Residents to Pay for 71% of Bonnie Lane Costs

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - Residents directly involved in the Bonnie Lane reconstruction project will pay for 71% of the costs of the project, according to figures obtained at last Monday's Village Board meeting.

A total of $117,446 of the project's total cost ($163,655) will come from taxpayer money. The village, meanwhile, will contribute $46,209, which will include storm sewer and sidewalk construction.

When the neighborhood was annexed to the village in 1989, the village came to an agreement with the residents that it would pay for sidewalk and sewer costs when the area would be reconstructed.

In going over the project costs, Village Engineer Ken Ward said that the residents had the choice of whether to provide their own restoration, or whether to have the village provide it at an additional cost.

"The project would be completely the same," Ward said, noting that the village would then set a date that restoration had to be completed by the residents. If restoration wasn't finished by the date, the village would then complete the work, and charge the cost to the resident, adding an additional 5.5% interest if not paid back by a certain date (November 1).

Without restoration, costs would be $39.64 per foot. A person with 100 square feet of land, therefore, would pay $3,964. That figure represents a 40% decrease per foot, compared to costs originally looked into four years ago, when the land was annexed.

With restoration provided by the village, costs would increase to $43.00 a foot. Residents also had the option of sod, at a cost of about $46.00 a foot.

Several neighbors expressed dismay that residents in newly-annexed areas in the village have to pay 100% of the costs attributed to reconstruction projects. Lynn Sander, 111 Bonnie Lane, was one who didn't agree with that policy.

"Why do existing property owners have to pay only 50% of the costs, and we have to pay 100%?" Sander asked Village Administrator Dan Schmidt. "It just doesn't seem fair to me."

Schmidt told the audience that the village already agreed to pay for the storm sewer and sidewalk costs of the Bonnie Lane project, something it normally hasn't done.

"I don't think we should create a tax burden to the existing village properties," Schmidt said, noting that those already living in the village should not be penalized.

Specifics Looked At In Bonnie Lane Resurfacing

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - After some heated discussion at a public hearing last Monday night, the Village seems to have reached a compromise with neighborhood residents affected by the Bonnie Lane Reconstruction project.

Much of the controversy centered on the material to be used for the roadway, which must be expanded a total of twenty feet wider than it is now.

Neighborhood residents objected to the village's plan of using limestone TB, which costs one dollar more per ton than gravel. Using the limestone TB, which is a more stable material than the gravel, would have cost the taxpayers an additional .25 per foot.

The compromise agreed upon now has the village picking up the difference in costs for the limestone TB, which will come to a total of about $6,000.

The resident originally wanted gravel to be used for the roadway, but Village Engineer Ken Ward explained that the bid for the work calls for the limestone TB to be used. By wanting the gravel, Ward said, the residents would be taking a big risk if the gravel didn't hold up under the strain of the heavy equipment that will travel on it during the construction.

"The difference between the two surfaces should end up costing the village less than the $6,000, though, as more gravel would have had to have been used if that option was taken. The village will also benefit from overbudgeting the recently completed Knights Avenue resurfacing. The village incurred a savings of nearly $6,000 on that project.

"Historically, we do come off cheaper," Ward said, pointing out that the costs associated with the project are purposely inflated to represent the worst-possible scenario.

Ward also explained to the audience that the present asphalt on Bonnie Lane would be put to use.

That asphalt would be ground into fine pieces and used as a base under the limestone TB.

Another compromise regarded timber retaining walls that would be used only on certain lots that were steep in relation to the road. Originally, the cost of those walls were to be spread over the total cost of the project.

But Tom Timblin, who has received the preliminary go-ahead to build 65 multi-family units in the area, was one of many in attendance who objected to that idea. Timblin suggested that the cost should be charged only to those affected. The Village Board agreed, and now only those needing the walls will be charged for them.

Saturday's Junior Prom is 'Enchantment Under the Sea'

This Saturday, Apr. 17, Rose Hall of Kewaskum High School will be transformed into a great sea as students gather to celebrate prom 1993.

The prom will begin at eight o'clock and end at 11:30. The Grand March will begin at 10:00 p.m. Parents are invited to join us for the Grand March.

Students may purchase tickets this week during both lunch periods. On prom night, students will need to present their tickets and student identification card for admittance.

No one will be allowed to enter the dance after 10 p.m.

The Kewaskum Schools have an outstanding opportunity and privilege to host John Crudele, a nationally renowned speaker from Bloomington, Minnesota, for a 2-day event on Thursday and Friday, May 6 and 7, 1993. The District invites you to join in this exceptional event.

Crudele's visit will include presentations to middle and high school students and the staff of those two schools on Thursday. Thursday evening will be reserved for parents of all Kewaskum students and members of the community. Mr. Crudele will spend Friday at the three elementary schools.

John is inspiring, empowering, and challenging to all who hear him. Throughout the year, John spends most of his time in schools across America and Canada speaking to audiences of teens and parents. His presentations deal with teen and family issues of the 1990's. Last year, John delivered some 500 presentations to over 125,000 people.

As an experienced speaker and leader, John speaks to teens and parents with equal effectiveness, weaving humor with hard hitting facts to challenge and stimulate. John embraces his audience mentally, by providing prevalent information and statistics, as well as emotionally, by sharing powerful stories.

The entire community is invited and encouraged to join in a community dialogue on issues affecting our children, families, school and the future.

Be sure to mark your calendars for Thursday, May 6 from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. at Rose Hall, Kewaskum High School. Free childcare will be provided on site. We don't want anyone to stay home because they were not able to find proper child care. We feel Crudele's message is something that will benefit all adults who deal with children.

Additional details can be found on posters and flyers distributed throughout the community over the next few weeks.

For more information on event specifics, contact Marilyn Terlinden, 334-7243.

Historical Museum Cleaning Tuesday

On Tuesday evening, April 20, members and friends of the Kewaskum Historical Society will meet at 6 p.m. at the museum for the annual spring cleaning. A meeting will be held at 8 p.m.

If you have any questions, or would like to become a member, please call Jake Schmidt at 338-1568 weekdays after 6 p.m.

AUDIT: Village Is In Good Financial Shape

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - The Village of Kewaskum is doing a good job managing its money, according to a report issued by the accounting firm of Conley McDonald Certified Public Accountants and Consultants.

Nicholas Quartaro, representing the firm, told the Village Board last Monday night that the audit prepared by his firm for the year ending December 31, 1992, holds good news for the community.

"The village is in a very good financial position," Quartaro said, explaining the contents of the report.

Quartaro pointed out that while county, state and school taxes in Wisconsin have soared the past couple of years, the village has done its best to keep property taxes stagnant.

School taxes jumped from $893,000 in 1989 to $1.13 million last year, an increase of almost 27%. County taxes, meanwhile, have jumped from $231,184 in 1989 to $285,318 last year, an increase of 23%.

The village property taxes, on the other hand, have increased from $402,400 in 1989 to $403,698.

"That's just outstanding," Quartaro said of the report. "Your ability to live within the budget is just outstanding."

Quartaro also noted that the village is using just 46% of its total borrowing capacity, a figure that once again is extremely favorable.

REACH TO RECOVERY

Many women may experience fear and frustration after undergoing a mastectomy or a lumpectomy. However, studies indicate that the majority of women can resume healthy, normal, and productive lives after these operations. "Reach to Recovery," a free patient service program offered through the American Cancer Society, can be instrumental in helping women learn to understand and cope with their experiences with breast cancer.

In the Service

Navy Seaman Apprentice Brett W. Prost, son of William E. and Jean H. Prost of 329 Braatz Drive, Kewaskum, recently reported for duty aboard the submarine USS Aspro, homeported in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

The 1992 graduate of Kewaskum High School of Kewaskum, joined the Navy in July, 1992.

Bird Promoted By Regal Ware

Kenneth R. Bird

KEWASKUM - Regal Ware, Inc., has announced the promotion of Kenneth R. Bird to Director - Water Products.

In this newly created position, he will be responsible for the development, marketing and sales of Regal's water-related products.

Bird is a graduate of UW-Oshkosh and joined Regal in 1971. He previously served as a field sales person in various locations and Sales Manager in the Incentive Division. Most recently he has been Director of Field Sales, Retail, Drug Stores and Supermarkets.

Bird and his family live in Hubertus.

When the British threatened Philadelphia during the Revolutionary War, the Liberty Bell was hidden in the Zion Reformed Church of Allentown, Pennsylvania.

WIS 83 to be Reconstructed In Washington County

Road construction is expected to start the week of April 19 on the reconstruction of WIS 83 from Hartford to WIS 175 in Washington County. The work will consist of widening and resurfacing the pavement to a width of 24-feet with six-foot shoulders, three-foot paved. Intersections will be widened and turning and passing lanes constructed. Drainage will be improved through re-ditching portions of the project.

The work will be performed under a contract let to Payne & Dolan, Inc. of Waukesha, at an estimated cost of $1,065,000. Financing will be shared on approximately a 76/24 percentage by the Federal government and State of Wisconsin respectively, from funds provided primarily by gas taxes.

This work will be done under traffic with both directions of traffic being routed over a single lane through the construction zone. Motorists are urged to be aware of the flagmen and use caution in the construction zone.

It is anticipated that the project will be completed by August.

Every possible effort will be made to provide continuous and safe ingress and egress to all business and residential properties during this reconstruction.

Interested project residents are invited to attend an open house type meeting schedule for Thursday, April 15 in the evening from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Hartford City Hall. Staff from the Department of Transportation and Payne & Dolan will be on hand to describe the work and to answer your questions.

to all the people of Kewaskum

I would like to thank everyone who came out and voted on April 6th. It was a very good turnout and the village can be proud. I would especially like to thank the people who voted for me.

I will not disappoint the village and their voters. I will give my new position 100% of my effort. I've hit the ground running, as I have gotten busy the day after the election.

I would like to take this opportunity to encourage EVERYONE to attend the board meetings. You will find them to be enlightening and enjoyable, but I will not wear the bunny outfit. (Sorry to disappoint you.)

As I have said before... let's communicate. Please do not be afraid to contact me.

Moraine Symphony Night at the Pops

The Moraine Symphony Orchestra, celebrating its 25th year, will present its annual "Night at the Pops" on Sat., April 24, at 7:30 p.m., in the UWWC gym.

The evening's entertainment is three-fold: The Orchestra will be playing popular selections among which are, "Voices at Spring Waltz" by Straus, R.D. Q. Bach's "Echo Sonata," and three of Dvorak's Slavic Dances.

Soloists for the evening are soprano Jan Riordan and baritone Scott Cheffer, singing a number of varied selections, running the gamut from the operatic "Watch Duet" from Die Fledermaus to songs from Broadway musical theatre.

Ms. Riordan, a West Bend resident, has studied voice extensively. Locally her credits include solo appearances with the Florentine Opera, Skylight Opera Theatre, Milwaukee Opera, Milwaukee and Waukesha Symphony Orchestras, and the Milwaukee Ballet. She recently played the role of Laurie in Skylight Opera's Oklahoma.

Mr. Cheffer, a lyric baritone, has appeared with opera companies throughout the Midwest, his performances ranging from pops to classical opera. Most recently he received acclaim for his portrayal of the Phantom of Yeston's Phantom of the Opera at Chicago's Candlelight Dinner Playhouse.

Intermission entertainment will be provided by the Frank Tarantino Trio, and as usual the annual opportunity to direct the orchestra will be provided. Members of the audience will be able to take baton in hand to lead the musicians in the rousing Sousa march, "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Tickets for the Pops Concert are available for table reservations through April 17, by writing the Moraine Symphony Orchestra, P.O. Box 52, West Bend, WI 53095. Table seating, at $10.00 per person, includes complimentary refreshments served by members of the Moraine Chorus General seating is also available for $5.00. Prior to Easter Sunday, a huge "snow bunny" adorned the front lawn of the James Kluz home at 2463 E. Moraine Drive in rural Kewaskum. Don't know what the big bunny looks like now after Mother Nature has been wreaking havoc on it. Could be bigger, smaller or all gone, depending on which day you drive by.

Obituaries .....
ADELINE GALABINSKE

Mrs. Adeline M. Galabinske, age 69, of West Bend passed away on Saturday, April 10, 1993 at St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend.

She was born on May 29, 1923 in Wild Rose, Wisconsin, the daughter of the late John and Anna (Waala) Schluter. On January 11, 1941 she was united in marriage to Lawrence Galabinske in West Bend.

Mrs. Galabinske was a member of St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kewaskum. She was employed as a nursing assistant at Midwest Medical Home Care and the Samaritan Home in West Bend.

Survivors include her husband, Lawrence Sr. of West Bend, four daughters, Susie (Jimmie) Maurer of Campbellport, Mary Gerlach of West Bend, Carol (Dave) Otte of Cedar Grove and Penny (Patrick) McCabe of Newburg; a daughter-in-law, Kathleen Galabinske, of Kewaskum; three sisters, Ethel Pratt of Menasha, Carol Adamczyk of Youngtown, Arizona, and Helen Kertscher of West Bend; 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by a son, Lawrence "Gabby" Jr., and two sisters, Elma Feuerhammer and Joyce Schluter.

Funeral services were held at the Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum at 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 14, 1993 with Rev. Timothy Henning officiating. Burial followed at Lutheran Memorial Park, Kewaskum.

Friends called after 11:00 a.m. until the time of services on Wednesday at the Miller Funeral Home.

NORBERT A. JUNG

Norbert A. Jung, age 81, of Kewaskum passed away on Sunday, April 11, 1993 at the Samaritan Nursing Home in West Bend.

He was born on June 27, 1911 in the Town of Barton, the son of the late Andrew and Celia (Otten) Junk. On May 18, 1938 he was united in marriage to Margaret Thorn at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Allenton. Mr. Jung was a member of Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum, St. Joseph's Society of Barton and the Knights of Columbus Father Caspar Rehr Council #1964 of West Bend.

He was employed at Gehl Co. in West Bend for 27 years, retiring in 1974, and was a member of the Hexelbank Club of the Gehl Co.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret; a son, David (Marilyn) of St. Michaels; a daughter, Marlene (John) Klahn of the Town of Scott; three sisters, Lucille (Henry) Eilbes of Wautoma, WI, Dorothy (Walter) Kandel of West Bend and Kathryn (Alois) Eilbes of Cedarburg; seven grandchildren; Daniel (Jeanette) Jung, Joan, Brian and Laura Jung, Michelle (Mark) Ringwell, and Annette and Kevin Klahn, and two great-grandchildren, Adam and Alyssa Jung. In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by an infant daughter, Annabelle, a sister, Celia Knoeck, and a brother, Edwin Junk Sr.

Funeral services were held at the Miller Funeral Home, Kewaskum, at 7:00 p.m. with a Mass of Christian Burial at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Kewaskum, at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 13, 1993 with Father Robert Berghammer officiating. Burial was in St. Michael's Cemetery on Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. Friends called from 4:00 p.m. until time of services at the funeral home on Tuesday.

LORETTA L. WINTER

Loretta L. Winter, a resident of Mapledale Manor, Kewaskum, formerly of Milwaukee, died Friday, April 9, 1993, at her residence, at the age of 91.

She was born May 8, 1902, in Milwaukee, to the late Emil and Elizabeth (nee Schaub) Winter, and lived in Milwaukee all her life until moving to Kewaskum 2 1/2 years ago.

She will be sadly missed by her sister, Elizabeth Stormer of Milwaukee; great-nieces and great-nephews, John (Nancy) Wilkens and family, Kathy (Wally) Hennig and family, Barb (Bob) Odell and family, Steven (Karen) Wilkens and family, Beth (Jeff) Chesak and family and Jim (Hope) Wolf and family; and other nieces and nephews, as well as dear friends in Kewaskum and Milwaukee.

Preceding her in death were two brothers, Emil and Adolph and three sisters, Hermine Schille, Olga Dettmann and Ida Winter.

Funeral services were held Monday, April 12, at 8 p.m. at St. Lucas Lutheran Church, Kewaskum. Rev. Edwin C. Frederich officiated and burial was Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Lincoln Memorial Cemetery, Milwaukee.

Visitation at the church only was on Monday from 4 p.m. until the time of services.

Memorials to St. Lucas School Building Funds, Kewaskum, appreciated.

The Myrhum Funeral Home, West Bend, served the family.

New Members on University Council

The University Council at UW Center Washington County, which acts as a citizen's advisory body to the UWWC Dean, has three new members. The new members are Sheila A. Boyung, of 3115 Maple Road in Jackson, Dr. Russell L. Heder of 3650 Lusan Drive in Cedarburg, and William Fassbender of 211 Maple Court, in Slinger.

Sheila Boyung has attended UWWC and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Exceptional Education from the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee. She is pursuing a graduate degree at Keller School of Management, in Milwaukee. She performs with various community vocal groups and participates in many church related activities and committees.

Dr. Russell L. Heder, D.D.S., S.C., grew up in Slinger. After graduation from Marquette University Dental School, Heder moved to Jackson. He has served the area communities with his practice for over thirty years. Dr. Heder has five children. His two oldest sons attended UWWC. He is a member of various dental associations, and he enjoys travelling and fishing.

William Fassbender graduated from Slinger High School. He attended Spencerian College in Milwaukee, where he received a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree. He owned and operated Modern Building Materials in Kenosha and Precast Concrete in Willow Springs, Illinois. He also owned Great Lakes Concrete Products in Menomonee Falls, a manufacturer of antique and roadway concrete light poles. He has two daughters who attended UWWC, and a son who is a police officer in Hartford. Fassbender has served as a Slinger High School Board Member for 18 years, and is also involved in various church and community activities.

The members of the University Council act as 'ambassadors' to the surrounding areas, and strengthen the relationship between the University and the community. According to Council bylaws, membership will include no more than 15 members and must include a diversity of membership from throughout the county. Dean Joel Rodney is an ex officio, non-voting member of the Council and is not counted as one of the 15 members. Dean Rodney elaborated on the role the Council performs. "I think former President Nancy Van Vooren said it best, when she said that they are our 'campus cheerleaders'. They are our advocates in the community with the city, county, and state. The Council played a critical role in the expansion of the university, and they have done a great service in making students, new faculty, and staff feel welcome."

The members serve three-year terms and may succeed themselves. The UW Centers 'Board of Visitors' delegate will also serve as a member of the Council. The current delegate is Janet Hubbell of Kewaskum.

Council officers are Don Muth, West Bend, President; Kay Anderson, West Bend, Vice-President; Allan Kieckhafer, West Bend, Treasurer, and Margaret Pok, West Bend, Secretary.

Other Council Members include, by community:

West Bend: Margaret Neilsen, Nancy Van Vooren, and Ray Werhand;

Hartford: William Gehring and Paul Rossmiller;

Jackson: Sheila Boyung and Russell Heder;

Slinger: William Fassbender;

Kewaskum: Norbert Dettman;

Menomonee Falls: Richard Muenich.

Class of '59 West Bend High Meeting April 29

Attention graduates of West Bend High School in 1959. There will be an organizational meeting on Thurs., April 29th at the Coachmen House Supper Club in West Bend at 7:30 p.m.

Any 1959 classmate of the West Bend High School interested in making plans for the 35th class reunion is welcome. If you can not attend the initial meeting, but wish to be on the committee, please call, Joan Cotter Strobel 626-4553; Chris Kemp Kuechler 334-4488 or 334-0400; or Jean Ohmann Goeden 334-9549.

We can heat the body, we can cool it; we can give it tension or relaxation; and surely it is possible to bring it into a state in which rising from bed will not be a pain.

Scout/Youth Group Saturday at Riveredge

This Saturday, April 17, is a day set aside for youth groups such as scouts and 4-H to participate in a program with a Riveredge Nature Center naturalist.

There are several Saturdays that are set aside for such activities throughout the Fall, Winter and Spring. All groups must register for a Saturday prior to coming.

For more information, call Riveredge Nature Center at 375-2715 (Metro) or 675-6888 (local).

Riveredge Nature Center is a non-profit, 350 acre natural sanctuary and educational organization, providing environmental programs for all ages. It is located in Ozaukee County, on Highway Y, one mile north of Newburg, between Saukville and West Bend.

An Encounter With Ephemeral Phenomena

On Sunday, April 18, from 1:30 to 3 p.m. you may encounter the short lived, ephemeral phenomena that are signatures of the season at Riveredge Nature Center.

help young people achieve their goals throughout life. The reading challenge was open to all Wisconsin young adults in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades, and was a project of the Milwaukee Bucks in cooperation with the Milwaukee County Federated Library System.

The corporate sponsor was Lee Jeans. The program was designed to encourage reading for fun, help students improve their reading skills and help them develop the habit of using the library for a lifetime of benefits. The Kewaskum Library was proud to participate in this project, and encourages area youth to use the library frequently.

Noren Receives Eagle Scout Award

On February 21st, 1993 Jason Noren of Troop 744 Kewaskum, received his Eagle Scout award. Jason went through the scouting ranks from cub scouts to the highest rank in scouting, Eagle. All of troop 744 congratulates him on his achievement. Jason's Eagle scout project was building a gazebo by the Fire House on the south end of Kewaskum. On a personal note I would like to add my congratulations on Jason's achievement and to thank him for making it so easy for me to take over as Scout Master. Jason was the Senior Patrol Leader at the time.

C of C Compiling Visitor's Guide Book

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce will be putting together an area Visitor's Guide Book. It will contain the name, location and telephone number of area businesses, information about the area and a map of the Kettle Moraine.

The guide will be available, free of charge, in most business places. The booklet will also be included in the "Welcome to Kewaskum" packets that will be distributed to all newcomers to the village.

All Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce members will automatically be included in this booklet at no charge. Any other business in the area interested in being included in the Visitor's Guide Book should call Jane Korth at 626-4172, Sharron Miller at 626-2184, or Lana Kuehl at 626-2626 for further information.

The fee for non-chamber members is $60, however there is another option. If you join the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce for the 1993 annual fee of $45 you will automatically be included in the booklet. As an extra incentive, next year we will offer you a 1994 membership for $35 (an additional $10 savings off regular membership).

The deadline to be included in the visitor's guide booklet is April 19. So don't hesitate... call today! There will be 15,000 copies printed and distributed to countless tourists and newcomers interested in finding out all about the businesses located in the Kewaskum/Kettle Moraine Area.

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers! Hope that each and every one of you had a very nice Easter. We had a "wild" weekend, wouldn't you agree? Chrystal was home for the holiday and Saturday and we were almost ready to put on the summer shorts. Then, along came Sunday and we all found ourselves "wading" through the slush and scraping off the cars... and SHOVELING! What a mess! I'm ready for summer... you, too?

The first thing that I would like to talk about this week is a TRIAL PERIOD on longer hours for Saturday. I have thoroughly researched this and feel that the Kewaskum community deserves an extension of service.

Starting April 17th, the Saturday service will be as follows: Window service will be available from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The lobby will be open from 6 a.m. until 2 p.m. I fully understand that so many of you receive your mail through boxes at the Post Office and certainly feel that the longer hours will be beneficial to the community. YOU DESERVE IT and we are here "to service YOU... our customers!"

We will run these hours for a four week period and if it is beneficial, these hours will be permanent for Saturdays.

If any of you have my calling card, you will notice that it says: "Customer satisfaction is MY priority" and I sincerely mean that. Each and every one of you are our customers. I feel that I can speak for each and every one of my employees when I tell you that we are here for YOU and "we aim to please!"

As your Postmaster, I invite you to come in and "share your feelings" about this Saturday extension of hours. On to some other Postal "info."

ZIP+4 CODE — Many of you may have noticed mail coming addressed to you with four little funny numbers following the zip code of 53040. Those four numbers are called "your four-digit add-on. In 1983, the Postal Service began use of an expanded Zip Code called Zip+4 Code.

It is composed of the original 5-digit code plus a 4-digit add-on. Use of the 4 digit add-on number is strictly voluntary. However, it helps the Postal Service direct mail efficiently and accurately. Even if you prefer not to use your 4-digit add-on number, use of the correct 5-digit Zip Code helps prevent delays.

The 4-digit add-on number identifies a geographic segment within the 5-digit delivery area, such as a city block, an office building, an individual high-volume mailer, or any other unit that would aid efficient mail sorting and delivery. This reduces the number of handlings and significantly decreases the potential for human error and the possibility of misdelivery.

It also will lead to better control over postal costs and in turn, postage rate stability. As previously mentioned, the use of the 4-digit add-on is strictly voluntary. If however you would like to know yours, just call us at 626-2575 or stop in and we will be more than happy to give that information to you. Maybe you are ordering more checks and/or address labels. This would be a great time to start using it.

MINIMUM SIZE STANDARDS — Did you know that letters and cards MUST be at least three and one-half inches long, five inches high and at least .007 of an inch thick (about the thickness of a postal card)? Items sent to a foreign country have the same restrictions except that they must be five and a half inches high. Mail not meeting these standards will be returned to the sender with the endorsement... "non-mailable."

NON-STANDARD SIZE MAIL — Did you know that if a piece of mail weighs one ounce or less and exceeds ANY of the following size limits, it requires a ten cent surcharge? If the height exceeds 6 1/8th inches OR the length exceeds 11 1/2 inches OR thickness exceeds 1/4 inch. Please remember that we are referring to mail that is one ounce or less.

You can save yourself a lot of time and trouble by bringing that questionable piece into the office for weighing and/or measuring. I have seen many greeting cards that state: "extra postage required" and some that do not have that endorsement. I have witnessed the fact that some with the endorsement DO NOT need extra postage and some without the endorsement DO need extra postage. When in doubt, bring it in and we will be more than happy to assist you.

TAX TIME — Yep, it is getting to be that time when ole Uncle Sam is "calling our name" to get those "beloved" taxes in. The State and Federal Revenue Service DO NOT accept postage due mail. It would behoove you to bring those to the window and have them weighed before mailing. I would not like to see any of you "be late" due to insufficient postage being applied and have those returns sent back to you.

CERTIFICATE OF MAILING: A certificate of mailing proves that an item was mailed. It does not provide for insurance coverage for loss or damage or provide proof of delivery. No record is maintained at the Post Office. The cost of this item is 50 cents in addition to the postage.

Well, that is about it for this week. The "eternal tree" or "perpetual holiday tree" will soon bear roses for the next "biggie"... MOTHER'S DAY.

So happy that many of you do like the "added touch" at the Kewaskum Post Office. Cannot thank you enough for your continued support and encourage-

In the Service

Marine Lance Cpl. Steven A. Liegl, son of Diane P. and Steven A. Liegl Sr. of 1170 Hillside Drive, Kewaskum, has returned from Okinawa, Japan with 2nd Battalion, 8th Marines, 2nd Marine Division, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C. as part of the Unit Deployment program.

The battalion participated in many training exercises at a number of training areas in Okinawa, mainland Japan and in the Republic of Korea. While forward-deployed to Camp Schwab, Okinawa, the battalion was engaged in aggressive jungle and mountain training.

The battalion deployed to Pohang, Korea where Marines conducted mountain war fare training at the Korean Marine Corps Mountain Warfare Center. This included repelling, rope bridge operations, and mountaineering skills. The battalion also participated in company level training with Korean Marines from the First Korean Marine Division.

Elements of the battalion deployed to Camp Fuji, Japan for live fire exercises utilizing mortars and machine guns. The battalion also participated in helicopter rope suspension training and a Tactical Air Control Party with live close-air support, and completed a logistics readiness evaluation.

ment since being appointed as your Postmaster. I LOVE IT HERE and intend to be here for a long time.

My sincere thanks to the Kewaskum Statesman for "allowing me space" each week to try to keep you all advised about Postal happenings and "things you MIGHT JUST NOT KNOW otherwise." As always, I sincerely invite your input into this column... the question you might have, just might be a question that many of your friends and neighbors might have thought about, but never asked.

Will be anxiously awaiting your comments on our proposed new Saturday hours. YOUR INPUT IS IMPORTANT!! Until next week, try to have a GOOD DAY... A HAPPY EVERYDAY!

Your Postmaster, Bonnie

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM News Notes - Recycling Tips CORRUGATED CARDBOARD

TYPE OF CORRUGATED CARDBOARD: The cardboard that peels apart with two outside layers is corrugated. The middle section not exposed is wavy or corrugated.

COLORS: Some waxed and pressed cardboard may also be recycled.

PREPARATION: Flatten boxes and cut into 3' x 3" pieces. Tie in bundles with twine or strong string. Bundles should be limited to 8" in height.

Place bundles at the curb next to the dark green recycling bin or blue recycling bag. Place the bin or bag at the curb on the same day that your solid waste is to be collected. Pick up will be Wednesdays for both solid waste and recyclables. Multi-family dwellings of six or more remember your recycling pickup will be the first and third Wednesday of each month.

NOTE: If raining on collection day, please hold cardboard until the following week.

NEXT WEEK: Aluminum beverage containers.

Moldy Corn No Big Danger to Wildlife

While mycotoxins - toxic substances produced by the molds that grow in corn during cold, wet weather - can produce the same clinical sicknesses in deer as in cattle, the moldy corn standing in many Wisconsin fields does not pose a major risk to wildlife species, according to Department of Natural Resources Wildlife Health Specialist Dr. Sarah Hurley.

"The severity of the mold problem varies from county to county and also within individual cornfields," Dr. Hurley said. "Mycotoxin poisoning will have more of an effect on confined production animals like hogs and cattle than it will on wildlife. Domestic animals are confined to a single food source while wildlife and deer are able to move freely between cornfields and can select good corn over moldy corn for feed."

Deer also have a choice of consuming different feeds like grass, acorns or browse. If the only food source the deer were consuming was mycotoxin contaminated corn, they would become affected just like cattle, Dr. Hurley added. Single stomach animals like raccoon, squirrel and hogs will be affected more severely than ruminating animals such as cattle or deer.

Clinical signs of mycotoxin poisoning in cattle include not eating feed, drooping heads, excessive salivation, and displaying a very weak condition. The toxins are more likely to make animals sick than cause death, Dr. Hurley said.

The most common problems in cattle noted by farmers is a lowering of milk production, off-feed and reproductive problems like abortions, infertility and stillbirths. However, Dr. Hurley said, it is not likely there will be any observable or measurable drop in deer reproduction.

Wildlife managers have reported an abundance of standing corn in many areas of the state during the late fall and early winter. An estimate is that one third or more of the corn was left unharvested for a variety of reasons.

Frosts during the early 1992 growing seasons delayed germination or killed young corn. The replanted corn began growing late and delayed normal harvest dates. Late fall rains then soaked the standing corn slowing the drying and ability to harvest because of wet fields. The soaked, standing corn created very favorable conditions for a type of mold growth called Fusarium mold.

"If any individuals notice any unusual mortalities or behaviors from wildlife, they are encouraged to give us a call," Dr. Hurley said. "Moldy corn can be tested for the presence and concentrations of various mycotoxins, but the tests are expensive."

Anyone who hears reports about sick deer, or other wildlife, is asked to note field conditions and collect fresh carcasses and representative corn samples. They should call the DNR Bureau of Wildlife Management at (608) 266-1877.

Teams Needed

KEWASKUM - The deadline for entering teams in the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association softball leagues is drawing near, and there are still several teams needed to form a Monday night women's league.

There are currently four teams entered in the Monday league, and the VKAA needs a minimum of six to start the league. If there are not six teams signed up for Monday nights by April 23, the VKAA will disband the league.

There are also one or two spots that need to be filled for the Thursday night men's league. The same circumstances apply, in that if there are not enough teams by April 23rd, the Thursday night league will also be disbanded.

So if you are thinking of entering a team in either league, please do not wait. The VKAA needs the minimum number of teams entered to begin making schedules, ordering softballs, and other miscellaneous items.

To enter a team in either league, call Rick Krahn at 626-2736 or Noel Stollenwerk at 626-4485.

TOWN OF KEWASKUM PLAN COMMISSION AND TOWN BOARD MEETING

The Kewaskum Plan Commission will meet Monday, April 19, 1993, 7:30 p.m., Labor Hall, 1230 Fond du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum, WI. ## International Exhibit At FDL Moraine Park

The international exhibit "Seeds of Change" is currently on display at Moraine Park Technical College's Fond du Lac campus.

The traveling exhibition, which is on display now through April 26, is based on a major exhibition at the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History in Washington, D.C. and looks at the Columbian encounter from the point of view of biological exchanges and their social and cultural effects.

It also looks at the process of change, both planned and inadvertent, by tracing five biological transfers and their effects on both the Old and the New Worlds. The exhibition takes an interesting approach to the study of history by examining five "seeds" that helped shape the modern world -- corn, potato, sugar, the horse and disease.

"Seeds of Change" was developed by the Exhibit's Service, the United States Information Agency in partnership with the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service and the Federation of State Humanities Councils. The research and graphics are based on the original exhibition. The "Seeds of Change" exhibition will travel throughout Wisconsin under the sponsorship of the Wisconsin Humanities Committee.

Admission to the exhibition is free. Viewing hours are Monday - Thursday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Call Don Smeaton at 922-8611, ext. 226.

Family Center Needs Volunteers

The Family Center of Washington County is in need of volunteers for its Home Visitor program. Home Visitors provide access to Family Center services and resources to families participating in the Home Visitor program.

Volunteers serve as a parent role model and parent educator who visits the family's home once per week. A two day training will be offered to interested volunteers on April 24 and 25.

For more information, contact Joan at 338-9461.

Village Board Meeting Monday

Public notice is hereby given that the next meeting of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, Village Board is scheduled for Monday evening, April 19, 1993, at 8:00 p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

The agendas for meeting are prepared as of Wednesday noon preceding the meeting and are available at the office of the clerk at the Municipal Building on Thursday preceding the meeting.

Copies of the agenda are also posted in the lobby of the Kewaskum Post Office and lobby of the Valley Bank.

Medication Matters

(NAPS)—It's wise to discuss your medical history and medications with your eyecare professional, say the experts at the Better Vision Institute (BVI). Some medications have side effects that affect your eyes.

Common visual side effects from medication include: blurred vision; poor night vision; dry eyes; double vision; increased pupil dilation; sensitivity to light; brown spots around the eyes; changes in color vision; puffy eyelids; teary eyes; and droopy eyelids.

The kinds of medications most likely to cause vision problems include: analgesics; antacids; anti-anxiety medications; antibiotics; anticoagulants; anticonvulsants; antidepressants; antihistamines; anti-hypertensives; corticosteroids; diuretics; and oral contraceptives.

If your eyecare professional determines your medication is causing eye trouble, consult your medical doctor. Don't stop taking your medicine on your own.

Joining forces with several thousand fellow Jazzercise enthusiasts, certified Jazzercise Instructor Pamela Green-Fritz attended Jazzerjam Orlando '93, held March 11-14 at the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando, Fl. The international convention, which drew 4,000 participants, was sponsored by Nike and designed to provide a variety of fitness education, exercise and entertainment opportunities.

Highlights for the three-day event included; more than 75 Jazzercise and participatory dance classes, including the premiere JazzerCircuit class which combines both aerobics and strength training exercises into one exciting, high-energy, muscle-powered, time efficient class format, developed and tested by Jazzercise founder Judi Sheppard Missett. Jazzercise Instructors worldwide learned how to teach the new class.

There was a full-slate of dynamic educational and motivational speakers, including Olympic Gold Medalist, Mary Lou Retton and Dr. Ruth Westheimer, psychosexual therapist.

A three-day Health, Beauty and Fitness Shopping Expo with 150 booths featuring the latest in exercise wear, equipment, cosmetics and other fitness/health products.

An opening night show took place March 12 at Sea World with all Sea World attractions and juggler Michael Moschen, the highly-acclaimed musical "Forever Plaid" and a colorful fireworks and laser show. A giant grand finale class was held for all 4,000 Jazzerjam participants with Jazzercise founder Judi Sheppard Missett joined by daughter and instructor Shanna Missett.

Fritz is one of 5,000 Jazzercise instructors who offer classes that combine effective exercise with jazz-dance-based choreography and popular music. Jazzercise students total more than 500,000 throughout the United States, Canada and 32 countries, making it the largest dance-fitness program in the world.

Pamela has been an instructor in the West Bend area for ten years and currently teaches 12 classes a week. For more information on local Jazzercise classes, call the West Bend Jazzercise Fitness Center at 338-0008.

LAWN AND GARDEN TIPS

Japanese Beetle Defense

(NAPS)—Since being introduced into this country in 1916, Japanese beetles have become a perennial nuisance to home gardeners in the eastern United States. Unmistakable in their metallic green and copper-colored armor, adult insects emerge from the soil in the late spring or early summer to feast on the leaves, flowers and fruit of more than 300 different kinds of plants.

As larvae, Japanese beetles spend some 10 months underground feeding on turfgrass roots. If infestations are heavy, these cream-colored, C-shaped grubs can leave behind weakened or even dead patches in your lawn.

Gardeners constantly experiment with new ways to control Japanese beetles. One method is to apply SEVIN® brand carbaryl insecticide. The granular formulation is a convenient way to control grubs in lawns. As a liquid, this product can be applied with either pump-up sprayers or hose-end sprayers to control adults on trees, shrubs and vegetable gardens as well as the grubs in your lawn. For best results, remember to apply SEVIN® brand during the hottest part of the day, since that's when adult beetles are most active.

SEVIN® is a registered trademark of Rhone-Poulenc.

The first definite evidence of the use of algebra appears in the writings of Ahmes, an Egyptian mathematician who lived about 1700 BC.

Letter to the Editor

March 26, 1993

Editor:

Wednesday, March 17th was a beautiful, sunny but cold day to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. We were so thankful the weather cooperated as we had enough snow on the ground to cause parking headaches.

The people that helped promote ticket sales were: The Schwai Family, Schwai Bartenders, Threshold Clients, Threshold Lead Workers, Threshold Staff, Threshold Board of Directors, Threshold Auxiliary, Washington/Ozaukee County Life Underwriters Association, Oscar Fehring of West Bend, Todd Leichtle of West Bend, Boerger's Garden and Floral Center of West Bend, Judy's Beauty Boutique of Slinger, and Robert Hanson of Cedarburg. We thank you for a job well done. A total of $3,870 in tickets were sold.

Thanks to the merchants and people of Washington County who donated prizes for the Green Pig Raffle ticket and in-house raffles. They were: M & I Bank-West Bend; Koehn & Koehn Jewelers - West Bend; Regal Ware - Kewaskum; Boerger's Floral Center - West Bend; Wisconsin Pharmacal - Jackson; Associated Bank - Slinger; First National Bank - Hartford; Valley Bank - West Bend; Bank One - West Bend; Judy's Boutique - Slinger; Husar Jewelers - West Bend; Kennelly's Hallmark Shop - Hartford; Coldwell Bankers - Glynn Realty - Slinger; Amity Leather - West Bend; Flowers by Julie - Slinger; Ike Kumrow - Random Lake; Russ Darrow - West Bend; Rock Realty - West Bend; Hron Jewelers - West Bend; Tri-Par - Saukville; Attorney Sheedy - Milwaukee; Saukville Feeds - Saukville; Schaefer's Amoco - Slinger; Slesar Glass - West Bend; Bend Industries - West Bend; Hansen's Piggly Wiggly - Slinger; WOW Distributors - Saukville; Carol Fisher - West Bend; Harold Beck - West Bend; Rob Robrahn - West Bend; and Howard Groth - West Bend. Without your sharing and caring, this project could never have happened.

Winners of the Green Pig raffle tickets are as follows: Green Pig - Joe Canfield; Wrist watch - Carol Blecher; Breadmaker - Lloyd Kluck; $100 Cash - Jerry Zahn; Floral Arrangement - Glen Mueller;

Dinner for Two - Jeff Lutz; $50 Bond from Wisconsin Pharmacal - Bill Hale; $50 Bond from Wisconsin Pharmacal - Kim Grunwald; $50 Bond from Associated Bank of Slinger - Jim Schwalback; $50 Bond from 1st National Bank, Hartford - John Brandly; $50 Bond from Valley Bank, West Bend - Julia Grabczyk; $50 Bond from Bank One, West Bend - Bruce Wilk; $25 Gift Certificate from Judy's Boutique, Slinger - Jim Splinder; $25 Gift Certificate from Husar's Jewelers - Jean Burg; $25 Gift Certificate from Kennelly Hallmark Shop - Mike Walters; U.S. Flag - Rick Takacs; Coffee Case - Barb Canfield; Liquor Case - Frances Wismer; Leather Wallet - Ross Hoblitzell and Rose Mary Bingen; Flowers by Julie Arrangement - Dar Duher; Airplane Ride - Roger Ziegelbauer; 6 Open Day Brewer Tickets - Bruce Wilk; $25 Case - Fred Bury; $10 Gift Certificate at Hron Jewelers - Donna Meschia; $50 from Tri Par - Dick Edwards; 2 Wills - Pappy Opitz and Bob Kumrow; Jacket - Monica Donahue; 2 Lubes/Oil Filters - Willy Blecher and Sandy Mueller; Door Mirror - N. Cox; Luminaires - Dave Olson; Popcorn Maker - Mark Kohlway; $25 Gift Certificate from Hansen Foods - Joan Russel; 2 Miller Wolf Mirrors - Rob Pfeifer and Dick Glynn; Afghan - Joe Thomas.

Our paddle raffles made $362; in-house raffle $304, and the afghan raffle $135. A special thanks to the volunteer sellers Ana Garcia, Sue Schwai - Giebel, Joe Schwai, Tom Schwai, and Diane Schulest.

As the green beer flowed, a $1.00 donation was given to Threshold for each pitcher sold. This generated $392.

By the close of the evening, our bartenders Dan Mantz, Ron Weninger, Kim Kowski, Vikki Beistle, Cheryl Vektor, Anggie, and Mike Schwai were happy to kick off their shoes and elevate their feet.

The sandwich people in the kitchen were Mary Trudeau, Bonnie Wendleborn, Eileen Miotke, Debbie Mantz, Pat Schwai Puestow, Edna Schuster, Anne Gundrum, Colleen McKlipp, Norma Chitwood and Diane Schubert. After cooking, slicing and making sandwiches with 550 pounds of home cured corned beef, we were ready for a rest. Thanks for your great appetites.

We can't forget the "go-fors" who were Ozzie Fehring, Andre, Allen Schuster and Scott Fell.

Oh yes, the corned beef slicers were Allen Schuster and Lu Ann Schwai. Our arms are now back to normal.

May the good Lord bless all who made a $5,063 donation possible for the people of Washington County challenged by disabilities and served by The Threshold. Thanks a bunch!

Lu Ann, Joe and Tom O'Schwai

Funnel Cake: A Tasty, Traditional Dessert

(NAPS)—For generations, the Pennsylvania Dutch have been serving up a unique dessert called funnel cake or plow-lines. This delicious, light pastry is fried golden brown and topped with powdered sugar, cinnamon and sugar or fruit and whipped cream.

The dessert is called funnel cake, because the cake batter is poured through a funnel into the oil in a lacy pattern. Plow-lines refers to its resemblance to the lines in a Pennsylvania Dutch farmer's field.

Pennsylvania Dutch women create the treat—a farm fair favorite in Pennsylvania—with a mixture of flour, milk, eggs, salt, baking powder, baking soda and whey.

Thanks to Honey Brook, PA-based Good Food, Inc., you can make this tasty, inexpensive dessert by simply adding water to their Good Old Fashioned Funnel Cake Mix and frying. Good Food suggests frying in healthy canola oil and offers a 2-pound bag of mix and a 32 oz. bottle of canola oil for just $7. For more information on funnel cake mix or to order a 1, 2, or 5-pound bag, write Good Food, Inc., Box 160 West Main Street, Honey Brook, PA 19344. Funnel cake pitchers for pouring are also available.

Annual Wildflower Sale at Lac Lawrann Conservancy

"Gardeners' Delight" is what the West Bend Beautification committee and Lac Lawrann Conservancy volunteers are calling their flower sales Saturday, May 8. This year the sales will be held on the same day and at the same times, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. but at different locations.

The beautification committee's annual sale of the city flower, the daylily, will be held at West Bend's Riverside park, 800 Kilbourn, West Bend. The annual sale of wild flowers, perennials and herbs, collected by Lac Lawrann volunteers, will be sold at the "shed" at the conservancy, 300 Schmidt Rd. West Bend. The sale is on a "first come, first served" basis until sold out.

Large, landscapers field clumps of the daylilies should be ordered by April 30 and payment must accompany the orders. According to Maradel Sager, president of the Beautification Committee, there will be a few unordered clumps available the day of the sale. The popular, reblooming, dwarf, daylily, Stella d'oro, will again be available for $7.50. New varieties, chosen by the beautification committee for this year's sale are: Corryton Pink, 32", pearl pink, June/July, $6.00; Pink Damask, 30", deep pink, July, $5.50; Ice Carnival, 28", white-green throat, fragrant, July, $4.50; Mary Todd, 24-26", butter yellow, July/Aug., $6.00; Chicago Royal Robe, 24", deep royal purple, June $8.00; Chicago Cherry, 24", bright red, June/July, $6.00; Apricot Sombero Way, 30/36", bright red, June/July, $6.00; Apricot Sombero Way, 30/36", orange/apricot, July/Aug., $7.00, and September Gold, 30/36", deep gold, July/Aug. $4.50.

Varieties which were sold last year that will be offered again are: Prairie Blue Eyes, 28-30", lavender, June/July, $6.00; Purple Waters, 36", wine red, July, reblooms, $4.00, and Chartreuse Magic, 24/30", clear yellow, June/July, $4.50. Order blanks are available at the Park Department in City Hall, area businesses, and the library.

The popular, 6th annual wild flower sale at Lac Lawrann will again feature native woodland and prairie varieties, and some wetland plants. Most of the plants have either been grown in members gardens, or collected from private wood lots and fields, but there will also be a few species purchased from Mayfield nursery to fill in the selection.

Woodland or shade loving flowers include: Bloodroot, Trillium, Virginia Bluebells, Spring Beauty, Jack-in-the-pulpit, Jacob's Ladder, Hepatica, Meadow Rue, Wild Ginger and Dutchman's Breeches. Some of the sun-loving or prairie flowers which will be available are: Asters, including New England, Prairie and Purple Cone

Flowers, Black-eyed Susans, Butterfly Weed, Wild Geranium, and Monarda. Ferns, Turtle Head, Cardinal Flower, and Marsh Marigold will be available for moist locations. In addition to the wild flowers there will be hundreds of perennial plants and herbs for sale.

Dan Wilson, UW Extension horticulture specialist, will be at the sale to give information on growing wildflowers, in your garden. Lac Lawrann Conservancy is located north of Hwy. 33, on Schmidt Road, just east of the County Courthouse.

For more information on either sale call the West Bend Park and Recreation Department at 335-5080.

Many Faces of Homeless Conference

On April 30, 1993, UW-Extension Family Living and the Washington County Homelessness Coalition in conjunction with the Wisconsin Division of Housing and the Wisconsin Association of Community Action Agencies is sponsoring a satellite video conference entitled, "The Many Faces of Homelessness."

The conference will begin at 11 a.m. and conclude at 1 p.m. It will be held at the Public Agency Center, Room 1113A.

The conference will offer participants an opportunity to find out more about who is homeless, the cause of homelessness and the consequences of being homeless. It will focus on rural and small town homelessness.

Estimates from shelters across the state indicate more than 35,000 Wisconsin residents are homeless. But those numbers are probably very conservative, especially in rural areas where few shelters exist.

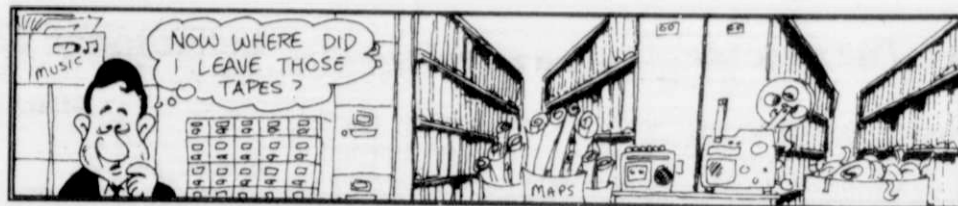

Families with children are one of the fastest growing groups facing homelessness or crisis housing. You usually don't see them on the street because they tend to skip around a lot. They go from home to home, staying with relatives or friends until they can't stay any longer. They may be even more invisible in rural areas, which have no shelter to accommodate them.

The video satellite program will include taped interviews with homeless people and social service professionals around the state, as well as local discussion groups.

The program is sponsored by Joyce Albrecht, UW-Extension Family Living Education and the Washington County Homelessness Coalition.

For more information or to register call 335-4479, 644-5204 or 342-2929.

The Pony Express station is Hanover, Kansas, which served the famous western mail riders in 1860-61, is the only one on the entire route to still stand unchanged.

The Library of Congress is probably the world's largest, containing more than 77 million items, including books, journals, music, films, photographs and maps.

Good News For Men

(NAPS)—A problem that affects as many as half of all men over 50 may soon have a new solution.

Capsules containing a powder made from the flower of a cactus plant may help men suffering from urinary disturbances caused by an enlarged prostate gland, scientists in Israel discovered recently. A clinical study was conducted by Dr. Israel Levin, senior urology surgeon at Soroka Medical Center, Ben-Gurion University of the Negev. Patients rated improvements—with no side effects at all.

Unless a tumor is involved, urologists say, surgery is not necessarily the answer to prostate enlargement. Research found cactus flower capsules can alleviate typical complaints such as the frequent and urgent need to urinate, especially at night. The opuntia ficus indica, which grows very successfully in Israel, is the only one reported in herbal literature as helpful in prostate cases.

The capsules are sold in pharmacies, health food stores and other outlets as a non-pharmaceutical product.

Dedication ceremonies are being planned Easter Sunday for the "MagneBell" Tape Player which was recently installed at Peace United Church of Christ, Kewaskum. This announcement was made by Rev. Dan Schowalter, pastor, who said that the instrument is a memorial gift given in memory of Maurice W. Rosenheimer and Mrs. Evelyn Nolting by relatives and friends. This "MagneBell" instrument is an exclusive development of Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., Sellersville, Pennsylvania, the world's largest producer of carillons, bells and chimes, with over eight thousand installations throughout the world. The "MagneBell" consists of coloco-controlled magnetic tape player and an audio-amplification system. The instrument can be set to automatically play a predetermined number of carillon selections or bell-ringing programs at chosen times of the day.

Roy Esser and six FFA members attended a DeKalb corn banquet in Beaver Dam on April 2. This banquet was to honor vovag students with DeKalb corn projects who had made the best record on a corn growing analysis sheet supplied by DeKalb. The FFA members in attendance were: Don Miske, Conrad Scheunemann, Dan Gundrum, Bob Etta, Dave Herman and Allen Krause.

Air Force 2nd Lt. David W. Mayer, son of Mrs. Edward Mayer of Kewaskum, is now in training to become an intercept director for the Air Force Aerospace Defense Command's 32nd Air Division at Gunter AFB, Alabama. In Air Force ADC, the Semi-Automatic Ground Environment (SAGE) Direction Centers, such as the one at Gunter AFB, are located around the United States. They are manned by military specialists such as Lieutenant Mayer, schooled in the use of electronic gear vital to the sophisticated SAGE Network. The SAGE Direction Center for the 32nd Air Division and the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) Division is actually the central point to which vital defense information is relayed from radar sites, fighter interceptor bases and ground-to-air missile units throughout the southeastern United States.

For a guy who operates a golf course, "Bud" Korth does a good job as a bowler. He tied the high game record for the season in the West Bend area bowling league activity last Thursday night by registering a 280 count in the Lighthouse Lanes 3-Man League. Bud unwound for his 280 in the very first game while he was still "fresh" and followed with 203 and 175 to also lead the league with a 658 set.

A daughter was born to Herman and Nancy Panzer, Kewaskum, on March 22. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horner, Route 1, Kewaskum, on April 6. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartelt, Route 1, Kewaskum, on April 3.

Russell Belger, petty officer third class in the U.S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Belger, has left New York for an unknown destination. Formerly stationed in Michigan, he has been transferred three times in the last few weeks. He was first transferred from Michigan to Norfolk, Virginia. After being there only two weeks, he was sent to New York. Last week his parents received a telegram that he was leaving New York and they would not hear from him for several weeks. It is believed that he is taking his basic training aboard a ship.

A class of eight children will be confirmed on Palm Sunday at the Peace Evangelical and Reformed Church by the Pastor, Rev. R.G. Beck. The class consists of the following: Bernice Bunkelmann, Marion Doms, John Geidel, Betty Jane Krueger, Arlene Mertes, Alvin and Ronald Panzer, and Jerome Stautz.

In a military wedding ceremony on April 10, in St. John's Lutheran Church, New Fane, Miss Iris Marguarite Bartelt, Madison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Bartelt of Forest Lake, Town of Auburn, became the bride of Captain Howard Weinberger, Madison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Weinberger of Milwaukee.

Twenty-one boys reported when the high school baseball practice started last Thursday. The following boys have reported and are trying out for respective places: pitchers, Bob Schmidt, R. Koth, M. Krueger and G. Backhaus; catchers, C. Stautz, W. Bunkelmann and J. Geidel; first baseman, R. Dins; second baseman, L. Binder, J. Stautz and R. Schleif; third baseman, Jim Bartelt; shortstop, L. Schaub and H. Seefeldt; infield, J. Pamperin; outfield, J. Kleinhaus, A. Stahl, A. Schrauth, D. Mertes, E. Junk, N. Koff and M. Kempf. The first game for the locals will be May 5.

April 15th is the date set for the Town Spelling, Arithmetic and Writing contests to be held in every town in the county. Teachers are urged to send two pupils from each district to represent their respective schools. The winners in each district to represent his town in a county contest. Each contestant shall enter each of the three contests. The work in each contest shall be counted for one-third. The pupil having the highest percentage when all three marks are averaged will be the winners.

Farmers in this community would do well to keep their chickens from the roadway now that the automobile season has opened.

Little August Koch was very severely burned on one of his legs last week Friday when he got into a pail of boiling water which was being used for scrubbing the store building. The little fellow is getting along very nicely according to late reports.

Since the automobile has taken so prominent a place in the business world it will be of interest to our readers to know when the first automobile appeared on the streets of Kewaskum. The article explaining the event is taken from the Statesman issue of August 10, 1899 and is as follows:

"The first automobile seen on the streets of Kewaskum rolled in here Thursday noon from Milwaukee, in charge of Philip Odenbrett and son George, the well-known piano tuners of that city. They made the run from the Cream City to West Bend in 2½ hours, but it took them ¾ of an hour to come from the latter place to Kewaskum owing to the sandy hills on the road. The rig was stored in Perschbacher's carriage repository, where it attracted a great deal of attention until yesterday, when the owners left for Fond du Lac. The vehicle can be guided through crowded city streets or run over a country road at the rate of from 3 to 20 miles an hour, and in coming in here it was pleasing to note that the carriage was not noisy and frightened no horses. The power used is called a hydrocarbon motor. The motor is 6 horsepower, and with a charge of 3 gallons of gasoline it will run 75 miles over fair country roads. The carriage costs $1,000, weighs 1,600 pounds and carries three persons if necessary. It is provided with pneumatic tires and has an alarm gong to announce its approach. It is guided by means of a pair of levers at the right of the seat, and the speed can be regulated by pressing a button at the left foot of the driver, who can also put on the brakes in like manner. The running gearing is of steel tubing and has ball bearings throughout. The "locomotor" also has acetylene lamps which light up the road nicely." From that article it is plainly seen that in those days the automobile was a curiosity. This is only nineteen years ago, and yet during that time the automobile has become an essential in carrying on the world's business. It is estimated that in the United States at the present time there is one automobile for every twenty persons, and its demand is still growing.

Investment in Young Children Is Critical to Their Future and Ours

By State Superintendent Herbert J. Grover

The national "Week of the Young Child," April 18-24, may give us pause to think about the condition of our youngest and most vulnerable citizens, and how we, as parents, relatives, neighbors and community members can contribute to their well-being.

One of my favorite recollections of my children as toddlers is the fascination that the most commonplace objects held for them. An empty plastic milk carton was good for lots of exploration and fun. They squeezed that carton and listened to the noise it made. They chewed on it, stepped on it, shook it and tossed it up in the air, just to see what it could do. And, yes, then they claimed it as "mine" when someone else wanted to do the same thing.

But, I have soon forgotten the alternate delight and seriousness with which they carried out their main mission: to learn about the world they live in.

We, as a society, seem to have forgotten the seriousness with which we should regard ourselves as caretakers and nurturers of the next generation. It is the world that young children live in, the people they spend time with each day — whether parents, child care workers, or neighbors — who will largely determine what kind of parents, workers, taxpayers these children will grow to be.

"Children Learn What They Live," is the name of one of my favorite verses about children. It begins, "If children live with criticism, they learn to condemn;" and ends, "If children live with acceptance and friendship, they learn to find love in the world."

I have fought hard during my past 12 years in this office to make sure that each child has the chance to succeed in a sound and caring educational environment regardless of the child's birthplace, economic condition, race, or physical disability. Increasingly, however, we have realized that 5 years old is five years too late to begin the learning journey.

Many of the proposals in the department's 1993-95 biennial budget reflect the critical importance of the early learning years. We have proposed grants to help school districts build early childhood classrooms and to establish preschool and parenting programs in all Wisconsin school districts.

We'd also like to see a state commission created to help coordinate services, formulate policies, and assess the health, education, economic, and social needs of children and families.

Much more needs to happen, however. We quickly need to ensure that all children are immunized against disease, no child goes to sleep at night on the street, all children have adequate health care and nutrition, and that the family of each child gets the support it needs to find jobs that earn a living wage and to live with dignity in a safe environment.

In addition, each young child has the right to receive loving and skillful care. Noted early childhood specialist Edward Ziegler has stated that the United States is the only developed country that offers absolutely no provisions of time nor resource for mother and child to form the secure and loving bond that will determine how that child faces adulthood.

Shame on us! President William Clinton has made an admirable start with his family leave legislation, but with nearly 60 percent of mothers in the work force, our top national priority ought also to be the provision of a well-paid, well-educated, and motivated corps of child care workers. Millions of preschool children spend 50 hours a week or more in non-parental care. What kind of adults will they be 20 years from now if we, as a nation, have refused to guarantee them the minimum in basic care?

During the "Week of the Young Child" please take just a moment to reflect on how you can make a difference in the life of a child. All of us, no matter what our calling or station in life, have the opportunity — and, yes, the obligation — to act as advocates for each precious child born into this world.

Whether it is writing to your legislator, volunteering at your local school or for a child-related organization, or simply spending a few minutes talking to the young children on your street. I guarantee that you and the children of Wisconsin will both be better off for the experience!

Level the Negotiating Table

If you sat down to develop your family's budget and found that 85 percent of your income was already spent, you'd have a difficult time making ends meet.

The state's school districts and local governments find themselves in a similar situation...and it's driving up your property taxes.

Up to 85 percent of a school district or local government's budget is devoted to salaries, benefits and compensation to employees. Many times, under the state's mediation arbitration law, salary and benefit levels are set by an outside arbitrator. And in some cases, school districts and local governments must make up the difference by increasing local property taxes.

That's why an essential piece of my plan to control property taxes is reforming the state's mediation arbitration law.

The mediation arbitration law was enacted in the early 1970s at a time of lagging teachers salaries and in the wake of a bitter teacher strike. The law prohibited public employees from striking and set up a system to resolve salary disputes. Those principles are still valid.

In practice, however, school districts and local governments find themselves at a distinct disadvantage and the interest of property taxpayers have been lost. Under current law, there is no incentive for employers and employees to negotiate. The parties lock into extreme position, making arbitration inevitable. Once an outside arbitrator is brought into a settle a dispute, one offer must be chosen in its entirety.

The reforms I've proposed would level the negotiating table, provide incentives for compromise and consider the best interest of taxpayers.

The first change would provide an incentive for negotiation. Arbitration would only be an option if the employer's offer doesn't keep pace with inflation.

Second, if a dispute reached arbitration, the arbitrator would be authorized to craft a compromise decision anywhere between the final offer of the employer and employees. No longer would be arbitrator be forced to accept one offer or the other.

Third, the arbitrator would have to consider local economic conditions in making a decision. For example, the arbitrator would have to consider what community residents earn, the local cost of living, the impact his decision would have on local taxes, and the inflation rate.

The fourth change would shorten the mediation/arbitration process. As of now, arbitration can drag on for years. My proposal would require an arbitrator to issue a decision within 40 days of holding a hearing.

Most often, we hear about the state mediation/arbitration law in conjunction with teachers.

Wisconsin taxpayers make large investments in their local school districts. That reflects the high value we place on education, our children and their teachers. And we're very proud that Wisconsin teachers are among the highest paid in the nation, they deserve it.

However, in the last several years, salaries have far outpaced the taxpayers' ability to pay. These changes are not aimed at any specific group of public employees. My intent is to bring balance and common-sense to labor negotiations while guarding the interests of taxpayers.

The people of Wisconsin have made themselves clear. They want property tax relief, and key to controlling property taxes is reforming the mediation/arbitration law.

That is why I have proposed realistic and reasonable reforms to the current mediation/arbitration law. These changes, in conjunction with my proposed property tax rate freeze, will benefit employees, employers, and most importantly, taxpayers.

Earth Day Recognition

Join the people at Riveredge Nature Center on Tuesday, April 20, at 7 a.m. for a hike to a distant hill. There you will quietly give thanks to "mother earth and father sky."

Bring fruit or bakery to share with others following the celebration. There will be no fee.

Call the Center at 675-6888 (local) or 375-2715 (Metro) for this month's subject or for more information.

Riveredge, a non-profit, 350 acre natural sanctuary and educational organization, providing environmental programs for all ages. It is located in Ozaukee County, on Highway Y, one mile north of Newburg, between Saukville and West Bend.

Farm Fatalities Hit Children, Too

Suffocation, falls, machinery and tractor accidents. Youngsters are not immune to the same tragedies that befall older farm workers.

In 1992, four people under 17 years old died on Wisconsin farms. Causes of death ranged from a tractor overturn to an entanglement with machinery. "It is estimated that nationally, 300 youth are killed and 5,000 are seriously injured on farms," says Terry Wilkinson, agricultural safety and health specialist at the College of Agricultural and Life Sciences.

Between 1970 and 1990, 330 children died in farm-related deaths. Of those 330, 69 percent died in accidents involving tractors and machinery.

The age group at highest risk? Two-to-four year olds, followed by 12-to 15-year olds died in accidents ranging from farm truck accidents to falls from equipment, according to data collected by farm safety researchers at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, says Wilkinson.

Tractor-related fatalities involved overturns, falls from the tractor, and being run over or pinned by the tractor. Children often ride as extra passengers; an unexpected bump can knock them off the tractor and they're run over before the driver realizes what has happened.

Machinery-related fatalities involved being run over, entanglements with running machinery, being pinned between equipment, and power take-off shaft entanglements. Other causes of death included suffocation in grain or silage, drowning, unintentional hanging in baler twine or haymow rope, and animals, says Wilkinson. Nearly 40 percent of all suffocations and more than 40 percent of the reported entrapments involved children under 15.

Wilkinson offers several ways to reduce the numbers of deaths and injuries:

1. Educate kids about farm hazards. Devote a day to identifying farm hazards and providing safety instructions and rules.
2. Make farm equipment, buildings and the farmstead safe by correcting hazards such as replacing missing or damaged guards and shields, locking doors to farm work and chemical storage areas, removing keys from equipment, and fencing in farm ponds and manure storage areas.

3. Children working on a farm (family or nonfamily) should be given age-appropriate tasks. For example, they should not operate a tractor if they cannot sit back in the seat and reach the brake, clutch or other controls.

4. All farm tractor operators should only operate tractors equipped with a rollover protective structure (ROPS) or rollbar, and they should wear a seatbelt. A ROPS and seatbelt will protect the operator if the tractor overturns.

5. Never allow a child (or anyone else) to be an extra rider on a tractor, including tractors with cabs. Kids should not ask to ride on tractors and farm equipment.

6. Set a good example by following safe work procedures, since children learn by example.

7. Make farm work areas off limits to younger children. Place a fence around a yard for children to play within.

8. Know where youngsters are at all times.

9. Place fixed ladders out of reach or place a barrier around them. Store portable ladders where they are inaccessible to children.

Conventions are like coins, an easy way of dealing with the commerce of relations.

March for Parks With Nancy Frank

Spring will soon be upon us and once again we will be embraced with all the sounds, sights and smells of the new season. What better way than to begin your spring adventures than by joining Nancy Frank, from Outdoor Wisconsin, and her llamas for a scenic hike on a segment of the Ice Age Trail.

Nancy will be participating in a national event known as "March For Parks" which is organized by National Parks and Conservation Association (NPCA). The event was born out of the 1990 Earth Day celebration as an environmental program across America.

The purpose of NPCA'S March For Parks is to raise awareness and funds for America's national, state, regional, local parks and open spaces. The March is a special way for each of us to look for ways to save our special pieces of earth. One hundred percent of funds raised by NPCA March individuals and/or groups will stay within each local trail organization for their specific projects.

Nancy's schedule and route for this event is Sat., April 24 at 9:30 a.m. at Parnell Tower, Sheboygan County. Everyone is welcome to come hike with Nancy and her llamas. We must all act locally to help save our national treasures that are so precious.

If you are interested in participating in the March for parks event please contact: Megan Scott at (414) 781-1629.

More School Records Set

KHS Girls 9th at Oshkosh Invite

By Noel Stollenwerk

OSHKOSH - It would have been hard to duplicate last year's second-place finish at the highly-competitive Oshkosh Invitational.

So it was no wonder that Kewaskum girls track coach, Perry Koth was pleased with his team's ninth-place showing here last Monday.

"We ran pretty well," Koth said of the outing, in which the Indians earned 16 points. "There were some awfully good times (by KHS athletes)."

The 44-team meet was won by North Fond du Lac with 46 points, while Appleton Xavier was second with 43. Other area and Eastern Wisconsin schools in the meet included New Holstein (sixth, 20.75 points), Random Lake (seventh, 20), Sheboygan Falls (tied for 11th, 15), Mayville (13th, 15), Waupun (15th, 10), Kiel (tied for 21st, 6), Lomira (tied 29th, 1), Slinger, Chilton and Ozaukee competed, but failed to score a point.

KHS was led by their 800 and 1600 relay team, which both finished third. The 800 unit, comprised of Mary Yahr, Christa Schmidt, Ginger Wiesner and Greta Kuphal, tied the school record set last year with a time of 1:55.3.

The 1600 unit, made up of Schmidt, Yahr, Wiesner and Missy Rohrer, finished third in 4:24.04, which is one of the fastest times in recent years. The mark is just two seconds off the school record, set in the early 1980's.

"That is a great time," Koth said, noting that the 1600 unit will continue to work together the rest of the year. The 800 unit, meanwhile, may have to be split, as the nature of the way track meets are set up leaves the quartet with little or no time to rest for their best events.

"It's something we have to look at," Koth said of the 800 unit's possible break-up.

Wiesner did all the work in breaking another school record, this one in the 400 dash. Wiesner's mark of 62.3 set an indoor record, and now gives her both the indoor and outdoor marks (60.9). The time was good enough for fourth place in the meet, and unofficially was the fifth fastest time run so far in the state, according to the track and field honor roll.

Several other KHS athletes posted good times, although no other Indian was able to place in the meet. Koth was quite pleased with Missy Rohrer (2:37) and Nicole Hetzel (2:38) in the 800 run.

"Those are the two best 800 meter times since I've been here," the KHS coach pointed out.

Becky Yogerst missed placing in the shot put by a single inch with her best throw of 34-8.5, while Robyn Winninghoff was barely edged out in the high jump (4-10).

"Her back was bothering her a little bit," Koth said of Winninghoff, who already this year has cleared the 5-0 mark, the winning height in the event.

Koth also praised the performance of Susie Gauvin, whose 15:05 in the 3200 meter run was :25 faster than her previous best time. Chrissy Neumann also posted a personal best in the 1600 (6:05), while Wiesner just missed placing in the long jump with a leap of 15-5.5.

Schmidt and Yahr just missed qualifying for the finals of the 55-meter hurdles, as Schmidt's 9.74 was .01 out of a spot, and Yahr missed by .1, after hitting her first hurdle.

The Lady Indians opened the outdoor portion of their schedule Tuesday at Waupun, and will be at Chilton Thursday.

The Indian boys, meanwhile, will host one of just two home meets this year next Tuesday. Sheboygan Falls and New Holstein will be on hand for the triangular meet.

Successful Psychology

You: Smarter Than You Think?

(NAPS)—If you've wondered why some people who got straight A's in school, and have high I.Q.s don't do as well as people with unexceptional I.Q.s, Seymour Epstein, personality expert and author of You're Smarter Than You Think (Simon & Schuster, $22.00) may have the answer.

Epstein says some people just know how to make constructive use of their experiential mind: a mind that bypasses rational processes and operates on automatic pilot on the basis of past experience. In his provocative book, Epstein unveils a groundbreaking new theory of intelligence: Cognitive Experiential Self Theory (CEST). He also offers a sophisticated new test that helps you measure how well you manage your emotions and challenging situations, as well as your habitual responses to setbacks and failures.

Critics say the book is not only an important work of personality theory, but an indispensable self-help tool on developing practical intelligence for a more successful life.

In 1895 the Supreme Court declared income taxes unconstitutional.
