Tree Lights Will Fund Christmas Parade

Did you enjoy the Christmas parade last year and hate to see it end? Now is your chance to contribute towards the annual Kewaskum Christmas parade being held this year on Sunday, December 5, at 5 p.m.

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the annual Christmas parade, is again selling lights that will go on our huge wooden Christmas tree and Memorial star that are being erected in front of Valley Bank on Fond du Lac Avenue this week. All proceeds from the sale of the lights will go towards underwriting the cost of the Christmas parade and the bags of goodies Santa's elves hand out to the children.

As in the past few years, green lights that will surround the wooden tree can be purchased by individuals interested in helping to support the Christmas parade. The cost of the green lights is $10 each and all contributors will have their name placed on a board that lists the supporters of the parade.

The red lights that go in the center of the tree can be purchased by any business interested in contributing towards the parade. The Chamber will not be contacting any of their members this year for donations. It was decided that it would be left up to the individual businesses themselves to decide how or if they wanted to be involved in the Christmas parade.

There are many areas to participate this year. Surely the most obvious would be to enter some type of float. That is what makes the Christmas parade so fascinating is the many entries we have had in the past. The lights... the music... all contribute to that wide-eyed wonder on the faces of the children. So naturally, that is what we are striving for.

So if there is any way you can manage a few extra hours to put together a float to enter... PLEASE do so. It means so much to the kids... not to mention, you might surprise yourself by noticing how much it puts you in the holiday spirit. A hassle, you say? Yes, it is. But worth every minute spent on it? YOU BET! If you haven't become involved before by putting in an entry, try it this year. Guaranteed you'll enjoy the parade even more!

Absolutely, positively no way you can handle it? Then

Share the Warmth

For those who are interested in sharing the warmth of Christmas with those in the community who are less fortunate, the "Mitten Tree" has now been erected inside Valley Bank.

We are asking you to purchase a pair of mittens, a warm cap, ear muffs, headbands or scarves and bring them into the Valley Bank to hang on the "Mitten Tree." What a perfect way to teach your children about the true meaning of the holidays... sharing with those less fortunate.

Bring your children along and let them hang the items on the branches they choose.

There is also a large giftbox under the Christmas tree where you may place non-perishable food items. All food items and items on the tree will be donated to those in the community and surrounding area who need them the most.

The "Mitten Tree" and the "Food Giftbox" will be placed on the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce float in the Christmas Parade being held December 5th at 5 p.m.

So if you don't get a chance to bring your donated items into Valley Bank to place on or under the tree, bring them along to the Christmas parade and Santa's elves will be collecting them to place under the tree during the parade.

No matter how you choose to donate your gifts, the community and you will definitely be the better for it.

New Fane Sportsman's Club Presents Check to Kiwanis

Musical Christmas Trees for Sale

Are the trees really musical? Do they sing Christmas Carols? Not really, but the students standing out there in the cold and snow are and can.

The musicians from the Kewaskum High School's bands and choirs are musical and can sing Christmas Carols, but they also do one other thing quite well, they sell Christmas trees.

Yes, folks, for the second year in a row, each and every one of the students selling trees are there to help you select that special tree that will be just right for your home. Proceeds will go for the music trip which is being planned for the spring of 1995.

The trees, Scotch and White pine, Balsam and Frazier fir will be available at the Sentry parking lot located just south of Kewaskum on Highway 45. So come and help the musicians and get your Christmas tree now.

Hours for the tree sales are as follows: Monday through Friday, 3:30 to 6 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The trees will be on sale from Saturday, November 27 through Saturday, December 18. We will be closed December 15, due to the Christmas concert at the high school.

United Way Climbs to 98%; Kewaskum at 76%

With the pledge and determination of campaign volunteers to keep working until the goal is attained, United Way of Washington County officials report that as of November 11, the campaign is at $802,465 in pledges and gifts received. This represents 96 % of the $840,000 county wide goal.

Kewaskum's total is currently at $30,651 - $9,849 short of the $40,500 goal. "Businesses and individual donors who have not yet made their contributions are urged to do so as soon as possible," said Andy Gumm, county-wide Chairperson. "The needs of the agencies continue to increase, and we need to meet our obligations as soon as possible. And everyone giving something will help us attain our goal," he said.

"While we wanted to be at 100% of the goal by November 11, we are heartened by the volunteers' determination to keep working and see this through," said Gumm. "We have made significant strides in the past few weeks, and we need the momentum to continue."

The drive benefits 26 local health and human service non-profit organizations serving one out of four individuals in nine communities throughout Washington County. Funds will be collected through the end of next month.

"Please know that our efforts are continuing. The campaign volunteers are focused on reaching the goal as soon as possible," said Gumm. Donations can be sent to: United Way, P.O. Box 304, West Bend, WI 53095/

Former Kewaskum High School Teacher Establishes Scholarship

Barbara York

"Twenty-five years of teaching at Kewaskum High School have given me many wonderful experiences. Now I would like to give some of that joy back to the community." Those words explain why Barbara York has established the $1200 college scholarship in her name that will be given for the first time in 1994 to a KHS graduate. It will be part of the KEYS, INC. organization and will be awarded annually. The amount of the scholarship may increase in the future, depending on KEYS, INC. Board deeming it financially feasible.

York taught English at KHS and set expectations that challenged students and demanded excellence. Those students have influenced KHS graduates throughout her career. She was also involved in forensics, Peer Listening, and Future Teachers of America during her years on the KHS staff. She also served as the head of the KEA Scholarship Committee since its inception. York concluded,

"Working -- not only in the classroom, but also in extra-curricular activities -- has shown me how many capable and talented and very deserving young people there are in KHS. I have always believed in the power of education, and the Barbara York College Scholarship will give me an opportunity to say thank you for past relationships that I have treasured with students, staff, parents, administrators, and board members by having an impact on the futures of many deserving students." York retired in June of 1993 and resides in Brownsville.

Travelogue/Lecture At WB Art Museum

Travel to Eastern Germany and Czechoslovakia with West Bend Art Museum Director, Tom Lidtke and his wife Ellen, on their 1992 search for the missing art work of Carl von Marr.

Beginning in Berlin and moving to Leipzig, Dresden, Chemnitz, Prague, and several small Bohemian villages, the search concluded in Munich at Drom, the perfume and scent manufacturing facility of Dr. Bruno Storp, grandson of Carl von Marr.

The lecture will also cover personal observations of the social, economic and political struggles of emerging capitalism, and the impact it has on that region's cultural treasures, including the art work of Carl von Marr.

Included in the slide presentation will be a visit to Berlin's famed Pergamon Museum, many architectural treasures of eastern Europe (some dating back to 1250) and several wonderful Carl von Marr paintings which have been lost since 1940.

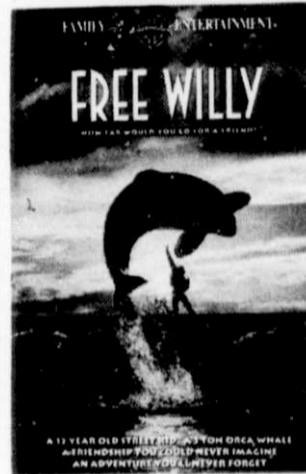

The presentation begins at 2 p.m. on Sunday, November 21 at the West Bend Art Museum.

Seating is limited.

The West Bend Art Museum is located at 300 South 6th Avenue in downtown West Bend. Normal gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m. For more information call the art museum at 334-9638.

how about sponsoring a costume for someone like Frosty the Snowman to walk in the parade? Frosty definitely wants to be here, but it costs money to get his suit out of the cleaners. White is such a pain to get stains out of... of course if he would just try to stay away from the hot chocolate...

Anyway if you would like to sponsor a costume, please contact Shawn at My Little Friends Day Care Center or Joan at Video Post. Or there is also the possibility of sponsoring music. If you know of someone who has a band, or plays in a band... perhaps you could help sponsor them. Believe me, December is a very difficult time to find people who can bring their instruments out in the cold.

Getting back to the main theme here, there is another option for businesses to help support the Christmas parade, and that is by purchasing one of the red lights inside our holiday tree. The red lights, which are available to any and all businesses in Kewaskum and the surrounding area, will run a mere $25. It sounds like a lot, but a float or live music is quite a bit more than that. A special "thank you" board will be placed adjacent to the tree listing the names of all businesses purchasing a red light.

Lastly the Chamber sponsors a white memorial star which will be placed next to the tree. A memorial board will be placed in front of the star with the message: "A Star Shines Brightly for Those Who Cannot Share Christmas with Us This Year" IN MEMORY OF:

The names of those we wish to remember and those who purchased the light in their name will also be listed on the memorial board. The cost of the white lights is $10.

As in the past, the names of all who purchase the lights will be published in a future issue of the Statesman.

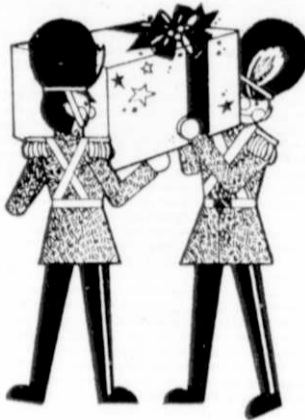

Lights will be available for you to purchase until Christmas, but the sooner you send in your light donation, the sooner we can light up the tree. It is hoped that all the lights will be sold by the time the parade rolls by on December 5. It can only add to the wonderment of the parade to see all these lights lit up on our big tree and memorial star.

A coupon you can use to purchase the lights is featured on page 3 of this issue. Please fill it out and mail it to the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce,

P.O. Box 300, Kewaskum, WI 53040 or drop off at the Kewaskum Statesman.

Additional lights have again been purchased this year so there should be plenty for everyone in the community to become involved. With your support, the Kewaskum Christmas parade can continue to be one of the finest in the area, and one in which we can all take great pride.

Thank you for your continued support.

Katie Ziarkowski

Katie Ziarkowski, a Campbellsport Junior High Student, competed in the Miss Junior Teen Pageant in Madison, on Nov. 7th.

Katie competed in the sportswear and evening gown competitions and also had to answer a question in front of nine judges. The field was narrowed down to ten finalists. At this point all ten contestants start out with 0 points. Each of the finalists pick a carnation which contains an unknown question. She will again compete in the Junior Teen Competition, girls ages 13-15 years of age with over 125 contestants from over 56 cities across the U.S. and Canada.

This is a dream of many young girls and was made possible by the many area businesses who sponsored Katie. Katie would like to thank everyone for their support: Serwe Chevy-Buick, King Pin Lanes, Johnson Bus, Perron Trucking, Straub's Piggly Wiggly, Loehr's Locker, Team Video, Shefond Oil, Jerry's T.V., Twohig Furniture, Walters Flowers and Gift Shoppe.

CARD OF THANKS

We loved and treasured Jonathan as a son, brother, grandson and friend. We were proud of his accomplishments and supportive of his search for himself in life. We shared him with many persons and encouraged him to reach for new experiences. We are thankful to everyone who offered support and comfort, at the time of his death and this continuing time of grief, to us as a family and to others who were his friends. We especially thank Pastor Barb Loose, our families, friends and neighbors, Jonathan's friends and classmates, the facility and administration of Campbellsport Public Schools, Helen Pelischek, friends at Campbellsport UCC, the Twohig family, Ken Ketter, everyone who brought food, sent cards or flowers, called to offer comfort, prayers and kindness, the Campbellsport Rescue Squad and Fire Department, Coroner Susan Casper, Bob Wilke and Randy Karoses. Letter to the Editor:

Two hundred and twenty two children dressed as ghosts, witches, clowns and other characters, attended our Halloween Party on October 30.

A group of girls from Kewaskum Middle School entertained the children with a spooky Halloween story. A variety of games, Halloween bingo and face painting were enjoyed by all who attended. At the games each child received lots of candy. The highlight of the party was the Haunted Maze which was a non-stop event throughout the party.

We would like to thank the following businesses for their generous donations: West Bend Savings and Loan, Random Lake Co-Operative, Kerry's Korner, Beechwood Rest Home, Beechwood Cheese Factory, Sentry Foods of Kewaskum, Hardee's Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Super Saver, the DARE Program of the Washington County Sheriff Department, McDonald's, Pick 'N Save Bakery, TIME Investment, Tennesse's, Kewaskum Pharmacy, Beechwood Concerned Citizens (Library), and Basic Business.

We would also like to thank all the parents who donated candy, cookies, prizes and decorations. Heartfelt thanks go out to all of the party workers - adults and children of all ages - who put in a lot of time to put on this fun and exciting event for our children.

Thank You

Dear Editor,

I would like to congratulate all of the candidates in the 59th Assembly District primary election on Tuesday, Nov. 9. Special congratulations to Glenn Grothman, winner of the Republican Primary race. All those involved are to be commended for their efforts.

Now, hopefully, all candidates and their campaign workers will join together and work to make Glenn's victory in the December 7 election possible. This in turn will advance the Republican party's goal of regaining the majority in the State Assembly.

Dear Washington County Residents,

So often we are confronted with challenges of everyday living and the needs of others. We often ask ourselves, "What can I do to make a difference?"

As a life-long resident of Washington County, I've seen that one effective way to meet the needs of our friends, families, neighbors and co-workers is through the financial support of our local United Way. The generosity and giving spirit in this year's theme, "WASHINGTON COUNTY CARES!" is reflected in so many ways throughout the nine communities we serve.

More than 300 volunteers are involved with United Way's year-round effort. This keeps our overhead low and ensures that your dollars directly benefit one in four County residents.

Many businesses and individuals have already been contacted and have pledged their dollars for the 26 health and human service nonprofit agencies we represent. We extend our thanks to those who have already given.

We're now in the final phase of our annual drive, and while we attempt to contact everyone, it isn't always possible. We invite you to make a donation if you haven't already done so. Please send your gift to: United Way, P.O. Box 304, West Bend,

WI 53095.

We have a successful tradition of meeting the needs of our member agencies. Please help us continue our success another year as we work together to meet our $840,000 goal.

Thank you,
Andrew J. Gumm,

Dear Editor:

Since my letter this summer about Dyslexia, I have written several letters on the topic to the people "at the top" who are in charge of the education of our children. I felt it was important to share my experience.

From the Department of Public Instruction in Madison, Mr. Benson, State Superintendent, replied that he was meeting with Dr. Nash who is the head of Project Success at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. I have most recently heard from the DPI that Dr. Nash's recommendations will be shared with task forces that will meet during 1993-94 to review the Teacher Education Program Approval Rules and Appeal Procedure PI 4. I don't know if this had been done before now, but it's about time. They also stated that Wisconsin educators and the DPI have "varied viewpoints" about Dyslexia.

Also from the DPI, Mr. Brent Odell, Chief of the Early Childhood, Sensory and Language Impaired Section responded to my letter with six pages of proposed legislation for vision screening. This must be one of the "varied viewpoints." This is outrageous! Dyslexia can affect verbal as well as visual language accompanied by other difficulties. There are signs and symptoms that parents and teachers need to know.

As taxpayers, don't we rely on these people and expect them to be experts in their field by being properly informed and knowledgeable of credible researchers and acquire up-to-date information? Where Dyslexia is concerned, I am referring to credible organizations such as Dr. Nash's Project Success and the Orton Society based in Maryland with branches throughout the country who have studied and researched Dyslexia solely for years and deal with the people affected by it on a daily basis.

I received a phone call from Ms. Sandy Brotman in Washington, D.C. in response to a letter I wrote to Mr. Richard Riley, Secretary of Education. She was very nice and called to say they are "very" aware of Dyslexia and to let me know of the Children's Disability Act. My response was that unless children are severely dyslexic, they don't usually fit the qualifications for special education. And if they do, Dyslexia is not usually named, and therefore, proper remediation is not given. The other point I made was why aren't the people who most affected by Dyslexia such as the children, their parents and teachers aware of it? She didn't realize this was a problem.

In any case, awareness is only the beginning. Understanding Dyslexia is another matter. To have this awareness and understanding and fail to do anything about it is truly neglect. Because there is controversy is no excuse to ignore it. There is controversy over everything. I have also heard Dyslexia referred to as a "catch all" for children with problems. This should not be. There is specific testing that can be done to determine Dyslexia. The catch all is "learning disabilities." Let's get specific. The multi-sensory approach used by the Wisconsin Dyslexia Institute has been proven to work. What other methods have been tried and have shown results as recently reported by the Institute?

Considering the confused responses I've received from the letters I've written, I feel fortunate that the Kewaskum School District, with a little influence from our insightful school board, has been willing to learn about Dyslexia, but the best place to call is the Wisconsin Dyslexia Institute at 334-8005. The public libraries have books on the subject also. With statistics of people affected by Dyslexia being one out of seven, it is something to learn more about.

Sincerely,
Gail E. Ramirez

IN MEMORY

In memory of MALINDA SCHMIDT, who passed away one year ago, Nov. 23, 1992:

We watched through all your suffering
And often had to cry
For we knew that very soon
We'd have to say good-bye
When days are sad and lonely
And everything goes wrong
We seem to hear you whisper
Cheer up and carry on.
Everytime we see your picture
You seem to smile and say
Don't cry. I'm in God's keeping.
We'll all meet again someday.

Sadly missed by the family.

IN MEMORY

In memory of Alice Karl, friend, mother, wife, grandmother, and caretaker to us all. A person with many perfect qualities not found in many people. She found us-or we found her by accident, or with the Lord's help we came to meet.

Now we parted October 15, 1993 but she will never never be forgotten. For all the help and good she did and gave-to all that crossed her path, Lord bless her soul.

Thank you Alice.

IN MEMORY

In memory of REUBEN and SYLVIA SCHULTZ.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain;
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never--
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers. Well, one more week and we will be celebrating Thanksgiving. Where does the time go? Know that many of you will have friends, college students and/or other family members joining you for "Turkey Day," so my employees and I would like to wish you and yours a wonderful day. On to some news concerning Christmas and the event planned at the Kewaskum Post Office.

A few weeks ago, I sent letters to all the schools asking their participation in decorating the Postal lobby. As you know, the decorations for each and every holiday are up at the Post Office but Christmas is going to be the "biggie."

As the Postmaster, community involvement is one of my highest priorities. What better way for each and every one of you to TOTALLY enjoy your "treks" to the Kewaskum Post Office than to display artwork from the children of the community?

I am very excited about this project and have heard from most of the schools. Decorations will start appearing right after Thanksgiving. Don't miss it as I am sure you will all enjoy!

The "Letters to Santa" campaign has begun and special thanks to the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club for sponsoring this event. The "special" mailbox is set up in the lobby and each and every child in the area is invited to send their special message to Santa.

Letters in this special mailbox DO NOT require a stamp as I have contacted the North Pole and special elves have been designated to pick them up, return them to Santa and they will be answered. Please make sure that the children put their name and return address on the letters.

SPECIAL NOTE: I made a direct call through to Santa and he will be calling me throughout the Holiday Season to report on "North Pole activities." Mrs. Claus was already very busy baking cookies and Santa was on his way out the door for a special sale on sugar for the reindeer.

Santa asked that I give you an update, from time to time on "North Pole Happenings" and I told him that I would be more than happy to do this.

We will also be sponsoring a special contest to decorate the little "eternal" tree at the Post Office. This contest is open to ALL children of the community. Entries will be accepted from now through Christmas Eve.

The rules are simple: ornaments should be "handmade" by the children and the subject should be "stamp-orientated." Examples are: Hank Williams stamp could be displayed on a guitar, Space stamp on a space ship, Flower stamp on a flower, Flag stamp on a flag.... the ideas are endless.

I do NOT want the children to HAVE to purchase a stamp but instead to ask Mom or Dad for a cancelled one received on an incoming card or letter. Current stamps are on display, but feel free to stop in and ask any of us to see ALL the stamps that are available to get your own idea of what you would like to do.

Most of you know the size of the tree so the ornaments should be smaller in nature. What should they be mounted on? Use your imagination... it could be plain paper, construction paper, wood... "you name it... you design it." THIS IS GOING TO BE FUN!

There are hundreds of stamps available and it should be fun and interesting to see the creativity of our children. Please do NOT put names on the ornaments. When brought to the Post Office, each will be "numbered" and names and telephone numbers will be registered on a special log.

NOW... who is going to judge these and when? December 27th through January 7th, customers will be encouraged to "Vote" on their favorite ornament. Numbers will be tallied and three prizes will be awarded. Hoping to make the Holiday Season "youth involved" and FUN FOR ALL. Any questions on this, please feel free to stop or call me at 626-2575.

In other Postal news: Christmas stamps are available at the Kewaskum Post Office. Many of you will be pleased to know that you can "lick and stick" or just "peel and stick" all those Christmas cards with no extra cost. Hoping that you will "mail early" and avoid the rush.

Have some holiday tips for you and will be updating these as the BIG DAY comes:

*If you are mailing overseas, I encourage you to mail as soon as possible as deadlines are SOON.

*Don't know a zip code? Feel free to stop in or call us at 626-2575 for that information.

*Aren't sure how to mail that package (First Class or Parcel Post?) We are here to SERVICE you and will be more than happy to "show you" both rates. Remember that the biggest difference is "travel time." For a few cents more, First Class and/or Priority may be your best bet.

*Insurance is NOT automatic. If you would like insurance, we will be more than happy to give you the rates. Packages should be insured for ACTUAL value.

*Last, but certainly not least... a SPECIAL request from all of us at the Kewaskum Post Office: Beginning November 29th, each and every outgoing envelope must be cancelled in Kewaskum. (This assists Milwaukee in moving the "deluge" of Christmas mail.) It also helps to move YOUR mail just a little quicker. How can you help? Bringing FIVE or more pieces to the counter will REALLY help. Mail deposited in the collection box and/or through the collection slot must first be faced (stamps going the same way) and then cancelled. Bringing your mail to the counter (in-town and out-of-town separated) will assist us. Please remember... this is not required but is requested.

In closing, be assured that each and every one of us at the Kewaskum Post Office is "geared up" for the HOLIDAY RUSH. We want to do our utmost to make YOUR Christmas the MERRIEST.

Until next time, try to have a good day... A HAPPY EVERY DAY.

Your Postmaster,
Bonnie

Tips On Safe Holiday Meals

Family traditions are an important part of the holidays. But Washington County's UW Extension family living agent warns that some families should alter holiday traditions that could lead to a food safety problem.

Joyce Albrecht said habits like storing a fresh turkey too long before cooking it, thawing meat or poultry at room temperature or serving a holiday meal without cooking the turkey long enough could result in food-borne illness.

"Be bold about your holiday traditions. If you are trying to cook a big bird, don't worry about eating right at 1 p.m. Try eating after to ensure that the turkey is completely cooked," Albrecht said.

"If you run out of oven space, don't sacrifice safety by trying to partially cook your turkey or other meat dishes ahead of time. Instead, consider asking other people to bring some of the side dishes. Cooking two smaller birds takes less time than trying to cook one large turkey."

Albrecht also suggested that holiday cooks bake dressing separately, instead of stuffing the bird. Unless a turkey is stuffed right before cooking, warmth from the dressing and bacteria from the bird can make the stuffing unsafe to eat.

To ensure safer holiday meals, Albrecht offers these preparation and serving tips:

*Thaw frozen turkeys in the refrigerator or in a cold-water bath in the sink. Cook fresh turkeys within one or two days of purchase.

*Keep raw meat, poultry and fish away from other food. Wash hands, cutting boards, utensils and counter tops with hot, soapy water after they are exposed to raw meat or meat juices.

*Cook whole turkeys, ducks or geese to an internal temperature of 180 degrees. Turkey breasts and roasts should be cooked to 170 degrees. Bake stuffing to an internal temperature of 165 degrees Fahrenheit.

*Never leave poultry, meats and other perishable foods at room temperature more than two hours. If you have to travel longer than two hours, transport perishable foods chilled and use a cooler or ice chest.

*Divide large amounts of leftovers into small, shallow containers for quick cooling in the refrigerator. Don't leave stuffing in the turkey or turkey on the carcass when refrigerating.

*Reheat all perishable leftovers, such as turkey, stuffing and gravy to a temperature of at least 165 degrees Fahrenheit.

For more information on safe food handling during the holidays, call the USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline at 1-800-535-4555 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. or contact Joyce Albrecht at the Washington County UW Extension Office.

WICPA MONEY MANAGEMENT

(Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants)

Teaching Your Children Money Management Skills

BROOKFIELD-- If you want your children to handle money responsibly and to develop the skills they will need to manage their finances effectively as adults, the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants (WICPA) recommends that you begin to teach your children about the value of money during their grade school years and sustain that education by setting a good example in managing your household finances.

THE FIRST ALLOWANCE

Providing children with a fixed allowance is one of the best ways to develop their money management skills. You can start children on an allowance when they are about six years old. By then they are learning about the fundamentals of money in school and already have an understanding of how to make simple purchases on their own.

Designate a specific "allowance day" and stick to it each week. When giving your children an allowance, you must also give them the right to make decisions about how they will use that money. Emphasize to them that it is their money to manage. Try not to be concerned if your children spend all the money the first day or two after receiving their allowances. This will help them to better understand the consequences of their spending habits.

Resist the temptation of lending your children money when they deplete their allowances. Bailing them out doesn't help them develop a responsible attitude toward money, nor does it teach them to live within their means.

DEVELOPING SAVINGS HABITS

Nothing makes children feel more in control of their finances than having their own savings account passbook. Take your child with you to the bank to set up a savings account. Discuss the benefits of depositing money into the account and explain how money can grow by earning interest.

Let your children determine how much of their allowance and other monies will be put aside in savings. Then let them decide when they will withdraw the money and for what purchases. Even if you don't agree with how your children want to spend their savings, they will learn valuable lessons about managing their money by making their own decisions about it.

As children get older, you may want to explain the need for creating long-term goals, such as saving for the purchase of a car or college education. If you expect your child to save for these expenses, don't forget to reward them when they attain their savings goals. For example, you may want to contribute money to their savings account each time they reach a certain savings threshold.

MAKE MONEY MANAGEMENT A FAMILY MATTER

Encourage open discussions about money and be as direct and honest as possible in answering your children's questions about household finances. By involving your children in family finances, you can enhance their understanding of the role money plays in one's life.

Remember, too, that how you and your spouse handle money influences your children's attitudes about money. For example, if you constantly use credit cards instead of cash to pay for purchases, as your children get older, they may feel that they have the right to do the same without thinking about the ultimate expense of the items they purchased.

Finally, CPAs point out that children who are involved in family financial matters, even to a limited extent, are better equipped to deal with a financial crisis, such as a parent's job loss, should it occur.

The WICPA is one of the largest professional organizations in Wisconsin, serving over 7,200 member CPAs working in the areas of education, government, industry, public, private and not-for-profit areas. The WICPA office is located at 180 N. Executive Dr., Brookfield, WI 53008.

First Aid Kits Available for a Safe Holiday

WEST BEND-- In order to meet community requests, St. Joseph's Community Hospital will continue to offer area residents an opportunity to purchase customized first aid kits at the hospital throughout the holiday season.

According to Nora Sebor, the hospital's public relations manager, the kits that were initially offered over the July 4th holiday continue to be requested by community individuals and organizations. "We have sold hundreds of kits and anticipate selling several hundred more in the next few months. Since accidents don't take holidays, the first aid kit is a great gift for all occasions," Sebor said.

Enclosed in a nylon 8" x 10" waterproof bag, this comprehensive emergency aid includes such things as a first aid guide, instant cold pack, splinter forceps, scissors, gauze roll, anesthetic pain relief spray, Tylenol, antibiotic ointment, a elastic bandage, and various other bandages and dressings to administer when a minor injury occurs.

The kit is being offered at its actual cost of $15 and can be purchased at the front desk in the main visitors' lobby from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily. The first aid kits are also available in the gift shop.

Welcome to Our World

By Dianne Horlamus, Director
Washington County Humane Society

Recently a woman who had her dog impounded at The Washington County Humane Society, due to a dog bite, complained because her dog did not have its cage kept as clean as it should have been. She had every right to complain. She was right. There were a lot of reasons this wasn't done, but, there are no excuses.

One of the reasons the dog's cage was not cleaned as it should have been was due to the fact that this was a very large, strong breed and the staff members that were on duty were afraid of the dog.

It is also true that the staff was told that the dog did a great deal of damage to a child, and the dog was aggressive to several staff members. Also our full-time kennel manager was out on maternity leave and her replacement was on vacation. Again these are reasons, not excuses.

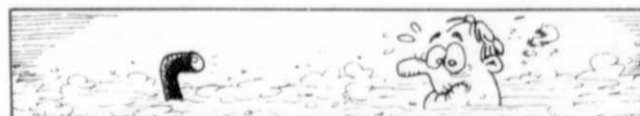

Each year we get in approximately 75 "bite cases" that must be impounded for ten days. Most of these animals can be handled safely by the staff. However the staff on hand did not feel that this dog fit into that category.

Unfortunately, I was not made aware of this problem until the end of this dog's stay. At that time, the dog was moved and the area was cleaned. At a staff meeting following this incident, guidelines for handling vicious animals were re-evaluated.

You may ask, "How could this happen to animals kept in the Humane Society?" The answer is simple. Inadequate housing for large "bite case" animals. If we were set up with proper caging for these animals, moving them would not be a problem or danger to the staff.

Each and every day it becomes more and more clear just why we need a new facility. The present one is just too run down and outdated. I am sorry that the dog and his family have suffered because of this. Our new plans call for modern caging for all animals in our care. This dog was cared for to the best of the ability of those taking care of him. Unfortunately, it wasn't good enough.

Dew is heaviest before good weather.

The firemen were called out around 7:45 p.m. Thursday evening of this week to the Techtman Funeral Home where a fire resulted from an overheated chimney at the rear of the building caused extensive damage to the attic and upstairs residence quarters of Mr. and Mrs. William Techtman and family.

Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Kroncke, Milwaukee, are the parents of a son born at Columbia Hospital in Milwaukee on November 6. Mrs. Kroncke is the former Linda Rosenheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.W. Rosenheimer of this village. She is making her home with her parents here while her husband is serving his country.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ermin Thielman of Route 2, Kewaskum, at St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend on November 3.

Aviation Cadet Gustav C. Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Werner, has successfully completed the basic flying training course and was graduated from the Marana Army Air Field in Tucson, Arizona. He will be sent to an Advanced Flying School and upon successfully completing the last phase of his cadet training, will be awarded his silver wings as a pilot in the army air corps.

With five lettermen returning and an array of promising newcomers the Kewaskum cagers opened practice on November 8 in preparation for a non-conference with Random Lake at Kewaskum. A total of 29 boys reported for the first practice but nine were eliminated after the first practice and probably four or five more will be eliminated after the first week of practice. Lettermen returning include David Bartelt, Ralph Koth, Glenway Backhaus, Merrill Krueger and Wilmer Bunkelman. Others on the squad are Allen Tessar, James Bartelt, David Backhaus, John Geidel, Harold Seefeldt, James Keller, Jerome Stautz August Bilgo, Don Mertes, Roger Schleif, Leland Schaub, Ray Keller, Eugene Keller, Donald Wierman and Allen Stahl. The team will open its conference against Lomira at Lomira.

Letters received by their folks the past week reveal that at least five and probably six more local men are now stationed in England. They are Sgt. Walter Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Werner, Pfc. Carl Mayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayer, Pvt. Paul Kral, son of John Kral, Pvt. Marlin Dreher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dreher, and Pvt. Wilmer Ramthun son of Mrs. Otto Ramthun, Sr. The sixth soldier is Pfc. Wesley Kuehl, husband of Adelyne Kuehl. Although we have not yet learned of his whereabouts, it is believed he is also in England because he is in the same infantry group and sailed at the same time with the others. All of these men were stationed at Camp Pickett, Virginia, before being sent overseas and have been together since entering the service.

the aim of making the world a safer place to live in, asking no indemnities or annexations. This aim has been attained by our complete victory. November 11, 1918 may well be remembered, not only by this country, but by all nations. It is declared a legal holiday and the day will be henceforth be celebrated in a manner befitting the occasion. The first news of peace reached Kewaskum around 6:30 a.m. and soon had spread all over the village. Preparations were immediately made for a parade and celebration in the evening. The parade started at 8 o'clock from the Village Hall led by the Kewaskum 30th Company, State Guards Reserve. They were followed by Red Cross workers, Hindenburg effigy in a cage, drawn by several High School boys, high school and parochial school children and the Modern Woodmen. After marching through the streets, the parade came to a halt between the Catholic Church and Village Hall on Main Street. Yells were given by the guards followed by patriotic songs by all the people, directed by Professor Lund. While the Star Spangled Banner was sung, the Hindenburg was sent up in flames. The streets were crowded with people from town and country. Later in the evening, a free dance followed at the Opera House.

The high school physics class, by means of a barometer determined the height of Belger's hill and found it to be approximately 86 feet high.

All the high school girls interested in basketball met in the assembly room after school. They elected as Manager Florence Groeschel; Captain, Camilla Driessel, and Treasurer, Agnes Stoffel.

Korth, Winninghoff Star

WEST BEND - Two former Kewaskum High School athletes helped the University of Wisconsin-Washington County volleyball team to a successful season.

Sophomore Kelly Korth and freshman Robyn Winninghoff were both members of the Wildcats' squad, which finished second in the Wisconsin Collegiate Conference standings this past season. The Cats also won the Wisconsin Junior College Athletic Association Regional Tournament, on their way to a fifth-place finish in the state meet.

Both Korth and Winninghoff received honorable mention consideration in the WCC All-Conference balloting.

Arrowhead Wins First Grid Title

By Noel Stollenwerk

MADISON -- One of the top teams in the now-defunct Scenic Moraine Conference, Hartland Arrowhead's football team, never could get that breakthrough win that would lead them to a WIAA title.

But the Warhawks turned the trick at Camp Randall Stadium Friday night, denying Appleton West a second straight Division 1 title, beating the Terrors, 21-7.

The game was decided in the first half, as Appleton West fumbled three times. Arrowhead took advantage of the miscues, scoring all three times in building a 21-0 lead. The Warhawk defense took it from there, allowing Appleton West just 73 yards of total offense for the night.

In other games played earlier on Friday, Shawn Watland rushed for 186 yards and three touchdowns to lead Ashland past Sturgeon Bay, 25-20, in the Division 3 final. Sturgeon Bay's Chris Greisen did his best to keep his team in the game, rushing for 228 yards on 43 carries, including a pair of touchdowns.

In the Division 5 final, Russ Hackel, after recovering a fumble at the Darlington two-yard line with a minute and a half to play, burst in for a two-yard score to propel Fall Creek to a 14-6 victory over the Redbirds.

Hackel's score was his second of the game, and helped Fall Creek finish the season with a perfect 13-0 record.

In Saturday's final games, blowouts were the order of the day.

In the Division 2 final, Menomonie, which had upset three-time defending champion Monroe in the semifinals, rolled to a 49-31 win over Ashwaubenon.

Adam Roach led Menomonie with 194 yards rushing on 35 carries. Roach ran for three touchdowns, and passed for another in the first half, but the game was still tied, 28-28. Ashwaubenon's Aaron Stecker matched Roach's performance, rushing for a whopping 231 yards, including three touchdowns.

In Division 4, Lancaster's Matt Brei ran for two touchdowns and threw for another, as the Arrows beat Maple Northwestern 30-16. Brei finished with 177 yards passing, and had another 46 rushing. Lancaster, which beat Mayville in the semifinals, finished the year 11-2.

In the Division 6 final, Jason Moe rushed for two touchdowns and caught another, leading Thorp to a 29-6 win over Cassville. Both teams finished the season with 12-1 records.

Waukesha Catholic Memorial Prevails

By Noel Stollenwerk

MADISON - Wisconsin Lutheran didn't have a chance against Waukesha Catholic Memorial's defense Sunday night at Camp Randall Stadium.

The Crusaders' defense outscored Wisconsin Lutheran by itself in the WISAA Division 1 title game, as Waukesha Catholic Memorial rolled to a 42-6 victory.

The Crusaders scored twice on defense in the first half, as they cruised to a 21-0 halftime lead. Mike Mattison did the rest, rushing 17 times for 116 yards, and three touchdowns, helping the Crusaders finish the season unbeaten (12-0).

In the Division 2 championship, Steve Stenslien rushed 31 times for 239 yards to lead LaCrosse Aquinas to a 21-0 win over Winnebago Lutheran.

The Division 3 championship was all Brian Walker, as he scored both touchdowns to lead Eau Claire Regis to a 14-0 win over Marshfield Columbus. Both teams finished the year 9-2.

That special Army is The Salvation Army. It was founded in 1865 by William Booth, a Methodist minister who was moved by the plight of the homeless in Victorian London and decided to do something about it. Booth believed in serving God by meeting the needs of people.

8867 PROSPECT DR. KEWASKUM

Gun Deer Season Opens Saturday

The 1993 deer gun season will officially open on Saturday, November 20, at 6:24 a.m., in the Campbellsport area.

Bow deer registration in the area has been up which is a good indication that the gun hunters should also do well, but as with every year the weather will again play a major role in hunter success.

Rain the last two seasons on opening day kept many hunters out of the woods. There is a plus to rain on opening day, it often times allows some of the younger bucks to get away and provides for more trophy bucks the following year. Let's hope this holds true this year.

Take time this year while you are planning your hunt to consider safe and responsible behavior in the field. Be especially sure of your target and beyond. For even a shotgun slug can travel up to a mile, a rifle up to 3 1/2 miles.

Be aware of the other hunters in your group and their location and then if the shot is not 100% safe, don't take it! No one expects to have a hunting accident, but still every year is does happen to some hunters.

There is a good chance that groups may be in the area that do not agree with what we do as hunters. The main thing to do is to maintain your composure, do not get into a confrontation with these individuals.

If your hunting is disrupted by someone, please let the local Warden know what happened and get any information, such as license number, etc. Last year the nails were put into the roads in the Mauthe Lake area. If you see any of this activity again, please notify the Fond du Lac County Sheriff at 929-3390 or the local Warden.

Everyone is entitled to their own beliefs and opinions, we should respect theirs and they should also respect ours.

Show respect to landowners also, ask before you go on to private property. A wounded deer does not allow you to travel on to private property without permission.

Show respect for the game you are hunting, the other hunters in the field, and finally, hunt responsibly.

Good Luck,
Doug Bilgo
Conservation Warden

GREEN BAY -- An accidental shooting every two hours. A fatal hunting accident every five hours.

That was the deer season accident toll of our wild, wooly... and dangerous... great-grandparents in 1908.

Accident data from early Wisconsin deer hunts are sketchy, but according to a 1908 issue of the Iron River Pioneer, 44 hunters were killed and 57 more were injured during the season.

In 1908, according to Department of Natural Resources records, deer were found in only 35 of the state's 72 counties. About 100,000 hunters bought licenses for a 20-day season, and harvested about 11,000 deer.

Since that time the accident rate has fallen dramatically: During the 1992 deer season, only 33 of 650,701 hunters were involved in accidents, three of which were fatal. There were five accidents per 100,000 in 1992, compared to 101 per 100,000 deer hunters in 1908.

According to John Lacenski, a law enforcement safety specialist for the DNR in Green Bay, there are three major reasons that deer hunting is safer today.

"First is the requirement that deer hunters wear blaze orange clothing during the gun season," Lacenski said. "Blaze orange makes hunters much easier to see."

"Second, the DNR's hunter education program has trained more than 400,000 hunters in the last 20 years, and over that time the total accident rate has been cut in half. Today, most hunters know and understand basic safety principles."

"Finally," Lacenski said, "There is a greater overall regard for safety among hunters. Even those who have not been through the hunter education program receive many safety messages from the news media, outdoor magazines and other hunters."

Lacenski emphasized three basic safety rules that all hunters should follow:

1. Handle every firearm as if it were loaded. Never assume a gun is unloaded --open the action and check the breech and magazine to make sure.

2. Keep the gun pointed in a safe direction at all times. Most hunting accidents are self-inflicted or involve nearby members of the same hunting party.

3. Be sure of your target and what is beyond it before you shoot. If you are not sure, do not shoot.

Hunting Preparations May Save Your Life

MADISON - The potential for an increased number of people hunting deer in southern Wisconsin this season, means hunters should be sure to take necessary safety precautions, according to Department of Natural Resources Hunter Education Coordinator Larry Johnson.

"With more people hunting in the southern farm lands of the state it will be more important than ever for hunters to be highly visible," Johnson says. "We recommend that all hunters wear solid blaze orange clothing, including pants. This is especially important while hunting near standing crops or dense brush where only a portion of a hunter may be visible to another hunter."

With the reduced deer herd in northern Wisconsin, the department issued fewer permits to shoot antlerless deer in most northern deer management units. DNR wildlife and law enforcement staff are predicting this will likely lead to an increase in people hunting deer in southern Wisconsin this fall.

Johnson says advance planning can help a hunting group become familiar with new territory and increase its chances for success. He suggests hunters use the day before opening weekend to travel roads around their hunting area.

Those people hunting on private lands should arrange to visit with property owners long before the season begins for permission to hunt. "It is important to respect a landowner's decision should he or she deny permission to hunt," Johnson says.

"You may want to visit prior to opening weekend to see where the deer are moving and pick out a stand," Johnson says. "Not only will you be able to tell people where you'll be hunting, you'll be familiar with the area and not fear becoming lost."

Even if people are hunting in the same small woodlot they have hunted for years, Johnson says, it is important to do some advance planning. It may mean simply bringing a change of clothes to prepare for changing weather. Without some type of organization, he warns, it is easy to forget little but important details.

Prior to the hunt is also the time to take other safety precautions. "Take the time to get out and become familiar with, or acquaint yourself with, the firearm you will use," he says. "Sight in your firearm so you know you can make a good, clean shot. Then establish a mind-set to stay within your shooting skills."

Hunter who intend to use a tree stand should be familiar with how the stand is set up before the season. Accidents involving tree stands have increased in recent years, he notes, because more hunters have used them in the field.

Finally, Johnson says, it is important to only hunt with hunting partners who are safe, responsible and abide by the law. "Select your hunting partners as if your life depended on them, because it could," he says.

Golf Ace

KEWASKUM - Some people are just golf enthusiasts.

Count West Bend's Frank DeFendi as one of those, as his enthusiasm led to a rare November hole in one at Hon-E-Kor Country Club last week.

Playing with two others on Wednesday, DeFendi aced the 190-yard number 16 hole on Hon-E-Kor's back nine layout. DeFendi used a three-wood for the historic shot, which is his sixth hole-in-one he has recorded.
