways of healing the split between countries, ethnicities and genders.

Both men and women are encouraged to register. "It's so good to get perspectives from both sexes," says Brodie. Students will read essays, poetry, short stories and novels.

Registration is handled through UWM either through mail-in registration or at UWM's walk-in registration which was held on August 25. For a mail-in application call the College of Letters and Science Off-Campus Instructional Program office at 229-5879.

Big Brothers, Sisters Informational Meeting

Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Washington County, Inc. has planned an informational meeting to be held on September 9, at 7 p.m. in their offices located at 120 N. Main Street, Suite 110, West Bend. The meeting should take about one hour.

The staff will be available by appointment for individual informational meetings. Please call 334-7896 for more information.

Schrauth Winner of 1992 County Fair Senior Citizen Award

The winner of the 1992 Most Admired Senior Citizen Award is Bernard Schrauth. He was nominated by Eleanore Klatt, who says Bernard is a very "giving" person.

He visits nursing homes and calls on the sick. He helps the elderly and disabled. He delivers Meals on Wheels and trains new volunteers. He even steps in when another driver is absent. He is on the St. Vincent DePaul Council of West Bend and works as a volunteer worker in the Hartford Store.

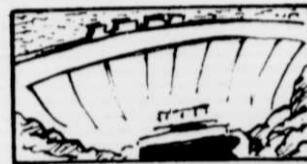

He is a member of the V.F.W. in Hartford and volunteers 20 hours a month. Bernard is a member of the Knights of Columbus, 3rd Degree Council of Hartford. He is a member of Our Lady of Holy Hill Assembly, 4th Degree. Bernard is also a member of the St. Kilian's Usher Society. He received recognition from TV-6 Jefferson Award in 1990.

The award was given at the Washington County Junior Fair on Sunday, July 26, at 1:30 p.m. on the Main Stage by the 1992 Fairest of the Fair, Jennifer Degnitz of Fredonia.

Oldest Attendees of 1992 County Fair

The winner of the Oldest Attendee of the 1992 Washington County Fair Contest is Katherine Ollinger. She lives at Cedar Ridge Road in West Bend and she is 96 years old. Her favorite memories of the County Fair are that she always watched the horses with her dad and they always had to bail hay before going to the fair. She has attended the fair for as long as she can remember.

Other entrants for this contest were Anton Wentz, Alma Brandt, Frank Felix and Ervin Gritz-macher. Their ages ranged from 88 to 91.

The largest piece of masonry ever built is the Grand Coulee Dam in Washington. It consists of about 12 million cubic yards of concrete.

UW Centers Receives $508,000 Grant

The University of Wisconsin Centers received a federal grant of $508,086 that will greatly improve services to students.

The money will be spent to purchase computer hardware and software for "a powerful student information system that will link all 13 UW Centers campuses and the Central Office in Madison," said Kathleen Glynn, external grants officer for the UW Centers. The new system will be phased in over a three-year period.

The grant was funded by a U.S. Department of Education program known as "Strengthening Institutions" or Title III. The competition for Title III grants is "very intense," said Glynn.

"This year, only about 15 percent of all proposals were funded." Furthermore, this year there was no "set-aside" for two-year campuses, she said, "so the UW Centers competed successfully against both two- and four-year campuses." The UW Centers campuses offer the freshman/sophomore liberal arts transfer curriculum to approximately 11,000 students. Approximately 750 students attend the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County in West Bend.

UW Centers Chancellor Lee E. Grugel said students will see the benefits of faster, more complete, and more accurate record keeping and processing. "Staff members who work with students will have better records and this will improve the services we provide to our students," he said.

Dan Edlebeck, UW Centers registrar and chair of the committee that determined the requirements for the new system, said, "Most importantly, it will enable us to greatly improve our level of service to students in the areas of application and admission, financial aid processing, registration, and transfer. The information in the system," he said, "will be available to any campus, and we will put to better use our important institutional resources."

Jan Ford, Director of Student Services at UWC - Washington County is in firm agreement. "Students will benefit at all stages of their university careers at UWC - at the time of application, during their enrollment on the campus, and as they prepare to move on to the baccalaureate institutions. The system will allow the university to provide a wide array of services to students at a more efficient and effective level."

Students will benefit from this new system even before they take their first class on campus. "The tracking of students as they move through the application to admission to registration process will now utilize computer technology to assist in an accurate and timely notification to students." Ford said that currently, most of this tracking is done manually, and "while accurate and timely, the process is costly in terms of staff time." "Registration will be considerably faster and easier for students." Other enhancements in areas of financial aids, academic advising, and transfer will directly impact in the most positive of ways upon the level of service provided to students. "Every member of the campus community benefits - the faculty, the staff and most importantly, the students."

Tom Schneider, UW Centers data services manager, said that in the near future "we will have to have access to the new technology to be able to better serve our students."

For example, he said, "we know that there will be demands for electronic transfer of information and forms among educational institutions. This new system will allow us to take advantage of these developments and in turn provide better service to students. Students, faculty, and staff will save a lot of time."

Chancellor Grugel said the awarding of the grant was "testimony to the high quality of teaching and learning going on in the UW Centers. Title III grants don't go to schools that are in trouble," he said. "They go to strengthen institutions that are already doing a good job."

Grugel said he particularly wanted to thank the individuals who participated in developing the requirements for the new system and those who helped in preparing the grant proposal. "They did a lot of hard work and it paid off," he said. "Our students will be the beneficiaries."

He has engaged the services of two good molders and is prepared to make castings of every description. Anyone desiring castings made, leave your orders with him and get your work done right.

A deal was made in this village last Thursday whereby the firm of Lochen & Heindl of West Bend, leased the livery of Westermann Brothers, for a term of two years. The new firm intends to remodel the building and make it into a modern garage. They intend to make this plant a branch of their West Bend agency and handle the Ford cars exclusively. These gentlemen are well known in this community and are hustlers and we can see no reason why they should not make a success of the undertaking. The Westermann Brothers will give up the livery business, and Ed, the senior member of the firm has purchased a farm and is working same, and Carl, the junior member, has been called in the Army draft. We regret to see the livery business go from our village but welcome the new business.

The approaching marriage of Rose Gitter to John Kern was announced in church last Sunday. Born to Andrew Bonlender and wife, a baby girl last week Wednesday.

Dairyland Seed Research Team Releases 7 New Stealth Hybrids

The Dairyland research staff was proud to announce the release of 7 new Stealth Hybridstms for the 1993 season. These new Stealth Hybridstms run a broad range of maturities and provide tremendous genetic diversity of the Dairyland lineup. Beyond diversity, they bring added performance, stability, and yield capacity to Dairyland customers.

According to Vice-President of Research, Dr. Paul Sun, "We have studied the GENI (Genotypic Environmental Interaction) profile of each of these hybrids and see some very strong genetic gains. The key will be proper placement so farmers can capture that genetic gain."

Dr. Sun attributed a number of these releases to the expand strip plot testing program that Dairyland undertook this past year. According to Sun, the combined efforts of the strip testing program and the GENI research plots helped identify these new products for 1993.

The new hybrids range in maturity from 85-day to 120-day. A description of the hybrids for this area follows:

Stealth - 1185: This hybrid features excellent yield and drydown in early maturity zones. Stealth-1185 has comparable yields to DX-1186 with better stalk strength. It can go further north than DX-1186 as it finishes slightly earlier. Thanks to its talk strength, it can be used as an early corn in a later maturity zone.

Stealth - 1202: This tall hybrid has outyielded DX-1101 by 11 bu./a. and DX-1103 by 7 bu./a. in research trials. Stealth-1202 has handled stress conditions and has performed exceptionally well east to west. Stealth - 1202 has excellent drydown and ear retention. In addition, Dairyland Seed has released three new waxy hybrids for the 1993 season. They are as follows:

DX-1088 Waxy: Due to demand in our northern areas, we brought an 88-day waxy into the lineup. DX-1088 Waxy shows exceptional grain yield yet features the waxy gene!

DX-1103 Waxy: We've added the waxy gene to our leading seller. The result is a waxy hybrid with strong yields and nice plant health. Drydown is average.

Dairyland Seed offers a comprehensive hybrid corn crop management guide titled "Management 2000"™. For more information on Dairyland's new Stealth Hybrids or to obtain your free copy of "Management 2000"™, write Dairyland Seed Co., Inc., P.O. Box 958, West Bend, WI 53095 or call 1-800-236-0163.

FARMINGTON 4-H'ERS

The June meeting was fun! The horse project gave a demonstration. Jana Goratowski showed how to use a rubber curry as the 1st step in grooming a horse. Erica Voeks showed how to use the hard brush as the 2nd step. Brendon Weinhold the soft brush as the 3rd step. Jenny Stephan the comb as the 4th step. Jennifer Hermann the hoofpick as the 5th step, and Allison Voeks the towel as the last step.

We had a carwash on Saturday the 13th of June, it was pretty successful.

Our club had two people bring animals to Breakfast on the Farm, they were Nichole Cochenet and Brendon Weinhold. Several of our club members also worked at Breakfast on the Farm.

We are having a mini-fair of our own and some people are coming to show us how to make our record books for our July meeting.

Third Quarter Estimated Tax Payments Due

The Internal Revenue Service reminds people who make estimated tax payments that the third installment for 1992 is due Tuesday, September 15.

The payment should be sent to the IRS along with the third quarter payment voucher from Form 1040ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. To be sure that the payment is properly credited to your account, the IRS asks that you write your social security number and the words, "1992 Form 1940ES" on the check.

If you expect to owe $500 or more in federal tax at the end of the year, you probably should be making quarterly estimated tax payments, the IRS says. Although retirees and business people are most often affected by this requirement, it can potentially apply to anyone who receives income not subject to withholding, such as unemployment benefits, capital gains, interest, dividends, and rental income.

If you're not sure how much you'll make this year, the IRS says you can usually base your quarterly payments on 1991's total tax. Under this method, each quarterly payment must be at least one-fourth of the total tax shown on your 1991 return. But, a change in the law says this method can no longer be used by a higher income person whose income is rising rapidly. You probably are affected by this change if your 1992 income exceeds $75,000 and is up more than $40,000 over 1991, the IRS says.

IRS Publication 505 has more information on estimated tax in general and this tax law change in particular. To get a free copy of this booklet or the 1040ES form, call toll-free 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676).

Straub Named Wisconsin State University Conference Scholar-Athlete, Wrestling

University of Wisconsin-Whitewater wrestler Rich Straub of Kewaskum has been named the Wisconsin State University Conference Scholar-Athlete for the sport of wrestling. Straub, a May 1992 UW-W graduate, is the first Warhawk wrestler to be named twice to the National Wrestling Coaches Association Division III Scholar Athlete team.

"Rich has combined athletic and academic success," said UW-W wrestling coach Willie Myers. "I am very proud of the fact that he has been selected the WSUC Scholar Athlete Association Division III All-American honors with a fifth place finish at the 134 pound weight class in this year's championship. A two-time NCAA Division III national qualifier, Straub was one of the Warhawk's 1992 co-captains.

Straub finished the 1991-92 season with a 43-9 record, setting a new school record for most wins in a season, and his career total of 114 wins are fourth best at UW-W. His 18 pins last year were the fourth best in school history and his 58 career pins is the second best total in Warhawk wrestling record books.

Straub, an elementary education major, finished with a 3.42 (B+) cumulative grade point average and has been selected to teach at the junior high school level here in his hometown, Kewaskum.

T's Lounge Captures Women's Title

By Statesman Sports Writer
KEWASKUM — It took a bit more work than maybe had been anticipated, but T's Lounge, the regular season women's league champion, finished their season by capturing the Monday night women's championship in the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association softball leagues.

T's Lounge was pitted against Riverview Tap in the best 2-out-of-3 championship series, after Riverview downed Shefond Mobil Mart 4-2 in their semifinal game. Riverview came up with three runs in the bottom of the sixth to upend Shefond.

In the opener of the championship series, Riverview came out strong, building a 6-0 lead in the fourth. It was still 8-2 Riverview Tap heading into the bottom of the sixth, when T's started to rally.

But five runs over the final two innings wasn't quite enough for T's, as Riverview took the first game 8-7, to go up 1-0 and putting pressure on T's to come up with a win.

That's just what T's did, however, as they shut out Riverview 4-0 in the second contest, and the Riverview bats remained silent in the third and deciding game, as they were once again shut out by T's this time by a 5-0 count.

Motivating Forces Push Indian Netters

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM - One would think that the Kewaskum girls tennis team, after finishing an unprecedented second in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference race a year ago, would look no further than to its nine returning letterwinners in order to be enthusiastic about the upcoming season.

But Coach Glenn Eichstedt notes a couple of other factors that loom large in the minds of the 33 players out for the sport — two new coaches, as well as six new courts.

"That is a real motivator," Eichstedt said regarding the new courts located just east of the school. The new facility should be ready by the Indians first home meet in September.

The new coaches are Sandy Walters and Carla Pritzlaff, although Walters isn't really new, considering she helped out at the end of the year last season. Walters specializes in doubles play, while Pritzlaff, a new faculty member at KHS this fall, will bring her collegiate experience to help the Indian players.

"We're really looking forward to this season," Eichstedt went on. "Everything is going very well... very upbeat. This is the most competitive it's been in all my years of coaching."

The competition is certain to remain high, as three of the top four singles players return from last year's squad. Missy Rohrer, last year's EW champ at No. 3 singles, Jenny Thull, EW runner-up at No. 2 and Karyn Dossinger, EW runner-up at No. 4, are all vying for the No. 1 singles spot, vacated by graduate Jessica Rohrer.

"Those three are playing some outstanding tennis," Eichstedt said. Regarding Dossinger, "She's elevated the level of her play, which makes for great competition between the three. It's not just a matter of moving everyone up one notch, now. It's a nice problem to have."

Also returning to the fold are Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank, who teamed to win the EW title at No. 3 doubles last year. Cayner and Frank will occupy the No. 1 doubles spot this year.

Other letterwinners looking to fill in the final singles spot, as well as the other doubles tandems are seniors Kate Berres, Carrie Fellenz and Jenefer VanAssche, junior Lisa Berres as well as a trio of sophomore non-letterwinners, Terry Roe, Meredith Frac and Anne Mertz.

Eichstedt expects this year's group to challenge for the EW title, which was won by Two Rivers last year. "I think we'll have the depth to compete with them," he said. "It's surprising to see how quickly the level of play has improved for us."

"Everybody is working real hard," he went on. "We're going to use the non-conference schedule to hopefully get us prepared for conference."

The Indians open their non-conference slate this Thursday, when they travel to Ripon for a 4 p.m. meet. Kewaskum will also take part in the Washington County Invitational this Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. at West Bend. The Indians finished third at the County last season, and Eichstedt said, "We'd like to step it up another notch."

Experience Should be Key for Indian Spikers

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Coming off of a fine 1991-92 campaign that culminated in a trip to the WIAA State Meet in Oshkosh last fall, the Kewaskum Indian volleyball team and coach Dave Rizzardi have high hopes for the coming season.

"We have a lot of experience coming back," Rizzardi said of his troops, which will feature nine returning letterwinners from last year's team, which finished just third in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference (7-5), but wound up fourth in the state tourney. "We've got a good nine to start with."

All nine letterwinners are seniors, headed by first-team all-EW selection Christa Schmidt, who will anchor the Indian front line. Also returning to the fold with state tournament experience are Beth Kempf, Rachelle Krahn, Julie Mertz, Kim Sabish, Bonnie Schlice, Marty Schlice, Julie Wagner and Robyn Winninghoff.

"That's a great core to start with," said Rizzardi, who still hasn't decided on which juniors will be around after the final cuts are made. A maximum of 15 players are allowed on the varsity, and there are 17 or 18 girls vying for those spots. Last year, Rizzardi kept 13 players on the varsity roster. (Due to the Statesman deadline, the final roster was unavailable at press time, and Rizzardi declined to speculate on final cuts).

One of Rizzardi's goals for himself is to get the Indians to gel quicker than they usually do. "Traditionally, we always seem to come on at the end of the season," he said, adding "I want to see that happen right away."

The Indians boss will be without the services of first-team all-EW selection Kelly Korth, as well as Stacey Heberer, Jackie Hintz and Tina Schwartz, all of whom graduated last year. "Their leadership is going to be missed."

Having nine girls back from the lone Division II team to post game wins over the top three teams in the state will surely help, though. But, according to Rizzardi, "We have to be ready right from the start."

"I think we'll be in the top three," Rizzardi said, regarding his team's chances in the EW. He pointed to New Holstein, Two Rivers, Sheboygan Falls, and defending champ Chilton as being the other contenders in conference.

The Indian mentor is not about to guarantee a second straight trip to Oshkosh, although he said the players may feel a sense of urgency to get back to state. "They (the seniors) have all been there, and certainly they know it (state) is out there," he said. "If they can mature, and learn to play together on the court, we'll do just fine."

A lot of credit for the increasingly large turnout for the sport goes to the Middle School, according to Rizzardi. "That's the key. They do a great job getting people out for the sport. We always get a lot of freshman out." However, that enthusiasm leads to a numbers problem.

"We don't know what we're going to do yet," said Rizzardi, who is in his 13th year at the helm for the Indians. With 26 freshman and about another dozen sophomores out for the sport, cuts will have to be made at just about every level, a first for just about any KHS sport.

Rizzardi is trying to ease the decision-making process by proposing an alternative for those cut - an intramural program for volleyball. "We really need to start that, especially for the younger players," but according to the athletic director, "It hasn't been finalized yet."

After hosting the Indian Invitational on Saturday, Kewaskum opens Eastern Wisconsin Conference action Tuesday, Sept. 1st, at home against Two Rivers.

Indians Fare Well In Scrimmage

By Statesman Sports Writer

WEST BEND — It was just a scrimmage, but it still gave Kewaskum football coach Clark Pearson reason to smile, as his Indian squad held a joint practice with the West Bend East and West teams here, last Friday afternoon.

"Oh, I thought we did alright," Pearson said regarding the outing. "I was satisfied. It appears we will have a little more depth this year."

The scrimmage gave each team a chance to test the first and second units, on both offense and defense. Each unit was given 20 minutes on the field against each team. "We got a lot of football in," Pearson quipped.

Although WIAA regulations don't allow statistics to be kept in scrimmages, "Pearson said that the Indians running game impressed him. "We had some nice runs," by several backs, he said, adding "They (backs) all did a good job."

But the backs didn't do it by themselves, according to the Indian boss. "The offensive line got off the ball very well," Pearson said. "They played real well as a team. I was real pleased with both the offense and defense."

While Pearson was impressed with the way the Indians were able to run the ball, he says there is still some work to be done with the passing game. "We really need to work on that," he said of perhaps the strongest part of the Indian offense last season. "We haven't spent much time on it (passing) up to this point. We'll be doing more of that this week."

Another area of concern for Pearson is the team's kicking game. The first and second string kickers, both punting and extra points, have graduated, leaving a big hole to fill. "We're worried about our kicking game," he noted. "Right now, we're experimenting a bit. There is still a lot of competition going on."

Starting QB Jim Marx suffered a slight ankle injury in the scrimmage, but is expected to play this week in practice, and in the opener at Campbellsport Friday. Also, Senior Jim Rix is expected to return to practice this week, after missing practice time with a banged up knee.

C.C. Cody's, T's Lounge Advance to Title Games

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — T's Lounge took the hard route, but in doing so, they made it possible that T's could win the championship plaques in all three softball leagues sponsored by the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association.

Joining T's Lounge in advancing to this week's championship games was C.C. Cody's which also made things hard for themselves in qualifying for the Tuesday night title.

On Tuesday night, Schlufty's and Campbellsport Building Supply squared off in the quarter-final contest, with Campbellsport Building Supply scoring 11 runs in the bottom of the sixth, to post an 18-7 win, sending them into the semifinal battle with C.C. Cody's.

C.B.S. remained hot at the plate, as they jumped out to a commanding 10-3 lead over Cody's heading into the bottom of the fifth. But that's when Cody's got hot, scoring seven runs, all after two were out, to tie things at 10-all. Cody's added three more in the sixth, and held off C.B.S. to advance to this week's 2-out-of-3 championship series against T's Lounge II.

In Thursday night's action, the opening contest saw C.C.'s and L and R Trophy meet in a makeup game that was to decide the first and second seeds in the playoffs. The game was no contest, though, as L and R got revenge for an earlier loss to C.C.'s by pounding them 16-1, led by Dean Hogeboom and Dan Heisdorf, who each hit home runs.

The second contest saw T's Lounge meeting Emun Mill Gamefarm in the first round of the playoffs. Emun Mill jumped out to a 4-1 lead after four innings, but T's battled back to tie the game, and then won it in extra innings, with three runs in the top of the eighth, 7-4.

T's continued to roll at the plate in their next game against C.C. Cody's, as they staked claim to an 11-2 lead after three and half innings. Joel Serwe homered for Cody's but their rally wasn't enough, as T's Lounge held on for an 11-7 win.

That sent T's into the semifinal game against C.C.'s which got the No. 2 seed due to their loss earlier in the night. C.C.'s got out of the box first with a run in the second, but T's Lounge came back to score four unanswered runs, taking a 4-1 lead.

Kevin Thull hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth, but it wasn't enough, as C.C.'s went down quietly in the seventh, sending T's into the championship series against L and R Trophy, with a 4-3 win.

Both Tuesday's and Thursday's championship series get underway at 7:00 p.m. at the Kiwanis Community Park.

Indian Gridders to Open Friday at Campbellsport

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — Respectability is the main goal for the Kewaskum football squad this season. After years of frustration competing against the likes of Plymouth and Two Rivers, there may finally be some light at the end of the tunnel.

The last couple of seasons have seen the freshman and junior varsity programs post wins over the powers of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, despite not having nearly the experience of those squads, which have football programs at the middle school level.

So with those same players now ready to see action at the varsity level, the Indians and coach Clark Pearson have reason to be guardedly optimistic.

"This group has been very competitive at the lower levels," Pearson said, although noting that other coaches in the EW have a tendency to elevate their top underclassmen to the varsity level. "We hope that they will continue to be competitive at the varsity level."

The Indians return 15 lettermen to the fold this year, including five starters who saw extensive action in 1991. Seniors Todd Muckerheide, Dan Schulteis, Jim Marx and Jim Rix head the list.

Muckerheide was named to the all-EW first team last season at linebacker, where he often caused havoc in the opposing team's backfield. Pearson blitzed Muckerheide more and more as the season wore on, and indications are that the same will be this year.

"We're expecting him to anchor the linebacker core," Pearson said about the 6-0, 191-pound Muckerheide. He and Schulteis should be the workhorses on defense. "We're expecting a lot from those two."

Schulteis, an all-EW second teamer at noseguard, will anchor the Indian defensive line, while Rix, an honorable mention choice at offensive tackle, will do the same on offense. Marx, who came on for the injured Chad Cook last year, will handle the quarterbacking duties after having shown poise at the position a year ago.

The lone other starter from last year is junior Beau Coulter, who returns to his spot in the defensive backfield. Pearson likes Coulter's speed, which appears to be one of the Indians' strengths this season.

"We have decent overall team speed," Pearson said, adding size and strength should be an asset as well. "We're a little bigger than in the past."

Other prospects include seniors Chris Geidel (G, DL), Kevin Kohn (C, DE), and juniors Corey Bergdorf (T, DL), Pat Bertram (T, DL), Jay Enright (C, DL), Jason Gaffke (QB, DL), Justin Hanson (G, DL), Heath Heise (RB, DB), Jesse Korth (E, DE), Brad Jackson (WB, DB), Shawn Larson (FB, DL), Steve May (T, DL), Kevin Parrish (RB, LB), Tony Rix (E, DB), James Schaefer (G, DL), Wayne Sterns (G, LB), Mark Stephanie (QB, DB), Paul Stoltzmann (G, DL), Mark Strobel (FB, LB, and Robbie Donath (E, DE).

Pearson, in his fifth year as the Indians head coach, and 20th year overall, lists Marx as his starting QB for the season opener. Joining Marx in the backfield will be Schlosser (RB), Muckerheide (FB), and Schulteis (WB). The offensive line looks like this, with Morell and Rochon at tackles, Geidel and Hanson at guards, and Bruendl at center. Rettler will start at end, with McFadden and Jackson shuffling in plays from their wide out positions.

Defensively, Pearson is not quite set on which players will start, although he pointed to Larson, Rochon, Donath and Morell as the top downlineman, with Muckerheide, Schulteis, Rettler and Reichert at linebackers, and Coulter, Herman and Stephani at deep backs. Stoltzmann, Schlosser, Schmidt, Strobel and Jackson also should see significant minutes on defense.

In order to improve on last year's 1-8 mark (1-5 in the EW), the Indians need to bolster the offensive and defensive lines, where they have little experience, according to Pearson.

The Indians appear to be somewhat small up front, having just six players exceeding 200 pounds, but are rich in what some coaches refer to as the athletic types, with 14 more players weighing between 180-200 pounds.

As for his expectations in the EW, Pearson said "we'd like to get to the .500 level," adding that the team "needs to build a winning tradition. It's easy to talk about, but hard to achieve."

The Indians will get their first taste of game action this Friday, when they travel to Campbellsport to play their perennial rivals, beginning at 7:30. The Indians' first home contest will be next Friday, when they host Horicon in a non-conference battle.

Indians to Open at Home

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum girls volleyball team will once again open their season in the friendly confines, hosting a tournament Saturday, August 29th.

The Indians Invitational will get underway at 10:00 a.m., and will feature the host Indians playing a round-robin format with Campbellsport, as well as fellow Eastern Wisconsin Conference foes Kiel and Chilton. Chilton, which won the EW championship last year, took first in the tournament last year.

If no candidate for vice president has a majority of Electoral College votes, the Senate chooses from the top two, with the senators voting as individuals.

Local Business = Good Business

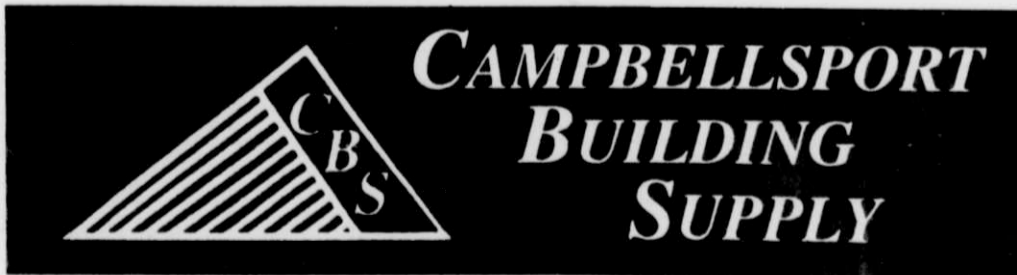

Everyday, it seems, we are hearing more from people dissatisfied with home repair or remodeling work. Whether it's roofing, siding, fencing, guttering or other home improvement projects, the problems we hear usually involve out-of-the-area companies.

It's always been risky to do business with people who are in-town for a while or "just passing through". It's even become risky to deal with big national companies with big reputations and big advertising budgets. Recently, one of America's most trusted and largest retailers was accused of making numerous unauthorized and unnecessary repairs, and another was cited for marking up prices before items go on sale.

The bigger problem is that out-of-the-area companies have little or no sense of local responsibility. If you have a problem, you usually deal with someone who neither lives here nor has the authority to correct your problem. In your quest for satisfaction, you may have to talk to an anonymous operator at the end of a 900 number that you pay for. Is it worth the risk? We don't think so.

We're proud to be your independent, local lumber and building materials retailer. We work hard everyday to supply you the best products at the best prices. We stand behind our products and our work. Today and tomorrow. We're here when you need us.
