Village Approves Contract for Recycling Service

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum Village Board unanimously approved hiring an outside contractor to handle the community's garbage and recycling pickup, beginning April 5th of this year.

The Board hired Hechimovich Sanitary Landfill, Inc. of Horicon to do the pickups, at a total cost of $83,472.49 for 1993. The Village will sign a three-year deal with Hechimovich, with an option for two additional years.

Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt said that the village had spent approximately $86,000 a year for garbage collection. Under the new contract, the cost will be around $60,000, although that doesn't necessarily mean that the village will save the difference.

"You have to keep in mind that we are not getting rid of the employees," Schmidt said, noting that those Public Works employees will be prorated to other jobs in the department. "In the long run, we will save because we won't have to be buying new equipment."

The contract will include all village residents and companies who currently have their garbage picked up by the village. Those residents will each receive one 18-gallon bin for recycling, with businesses and multi-family units receiving up to three bins each.

The bins, which will be dark green with a "Kewaskum recycles" emblem on them, will be bought from the Tulip Corporation of Milwaukee, at a cost of $4,540 for 1000. Almost half of the cost of the bins will be covered by a state grant.

Increases in the cost of the service will be tied to the cost of living index. The rates will be adjusted on January 1st of each year.

The services will be mandated by a village recycling ordinance that commands all properties within the village recycle using

Bonnie Eldredge New Village Postmaster

Bonnie Eldredge

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Kewaskum welcomes a new postmaster to the village, Bonnie Eldredge, who officially took over the new job on February 17.

"I was the talk at Buffy's", laughs Eldredge, referring to conversations held regarding what she should be called ... "postmaster or postmistress". "I don't believe in titles," was her answer. "Just call me Bonnie!"

She was born and raised in North Fond du Lac and spent four years in the Air Force. She started her postal career in 1975 as a Fond du Lac city letter carrier, and was promoted to Supervisor of Delivery and Collection for 67 carriers in 1980. She took over the position of Postmaster for New Holstein in 1989, which she held until her recent move to Kewaskum. "One of my dreams always was - shoot for the moon, settle for a star if you have to...I shot for the moon twice and got it ..."

Her presence is apparent as you walk in the post office and notice the door to her office is left open. "My open door policy", she explains. So far Eldredge has found Kewaskum to be small and friendly, and prefers this atmosphere over her past experiences in a big city office. "I wouldn't go back", she comments.

Bonnie looks forward to working with the community and has made it one of her quests in life to help people with their mail problems. "There's so much people don't know about the postal service, lots of people have questions." She also hopes to write some question and answer articles on topics such as mail fraud and what to do with packages you receive and didn't order.

Another love of her life is tours, especially for the children, but that doesn't exclude adults. "They ask me, 'when do I get to see it?', and her answer is just ask!"

Although she's only been here a week, she has lots to say about her new employees. "They're the most dedicated, hardworking and friendly employees - a great bunch of people." Employee involvement is high on her list of priorities. "This is a team and we're all team members. I involve them in decision making. People don't want to be numbers. I look at myself as a motivator."

"I'm excited to be here. Tell everyone the new shipment of Elvis stamps are in", she adds. Her love of the post office is genuine, and from here, well she hopes to some day be the first woman Postmaster General of the United States. But for the time being she's anxious to get to know the people of Kewaskum, so if you happen to see her at Buffy's just say "Hi Bonnie!"

Eight Page FFA Insert Included with Issue

National FFA Week
February 22-26

In honor of National FFA Week, February 22-26, the Kewaskum Chapter, under the guidance of Dave Rizzardi, Vo-Ag Instructor, is sponsoring an eight-page insert included with this week's issue.

The FFA officers along with the help of their instructor and other chapter representatives were instrumental in soliciting the ads, writing and news items and laying out the eight pages. It was then brought to the Statesman for typesetting, ad makeup, proofing and paste-up.

This year's theme is "FFA - The Spirit of Leadership." During FFA Week and throughout the year, FFA chapters conduct activities which contribute to their school, community and nation. They serve in the image of past leaders whose contributions made agriculture a strong and powerful segment of the national economy.

Each year FFA Week is held during the week of George Washington's birthday to recognize his leadership and commitment to American agriculture, as well as his military and patriotic contributions.

The National FFA Center is located on part of Washington's original Mount Vernon estate near Alexandria, Va.

Through their FFA experience, students will develop skills and knowledge to help them prepare for a career in agriculture. Their future in farming is our future as well.

We join the community in saluting the FFA during this, their special week. The members of the Kewaskum FFA have a great deal to be proud of.

Please help support your high school's Vocational Agriculture FFA program, and the advertisers who so graciously took out ads again in the FFA promotion.

FFA is a national organization of 401,574 members in 7,456 local chapters.

Two Way Race for Head of State Schools

Tuesday's primary for state schools superintendent narrowed the field in the race to succeed retiring head of the Dept. of Public Instruction, Herbert Grover.

Superintendent of Marshall schools, John Benson, and Hortonville High School English teacher Linda Cross came out the two top contenders out of nine candidates in the statewide election.

Grover steps down from the top education post after three terms, and the winner of the April 6th general election will take over as state superintendent. Topics up for debate include school choice programs and public school funding.

Arrest a Friend

Here's the chance of a lifetime! For $10 you can have your favorite person thrown in the slammer. That's right, thrown in jail in the American Cancer Society's Jail and Bail at the Valley Bank, next Tuesday or Wednesday, March 2 or 3.

This promises to be a fun event for the people of the Kewaskum area. Participation is completely voluntary. Willing participants will be picked up at their home or workplace by a real off-duty police officer and "hailed off" to jail. While behind bars, prisoners will be phoning friends and relatives to raise bail for the fight against cancer, a very real health problem that continues to impact the lives of nearly every resident.

Even if you are unable to participate in the Bail and Jail program, your contributions are very welcome and much needed. Please mail your donation to the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 68, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

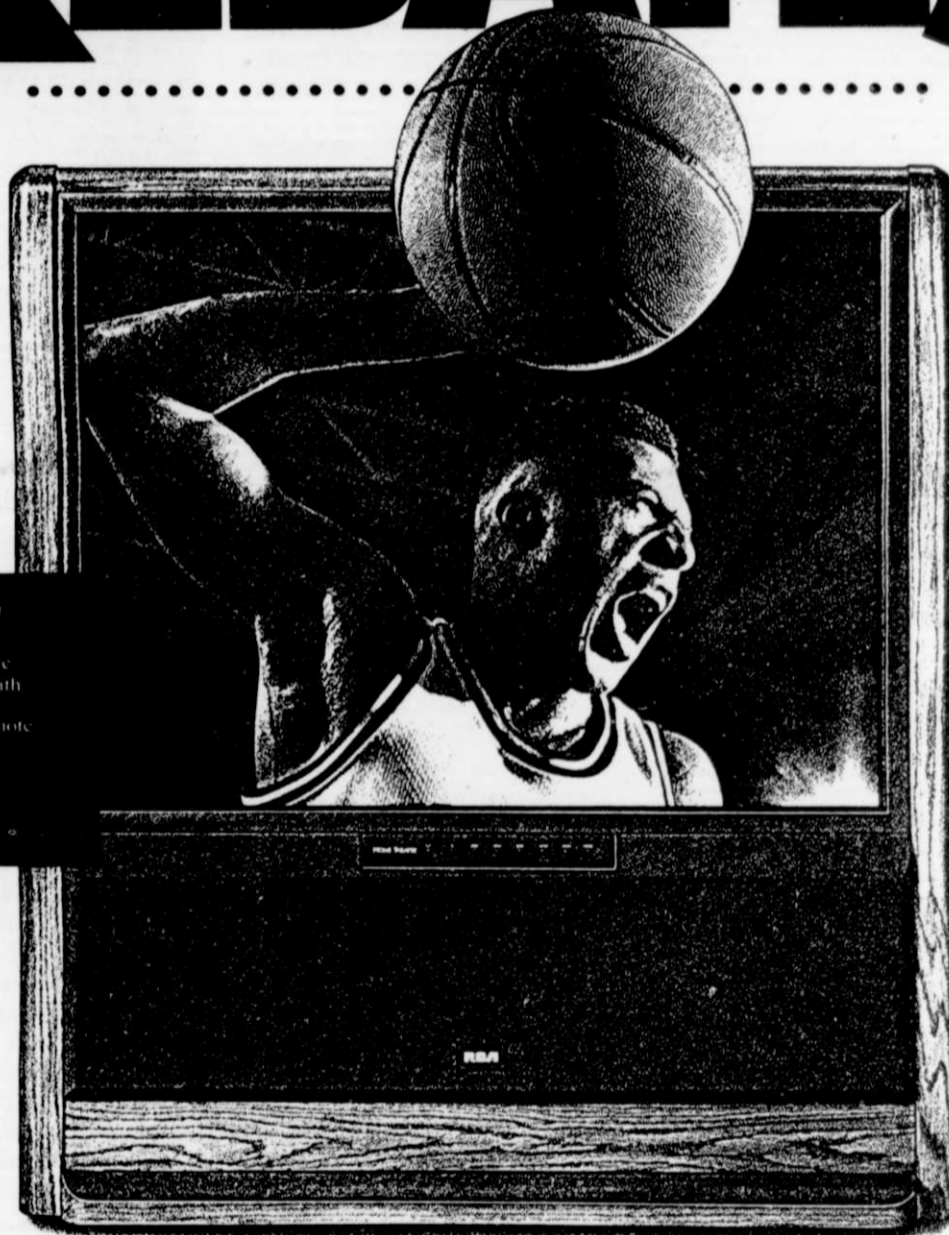

Your donation and all bail money will go toward funding cancer research, patient services and lifesaving educational programs.

Area Couple Honored as One of Nation's Top Young Farmers

John and Cathy Brunnquell, Saukville, were chosen last month as one of the nation's top three farming couples by the American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF).

The winners of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation's 1993 Young Farmer achievement award, the Brunnquells received the national honor at the AFBF annual meeting in Anaheim, Calif., Jan. 9 - 14.

The state and national awards are presented annually to farm bureau members who excel in farm management and Farm Bureau leadership.

John, 29, is vice president of poultry operations at his family corporation — Century Acres — and is a member of the OCFB board of directors. He is currently attending the University of Wisconsin - Madison in pursuit of a masters degree in poultry science. His studies include research into the price elasticity of low-cholesterol eggs.

Cathy, 27, holds a job off the farm, but served as a member of Farm Bureau Ag. in the Classroom Committee and is active in Century Acres' fresh vegetable ("Freshtable") retail sales operation.

Cathy is the daughter of Dick and Shirley Schlice of Kewaskum. John is the son of Paul and Elvira Brunnquell, of Port Washington.

Village Board

the Village's contractor, or a private contractor of their own choice. Schmidt said the ordinance will probably be signed about the middle of March.

Materials to be included in the recycling program include glass, all plastic containers, aluminum, newspaper, magazines and corrugated cardboard.

In another matter discussed at the meeting, the Park and Recreational Committee Chairman Gary Gavin told fellow Board Members that the Kewaskum Athletics' baseball team has approached the village, wanting to renovate the southwest diamond at the Kiwanis Community Park.

The team has used the Kewaskum High School's baseball field for the past three years, but has recently run into problems with the Board of Education because the team sells beer at the facilities in order to make money.

Gavin told the Board that he had no problem with the team using the diamond at the Park, beginning in 1994.

"We don't want to rush the process," Gavin said, noting it will take time to do the necessary work on the field. "We want to give them time to do it correctly."

Board of Education President Neal Weare was in attendance at the Village Board meeting, and told the Board that he had thought that a compromise could be reached.

According to Weare's plan, the team would be allowed to use the school's diamond this year, and would be allowed to sell beer for one more summer, and then would use the village's diamond the following season.

School District Administrator David Heather also backed the compromise, but the issue was put on the back burner one more month, as an agreement couldn't be reached at the last School Board meeting. Weare subsequently sent the alcohol policy regarding the situation back to the Policy-Bylaws Committee.

But Weare seemed pleased with the village's cooperation with the matter, and said that an agreement could be reached.

"That's good news," Weare said of Gavin's announcement. "I'll take that to the committee and see what happens."

Schedule Blood Drive Here

A community blood drive will be held in Kewaskum from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m., on Wednesday, March 3, at the Kewaskum Field House, 1510 Bilgo Lane. Kewaskum's last community blood drive on October 7, 1992, collected 36 pints of blood to help sick and injured hospital patients in The Blood Center's six county service region.

Anyone in good health over the age of 17 and who weighs at least 110 pounds may donate blood. There is no upper age limit. All donors are asked medical history questions prior to donating. The actual amount of time involved in drawing the unit (one pint) of blood is about seven minutes, but donors should anticipate spending a total of approximately 45 minutes to an hour, including time for the medical history, donating and refreshments.

The drive will supply volunteer blood donations for The Blood Center of Southeastern Wisconsin, a non-profit service organization which provides all of the blood and blood components used by patients in 29 southeastern Wisconsin hospitals. The Blood Center also offers specialized laboratory service on a regional and national level, and is recognized internationally as a leader in blood-related research.

FIREMEN TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Kewaskum Fire Department will be held at the fire station on Thursday, March 4, at 7:30 p.m.

Two newspapers that began their careers as penny papers were the New York Times and the Baltimore Sun.

Preschool Offered At St. Lucas

St. Lucas will again offer preschool this coming school year. We would like to hold two sessions each week. Each class would be held two afternoons a week with a limit of ten children in each class.

Members of St. Lucas will have first choice, but sessions will also be open to children of the community if we do not fill our quota. Start calling now to ensure enrollment of your child.

Any questions may be directed to Laura Moldenhauer (334-9593).

Residents: Do You Know Where Your Hydrant Is?

Many fire hydrants throughout the Village of Kewaskum were buried in snow due to the recent winter storm.

If you have a fire hydrant on or near your property, the Kewaskum Fire Department asks your assistance in shoveling out these hydrants.

In case of fire, it is imperative that the hydrants are immediately accessible to the firemen.

Your cooperation in this effort will be beneficial to everyone in the community.

APRIL IS CLOSER THAN YOU THINK!

Here we go again...
Yes, it has been another year.

All of us know what rolls around every April. No... I'm not talking about tax time (that's too unpleasant to think about). I'm talking about ELECTION TIME!

Every year, the people of Kewaskum have the opportunity to have their voices heard. I have heard Kewaskum residents comment, "I have no effect on the decisions of the Village Board," or, "The Village Board never hears what I say."

On Election Day in April, you will be heard... LOUD AND CLEAR! So please, get involved in YOUR community! VOTE! And when you do... consider a fresh start. Please vote Trustee Robert Wagner for Village President.

Dawn Martin Featured in D.C. Paper at Inauguration

Dawn Martin, daughter of longtime residents of Kewaskum Marvin and Minerva Martin, was the featured subject of a lengthy article published in the Washington Post, Washington D.C.

The piece appeared on the front page of the "Style" section of the popular newspaper, on Friday, Jan. 22. Written by Post staff writer Roxanne Robert, the feature was entitled, "Cloud Nine at the Stardust Ball - A Midwest Democrat's Week in Heaven."

Martin is the administrative secretary for the Milwaukee County Democratic Party office, and she'd been waiting for a long time to "finally win one," regarding the Presidential election and the excitement of her week participating in the Inauguration and its festivities.

"It was so moving to be a part of it. It's really wonderful. This is one of those things that will really live in my heart and mind forever," she's quoted as saying in the article.

While she was there, Martin attended Rep. Gerald Kleczka's open house, and the pre-ball thrown by Kleczka's press secretary. She avoided alcohol, and this choice served her well, as most of the nights were long and crowded.

Watching Clinton take the oath of office was moving for her, although it was difficult to see or hear anything in the massive crowds.

She held out until the end to see Chilton's appearance at the ball, getting relatively close to the stage, and was thrilled as the "Clintons danced and beamed and waved." "It was so good," commented Dawn.

Now she's home and back to reality and work, which includes some fund raising for the party. But her memories will keep the historical event alive in her heart for years to come.

Local Korean War Veterans to Meet

Local veterans who served with, or were attached to, the 1st Battalion, 7th Marine Regiment 1st Marine Division in Korea from September 1950 to March 31, 1951 will join their comrades in a reunion to be held in Toledo, Ohio during September 1993. For many this will be the first time in over 40 years these veterans will have seen their comrades in arms. Those who landed at Inchon in September of 1950 will join others who escaped the "Trap" at the Chosin Reservoir during the winter of 1950, and went on to distinguish themselves the following spring in other campaigns such as the Pohang Guerilla hunt and "Operations Killer and Ripper."

Every military unit has its own special reason for a good old time "Bash" but these men have some very special reasons. When the Korean War, or conflict as the historians call it, started on June 25, 1950 the Marine Corps total combat strength was less than that of one reinforced infantry division. To meet the immediate need to deploy a full division, it was necessary to rapidly call up Marine Reserve units and incorporate them into the skeleton division.

The First Battalion Seventh Marines was, and remains an example of the integration of reserve units with regular units which proved the reserve concept. The battalion was made up of approximately 70 percent reserve personnel and 30 percent regular Marines. Many of the units noncommissioned and commissioned officers, both regular and reserve, had seen service during WWII. Immediately after forming, in Camp Pendleton California, the battalion sailed for Korea. Much of their training was done aboard ship prior to the landing at Inchon. The battalion served well during this initial phase of the conflict, assisting in securing the area north of Seoul the South Korean capital.

In late October came the landings at Wan San and the commencement of the drive north to the Yalu River. This drive would be accomplished by Marines, who four months before were graduating from High School, or working in various occupations ranging from grocery clerk to insurance sales. The Battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. Raymond Davis, would lead the drive north. Col. Davis a distinguished officer, had previously served in several World War Two campaigns such as Peleliu, one of the toughest of the war.

The Battalion was the first American unit to make contact with a major Chinese force. This engagement at the village of Sudong, early in November of 1950, was a forerunner of things to come. The Battalion assisted by other elements of the regiment, met in defeat the 124th Division of the 42nd Chinese field army. The fighting, which was intense at times resulted in the defeat, and withdrawal of the Chinese division. Two members of the Battalion earned the Medal of Honor for heroism.

Shortly thereafter winter set in with a vengeance. Temperatures of 20 and 30 below were common, this coupled with strong winds and snow made living in the outdoors almost intolerable, but when coupled with the mission to find and destroy the enemy, it turned into a test of everyone's mettle.

The Seventh Marine Regiment - minus (a reinforced infantry company had been assigned the task of protecting a key mountain pass) took up positions near the village of Yudam-ni and prepared to advance north. On the evening of November 27 the nature of the conflict changed, not only did the Marines face the task of surviving in under extreme weather conditions but suddenly found itself under attack by elements of three Chinese Army divisions, while 6 other enemy divisions attacked units to the east and south of the Marines. The odds, at Yudam-ni were not favorable. Three divisions against ten infantry companies supported by artillery and mortars. During the next several days the conflict raged. Marine units frequently found individual platoons cut off from their parent companies, companies surrounded and cut off from their battalions and on occasion battalions cut off from their regiment. The two infantry regiments (5th and 7th Marines) were cut off from the remainder of the division. Supplies were limited and the number of wounded increased daily. Despite the daily airdrop of supplies and the almost unceasing close air support provided by the Navy, and Marine fighters the situation was rapidly becoming critical.

A decision was made to withdraw to the port of Hungnam some 78 miles to the south. When the command was issued a reporter asked General Smith (1st Marine Division Commander) if this was not a retreat. The generals reply was a classic "Hell no, were just attacking in a different direction." In fact there were more Chinese behind the lead elements of the division than there were in front of them. Fortunately, General Smith had established a number of strong points along the route of advance, now the route of the attack to the rear. These strong points, now also under attack, would be the key to the successful withdrawal of the Marines.

The plan of attack was straight forward, one regiment the 7th would attack to the south along the main supply route with the 5th Marines protecting the rear of the column. The wounded, trucks and other division equipment would proceed south along the dirt road protected by the infantry on all sides.

The 1st Battalion was assigned the task of securing the high ground to the immediate rear and attacking overland to join up with the infantry company holding a key mountain pass and which had been under constant attack for 5 days. The battle lasted some 20 hours with members of the 1st Battalion securing the high ground and continuing, through the night, along the ridge to reach the beleaguered company the next day.

The division along with its equipment, wounded and many of its dead arrived at the port city of Hungnam on December 10th climaxing one of the bloodiest battles in this nations history. Some 15,000 Americans, mostly Marines, had been surrounded by 120,000 Chinese and had fought their way out over 78 miles of a one lane dirt road which wound giddily between chasms and 2,500 foot cliffs, in blizzards and 30 degree cold.

The division was awarded a Presidential Citation while ten of the divisions men were awarded the Medal of Honor. Additionally, literally hundreds of personal citations for heroic action were also awarded. The combined number of personal decorations was the greatest number ever awarded in a single campaign.

The 1st Battalion was moved to Mason in South Korea for rest and recuperation. Just a few weeks later the battalion was again on the march, now with every third man a replacement for those who had been lost or wounded during the "Chosin" The battalion was assigned the task of routing out and destroying guerilla activity in the Pohang area of Korea. Shortly thereafter the battalion was committed as part of the force launched to attack and destroy the enemy in Operation Killer, and soon to follow Operation Ripper.

Yes indeed, these men have a special reason for holding a reunion. The reunion is planned for September 10, 11, 12 of 1993 in Toledo, Ohio. Those desiring additional information should contact William Cartledge at P.O. Box 21, Liberty Center, Ohio 43532 or call (419) 533-7861.

Regal Collects Eyeglasses for Lions Club

Adeline Halfmann, (right) manager of marketing communications at Regal Ware, presented Don Sedgwick, (left) owner of the Village Bootery in Kewaskum and the local sight committee chairperson for the Kewaskum Lions Club, with a generous donation of used prescription eyeglasses collected by Regal Ware employees.

KEWASKUM, Wis. — Regal Ware Inc., has recently collected from employees, over 125 pairs of used prescription eyeglasses, and are donating them to the Kewaskum Lions Club.

The Kewaskum Lions Club has been collecting used eyeglasses and donating them to New Eyes for the Needy, for roughly 22 years, when their area group was chartered. Kewaskum's drop box is located in the Village Bootery which is owned and operated by Don Sedgwick, the local sight committee chairperson. The Kewaskum Lions usually collect 200-250 pairs of eyeglasses a year.

During the Lions' annual district convention, the Kewaskum group turns in their glasses and they are combined with all the other clubs' collections. From there they are taken to Wausau where they are cleaned and cataloged according to prescription. The glasses are sent to a Vision Center, for distribution to countries all over the world, mostly third world nations.

Doctors volunteer their services to examine hundreds of people. They try to find the best match with the glasses that are available. "It's amazing, how many people line up in hopes of receiving a pair of those glasses. They are so grateful for something we would otherwise throw away. This donation is greatly appreciated," remarked Sedgwick.

"We're happy that Regal employees were able to help. These glasses weren't doing anyone any good sitting in drawers or cupboards at home when there are needy people in the world who can use them," said Adeline Halfmann, manager marketing communications at Regal Ware. Donations came in from the Corporate Office, and

They've Got Your Number!

For federal tax purposes, most business accounts are identified by a unique nine-digit number, the employer identification number or EIN.

The Internal Revenue Service records credits and debits to business accounts using the EIN for identification. It is extremely important to obtain a number and to use the correct number on your IRS business payments, tax returns and correspondence. IRS Publication 583, Taxpayers Starting a Business, explains who needs an EIN.

You can request an EIN by completing Form SS-4, "Application for Employer Identification Number," available at any IRS or Social Security Administration office or by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676).

Through a new program called Tele-TIN, applicants can call the IRS to get EINs assigned by telephone to use immediately to file a return or make a payment. See Form SS-4 for complete instructions and the Tele-TIN phone number you call for your area.

their subsidiaries, Kewaskum Manufacturing, Jacksonville Manufacturing in Jacksonville, Arkansas and Saladmaster, in Arlington, Texas.

The Lions Club supports many worthy causes besides the eyeglass collection. They sponsor Seeing Eye dogs for the blind, help people who cannot afford eye surgeries or glasses, and they sponsor Quest, a school drug prevention program, to name a few.

If you are interested in donating your used eyeglasses, you can drop them off at the Village Bootery located on Main Street in Kewaskum, or contact Earl Kleinke, the current president of the Kewaskum Lions.

Only a Freeze Can Control Property Taxes

Should property taxes be allowed to increase 8 or 9 percent each year when household income and home values are rising at less than half that pace?

If your answer is no, then you will welcome my proposal to permanently freeze property tax rates.

The logic behind a property tax freeze is simple. Tax rates shouldn't be determined by government spending. Instead, government spending should be limited by the amount of taxes collected. Yet, every year, property taxes in Wisconsin go up, not because your property becomes more valuable, but because government spends more.

While 43 other states place some type of limit on local property taxes, in Wisconsin, there are no such limits. Year after year, local governments can increase property taxes without restrictions. As a result, property tax rates grow faster than property values, routinely outpacing economic expansion and the taxpayers' ability to pay.

If my plan is adopted, property tax rates for local governments, including school districts, counties, cities, villages and towns, would be permanently frozen at December, 1992 levels. If local governments wish to spend more, they'll have to convince you and get your approval through a local referendum.

Freezing the property tax rate would fundamentally change Wisconsin's property tax system.

No longer could local governments first decide what they wish to spend, then set property tax rates to raise enough money. Instead, they would have to make the best use of available tax dollars. They would have to prioritize and make government more efficient. In short, they would have to do what state government as well as every Wisconsin family and business does... they would have to live within their means.

Under a freeze, property taxes could only increase as much as the value on homes or property. As a safeguard, the state monitors local property assessments to insure that increases are within fair market values.

History tells us that there is no other way to stem the growth of property taxes. Many times, a tax has been created or raised in the name of property tax relief, only to increase the tax burden on Wisconsin citizens. The only time property taxes were controlled was in the 1970's, when local spending limits were in place.

Under my proposed freeze, future property tax savings could be substantial. For example, if the freeze had been imposed five years ago, total property taxes due this year would have been about $590 million lower. That would mean that the average Wisconsinite would have saved $851 in personal property taxes over five years.

My plan is a sound first step toward controlling property taxes. It is a direct, commonsense way to bring long-term stability to property taxes and prevent recurring double digit increases. But it needs active, vocal public support.

If you're fed up with uncontrolled property tax hikes, contact your legislator. Tell them to support my plan to freeze property tax rates.

VITA Offers Free Tax Assistance

Are you puzzled by the tax law and which credits and deductions you still can take? Free help is available through VITA, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program, sponsored by Moraine Park Technical College.

Help with basic income tax returns will be offered on Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. - 2 p.m. and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. - 1:15 p.m. in Moraine Park's library. VITA volunteers will be available at these times from Feb. 10 through April 15.

VITA offers free assistance to students, those with special needs, including persons with disabilities, and older taxpayers who file Form 1040EZ, Form 1040A, or a basic Form 1040 Federal tax return. VITA student volunteers also alert taxpayers to special credits and deductions for which they may be eligible. These volunteers are also trained to assist with a basic State return.

Taxpayers who visit a VITA site should bring this year's tax-package, wage and earnings statement (Form W-2) from all employers, interest statements from banks (Forms 1099), a copy of last year's return if available, and other relevant information about income and expenses. All VITA volunteers have completed an IRS training course in basic income tax return preparation. Volunteers are trained to complete Forms 1040EZ, 1040A, and a basic Form 1040.

Farmington 4-H Club News

Our January meeting was held on Thursday, January 14, at the Farmington Town Hall. Poultry members Nicole and Billy Cochenet showed their chickens, Heather Clements showed her rooster 'Commando' and Brendan Weinhold showed his grand champion goose. A committee was formed for the Music and Drama festival and the club voted to have a skating party in February.

The skating party was held on Saturday, February 6, at the Weinholds' farm. The ice on the pond was smooth and all who attended had a great time.

We held our February meeting at the town hall on Thursday the 11th. Rayelle Miller and Michelle Jackson shared some games with us on the "Celebrate Families" theme, which was observed throughout the county that week with special activities at area malls. (One of our members, Heather Clements, was on the nightly news while participating in the clowning activities at Paradise Mall on the 7th of February). Reports were given on the Tri-County Leader Learning Day by Jennifer Hermann, and the Project Sharing Night by Nicole Cochenet. The Music and Drama Committee selected their play for the festival, and a new committee was formed to investigate candy bar sales for fundraising.

Jenny Hermann gave a demonstration on making a good poster for the Poster Contest and each member began to work on their own personal designs.

Our next meeting will be held on Thursday, March 11, at 6:30 p.m. at the Farmington Town Hall.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Mid-Monthly Meeting
February 15, 1993
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Mid-Monthly Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First St.

President Mary Krueger presided. All Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Wagner, seconded by Trustee David Goeden and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the February 1, 1993 meeting were approved as printed.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel shared the January 1993 monthly report with the Board as follows:

Fire calls 2, Year to date 2; Jaws of life (used) 1, Year to date 1, (not used) 1, Year to date 1; Rescue calls 19, Year to date 19; Transport 21, Year to date 21; Miles 397, Training 255 man hours; Extra training & work, 185 hours.

Chief of Police Richard L. Knoebel asked to be excused and was absent and it was noted the January report would be given at the next meeting.

Director of Public Works, Jerry Gilles informed the Board of a damaged water lateral which caused some homes to be without water for approximately two hours on Monday morning February 15, 1993.

Discussion was held on Director of Public Works, Jerry Gilles request to advertise for summer part-time employees. The request was for 3 DPW and 1 WPC part-time employees. The Board indicated additional man hours would be gained if a change is made regarding the collection of garbage by a contractor. The Director was asked to project his needs and come back to the Board. On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee David Goeden and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized only the advertising for summer part-time employees.

On a motion by Trustee Thomas McElhatton, seconded by Trustee Robert Wagner and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the advertising for bids on a water utility van replacement either new or used.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt informed the Board that taxes came in on a timely manner and that there were less delinquents this year. Of the delinquents, 66 percent appear on a reoccurring basis.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed some general correspondence with the Board including the minutes of the last Chamber of Commerce Meeting where they expressed the opinion that existing retail store fronts should not be rezoned for other purposes.

The Public Services Committee Meeting of February 8, 1993 and a letter from Hechimovich Landfill Service explaining bulk item pick up or lack thereof were reviewed. The cost to provide for said services was looked at as well as the services to be provided. On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the entering into an agreement/contract with Hechimovich Landfill Service, Inc. the low bidder and authorized the Village President and Administrator to sign the appropriate documents. The terms of the contract would be for three years using the CIP to adjust the rates effective January 1st of each year and to have the option to extend contract up to two additional years. The curbside recycling service would provide for pickup of one bin from each single unit as well as up to and including each unit within a multi-family five unit or under building. The existing commercial accounts currently having their garbage picked up by the Village will also be given a bin for recycling and may be able to add additional bins for recycling to the maximum of three bins. These services, as well as the details, will be reflected in a mandatory recycling ordinance. The ordinance will mandate all properties to recycle using the Village's contractor or a private contractor of their own choice.

It should be noted that multi-family units will be offered bi-monthly pick up using a blue bag method and the owners of those facilities will be billed quarterly for said service.

The contracting out for garbage collection is part of the recycling service and will be provided in a similar manner to the Village's collection system currently provided. The garbage ordinances will also be revised to reflect the appropriate changes. The tentative implementation date for collection by contractor of garbage and recycling is April 5, 1993. It was noted that a substantial savings should be realized by contracting out for the noted services.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Wagner, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the purchase of 1,000 recycling 18 gallon bins to Tulip Corporation, Milwaukee, WI, the low proposal (estimated total being $4,540.00).

On a motion by Trustee David Goeden, seconded by Trustee Robert Wagner and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized signing a contract for portable toilet service for the parks with A-1 Service, the low proposal of $68.00 per unit per month as recommended by the Parks and Recreation Committee.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Wagner, seconded by Trustee Robert Beisbier and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the advertising for part-time summer park and recreation employees as recommended by the Park and Recreation Committee.

Chairman of the Park and Recreation Committee, Gary Gavin informed the Board that the Committee would be working with the Junior Women's Club regarding the purchase of a jungle gym playground apparatus at a cost of $3,399.00. It was noted the Junior Women's Club would be paying approximately $3,000.00 towards the purchase. It was further noted the apparatus would be placed in the Kewaskum Kiwanis Community Park and the Park and Recreation Committee is recommending the placement of the equipment south of the open air shelter where the tires are being removed.

It was also reported that the Land O Lake ball team discussed with the Committee options regarding the use of the southwest diamond. They will do some preliminary work as far as measuring and report back to the committee on March 1, 1993.

Board Representative for the Plan Commission, Trustee Gary Gavin announced a Commission meeting scheduled for February 23, 1993 at 8:00 p.m.

Discussion regarding the Capital Improvement Projects for 1993 were held with the Board being informed that the bid opening for the Bonnie Lane project would take place on Tuesday, February 23, 1993 at 10:00 a.m. The financing for said project will hopefully go through the Trust Fund with an interest rate of 5.0 percent. The public hearing is scheduled for March 15, 1993 at 8:00 p.m.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 93-2 regarding the Water Pollution Control Department "Compliance Maintenance Resolution" as attached hereto:

The Board was informed that a meeting with the area townships is being planned for Thursday, February 25, 1993 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town of Wayne Town Hall.

President Mary Krueger asked that a policy regarding schooling seminars and the related cost be prepared to manage cost and time in a fair and equitable manner.

On a motion by Trustee David Goeden, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85 (1)(c) of the statutes to consider employment compensation and performance of public employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction and Chapter 19.85 (1)(e) of the statutes to deliberate and negotiate the disposition of public lands.

Long Lake Fisheree a Success

Hundreds of people jigged for pan fish or watched tip-ups on Long Lake Sunday, Feb. 7, in search of an award winning fish. The weather was perfect, attracting fishermen of all ages. Each of the seven categories in the fish competition produced some prize-winning fish.

The most popular competition of the day was a unique catch-and-release contest introduced by the sponsoring organization, the Long Lake Fishing Club. To participate, fishermen were required to transport fish, live, to the fisheree headquarters on the lake. The fish were put into a tank of water where, to qualify, they had to stay alive for 1/2 hour. Pictures were taken as the person that caught the fish returned it to the lake. These fish were also measured and entered into the large fish competition. Thirty-four fish qualified for the catch-and-release program, entering the fishermen into a drawing for a total of $100 donated by the Long Lake Fishing Club. Winners were John Strobel, Chad Rochwite, and Doug Jaeger. The program was the brain-child of Long Lake Fishing Club board member Ed Weddig and was supported by the DNR.

This was the first year the LLFC sponsored the fisheree on Long Lake, following a successful run of fisherees on the lake under the supervision of the Campbellsport Sportsman's Club. The LLFC gives special thanks to members of that organization and members and friends of the Long Lake Fishing Club for their help and support, making the fisheree a success. The LLFC also thanks the businesses that made cash or prize donations or loaned equipment for the day.

The Long Lake Fishing Club sponsors events to support educational and environmental programs in addition to maintaining and improving good fishing on Long Lake. For information about the organization or any of its programs or events, call Dick Edwards, 533-4430.

Gambling Questions to be on April Ballot

MADISON...Calling it the "best opportunity Wisconsin residents will have to express their opinion on gambling in the state," State Senator Donald K. Stitt (R-Port Washington) today supported placing a gambling-restricting constitutional amendment on April ballots.

"We can finally put the gambling genie in the bottle," Stitt said. "If anything, voters should turn out this spring just to express their opinion on the gambling issue."

The binding referendum question voters will see in April reads "Gambling expansion prohibited. Shall Article IV of the Constitution be revised to clarify that all forms of gambling are prohibited except bingo, raffles, pari-mutuel on-track betting and current state-run lottery and to assure that the state will not conduct prohibited forms of gambling as part of the state-run lottery."

Stitt said he supported removing the five "advisory questions" on gambling to avoid voter confusion, but the State Assembly left them on the ballot.

"Further expansion of gambling in our state is solidly in the hands of the Wisconsin voters now."

"My hope is that we can put some realistic limits on how much gambling is acceptable."

Softball Teams Wanted

Despite what most consider to be cold temperatures, it's once again time to start thinking about the summer softball season.

The Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association is looking for teams to play in the various softball leagues this summer. Tentatively, men's leagues are slated for Tuesday and Thursday nights, while either a women's or a co-ed league could be played on Monday nights. The Monday night league format will be based on the number of women's or co-ed teams interested.

The VKAA is looking to teams registered as early as possible, and will be holding a manager's meeting in March. Team sign-up is handled on a first-come, first-serve basis.

All VKAA games are played at the Kiwanis Community Park.

If you are interested in getting a team registered, or just want more information, please contact Rick Krahn at 626-2736, or Noel Stollenwerk at 626-4485.

The Bluebirds are Coming Back

On Sunday, March 7, from 1:30 to 3:00, Riveredge will talk about bluebirds. The spring migration has started and soon the bluebirds will be returning. If you want to attract these "gems of blue" to your area, join the naturalist to learn about the different types of nesting boxes, as well as how to monitor and maintain a bluebird trail. Fee is $3.00 for adults, $2.00 for children. Call Riveredge at 375-2715 (metro) or 675-6888 (local) for more information and to register.

Former KHS Wrestler Heading to NCAA Nationals

Aupperle Captures Second Straight WSUC Title

Dennis Aupperle

By Noel Stollenwerk

WHITEWATER — Former Kewaskum High School standout Dennis Aupperle is continuing to prove that hard work and perseverance pay off.

Aupperle, a senior at UW-Stevens Point, won his second straight Wisconsin State University Conference wrestling title, as he beat UW-River Falls' Tom Keefer 6-4 in the heavyweight championship match here, Saturday afternoon.

"He's tough," Aupperle said of Keefer, who "has beat guys that have beaten me. But I took him down right away."

That takedown helped Aupperle gain the upper hand in the match, which Aupperle put away with another takedown in the third period.

Aupperle's title helped the Pointers run away with the team title as well. Stevens Point finished with 102.75 points, well ahead of UW-LaCrosse's 63.3 total.

"We had eight guys in the finals, and we had four champs," said Aupperle, who never made it to the WIAA State Meet in his four years at KHS. "Our coach (Marty Loy) was real happy. He says it's the first time all year that we wrestled together as a team." Loy was honored by being named the WSUC Coach of the Year for the third straight time.

In his first match of the tournament, Aupperle easily took care of UW-Eau Claire's Andy Michelson, 16-0. The big man then downed Stout's James Brown 4-1 in the semi's.

The wins upped Aupperle's season record to 30-13, with nine wins coming via pinfall. Aupperle is also neck-to-neck with the Pointers' 190-pounder, Travis Ebner, for the team lead in total points.

"It's close...we keep going back and forth," Aupperle said of his battle with his future roommate.

The conference title also qualified Aupperle for the NCAA Division III Nationals, which will take place March 6-7 at the Coast Guard Academy in Connecticut. Six wrestlers from Point qualified for the Nationals. Point is currently ranked No. 3 in the NCAA Division III rankings.

After going 2-2 at the Nationals last year as a junior, Aupperle is hoping to finish in the top eight this year. The top eight in each weight class are named All-Americans.

Panther Defense Wears Down Indians

By Noel Stollenwerk

PLYMOUTH — They say history repeats itself. The Kewaskum boys basketball team was hoping that they meant recent history, as the Indians traveled to Plymouth last Friday night.

But after posting their first-ever win at Plymouth last year, the Indians were unable to duplicate that feat, as they dropped a 57-48 decision to the Panthers.

"It was really a struggle," KHS coach Jim Westphal said of the game, which was dominated by defense. "The score was not indicative of the game at all. It really was a very close game."

In fact, the Indians were in a position to win the contest, as they were tied at 43-all late in the fourth quarter. But down the stretch, it was Plymouth that was able to pull away.

"They executed better down the stretch," Westphal said, noting the Panther defense stifled his team. "I have to give them credit. They played very good defense. We had to work real hard just to get shots."

While the Indians worked hard to get shots, Plymouth was busy converting free ones. After the Panthers scored a couple of baskets to take the lead late, KHS was forced to foul. The hosts made their free throws down the stretch, and the game was history.

"They overplayed us very well," Westphal said of the Panther defense. "But we played good defense too. I don't know how many times the lead changed hands."

The game was a nailbiter throughout, as Plymouth held the Indians to just six first-quarter points. Still, Kewaskum was well within striking distance at the intermission, down by just a basket at 22-20. Sophomore Travis Jacak kept the Indians in the game, scoring 10 points in the opening half.

"Tony Knoeck did a good job penetrating in the first half," Westphal said of his senior point guard. "They were taking away both Jim (Marx) and Adam (Laatsch), overplaying them. So we just couldn't get anything going offensively, except for Travis."

But in the third quarter, the shots started falling for the Indians, who made seven of their 15 tries from the field in the period. The hot streak gave Kewaskum a three-point lead heading into the final quarter.

Plymouth's defense rose to the occasion though. The Indians' ability, or lack thereof, to get to the free throw line also hurt. KHS shot just eight FT's, making just two.

"Just being there eight times is bad enough," Westphal said, noting the percentage made it all the worse. "We were being aggressive...I just don't know what to say."

"We had some key turnovers in the fourth quarter too," Westphal went on. "They did a great job (defensively) on Jim, and also on Adam. No one could really break free on offense."

Marx finished with 11 points, five below his conference average. Laatsch led the Indians with 12 points and 11 rebounds, while Keith Herman and Jacak finished with 10 points apiece, with Jacak adding 11 boards as well.

Kevin Steltenpohl led Plymouth with 17 points.

The loss dropped the Indians to 5-6 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, with one game remaining - at Two Rivers Friday night.

KEWASKUM (6-14-15-13) — Jacak 10, Laatsch 12, Marx 11, Herman 10, Knoeck 3, Wichtoski 2, Free Throws - 2 of 8, Fouls - 17.

PLYMOUTH (10-12-11-24) — Steltenpohl 17, Meils 3, O'Hearn 12, Ortiz 6, Knowles 11, Free Throws - 9 of 14, Fouls - 15.

KHS Boys to Open at Port

By Noel Stollenwerk

PORT WASHINGTON — The Kewaskum boys basketball team will take the role of a decided underdog when it begins the WIAA Tournament series here, next Tuesday, March 2.

The Indians, who were swamped by Port Washington in the regular season opener, will face the Pirates in a sub-regional game on Tuesday night.

Should they beat the Pirates, the Indians will have their hands full in their next game, which would be at Mayville next Thursday. The road doesn't get any easier after that, with the winner of that game probably going up against Campbellsport, one of the top Division 2 teams in the state.

Also participating in the same Sectional as the Indians is Lake Geneva Badger, which is currently ranked number one in the state in Division 2.

In a game that could have gone either way, the B-Team Boys were defeated 46-44 ending their season with a four win six loss record.

The B-Team Boys both came out fired up to play however the Lions held a slight edge over the Wildcats at the close of the first quarter 10-7.

Lady Indians Dump Short-Handed Raiders

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum girls basketball team needed to take care of business, and then get a little help in order to secure a share of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title here, last Thursday night.

The Indians did their part, using a big first half against Two Rivers to post a 53-35 victory. On the down side, however, Chilton was able to wrap up their third straight EW crown with a 55-41 win over Plymouth.

The Indians finished the regular season with a 13-7 overall mark, including a 10-2 record in the EW. Chilton won the EW title outright, with an 11-1 mark, with their lone loss occurring Jan. 29th at Kewaskum.

"We knew all along that they weren't likely to get beat again," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of Chilton. Still his team was able to nail down second with their convincing win over the Raiders, who were without four of their players."

"That definitely was a factor," Eichstedt said, noting that Two Rivers was without their leading scorer, Shannah Miller. Miller, who is also the EW's rebounding leader, suffered a concussion in a game on Tuesday, and was unable to play against the Indians.

"With Miller absent, the Indians were able to roll up an early lead on the Raiders. Kewaskum went to their bread and butter, the full-court press, in the second quarter, helping them to outscore Two Rivers 18-5.

"We had a nice run there," Eichstedt said of the period. "We wanted to force an up-tempo game, and the press picked up the pace real well."

"We were sort of passively escorting them up the floor in the first quarter," in which the Indians held a 10-7 advantage. "In the second, we went to an all-out full-court denial press."

The main beneficiary of the Indian pressure was Robyn Winninghoff, who had picked up her second foul early in the second quarter. Eichstedt switched the 6-3 senior to the weak side on defense, allowing her to release and get out on the fast-break.

Winninghoff responded with six points in the quarter, while junior guard Ginger Wiesner also chipped in six, as the Indians ran to a 28-10 lead late in the first half.

With the game marking the final regular season appearance for the six KHS seniors on their home court, Eichstedt started five of them.

"We tried to get all six on the floor at once, and we got a technical for it," Eichstedt joked, noting that the Indians were whistled for a technical late in the half, for having six players on the court. Two Rivers made the free throws, and the Indians were up 28-12 at the half.

But Raider sophomore Angie Gates led her team on a charge in the third quarter. Gates, along with Jessica Kobes, nailed three-pointers as the Raiders scored the first 12 points of the second half.

"They started picking up their offense," Eichstedt said of the run, which saw the Raiders pull to within 28-24. "They slowed it down and worked the ball around."

But the Indians responded with a run of their own, outscoring the Raiders 8-2 the rest of the quarter, pushing their lead back to ten, at 36-26.

The final stanza saw the Indians march to the free throw line, as Two Rivers was forced to foul early and often. Wiesner hit five of six free throws down the stretch, as the Indians were able to pull away.

Wiesner finished with 19 points to lead all scorers.

"She had a great game," Eichstedt said of the 5-7 junior. "She was very determined, and took control. Her free throw shooting didn't allow them to get back into the game."

Kim Sabish hit double figures once again, scoring 10 points. "She really did a great job on the press," Eichstedt pointed out. "She's been very focused lately, and is beginning to really turn her game up a notch."

Eichstedt also commended the efforts of seniors Julie Mertz and Sandy Schmidt. "They both deserve some credit," he said. "They both played fine games."

The Indians now start the WIAA Tournament series, with their opening game on Tuesday against Port Washington.

TWO RIVERS (7-5-14-9) — Gates 11, Kuether 9, Vits 2, DeGroot 8, Nemetz 2, Quisdorf 2, Rank 1, Free Throws - 7 of 18, Fouls - 19.

KEWASKUM (10-18-8-17) - Schmidt 4, Schlice 1, Sabish 10, Winninghoff 9, Radtke 4, Steger 2, Bruendl 2, Butschlick 2, Wiesner 19, Free Throws - 11 of 20, Fouls - 12.

Kewaskum to Host Girls' Sub-Regional, Regional Final

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — The Kewaskum girls basketball team began its quest for a WIAA title on Tuesday, as they hosted a Sub-Regional game against Port Washington.

Kewaskum will also be the site of a WIAA Division 2 Regional final, which also may involve the Indians.

The winner of Tuesday night's contest will travel to Mayville on Thursday, to play the highly regarded Cardinals. The winner of that contest will earn the right to play in the Regional final on Saturday night in Kewaskum.

The other half of the Kewaskum Regional features Sheboygan Falls hosting Waupun in a sub-regional. The winner of that match-up will play at Campbellsport on Thursday, with that winner playing in the regional final on Saturday.

"We have a realistic chance," Kewaskum coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the tournament series. "We know we're going to have to play good ball to advance."

Eichstedt said that ideally, he would like another chance to play Sheboygan Falls, which eliminated the Indians from the Eastern Wisconsin Conference championship race. But he knows that he can't look past either Port or Mayville.

"Nothing is guaranteed," Eichstedt pointed out. "Port Washington is a smart team... they execute well. They are a very capable team."

The Pirates finished the regular season with an 8-12 mark, and finished in the middle of the pack in the North Shore Conference.

"If we can control the tempo, and rebound well, I like our chances," Eichstedt said.

Kewaskum eliminated Port Washington in the Regional championship last year, winning 45-35. The Indians have also beaten Mayville this season, capturing the Mayville Holiday Tournament.

Big Third Quarter Enough for Lady Indians

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM — Glenn Eichstedt must have had one incredibly motivating halftime talk with his Kewaskum girls basketball team here, last Tuesday night.

Whatever Eichstedt said worked, as the Lady Indians came out smoking in the third period against Plymouth. Kewaskum used some intense defensive pressure in outscoring the Panthers 22-6, on its way to a 48-41 victory on Parent's Night.

The win improved the Indians' mark in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference to 9-2, to remain a game behind league-leading Chilton. Kewaskum improved to 12-7 overall.

The early-going of Tuesday's contest saw the Panthers use a slow-down game in order to contain the Indians up-tempo style. The strategy worked, as Plymouth led 8-4 after one quarter, and held a 20-17 advantage at the intermission.

"Plymouth was doing a good job of controlling the tempo," Eichstedt said regarding his halftime talk. "We needed to pick up the pace, and pick up our intensity on defense."

The Indians did just that, coming up with eight steals in the third quarter alone. Pressure by Indian guards Bonnie Schlice and Kim Sabish helped get the Indians on track.

"Kim and Bonnie really turned the game around with their defense," Eichstedt said of the senior pair. "They helped make our press very effective. The temp finally got in our favor."

The Indians knew what to do with the ball once they stole it, as well. Kewaskum dished out five assists in the period, as seven different players scored. The result was the three-point halftime deficit was now a 39-26 lead.

"It was a great quarter to watch," Eichstedt said of the outburst. "We were passing to the open person...really taking advantage of whatever they would give. Everybody was doing their job defensively."

Things got a bit tight in the final period, as Eichstedt tried to shuffle players in and out. Plymouth pulled to within four, with just under a minute to go.

"We weren't getting many shots off," Eichstedt said. "Things didn't flow as smoothly (as in the third quarter). But we were able to hang on."

Sabish hit a pair of free throws, as did Ginger Wiesner, as the Indians were able to boost the lead back to eight points.

Sabish ended up leading all scorers with 14 points, a season high.

"For her, that's outstanding," Eichstedt said of Sabish, who normally doesn't look to shoot often. "Those points came largely because of her defensive effort."

Wiesner and Robyn Winninghoff also hit double figures, each chipping in 10 points.

As a team, the Indians shot a fine 44 percent from the field, due once again to their defense, which forced numerous turnovers that resulted in layups.

"We only took four shots outside of the lane in the second half," Eichstedt pointed out. The KHS coach had words of praise for senior Julie Mertz, who didn't score, but "did a nice job defensively. She certainly was a factor."

Heidi Miller led the Panthers with 10 points.

PLYMOUTH (8-12-6-15) — M. Miller 2, H. Miller 10, Adams 2, Haese 7, Patenude 7, Sorenson 4, Pfang 9, Free Throws - 4 of 11, Fouls - 13.

KEWASKUM (4-13-22-9) — Radtke 6, Winninghoff 10, Sabish 14, Steger 3, Schmidt 2, Wiesner 10, Schlice 3, Free Throws - 8 of 15, Fouls - 14.

Senior Looking for Second Straight 145-Pound Title Kurtz Advances to State Meet This Weekend

SECTIONAL CHAMP!

Returning state champ Josh Kurtz won the 145 pound sectional championship at Columbus and will be heading for Madison this Friday and Saturday to try and win the State Championship for the second year in a row.

By Noel Stollenwerk

COLUMBUS — There was the obvious elation that one of his wrestlers had made it, yet there was a definite touch of disappointment in Kewaskum wrestling coach John Nell's voice.

The elation was regarding senior Josh Kurtz making his second straight trip to the WIAA State Wrestling Tournament. Kurtz won the 145-pound Sectional title here, Saturday, and will head to Madison this weekend to defend his Division 2 title.

The disappointment stemmed from the fact that another of Nell's proteges, 119-pound Mark Dziedzic came so close to earning his second straight trip to State, only to come up just short.

Kewaskum's lone other entrants in the Sectional, Todd and Chad Muckerheide, each lost their first round matches, thus eliminating them from competition.

"The kids wrestled well... did their best," Nell said of his wrestlers' efforts. "That (Dziedzic's loss) was real depressing. It was really hard to take for all of us."

Equally as easy to take was the 145-pound title, which Kurtz had no problems capturing. The senior dynamo opened with a convincing 21-5 technical fall victory over Chad Boissenault of Union Grove.

Kurtz followed that with a 2:43 pin of Ripon's Jeremiah Smith in the semi's, setting up a title bout with Palmyra-Eagle's Peter Merrett.

Merrett proved to be little competition for Kurtz, who won the championship with a 2:38 pin.

Ironically, Merrett's coach talked to Nell before the match about Merrett's chances in a wrestleback, indicating that Merrett felt he had no chance against Kurtz. After Merrett seemingly threw the title bout, his plan backfired, as he lost the wrestleback and was eliminated.

"Josh was doing whatever he wanted with him," Nell said, noting that Kurtz told him he had to do little in order to pin Merrett. "He felt he couldn't be in there against Josh. But I guess the plan didn't work."

Nell had nothing but praise for Kurtz, who ran his record to 30-0 on the year.

"He did some things out there that you just don't see at this level of competition," Nell said, noting that Kurtz was able to apply a rare leg-cradle on one of his foes. "You just don't see that at Sectionals."

"He doesn't wait around for things to happen," Nell continued. "He forces the action. He looked real good. He's a very exciting wrestler to watch...very colorful."

Dziedzic, meanwhile, looked well on his way to Madison for the second year in a row. The senior rolled over his first two foes, beating Brandon Gerlach (Whitewater) 16-1, and ousting Aaron Eckhart (Pewaukee) by a 17-2 count.

"I thought he would have a real tough time," Nell said of Dziedzic, who drew Jefferson's Adam Gehrman in the finals.

The championship was a close one, with Dziedzic scoring a reversal late in the second period. Dziedzic put Gehrman on his back just as the buzzer sounded, and wasn't awarded any back points.

"He really didn't deserve any points there," Nell said. "It was a good call."

That proved costly, however, as Dziedzic was unable to overtake Gehrman, the number two rated 119-pounder in the state.

The loss sent Dziedzic into a wrestleback with Waupun's Paul Feucht. Dziedzic was reversed and put on his back in the second period, and it proved to be the critical point of the match, as Feucht held on for a 7-2 win, thus eliminating Dziedzic.

"Psychologically, I think it's better to get to the wrestleback from the consolation bracket," Nell said, noting Dziedzic may have been down after the loss in the finals. "That way, you had to win to get there, while Mark was there because he lost."

"We all felt really bad for him," Nell went on regarding Dziedzic, who finished a fine year with a 30-3 record. "That's the way it goes, though... nothing's for certain. He certainly had a great year though."

As for Todd Muckerheide, he was eliminated for the second straight year by Big Foot's Dan Casillias. Muckerheide wrestled well...at one point putting a nice head throw on Casillias, but it wasn't enough.

"Todd had a nice throw on him," Nell said of Muckerheide, who finished with a fine 24-7 mark at 189 pounds. "Casillias is a tough kid," he added, noting that Casillias advanced all the way to the finals, where he lost a heartbreaking 3-1 decision in overtime to Campbellsport's Jeff Birschbach, the number one rated 189-pounder in the state. Muckerheide had finished second to Birschbach the previous week at the Sheboygan Falls Regional.

Chad Muckerheide also had a tough draw in the opening round, losing to Berlin's Chris Keller, the eventual 169-pound champion. Nevertheless, Muckerheide's 20-10 mark in his junior season will be something to build on.

"He (Keller) was a very tough kid," Nell said. "You hate to draw the top kid in the first round...that makes it tough." Keller went on to beat North Fond du Lac's Peter Cohen in the finals. Cohen edged Muckerheide the previous week, as well.

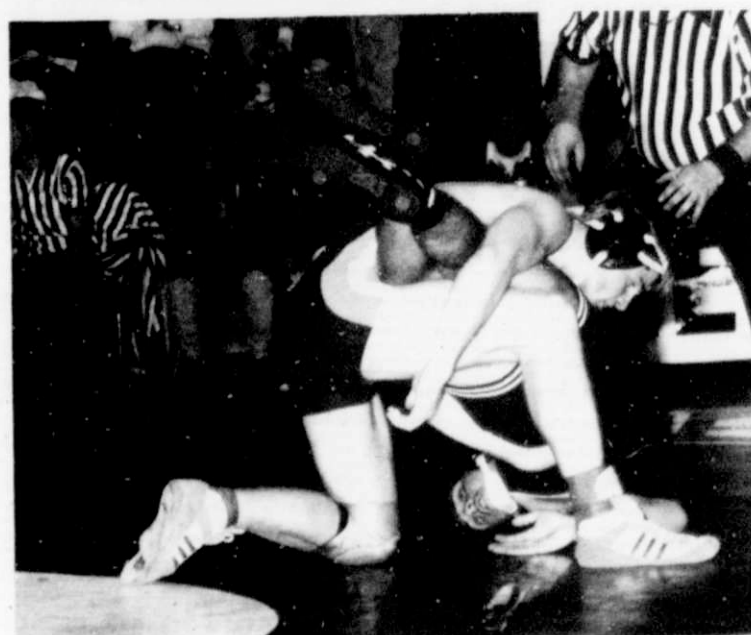

As a matter of fact, 12 of the 26 wrestlers who advanced from the Sheboygan Falls Regional made it to the state meet. Nell, who predicted that about half would go, was right on the money.

"The competition there (at Regionals) was tough," he said. "On Saturday (at Columbus), you had many of the same finals that you had the previous week (at Falls)."

Further emphasizing the fact, Nell pointed to the efforts of Whitewater (eight Sectional qualifiers), Pewaukee (10) and Berlin (nine), who were the top dogs in the three other Regional meets. Combined, the three teams managed just two state qualifiers. "There were some tough, tough teams in our Regional," Nell said.

Josh Kurtz, Kewaskum, scored back points on Jason Boissonnault of Union Grove and won the 152 lb. first round match at the Columbus Sectionals with a technical fall, 21-5.

Kurtz to Wrestle Friday A.M.

By Noel Stollenwerk

MADISON — Kewaskum senior Josh Kurtz will try and add his name to history Friday morning, when he begins defense of his Division 2 145-pound wrestling title here, at the University of Wisconsin Fieldhouse.

In the 53-year history of the WIAA Tournament, only 109 wrestlers have won multiple titles in the sport. Kurtz will try and become No. 110, when he takes the mat during the Friday morning session, which begins at 9:30 a.m.

Winners from the Friday morning session will wrestle Friday night, beginning at 5:30 p.m., with the losers from Friday morning taking the mat Saturday morning, beginning at 10:00 a.m. The championship session will begin at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, with the Division 2 title bouts being the center of attention on mat 2. "We're looking forward to it," KHS coach John Nell said regarding his wrestler. "145-pounds is going to be a tough weight class."

Nell said he wasn't absolutely sure, but he thinks that Kurtz will go up against a wrestler from Westfield in the quarterfinals on Friday.

Kathy Rohlinger Bowler of the Week

The league is sanctioned by the Woman's International Bowling Congress and is a member of the West Bend Women's Bowling Association.

She will be receiving the "bowler of the week" award from the Milwaukee Sentinel. Congratulate Kathy when you see her on a great series bowled.

Decisions. What career will I choose?
What career will give me the opportunity to make a positive difference in the world? The answer is found in agriculture and the training begins by enrolling in agricultural education and joining FFA. Through the training offered through agricultural education, FFA members across the nation are finding a wealth of career opportunities available to them ranging from aquaculture to floriculture to journalism to marketing. FFA is preparing the leaders for tomorrow's agriculture.

AGRICULTURE COURSES PROVIDE BULK OF FFA MEMBERSHIP

The livestock classes are currently learning what kind of feeds to feed to animals such as the cow, horse, hog, lamb, and various other animals. They have just finished a unit on the different kinds of meat cuts each animal has. While studying meats, the livestock classes toured Kewaskum Frozen Foods meat locker and the facilities they use to cut, refrigerate, package, and process meat. It was an interesting tour and we thank Bob Beisbier for letting us come into his locker and show us around.

Agricultural Mechanics Class is working on developing skills to get familiar with all parts of a basic farm tractor. This includes the parts to the engine and how it works, the transmission and the differential, and various other parts. Currently, they are getting into the instruments and controls of a tractor. They are expected to start shop work in 4 to 5 weeks.

Wildlife Class is exploring the environment, pollution, conservation, and other topics related to wildlife. This class is a semester course and fills up very rapidly. It is an interesting class and filled with excitement.

Agriculture I, Freshmen, is being taught about crops, which includes hay, oats, corn, corn silage, bonemeal, linseed meal and various other crops grown throughout our area and the United States.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Jeff Steinert and Derek Follmann sort out fruit during the fruit sale. All fruit is hand inspected by FFA members to ensure that quality is guaranteed to our customers.

The Kewaskum FFA was pronounced a Chapter in 1951. The names of the first members still hang on the wall of the Ag Room here at the high school. Things have changed since those first officers ran the chapter, locally as well as nationally.

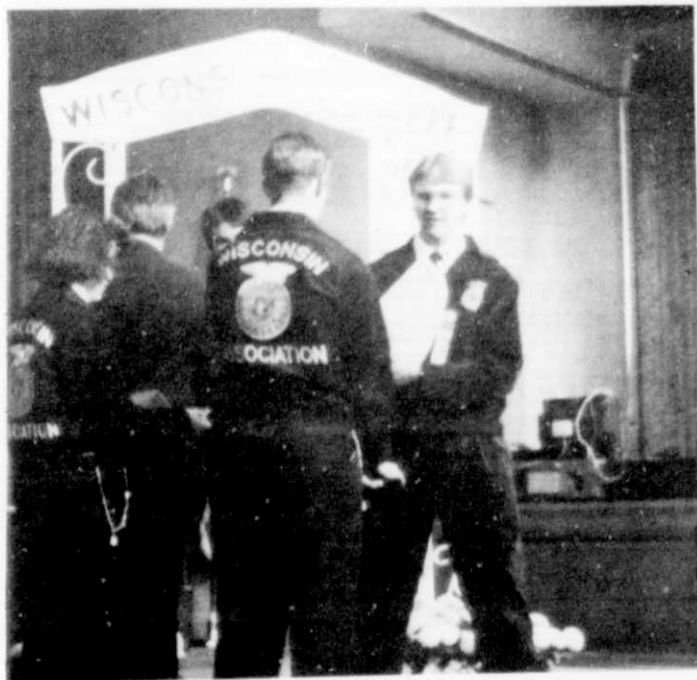

Some things that changed or were introduced are things like the first FFA magazine was born in 1952. Known first as The National Future Farmer, it is known today as FFA New Horizons and is received by all FFA members.

In 1955 the organization established international exchange programs. FFA members can go anywhere from Japan to the Phillipines.

In 1965 the FFA opened membership to blacks, and in 1969 opened membership to women.

In 1971 the Alumni was organized nationally. The FFA Alumni's primary purpose is to provide support for the FFA student organization. Since the Kewaskum FFA Alumni has been formed, they have supported the FFA in many ways. This is greatly appreciated by the members.

I would like to end by saying thank you to the Alumni, and everyone else who has supported the FFA over the years.

Jeff Steinert, center, received his State FFA Degree at last year's State Convention held in Green Lake, Wisconsin. There are four degrees of membership in the FFA, with the American Degree being the highest level. Keep up the good work, Jeff, one more level to go!

VARIETY OF ACTIVITIES KEEP FFA'ers INVOLVED

The Kewaskum FFA in cooperation with the high school homerooms presented food and gift boxes to needy families in Kewaskum this past Christmas. President Jeff Steinert, left, and Sentinel Derek Follmann, right, prepare one of the many food boxes. The FFA contributed hams to each of the families needs.

Monthly FFA meetings keep members informed of local business. Scott Enright, right, keeps minutes while Derek Follmann, left, prepares to draw a lucky door prize winner.

FFA MEMBERS ARE LIVING EXAMPLES

Of what ambition and initiative can do and we trust that they will continue to find success in agri-business.

Communities everywhere are being strengthened by this worthwhile group of young people!
