Town Board Approves Purchase of New Hall

By Statesman Staff Writer

*KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum Town Board Monday night approved a measure that calls for the purchase of land on which to construct a new Town Hall, and also approved the selling of the existing Town Garage.

The Board turned down, though, a proposal for a Conditional Use Permit which would have been used to construct a golf driving range in Section 22, on Prospect Drive.

The applicant for the permit, Erich Kontusch, failed to show up for the meeting, and the Board felt that the plans Kontusch submitted for the range were too vague. Also, concerns of some residents in the area were expressed, namely noise and possible lighting of the area.

Town Clerk Barb Wenzlaff reported that the Board has submitted an offer to purchase five acres of land in Section 11, at the corner of Kettle Moraine Drive and Hwy. 28, as a site for the new Town Hall.

"The offer has been accepted," Wenzlaff said, adding that the Board will meet Sept. 28th to make the final arrangements for the purchase.

The new Town Hall will be 60 x 150, with a 60 x 50 area adjacent for an office area. The Town will look into a 20-year mortgage, seeking to borrow $250,000 for the construction. The board also approved the selling of the existing Town Garage located at 9340 Hwy. 45.

Kewaskum School District Sets the Pace for County United Way

Kewaskum School District Employees have "set the pace" for the Kewaskum portion of the United Way of Washington County's 1992 campaign. Kewaskum Division Leader, Gerry Kiefer, reports that the School Employees have raised $6,600 in gifts and pledges to date. "This represents about a four percent increase over last year by this group," said Kiefer. "I am most pleased with the results and compliment our super volunteer, Jerry Gosa, for his efforts on our behalf."

"Washington County Cares" is the theme of the 1992 campaign. The county-wide goal of $785,000 represents a 5 percent increase over last year's effort. "Kewaskum's goal for our portion of the 1992 drive is $34,500," said Kiefer. "As of today, we have raised $161,381 across the county, or 20 percent of the goal."

A Kewaskum Business Leaders breakfast for United Way was held on September 15, hosted by Regal Ware. A highlight of this year's campaign is a locally-produced video, featuring two vital services our local United Way funds support — the Food Pantry, and the ElderServe Adult Day Center, part of Lutheran Social Services. The ElderServe program is located in West Bend, and serves elderly of all faiths throughout Washington County.

The video, which was funded by contributions from Regal Ware and Amity Leather, also features

Regal Ware employee Carol Vetter, a United Way Board member and Vice President of the Washington County Central Labor Council. Vetter explains how United Way funds are distributed and the scrutiny our local agencies undergo each year. As she states, "Many people ask me, 'Should I give to United Way or shouldn't I give to United Way?' My answer is always the same — I know they should give to United Way."

Earlier this year, the local United Way Board voted NOT to send any dues to the national organization. "We want to remind everyone that 100 percent of their donations are staying right here in Washington County this year," said Kiefer. "The needs of our agencies are increasing, and we need to support the work that they do so well."

Assisting Kiefer with this year's United Way drive are Kewaskum volunteers Sandy Amerling, Donna Bier, Jerry Gosa, Larry Martin, Tim Miller, and Tom Timblin.

The campaign will continue through October 31. Funds raised will be distributed among 27 health and human service agencies in Washington County, 21 of which serve the Kewaskum community.

Cemetery Sidewalk Issue Defeated

The ongoing issue of installing sidewalks along the St. Lucas and Holy Trinity cemeteries on the east end of Kewaskum was defeated on a 4 to 3 vote at last Monday evening's Village Board meeting.

Trustee Bob Beisbier made the motion to delay further action on the sidewalks with Bob Wagner's second. Trustees Harry Roecker and Dave Goeden also voted against the sidewalk. Trustees Gary Gavin and Tom McElhatton and Board President Mary Krueger voted to continue the proposed construction.

More information on the meeting will be published in next week's issue.

Connie Schulist Named 'Outstanding Parent'

Connie Schulist

Mrs. Connie Schulist has been named the "Outstanding Parent" for 1992 by the Wisconsin Council for the Gifted and Talented. She was nominated for this award by Carol Zoerb, district coordinator for gifted and talented programs, for her extensive support and involvement in promoting gifted education and parent involvement in the School District of Kewaskum.

Mrs. Schulist, mother of Jessica, Amanda, and Darrin, has worked as a classroom volunteer, helped to make elementary learning centers, and serves on the Leadership Council for the Gifted and Talented in the district. In addition, she has been instrumental in organizing parents at Kewaskum Elementary to get them involved in volunteer activities at school.

She is being trained this year to be a Leader for Junior Great Books so the program will expand to include kindergarten, first and second graders.

The Wisconsin Council for the Gifted and Talented is holding their annual conference in Stevens Point on October 2 and 3. Mrs. Schulist will be presented with the award at a banquet held on October 2.

This honor goes to individuals who have significantly contributed to the cause of Wisconsin's gifted and talented children.

Parks Committee Looking for Citizen Input

By Gerry Mueller
Statesman Staff Writer

Kewaskum Village Board Trustee Gary Gavin, who also serves as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee, advised fellow trustees Monday night, that his group has been looking at plans and projects to upgrade and improve the quality of the village's two parks. "We're looking for any input, comments or suggestions on anything that can help us."

Gavin also said he welcomes any and all suggestions from residents and people who use the parks. Do we need more or better playground equipment, is there something in, or about the parks you would like to see changed or improved, now is the time to let us hear from you, said

Kewaskum Juniors Sponsor Bike-A-Thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced recently that the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club will serve as coordinator for the Kewaskum "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon. The event will be held on September 26, 1992 at the Kewaskum High School track from 9 a.m. - noon.

St. Jude Children Research Hospital, which was founded in 1962 by the late entertainer, Danny Thomas, is America's largest childhood cancer research, treatment and education center. The Memphis based hospital has a local impact because it freely provides area doctors and hospitals with assistance in diagnosis and the latest information for treatments and procedures.

The non-sectarian hospital currently follows over 4,500 active patients. Because treatment is provided to all patients regardless of their family's ability to pay, it costs St. Jude Hospital over $215,000 per day to keep its doors open. These funds come primarily from public donations.

Sponsor forms are available at the Kewaskum Statesman, Video Post or by calling Jenny at 626-4074. Prizes are available to individuals collecting $30 or more. Everyone is welcome to participate.

Local Police Attend Governor's Conference on Emergency Management

On September 1-2, 1992 Chief Richard Knoebel and Thomas Bauer of the Kewaskum Police Department and Chief Robert Stoltzmann and Robert Wagner of the Kewaskum Fire Department took part in the 26th annual Governor's Conference on Emergency Management. The nationally acclaimed Conference attracted an audience of more than 600 local, state, and federal emergency management and first response officials.

One of the session's highlights was a presentation by Mr. Dale Shipley, President of the National Emergency Management Association and Director of the Ohio Emergency Management Agency. Mr. Shipley discussed the impact of the changing world situation on the Civil Defense/Emergency Management Program.

Other featured speakers included Dr. Grady Bray an expert on critical incident stress and teamwork motivation. Captain Thomas Daley of the U.S. Coast Guard discussed a hazardous materials spill which involved the S.S. Jupiter. The incident occurred on the Detroit River just one day after an exercise which was intended to test the Coast Guard's and other agencies' response capabilities. Professor James Abernathy of Lawrence Technological Institute gave a presentation on tornado safety in buildings. Mr. Abernathy also spoke at last year's conference and because the presentation was so well received, he was invited to address the gathering again this year.

Conference attendees also participated in topical seminars of their choice. Among them was a presentation by Mary F. Webster who is a consultant on the National Coordinating Council on Emergency Management (NCEM). She discussed NCEM's national certification program for emergency managers. The program was created to raise and maintain professional standards and to certify basic skills within the profession.

Other topical seminars were on the Emergency Operations Planning Process, The Role of Local Officials in SARA III Compliance/Inspection, The Federal Emergency Management Agency's Family Protection Program and Public Information and Awareness - How To Use It Effectively.

The Conference was held at the Holiday Inn Madison West and was sponsored by the Division of Emergency Government and the Department of Military Affairs.

County Treasurer Issues Lottery Credit Reminder

WEST BEND....County Treasurer, Fredric A. Seefeldt, issued a reminder today to Washington County property owners to return their lottery credit application cards to him by the October 1 deadline.

"My office originally mailed about 26,000 cards at the end of August. As of Friday, September 18, about 22,000 cards have been returned to us," reported Seefeldt.

"The lottery credit will appear on property tax bills to be mailed out in December. In order to receive the credit, homeowners must certify ahead of time that they owned and occupied a particular dwelling unit as their primary residence as of July 1, 1992," said Seefeldt.

"Every effort was made to reach all eligible parties through the mailing, however, no mailing list is perfect. Homeowners who feel they are eligible, but did not receive an application in the mail, should contact my office so that an application card can be sent to them," advised Seefeldt.

"Again, I urge people to get their cards returned. The longer the delay, the easier it is for the card to get lost or forgotten. If questions do arise, I invite homeowners to call my office for assistance. Our telephone numbers are: West Bend area: 335-4324; Metro area: 342-2929 and Hartford area: 644-5204. Our office hours are 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday," Seefeldt stated.

Good old corn field — about the only thing left that can be shocked!

Counties Receive Refund Checks

On Sunday, Sept. 13, 1992, Washington County received a $14,024 refund check from the Wisconsin County Mutual Insurance Corporation. This refund recognizes Washington County's loss experience while participating as a member of the County Mutual. A deductible fund is established for payment of claims within the county's deductible. A refund is made when the deductible fund exceeds the actual deductible losses paid. An accounting of the deductible fund at the end of each policy year results in a payment due to the County Mutual if the county's losses are greater than their fund balance. The county is refunded the unused portion of their deductible fund when deductible losses paid are less than the amount of their deductible fund.

Sheboygan County will receive the largest refund with over $64,000 being returned to the county for the 1989 and 1991 fiscal years, while the largest 1991 deductible refund will go to Marathon County which will receive over $64,000 for the fiscal 1991 year along.

Since the inception of the Wisconsin County Mutual Insurance Corporation in 1922, the Mutual has returned more than $750,000 dollars back to participating counties. The County Mutual was created to fill a need that emerged when many counties found themselves without liability insurance. The insurance available at that time was expensive and did not cover employment or civil right's claims. It also provided limited police professional coverage and directors and officers liability coverage.

With uncertainty concerning the availability of coverage in the future and difficulty obtaining liability insurance for their counties, counties joined to create the County Mutual. Counties forming the County Mutual in 1988 reduced their rates by more than 25 percent in the first year. The County Mutual was also created to cover risks not covered by existing insurance programs and designed the claim handling and other services to meet the needs of the provided members.

On September 13, 1992, at the Radisson Center in La Crosse, the Wisconsin County Mutual Insurance Corporation will again be handing out refund checks to many member counties at the Wisconsin County Mutual Corporation Annual Business Meeting. This year the Corporation will be handing out refunds totaling over $351,000 dollars to 37 of the 52 participating counties.

Fall Sale at Lac Lawrann

Dried flowers, grapevine, raffia, and tamarack swags, baskets and house plants will be offered at the fall sale Saturday, Sept. 26 at Lac Lawrann Conservancy, West Bend. Volunteers have been busy collecting and drying flowers from fields and their gardens all summer. Larkspur, baby's breath, statice, anise hyssop, rye, golden rod, strawflowers, celosia, silver dollars and delphinium are just a few of the flowers that will be available for crafters. The sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. or until "sold out" in the shed at the conservancy at 300 Schmidt Rd. (north of Hwy. 33 and east of the court house).

For the person, who likes to decorate with natural materials, but has never tried, volunteers will be available at the sale to offer suggestions for making their own decorations. In addition to the do-it-yourself materials, baskets and swags, completed fall and Christmas arrangements will be available. A table full of house plants to brighten the winter months ahead will also be offered for sale.

Ione Stodola, a well known West Bend dried flower crafter, is chairman of the sale. Proceeds from the sale will be used to further the work of the conservancy, a one hundred acre preserve on the edge of West Bend. Lac Lawrann volunteers and noted naturalists from throughout the state give free public tours in the spring and fall and nature classes for area schools, scouts and adult and youth groups.

Hike-A-Thon Planned In County

Hikers, walkers, sight-seers and outdoor enthusiasts will be able to take a step back in time to the days of the Woolly Mammoth, 10,000 years ago. Bank One is presenting the sixth annual "Take a Walk on the Wild Side" Hike-a-thon to benefit the Ice Age Trail. On Saturday, October 3, 1992, participants in Washington County will join over 2,000 hikers, on 12 other segments, travelling a combined total of over 500 miles on Wisconsin's geologically unique Ice Age Trail. The trail begins as far north as Rusk County and runs west, following the edge of the ancient glacier until it reaches Marathon County where it turns southward. Traversing Devil's Lake State Park it continues south to Green and Rock Counties and turns north again stretching into Door County.

"Wild walkers" on the Pike Lake segment of the Ice Age Trail have a choice of hiking between 3 and 16 miles. As the trail meanders from Pike Lake to Holy Hill, hikers will experience walking through the scenic, hilly, Kettle Moraine area during the peak fall colors. Funds raised by this event will be used by the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation, both at the state level for trail planning and protection of the 100-mile trail, and locally by the Washington County chapter for trail building and maintenance.

An official Ice Age Trail bandanna will be awarded to hikers who register by September 28th, and hike on October 3rd. Registration forms are available at local Bank One offices or by mail. The registration fee is $5.00 per person, children are free, and pre-registered teams of five or more people can enter at the group rate of $4.00 per person. Registration on the day of the Hike-a-thon is from 8:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m.

Hikers are encouraged to collect pledges. Prizes will be awarded to any hiker reaching pledge levels of $50.00 or more. They include a three-person dome tent, a Camp Trails Adjustable II External Frame Pack, a 72 x 90 inch Frontier Wool Blanket, a Maine Lounger, a Camper's Deluxe Accessory Package and a Jansport Fanny Pack. Rewards for the top fund-raisers include grand prizes of two round-trip Midwest Express Airline tickets, a Glacial Weekend Getaway, and a Backpacker's Dream Package from Adventures Unlimited.

"This event is a great opportunity for people of all ages to come and enjoy our Ice Age Trail," stated Dan Small, host of Outdoor Wisconsin and honorary chairman of the Hike-a-thon.

Peer Listeners Trained in Summer for Year of Caring

This past summer approximately 100 high school students from the county's high schools were involved in an intensive training to assist them in their roles as Peer Listeners. The training was put on by the Washington County Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse. Schools involved were West Bend East, West Bend West, Slinger, Hartford, Germantown, and Kewaskum. The week's sessions were held at Our Savior's Lutheran Church of West Bend.

During the training, the Peer Listeners heard from such speakers as Vince Gibbens on self-motivation, Sheriff Robert Schulteis on laws affecting teens, Larry Smikowski on recovery, and Sandy Olson on relationships. The Peer Listeners were also exposed to such topics as stress, abuse, and their duties as Peer Listeners.

The training gives the Peer

Listeners the background they need to be part of a successful program within their schools. Being acquainted with these problems will enable the Peer Listeners to be able to be more of an informed resource for their peers when they may encounter certain difficulties throughout the year.

The Peer Listeners were very excited about the training and the many benefits it offered. Having caring peers who will listen to their counterparts will be a great asset and resource to many students. Many Peer Listeners thought the training was a great way to serve their school and fellow classmates. The intensive week also benefited the Peer Listeners as people, not only with attitudes they can use in their school years, but also in their future lives. Former Peer Listeners spoke about the advantages gained through Peer Listening that were also advantages for them in their college careers. Pam Gauger was the former Kewaskum High School Peer Listener who took part on the panel.

The fourteen Kewaskum High School Peer Listeners for this year are, Carrie Fellenz, Chad Harlow, Dan Schulteis, Krysten Ammel, Karla Kirst, Melissa Piaro, Terry Roe, Andrea Bonlender, Suzi Gauvin, Melissa Junk, Greta Kuphal, Kara Palmer, Jenny Plzak, and Melissa Rohrer. Barbara York is the advisor of the group.

The Council, the advisors, and the Peer Listeners are extended many thanks for all of their time they have put into this worthwhile program. Although the results may not be as upfront and noticeable as other programs, the value of having these dedicated advisors and students is immeasurable!

With the close of its 40th Annual Turkey Shoot Sunday, the Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum saw the completion of another successful fundraiser. Money raised by the all-day event, which included something for everyone from a children's BB Gun range to the always popular trout pond, has been designated toward the Kewaskum Fire Department's Jaws of Life fund.

Although the day started out cool, cloudy and breezy, temperatures began to warm by mid-morning. And, despite the forecast of afternoon rains, hundreds of people from near and far came to participate in all the activities. Luckily that nasty four-letter word (rain) was not heard as the showers held off until well after the event was over.

Jerry Stollenwerk, Kiwanis club president and co-chairman of the turkey shoot's organizational committee, stated that this year's preliminary figures topped last year's, which were considered very good. "We gave out 400 turkeys, which topped last year's figure of 385 and over 200 Trout were caught."

Sara Disler of Kewaskum was the lucky 'fisherperson' winning the "Longest Trout" contest with her catch which measured over 13 inches. Her prize was a Regal Ware cookware set.

Cheryl Jaeger of Kewaskum won the Remington Shotgun and Kimberly Miller of Milwaukee, won the Browning 850R shotgun in the gun raffle.

The club will be drawing the winning names of the Turkey print and cash prize on September 28.

The Kiwanis would like to thank the New Fane Sportsmen's Club for the use of its facilities and to all those who helped in any way to make the day another success.

Youngsters got a chance to try their sharp-shooting skills on the B-B Gun line, where they had the opportunity to win toy prizes.

Yup, the food was good. Even the cooks, Chuck Heidner, center, and Dave Heather, right, were eating their own cooking. (Nice chapeau Mr. H.)

Pat Stollenwerk, left, who has helped over 20 years in the food stand, was chairman to secure women for help in the stand.

Jim Schaub right, helped out by selling tickets for the gun raffle.

Glen Mueller of rural Kewaskum, collected his turkey from Kiwanis Club president Jerry Stollenwerk. Mueller won the bird with his third shot on the rifle range.

Financial Management Workshop for Small Business to be Held at UWWC

"How can I understand the 'financial picture' of my business?" is a question to be addressed in the next seminar for small business owner/operators, sponsored by UW-Extension. This is the first workshop in the Management Enrichment Program, consisting of six basic management seminars.

September 30 to October 21, at the University Center in West Bend, a four-session seminar on "Financial Management" for non-financial managers will be held from 7:00 - 9:30 p.m. The Seminar will take the participants through the "nuts and bolts" of developing a financial plan for the small business.

Other questions to be dealt with include "How do you sense the financial problems before they become overwhelming? What basic documents do I need to do financial planning? And what critical decisions will I have to make to keep my business healthy?" Other topics include initial tax planning and computerization of the business, setting up and using Journals and Ledgers and developing a healthy cash flow.

Leading the discussion will be Mr. Larry Ehren, a self-employed tax accountant who prepares income tax returns, quarterly reports, and personal financial plans for approximately 600 individuals and small businesses in the Washington County area. Most of these businesses are small, owner-operated firms with few or no employees.

Larry has a degree in Mathematics from Marquette University and has done extensive work in the graduate business program there.

Pre-registration is required because attendance is limited. The class will meet on four consecutive Wednesday evenings, with a fee of $63.00. For more information, or to receive a free brochure, please call Chuck Wise at 335-5204.

It is Sunday, August 23, 10 a.m. at the Dundee Mill Park. Everyone on the Mill Park Committee was hurrying to get all the last minute details finished before the dedication.

Boxes of buns, boxes of prizes, last minute posters hung, tables moved from place to place, plus the smell of the grills starting to cook the meat for all the sandwiches. That last hour seemed to fly by, taking with it the edge of the nervousness everyone felt.

Hopes were high among all members that the turnout for our annual fund raiser would be good. By 11:30 there were quite a few people with more coming and things started moving right along.

As the crowd kept growing, the afternoon band, Branded Men, started to play. It was a thrill to look around and see the many people, young and old, enjoying the good food and music. Many people were taking a tour of the Mill and seeing how the turbine functions. Their comments were like music to the ears.

As they exited the Mill they went over for a hay ride or caught the buckboard express to the threshing area where the Empire Threshing Crew was putting on quite a show. I hope Bud Schmidt gave his horses an apple for a job well done.

Those that had gone on the hay rides were stopping at Pedots Popcorn Wagon for some of their delicious snacks. They then strolled along to check out the paintings being displayed by Andy Stoffel. Stoffel donated one of his prints which was raffled off and won by J. Baumhardt.

The Nichols mini-bus was a godsend with all the transportation needed to and from the parking lots.

The dedication ceremony went off without a hitch except for a few frantic minutes when the scissors couldn't be found. The presentation of the plaques went real well. A lot of people thought our idea of placing the plaques in rocks was a good one.

As the afternoon wore on, everyone seemed to find something to do. Our clothing stand always had people there admiring the quality and variety of sizes and colors we had for sale. If the children weren't lined up to play the many games, they were getting their faces painted by Karen Hartman and learning about the Indians and their traditions.

One of the attractions of the afternoon was the duck races. The ducks were placed in the mill race and swam down to the gate providing a game for both children and adults.

Meanwhile, Al from the West Bend radio station, was having a hard time catching any of the committee members to interview, as all were really busy.

At 4:30, Whiskey River Boys began to play. The music must have made everyone hungry again, as the fryers were going like crazy to keep up.

As dusk started to settle in, you could still see people walking back and forth to the dam. The crowd in the tent was getting so large that it took awhile to get to the refreshment center.

Many people stopped to comment on the Mill and how nice everything was set up, on the park and how beautiful it all was.

Somewhere around 9 p.m., I sat down at the one vacant table in the tent and looked around. The band was packing up and the crowd was starting to thin out a little. I could see the tired looks on the rest of the committee members faces but I knew they were as happy as I was. We all had put such great effort into the day, but it was a task well worth doing.

The Mill Park is quiet now. A few people are strolling along the berm and I see a young boy fishing.

I feel I want to call or write to each and every person who in some way helped to make this all possible. From the tavern owners who bring a cold beer or soda to the workers, to the volunteers who worked so awfully hard that day and before, to the many people who have donated the much needed funds and to the ladies who came out just to pull the weeds in the flower gardens.

Nothing would have been possible without the mammoth outpouring of community spirit. Our heartfelt thanks to everyone. Our day was a great success because of you.

Thank you again!

The 15th annual Live Turkey Shoot sponsored by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club at the B-N Dude Ranch was the most successful ever held and set new records in attendance, number of Trout caught, and amount of business done at all stands. Hot, sunny weather, with the temperature around 80 degrees, helped swell the attendance. A total of 5,200 shooters participated on the rifle range for live turkeys, about 1,000 more than ever before. The shooters bagged 460 turkeys, approximately 60 more than ever before, and would have taken a lot more if the supply of birds had not run out later in the afternoon, some time before the shooting was scheduled to end. A total of 248 frozen turkeys were taken in other events.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Strobel, venerable and highly esteemed residents of near New Fane, celebrated their 60th or diamond wedding anniversary last Sunday, Sept. 20. About 225 people attended church services at St. Mathias Church which was beautifully decorated with white and yellow flowers and beautiful ferns. The singing of the Sister Choir of St. Joseph's convent was enjoyed by all.

Ninety-seven Washington men who passed their physical examinations in Milwaukee Sept. 15, will leave for the reception center at Fort Sheridan, Ill., next Tuesday. Sixteen of the men are from Kewaskum. The group leaving includes; Wilmer H. Ramthun, Marlin A. Dreher, Paul A. Cechvala, Werner Hoerig, Ralph Marx, Francis P. Wiedmeyer, Wallace Kurth, Walter E. Werner, Ervin Martin, Wesley H. Kuehl, Bernard Horn, Paul Kral, Lester Kuehl, Ralph Boettcher, Carl Mayer and Melvin J. Brandt.

Walter Belger of this village was overcome from monoxide gas in the garage at his home Saturday. We are told Walter was cleaning one of his cars while he had the motor running in the other. A door was left open but not sufficient to let the deadly fumes escape. Mrs. Belger happened to notice her husband groping for the door and went to assist him. She succeeded in getting him outside where he collapsed. He was taken into his home. Walter got over the effects quickly and was able to be up the next day although it wouldn't have taken much longer for the gas to prove fatal.

The residence of Alfred Howard, two miles west of Campbellsport, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. Mr. Howard discovered the blaze about 10 o'clock after the family had retired. He lost no time in getting his wife and three children out of the house and turning in the alarm. The Campbellsport department responded promptly. Mrs. Howard had built a fire in the summer kitchen stove at the rear of the house in the early part of the evening and it is thought the fire was caused by overheated walls. The Campbellsport Department saved most of the furniture from the main part of the house.

The lives of a number of people were endangered Wednesday morning when a Chicago and Northwestern Railroad passenger train northbound was derailed while going at a slow speed just south of Eden at 10:30. A broken axle on the tender of the engine tore up the track and caused seven coaches on the train to be derailed. The train was pulling into the depot at Eden. As a result of the accident, traffic on the railroad was delayed more than three hours. Fortunately no one was injured in the accident.

National Farm Safety Week Sept. 20-26

September 20-26 has been designated as 1992 Farm Safety and Health Week. This is the 49th annual observance of a special week to call national attention to the loss that farmers and ranchers suffer due to accidents and occupational illnesses. It is also a time to focus on ways to reduce deaths, injuries and illnesses.

Forty farm related fatalities occurred in Wisconsin during 1991 according to a report from the Agriculture Engineering Department of the University of Wisconsin Extension. Farm tractors were responsible for 17 fatalities, machinery for ten fatalities, falls accounted for three, animals for three and a variety of accidents for seven. The others included such things as drowning, electrocution and asphyxiation.

The rate of farm related fatalities in Wisconsin was 36.4 per one hundred thousand workers in 1991. The 1991 rate exceeded the Wisconsin average the 1980-1992 period of 35 fatalities per one hundred thousand workers.

The average fatal work injury rate for all occupations in the nation is estimated at 7.9 per one hundred thousand workers. According to the National Safety Council farming is one of the three most hazardous occupations in the nation. Rates of occupational related death in agriculture are surpassed only by mining and construction. The National Safety Council estimates that 14,000 deaths occurred during agriculture work activity in the United States in 1991. The death rate per one hundred thousand agriculture workers in the United States was an estimated 44.

Farm accidents, injuries and fatalities tend to occur at the busiest season and times of the year. When reviewed on a month to month basis, October is the month in which most accidents occur, followed by June. These are busy times of the year as planting and harvesting operations are taking place on most farms.

Farm families need to take time to be safe. Safety should be a concern for all members of the farm family. Accidents, injuries and death involve farm workers of all ages. The highest number of injuries generally involve individuals between the ages of 16 to 34 and 55 and over.

Farm safety needs to be an every day concern. However, taking a week each year to call attention to farm safety will help individuals recognize the need to follow safe operating practices. This is a major concern as the fall corn, soybean and other crop harvest is about to begin.

Some basic safety practices and procedures that farm families and workers can use to reduce accidents include:

1. Safety needs to be a family concern. Family members need to be aware of and concerned about the safety of those working around them.

2. Machinery and equipment should be kept in good repair and operating condition. All shields and safety devices should be kept in place and in good working order.

3. Stress from long hours of work or trying to harvest the crop during poor weather conditions can result in more accidents. Operators should take breaks, try and eat properly and use other methods to reduce stress.

4. Follow suggested safe operating procedures for tractors, equipment and in other farm related working areas.

5. Provide a method of communication or frequent contact with individuals working alone in fields away from the farm.

If farm families keep safety in mind and part of their daily routine the number of accidents, injuries and death can be reduced.

Computer Programs Offered at UWWC

WordPerfect will be the focus of computer programs offered this fall by the University of Wisconsin Center - Washington County's Continuing Education Extension.

Beginning and advanced courses will be offered on a combination of Fridays and Saturdays so those people who have a hard time leaving the office will be able to participate. Joan Laabs, coordinator of Continuing Education says, "We are proud of the quality of instruction, the suitability of course content, and the responsiveness to community needs that has earned us our reputation as a leader in computer education."

The courses are taught by Matt Zillig a computer consultant and programmer and former computer program trainer for a major computer company. His classes offer "hands-on" step-by-step instruction in computer applications. His goal is to increase learner's computer skills while decreasing user nervousness.

WORDPERFECT 5.1 will meet on Friday, Sept. 25, from 9:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 26, from 8:30 a.m. until noon. This class features learning basic word processing commands, how to edit, search and replace, check spelling, and save and retrieve files. The fee is $90.

ADVANCED WORDPERFECT will meet on Friday, Nov. 13, from 9:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 14 from 8:30 a.m. until noon. Topics of this class include the creation of columns of text and numbers, macros, form letters and labels, footnotes, graphics, windows, learning how to outline, sort and hyphenate. The fee is $90.

Both classes are held in the computer lab, Room 227, in the UWWC library. Corporate group rates are available.

For more information or to register, call Laurie Meachem or Joan Laabs at 335-5208.

Alfalfa Fall Management

by Jack Trzebiatowski

Washington Co. Agriculture Agent

Alfalfa management practices used in the fall can have a significant impact on yield and stand survival for the next year. When winters are mild and adequate snow cover is available the impact may be minimal. Last year was a hard year for alfalfa survival. Fall cutting schedule and management had a great impact on survival. Fields that were cut last fall had significantly more damage this spring.

The standard recommendation was not to cut after September 1st. Recent research has shown that the last cutting should take place by August 25th. This recommendation is based on the theory that a final cutting by August 25th will allow the plant to replenish its root reserves.

If additional forage is needed in the fall, cutting should not take place until after October 15th. Cutting after October 15th has also shown a reduction in stand and yield, but not as severe as cutting during September. One reason is that the lack of topgrowth reduces insulation during winter. It also reduces that holding of snow on the field. This results in greater changes in temperature at or near the soil surface. This is especially critical in years when the snow cover is limited.

One downside is that excessive fall growth from the previous year may reduce the quality of hay harvested for the first crop next year.

There are exceptions to the fall late cutting. 1) When feed supplies are short producers may not have a choice about harvesting. 2) a late harvest as required to fill limited storage space. 3) The field will be rotated to another crop next year.

The risk of winter kill varies from year to year. Research has shown that fall cutting reduces the yields of the first crop next year, even in a mild winter. Under severe conditions it makes the difference between survival or loss of the alfalfa crop.

There is less risk if other management factors are followed. Less losses usually occur if fields are well fertilized and plants are strong and healthy. Use of winterhardy and disease resistant varieties will result in less injury. Alfalfa planted in areas of good drainage, rather than on poor drained soils will usual have less risk of winter injury.

Producers will need to evaluate their forage needs against the risk of fall cutting. Use of corn silage or other forage sources may be considered rather than taking that extra cutting this fall.

Moraine Park's PACE Program Free At West Bend Campus

Men and women, 18 years and over, with a preschool child and no high school diploma are eligible to enroll in the free Parent and Child Education (PACE) program at Moraine Park Technical College, West Bend.

Parents attend classes to earn high school equivalency diplomas while their preschool children participate in the West Bend school's Headstart program, or the on-site early childhood program. Also included in PACE is a parent support-time and parent-child activity.

Enrollments are accepted continuously during the school year; classes meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Moraine Park Annex, 1710 East Washington Street, West Bend.

Numerous research studies conclude that educational achievements of children are more closely linked to the family's educational attainment and economic status than to any other factor. In addition, most of today's jobs require not only a high school diploma, but also some postsecondary training.

For more information on PACE, contact Claire Ciha, Moraine Park Technical College, (414) 334-3413.

'Injury-Free' Pearson Leading UW-River Falls Wishbone Attack

By Statesman Sports Writer

RIVER FALLS — Injuries are as much a part of football as the old pigskin itself. Nevertheless, it is still enormously disappointing for a player to have their season cut short due to a mishap in a game, or even worse, in practice.

The long road back from a major injury can test anybody's will, but the rewards at the end of rehabilitation can sometimes make the journey worthwhile. Just ask former Kewaskum High School athlete Eric Pearson.

Pearson, a 1988 KHS graduate, went to the University of Wisconsin-River Falls, hoping to play college football. A quarterback and linebacker on his high school teams, Pearson decided to focus solely on the offensive side of the ball at River Falls.

The 6-0, 190 pound Pearson worked his way to a possible starting role at the beginning of the 1990 campaign, but a serious knee injury shelved him for the year.

"I had reconstructive surgery done on my anterior cruciate ligament," Pearson said of the injury, the same suffered by many an athlete including Milwaukee Brewers 2nd baseman Jim Gantner, and former Milwaukee Buck Larry Kryskowiak.

After more than a year of rehab, Pearson was once again ready to challenge for the starting QB spot. But once again an injury, this time a dislocated elbow, forced him to watch the action, instead of taking part in it.

"I missed the first five games (last year)," Pearson said, explaining that he didn't start a single game for the Falcons last year, as the team suffered through a 4-5-1 campaign, the worst record at the school in almost 15 years, according to Pearson.

But this year the Falcons aren't struggling, thanks much in part to Pearson's return. The fifth-year redshirt finally broke into the starting lineup, and signs say that he won't relinquish the position anytime soon.

Quarterbacking the sometimes complicated wishbone offense, Pearson has led River Falls to a 3-0 start this fall. With Pearson at the helm, the Falcons have averaged 39.9 points a game, with their average margin of victory being 29 points, including a 48-0 blowout of UW-Oshkosh in the Falcons first Wisconsin State University Conference game last Saturday.

"Things are going good for us," Pearson said of the quick start. "I'm staying healthy for a change."

Because the Falcons have been blowing out their foes, Pearson has yet to play more than two-and-a-half quarters in a game. Still, he is running up some impressive numbers.

In the three games, he has rushed for 215 yards, and passed for another 250. He has four touchdown passes to go along with a pair of TD runs. He also has converted five two-point conversions rushing the ball.

"We're throwing the ball a little more this year," Pearson said. That enhanced air show helped Pearson gain some recognition from the USUC.

Pearson was named the WSUC Player of the Week for his 150-yard, two touchdown passing effort in River Falls' first game, a 36-20 win over University of Minnesota - Morris. He also added 70 yards rushing the game, including a pair of two-point conversions.

"That was a pretty big deal, I guess," a modest Pearson said of the effort. "I was real happy with that."

Pearson has got to be equally happy with the way his academics are going as well. A major in Mathematics and Economics, Pearson carries a 3.78 G.P.A., and hopes to someday enter the business world. "I don't have any specific goals yet," he said regarding his plans for life after college.

What does he view as the biggest difference between high school football, and the college game? "The level of competition," he said.

"There are a lot better players too," he went on. "You get some all-state high school players come out their freshman year, and they just can't handle being put on the fourth or fifth string," Pearson said. "Those guys just end up quitting."

Proud that he didn't quit, Pearson now looks forward to helping the Falcons contend for the WSUC title. "We're kind of the underdogs," he said, noting Stevens Point, LaCrosse and Whitewater are the top teams in the conference.

"Hopefully we can keep it rolling through the conference schedule," Pearson said of the team's early success. "If I can stay injury-free, hopefully things will come together."

Where Your Hunting License Money Goes

If you found yourself swallowing hard this year before handing over your hunting license and application fees, you're probably asking, "Where does all that money go?"

Department of Natural Resources Budget and Program Analyst Joy Stewart says it's a common question and one that's been increasingly popular since last year, when fee increases authorized by the state Legislature became effective.

"People have been asking us about some of the changes and new fees, wondering, for example, why they need to buy a stamp to hunt pheasants this year. Generally they're pretty satisfied when they discover what those fees are being used for," Stewart said.

The most common questions this year, according to Stewart, involve permit application fees: the $3 Hunter's Choice application fee, the $3 application fee for bobcat, otter and fisher permits, and the new $3 goose and turkey application fees.

"What people don't realize is that we've always had to pay for the production, processing and mailing of those applications and permits," Stewart said. "In the past, that cost came out of the fund we use for habitat management work and the protection and stocking of fish and game. The application fees now pay for that processing, which means we can dedicate more of our effort toward improving the resources available to hunters and other wildlife users."

Today, over two-thirds of the application fees paid by hunters are used to cover application and permit processing costs, and the remainder is used to fund fish and wildlife management projects. In the case of the state's new $7.25 pheasant stamp, the entire fee is used to support wild pheasant restoration efforts.

Similarly, 100 percent of the $12 fee hunters pay for bonus antlerless deer permits goes to the state's Wildlife Damage Abatement and Claims Program, where it's used to prevent and compensate for damage done to crops by deer, bear and geese.

In 1990, the damage abatement program has only enough funding to cover 42 percent of the losses claimed by farmers. The Legislature voted to make up the difference using general tax dollars.

In contrast, Stewart said, the nearly 200,000 bonus permits sold during the 1991 deer season covered 100 percent of the loss claims submitted for 1991.

Hunters are benefitting as well, she added, through quicker application processing and permit issuance. Last fall the state's new automated handling system trimmed up to two weeks off the time hunters waited to receive their Hunter's Choice permits. And with permit records now computerized, hunters no longer need to remember whether they received a Hunter's Choice permit the year before.

Stewart said the computer's ability to store permit information about specific hunters has made the department's new continuous preference system possible. The old preference system assured that a hunter who didn't receive a Hunter's Choice permit one year would have a greater chance of receiving one the next.

"With continuous preference, we can extend that," Stewart said. "The computer will continue to place you higher on the preference list with each year that you fail to receive a Hunter's Choice permit. Previously, if you'd waited two years of five years, it didn't matter. Everyone was in the same boat."

Whereas permits often went unused in the past, Stewart explained, application and bonus permit fees now put permits in the hands of the hunters who have an interest in using them. The result, she said, provides the DNR with a more effective wildlife management tool and supplies needed revenues for wildlife and habitat protection.

Smith Cited by USA Basketball

By Statesman Sports Writer

OSHKOSH — Kewaskum area's Brian Smith, a senior at Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School, was recognized by USA Youth Basketball, formerly Showtime Air Attack International.

Smith toured with Showtime Air Attack over the summer, one of ten top Wisconsin high school players to play for the organization.

In a letter from John DeBeck, president of USA Youth Basketball, Smith was cited as the best, and most versatile player of the team.

Standing just 6-2, Smith often played forward or center for Showtime Air Attack, and he "regularly had success against players much taller than himself," according to DeBeck, who went on to say that Smith was the most fundamentally sound player on the team.

"He is the type of person who will succeed in a college basketball program at any level, and who will work hard to obtain that success," DeBeck went on to say.

In honor of his play this year,

Smith was named to the second team All-American squad, as voted by DeBeck, other area directors, and several Associated Press writers.

Smith will try to hone his skills, as well as show off his talent this weekend, as he will participate in a Nike Blue Chip Basketball Shootout, the number one exposure camp in the United States.

Indian Spikers Win Cougar Invite

By Statesman Sports Writer

CAMPBELLSPORT — It wasn't suppose to be that competitive, but the Kewaskum volleyball team nevertheless came away with the championship trophy in the annual Cougar Invitational volleyball tournament here, last Saturday.

After splitting their opening two games against host Campbellsport, the Indian swept their games against Laconia and North Fond du Lac, giving them a 5-1 mark in the round-robin tourney.

Campbellsport finished second with a 4-2 mark, while Laconia was third (2-4) and North Fond du Lac fourth (1-5). The tournament was a lot closer than it seems, though.

"After the first round, we were all 1-1," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi pointed out, noting that Laconia and North Fond du Lac split their two games as well.

The Indians, meanwhile, were losing to the Cougars 14-16 in the opening game, but came back for the split with a 15-8 win. The first game loss was all the more discouraging to Kewaskum, which led 9-1 at one point.

"We couldn't finish them off," Rizzardi said, adding that the team bounced back well in game two.

Against Laconia, the Indians faced "the best spiking team we've seen all year," according to the Indian boss. "The first game was the key," he said, noting the Indians squeaked out a 17-15 win in the game, which was pivotal, because a loss would have made them 1-2 and ruined their first place hopes.

Kewaskum prevailed 15-11 in the second game, and the final foe, NFDL, wasn't too much of a problem, although the Indians held off a late rally in the second game to win 15-13. Kewaskum won the first game, 15-6.

Getting a lot of credit from Rizzardi were setters Rachele Krahn and Kim Sabish, who both had excellent days serving and passing. Sabish led the team with 29 assists in the three games, while converting 27 of 31 serves. Krahn, meanwhile, chipped in 17 assists, while serving 23 times without a miss.

Leading the spiking corps was Senior Christa Schmidt, who recorded 16 spike kills and 23 points on the day. Robyn Winn- inghoff also had a fine tournament with 154 kills and 19 total points. Ginger Wiesner also served well, with seven aces, and Julie Mertz was 24 out of 25 serving.

Falcons Dominate Indian Spikers

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — The home court advantage meant little, if anything, in Kewaskum's volleyball match against Sheboygan Falls here, last Tuesday night.

The Falcons, unbeaten in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference this season, neutralized the Indians' spikers, en route to an easy 15-7, 15-10, 16-14 win over the hosts, handing the Indians their first conference loss of the year.

"It really wasn't that close," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi said of the outcome, which dropped the Indians to 4-1 in the EW. "Their blocking game just controlled the tempo of the match."

Sheboygan Falls' blocking, led by 6-0 senior Lori Schueffner, frustrated the Indian front line. Kewaskum's Christa Schmidt recorded six spike kills and eight total points, but no other Indians were able to add more than three spike kills.

The Falcon blocking helped them jump out to a 12-3 lead the opening, as they withstood a moderate Indian rally to hold on for the game.

The situation was similar in game two, as Falls went out on top 11-4 before the Indians were able to rally. Kewaskum cut the gap to 14-10, before the Falcons were finally able to end the game, and match.

"She really controlled the net," Rizzardi said of Scheuffner, who finished with six block kills on the evening. "It was frustrating for our girls," he said of the blocks, which "were the difference."

"There was one bright spot," Rizzardi said, noting that the Indians served well, missing only two tries the entire match, although the good effort wasn't enough to propel them to the win.

Rachele Krahn led the Indians setters with seven assists, while Kim Sabish and Tricia Butschlick each chipped in five, with Butschlick helping her junior teammates salvage the third game.

Despite the loss, Rizzardi isn't too concerned about his team falling from the top of the EW standings. In fact, he is eager to play the Falcons in the rematch on Falls home court.

"They are the best passing and setting team that we have seen this year," he said. "It's (the loss) not that big of a deal."

The loss did, for the time being, give the Falcons a one game lead on the Indians in the EW standings.

Netters Get First Win on New Courts

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — All sports teams like to think of their home field as a significant advantage over foes. A winning record is almost synonymous with the home field.

That's just the way things will start for the Kewaskum girls tennis team, as they dedicated their newly - constructed courts with a victory, a 5-2 decision over Sheboygan Falls.

"It was a great way to initiate the new courts," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the win, which snapped a two-game losing streak in the Eastern Wjconsin Conference. The win "should prove to be a building block."

Also proving to be a building block is No. 1 singles ace Missy Rohrer, who improved to 6-1 on the year, 3-0 in the EW, with an easy 6-2, 6-2 win over Katie Matzek.

Jenny Thull, at No. 2 singles, also upped her marks to 6-1 and 3-0, with a straight set 6-3, 6-4 win over old nemesis Amy Feider.

At No. 4 singles, Meredith Frac "finally broke through," as Eichstedt put it, coming off of consecutive three-set losses to beat Rita Goodlet 6-2, 6-3.

Kim Frank and Nicki Cayner, the Indians No. 1 doubles duo, are starting to get in mid-season form, as they rolled over Tanya Vorachek and Kate Kuhfuss 6-4, 6-4.

The Indians No. 2 double team, Jenefer VanAssche and Lisa Berres also "continue to surprise," as they served and vollied past Holly Meerdink and Sara Herschelmann 6-2, 6-1. The twosome improved to 2-1 in the EW.

"We are confident," Eichstedt said of the Indians, who remain just a few points behind Two Rivers in the EW standings. The Indians were scheduled to host the Raiders on Tuesday, and then travel to Kohler on Thursday for a non-conference match.

Kewaskum returns to their new courts next Tuesday, with a home match against Plymouth.

Freshman Spikers Move to 6-0

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum freshman volleyball team continues to turn some heads, notably varsity coach David Rizzardi's as the team scored a pair of victories the past week to improve to 6-0 on the year.

On Tuesday, the Indian frosh beat Sheboygan Falls 15-10, 17-15 and 9-15. Thursday, the Indians came back with an impressive 15-1, 9-15, 15-10 win over New Holstein.

"The team set the ball well," coach Janet Molebash said of the win over Falls. The Indians were down 2-10 in game two, but "never gave up." Strong spiking also helped out, as Michelle Thull (11), Kelly Schreffler (17), Tanya Laubach (12) and Angie Breiting (10) each reached double figures in spikes. "Erin Stockhausen and Laubach were out strong servers," according to Molebash.

Against New Holstein, the Indians' serving was the key. The fine serving went south in the second game, but "came back" in the third game to help in the win. "Thull led in the spike department," according to Molebash, while Laubach "scored some key serves. We were sluggish and slow all night, but our bench helped us pull it out."

The Indian JV's are also having a good season, although they fell in both their contests this past week. The JV's lost to Falls 19-17, 13-15, 11-15, and also fell victim to the Huskies, 6-15, 15-4, 8-15.

"We played a great match overall," against Falls, coach Mary Holfeltz said. "However, when we needed to be mentally tough, we weren't. We were up 13-5 in game one, but could not finish it out."

The JV's started slow against the Huskies, dropping the opener, but rebounded to take game two. But in game three, the Indians again "mentally fell apart," according to Holfeltz. Shelly Williams served eight straight in game two, while Tracy Jacak "had a good net game."

Streaky Indians Beat Huskies

Setting and serving have been two strengths for the Kewaskum volleyball team so far this fall. The Indians use an offense which requires a pair of experienced setters, and Rachelle Krahn (above left) along with Kim Sabish (right) have done an excellent job for coach Dave Rizzardi's squad.

By Statesman Sports Writer

NEW HOLSTEIN — It was somewhat wacky, but it counted as a victory, and that's all that matters.

In what Kewaskum volleyball coach Dave Rizzardi labeled "a typical Dr. Jeckyl and Mr. Hyde" performance, his Indians went on the road and came back with a gutty 15-10, 3-15, 15-2 win over New Holstein here, last Thursday night.

"We were happy just to get out of there with a win," Rizzardi said, summing up his feelings regarding the strange scoring match.

Things looked as if it would be just another overpowering Indian victory, as Kewaskum outlasted the Huskies in the opening game, dominating the net. "We battled back and forth...it was pretty typical," Rizzardi said of the first game.

But things got a little hairy for the Indians in game two, as they fell behind 13-0, en route to getting smoked 15-3.

"We had poor passing, poor hitting," said Rizzardi. "We were just standing around too much."

But the Indian started moving again in the deciding game, as the guests quickly established superiority, and rode the play of their senior front line to the victory.

Christa Schmidt once again paced the Indian attack, contributing nine spike kills and 12 total points. Also, Robyn Winninghoff and Beth Kempf chipped in five spikes apiece, with Winninghoff adding a team-high five block kills as well.

"That was her best match of the year," Rizzardi said of Winninghoff, while adding that Kempf "contributed some nice blocking. That was really nice to see."

The serving and setting was also a key to the Indian win, as Kim Sabish and Rachelle Krahn teamed up for 21 assists, while Julie Mertz contributed 13 serves without a miss, including four aces.

"Rachelle and Kim really controlled the ball," said Rizzardi, who also cited Mertz "with another good game serving."

"It was the direct opposite," the Indian coach said of the second and third games. "It makes you start to wonder a bit," he said of the streakiness.

Despite the up and down performance, the win gives the Indians a 5-1 mark after the first round of action in the EW, good enough for second place behind unbeaten Sheboygan Falls.

After a bye on Tuesday, the Indians start the second half of the conference schedule with a road match at Two Rivers. The following week, the Indians host Plymouth (Tuesday), and Chilton (Thursday).

ABC CLUB SKAT RESULTS

The winners at skat played by the ABC Senior Citizens at Beechwood Hall on Tuesday, Sept. 15, were: Ralph Laux, 27-1-26; Ruth Egerer, 17-1-16 net; Elroy Egerer, 14-2-12 net; Francis Gilboy, Diamond Solo vs 4.

If the best things in life are free, how come we have to pay so much for less than the best?

Hunters Have New Choices With Deer Bonus Permits

MADISON... Bonus Antlerless Deer permits will be available for many deer management units again this year. The Department of Natural Resources says a new "Second Choice" system, allowing hunters to request bonus permits in as many as two management units, could mean they'll sell fast.

According to DNR Wildlife Management Director Tom Hauge, hunters this season can request bonus permits not only in the unit they've selected for their Hunter's Choice permits, but also in another unit.

"The gun deer season bonus permits were an incredible success last year, both in terms of numbers sold and hunter success," Hauge said. "But a number of hunters said they wanted a more flexible system. This year, we've made it possible for them to fill their Hunter's Choice permit in one area, plus have the opportunity to take antlerless deer in another unit."

According to Hauge, the change was made to improve service to hunters.

"We know that hunters may spend the opening weekend of the gun season in a favorite management unit and then hunt near home or somewhere else later in the season," he said. "Say you like to hunt opening weekend in Sawyer County. You can request a Hunter's Choice permit in Unit 13, and bonus permits in Unit 62b. That way, if you live in Green Bay, you can hunt antlerless deer the second weekend within about an hour of home."

For those hunters looking for an "inside" tip on which management units offer the best chances of getting a permit, Hauge said, "Units 1, 4, 6, 14, 19, 20, 24, 25, 28, 29A and 47 are the ones I'd bet on."

Marilyn Davis, chief of the DNR License Section, said hunters who express interest in bonus permits on their Hunter's Choice permit application will have the first opportunity to buy any permits that are available. The Hunter's Choice application form includes a box hunters can check if they are interested in receiving bonus permits, and another box they can use to identify an additional management unit they'd like the bonus permits for. The deadline for applying for Hunter's Choice permits was Sept. 20.

"Hunters using this system have the best chance of receiving bonus permits for the units they'd like to hunt," Davis said. "Frankly, we expect there will be fewer bonus permits available this year, so hunters who don't use this system may not get another chance."

Hunters who've expressed an interest in bonus antlerless permits on their Hunter's Choice applications will receive a notice from the DNR by Oct. 24 if bonus permits are available in the units they've requested. That notice, Davis says, will include that individual's Hunter's Choice permit and will invite the hunter to buy bonus permits through the mail. Hunters will have until the end of October to send the bonus permit back along with $12 ($20 for non-residents) for each bonus permit he or she wishes to buy.

Davis says the DNR won't know how many bonus permits have actually been sold until November. At that point, if a large number of bonus permits are still available for certain units, the department may decide to offer a late sales opportunity.

"If that becomes necessary, we've begun exploring a more customer-friendly method for selling permits after the mail-in requests are filled in November — just in case," Davis says. "If possible, we'd like to avoid the long lines we saw last year as people waited to buy bonus antlerless permits at our district and area offices."

For more information, contact Tom Hauge at 608-267-7857 or Marilyn Davis at 608-267-7799.

Indians 5th in VB Poll

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — With a 5-1 mark through the first half of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference volleyball slate, the Kewaskum volleyball team has gained the respect of many teams. State coaches also seem to share that respect.

That is evidenced by the Indians strong showing in the first Wisconsin Interscholastic Coaches Association State Poll released last week. The Indians are rated fifth in the state in Division II, garnering 34 votes in the balloting.

Westosha Central received 63 votes to claim the top spot in Division II, while a pair of 1991 State Tournament teams, Waunakee and Lakeland and number two and three, respectively. Pewaukee, out of the Parkland Conference, is rated fourth, just four points ahead of the Indians.

Milwaukee Pius is rated No. 1 in Division I, with Whitefish Bay Dominican a strong second. In Division III it's Cuba City on top, with Thorp right behind, and Hustisford is rated No. 1 in Division IV.

Other area schools of note, include West Bend East (No. 6, Div. I), and Waupun (No. 6, Div. II).

Balance Helps Indians Beat Chilton, 14-7

By Statesman Sports Writer

CHILTON - Coaches strive for balance in their offensive attack, and that's just what Kewaskum's Clark Pearson got out of his Indians here, last Friday, against Chilton.

The Indians rushed for 160 yards and passed for another 116, helping them come back from another halftime deficit, this time beating the Tigers, 14-7. In their only other win this year, the Indians came back from a 10-0 deficit at the half to beat Horicon 14-10.

"Anytime you win on the road, you have to be happy," Pearson said of the Indian win. "Chilton is always tough at home. We just stuck with it, and came back."

That proved to be the case once again, as the Tigers put up the lone score of the first half, a six-yard run by Chad Hoerth in the second quarter. Josh Satzer added the extra point to make it a seven-point lead.

The Indians had their chances in the first half, including a golden one on their opening drive. Starting on their own four-yard line, the Indians marched downfield, only to have a potential touchdown pass from QB Jim Marx dropped in the end zone.

"We just didn't finish it off," Pearson said, noting he was pleased with the ball control that his team displayed. "The offensive line did a great job the entire game," he said, pointing to Mark Morell, Justin Hanson and Brian Bruendl, who returned after missing the previous game due to illness.

The Indians finally broke through for a score in the third quarter, thanks to a Tiger turnover. The Indians' Beau Coulter picked off a Satzer pass on the first play of the second half, giving Kewaskum the ball at the Chilton 44.

Marx led the Indians down the field, completing three passes on the drive, including two to Pat McFadden, and then took the ball the final three yards on a bootleg for the score, but the Indians still trailed 7-6, as the two-point conversion pass fell incomplete.

Meanwhile, the Indian defense continued to hold the Tigers in check. Chilton managed just 127 yards rushing for the game, while completing just one of 12 passes, the lone catch covering 37 yards, Kewaskum football coach Clerk Pearson got another good effort from his defensive backfield in Friday night's 14-7 win over Chilton. Above, Beau Coulter (33) closes in for an openfield tackle against Sheboygan Falls a week earlier, while Jim Rix (34) fights off a Falcon blocker.

setting up the Tigers first score. "The defense played extremely well," Pearson said. "They never really threatened after that (the Tiger touchdown)."

The Indians, on the other hand, continued to play well on both sides of the ball, finally going ahead to stay in the fourth. After a Chilton punt, the Indians set up shop at their own 23, midway through the final period.

The Indians mix on offense helped move the ball, as Marx completed a 14-yard pass to Bill Rochon, and then another 22 yard completion to McFadden.

The Indian rushers took over from there, as Jim Rix rambled 14 yards down to the Tiger 12. Dan Schulteis did the rest, rumbing 11 yards to the one, where he took it in from one play later. Marx's two-point conversion to Matt Schlosser made it 14-7.

Schlosser then put the finishing touches on the win, picking off another pass late in the game. The Indians managed to pick up a couple of first downs after that, running out the clock to record their first conference win of the year.

Schulteis finished with 105 yards on 17 carries, while Rix added another 48 yards rushing. "Dan did a really nice job," Pearson said of the senior fullback. "The offensive line opened up some decent holes for him. We also had real good pass protection. I was real satisfied with the offense."

Defensively, Coulter again had a fine outing. "He was excellent... had a couple of nice open-field tackles," Pearson said, also citing Shawn Larson, Mark Strobel and Rix for their efforts. "The defense overall played real well," adding DB's Coulter and Schlosser "have done a good job for us."

Pearson also complimented Marx, who was 8 for 18 passing, although four of those incomplections were dropped. "He had a real good night...played well."

The win improved the Indians to 1-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, and to 2-2 overall. With a bye in the EW this week, the Indians will use the open date to host former Scenic Moraine Conference rival Slinger, which is undefeated this fall.

"We have our work cut out," Pearson said, noting the Owls feature a strong running game, paced by senior Greg Zuern, who has rushed for better than 100 yards per game.

The Indian frosh, meanwhile, improved to 2-0 on the year as they downed the Tigers 28-6, despite being up only 8-0 at the half.

"We really took over in the second half," frosh coach Jim Westphal said, noting the score in the first half was set up by a blocked punt.

Tim Gundrum scored a pair of touchdowns for the freshman, both coming on short runs, while Brian Butschlick also added a short TD run. The final Indian score came on a reverse, on which Peter Reis ran to paydirt.

"Jesse Koch ran the ball very well," Westphal said, adding that Gundrum "ran well up the middle...gained a lot of yards." Westphal also cited the defensive unit as a whole for their effort.

PROPANE WATER HEATERS SAVE MONEY

According to studies now being done in the Washington County area, you can save as much as $375 annually by using propane instead of electricity to heat water for your home.

Based on figures from cost comparison studies conducted by Strobel Propane, you could save as much as $4,000 over the average 11-year life span of a propane water heater versus an electric unit.

These comparisons include typical purchase prices and installation costs, as well as local propane costs and electric rates.

Because a water heater is the second largest user of energy in the modern American home, owners should be aware of this money-savings when comparing and buying a new unit.

Myron Strobel, owner of Strobel Propane Gas, says "Interest in propane water heaters is increasing dramatically. It's partially because people are starting to learn that the Department of Energy now estimates local electricity costs nearly twice the price of propane."

Industry research shows that when propane gas water heaters and electric units are compared, propane units heat twice as much water at nearly half the cost, are more dependable, and cost less to maintain. To help you decide which water heater is right for your home, the Department of Energy and Federal Trade Commission requires that all water heaters carry Energy

Guide labels. These labels show the annual energy costs for operating all water heater models manufactured since 1980.

In addition to comparing Energy Guide labels, you also should have a professional help you determine the proper size unit based on your family's hot water consumption.

If you've added new equipment that uses hot water or your family has grown since your current water heater was installed, your hot water usage may have increased. Strobel representatives are trained to help you select the proper size unit and figure yearly operating costs.

Because propane heats water as much as 2½ times faster than electricity, even if your hot water consumption has increased, you frequently can buy a propane unit with a smaller tank size than an electric unit to handle your needs.

Strobel Propane is currently offering all area residents $25 OFF when you replace your existing electric or gas water heater with a new propane unit.

This new unit may be purchased at the dealer of your choice. Free pick up and disposal of your existing water heater is also available by calling Strobel Propane.

Frosh Gridders Move to 2-0, as Indians Sweep Chilton

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — It's been a long time coming, much too long. But the Kewaskum football program did something it hadn't done in quite some time...sweep an opponent at all three levels.

The Indian varsity completed the sweep with a 14-7 win over Chilton last Friday night, but it was the freshman and junior varsity which set the stage with wins on Thursday.

The JV's evened their Eastern Wisconsin Conference record at 1-1, while improving to 2-1 overall with a 16-0 shutout of the Tigers.

Indian QB Dan Survis hooked up with Travis Jacak on a 80-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter to put the Indians on top. Survis added the two-point conversion on a QB keeper.

Rich Farchione then put the game out of reach with a five-yard run in the final stanza, with Survis hooking up with Jacak on the conversion.

JV coach David Rockhill cited Tim Strigenz, who recovered a fumble, and added that the defense as a whole "played
