Farmington Wellness Center Will Go Before Town Board

Plan Commission Backs Design

By Noel Stollenwerk

TOWN OF FARMINGTON -The Farmington Planning Commission will recommend to the Town Board that it accept a proposal for a conditional permit to develop a wellness center to be constructed on property at Shalom and Indian Lore Drives.

The Planning Commission voted 5-1 in favor of the plan to build the center, which will include designs for 30-32 single-family homes to be built, with four or five buildings presently on the site to be converted to single-family units.

The idea for the wellness center, developed by Wesley Pavalon and George Korkos, originally came before the Town in 1991. But the plans were put on hold, due to concerns of neighboring residents.

Among the concerns brought before the Town were the center's impact on area schools, maintenance and plowing of the streets at the site, and the possibility of neighbor's liability for flood damage to the center.

Pavalon and Korkos went about addressing these issues, and developed revisions in their plans. The pair then applied for a conditional permit which would allow them to start construction of the center.

The Planning Commission's recommendation will now be forwarded to the Town Board, which is expected to vote on the the plan at its monthly meeting on September 20th.

If the Board approves the agreement, construction may begin on the site as soon as Korkos and Pavalon get financing for the project.

Yeska Family Reunion

Isabelle Muckerheide

On Labor Day weekend, the descendants of Anton and Stella Yeska, gathered at the old home site in Neshkoro, for their annual reunion. The Lord blessed us with favorable weather.

from Guests arrived California and Massachusetts, Illinois, and various places in Wisconsin. Soon a little village of tents and campers was formed.

Festivities began with kite flying at noon on Saturday. There were games for the little ones later. At 4:00 p.m., an outdoor Mass was held by Fr. Joe Schlaefer in memory of our brother, Walter, who passed away since last year's event.

A barbecued turkey feast was enjoyed after that, with sweet corn, and many scrumptious desserts.

Then came the talent show! Like the song says "You had to be there." Children two and three years old sang songs, several skits also.

A violin quintet by cousins nine to 15 years of age played Brahm's Waltz, Edelweiss, and God Bless America. The song Istanbul was danced by girls in Harem costumes with a make believe camel in the background.

"Mac the Knife" was sung by Wally from Massachusetts, who performs in plays out there. John Kerhin, as "Willie Nelson," sang about the buck that got away. The wind up was the arrival of Elvis in a simulated helicopter (with sound effects and all). It was portrayed by three persons in various stages of Elvis' career. The last one came out in a beautiful costume designed by two nieces. It was as beautiful, if not more so, than Elvis ever wore. He even sang "Love Me Tender."

Sunday morning several of us went to brunch at Essen House. A road rally was held in the afternoon. Prizes were awarded to all the participants. In the evening, we had a polka party and lessons in line dancing. A huge campfire was appreciated, as the temperature dipped to 42 degrees. We toasted marshmallows, and popped corn. Fireworks competed with the stars in the sky.

Monday was breakup day, while we eagerly looked forward to next year's gathering.

My three sisters and I, otherwise known as the "Lemon Sisters," sang the following to the tune of "Achey, Breaky, Heart."

Here we come again, with an achey, breaky, heart. Hoping to provide a little joy. Who said we're not pros? But everybody knows. That we've been performers from the start.

Now Helen was a postal clerk, And Dot, potetsa queen. Lulu was the baby of the bunch, Isy learned to cook, and did what 'ere it took To make it through the years that were lean.

So lets all celebrate, the fact that we are here

You can bet your britches We'll have you all in stitches A nicer bunch than this cannot be found Our thanks to all who came,

To join us in this feast.

Our folks, yes, and those who are not here,

With love encircling all around. Let's have a happy time, And then I'll say that I'm

With each and everyone that we hold dear.

God bless you all!

P.S. Potetsa is a Slovenian nut bread Dorothy makes for special occasions.

Panzer Announces West Bend Will Receive Training Grants

MADISON... Representative Mary Panzer (R-West Bend) has announced recently that West Bend will receive over $20,000 this year in mentor training grants as part of the state's Youth Apprenticeship Program.

A five-way agreement for this fall's Youth Apprenticeship programs in West Bend, included a $20,000 grant to help defray some of the costs involved in providing the mentored training experience to students. All parties involved, including parents, students, Moraine Park Technical College, West Bend Joint School District, and area businesses signed an agreement outlining their responsibilities in the ongoing apprenticeship operation.

"We are extremely happy with the success of this program in West Bend," said Representative Panzer. "It is exciting to see how it has caught on in other industries and in other areas of the state."

The success of the program has given rise to the approval of nine youth apprenticeship programs in West Bend, the Fox Valley, Green Bay, Milwaukee and Waukesha. Students from 42 high schools will combine school and work with over 31 employers in the Printing-/Graphic Arts industry and a new industry, Financial Services. "This is just the beginning of a wide range of school-towork initiatives starting up in West Bend," said Panzer. "With the continued commitment and collaboration of our public schools and businesses, we hope to make West Bend a leader in cultivating a skilled and talented workforce," said Panzer. The Youth Apprenticeship Program, which focuses on applied academics and workbased training, began in the fall of 1992 in West Bend and the Fox River Valley. A total of 18 students participated in the printing apprenticeship the first year of the program, while over 100 students will be enrolled this fall.

OSHKOSH - Despite enrollment cuts mandated by the University of Wisconsin System, the freshman class this fall at UW-Oshkosh was bigger than a year ago.

And once again, it will be better academically, university officials say, a change fueled by the school's aggressive merit scholarship program to attract outstanding students.

A total of 80, $1,000 Chancellor's Leadership and Academic scholarships were awarded for this fall, up from 60 a year ago.

Chancellor John Kerrigan announced the number would increase to 100 next fall.

Total UW-Oshkosh enrollment this fall was expected to be 10,875, down from 11,038 a year ago. But new freshmen were expected to total 1,520, compared with 1,492 in fall 1992 class, said Roger Herold, director of academic advisement/enrollment management and registration. The large number of graduates left more openings that could be filled by new freshmen.

More than 58 percent of this fall's new freshmen class will be women, which is up about a percentage point over a year ago.

The class rank and ACT scores of new UW-Oshkosh freshmen continue to improve. With an average ACT (American College Testing) score of 22.2, this year's freshmen class is nearly a full point higher than the freshman class of 1992.

The average class rank of new freshmen, Herald said, has climbed nearly 10 percent since 1986, to 71.7 percent this fall. In 1986, the average class rank of UW-Oshkosh freshmen was 62.5 percent.

Incoming freshmen from this area at the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh enrolled for the 1993 fall semester include:

Johann Announces Write-In Candidacy

Cedarburg author Sara Lee Johann has announced that she will be an Independent Write-In candidate in the September 21 election for the 20th district state senate seat recently vacated by Donald Stitt.

Johann says she is running because she is dedicated to public service and wants to give the voters a real choice.

She has said, "If the people elect me, an Independent, neither party and no special interest groups will control the state senate. My allegiance will be to the public which elected me. The partisan bickering will have to stop and a spirit of positive cooperation and negotiation will prevail. With the leadership of neither party able to bottle up good legislation in committees in an abuse of power, we will be able to pass good laws and eliminate pork barrel politics and wasteful government spending. My Independent vote would be the swing vote on any issues where the Republicans and Democrats disagree."

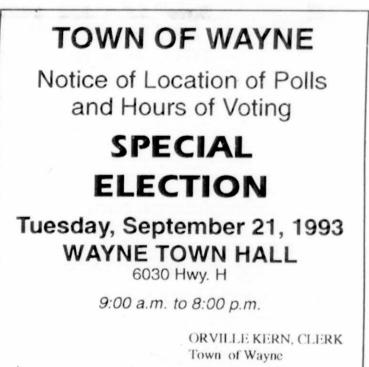

Johann adds, "This election is not about which special interest groups will elect a state senator on Sept. 21. It is about whether we the people, will take back Wisconsin from the control of special interests and lobbyists by electing an independent thinking senator who will vote on each issue before the legislature based on what is the right stand to take in the public interest. I am that kind of an independent thinker. This election is about not letting a handful of monied, self-serving powerbrokers control our state and returning power to the voters where it belongs."

"It's about recognizing that the senseless act of killing thousands of unborn babies through abortion each year in our nation is a form of child abuse. This is something that I, as an expert in abuse prevention, could never condone."

Johann received 21,588 votes when she ran for state senate against Don Stitt in 1984. She hopes the people who supported her in 1984, and additional new supporters will vote for her on September 21.

Part of the increase is due to a large spring 1993 graduating

Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth or machine and cast his or her ballot except that an elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

At the special partisan election, the elector shall make a punch or a hole in the space designated, or separately depress the lever or button next to each candidate's name for whom he or she intends to vote.

Indians Capture Campbellsport Title

By Noel Stollenwerk

CAMPBELLSPORT -

Kewaskum volleyball coach Dave Rizzardi says he expects his team to do well in the annual Campbellsport Invitational tournament.

His team continued to meet those expectations here, last Saturday, as the Lady Indians went 5-1 in their three matches to capture the Invitational title once again. Laconia, Division 3 state qualifier last season, was second (4-2), followed by the host Cougars (2-4), and North Fond du Lac (1-5).

"Our serving was greatly improved," Rizzardi was pleased to note. "I thing we hit at about 97% (success rate) for the tournament, which is fantastic. We really had a good day serving."

The Lady Indians set the tone right away in their opening match against Laconia. Kewaskum played flawlessly in the first game, shutting out their foes, 15-0.

"We were picking up everything," Rizzardi noted. "We played exceptional in that game... everybody played well." The Indians slacked off a bit in game two, falling behind 10-2. "We kind of fell asleep for a while there," Rizzardi pointed out. "We had a nice comeback," but it wasn't enough as Laconia prevailed, 15-13. The Indians drew North Fond du Lac in the second match, and "at times they gave us problems," Rizzardi said. "But our defense was strong, and our blocking was superior to theirs," as KHS won both games, 15-7, 15-13. "Our setters were getting the ball up, and we kept the pressure on them."

Campbellsport was the final foe for the Indians, who jumped out to a commanding 14-1 lead in the first game. KHS couldn't put the Cougars away, however. "We were in total control, but we just couldn't finish them off," Rizzardi said, noting that his team finally did prevail.

The second game was almost the same story, as the Indians handed the Cougars dink shots, and won the game, 15-6.

"They like to hit off-speed shots, but our defense just kept picking them up," the Indian boss said. "All in all, they did an excellent job, coming off the tough loss (to Kiel) on Thursday."

Rizzardi was pleased with all of his regulars, including setters ShellyWilliams and Sara Tykac, as well as Ginger Wiesner, Ali Bruendl, Christa Fleischman, Missy Radtke, Shannon Breit and Mary Yahr. "It was a good tournament for us. Everybody played extremely well."

Kiel Hands Indians First VB Loss

By Noel Stollenwerk

KIEL - After losing to Kiel in a season-opening tournament a few weeks back, the Kewaskum volleyball team and coach Dave Rizzardi were looking forward to the two teams' rematch here, last Thursday night.

But Rizzardi and the Indians will have to wait until the Raiders come to Kewaskum later in the year for win against the Eastern Wisconsin Conference leaders, who posted a 18-16, 15-10, 16-14 victory over the Indians.

The loss dropped Kewaskum to 3-1 in the EW, while Kiel improved to 3-0.

"They are off to a nice start this year," Rizzardi said of the talented Raiders. "I still think that they can be beat, though."

The Raiders weren't about to let the Indians spoil their winning streak, however, as they fought tooth and nail in a wild first game marathon.

"That first game was a match, as Kiel, behind the play of senior Karla Niemuth, came out on top.

"She really stood out in my mind," Rizzardi said of Niemuth, a three-year letterwinner. "She seemed like she's on a mission this year. She was all over the floor."

The Indians didn't play too poorly either, according to their coach.

"Our back-row people played

"We were making good passes, they were just picking the ball up," Rizzardi went on regarding the battle. "But we are still having trouble serving."

The Indians missed a total of 14 serves in the three games, an 83 percent success rate. Rizzardi normally wants to be in the upper 80 percent bracket.

"But we didn't lose the match because of the serving. The missed serves weren't at key points in the match," he explained.

Mary Yahr overcame her early-season serving slump, connecting on all ten of her serves. "She had been having trouble, but she came through nicely," the Indian mentor said.

Missy Radtke also played well, accumulating five block kills on her way to seven points. "Her defense is really helping us out," Rizzardi said.

"We're not done yet," Rizzardi said of the loss. "We're still right up there. The conference doesn't have any domanant spikers, so it (the EW title) is still up for grabs, I think."

The Indians will try to keep pace with the Raiders this week, as they take on Sheboygan Falls and New Holstein, two top contenders.

that's exactly what we did," Rizzardi said regarding the Indians' 15-7, 15-7, 15-8 win over the Tigers here, last Tuesday. The win, however ugly it was, improved KHS' mark to 3-0 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

Both teams started horrendously in the opening game, with each squad missing seven serves. "To miss 14 serves in one game at the high school varsity level, that's just unacceptable," Rizzardi said of the first game.

"Neither team was motivated to play in that game," Rizzardi went on, noting that his troops finally came around to post the win.

The second and third games were a little cleaner, although the Indians were never really tested. Radtke led the Indians with six points, including four spike kills. Sara Tykac led the Indians with seven assists.

That resulted in a total of 13 Indian aces, including three by time playing defense, and picking the ball up."

"We just weren't very fired up about this one," Rizzardi admitted. "We knew we were the better team, so we just kind of went out there and did what we had to."

The Indians swept on all three levels, as both the JV and freshman teams were victorious as well.

The JV's won all three games of their match, 15-3, 15-3, 15-5, helping them to a 3-0 mark in the EW. Tanya Krahn served eight straight points in the first game, while Michelle Thull and Angie Bindrich each served four straight in game two, according to coach Mary Holfeltz.

The freshmen improved to 2-1 in the EW with their win.

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers. First of all, I will give you the "college update" and some very good advice: "when your child is ready for college... have THEM do the moving (make yourself TOO busy that day). I guess that I am only kidding as one of the girls at UW-Milwaukee watched me unload the van and said: "you look like a "seasoned" mover... you're good!"

I really think she was only trying to make me feel good and give me a "boost of energy" for the long day ahead. We got there at 9:03 a.m. and were told that we had 30 minutes to unload and move the vehicle. Chrystal and Mike went to get their room keys and I started to unload. You MUST know that we had one complete load up on the ninth floor of one of the towers when Chrystal and Mike returned.

Chrystal was ecstatic but I could not share her enthusiasm. The day before, they had changed her room... she was now in the same tower with Mike... ON THE 26TH FLOOR!!! Yep, you guessed it... back to the 9th floor of the one tower, retrieve that load, bring it back down and then across the complete parking lot to stand in line for elevators for the next trek.

There are now two lines... one going to the even floors... that one is a mile long (at least it seemed like it) and the other one, for the odd floors, was moving very quickly. We opted for that one. Nothing serious, just had to get to the 25th floor and carry everything up one floor.

After 10 trips like this, "mom was not a happy camper." Thirty minutes to unload the van? Yea, right! We were waiting 45 minutes on the 26th floor for the elevator to come back and get us. Finally, one of the guys took the stairs ... down 26 flights and you just would not believe how fast that elevator came up then! It was "thrilling" at 2:30 in the afternoon to be making the last trip to the 26th floor. At this point in time, I could not feel my arms at all ... I was hot, tired and ready Effective as of Saturday, September 4, we established a FOURTH rural route in Kewaskum. Many of you have complained about late delivery... especially in the winter. We hope, that with the 4th route being established, earlier mail delivery will be established. I do ask your patience as ALL route were changed.

At this point in time, I MUST "give credit where credit is due." I did call the carriers into the office and explained that with the growth and mail volume SOMETHING HAD TO BE DONE. Your rural carri-Mike Smith, Rich ers: Tesschendorf Ron and Ruplinger, they did it all! I told them very honestly that with me working 60 hours a week, there was little assistance that I could give them. Those three gentlemen sat down, as a team, and TOTALLY set up the 4th rural route. Personnel in Milwaukee that had to approve the changes were so impressed that they called and had each one of the rural carriers on the phone telling them ... "they did a great job." It is highly satisfying as a Postmaster to have such TEAM-WORK. We have made many changes since my arrival as your Postmaster, but I must be very honest and tell you... could not have done it without my employees.

Then... there are the ladies of the Kewaskum Post Office. Again, many of you may realize this BUT, we are extremely short-handed. We are in the process of hiring but, in the meantime, "long hours" and no vacations are being endured by the clerks here in Kewaskum. My employees know that as the Postmaster, I expect an "individual 100%." I have been in management long enough to know that each of my employees is currently giving me 125-

140% Why? Because they are extremely dedicated and WE WORK AS A TEAM! I have been in the Postal Service for over 18 years and over 10 as a manager. In total honesty, I have NEVER been in an office where teamwork is the total concept.

My "SUPER CLERKS" are Joanne Backhaus and Amy Hammen. Helen Zuehlke is our newest addition to our workforce and is a "temporary" employee. All three of these ladies deserve a BIG "pat on the back" as day in and day out, they have met the challenge to MOVE THE MAIL. One other person that I cannot omit is Scott... the guy that cleans the post office. Scott does an outstanding job and we all appreciate his dedication in keeping our office neat and tidy.

I am a lucky Postmaster... teamwork is something that must be worked on day by day. My employees totally realize that "customer satisfaction is our priority." We have worked together since my February 17th arrival to establish trust and to give you the best that we possibly can. We totally thank each and every one of you for your patience and understanding as we strive to make Kewaskum the "best Post Office in the state... the best in the country."

We are here for you... please remember that. I am TOTALLY proud to be your Postmaster. You have our TOTAL commitment to give you the best service that we can. Have a problem? Have a question? PLEASE just call or stop in... we will do whatever we can to assist you. Customer Service is "our best seller." Well until next time... try to have a good day... a happy every day!

Your Postmaster, Bonnie

JV Spikers Beat Plymouth

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - The Kewaskum junior varsity volleyball team improved to 2-0 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, as it swept Plymouth recently, 15-7, 15-11, 15-9.

"We played a great match," JV coach Mary Holfeltz said of their squad. "Tanya Laubach had a great net game." Holfeltz also cited Tanya Krahn, Michelle Thull and Kelly Schreffler for their serving.

The Indian freshmen weren't as fortunate, as they dropped a 16-14, 11-15, 5-15 decision to the Panthers.

"(We) played a tough match," said frosh coach Janet Molebash, who commended Sarah Bonlender, Nadalie Reindl and Susie Vrana for their setting. "Marnie Winninghoff and Tiffany Laubach also played strong at the net," according to Molebash.

The loss dropped the Indians to 1-1 in the EW.

Wisconsin Veterans Now Can Get Consumer Loans at 6.9% Interest

WEST BEND... The Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs has launched its new Consumer Loan Program that allows eligible Wisconsin veterans to borrow up to $15,000 at 6.9 percent annual interest to finance a variety of purchases and expenses. Repayment terms of 1 to 10 years are available.

Veterans may use a WDVA consumer loan to pay for their education or the education of their spouse and children, home improvements, business expenses, purchase of a business, agricultural expenses, debt consolidation, mobile home purchase, medical expenses or funeral expenses.

Unlike other WDVA loans for veterans with low or moderate incomes, the Consumer Loan Program has no maximum income limit. However, to be eligible for the loan, the veteran must meet military service and residency requirements set by state law.

A spouse of a deceased veteran or the parent of a deceased veteran's minor or dependent children also may be eligible if the loan is used for the education of the veteran's children, according to the County Veterans Service Officer.

The repayment of principal and interest on consumer loans will be used to stabilize the state's Veterans Trust Fund, which finances other loans and grants to Wisconsin veterans. The Consumer Loan Program offers an economic benefit to veterans and at the same time it provides funding for other important veterans' programs.

Funds for the Consumer Loan Program are limited, and demand for the loans is expected to be high. So those interested in applying for a loan should contact the Veterans Service Officer in their county or Richard W. Baker, Washington County Veterans Service Officer at 335-4457.

THEN... Chrystal said... "But mom, you have to wait for the empty boxes as I have no room for them." "Sure, Chrystal," I said gritting my teeth and thinking how very lucky I was to only have one child.

It was 6 p.m. when I finally got back home. I "crawled" up the stairs, sat in the chair just trying to "muster the energy" to continue into the bedroom and SLEEP! Well, she is there! I do not have to go through that FUN (???) until May again. I can hardly wait! Raising Dairy Replacements

By Jack Trzebiatowski Washington County Agriculture Agent

The raising of replacement dairy animals is often an area that does not receive adequate attention on many dairy farms. Producers tend to provide the best care and feed for the milking herd and may let the replacement animals get what is left.

Dairy replacement animals can survive on low quality feed and in less than the best housing, but their rate of growth and age at first calving will be affected. The feeding program may also affect the ability of the heifers to milk to their genetic potential.

Another area of concern is death loss. Normal death loss will be 3% or less. If producers are experiencing higher death loss it will increase the average cost of each replacement animal. Death losses may be due to management, disease-or inadequate facilities.

Many producers are questioning if they should raise their own replacements, buy replacements, or have them raised by someone else. To answer this question one needs to carefully look at their own program, and determine the cost of getting the gram is not meeting the above goals or costing more than the alternatives, then it may be better not to raise replacements. Other things to consider are feed supplies, available labor, buildings and facilities, and management skills.

Many farmers are now considering having their heifers raised by someone else. The animals return to the herd shortly before freshening. This relieves the producers of all heifer raising costs and other concerns, but allows them to continue their genetic improvement.

In the next article I will

The Washington County Youth Hockey Association is a non-profit organization providing the opportunity for boys and girls, ages 4 to 18, to play organized hockey. The team was at Mayville on Friday, September 10th and will be at Ripon Invite on Saturday. More information on that later!

The U.S. President with the most children was John Tyler, father of 15. Producers should try to freshen replacement heifers at the age of 24 months. If fed an adequate ration, and provided with proper management, it is possible to have two year old holstein heifers weigh 1300 pounds and reach a beight of 53 to 54 inches. This is adequate size and scale to enter the milking herd.

Developing a replacement raising program with the above goals can increase the profitability of the dairy business. It costs about $1,000 to $1,100 to raise a heifer to 24 months of age. Each additional month adds about $50.00 to the cost of raising the animal. When heifers freshen at 28 or 30 months old it can add $200 to $300 to the cost of the animals in the milking herd. Raising their own replacement animals may not be the most profitable alternative. In the next article, I will discuss commercial heifer raising. It may be a better alternative for many dairy producers.

KEWASKUM - Coming into its match with Two Rivers here, last Tuesday, the Kewaskum girls tennis team and coach Glenn Eichstedt looked at the meet as a measuring stick to see where the Indians stand in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

After the match, Eichstedt was more than excited at the prospects of a second straight EW title, as the Lady Indians dominated the Purple Raiders, 6-1

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM- After starting the season with three straight dual meet wins, the Kewaskum girls tennis team found out that the home court advantage doesn't play much of a role against a tough team like Kohler.

The Blue Bombers dominated the Indians here, last Thursday, winning all seven matches against the overmatched hosts.

"(Kohler) will be a division two force for years to come." KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of the talented Bombers. The lopsided defeat "just reinforces the need for (us) to keep striving for improvement."

The Indians put together a different singles lineup, but it didn't matter. Freshmen sensation Margaret Feind was the most competitive Indian singles player, winning seven games in her match against Larissa Mueller.

Kohler standout Susannah Wood had little trouble with Missy Rohrer, who dropped a 2-6, 1-6 decision. Wood, a three year letterwinner, is one of the top singles players in the entire state.

On the double scene, the Indians were a bit more competitive. The No. 1 and 2 teams for KHS each won six games in their respective matches, while the No. 3 duo was able to capture five games. Still, Eichstedt knows the defeat means nothing in the Indians' bid for a second straight Eastern Wisconsin

Eichstedt.

"I thought their match would be very competitive," Eichstedt said, noting that Two Rivers' pair played together at No. 2 last year, while Berres and Maul were first-year partners. "That was a great plus for us."

"We're in a very good position right now," Eichstedt said of the conference race. "We'll have a pretty good idea of where we stand after this week."

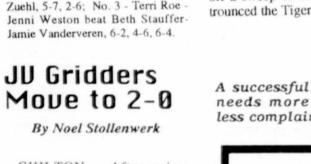

The Lady Indians will have their hands full this week, as they host Plymouth on Tuesday, and then travel to Sheboygan Falls on Thursday.

"It looks like Plymouth could give us some trouble, and Falls definitely will," Eichstedt said. "They (Falls) are the most experienced team in the conference this year." KEWASKUM 6, TWO RIVERS 1 SINGLES - No. 1 - Missy Rohrer beat Jenny Bowe, 6-0, 6-2; No. 2 -Meredith Frac beat Jenny DeRosier, 6-3, 6-2. school careers.

After edging Horicon in their first game, 14-8, the Indian JV's moved to 2-0 on the young season with a 14-6 win over Chilton here, last Thursday.

"We really aren't playing that well, though," JV coach David Rockhill said of the opening performances by his squad. "I don't think we are playing as well as we are capable of."

Still, the team is playing good enough to win. Against Chilton, RB Jesse Koch's one-yard run put the Indians in front 6-0 in the second quarter.

After the Tigers tied the game with a five-yard touchdown run later in the second, the game remained tight until the final stanza. That's when Indian RB Tim Gundrum put KHS ahead to stay with a short run. Brian Butschlick's two-point conversion provided the final scoring margin.

Richard Wolf played very well on defense," Rockhill said, reporting that Wolf's QB sack late in the game sealed the Indian win.

In the win over Horicon, the JV's got touchdowns from Aaron Kurth and Gundrum, who also added an interception.

The Indian freshmen capped off a sweep of Chilton, as they trounced the Tigers, 46-0.

KEWASKUM - The roller coaster ride season for the Kewaskum football team may have reached its peak here, last Friday night.

Playing an overmatched Chilton squad, the Indians dominated in just about every facet of the game. When the smoke cleared, the Indians had outgained the Tigers in total yardage, 361-58, en route to an explosive 41-0 victory.

The output, along with the margin of victory, was the largest since head coach Clark Pearson took over in 1988. Naturally, the Indian boss was quite pleased with his team's dominance.

"It was a fun game for us, quite a switch from last week," Pearson said, referring to his team's 12-6 loss to Horicon the previous outing. "I was very pleased with our offense. The blocking was excellent... both the backfield and the offensive line blocked well.

The offensive line, consisting of Paul Stoltzmann, Steve May, Jay Enright, Dane Dorn and Mike Schmidt, opened holes from the outset. The 1-2 punch of Beau Coulter and Mark Strobel in the KHS backfield was lethal, as well.

three minutes into the second period.

The KHS defense, meanwhile, was just as dominating. The Tigers managed just one first down in the first half, that coming on a roughing the quarterback penalty. For the half, the Tigers finished with minus-11 yards of total offense.

"We just shut them down defensively," Pearson said. "our first unit really did the job on them. They (Chilton) couldn't do anything.

The Indians weren't done on offense, however. Strobel capped off another scoring drive, rumbling up the middle and breaking several tackles on his way to a 30-yard score. KHS then finished an almost-flawless first half when they converted a third-and 31 with QB Dan Survis finding Coulter streaking past defenders for a 40-yard strike, just before halftime

The only weakness KHS showed in the first half was in their kicking game, where the final two extra points were missed. They didn't matter though, as the Indians had rolled up a 29-0 advantage by the half.

"We hope to get that to the point where it's automatic." Pearson said of the kicking game. "That's something we have to keep working on."

line," Pearson said regarding some untimely penalties. "But other than that, we really played well. Hopefully, the kids will start believing in themselves."

The win upped the Indians' overall record to 2-1, and got them off to a 1-0 start in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. Chilton, meanwhile, fell to 0-3, and 0-1.

"They weren't real sharp," Pearson went on regarding the Tigers. "We'll definitely face tougher teams."

That will start this Friday, when Kewaskum hosts Fox

Valley Lutheran, who improved to 3-0 with a 34-24 win over Plymouth.

They are a good, big team," Pearson said of the upcoming foe. "They have two big fullbacks that they like to feature. They also like to throw... run a wide-open type offense."

Coulter gained 120 yards in 10 carries... in the first quarter alone. He got the Indians on the board just three minutes into the game, scampering around the left side for a 28-yard TD run. Pearson called for a fake extrapoint try and Mark Stephani found Travis Jacak alone in the end zone, making it 8-0, Indians.

On the Indians' next possession, a penalty stopped the drive deep in Tiger territory. But that was only a temporary setback, as just two plays later. Shawn Erdmann tackled Tiger RB Ryan Nelson in the end zone for a safety.

After the free kick, the Indians marched down the field once again. This time it was Strobel hitting paydirt, as he bowled in from three yards out. Steve Johann's kick gave the Indians a 17-0 lead just over Survis added a three-yard QB sneak midway through the third quarter, while Erdmann capped off the scoring with a five-yard score midway through the final stanza.

'Dan (Survis) had a real nice game for us," Pearson said of the junior QB, who finished 4-6 for 78 yards. "He handled the ball real well... I was very pleased with his play."

Pearson was equally excited with the performance of his backfield. Coulter (21 rushes -185 yards) and Strobel (11-78) ran through defenders all night, as the hosts gained nearly 300 yards on the ground.

They all did a good job," Pearson said, also citing the defense where Shawn Larson and Stoltzmann came up with fumble recoveries.
