On Saturday, Jan. 16th, the Kewaskum Women's Club celebrated their 80th anniversary with a banquet held at the Glacier Inn. Approximately 32 members were in attendance to honor this very special occasion.

The club welcomed the state GFWC Women's Club President, Mary Kaye Ernest. She presented the Kewaskum Women's Club with a certificate "in Recognition and Appreciation for Distinguished Service to the Community and the Nation in it's 80th Year." The award is signed by Ann Holland, the National Federation of Womens' Club President.

Also in attendance was the 6th District President Diane Zickert, who gave a brief speech on the history of the district Women's Club, which began in 1915.

Kewaskum's was formed a few years ahead of things, in 1913. Diane presented a certificate to Maude Rose for 60 years of continuous membership.

Another guest of the banquet was 6th District Junior Women's Club Director Meri Lou Chambers. She thanked the Women's Club for being responsible for the formation of the

Delbert Shea Honored By Kewaskum Frozen Foods

Kewaskum Frozen Foods honored their "grandmaster" of sausage making, Delbert Shea, at their recent Christmas party on Dec 20.

Owner Bob Beisbier credits the 70 year old Shea, as the success behind Kewaskum Frozen Foods award winning sausages. "Without him, we wouldn't have the sausage", remarks Beisbier.

Shea has 46 years of experience behind him, and considers his prized sausage-making formulas a highly regarded secret. He began his career in Antigo years ago, and later worked for Kroger's meat processing plant in Fond du Lac.

In 1973 he began his long-term relationship with the famous

Kewaskum meat store, and Bob Beisbier couldn't have been happier. "He was sought after throughout the state as an expert sausage maker and we considered ourselves very fortunate to get him."

Numerous awards have been bestowed upon the sausages bearing the Kewaskum Frozen Foods label, including bologna, bratwurst, breakfast links, mettwurst, summer sausage, and more. And the man behind the magic mixtures still helps out part-time at Kewaskum Frozen Foods, although he is semi-retired. He resides in Fond du Lac.

"We honored this man for sharing all his experience and expertise with Kewaskum Frozen Foods in the sausage fields," said Beisbier.

Board Votes to Split Class at FES, Add Teacher

By Noel Stollenwerk

Despite pleas from District Administrator David Heather and significant others involved, the Kewaskum School Board last Monday voted 4-2 in favor of splitting a fourth-grade class at Farmington Elementary School.

The controversial move means that an additional teacher will be hired at FES for the spring semester, which was to begin this week.

"This would not be a wise decision at this point," Board member Ron Beimborn told his fellow members before the vote. Beimborn, along with Ruth Schmitt, voted against the move.

The issue had come up at the December meeting, as Heather notified the Board that the two fourth-grade classes at FES had grown to 28 and 29 students, respectively. Heather told the Board that they had several options, including splitting the students into three classes, and hiring the new teacher for the spring semester.

But Heather recommended that the Board wait until the 1993-94 school year to split the class, and in the meantime hire additional aides to help relieve the load of the teachers.

Both of the current teachers were in attendance, and one, Karen Larson, said she supported Heather's view that the move should be put off until next year.

"The timing is wrong at this point," Larson told the Board. Larson said she advocated smaller classes, but added that she was concerned with the disruptions that would accompany the hiring.

"It's not just a matter of moving desks across the hall," she said. "There is a lot involved," including getting to know the students and their learning styles.

FES principal Tom Larson said he wasn't against the hiring this semester, but said that it "would not necessarily be the answer." The hiring of the additional teacher, at a total cost of around $11,000 would also mean that the two aides presently at FES would have to be laid off.

Rural Opportunity Center Opening In Kewaskum

Wisconsin farm families will have an opportunity to tap into a network of informational and human services at a new Rural Opportunity Center opening in Kewaskum on January 27, 1993.

Each month, the center will feature a guest speaker who will address current agricultural issues at a luncheon donated by a local church group. Located at the Amerahn Dance Hall, the center will be open the fourth Wednesday of each month from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. No fees will be charged to participants.

"The Rural Opportunity Center is sponsored by local community groups interested in better serving farmers and rural communities," says Kathy Schmitt, Farmers Assistance Program, Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection spokesperson. "At each meeting, resource representatives from the community will be available to respond to farm families with ques-

Junior Women's Club.

Everyone enjoyed the historical speech given by Minerva Martin, who has twice served as Club President. Past President Agnes Schaefer had some interesting stories to tell and brought along an old fancy pink chiffon hat, a requirement for attending meetings once upon a time.

Other speakers included Lavern Hron, and President Ruth Schmitt, who spoke about the scholarship program which began five years ago. "This program will last for many years," said Schmitt.

Each woman received a rose in a bud vase as a remembrance for the evening. "The evening went by quickly, and we didn't even put any husbands to sleep," President Schmitt laughs. They are looking forward to their 100th anniversary and the accomplishments that will be seen in the future.

The following excerpts were taken from the speech given by Minerva Martin at the banquet held last Saturday in observance of the Kewaskum Women's Club 80th Anniversary:

On a sunshiny afternoon on January 14, 1913, Mrs. David Rosenheimer, or more personally, Lena, had invited a few women to her home where the Valley Bank now stands for the purpose of organizing a Women's Club. She belonged to the Cedarburg Club, so her aim was to develop an interest here. The major purpose was education and health.

To increase their membership, a member had to submit the name and then it was voted on to accept. No mention of rejections. Charter members were Mrs. A. Rosenheimer Sr., Mrs. Newton Rosenheimer, Mrs. D.M. Rosenheimer, Mrs. Flo Lay, Mrs. H.J. Lay, Mrs. Lay Rosenheimer, and Mrs. William Schulz.

The club was criticized and destined to failure by the men especially. After three successful years Mrs. Simon (the former principal's wife) wrote a poem dedicating it to the success of the club. She chided the critics.

Their first big project was to start the library. They requested a room upstairs in the Village Hall. (That's the red brick building on the east side of the tracks.) They had to arrange for the lighting, a stove, and wood, wash basin and pail, locks, sweeping compound, screens, waste baskets, and do the cleaning. They took turns being the Librarian. The first Librarian they hired was paid $52 a year. Rev. Mohme of Peace Church volunteered for Sunday afternoons.

To finance this project they had fund raisers such as plays, bake sales, bazaars, public card parties and lectures. In 1925 they published a cook book and sold 1000 copies. (I had one and donated it to the Museum) They asked the Village to take over the responsibility of the library Jan. 6, 1916.

The meetings were held in members' homes until 1947 when they moved to the upstairs of the Farmers and Merchant Bank, now the Bartelt Insurance Building. I joined when they met there. We had to pay $50 a year, plus furnish it. The next meeting place was in Fellowship Hall of Peace Church, then to our new library in 1950.

In 1963 we held our first anniversary dinner celebrating 50 years. It was in the Temperance Hall (the Union Hall.) Eight club presidents attended and cost was $2.75 per person. Mrs. Newton Rosenheimer, Mrs. C. Rose, Mrs. Edith Landmann, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. Walt Bade, Mrs. Paul Albrecht, and myself all wore a dress we wore while president.

We entertained the graduating seniors and their mothers and also the teachers. We established the first school hearing tests, we donated to the High School Science Department and the Library. We also purchased a piano.

We did our loyal duty during the war-knitting, making bandages, and sending cookies to servicemen.

All these years we've continued to support the Library, Girl Scouts, gave scholarships, and numerous community activities.

We are looking forward to our 100th anniversary in 2013. Incidentally, our oldest members are Maude Rose (60 years), Alma Edwards (55 years), and Agnes Schaefer (47 years) I have 46 years in the club."

tions on legal issues, employment, finances, health and social service needs, and educational opportunities."

The first guest speaker is Roger Williams, a professor in the Health and Human Issues Department of the University of Wisconsin - Madison. Williams will discuss the complexities of intergenerational farming — when a son or daughter-in-law enters the daily farming operation, often straining relationships. He also offer insights into improving communication within the intergenerational farm family.

Future topics include:

*February 24 — A panel discussion of farm financial planning and relationships with lenders.

*March 24 — Rural Voices, a drama about farmers' love of the land as well as the struggles and hardships associated with family farming, will be performed and followed by a group discussion.

*April 28 — Farm safety and rural health.

"The Rural Opportunity Center is an informal place for farmers to gather and re-energize while taking a short break in the work day," Schmitt adds. "It provides information on agricultural issues and can help lead farm families to local community resources. The monthly meetings are also opportunities to visit with neighbors and meet new friends."

After not having anyone second her motion to hire the additional teacher at the December meeting, Jean Goeden reintroduced the motion, which was quickly seconded by Ray Engelking, who added that "this really isn't any easy thing to do."

Despite the time crunch and the unplanned budget expense, the Board voted in favor of the hiring, meaning there would be plenty of re-locating going on at FES this week.

In other matters discussed at the meeting, the Board unanimously approved the addition of soccer as a WIAA sanctioned sport at Kewaskum High School, beginning in the 1993-94 school year. (See accompanying story in sports).

The Board also voted to terminate their contract with CESA 6, which had furnished the District with a social worker as an employee of the District. "It is probably in our best interest," said Heather of the moves.

The Board also approved the hiring of an additional girl's softball coach at KHS, thus making it possible for the team to field a junior varsity team this spring.

Also, Jill Brandl and Carla Pritzlaff, both of whom teach in the KHS science department, were approved as co-advisors for this year's junior prom.

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce was recently honored for their 20 year affiliation with the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce.

Originally formed as the Kewaskum Businessmen's Association, the group of businessmen were a predominant force in the community in the 50's and 60's. The late Village President Charles Miller was also president of the Association for some time during those years.

In 1972 a small group of businessmen from the association, namely Dieter Bombien, Jack Jadro, Mark Rodenkirch, Paul Behring, Ken Weddig and Leroy Bier, felt the need to belong to a state and national organization to better comprehend and utilize new business regulations. It was also hoped this new organization would work towards enticing new business into the community.

The Association decided to transfer its funds to the "New Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce." The Chamber has grown to the point where there are now 64 area businesses involved.

In past years, the Chamber was the driving force behind the annual Kewaskum Crazy Daze, Thanksgiving Turkey Giveaway, Easter Ham and Christmas Giveaways and Promotions, Kewaskum Dairy Daze and Kewaskum Night at the Brewers Game.

The last several years the Chamber has initiated the June Community Rummage-O-Rama, October's Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival and in December the Christmas Parade and Christmas Home Decorating Contest.

The Chamber is always looking for new ideas to promote the community to visitors and tourists. Anyone is invited to share any ideas for promotional activities with any one of the Chamber members.

The Chamber would like to extend a large THANK YOU to the past and present members and to the community for their support. Many members not listed below have also contributed countless hours helping to make our community a better place.

Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce presidents for the past 20 years have included:

Kewaskum Receives Preschool Grant For Children With Disabilities

MADISON — State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover has notified the Kewaskum School District that it will receive $17,280 to support special education programs for preschool-age children with disabilities.

The grant is made available under Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). Administered by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, grant funds provide an incentive for districts to maintain and improve quality services to children between the ages of 3 and 5 who have disabilities.

Statewide, all local educational agencies will share in more than $8.5 million available under this federal program during the 1992-93 school year. Seventy-five percent of these federal entitlement funds will flow directly to local school districts.

The preschool grants provide a broad range of local programs and services to preschoolers with disabilities. Funds may be used to pay salaries and equipment, arrange for specialized evaluations, develop parent training programs, and support inservice training activities.

Commenting on the grant, project director Richard E. Zarling said, "The success of this district's early childhood program is due in part to those funds which allow us to provide those materials, etc. that make for quality. We hope this kind of funding continues as our needs continue to grow."

Coldwell Banker/Spectrum Sales Associate of the Year

Marge Kedinger of Coldwell Banker Spectrum Real Estate of West Bend has been named recipient of the "Sales Associate of the Year" award for 1992.

The award is based on overall performance in many areas including production, dedication, company loyalty and spirit of cooperation. Kedinger was presented with a plaque at the company's recent awards dinner.

The Kewaskum Board of Education recently honored Mr. Otto Ramthun and Mr. Tony Tomachek for their efforts in constructing the new tennis courts. Board president Neal Weare (center) presented Ramthun (left) and Tomachek (right) with plaques recognizing the pair's work. Mr. Tomachek was the engineer who developed the plans for the road and courts, while Mr. Ramthun oversaw the project and was the Board's construction representative.

Excerpts From As I Remember

by Marvin Martin

Kewaskum Fire Department was originally a hook and ladder and an engine department (1 ladder). Their first piece of fire equipment was a hand drawn cart fitted with a hand pump which was manufactured by Rimmel Manufacturing Co. This is still preserved today. Rimmel Mfg. was known throughout the country for their products. They also made corn huskers and concrete mixers.

The first motorized pump had a gasoline Watrus engine. The first motorized fire engine, a chemical truck was purchased from the American La France Co.

Some of the history of Kewaskum can be seen at our local museum.

I am telling you this as I remember it. I hope the facts are all correct as I am no longer able to see well and cannot do the reference work that probably should be done in doing this. I may have missed something, but I have tried to do it to the best of my ability. I hope it will be appreciated.

I wish to thank Mr. James D. Reigle, Rose Ketter and Regal Ware for making it possible to record these memories of our village.

—MARVIN A. MARTIN

We hope you've enjoyed the As I Remember column in the Statesman. Copies of Marvin's story can be found at the Historical Society and the Library. Marvin would like to thank everyone for all the favorable comments.

Sensenbrenner Announces Washington County Nominations to Service Academies

Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr. (R-Wisconsin) has announced his nominations to the United States Service Academies for the class entering in 1993.

In Washington County, Leo Lesch has been nominated as a competing alternate to the United States Air Force, Military, and Naval Academies. Dan Schulteis and Dean Phillips have both been nominated as competing alternates to the Air Force Academy. Casey Wunsch has been nominated as a competing alternate to the Naval Academy. Noah Eckert has been nominated as a competing alternate to the Military Academy.

Leo Lesch, a 1993 graduate of Germantown High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lesch, N136 W21285 Bonniwell Road, Richfield.

Dan Schulteis, a 1993 graduate of Kewaskum High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schulteis, 7324 Midland Drive, Allenton.

Dean Phillips, a 1993 graduate of West Bend West High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Phillips, 250 S. Silverbrook, West Bend.

Casey Wunsch, a 1993 graduate of Kewaskum High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wunsch, 8022 Sandy Ridge Road, Kewaskum.

Noah Eckert, a 1993 graduate of Marquette High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Eckert, 3800 Paradise Drive, West Bend.

Sensenbrenner said, "the young people selected this year have extraordinary academic records and a broad range of interests, extracurricular activities, and athletic achievements. They all have the potential to win appointment to the academies and the promise that marks outstanding military careers."

Due to the number of highly qualified applicants, Sensenbrenner used the "competitive" method of nomination, selecting the ten candidates for each vacancy that he is entitled to fill and allowing the individual academies to select the persons best qualified from among the list. All recommendations for nomination were made by the Ninth District Academy Selection Committee, a panel of citizens appointed by Sensenbrenner to review and evaluate the applicants.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION

1992 A Record Year...

1992 was a record year for West Bend Savings Bank in every respect. Our loan volume, checking account sales, securities volume, real estate and insurance sales, and new construction contracts all set new production records. West Bend Savings Bank and its Financial Resource Group members all finished the year in excellent financial condition. We believe that 1993 will prove to be even better!

With a steadily growing economy and the superb outlook for growth and development in our marketplace, the Bank should have an excellent opportunity to serve even more customers with an ever increasing array of products and services in the years ahead.

West Bend Savings Bank and the Financial Resource Group have but one goal, that is to provide our customers with quality, friendly service. That service must be combined with honest, straightforward financial advice. Today, we are one of only a few locally owned financial institutions remaining in our market area. We believe that this provides us with a unique advantage. Being a locally owned and operated financial services company, we understand and adapt to our customer's needs on a daily basis. Some banks today stress their size, others their regional or national importance. In a free, competitive marketplace, everyone has the opportunity to "march to the beat of their own drum." At West Bend Savings Bank, we simply believe that the customer should always come first and that our service must be friendly and customer driven. Size or national prominence has little merit in our corporate philosophy.

During 1992, we lost two old friends of the Bank. H. C. Kaempfer and C. J. Schloemer, both long term directors of the Bank, passed away. H. C. (Henry) Kaempfer served on the Bank's board from 1926 to 1985 and as director emeritus until his death on July 8, 1992. C. J. (Clyde) Schloemer served as Bank director from 1962 to 1991 and as director emeritus until his death on March 23, 1992. Both were unselfish in their many years of distinguished service not only to the Bank, but the community as a whole. We shall miss their advice and friendship.

Sincerely,
Richard A. Larson, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Area Churches Unite to Celebrate Rural Life

Church members throughout Dodge, Fond du Lac, Ozaukee, Sheboygan, and Washington Counties will gather at St. Michael Catholic Church in Dotyville on Thursday, January 28, to celebrate their unity in rural living. The daylong program: "Community and Parish: a New Relationship," will combine presentations on environmental issues, prayer, and socialization for an anticipated 100 or more participants.

Beginning presentations will address issues surrounding Wisconsin law and gravel pits; agriculture and its impact on the environment; and chemicals and the neighborhood. Following these presentations, participants will explore ways that churches can unite to respond to environmental problems facing their members.

"This is the first time parishioners of the different denominations have come together to address the challenges facing us all," said Rev. Bernard Sippel, pastor of St. Boniface Parish, Germantown, one of the program's organizers. "The environmental issues are complex, but we hope people will leave this day knowing they are not alone in facing them. We can support one another and work together to build a healthier environment for us all."

Sippel and the Archdiocese of Milwaukee, along with Fond du Lac Area Congregations United and Strong (FOCUS) and the Sheboygan County Interfaith Organization (SCIO), will sponsor the rural life celebration. FOCUS and SCIO have been organized during the past couple years to address the concerns facing rural communities.

For more information contact the Rural Life Office, Archdiocese of Milwaukee, (414) 769-3425.

Valley Bank Offers Basic Guidelines to Consumers On Becoming Credit Card Savvy

While retailers are reporting a higher shopping season, many consumers who overindulged in plastic over the holidays are just beginning to realize how much their spending binge will cost them.

Both VISA U.S.A. and MasterCard International have been reporting a record rate of growth in holiday charge volume, up 16% to 20% from a year earlier. While the percentage of consumers who pay off their card bill in full each month and don't pay interest is increasing, more than 70% of all cardholders still pay only part of the total bill, incurring interest charges on the balance outstanding.

Charmaine Ponkrat, Vice President Marketing, Valley Bancorporation, states, "The start of the New Year offers a perfect time to get your financial house in order as a result of the burdensome debt incurred during the holidays." Following are some tips on how to minimize your credit card debt.

If you are like the typical consumer who has eight credit cards in his or her wallet, including store cards, you should consider consolidating your debt under one card. This card should feature a competitive interest rate, with a balance transfer feature. This allows you to transfer balances held on higher interest-rate cards. A recent report from VISA states that credit card interest rates range from 8 percent to over 20 percent. A consumer who keeps a typical balance of about $1,400 on a credit card with a 20% interest could save up to $168 annually by transferring the balance to a card with a lower interest rate.

Consumers should also look for credit cards that feature enhancements enabling customers to avoid paying annual membership fees. Valley Bank will be offering this enhancement to their MasterCard and VISA credit cards on February 1, 1993, which will help consumers save a few bucks.

"With this new enhancement, customers will not only get a lower interest rate on their outstanding balances, but they will also be able to avoid paying the annual fee on their card," Ms. Ponkrat said.

Customers can avoid their annual fee by charging a certain level of retail purchases or cash advances during the year preceding the date of their annual fee charge. Customers who charge $1,500 on regular MasterCard or VISA and $3,500 on Gold MasterCard in the 12 month cycle will avoid the annual fee. Charges will be tracked automatically and the fee waived once the threshold is reached. Annual fees on the Valley Bancards are $15 for regular MasterCard and VISA, and $35 for the Gold MasterCard.

"For most consumers, fifteen hundred to thirty-five hundred dollars in accumulated charges is easily attainable during a year's time," Ms. Ponkrat said. "Many of our current Bancard customers will avoid the fee without even changing their spending patterns," she added. The same offer is being extended to business Bancard customers.

Using credit wisely amounts to smart financial planning. As a general rule, financial planners recommend that your consumer debt, including credit cards, should not exceed 8-10% of your gross monthly income. If you find you have a serious debt responsibility, you should contact one of the many nonprofit credit and debt counseling services located across the country. These services help families get back on their feet by working with creditors to establish a workable repayment schedule.

Valley Bancorporation is the third largest bank holding company headquartered in Wisconsin. Valley has assets of $4.3 billion and currently serves Wisconsin through 151 banking offices with additional financial service companies engaged in insurance, trust services, securities, credit card servicing and bank consulting services. The company's common stock is traded on the National Market System under the NASDAQ symbol VYBN.

Things Taken for Granted

What do you miss about home now that you are away at college? This was the question posed to six 1992 Kewaskum High School graduates. "For many freshmen college students, getting used to the personal transition of long distance relationships with old friends and family may be hard," said Lori Develice, a community advisor at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. Tina Bath, a student at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, agrees with Develice. Bath said, "I miss my family, especially Tammy, my sister, and my nephews, Justin and Alex."

Jennifer Schinker, who is currently enrolled at Carthage College, said "Besides missing my family, I miss the friends that I have left behind, but this has not stopped me from making new friends on campus." Another Kewaskum High Alumni, Heide Gruhle, who attends the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, said, "Besides missing my friends, I miss the times I have shared with my cat."

Another aspect of college life that does not live up to students' expectations is the quality of the hot meals; students miss home-cooked meals. Many of the meals prepared by the colleges are not served to the students' liking, who are used to eating real meat and chicken as opposed to processed meat and chicken. Nancy Neumann, who is presently studying at Carroll College said, "I am sick of eating cheeseburgers!"

Another subject which is complained about by dorm residents is the high price of washing and drying laundry. Sheldon Oppermann, a student at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, said "I miss free laundry." In the dorms at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, the price of washing clothes is seventy-five cents. For drying clothes, it may cost much more if the clothes do not get dry the first time; then an additional seventy-five cents needs to be added to the machine. Aimee Marshall, another student at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, said, "I am going to try to do most of my washing at home, but it will be inevitable to do some here at college."

Although students have many complaints about college life, it is definitely an experience they will never forget. They are having the time of their lives enjoying their freedoms and living on their own.

United Way Final Number for 1992: $808,064

"Washington County Cares" The final outcome of the annual United Way campaign reflects that this was more than just a slogan in 1992.

Continuing a successful tradition of helping the local community meet health and human care needs, the United Way of Washington County announced their final 1992 campaign total of $808,064.

This effort exceeded the $785,000 goal by more than $23,000.

"We are so pleased with the wonderful outcome of the campaign," said Paul Christensen, Campaign Chairman. "The success speaks well of the ongoing support and caring spirit displayed by Washington County businesses, individuals and employee groups in the nine communities we represent. More than ever, I am convinced that Washington County DOES care!"

Board President Tom Lindell also commented favorably on the outcome. "The real beneficiaries are the thousands of recipients of agency services throughout the County. This helps improve the quality of life for everyone," he said.

"Agency needs always outweigh the amount of dollars we can raise, so the extra dollars will be put to good use," said Lindell.

Key business and individual donors will be honored at a special reception in late March.

Final totals posted in each division are: Key Firms - $306,601; Industrial & Manufacturing - $20,432; Contractors - $5,801; Retail - $27,525; Commercial - $8,357; Transportation - $11,361; Finance - $58,164; Education - $24,260.

Pension Rights for Women

Many middle-age and elderly women rely heavily on their husband's pension plans, and because women often outlive their spouses, it is women who suffer the most when pension benefits are unavailable. Therefore it is critical to learn about an employers pension benefits, and what legal rights women have to their spouse's pensions.

One of the first things women need to do is to understand the employer's company pension plan, which can be done by calling the spouse's employer. Then ask who the pension plan administrator is, and how to contact that person.

By law, the pension plan administrator is required to provide certain documents pertaining to the pension plan. These documents include a summary plan description, and the official plan document. These documents will describe what the eligibility requirements are for participating in a pension plan, at what age the worker can receive a full pension, and how to calculate the amount of benefit.

Also ask for an individual benefits statement, which shows the worker's accrued benefits, as well as helps the reader estimate what will be paid out to the pensioner upon retirement. Please be sure to get all information in writing.

Also know the answer to these questions to avoid unpleasant surprises regarding future pension benefits:

Does your employer or your husband's employer pay into a pension plan?

Are you vested? And what is the pension worth to you today?

How will the pension be paid out? In a lump sum or over a period of years?

If the worker covered by the pension plan were to become disabled or died before reaching normal retirement age, would the spouse receive any benefits? If so, how much and when?

If the pensioner dies after reaching retirement age, what is the spouse entitled to receive?

Will the pension benefits be reduced if by the time you begin drawing the pension, one or both of you are also receiving Social Security checks?

Once you know the company's pension plan, make sure you receive everything the law says you're entitled to. The Retirement Equity Act of 1984 was designed to address some private pension inequities.

The law, recognizing that woman may enter the work force early and interrupt their careers to raise families, lowers from 22 to 18 the age at which pension plans begin counting service for pension vesting purposes. It also allows employees who have worked fewer than five years to take up to five years off without losing pension credit for their early service.

The law also authorizes, but not requires, courts to treat a spouse's pension as an asset of the marriage which can be divided up as part of a divorce settlement, or included in the terms of a qualified domestic relations order. It also allows courts to award survivors benefits of pensions to parties involved in divorce.

The law makes survivor benefits automatic should the worker die and the spouse sur-

St. Agnes Hospital Opens Center for Sleep Disorders

St. Agnes Hospital opened a new Center for Sleep Disorders on January 4. The center will utilize sleep studies to diagnose and treat sleep-related disorders, which can include difficulties falling asleep, staying asleep or remaining awake.

A sleep study can assist a physician to identify a specific sleep-related problem and determine the most effective treatment. Most sleep disorders can be effectively treated once they have been diagnosed. While some conditions require medication, others may necessitate a change in daily habits and working schedule.

St. Agnes will utilize two private sleep rooms that replicate a homelike bedroom atmosphere. Rooms include a bed, recliner, television and private bathroom. Each room has sophisticated equipment to monitor sleep patterns, breathing, heart activity and body movements throughout the night.

Michael J. Perlmutter, M.D. will serve as medical director of The Center for Sleep Disorders. Perlmutter said a dramatic need exists in Fond du Lac and area communities for this service. "Three to five percent of the population nationwide has some type of sleep-related problem. Since there is not a center accessible and close to our community, we felt our community would benefit from this service," he said.

"St. Agnes Hospital's mission is to provide appropriate services to meet the needs of our community," James J. Sexton, president/CEO of St. Agnes Hospital, said. "Our preliminary research showed that between 700 to 900 cases of sleep apnea (non-breathing episodes during sleep) occur in this area each year. Not only will participants eliminate inconvenient travel, but they will also be able to work with a physician familiar with their medical history."

Sleep-related disorders can have a devastating effect on a person, Perlmutter said. "It can be very debilitating. Without proper amounts of sleep, people have problems functioning during the day. They can experience job related problems. They lose their ability to concentrate. It affects their personal and social life."

The hospital's Center for Sleep Disorders recognizes that many sleep-related disorders may be influenced and treated by a vast number of other health disciplines. A newly organized Sleep Disorders Task Force has been established. The task force membership includes physician specialists in Family Practice, Neurology, Surgery and Psychiatry, and hospital staff from the Counseling Center, Biofeedback, Respiratory Care, Dietary, Social Services and Home Oxygen/Durable Medical Equipment.

Contact your personal physician if you have symptoms or are suffering from a sleep-related disorder.

Mrs. Edna Walters of the Town of Farmington, residing on Route 2, Kewaskum, received a telegram from the war department last week reporting her son, Tech. Sgt. Joseph H. Walters, missing in action in the western European area since January 3. No details were given in the telegram. The young man enlisted in the army air corps on November 26, 1940, at the age of 20 years. Before his enlistment he held a position as a draftsman at the courthouse in West Bend. The last time he was home was on Sept. 18, 1942, when he spent a brief furlough with his mother and sister, Ethel, 14. At that time he became engaged to Miss Marlay Schacht of the Town of Farmington. Last word was heard from him on December 21, 1942, when he sent a letter to his folks from his station somewhere in England. He was a radio operator and gunner in the army air corps.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Reilly of near Campbellsport received a letter from their son, Thomas C. Reilly on Tuesday. He was seriously wounded on December 21, while in action in Buna. He is confined to a hospital in Australia. He has two brothers in the service, Emmett, who is in Iceland and George in Australia.

Glendon C. Abel, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Abel of Wayne, and a student in the Kewaskum High School, left for the Navel Training station at Great Lakes, Illinois on Friday, Jan. 8, to begin training in the navy. He enlisted in the navy on December 31.

If this isn't a real old-fashioned winter then we've never (shiver) seen one. Winter has definitely established itself and it's the real (shiver) thing. Snow, blow, shiver and shovel have been vogue the past week. When the bottom dropped out of the thermometer Wednesday morning, we wondered what Russia's got in the line of winter weather that we "ain't" got. Maybe 25 years from now we'll be saying to our children, "Shaw, this winter isn't anything, you should have been through the one in '43." Anyway, let it be known that 19 inches of snow has fallen in the past week and thermometers recorded as low as 25 to 30 degrees below zero Wednesday morning of this week. By actual measurement we now have 25 inches of snow on the level... almost up to the hips. That's a lot of unpasteurized water. We've had some snow or sign of it nearly every day since the holidays. All right, quit snickering all you guys in service stationed in southern climates this winter. For your benefit we wish we had some pictures to show of the huge drifts and piles of snow in and around good old Kewaskum. The big problem is where to pile this huge amount of snow and our citizens desperately looked for additional space about their properties. Snow is piled high on both sides of sidewalks, or in some places, 6 or 7 feet high on Main Street.

Albert E. Reif, state forest supervisor for the Kettle Moraine State forest development, who was fatally wounded by a hunter in Florence County November 18, is the subject of a full page tribute of appreciation by C. L. Harrington, superintendent of forests and parks on page one in the current bulletin of the state conservation department. Reif, who made his home and spent much time at the Mauthe Lake section of the Kettle Moraine Forest in the Town of Auburn, was killed near the Wisconsin-Michigan border while patrolling with another conservation warden during the deer hunting season.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boegel of the Town of Wayne born on January 7, was baptized on Sunday, January 17, by the Rev. F.C. LaBuw in Holy Trinity Parish Chapel. He was given the name John Frank. Sponsors were Miss Jeanette Werner and Wilbur Gitter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller of this village are the parents of a daughter born at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend, on Sunday, January 17. Mrs. Miller is the former Miss Laura Hirsig.

Cpl. and Mrs. Sylvester Harter are the parents of a 9 1/2 lb. baby daughter, born January 18, at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Harter in the Town of Auburn. Cpl. Harter is stationed at Camp Carson, Colorado, and his wife, the former Miss Anna Schoofs, is making her home in this village.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Seifert of New Fane at St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac, on Friday, January 15. Mrs. Seifert is the former Miss Malinda Heberer.

Pvt. and Mrs. Albert Schaeffer of Route 1, Kewaskum, are the parents of a daughter, born at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend on January 17. Pvt. Schaeffer left this week for Fort Sheridan, Illinois, to enter service with a group of county selectees.

Just as the residents of our little city were about to take a deep breath and stretch their tired limbs after shoveling themselves out of the snow drifts caused by the blizzard of January 6th and 7th, another storm more severe and of longer duration than the first, began piling up banks of snow, blockading streets, roadways and railroad tracks. The second storm of the season struck this community last Friday evening and continued in uninterrupted fury until late Sunday afternoon. The last passenger train during the period of the blizzard passed through here at 8:38 Friday evening and service on the local division of the Chicago and Northwestern was then abandoned until Sunday afternoon when several passenger trains were run, preceded by snow plows. Travel through the country is carried on by driving across fields, through woods and over the ice covered lakes and ponds.

The wedding of Miss Lilly Stern of the Town of Kewaskum to William Marquardt of Dundee was solemnized Saturday afternoon.

The Kewaskum High School Girls' basketball team defeated the Plymouth High School Girls team in a game played here Friday evening, January 11th, by a score of 7 to 2. The Plymouth girls took their defeat good-naturedly but they were somewhat peeved at the weatherman in that he sent the blizzard at such a time to make it impossible for them to return to their hometown until Sunday afternoon. The Kewaskum team consists of Gertrude Mohme, Gladys Perschbacher, Corena Schaefer, Florence Groeschel and Esther Raether.

Last Tuesday morning at about one o'clock, fire was discovered in Jos. Biersack's barn at Barton, and before the fire department managed to get it under control it destroyed the barn, dance hall and an adjoining building formerly used as a butcher shop. Mr. Biersack's saloon and residence were also badly damaged.

Fred Schaefer Jr., who is with Headquarters Troop, 1st Regiment Wisconsin Cavalry, N.G., located at Camp Mac Arthur, Waco, Texas, was hurt recently by his horse falling upon him. Recent reports are that he is alright again.

Corporal Edwin Backus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Backus, of this village, who is with the 119th Machine Gun Co., at Waco, Texas, was quite seriously ill with pneumonia. Last reports are that he is getting along nicely.

CAROL L. SMITH

Carol L. Smith, 60, of 395 Grove St., Lomira, died Friday, Jan. 15, 1993, at Clearview Nursing Home, Juneau, following a lingering illness.

She was born June 9, 1932, in rural Lomira, a daughter of Carl and Myrtle Guell Mintner. On June 21, 1952, she married Floyd W. Smith at Ebenezer Evangelical United Brethren Church, Lomira.

WMMB and Washington County Dairy Leader Group to Co-Host Dairy Information Forum

Expert cheesemaking is alive and well in Wisconsin. Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board (WMMB) Directors (left to right) Fred Fisher, Valders, and James Stemper, Plymouth, sample the fine specialty cheeses produced here in America's Dairyland. Producers can learn more about WMMB's cheese marketing and other promotion, research and education programs at one of 45 Dairy Information Forums. Wisconsin's County Dairy Leader Groups and WMMB are co-sponsoring the state-wide meetings Dec. 29 through March 30.

MADISON, Wis. (Jan. 5, 1993) — The Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board (WMMB) and the Washington County Dairy Leader Group are teaming up to host a Dairy Information Forum, specifically designed for Washington County dairy farmers. This year's forum will be held Jan. 26, 1993, from 10:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. at the Addison Town Hall in Allenton, Wis.

"We've changed the WMMB regional meeting format to make it easier for dairy producers to attend and participate," says James Stemper, WMMB farmer-director serving Washington County. "Our Dairy Information Forum will be smaller and tailored more to the interests of local dairy farmers. We'll also devote more time to open discussion."

The Washington County Dairy

Leader Group helped plan the forum, including choosing topics that WMMB staff and others will discuss. In addition to a WMMB program presentation, the Washington County Dairy Leader Group will provide an overview of their local promotions designed to increase dairy product consumption.

Stemper will briefly explain his responsibilities as a WMMB farmer-director and describe his efforts to represent Washington County dairy producers. A WMMB video also will be shown, and refreshments/meal will be served.

All Washington County dairy farmers were mailed an invitation to the Dairy Information Forum. "If you haven't mailed back your RSVP card yet, please do," says Stemper. "If you haven't received your invitation, but want to attend, call Liz Schroeder immediately at WMMB 1-800-747-9662."

Community Book Club at UWWC

The popular "Community Book Club" is again being offered by the University of Wisconsin Center-Washington County Continuing Education Extension with teacher and discussion leader Marie Pitz.

This is the eighth year Pitz has led the book club and shared her love of reading with others. The club includes people of all ages and backgrounds and anyone is welcome to join.

The first book will be Foreign Affairs by Allison Lurie, a fictional story of two American professors of literature who travel on sabbatical to London. The book provides a comparison of the worlds of England and the United States through the professors' involvement in new relationships.

The group will meet in room 220 from 1:30 - 3:30 on Friday each month, beginning January 22, 1993. The fee is $10.

To register, contact Laurie Meacham, UWWC Continuing Education Office, 335-5208.

Timber Wolf Shot During Gun Deer Season

PARK FALLS... State and federal wildlife officials have confirmed that an adult timber wolf was found shot during the recent gun deer hunting season. The carcass of the 83 pound male wolf was found by a young hunter near Colfax, about 15 miles northwest of Eau Claire, according to Adrian Wydeven, a nongame biologist and wolf specialist with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

"This is the second time in the last six years that we know of a wolf being shot during the gun deer season," Wydeven said, adding that a female wolf pup was shot in Lincoln County during the 1986 season.

Timber wolves, also known as grey wolves, are protected throughout Wisconsin as both federal and state endangered species. According to Chuck Pils, director of the DNR Bureau of Endangered Resources, portions of northern Wisconsin are closed to coyote hunting during the gun deer season to protect wolves from being mistaken for coyotes and being shot. Killing a protected species can result in both state and federal fines.

Although Colfax is south of the area closed to coyote hunting, wolves are still protected statewide, Pils said. "As our timber wolf population begins to grow, it is essential that hunters who want to shoot coyotes can positively identify their target as a coyote and not a wolf," Pils said.

Although Colfax is somewhat removed from the heavily forested areas of northern Wisconsin that is home to most of the state's wolf packs, Wydeven said wolves may occasionally move into less suitable areas. The area where the wolf was shot is about 70 miles southwest of the state's nearest wolf pack, located in eastern Sawyer County.

Wisconsin currently has about 50 timber wolves living in 12 to 13 packs, located mostly in north central and northwestern Wisconsin, Wydeven said.

"Lone dispersing wolves will move long distances. In 1989 a wolf we were monitoring in Lincoln County traveled more than 300 miles into Ontario," Wydeven said.

In addition, the department recently followed six dispersing wolves that traveled 85 miles from their normal range. Wolves often follow river drainages and heavily forested areas when they travel, but sometimes cross large open areas such as farmland or frozen lakes.

The wolf carcass was obtained by DNR biologists in early December, and Wydeven identified it as a timber wolf. The carcass was then taken to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Wildlife Health Laboratory in Madison where a wildlife pathologist confirmed the wolf had been shot. The carcass has now been transferred to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Forensics Laboratory in Ashland, Oregon for further testing.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources are conducting an investigation into the shooting. Anyone with information on the wolf shooting may call their local DNR warden listed under state government in the telephone book or call the confidential DNR Hotline at 1-800-847-9364.

Forum on Proposed Expansion of Kohler Andrea State Parks

The public is invited to a forum on the proposed expansion of Kohler-Andrea State Parks, to be held from 2 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, January 27, at the parks' Sanderling Nature Center.

The Department is proposing to expand the parks, currently encompassing 1,113 acres, by another 345 acres. The Department already owns 70 of those acres. The additional 275 acres are located on 11 adjacent properties in Sheboygan County's Town of Wilson. If the parks' project boundary were expanded, the Department would buy those properties as they would become available.

The forum is being held to get public comment on the proposal, which is currently the subject of a Department feasibility study. Department staff will be present to discuss the proposal.

"We hope to receive plenty of ideas and suggestions from our customers at the forum," said Kohler-Andrea Superintendent Jim Buchholz, adding that park entrance fees will be waived for those attending the forum.

Draft copies of the feasibility study are available for review at the Kohler-Andrea office, Mead Public Library in Sheboygan, Wilson Town Hall and Southeast District headquarters in Milwaukee. Comments can also be called in to the district's State Parks and Forest Hotline at 1-800-722-9882.

DNR Says to Use Caution When Venturing Onto Ice-Covered Waters

MILWAUKEE... Although winter cold is here with a vengeance, ice conditions continue to be dangerous on many Wisconsin waters, particularly in the southeast.

"Ice conditions have been spotty," said Department of Natural Resources Southeast District Warden Supervisor Ron Preder.

Nine snowmobiles and motor vehicles have gone through the ice in southeastern Wisconsin this past weekend alone, he said. Two people died last Friday night on Camp Lake in Kenosha County while they were attempting to rescue two snowmobilers in the water.

Preder recommends that anyone traveling on ice throughout the state to use caution; but particularly, he said, anyone travelling on ice in the southeast part of the state, where recent rains have weakened ice, needs to use extreme caution.

"People should always use extra caution with rivers," he said, singling out the Fox, Sheboygan and Milwaukee Rivers. He also identified Geneva Lake's Williams Bay and Pewaukee Lake as trouble spots where there is still open water, adding that there are others.

In general, Preder recommends people use the following safety guidelines for ice travel: at least four inches of ice for walking; six inches for snowmobiles; and 12 inches for cars and trucks. Preder said the Department doesn't recommend vehicular travel on ice anywhere, especially in the southeast. He added that motorists should be extremely cautious on the ice at night, when the majority of breakthroughs occur.

When on the ice watch for dark spots indicating thin ice or open water, Preder said, and avoid areas that show no evidence of past travel. He advised those on an unfamiliar body of water to check with local people regarding ice conditions.

"If you break through the ice, don't panic," he said. Wearing a personal flotation device is advisable for anyone traveling on ice, but if you're not wearing one, air trapped in your clothes may keep you afloat for some time.

"Try and roll your way onto solid ice. If you have any sharp objects use them to claw your way to safety. Once you're out of the water, don't stand up. Keep rolling until you're well away from the danger area," he added.

If you see someone in the water, be extremely cautious in any rescue attempt, Preder said. Try crawling toward them, preferably pushing a ladder, lumber, or other object ahead of you for them to grab onto.

Hypothermia is a danger for those who have been in the water. They should receive medical attention, Preder said. "Don't take this kind of thing lightly," he said.

Preder also cautioned against mixing alcohol with outdoor activities such as ice fishing and snowmobiling. "Alcohol affects decision-making and your reactions, making you more vulnerable to accidents and hypothermia," he said.

The aspirin substitute acetaminophen was first used in medicine in 1893.

Northern Pike Daily Bag Limit in County Remains at Five

Washington County anglers may have been surprised to see a two-fish daily bag limit for northern pike in Washington County listed in the 1993 Wisconsin Hook and Line Fishing Regulations.

"The correct bag limit for northern pike in Washington County is five fish, as it has been for many years," said Fisheries Biologist John Nelson. "Washington County was inadvertently added to the list of southeastern counties with a daily bag limit of two pike."

Although the Washington County bag limit remains at five fish, Nelson encouraged anglers to voluntarily limit their catch to one or two northern pike.

Heart of Gold is New Lottery Game

MADISON... The first new instant scratch and win game of 1993 is sure to win the hearts of Wisconsin Lottery instant game players.

HEART OF GOLD, which was delivered to nearly 5,000 Wisconsin Lottery instant game retailers statewide on Monday, January 11, offers a top prize of $100.

HEART OF GOLD players try to match three like dollar amounts on a single ticket to win. Matching two dollar amounts and a heart also means the ticket is a winner.

HEART OF GOLD is the 45th instant scratch and win game introduced by the lottery since the first game, MATCH 3, went on sale September 14, 1988.

The Wisconsin Lottery has sold more than 1 billion instant tickets since the lottery began. Instant games, such as HEART OF GOLD, generate more than two-thirds of the lottery's sales revenue.

Non-winning HEART OF GOLD tickets may win up to $3,000 in the lottery's weekly Home Player drawing.

To enter the Home Player drawing, send five non-winning tickets from any instant scratch game currently on sale, including HEART OF GOLD, to: Home Player, Madison, Wisconsin 53775.

Each week five Home Player entrants win between $750 and $3,000 on the MONEY GAME television show.

Lady Indians Now Alone in Second Place Winninghoff's Buzzer-Beater Stuns Two Rivers

By Noel Stollenwerk

TWO RIVERS - Kewaskum girls basketball coach Glenn Eichstedt called it a great high school basketball game. Never at a loss for words, Eichstedt may have hit the nail right on the head this time.

The Indians' Robyn Winninghoff, a clutch player for Eichstedt all year, came up big once again here, last Friday night against Two Rivers, who came into the game tied with the Indians for second place in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference race.

Winninghoff hit a 12-foot jump shot as time expired, giving the Indians a thrilling 53-51 victory, and leaving them alone in second place, one-half game behind unbeaten Chilton.

"We had a tremendous game... our best game of the year," Eichstedt said of the victory. "It was a solid team effort."

The game was destined to be a good one, as both teams like to press full-court and fast-break. With the constant pressure on the ball, surprisingly there were few turnovers in the contest.

"It was a well-played game," the KHS coach said, noting that it was Parent's Night at Two Rivers, which brought out a pep band, pom pom squad, and a huge crowd. "This was such an important game. We played real smart."

The game was close throughout the first half, with the Purple Raiders holding a 10-9 advantage after one quarter. Both teams got things going offensively in the second period, combining for 36 points, as the Indians came back to hold a slim 28-27 edge at the half.

Eichstedt was happy with the lead, considering, "I didn't think we had taken care of the ball very well in the first half." The Indians didn't seem to be bothered by the constant Two Rivers pressure either. "We seemed to be attacking their press real well."

But the Indians came out a bit flat in the third quarter, as Two Rivers fought their way to a 38-32 lead at one point. But Kewaskum battled back to cut the gap to just three, at 41-38, heading into the fourth.

"Things were looking up for us at that point," Eichstedt explained. "Even though we were still trailing, you could just sense in the huddle that the momentum was with us."

It was nip and tuck in the final stanza, until Ginger Wiesner hit a pair of free throws with :54 to go, giving the Indians a 51-49 lead.

Two Rivers brought the ball down and quickly tied things up with a basket at the :40 mark, and then got the ball back when the Indians were whistled for traveling with :27 to play.

The Purple Raiders returned the favor, turning the ball over with under :10 play. The Indians then called a timeout to set up their final shot.

"We set up a press break to get the ball downcourt," Eichstedt said of the final play. "We wanted to clear out and get the ball to Robyn underneath. We figured with seven seconds to go, they wouldn't want to foul."

And as the KHS boss put it, "Unbelievably, the play worked to perfection," with Winninghoff getting the ball in good position for the winning shot. "It was just a tremendously exciting finish," Eichstedt said.

Winninghoff wound up leading the Indians with a game-high 18 points and 12 rebounds. "She's come through so many times for us," Eichstedt said of the 6-3 senior. "Right now she's playing very opportunistic basketball."

Wiesner also hit double figures with her 13 points, while Missy Radtke scored nine points and pulled down 10 rebounds, despite being in foul trouble for most of the game.

Eichstedt had special praise for his guard tandem of Bonnie Schlice and Kim Sabish. The pair held Two Rivers' Angie Gates, who came into the game second in the EW with her 18 point average, to just three points.

"I really felt our defense did a great job," Eichstedt said. "You have to score some points, but it's the defense that gives us the chance to win."

The win gives the Indians a 5-1 mark in the EW, and leaves them one-half game behind Chilton, whom the Indians will host next Friday night.

Overall, the win upped Kewaskum's record to 9-3. The Indians take a break from conference action to play at Oostburg on Tuesday, and then return home Friday night to host Ozaukee.

The Indians return to EW play next Tuesday, January 26, when they host New Holstein in what Eichstedt hopes is a warm-up for next Friday's tilt with Chilton.

Lady Indians Hang On to Edge Plymouth, 38-37

By Noel Stollenwerk

PLYMOUTH - You hear all the time about sporting events being a game of inches. Here, last Tuesday night, you could add, "a game of seconds," and even half-seconds, to that adage.

That's because if Kewaskum's girls basketball game with Plymouth had lasted a second, or even a half-second longer, the Panthers might have come out on top. Instead, it was the Indians who were celebrating, as they held on for a wild 38-37 victory.

In a game that was full of streaks, the host Panthers were the team to post the final rally. After the Indians had taken a 38-31 advantage, Plymouth scored six straight points in the final minute to pull to within one, at 38-37 with under :10 to play.

The Panthers quickly fouled, and the Indians' Ginger Wiesner missed the front end of a bonus, giving the Panthers one more try.

After two quick passes, a Plymouth player had the ball near the free throw line, where she turned and tried to fire the shot. But the Indians' Robyn Winninghoff was right there, and partially blocked the attempt as time expired.

The officials seemed to blow their whistles as the buzzer sounded, but after several anxious moments, no call was made and the Indians waltzed off with the win.

"Robyn put her hand up and partially blocked the shot," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the play. "Both benches were kind of standing there, but they made no call. We'll take it."

The Indians had gained control of the game early, as they ran to a 14-6 first-quarter edge.

But Plymouth held the Indians to just three points in the second stanza, and the hosts came back to take a 18-17 halftime lead. "We were very impatient in the second quarter," Eichstedt explained.

Winninghoff put her team back in front in the third quarter, though. The 6-3 senior scored nine of her game-high 17 points in the third, as Kewaskum led 29-27 heading into the final period.

Heidi Miller led Plymouth with 15 points, while Wiesner added nine for the Indians, who missed three bonus opportunities down the stretch to allow Plymouth back into the game.

"We felt pretty much in control," with the seven point lead late, said Eichstedt. "We had our opportunities, we just didn't take advantage. All of a sudden, it was a close game again."

The win upped the Indians mark in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference to 4-1, and to 7-3 overall.

KEWASKUM (14-3-12-9) - Sabish 2, Wiesner 9, Schlice 4, Winninghoff 17, Radtke 2, Bruendl 4. Free Throws - 7 of 13, Fouls - 16.

PLYMOUTH (6-12-9-10) - M. Miller 2, H. Miller 15, Sorenson 2, Adams 4, Patenude 2, Haase 6, Pfrang 6. Free Throws - 7 of 12, Fouls - 14.

KHS Boys Lackluster in Loss to Plymouth, 61-56

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum boys basketball team dug itself into a hole here, last Saturday afternoon, and despite a valiant effort in the second half, the Indians couldn't dig their way out.

Falling behind by 16 points at the half, the Indians pulled to within one in the fourth quarter against Plymouth, but a late surge by the Panthers was too much for Kewaskum, which dropped a 61-56 decision.

The Indians were outshot, out hustled, and outplayed in the opening half, as the Panthers raced to a 15-8 first quarter edge, and extended the gap to 39-23 by halftime.

"We didn't play very well in the first half...got off to a real bad start," KHS coach Jim Westphal said of his team's play. "They trapped us at mid-court, and that gave us trouble for a while. We had too many turnovers and got ourselves into a big hole."

Kewaskum switched to a man-to-man defense in the second half, and it seemed to spark the club. The Indians, led by the senior trio of Adam Laatsch, Jim Marx and Keith Herman, made a third-quarter surge that cut the deficit to just 49-43 heading into the final stanza.

Laatsch and Marx accounted for 14 of the Indians' 20 third-quarter points, while Herman led the way defensively, as he has done many times this season.

"Herman almost singlehandedly brought us back," Westphal said of the scrappy senior. "We really didn't change much in the second half. We just shot better."

A basket by Laatsch pulled the Indians to within two, at 51-49, early in the fourth, but the Panthers' Paul O'Hearn answered with a big three-point play.

The Indians came right back with a pair of hoops, the second from Laatsch to pull the hosts to within one, but again it was O'Hearn coming up with a big offensive rebound and basket to give the Panthers some breathing room.

"He had an awfully good game," Westphal said of the 6-8 O'Hearn. "He gave us some trouble inside."

The Indians had a chance to tie late, but down by three points,

Marx tried to drive for a quick score and instead was whistled for his fifth foul.

The Indians got no closer the rest of the way, as missed free throw opportunities once again hurt their chances. The Indians finished just six of 17 from the line.

"I just don't know what it is," Westphal said of the poor free throw shooting. "You're not going to beat many teams that way."

O'Hearn led all scorers with 23 points, while Trevor Streblov added 13 for the Panthers. The Indians held Kevin Steltenpohl, who came into the game as Plymouth's leading scorer, to just four points.

"We did a good job defensively on him," Westphal said. "But O'Hearn just had a field day. He was somewhat of a surprise."

Laatsch led Kewaskum with 22 points, while Herman finished with 16 and Marx 10.

"Adam played pretty well," Westphal said, noting that Laatsch led the team with 12 rebounds. "Marx also did a good job on the boards." As for Herman, "He played exceptionally well. I sort of felt bad for him," Westphal explained, pointing to several missed free throw attempts by Herman late in the contest.

"I'm at a loss to explain it," Westphal said of the Indians' recent first-half droughts. "We're not as ready to play as we should be. The intensity just isn't there."

The loss dropped the Indians to 3-2 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference after a 3-0 start. Kewaskum is 3-6 on the year, and had another stiff test Tuesday against Two Rivers.

The Indians will have a break in their conference schedule, and in the meantime will play at Cedar Grove this Friday, and then will host Germantown Saturday night, with JV action getting underway at 6:00 p.m.

PLYMOUTH (15-24-10-12) — Price 2, O'Hearn 23, Streblov 13, Melis 3, Lisowe 6, Steltenpohl 4, Knowles 10, Free Throws - 11 of 20, Fouls - 22.

KEWASKUM (8-15-20-13) — Laatsch 22, Knoeck 2, Marx 10, Herman 16, Zautner 2, Jacak 2, Wichtowski 2, Free Throws - 6 of 17, Fouls - 18.

KHS Grapplers Overcome Raider Gimmicks

KEWASKUM... If you didn't know that the Kewaskum wrestling team had never beaten Kiel before, watching the teams' meet last Friday night would have given you the impression that it was the Raiders who were looking for their first win over the Indians.

Despite several switches and other gimmicks, Kiel was unable to hold off the Indians, who posted an easy 45-26 win, their first-ever over the Raiders.

In a desperate attempt to salvage their perfect record against the Indians, the Raiders tried switching several wrestlers to different weight classes in order to get matchups that favored them.

A couple of Raider moves worked, but it wasn't nearly enough to overcome a quick start by the Indians.

"I really didn't know how tough they'd be," KHS coach John Nell said of the Raiders. "I really felt that if we could win one of the first two matches... that would cinch it for us."

What happened is that the Indians won both matches, each by pinfall. Troy Maertz started the onslaught with a pin in 1:23 over Westerbarth, while Jake Gundrum came right back with a fall over Kirsch in 1:30.

That's when the Kiel coaching staff started their antics, switching Hornick, who finished fourth at state last year, to 119 pounds, where he wrestled the Indians' Jake Thull. Thull, the less experienced of the two, was no match for Hornick, who won in 2:33.

Then the Indians' Mark Dziedzic, who entered the meet with an 18-1 mark, pinned Nett in :30, after Kiel's J. Kirsch, who weighed in at the 125-pound spot, was held back to face Tyler Dieringer at 130 pounds.

"They kept their (good) kids away from Mark," Nell said, adding that he really didn't have a problem with the moves. "I think they were just trying to salvage some points."

But the Raiders gave away quite a few in the process, as they gave away forfeit points to Josh Kurtz (152), Chad Muckerheide (160), and Todd Muckerheide (189). "They pretty much assured me that Josh would have a match," Nell said. "They kind of surprised me. I always want to see my kids wrestle."

Still, Nell was pleased with his team's first win over the Raiders. "They all wrestled well," he said. "Our younger kids came through real well."

After a tough match at Cedar Grove (ranked third in Division III) on Tuesday, the Indians return for their final home meet of the year this Thursday against Sheboygan Falls.

Indian Wrestlers Capture Waupun Invite Team Title

By Noel Stollenwerk

WAUPUN — The Kewaskum wrestling team has had trouble getting the respect of voters in the state crossface polls. That lack of respect doesn't bother KHS coach John Nell, though. He'll be much happier watching his team pile up the wins.

Nell couldn't have been much more happy than he was last Saturday afternoon, as his Indians rolled over the competition at the Waupun Invitational. The Indians took first place in the highly-competitive meet, scoring 182 points to outdistance Winneconne, who was second with 172.5.

In third place was Lancaster, which was ranked fifth in Division II, just a couple of points behind Campbellsport in the latest polls.

"It really doesn't bother me at all," Nell said of the Indians' absence in the rankings. "Progress is what I like to see, and we're certainly getting better."

KHS' usual dynamic duo of Mark Dziedzic (125 pounds) and Josh Kurtz (152) once again easily won their respective weight classes. The pair had another familiar face join them on the victory stand, though, as Mark Morell showed what he's capable of, recording three quick pins to win the 171-pound bracket.

Morell opened with a 3:45 fall over New Holstein's Brad Schwoer, and then downed Columbus' Dee Hansell in the semifinals in just 1:04.

Morell went up against Kimberly's Bryan Mader in the finals, with Mader entering the match with a fine 13-5 record. But Morell wasn't to be denied this week, as he put Mader's shoulders down in just seven seconds into the second period. The wins upped Morell's season record to 15-6.

"He's made a few mistakes this season, and consequently had a couple of tough losses," Nell said of the senior Morell. "He's a real quality wrestler, though. It was nice to see him do well."

Dziedzic had little trouble in recording his third tournament championship of the year. Dziedzic pinned Waupun's Kent Vroman in 1:01, and then played with Winneconne's Rick Schmude, recording a 16-2 decision.

In the finals, Dziedzic wasted no time in beating Markesan's Eric Krueger, who was pinned in just 1:09 by Dziedzic. The victory moved Dziedzic to 18-1 on the year.

Kurtz also walked through his bracket, despite his being one of the toughest weight classes in the meet. The defending state champ pinned Markesan's Nathan Sanders right at the end of the first period in the opening round, and then won by default over New Holstein's Jeramie Lefebvre.

In the finals, Kurtz drew Waupun's Chad Peer, who entered the match with a 15-2 mark. Kurtz, however, stayed unbeaten on the year, as he pinned Peer in 2:41 to raise his mark to 17-0.

"He had a pretty tough weight class," Nell said of Kurtz, the lone state champ in school history. "Both he and Mark had a pretty easy time of things."

The Indians got a pair of seconds from the Muckerheide brothers. Chad, at 160, drew a bye in the opening round, and then beat Columbus' Jeff Nehmer 7-2 in the semi's.

Bill Arnett of Winneconne wore Muckerheide down in the finals, though, and came away with a 7-3 decision.

Todd Muckerheide also got a bye in the first round, and then pinned Lancaster's Jeff Bahl (1:20) to reach the finals, where he was up against Winneconne's Todd Robinson.

Muckerheide held his own against the talented Robinson, who entered with a 14-1 record. But Muckerheide was unable to come back from an early deficit, losing to Robinson 5-2.

"Todd was all over him... it was a lot closer than the final score," Nell said, adding that Chad "wrestled real well."

Brad Jackson also had a fine tournament, finishing second in the 140-pound class. Jackson opened with a 6-3 decision over Kimberly's Troy Hermus, and then drew Columbus' Steve Hansel who had lost just once prior to the match, and was the tournament's number one seed at the weight. Jackson fell behind early, and trailed 4-1 in the final period when he caught Hansel off guard, and pinned him in 5:28.

In the finals, though, Jackson was beaten by Winneconne's Brent Day, 9-2.

"He really came through," Nell said of Jackson, a junior. "That was a pleasant surprise."

KHS got thirds from Jake Gundrum (112), Rich Farchione (145), fifths from Jake Thull (119), Tyler Dieringer (130) and Tim Gundrum (HWT).

"Those were important points," Nell said of the fifth-place finishes from Thull, Dieringer and Gundrum. "A lot of times, those are the points that win it for you."

"That's exactly what happened Saturday, as Gundrum's ten points at the heavyweight spot represented the margin of victory for the Indians.

"I'm real happy with the kids," Nell concluded. "They all did a nice job."

Open House Forum On Proposed Ice Age Trail Corridor

Hikers can discuss the proposed Ice Age Trail corridor in Washington County at an open house forum scheduled for early February.

The Department of Natural Resource (DNR), the National Park Service (NPS) and the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation (IAPTF) recently completed planning work for the 45-mile trail corridor. The corridor defines a zone within which the Department may authorize state Stewardship grants to non-profit organizations for the acquisition and land rights for the Trail.

The open forum will be on: Wednesday, February 3, 4:00 - 8:00 p.m. at the Slinger Town Hall, 220 Slinger Road.

At the open forum, representatives from DNR, NPS and IAPTF will be on hand to discuss the plan. Written comments also are welcomed and should be submitted to the National Park Service, 700 Rayovac Drive, Suite 1000, Madison, WI 53702.

KHS to Add Soccer Next Fall

By Noel Stollenwerk

Calling it the most up-and-coming sport, the Kewaskum Board of Education last Monday approved the addition of soccer as a WIAA-sanctioned sport at Kewaskum High School.

KHS will begin offering the sport as an extra-curricular activity beginning with the 1993-94 school year. Participation will be open to both males and females, although the team will play squads mainly consisting of males.

"We think it's time that we offer this," District Administrator David Heather said at the meeting. Heather noted that there were at least 30 students that have already expressed an interest to play soccer, which will be a part of the fall sports schedule.

Presently, there are just two other Eastern Wisconsin Conference schools - New Holstein and Plymouth - that offer soccer to its students. However, there are many area teams, including Slinger, Random Lake, Port Washington, and both West Bend Schools, that offer the sport, and could be possible opponents.

Dave Rizzardi, athletic director at KHS, said that the addition

"didn't come out of the clear blue." A former soccer player himself at both the high school and college levels, Rizzardi noted, "It (adding the sport) has always been on my mind."

"I think it's a good sport for the kids," Rizzardi went on to say. "Everybody can play it, it's low cost to maintain, and it's good aerobic exercise."

KHS principal Charles Heidner supported the addition, but also cited budgetary concerns. "We can't start soccer at the expense of another sport," Heidner said, noting that his research found that start-up costs would be approximately $3,000-$3,500, not including the cost of a coach and uniforms.

Heather came up with similar numbers, but added that he didn't think it would hurt other sports. "I do not believe a soccer program will detract from the football program," which would be competing at the same time of year.

The sport will be open to both males and females, although it is not clear at this point just how many females would be interested. Girls soccer is normally a spring sport, and KHS would be allowed to participate in the WIAA Boys Soccer Tournament in fall if KHS chooses to use female players.

"Girls are welcome to come out," Rizzardi said, adding that many other schools have started their soccer programs the same way.

The addition of soccer brings the total number of extra-curricular sports at KHS to 17, nine for males and eight for females. Rizzardi said that number could possibly rise to nine for females, as either girls soccer or girls golf could be added, "if the numbers are there."
