Engelman Victim of Hit and Run Accident

A town of Scott man was the victim of a hit and run accident that claimed his life early last Saturday.

The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's detectives are investigating the death of David L. Engelman, 23, of the town of Scott. The investigation revealed that Engelman was walking from the Boar's Nest Tavern, N1690 Hwy. 45 in the town of Auburn, to the residence of Jim and Jackie Pfantz, 1511 Hwy. 45, when authorities believe he was struck by a vehicle about two-tenths of a mile south of Lovers Rd. and died instantly of massive head injuries. He was pronounced dead at 3:50 a.m. Saturday by Fond du Lac County Coroner Susan Casper.

The search continues for the driver of the vehicle that struck and killed Engelman, who was an employee of Jim Pfantz concrete, which was the apparent destination of the victim. A passing motorist saw Engelman on the road at 3:02 a.m. and ran to the Pfantz residence to use the phone. Detectives closed a section of Hwy. 45 for 5 1/2 hours while conducting their investigation.

Authorities are speculating as to the cause of death, not certain why, if he were struck by a vehicle, he didn't have injuries to other parts of his body. Casper believed Engelman probably had paused along the road.

David, the son of Rogene Baker of New Fane and Ed Engelman of Plymouth, was the father of two sons, Derrick and Dillon of Kewaskum.

Funeral services were held Wednesday evening at Miller Home, Kewaskum. A complete obituary can be found in this issue.

A trust fund account has been established at West Bend Savings Bank for his two sons.

Lions Chicken B-B-Q, Kettle 20 Here Sunday

Get your running shoes ready because its time once again to face on foot the rugged hills and gorgeous terrain of the Kettle Moraine State Forest, as competitors from across Wisconsin, neighboring states, and Canada converge in Kewaskum for the Kettle 20 race.

The 20 kilometer event (12.4 miles) will be accompanied by two easier runs -- 3.5 and 5 miles, and will include various men's and women's divisions. The event is sponsored by the Kewaskum Lions' Club and is held in conjunction with the annual chicken bar-b-que at River Hill Park on Sunday, August 8. The race begins at 9 a.m. at the Park, located along the Milwaukee River. Registration begins at 8 a.m. (in advance) up until race time.

Divisions for the Kettle 20 are as follows: six men's age groups 1-17, 18-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, and 60 and over; four women's age groups 1-17, 18-29, 30-39, and 40 and over. Top male and female runners will each receive a trophy, followed by medals for second and third place, and ribbons for fourth and fifth. The two smaller races will offer awards to the top place winners.

Entry fee for all races is $8 with t-shirt, and $6 without. Those who register in advance will receive $1 off each race. To date 40 runners have pre-registered. "We're expecting about 80 or 90 runners to pre-register," according to Chairman Dale Squier of Kewaskum. "On the day of the race, another 80 usually sign up." Racers enjoy coming back year after year to the Kettle 20 both for the challenge and a glimpse of the rugged landscape touched by Wisconsin glaciers thousands of years ago.

All runners have the advantage of purchasing their chicken dinners for the special price of $3.00 each, but must apply for their tickets before the race begins to receive the special price.

There will be water stops along the way and showers will be available at the Kewaskum Middle School.

Chicken dinners will be served throughout the day, beginning at 10:30 a.m. and running til 4 p.m. Cost is $5.00 for one-half chicken and $4.50 for one-quarter chicken plate, complete with mashed potatoes, vegetables and salad. Carryouts will be available from 10:30 on.

Whether you're there to cheer on the runners, compete in the race, or enjoy the food, don't miss the popular Eddie Schneider and his music. Beer, soda, hamburgers, ice-cream and other refreshments will be available at the park.

Proceeds from this annual event are used for local "Lions" community service projects, and a drug and alcohol educational project in the Kewaskum School District.

Mail-in registrations for the race can be sent to Dale Squier, 1305 Roseland Dr., Kewaskum, WI 53040 to register in advance. For more information on any of the days events, contact Dale at 626-2731.

In addition to the live music by Eddie Schneider from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., there will be great entertainment by Nashville Sounds from 1 to 4 p.m.

Tickets will be available for the following: 1st Prize - 18 speed Mountain Bike, 2nd Prize - Remington Ex. 12 Gauge Pump, 3rd Prize - Set Perimeter weighted Golf Clubs, 4th Prize - Mitchell Spinning Rod & Reel, plus additional prizes.

Residents Approve .6% Tax Increase

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - Residents at the annual School District meeting last Monday night approved a $5,895,423 tax levy for the 1993-94 school year, marking a .6 percent tax increase from last year.

The tax hike, considerably smaller than last year's 6.28% increase, means that a district resident will pay $17.01 per $1,000 in property value. That figure is .10 more than last year's rate of 16.91 per $1,000 of equalized value.

A home valued at $50,000 would cost the owner $5 more in taxes, or a total of $850.50. This increase is assuming a six percent increase in equalized valuation.

The total 93-94 budget for the district is $10,931,604, compared to a $10,913,541 total budget from 92-93. The increase equals just .16 percent.

"We're increasing, but it just shows at (.6) percent," District Administrator David Heather said of the package. Heather noted that the district's capital improvement fund is responsible for some of the blanket, as it dropped from $540,000 in 92-93 to just over $200,000 this year.

Heather also discussed with those in attendance the remodeling and expansion project that the district is presently looking at. The district recently hired the partnership of Hunzinger-Epstein to do another study, and make up a plan for the new facilities.

Community-Wide Rummage Sale Here On Aug. 14

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce will again be sponsoring a Community-Wide Rummage Sale in the Village on Saturday, August 14 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Anyone interested in participating is encouraged to do so. Maps will NOT be printed showing where the individual rummage sales are being held, however the Chamber will be advertising the event.

All those holding rummage sales on Saturday are asked to advertise their sales in whatever manner they see fit, whether it may be a classified ad, printing your own flyers, or any other promotional ideas you can think of.

Extra copies of the Kewaskum Statesman will be printed due to the number of rummage sale listings already ordered for the August 12th issue. They will be available at Dins Mini Mart in Dundee, Shefond Amoco and Mobil, Sentry Foods, Buffy's Village Inn, Kohn's Amoco, Kewaskum Pharmacy, Kuehl's Suds & Spirits, and of course, at the Statesman office.

If you have any questions, you can call Wendi Dreher at 626-2428 (home) or 626-2616 (work) or the Kewaskum Statesman at 626-2626.

Kiwanis Clubs Celebrate Family Day

The Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum urges every family in Kewaskum to observe Family Day on Sun., August 8, 1993, said Club President Gil Flocker.

Family Day seeks to dramatize family solidarity and pride, reaffirming the family's role as the cornerstone of society and the best vehicle for teaching basic truths and morality to children.

Appropriate Family Day activities include family reunions or outings, religious worship, and work on family trees.

Family Day was begun in the late 1960's by Kiwanis International, and received the immediate endorsement of civic, church, governmental, educational and labor leaders. Through the years, Flocker said, Family Day has grown in outreach and in effectiveness.

Last year, Kiwanis clubs raised and spent more than $65 million on community service activities, with a special emphasis on meeting the needs of young children. Today, Kiwanis numbers 8,800 clubs and 330,000 members in 84 countries around the world

Through the summer we will be running student's writings from the All Conference Literary Magazine, Menagerie.

A Walk on the Wild Side

Imagine you've just accidentally entered a warp zone; the colors are blinding, the sound pounding, and everything you touch feels like sand. Then in a split second there's blackness, so dark it seems you're not really there at all. FLASH! Just when you thought you were dreaming you enter a world where insects rule, and just when you think you've gone totally mad, you blink, and you've changed again. Finally, things come together again, and you realize you've been taken on a trip through your mind. All your imagination, fears and secrets have been transformed into reality. How did you get here? It's your mind! Your dreams are chasing you; you look around, run, run as fast as you can. Stop, up ahead is a window; you get there and when you look, you're amazed. In the reflection is the past, and when you peer through, you see the future. The only thing is, there's no door or passage, no way to get out! Of course not, you're stuck in the present, but aren't we all?

Batavia Fire Department to Celebrate 85th Anniversary

An antique piece of fire fighting equipment, circa 1910, proudly maintained by the Batavia fire department.

The Batavia Fire Department will be celebrating their 85th anniversary this year. Founded in June of 1908, Batavia is one of the oldest small town fire departments in the area.

Very little information is available about fire fighting in the Batavia area before 1908, however senior citizens remember that if water was close by, the pail or bucket brigade was predominant. Water was hauled with horse and wagon to the fire in water tanks and large milk cans. Usually the building was damaged extensively or completely destroyed.

On June 17, 1908, the Batavia Fire Department was organized. Articles of Incorporation were drawn up and recorded. Charter members were Lewis Row, Oswald Voigt, J.P. Van Blarcum, G.A. Leifer, Walter Wangerin, William C. Moos, William Anderson, Adolph Vogelsang, Emil Steuerwald, Jacob Held jr., E. A. Bemis, Herman Holz, Gus Steuerwald, William Pfeifer, J.W. Liebenstein, Herbert Leifer, August Held, William Emley, Robert Ludwig, Jacob Keller, William Voight Jr., John W. Emley, Henry Wangerin, Otto Emley, William O. Brazelton, W.G. Firme, P. Brazelton, J.W. Miller, F. Melius, R.H. Conrad.

William Moos was elected to be Batavia's first Fire Chief.

W.G. Firme, who had a woodworking shop upstairs where the Brand home is now, designed the first hook and ladder wagon.

In 1910, the original hand pumper was purchased. It was pulled by a team of horses. This was a very modern piece of equipment because they could now fight fires with water pressure. If this pumper was used for any length of time, six men were required on each side to pump the hand rail up and down.

The first fire house was located in a shed behind the John Emley Garage. In the north end of the shed Batavia Fire Department existed, containing one hand pumper, a hook and ladder wagon and a stack of pails.

In 1916, the firemen purchased their first land. It was 33' wide and 5 rods deep, located near the Batavia Creek.

In 1918, the original fire station was built by Jacob Held, a local carpenter. It was a two story building. The lower part housed the fire trucks and the upstairs was used for meetings, dances, programs and dinners.

John Emley served as Fire Chief during the late teens and early 20's.

Early in 1920 the department purchased a 1916 Model T Ford truck and mounted two chemical tanks on it. They also brought along a new fire bell which was mounted in the bell tower of the new fire station. This was before fire sirens were available.

Later the chemical tanks were transferred to a 1929 Chevrolet. Orrin Kaiser was elected Fire Chief in 1924.

In 1927, more land was purchased from John Behnke for a future recreational hall. This land measured 132' wide and 495' long. On November 19, 20 and 21, 1927, trees were cut down in the Gust Mehlos woods now owned by Lyle Belger and the timbers were hewed. On November 20, 1927, carpenter work began. Jake Held was head carpenter and employed the following men at 40c per hour: Art Vorpagel, Harold Diener, Clifford Stautz and Otto Seider. Other volunteers were also available through the winter.

The new recreational hall was completed on April 28, at a cost of approximately $11,000. The courage and determination of this group was great and the extra effort put forth by these members was worthwhile. Little did they realize that the depression of the early 30's would hinder their repayment plans.

This new building was used by all community groups for public dances, masquerade balls, community plays, basketball and meetings for many years and because of this, it became a landmark in this area.

On July 18, 1930, another 11.14 acres of land was purchased south and west of the recreational hall for a sum of $1350.00 from Finnigan and Herman Realtors.

In 1934, trees were planted on this property as part of the Federal Government's effort to get people back to work during depression days. This was at that time called a W.P.A. Project and also a community project started by local officials.

Also at that time the first local or community baseball diamond was located near County Trunk A in the southwest corner of this land and later moved to its present location.

In 1939, a 200 gallon pumper was purchased. It was built at Jackson, Wisconsin and mounted on a Chevrolet truck. A 700 gallon water truck and siren were also purchased at that time.

A new 500 gallon pumper was purchased in 1952. This truck boasted a new style three stage pump that could pump high pressure or fog with a small 1" hose and high pressure or volume with a 2 1/2" hose. The old 1939 Chevrolet pumper was sold for $1500.00.

Orrin Kaiser retired as Fire Chief in 1960. He was elected to that office in 1924 and was one of the most devoted and loyal members ever to serve voluntarily in the community. He checked the fire house and started the trucks every Sunday morning before leaving for church. Using his time and mechanical knowledge to keep the equipment in tip-top shape, he assured everyone that all was ready in case of an emergency.

On November 8, 1970, fire caused extensive damage to the Batavia Recreational Hall. Batavia and Silver Creek Fire Departments fought the blaze several hours before bringing it under control.

In 1972, the Recreational Hall was completely remodeled at a cost of approximately $86,000.00. The fire department also acquired a hard liquor license. A bar was installed on the east end of the dance floor and a modern kitchen on the west end of the basement. A large social hall is also available in the basement.

In 1975, a telephone system to receive fire calls was installed jointly with the Beechwood Fire Department to cover the Town of Scott and the surrounding area.

As you read how many changes have taken place in the department since it was first organized, you must realize that this group of people were very dedicated and loyal.

There were also many other types of equipment and programs needed to carry out emergency service. Education in fire fighting, providing Basic Life Support classes and drill sessions are just a few.

The present members feel the need to continue this service to their community, and as volunteers, will give much time and effort to this cause. It is their intent to continue this voluntary service in the event of an emergency.

In August, 1986, the Batavia Fire Department established a team of First Responders. Since their inception, they have responded to all sorts of emergencies. From cuts to entrapments to vehicle accidents, the First Responders team has proven to be a strong asset to the fire department.

The Batavia Fire Department is presently looking at building a new fire station. They currently have six vehicles with limited space in the fire station. They are looking to the future with a bright outlook at town expansion and needs.

Watch for their Celebrity Auction coming up in early October with items from many well known individuals, organizations and businesses.

Present members include, officers: Jay Johnson, Fire Chief; Jim Muench, First Assistant Chief; Dave Van Wormer, Second Assistant Chief; Loren Hendrickson, President and Safety Officer; George Gersmehl, Vice President; Jim Sprosty, Treasurer; Jane Merkel, Secretary, and Larry and Barb Laux, Hilltop Treasurers.

State Historical Society Offers Technical Assistance To Owners of Flood-Stricken Historic Buildings

Many older and historic buildings in Wisconsin have felt the effects of this year's heavy rains and flooding. These buildings, important to the character of their communities, deserve careful treatment that does not inadvertently worsen their conditions or destroy their historical significance.

Monitoring of flood-related damage to historic buildings should be carried out as soon as flood waters recede, and water saturation problems should be corrected as quickly as possible. Although much of the damage is purely cosmetic, certain types of building materials, such as wood joists, should be allowed to dry to avoid rotting or insect infestation. Other materials that are vulnerable to freezing and thawing damage, such as bricks and mortar, should be monitored carefully to ensure that they are dry before winter.

The State Historical Society of Wisconsin's division of historic preservation has produced an informational leaflet about ways to treat older and historic flood-damaged buildings. Copies are available on request. The division's preservation architects are also able to advise owners about the treatment of specific problems and the availability of state and federal income tax credits for rehabilitation of historic buildings.

For further information contact Jim Sewell (608-264-6490) or Brian McCormick (608-264-6491) at the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, 816 State St., Madison, WI 53706.

Delivers Presentation on Electronic Data Interchange, Quick Response

James Conlin

James Conlin, Marketing Analyst for Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum, and a member of the National Housewares Manufacturers Association (NHMA) Technology Task Force Committee, recently made a presentation at a Technology Workshop sponsored by NHMA on the subject of Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) and Quick Response.

The workshop was held in Atlanta, Georgia, with over 100 technicians and company executives in attendance. Many were looking at EDI for the first time, others were gathering information to convince their CEO's to start using EDI.

Quick Response is a relatively new business strategy that incorporates the use of the best available technology to forge closer trading partnerships with customers. EDI is one of the main components of Quick Response, allowing manufacturers and customers to transmit and receive business information such as purchase orders and invoices via computer. This method of communication allows for faster processing and cuts down lead times significantly.

Conlin also discussed Vendor Managed Inventory (VMI). VMI is a system of maintaining in-store inventories by sharing computerized inventory and check-out scanner information. The retailer determines at what level they would like to maintain a product. Each time a product sells, and is scanned at the checkout, that information is automatically subtracted from the inventory. When the supply goes down to the predetermined level, a new order is automatically placed. This virtually eliminates out of stock and cuts down on turn-around time.

"The key to Quick Response is the sharing of the information. A properly implemented Quick Response program, utilizing EDI and VMI can create substantial dollar savings in inventory management and order processing while increasing profits for both the manufacturer and the retailer," said Conlin.

Regal Ware, Inc., is a multi-plant manufacturer of cookware and portable electrics headquartered in Kewaskum.

Danielson U.S. Achievement Academy Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Michael T. Danielson has been named a United States National Award winner in Mathematics.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students. Michael Danielson, who attended Kewaskum Middle School was nominated for this National Award by William Heckel, a mathematics teacher at the school. Michael's photograph and biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Michael is the son of Timothy and Kathryn Danielson. The grandparents are Florence Hansen of Kewaskum, and Kathaleen Danielson of Muskego, and Reuben Danielson of Necedah.

Developmentally Delayed/Disabled Youth Now Have 'A Place to Go'

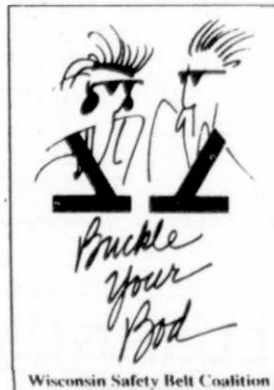

Summer and after school programming is now available for developmentally delayed/disabled children between the ages of 7 and 21.

"A Place to Go," located at 140 N. 7th Avenue, West Bend, provides social and recreational programming after school during the school year and all day during school holidays and summer.

The program was developed due to a lack of reliable, quality services for these children. They are too old for traditional day care, too young for adult day services and cannot, in most cases, be left home alone.

Parents and caregivers now know that their child is safe and well cared for while they are at work, running errands or simply taking time out for themselves.

Please call Jennifer or Pam at 338-7730 to enroll or for more information. "A Place to Go" is a program of Lutheran Social Services and is open to all people.

Danielson U.S. Achievement Academy Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Kristin L. Danielson has been named a United States National Award winner in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students. Kristin Danielson, who attended Kewaskum Middle School was nominated for this National Award by Kathleen West, an English teacher at the school. Michael's photograph and biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Kristin is the daughter of Timothy and Kathryn Danielson. The grandparents are Florence Hansen of Kewaskum, and Kathaleen Danielson of Muskego, and Reuben Danielson of Necedah.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of WILLIAM J. HARBECK, who passed away five years ago, August 10, 1988:

The tide recedes but leaves behind
Bright seashells on the sand.
The sun goes down, but gentle warmth
Still lingers on the land.
The music stops, and yet it echoes on in sweet refrains.
For every joy that passes, some thing beautiful remains.
Our memories bring us comfort
And keep you, our loved one,
close in heart.

Letters to the Editor

July 30, 1993

Dear Editor:

I want to thank you for publishing my story about Dyslexia last month. I realize it was unusually long, and I appreciate your finding it important enough to warrant so much space. It is serving the intended purpose. I promise this letter will be shorter.

I want to publicly thank the members of the Kewaskum School Board for their open-mindedness and their willingness to learn about Dyslexia and for taking a serious look at what can be done to alleviate the problems of this "learning difference." I also want others who showed their interest and support by coming to the work session to know that is much appreciated. I realize it was probably not easy for some.

Since my last letter, I have changed my thoughts about "labeling" kids so they don't feel "different." I have it from a reliable source that these kids already feel different. But they will feel better knowing why they are having trouble and as they get the help they need they will feel less different. We need to start calling Dyslexia what it is and give these kids the special training they need and deserve. Dyslexics should not be made to feel ashamed or embarrassed. They have a special kind of mind, often a gifted one. They are in pretty good company with people like Albert Einstein, Thomas Edison, Gen. George Patton, Woodrow Wilson, Leonardo da Vinci, Bruce Jenner, Nolan Ryan, Cher and others.

Dyslexia is not bad. The effects of unrecognized Dyslexia can be devastating. I am not sorry my son is dyslexic. I am sorry it took us so long to find out.

The more we talk about Dyslexia, the more educated people will become, and eventually the stigma that seems to be attached to it will no longer be.

For more information the Kewaskum Public Library has the following excellent books on Dyslexia: "About Dyslexia - Unraveling the Myth," by Priscilla Vail, "A Layman's Look at Dyslexia," and "Dyslexia is Potential Waiting to Be Discovered," both by Ron Weger. Again the number for the Wisconsin Dyslexia Institute is 334-8005.

Letter to the Editor:

The Kewaskum Lions Club would like to thank everyone, who in any way, helped to make our monthly paper drive a success. It was encouraging to see the support given the Lions Club. The friendly attitude of all of our citizens made this an experience that we will not soon forget. This was not just a Lions project but a community project. We saw this as a beginning of a recycling project for the community. Although a small project, hopefully a project that would impress on all citizens the need for everyone to do their part in working for a better environment.

The paper drive, which began in June of 1975, could not have been a success without the cooperation of all village citizens. We especially wish to thank the Kewaskum Statesman and village officials. Their help certainly made our job easier, knowing that our time and effort was appreciated.

Members of the Kewaskum Lions Club took pride in helping Kewaskum become a better community. We found that this project not only helped Kewaskum but gave us a chance to live our motto "WE SERVE."

The Kewaskum Lions Club would like to thank all of Kewaskum for the opportunity to serve.

Sincerely,
President Kewaskum Lions

Peace Church Volunteers Again Participate in Habitat for Humanity

Building an entire house from slab to roof was the goal of 23 members of the Habitat for Humanity volunteer work crew from Peace United Church of Christ, Kewaskum, from July 17-24 in Lexington, Kentucky.

They accomplished this gift of love in four and one half working days with humidity high and temperatures never below 90 degrees. "We felt like those early disciples Jesus sent out to work in far-off places," said Gayle Van Ess in Peace Church at the July 25 service.

"It was like a bit of immortality to know we were building something good to last for the future," added Howard Zemlicka, a five year volunteer veteran and work supervisor.

1993 is the fourth year the Peace Church crew has worked in Lexington, sleeping and eating at the ecumenical Koinonia House on the University of Kentucky Campus. Two days of travel and one Sunday of relaxation compliment the five days of labor. In addition to the assigned house finishing work was done at two other locations. Lexington has completed 46 Habitat homes in five years and plans to direct a combined county project in Kentucky of 94 more homes in 1994.

The Kewaskum crew members were termed "honorary citizens of Lexington" by Lyle Hanna, the local Habitat president, at a dinner given in their honor at St. Luke's Methodist Church of Lexington.

Doris and Earl Burgess, the new owners for the Kewaskum-built home worked with the Peace crew as they donated their 500 hours of Sweat Equity, which makes them eligible to assume a 20 year non-interest Habitat mortgage. This plan originated with Millard Fuller in 1976 when he founded Habitat for Humanity. Mortgage payments provide seed-month for more homes.

Ten Lexington Habitat leaders spent a week in Guatemala last February, building basic cement block homes for Habitat in a remote mountain area where the blocks were made by them right at the site. The Kewaskum crew saw slide photos of this venture by their hosts.

Four new local crew members joined the Peace Church crew this year: Pat and Kathy Deshotels, Jamie Gerlach, and Keri Petrie. Two year veterans are Gayle and Steve Van Ess, Gretchen Smith, and Mark Steinhardt; three year workers are Mary Steinhardt and Maury Hovland. Connie Zemlicka, Charles Petrie, and Clark and Bret Pearson have gone four years, while Howard Zemlicka, Wayland and Darlene Tessar, and Karen Kletti can claim five years. Willard Gruhle is a six year veteran, and seven year crew members are Richard Zarlino, Marion Erdmann, and Pastor James and Betty Bettin.

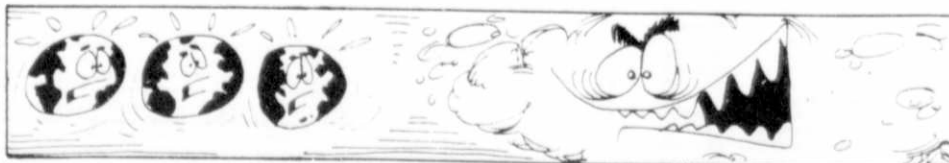

The Burgess home in Lexington is 24' x 48' in size, having four bedrooms to accommodate the parents and six children, 15 years and younger. They gratefully received gifts from Regal Ware, Inc. of Kewaskum for their home.

They will live in a section of all new houses on the northeast side of Lexington, where the local Habitat acquired a large lock of building lots. A new school and park behind the street make a setting in contrast to the stark slum areas being reclaimed by Habitat in the inner-city area.

Non-Habitat homes in run-down areas show positive signs of improvement also in the four years Kewaskum has worked in Lexington. Crew members toured all streets where they had worked and found joy in seeing families settled in rebuilt, remodeled, and new homes on old lots.

"This is the great reward for time and effort spent by each of us," said Pastor Bettin, coordinator for the local group in Lexington as well as on earlier work trips to Nashville, Tennessee, Zainesville, Ohio, and Buffalo, New York. All these projects are still thriving. The crew is sponsored by donations from Peace Church, individual members, the Sunday School, and friends and relatives. The crew is self-sufficient in providing its own food, and it travels by private van and truck. "What do we do next year?" is the ending for each trip!

A storm has been raging on Jupiter for over 300 years, a storm that could swallow up the Earth—three of them, in fact. The great red spot, a vast cyclonic system, has had a diameter as large as 25,000 miles, or three times the diameter of the Earth.

Kewaskum Post Office Opens Job Register

Kewaskum Postmaster Bonnie K. Eldredge has announced that the following examination will be given and urged that all those interested apply. As of Monday, August 2, 1993, applications were being accepted to take the job-related test that can lead to Postal Service employment for:

RURAL CARRIER

The Rural Carrier register is used to fill Rural Carrier Associate (RCA) vacancies. An RCA employee is entitled to employment and compensation only in the absence of a career regular Rural Carrier. This could involve working one day each week, one day each two weeks or only filling in for the regular Rural Carrier when that carrier is on leave, depending on the classification of the route. The hourly rate of pay for RCA's is $9.29. RCA's are not eligible for health or life insurance or the Federal Employees Retirement System (FERS). RCA's with service in excess of one year as an RCA will be eligible to bid on full-time Rural Carrier vacancies at the offices where they are employed and for vacancies posted within the Milwaukee Area Post Offices.

Position requires ability to sort mail into delivery sequence, load mail into vehicles, including parcels weighing up to 70 pounds and delivery of all mail and parcels to the designated addresses. It requires the acceptance, collection and delivery of all classes of mail on the designated route as well as the sale of stamp supplies and money orders.

Carriers must have a valid state driver's license and must demonstrate a safe driving record and pass the Postal Service Road Test to obtain the required type of Government Motor Vehicle Operator's Identification Card. They must furnish and maintain at their own expense vehicle equipment necessary for the prompt handling of the mails, but are given an equipment maintenance allowance based on the daily mileage scheduled, or a minimum allowance per day, whichever is greater.

Eligibility for this examination is limited to two years unless, after eighteen months, applicants request to have their eligibility extended for an additional year. Applicants whose eligibility has expired must reapply to compete for a standing on the new register.

"I do not want to give the impression that we will be hiring great numbers of people in the coming months," the postmaster said. "I anticipate approximately one to two vacancies will occur in the next two years that will be filled by hiring people from the Rural Carrier register. We need qualified people who will be willing to accept employment, and we want to offer people in the local community the chance to compete for these openings by signing up for and taking this examination."

Postmaster Eldredge explained that those wishing to take the examination could apply by completing an application card at the Kewaskum Post Office, in Kewaskum, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Applications were being accepted as of Monday, August 2, 1993.

The postmaster further explained that applicants need only apply at one post office within an AREA as the exam may be taken only ONCE per area.

Cake Decorating To Soccer Moves

By Kandi O'Neil
Washington County
4-H & Youth Agent

Have you spent time teaching someone step-by-step how to do something? Then you have the tools necessary to be involved in the 4-H Demonstration Contest. Your only limitation is your creativity and imagination. Any activity that is best explained by showing someone would make an excellent demonstration.

This year's County Fair highlighted some of Washington County's top demonstrators, including Cloverbuds: Patty Klabunde, Badger Boosters 4-H Club, "It Grows"; and Matthew Koch, Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club, "Pancakes Fast and Easy."

4-H'ers who participated in the Demonstration Contest are: Cassandra Luft, Good Luck Club, "String Magic"; Karla Koch, Wayne Crusaders, "How to Macrame a Bracelet"; Megan Hext, Thompson Irish Settlers, "How to Make a Mini-Rain Forest"; Billy Klabunde, Badger Boosters, "It Flies"; Shannon Hext, Thompson Irish Settlers, "Toot a Flute"; Cindy Gundrum, Badger Boosters, "New Plants from Old"; Debra Yogerst, Hi-Lite Happy Workers, "Cake Decorating"; Katie Klabunde, Badger Boosters, "Soccer Moves"; Sara Larsen, Kirshayn Trotters, "How to Create a Fabric Topiary Tree"; Deanna Wagner, Wayne Crusaders, "You Can Be An Artist, Too!"

Debra Yogerst, Deanna Wagner and Karla Koch were selected as top demonstrators in their age division. Debra Yogerst and Deanna Wagner have also been nominated to represent Washington County at the Wisconsin State Fair, August 5-15, due to their outstanding work. They will present their demonstrations with youth throughout the state.

The Demonstration Contest is one vehicle that helps youth develop their communication skills. In many clubs, 4-H'ers are required to give demonstrations to meet their yearly requirements.

Through action demonstrations, 4-H'ers further develop their ability to communicate, lead, teach, organize and complete a step-by-step process. Make sure as you make your plans for County Fair, you include a trip to the Main Exhibit Building to catch one of these creative demonstrations in action.

4-H Reaches New Audiences

By Kandi O'Neil
Washington County
4-H & Youth Agent

4-H provides hands-on learning experiences for youth 5 to 18 years old. Four-H has traditionally been taking place in a community club setting. Four-H in Washington County, like many counties throughout the state has looked at expanding the traditional program to reach youth who may not be able to participate in a club setting.

Two new programs this past year are the 4-H Friends Helping Friends program which was started cooperatively with Dodge County in five Hartford feeder schools, Richfield, Erin, Herman, Neosho, and Saylesville. Youth in grades 5-8 are trained in four areas: communication, friends, self-esteem, and cooperation, to be peer helpers with elementary youth.

The second program is 4-H School Age Child Care which focuses on incorporating 4-H into the day care setting. Children enroll in 4-H through their day care. The day care provider is their leader. Once a week the children participate in 4-H experiences. The children form their own club and elect officers like any other club. The provider helps them to select projects. The members also work on community service projects. This year there was one day care in Washington County who piloted the program. This fall two additional day care centers, Almost Home, in Barton and Almost Home in Hartford, will participate in the 4-H School Age Child Care 4-H program.

The children learn the same basic life skills: responsibility, decision making, leadership, communication, developing their self-esteem and learning to work cooperatively.

Carol Ahlers, Ahlers Family Day Care, started the 4-H program this past January with the children enrolled at her family day care. The youth selected their club name the "4-H Winners." The kids selected their name because they all felt they were winners; which they are! Four-H is designed to help youth build on their own strengths. Six youths, age 5-9, participated this year and will continue next fall.

Carol believes, "The curriculum is very beneficial as an after school supplement. This program helps the kids stay interested and involved in a hands-on experience after school. This year they completed a unit on dogs, food and nutrition, safety, comparison shopping, and health. A real plus is the extra outside resources that the provider can access from the UW-Extension Office as well as the community."

The kids really enjoyed the program. They are enthusiastic about starting again in fall. They enjoyed learning new things and an opportunity to exhibit what they made at the County Fair.

VERSATILE SPINACH

Joyce Albrecht
County UW Extension
Home Economist

A deep green vegetable, rich in vitamins A and C, as well as iron and calcium, spinach fits right into the "Five-a-Day" eating plan. Added benefits: It is low-calorie, low-fat and low-sodium.

The beauty of spinach is its versatility. It can be used as the base for salads, souffles and casseroles.

Here are some spinach tips. *Look for dark green leaves and crisp stems. *Buy spinach loose - you can better inspect it for quality. *Store unwashed leaves in an open plastic bag in the refrigerator for 3-4 days. *Wash leaves several times. Spinach often is grown in sand; some of it get onto leaves. *1 to 1 1/4 pounds of fresh spinach makes one cup cooked.

A cup of cooked spinach has 40 calories and makes 2 servings. (Information from Joyce Albrecht, Washington County UW Extension Home Economist).

Chester J. Dombrowski, 30, a former Chicago policeman, was convicted of first degree murder last Thursday by a circuit court jury at Fond du Lac in the death of another Chicago man. Judge Jerold Murphy ordered Dombrowski held without bond. Consisting of seven women and five men, the jury deliberated about five hours before finding Dombrowski guilty of the murder of Herbert L. McKinney, 27, whose body was found last September 12 on a farm owned by Dombrowski and a brother in Fond du Lac County about two miles north of Kewaskum. McKinney had been badly beaten and there was a bullet wound in his head. More than 20 witnesses had been subpoenaed from Washington County in the murder trial of Dombrowski, including James Sparks, Mrs. Willard Klein, Willard Lynn, Anthony Vorpahl, and Lawrence Galabinske. Others from the county included professional men, officials, sheriff's deputies and private citizens. The body of the murder victim was found following an investigation of an accident in which Dombrowski was involved on Hwy. 45 just south of the Fond du Lac county line in Washington County on the night of September 11, when his rented car left the highway. Dombrowski was charged with driving while intoxicated and held in West Bend, but the charge was later reduced. Dombrowski, who was on leave from his job at the time, resigned from the police force while being held in West Bend. Sparks and Miss Betty Jean Naus of West Bend, also subpoenaed as a witness, came upon the scene of the accident, north of Kewaskum. They stated they brought Dombrowski into Kewaskum and urged him to report the accident. They said he refused, fearing arrest for drunken driving. Some of the other local witnesses also saw Dombrowski the night of the mishap. The defendant was later arrested at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago on March 26 after a grand jury at Fond du Lac indicted him in the McKinney slaying. During the final summations of the case Judge Murphy told the jury to disregard a statement by the prosecution that brought a defense motion for a mistrial. The statement, by Dist. Atty. Alexander P. Semenas of Fond du Lac County, inferred that a ballistics check of two pistols registered to Dombrowski would have proved one of them fired the bullet that killed McKinney. The judge denied the request for a mistrial. The defense argued during the seven day trial that the prosecution did not prove that the shooting occurred in Fond du Lac County.

Ellsworth Prost, 45, West Bend, a Washington County highway worker, was fatally injured Wednesday afternoon when a power road roller he was operating apparently flipped over and crushed him. Prost was a brother of Mrs. Walter (Betty) Giese of the village and a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Prost of Route 2, Kewaskum. Prost was working on a black-topping project on County Trunk M, about a quarter mile south of Fillmore when the accident occurred.

Marriage vows were exchanged July 13, by Joyce Bruessel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bruessel, Route 2, Kewaskum, and Mark Kral, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kral, Kewaskum, during a double ring ceremony before the altar of Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum.

The home of the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Peter A. Deisch of Helena, Arkansas, and State Senator Deisch, was chosen for the wedding of Susan Buford Wood, Dallas, Texas, and Harold Charles Klein, Dallas, in a 6 p.m. ceremony on July 20. Miss Wood is the daughter of Mrs. Susan Deisch Wood, Lancaster, Texas, and Lawson Wood of Dallas. Klein is the son of Mrs. Rosella Trapp Klein of Kewaskum, and the late Mr. Klein.

Dianne S. Heinecke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Heinecke, West Bend, became the bride of Thomas K. Hetland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hetland, West Bend, during a Nuptial Mass, July 13, at St. Frances Cabrini Church, West Bend.

Aldwin Seefeldt, Assistant District Attorney for Washington County, and a son of Alfred H. Seefeldt of Kewaskum, has been appointed a page for the National Republican Convention to be held in Miami Beach, Florida, from August 5 to 9.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Daniel, Kewaskum, on July 23. Mrs. Daniel is the former Cheryl Erdmann. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rochwite, Campbellsport, on July 23. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Aupperle, Route 1, Kewaskum, on July 25.

Maneuvers were held by 300 men of the 1st battalion of the 1st infantry regiment of the Wisconsin state guard unit of Milwaukee over the weekend in the Mauthe Lake area of the Kettle Moraine State Forest near Kewaskum. The state guardsmen passed through this village on their way to the lake Saturday morning in a caravan of about a half dozen Greyhound busses accompanied by an officers' car and supply truck. They returned to Milwaukee through Kewaskum again late Sunday afternoon and the caravan stopped off on upper Main Street for a few minutes attracting spectators. The officers were searching for one or more men from the unit whom they were to meet in the village. Many people of the community went to Mauthe Lake to get a glimpse of the guardsmen and see as much of the maneuver action as possible. The Milwaukee Journal carried pictures of the action of the Kettle Moraine bivouac on Monday. The Mauthe Lake area rocked Sunday as the state guard unit used bangalore torpedoes to break down barbed wire entanglements during mopping up operations against the "enemy from the north" in a practice problem. This unit fought a successful delaying action against a "superior invader" in the maneuver Saturday and Sunday to give re-enforcements time to reach the battle area and wipe out the hostile army.

Members of the St. Lucas Evangelical Lutheran Church held the dedication of the new parish cemetery Sunday. The cemetery is located southwest of the village on the Wayne road just west of the Kewaskum hill.

The Kewaskum Home Guards went through an extensive drill on Tuesday evening, every one of the members going through their part with the right spirit, anxious to get the training. The company now has a membership of 51 members with 12 more needed to fill the quota. Remember, everyone between the ages of 14 and 64 are eligible to join the guards, whether he is a citizen of the village or town of Kewaskum or not. All members of the organization are working hard to get the full quota, so that the company will be in a position to get a charter from the state. The following men have joined: L.P. Rosenheimer, Otto E. Lay, John A. Witzig, H.W. Meilahn, Edw. C. Miller, N.W. Rosenheimer, A.P. Schaeffer, Charles Groeschel, R. Backus, Geo. H. Public Input Sought on Where To Locate Subsidized Housing

WEST BEND... Many housing advocates say low-income housing should be spread out in a community to avoid creating ghettos. But when subsidized housing is scattered, housing experts say problems like transportation and job availability may arise.

Wisconsin residents can air their views about where to locate subsidized housing during an ETN on August 10, from 1 to 2:50 p.m. at the Public Agency Center in West Bend, room 1113A. The conference is sponsored by the Wisconsin Division of Housing and University of Wisconsin-Extension Family Living Education.

The state is putting together its Comprehensive Housing Affordability Strategy (CHAS) for the coming year and making decisions about how to spend low-income housing funds of more than $21 million.

Ann Ziebarth, UW-Madison/Extension housing specialist, said many communities don't want pockets of low-income housing located within their city limits. But when communities spread out their subsidized housing, individual neighborhoods may protest.

"Communities can find it difficult to provide other services that low-income families may need... day care, job training and education programs... when subsidized housing is scattered among communities," Ziebarth said.

"There may be no jobs, no social services and no transportation if you decide to locate subsidized housing in a suburb or community outside the metropolitan area."

Ziebarth said scattering housing usually is more expensive than improving existing neighborhoods. In many neighborhoods, high property values make it difficult to build affordable housing. Scattered low-income housing also can lead to a loss of community and sense of isolation.

"It can be difficult when you're the only family in town living in subsidized housing, and everyone knows you're the only family in these circumstances," she said.

On the other hand, Ziebarth and UW-Extension housing specialist John Merrill agree that creating concentrated low-income housing has disadvantages as well.

"Most housing experts want to get rid of inner-city ghettos, not build new ones," Merrill said.

"If all poor people live together, there are fewer opportunities to escape the cycle of poverty. Our society already is heavily divided along racial and social lines. One way to combat that and understand each other better is to live in the same neighborhoods and interact with each other."

Merrill said concentrating subsidized housing also increases the chances that low-income people will face discrimination. Jobs and credit may be less available. Schools and parks may not receive as much attention.

Hay on State-Owned Land Available to Assist Farmers

The Department of Natural Resources has announced it will open up certain state lands, including wildlife areas, fisheries areas and state forests, to the harvest of hay and grass in seven additional counties to assist farmers in flood disaster areas.

"Farmers living in these counties will be able to harvest up to 10 acres of the available hay or grass on a first-come, first-serve basis," said Todd Peterson, DNR agricultural wildlife specialist. The department will not charge a fee to harvest the hay.

Additional counties where land has been opened up for haying this week include: Adams, Calumet, Columbia, Richland, Waupaca, Waushara, and Winnebago. The department previously opened lands in Iowa, Lafayette, Grant, Sauk, Green Lake, Manitowoc, Kewaunee, Outagamie and Oconto counties. These are the same counties where the Federal Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service has opened up Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) lands to haying.

This offer does not apply to any properties the department previously authorized for harvest, and this offer will not affect those agreements, Peterson said.

Farmers interested in harvesting hay or grass from state lands should contact the nearest DNR district or area office for more information and to obtain a permit for harvesting hay.

State White-Tailed Deer Close to Management Goal

MADISON.... Wisconsin's deer population is currently very close to the population goals set by Department of Natural Resources wildlife managers, according to results of surveys the department has conducted this summer.

"Statewide, the deer population is about one million animals," says Arlyn Loomans, acting DNR deer specialist. "That level the department has set for statewide management goals."

As a result, the department will issue fewer antlerless permits for hunters during the 1993 season than it has in recent years when population levels exceeded management goals, Loomans says. Antlerless permits allow hunters to take does and fawns.

The decrease in permits is aimed at reducing the antlerless quota, or the number of antlerless deer wildlife managers project hunters will kill, by 56 percent, Loomans says.

"The deer harvest this fall will be down significantly from the 1992 season. We anticipate a potential gun harvest of approximately 200,000 and a bow harvest of about 50,000, for a total deer harvest of 250,000 in 1993, compared to 349,298 in 1992," he says.

The deer population is lowest in the northern one-third of the state, and that is the area where wildlife managers have set the lowest antlerless quotas. "The antlerless quota for this region will allow for a kill of less than 4,000 during the gun season compared to 50,000 in 1992," Loomans says.

As a result, wildlife managers anticipate that many deer hunters who have hunted in the north the past few years will move to other areas. This decreased hunting pressure will likely result in fewer bucks being killed in the north, Loomans says. "The total buck harvest for the north might fall between 25,000 and 30,000 compared to 35,700 bucks taken in 1992."

The deer population in the central region of the state is also down, primarily due to poor fawn production and survival during 1992. Wildlife managers have reduced antlerless quotas for that area as well. Antlerless quotas for 1993 in central Wisconsin are set at 8,800, compared to a harvest of more than 16,000 in 1992. Loomans says the combined bow and gun hunt buck harvest in Central Wisconsin region is expected to be approximately 9,000 compared to 11,642 in 1992.

In the southern two-thirds of the state, intensive harvests in recent years have reduced deer herd levels in most deer management units to the established goals. As a result, wildlife managers have also reduced the antlerless harvest goals in these areas. "Our quotas for this area total approximately 90,000, compared to an antlerless kill in 1992 of 110,000," Loomans says.

Wildlife managers anticipate a buck harvest of more than 80,000 during the bow and gun season within the southern portion of the state. However, Loomans says, the buck harvest could potentially be somewhat larger because standing corn fields and heavy rains during the 1992 season may have reduced the harvest.

An intellectual is a man who takes more words than necessary to tell more than he knows.

Ostrowski, Goeden Take First and Second at Plymouth Modified Race

PLYMOUTH - Pete Ostrowski of Milwaukee picked up his first Modified feature win of the 1993 season Saturday night as the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car races in Plymouth.

Ostrowski grabbed the lead from the pole and went mostly unchallenged for the entire race. Don Goeden of Kewaskum cut to the inside on the restart of a lap 26 red flag to pass Greg Otte of Sheboygan Falls into second. Goeden attempted to challenge Ostrowski late in the race but couldn't get close enough to make a bid for the lead. Goeden finished second followed by Otte. K.J. Skelton of Cascade and Terry Chesak of Newburg battled for the number four and five spots over the final 20 laps of the 30 lap race with Skelton edging past Chesak at the finish line to take fourth.

Randy Markwardt of Sheboygan picked up the commemorative silver plate by winning the 25 lap Sportsman feature on Steve Kudick Memorial Night at the races. Kudick was a sportsman driver who died shortly after the racing season ended last season. Markwardt started in the second from last row but charged through the pack and took advantage of two red flags early in the race to challenge for the lead by lap 9. On lap 13, Markwardt went side-by-side with visiting Hales Corners driver Brett Seifert of New Berlin through turns three and four and roared past Seifert on the front stretch for the lead. Markwardt pulled away from the rest of the field on his way to the checkered flag. Markwardt also picked up Fast Qualifier and Hard Charger honors during the evening. Seifert finished second followed by Paul Dingel of Sheboygan, Jeff Gierke of Kiel and Keith Borth of Sheboygan.

Dean Gosse of Howards Grove bolted past Pete Condy of Plymouth on lap 8 of the Hobby Stock feature than held off Chad Rathke of Fredonia for the remaining 12 laps to win his first feature event. Rathke was right on Gosse's back bumper for most of that time but was unable to work his way past Gosse and finished second followed by Brad Dahmer of Sheboygan, Tim Thompson of Campbellsport and Kevin Ruh of Bensenville, Illinois.

Polesitter Randy Butler picked up the win in the Modified "B" semi-feature then went on to pick up Hard Charger honors in the feature. Etchie Biertzer of West Bend won the Modified "C" semi-feature. Jim Rychtik of Port Washington won the Sportsman semi-feature and Scott Marquardt of Plymouth won the Hobby semi-feature.

Racing continues Saturday night with time trials at 6 p.m. and racing at 7 p.m.

New Record Set At Hill Climb

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - It seemed as if Mother Nature just didn't want the 10th Annual Motorcycle Hill Climb at Sunburst Ski Hill to occur. After being postponed from its regular date in June, the Hill Climb looked in jeopardy again last Sunday, as early morning rains threatened to cancel the show.

But the sun eventually cooperated, and the Hill Climb went on as scheduled, with Wisconsin Rapids' Matt Bronk stealing the show.

Bronk, competing in the 600 pro division, raced up the vertical drop hill in just 8.86 seconds, setting a new hill record in the process.

The event, sponsored by the Kettle Moraine Sport Riders, was another huge success, with well over 1,000 persons turning out for the races. A total of 82 participants took part in the Hill Climb.

C.C.'s Loses First Game

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - It took awhile, but there are no longer any unbeaten teams in the Village of Kewaskum Athletic Association softball leagues.

Prime Time Pub fell behind C.C.'s by a four-run count early in their games last Thursday night at Kiwanis Community Park. But Prime Time scored five times in the third inning, en route to a 10-9 win over C.C.'s, which suffered its first loss of the year after reeling off ten straight wins. The matchup was a makeup game from an earlier rainout.

Earlier in the evening, C.C.'s won their tenth straight with an 18-4 win over Emun Mull Gamefarm. In other action, it was Accent Photography beating C.C. Cody's, 13-7, while M and I Bank unended Diamond F, 6-2.

With just two weeks to play on Thursday night, C.C.'s is the only team to have assured itself of a playoff spot. C.C. Cody's, which is currently in second place with four losses, will play its makeup game this week at 9:30 p.m. against M and I Bank. Accent Photography and Prime Time Pub are currently tied for the third spot with five losses. The top four teams on Thursday qualify for the playoffs.

The playoff race on Tuesday night became a bit more clear last week. Park Avenue Pub remained in first place, as it beat Neuville Chevrolet, 8-3. Park Avenue stayed a game ahead of Dupliquik, which beat Prime Time Pub, 12-7.

In other action, Bohn Dry jumped out to an 11-0 lead in beating John Doe, 11-4, while it was Bunkelman Builders taking care of Amerahn, 10-6.

With just two weeks of action remaining, Park Avenue Pub and Dupliquik have earned playoff berths, with Amerahn, Prime Time Pub and Neuville Chevrolet all tied for third with six wins. The top five teams on Tuesday make the playoffs.

West Bend East Captures WIAA State Baseball Title

By Noel Stollenwerk

STEVENS POINT - What started out with a doubleheader sweep of Kewaskum back in May ended here last Thursday, as West Bend East concluded their season by capturing the WIAA State Baseball Championship.

The Suns scored three times in the third inning of the championship game against Unity, and they never looked back, coasting to a 9-6 win in the title game. East finished the year 23-7, while Unity, the defending state champs, ended 22-6.

The Suns coasted through the WIAA post-season, outscoring their seven opponents by a total of 52-10.

In the state quarterfinals on Wednesday, East handled Whitehall 9-2, using a four-run sixth inning to pave the way. The Suns then did what only two other teams have done this year... beat Franklin. Brad Geldnich limited the Sabres to just four hits, as East prevailed 3-0, vaulting it into the title game against Unity.

Unity had earned the right to face East with a convincing 8-1 win over New Holstein, the Eastern Wisconsin Conference's lone representative in the meet. The Huskies beat Nicolet 2-0 in the quarter finals, as Mike Casper, an all-EW first team infielder, pitched a three-hitter. Casper also went 3x3 at the plate to pace the Huskies' offense. New Holstein finished the year with a 16-10 record.
