Nick Hockings Brings Storytelling, Dancing and Traditions to Kettle Kountry At Kettle Kountry Kolors

by S. Callaway Roznik

Nick Hockings has a story to tell, and recently his life has been devoted to telling it. Kewaskum will be welcoming Nick to Kettle Kountry Kolors as one of the very special features at this weekend's festivities.

A Native American from the Ojibwe tribe of Wisconsin, Hockings was working at a grade school four years ago, and was disturbed by the anger and fear surrounding the spear fishing controversy. "Many people were misinformed and didn't understand treaty rights. We all naturally assume we have the right answers", explained Nick. He decided to attack the problem with a positive solution, and began travelling throughout the state to educate people, sharing with them Native American culture and traditions.

"It's not just what we are about in the 90's, but what we have been in the past", says Hockings. Part of his cultural program involves teaching about the diversity of all things- birds, fish, animals.... and the unity or coming together of people from all nations. "One story involves the Medicine Wheel and the four nations of people - red, yellow, black and white. The prophecy tells that one day they will unite". There is still misunderstanding and separation between the nations, but Hockings sees a real cultural awareness taking root in this world, the beginning of a process of coming together that's happening more and more. "We can only grow as a country through education."

A popular part of the program centers around the Native American Pow Wow, and the various dances associated with the different ceremonies. "We dance and everyone can get involved, join in the fun, and see how we all fit together, from youngsters to adults", says Hockings. "When you're dancing together you don't have time for argument".

Nick labels this experience a "sharing of cultures", and adds that we don't have to dwell in the past. "We don't, as a people, have to continue to make the same mistakes".

The drum group, "Whirlwind", will be making a special appearance with Nick, and includes members from six different bands of the Ojibwe tribes of Wisconsin. They appeared together at Indian Summer on the lakefront this past September, adding to the excitement and fun surrounding Nick's presentation.

Children are naturally open and drawn to any new experiences they can learn from, and Nick promises Native American stories for them, along with explanations of artifacts, ceremonial costumes, and stresses throughout his program "the respect of all people". Performances are scheduled for 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Join us for an experience that will expand your perspective, excite your senses, and heal you with laughter, and the way Nick Hockings captivates his audiences, you'll feel as comfortable as if he's talking to you in your own living room. It's all in the way he tells his story.

Historical Society Buildings Open for Kettle Kountry Kolors

The Kewaskum Historical Society will again join in on the Kettle Kountry Kolors festivities on Saturday and Sunday, October 10th and 11th in Riverhill Park.

Both the museum and the award winning reconstructed log cabin on the west side of the river will be open for young and old alike to see from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on both days.

Hot coffee will be available. If you haven't as yet seen the museum and log cabin, this is a perfect opportunity to take some time and see it all.

Children's Activity Center is New Feature at Kettle Kountry Kolors

by Louise Martin

Are you looking for a fun-filled family activity to occupy your weekend? Look no further - we have something specifically planned for you! Call your friends, bring your family and come on over to Riverhill Park to enjoy Kewaskum Kettle Kountry right here in your backyard! There will be something to interest everyone.

A new feature at this year's festival is the addition of a Children's Activity Center with several special entertaining events scheduled in the Center both Saturday and Sunday.

"Crackers", the clown/magician will entertain on Saturday at noon and 2 p.m. Robert James form animal Encounters, Inc. and his "friends" will perform at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Entertainment on Sunday will begin with "Crackers", the clown/magician show at 1 and 4 p.m. Renowned storyteller, Judy Buczak will enchant you with her storytelling techniques at 2:15 and 3:15 p.m.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Fasten your seatbelts Kewaskum... it's once again time to head for the Milwaukee River and do some traveling through time. It's better than "Back to the Future." It's the third annual Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 10 and 11, and this year's spectacular weekend promises to excite and delight the imagination of young and old alike.

Join us at Riverhill Park, where you'll find our fall festival nestled among the autumn hues of the northern Kettle Moraine, bustling beneath rolling hills, and winding along the banks of the Milwaukee River.

Get ready for action packed adventures, historic encampments, free hayrides with Schmidt Acres and a mini-hot air balloon rally (weather permitting), crafters, pancakes and polkas, dixieland music, kiss-the-pig contest and cash prizes, raffles, live music and radio broadcasts, artists and craftsmen, not to mention vast varieties of ethnic food, guaranteed to tempt all your tastebuds.

Kewaskum is proud to offer a special feature this year, Nick Hockings of the Native American Indian Ojibwe Tribe in a full ceremony guaranteed to hold the interest of young and old alike. (See related article on page 1 and Schedule of Events on Page 13.)

The Buckskinners are back for their third year at Kettle Kountry Kolors, complete with authentic clothing, teepee lodges and tents, campfires, music and laughter, knife and hatchet throwing and tales of yesteryear.

Cushings Battery and their civil war encampment will once again make their home among Kewaskum's autumn hillsides, and echo the thunder of an original 1847 cannon, fired every hour.

Dreamcatcher lady Karen Hartman and Kathy Kasberger of Fredonia will also be on hand to share Native American lore. Enjoy native fry bread, beadwork, traditional jewelry and storytelling.

Browse through the open air market of artisans, crafters, antique dealers and retailers...the sights, sounds and smells promise something for everyone with over 50 exhibitors featured at our fabulous fall festival!

Aromas will lead you every which way, as the crisp autumn air ignites appetites. Appease your appetites with mouthwatering food items... brats, burgers, French fries, nachos, pizza, pizza bread, Native American fry bread, chili, a variety of soups, hot dogs, chili dogs, corn dogs, gyros, hot beef sandwiches, chicken filet sandwiches, sweet corn, chicken and gravy sandwiches, pancakes, BBQ pork sandwiches, homemade desserts, cake, caramel corn, caramel apples, eclairs, popcorn, cotton candy, wine coolers, beer, soda, milk, coffee, hot chocolate and apple cider and many more delectable foods you won't be able to resist!

Saturday's features include the mini-hot air balloon rally and the beginning of the Nintendo tournament, new this year to Kettle Kountry Kolors. Live country western music by Leather and Lace will permeate the air at the park.

Start Sunday off right with a Pancake Breakfast beginning at 8 a.m. followed by a festive Polka Mass in the Beer Garden (bring your own chairs). A Spanferkel will be available beginning right after Mass. The Buchel-Klass Orchestra will liven up the beer garden after Mass followed by the Howard Schneider Dixieland Band. Don't miss the "Kiss-the-Pig" Contest!

Win cash prizes on raffle tickets. Tickets will be available at the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce information booth throughout the festival. Sink a hole-in-one at the Hon-E-Kor golf

School Board to Attend Wayne P.T.O. Meeting

The Kewaskum School Board will be attending the Wayne Elementary P.T.O. Meeting on Tuesday, October 13, 1992, at 7:00 p.m. The Board will listen to concerns and answer questions that the public may have. Please attend.

Video Post Nintendo Tournament Another New Feature at This Year's Kettle Kountry Kolors

FREE MOVIES TO BE SHOWN

A video game competition and tournament will be added to this year's Kettle Kountry Kolors festivities on Saturday and Sunday, October 10 and 11 at Riverhill Park in Kewaskum.

The Video Post, Kewaskum, is sponsoring the tournament, designed to entertain and amuse kids 18 years-old and younger.

Here's a chance for your children to win prizes, trophies, free rentals and best of all, their favorite video games. The competition begins Saturday at 10 a.m. and will run until 6 p.m., and then resume again on Sunday at 10 a.m. until Noon. Elimination will then begin Sunday at Noon.

In conjunction with Hon-E-Kor Country Club's Hole-In-One Golf Contest for the adults, Video Post is featuring a Super Nintendo Hole-In-One Golf Contest. The winner will get to take home the game of his or her choice.

Free movies, for young and old alike, will also be shown continuously. The big screen and movies are being sponsored by

Video Post and Kuehl's Suds and Spirits. Grab some popcorn, find a seat in the "balcony," and enjoy a movie in-between all the other activities. And don't forget to cheer on your children as they scramble to eliminate the competition!

Marijuana Site Eradicated In Town of Kewaskum

On Thursday, Sept. 10, 1992, the Washington County Sheriff's Department Multi-Jurisdictional Drug Enforcement Group, under the C.E.A.S.E. Program eradicated a cultivated marijuana grow site in the Town of Kewaskum.

Marijuana plants seven feet tall were discovered growing on public property and removed. The estimated street value of the plants is approximately $4,000.

This matter remains under investigation by the Washington County Multi-Jurisdictional Drug Unit which is supported in part by a grant which includes $77,000 in federal funding. This $77,000 represents approximately 75 percent of the total grant award.

KES Students Participate In National Prudential Fitnessgram

How physically fit are kids in Kewaskum? During the upcoming school year, students at Kewaskum Elementary School will find out — and learn what it takes to develop good fitness habits that will last the rest of their lives.

Kewaskum Elementary School participates in The Prudential FITNESSGRAM, a scientifically-based physical fitness conditioning, assessment and reporting system used in more than 3,000 schools across the United States. Developed and administered by the non-profit Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research in Dallas, Texas and sponsored by The Prudential, the program is part of Kewaskum Elementary School's physical education curricula.

"The Prudential FITNESSGRAM differs from traditional programs in that it doesn't focus on competition or athletic prowess," explained Marilu Meredith, Ed.D., director of The Prudential FITNESSGRAM at the Cooper Institute. "Rather, it provides an objective assessment of physical fitness and aims to instill good fitness habits and a positive attitude toward regular physical activity in all children, regardless of natural athletic ability."

Adds Ron Barbaro, president of The Prudential, "As America's largest life and health insurer, we have a vital interest in helping people lead long and healthy lives. The Prudential FITNESSGRAM teaches our youth the value of good fitness early on, encourages them to find fitness activities that they enjoy, rewards them for good fitness behavior and shows them how to carry these lessons into adulthood."

How The Prudential FITNESSGRAM Program Works

After completing a multi-week conditioning program, participating students are tested for aerobic capacity, muscle strength and flexibility, and body composition (their percentage of leanness or fatness). At the conclusion of testing, Prudential FITNESSGRAM software, which is supplied free of charge, tabulates students' performances and prints out personalized "FITNESSGRAM" report cards that compare individual results to established health fitness standards. The FITNESSGRAMs also provide general recommendations for improvement based on individual test results, a message to parents explaining the program, and instructions on how students and their families can participate in a national "Fit for Life" program to maintain their good fitness levels.

The Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research is an internationally-recognized non-profit physical fitness research and education center based in Dallas, Texas. It was founded in 1970 by Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper, the "Father" of modern aerobics and author of eleven books, including the best-selling Kid Fitness. The Cooper Institute is dedicated to advancing the understanding of the relationship between living habits and health, and has served as a consultant on health and fitness to schools, corporations and agencies in all 50 states, as well as in Germany, Italy, Finland, Poland, Brazil and the former Soviet Union.

The Prudential is the largest insurance company in North America and one of the world's leading financial institutions. The company currently insures the lives of more than 30 million people in the United States, Canada and several other countries, and provides health care benefits to more than 20 million people.

Washington - Ozaukee Reading Council to Meet

Dr. Richard Telfer, from the UW-Whitewater Graduate School and current president of the Wisconsin State Reading Association, will be speaking at the next Washington-Ozaukee Reading Council event. His topic, "Authentic Assessment," will be presented following dinner at the Hartford Country Club on Wednesday, October 21.

Socializing will begin at 5:00 p.m. followed by dinner at 6:00 p.m. Cost is $9.50 for members and $11.50 for non-members. Mail checks made out to WORC by October 14, to Sylvia Kruger-WORC, 730 Summit Drive, West Bend, WI 53095. Membership is open to anyone interested in education.

WCRTA Meeting Oct. 20

A docent guided tour of the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts awaits Washington County Retired Teachers Association members when they meet on Tuesday, October 20.

Preceding the tour, Tom Lidtke, gallery director, will speak to the group on the topic "The Art of Viewing Art."

The day's activities begin at 9 a.m. at the Gallery, 300 S. 6th Ave., West Bend, and conclude at the Immanuel Church of Christ, 501 Walnut St., with a business meeting and luncheon.

Reservations for the lunch, at $6 per person, should be mailed to Florence Hartman, 7110 Neno Rd., Allenton, WI 53002 before October 10. Members are reminded that annual dues must be paid by this October meeting. If you are a Washington County resident and have never visited the West Bend Gallery, October 20th is definitely the time to be there!

Shuttle Service At Kettle Kountry Kolors

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce has announced that Johnson Bus Service, Kewaskum, has graciously offered to run a shuttle service at the Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival being held in Riverhill Park, October 10th and 11th.

The shuttle service will be run every 15 minutes from 12 noon to 5 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. Pickup points will be the southeast corner of Sentry Foods parking lot, Regal Ware parking lot and the Kewaskum High School parking lot.

So forget about where to park the car. Hop on a shuttle and enjoy the festival hassle-free!

For those of you who haven't taken the time to visit Finishing Touches on Highway S, north of Kewaskum, Kettle Kountry Kolors this weekend at Riverhill Park will be your chance to see some of the hundreds of items Dennis and Judy Johnson feature in their store. Shown above is just a small sample of the beautiful giftware they will be bringing to Kettle Kountry Kolors. If you love Southwestern and Native American decor, do not miss stopping at this booth inside the craft tent.

Volunteers Needed

Volunteers make this the great community that it is! Is it the right time for you to volunteer? The Volunteer Center knows where volunteers are needed and will match you to a job that you'd like to do! Call the Volunteer Center today (338-8256) and see where you are needed!

If you have an interest in literacy: get out the word that trained people are available to teach reading to adults. Posters need to be put up wherever people congregate - at churches and on public bulletin boards.

Friendly, outgoing person: needed to contact to businesses and encourage employers to help employees who can't read well to come for help. Training is available for this. Someone's life may be greatly changed because you gave a few hours.

Child care for the next 16 weeks, a person who loves children is needed to help with babies and very young children, for two hours each Wednesday morning, 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. while the parents attend classes. Smiles required!

Newsletter helper put the pages in the right order, staple, and actually mail a newsletter once each month for an agency. Two friends might enjoy doing this on a regular basis. This is not a difficult job, but will mean much to an agency.

Ice cream shop helper: a new ice cream parlor, for nursing home residents needs a weekly helper. There is no lifting or wheel chair pushing with this job, but a friendly disposition is required! The conversation you have with a resident while you serve ice cream treats, can truly brighten the day for a lonesome nursing home resident!

Reader needed: If you enjoy reading stories, magazine articles, and news items - would you be willing to read them on a tape recorder for nursing home residents who do not see well? This could be done in your home or at the nursing home.

Sheepshead buff needed: to organize a group of elderly persons who already enjoy the game, but need a group leader to start things off. Choose Monday, Tuesday or Thursday morning.

Caretaker for a local museum: the Washington Historical Society has a truly wonderful museum for visitors to enjoy. Once or twice a month it needs about 2 hours of vacuuming to keep its good appearance. Would you enjoy doing this?

Do you have a skill or interest that you have not seen requested today? Call the Volunteer Center and tell them about it! See what they can find just for you!

Blood Pressure, Cholesterol Screening

Cholesterol screening and blood pressure measurement will be offered to Washington County residents by the Community Health Nursing Service Cardiovascular Risk Reduction Program.

Screening tests will be available once a month at the PUBLIC AGENCY CENTER, 333 E. Washington Street, West Bend, Room 1145.

Screening schedule is: October 22nd beginning at 9:30 a.m. in Suite 1145, (first floor of the PAC).

Blood pressure and cholesterol screenings will be done BY APPOINTMENT ONLY. Cholesterol screening will be done for a charge of $5.00.

To schedule an appointment for cholesterol and/or blood pressure screening, call 335-4462 or 644-5204 or 342-2929.

Hard boiled eggs may be easier to peel if you pierce the large end with a thumbtack before cooking.

Births

OGI — A son, Ryan Mitchell, 8 lbs. 6 oz., 21½ inches, born Oct. 1, to Mitch and Shirley, Kewaskum. Paternal grandparents are Dr. Charles and Donna Ogi. Maternal grandparents are Louis and Rita Halderson.

DORZAK — A daughter to Kristine and Carl, 1424 Shalom Drive, Kewaskum, on Sept. 21.

MAURER — A son to Linda and Kevin, 201 Knights Ave., No. 201, Kewaskum, on Sept. 22.

SHEEPSHEAD WINNERS

5 handed winner's on Wednesday, Sept. 30 were: Jerry Doll, 94-7-87, 23-5-18; Marge Geiger, 67-11-56, 23-5-18; Faye Keller, 63-8-55, 17-6-11; Ella Smith, 51-8-43, 14-5-9; Marion Darmody, 53-13-40, 19-6-13; Fred Mielke, 45-5-40, 14-2-12.

I'm told one of these guys is actually John "Flash" Herriges, but as accustomed as I am to men walking AWAY from me, I can't tell which one he is!

By L.L.K.

The end draws near and every night as I tuck piggy in his little beddie, he looks up into my eyes and asks me, "Is there really a John Herriges?"

What could I say? I just couldn't callously tell him "I don't know," or "I'm not sure." So I said, "Of course there is, don't be ridiculous!"

Received a very nice note all about John "Flash" Herriges, but due to a shortage of time I won't be able to share it with you now... HOWEVER, I'll post the article on the voting board that will be on display at Kettle Kountry Kolors on Saturday at the Chamber of Commerce Information booth

Sleger - Murphy

The marriage vows of Mary Susan Sleger and John Joseph Murphy III were blessed during an August 1 ceremony at St. Paul's University Catholic Center, University of Wisconsin-Madison Campus.

Parents of the couple are Edward and Diane Sleger of Kewaskum, and John and Eileen Murphy of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Patricia Sleger, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Jeff Chung, friend of the groom, served as best man.

Mary is a 1984 graduate of Kewaskum High School,

Kewaskum, and a 1988 graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She is presently employed as the Assistant Regional Director of Joint Action in Community Service (JACS).

John is a 1982 graduate of Roger Beacon High School, Cincinnati, Ohio and earned his bachelor and graduate degrees in 1988 and 1992 respectively from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is currently employed in sales with TRM Copy Centers Corporation.

The couple makes their home in Chicago, Illinois.

Kiwanis Clubs Honor Free Press During National Newspaper Week

(DM)—More than 7,000 Kiwanis clubs in the United States and Canada are honoring the role of a free press in free societies during National Newspaper Week, October 4-10. Kiwanis International is the oldest participating organization in the annual observance.

This year's Newspaper Week theme is "Discover New Worlds in Your Newspaper." This theme reflects the 1992 celebration of the 500th anniversary of Christopher Columbus' historic first voyage to the New World.

"The European discovery and settlement of America played a central role in the subsequent development of free societies throughout the world," says William L. Lieber of Gary, Indiana, the president of Kiwanis International.

"Creating new societies in the New World led to new concepts of limited government and individual rights," says Lieber. "Underpinning these rights is freedom of the press. There can be no truly free society without a free press, or a free press without a free society, because each is essential to the other."

The Kiwanis president also emphasizes that newspapers share the Kiwanis goal of serving the community. "Newspaper stories and editorials contribute to the success of almost every good cause in the community, including our own Kiwanis service and fund-raising projects," he says.

There are currently 8,800 Kiwanis clubs with 326,000 members in 83 nations. During the past year, Kiwanis clubs raised and spent more than $65 million for their community service activities and sponsored more than 130,000 different projects.

During National Newspaper Week, Kiwanis clubs will invite newspaper reporters, editors, or publishers to speak at club meetings. Some clubs will present awards for the past year's best community affairs reporting, or sponsor vocational programs to interest young people in pursuing careers in journalism.

Kiwanis clubs conduct a wide variety of voluntary community service projects. Service projects are selected by each club according to local needs and member interests. But most Kiwanis clubs are also conducting at least one major project in a continuing service program called "Young Children: Priority One." This program calls on each Kiwanis club to identify the greatest needs of children, from prenatal development to age 5, and undertake a project to meet those needs in every community.

"Kiwanis clubs help build better communities, and so do our local newspapers," says Lieber. "Kiwanians are therefore very proud of our many years of participation in the annual Newspaper Week observance."

Volunteer Financial Consultants

For those who would like to volunteer in the financial area and help other families who are experiencing financial difficulties, the Washington County UW Extension Office will offer training as a family financial consultant.

Family financial consultants are volunteers who have completed a minimum of twelve hours of intensive training in financial management. The consultants can help families set spending plans (or budgets), do planning for the impact of uncertain income and organize a record keeping system.

Training will include background on the family economic situation, income and expenses, record keeping, credit use and restructuring of debt, as well as some counseling techniques that will help in working with families directly.

Consultants will be asked to volunteer to work with families who request financial consultations. "We're looking for a way that families can have follow-up assistance rather than just have a one-time visit," said Joyce Albrecht, Extension Home Economist.

If you're interested in family finances, feel that you have something to offer the program and want to be considered for training, contact the UW Extension Office for more information — 335-4479; 644-5204 or 342-2929.

Training will begin on Wednesday, October 28. Deadline for requesting information and application for the volunteer program is October 16.

Pony Express Delivers Great Food, Entertainment

Wayne and Debbie Kannenberg

by S. Callaway Roznik

Fall colors inspire scenic drives through the northern Kettle Moraine area, and if your appetite is spurred by the crisp autumn air, Wayne and Debbie Kannenberg invite you to stop by the Pony Express in New Prospect for some "country" dining and sing-a-long entertainment.

The couple recently purchased the former "Everglades" from Bob and Dorothy Johnson, renamed the restaurant an appropriate title for dining in the midst of "horse country" and set out to change careers midstream - pursuing talents and ambitions that were put on back burners until now. "We wanted to consolidate everything into one place," said Wayne, and "everything" includes quite a list of diverse interests.

Originally from Kewaskum, Debbie left her job as a program assistant for probation/parole at the Dept. of Corrections in West Bend, and now works part-time at Tacheedah. The first few weeks as business owners put the Kannenbergs through what they term "an intense learning process." "There were lots of 20 hour days," remarks Wayne, who spent the last ten years working for Serigraph in West Bend; the last few as Creative Director of the Art Department. He plans to freelance out of his home as an artist specializing in computer/air-brush illustrating.

Debbie and Wayne have introduced yet another of their talents to customers by way of weekend entertainment. She sings and he plays keyboard, all computerized, offering a variety of music. Everyone gets a chance to get in on the fun when they pass the microphone around the bar for an old-fashioned sing-a-long, a customer favorite at the Pony Express.

Whatever spare time they have left is devoted to their eight Arabian horses, especially their black stallion whose picture hangs on the wall of the dining room. Debbie's eyes light up when she talks about the horses. "We hope to set up some hitching rails for riders who want to stop in for dining," she remarks, knowing the many horselovers who travel to the Kette Moraine each year to enjoy the trails.

Done in mauve and burgandy, the dining room overlooks the Milwaukee River, and is decorated in Native American and Southwestern Art. "It's called Pony Art," says Debbie. Along with the restaurant, the couple have also become the new owners of the famous giant deer and bull, two New Prospect landmarks and the subject of many a tourist's photo.

The Pony Express offers a full menu, including Friday fish fries with a choice of five different fish, Saturday steak specials, and Thursday baskets of shrimp and chicken. "We specialize in everything," says Wayne. "They're all good." The restaurant is open Thursday through Sunday, 4:30 p.m. until closing (depending on how long everyone's voices last!) Join them for some great food and entertainment, set in the heart of the country.

Gallery to Offer Children's Classes On Making Masks

The West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts is pleased to announce the following workshop for children: Made-To-Order Masks. The instructor is Sandra Butz-Siebers. Classes will be held on Saturdays, October 17 & 24 (two sessions), at 10:30 a.m. - 12:00 noon (ages 6, 7 & 8); 1:00 - 2:30 p.m. (ages 9, 10, 11 & 12). The fees is Gallery friends: $12.00; General public: $15.00.

Class size is limited to ten students. Students will explore a variety of methods to make a mask and explore the fun of different materials, including plaster, paper and clay. Each student will make a plaster gauze mask during the first session and decorate it the following week with paint, feathers and a myriad of objects selected from collections of buttons, sequins, seashells, etc. Most supplies are included.

The West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts is located at 300 South 6th Avenue in downtown West Bend. Normal gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday 10:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. and Sunday 1:00 - 4:30 p.m. For more information call the gallery at 334-9638.

Guys & Dolls Sing and Dance at KHS

The "Guys and Dolls" are singing their songs, dancing their dances, and learning their lines. Act I of Kewaskum High School's musical production of Guys & Dolls is falling into place.

Lt. Brannigan of the police force was the first actor (Mark Morell) to memorize his lines and get into character. He is hot on the trail of Nathan Detroit's floating crap game, never knowing for sure what Nathan's next move will be. Meanwhile Nathan (Brian Bruendl) searches for a secret location, egged on by the nagging of Nicely Nicely (Keith Herman) and the "muscle" of Big Jule (Dan Schulteis). Big Jule likes to win, and he has no intention of letting any game stop until he does win.

Meanwhile, Nathan's main squeeze, Adelaide (Jenny Stelter) is sniffing with a bad cold. Could it be the skimpy costumes she wears as a hotbox dancer? Could it be the cold shoulder she sometimes gets from Nathan, who gets cold feet at the mention of marriage?

At the mission, Maureen (Krysten Ammel) encourages Sarah (Greta Kuphal) to continue her quest to convert Broadway and its gamblers - starting with Sky Masterson (Chad Harlow).

Find out how it all turns out. Make plans to attend Guys & Dolls at Kewaskum High School, Friday, November 6 and Saturday, November 7, at 8:00 p.m.

American Cancer Society and West Bend Clinic Announce Breast Cancer Detection Awareness Project

Kewaskum Statesman, Thursday, Oct. 8, 1992, Page 9

"This year, in conjunction with Cancer Awareness Month, Washington County women will have the opportunity to participate in the American Cancer Society low-cost breast screening project," says Betty Gumm of The West Bend Clinic.

Health care facilities throughout the state will offer reduced cost mammography. The participating facility in the area will be the West Bend Clinic. The West Bend Clinic will also be providing a physical breast examination by a health-care professional and training in breast self-examination. The American Cancer Society encourages this three pronged approach for most effective breast cancer detection.

Last year during the American Cancer Society, Wisconsin Division's Breast Cancer Detection Awareness Project (BCDA) 5,345 women were screened for breast cancer at 55 participating facilities.

Early detection of breast cancer is a top priority of the American Cancer Society. Women 50 years of age or older without breast cancer symptoms and women over 35 who have never had a mammogram are eligible to take part in the Breast Cancer Detection Project if...

*She is not pregnant or nursing a baby, or if

*She has never had breast cancer.

Interested women are encouraged to call the area American Cancer Society office in West Bend at 338-4060 to schedule an examination. The American Cancer Society will be scheduling these examinations for the first two weeks in October, (Oct. 5-16th) and the cost will be $50 per exam, which is 1/2 the normal fee.

MAMMOGRAMS ARE SAFE

Health care facilities throughout Wisconsin will participate in this year's BCDA Project. All participating hospitals and clinics have had their mammography equipment thoroughly tested to assure high-quality images at a safe level of radiation.

Advances in technology have resulted in mammography equipment that emits extremely low doses of radiation, often less than one rad per exposure. There is no evidence that links radiation exposure from mammography to subsequent development of breast cancer.

A mammography can detect a breast cancer when it is the size of a freckle or a head of a pin, up to four years before it can be detected by the most experienced physician. When the breast cancer is in a localized state, the five year survival rate is 92 percent. If the breast cancer is contained, the survival rate approaches 100 percent. If the cancer has spread regionally, the survival rate is 71 percent.

Early detection of breast cancer is vital for saving lives, and in some cases may also result in less extensive surgery for the patient.

SAVING LIVES IS THE GOAL

In 1990 there were 3,184 cases of breast cancer diagnosed in Wisconsin and 920 deaths. In Washington County, 58 cases of breast cancer were diagnosed resulting in 16 deaths. It is estimated that 3,500 new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed in 1992 and that 900 women will die of the disease.

Breast cancer mortality can be reduced if more women follow early-detection procedures.

The American Cancer Society recommends that...

*Women of 20 years of age and older examine their breasts monthly.

*Women ages 20 to 40 have a breast examination every three years by a physician. Women ages 40 and older should have a physicians examination every year.

*Women without symptoms, ages 35 to 39, have a baseline mammogram for future comparison. At ages 40 to 49, women should have a mammogram every year or two, depending on doctor's orders. Women ages 50 and older should have a mammogram annually.

Unfortunately, surveys still show that about one-third of all women over the age of 40 have never had a mammogram. "One of the purposes of the BCDA campaign is to help more asymptomatic women and health care professionals become aware of the importance of mammography in the early detection of breast cancer," said Patrick Remington, M.D., M.Ph., epidemiologist for the Wisconsin Division of Health and Chairperson of the 1992 BCDA Task Force. "There should be no financial barrier. No women should be denied a mammogram, regardless of her ability to pay."

It is estimated that today's Wisconsin population includes 1.2 million women 35 years of age and older. If all these women were screened for breast cancer, almost 8,000 cases should be found.

Finding these cancers as soon as possible is crucial.

School Lunches Serve Nutritional Needs of the Growing Children

If planning family meals is a challenge, imagine cooking for 25 million children.

That's the job of school food service workers around the country every day as they prepare meals for children participating in the National School Lunch Program (NSLP).

Since it was established in 1946, the NSLP has required that participating schools follow a "basic meal pattern" regarding specific amounts of food — milk, meat or meat alternative, fruits, vegetables, and bread or bread alternative. Today the school lunch must provide approximately one-third of growing students' Recommended Dietary Allowances (RDA) for nutrients and calories.

Milk, cheese and other dairy foods are an important component of meals served in the NSLP. In fact, the National Evaluation of School Nutrition Programs says, "The presence of milk in the meal patterns probably accounts for some of the greater nutrient intakes associated with participation in the School Lunch Program."

These "greater nutrient intakes" are especially important for the 12.9 million needy children who receive their school lunches free or at a reduced price. Studies indicate that for many of them, the school lunch is the only well-balanced meal they eat all day.

Why is milk such an important part of school lunches?

Nutrition experts at Dairy Council of Wisconsin (DCW) say milk and other dairy products provide the calcium that contributes to the growth and development of healthy bones and teeth. Research shows that building bone mass early in life reduces the risk of fractures associated with osteoporosis later. An 8-ounce carton of milk provides approximately 300 milligrams of calcium — one-fourth of an 11-year-old's RDA, and more than a third of the RDA for children 10 and under. Dairy products also provide other essential nutrients, including protein for muscles, riboflavin for cell growth, and carbohydrates for energy. Fortified milk provides vitamin A for vision and bone growth and vitamin D for teeth and bones.

As newer knowledge of children's nutritional needs has become available, the NSLP has adopted more healthful menus featuring foods that are lower in sugar, salt and fat. Food service personnel keep current in their field through affiliation with the American School Food Service Association (which marks its annual National School Lunch Week Oct. 12-16), as well as through continuing education, seminars and workshops such as DCW's "Trimming the Fat." Meanwhile, meals have become more palatable to the children and teenagers who participate in the program.

Dairy Council of Wisconsin (DCW) is a non-profit nutrition education and marketing association whose work in Wisconsin, northern Illinois and northwestern Indiana is made possible through funds provided by dairy farmers.

County Separated and Divorced Group to Meet

The Washington County Separated and Divorced Men and Women Support Group meets every Friday at Sacred Heart Church in Allenton from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide a group to share ideas, concerns, support, fellowship and love from a Christian perspective. There are also guest speakers, panel discussions, small group sharing and activities.

The group is open to singles, widows and widowers. Many of the topics pertain to single parents and other individuals rebuilding their lives and relationships.

Upcoming topics are:
Oct. 9 - Communication "When Lines Break Down, Lines Are Drawn," presented by Lisa Biemann, Family Therapist, Catholic Social Services, Washington County Mediator.

October 16 - "Family Restoration," musically speaking presented by past speaker Gordon McKinley.

October 23 - "Being Single Again - The Accepting," is being presented by Pat Doktor, Coordinator, Adult and Family Ministry Archdiocese of Milwaukee.

Child Safety Tips

Every month, more than 8,000 children ages 14 and under die as a result of accidents, many of which could have been prevented. Health care costs for childhood injuries are estimated at $7.5 billion a year.

The American Academy of Pediatrics is taking advantage of October's Child Health Month to urge you to follow these simple safety precautions.

- Travel safely with your child, making sure he rides in an age-appropriate safety seat anytime he's in a motor vehicle. Although all states now require the use of infant safety seats, many parents neglect to use them or use them incorrectly.

- Teach your child to wear a safety helmet when riding her bike. Eighty-five percent of bike accident deaths could be prevented if young cyclists wore helmets, yet only 5 percent do.

- Don't let any children swim unsupervised and teach your child basic water safety rules.

- Child-proof your home. Keep unsafe products out of children's reach, lower your water heater's temperature to 120 degrees F. to avoid burns, cover unused electrical outlets and use safety gates at staircases.

- Know basic infant and child first aid.

By making your child's environment safe, you can ensure him the healthiest future. For more information, send a business-sized, stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Choking Brochure, Dept. C, American Academy of Pediatrics, PO Box 927, Elk Grove Village, IL. 60009.

A Fat-Free Cake For All Seasons

Coffeecakes have been designated "off limits" by many a health-conscious cook. But now you can have your cake and eat it too.

Fat-Free Pear Coffeecake is an easy-to-make treat which uses none of those precious fat grams you allocate yourself each day. No butter, no margarine, no oil! The secret is KARO Corn Syrup. When combined with skim milk and egg whites plus the more traditional coffeecake ingredients, it results in a tasty fat-free cake equally good for morning snacking or evening dessert.

Although fresh ripe pears were used here, this cake is just as tempting with apples, plums, peaches or nectarines. Finally, here is a recipe which provides a year-round flavor splurge without guilt.

For more fat-free recipes write to: KARO Fat-Free Recipes, Dept. NAPS, Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238

FAT-FREE PEAR COFFEECAKE

MAZOLA NO STICK Corn Oil Cooking Spray

- 1 cup flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/3 cup skim milk
- 2 egg whites
- 1/3 cup KARO Light or Dark Corn Syrup
- 2 firm ripe pears, peeled and thickly sliced
- 1 tablespoon sugar

Spray 9-inch round baking pan with cooking spray. In large bowl combine flour, baking powder, ginger and salt. In medium bowl, using a wire whisk or fork, thoroughly mix sugar and milk. Whisk in egg whites and corn syrup. Gradually stir into dry ingredients until smooth. Pour into prepared pan. Arrange pears over top, overlapping to cover. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in 350°F oven 50 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack. Makes 10 servings.

Each serving provides: 170 calories, 2 g protein, 39 g carbohydrate, 0 g total fat, 0 g polyunsaturated fat, 0 g saturated fat, 0 mg cholesterol, 190 mg sodium.

Hot Air Balloon Mini-Rally At Kettle Kountry Kolors

At least four hot air balloons will dot the autumn sky as they take part in a mini-rally at Kettle Kountry Kolors this weekend at Riverhill Park. Weather permitting, the balloons will be either ascending or descending on the Hon-E-Kor Country Club grounds on Saturday. Shown above are two of the balloons that participated in the festival last year as they get ready to ascend. The beauty of the huge balloons going up into the blue sky is one feature you won't want to miss. So pray the weatherman cooperates and keep your eyes glued to the sky for the colorful balloons. The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is also offering raffle tickets for a free balloon ride. The tickets, available at the Chamber of Commerce Information Booth, are $1.00 each or 6 for $5.00.

Excerpts from As I Remember

by Marvin Martin

It has been said that the first settler in Washington County was in the late 1600s. Washington and Ozaukee Counties had one county seat which was moved between West Bend and Port Washington. The records were in Port Washington. A group of West Bend businessmen went there one night and brought them to Washington County where they have remained ever since.

Kewaskum was first known as North Bend, and the area near the east side of the river, where most of our village was at that time, decided they would like to be called North Bend Center. This was in the mid 1840s, and they finally persuaded the town fathers to use this name. In 1895 the name was changed to Kewaskum, after an Indian Chief, who camped in this area.

In 1878 the railroad came through, and moved the village more to the west.

I was born June 7, 1907, at 501 Main Street, Kewaskum, and these are my memories.

I saw the scars of two brick factories which were no longer in operation. Miller Brick Factory was on the northern edge of Kewaskum, between Highway 45 and the railroad track. You can see the flat level of the land with the creek running through it. The other was the Buss Brick Factory which made bricks and ornamental clay products. This was located as we know Riverview Drive, approximately one mile north of Kewaskum and approximately 1/2 mile east on E. Moraine Drive.

We had 3 doctors, 2 dentist, 2 veterinarians, 13 taverns, 4 blacksmith shops, 3 grocery stores, 2 barbers, 4 churches, 2 millinery shops, 2 furniture stores. 2 shoe shops, a flour mill, 2 grain elevators (Koch and Rosenheimer) a malt house, and 3 schools (public, St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran and Holy Trinity Catholic).

He was born June 26, 1914, on a farm near St. Kilian, to the late Frank and Minnie (nee Beisbier) Fleischman, and married Bernice Ruplinger on June 21, 1941, at St. Kilian's Catholic Church.

He farmed until his retirement, and continued living on the homestead until his death.

Survivors include his wife; 10 children, Judy (Ed) Preo of Beechwood, Mary Fleischman of Sheboygan, John (Bernie), Louise (Rich) Fahney and Tony (Chris), all of West Bend, Albert (Joan), Betty (Dennis) Krueger and Norman "Hubie" (Gloria), all of Campbellsport and Aggie (Bill) Krug and Angela (Tom) Schickert, both of Kewaskum; 20 grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; a sister, Ruth (Andy) Beisbier of Fond du Lac, and other relatives and friends.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held Thursday, Oct. 8, at 10 a.m. at St. Kilian's Catholic Church, St. Kilian. Rev. Wayne Barta will officiate, and burial will follow in the church cemetery.

Visitation at the Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport, will be Wednesday from 4 to 9 p.m.

DESMOND I. COTTER

Desmond I. Cotter, of West Bend, died Monday, Oct. 5, 1992, at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, at the age of 78.

He was born Oct. 1, 1914 in Mackville, to the late Thomas and Margaret (nee Wagister) Cotter.

After his marriage to Julia J. Goretski of Holy Family Church, Wittenberg, on June 19, 1935, they settled in Wittenberg where they lived until moving to the West Bend area in 1940.

From 1946-'47 he served as the police chief of the former village of Barton. From April 1948 until his retirement in October 1976, he worked for the Washington County Highway Department.

His wife passed away Nov. 10, 1980.

Survivors include five children, James (friend Donna Klumb) of West Bend, Lawrence (Nancy) and Joan (Barney) Strobel, both of Kewaskum, Sally (Chuck) Fellenz of West Bend and Susanne (Thomas) Guth of Morton, Ill.; a son-in-law, Bernard Kastner of West Bend; a special friend Meta Heimermann of Kewaskum; 19 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren; a sister, Geraldine (Orin) Neuman of Wittenberg; eight sisters-in-law, Marion Gruber and Dorothy Bath, both of Kewaskum, Sally Gutjahr of Kohlsville, Anne Sliwicki of Wausau, Helen (Jim) Voigt of Shawano, Carol Goretski of Marshfield, Cecilia Groetski of Stevens Point and Sylvia Cotter of Tigerton and other relatives and friends.

Preceding him in death were daughter, Collette Kastner on May 13, 1990, three sisters and four brothers.

He was a member of the Apostolate of Suffering.

Funeral services will be Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Schmidt Funeral Home, West Bend, with a Mass of Christian Burial at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church. Rev. Patrick Wendt will be the presider, and burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Visitation at the funeral home was on Wednesday from 3 p.m. until the time of services.

Memorials to St. Mary's School, West Bend, appreciated.

Sensenbrenner Most Frugal Member of Congress

Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner (R-Menomonee Falls) was rated the most frugal Member of Congress in the Fifth Annual Spending Index compiled by Roll Call Report Syndicate. "Once again the voters have a chance to see who votes against wasteful spending versus who just talks about it," Rep. Sensenbrenner stated.

The Spending Index examined 105 House roll call votes in 1991 presenting a choice between more or less spending, regardless of the amount. The survey tracked votes to establish new programs; shrink, expand or eliminate existing ones; to raise or lower spending levels; to create new agencies or commissions or dismantle established units of governments; and to eliminate wasteful pork barrel spending.

Rep. Sensenbrenner rated number one in the entire House of Representatives voting for less spending 78 percent of the time. "Congress passes many bills containing wasteful spending that do not receive much attention. I am glad groups are out there keeping an eye on us and reporting it to the people," Rep. Sensenbrenner remarked. The average House Member voted only 29 percent of the time for less spending. Congressman Sensenbrenner has been at or near the top of this survey each of the five years it has been published.

Roll call syndicate is a weekly information bulletin published in Washington, D.C. that tracks important legislative issues, providing voting histories and special accountability reports.

THEN and NOW!

Stockings have helped folk get a leg up on fashion since ancient times.

Then: People in ancient Greece and some other lands occasionally wore socklike foot coverings as early as the 400s B.C. During the A.D. 400s, clergymen in western Europe wore long, tight stockings as a symbol of purity, a fashion soon adopted by the nobility. Most stockings were made of woven cloth until the 1500s. By the late 1600s, many people wore machine-knitted hose. Manufacturers made most stockings of cotton, silk or wool until the development of nylon in 1938.

Now: Some people are saying that the 1990s will be known as the Leg-wear Decade. Perhaps that's because so many new casual leg-wear styles are gaining popularity, as women take a more relaxed approach to fashion. "Tights, trouser socks and socks have become the best-selling legwear styles for casual wear," says John Ceneviva, vice president of marketing for L'eggs, which has come out with its own L'eggswear™ brand with spandex. The line consists of nine styles of tights, trouser socks and casual socks, all made with spandex for better fit, comfort and durability. You'll find them at food, drug and discount stores.

Students Enjoy Lecture From Under the Sea

10 ft. mako shark makes a BIG impression on students!

Mr. Charles Zieske introduces "Life on the Ocean Floor"

Would you like to try on a scuba vest or look eye to eye with a blowfish? Have you ever held a giant clam, seahorse or left handed weel? Over 700 students from Holy Trinity, St. Lucas and Kewaskum Elementary Schools enjoyed an aquatic lecture by Mr. Charles Zieske and "hands on" viewing of his collection of shells and under sea items from around the world.

Students learned of the trumpet quality of some shells, heard of the regeneration of the sea stars "arms", the paralyzing effect of a blow fish, and the three types of coral. Hard hat deep sea diving gear made in Milwaukee still leads the industry in diving. Basically the same as that used by Frenchmen in 1825, today's life support systems are computer controlled, and include telephone and other communications equipment.

A ten foot mako shark, whose bite can exert 18 tons of pressure per square inch, was a favorite display, and got everyone's attention when touched with a simulated bang stick. Hopefully all in attendance left the exhibit with a better understanding of "Life on the Ocean Floor."

Ten Tips for Fire Safety

Do's

- ✓ 1. DO have at least one smoke detector on every floor of your house, including the attic and basement.
- ✓ 2. DO install fresh batteries in your smoke detector in the spring and fall, the same day you set your clocks forward or back one hour. Test the batteries monthly.
- ✓ 3. DO have a plan for getting out of your house in the event of a fire. Conduct family fire drills.
- ✓ 4. DO have a prearranged meeting place outside your home where your family knows to gather.
- ✓ 5. DO have a fire extinguisher in your home at every location where a fire is likely to start.

Don't's

- X 6. DO NOT place flammable materials near stoves or other sources of fire.
- X 7. DO NOT store flammable liquids or rags soaked in flammable liquids any place in your home.
- X 8. DO NOT attempt to put out a fire yourself, unless it is very small and easily contained.
- X 9. DO NOT attempt to retrieve valuables before exiting a burning building.
- X 10. DO NOT go back into a burning building for any reason whatsoever.

Navy Lt. Scott R. Vandermar, son of Raymond J. and Joan F. Vandermar of 243 E. Main St., Campbellsport, WI, is currently aboard the tank landing ship USS Racine, homeported in Long Beach, CA, and is participating in a special three-month, seven nation deployment to the South Pacific to commemorate the 50th anniversary of American and allied World War II action in the region.

Vandermar has participated in several humanitarian efforts and civic projects at five South Pacific island nations.

Vandermar visited Honiara, Guadalcanal, in the Solomon Islands where the ship and crew hosted five medal of honor recipients from the Battle of Guadalcanal. The famous battle came to represent the turning point in Japanese war expansion in the South Pacific and stopped Japan's southward thrust. The event was highlighted by dedication activities marking important naval and land engagements during the campaign.

The ship, which is part of the Naval Reserve Force and has a crew of both active and reserve sailors, will travel 17,000 miles on its commemorative deployment.

Vandermar also visited Sydney, Australia; Suva, Fiji; Nuku Alofa, Tonga; Port Moresby, Papua-New Guinea; and Noumea, New Caledonia.

The 1979 graduate of Campbellsport High School and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh, WI, with a Bachelor of Arts degree, joined the Navy in June 1985.

October's Fire Safety Reminders

This October, Americans will commemorate the 121st anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire. The fire, which began on Oct. 8, 1871, burned for two days, leaving an estimated 250 people dead and $200 million in property lost.

While historians may debate the origin of the fire, no one debates the need for individuals to practice fire safety. That's why each year — coinciding with the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire — the first or second week of October is designated Fire Prevention Week. This year, Fire Prevention Week is Oct. 4-10.

With regard to fire safety, another date to remember in October is Sunday, Oct. 25 — the day most of us turn our clocks back an hour to standard time. According to the National Association of State Fire Marshals (NASFM), smoke detector batteries must be changed at least twice a year, and the organization suggests the semiannual changing of the clocks as a perfect reminder. NASFM also recommends placing a smoke detector on every level of the house, including the attic and basement, and testing each smoke detector monthly.

As veteran firefighter and NASFM executive board member George A. Miller put it, "A smoke detector with dead batteries is as useful as a car with an empty gas tank." ■

Scout 'Myst-O-Ree'

The Fall "Myst-O-Ree" Camporee will be conducted by Glacier Edge District 11, of the Bay Lakes Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Friday thru Sunday, October 16-18 at Camp Journal, South of Hartford. Participants should use the North entrance off Highway 83.

Boy Scouts, Webelos and leaders from Ozaukee County, Random Lake and Washington County may check-in Friday from 6 to 8 p.m., and check out time will be Sunday at 10 a.m. The cost is $6.00 and reservations should be sent to Chairman Jan Petersen, 1542 Gloria Lane, Grafton, WI 53024. For more information, call her at 377-8497 or 375-1280.

Troops are asked to bring their own food, cooking gear, tents and medical forms.

Petersen and her staff have prepared some thrills, chills, a Haunted Hike and creepy adventures to highlight the weekend.

Cub Leader Basic Training Offered

Glacier Edge District 11, of the Bay-Lakes Council of the Boy Scouts of America, will offer two options for Cub Leader Basic Training for Cubmasters, Committee Chairmen, Den Leaders, Webelos Leaders, their assistants and members of the Pack Committee: a series of three Wednesday nights, October 7, 14 and 21, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Silverbrook Middle School, 120 N. Silverbrook Drive, West Bend; or one Saturday, October 10, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at the Senior Citizen Center, 1665 S. Seventh Avenue, Grafton. The cost is $5 and walk-ins are welcome.

Participants are asked to bring a sack lunch and a Leader Book, if available. Coffee and snacks will be provided.

For more information, contact Training Chairman, Terry Gengler at 242-9383.

Scout/Youth Group

Saturday, October 17 is a day set aside for youth groups such as scouts and 4-H to participate in a program with a Riveredge Nature Center naturalist. There are several Saturdays that are set aside for such activities throughout the Fall, Winter and Spring.

All groups must register for a Saturday prior to coming. For more information, call Riveredge at 375-2715 (metro) or 675-6888 (local).

Riveredge is a non-profit, 350 acre natural sanctuary and educational organization, providing environmental programs for all ages. It is located in Ozaukee County, on Highway Y, one mile north of Newburg, between Saukville and West Bend.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

It is no surprise to me but apparently the Washington County Sheriff has fooled many people over the past few years. It's no surprise to me that the Sheriff has proposed a 11 percent increase in his budget without any real plan to cut overtime which is rampant in his department. He has offered to cut $30,000.00 of overtime in exchange for three jailers that cost $90,000.00. What a bargain. This man has no plan and now he will have two more years to spend our money.

It is no surprise to me that the Sheriff has already taken Jim Grover off as commander of the SWAT team. He says it is because Jim presented things during the campaign that were not true. Yet he does not tell anyone what these things are.

What does surprise me are the people who say "I do not understand why Sgt. Grover spent $48,000.00 of his own money for a campaign." At least Jim Grover was not spending your money. He ran for an office because he believed changes were needed, well he is going to get change now and it is not for the better for either him or the taxpayer.

The pattern that will follow for Jim Grover will be the same pattern that followed Steve Braun when he campaigned for Clarence Schwartz. Steve was harassed and hassled, his wife was hassled to the point where he finally quit and went elsewhere. This was a man honored by many in the City of West Bend, the County and State for his service as an under cover drug officer. His payment for laying his and his families life on the line was harassment to the point of leaving.

Throughout the campaign, the Sheriff and some of his people spread a rumor about Jim Grover and his wife that was very difficult to defend. It was an issue that he conveniently left open in Jim's file for the Sheriff to use at his convenience. Perhaps now he will close this matter like he should have done 18 months ago. Then again, maybe not. It is still a good tool for him to use.

I understand that he has made the offer to hire Kurt Vogelsberg back now that the Campaign is over. He clearly stated Kurt was not fired because he worked on Grover's campaign. Fooled you again, huh?

The general election is coming and I'll tell you what. I am going to write in Jim Grover, at least I will be able to live with myself and then I am going to send him a little money to help him pay some of the cost of his campaign.

Letters to the Editor September 30, 1992

Dear Editor:

Last Friday I was at the scene of the head-on car accident on Hwy. 143. The memory of the victims' injuries is still with me. Another memory that is still with me is this, Thank God that we have such excellent people working on emergency rescue units.

I had always thought that I would have liked to be either a law officer or an EMT. After last Friday's accident, I realize that I could never do what these special people do. So, hats off to Marcia Reth, Barb Theisen, Washington County Sheriff's officers Bob Calhoun and Kurt Knaus, Earl Kruepke, the West Bend Fire and Rescue squads, Jackson Rescue squad, Vital Care and anyone else that I may have missed.

As I travel through Washington County, I will never again take for granted these fine people and neither should anyone else. We are truly fortunate that there are those trained professionals who look after us and help us in time of need.

Sincerely,
Diane Horlamus

Goose Depredation Permits May Be Available in Horicon Zone

MADISON, WI — Wisconsin's decreased fall Canada goose hunting quota may result in increased crop damage and more hunters filling their tags early in the Horicon Zone, according to Laine Stowell, Wildlife Damage Specialist for the DNR Bureau of Wildlife Management.

"We expect we'll be issuing more goose depredation permits to farmers in the Horicon Zone this year," said Stowell. "Hunters may be able to obtain some extra goose tags from farmers with permits." The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will allow Wisconsin hunters to harvest up to 4,500 Canada geese above the state's regular quota if crop damage is severe.

Stowell pointed out that during 1990 and 1991 crop damage was significantly reduced, because of the high number of tags issued and the large goose harvest.

It wasn't necessary to issue many goose depredation permits in those years. Stowell believes 1992 may be different because of reduced hunting pressure. DNR staff will issue goose depredation permits to farmers where recommended by USDA-Animal Damage Control out of Waupun. Farmers must have or exceed $1,000 worth of damage. Farmers must continue to use propane cannons.

Only hunters holding Horicon Zone permits may use goose depredation permits. Horicon Zone hunters may receive one tag a day for up to two tags per farm permit during periods other than their regular Horicon Zone permit period. Hunters may also be eligible during their Horicon Zone permit period if they have filled their regular tags.

Goose depredation tags can be filled only during weekdays — not on weekends. Hunters must fill out and send in the report card after tagging a goose with a depredation tag. Failure to report kills, or not complying with other permit rules, may result in a fine for the hunter, and the loss of the federal goose depredation quota for Wisconsin.

The fall crop harvest is a busy time for farmers; they may want to restrict hunter activities to specific areas of their farms. Goose hunters are encouraged to follow the farmer's instructions. Respect for landowners will strengthen hunter/farmer relationships.

Horicon Zone goose hunters interested in locations where depredation permits have been issued should call the Wisconsin Cooperative Wildlife Damage Control Program staff in Waupun at (414) 324-4454.

Proper Hunting Preparation Can Be a Life Saver

It's been said that "getting ready is half the fun." For hunters participating in Wisconsin's annual gun deer hunting season, the statement seems particularly true and more important than ever. According to Department of Natural Resources Hunter Education Coordinator Larry Johnson, hunters today are exploring new hunting areas and encountering new risks.

"We've seen a lot of hunters checking out different parts of the state," Johnson says. "In part, I think, it's a response to the growth of the herd up north. They're finding themselves in vast, forested country or other areas their groups may have never hunted before."

Johnson says advance planning can help a hunting group become familiar with new territory and increase their chances for success. He suggests hunters make use of the day before opening weekend to familiarize themselves with roads around their hunting area. Those hunting on private lands should arrange to visit the property owner.

"You may want to visit on the previous weekend to see where the deer are moving and pick out a stand," Johnson says. "Not only will you be able to tell people where you'll be hunting, but if you move, you'll be familiar with what it takes to get back out to the road."

Johnson suggests that hunters who arrive the day before the season opens stop by county offices or other local outlets to pick up a county road map. And he says hunting partners should agree to some means of keeping track of one another in the field, paying particular attention to those members of the group that may need help if they kill a deer.

"A signal system can be anything from firing three shots to equipping everyone with plastic whistles. It depends on where you hunt," Johnson says. "It helps if everyone agrees to meet somewhere at a specific time toward the middle of the day."

Should you become lost, it's good to be prepared. In addition to a reliable compass and matches kept in a waterproof container, Johnson suggests carrying a back-up compass, a flashlight, some extra food and a small canteen of water. A fire may keep you warm and will make you easier to find. But in dry conditions, it's important to clear grass and leaves well away from where you plan to build the fire.

"If you get lost, the important thing is to remain calm. Sit down and think seriously about what you need to do next."

Even if you're hunting in the same small woodlot you've hunted for years, Johnson says it's important to do some planning before you leave. It may mean simply bringing a change of clothes to prepare for changing weather. Without some type of organization, he warns, it's easy for things to simply slip your mind.

"The most common mistake people make is forgetting their licenses or permit back at home," Johnson says. "And after all, that's just as important as bringing a sharp knife, a firearm and a rope to pull your deer."

Waal To Be Honored at Stock Car Banquet

Forty five year old Erv "Swervin Ervin" Waal of Kewaskum will be honored at the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Banquet on Saturday, Oct. 17th at the Milhome Supper Club in Kiel.

This year driving his 1990 Enticer Chassis with a 1989 Corvette body and powered by a Chevy engine, Erv finished 22nd in the EWSCA modified point standings. His sponsors on the car for the 1992 racing season were: Fast Eddie's, Hall Ind. Kevin's Lawn Care, Wings by Schmedly, Jim & Dave's Lumber, Engine Specialist, Sentry Foods, BS Racing, Lettering by Etchie and Enticer Chassis Specialists, Waala Wheel and Tire. With the help of his pit crew, Erv is always at the track to give the race fans some excitement when he is on the track.

Indians Dealt Crucial Blow by Falcons

By Statesman Sports Writer

SHEBOYGAN FALLS — The Kewaskum girls tennis team was probably hoping that Sheboygan Falls' win over Eastern Wisconsin Conference leader Two Rivers was a fluke, considering that the Indians were next in line to face the Falcons.

But it was the host Falcons who proved that it was no fluke, as Falls posted its second straight upset, a 4-3 win over the Indians. The loss put the Indians' chances for the conference title in jeopardy.

"This will definitely set us back in our attempt at positioning ourselves for a run at the conference title," said KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt, who reported that the match didn't get over until just before 9:00 p.m.

The Indians' No. 1 doubles team of Nicki Cayner and Kim Frank was pressed into a third set in its match against Tanya Vorachek and Kate Kuhfass. Cayner and Frank eventually outlasted their foes, 6-0, 3-6, 6-3 to improve to 5-1 in the EW.

Likewise, the No. 2 doubles combo of Jenefer VanAssche and Lisa Berres went to three sets before coming out on top. Berres and VanAssche beat Sarah Herschelman and Holly Meerdink 6-1, 2-6, 6-4, evening their conference mark at 3-3.

The lone other Indian win came at No. 3 singles, where Meredith Frac won her second straight match at that position, beating Stacy Beuthien 6-3, 6-1.

But that as all the Indians could come up with, as a pair of Indian singles players fell from the unbeaten ranks in the loss.

Both No. 1 and No. 2 singles, Melissa Rohrer and Jenny Thull fell to 5-1 in the EW, and to 8-3 overall with losses. Rohrer lost to Katie Matzak 4-6, 3-6, while Thull dropped to 4-6, 6-4, 1-6 decision to Amy Feider.

As a team, the Indians "were unable to take advantage of their opportunities," according to their coach, adding that the No. 3 doubles team, Kate Berres and Karyn Dossinger won their first set 6-2, but went on to lose their second and third sets. "They don't have any other match experience together," Eichstedt said of the twosome, who played in just their second match together.

The Indians have just Thursday's home match against Chilton left on their conference schedule, before partaking in the EW conference meet on Saturday, at Plymouth.

SHEBOYGAN FALLS 4, KEWASKUM 3

SINGLES — No. 1 - Melissa Rohrer lost to Katie Matzak 4-6, 3-6.

No. 2 - Jenny Thull lost to Amy Feider 4-6, 6-4, 1-6.

No. 3 - Meredith Frac beat Stacy Beuthien 6-3, 6-1.

No. 4 - Nichol Loomans lost to Rita Goodlet 1-6, 4-6.

DOUBLES - No. 1 - Kim Frank and Nicki Cayner beat Tanya Vorachek 6-0, 3-6, 6-3.

No. 2 - Jenefer VanAssche and Lisa Berres beat Sarah Herschelman and Holly Meerdink 6-1, 2-6, 6-4.

No. 3 - Karyn Dossinger and Kate Berres lost to Julie Fleiss and Sarah Kiefer 6-2, 5-7, 1-6.

Switch Helps Indian Netters Beat Plymouth

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — After getting surprised by Plymouth in their initial encounter this season, Kewaskum girls tennis coach Glenn Eichstedt juggled his lineup a bit to try and gain an advantage.

The juggling routine worked, as sophomore Meredith Frac moved up to No. 3 singles and responded with a win, helping the Indian avenge the earlier loss with a 4-3 win over the Panthers.

The match "had some tremendously competitive contests," according to Eichstedt. Topping the list was Frac's 6-4, 6-3 win over Cassie Noordyk at No. 3. The win upped Frac's Eastern Wisconsin Conference record to 3-2, including 2-2 at no. 4 singles.

Kewaskum's No. 1 and No. 2 singles players continued their march over competition. Melissa Rohrer (No. 1) trailed 3-2 in the second set, but came back to easily beat Angie Zwerg 6-1, 6-3. The win helped Rohrer improve to 5-0 in the EW and to 8-2 overall.

Jenny Thull also remained perfect in conference (5-0), as she disposed of Alicia Miller 6-2, 6-3. Thull also moved to 8-2 on the year.

The other Indian win came at No. 1 doubles, where the reliable combination of Kim Frank and Nicki Cayner rolled over Angie Goetsch and Rachel Seil 6-2, 6-1, and 4-5 overall.

Senior Nichol Loomans made her debut at No. 4 singles a memorable one, going to a third set before falling to Carrie Sippel 2-6, 6-2, 0-6.

The win, coupled with league-leading Two Rivers' loss at Sheboygan Falls moved the Indians closer to the top spot in the

PROPANE WATER HEATERS SAVE MONEY

According to studies now being done in the Washington County area, you can save as much as $515 annually by using propane instead of electricity to heat water for your dairy operation.

Based on figures from cost comparison studies conducted by Strobel Propane, you could save as much as $5,600 over the average 11-year life span of a propane water heater versus an electric unit.

These comparisons include typical purchase prices and installation costs, as well as local propane costs and electric rates.

Because a water heater is the second largest user of energy in the modern American dairy, owners should be aware of this money-savings when comparing and buying a new unit.

Myron Strobel, owner of Strobel Propane, says "Interest in propane water heaters is increasing dramatically. It's partially because people are starting to learn that the Department of Energy now estimates local electricity costs nearly TWICE the price of propane."

Industry research shows that when propane gas water heaters and electric units are compared, propane units heat twice as much water at nearly half the cost, are more dependable, and cost less to maintain. To help you decide which water heater is right for your dairy, the Department of Energy and Federal Trade Commission requires that all water heaters carry Energy Guide labels. These labels show the annual energy costs for operating all water heater models manufactured since 1980.

In addition to comparing Energy Guide labels, you also should have a professional help you determine the proper size unit based on your dairy's hot water consumption.

If you've added new equipment that uses hot water or your dairy herd has grown since your current water heater was installed, your hot water usage may have increased. Strobel representatives are trained to help you select the proper size unit and figure yearly operating costs.

Because propane heats water as much as 2½ times faster than electricity, even if your hot water consumption has increased, you frequently can buy a propane unit with a smaller tank size than an electric unit to handle your needs.

Strobel Propane is currently offering all area residents $25 OFF when you replace your existing electric or gas water heater with a new propane unit.

This new unit may be purchased at the dealer of your choice. Free pick up and disposal of your existing water heater is also available by calling Strobel Propane.

For more details about this offer and a free Propane Advantage cost comparison study, call Strobel Propane at 626-2212 or 1-800-662-3835.

Indians Move to 8-1 in EW VB Race

By Statesman Sports Writer
KEWASKUM — Kewaskum volleyball coach Dave Rizzardi was slightly surprised, but not all that worried when he learned just before last Thursday's match against Chilton that the Tigers had beaten New Holstein in their last match.

"I found out about that just before the match," Rizzardi said, noting that the Tigers "are improving." Chilton didn't show it against the Indians though, as Kewaskum rolled to a 15-5, 15-2, 15-9 thrashing of the Tigers before a Parent's Night crowd.

Rizzardi probably hopes that every night could be Parent's Night for the Indians, as the team put its best foot forward before their moms and dads. After a poor serving exhibition against Plymouth just two days earlier, the Indians came up big in that department Thursday, as Kewaskum missed just two of their 69 tries against the Tigers.

"Our serving was just outstanding," Rizzardi quoted. It was a bit ironic, however, that one of the two Indian misses was by Julie Mertz, who had just missed one out of 71 tries before Thursday. Against the Tigers, Mertz was one for six.

Leading the Indians in serving was Marty Schlice, who had a phenomenal evening, connecting on all 19 of her serves, including six aces. "She did real well," Rizzardi said of the senior.

Kim Sabish also had a fine night, nailing three aces and making good on all two of her serves. The senior setter also led Kewaskum with nine assists.

The overmatched Tigers were really no match for the hosts, who pulled away in the first game, and then dominated in the second. As has been the case recently, the Indian reserved, comprised of juniors, played the entire third game, and played very well.

"They've been getting a lot of playing time lately," Rizzardi said of his junior corps. "Once again, they did a fine job in there."

Senior Robyn Winninghoff led the Indians with seven offensive points, while Schlice had her six, and Christa Schmidt added five. Christa Fleischman also chipped in a pair of aces in the third game.

The win improved the Indians' Eastern Wisconsin Conference record to 8-1, with an important week ahead of them. On Tuesday, the Indians are scheduled to play at Kiel, and on Thursday travel to Sheboygan Falls for a rematch with the undefeated Falcons. The Indians then close out their conference schedule with a home meet against New Holstein next Tuesday.

KHS 7th in VB Poll

By Statesman Sports Writer
KEWASKUM — In a development that makes the mind wonder a bit, the Kewaskum volleyball team dropped two spots in the Wisconsin Volleyball Coaches Association Division II poll last week.

The Indians are now ranked seventh, as they received 19 votes in the poll. The mind-boggling aspect is that the Indians were previously ranked fifth (34 votes), and since that time have won three matches and have not lost even a game in those matches.

In the three matches since the last poll, the Indians have collectively outscored their foes 135-53. That didn't seem to be enough, though as the Indians still fell.

Waunakee also did some moving, settling in the top spot, replacing Westosha Central. Waupun, second in the Little Ten Conference behind undefeated West Bend East, moved up to fourth in the Division II poll, while Portage also moved past the Indians into fifth.

West Bend East is currently ranked fifth in the Division I poll, while Eastern Wisconsin Conference leader Sheboygan Falls received honorable mention votes in Division II.

KHS Spikers Roll Over Panthers

By Statesman Sports Writer
KEWASKUM — It wasn't flashy, and it wasn't pretty, but the Kewaskum girls volleyball team went out and did its job here, last Tuesday night against Plymouth.

The result was an easy 15-7, 15-5, 15-3 victory over the Panthers, allowing the Indians to improve to 7-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

"There wasn't a whole lot of emotion," Indian coach Dave Rizzardi said of the convincing win. "The girls just went out and did the job."

Indian senior Christa Schmidt provided the punch that the Indian offense needed, as Schmidt chalked up 10 points, on eight of 16 spike kill tries.

"She had a real nice night," Rizzardi said of the 5-9 front row specialist. "That average (Spiking) is comparable to a batting average (in baseball) so she did pretty well."

Other than Schmidt, no Indian player was able to score more than five offensive points. Much of that had to do with the Indian starters having to play just two games, allowing Rizzardi to get quality time from a number of juniors.

"The juniors are gaining a lot of experience," the KHS coach noted, individually complimenting Tricia Butschlick, Christa Fleischman, Sara Tykac, Shannon Breit and Ali Bruendl.

Bruendl and Breit "have been doing a nice job," spiking, according to Rizzardi, while Tykac and Butschlick "have been learning their sets." Fleischman, meanwhile, converted on all 10 of her serves, including a pair of aces. "Her serving is really coming around."

The Indians as a team had been doing a fine job serving, but didn't have one of their better nights against the Panthers. Kewaskum missed on eight of its attempts, but fortunately it didn't hurt them against the weaker Panthers.

Kim Sabish contributed 10 assists and a pair of service aces for the Indians, while junior Ginger Wiesner added three spike kills and two saves.

Indian Spikers Win Grafton Invite

By Statesman Sports Writer
GRAFTON — The competition wasn't all that powerful, still the Kewaskum volleyball team and its coach Dave Rizzardi have to be pleased with the Indians' first-place showing in the Grafton Invitational held here, last Friday night.

The Indians mowed through the other four teams in the tournament, winning all eight of the games they played. The Indians' 8-0 mark easily was better than Brookfield East and Grafton's (4-4 each), as well as Milwaukee Rufus King and Brown Deer (2-6 each).

"We were definitely the best team in the tournament," Rizzardi said after the meet. "Nothing that we did stands out in my mind as being bad. All in all, it was a good effort by the entire team."

After rolling over the host Blackhawks in their opening match, 15-8, 15-2 the Indians got a bit of a scare in their second match against Brookfield East.

Kewaskum won the first game quite easily, 15-5, but found themselves down 6-0 in the second game. Worse yet, the Indians lost their top player, Christa Schmidt, after the senior spiker suffered an ankle injury when she stepped on the ball that was rolling behind her.

"It was really a freak accident," Rizzardi explained, adding that a pair of junior reserves, Christa Fleischman and Ali Bruendl, stepped in and filled the void left by Schmidt's injury.

Fleischman responded by serving five straight points to pull the Indians to within one. Bruendl, meanwhile, replaced Fleischman when she got to the front line, and did a good job there, helping the Indians pull out the second game, 15-12.

"We got a really nice effort from those two," Rizzardi said. "It's really hard to come in that situation. They really did a super job. That was the highlight of the tournament."

Brown Deer was next for the Indians, and although the Falcons did put up a fight, the Indians prevailed 15-13, 15-2, and Rizzardi knew the Indians had won the tournament.

"They were the team we had to beat...if we did the tournament was ours," he went on to say. "They had some height...some players that could block."

Rizzardi got some good news in the final match against King, as Schmidt played in the final game, and appeared to be okay. "She's not showing any signs of it being a problem," Rizzardi said, adding that Schmidt should be alright for this week's big games in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

The Indians handled King 15-3, 15-5 in their final match, thus going unbeaten. As a matter of fact, the Indians, with their 8- mark on Friday, have now won 18 straight games, including 10 straight in the EW.

As for the standouts in the tournament, Rizzardi pointed to the setting of Kim Sabish and Rachelle Krahn, as well as the blocking of Robyn Winninghoff and Beth Kempf. He noted that it was an all-around team effort though. "All 15 girls contributed a lot. I used a lot of different combinations out there."

Indians Blow Big Lead; Fall to Raiders

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — It's not often that a team gets outgained three-to-one in total yards, yet still has a legitimate shot at victory. But that's exactly what happened to the Kewaskum football team here, last Friday against Two Rivers.

A couple of big defensive plays in the first half helped the Indians to a 20-7 halftime lead. Two Rivers came back strong in the second half, though, and wore down the Indians, eventually coming away with a 27-20 win.

"It was a real tough loss," Indian coach Clark Pearson said of his team's demise. "We made some big plays in the first half, but they dominated us in the second half. We just couldn't turn them back."

For awhile, it looked as if the Indians would do just that. The Raiders couldn't get anything going on the game's opening possession, and were forced to punt. The Indians' Andy Reichart forced his way through the defense, though, blocking the kick and returning it 26 yards for a touchdown. The two-point conversion failed, and it was 6-0 Indians.

In the second quarter, the Raiders got on the board on a 39-yard pass from Travis Glandt to Dave VanDerVoort, with VanDerVoort kicking the extra point to give the visitors the lead, 7-6.

On the ensuing kickoff, Kewaskum's Beau Coulter returned the ball 46 yards to the Raider 43. Several plays later, Keith Herman scampered seven yards to paydirt, and the Indians were back on top. Herman also converted on the two-point conversion, hauling in a pass from Indian QB Jim Marx.

"He almost broke that one," Pearson said of Coulter's return, which helped set up the touchdown by Herman.

The Indians added to their lead a short time later, again thanks to a big play defensively. This time it was Dan Schulteis who picked off a Glandt pass, and returned it 61 yards for a touchdown. Todd Muckerheide was stopped just short of the goal line on the two-point try, but the Indians were still on top, 20-7.

"He got stopped right at the goal line," Pearson said of the failed conversion. "It was real close."

The momentum definitely turned to the Raiders favor in the second half, though. Two Rivers scored on their first series on a 27-yard run by VanDerVoort, but the kick was blocked, leaving the Indians still up by seven points.

After the Indians were unable to move the ball on their next possession, Two Rivers put the ball in the end zone once again, this time Chris Satterburg going the final three yards. Glandt hooked up with Scott Merkes on the two-point try, and the Raiders were quickly in front, 21-20.

"They pushed us around quite a bit there," Pearson said of the two quick scores by the guests, which proved to be the turning point in the ballgame. "We just couldn't stop them."

The Raider defense, meanwhile, didn't have too much problem stopping the Indians. "I don't think we got past midfield the entire second half," the KHS coach said. "They just wore us down."

The Raiders added a late score after Kewaskum turned the ball over on downs late in the game. VanDerVoort covered the final 17 yards on a nifty run, his third touchdown of the game. As a matter of fact, VanDerVoort alone matched the Indians' total of 20 points.

"He had a great game," Pearson said of VanDerVoort, who gained 122 yards on 26 carries. "He's a small, quick back." Saterburg also chipped in 109 yards rushing on 18 carries for the winners.

The Indians had one last chance for the victory, but a dropped pass followed by a bad snap that resulted in a Raider fumble recovery sealed the loss.

"We had a couple of big mistakes," Pearson went on to say, noting that a penalty in first half cost his team a shot at yet another score. "We just couldn't overcome that."

The Raiders outgained the Indians 364-105, and had 74 offensive plays compared to the Indians' 41. "We just didn't execute," the Indian boss said. "We weren't able to run between the tackles. They just shut down our inside running game."

Herman led the Indians with 53 yards rushing on just six carries. Marx finished just five of 19 passing for 51 yards, although Pearson noted "he was pressured some."

"Reichart had another good game," defensively, according to Pearson, who added "It was a real disappointing loss."

The Indians, now 1-2 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference have another tough one for this week, as they travel to Plymouth to face the Panthers.

Hon-E-Kor Hole-In-One Golf Contest Another Kettle Kountry Feature

One of the most popular attractions at Kettle Kountry Kolors every year is the Hon-E-Kor Hole-In-One Golf Contest. Shown above, golfers compete to try their luck (or skill, whichever the case may be) at hitting a hole-in-one for a $500 prize. Another competition, is closest to the pin, which may net you a year's free membership at Hon-E-Kor. The first year, Richard Wietor was the winner of the membership. Last year, David Wietor found himself the winner of the playoff competition for the membership. It should be a challenge this year, just to see if anyone can beat the Wietor team! The contest will be held on the Hon-E-Kor course, just across the street from Riverhill Park. Go for it! Freshman Improve To 4-0

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM — While the varsity had some tough luck against Two Rivers, the Kewaskum freshman football team continued on its roll here, last Thursday afternoon.

The Indian frosh broke open a scoreless game in the second half, scoring on three touchdown runs to outlast the Purple Raiders, 18-6, and improved their record to a glossy 4-0.

"We had a very tough day," Frosh coach Jim Westphal said regarding the contest, who was 0-0 at the half. "We had some problems moving the ball."

But those problems seemed to subside in the second half, as Kewaskum finally put some points on the board. Brian Butschlick broke the tie with a five-yard run in the third period, but the two-point conversion was unsuccessful, giving the Indians a 6-0 lead.

Later in the quarter, Aaron Kurth, who "played a very good game," according to Westphal, broke through and scampered 65 yards for a touchdown, making it 12-0. Once again, the Indians were unable to convert on the two-point try.

The Indians then sealed the win in the final stanza, with Jim Westermann scoring on a 10-yard run. Two Rivers' lone score came after Westermann's run, when the Raiders returned the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown.

"That's the only two touchdowns that have been scored against us this year...both on kickoff returns," Westphal said, noting that both scores have come against Indian reserve kickoff teams.

Defensively, Westphal singled out Joe Rettler, who "has been a standout all year," according to his coach.

The Indian JV squad wasn't as successful as the freshman as they dropped a tough 26-20 decision to the Raiders.

KEWASKUM — He has been getting a lot of playing time on Hon-E-Kor Country Club's golf layout, and Paul Kostelac made that experience pay "off" for him last Sunday morning.

Kostelac, playing in the Sunday morning league tournament, recorded his first ever hole in one aceing the par 3, 196-yard No. 16. Kostelac, using a three-iron, became the fourth golfer to register the feat this year at Hon-E-Kor.

Kostelac was edged in Hon-E-Kor's Club Championship by Craig Anderson 3-and-2, and then finished eighth at the Kettle Moraine Amateur, also played at Hon-E-Kor.
