Week's Wit

It is always easier to believe than to deny. Our minds are naturally affirmative.

CHRISTMAS PARADE Begins at 5 p.m. Sunday

The Holiday Magic Christmas Tree and Memorial Star. The tree and star will remain lit throughout the holiday season and lights may be purchased accordingly. If you haven't as yet secured a light, perhaps you would care to think about one after the parade, however, our goal is to have the entire tree lit for everyone to admire the evening of the parade. The panel of judges will have the difficult task of choosing four winners out of the many entries that have already signed up for the Christmas Parade. This year the prizes have been increased to: First Prize - $100; Second - $75 and $50 each for third and fourth places.

There is still time to whip up a spectacular float or unit. You'd be surprised at what you can accomplish with a few decorations and a little creativity. To reserve a space call Jane Korth at 626-2650 (work) or 626-4172 (home), Adeline Halfmann at 626-2121 (work), Tim Miller at 626-2171 (work) or Lana Kuehl 626-2626 (work) or 626-4518 (home).

Even if you decide on Sunday morning to put a red bow tie on Rover and are worried you won't be able to enter the parade, put your mind at ease. You may enter without reserving space. However, be sure to have your entry at the firehouse by 4 p.m. Lineup will be arranged on a first-come, first-in-the-parade basis.

And all you people who are waiting in anticipation for the parade to begin, why not show your appreciation to the businesses who have, so generously contributed to the parade's success, by coming in to town a little early and stopping in a few of the business places and pick up a few items on your

The annual Kewaskum Christmas Parade will be marching into town this Sunday, Dec. 6 with the parade getting underway at 5 p.m. Please take note of the time change, which is different from last year.

Sponsored by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, this year's holiday parade promises to be bigger and better than previous years as more and more community-minded individuals have agreed to participate.

Another reason the parade has grown is due to the generosity of the area's businesses and citizenry who have been donating money towards the parade through the purchase of lights for

Public Informational Meeting Dec. 15 On Reconstruction of Fond du Lac Ave.

A Public Informational Meeting will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 15, to present the proposed roadway design for the scheduled 1995 reconstruction of Fond du Lac Avenue in the Village of Kewaskum.

An open house meeting will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Village of Kewaskum Municipal Building, located at 204 First Street.

Representatives from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation and Mid-State Associates, the engineering firm that is designing the project, will be available to explain exhibits and answer questions regarding the combination resurfacing and reconstruction project.

All affected property owners and interested citizens are encouraged to attend. Written and oral comments will be documented and considered in the design process.

This will be the second of two informational meetings for the project.

Home Decorating Contest to Be Judged Monday, Dec. 14

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring a Christmas outdoor decorating contest in the Village. With the semi-mild weather last weekend, the decorations have been going up feverishly and it is plain to see the judges will not have an easy time of making a decision this year.

The judges, who are non-residents, will be making their appointed rounds on Monday evening, December 14. They have no idea who lives where in town, so this guarantees fair play. However, if you know who the judges are, you probably could promise them a huge gift and then put your name in giant letters on your front lawn. But I know who the judges are and they won't be easily bought. So you'll just have to decorate your little hearts out and hope they find your home the most creatively decorated.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the top four residents the judges find most attractive. The judging will be based on originality, creativity and overall general appearance, not to mention the promotion of holiday spirit.

Winners will be notified by the Chamber of Commerce and weather permitting, photos will appear in an upcoming issue of the Statesman.

Untangle your massive amounts of holiday lights, figure out which ones are burned out and then use your imagination! And remember... this is supposed to be fun (?). I have already decided to do my decorating for 1993 at the end of August. This winter weather is just too hard on the delicate hands! Join me... we could probably be the only village in the entire country that is decorated for Christmas by Labor Day!

Tragic Accident Claims Life of Kewaskum Woman

by Sharon Callaway Roznik

Diane Becht, 33, of Kewaskum was killed Wednesday, Nov. 26, in a two-car head on collision in the town of Kewaskum.

The accident occurred at approximately 6:40 p.m. on state Hwy. 28, 2/10 of a mile west of Forest View Rd. Freezing rain mixed with snow accounted for slippery road conditions at the time.

According to a Washington County Sheriff's Dept. report, a pick-up truck driven by Timothy Buss, 16, of Kewaskum, was traveling eastbound at about 55 to 60 miles per hour, when the truck began to lose traction and spin. A second vehicle was heading west on Hwy. 28, carrying five passengers and driver Paul Becht, 33, of Kewaskum. The operator of the first vehicle apparently crossed the center line and struck the Becht car head on.

The Kewaskum Rescue Squad arrived at the scene, but was short manpowered due to a second accident in the town of Wayne, Campbellsport and West Bend Fire Departments responded to the call for help, and aided in transporting the injured to St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend. The Jaws of Life were used to remove the accident victims from the vehicle.

Transported to the hospital were Diane Becht, who later died from extensive injuries, her husband Paul Becht, Paul's brother, Scott Becht, 30, of Milwaukee; sons Paul Becht Jr., 9, and Bryan Becht, 7, both of Kewaskum; Diane's father Louis Pups, 61, of Milwaukee and Timothy Buss.

Buss was taken from St. Joseph's to Children's Hospital in Milwaukee where he underwent surgery for head injuries.

Bryan Becht was also transferred to Children's Hospital, Louis Pups was taken to Milwaukee County Hospital, and Scott was transferred to Froedert Hospital in Milwaukee. Paul and Paul Jr. have been released from the hospital, and as of this printing, no more information is available as to the condition of the three remaining hospitalized.

Services took place for Diane Wednesday at 11 a.m. at St. Lucas Lutheran Church, Kewaskum, with Pastor Henning officiating. A Memorial Service was held at 4 p.m. at Wisconsin Memorial Park in Milwaukee.

The accident remains under investigation at this time.

The weather conditions were reported to have caused numerous accidents throughout the county. Just seven minutes after the Hwy. 28 accident call came in to the Kewaskum Rescue Squad, they received a second call to respond to an accident on Hwy. WW, 1 1/2 south of Hwy W in the town of Wayne.

Reports indicate the accident involved a vehicle containing two males, and an LP truck colliding. The driver of the truck was uninjured, but the occupants of the car were transported to St. Joseph's Hospital, and treated for minor injuries.

Mayville Youth Dies In Hunting Accident

A Mayville youth, 14, lost his life Friday in a tragic hunting accident near Imogene Lake in Vilas County.

Michael Franke, son of Kenneth and Kathleen Franke, Horicon, died instantly when he accidentally slipped and his gun discharged.

Ken was hunting with his son, and discovered him just seconds after the shooting. He desperately attempted to reach help, running several miles to their vehicle, and finally driving to a relative's home several miles away, where he collapsed in their driveway. The boy's father was taken to Phelps Hospital and treated for stress and exhaustion.

Michael was a freshman at Mayville High School, and had earned a hunter safety certificate at age 12. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, football, baseball and hoped to someday work for the Dept. of Natural Resources.

The boy's death occurred on the same day Ken Franke's younger sister, Diane was tragically killed in a car accident 26 years ago. Michael leaves behind two siblings, Kevin 15, and Amy 9, besides his parents and many other relatives and friends.

Little House Lady Visits Holy Trinity

Laura Ingalls Wilder's "Little House on the Prairie" books came alive as Lynn Urban, from Racine, dressed as the author in a floor-length red calico dress and matching bonnet, described pioneer life in Wisconsin a century ago.

She said she became interested in the LITTLE HOUSE BOOKS as she watched the t.v. series with her daughter and decided to research the author's life. She traveled with her family to Pepin, Wis. where the author was born, then to Minnesota, Kansas, Iowa, and South Dakota - all the places where Laura Ingalls Wilder had lived. A filmstrip showed scenes from each place.

An hour before the presentation, Urban set up a huge display consisting of artifacts, booklets, newsletters, maps, pictures, posters, newspaper articles, and scrapbooks - all of which she gathered in her research on the author's life.

The children viewed the display, chose a book from the RIF display, which they could take home and call their own, and enjoyed a snack and juice before returning to their regular classes. A special RIF table contained many books from the "Little House" series.

Kanas Charged With 4-Count Indictment

On Nov. 25, Washington County Sheriff Robert Schulteis, along with John E. Fryatt, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Wisconsin, announced that a federal grand jury has returned a 4-count indictment against Thomas J. Kanas, dob 3/1/55 of 9301 North Pole Road, Theresa, Wisconsin.

The indictment charges Kanas with two narcotics offenses involving marijuana, one count of money laundering, and one count of possessing a firearm after previously being convicted of a felony. The narcotics offenses each carry maximum penalties of up to ten (10) years in prison and a maximum fine of up to $1,000,000.

The money laundering charge carries a maximum penalty of up to twenty (20) years in prison and up to $500,000 in fines. The firearms offense carries a maximum penalty of up to ten (10) years in prison and a fine of up to $5,000. The ten (10) year penalties for the marijuana charges are based on the fact that Kanas has a prior conviction for a narcotics offense.

The matter was investigated by officers of the Dodge County Sheriff's Department, the Washington County Sheriff's Department and the Racine County Sheriff's Department, working in conjunction with the Criminal Investigation Division of the United States Internal Revenue Service. The case has been assigned to Deputy United States Attorney R. Jeffrey Wagner for prosecution.

This matter remains under investigation by the Washington County Multi-Jurisdictional Drug Enforcement Unit which is supported in part by a grant which includes $77,000 in federal funding. This $77,000 represents approximately 75 percent of the total grant award.

DMV Accepting Address Changes by Telephone

The state Department of Transportation has good news for people who have new addresses — it's no longer necessary to stand in line at the motor vehicle customer service centers to get a duplicate driver's license.

Roger Cross, administrator of the Division of Motor Vehicles, said people with regular driver's licenses can now use their touch-tone telephone to report address changes on their driver's licenses or identification cards by calling (608) 266-2353. Holders of commercial driver's licenses are still required to appear in person to apply for a duplicate license.

"We're really trying to be less intrusive into people's lives. We're using new technology wherever possible as an alternative to requiring them to stand in line at our service centers," Cross said.

The telephone service is available 24-hours per day. It also saves money for license holders. Until recently, people were required to apply for a duplicate driver's license if they moved or their names changed.

The transaction used to cost people $4 for a duplicate license, along with the cost and inconvenience of a trip to the driver licensing agency to have a new photo license issued.

The telephone service, which is conducted by a telephone voice-response system, was made possible by a law change adopted in the last session of the legislature dropping the requirement that a new license be obtained.

"When people update their records by telephone, it will only update the computer files. If people want to have their correct address on their plastic licenses, they will have to come in for a duplicate license," Cross said.

Vehicle owners can also phone in their address changes by phoning (608) 266-3666. "Eventually we will be able to offer a single telephone number for address changes on both driver and vehicle records," Cross said. "But at the moment, there is no interface between the two computer files, so we have to require separate calls."

Fund-Raising for Christmas Parade Underway As Lights and Tree Go Up

Voila! The finished product which rests in front of Valley Bank, includes the Christmas tree with the Memorial Star on top and the thank you boards with the names of all contributors listed aside of the tree. It is hoped to have the entire tree lit up by the time the parade rolls past the tree on Sunday evening. All proceeds from the sale of the tree lights is used to defray the cost of the Christmas parade and the 1,000 candy bags which will be passed out to children watching the parade.

The Memorial Board, situated on the south side of the Christmas tree. This board lists the names of deceased family members who will not be sharing Christmas with us or enjoying the spectacular parade. It also mentions the name of the person who donated the light. The white lights on the star are called the Memorial Lights. Each light you donate in someone else's name will cost $10. It somehow helps to realize our loved ones are at least with us during these festivities in thought and spirit.

The board on the north side of the tree list the names of the contributors of the red and green lights. The green lights which silhouette the outside of the tree are for sale at $10 each to all families and individuals wishing to help support the Christmas Parade. The red lights which adorn the inside of the tree can be purchased by any area business wishing to contribute towards the parade. There have been many white lights purchased to help light the star and the businesses have been great trying to get the decorative red bulbs all lit in time for the parade, however, we do need some more green lights purchased if we hope to reach our goal of having everything lit on the tree in time for Sunday's parade. There are approximately 40 green lights left to light, 20 red lights left and 60 white lights. (There are more white lights on the star than there are green and red lights on the tree). If you care to help support the parade with the purchase of a light, please send your donation to: The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 300, Kewaskum, WI 53040. Names of all contributors will be placed on the thank you boards and will also be listed in an upcoming issue of the Kewaskum Statesman. The tree, star and thank you boards will remain up and lit throughout the holiday season.

Goetsch Announces Property Tax Assistance for Seniors

The Wisconsin Property Tax Deferral Loan program allows low-and moderate-income elderly homeowners to convert home equity into income to pay property taxes.

Property tax deferral is particularly helpful to elderly who have a small fixed or disposable incomes but have a significant amount of home equity or capital.

The program provides cash income to help pay property taxes bills, and, in turn, helps to allow older citizens to remain in their homes.

If you are a homeowner aged 65 or older and your total income is no more than $20,000 annually you may apply to the Department of Administration, Division of Housing for a loan equal to the amount of the property taxes levied. The annual amount borrowed is limited to $1,800.

Loan recipients must maintain residence in Wisconsin for at least 6 months during 1992.

The principal and interest on the loan are not repaid until ownership of the property is transferred to another party or the recipient of the loan no longer resides in the home. To insure the state's interest and ensure repayment of the loan at a later date, the state will file a lien on the property for which the loan is issued.

For Seniors receiving SSI or Medicaid, according to the Division of Housing, the loan is not viewed as income so it will not effect the income requirements for these programs.

Seniors should also be aware that they can participate in both the Property Tax Loan Deferral Program and the Homestead Credit Program. If you are filing a Homestead Credit claim for 1992, you must submit schedule H to determine your total household income for the Property Tax Deferral Loan program. According to the Social Security Office, as long as your countable resources do not exceed a monthly total of $2000 your benefits will not be effected.

The deadline for applying for a loan under this program is June 30, 1993. There is only $550,000 available for this tax season and it will be allocated on a first-come first-serve basis. Interested parties are encouraged to apply as soon as possible to take advantage of the program.

For more information and an application package contact Kathy Hanson, Property Tax Deferral Loan Program, Wisconsin Division of Housing P.O. Box 8944 Madison, WI 53708-8944 or call 608-266-1983.

25 Years Ago

DECEMBER 1, 1967

Opened Monday at Fond du Lac was a grand jury investigation into the slaying of a Chicago resident, whose body was found on a farm 1 1/2 miles north of Kewaskum near the Fond du Lac-Washington county line on Sept. 12. The body, identified through fingerprints as Herbert L. McKinney, 27, a Chicago laborer, was found following the crash of a car driven by Chester J. Dombrowski, 30, Chicago police officer, on Hwy. 45 north of Kewaskum in Washington County just south of the Fond du Lac County Line. The Chicago police department has absolved Dombrowski of any connection with the slaying. McKinney was reported beaten and shot in the head. The body was found on a seldom-used farm dump, face up and nude except for a pullover T-shirt. The area, owned by Dombrowski and his brother, Bernard, is about 100 yards from County Trunk S. District Attorney Robert J. Kauffman of Washington County said 15 witnesses from Washington County, including Kewaskum, had been subpoenaed to the investigation.

75 Years Ago

Emil Pietz, age 33 years, was found dead in a field on his farm in Ashford Thursday afternoon. Mr. Pietz was hauling fertilizer, and had climbed down to repair the spreader. While he was underneath the wagon the horses started, the rear wheel of the spreader passing over his back. Death resulted from loss of blood, as a blood vessel was broken. The man's back was badly twisted. Emil Pietz is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pietz and was living at home on the farm.

The Washington County Board at its last session voted enough additional money to build the relocated St. Michaels road. Action will soon be taken by the Road and Bridge Committee to purchase the land needed and make it possible to clear the road bed of trees and shrubs, and allow an early start on the grading next spring. This new road will be a big asset to the town of Kewaskum and the land owners.

The ceremony that united Miss Laura E. Schleif of the Town of Auburn and William Brandstetter of this village was solemnized at high noon last Saturday at the Reformed Church parsonage at Elmore with the Rev. S. Romeis officiating.

New work benches have been added to the equipment of the local pocket book factory. The new institution is getting along nicely. Mr. Gilbert, manager of same, states that if work continues to crowd them they will be forced to look for larger quarters.

No man is useless while he has a friend.

Excerpts From In the Service As I Remember

by Marvin Martin

Across the track, on the north side of Second Street was the Kewaskum Malt and Grain Company. This was supposed to be the best in the mid west. They manufactured malt. It also was used to generate electricity and provided heat for several buildings in Kewaskum.

Directly south of the Malt House, on First Street, is the Rosenheimer Mill.

On the corner of Fond du Lac and Second Street was a tavern. Then proceeding north, the Legion building, which was the Lay home at one time.

Just beyond that was Dr. Hausmann's home and a small building housing his office.

On the west side of Fond du Lac Avenue, starting south of First Avenue, from North Avenue, was the Rosenheimer home and continuing southward were several open lots and then the Peschbacher home and the Peschbacher blacksmith shop. This was later the first Chevy garage in Kewaskum.

Next was the Miller building, which was a furniture store and undertaker's parlor which burned down nearly 50 years ago, but later rebuilt.

On the south side of Forest Avenue and Fond du Lac Avenue was the Rosenheimer Store, and back of that was their implement building. There may have been one or two more buildings after that.

Americans say Christmas in many different ways

A Christmas gathering, complete with songs and presents, would be called a "Christmas party" in Wisconsin, but not in many other places across the country.

A Minnesotan might say he was attending "Christmas fools." Or in New York or Washington, "Christmas shindig" might be the appropriate term.

In Michigan you would say a "Christmas do." In Maryland, a "Christmas thing." In Utah, it may be "Christmas exercises."

University of Wisconsin-Madison Prof. Frederic G. Cassidy has spent 14 years working on his "Dictionary of American Regional English" (DARE), a dictionary that will include expressions for "Christmas gathering" and 100,000 other terms.

Cassidy intends DARE to be an accurate account of the "language of the people." He said, "The dictionary will include America's folk language. It's the kind of language you gain from inheritance and not books."

Cassidy expects DARE to be published in 1980. He and his staff of nine have been cataloging words from 1,002 communities since 1970.

So during this Christmas season if you're asked to attend a Californian "Christmas jamboree," be sure to take a present. And if you are asked to take part in a "Christmas affair," don't be embarrassed. You'll probably spend a wholesome evening with pleasant Pennsylvanians.

Holiday Lottery Tickets Available

MADISON... The annual holiday instant scratch-and-win game from the Wisconsin Lottery, Holiday Moola, features both instant and TV Winner prizes this year.

Holiday Moola, for the fourth time in the past four years, offers a holiday theme game with a 70 percent prize payout. Initial deliveries of the limited edition game began Thursday, November 19, and continued through Wednesday, November 25.

Holiday Moola offers the added bonus that its holiday predecessors did not. The game offers TV Winner prizes which pay $100 instantly and include a chance to win up to $64,500 more on the weekly MONEY GAME television show.

"We look for something special about this time each year," Player Relations Director Bill Clausius said. "Adding the TV Winner prize to the holiday game should make Holiday Moola a hot seller as winter weather moo-ves into Wisconsin."

Holiday Moola players matching three dollar amounts on a single ticket win prizes ranging from $1 to $200 instantly. Getting three TV symbols on a single ticket means the player is a Holiday Moola TV Winner.

A TV Winner receives a $100 instant prize followed by a date to join the audience for a MONEY GAME show with additional prizes paid to the TV Winners.

The MONEY GAME, nearing its fourth full season of weekly telecasts, has awarded nearly $17 million to TV Winners and Home Players.

In addition to TV Winners and instant prizes, non-winning Holiday Moola tickets may win between $750 and $3,000 in the weekly Home Player drawing. Send five non-winning tickets currently on sale, including Holiday Moola, to Home Player, Madison, Wisconsin, 53775. Each week five Home Player entries are drawn and awarded cash prizes.

More Americans are now high school graduates—78 percent—than at any other time in history.

'Marketing My Service' Forum at UW-Extension Dec. 10

In the past year, there has been tremendous growth in service-type businesses. This growth is likely to continue and competition is likely to become even tighter. So, developing a "niche" in the marketplace becomes extremely important.

A two-hour Forum has been developed by UW-Extension to discuss "Marketing My Service" for Thursday, December 10 from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. The Forum will be held in Room 162 of the Courthouse in Port Washington. The discussion will deal with questions like: HOW TO MAKE MY SERVICE MORE TANGIBLE, HOW TO PRICE MY SERVICE, HOW TO KEEP MY COMPETITIVE EDGE, AND YOUR CONCERNS.

Leading the Forum will be Mr. Don Heinz President of Don Heinz & Associates, Inc., a Brookfield marketing research and consulting firm. Since 1967, Don has worked with firms in Wisconsin and across the country to solve marketing problems and plan successful marketing strategies.

Don has helped retail firms, hospitals, clinics, repair firms, banks, insurance companies, community organizations and churches put the marketing concept to work.

Don has degrees from UW-Madison, has served as Director of Marketing of a scientific instrument firm, as a lecturer at UW-Whitewater and UW-Milwaukee, as well as Assistant Professor at Marquette University. He has authored numerous articles on marketing and is currently president of the Milwaukee Chapter of the American Marketing Association.

"Businesses, especially service businesses, think they are unique. But, the principles work across all business types. It is only a matter of selecting the strategies and tactics best suited to their specific situation," says Don.

Navy Seaman Recruit Ralph A. Boettcher, son of Cliff and Marlene R. Boettcher of W. 2556 Auburn Ashford Road, Campbellsport, recently returned aboard the amphibious transport dock USS Trenton, homeported in Norfolk, Virginia from a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean as part of Mediterranean Amphibious Ready Group 2-92.

Elements of the ready group participated in several joint exercises including Display Determination - 92, the largest combined NATO exercise in over four years. Ships from the ready group also participated in Operation PProvide Promise, the United Nations' humanitarian relief effort in former Yugoslavia.

Their deployment exemplified the Navy's new strategy entitled, "...From the Sea," which shifts the sea services' focus from a global threat to regional challenges and concentrates on near land warfare and maneuver from the sea.

The new direction emphasizes strategic deterrence and defense, forward presence, crisis response and reconstruction. It will provide the U.S. with naval expeditionary forces operating forward from the sea that are shaped for joint operations and tailored for national needs.

USS Trenton transports and lands Marines, their equipment and supplies using embarked landing craft, amphibious vehicles and helicopters. The Navy and Marine Corps "sea-air-land" team is capable of a full range of action, from port visits and humanitarian relief to major offensive operations.

Boettcher visited ports throughout the Mediterranean during the deployment.

The 1988 graduate of Campbellsport High School joined the Navy in July, 1991.

CHRISTMAS FACTS & FANCIES

As Santa Claus is busy preparing gifts for boys and girls in his chilly igloo he may be thinking of his days as St. Nicholas. Instead of rosy cheeks, this gentleman had a golden tan from the warm, Mediterranean sun. The historical Nicholas was born sometime in the fourth century in Myra, a city on the warm southern shore of Turkey. Myra, now known as Demre, later beatified its beloved townsman. Stories tell of Nicholas' love for young people and his fondness for giving gifts in secret.

A story suggests how the tradition of filling stockings with presents started. Nicholas wanted to help a poor family. He climbed to their roof and tossed a bag of gold down the chimney. The three daughters of the house had hung their stockings to dry near the fireplace and the gold landed in the stockings. Other people heard the story and began putting their empty stockings out at night. They got presents too!

Many Americans are finding the gifts that St. Nicholas gave in Turkey centuries ago make fine gifts today. From carpets to silks to foodstuffs, Turkish products are well known for their quality and value.

DNR Outdoor Report

(November 28th & 29th)

Hunting conditions on opening weekend of Wisconsin's 1992 gun deer season were good to above average. More than 126,000 deer had been registered statewide as of Monday, and department wildlife managers announced that an extension of the nine-day season was not necessary.

In Douglas and Bayfield counties, the harvest appeared to be down significantly, even though fresh snow late last week provided excellent tracking conditions and made the deer more visible. The harvest was also down elsewhere in the northwest, due in part to a lot of standing corn, a lack of snow, and muddy conditions.

Numbers were up in the 10-county North Central District. Hunters registered just over 21,000 deer on opening weekend, compared with 15,000 a year ago, when the season opened under near blizzard conditions. The central counties were without snow at mid-week and the marshes were very wet.

In Florence County, back roads were in poor condition after three inches of rain fell in that area last week; the woods remained snow-covered. While the crusted snow aids visibility and tracking, it makes for some very noisy conditions. After the first two days, the harvest was up 25 percent in Florence County.

In Shawano County, heavy rains resulted in wet, sloppy hunting conditions. Deer didn't move around much, and not a lot of them were seen. In spite of that, opening day registrations were up 40 percent at Shawano. The harvest was also good in Waupaca County, with many nice bucks taken. Problems were reported with hunters shooting deer in one management unit and running them to another unit where their permits were valid.

Good hunting success was reported on public lands along the lower Wisconsin State Riverway. Hunters should take along hip boots when hunting on these lands. Those who used boats must conform to boating regulations. Wardens were issuing citations for various boating and hunting violations.

In Columbia County, hunters were harvesting good numbers of deer in spite of flooded marshes and a lot of standing corn. Always remember to use great caution when making drives through standing cornfields. Deer registrations were up over last year in several southern counties.

In Dane, Jefferson and Rock counties, hunting pressure was somewhat low and registrations were down slightly over last year. The deer were being harbored in large acreages of standing corn. At the New Glarus registration station in Green County, a lot of one-antlered deer were brought in.

Wildlife managers reported that the early bow deer season went well in the new Madison Metro unit, where numerous deer were taken and the harvest was up over last year. Pheasant hunting is good in Rock County.

There's not much fishing activity. In the southeast, the rivers are high and muddy following recent rainfall, and little or no action is occurring. Anglers are hooking a few steelhead near the dam on the Root River in Racine County, but are having a tough time landing the fish because of the fast current. Brown and brook trout are starting to spawn in Black River Falls area streams. Water levels on both the Mississippi and Wisconsin rivers are coming up. Ice hasn't formed yet. Sauger are being taken below the Dubuque dam. A thin layer of ice is reported on many waters in the north, but it's not safe to travel on.

With each passing weather front, more bald eagles are moving into the La Crosse area and other locations in western and southern Wisconsin where they'll have open water for the winter.

A reminder that you cannot cut holiday trees on county lands. You may, however, obtain a permit to cut a tree in the Chequamegon or Nicolet national forests. The permits cost $3.00 each, and there is a limit of three per family. For more information, contact a National Forest Service office.

Farm Income Tax Class Date Changed

To register for this course call the Fond du Lac Campus at 929-2100.

Spring Turkey Application Deadline is December 10th

MADISON... Even though the gun deer season has just drawn to a close, hunters who plan to participate in the 1993 spring Wisconsin turkey hunt have until December 10th to get their applications in, said Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Upland Wildlife Ecologist Bill Vander Zouwen.

"The 1993 spring turkey hunt promises to be yet another record for Wisconsin," Vander Zouwen said. "I expect that the turkey harvest will exceed 10,000 birds for the first time ever."

A total of 62,160 permits will be available in 31 zones and 11 state parks. Six of these zones will be opened in 1993 for the first time. Five state parks will be open to turkey hunting for disabled hunters only.

"Hunters may pick up with their permit application an information sheet that shows a map of the zones, the number of permits available and the past success rates for each zone," Vander Zouwen said.

This spring some hunters will be able to harvest two bearded turkeys.

Any permits remaining after the first drawing will be issued by means of a second drawing for hunters who applied by December 10th but were not selected in the first drawing. Only one application and application fee is necessary.

All permits will be mailed to successful applicants by January 31.

"Fall 1992 turkey hunters should save their turkey stamp for use in spring because it is valid for both seasons," Vander Zouwen explained. "However, a separate spring turkey license is required for the spring hunt."

Hunters are encouraged to attend one of the free turkey hunter education clinics sponsored by the DNR and the National Wild Turkey Federation.

Clinics focus on turkey biology and behavior, hunting techniques, safety and hunter-landowner relationships. About 40 of these 3½ hour clinics will be held around Wisconsin between February and April.

Clinic locations and times will be mailed to successful spring turkey license applicants.

Christmas for Wildlife

Join Riveredge Nature Center on Sunday, December 6, between 1:30 and 3:30 to help make some super treats for our wild friends.

They will be making chickadee delight, Christmas pies, seedy cookies and a host of treats to decorate their wild tree.

The fee is $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for children.

Call Riveredge at 675-6888 (local) or 375-2715 (metro) for more information.

Riveredge is a non-profit, 350 acre sanctuary and educational organization, providing environmental programs for all ages. It is located in Ozaukee County on Highway Y, one mile north of Newburg between Saukville and West Bend.

Caring for Your Real Christmas Tree

Trees are thirsty! To allow your tree to "drink" in the water it needs, make a fresh cut off the bottom of the trunk end. (This removes the sap that has collected on the butt edge, so tree can take on water).

Put your tree in a large water-bearing stand and make sure to always keep water in the stand. A real tree may use between two pints and a gallon of water a day, especially the first few days in the home. If the stand gets dry, a new seal will form at the end of the trunk and the tree cannot take on any more water. A real Christmas tree with high moisture content will not support combustion.

If you buy your tree several days before it will be set up, store the tree in a cool, sheltered place like a garage or porch.

Locate your tree away from heat sources: fireplaces, radiators, space heaters, etc.

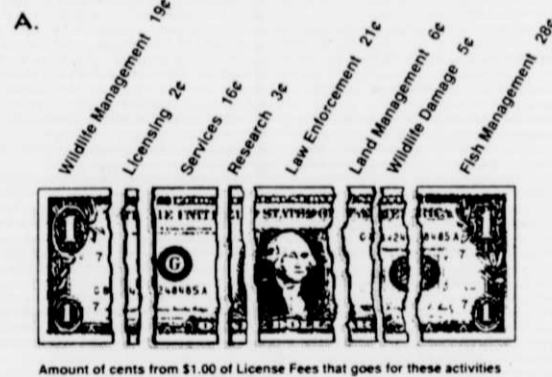

Check over all electrical lights, cords and connections before you decorate the tree. Do not use decorations with worn or frayed cords or light sockets. Never use lighted candles or combustible decorations of any kind.

Sit back and enjoy the fresh pine fragrance and delight in the natural beauty of a Real Christmas Tree.

To add length to short stemmed flowers, slip stems into drinking straws before placing in vase.

Dressing Right Helps Prevent Hypothermia

Surprising to many outdoor enthusiasts is that most cases of hypothermia develop in air temperatures between 30 and 50 degrees. Simply put, hypothermia occurs when your body has lower than normal body temperature. Symptoms of this dangerous condition include shivering, confusion, sleepiness, stiffening of the arms and legs, unconsciousness and coma.

Dressing right in dreary weather means sandwiching just the right amount of warm air between each layer of clothing.

To avoid hypothermia, experts recommend dressing in layers of clothing that keep you comfortably warm no matter how dreary the weather. This is called layering and the trick is to sandwich just the right amount of warm air between each layer. Too little and your body loses heat; too much and you will perspire, causing a cooling effect that can increase your heat loss by 25 percent.

based on an old design that mimics polar bear fur, one of the warmest of all natural fibers. "Thermax" creates pockets of warmed air around your body and keeps the body dry by "wicking" heat-robbing perspiration away from the skin. The second layer should be made of loose, lofty fabrics that trap significant amounts of air but no moisture. Because the outer layer protects you from the hostile elements, it should be resistant to both wind and rain.

To avoid this problem, the first layer of your clothing system must be breathable and well insulated. Many outdoor experts recommend clothing made from a new DuPont-certified fabric called "Thermax." This fabric is

By following these simple rules on dressing you can take the chill out of your winter activities.

Plans Announced for UMC Recognition Dinner

MILWAUKEE — Indianapolis Motor Speedway president Tony George has been named the recipient of the 1993 Tom Marchese Award.

Named for Marchese, the famed Milwaukee Mile auto racing promoter, the award will be presented at the Wisconsin Motorsports Charities Recognition Dinner at the County Inn Hotel and Convention Center in Waukesha on Friday, January 8, 1993.

That event, now in its second year, is already near the sellout mark of 500 people.

Over the years, such racing greats as four time Indy 500 champion A.J. Foyt, Indianapolis Speedway president Tony Hulman, Road America founder Cliff Tufte, broadcaster Chris Economaki, Indy car official and Milwaukee native Ted Lake, and legendary Indy car builders Dale Drake and Louis Meyer have all received replicas of the original award.

Kuehn also initiated a scholarship award in 1968 which still exists in his name today. The $4,000 award will this year go to Nicole Wolfgang, daughter of Doug Wolfgang, a World of Outlaws sprint car star who was critically injured during the 1992 racing season.

Also receiving awards at the January 8 WMC dinner will be drag racing legend "Big Daddy" Don Garlits; two-time Indianapolis 500 winner Roger Ward; current NASCAR Winston Cup star and Wisconsin short track ace Dick Trickle; World of Outlaws sprint car star Dave Blaney; and American Speed Association 1992 Rookie of the Year Steve Holzhausen.

Additionally, racing legends Augie Pabst and Willie Goeden will be recognized for their on-track achievements.

Hales Corners Speedway star Frank Smith will also be honored as will Michael Hunter, who will receive the Ted Lake Dedication to Racing Award.

Last but not least, Slinger and Madison International Speedway star Conrad Morgan will pick up a check for $15,000 from race promoter Wayne Erickson for completing the most laps at the two facilities this season.

The 1993 WMC event expects to raise $20,000 for The Ranch, an adult rehabilitation center in Menomonee Falls, Wisconsin. The initial 1992 dinner drew 350 people and generated $10,000 for the facility.

For more information about the 1993 Wisconsin Motorsports Charities Recognition Dinner, please write 913 Old Tower Road, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin 53066, or call (414) 567-7837.

"Smart" Drugs Hit The Target

Over the last few years, important new drugs have been developed to treat a variety of serious illnesses. What many of these drugs have in common is the way they work.

When scientists discover exactly which body chemicals and cells are involved in a disease, they can often design medications to target these chemicals and cells. Doctors call these medications site-specific. Once these "smart" drugs are in the body, they head right for their target.

Take, for example, a new drug called Zofran (ondansetron HCl), which doctors can now give to cancer patients to prevent the nausea and vomiting that often follow chemotherapy (treatment with anticancer drugs). Zofran is the first site-specific drug to switch off the sickness of chemotherapy.

Some chemotherapy drugs cause nausea and vomiting because they damage cells in the stomach. This sets off a signal that travels to the vomiting control center in the brain, causing nausea and vomiting that can be very severe. The sickness can last for several days, causing patients to lose so much weight and become so weak that they cannot go to work or school or even do simple household chores.

Older medications given to prevent the nausea and vomiting caused by anticancer drugs are not site-specific. Also, for many cancer patients, they fail to prevent the sickness of chemotherapy. Studies have shown that Zofran is more effective than these older drugs. When cancer patients receive Zofran along with their chemotherapy, most can go home, eat a regular meal, and get right back to their daily routine.

The older medications have another disadvantage. Because they are not site-specific, they do not only affect the cells and body chemicals they are aimed at; they affect other body functions, as well. This means that many of these drugs have unwanted side effects, including muscle spasms and extreme restlessness.

In contrast, patients taking Zofran do not experience such distressing effects. The most common side effect associated with Zofran is a mild headache.

Of course, cancer patients are not the only ones to benefit from "smart" drugs. People with asthma, high blood pressure, and ulcers are also treated with such drugs, and many more site-specific drugs are in the pipeline. One that may benefit a great number of people is being developed to prevent migraine headaches. Scientists are also testing site-specific drugs for arthritis, cocaine and alcohol addiction, epilepsy, and even the common cold. As our scientists get smarter, our medicines will be smarter, too.

Banner Season Ahead for KHS Grapplers

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — With the return of one state champion, another state qualifier, six more experienced letterwinners, and a host of young talent, the upcoming 1992-93 campaign has the possibility of being one of the best ever for the Kewaskum wrestling team and coach John Nell.

But Nell will be the first to point out that the team may have some problems early in the year, as wrestlers try to get down to their respective weights.

"We might take some lumps in the early going," Nell said recently, noting that he has very inexperienced kids at the lower weights, and will probably hold them out of the first couple of meets.

One wrestler that won't be held out is returning 145-pound state champion, Josh Kurtz, who posted a fine 32-2 mark in his junior year. Nell expects more big things from Kurtz, who is the only state champ in school history.

"He'll be the one to beat," in the 145-pound class, where Kurtz will eventually be wrestling at. "I think he certainly has the ability to get back there (to Madison)."

The same can be said for the Indians' other state qualifier of a year ago, 135-pounder Mark Dziedzic, who recovered from an early-season knee injury to post a 15-8 mark last year. "He could very well do it (go to state) again," Nell said of the senior Dziedzic. Also returning to the fold this year are the Muckerheide's, Todd and Chad. Todd, who will wrestle at 189 again this year, posted a 21-14 as a junior last season, while Chad, who will once again go at 160 pounds, compiled a 17-13 mark as a sophomore.

Mark Morell will anchor the 171-pound class, returning from a 15-12 junior year. With these three letterwinners, along with 152-pounder Rich Farchione (13-11 as a freshman last year), the upper weights should be a strength for Kewaskum this season.

"We've got five or six top notch kids back this year," Nell said, adding that "we have the most experience at the upper weights. They all worked real hard in the off-season."

A pair of sophomores will also be back this year. Jake Gundrum (8-12-1) and Jake Thull (5-14) will look to nail down spots in the Indian lineup, probably at 119 and 112 pounds, respectively.

Nell already has had to deal with injury, as he lost soph Tyler Dieringer for about a month, due to a back injury. "That kind of hurts us," Nell said, noting that Dieringer did well at the JV level last season, and could be a big help when he returns.

James Schaefer should give Nell some help at the middle-to-upper weights, as he comes off a 14-6 campaign last year on JV's. Fellow junior Brad Jackson (8-15) also should help out.

"Andy Mathias could help us out," Nell went on, adding that the soph will probably work his way into the lineup at the heavyweight spot, a spot that Nell would like desperately to fill.

Nell will also try and season a group of freshman that are currently competing for two openings at 103 and 112. "We have five freshman there, and I'm not really sure what we're going to do yet," he said. Among those competing for varsity spots are freshmen Troy Maertz, Eric Rahlf, Jeff Junk, Chris Justman and Robert Smith, along with soph Shane Engelking.

"I'd like to be optimistic," Nell said. "But I think that we'll be respectable. I don't think anybody is going to blow us out. We should be very competitive (in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference)."

The Indians opened their season on Tuesday with a triple dual at Brown Deer, and travel to Two Rivers Thursday night. After a meet at Slinger this Tuesday, the Indians return home for their lone home meet before Christmas break, as they host Plymouth Dec. 18th.

Pat Repovsch, 6538 Hwy. 28,

Allenton, was on the winning Gateway team, coached by David Klapstein, faculty advisor.

Other winning team members included Ron Cleason, Kenosha; Steve Herman, Greendale; Brian Mattson, Superior; Jeff Pietrzak, West Allis; and Terry Sell, West Bend.

MATC students placed second, followed by Blackhawk and Fox Valley contestants.

The students and schools received awards from WisDOT, the Federal Aviation Administration, the Experimental Aircraft Association, and the Snap-On Tool Corporation, a major supplier of aviation maintenance hand tools.

Schlice Named to All-Tourney Squad

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — Kewaskum's Bonnie Schlice was named to the first-ever Indian Invitational all-tournament team last weekend.

Schlice finished with 11 steals in the two games, leading all other players in that category. The 5-6 senior also added 13 points and six assists in helping the Indians take second.

"She really stood out defensively," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of Schlice's play. "She really turned it up a notch in the semifinals."

Also making the inaugural squad were Cedar Grove's Sally Dykstra (17 points, 10 steals, 4 assists) and Abby Huenink (26 points, 19 rebounds, 5 steals), Campbellsport's Becky Roth (18 points, 10 assists, 5 steals) and Fond du Lac St. Mary's Springs' Lori Petrie (23 rebounds, 17 points, 10 blocked shots).

All five of the athletes received Indian Invitational All-Tournament certificates.

KHS JV'S Win Invite Championship

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — Some tough defense spelled victory for the Kewaskum junior varsity girls basketball team, which captured the championship in the JV portion of last week's Indian Invitational.

"I'm so proud of them," JV coach Keith Amundson said of his troupes, which defeated Cedar Grove 36-19 in Saturday's final contest. The Indians had beaten Campbellsport Friday night, 42-24.

"We started out slow defensively," against Campbellsport, Amundson said, as the Indians held just a three-point edge at the half, 18-15. But some tough defense by Missy Rohrer and Greta Kuphal propelled the Indians in the second half. Kuphal led the JV's with 12 points, while Mary Yahr chipped in 11.

Against the Rockets, Kewaskum switched from a zone defense to a man-to-man in the second half "to step up the intensity," according to Amundson. The strategy worked, as the Indians pulled away for the easy win.

Rohrer led the Indians with 14 points, while Kuphal added six. Amundson also cited the entire team for "great aggressive play," in the win.

The victories helped the JV's go 3-0 on the season, as Kewaskum also edged Slinger last Tuesday night in a thriller, 40-38. Kuphal's length of the court pass to Rohrer led to a layup as time expired, giving the Indians the win. Rohrer finished with 17 points, while Chrissy Neumann had eight, and Kuphal seven.

The Indian freshman also won a barn-burner, as Kelly Schreffler's basket in the final seconds gave the Indians a 28-27 victory. Schreffler finished with a game-high 11 points.

Indians Finish 2nd in Tournament

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum girls basketball team knew what it was up against in Saturday night's championship game of the Indian Invitational here. The Indians just couldn't do a whole lot about it.

Cedar Grove's defensive pressure forced numerous Indian turnovers, resulting in an easy 62-37 win for the Rockets, giving them their third straight championship in the tournament.

"We knew they were going to press us," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said after the game. "We knew it would take a good solid effort to best them."

And while the effort may have been there, the hoped result wasn't, as the Rockets used their pressure to forge a 20-8 first quarter edge. In the quarter, Cedar Grove out-rebounded Kewaskum by a whopping 18-4 margin, thus giving the guests many more second-chance baskets.

"They had more opportunities to score," Eichstedt said of the rebounding edge.

The Indians played better in the second quarter, virtually staying with the potent Rockets, but still found themselves trailing 32-16 at the half.

"At halftime, we decided that we would try to go inside and make use of our height advantage," Eichstedt noted. "And I felt that as a result, we played better in the second half."

That they did, although it wasn't enough to even come close to overtaking the Rockets, whose lead never got below double digits.

There were some bright spots in the defeat, however. Junior Missy Radtke came off the bench to pull down a game-high 15 rebounds. "That's a real strong performance. She's going to help us out in that area," Eichstedt said. He also cited Bonnie Schlice for her fine defensive effort.

Ginger Wiesner and Robyn Winninghoff led the Indians with 10 points apiece. As a team, the Indians continued to struggle from the field, hitting just 23 percent of their tries.

Cedar Grove, meanwhile, hit on 44 percent of their tries, and were led by Abby Huehner, who had 14 points. Kathy Naus (11), Sally Dykstra (10) and Brenda Hilbelink also hit for double figures, while Hilbelink led the Rockets on the boards with 12 rebounds.

Eichstedt was a bit disappointed in the fact that the Rockets kept their starters in the game until the closing minutes. The KHS boss had emptied his bench early in the final stanza, and as a result, the deficit ballooned from 15 points to 25.

Still, Eichstedt wasn't about to discredit the Rockets, who will not be back to defend their title next year, as they have dropped out of the tourney. "They played real well. That makes three years in a row now that they've won it."

Kewaskum, now 1-2 on the year, has off until Dec. 10th (at New Holstein), and then has another week off before they travel to Chilton (Dec. 18th). The layoff should benefit the Indians, though, according to Eichstedt.

"It'll give us a chance to regroup," he said. "We're doing things better, and I'm pleased with the effort. At least the areas in which we are struggling are correctable areas. The rest will definitely help."

Indians Down Cougars in Semi's

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — After losing their season-opener with a fourth-quarter collapse, the Kewaskum girls basketball team was going to make sure that it wouldn't happen twice in a row.

Instead, it was the Indians who went on a fourth-quarter run, outscoring Campbellsport 19-4 in the final period, to pull out a 46-38 win over the Cougars in the semifinals of the Indians Invitational.

The Indians eventually lost in the finals to Cedar Grove 62-37. (See accompanying story.)

Things looked dismal for the Indians in the early going, as the Cougars used poor Indian shooting to gain a 10-1 lead after one quarter of play.

"The shots just weren't dropping," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the opening quarter, which produced just a single free throw from Robyn Winninghoff. "It took us a while to get it going."

Behind the play of junior Ginger Wiesner, the Indians got it going in the second quarter. Wiesner chipped in eight of her game-high 18 points in the quarter, but the Indians could pull only to within seven, at 24-17.

"We missed so many free throws," Eichstedt said, disappointingly. KHS missed all eight of their FT opportunities in the second period, and finished just six for 16 on the night.

Kewaskum couldn't shave any points off the lead in the third quarter as well, and the Cougars maintained their seven-point edge (34-27) heading into the fourth.

But that's where the Indians defense took over, thanks in large part to senior Bonnie Schlice.

"She really really turned it up a notch," Eichstedt said of the 5-6 sparkplug, who keyed the rally with numerous steals and fast-breaks.

Schlice finished with seven points in the final period, including three of four free throws. Winninghoff and Wiesner each added six points, as Kewaskum overtook the Cougars with their defensive pressure.

"Our defense didn't allow them any good shots," Eichstedt said. "We were waiting for that pressure to take effect, and it finally did. They became noticeably tired."

That allowed the Indians to come up with eight steals in the fourth, as the team finished the night with a total of 21 thefts, five belonging to Schlice.

After Wiesner's game-high total, Winninghoff was next high with 11 points, while Schlice added nine.

Campbellsport went on to lose to Fond du Lac St. Mary's Springs in the consolation game, 59-25.

Lady Indians Run Out of Steam; Lose Opener

By Noel Stollenwerk

SLINGER — Missing a pair of key players in their season-opener, the Kewaskum girls basketball team simply ran out of steam here, last Tuesday night.

The Lady Indians were outscored 22-5 in the final ten minutes of their game with Slinger, as the Owls pulled away late to win 44-35 in the first game played in the Owls' new facility.

"We physically ran out of gas," Indian coach Glenn Eichstedt said regarding the loss, in which his squad shot just 27 percent. "Our legs got tired, and the shots just wouldn't fall."

Eichstedt was without two key players, having found out about the absences the day of the game. Starting guard Bonnie Schlice missed the game with the flu, while Christa Fleischman, the first Indian off the bench, suffered an ankle injury and was in a cast. She could be out for a couple of weeks.

Without the two, the Indians were still able to gain the upper hand in the first half. After battling to an 8-8 tie after one quarter, the Indians, behind Robyn Winninghoff's eight points, managed a 22-14 halftime lead.

"We started out doing what we wanted to do," Eichstedt said, noting his squad was able to press the Owls successfully, forcing an up-tempo game.

But that style of play was suitable to the Indians on this night, as they tired in the late stages of the third period. A basket by Kim Sabish gave the Indians a 30-22 lead with just over 2:00 to go in the period, but the Owls answered with a run of their own.

Slinger's press forced numerous Indian miscues, allowing the Owls to pull to within 30-27 heading into the final stanza. The continued pressure by the hosts wore down the Indians, who turned the ball over several more times in the fourth.

A basket by Slinger's Nicole Parentice gave her team the lead for good with just over five minutes to go. The Indians, meanwhile, managed just two field goals in the final stanza.

Things got worse for Kewaskum, as Sabish landed hard midway through the final period, injuring her ribs. That left the Indians with just one true ball-handler, that being junior Ginger Wiesner.

"We just didn't have anything left," Eichstedt said. "Being the first game, we just couldn't keep that fast pace going."

Winninghoff led the Indians with 10 points, while Wiesner chipped in nine in the losing effort. Parentice led the Owls with eight.

All in all, Eichstedt was pleased with his team's effort.

"It was a good learning game," he said. "We moved the ball well and passed well. We just couldn't sustain it for the four quarters."

After finishing second in their own holiday tournament, the Indians are off until Dec. 10, when they travel to New Holstein.
