Disaster Averted in Townhouse Fire

What could have been a disastrous fire was averted by the quick thinking and hurried response of neighbors and the Kewaskum Fire Department on Thursday afternoon, July 8.

A fire broke out in the townhouse occupied by Todd Timblin at 112 Timblin Drive in Kewaskum around 2 p.m.

Todd, who is a semi-driver, was asleep upstairs when he awoke in a smoke-filled room. He managed to crawl out onto his balcony and call for help and then tried to go back into the townhouse to rescue some of his belongings. Realizing the smoke was too intense and trying to maintain consciousness, he found his way back out onto the balcony where he passed out in a corner trying to gasp some fresh air.

Owner of the townhouses, Tom Timblin, Todd's brother, was working on landscaping in the rear of the building at the time, heard a smoke alarm go off and ran to the front of the Smoke continued to billow out of the apartment of Todd Timblin as firefighters extinguished the fire.

Accident Claims Life of Teenager

Andrew Espen, 16, a Kewaskum High School student, was tragically killed Friday, July 9, when he was thrown from a vehicle that overturned on County Trunk NN.

Andrew was the son of Dan Espen of Kewaskum and Karyn Espen of West Bend.

According to the Washington County Sheriff's Department report, Espen and six other youths were traveling in the Town of Polk just before 1 a.m. in a 1984 Chevrolet Blazer driven by Lori Swaner, 18, of Campbellsport. She lost control of the vehicle and swerved into the ditch on the east side of the road.

Swaner tried to return the vehicle to the road, which then crossed County NN, flipped over onto its roof and landed in the west ditch.

Other occupants of the car were treated for injuries, including Dimitrios Kardaris, 18, of West Bend; Anthony Helsell, 17, Kewaskum; Martin Biever, 18, of Campbellsport; Kathie Brautigam, 16, of Kewaskum, and Michael Nuoffer, 19, of Campbellsport.

'Grand Larsony' Opens Here

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Grand Larsony opened its doors for business in Kewaskum this past Monday, and new bar owners Richard and Deb Kissinger are eager to once again serve their old friends, as well as make new ones.

Richard, known to most people as "Kissy," has been involved in the bar business since 1977, starting out in West Bend with an establishment named the Krimson Krowbar. He is also well known as owner of Grand Larsony in West Bend and Grand Larsony of Fillmore.

Kissy spent the last four years managing "Fast Eddies" in West Bend. He'd sold his previous businesses, and enjoyed managing a bar for someone else for a change. "Then I heard that Kewaskum Saloon was available, and I knew it was a nice location," he stated. "I know a lot of people in Kewaskum, and I wanted to get back into the business."

The third generation Grand Larsony opened with few changes... new carpeting, bar stools, a little cleaning and painting. There are two pool tables, two dart machines and video games. Kissy plans to sponsor some leagues and teams in the future.

Happy Hour is set for Monday through Friday, from 3 to 6 p.m. featuring special prices.

Deb works full time as an RN at St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend, and as an EMT with Vital Care, plus keeps busy with their two children, Kristie, 14, and Katie, 10.

Grand Larsony is open Monday through Tuesday at 2 p.m. and Friday and Saturdays from 11 a.m.

'Buffy's' Listed in Cafe Wisconsin

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Buffy's Village Inn is one of the featured restaurants in the newly released book, "Cafe Wisconsin" by author Joanne Ratz Stuttgen.

"Cafe Wisconsin" is a unique guide to traditional cafes in small towns throughout the state, an endeavor that took the author on a two-year tour of Wisconsin in search of old fashioned, homemade food served amidst friendly atmospheres.

The book highlights 170 cafes that distinguish themselves by providing exceptional food, open and receptive employees that welcome strangers, and a pleasant, clean, home-like appearance. They are conveniently divided into nine sections with an alphabetical listing by towns.

Larry Meiller, of Wisconsin Public Radio, states in his forward, "As you read through the book you will gain an appreciation for the services these cafes perform, not only in dispensing good food, but in serving as a meeting place for everyone in the community. The elderly have a place to meet and talk, local business people share coffee and breakfast before going off to work, tourists learn about the area. In many cases, the cafes serve as a central focus of community life."

The author considers herself a folklorist, interested in things that maintain a familiar sameness, despite changes over time and across regions. She states in her introduction, "Cafes do not serve beer or liquor, and they emphasize daily, home-cooked specials based on traditional Wisconsin "farm food": meat, potatoes and gravy, and vegetables. Cafe food is familiar and conservative, never trendy, with white bread and devil's food cake taking the place of croissants and Schaum torte."

Buffy's is hailed as the only down-home cafe in all of Washington County. The home-made pies, bread and daily specials, are all from scratch, as well as waffles, pancakes, cinnamon rolls, soups, cakes and tortes. A sure sign that the restaurant is a good one is the large gathering of senior citizens that frequent Buffy's Village Inn.

"Cafe Wisconsin" is now available for checkout at the Kewaskum Public Library or for purchase at Buffy's.

building. He saw the thick black smoke and realized his brother was laying on the balcony, unconscious. He managed to pull himself up to the second-story deck and tried to hoist Todd over the rail.

Meanwhile, Joe Fell, manager of the Timblin Apartments across the street from the townhouses, and Kurt Ullrich, a Kewaskum firefighter who resides in the apartments, became alerted to the fire. They ran for a ladder and got it positioned onto the balcony, where they aided Tom Timblin in rescuing his brother.

The Kewaskum Fire Department and Rescue Squad arrived on the scene and Todd was immediately given oxygen and transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend by the Rescue Squad. He was treated for smoke inhalation and released the same day.

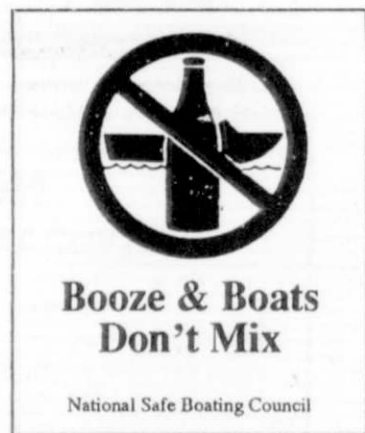

According to Rescue Squad personnel, Todd would not have been able to survive in the intense smoke billowing out of his townhouse had the rescue taken only minutes longer.

The Kewaskum Fire Department called in the Boltonville Fire Department and Campbellsport Fire Department to avert the spread of fire throughout the 24-unit building. Both departments responded with numerous pieces of fire-fighting equipment.

Timblin's townhouse and all of his possessions were a total loss. There was minimal smoke and soot damage to adjoining townhouses, but luckily there was no one else injured in the fire.

The cause of the fire was determined to be the discarding of smoking materials in a downstairs wastebasket.

Dundee Mill Park Day Set for Aug. 22

The Dundee Mill Park Committee is gearing up to prepare for their big fall fund raiser. This year the Dundee Mill Park Days will be held on Sunday, August 22. Remember to check your calendar and mark the date for some real old fashioned family fun. The doings begin at 11 a.m. and run all day until 9 p.m.

The committee has planned lots of really good things to do this year. They have added a huge craft tent with over 20 unique crafts. Each crafter has donated one of their special pieces to be raffled off that day to the lucky winners.

Many area folks have decided to bring their antique engines and machinery to show people just how things worked in years gone by.

Schmidt Acres will also be on hand to give free hay wagon rides sponsored by Bank One. They will also have a buckboard there to give anyone a ride to and from the parking areas. This is being sponsored by the State Bank of St. Cloud, Dundee Office.

A name the miller, his wife, and their daughter contest will be going on in the mill with some special surprises.

Live music in the beer tent will be provided by "Hickory Wind" from 12:30 to 3:30 followed by "Whiskey River" from 4:30 to 8:30. Don't forget to rest your feet the day before. More than toes will be tapping to these two excellent local bands.

Loads of games will be on the grounds for all the children and of course, you couldn't have games without our now famous "Duck Race" on the upper raceway. This game is open to all adults, too. Money raffle tickets will be available to all you people who didn't win the lottery with chances to win up to $500. The printing of the tickets was sponsored by National Exchange Bank.

Many more attractions are in the offing, so watch for the future articles about the Dundee Mill Park Days and plan ahead.

Kuphal Chosen As Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Candidate

Greta Kuphal

Greta Kuphal, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Roger Kuphal, was chosen to represent Kewaskum's sophomore class at the Hugh O'Brian (HOBY) Leadership Seminar which was held June 4-6. This year more than 13,000 sophomores, from all over the United States and more than 30 other countries, were nominated to represent their schools at all expense paid Hugh O'Brian Leadership seminars.

Greta was selected to represent her class of 139 sophomores at Kewaskum High School not only on her scholastic record, but also her outstanding leadership ability and her incentive to help others.

The Hugh O'Brian Foundation was established in 1958 to recognize and reward leadership potential in high school sophomores.

The format for these workshops involved bringing together a select group of high school sophomores with demonstrated leadership qualities and a group of distinguished leaders in business, education, government and the professions. Through informal discussions the young people got a realistic look at what makes America great and a better understanding of our nation's role in the world community.

As in the past, the Kewaskum Chapter of the Kiwanis organization sponsored this very worthwhile activity.

KHS Students Attend State FFA Convention

Mike Ksioszk and Doug Neumann of Kewaskum served as Delegates to the 64 State FFA Convention, June 15-17, 1993 in Green Lake. As delegates, it is their responsibility to represent their chapter in discussing and voting on various business items which are brought before the convention assembly.

Over 2,500 Wisconsin FFA members representing 260 schools attended the convention. During the three days, students were recognized for their excellence in agriculture and leadership. The state convention is a culmination of the Olympics of FFA, where the "best of the best" are honored. Numerous speaking and other related contests were held, and award winners were honored. More than 170 State FFA Sponsors were present and over $60,000 in awards to Wisconsin FFA members.

Convention participants also heard Randy Hedge, Past

National FFA Officer from Arkansas, Bob Meyer of WDLB, Marshfield and were entertained by Jim Wand, master hypnotist, as well as attended business sessions and elected a new team of State FFA Officers.

"The State FFA Convention is our opportunity to honor the schools and their students for their achievements," says Amy Meyer, State FFA President of Loyal, WI. "It's our major positive pep rally for agricultural education and FFA!"

The Wisconsin FFA Association is comprised of 261 local chapters preparing over 15,700 students preparing for careers in agriculture. FFA activities and award programs complement instruction in agriculture education by giving students practical experience in the application of agricultural skills and knowledge gained in classes. The FFA's major objectives are to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship.

PRIME TIME PUB
1257 Fond du Lac Ave.
Kewaskum

Parade

Prime Time Pub's float featured the melodious voice of Jeanne Marchant

An impressive showing of all the fire department's equipment reminded parade-watchers the reason behind the annual fund-raising picnic. Despite an occasional ominous display from "Mom Nature," no raindrops fell on this year's event.

Dorothy, Toto and the Gang delighted youngsters on top the Regal Ware float.

The Kettle Moraine Kids 4-H Club entry, "Volunteers Shape Our World."

Little twirlers brought smiles to the faces of all who watched the parade.

The Tripoli Scottish Highlanders added spice to the parade.

Commemorative Coin Available

The Washington County Historical Society would like to announce the creation of an unusual collectible coin. The Historical Society has issued a commemorative coin with an engraved design of the Old County Courthouse. The Old Courthouse design is rolled on a 1993 copper plated zinc Lincoln penny.

This type of collectible souvenir began in 1893 at the Columbian World Fair. The process of elongating the coin is similar to placing a penny on the railroad track, only it is done on a rolling press similar to a clothes wringer. The machine places tremendous pressure on the coin, stretching it into an oval shape, however the original design of the coin is still visible on the flattened reverse.

The coin will be a gift for those who donate to the Restoration and Renovation of the Old Washington County Courthouse Museum Development Project and will be available at Washington County Historical Society, 340 S. Fifth Avenue, West Bend, WI 53095.

For more information please call 335-4678.

Somewhere in the world

There's someone that looks like you, acts the way you do and feels the same way

It could be someone with a different name in a faraway place but with a similar mind and a similar face

Do you wonder who it could be?

Sometimes do you feel like you're in distress where you can't think straight or can't get dressed?

Maybe it's the thought of being dead or having your thoughts in someone else's head

Do you ever feel that you're in a disguise looking at different things through different eyes?

When you look in a mirror do you like what you see Do you have a certain something like a quality?

Does it scare you that there's someone else who knows all the deep down secrets about you?

Do you wonder who it might be?

Do you wonder who they are?

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers and how are you all doing today? WHAT A GREAT PICNIC... WHAT A GREAT PARADE! The weather cooperated (on the most part) and hope that you all enjoyed the festivities. For me? It was GREAT as the FIRST (of many) community functions that I participated in as your Postmaster.

Had a great time working in the north beer tent on Saturday and Sunday. It was so nice to see and talk to so many of you. Whether you realize it or not, the Postal Service and United Parcel Service (one of our competitors) worked "side-by-side" in the beer tent.

Ron Ruplinger and I represented the Postal Service and Dick Wietor, United Parcel Service. We kidded each other... laughed a lot, but all in all, we worked TOGETHER and that is TEAMWORK and COMMUNITY SUPPORT.

I would also like to thank Mike Paul for "personally" inviting me to work in the beer tent (my duty as a Kewaskum American Legion member).

All in all, I was totally awed with the extreme dedication that so many of you put forth for Kewaskum. If your "ears were ringing" Sunday night, it was your Postmaster bragging about Kewaskum... the great picnic and parade that we had... the "closeness" of Kewaskum and how much I JUST LOVE being YOUR Postmaster. (This was at a local church picnic in Fondy that I stopped in after I got back home).

My sincere commitment as your Postmaster is to do the best possible job that I can and provide the service that each and every one of you expect and deserve. The signs in the lobby say a lot: CUSTOMER SATISFACTION IS OUR PRIORITY.

I know my employees, I believe in them... "They make it happen" and I can insure you that they strive day in and day out to do the BEST for YOU... our customers. Your support for my staff had I has been endless since my arrival... cannot thank you enough. I have a little over ten years left in the Postal Service and my employees know that I am planning on spending them right here in KEWASKUM... because I LOVE IT HERE!

We will continually be here for each and every one of you. Have a problem? Need a question answered? My door has been, is, and will continue to be "open" as long as I am Postmaster of Kewaskum. Now... onto some Postal questions and answers:

QUESTION: I called the Post Office and asked them to "hold my mail." The clerk told me that I would have to come in and sign a form. Is this a new policy?

ANSWER: Well, it may be a new policy but something that "hold orders" and "change of addresses" will NOT be taken over the phone. For those on a rural route: you can save yourself a trip to the Post Office, by putting a hand-written note into the mailbox. Please put your name and address on the note, how long you want your mail held for, whether you want the mail then delivered after that date or that you will pick it up at the Post Office and most important, sign the note.

For post office patrons: it is totally unnecessary for you to notify us that you will be on vacation. As long as the "rent on the box is paid," we will continue to put the mail into the box. If it gets "full" we will place a card into the box letting you know that "parcel too big" (your overflow mail) is awaiting pick-up.

QUESTION: I sent a certified letter... return receipt requested to Milwaukee. It has been seven days and I still do not have my return receipt back. What happened to it? Did it get delivered?

ANSWER: When sending a letter certified, return receipt requested, please keep in mind a few things: first of all, you have to allow "travel time" for the letter. In this instance, the letter should have arrived in Milwaukee the day after you mailed it. Okay, certified requires a signature...the customer is notified and must pick up the "piece." Five days after the initial notice, a second notice is given to the customer to remind them that there is a certified to be picked up and also that 10 days after the second notice, the certified will be returned if not picked up. In your situation, 17 days (one day travel there, 15 days "in place" and one day travel back) has to take place before you will either get your return receipt back or the entire piece noted: "unclaimed"... meaning that the recipient failed to pick up your certified within the allotted time.

QUESTION: I receive my neighbor's mail quite frequently. Usually it is only "junk mail"

THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1993

and I take it over and give it to them but today I received a check for them. Do your employees "need glasses?"

ANSWER: WE NEED TO KNOW WHEN WE MAKE A MISTAKE. As the Postmaster, I can attest to each and every one of my employee's commitment to CUSTOMER SATISFACTION and that means sorting and delivering the mail correctly... but, we do make mistakes. I thank the many people that call and/or stop in to "point them out to us." My firm belief, as the Postmaster is: "mistakes are not intentional... they can continue if not pointed out." Once pointed out, the ratio of re-occurrence is very slim. I cannot reiterate enough... WE need to know when we make a mistake. Speaking for the entire "team" at the Kewaskum Post Office, I can assure you... point it out to us... no one gets into trouble for it, and we will do our utmost to prevent it from happening again. My biggest concern on this is that someday, you will be waiting for a very important piece of mail... it will not show up and "bango" you will think, "yeh, the carrier misdelivered it, when in fact, it may not have even arrived at the Post Office. I hear you on that issue, but please, please, let us know when we err!

Well, that is it for this week. Hope you found it interesting and informative... TRY to have a good day... A HAPPY EVERY DAY!

Your Postmaster, Bonnie

Lottery Tax Credit Decreases

By Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance

Adding to the property tax relief political woes of the 1993 legislature is the reduction in the residential lottery property tax credit payments that will appear on the 1993 property tax bills to be paid in 1994. The average credit will decrease from $168 in 1992-93 to $90 in 1993-94, a 46% drop. Elections for half the members of the senate, all the members of the assembly and the governor will be held in 1994.

LOTTERY HISTORY

In April 1987, Wisconsin voters approved an amendment to the constitution authorizing a state-run lottery, with the proceeds to be used for property tax relief. Legislation enacted in 1987 provided that $69.4 million of the 1988-89 proceeds would be used to finance school aids. This left a closing fund balance of $19.2 million. The table below shows the use of the lottery fund from 1988-89 through 1994-95.

1989-90. The 1989-91 biennial budget act appropriated $66.7 million for school aids in 1989-90. At that point, the state was taking over the payment of salaries of district attorneys and $3.2 million of the lottery fund was allocated to help pay a portion of that cost. In addition, $18 million from the fund was used to pay the farmland tax relief credit. This is a credit for property taxes paid on agricultural land of up to 10% of the taxes, with a maximum credit of $1,000. At the end of 1989-90, the fund balance was $42 million.

1990-91. No appropriation was made for school aids from the lottery fund, but the appropriation for district attorneys' salaries was increased to $10.3 million. The amount for the farmland credit dropped to $14.7 million and the fund balance grew to $153 million. This occurred because Republican Governor Tommy G. Thompson and the Democrat-controlled legislature reached a political impasse. The Democrats wanted property tax relief provided by sending checks to resident individuals who filed income tax returns. The governor and the Republican legislature wanted the relief shown as a credit on the property tax bills. They argued that the taxpayer might not recognize a check from the Wisconsin Department of Revenue as property tax relief. No action was taken.

1991-92. The lottery fund amount for school aids in 1991-92 was $54 million. The budget law, as passed by the Democrat-controlled legislature, would have transferred $183 million from the general fund back to the lottery fund as a repayment for the lottery payments for school aids and district attorneys' salaries paid in previous years. This was an attempt to raise the political issue that the governor had used lottery funds for what could be considered non-property tax relief. Governor Thompson, by partial veto, reduced the amount to $83 million and reversed the appropriation making it a payment from the lottery fund to the general fund. He directed that the money be used to increase school aids, but there was no statutory mechanism to do that.

In the spring of 1992, Dane County Circuit Judge Michael Nowakowski in a suit challenging the legality of some of the lottery fund payments had to define property tax relief, a political question legislators and governors have struggled with for years. Since the constitutional amendment authorizing the lottery and the use of its proceeds for property tax relief did not define "property tax relief," the judge had to do so. He concluded that the funds had to be used to provide a payment that was "separate, different and extra." Under this definition, use of lottery funds for school aid payments did not qualify as property tax relief. He did allow the use of lottery money to help pay district attorneys' salaries because that helped reduce county levies. The court also preserved $29.1 million by stopping any further school aid payments from the lottery fund that year.

LOTTERY PROPERTY TAX CREDIT

The lottery property tax credit was created during the 1991 session. The amount is determined by multiplying the local school tax rate by a specified value of every parcel of taxable property on which a principal dwelling is located. Since the law restricted the credit to residential property owned by state residents, homes owned by nonresidents and owners of other classes of property, such as manufacturing and commercial, did not receive the credit. This appeared to be in violation of the constitutional requirement that property taxes, including state property tax relief payments, should be uniformly applied. The payment was justified on the theory that the uniformity clause did not apply to payments from lottery proceeds. The amount paid out in lottery tax credits in 1991-92 was $173.5 million. That averaged $144 per residence and was temporarily inflated by the use of surplus funds.

1992-93. Using the lottery fund's $65.6-million balance and the net proceeds, plus borrowing from the next year, the legislature and governor allocated $203.7 million for lottery property tax credit in 1992-93 (1992 was an election year), or $168 per residence. Again, the amount was higher than the net proceeds. At the end of the 1991-93 biennium, the estimated fund balance will be $11.6 million.

1993-94 and 1994-95. In both years, the farmland credit will be continued at about the same level. The average lottery tax credit, which will be applied to property taxes levied late this year and showing up on the property tax bills to be paid in 1994, will drop to $90. This means that, if everything else on an individual's property tax bill stayed the same, i.e., the assessment and the rate, the average residential property tax would go up $78. This is not a situation legislators up for reelection in the fall of 1994 like to acknowledge. The Joint Finance Committee rejected the idea of putting more money into the lottery tax credit by either borrowing from future lottery revenues or transferring general fund money into the lottery fund. It was pointed out that a transfer of general purpose fund money could be a violation of the uniformity clause. The amount for property tax credit available for 1993-94 and 1994-95 was expanded slightly by lowering the statutorily required year-end balance from 3.5% to 2% of gross revenue and by slightly increasing the estimates of lottery revenues for the next two years.

In 1994-95, the average lottery credit will increase to $112, but that will still be $56 less than the amount provided two years earlier.

Lottery Tax Credit Decreases

By Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance

Adding to the property tax relief political woes of the 1993 legislature is the reduction in the residential lottery property tax credit payments that will appear on the 1993 property tax bills to be paid in 1994. The average credit will decrease from $168 in 1992-93 to $90 in 1993-94, a 46% drop. Elections for half the members of the senate, all the members of the assembly and the governor will be held in 1994.

LOTTERY HISTORY

In April 1987, Wisconsin voters approved an amendment to the constitution authorizing a state-run lottery, with the proceeds to be used for property tax relief. Legislation enacted in 1987 provided that $69.4 million of the 1988-89 proceeds would be used to finance school aids. This left a closing fund balance of $19.2 million. The table below shows the use of the lottery fund from 1988-89 through 1994-95.

1989-90. The 1989-91 biennial budget act appropriated $66.7 million for school aids in 1989-90. At that point, the state was taking over the payment of salaries of district attorneys and $3.2 million of the lottery fund was allocated to help pay a portion of that cost. In addition, $18 million from the fund was used to pay the farmland tax relief credit. This is a credit for property taxes paid on agricultural land of up to 10% of the taxes, with a maximum credit of $1,000. At the end of 1989-90, the fund balance was $42 million.

1990-91. No appropriation was made for school aids from the lottery fund, but the appropriation for district attorneys' salaries was increased to $10.3 million. The amount for the farmland credit dropped to $14.7 million and the fund balance grew to $153 million. This occurred because Republican Governor Tommy G. Thompson and the Democrat-controlled legislature reached a political impasse. The Democrats wanted property tax relief provided by sending checks to resident individuals who filed income tax returns. The governor and the Republican legislature wanted the relief shown as a credit on the property tax bills. They argued that the taxpayer might not recognize a check from the Wisconsin Department of Revenue as property tax relief. No action was taken.

1991-92. The lottery fund amount for school aids in 1991-92 was $54 million. The budget law, as passed by the Democrat-controlled legislature, would have transferred $183 million from the general fund back to the lottery fund as a repayment for the lottery payments for school aids and district attorneys' salaries paid in previous years. This was an attempt to raise the political issue that the governor had used lottery funds for what could be considered non-property tax relief. Governor Thompson, by partial veto, reduced the amount to $83 million and reversed the appropriation making it a payment from the lottery fund to the general fund. He directed that the money be used to increase school aids, but there was no statutory mechanism to do that.

In the spring of 1992, Dane County Circuit Judge Michael Nowakowski in a suit challenging the legality of some of the lottery fund payments had to define property tax relief, a political question legislators and governors have struggled with for years. Since the constitutional amendment authorizing the lottery and the use of its proceeds for property tax relief did not define "property tax relief," the judge had to do so. He concluded that the funds had to be used to provide a payment that was "separate, different and extra." Under this definition, use of lottery funds for school aid payments did not qualify as property tax relief. He did allow the use of lottery money to help pay district attorneys' salaries because that helped reduce county levies. The court also preserved $29.1 million by stopping any further school aid payments from the lottery fund that year.

local school tax rate by a specified value of every parcel of taxable property on which a principal dwelling is located. Since the law restricted the credit to residential property owned by state residents, homes owned by nonresidents and owners of other classes of property, such as manufacturing and commercial, did not receive the credit. This appeared to be in violation of the constitutional requirement that property taxes, including state property tax relief payments, should be uniformly applied. The payment was justified on the theory that the uniformity clause did not apply to payments from lottery proceeds. The amount paid out in lottery tax credits in 1991-92 was $173.5 million. That averaged $144 per residence and was temporarily inflated by the use of surplus funds.

1992-93. Using the lottery fund's $65.6-million balance and the net proceeds, plus borrowing from the next year, the legislature and governor allocated $203.7 million for lottery property tax credit in 1992-93 (1992 was an election year), or $168 per residence. Again, the amount was higher than the net proceeds. At the end of the 1991-93 biennium, the estimated fund balance will be $11.6 million.

1993-94 and 1994-95. In both years, the farmland credit will be continued at about the same level. The average lottery tax credit, which will be applied to property taxes levied late this year and showing up on the property tax bills to be paid in 1994, will drop to $90. This means that, if everything else on an individual's property tax bill stayed the same, i.e., the assessment and the rate, the average residential property tax would go up $78. This is not a situation legislators up for reelection in the fall of 1994 like to acknowledge. The Joint Finance Committee rejected the idea of putting more money into the lottery tax credit by either borrowing from future lottery revenues or transferring general fund money into the lottery fund. It was pointed out that a transfer of general purpose fund money could be a violation of the uniformity clause. The amount for property tax credit available for 1993-94 and 1994-95 was expanded slightly by lowering the statutorily required year-end balance from 3.5% to 2% of gross revenue and by slightly increasing the estimates of lottery revenues for the next two years.

In 1994-95, the average lottery credit will increase to $112, but that will still be $56 less than the amount provided two years earlier.

Three big crowd attracting events are held in Kewaskum in July. First is the fireworks on July 3, second is the firemen's picnic and parade coming up this weekend, and last but not least is the annual Krazy Daze street sale sponsored by the Kewaskum Business Association. This year's event will be held on Tuesday, July 30, and in case of rain it will take place the next day, July 31.

Apparently the victim of a heart attack as he was swimming in Lake Fifteen in the town of Auburn, several miles north of Kewaskum, James Hollis Jr., 29, drowned Sunday, July 4. Hollis, who had gone to the lake with friends and relatives, was reported to have gone into the water at about 2 p.m. His companions missed him about 3:45 p.m. They started diving and found his body a short time later in the water.

The proprietors of the Barn-Ranch have offered their facilities to raise funds at a benefit party to be held at the ranch on Saturday, July 24, for remembrance packages to be sent to every Kewaskum serviceman from the businessmen of their hometown. The entire proceeds from the dance, amusements and bar will be donated to the committee in charge of sending presents to our boys.

Sgt. Harold F. Denzin of Kewaskum, aerial engineer, was one of six Wisconsin men who were among 133 members of the Eleventh Air Force awarded the Air Medal on Sunday, July 5 at the headquarters of the Alaska Defense Command, it was announced this past week. The awards were for valiant and heroic service while flying on missions in the Aleutian Islands, a territory now well known as having flying conditions as far as weather, fog and ice are concerned, are worse than any other military theater in the world. Sgt. Denzin is the first man from Kewaskum to be awarded the Air Medal in this war. However, one other local young man, Robert G. Romaine, seaman second class, who lost his life in naval action at sea, in October of 1942 was awarded the Order of the Purple Heart posthumously.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stenschke, West Bend, at St. Joseph's Hospital in that city on Sunday, the Fourth of July. Mrs. Stenschke of the former Lucille Heberer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Heberer of New Fane. Mr. Stenschke is the son of the Traugott Stenschkes of Milwaukee, formerly of Kewaskum. They also have a son, Bobby.

A daughter was born on July 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Alois Stoffel of Ashford. Mrs. Stoffel was formerly Rita Klumpyan.

Mrs. Ralph Petri and sister Laura Hembel of Waukesha and the Misses Carrie Meyers of Milwaukee, Nora and Ruth Petri of Wayne, met with an automobile accident last Sunday afternoon, in the village of Campbellsport, which they will remember for years to come. Mrs. Petri, who was driving the car, stated that while they were turning the corner on Cherry Street in that village, she lost control of the car and same became overbalanced and turned turtle, while traveling at a fair rate of speed, pinning the occupants beneath same. Joseph Meixensperger, who saw the accident, went to the assistance of the young ladies. He righted the car and summoned a physician. Upon examination, it was found that Mrs. Petri had a rib broken and was badly bruised. Miss Hembel was badly bruised about the face and body. The other occupants were also badly bruised and cut. After the women had been given medical attention, they returned to Wayne where they are now recuperating.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Naumann of St. Michaels on June 5th, was a little daughter. A little son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Math. Herriges of St. Michaels on June 26th.

A group of juvenile offenders were hauled into Judge Olwin's court last Wednesday evening to answer charges preferred against them by Mrs. Joe Eberle, proprietress of the North Side park for damage to property at the park on the fifth of July. After hearing the complete testimony of the youngsters, the judge gave them a severe reprimand and cautioned them not to let such things again occur. He also collected damages to the amount of $7.80 and fined them each $1.00 and costs, which was promptly paid by their fathers. This should also act as a warning to other youngsters, who sometimes carry their mischievousness too far.

S. C. Wollensak received his new International one and one-half ton truck last Monday, which he purchased from the International Company several weeks ago. Mr. Wollensak will use the new car for gathering cream.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Roos, Jr. of Wayne last Friday. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Koch of Kewaskum on Wednesday was a baby girl. A ten pound baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oppenorth of Kewaskum last Saturday.

Wisconsin Festivals: Summer Is One Continuous Celebration

(NAPS)—Celebrating everything from culture to agriculture, Wisconsin's brimming with summer festivals.

The lineup includes big-city events like Milwaukee's Summer-fest, the world's largest outdoor music festival June 24-July 4. And, according to Moose Speros, administrator of the Wisconsin Division of Tourism, there's much more. "Don't miss the many small-town fests celebrating all kinds of Americana, from powwows to clowns to lumberjacking. There's an amazing choice of fests throughout the state."

Air Affairs

The EAA Fly-In in Oshkosh July 29-August 4 is the largest aviation event in the country, drawing more than 15,000 aircraft from all over the world for daredevil and formation flying shows. See colorful flyovers of a different sort June 5-6 at the Great Wisconsin Dells Balloon Rally, a nationally sanctioned hot air balloon festival and competition with more than 90 pilots competing in lift-off maneuvers.

American Indian Powwows

Wisconsin has more Native American tribes and bands than any other state east of the Mississippi River. Two events draw tribes from across the nation: the Menominee Nation Powwow in Menominee August 5-8 and Indian Summer September 10-13 in Milwaukee. It's a chance to see tribal members dressed in intricately designed costumes participate in traditional dancing enhanced by song and drumming.

Reliving Bygone Days

The history of the 1800s along the Wisconsin River is recreated with military camps, a fur trade encampment, lumberjack competitions and steam train rides at the Log Jam Festival in Wausau June 25-27. The Lumberjack World Championships feature lumberjacks and agile logrollers competing in speed sawing, chopping events, pole climbing and log-rolling in Hayward July 23-25.

Celebrating 200 Years of the American Circus

In July, circus wagons will make their annual journey to Milwaukee from Baraboo, home of the nation's largest collection of antique circus wagons. Visit the parade show-grounds July 7-10 for a free viewing of a 40-tent display of circus wagons and performances under the Bicentennial Big Top. The Great Circus Parade, a recreation of a 19th century parade complete with horse-drawn circus wagons, clowns, bands and animals, winds its way through downtown Milwaukee on July 11.

Summertime Culture

The acclaimed Wisconsin Shakespeare Festival at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville features "Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and "All's Well That Ends Well" in repertoire July 9-August 14. The Lakefront Festival of Arts held June 11-13 along the shores of Lake Michigan is one of the country's finest professional outdoor arts events.

There are many more fests to choose from. Call 1-800-432-TRIP, ext. WI for a free Wisconsin Calendar of Events or Wisconsin Summer Recreation Guide.

Heavy Rains Slowing Highway Maintenance and Construction

Record-breaking rainfalls and high winds have played havoc with building and maintaining the state's highway system this year. Wisconsin Department of Transportation Secretary Charles H. Thompson said many roads have been covered with water from rivers and streams that have overflowed their banks, washing out shoulders and embankments. Many construction projects have also been delayed until soils and construction sites can dry out.

"With the ground heavily saturated with water, it makes it more difficult to work with the materials needed to build and maintain the state's roadways," Thompson said. "It's been difficult for road crews to keep up with the repair work caused by the heavy rains and flooding, but I'm confident that the highway infrastructure will survive intact."

The effects of the heavy rains have been felt throughout the state, said Gary Whited, director of the Office of Construction. Extensive efforts have been undertaken to prevent erosion on highway projects that are underway and to contain materials lost due to erosion on the construction site. Wet construction materials can't be used for making embankments or shoulders, he noted, so that will also require construction crews to either move on to other aspects of a construction project or wait for the soaked material to dry out.

Whited said it's hard to predict the impact on road construction this year. He said there's a lot of the construction season remaining and he hopes for drier weather, which would permit the road construction crews to complete their work during the current road construction season. If not, he said some of the work may have to be postponed into 1994.

Buechel Shuts Out Huskies, 4-0

By Noel Stollenwerk

NEW HOLSTEIN - While the hitting has been suspect at times this season, Kewaskum baseball coach Doug Gonring has been raving about his pitching staff, which has been the one constant for the Indians.

Gonring got yet another fine effort from senior Doug Buechel here, last Tuesday night. Buechel allowed just two hits in pitching the Indians to a 4-0 win over New Holstein. The win was the third in a row for KHS, which upped its Eastern Wisconsin Conference record to 5-6, 6-13 overall.

"I knew he was capable of that," Gonring said of Buechel's effort in which he recorded 10 strikeouts and seven walks. "He had some tough innings, but he worked his way through them."

Buechel was also the recipient of some fine defensive work by fellow senior Jim Marx. Marx gunned down a pair of Husky baserunners, one at third-base and one at home, from his outfield position.

"Marx made some outstanding plays," Gonring said of the defensive standout. "You don't see that (two assists from the outfield) very often in one game... at least not on the high school level."

The combination of pitching and defense made for a tight scoreless dual until the sixth, when the Indians finally reached New Holstein pitcher Joe Weber.

Brad Weinreich led off the inning with a double, and moved to third on a passed ball. Marx followed with a walk, and promptly stole second. But he was picked off second by a nifty move by Weber.

Scott Donath came through, however, singling up the middle to score Weinreich. After a fielder's choice erased Donath, Aaron Rettler continued his clutch hitting, ripping an RBI double to score Erik Ankersen.

KHS added two more insurance runs in the seventh, using a pair of walks, a double steal and another RBI single by Donath. Donath finished with two hits and the two RBI's to lead the Indian attack.

Kewaskum Athletics Beat Slinger Rams

The Kewaskum Athletics beat the Slinger Rams by a 6-1 score Sunday to take over third place in the Northern division of the Rock River League.

Don Menzel turned in another gem on the mound, limiting Slinger to three hits. Menzel ran his record to 7-1 in league play. Terry Koth continued his hot hitting, turning in his third consecutive three-hit game.

Koth started the scoring with a long homerun in the second and keyed a two-run rally in the seventh with a booming triple. Doug Gonring added two hits and two runs scored. The win ran the A's record to 8-4.

It was a different story on Saturday as the Athletics dropped a 12-5 decision to Plymouth in a non-league game. Rick Peck turned in five strong innings on the mound, but a porous defense led to the A's downfall.

Kewaskum made eight errors as Plymouth scored 12 runs on only nine hits. Rick Peck, Ric Leitheiser and Don Menzel each had two hits for the Athletics. The loss dropped Kewaskum's non-league record to 2-4.

Don Menzel, Doug Gonring, Dave Donath, Terry Koth and Ric Leitheiser will represent the A's in the Rock River All-Star game on Saturday, July 17, at 2 p.m. at Johnson Creek. It will be a busy day for the Athletics as they play Forrest at 10 a.m. at Dotyville in the S.W.A.B.A. tournament.

Following the long trip to Johnson Creek for the All-Star Game, the A's will be in action at West Bend Saturday night when the A's take on the West Bend Company at 7:30 for the ARC Benefit Game at Regner Park.

Misconceptions Of The Putting Stroke

By Bob Murphy

(NAPS) — Bob Murphy, ESPN golf analyst and Senior PGA tour member, offers putting advice to amateurs and professionals alike through his work on the Just For Men Telestrator, an electronic chalkboard. Just For Men Shampoo-In Haircolor is from the world leader in men's haircoloring.

Secondly, the elapsed time in a good putter's stroke should be the same for all putts. Your swing will generate distance through clubhead speed. This will necessitate a long and swift stroke for a 90-foot putt (diagram 2) or a short and slow stroke, of equal duration, for a three-foot putt (diagram 3).

Today's Tip

The swing does not have to be straight back because this is an unnatural motion for your arms. When you take the club back, the path will be slightly to the inside (diagram 1). On the follow through, if you return the clubface to the ball in the same natural motion, it will automatically square up.
