New Owners at Bonne Belle

Ruth and Jim Rady

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Jim and Ruth Rady of West Bend recently purchased the Bonne Belle Motel, located at 900 Prospect Drive in Kewaskum, and are busy getting ready for the upcoming tourist season.

"I was always interested in becoming self employed", commented Jim, who also works full time at the Gehl Company. It was there he became acquainted with former owner of the Bonne Belle, Donald Klein, and found out he was interested in selling. "It (the change of ownership) worked out well for everyone.

Ruth left behind her job at the West Bend Co. to run the motel full-time, and was impressed with the way the business had been so well maintained. "It was kept up really well," she remarked.

They expect their busy season to begin in May and run well into late summer/early fall. Tourists are attracted to the area year 'round for special events such as Road America, the air show, Kettle Kountry Kolors, as well as fall colors, hunting season, hiking, and the ever popular snowmobiling. "The snowmobile trail starts right here," explains Jim "so it's great for snowmobiling".

The Bonne Belle consists of twelve rooms, five singles, five doubles, one queen and one king. Each room is equipped with cable T.V. and air conditioning, and is available at reasonable prices.

The couple have two grown children - Debbie, who helps out at the motel, and Adam and his wife Stacey from Theresa. They also pitch in to help when the need arises, but so far the transition to business owners has gone smoothly for the Radys.

Kewaskum welcomes these new entrepreneurs to the community.

Wagner Wins Village Presidency Race

Robert Wagner

In a closely-watched village presidency race, Trustee Robert Wagner handily defeated incumbent Mary Krueger by over a 2 to 1 margin in Tuesday's Spring Election. Wagner garnered 374 votes to Krueger's 149.

Three spots on the village board were open and the three candidates who filed papers automatically will receive seats on the board. Incumbent David Goeden received the most votes with 426, followed by Incumbent Robert Beisbier with 389 and newcomer Charles Waala with 369.

There also was no opposition for the three available school board posts. The three incumbents who will retain their board seats are Janet Wolfenberg who received 395 votes and Ruth Schmitt and Ron Beimborn, who each received 365 votes. (These totals reflect only the votes counted in the Village of Kewaskum and not the entire School District.)

Even though Linda Cross came out ahead in Kewaskum in her bid for the position of State Superintendent of Schools, she did not fare as well statewide. Cross was narrowly defeated by John Benson after a hard-fought campaign for Herbert Grover's office.

Due to publication deadlines, there was not enough time to receive the statewide, county and school district election totals. Complete election results on offices and referendum will be printed in next week's issue.

Fire Chiefs Ass'n. Bringing Circus Fund Raiser Here

the village.

All Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce members will automatically be included in this booklet at no charge. Any other business in the area interested in being included in the Visitor's Guide Book should call Jane Korth at 626-4172, Sharron Miller at 626-2184, or Lana Kuehl at 626-2626 for further information.

The fee for non-chamber members is $60, however there is another option. If you join the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce for the 1993 annual fee of $45 you will automatically be included in the booklet. As an extra incentive, next year we will

Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

The Kewaskum American Legion, Robert G. Romaine Post 384, will hold its annual Easter Egg Hunt for children in River Hill Park at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 10.

All area children are invited to participate in this annual scramble for colored eggs. This year, the children will also have a chance to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny, courtesy of the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club.

Children age five and under will "hunt" eggs on the west side of the river and those age 6 and over will do their hunting on the east side of the river. Information given us last week was incorrect.

In case of inclement weather, Legion members and Mr. and Mrs. Bunny will be on hand at both places to hand out eggs and candy to the little ones.

Schulteis is Recipient of Annual Herb Kohl Foundation Scholarship

Daniel Schulteis, Allenton, a senior at Kewaskum High School, is one of the one hundred students and teachers selected as recipients of $1,000 Herb Kohl Educational Foundation Scholarships and Fellowships, State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover announced this week.

"I am honored to announce the 1993 Herb Kohl Foundation awards for students and teachers," Grover said, "because it is an opportunity to reward them for a job well done and applaud Wisconsin's truly great educational system."

The Herb Kohl Foundation Scholarship Program was established in January 1990 by U.S. Senator Herb Kohl. The purpose of the program is to honor students who have demonstrated academic potential, outstanding leadership, citizenship, community service, honesty and integrity, or other special talents and to help them pursue postsecondary studies. This is the fourth year of the scholarship/fellowship program supported by the Herb Kohl Educational Foundation.

The Kohl Teacher Fellowships reward teachers who have demonstrated superior ability to inspire a love of learning in their students, have motivated others, have provided outstanding service within and outside the classroom, or have helped improve the morale and status of their profession.

"Education is the key to Wisconsin and our nation's future," Kohl said. "I am proud of the significant accomplishments these students and teachers have made and look forward to the great contributions they will make in the future."

Selection of students and teachers began at the local level and progressed to judging in the state's twelve cooperative educational service agencies (CESA) and the Wisconsin Association of Nonpublic Schools (WANS). Selection culminated with a state-level panel composed of state business and civic leaders, a range of education-related associations, and representatives of the sponsoring groups including the Department of Public Instruction, WANS, and the Wisconsin Newspaper Association (WNA). The panel completed their selection of recipients last week.

WNA President Nancy Mersereau said that selection of the award winners was difficult because of the excellent candidates submitted for review. "Wisconsin is proud to have such a fine group of educators and students. Our job was extremely difficult and all of the nominees and their schools should be proud of their achievements," Mersereau said.

"I think it is significant that all of Wisconsin's students and teachers will know that their devotion to education and learning has tangible rewards," said Leland Nagel, WANS president.

Senator Kohl and State Superintendent Grover will make formal award presentations at ceremonies that are being planned regionally.

The Herb Kohl Foundation will make student scholarship grants to the postsecondary institution the students will attend. Teachers receive a $1,000 fellowship and an additional $1,000 grant will be directed to the winners' schools for use in innovative educational projects.

Kewaskum Middle School Folk Fair: A Huge Success

It was Folk Fair Time in Kewaskum on Friday March 19th, once again, the hard work of the sixth grade students, their parents, and their teachers resulted in another interesting and enjoyable Folk Fair.

This year's program included dancing, musical numbers, gymnastic routines, international foods, ethnic costumes, and much more the students had learned about their countries.

All the students from the classes of teachers; Kathleen West, Marlene Domasky, Kenneth Erickson, Diane Stangl, Kathryn Schowalter, Cathy Countney, and Lynne Rompelman contributed their efforts to creating excellent display booths on the countries they had studied in preparation for the Folk Fair '93.

Parents and guests of the Folk Fair's participants had the opportunity to witness the largest attendance in Folk Fair history since it began in 1983. Students clad in colorful ethnic costumes served ethnic food ranging from squid from Portugal to a German Black Forest torte to Greek cheese balls could be sampled.

Students demonstrated their version of the Irish jig.

Musicians prepare for the ribbon dance.

Nationalized Health Care Raises Serious Questions

Written for
The Heartland Institute
By Conrad Meier, a Health Insurance Consultant and Freelance Writer in Columbia, Missouri

As of this writing, there are over 55 health care reform proposals in Congress, and an assortment of 100 plans at the state and local level, all designed to "improve" our health care system. Well-intended legislators and reform activists are strangely silent, however, when asked tough questions about their proposals.

Since when has government been a solution to anything as delicate as our health care? The history of government involvement in many arenas — the savings and loan industry, education, and crime control, among others — has been a history of failure. When dealing with social machinery, government has proven itself more of a monkey wrench than a skilled mechanic.

Why do so many citizens of countries with nationalized health care come to us to receive medical treatment? Because their own countries cannot provide them with the quality of care they desire or need. The province of Ontario, Canada — embarrassed by the situation and seeing an easy way to lower its health care budget — refused to pay $260 million in medical bills from U.S. hospitals and doctors for almost 4,000 Canadian citizens treated in the American health care system.

Not least of the questions to be asked is: What would be the consequences of nationalized health care on the fastest-growing segment of our population, senior citizens? Keenly aware of the increased political clout of the senior citizens lobby, advocates of nationalized health care beg the question.

The aging of our population is a key factor in the rising cost of health care, and any system of nationalized health care will need to address this factor directly. Today, there are twice as many children as senior citizens, so it is easy to promise a tax-supported health care system financed by the young to take care of the old. But analysts predict that by the year 2030 there will be as many senior citizens in this country as there are children; shortly thereafter, the over-65 sector will be the largest sector of the population.

The implications of such a demographic shift for nationalized health care are enormous. The country's medical needs will grow rapidly; senior citizens are high-cost, high-intensity users of health care services. (The cost of health care for a person 65 or over is 3.9 times the cost of care for someone under 65). At the same time, our ability to finance health care will fall with shrinking population of young, active workers whose tax dollars are needed to fund nationalized health care.

As the supply of tax dollars available to fund health care falls, the administrators of a nationalized health care system will have no choice but to control demand. And they will do this by rationing medical services to the elderly.

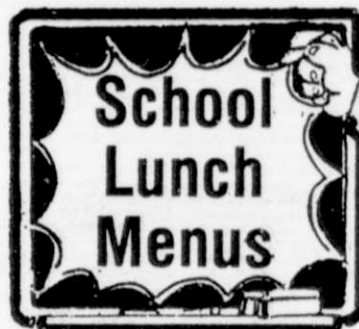

Today, almost 30 percent of Medicare outlays for hospital care occur within the last year of patients' lives. According to health economist Victor Fuchs, the U.S. spends one percent of its GNP — over $57 billion in 1991 alone — on health care for senior citizens in the last year of their lives. The rationing of medical services for the elderly clearly would be an easy way for a nationalized health care system to cut costs.

And in fact, countries with nationalized health care routinely cut their health care costs by cutting corners — and their senior citizens bear the brunt of this rationing strategy. In the Netherlands, for example, terminally ill patients are encouraged to take advantage of the euthanasia option; in Great Britain, kidney dialysis and hip replacements are offered only to patient below certain ages.

Ultimately, nationalized health care gives government the authority to play God and decide who gets what health care and when.

Is this the future that legislators and supporters of nationalized health care envision? Are we prepared to give politicians and government bureaucrats that kind of control over our health? And if we change our minds about the wisdom of nationalized health care — as so many countries already have done — where will we go for quality care?

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers! Are you all ready for some nice weather? March sure as heck came in like a lamb and went "roaring out" like a lion! Hopefully, that is all behind us, and maybe... just maybe... we can look forward to nice weather. 'Twas a cheery sight to see two robins perched on the back dock, waiting for the mail truck to arrive last week.

Once again, I have to thank each and every one of you that has stopped in to say hello and the many favorable comments that I have received about this column. I have said this before, but must reiterate my feelings... there are so many things about the Postal Service that the customer does not know and/or may not understand. How are you to know? My calling card states: "Customer satisfaction is MY priority" and just thoroughly enjoy sitting down at the "ole computer" every Sunday to write this column. Hopefully, you will continue to enjoy and find out more about the Postal Service through these columns.

In this week's column, I would like to touch on a very important subject... PROPER ADDRESSING. Address deficiencies can and most likely will delay mail delivery. No one likes to have a letter returned, delayed or misdelivered.

There are often problems with insufficient or improper addressing which causes mail to be delayed, misdirected or returned to the sender. Of the 528 million pieces of mail handled each business day by the Postal Service, nearly 33 percent contain address deficiencies that could delay or prevent delivery. Here are some tips which will help you ensure that your letters are properly addressed.

The destination address should appear in the middle of the envelope with the recipient's name on the top line. The line directly beneath should contain the recipient's street address, post office box number or rural route "physical address." Addressing mail with just a rural route number (example would be R1) is improper addressing.

In smaller communities that letter might make it to its delivery point but in larger cities, there is a good chance that this type of addressing would be returned to the sender with the explanation "insufficient address" (as no street address was used).

If mail is for a multi-unit complex or apartment building, place the room or apartment number ABOVE the street address. The bottom line should show the recipient's city, state and should include the ZIP CODE. Zip codes are not mandatory but your mail will indeed be delayed and/or misdirected by not using and/or using an incorrect one.

I have personally seen many pieces of mail misdirected as "senders" will include telephone numbers underneath the last line. Result: that piece of mail goes to the city with the Zip Code corresponding to that telephone number.

Here is an example of a properly addressed envelope that we have been discussing:

Charles Brown
The Groves Building
Apt. 303
2102 Elm St.
Miami, FL 33152-1234

A return address should be included on every envelope that you mail out. This will ensure that if there is no possible way that your letter can be delivered, it will be returned to you. Your return address format should be the same as the addressee sequence.

When both a post office box number and street address are used, make sure that the post office box number appears on the line directly above the city, state and zip code line. If you wish a letter to be delivered to a post office box number when using the dual address concept, it would be like:

Charles Brown
Apt. 303
2102 Elm St.
P.O. Box 219
Miami, FL 33152-0219

Many of you receive your mail right here at the Kewaskum Post Office. You can help receive your mail in a more timely manner by advising your correspondents of your correct mailing address. Feel free to include your street address, if you desire, but having mail addressed per example above will get "that letter in your post office box" a bit earlier. A hearty thank you to so many of you that are following this procedure already.

Here are some guidelines that you may wish to keep in mind when addressing your letters and cards. Following these guidelines will help us (and help you) to get the most efficient and timely delivery as possible. Guidelines are:

-Capitalize everything in the address

-Print clearly or type
-Eliminate all punctuation except for the hyphen if you are using the "four digit add-on" (numbers that appear after the 5 digit zip code).

-Remember that the Zip Code is the most important part of your addressing. If your 5 in 53010 looks like a 3, your letter is going to "take a ride" to somewhere in Florida with the zip code 33010 and not to Campbellsport as you intended.

-If your mail is delivered to a Post Office Box, advise your correspondents of that.

Well, that is it for this week. If you have any further questions on proper addressing or need help with Zip Code "info," feel free to call us. WE ARE HERE FOR YOU. Until next week, HAVE A GOOD DAY... A HAPPY EVERYDAY!

Your Postmaster, Bonnie

Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon May 15

Memphis, TN - St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announces that Marge Farley and Marty Peterson will serve as coordinators for the Kewaskum/Campbellsport "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon with May 15, 1993 as the date of the event.

St. Jude Children's Hospital, which was founded in 1962 by the late entertainer Danny Thomas, is America's largest childhood cancer research, treatment and education center. The Memphis based hospital has a local impact because it freely provides area doctors and hospitals with assistance in diagnosis and the latest information for treatments and procedures.

The non-sectarian hospital currently follows over 4,200 active patients. Because treatment is provided to all patients regardless of their family's ability to pay, it costs St. Jude Hospital over $215,000 per day to keep its doors open. These funds come primarily from public donations.

This year's Bike-A-Thon is dedicated to Ryan Martin of Waxhaw, NC. Ryan was diagnosed in June 1986 with a Wilms' tumor on his left kidney. The kidney was removed and Ryan as given six months of chemotherapy at St. Jude. When he was 2 1/2, he developed a Wilms' tumor on his right kidney. Ryan again received chemotherapy; his doctor discovered during surgery that nothing remained of the tumor but scar tissue. Today, Ryan is cancer free and only has annual checkups.

Watch your local newspapers and school bulletin boards for details and sign-up locations. All you need is a bicycle to be able to help another child be a success story like Ryan Martin. Be a volunteer, a biker, sponsor a biker. Have some fun while helping the worthy cause of stamping out childhood cancer. For advanced information, contact Marge Farley before at 9:00 a.m. at 626-8073 or Marty Peterson after 5:00 p.m. at 533-5303.

Members of the Society for Creative Anachronism Recreate Medieval Time Period

Bransle, Galliard, Basse, Pavane, and Courante are old family names. They are not families who live in Kewaskum, but are families of dances. Each of them is between four hundred and a thousand years old. Members of the Society for Creative Anachronism, Inc. (SCA) gathered at the Threshold on Saturday, 20 March 1993, for a day of studying and recreating these and other medieval dances. This particular Dance Seminar is an annual event and attracted people from as far as Toronto, Kentucky, and surrounding states. About one hundred and twenty people were in attendance.

The local chapter of the SCA is called the Shire of Lub Siachial and encompasses West Bend, Kewaskum, Beaver Dam, Fond Du Lac, Port Washington, and all of the towns in between. Members study and recreate the Middle Ages, not as they were precisely, but as they should have been. Primary areas of interest include fighting, dancing, music, various arts, costumes, cooking and feasting, and revelry. The time frame is from 600 to 1600. Members also create persona, in which to act a part from those times.

The Shire of Lub Siachial is part of the incipient Principality of Northshield, within the Middle Kingdom of twelve Kingdoms in the SCA. Shires, Baronies, Principalities, and Kingdoms exist in North America, Europe, Asia, Australia and a few other areas. We meet for mock battles, feasts, heraldic courts and to practice needle-crafts, archery, calligraphy and other finer elements of the Middle Ages. The SCA is a non-profit, 501(c)3 educational organization.

The next costumed meeting of the local shire will be at the Threshold in West Bend at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, 25 April 1993. A regional SCA singing group (Mystic Minstrels) will be practicing later in the afternoon. There are loaner costumes available for those who are new to the group. For further information regarding the local shire or for informational pamphlets, please contact Lon Levy 338-8326 or Sharon Oelke 338-1064.

22 KHS Students Qualify For State Forensics Contest

There were squeals of joy and many smiling faces as twenty-two speakers from KHS qualified for the state forensics contest to be held at the University of Wisconsin in Madison on Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24.

Kewaskum speakers (many of them freshmen) will be in Friday's 7:00 p.m. round. The qualifying was accomplished at Cedar Grove's district contest on Tuesday night, March 30. A speaker needed 20 or more points from at least two of the three judges. It was a three-round contest.

Leading the team was sophomore Meredith Frac with two perfect scores of 25 and 24. She and three others in prose all are state-bound. Another sophomore, Tammy Hames, scored 24, 23, 22, while freshman Renate Wilke had 23, 22, and 20 and junior Angie Klug scored 24, 20, and 18 also in the prose category.

All three readers in poetry are freshmen, and all qualified. Their names and scores are Jennifer Straub (23, 23, 18), Jennifer Schulte (23, 21, 18), and Jenny Ebert (21, 21, 18). Sophomore Kara Palmer scored 23 and two 20's in farago. Another sophomore Anne Mertz scored 24 and two 20's with her original speech in oratory. Two more freshmen, Jenny Goodsell in humorous solo acting and Carrie Stoffel with her original speech in four-minute, scored 24, 23, and 22 and 20, 20, 19, respectively. The numerous freshmen and sophomores who are state-bound attest to a strong rebuilding year.

The final five state-bound qualifiers will be making their third state appearance (Chad Harlow and Jenefer VanAssche) or their second (Carrie Fellenz, Sabrina Maul, and Weston Duenkel). They are in group interpretation and scored two 24's and 23.

Six other qualifiers had smiling faces but will not be going to Madison because of the band trip to Myrtle Beach the same weekend. They were Terry Roe in demonstration with two 22's and 20, plus the group interpreters of Melissa Rohrer, Suzi Gauvin, Christine Neumann, Rachael Chambers, and Jake Thull with a perfect 25, and 23, and a 22.

Other district participants were Matt Kuehn, Jennifer Schmidt, and Laura Dehler. Four others were eligible to attend district but did not participate; they were Randy Reysen, Maureen Leitheiser, Rhonda Klesmith, and Laura Fleischman.

Coaches Barbara York and Judith Jacak accompanied the team to Cedar Grove. They now look forward to getting the state-bound speakers polished for April 23.

Environmental Education Grants Offered to School

MILWAUKEE -- Children of all ages are concerned about the environment and are eager to learn more about what they can do to help clean the air, water and other natural resources. But unfortunately, schools often can't afford to implement environmental programs. Wisconsin Electric Power Co. hopes to encourage schools to continue or begin such programs by providing environmental education grants.

Ten cents of every order received for energy-efficient bulbs in 1993 will be earmarked for grants to schools throughout Wisconsin Electric's service territory. Elementary, middle and high schools are eligible for the grants.

To qualify for the $250-300 grants, schools must submit a proposal explaining how they will use the funds. The funds may be used for any environmental project, planned or existing. Approximately $7,500 will be awarded.

Edgar Ocasio, coordinator of educational services for Wisconsin Electric, views the grants as an opportunity to educate future energy users. "This generation could look at the way we use energy in a very different way," said Ocasio. "This program provides necessary funding to expose students to the important link between their behavior and the environment. It also builds bridges between business and education."

Application materials for the environmental education grants will be mailed to most schools in April, along with the spring issue of the Wisconsin Electric educator's newsletter, energy Focus. Schools that do not receive information may call their nearest Wisconsin Electric service center to receive an application.

Wisconsin Electric sells compact fluorescent bulbs to residential customers through its Smart Money Energy Program.

Compact fluorescent bulbs are environmentally friendly. They last 10 times longer and use 75 percent less energy than ordinary bulbs. Over its lifetime, one bulb can save 550 pounds of coal from being consumed compared with a traditional incandescent light bulb. This conserves natural resources and improves air quality.

The bulbs will be offered for just $7 each or any combination of three for $20. Nearly identical in size to traditional incandescent bulbs, the new bulbs will fit many light fixtures.

Wisconsin Electric's service territory includes southeastern Wisconsin, east, central and northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

The Early Childhood, Kindergarten and 1st grade classes at Kewaskum Elementary School and the Kindergarten class at Farmington have a new addition to their classroom - Reading Centers a/k/a Big Book Shelves.

These centers were designed to store and display "Big Books," which are oversized books ideal for classroom situations so all students can see the pictures and words at the same time.

Thanks to Dave Stradman, teacher of the Construction Skills Class at Kewaskum High School, and Pat Holtz and Jason Stockinger, both seniors in this class, our youngsters know just where to store, read and display their Big Books.

A big thank you from all of us!

What's New at The Kewaskum Public Library?

Spring is finally here! A six-week story hour session for four and five-year-olds started this week. There is still room for a few more, so if you're interested, contact the library today.

Congratulations to those students who completed the Milwaukee Bucks "Read to Succeed" reading challenge. Fifty one readers qualified for a free ticket to a special Bucks game after reading a total of 43,759 pages. Good job, Kewaskum kids!

Has the thought of warmer weather given you the urge to "get away"? The Best Bargain Family Vacations in the USA by Laura Sutherland is now available at the library. Now is the time to plan for your upcoming vacation!

Other new arrivals include mysteries Hard Women by Barbara D'Amato and Mrs. Pargeter's Pound of Flesh by Brett Simon and romances American Star by Jackie Collins and Kingdoms: A Love Story by Mary Jane Salk. From the best seller list, don't miss The Children of Men by P.D. James and The Client by John Grisham.

Letters to the Editor

March 22, 1993

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY
William Listwan, President

Dear Mr. Listwan:

There is no disputing the high cost of health care and health insurance. In Wisconsin there are thousands of hard working people barely making ends meet who can't afford a visit to a doctor nor the health insurance to cover them if they must. This is definitely a problem that needs to be remedied.

Earlier this month your group prescribed "Wisconsin Care" - your plan for statewide health care. As noted in the "MILWAUKEE SENTINEL," it calls for providing health coverage for the uninsured by raising the sales tax to 5.75%, the cigarette tax to 30 cents, and the tax on alcohol from 25 cents to $3.25 a gallon.

Every one of those taxes is regressive and destructive to the very people who need help the most. The taxes would bring higher prices for consumer goods, throw people out of work, close small businesses and hurt Wisconsin industry. In short, your "medicine" would likely be deadly to many of the people it was intended to help.

SALES TAX HIT HARD... A higher sales tax would hit hardest those people who spend a greater portion of their income on consumer goods and services. Many of these people are among those who are already struggling to get by.

CUT SALES AND LOSE JOBS... If you raise the cost of beer and alcohol you'll most certainly slash sales. As that happens you'll quickly witness another side effect of your "remedy": the loss of thousands of jobs by Wisconsin people employed in the businesses that produce, distribute and serve beer to the residents of this state. The record shows that the increase in the excise tax on beer in 1991 cost the U.S. about 31,000 jobs including Wisconsin approximately 3,000 in Wisconsin.

These are farmers, factory workers, truckers, tavern owners, grocers, retailers, and other small business people and their employees. They lost some $46 million in wages after the last beer excise tax increase. These are the same folks who pay a big portion of their income in taxes, who own homes, pay for schools and employ lots of others in their businesses. If they stop paying taxes the rest of us will have to make up the difference.

CUT SALES AND DESTROY BUSINESSES... The final irony of your ill considered plan would be to squeeze the last breath out of our state's proud brewers. A number of our favorite local and regional brands operate on small profit margins. As the price of a beer goes up, sales go down. Say good-bye as you pull the plug on another fine Wisconsin industry.

So, in review, your prescription has the potential to leave the patient worse off than when you started. We suggest that much more thought and discussion are needed to solve this problem. Let's give more attention to cost controls and fairness.

PBS Auction Seeks Area Volunteers

The Channel 10/36 Friends needs volunteers from the Kewaskum area to help out with the upcoming Channel 10 Auction, its annual nine-day fundraising event which airs April 30 through May 8.

Volunteers new to the Auction usually help out as "Go-Getters." These volunteers play an essential Auction role because they gather the thousands of donations eventually bid-off in support of Milwaukee Public Television.

The level of volunteer commitment is flexible for "Go-Getters." In addition, these volunteers are invited to answer bidders phone calls on live television during the on-air Auction.

Those interested in becoming Auction "Go-Getters" should contact Allyson Olivier, Volunteer Services Manager for the Channel 10/36 Friends. She can be reached during business hours at 278-1497.

The nation's #1 PBS auction — "A Million Dollar Affair" — airs live on WMVS Channel 10 April 30 through May 8. Funds raised by the annual Auction help support the operations of Southeastern Wisconsin's public television stations, Channels 10 and 36.

Voting in the Presidential Preference balloting in the village followed the county and statewide trend in Tuesday's Spring Election, returns indicated. A total of 482 votes were cast in the village, about half of the potential, which was considered a good turnout. On the Republican ticket Richard M. Nixon tallied 184 votes in the village with Ronald W. Reagan getting 9 and Harold E. Stassen 5. There were 7 scattered votes for other candidates and 1 for none of the names shown on the ballot. On the Democratic ballot the vote for Sen. Eugene McCarthy and President Lyndon B. Johnson also followed the state pattern. In the village McCarthy totaled 165 votes while Johnson got 71, even though he had withdrawn his name as a candidate for reelection. Robert Kennedy got 35 write-in votes and there were 2 votes for none of the candidates. Kewaskum electors re-elected all three incumbent trustees, who were unopposed. The results were Raynor Herriges 421, Myron Perschbacher 418 and Elmer Yoost 421.

Somewhere along the line, a week must have been missed, because we find ourselves one week ahead in the 75 Years Ago column. So for this week, we will omit the column and be right back on target next week with the April 13, 1918 issue being featured.

Welcome to Our World

by Dianne Horlamus, Director
 The Washington County
 Humane Society

In our last article I told you what happens to an animal that is brought into the Humane Society. This time I'll explain our adoption policies and procedures. As I told you last time, not every animal that comes to the Humane Society is put up for adoption. Those that are not suitable for adoption are humanely euthanized.

After an animal has been held for a minimum of 48 hours, received preliminary shots, a fecal, either a Feline Leukemia or Heartworm test and has been judged by the staff to have a good disposition, it is "put up for adopting". The procedure for adoption a pet from The Washington County Humane Society is not as easy as just stopping by, paying a fee and walking out of the door with animal in tow.

We try our best to do everything possible to make sure that a good match has been made between our animals and their new families. The first step is to stop by our facility on Hwy 60 in Slinger, during our open hours, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. every day except Wednesdays when we are open from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., (yes, that includes Saturdays and Sundays) and see what we have available. Most people truly interested in animals are happy that the staff asks so many questions of a potential adopter. Questions like, "what kind of animal are you looking for? Does anyone in your household have any allergies? How many hours will the pet be alone each day? Have you thought about how the size of the animal you are interested in will fit into your household? How do your children feel about having animals? If you already have animals in your home, will those animals get along with your "new" choice?" Often times we will ask you to bring in your pet to make sure that both "new" an "old" will get along.

Probably one of the comments we hear the most is that it isn't easy to adopt a pet from us. This comment often brings a smile to both the faces of our staff and the potential adopter. Why? because this means that we care enough about our animals to take the time to talk to you, get to know you and hopefully make the best choice for each individual animal.

Once you have made your choice, we ask you to fill out a four-page Adoption application. You will find many of the questions asked that we have already discussed. We also want to know how you feel about spray/neuter? Do your animals see a veterinarian regularly? Do you realize how expensive it can be to own a pet? We also want you to be aware that an animal can live a long time. We want you to think about both your age and the animal's age in regard to long term care.

After you have filled out the form, we place the name of the animal on the top of the right hand side of the application. This means that this particular animal is held for you. We do take "second signers" on an animal in case the first signer either changes their mind or does not meet our qualifications. After this, we give you a form that tells you to go home and think about the responsibility you have decided to undertake. We ask you to call back the next day to see if your application has been approved. Why wait 24 hours? The answer to this question is very simple, many people use "impulse" when picking an animal, we want them to take some time to really think about what a new animal coming into their household means. The reason we ask you to call between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 a.m. is, if your application is approved, you will have time to make an appointment at your vets' office or purchase any items you may need to make the animal feel at home.

Congratulations, your application has been approved! Guess what? more forms! When you come in to pick up your new "family members", we fill out the adoption papers. These papers state that you agree to have the animal either spayed or neutered within a specified time. If you do not have this surgery performed, you give us the right to reclaim the animal. Why not more puppies or kittens? Each year millions of animals across the nation are put to sleep because suitable homes cannot be found. We feel it is the obligation of any humane organization to support spay/neuter for all animals adopted from humane societies. Included in your adoption packet is a free "preliminary" health exam at the veterinarian of your choice, which must be done within 72 hours. If your veterinarian finds something seriously wrong with your pet, we ask you to return the animal. We also give you a complimentary packet containing a food sample and animal care literature. A numbered Washington County Society tag is given to you to place on your pets' collar. This number is recorded in our files. If your pet is lost and someone finds it, all they have to do is call us and we will either contact you or have the caller contact you so that you and your pet can be safely reunited.

Stop by or give us a call when you are ready to make that commitment to an animal. We have many animals here that are waiting for that "just right" someone to come along!

Four School Records Set KHS Boys 13th at 57-Team Oshkosh Invite

By Noel Stollenwerk

OSHKOSH - If the Kewaskum High School athletic director had only known!

It took 22 years before the Kewaskum boys track team was a participant in the Oshkosh Invitational, and one can be assured that a return visit here won't take another 22 years.

That's because the tough competition in last Tuesday's 57-team meet brought out the best in the Indian athletes, who broke four school records en route to finishing 13th. KHS rolled up 17 points, and finished second among the five Eastern Wisconsin Conference schools participating.

Southern Door won the meet (with 46 points), barely edging Marshall, who scored 42. Of the other schools with area ties, Mayville finished highest, taking third (23 points), while EW powerhouse Sheboygan Falls was tied for eighth (19), and Slinger tied for 11th (18).

Finishing behind the Indians were Campbellsport (14th, 16 points), New Holstein (15th, 15), Chilton (33rd, 2), and Kiel (36th, 1). Nineteen other schools failed to score a single point.

"I was very happy with our effort," said KHS coach Jerry Gosa. "We were quite pleased. We were looking to maybe break a couple of school records, but we were in no way counting on that many fine performances.

Ironically, the four Indian athletes to set new school marks were the lone KHS runners to score points. Seeing that it took a school record just to place, Gosa marveled at the level of competition.

"It was some awfully good competition," Gosa said. "When your looking at that many teams (57), the competition has to be good."

Leading the way for the Indians was junior pole vaulter Brad Jackson, whose 12-9 mark in the pole vault was a school record, and helped him win the event. Jackson had no problem breaking the previous mark (12-3 set by Miles Shaw), but got some help from his competitors in taking first.

Jackson, along with Winneconne's Phil Bickert and Southern Door's Joe Gilson, were the only athletes to clear the 12-6 mark. When asked to what height the bar should be raised, Jackson said 12-9. After Jackson cleared 12-9 on his first try, Bickert and Gilson passed that height, and asked that the bar be raised to 13-0. "Brad's such a good athlete, though. That (pole vault) is really a strength of ours. He's going to get us a lot of points in that event."

Gosa can expect quite a few points in the distance races as well. Both of the Indians' top runners, David Gosa and Jeff Dirmeier, set records at the meet.

David Gosa shattered the indoor 1600-meter record, as he finished sixth with a time of 4:46.5. That bettered the old mark of 4:53.7 set by Scott Klein.

"He ran a smart race," Gosa said of his son, a sophomore. "He started slower and worked his way up into contention."

The younger Gosa actually had to pass Dirmeier, who set a faster pace in the early going of the race. But Dirmeier faded down the stretch, finishing in 4:56.

"He (Dirmeier) didn't have a real good 1600," Gosa said of the senior. "He was obviously disappointed."

Dirmeier channeled his frustration into his next race, the 800-meter. There would be no fading in that race for Dirmeier, who finished sixth in 2:08.32, which was .08 faster than the previous mark set by Shaw.

"I give him a lot of credit," Gosa said of Dirmeier. "He really got himself psyched for that race."

Dirmeier and Jackson had a hand in the other record set, this one by the 1600 relay team. Jackson and Dirmeier teamed with Heath Heise and Jim Wichtoski to take eighth (3:45.3), bettering the old school record by almost five seconds. It was just the second time the quartet has run in the event.

"I think it's a good possibility (that the group will stay together)," Gosa said. "They ran a real good race."

Gosa got fine efforts from several other athletes. Junior Randy Thull, in his first year out for track, missed the 3200-meter record by just two seconds. Thull's time of 10:55.1 wasn't good enough to place, but was nearly .45 faster than Thull's previous best.

"He's developing a feel of how to run the race," Gosa said of Thull, who ran three-mile races as a member of the cross country team. "When he gets more experience, he'll do very well."

Gosa also got great efforts from his long jumpers, namely Wichtoski and Wade Kreis. Kreis surpassed the 19-foot mark on all three of his jumps, while Wichtoski passed the 20-foot plateau three times, although he scratched on all three tries and didn't place.

"It would have been nice to get some points there," Gosa said of Wichtoski's scratches. "For Wade, that's very good this early in the year."

The Indians will try and carry the fine performances over to the outdoor season, which begins on Tuesday at Waupun.

"Obviously they have a very good team," Gosa said of the Warriors' fourth-place (34 points) finish at Oshkosh. "We'll have our hands full."

NOTE: The same day of the Oshkosh Invite, the Indians participated in a meet at Slinger, with several non-varsity KHS athletes making the trip. Slinger downed the Indians, 74.5 to 34.5 in the meet, which was more of a scrimmage than anything else, according to Gosa.

"We looked at it as more of an exhibition," the KHS coach said.

Burkholder Tops Girls BB Squad

By Noel Stollenwerk

STEVENS POINT - A pair of University of Wisconsin-Madison recruits head this year's list of the top girls high school basketball players in the state.

Janesville Parker's Jennah Burkholder and Lakeland's Katie Voigt were named to the Associated Press' 1992-93 all-state first team. Burkholder was named the 92-93 player of the year, while Voigt garnered that award last season as a junior.

Also named to the AP first team were Middleton's Angie Halbeib, Eau Claire Memorial's Katrina Hannaford and Fond du Lac's Ann Klapperich, who was the lone junior to make the first unit.

The second unit consisted of seniors Erica Jackson (Mil. Washington), Brenda Brunner (Mil. Pius XI), Nicki Taggart (Platteville), and juniors Anna DeForge (Niagra) and Michelle Burkholder (Janesville Parker).

Stacey Reimer, who helped Chilton hold off Kewaskum for another Eastern Wisconsin Conference title this past season, was the lone player from the EW given mention in the balloting. Reimer was named to the honorable mention list. Lomira's Julie Benter was the lone other player from the area named to the honorable mention list.

Teams Needed

The deadline for entering teams in the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association softball leagues is drawing near, and there are still several teams needed to form a Monday night women's league.

There are currently four teams entered in the Monday league, and the VKAA needs a minimum of six to start the league. If there are not six teams signed up for Monday nights by April 23, the VKAA will disband the league.

There are also one or two spots that need to be filled for the Thursday night men's league. The same circumstances apply, in that if there are not enough teams by April 23rd, the Thursday night league will also be disbanded.

So if you are thinking of entering a team in either league, please do not wait. The VKAA needs the minimum number of teams entered to begin making schedules, ordering softballs and other miscellaneous items.

To enter a team in either league, call Rick Krahn at 626-2736 or Noel Stollenwerk at 626-4485.

Pieper Tops Boys Preps

By Noel Stollenwerk

STEVENS POINT - Anyone following boys high school basketball in the state of Wisconsin knows the credentials of Wausaukee's Anthony Pieper.

So it was little surprise that the state's all-time leading scorer was named as the Associated Press' Player of the Year for the 1992-93 season recently. Pieper capped off the most prolific career in state history by scoring 42 points in leading Wausaukee to the Division 4 championship last month in Madison. The 42-point effort gave Pieper 3,391 career points.

Joining Pieper on the AP first team were seniors Brad Christensen (Menomonee Falls), Pete Wade (Oshkosh North), Marcus West (Racine St. Catherines) and Ewell Clinton (Mil. Washington).

The second team consisted of seniors Jade Watson (Wauwatosa East), Jeff LeClaire (La Crosse Aquinas) and Mike Koehler (Elkhart Lake), junior Donald Hayes (Madison East), and sophomore Sam Okey (Cassville). Hayes and Okey were the lone non-seniors named to the top four teams.

Just one area player was given any consideration. Mayville's Ryan Collien, a standout in football as well as basketball for the Cardinals, was given honorable mention status.
