Decorating Contest Monday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Snowman, above, join the hundreds of other community residents that have decorated their homes in every imaginable shape and manner in anticipation of the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce Home Decorating Contest being judged on Monday, December 20, between 6 and 10 p.m. So there is still time to put your creativity into play and spend the weekend putting your genius into effect. (That is if you can find lights anywhere). Remember, sometimes the simplest decorations attract the most attention. Monday night is the perfect time to pack all the kids into the car and drive throughout the community and witness the effort everyone put into decorating this year. Don't let the holidays go by without viewing the magic lights of Christmas.

KHS Tours Scheduled

District residents are invited to tour the Kewaskum High School prior to the February 15, 1994 referendum. Those attending a tour are asked to meet in the school cafeteria.

The remaining scheduled dates are: Thursday, Dec. 16, 6:30 p.m. (public); Tuesday, Dec. 28, 1:30 p.m. (public); Monday, Jan. 10, 6 p.m. (public); Thursday, Jan. 13, 8:30 p.m. (public); Thursday, Jan. 20 9:05 a.m. (public - meet in school office); Saturday, Jan. 22, 2:30 p.m. (public); Thursday, Jan. 27, 7:30 p.m. (public); Wednesday, Feb. 9, 6:30 p.m. (public).

Any individual, group or organization interested in taking a tour at another time may call 626-2166.

Middle School tours may be scheduled by calling 626-2178.

KMS Christmas Concert Tuesday

The Kewaskum Middle School music department will present its annual Christmas concert on Tuesday, Dec. 21, at 7:30 p.m.

The concert, featuring the sixth, seventh and eighth grade choirs and bands, will be performed in the KMS gym.

Everyone is welcome to our first performance of the year. Merry Christmas.

Kewaskum firemen responded to a garage and shed fire on Saturday, December 11 around 12:30 p.m. at the former Antone Klein farm located at N9604 Forest View Road, between Hwys. S and DD in the Town of Auburn. Boltonville and Beechwood Fire Departments assisted. The fire, which was determined to be of suspicious origin, was being investigated by the State Fire Marshal's Office. The property is now owned by the state.

DEAR EDITOR:

The Kewaskum School District's Just Say No Clubs participated in the Christmas Parade for the first time December 5. Eighty school children from Kewaskum, Wayne and Farmington Elementary Schools marched in the parade to proudly show their decision to lead a drug-free life. All the Club members thoroughly enjoyed themselves and felt very special to be a part of Kewaskum's annual parade.

There were, however, a few unfortunate incidents during our march which we feel need to be brought to the public's attention. At several different places along the parade route, some adults held their beers up in a "toast" to the children, while others shouted "Just Say Yes."

The purpose of the Just Say No Club is to strengthen and support young children's determination to lead drug-free lives. Members learn that it is okay and right to say NO. We need to support our children in these efforts, rather than to make them the targets of ridicule. How can we teach our children to make and respect right decisions when the community in which they live does not respect them?

While we realize that it was a small minority of people who made fun of the Club, it was nonetheless so inexcusable that we hope those of you who support our efforts help us reach the rest of the community, too.

It took much time and effort to arrange our participation in the parade, and we have many people to thank. Joan Herriges was the first to suggest that we join the parade. She also arranged for high school students to wear the BABES costumes (the BABES characters teach drug prevention to kindergartners). Ginger Wiesner, Karla Kirst, Laura Fleischman, Lisa Franzen, Stephanie Heberer and Sarah Ritger were wonderful BABES characters, leading the Club members enthusiastically along the route! We would also like to thank Linda Dymond of the National Council on Alcohol for providing the BABES costumes. Katrina Gilles and Wendy Wade were a terrific help as they marched along with us to help keep watch over the 80 members. Many children gave up their recesses to help make the 60 signs we carried, and the high school Peer Listeners, and our Just Say No Club Teen Leaders, spent several evenings after school helping us with the signs and hats.

A big thank you to the Just Say No Parents for allowing their children to march. The turnout was far more than we had hoped for! We also appreciate the Fire Station personnel's provision of hot chocolate and a warm place to wait before the parade. And, we congratulate the children for their excellent behavior throughout the evening. They are a great bunch of kids, and they deserve special recognition from all of us.

Sincerely,
Cheryl Taylor and John Davies, Just Say

DEAR EDITOR:

The music of Christmas is very special. When two very talented groups donate their musical talents and time for a special cause, the true spirit of Christmas is evident. The Kewaskum Youth scholarships, Inc. (KEYS) would like to publicly thank the Moraine Chorus and the Kewaskum High School Swing Choir for graciously donating their time and talent to perform the annual Christmas concert to help raise money for KEYS.

KEYS, Inc. is a non-profit organization established to accept contributions to provide additional scholarships for Kewaskum High School graduates. The support of the Moraine Chorus and Swing Choir musicians for the goals of KEYS is greatly appreciated.

The Mistakes of Nature

By A.Mi

Over the years, through my countryside hikes, I have learned to know a host of persons living quiet, rather reclusive lives in our County of Washington. Some of whom seem to rather not be bothered with another human's interruption... and others who seem to relish a bit of a visit by a passerby. This holiday season of the year always brings back to me a very special memory of but a few years ago.

It was the week of Christmas. To find respite from the rush of the holiday preparation, I donned my warmest attire and headed for a hike in the kettle moraine. Somehow or other, after some hours of tramping, I realized that I had lost my way. I was really disgusted with myself when I discovered that I had forgotten to bring along my trusty compass. The shadows of night-time were beginning to be cast. Sweat began to run down my face...an experienced outdoors man like myself to be lost?

As I paused to get my bearings, I spied a dim light ahead. Hurriedly I headed for that beacon of hope. The ever darkening landscape exaggerated the brightness of that light which drew me onward...the light of an old-fashioned kerosene lamp in the hand of a grizzled old-timer as he made his way to his ramshackle stable. He was as surprised to see me as I, he! Hurriedly he asked me to help him dry the little one he had carried from a snowy thicket. "A bad mistake of nature," he exclaimed as he opened the barn door.

There, shivering in the light of the lamp, was a scrawny doe and her new-born fawn. I couldn't believe my eyes. Deer birthed their fawns in March! Together we rubbed down the spotted baby and bedded and fed its mother. Shakily the little one got to its feet and trembled its way to its first taste of warm milk.

The old man winked a somber eye at me. "Merry Christmas," he said. "Merry Christmas," I soulfully replied.

Band Trees for Sale

With Saturday, December 18, being the last day for the Christmas tree sales, the KHS Band is reducing the price of all the trees beginning Thursday, Dec. 16.

If you haven't got your Christmas tree yet, here is your chance to pick one up at a good price. All trees will cost between $10.00 and $17.00, which is a saving to the customer at 30% or more. Still looking? Then please come and help the musicians sell all the trees on the lot. Buy one now!!

Newly Elected Representative Grothman To Be Sworn in Thursday at West Bend

Newly elected State Representative Glenn Grothman (R-West Bend), will be sworn in this Thursday, December 16, at 7 p.m. at the Washington County Courthouse in West Bend.

Grothman decided to forgo the traditional swearing-in that normally occurs in the Assembly Chambers in Madison. Instead, Grothman wanted to allow neighbors and constituents the opportunity to attend a local ceremony.

Washington County Circuit

Court Judge Leo Schlaefer will administer the oath of office to Grothman, who will succeed now Senator Mary Panzer as the Representative for the 59th Assembly District.

The ceremony, which will last approximately one half-hour will be emceed by West Bend Mayor Mike Miller. A reception with light refreshments will follow at the Community Room of Bank One, 801 West Washington in West Bend. The public is invited.

Lorinda Tessar to Celebrate 95th Birthday

Mrs. Lorinda Tessar

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

"I collected so much and did so many different things... that's why I'm living today," claims Lorinda Tessar, who plans to celebrate her 95th birthday on December 21.

A familiar face throughout the community, Lorinda is well-known for her unique woven rugs, a traditional skill she acquired from her mother. They are found scattered throughout her home in patchwork hues, and special orders are put together with a steady pace found through years of experience. "I can't tell you how many I make in one year," she explains. "I have 24 in my house alone."

Recycling is nothing new to Tessar, as all her weaving involves materials donated by friends or found at rummage sales. Even her "hit and miss" rugs involve unmatched fabric ends that end up "falling were they may" into interesting patterns. Nothing goes to waste, as far as her rugs are concerned.

Her mother was a seamstress, also raising six children, and when her three daughters reached the age of 13, it was time to start "learning about life." Lorinda's older sister was taught sewing, while her twin sister learned to crochet. Everything was done in cotton at that time.

The enduring quality of her rugs comes from the fact that strips of fabric are woven, not sewn together in oval or circular patterns, varying in size and color schemes. One of her most ardent students is Rev. James Bettin of Peace Church in Kewaskum, who with Tessar's help created a large floor rug for himself. Recalls Lorinda, "first I gave my rugs away, but about five years ago, the demand to sell them arose."

She contributes her longevity to the fact that she "really and truly enjoys life," and in return life has been good to her. Recently celebrating her 65th year with the VFW, she received a plaque of recognition for her years of dedication and service. Since the Civil War, all the men in her family had served in the military, so Tessar felt she had to do something. "I vowed to help the widows and children of the boys who didn't return."

When she was confirmed, her father asked her what she wanted to do with her life. Lorinda replied, "I want to drive a car, play a violin, and teach school," and so far she has accomplished all three. She recalls her days of teaching at the old Schoofs school, once located along Hwy. 28. "We did everything back then, even our own cleaning." Tessar taught until 1970. She also worked as a volunteer for 30 years at Cedar Lake Home.

"I never lack for things to do," Lorinda remarks while preparing to hunt for a full-size Christmas tree she puts up every year. She remains active at Peace Church, and enjoys baking and canning as well as collecting antiques in her spare time.

This weekend, Lorinda looks forward to celebrating her 95th birthday at a gathering hosted by her daughter-in-laws on Sunday, December 19th at Peace Church in Kewaskum. "I don't know where the time went," Lorinda concludes, and adds, "I had a good mother and father, I love people, and I learned to cope with the loss of loved ones. Most of all, I'm always active."

Frozen Road Law Goes Into Effect

Wisconsin's frozen road law goes into effect December 20, permitting operation of heavier trucks on state trunk highways if the loads are forest products or salt and sand for winter maintenance.

Fred Ross, administrator of the Department of Transportation's Division of Highways, said the maximum gross weight for trucks hauling logs or salt/sand goes up to 98,000 pounds from December 20 to March 7, 1994.

The exemption applies only to state trunk highways, which are those roads marked with state or U.S. numbers, but does not include the Interstate highway system, Ross said.

Special permits for hauling the increased weights are not required. However, the vehicles must be legally licensed to handle the increased weights.

The higher weight limits are not in effect for county or local roads unless authorized by the local agency having maintenance authority. The higher weights may not be transported on any highways or bridges which are posted for lower limits.

Ross said the frozen road law remains in effect until March 7, 1994 unless an early thaw necessitates an earlier rescission of the law.

Who of us is mature enough for offspring before the offspring themselves arrive? The value of marriage is not that adults produce children but that children produce adults.

Christmas greenery can trace its history back to the Romans. Holly was a favorite to make garlands to honor Saturn, the god of agriculture.

90th Birthday Celebrated

Mary Ann Gruber

The sons of Mary Ann Gruber, Harlan of Brownsville and Joe of Campbellsport, honored their mother with a family celebration at Hon-E-Kor Country Club in Kewaskum, on Tuesday, December 7, in observance of her 90th birthday.

Mrs. Gruber was born on December 8, 1903, to Alex and Julia (Elbrant) Goretski. She has lived over 60 of her years in Kewaskum and now makes her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Alan and Mary Joyce Stutzman of Auburn Lake in rural Campbellsport.

Sixty-nine family members were in attendance, including her only great-great-grandchild, Allen Sentek of Fond du Lac.

Mrs. Gruber's direct lineage consists of six children, thirty-five grandchildren, seventy-seven great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Sandberg - Gehl

Aura Lee Sandberg, daughter of Robert and Jan Smith, Kewaskum and Michael Gehl, son of Richard and Judy Gehl, Hubertus, announce their engagement.

The bride to be is a 1993 graduate of Hartford High School. She can be found at Eckl's Main Street Inn Restaurant, waiting on the people of Kewaskum and also at Team Video.

The future groom is a 1993 graduate of Kettle Moraine High School and will soon become a 1994 graduate of Northwestern Lutheran College. He will then attend the Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary in Mequon, to pursue his career as a pastor.

A July 15, 1995 wedding has been set by the couple.

Campus Notes

Menomonic--- The following Kewaskum area residents are enrolled as undergraduate students at the University of Wisconsin-Stout. They are Michael Johann, applied mathematics; Todd Stange and Dawn Troeller, hospitality and tourism management.

With an enrollment of approximately 7,200, Stout is a "special mission" university in the UW System. Founded in 1891, it retains its original primary mission of preparing men and women for careers. Because of this, the university continues to have a job placement record of better than 90 percent for its graduates.

Select a 'Choose and Cut' Tree for a Special Holiday

Long before the snow falls, Christmas tree growers begin preparing for the holiday season. The planting, cultivating and shaping of trees starts eight to 10 years before a tree is ready for harvest.

Once the crisp days of November and December arrive, many families trek to a tree farm to select their own special "choose and cut" tree.

For some people, the tree cutting expedition is a tradition, part of the mystique, happiness and joy of the season. "Visiting a 'choose and cut' operation is something many people like to continue year after year," says Bob Williams, marketing consultant with the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP). "Trees are not something people have to have, but want to have in their homes."

Virginia Mountford, executive secretary for the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers Association, says that tree quality is always superb in Wisconsin, and this year is no exception. "We're a natural tree growing state. Wisconsin is among the top three states in the production of Christmas trees. Purchasers will have no problem finding a tree of top quality."

Price varies among retail lots and farms. "Tree prices are based on the size and species of the tree as well as grooming techniques used to prepare the tree for sale," says Mountford. Some producers charge buyers by the foot and others have a fixed price for each tree.

Wisconsin buyers have many different types of trees from which to choose, including Scotch and White pines, Balsam and Fraser firs, and Spruce varieties. Mountford feels, "The final choice depends on what qualities are special to each buyer."

The "choose and cut" method of purchasing a tree enables buyers the opportunity to select one that will be unique to their family. "Every tree is an original. There is nothing better than one-of-a-kind," says Mountford.

"Remember, real trees are also a renewable, recyclable resource. Most artificial trees contain non-biodegradable plastics and lack the originality and fresh scent that the real trees have," she adds.

For a directory of Wisconsin "choose and cut" tree farms at no cost, send a stamped, self addressed business-size envelope to "Choose and Cut Trees" DATCP, P.O. Box 105, Arlington, WI 53911.

County extension offices also have information on local "choose and cut" operations.

KHS Bus Trip to Panthers Game

On Saturday, Dec. 18, Northeastern Illinois University will host the Panthers of UW-Milwaukee in a Womens' Intercollegiate Division I Basketball Game.

Since there are two former area athletes participating in this rivalry, NIU has proclaimed this Saturday's game as "Eastern Wisconsin Conference Day." All area fans are welcome to attend the game free of charge and bus transportation will be provided as well as from Kewaskum High School.

Senior Pam Osterbrink of the host Golden Eagles and UWM's Senior Erica Young formerly from Plymouth, will be the featured matchup as these two talented players have competed against each other for over seven years. Therefore, NIU has scheduled several activities in recognition of the aforementioned athletes and their inter-scholastic conference, the EWC.

This is a rare opportunity to recognize our conference and some of its best athletes in recent years. If you want to come along and enjoy some of the festivities, please notify Kewaskum High School to reserve a seat on the bus and a free ticket to the game.

Second-Half Collapse Costs Indian Girls

By Noel Stollenwerk

NEW HOLSTEIN - Down by just a single point at halftime, the Kewaskum girls basketball team could have never guessed what was in store for them in the second half against New Holstein, here, last Tuesday night.

The Huskies came out smoking in the third quarter, outscoring the Indians 23-2 in the period, en route to any easy 58-26 victory. Kewaskum was outscored 39-8 in the second half.

The Huskies, who came into the contest winless in its first five games this season, used the three-pointer in securing its first win. New Holstein canned seven treys for the game, including three in the decisive third quarter.

The Indians, meanwhile, were having problems making their two-point tries. Only Missy Rohrer was able to put the ball in the basket in the third quarter, as New Holstein extended their 19-18 halftime advantage.

The Huskies did a good job of containing KHS' leading scorer, Ginger Wiesner. The junior guard had her problems, scoring just four points in the contest. Rohrer finished with eight points to lead the Indians, who fell to 0-2 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, and to 2-4 overall.

Tammy Kraus led all scorers with 16 points, including two three-pointers. Mindy Schmitz also hit double figures, adding 10 points, with a pair of three-pointers.

A Story of Christmas Past

Phyllis Bade brought this article in to share with our readers. Published in 1910 in the Lake Mills Leader (when Don Harbeck was the editor) it is a story written by her great-grandmother, Clara Joeckel.

As I grow older I think of Christmases past. I thought you might enjoy this telling of a "bygone Christmas". It was written by my great-grandmother Clara Joeckel telling of their first Christmas in 1857. (Phyllis Bade)

An Early Christmas in Lake Mills

(translated from German and published in 1910)

It is hardly possible for me, after a lapse of 55 years to give an accurate description of the subject in hand, for there is much that I have forgotten, having kept no diary in those early days.

My topic is an Early Christmas in Lake Mills and yet one must place one's self in those early times; before one can appreciate what such a celebration really meant.

I cannot say that the place "was without form and void" for in this town there were streets and paths and houses. There were dense woods and brush in abundance, beginning not far from the post office to the lake.

It was on a beautiful June afternoon in the year 1855 that Mrs. John Bruns and myself arrived here from Watertown in an open conveyance. At the same time our husbands came each with a wagon load of household goods. Our husbands had a few days previous been here to find a place of dwelling.

That first night worn and spent with the days journey and the necessary task of putting to rights the little furniture we had, I lay upon my bed about to go to sleep, when the sweet tones of a maiden's voice, from the adjoining room reached my ears, singing bye-low-baby-by-low which song was entirely new and seemed very beautiful to me, for I was a stranger in a strange land. We occupied this home from June until the following spring and then built a small home, which is now known as the old Methodist parsonage. From our home to the lake, it was dense forest and my husband shot many a rabbit and other wild game upon which we feasted and replenished our larder.

The largest building on main street was the Fargo General store and there was also Faville's Grocery Store. There were two churches here, the Congregational Church and the Methodist Church. The Methodist preacher conducted prayer meetings, the volume of whose prayers was not confined to the four walls of the church, but were audible in the homes of near neighbors.

As there were but few Germans here, we went to worship at nearby Neville. A little later on we held services in the little brick school house. At this time no Christmas celebrations had been held in the churches.

In the year 1857 we held our first Christmas Eve Celebration in our home. Andrew, my husband felled a Cedar tree and secured it in a frame. I baked assorted cookies and decorated; these together with apples and candy were fastened to the tree; also wax candles and all sorts of little gifts for our two little children. As the tapers were lighted our eldest daughter, Mary, recited a Christmas piece.

Attracted by the glimmer of the lights streaming through the window, the neighbor's children came in. Later on the older people came to view our unpretentious tree. This was something entirely new to the community and one boy asked where such trees grew.

The following year, 1858, a number of German families having come, the first Moravian church was built on a hill near the lake. On this Christmas, a tree was erected in the church, decorated and lighted. The little children though but few in number, recited Christmas recitations and sang carols. Each child received cookies, candies and apples passed to them in a large basket. Then, too, every child was presented with a lighted taper, symbolic of the Light of the World.

Oh, how shall I receive thee,
How greet thee, Lord,
aright?

All nations long to see thee,
My hope, my hearts
delight!

Oh kindle, Lord most holy,
Thy lamp within my breast
To do in spirit lowly
All that may please thee best

From this time Christmas was always celebrated in the Moravian church and occasionally in the Congregational and Methodist churches. Thus our early Christmas days passed, though not such luxury as now, yet with happy hearts and with good will and good cheer to all men.

50 Years Ago

November 19, 1943

The schedule throughout Washington County organized this week for the heavy metal scrap drive now on which will conclude November 25. Although farmers and city people alike have responded generously to America's call for scrap iron and steel, the stock piles at the steel mills are getting dangerously low. It has been estimated that the mills now have less than a 30 day supply of scrap on hand. The village truck will collect all heavy metal scrap at the curb in Kewaskum on Saturday, November 20. All citizens are advised to have their scrap at the curb in order to be sure that their scrap is included in the Saturday pickup. No tin cans or paper will be included in this collection.

A new name in the "With The Men and Women in Service" column this week is that of Pvt. Homer Schaub, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schaub, who was inducted into the Army October 19 and left for active service November 9. Homer is stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois spent the weekend at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ramthun of Kewaskum entertained five little friends of their daughter Sandra Friday afternoon in honor of her fifth birthday. Present were Kathryn Beck, Darlene Backhaus, Sharon Dreher, Beverly Ramthun and Carole Harbeck.

The bans for the ordination to the priesthood were announced in the Holy Trinity Church bulletin Sunday for the Rev. William J. Mayer of that parish. The ordination will take place at St. John's Cathedral in Milwaukee on November 30, and Rev. Mayer will read his First Holy Mass in the local church on Sunday, December 5.

In a beautiful double-ring ceremony on Saturday, November 6, in the Cathedral Chapel Church in Los Angeles, California, Sgt. Pirmin Kohler of San Fernando, California, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kohler of this village, took as his bride Miss Antonia Edesa of Los Angeles.

Miss Naomi LaFever, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaFever of Batavia, became the bride of Staff Sgt. Aloys Schladweiler of Fort Livingston, Louisiana, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schladweiler of Kewaskum route, at Batavia on November 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Kempf of West Bend are the parents of a daughter born at St. Joseph's Hospital in that city on Tuesday, November 16. The Kempfs are former residents of this village.

NOVEMBER 26, 1943

Eighteen more registrants from Washington County, representing all four branches of service, were inducted into the armed forces at the Milwaukee Induction Center on November 16. Those accepted in service for the army have 21 day furloughs before reporting for duty. Those inducted into the other branches leave sooner. Mention was made in our last issue that Alois Wietor, local barber, was one of the men accepted, but at that time a complete list of the men inducted had not yet been released. The other Kewaskum man accepted is Sylvester Schladweiler of Route 1. Wietor, after passing the army and navy examination, was then accepted into the marine corps. He had been ordered to leave for duty on Wednesday of this week, but the day before he received a two-day delay in reporting and did not leave until Friday morning. He reported in Milwaukee and left immediately for San Diego, California. Al is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wietor of the Town of Wayne, to enter service. All three are in a different branch of service. One brother, T/Cpl. Leo Wietor is in the army and is stationed in England. The other brother, S 2c Cyril Wietor, is in the navy and is on duty at sea.

With Lomira playing a zone defense, which didn't click too well, a good Kewaskum basketball team took advantage of the opportunities Tuesday evening. Dave Bartelt, the 6 foot, 3 inch Kewaskum center again led all

Two sophomores, Merrill Krueger and Glenway Backhaus, were again outstanding, while the guards Ralph Koth, Wilmer Bunkelmann and Allen Tessar did a good job of working the ball through the defense.

In a double ring ceremony read by the Rev. R.G. Beck in the Peace Evangelical and Reformed Church here on November 20, Miss Earla Prost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Prost of the Town of Kewaskum, became the bride of William D. Maurer, son of William D. Maurer of Milwaukee.

Miss May Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Weiss of St. Anthony, Town of Addison, and Lee Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Klein of the Town of Wayne, Route 1, Allenton, were united in marriage on November 24, at St. Anthony's Church in St. Anthony.

In a quiet wedding ceremony performed November 20 by the Rev. R. G. Beck in the Peace Evangelical and Reformed Church here, Miss Dorothy Reinders of Milwaukee and Edwin Meinecke of the same city, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meinecke of this village were united in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Schaefer of Milwaukee are the parents of a son, Thomas Lee, born November 16, in that city. Mr. Schaefer is a son of Mrs. Lorinda Schaefer of this village.

Tech. Sgt. Curtis Romaine and wife are the parents of a 6 1/2 pound baby boy born November 21 at St. Louis, Missouri, where Mrs. Romaine is making her home with her folks while her husband is serving his country. Sgt. Romaine, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Romaine of this village, is stationed somewhere in the Southwest Pacific area.

A message was received last Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. John Aupperle, of the Town of Scott announcing the death of their son James, who was killed in action in France on October 6th, while performing his duty for his country and home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harter of this village received word that their son Alphonse was seriously wounded in action on September 21, 1918. This is the second time that Alphonse was wounded while serving his country.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayer had their infant son christened at Holy Trinity Church last Sunday. A number of relatives and friends were entertained at their home during the day in honor of the happy event. The little one received the name William Joseph.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Fellenz of New Fane, a baby boy last Tuesday.

GERALD A. ZIMMER

Gerald A. Zimmer, 81, of Campbellsport, died Wednesday, Dec. 8, 1993, at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac.

He was born Jan. 10, 1912, in Menomonee Falls, to the late John and Magdalene (nee Becker) Zimmer, and married Antonia Claas Oct. 23, 1937, at St. Anthony's Menomonee Falls. She passed away March 19, 1982. On April 16, 1983 he married Agnes Wondra at St. Matthew's in Campbellsport.

He farmed near Menomonee Falls and then near Campbellsport until 1965. He was then employed by Weasler Engineering for 11 years and at Johnson Bus Service for 11 years.

He was a member of St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Campbellsport, the Holy Name Society, served as an usher and was a former member of the Campbellsport Volunteer Fire Department.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Raymond (Bonnie) of Marshfield and Thomas (Sue) of Libertyville, Ill.; three daughters, Geraldine "Toots" (Dennis) Bartoli of Campbellsport, Helen (Daniel) Lauters of West Bend and Irene O'Laughlin of Waunakee; 15 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; three brothers, John (Florence) of Germantown, Nicolas (Eleanor) of Phoenix, Ariz. and Jerome (Rose) of Hubertus; two sisters, Barbara Stein of Menomonee Falls and Rita Parker of Illinois; and other relatives and friends.

Preceding him in death were a son, Carl, a brother, and a sister.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Dec. 11, at 10:30 a.m. at the Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport, and at 11 a.m. at St. Matthew's Church. Rev. Michael Moran officiated and burial was in the parish cemetery.

Visitation at the funeral home was Friday from 4 to 9 p.m.

Memorials to St. Matthew's Renovation Fund are appreciated.

SILVIN G. WIESNER

Silvin Gerhard Wiesner, 74, died November 28, 1993, in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Mr. Wiesner was born in Fond du Lac County, Wisconsin. He was retired from the Navy as a chief quartermaster and was a veteran of World War II and Korea. He was also retired from the U.S. Postal Service as a mail carrier. He was a member of St. Nicholas Catholic Church and Fleet Reserve Association, Branch 99.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Esther Wiesner; one daughter, Mary Anne Wiesner of Virginia Beach; three sons, Gary W. Wiesner and Wayne Wiesner, both of Gloucester, Virginia, and Craig Wiesner of Virginia Beach; two sisters, Cora Koenen of New Holstein, Wisconsin, and Mary Hornung of Marathon, Wisconsin; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A funeral Mass was conducted at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, December 1, in St. Nicholas Catholic Church by Father James M. Noto. Burial was in Rosewood Memorial Park with military honors.

A Fleet reserve service was conducted in Hollomon-Brown Funeral Home, Lynnhaven Chapel where the family remained to receive friends until 9 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, the family requested that memorial donations be made to St. Nicholas Catholic Church, 712 Little Neck Road, Virginia Beach, VA 23452.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude to our relatives, neighbors and friends who extended their sympathy to us at the time of our dear daughter and sister's death.

A special thank you to Rev. James Bettin, the ladies of the United Church of Christ and Barney Prost for their assistance and caring.

Thank you also to all who gave food, flowers, memorials and many beautiful cards. We are deeply grateful and may God bless each and everyone of you.

The family of Jane E. Eggert

Evergreens Can Be Safely Decorated

Outdoor evergreen trees can be safely decorated if a few guidelines are followed.

The needles of yew, arborvitae, chamaecyparis and hemlock are sensitive to the heat from bulbs. So are pine, spruce and fir.

Bulbs of 14 wattage are sufficient, but bulbs should never touch needles. Hang sockets downward to prevent water and snow from collecting in them. Use rubber-jacketed or lacquered cord to connect the lights. Periodically check the position of lights as they may shift in the wind.

Use Tree Lights With Special Care

Christmas tree lights, while beautiful, can be dangerous if used carelessly.

Never allow children to play with lights. Be sure that all sockets contain a bulb. Check light strings before you use them. Discard or repair broken sockets or worn insulation. Never put lights on metal foil trees.

Check often to be sure bulbs do not touch branches, needles or flammable decorations.

Falling needles indicate the tree is drying out and could become a fire hazard.

Christmas Candy Tips

What could be more of a Christmas treat than a box of homemade candy! A few mailing tips for candy are: choose candies that will travel well, like fudge, fruit drops, or caramels. Place a layer of crushed waxed paper in the bottom of a tin box. Divide the box in fourths with cardboard dividers to help prevent the candy from shifting.

Set container in a strong, larger carton. Pack unsalted popcorn all around the container.

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers. Christmas is just around the corner... can you believe it? I sure can't! Being a dedicated postal employee, I do have my cards mailed out BUT have not finished my Christmas shopping. My family really laughs about that one as I am the type of person that goes out early... like the day after Christmas, and starts shopping for the following year.

My dilemma now? Finding all the gifts I bought... just where did I hide them so that Chrystal would not discover them on her occasional stops back home from college?

I went to Target on Sunday to return an item that was now discounted $30 and ended up spending $150 more... they love shoppers like me, that is for sure! Right after I finish this article, I am going into the living room and start wrapping.

I just know that I am going to end up going out next weekend... strolling through "mall madness" and just picking up a few last minute things! Oh, well, this is Christmas and I have always enjoyed the "giving." Have a lot of news for you, so will get right into that, okay?

*COLLECTION BOX UPDATE - As promised, the votes are in and they have been tallied. Majority of you would like to see the collection box in place at Sentry. Am working on a specific location in that area and time of pickup and all so hopefully, after the first of the year, we can have that in place for you.

*LOBBY DECORATIONS - I would sincerely like to thank the first and fourth graders (and teachers) of Holy Trinity School for their beautiful display. Have you seen it? "Twas the night before Christmas" adorns a vast part of the post office box section and it is "darling." Snowflakes hung from the ceiling just give this display the "added touch."

THEN, another BIG thank you to My Little Friends nursery school for another great display. This one adorns the other part of the post office box section and comes complete with a "Santa Express" and cars from each of the children. GREAT JOB... kids and Shawn. Don't know about you, but I just love walking out into the lobby, listening to the music and "gazing" at the creativity of our community children... I love it!

*CUSTOMER APPRECIATION DAYS - Yep, you read that right! Inviting each and everyone of you to stop in Monday, December 20, through Thursday, December 23, for cookies, coffee, milk and to sign up for door prizes. This event is being brought to you, courtesy of myself and "my team" at the Kewaskum Post Office.

We got together, discussed it and are putting the final touches on this latest project. Speaking for ALL of my employees, YOU are the ones that make our jobs possible... we TOTALLY appreciate EACH AND EVERY ONE OF YOU... WE DELIVER FOR YOU!

*ETERNAL TREE DECORATING CONTEST - Hey, the entries are starting to "pour in." A special thanks to Kris who already had eight entries on the tree. He wanted to make sure that our little tree would not be "bare" and guess what Kris? You have "sparked" the interest of more kids and I thank you!

Customers, please do not forget... the week before Christmas and New Years... we will be asking you to please vote on your favorite and NUMEROUS prizes will be awarded to the children. Ornaments are tagged with numbers so "check it out" and get ready to cast your vote, okay?

*SANTA UPDATE - Well, got into work the other morning and the phone was ringing off the hook. IT WAS SANTA! I could hear Mrs. Santa in the background playing the piano and the elves singing Christmas carols. Santa told me that he has received SO MANY letters from the Kewaskum kids and was busy answering all of them. He told me that he was sure that he and the reindeer would be "plenty full" after Kewaskum as so many children would be leaving milk, cookies and sugar for the reindeer.

He was "checking his list, checking it twice" and found that there were a lot of good children in Kewaskum. Santa asked me to remind the children to be especially helpful during the Holiday season as moms, dads, grandmas and grandpas are so busy. He told me that "special elves" had been given the job... to check into schools and homes to make sure that each and every child on his list is helpful, caring and sharing in this Holiday season.

Mrs. Claus got on the extension phone and told me that the sleigh was all "shined up" and presents were being loaded daily for the big trip. She told me that they had a "special" camera that focused in on the Christmas parade and told me that it was so nice to see the "community involvement" and how nice that we are remembering the "needy" during the holidays.

Santa then said it was so nice to see all the children that participated in the parade and all the shiny smiles, waves and happiness that was displayed all along the parade route as he came along at the end to smile, wave and wish all of you a Merry Christmas.

Rudolph was busy with the reindeer and making sure that all were getting "rest" for the big trip. Busy time at the North Pole and Santa told me: "KEWASKUM is a big stop on our route and everyone at the North Pole is excited about that... we can hardly wait."

Well, that is about it for this week. Hopefully, you have your cards and packages mailed out. Still have packages to mail? Call us at 626-2575 or stop in for suggestions on getting those packages delivered before Christmas. We are here to serve you... our customers... WE DELIVER FOR YOU!

Next week? A special Christmas wish from your Postmaster and "her team" at the Kewaskum Post Office. Until then, try to have a good day... a HAPPY EVERY DAY.

Your Postmaster,
Bonnie

Teddy Bear Kisses

Mix 1 cup instant powdered milk and 1 cup of peanut butter in a large bowl.

Gradually stir in 1 tablespoon honey until a firm dough is formed. The mixture looks like light-brown clay. If it is too sticky add a little more dry milk.

Knead and roll pieces of dough into balls, 1 teaspoon of dough for the body, then 1/2 teaspoon for the head. Place the head on the body. Shape tiny pieces of dough into ears. Roll longer pieces for the teddy bear's legs.

Use food coloring and a fine brush or toothpicks to paint on nose, tongue and eyes.

Candies placed in an airtight container will keep for a few days at room temperatures. Or they may be frozen then thawed for 10 minutes at room temperature.

Floating Wreath

When making punch for your holiday party, use a tube cake pan for freezing grapefruit juice or water tinted green with food coloring to which you have added red cherries and mint leaves. When frozen, put in the punch bowl to look like a floating Christmas wreath.

Don't Rely on Beating the Odds for Holiday Drinking

By Carrie Hansen
UW-Madison Center
For Health Sciences

When it comes to trying to beat a breath alcohol test to avoid a drunk driving conviction, testing experts at the Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene have seen it all.

"We've done studies on throat lozenges, chewing tobacco, copper pennies, peanuts, belching, asthma medications, dentures and a host of other excuses people cook up," says Pat Harding, a WSLH breath and blood alcohol testing expert. "None of them affect breath tests as long as police follow proper testing procedures."

Although the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (DOT) reports alcohol-related crashes and fatalities are declining, holiday parties for too many people still provide an excuse to drink excessively and then get in the car to head home. When stopped by police, some drivers believe they can "beat the rap" by showing the alcohol test is invalid.

WSLH toxicologist testify in more than 275 drunk driving cases each year... and they have heard virtually all the arguments lawyers use to try to get their clients out of a drunk driving conviction. Few of these attempts are successful; of the more than 35,000 cases of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated that went to court in 1992, only 127 people were found not guilty.

To enjoy the holiday season without worrying about a drunk driving conviction, or worse, Harding suggests having a designated alcohol-free driver or drinking non-alcoholic beverages at parties. Other tips for responsible drinking include:

*KNOW HOW MUCH ALCOHOL IS TOO MUCH FOR YOU. Calculations based on the amount of alcohol, weight and other factors can help determine how much alcohol is too much. For example, a 120-pound woman would have a blood alcohol content of about

0.06 after consuming two glasses of wine in an hour on an empty stomach... a level that is below the legal limit of 0.10. A free calculator wheel to help make these calculations is available through local law enforcement agencies or by writing the Department of Transportation, Maps Publication and Sales, 3617 Pierstorff St., Madison, WI 53707.

*EAT WHEN YOU DRINK. Studies show that food slows alcohol absorption, thereby lowering your peak alcohol concentration. Drinking on an empty stomach greatly increases alcohol absorption.

*DON'T RELY ON ANYTHING BUT TIME TO "CURE" INTOXICATION.

Coffee and other stimulants may perk a drunk up, but they don't affect the blood alcohol content. Typically it takes one to two hours for the body to eliminate the alcohol from one glass of wine, Harding says.

Drunk drivers aren't the only ones who need to worry about being on the road after too much holiday "cheer." Wisconsin law prohibits driving while impaired by any substance, including marijuana, cocaine, prescription medications and other drugs.

Police officers may request a blood sample for drug and alcohol testing if suspicion exists. Screening tests performed at the WSLH detect and quantify virtually any drug in the blood. Punishments imposed for these convictions are the same as those for driving while intoxicated with alcohol.

"Don't put yourself at risk by driving while impaired by any substance," says Dennis Hughes, DOT chief of highway safety strategies and analysis. "Seldom does a person beat the system."

Riveredge Offering Cross-Country Skiing

With frost in the air and snow on its way, it's time to wax your cross-country skis and prepare for Wisconsin Winter enjoyment.

Over six miles of groomed and tracked trails at Riveredge Nature Center await you once snow covers the land. Loops of various distance take you through a number of habitats, where you enjoy the solitude and beauty of this natural sanctuary in the winter quiet.

Riveredge trails are open daily from dawn 'til dusk, and the Center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, and from noon to 4 p.m. on weekends. A ski trail fee of $3 per person can be paid at the Center, or a donor/membership, which includes year 'round use of the trails, can be purchased for the year starting at $30.

Call the Center at 375-2715 (Metro) or 675-6888 (local) to check trail conditions or for further information.

Pretty Christmas Pocket

Soak a 16-inches in diameter, round wicker mat in water a few hours until pliable.

Bend the bottom third of the mat toward the top like a pocket and secure with wire or string. Let it dry overnight. Spray-paint the mat with gold acrylic paint if you wish or leave it natural.

After the mat is dry, weave 1 1/2-inch wide ribbon through the loosely woven edges. Tie the ribbon ends in a bow at the center. Add some tassels to the bow if you wish.

Fill the pocket with greenery, add small satin balls, berries, pine cones, nuts, or any small ornaments.

Hang the mat above the fireplace or on the front door.

HOST A HOLIDAY TREE TRIMMING

Trimming the holiday tree is one of the most festive times of the holiday season. So why not turn it into a party?

For a tree and party long remembered, ask friends to bring a favorite decoration or provide them with cranberries, popcorn or sequins and foam balls to create their own decorations.

And for their hard work, reward guests with a buffet dinner. Appropriate would be a ham, Festive Cranberry Salad and Cream Cheese-Peach Dessert garnished with bright red maraschino cherries.

Cream Cheese-Peach Dessert
 1 carton (6 ounces) Yoplait Original peach yogurt
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, cut into 8 pieces

Beat yogurt, sugar and vanilla in small bowl on low speed 30 seconds. Beat in 4 pieces cream cheese on medium speed 30 seconds; repeat with remaining cream cheese. Pour into dessert dishes. Sprinkle with graham cracker crumbs, toasted coconut or chopped nuts and garnish with maraschino cherries if desired. 4 servings.

Note: Recipe can be doubled.

Yoplait® is a registered trademark of SODIMA. Custard Style™ is a trademark of SODIMA.

Festive Cranberry Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 cup orange or cranberry juice
 2 cartons (6 ounces each) Custard Style raspberry yogurt from Yoplait
 1 can (16 ounces) whole berry cranberry sauce
 3/4 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Mix gelatin and sugar in large bowl. Heat orange juice to boiling; stir into gelatin mixture until dissolved. Stir in yogurt and cranberry sauce. Fold in walnuts. Pour into 6 1/2-cup ring mold. Refrigerate until firm, at least 3 hours. 8 servings.

Add to the Christmas spirit by playing seasonal songs on the stereo.

Fringed Centerpiece Tree

For a pretty little tree to use as a table's centerpiece, cut a large piece of paper into a half circle, making it two times longer than it is wide. Roll this circle into a cone and tape the cone together. Trim the base of the cone to make an even circle.

Cut a package of green crepe paper into strips while still folded. (You may wish to use tin foil for a silver tree or green florists' cellophane paper.) While the strips are still folded, slit them halfway up for fringes. Now open the strips.

Start at the bottom of the cone and glue on the paper strips overlapping the rows and continuing to the top.

Cut out a gold star for the top of your tree. Stick on gummed stars.

If the tree is small enough, you may wish to place the cone on a paper towel tube and paint the tube brown for the trunk.

Set the tree in a blanket of cotton snow. Wrap tiny gifts to place under the tree.

Germantown Blitzes Indian Boys

By Noel Stollenwerk

GERMANTOWN - It wasn't any one area in which the Germantown boys basketball team dominated Kewaskum here, last Tuesday night. It was pretty much all areas.

The Warhawks started out hot, and they stayed hot throughout, as they walked all over the Indians, 84-56, in a non-conference tilt.

It was obvious from the outset that the Warhawks were a different team from a year ago, when they amassed a 1-20 record. Germantown doubled up the Indians in the opening quarter, 22-11, and it only got worse.

"They are a lot better team this year," KHDS coach Jim Westphal said of the Warhawks, who picked up a pair of transfers from Milwaukee-area schools. "Those guys (transfers) make a big difference... they both contributed. It makes them an exceptionally strong team."

The Warhawk lead was 48-24 at the intermission, and the hosts held a 36-point lead heading into the final stanza, where the Indian nearly exceeded their three-quarter total with a 27-point outburst.

Poor shooting, both from the field and the free throw line, hurt the Indians. In the third period, in which they were outscored 17-5, KHS was just 1-11 from the field, and they finished the game connecting on just 16 of their 29 free throw attempts.

"We shot very poorly," Westphal noted. "We have to be able to make those easy shots."

The Indians' inexperience at the guard spots also was evident, as Germantown was able to pressure the Indians into numerous turnovers.

"The first two times down the court, we broke their press, but we were unable to convert the layup," Westphal said, adding that this set the tone for the rest of the game. "After that, we just had a lot of poor passes. I just hope this doesn't become a trend for us."

KHS guard James Zautner did have a good game offensively, as he lead all scorers with 17 points. Tim Strigenz also reached double figures, with 12 points, but it was not nearly enough to offset the Warhawks' balanced attack. Hank Bowles and Frank Cutero each hit for 13 points, as eleven different Germantown players scored in the game.

"We just couldn't get untracked," Westphal concluded. "There's just no explanation for the way we are shooting so far."

The loss dropped the Indians to 1-2 on the young season.

HT Wildcats Undefeated

The Holy Trinity Wildcat girls and boys basketball teams remain undefeated in conference play after their second week of games.

On Friday, Dec. 10th the Wildcats hosted St. Matthew's Lions of Campbellsport.

In an intense night of play, the A-team boys jumped to a 16-2 lead at the end of the first quarter with Derek Dorn scoring eight points. The Lions closed the gap some what in the second quarter scoring nine points and holding the Wildcats to only three points. Halftime reflected a score of 19-11, Wildcats.

The Wildcats returned to the court in the third quarter with Dave Gerhartz adding six points and Dorn another four increasing Holy Trinity's lead at the end of the quarter 33-17. Amid great team effort and play, the Wildcats continued to dominate in the fourth quarter and finally won the game 44-31.

Eighth grader, Derek Dorn lead the team in scoring with 12 points followed by classmate Dave Gerhartz with 8; Shaun Timblin 6; Corey Amerling and Jarrod Gruber each added 5; Jim Kopecky and Jason Butschlick each added 3 and Eric Wenninger scored 2.

Leading the Wildcat fans in cheers during the A-team boys game were Bridget Baum, Crystal Heberer, Megan Ramthun, Nicki Wessing, Jeni Westerman, Carrie Wiesner Robyn Wolf and Tiffany Zehren.

The Wildcats travel to Mayville on Saturday, Dec. 18th where their third conference games will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Lady Indians Can't Handle Press, Lose to Two Rivers

By Noel Stollenwerk

TWO RIVERS - Coming into his team's Eastern Wisconsin Conference opener against Two Rivers here, Kewaskum girls basketball coach Glenn Eichstedt knew that the Indians would have their hands full trying to stop the Purple Raiders.

What he didn't expect, however, was that the Lady Indians would have so much trouble handling the Two Rivers full-court press. That pressure was the difference, as the Raiders pulled away down the stretch for an easy 65-45 victory.

"The biggest surprise was the trouble we had with the press," Eichstedt admitted. "We didn't handle that very well at all. They also had a lot more people contributing than I thought they had."

Perhaps the biggest contribution came from freshman Michelle Stechmesser, who scored 14 points in her conference debut. "And a lot of those came off of rebounds and second-chance points," Eichstedt noted.

As was the case in their previous game against Kettle Moraine Lutheran, the Indians started out slow. Two Rivers forged ahead 19-8 after one quarter, as Angie Gates and Shannah Miller combined to hurt the Lady Indians early.

"We knew they would be strong inside," Eichstedt said, noting Miller was an all-conference selection last year. But she set the tone early, not from the inside but from the outside. Miller hit a three-pointer in the opening quarter, thus forcing the Indians to alter their game plan a little.

"She came out and hit that three-pointer, so we had to go out and play her (honestly)," Eichstedt said. "She made us have to extend our defense."

That allowed Gates to penetrate the lane, where she would dish the ball off at the last moment for easy Two Rivers baskets. Gates finished the night with 12 assists, and also added 10 steals.

The Indians did rally in the second period, though, cutting the gap to just six points, at 28-22, with about 2:00 to play before halftime.

But three straight turnovers by the Indians were converted into points by the Raiders. That allowed Two Rivers to open the lead to 33-22 at the intermission, and was a big momentum-swing.

"We had made a good run there," Eichstedt said. After they converted those possessions (and opened the big lead), that forced us into having to take some chances in the second half."

The Indians never could get back into it, however, as Two Rivers' experience enabled them to open the EW season with a win.

Miller wound up leading all scorers with 25 points.

Kewaskum did have one bright spot, as senior guard Ginger Wiesner let the nets for 20 points. "She played real strong," Eichstedt said of the 5-7 guard. Missy Radtke and Mary Yahr each added six points apiece.

"I have to give them a lot of credit," Eichstedt said of the Raiders. "They outplayed us in every facet of the game. They are a very strong team... still the team to beat (in the EW)."

Eichstedt added that he was proud of the way his team never let up during the course of the game.

"We kept on working hard," he said. "We never gave up... kept trying to come back and get back into it."

The loss dropped the Indians to 2-3 on the year.

Raiders Slow Down, Beat KHS Boys, 55-45

Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - Kewaskum boys basketball coach Jim Westphal says he'd be more than happy to hold opponents to 19 points in a half. He just is hoping for a little more offensive output from his team.

"We have to score more than that," Westphal said, referring to the Indians' 14 first-half points against Two Rivers, last Friday night. The Raiders took advantage of the poor offensive outing by the Indians to post a 55-45 win in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference opener for both teams.

"Once again, it was some very poor shooting," Westphal said, noting the Indians connected on just 30% of its field goal tries, and only 50% of their free throw attempts. If we convert those free throws, it's a much closer game."

Things were relatively close in the first half, as neither team was able to put the ball in the basket. Two Rivers did a good job of slowing down the tempo, holding Kewaskum to just four second-quarter points. That turned a 10-9 KHS first-quarter lead into a 19-14 Raider advantage by halftime.

"They managed to slow us down," Westphal pointed out. "They took us out of our running game."

Nevertheless, the Indians had a rare height advantage over the Raiders, and managed to get several second shot opportunities.

"We had a lot of second shots," said Westphal who reported that the Indians outrebounded Two Rivers, 37-25. "We just didn't score well inside."

The Raiders extended their lead to as many as 15 points in the third quarter, but the Indians weren't about to die. Behind their full-court pressure, the hosts rallied in the final stanza.

"We cut it down to about a four-point lead with about three minutes to play," Westphal said. But with the Indians down 41-37, the Raiders' Rob Remiker took over, scoring seven points in the final eight minutes, including several key free throws down the stretch to ice the game.

"We were very much in the game," the KHS coach noted, singling out junior guards Dan Survis and Tony Bunkelmann for their hustle in the fourth quarter. "They came in off the bench and played very well. Tony played real aggressive. I think they'll see more action."

Survis finished with five points, while Bunkelmann ended with two. Tim Strigenz led the way for KHS with 13 points, and James Zautner also hit for double figures (10).

Aaron Brault had 16 points to lead the Raiders.

"We're getting very good shots, there's nothing wrong with our shot selection," Westphal was quick to note. "We're just not converting them. This was a game that we just let get away."

The Indians, now 1-3 overall and 0-1 in the EW, host New Holstein (Tuesday) and Chilton (Friday) this week, before traveling to Kiel on Tuesday.

Local Special Olympians Attend State Tournament

"Let me win. But if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."

Words never rang as true as they did recently at the 1993 Wisconsin Special Olympics Fall Sports Tournament. Over 800 athletes participated in an exciting weekend of Bowling and Team Volleyball competition, and came home with not only a medal or ribbon, but a feeling of accomplishment having been a part of the state championships.

Athletes from the Kewaskum Special Olympics program who attended the tournament held in Milwaukee and their place finishes are as follows:

INDIVIDUAL BOWLING: Male, 8-11 Division - Jeff Puestow placed fifth with a three-game total of 115.

UNASSISTED RAMP BOWLING: Female, Open Division - Sarah Rodenkirch

placed fifth with a three-game total of 309.

PEACE ON EARTH

Sleep Tight In the New Year

by Judy Kay Moore, UW-Madison Center for Health Sciences

And Mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap, had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

Well, maybe not.

"People today are generally sleep deprived," says Steven Weber, director of the Sleep Disorders Center at UW Hospital and Clinics. As we prepare to make our New Year's resolutions, Weber offers this suggestion: make 1994 the year to rest and relax.

Polls and research indicate that while most of us need between seven and nine hours of sleep each night, we average about six. About 40 million adults nationwide suffer from a specific sleep disorder such as severe insomnia, according to a 1992 report by the National Commission on Sleep Disorders Research, a congressional advisory group. Another 20 to 30 million adults have periodic sleep-related problems.

Lack of sleep does more than make us irritable and unproductive. A growing body of evidence suggests that sleep is necessary to a healthy immune system, says Weber. Inadequate sleep is also a major cause of human error, a concern in an increasingly automated society in which people must operate machines.

Approximately half of all sleep-related problems are caused or intensified by what Weber calls "poor sleep hygiene"... lifestyle and behavioral factors that could be changed in the coming year.

One of the major reasons we're so tired is that more of us are delaying sleep to watch television. A recent article in "Advertising Age," says that late night TV is a "powerhouse" that is assuming the same importance as prime time in the minds of advertisers and network executives.

"Television is a constant source of stimulation that does not slow down as our need for sleep approaches," says Weber. "When we interact with one another and get tired, we talk less and yawn. But television, especially if it's an action-packed show, is like being in the middle of a crowd. You're constantly seeing and hearing different things and your senses become aroused."

Of course, some people fall asleep in front of the television. Often, those individuals are already tired or are watching a less action-oriented or an uninteresting show, says Weber.

If you need to get up at 6 a.m., you should be going to bed no later than 10 p.m., according to Weber. One way to wind down is to turn off the television 90 minutes before bedtime and engage in activities that are enjoyable but less arousing, such as reading or listening to relaxing music.

Another major reason for our sleep woes is smoking, the target of many New Year's resolutions. The nicotine in tobacco can delay or disturb sleep. Smoking can also make certain sleep disorders, such as sleep apnea, worse, according to Dr. Michael Fiore, director of the Center for Tobacco Research and Intervention at UW Medical School.

Sleep apnea, the most serious sleep disorder, is a respiratory defect that repeatedly shuts down the breathing passage at night, causing sleepers to awaken time and again gasping for air. The disorder can cause heart disease, high blood pressure and stroke.

Because people with sleep apnea don't sleep comfortably throughout the night, they often feel sluggish the next morning. Those who smoke may rely on nicotine to make them feel more awake.

"This can be a lose-lose situation," says Fiore. "Smoking inflames the airway and further restricts the flow of air, which will make apnea worse. You smoke during the day to keep awake but, as a result, you will have a far more difficult time sleeping at night."

Of course, each patient's situation must be evaluated individually. Depending on circumstances, the apnea and smoking may have to be treated separately, says Fiore.

While many sleep disorders have an underlying medical cause, others are prompted by a society that is always on the go and perceives as lazy those who place a high premium on sleep. "The exact opposite is true. The people who get a good night's rest are often those who perform most effectively the next day," says Weber.

Experts offer these tips for a restful 1994:

*STICK TO A REGULAR BEDTIME. This helps reinforce a natural sleep cycle. Often people have trouble getting up on Monday because they slept late or napped too long during the weekend.

*MAINTAIN A REGULAR EXERCISE SCHEDULE. People who exercise regularly generally sleep more deeply than people who don't. However, avoid vigorous exercise within two hours of bedtime.

*AVOID ALCOHOL, CAFFEINE AND NICOTINE. All are stimulants that can interfere with sleep. If you must have a cup of coffee or chocolate bar, consume it before noon.

*TAKE A CAT NAP. While naps can be refreshing, they should last no more than an hour to maintain a regular sleep/wake cycle.

A Christmas Eve Invitation from Haven

You are cordially invited to an eleven p.m. time of fellowship in beautiful, old-fashioned, St. John's United Church, Kohlsville. The Washington County faith Haven Lay school is sponsoring this special event for the general public which will include forty-five minutes of carol singing and brief meditation pieces followed by the serving of homemade Christmas stollen, coffee and eggnog.

For persons desiring to make Christmas eve a warm and inspirational experience to be long remembered, know that you are welcome to attend this special fellowship at St. John's. The church is located off Highway 33, west of West Bend, north on county trunk W.W. to the corner of W.W. and Beaver Dam road.

Keep Safety, Energy Efficiency In Mind at Christmas Time

It's time to set up the Christmas tree and lights for another holiday season. It's also a good time to make sure you plan a safe and energy-efficient holiday.

"One of the best and least expensive ways to brighten your Christmas is to use midget lights to decorate your Christmas tree and your home," said Patty Galante, specialist in Wisconsin Electric Power Company's Marketing Department. "They use less than half the electricity of regular lights, and it only costs about one cent to run 200 midget lights for three hours. By comparison, it would cost about 21 cents to run 200 standard holiday tree lights for three hours."

A six-to seven-foot-tall tree may be decorated with approximately 300 miniature bulbs, which use about the same amount of electricity as one 100-watt bulb.

Galante noted that you can save even more by using shiny ornaments and tinsel or garland to reflect the tree's lights.

Placing the Christmas tree in front of a mirror will seem to double the visual impact and brightness of the lights. The tree also can help light the outside of your home as well as the inside if it's placed in front of a window.

"You also can hold down your energy costs outdoors by using energy-efficient flood lights," she said. "They come in holiday colors and use 85 watts of electricity but provide pretty much the same type of illumination as a 100-watt floodlight."

"Safety is another important factor to keep in mind during the holiday season," said Galante. "Check decorative light cords and replace any that are frayed. Use extension cords outdoors only if they are approved for outdoor use, and buy extension cords that are long enough so you don't have to connect several shorter cords."

Lights should never come into constant contact with draperies or furniture, and remember to turn off decorative lights when no one is in the room or if no one will be home for a long period of time.

"The longer lights are on around natural trees, the sooner the tree will dry out," Galante said. "Since natural trees can burn, it's essential to exercise care when using them. We want this to be a safe and happy holiday season for everyone."

Holiday Stress Survival Tips

You'll be happier and healthier with some relaxation time just for you.

*When getting together with family and friends, suggest a pot luck menu. People love to share favorite recipes and it will help you out as well.

*A gift of your time or self to someone is more valuable than an elaborate gift and appreciated just as much if not more.

*Don't over do it. Enjoy the holidays in moderation and refrain from having too much of any one thing, food, cocktails, etc.).

As the holidays approach, lifestyles have a tendency to become busy and sometimes stressful. Milwaukee Psychiatric Hospital offers these helpful tips to reduce stress and enjoy life during the holidays.

*Prioritize all that needs to be done during the holidays. See which plans or events you can do without.

*Take time out for yourself during the week. Don't burn yourself out by doing too much.

Tips on Selecting and Caring For Natural Christmas Trees

A natural Christmas tree... many people consider it the true symbol of a "real" Christmas. The tree, as a symbol of life, is a tradition older than Christianity and not exclusive to any one religion. From culture to culture, and generation to generation, decorating with a live tree pulls on heart strings and appeals to our senses of sight, touch and smell.

Wisconsin is the third largest producer of Christmas trees in the nation, harvesting more than three and a quarter million each year. The nation's top Christmas tree producing areas are Michigan, Oregon-Washington and Wisconsin.

Prior to the 1950s, most family Christmas trees came from forests; today over 90 percent are plantation grown. "There should be a good selection of all varieties this season," says Bob Williams, marketing consultant with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP).

The basic rule when purchasing a real tree is to buy a fresh one and keep it fresh.

"When buying from a tree lot, test trees for freshness," says Williams. "Run your fingers down a branch, toward the tip... the needles shouldn't come off in your hand."

Once you get your tree home, store it in a cool place... garage or outside porch, until ready to bring it in the house.

"To keep your tree fresh when you are ready to trim it, saw a new straight cut across the base of the trunk... a cut of about one inch is enough. When a natural tree is harvested, a seal of sap occurs naturally over its stump that keeps moisture in the tree. It's important to break that seal to allow your tree to "drink" in the water needed to keep it fresh throughout the holidays.

Immediately place your tree in a water-holding stand or, if you are not ready to decorate it, in a bucket of water. Don't let the base of the tree dry out or a seal will form and another new cut will be necessary.

A tree may absorb from a pint to a gallon of water each day, depending upon its size and condition. Check the water supply daily and refill when necessary to prevent the needles from drying and the boughs from drooping. A fresh tree will retain its moisture content and keep its fragrance and needles if you keep it in a stand that has a good water-holding capacity.

"Follow these tips and the enjoyment of a real Christmas tree can be yours throughout the holiday season," Williams says.

Trees sold by many of the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers Association members at retail and wholesale lots will carry a 4-x5-inch red and white hang tag in the shape of the state of Wisconsin designating the tree as Something Special from Wisconsin. On one side the tag lists care instructions. The tags, cosponsored by the Wisconsin Department of Transportation, also give information that promotes using designated drivers for highway safety.

The "Something Special" logo, registered trademark of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection, is used to build upon the state's reputation for quality products and workmanship in an effort to increase sales of Wisconsin products.

Fancy up that jar of jam or jelly you made last summer by putting a narrow ribbon around the top and tying it into a bow. Glue a small poinsettia or holly sprig on the very top of the lid.

Bread treats are always special. Save the moist, quick breads for the gifts you mail. Since yeast breads lose their freshness sooner, use these for your closer neighbors.

In mailing cookies, the moist ones such as bar cookies, fruit-filled chews, or thick squares stay fresher longer than the thin sugar cookies. If you're mailing them far, wrap each cookie separately or back to back in pairs.

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

Who Brings Home America's Tree?

(NAPS)—Every holiday season, millions of American families make a pilgrimage to the tree lot to select their perfect tree. But did you ever wonder who brings home America's holiday tree?

Months of preparation precede the magical moment when the Speaker of the House flips the switch to light the majestic "Holiday Tree" that adorns the west lawn of the Capitol building in Washington, D.C. Many months ago, in the heat of the summer, the Capitol's landscape architect, Paul Pincus, traveled to Big Bear, Calif., to select the "perfect tree." Each year, one of our nation's 156 national forests is chosen for the honor of providing the tree. This year's 75-ft. white fir—the 30th National Forest tree—came from the San Bernardino National Forest, east of Los Angeles, in cooperation with the Angeles, Cleveland and Los Padres National Forests.

In late November, the tree was cut, then carefully lifted with a giant crane, and placed on a brightly decorated flatbed truck trailer. It was covered with a tarp to keep it from drying out on its 2,600-mile journey to the Capitol. Throughout the fall, California school children were busy creating ornaments from recyclable materials.

Because the Forest Service is precluded from spending money on the holiday tree, it relies on corporations to fund this American tradition. This year's tree is a gift from Hughes Communications, Inc. (HCI), a unit of GM Hughes Electronics. Chain saws from Poulan/Weed Eater were used to fell the tree and Mack Trucks transported it to Washington, D.C., with special stops along the way to distribute toys and wreaths. Many other sponsors provided assistance, including road grading to the tree site, a crane to hoist the tree, shipping services for the ornaments and accommodations.

The Capitol Tree event enabled the Forest Service to increase public awareness of its commitment to cultural diversity, through the ornament program, and to forest ecosystem management, including recreation, endangered species preservation, economic development, habitat improvement, fire prevention, and healthy watershed/soil composition maintenance.

When Speaker Tom Foley lit the tree on December 8, millions of Americans watched the ceremony on TV, from the warmth of their living rooms, thanks to the Holiday Tree's primary sponsor, Hughes Communications, Inc. (HCI). Nearly half of all broadcast video signals are transmitted over Hughes' extensive fleet of Galaxy communications satellites.

Tree trimming 101 — the history of holiday lights

It all began in 1882 — The first electrically-lit Christmas tree was unveiled in the New York City home of a colleague of Thomas Alva Edison. It featured 80 hand-wired and hand-blown colored bulbs in red, white and blue; turning slowly on a pedestal, the tree created a "superb exhibition" of "starry fruit" as reported by a Detroit paper.

Out, out brief candle — The first electrically-lit trees cost the equivalent of thousands of dollars today, but the public quickly realized the benefits of electric light. General Electric began mass-manufacturing miniature bulbs and, by 1901, they were advertising that "the danger ever present with candle-lit trees is entirely removed, as well as the inconvenience of grease, smoke and dirt."

Hired help — Turn of the century "wiremen" or electricians would hand-wire each bulb together in a time-consuming process, then wire the contraption into an overhead light fixture to provide electricity. It wasn't until 1903 that ready-made strings of wiring were sold alongside packages of miniature General Electric bulbs.

Lights of today — Contemporary light sets are a far cry from the 1882 version. Now, computer chips are getting into the act, allowing consumers to program up to six different twinkling, fading or chasing patterns to suit their decorating tastes. GE Lighting offers these high-tech sets, such as Decorator's Choice Gala Lights™, that feature 150 miniature lights in red, green and white.

How To Lighten Holiday Foods

Start with a bowl of relishes—the greater the variety, the better. Skip the dip.

Make the cream sauce for onions with half as much fat and with skim milk instead of whole. Thicken with corn starch.

Serve baked sweet potatoes rather than candied sweets, or skip the marshmallows.

To cut calories in the gravy, pour off the turkey drippings, leaving brown particles. Add corn starch, using half as much corn starch as you would flour. Gradually stir in fat-free broth. Stirring constantly, bring to boil.

Serve fruit, lightly glazed, for dessert. For the glaze, stir together in saucepan 2 tablespoons corn starch and a pinch of ginger. Gradually stir in 2 cups orange juice. Stirring constantly, bring to boil and boil 1 minute. Pour over a mixture of fruit, toss and chill.

For pie, choose pumpkin chiffon over creamy pumpkin or make a mincemeat pie that's more apples than mincemeat.

Be a Friend, Then a Host

With the explosion of parties that will take place during the holiday season, responsible party hosts should make sure that friends not only have a good time but also get home safely.

"That means putting guests' welfare first and not forcing drinks on anyone," said Joe Laubmeier, spokesman for the American Automobile Association's Wisconsin Division. "Most important, a responsible host encourages drivers to stay sober."

Through the "First a Friend, Then A Host" campaign, Triple-A Wisconsin urges party hosts to take responsibility for their guests by combatting excessive drinking and making sure that people who may be impaired don't drive.

"Hosts should set a good example for their guests by not overindulging themselves," said Laubmeier. "They also should either recruit one person in each group to act as a designated driver, or collect car keys from guests as they arrive and explain that no keys will be returned to impaired guests."

Laubmeier recommended that hosts offer non-alcoholic options such as juice, coffee, soda, and fruit punches to designated drivers and others who prefer not to drink alcohol.

If hosts serve alcohol, they should remember that a 12-ounce can of beer, a 5-ounce glass of wine and a 1.5-ounce serving of hard liquor... straight or in a mixed drink... are about equal in alcohol content. Alcoholic punches should contain non-carbonated bases... such as juice or tea... because alcohol mixed in carbonated beverages is absorbed faster by the body, according to Laubmeier.

"Serve plenty of food," Laubmeier said. By eating high-protein and starchy foods throughout the night, the body will absorb alcohol more slowly. Meats and cheeses are good choices, but avoid salty foods that increase thirst. Serve dessert and non-alcoholic beverages well before the guests begin to leave.

"Watch for overindulgers and remember that only time will sober up someone who has had too much to drink," Laubmeier said. "Coffee, cold showers, and other 'cures' don't work."

The host should make transportation arrangements for any guest who has had too much to drink, Laubmeier said. Suggest ride sharing, overnight stays or taxi service.

Hosts searching for creative non-alcoholic holiday drink recipes may find a new brochure published by Triple-A Wisconsin helpful. The free brochure, "Holiday Diamond Delights," contains no-alcohol drink recipes submitted by Triple-A's highest-rated lodgings in Wisconsin.

Copies of the "Holiday Diamond Delights" brochure, are available at any local Triple-A office. Single brochures are also available while supplies last by calling toll-free, (800) 236-1300, Ext. 2486.

Don't Miss It

How can it be that Christmas, as beautiful as it is and as merry as it should be, is one of the saddest times of the year for some? If you don't make a surprise gift or outing for someone who's lonely or less fortunate than you—you've missed it. You've missed seeing the happy light and wonderment in someone's eyes. You've missed having that special glow of happiness in your heart that makes Christmas truly merry. For the best Christmas ever, don't miss the joy of true giving from the heart!

Pepper Cup Cheese & Pasta Salad

- 4 large green, red or yellow peppers
- 1 1/2 cups (6 ounces) rotini, cooked, drained
- 2 cups broccoli flowerets, cooked, drained
- 1 1/2 cups (6 ounces) cubed Wisconsin Cheddar cheese
- 1 cup turkey cubes
- 1/4 cup green onion slices
- 1/2 cup Italian dressing

Cut peppers in half lengthwise, seed. Cook 8 minutes in boiling water, cool. Combine rotini, broccoli, cheese, turkey, onion and dressing, mix lightly. Fill pepper halves with pasta mixture. Cover, chill several hours. Makes 8 servings.

Microwave Directions: Cut peppers as directed. Place peppers and 2 tablespoons water in 3-quart casserole or bowl; cover. Microwave on High 4 to 5 minutes or until crisp-tender. Continue as directed.

HOHLWECK'S
Tub & Shower Sales

Dear Dr. Sylvia,

Our daughter, who is almost seven years old, is such a nice little girl, yet sometimes she gets so angry and says she hates herself and us. We feel so badly because it seems she has such low self-esteem. We consistently and sincerely praise and tell her we love her. What can we do to raise her self-esteem and love herself and not be so angry? We just want her to be happy and feel loved. We also have two other children.

Very Distressed Parents

Dear Very Distressed Parents,

Your child's self-esteem problem is unlikely to be corrected by praise alone, and it is difficult to determine from your brief note the exact cause or extent of her problem.

Sometimes, a child's expression of anger toward self and parents is a result of what feels like a "dethroning process." That is, oldest children who were center of much adult attention, e.g., from parents, grandparents, aunts, and uncles, may feel attention deprived when siblings and cousins distract from their attention center, or when they enter school and must learn to share attention center, or when they enter school and must learn to share attention with 25 classmates. Relative to the earlier extreme of attention, they may really feel unloved and angry.

Youngest children in the family may also exhibit the very same characteristics if they feel they can never match the success of their older siblings. They may thus feel pressured and inadequate.

Kids can also feel angry and blame their parents if they have been accustomed to a great deal of power in the family and that power is withdrawn. Relative to their former power, they now feel powerless.

In each of these examples, or others I could share, children are comparing how they presently feel with how they felt at earlier times in their childhood. I call this the "Theory of Relativity." To prevent this problem, I ask parents to bring children up with the V of Love.

Visualize the letter "V" as a model for guiding your children's power when they're very young, they begin at the bottom of the "V" with limited freedom and power. As they mature and are able to handle more responsibility, the limiting walls of the "V" spread out, gradually giving them more freedom while still providing definite limits. During adolescence, as they move to the top of the "V," they become capable of considerable independent decision making and judgment but should continue to recognize that there remain adult prerogatives in guiding them. They are thus readied for moving out of the "V" into adult independence and personal decision making.

Now reverse that "V" so that it looks like this: "A." Children brought up at the base of this figure are given too much freedom, too much attention, and wide limits. They become accustomed to independent decision making before they're able to handle their freedom responsibly. If parents then take freedom and power away, children who had too much earlier control and attention feel over controlled and unappreciated by parents. Their statements echo their feelings of restriction. They complain, "My parents are controlling me. They used to love me, and now they don't!" They feel angry and depressed. Once freedom and power are given, they aren't easily taken away. The "V"-shaped guidance is much smoother and more comfortable for children and parents alike.

It is obviously more difficult to cure the problem than to prevent it, but over praise is clearly not the answer, nor is it effective to focus too much attention on the child's pouting or anger.

Some positive one-to-one activities with either parent are very helpful for building competence, confidence, and positive relationships. Work projects, school-related activities, or parent-child games or trips do much for rebuilding the bonding that has been broken by the discontinuity of attention and power. Moderate and subtle praise for a well-completed task is more effective than over praise and continuous repetition of the child's merits. Although total family activities can and should continue, your child may need some close individual time to cope with the feelings of deprivation she may be experiencing relative to her siblings. Actually, every child needs some one-to-one time with each parent anyway.

I do feel confident, however, even from your brief letter, that she is a loved child, and that she indeed feels the love which you express so freely.

There can be dozens of possible causes for your daughter's problem. If the problem persists even after you've tried some of these suggestions, you may wish to take your daughter to a psychologist for some help.

Give the National Parks For Christmas

(NU) - Is there a nature lover, camper or outdoorsman on your holiday gift list? Do you know a family planning to tour America next summer? Or a relative with a disability who loves to travel?

A guidebook or videotape about America's National Parks is sure to please just about anyone on your shopping list — and is guaranteed to help support the Parks.

"The Complete Guide to America's National Parks" gives details on accommodations, activities, trails, maps and sight seeing at all the country's 358 National Park areas. The latest edition can be ordered for $12.95 plus shipping by calling 1-800-285-2448.

"Easy Access to National Parks," published by Sierra Club Books, would interest people with physical disabilities, senior citizens, parents with young children and anyone else interested in gentle, low-effort hiking. The book, written by Wendy Roth and Michael Tompane, details the many activities accessible to wheelchairs (and strollers) at 41 National Parks. Beautifully illustrated with color photographs, it is available in bookstores nationwide or by mail from the Sierra Club Bookstore, 730 Polk St., San Francisco, CA 94109. The cost is $16 plus $3 postage and handling.

Armchair travelers will enjoy "Touring America's National Parks," an hour-long videocassette with stunning views of 20 of the country's most majestic parks, including Yosemite, Yellowstone, Grand Canyon, Glacier and Zion. Distributed by Questar Video, this video is $24.95. Call 1-800-633-5633, Department 101.

All three publications benefit the private, non-profit National Park Foundation, which uses its proceeds to fund specific programs and projects in the National Parks.

Holiday Hints

How To Be A Blooming Genius

(NAPS)— While the poinsettia has become synonymous with the holiday season, there are a number of other indoor plant varieties that also are highly regarded as holiday symbols.

Two in particular, the Norfolk Island Pine and the Christmas cactus, are not only attractive plants, they require little beyond the normal care given to any houseplant.

The Norfolk Island Pine is one of the most handsome of all indoor trees, and as its name implies looks like a miniature pine tree. When potted in an attractive red or green container such as the New Age planter from Garden Scene, during the holidays it can be decorated to resemble a tiny Christmas tree.

The Christmas cactus is an attractive winter-blooming indoor plant that produces large trumpet shaped flowers in red or salmon-pink, generally around Christmas, thus its common name. When planted in a white New Age planter to set off the color of its blossoms, it becomes a beautiful holiday decoration.

Both the plants and planters are available at most garden supply stores, greenhouses, discount and general merchandise stores, and home and hardware centers. And because Garden

Scene planters are made of plastic, they come in a wide variety of shapes, sizes and colors to accent

This Norfolk Island Pine can be decorated as a miniature Christmas tree for many holidays to come.

any room decor.

Unlike the beautiful but temperamental poinsettia which generally does not last much beyond the new year, the Norfolk Island Pine and Christmas cactus are attractive and sturdy year round indoor plants. The pine likes good light, cool temperatures and prefers dry soil, especially during the winter heating season. When watering, always err on the side of dryness.

The Christmas cactus likes a potting soil that contains sphagnum moss or very coarse peat. Beyond that, treat it as you would any other houseplant. In summer place it outdoors in a shaded spot, and don't be surprised if it decides to bloom again in early summer, as well as again next Christmas.

And best of all, next holiday season your Norfolk Island Pine can again be decorated as a miniature Christmas tree, while your Christmas cactus gives you beautiful blossoms to help celebrate the holidays.

It's a pleasure to greet our friends at this time and wish you all the happiness the season can bring!

Put Loved Ones First This Holiday Season; Be a Designated Driver

Without designated drivers, the joy of the holiday season can quickly turn to tragedy, according to Joe Laubmeier, spokesperson for the American Automobile Association's Wisconsin Division.

"Designated drivers put their loved ones first," Laubmeier said. "They don't drink and drive, nor do they allow their family members and friends to drive under the influence or ride with people who do."

The designated driver concept has gained in popularity in recent years and is helping keep alcohol-impaired drivers off the road. While progress has been made, alcohol continues to have a major influence on highway crashes in Wisconsin, however, Laubmeier said.

According to statistics from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation, alcohol contributed to greater than 42 percent of all fatal crashes in 1992. Of the 645 people killed last year in state traffic crashes, 268 of those deaths were alcohol-related. More than one-third of the alcohol-related fatalities occurred between midnight and 3 a.m.

"The designated driver concept is easy to implement," Laubmeier said. One person... the designated driver... simply agrees not to consume alcohol for the evening and to drive home friends or family members who have been drinking.

Someone else takes a turn the next time.

"One major misconception about the designated driver program is that it indirectly encourages those who are not designated drivers to drink excessively," Laubmeier said. "People need to remember that even if you're not going to be driving, you still should drink responsibly and not overindulge."

Not only is excessive drinking unhealthy, but intoxicated passengers who are loud and boisterous can be very distracting to a designated driver, Laubmeier explained. A designated driver may find it difficult to drive safely if there are a number of overly-intoxicated riders in the vehicle.

Laubmeier urged motorists to support the designated driver concept by asking local bars and restaurants to promote the program. Some establishments have devised innovative efforts to provide safe rides for patrons during the holiday season.

"Designated drivers see that the people that they care about get home safely," Laubmeier said. "Triple A urges all holiday revelers to put their loved ones first and volunteer to be designated drivers. Next time, someone else will do the same for them."

Triple-A Wisconsin serves more than 445,000 members across the state, and continually works to improve conditions for motorists.

Controllable, Beautiful Hair For The Holidays

(NAPS)—Sometimes, no matter how hard you try, your hair refuses to do what you want it to. During the holiday season—with a busy schedule of holiday parties—it's no time to declare war on your hair. Now, you can take control over the way your hair takes a style and holds it, thanks to the Complete Control line of stylers from Aqua Net. Aqua Net gives you a line of styling products that deliver what they promise: excellent control and no-nonsense hold at down-to-earth prices. Here are a few ways to have controllable and beautiful hair for the holidays.

• Shampoo and condition your hair on a regular basis to keep it clean, soft and shiny looking. Thoroughly cleanse and condition your hair for a healthy, clean look. For dry and damaged hair, don't wash conditioner all out, leave a little bit in to create a soft, easy-to-manage look.

• Check out all the fun and inexpensive hair accessories at local stores and flea markets. Colorful ribbons, decorative clips, combs, headbands, or barrettes can transform any ordinary hairdo into something special. Aqua Net All-Weather Hairspray provides the right hold for even the simplest styles. Try an easy French twist, bend head over, collect hair into a ponytail, twist ponytail counterclockwise and fasten to head with bobby pins or combs. For a soft look, pull small strands of hair out from behind ears to create tendrils. Secure the whole look with hairspray and you're ready to "deck the halls!"

• For fine hair that's hard to style, Aqua Net

The right styling products can give you beautiful hair for this holiday season.

Styling Mousse adds lasting body and fullness. For an elegant look, distribute mousse evenly throughout head, bend head over and dry upside down. When hair is semi-dry scrunch ends and add Aqua Net Styling Spritz to create a full-bodied look. Fasten decorative combs and barrettes on either side of head to create an even better "fuller" effect.

• Velcro rollers are perfect to create romantic and sexy, soft curls. Wash hair, add a small amount of Aqua Net Mega Hold Gel—gives firm styling power with super hold. Section hair and roll parts into rollers. Let it sit for one hour to dry, then shake out. For a delicate look, carefully brush curls out into desired shape. Secure hair with Aqua Net All-Weather Hairspray and get ready to be kissed under the mistletoe!

• Stylists are predicting that natural, soft looks are key to Holiday '93 and Aqua Net's new line of styling products can help you keep that look all day. Aqua Net's style products: Sculpting Mousse, Styling Mousse, Styling Gel, Freeze Spritz and Styling Spritz promise long lasting hold to carry you from work to party during the holiday season.

Tidings of Peace

The people of Israel were held captives once more. This time they were held by the iron bands of Rome. The Land of Canaan longed for a great leader to redeem them and set them free once and for all.

The villagers tended the farms by day and rested on their rooftops at night. Minutes and hours were ignored, for the days in the Holy Land went by slowly, but the boy who would make Israel famous observed its everyday livelihood, and later would speak of the difficulty of getting camels and rich men through narrow places, and would speak of the joy to the shepherd over the return of one lost sheep. Every man in Israel knew and understood these symbols. Canaan was ready for a redeemer.

This Christmas our world longs for peace. May the Christmas child, our brother and Heavenly High Priest bring special peace to all hearts who look to Him as their deliverer!

Holiday Season Hassle-Free Meal Can Be A Family Affair

Amidst the shopping, wrapping, caroling and visiting, time for family meals is at a premium. During the hectic holiday season, cooks welcome good-tasting and easy-to-fix dishes.

Pasta with Broccoli Sauce is a timely new way to serve spaghetti. Shredded Cheddar cheese and condensed cream of chicken soup are the base for a sauce that includes broccoli flowerets, sliced carrots and chopped parsley. Lemon juice and garlic heighten the flavor of a sauce that looks garden fresh served over cooked spaghetti. Eat and be merry!

Pasta with Broccoli Sauce when served with a tossed salad, crusty bread and a dessert of cherry vanilla parfaits is a tasty way to take a break from the hectic holiday pace.

PASTA WITH BROCCOLI SAUCE

- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) Campbell's Condensed Cream of Chicken Soup
- 3/4 cup milk
- 2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen broccoli flowerets, cooked and drained
- 1 cup sliced cooked carrots
- 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley

1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Cooked spaghetti

1. In 1 1/2-quart saucepan over medium heat, in hot butter, cook garlic 2 to 3 minutes.

2. Add remaining ingredients except spaghetti. Heat, stirring occasionally. Serve over spaghetti. Makes 5 cups or 4 servings.

Salt—All Around The House

(NAPS)—Here's a notion to shake—that salt is just for adding flavor to food. Fact is, table salt is a great help for handling many household chores, especially for holiday clean-ups, say the experts at Morton Salt:

- After holiday parties and throughout the New Year clean-ups can be easier with table salt. To remove wine stains from cotton fabric immediately, pour enough salt directly on the stain to soak up the liquid. Immerse fabric for 1/2 hour in cold water. Launder as usual.

- To remove ketchup stains from nylon plush carpeting, immediately sprinkle with enough salt to soak up the stain, wipe away excess with a paper towel and vacuum. Use a dampened sponge to remove any residual stain.

- Remove rust from tools by making a paste using two tablespoons salt and one tablespoon lemon juice. Apply the paste to rust with a dry cloth and rub.

Hamtastic Leftover Ideas

(DM)—Hams. They're traditional at the holidays and so are the leftovers. As savvy consumers know, the value in serving ham stems from its versatility and s-t-r-e-t-c-h ability, right down to the bone! Making the most of your holiday ham is easy, according to The HoneyBaked Ham Company, the nation's leading retailer of spiral-sliced hams for the past 36 years. The company shared its favorite suggestions for creative and imaginative leftover ideas. To receive free recipes for creative uses of leftover ham, call the HoneyBaked Ham Company at 1-800-FYI-4HBH (1-800-394-4424).

CHEESY HAM SOUP

- |                                   |                                 |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 HoneyBaked brand ham bone       | 1/2 cup onion, chopped          |
| 1 cup HoneyBaked brand ham, cubed | 1-1/2 tsp. salt                 |
| 4-5 quarts water                  | 1/4 tsp. pepper                 |
| 2 cups potatoes, diced            | 1/4 cup butter                  |
| 1 cup carrots, sliced             | 1/4 cup flour                   |
| 1 cup celery, sliced              | 2 cups milk                     |
|                                   | 2 cups cheddar cheese, shredded |

Place bone, water, potatoes, carrots, celery, onion, salt and pepper in a soup pot. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Make a white sauce with flour, butter and milk. Gradually add white sauce to soup. DO NOT BOIL. Add cheese and ham to soup and stir until cheese melts.

HAM & POTATO CAKES

- |                                    |                                   |
|------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 cup HoneyBaked brand ham, ground | 1 tbs. parsley, chopped           |
| 1 cup mashed potatoes              | 1/2 tsp. onion, grated            |
|                                    | 1/4 tsp. HoneyBaked brand mustard |

Combine all ingredients and shape into flat cakes. Dip lightly in flour and sauté in butter or margarine.

HAM & MUSHROOM BAKE

- |   |                                       |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| 2 cups HoneyBaked brand ham, ground     | 1 3-oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained |
| 1/2 cup milk                            | 1/2 cup celery, chopped               |
| 1 10 1/4-oz. can of cheddar cheese soup | 3 oz. medium noodles, cooked          |
|   | 2/3 cup soft bread crumbs             |
|   | 1 tbs. melted butter                  |

Blend milk and soup, stir in mushrooms, celery and ground ham. Add noodles to soup mixture. Turn into a 10x6x1 1/2 inch dish. Mix bread crumbs with melted butter, sprinkle on top of casserole. Bake at 375° about 30 minutes. Serves 4.

Check Store Policy For Happy Returns

It's the busiest shopping season of the year, which means the busiest time for returns.

Liberal return policies of some large chain stores may cause some shoppers to assume they have a legal right to demand money back.

"Not true," says Tom Moore of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. "There is no law requiring stores to refund money or give exchanges."

Merchants determine how returns are handled. There is also no law requiring stores to make price adjustments if an item purchased goes on sale later on.

"Consumers have an obligation to themselves and those who will receive their gifts to inquire about return policies," says Moore.

Stores may be willing to make exchanges or give refunds but set conditions. For example, the customer is often required to provide a receipt, and sometimes there is a time limit on returns.

For happier returns, investigate return policies before buying.

If a store refuses to take back or exchange defective items, assistance is available from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. Call toll free: (800) 422-7128.

Holiday Greenery and Berries—A Word of Caution!

Decorating with holiday greenery and bright red berries is an old and lovely tradition. However these bright plants are naturally filled with potent chemicals and can be dangerous.

Ancient people, living closer to the earth and more familiar with plants than most of us, knew about the "good and bad" in leaves, cones and buds.

Romantic mistletoe is for kissing under and decoration, but the pale green leaves and waxy white berries contain natural poisons, and are dangerous!

The yew berry, pinkish red and translucent, is also poisonous when eaten. Oddly enough yew berries have no harmful effect when eaten by birds. Our feathered friends have enzyme systems that render the poison found in yew berries, harmless!

Holly berries, shiny and sparkly red are far less dangerous, but can also upset the stomach.

It is important to discourage infants and children from tasting the tempting looking berries of holly and yew and Jerusalem cherries, whose attractive fruit is potentially dangerous. Its chemicals are capable of inducing vomiting, paralysis and could be fatal in sufficient quantities.

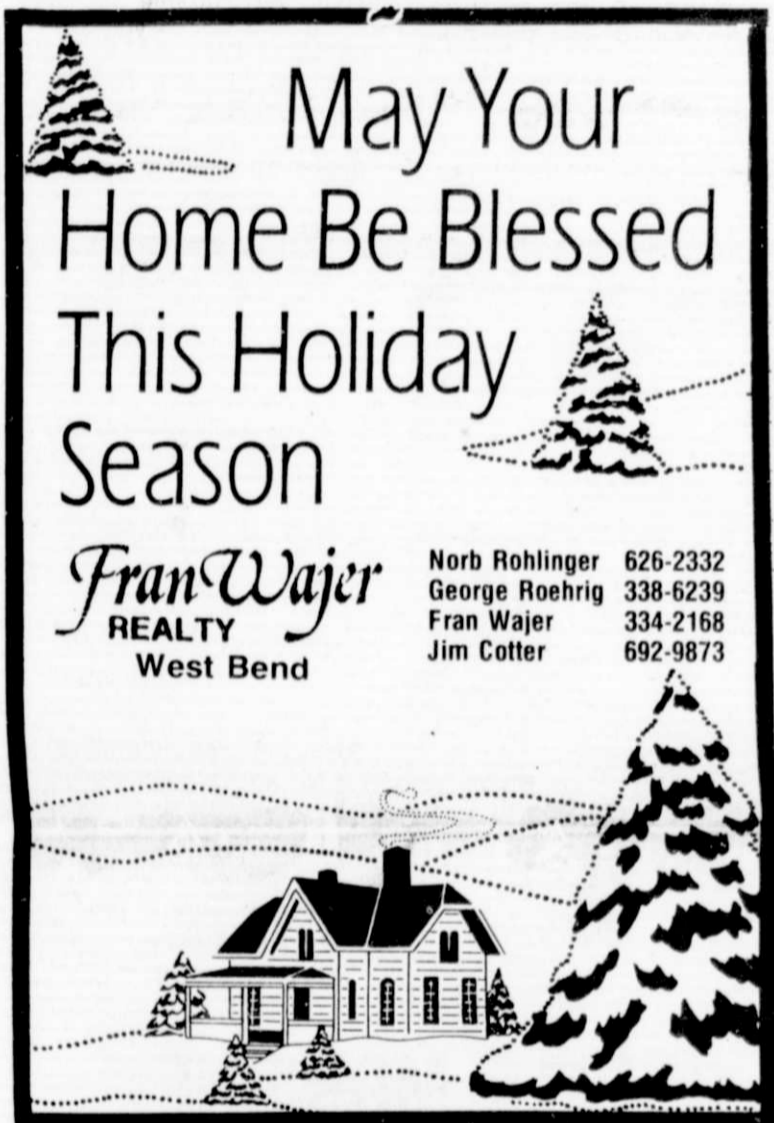

So remember . . . a word to the wise . . . and most important, to little ones!

Nazareth Was Once Subject of Derision

Nazareth, the chosen city and one of Christendom's holiest places, was once very insignificant. In fact, the term "Nazarene" was often applied to Jesus Christ in derision.

When Philip of Bethsaida was chosen as one of the disciples, he happily informed Nathanael, "We have discovered the One about Whom our scriptures speak. He is Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." And Nathanael replied, "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?"

But, when Nathanael himself came to speak with Jesus, he exclaimed, "Thou art the Son of God; Thou art the King of Israel." Nathanael returned to Nazareth in the company of a few chosen disciples as Jesus was to begin His ministry in the land He loved so well.

No Time To Make Fruitcake? Try This One.

(DM)—For generations home baking has been a symbol of caring and hospitality. The Christmas tradition of fruitcake is no exception. It's part of the holiday spirit of giving. Many of us would love to serve homemade fruitcake, but who has time for this baking project? Perhaps we should take a look at this centuries-old tradition and update it.

Here is a time-saving holiday fruitcake without compromising quality or flavor. It uses a store-bought pound cake mix as a base. After all, even the best fruitcakes start with a simple butter-cake batter.

Red Ribbon Fruit Cake uses dates, nuts, and an option for candied or dried fruit. And it takes only about 45 minutes to prepare, making it easy to bring back this time-honored tradition to its rightful place at the holiday table.

Red Ribbon Fruit Cake (Makes 3 loaves)

- 1 package (8-ounce) Dromedary Chopped Dates or Dromedary Pitted Dates, snipped
- 2½ cups (16 ounces) mixed candied fruit*
- 1½ cups chopped walnuts or pecans
- ½ cup all-purpose flour
- 1 package (16-ounce) Dromedary or other pound cake mix
- ¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1 cup milk
- 3 eggs

In large bowl, combine dates, candied fruit, walnuts and flour; reserve. In large bowl, beat pound cake mix and butter with electric mixer at low speed until blended. Add 1 cup milk; beat 1 minute at medium-low speed. Add eggs; beat 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally. With spoon, stir in fruit mixture. Pour batter into three well-greased 7½- x 3¾- x 2¼-inch loaf pans.

Bake at 325°F for 1 hour 15 minutes to 1 hour 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans on wire rack 10 minutes. Remove from pans; cool completely on wire racks. Wrap airtight in foil and refrigerate or freeze.

*Or use 2½ cups (14 ounces) mixed dried fruit (such as peaches, cherries, pears, cranberries, apricots or prunes). Soak dried fruits in ¼ cup orange juice or brandy, stirring occasionally, for 1 hour or until liquid is absorbed.

Brandy-Soaked Cakes: Use cake tester or skewer to prick holes in cakes. Gradually pour ¼ cup brandy or rum over each cake until liquor is completely absorbed. Wrap airtight in foil and refrigerate. Turn cakes upside down occasionally for even distribution of liquor.

STOCKING STUFFERS

ing held many small, but delightful, surprises.

If you have children in the home, put a little more spirit into your Christmas with individual stockings. Let the children help make them; it's more fun for all.

Christmas morning contents of the stocking should be a surprise—from Santa. Fruits are a natural. So are homemade cookies and candies, which you can put in sandwich bags or wrap in plastic. Trinkets, ear rings, transistor radios are things a stocking may hold.

Once you've decided to use Christmas stockings, you'll come up with other ideas—and you'll see suitable stocking stuffers everywhere you go.

In these modern times, many of us have gotten away from one of the most enjoyable of Christmas traditions—especially where children are concerned.

The Christmas stocking—hung by the chimney with care—delighted the hearts of youngsters for decades. Regardless of the treasures left beneath the tree, the stock-

The Jewish Christmas

Among the holidays at this time of year is the Jewish celebration of Hanukkah. Because Hanukkah is generally celebrated in December, it is sometimes referred to as the Jewish Christmas. It is similar to the Christian holiday in that gifts are exchanged, candles are lit and it is a time of rejoicing. However, that is where the similarity ends, for their origins and meanings are entirely different and Hanukkah actually predates Christmas.

Hanukkah is an eight-day festival commemorating the military and spiritual victory of Judas Maccabaeus and his army over the King of Syria, who attempted to crush the Jewish faith in one God. Hanukkah, derived from the Hebrew word meaning dedication, is also called the "Feast of Dedication" and "The Festival of Lights." It always starts on the 25th day of the Jewish month of Kislev.

Because the Jewish calendar is based on the moon rather than the sun, the Jewish holidays fall each year on varying dates of the solar three hundred sixty five day calendar.

The Hanukkah festival not only commemorates a victory but is a celebration of the obtaining of religious freedom.

Entertaining Made Easy With Delightful Flavors

(NAPS)—Are you ready to entertain this holiday season?

Festive desserts and drinks are a focal point of holiday celebrations, but most of us don't have time to make them. A simple way to impress friends and family is with Reddi-wip's new "Reddi To Entertain" recipe booklet.

Twenty easy yet elegant desserts, drinks and other holiday delectables are featured in this colorful free booklet, including many twists on traditional favorites. In less than 30 minutes, most of these foods are ready to be decorated with swirls and ribbons of Reddi-wip toppings.

And now there are multiple ways to top off your treats because Reddi-wip offers Chocolate, Strawberry and Amaretto Flavors in addition to the Original, Lite, Deluxe and Non-Dairy toppings. Share the fun with your children or guests by letting them create their own designs!

Here are two simple and sumptuous recipes to make your season jolly:

HOT MOCHA EGGNOG PUNCH***

A dressed-up version of the holiday favorite, this steaming concoction is sure to warm you up on those frosty winter nights. Perfect for the group after caroling!

- 1 Quart Chocolate Milk
- 1 Quart Dairy Eggnog
- 1 Tablespoon Instant Coffee Granules
- Reddi-wip Chocolate Topping
- White Chocolate, shaved

Hot Mocha Eggnog topped with Reddi-wip Chocolate Topping is the perfect winter warm-up.

Quick Peach Melba Trifle finished with Reddi-wip Amaretto Topping is a new twist on a holiday tradition.

Reddi-wip Amaretto Topping

Prepare pudding mix with milk according to package directions; set aside. Cut cake into 1/4" slices and line bottom and sides of large glass bowl. Using a teaspoon, drop dollops of jam over cake slices, using about half the jam. Spoon one-third of the pudding over cake and spoon half the peach slices (drained if necessary) on top. Add another layer of cake slices, pressing down gently. Repeat layers of jam, pudding and peaches to fill the bowl. Top with layer of pudding. Cover and chill until serving time, up to 12 hours. Just before serving, cover entire top with swirls of Reddi-wip Amaretto Topping. Serve immediately. Serves 8-10.

Variation: Use fresh or frozen sliced strawberries instead of peaches and top with Reddi-wip Strawberry Topping.

To obtain your free Reddi-wip Flavors "Reddi To Entertain" Recipe Booklet, send your name and address to Reddi-wip Recipe Booklet, P.O. Box 4325, Monticello, MN 55565-4325.

In large saucepan, combine all ingredients except Reddi-wip and white chocolate. Heat thoroughly; do not boil. For each serving, fill cup two thirds full with eggnog mixture, top with Reddi-wip Chocolate Topping. Garnish with white chocolate shavings and serve immediately. Serves 20.

*1/3 Cup Creme de Cacao and 1/3 Cup Light Rum are optional ingredients. If using, combine with other ingredients in saucepan.

QUICK PEACH MELBA TRIFLE

A great and glamorous party recipe for a crowd, this can also be constructed in individual containers for the family. A traditional recipe updated with convenience products, it goes together in a few minutes but looks like a major production!

- 1 Package (3.4 oz.) French Vanilla Instant Pudding Mix
- 2 Cups Milk
- 1 Prepared Sponge Cake (8" loaf)
- 1/2 Cup Strawberry or Raspberry Jam
- 2 Cups Fresh or Frozen Peach Slices

Have Safe Holidays

Keep your holidays merry by following some safety tips:

1. The milky substance from poinsettias is said to be toxic if swallowed. Also, some decorative berries may be harmful if swallowed. If you have small children or pets, you will want to keep these Christmas plants out of reach.
2. It's not wise to put cotton or paper around the base of a Christmas tree. These Christmas tree skirts should be inflammable.
3. Keep your live Christmas tree's stand filled with water. Dried out Christmas trees catch fire quickly.
4. Unplug the tree when you leave the house. Be sure its stand is stable so that it won't topple easily.
5. Keep breakable ornaments, angel hair or other glass filaments up high out of baby's reach.
6. Secure all extension cords into their sockets to prevent getting shocked when you turn on your electric decorations. Keep these cords away from doors and hallways or other places they may be easily tripped over.

MAKING FAMILY LIFE MORE FUN

Surprising Ways To Display Your Holiday Photographs

(NAPS)—Okay, you've just taken some of the best holiday photographs you've ever snapped. If you're like many people, your next step after getting them developed is putting them in a photo album.

The catch? Photo albums also keep them out of sight. Here are some tips from the experts at the Photography Information Council (PIC) on ways to display your photographs this holiday season.

The Sweet Huck Wreath

Your Christmas Wreath can take on a whole new twist with the help of your favorite photographs. By using snapshots of your family and friends and framing them with shells from family vacations, you can create a naturally beautiful piece. The photographs will remind you of all the wonderful moments you've had throughout the year and, once the holidays have passed, the wreath also makes a beautiful accent piece year-round.

Capture those special moments in photographs then frame them with treasures from the sea to create an unusual look that's naturally beautiful.

Happily, it's quite easy to make.

- First, the wreath, made of natural Sweet-Huck, may be purchased at your local arts and crafts shop.

- Position the shells around the wreath and apply them with rubber cement. If possible, use the shells that have been collected on your family vacation. If you've left your shells at the beach, they can also be purchased in most arts and crafts shops.

- Then, place the photos in clear, lucite frames and decorate the border of the frame with smaller shells.

Photo-Centerpiece

A nice way to bring your family and friends into focus this holiday season is to personalize your holiday table with a photo centerpiece and photo placecards. Simply get out those silly photographs from camp, photographs from the prom or even family reunions. It's best to start taking pictures several weeks in advance so you'll have a great selection. Have your camera ready so you won't miss any opportunities.

BERANBAUM'S COOKIE TIPS

Store only one kind of cookie per container. Moist cookies packed with crisp ones can cause the crisp ones to soften. Likewise, store different flavors of cookies in separate containers.

Sweet Tooth Trick

Say you have a sweet tooth that just won't quit? Do you have a yen for peppermint candies all year round? Then here's an idea you're sure to "sink your teeth into."

Use individually wrapped candy canes to decorate your tree. For an extra touch, twist red and white velvet bows around each cane. When Christmas is done, you don't have to pack up the ornaments and worry about having them break or crack. You just break them up yourself and fill up your candy jar for a taste treat you can enjoy long after Christmas is gone.

Did You Know?

(NAPS)—The experts at Kay-Bee toys say you can have a terrific Christmas tree and toy spree for under $200.

Children with certain allergies or with spina bifida are in particular danger from common household products containing latex, say the experts at Shriners Hospitals, which provide free medical care for crippled and burned children.

Studies show you can cut home heating use by 16.9 percent when warming blankets are used and thermostats lowered ten degrees F for eight hours a day, say the experts at Sunbeam-Oster.

Tips On Giving Holiday Cheer

(NAPS)—In a decade of moderation, many consumers are asking the question, "Is it appropriate to give wines and spirits as a holiday gift?"

"The answer," says Dawn Bryan, author of The Art and Etiquette of Gift Giving, "is yes, but take your recipient's lifestyle and taste into account and tailor your gift accordingly."

For example, a bottle of bourbon is a good idea for someone whom you know drinks it, but only if you know their favorite brand. To make the gift a bit more special, spend a few extra dollars to buy a brand's top-line item. If your bourbon drinker prefers Wild Turkey, consider giving Rare Breed, a special blend of six-, eight-, and 12-year-old bourbons that should intrigue any Wild Turkey fan.

Remember, don't give spirits to an avid wine drinker. If someone prefers white over red, keep that in mind when making your selection.

Aperitifs and after-dinner drinks such as cognac, sherris and liqueurs are good gifts for those who entertain at home. Quality is important, so it is probably best to stick to familiar liqueurs for gifts, as some of the more innovative may not be to everyone's taste.

Here are a few guidelines to keep in mind when giving alcohol as a gift:

- Do not send alcohol to someone who doesn't drink.
- Do not give a gift of alcohol to someone who is not of legal drinking age.
- Champagne is a traditional gift for celebrating, but don't give it unless it is of good quality; give a nice bottle of wine instead.
- When you bring wine to your host or hostess, indicate that it is to be used at a later time (unless you were asked to bring the wine for dinner). Hosts who have carefully selected their wine may feel obliged to use yours. You can always send it as a thank you the day after the event.

- Send gifts of alcohol to someone's home, not his or her office, even if it is a business gift.

- One or two bottles of wine, a bottle of liquor, a bottle of liqueur, sherry, or aperitif is a sufficient gift for a meal, unexpected event, or gesture of friendship.

- A bottle of well-chosen rare wine (for connoisseurs only), or a case of good champagne, wine, or liquor is a good selection for significant occasions.

In addition to a bottle of wine or a spirit, you may want to put together a package that includes accessories such as personalized labels, an ice crusher, bar towels, martini pitcher and stirrer, coasters, cocktail napkins or specialty glasses.

Safe Toys Are No Accident

Safe toys are no accident.

Adults are urged to choose the right toy for the right child.

"When toy shopping, read labels carefully and follow age recommendations," says Jon White, Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. "Remember, the toy industry does extensive research on child development to set these guidelines."

Infant toys, such as rattles, squeeze toys and teethingers, should be big enough not to lodge in the child's throat.

"Avoid infant toys with long strings or ropes. They can easily entangle or even strangle small children."

Young children enjoy bright colored, lightweight toys. Choose unbreakable toys without small parts such as removable eyes or limbs.

"Even innocent playthings like balloons cause injuries or even death," says White. "They are a deadly choking hazard for children under three years old."

Electric toys are for children over eight years old. Trains, miniature stoves, and sewing machines can cause serious burns or shock if toys are damaged or misused. Always supervise children using electric toys.

Look for quality design and construction. Poorly constructed toys or those made from cheap materials may break easily, leaving sharp edges, wires or pieces that can hurt children.

Choose toys that are non-flammable, flame resistant, painted with non-toxic paint and made from washable and hygienic materials.

Look for safety features and warnings listed on the label. Avoid things like dart guns, sling shots and other toys that fire small objects. They can cause blinding eye injuries.

For more information or to report unsafe toys, call the toll free hotline of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture and Consumer Protection at (800) 422-7128.

Angel Choir

Make cones from stiff paper and fasten at the back. Cover these with pretty Christmas wrapping paper. Trim the bottom edges so that they can stand up straight. Glue pretty tinsel around the bottom. Cut four wings, for each angel, from foil paper (silver or gold); paste the wrong sides together; glue to back of cone.

Place a small Christmas ball to match the color of each cone, in the hole at the top of the cone.

Twist a piece of wire into a circle for the halo; leave several inches to bend down and tape where the wings join. Brush halo with glue and sprinkle with glitter.

Set the angel choir on a mirror, edged with evergreen sprigs.

Salvation Army: Poised and Ready for Serving Those in Need This Christmas

The Salvation Army has begun its Christmas services to the needy through its familiar Coats for Kids drives, Prison Toy Lift program, and finalized plans for many ministries throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

This week The Salvation Army's fund raising campaigns will begin with the familiar Christmas appeal letters entering your mail boxes and the 102nd year of the red kettle program beginning Thanksgiving weekend. We urge your support of this effort throughout the rural counties of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

During 1992, in the 415 communities of our region served by The Salvation Army Service Extension volunteers, 17,475 cases of assistance were provided serving 21,076 people. This service includes many happenings and events at Christmas which are enabled through your support. This year Christmas Cheer and the love of God will be provided through Christmas Day Dinners, involvement in food baskets and toys for the needy, nursing home visits and special events.

We thank each of you for your support in the past and hope that your continued support will help make this year's drive successful. May God richly bless each of you during the holiday season.

TREAT THE BIRDS

The Christmas season can be a difficult time for our feathered friends, the birds, particularly if there is a snow cover. You can trim an outdoor tree and decorate it with meat, vegetables and seeds to share your holiday blessings with cardinals, juncos, sparrows, finches and other birds. Those named above like vegetable seeds, but you can use such things as pine cones dipped in suet, bits of apples or carrots, even pie crusts to attract hungry blue jays, woodpeckers, nutcrackers, chickadees, warblers and brown creepers.

May the sweet memories of Christmas enhance your holidays now and forever.

Holiday Hints

Tips For Pretty Party Tresses

(NAPS)—You can give yourself a beauty boost this holiday season by heeding these hints on how to turn daytime hairstyles into nighttime party hair sensations from The Rave Fashion Design Team.

Sometimes it takes little more than a twist of the tresses to turn an everyday hairstyle into a festive holiday party look.

The most popular holiday hairstyle today is the French Twist. Turn your head over and start twisting hair in one direction from the bottom up, secure with bobby pins and decorative hairpieces. After securing, lift up head and sculpt any curls left out of your twist.

Add a hair piece to an up-do. Tease hair at the top of the head, create a straight line from ear to ear. Put in hair pins, curl hair ends in the back with curling iron, place some alluring pieces of hair in front of the face.

If you have straight hair in a blunt cut, create finger waves around your face and hold them with Rave Hairspray.

Throw in some hot rollers for a tousled, curly look or to revive droopy curls, use a curl booster to give them a lift.

For extra lift and body, spray roots with Rave Spray Gel and blow dry. Or, spray hair with a gel and blow dry hair upside down, flip head upright and pat hair into place.

Use a volumizing mousse for body. Set on velcro rollers to create shine and smoothness and a little extra body.

For irresistible finger waves, try Rave Spray Gel.

To prevent frizzing and to control split ends, try Rave Shine Spray.

Need Ideas for Children's Holiday Gifts? Here are 20 They Won't Outgrow.

With the holiday season speeding toward us, parents and grandparents are beginning their annual quest to find the "right" gifts for the children in their lives — gifts that will have meaning beyond this season or this year. Gifts that won't be sold at next summer's garage sale, because they're not "in" anymore. Gifts that their children will learn from and grow with, as well as enjoy.

"One of the best gifts you can give is the gift of discovery," said Dr. Alvin Granowsky, an expert in childhood education. "By selecting presents that expand their worlds, you're fueling their curiosity, broadening their knowledge, and providing a source of pleasure they'll enjoy for years to come."

With that in mind, here are 20 ideas for gifts that the children on your list won't outgrow — gifts for every interest and budget. Some are appropriate for one child, others, such as the telescope, the home computer, and the World Book Encyclopedia, are perfect family gifts. And all of them will be valued long after this year's trendy (and often very expensive) toys, fashions, sports equipment, and other "hot" gifts are gathering dust in the closet.

• A coin collecting book, coins minted the years you and the child were born, and a few foreign coins. Or a stamp collecting book, some stamps, and a magnifying glass.

• A small tent and sleeping bag, and an outdoor survival guide.

• A starter set of "real" tools: hammer, screwdriver, wrench, etc., engraved with his or her initials. Accompany it with a book of projects to try.

• An insect collection jar, a butterfly net, and a field guide (along with instructions to release the specimens unharmed).

• A telescope and glow-in-the-dark star guide.

• A classic board game, like chess, checkers or cribbage.

• An introduction to world events, history, heros and wonders (and a leg-up on homework), via a set of The World Book Encyclopedia.

• A bound journal and a copy of Thoreau's Walden to read together.

• A home computer, new software for the computer at home, or a used typewriter and a ream of paper.

• An introduction to your favorite sport: a putter and some golf balls; a tennis racket and a can of balls; a "grown up" baseball bat and ball; a football, soccer ball or basketball. And, of course, a few tips from you.

• Binoculars, a bird identification guide, and a bird feeder for their window. Or "adult" gardening tools, a gardening book and some seeds and bulbs.

• A piece of jewelry that symbolizes your shared faith (e.g. a Cross or Chai), or is significant in another way (e.g. a birthstone).

• A microscope and slides (both pre-prepared and blank).

• An "adult" watch or their own clock radio.

• Copies of a few of your favorite classic books, with a note written in each talking about when and why you enjoyed them.

• A piece of your family's history — something you received from a parent or grandparent, along with the story of its significance.

• A guide to fossils and some fossils or dinosaur bone fragments.

• An overnight bag or backpack embroidered with their initials.

• A musical instrument (as small as a harmonica, or as big as a piano), instructions or lessons.

Giving gifts from this list will gain you the quiet thanks of your child's or grandchild's teachers as well. Educators encourage students to pursue hobbies and collections, strongly recommend that children have reference materials and books available at home, and applaud all family efforts to keep their children excited about learning.

Holiday Hints

Sweet Treat

(NAPS)—Whether you bake a batch to munch at a holiday party, or whenever you'd like a tasty snack, this recipe for Nutty Caramel Corn is a winter-time treat you're likely to warm up to:

Evon's Nutty Caramel Corn

- 2 cups brown sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 1/8 tsp cream of tartar
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1 tsp baking soda
- 1/2 cup Evon's® Salted Cashews
- 1/2 cup Evon's® Natural Whole Almonds
- 1/2 cup Evon's® Flaked Coconut
- 4 quarts lightly salted popcorn
- 2/3 cup granola

Combine brown sugar, butter, cream of tartar and corn syrup in a heavy saucepan.

Nutty Caramel Corn is a tasty holiday treat that's easy to bake.

Boil for 3-5 minutes. Turn off heat and add baking soda. Pour over remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Bake on a large cookie sheet at 250° for approximately 1 hour, stirring every 15 minutes. Let cool and store in air-tight container at room temperature.

St. Joseph's Hospital Offering Gift Certificates for Massage

West Bend - St. Joseph's Community Hospital's health promotion department is offering massage gift certificates for holiday giving.

According to Barb Argabright, the hospital's health promotion coordinator, massage certificates are an ideal gift, especially for those individuals who maintain active and hectic lifestyles. "A massage is a therapeutic healing technique that is used to alleviate a wide range of problems, including stress," Argabright said.

Massage therapy gift certificates may be purchased daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. from the hospital switchboard operator. Persons purchasing certificates between December 13 and 24 will also receive a free holiday carnation.

The fee for a full body one-hour massage is $32, and $25 for a one-half hour massage.

Thanks, friends.

New Non-Alcoholic Drink Recipe Brochure Offered by AAA

The American Automobile Association's Wisconsin Division and some of Wisconsin's finest hotels have teamed up to provide holiday party hosts with some delicious non-alcoholic drink recipe ideas.

As part of Triple-A's annual "First a Friend, Then a Host" campaign, a brochure... "Holiday Diamond Delights" is now available to the general public at any of Triple-A's 13 offices around the state. The free brochure contains non-alcoholic holiday drink recipes from among Triple-A's highest rated lodgings in the state.

Triple-A assigns ratings of one to five diamonds -- with five diamonds being the highest rating, to nearly 29,000 inspected lodgings and restaurants across North America.

"Holiday Diamond Delights" contains non-alcoholic drink recipes from The American Club in Kohler; Embassy Suites Hotel - Milwaukee West; Hyatt Regency Milwaukee; Lake Lawn Lodge in Delavan; Mansion Hill in Madison; Paper Valley Hotel and Conference Center in Appleton; The Pfister Hotel in Milwaukee, and the Wyndham Milwaukee Center.

Single copies of "Holiday Diamond Delights" are available free at any Triple-A Wisconsin office or by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to AAA Wisconsin, Holiday Diamond Delights, PGR Dept., P.O. Box 33, Madison, WI 53701-0033.
