KHS Parking Fee to Increase Board Eliminates Library Position

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - In response to state legislature's mandating revenue caps in school districts, the Kewaskum Board of Education began the tough task of cutting costs at their monthly meeting last week.

The first position to be eliminated was that of James Sohns, the Middle School librarian. The position, which was reduced to 60% for this year, will be eliminated fully next year.

The position currently accounts for about $23,000, and will mean a savings of approximately $11,000 next year, after salary for another aide at KMS is taken into account.

"The elimination of the middle school library is a relatively easy cut to make," District Administrator David Heather said in his letter to Board members. "Elimination of a librarian position does not follow the district long range library service plan, but that plan was developed before revenue caps came into vogue."

Heather said that while the move was not a popular one, he felt that the district can continue to provide quality library facilities. "I do not believe that library instruction for children would be diminished," he said.

Sohns, who addressed the Board, brought along a petition signed by 22 members of the Middle School staff, who were against the layoff.

"I provide a number of services that an aide could not do," Sohns told the Board. "The Middle School needs a librarian. If not me, then somebody."

KMS Principal David Jones said that while he admired Sohns' courage in fighting for his job, he agreed with the cut.

In other matters taken up by the Board, parking fees for students at the high school will increase to $5 next year, up from the previous cost of $1. The money will go directly to the student's activity fund. The new regulations will help identify owners of vehicles parked on school property, and will also penalize those who are stopped for traffic violations on school grounds.

Two requests were virtually ignored by the Board after brief discussions. A request by the principals of St. Lucas (Kewaskum) and St. John's, Newburg, to change attendance boundaries for busing went by the wayside, when no one seconded John Schulte's motion to approve the measure.

In addition, Schulte's motion to approve a hot lunch program at St. Lucas was not seconded, killing the idea.

Recount of School District Referendum Fails by 15

The recount of ballots held Tuesday, April 12, on the failed April 5 school referendum resulted in the same outcome.

This time, the $5.3 million school building referendum failed by 15 votes, instead of the nine counted during the original tally, with the vote failing 956 to 947. The new count changed the totals to 961 to 946.

School Board President Neal Weare requested the recount on Friday, April 8. The school district Board of Election Canvassers recounted the ballots from Fond du Lac County Monday and ballots from Washington and Sheboygan Counties on Tuesday.

Pete Albers, Superintendent of the village Water Pollution Control Department, officially retired this week after 26 years of serving the community.

He was hired April 23, 1968 as head of the Sewage Treatment Plant. "A lot of things have changed since then," remarks Albers. "We don't use the word 'sewage' anymore." He received his first certification that year.

Albers recalls the expansion in 1972, tripling the size of the plant, along with considerable additions in 1975 and 1985. "Just last week we took in bids for another expansion to add a new sludge storage tank."

As the needs of the village increase, the plant is required to keep up with those needs, including the fast pace set by technological changes.

As president of the Wisconsin Wastewater Operators Conference, Pete heads a membership of over 2,000 people, making Kewaskum known across the state. He also holds a grade 4 certification, the highest class that can be achieved. New superintendent Robert Manthei, also holds this title.

Other awards accumulated by Albers include Operator of the Year, and the highest award given by the organization, the "George Bernauer Memorial Award" for exceptional contributions in the field of Wastewater Technology.

Albers and his wife, Joan, have two sons, Lamont and Scott. Lamont is Superintendent of Public Works and Utilities in Allenton. He will obtain the title of President of the conference next year.

Scott is the manager of Hazardous and Toxic Waste for the National Guard in Minnesota. Joan is retired from her position at the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts, but still fills in there when she is needed.

Formerly president of the Kewaskum Lions Club, Pete plans to stay involved with the community. He also plans, "a nice long ride on a motorcycle, plus some fishing and golfing," and staying in touch with the trade through consultation work.

"The trade has been very good to me and given me some nice awards. It's been a very interesting and challenging experience, and I've always maintained a very good working relationship with the DNR." Albers received a Proclamation and a gift certificate from the Village at Monday night's board meeting for his years of loyal service.

John Hazlewood Appearing In College Production

MINNEAPOLIS.... John F. Hazlewood of Kewaskum/West Bend will play Dr. Rank in Augsburg College's production of Henrik Ibsen's A Doll's House, opening April 22. Hazlewood, son of John, Sr., and Carol Hazlewood, is a senior majoring in theatre.

A Doll's House tells the story of a woman named Nora who, through a crisis, realizes her marriage has no meaning and that she and her husband have been role-playing, rather than actually relating to one another. Nora's decision to leave her family creates a resounding ending to the play -- an ending dubbed "the slamming door heard 'round the world."

Performance dates are April 22-24 and 28-30, at 7 p.m., and May 1 at 2 p.m. Performances are held at the Tjornbom-Nelson Theatre, Foss Center, at the corner of Riverside Avenue and 22nd Avenue S. in Minneapolis.

WAUKESHA - More than 90 Carroll College students studied during January in such places as Austria, China, Eastern Europe, Italy, Kenya, Russia and the Western United States as part of the college's New Cultural Experiences Program. The students were accompanied by faculty members.

The program gives students the opportunity to become more aware of their cultural conditioning by bringing them into contact with people of different backgrounds. Juniors and seniors are eligible for the travel seminars which average about four weeks. Students took part in orientation courses in the fall semester to prepare for the trips.

One of the traveling students was Nancy C. Neumann, an English major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Neumann of Kewaskum.

What's New at the Kewaskum Public Library?

An "American Girls" open house was held at the Kewaskum Library March 30. The girls pictured above are some of the girls that dressed like their favorite historical characters from the American Girls Collection for young people.

Spring Story Time for four and five year olds will begin on Friday, April 22, at 10 a.m. The six week session will feature stories, musical activities and crafts. Sign up now at the library.

The next Toddler Story Hour will meet on Wednesday, May 4, at 10 a.m. This story time is for two and three year old children accompanied by an adult. It meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month, and runs from September until June. We welcome newcomers at any time. Just sign up at the library.

The most popular "American Girl" is Felicity, with Samanth coming in second. Those attending our American Girls open house were encouraged to vote for their favorite girl. All five historical characters were on display and everyone enjoyed the displays of books, magazines, posters, videos, author pamphlets and refreshments.

The biggest attraction was seeing the 22 girls who were dressed up like American Girls characters. Each received a special goody bag. No one left empty-handed, however, everyone else attending was treated to a bookmark and a button.

There were also drawings for prizes. Stephanie Janz was the lucky winner of five "meet" books. This way she will meet all five American Girls, and learn about the historical time period of each. Posters were won by Jessica Fechter, Jamie Long, Rita Cannestra, Carissa Bauer, and Jessica Janz. The current issues of American Girls magazine were won by Jamie Wilson, Becky Ley, Erin Bannenberg and Kristin Mantz. Congratulations!

Ask Your School Board President

"Dear Mr. Weare:

Some in the Beechwood area hoped that the Beechwood Elementary School might be reopened as a charter school but the legislation to expand the charter school program failed to pass in the Wisconsin Legislature. Beechwood Elementary School remains closed although there has been considerable overcrowding at Farmington. Concerned citizens of the Beechwood area brought this issue up most recently at the November 1993 Kewaskum School District Board of Education meeting and again at the February 1994 Buildings and Grounds Committee meeting. I would like to know what exactly the School District of Kewaskum plans to do with Beechwood Elementary School. It seems quite irresponsible to let this building remain unused when it is the only fully handicapped-accessible building and the school building in the district which contains the largest classrooms."

ANSWER BY SCHOOL-BOARD PRESIDENT NEAL WEARE:

First of all, I'd like to point out that if the Kewaskum School District was given permission to establish a charter school, that there would be a lot of details that would have to be worked out first. It is also important to know that any school in the district could be designated as the charter school.

As to the overcrowding at Farmington that you elude to, I would like to share some numbers with you. 1) The capacity of Farmington Elementary School is about 300 students. 2) As of February 1, 1994, there were 271 students and the projected enrollment for the 94-95 school year is 256 students. Some people seem to feel that since the Beechwood School was closed, that Farmington Elementary has been overcrowded. I would like to point out that there was a time when Beechwood was open and Farmington had a student enrollment of 311 in the 1970's. In regards to Beechwood Elementary being the only fully handicapped-accessible building in the district, I would have to say that statement is false. According to the American's Disability Act (ADA) we do not have a school in the district that meets all of the requirements of the ADA. The only school in the district that comes close to meeting the requirements is the middle school. We are presently conducting an ADA audit of all district buildings. When this is complete I would be glad to share this communication with you in this column.

Now to answer your question on exactly what the School District of Kewaskum plans to do with Beechwood Elementary School. There are no plans now or in the future that I am aware of to reopen the school. Perhaps it is time to get two appraisals on the Beechwood School property and then place it on the agenda at the Annual Meeting and let you, the residents of the school district, vote on whether we should sell the building and the property or if we should continue to hold onto the property as we have for the past seven or eight years.

Kettle Moraine Wildlife Artists Continue Winning Traditions

Increasing in popularity is the collecting of wildlife art, and the emergence of four award-winning wildlife artists from this area have created art lovers in a great number of us.

These artists of the Kettle Moraine have sold their work nationally through original works and prints, won numerous competitions, and gained recognition as outstanding wildlife painters. They share a bond with nature, and capture the essence of the Kettle Moraine that is familiar to all of us.

Andy Stoffel of Campbellsport is a familiar name to area collectors of wildlife art. Known nationally as well as internationally, Stoffel has been an artist "all his life." Working in acrylics, pen and ink, and pencil, his list of awards are numerous.

In 1988, he was WOW Artist of the Year; in '89 - first place and best of show at the Horicon Marsh Fine Arts Show; 1990 - finalist in the Indiana Trout and Pheasant Stamp Competition; also a finalist in the WWF Artist of the Year in '91. In 1992 - first place and best of show for Recognition of Fine Arts in Wisconsin; '93 WWF Artist of the Year and finalist in the Wisconsin Inland Trout Stamp Competition, and finally first runner up in the Wisconsin Stamp Contest Competition.

"I've always been fascinated by nature," remarks Stoffel, and this past winter has been dedicated to the completion of three large murals at Marsh Haven in Horicon. They include a background scene for the bird aviary which is a scene of the Horicon Marsh brought indoors, a conservation mural, and a Native American scene including buffalo and elk. He is also working on a series of originals featuring the American Indian in relationship to wildlife.

Bill Millonig of Campbellsport was born with the blood of an artist, working as a child alongside his talented mother who painted in oils. After college, he actively pursued drawing and painting, taking classes at various colleges, and working with some well-known artists at the West Bend Gallery of Fine Arts. His medium is almost exclusively oils, but also includes watercolors in his collection of works.

His list of award winning wildlife art includes Wisconsin Wildlife Turkey Stamp in 1986; Wisconsin Great Lakes Salmon Stamp - 1988; and this past Friday he received word he won the 1995 Inland Trout Stamp of Wisconsin contest. Millonig also created the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation print.

"I guess I'm a landscape artist that includes wildlife in it," states Bill, and the Kettle Moraine area lends itself to the artists' themes, which can be seen throughout his work. The painter also teaches math at West Bend East High School.

Another Campbellsport self-taught artist, Dean (Dino)

Bohlman, stresses the idea that art isn't something that can be learned with a degree. "One thing people don't realize... you can't learn this in a college -- you have to get yourself into the woods, do research, study skeletal structures, go to zoos..." Bohlman has been drawing since he was six.

Wildlife art isn't his only talent, since Dean's list of business ventures include Signs and Lines Unlimited in Campbellsport, specializing in wooden signs; a musical group called the Alamo band in which he is the drummer and backup vocals, plus he's a marketer of security products and consumer electronics.

His work is featured every fall for a two-month period at Marsh Haven, along with Stoffel's work. Dean does approximately five to ten shows per year, with plans on increasing his exposure. His list of accomplishments include first place in the Wisconsin National Holstein Contest in 1986; 1988 finalist in WWF with a wolf print, and he also released a print entitled, "Ringnecks and Whitetails." In 1989 he won first place in the Wisconsin Ducks Unlimited Southern Chapter with a print of loons; was finalist in the South Carolina National Turkey Federation Contest, and a finalist in the South Dakota National Holstein contest and the Neenah Printing contest in 1991, and his work of a cardinal landed him as a 1994 finalist in the WWF Contest.

Known around the community as "Spid Pieper," Jim Pieper has created a following of musical fans that enjoy his singing and guitar playing, which he's been doing for the past 20 years. But the past ten years, a new talent has emerged in the field of wildlife art, that has taken him down new roads.

Raised in Mayville, Pieper spent a lot of time around the Horicon Marsh, its geese and wildlife. "I was interested in art since childhood and always drew," Jim remembers, a theme that runs through all four artists' memories. He attended Commercial Art School in Milwaukee Area Technical College for 1 1/2 years, but decided in order to be successful as a commercial artist, he'd have to work in a big city and that wasn't for him.

Wildlife artists such as Owen Gromme influenced his work, and he decided to gear his art toward entering contests, figuring, "if I was good enough to win, then I'd be good enough to start some bigger works."

Jim was a top ten finalist 14 times in state contests, top 20 in the Federal Duck Stamp Contest (twice), first place in the 1993 Turkey Stamp Contest, and this year took first in the Wisconsin Pheasant Stamp Contest sponsored by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

His turkey prints have been sold to collectors as well as galleries, and his recent pheasant print will soon be published. Prints are available through the artist. His work was done in oils exclusively until this past year, when he switched to acrylics. "I can change and correct things so much faster this way," Pieper adds.

These four artists have chosen to work in an area that abounds with wildlife and inspires the creations of consistent, award-winning artwork, and this feat is a rare accomplishment in a small town.

MADISON.... Many in Madison have recently become enamored with proposals to increase state funding of public elementary and secondary schools. Some describe these measures as "property tax relief" bills, designed to lessen the burden of education on landowners. Others tout the "equalizing effect" which state funding will allegedly create, allowing every school to have the same per-pupil expenditure, regardless of surrounding property values.

There is a growing body of both research and experiential evidence which suggests that greater centralization of public education, whether by physical consolidation of school districts or by moves toward state funding, can have major deleterious effects on the quality of education received by most students, while simultaneously increasing costs to taxpayers.

The Heartland Institute, a non-profit think tank and research organization in Palatine, Illinois, recently published the results of its scientific investigation into the impact of state funding on educational quality. This research has revealed several major changes in the educational system nationwide, each of which has had a deleterious effect on educational quality. These changes include consolidation of school districts and, more importantly, the shift to centralized state funding.

According to the Heartland Study, Losing Local Control of Education by Herb Walberg, "the number of school districts in the United States fell 87 percent between 1940 and 1990, from 117,108 to 15,367." Furthermore, each district has an average of 2,637 students, up from the 1940 mean of 217.

During this time, the compacting of more students into fewer districts was justified by the belief that the sort of mass-production of education made possible by consolidation would increase quality and decrease costs. However, school bureaucracies became too large, and ultimately, these "larger organizations on average produced poorer products and services." They became entrenched and wasteful as decision-making became removed from the parents of students, and as the complexity of interaction, and the importance of adherence to bureaucratic rules and paperwork grew.

Finally, the Heartland study found that large, impersonal school districts are ripe for capture by special interest groups. "While fewer in number than taxpayers or voters, the members of special interest groups are often better organized and better able to influence policy makers.... The success of teacher's unions, who dominate education policy-making, provides a good example."

Walberg's Heartland study also found an inverse relationship between the amount of state funding a district receives and the quality of education it imparts; that is, more state funding equals lower educational quality. Though the reasons for this finding are not evident at first glance, they are tied to the problems wrought by the consolidation of school districts.

Walberg has found that the increase of state funding as a percentage of a district's total operating budget has given state legislatures and Departments of Instruction the leverage needed to mandate new facilities and programs such as driver education, environmental awareness and multiculturalism, outcome-based education, and computer and reading labs. Failure on the part of local districts to comply with these requirements will result in the loss of a huge portion of the district revenues. Thus, local control over district curriculum and spending is eroded by increased state funding of schools.

Furthermore, an increased local dependence on state monies "place(s) responsibility for decision-making in large, remote, hierarchical agencies... (which) makes it more difficult for local school boards and staff to exercise control." Instead, according to Walberg, this control reverts to well-organized wielders of influence, such as the teachers' unions, who are able to make sizeable contributions to the election campaigns of state-level leaders. The centralization of funding decisions afforded by state school funding allows lobbying groups to concentrate their money and influence on just a few decision-makers. This is not done readily now, as decisions are made by thousands of people in hundreds of geographically-distant districts.

Interestingly enough, increased state funding has not even fulfilled its single most-touted promise; it has not decreased costs or reduced the financial burden on taxpayers. Walberg notes, "as states have assumed an increasing share of the cost of educating students, per-student spending has increased dramatically." What's worse, this increased per-pupil spending has not increased quality; the inverse relationship between spending and quality has been established by a multitude of studies.

The movement to shift the onus for school funding from the property tax rolls to the state is flawed on several grounds: it is likely to further consolidate school districts under one central state umbrella; it is virtually guaranteed to destroy the ability of parents and taxpayers to affect curriculum and spending; it will increase costs to taxpayers; and most importantly, it will allow for the further infiltration of strong special interests into the educational process, imposing new curricula to meet their ends.

Representative Grothman wants your input on the issue of increasing state funding of the public schools. You may contact him by calling the Legislative Hotline at 1-800-362-9472. You may also call his office line at (608) 264-8486, or you may write to him at: P.O. Box 8952, Madison, WI 53708.

$33.8 Billion is 1993 Tax Take in Wisconsin

Taxes collected in Wisconsin by federal, state and local governments totaled $33.8 billion in 1993, up 8.8% from 1992, according to a report by the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance (WTA), Madison.

The WTA, a privately supported government-research and citizen-education organization, said that federal taxes accounted for 61% of all taxes, with $20.6 billion collected. This was an 8.7% increase in collections over 1992. State taxes in 1993 yielded $8.2 billion, or 24% of the tax total. This was an increase of 7.7%. The remaining 15% of the taxes came primarily from net local property taxes, which in 1993 were $4.8 billion, up 9.9% from the previous year. This was the 1992 levy collected in 1993.

In tracing tax collection growth from 1984 to 1993, the WTA said that federal taxes collected in Wisconsin went up 72%, while state taxes rose 49%. The highest growth was in local taxes, which climbed 101%; the net property tax was up 95%.

Of the 1993 federal tax collections, 83% came from just two sources -- taxes on individual income ($9.1 billion or 44%) and social security ($8 billion, or 39%).

Of the more than 25 different state taxes, just two accounted for 70% of the 1993 total, according to the WTA. Individual income taxes of $3.4 billion provided 42%, and the $2.3 billion from the sales tax produced another 28%.

The WTA noted that 60% of gross property taxes in 1993 was education related. Public school levies of $2.8 billion made up 55% of the total, and vocational school taxes of $269 million were 5%. Other parts of the property tax pie and their shares of the total were: municipal taxes for city, village and town operations, $1 billion (19%); county taxes, $815 million (16%); taxes for special district purposes, $207 million (4%); and state forestry taxes, $32 million (1%).

The WTA said that, based on studies by the U.S. Bureau of the Census and Tax Foundation, 1993 federal, state and local taxes for a median 2-earner family of 4 would be $20,960, or 40% of its $51,883 household income. The tax share is higher than housing, food and medical expenses combined.

For a free copy of the report on 1993 total taxes collected in Wisconsin, which includes a 10-year listing of collections of each Wisconsin state and local tax, write the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, 335 West Wilson Street, Madison 53703-3694.

IN MEMORY

REMEMBERING LLOYD KELLER

Who passed away three years ago, April 26, 1991:

I remember you ...
 at the rising of the sun and at its going down.
 at the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter.
 at the opening of the buds and in the coming of spring.
 I remember you ...
 at the blueness of the skies and in the warmth of summer.
 at the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn.
 at the beginning of the year and when it ends.
 As long as I live, you too will live;
 For you are a part of me.
 And I will always remember you.

Deeply missed by Carole

THANK YOU

I would like to thank my family, relatives and friends who remembered me in the hospital.

Also to those who sent flowers, cards and came to see me in the hospital and at home. Thanks to the nurses on second floor and special thanks to Dr. Gibson, Dr. Mosely and Dr. Owens.

Thanks very much.

WATER UTILITY INFORMATION

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY

The SDWA [Safe Drinking Water Act] requires Water Utilities to conduct testing for lead and copper levels. The EPA [Environmental Protection Agency] was charged with determining maximum levels for safe water.

The Kewaskum Water Utility has completed Round 1 and Round 2 of this testing. Twenty [20] samples were collected and analyzed for each round. The test results were all below all MCL [maximum contaminant levels] established.

In regular terms the water supply "passed" the lead and copper testing. This completes our lead and copper monitoring for the year 1994.

Indians Beat Elkhart Lake

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM The Kewaskum girls softball team got off to a flying start in their conference opener against Elkhart Lake here, last Thursday afternoon.

Behind the pitching of Tanya Krahn, and a potent hitting attack, the Indians routed the Resorters 10-0 in five innings.

"We did pretty well for the first game," KHS coach Janet Molebash said of the outing. "It was a good start for us, both offensively and defensively."

Offensively, the Indians got their bats rolling in the third inning, scoring five runs. Senior Kim Resch drove in a pair of runs with a single, while freshman Sussie Vrana added two hits in the inning.

The outburst put KHS ahead 6-0, with Krahn cruising on the mound. The sophomore allowed just one Elkhart Lake hit in the five innings, striking out one and walking one. The Indian defense did its part as well, not committing a single error.

"I was real happy with our defense," Molebash said. "You have to give the girls credit. They played real well."

Kewaskum put the game away with four runs in their half of the fifth. Debbie Neumann, Chery Michaels (2), and Sara Steinert all had RBI's in the frame, with Steinert's ending the game because of the 10-run rule.

Resch, Vrana and Michelle Gundrum each had two hits to pace the KHS offense. As a team, the Indians rapped out 14 hits, with nine of the 12 KHS players collecting at least one base hit.

The Indians, now 1-0, are at Kiel Monday, and then are at Plymouth on Thursday. Next week, KHS is again on the road, Thursday at Sheboygan Falls (DH), and Friday to Slinger for a tournament.

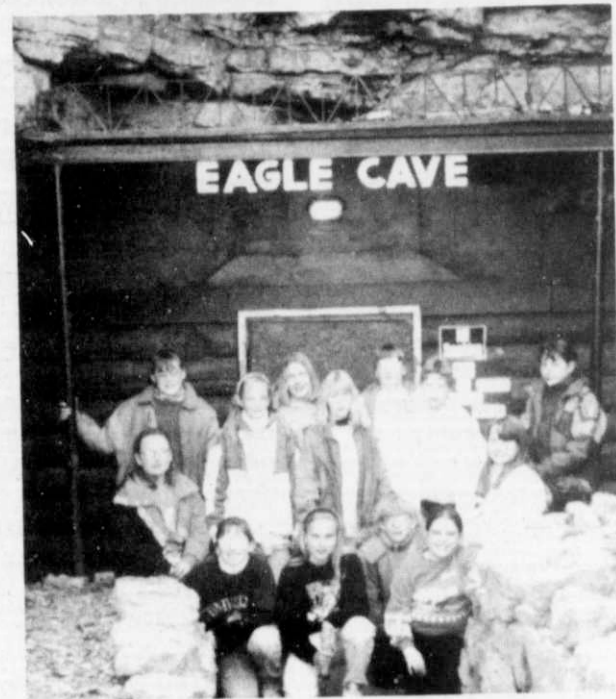

Members Selected For 1994 State 4-H Drama Company

Among those chosen through statewide auditions for the 1994 State 4-H Drama Company is Nick Bailey, a member of the Kettle Moraine Kids 4-H Club. Nick is the son of Julia Desterhott of Kewaskum.

Every year twenty to twenty-five 4-H youth and adult leaders come together to create an original play that speaks to the concerns of young people today. Youth members, ages 15-19, and adults develop the play with the guidance of University of Wisconsin faculty member and Extension Theatre Arts Specialist Joan Lazarus, and a group of professional scene designers, stage hands and acting coaches she assembles. Adult leaders work side by side with Joan and the youth actors and technicians.

The 1994 activities of the Drama Company included a rehearsal camp in Wisconsin Dells, April 15-17. Rehearsals and the performance of the group will be held at State 4-H Congress in Madison in mid-June.

Girl Scouts At Eagle Cave

Their first day at Eagle Cave in Blue River consisted of going hiking and horseback riding. In the evening the scouts sat around a campfire singing songs and toasting marshmallows. Their day also included checking out the cave they would be sleeping in. On the second day the Wau-Bun Girl Scout Troops 39 and 25 went on several different hikes, such as the Mountain Goat Hike, Compass Hikes and Golden Nugget Hike. They also made friends with Helde the arctic fox, Joe the raccoon, and Peanut, Freckles and Bamb the White Tail Deer. They also enjoyed peacocks, Chinese pheasants, and a parrot from the jungles. The day ended with packing for leaving and souvenir shopping. Thanks to the leaders and parents who drove and made this trip possible.

Girl Scouts from troops 39 and 25 shared a warm lunch while at Eagle Cave in Blue River, on April 6. Everyone enjoyed their first day and all the activities.

On the second day, Troop 25 enjoyed a delicious breakfast. Hot cereal, cocoa, donuts and toast were on the menu. The weather was beautiful and the night in the cave was quite an awakening experience.

Inexperienced Softball Team Opens Season

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - After losing several of its top players to graduation, this year's Kewaskum girls softball team will have to learn by doing, according to coach Janet Molebash.

"We have a lot of new people this year," Molebash said in assessing her team. "We have eight people back from last year, but only two were regular starters. Most of the others are playing different positions.

Leading the list of returning players are a trio of sophomores. Pitcher/infielder Tanya Krahn, infielder Tanya Laubach, and infielder Angie Bindrich will help make the KHS infield a strength this year.

Add freshman Susie Vrana, and soph Debbie Neumann to the fold, and the Indian infield shapes up quite well.

Upperclassmen will occupy the majority of outfield positions, according to Molebash. Michelle Gundrum, Shelly Williams, Cheryl Michaels, Sara Steinert, Kim Resch, Stephanie Heberer and Missy Junk will all be vying for playing time in the outfield.

"We are really weak at pitching," Molebash said, noting the loss of Rachelle Krahn, who handled the majority of the duties the past two seasons. Tanya Krahn will take over for her sister, as will Heberer.

"Our hitting should be halfway decent," Molebash added. "Plus, they work really well as a team. They are really supporting each other this year."

Indian Golfers 4th at Horicon

By Noel Stollenwerk

HORICON - Invitational victories will be few and far between for the Kewaskum golfers this season. So last Friday's fourth-place finish at the six-team Horicon Invitational wasn't all that bad, according to KHS coach Joe Harlow.

"We did okay," Harlow said of his team's total of 271 strokes. Pewaukee dominated the meet, easily winning with a 229 total. Beaver Dam was second (248), host Horicon third (251), followed by the Indians, Waupun (274.) and Slinger (279).

"Pewaukee did a real nice job," Harlow said of the Invitational champs, who posted consistent scores of 44, 45, 46 and two 47's. "That was outstanding."

Fighting tough windy conditions, the Indians were led by sophomore Luke Chesak, who fired a 48. "He's been one of our steady performers," Harlow said of Chesak, who finished eighth in the 30-person field.

Gregg Serwe was next low for the Indians, as he shot a 50. Beaver Dam's Chad Boeroie was the meet medalist with his round of 43.

The Indians have an interesting week ahead, with their first home match against New Holstein on Thursday, and then the Hartford Invitational on Friday.

"We should bet a better barometer of where we stand this week," Harlow said. "We should have a pretty good idea of what we can do."

HORICON INVITATIONAL TEAM SCORES

Pewaukee 229; Beaver Dam 248; Horicon 252; Kewaskum 271; Waupun 274; Slinger 279.
KEWASKUM - Chesak 48, Serwe 50; Heather 54, Vetter 55, Westerman 64.

75 Years Ago

April 19, 1919

A deal was consummated last week whereby Herman W. Meilahn disposed of his furniture stock and business and undertaking and embalming business, located in the Mrs. Nic Marx building on upper Main Street in this village, to Clemens Reinders of West Bend. Mr. Meilahn purchased the furniture and undertaking establishment from John Muehleis and Co., eleven and one-half ago and has, since that time, worked up a large trade. His many friends here, regret to learn of his retirement from the furniture and undertaking business. Mr. Meilahn is undecided as to what he intends to do. Clemens Reinders, the new owner, is a young married man of West Bend who comes to this village, not as a stranger to the citizens of this village and therefore needs no introduction. He is a man who has had considerable experience in the furniture and undertaking and embalming business.

The plant of the Northwestern Iron Company of Mayville was badly wrecked and burned Tuesday afternoon caused by an explosion of 35 ton of naphthaline which was awaiting shipment. Two employees in the building narrowly escaped when the first explosion took place. The damage done is estimated at $50,000.

The following class of eight children was confirmed on Good Friday at the Reformed Church in Wayne: Estella Foerster, Eva Fritz, Roselia Coulter, Marie Petri, Washington Foerster, Alphonse Turke, William Coulter and John Coulter.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Kudck of Wayne, on April 6th, a little daughter.

Flower Sales At West Bend

Area residents can once more look forward to spring gardening and a "Gardeners' Delight." This is the title of the two flower sales sponsored by the West Bend Beautification Committee, Inc. and Lac Lawrann Conservancy.

Again this year, the sales will be held the Saturday before Mother's Day, May 7, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The conservancy's wild flower and perennial sale will be located at the conservancy at 300 Schmidt Rd., West Bend.

WBBC's sale of daylillies will be in a new location, The Workshop On North Main, 900 N. Main St., West Bend.

The seventh annual wild flower and perennial sale is on a first come, first served basis and features woodland, prairie and wetland plants and perennials from conservancy volunteers' gardens and woodlots, construction sites, and two local nurseries. This year's plants will be displayed in the barn as well as the shed at the conservancy to avoid crowding problems of the past.

The daylillies, which are the West Bend city flowers, offered by the WBBC should be ordered by April 30, and payment must accompany the order. The plants offered are large, landscapers clumps, (gallon sized containers). Order blanks for the daylillies are available at the Park Department in City Hall and at area businesses and the library. Extra clumps of daylillies will be available the day of the sale on a first come, first serve basis.

For more information, call the West Bend Park and Recreation Department at 335-5080.

Letters to The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

Enough is enough! I recently read that the State Superintendent of schools sent the Kewaskum School District notice to change the school mascot from Indians to ??

The village took the name of an Indian, Chief Kewaskum, because he was a wise and honorable man. A fitting name for the village young people competing in games is "The Indians."

I'm quite sure that Chief Kewaskum would be proud of "The Indians." If the board or anyone else wants to change that name, then the village name should be changed to "Wimpville."

Elmer Hallen

April 14, 1994

Dear Editor:

Those of you in touch with the Kewaskum School District are well aware that we, the educators of your children, are disappointed with the lack of value placed on us by the school board. As a concerned professional on staff at Kewaskum High School, I would like to share with you the many roles I have fulfilled at KHS, as "merely" a "classroom teacher": foreign language, English, geography, history, etiquette, and social skills instructor; editor; publisher; advisor to two student organizations; sole leader/organizer of upcoming student Spain tour/homestay; sports events worker; dance chaperone; lunch-hour restroom supervisor (enforcer of "smoke-free zone"); study period supervisor; book-keeper; forensics and cheerleading judge; cook; chauffeur; and general listener and motivator.

When people express negativity against teachers, when I hear non-educators describe how "easy" teachers' lives are, I question the knowledge of the people making these comments. Have these people filled these positions? Have they experienced the countless other roles of my colleagues? Have they consistently taken their own employees' problems at home at night? Have they spent hundreds of their own dollars annually on materials beyond what their employer has provided?

The recently-reported "worth" of a housewife/mother (even one without a post-high school education) stands at over $63,000 annually. What, then, is the "worth" of a professional educator? (some have multiple degrees all gained at their own expense.)

Many thanks to those of you who raise your children to value their opportunity to learn and to respect their elders' positions and assistance. You have provided me, and other educators, many intrinsic rewards! I appreciate your continued support and encouragement.

Barbara Hoeft Olsen

April 14, 1994

Dear Editor:

The school district of Kewaskum saw fit to award its administrative team with fairly substantial pay increases when the contracts were issued for 93-94. This is as it should be. These people work hard and have provided the district with leadership which ensures that Kewaskum students receive quality education. The administrators for their part hire and supervise high quality professionals to implement their programs.

The success of the students in Kewaskum schools is as much a result of the individual classroom teachers as it is a result of excellent administrative leadership. I believe that the administration realizes this. The teachers realize this. Parents and students realize this.

It is unfortunate that the school board refuses to realize the importance of the teaching staff. The board did not offer the teachers the same pay increases that it offered the administrative team. Was this simply an oversight? Or does the board wish to send the message to the teachers that their work is not valued as much as the other district employees?

Kevin Chambers
Kewaskum High School Educator

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the many great students of the Kewaskum High School who belong to the Student Council and who organized the Senior Citizens Prom, which was held on April 17. It was a great prom.

It sure made us Senior Citizens feel proud to think that there are kids out there who do respect and think of us seniors.

They all did a fabulous job. Thanks again for the memories.

8,716 Attend DNR Spring Rules Hearings

MADISON -- Most Wisconsin sports people who attended the Department of Natural Resources Spring Fish and Wildlife Rule Hearings would like to see an extended pheasant season, an increase in the size limit for muskellunge, a size and daily bag limits established for northern pike in 26 southern counties, and an elimination of the current early trout season.

Those were among the statewide voting results from the annual hearings that were held Monday, April 11, in each of the state's 72 counties. More than 8,700 people attended the meetings statewide, according to Al Phelan, spring hearings coordinator for the Department of Natural Resources.

"There were about 3,400 more people who turned out for the hearings this year over last year," Phelan said. "Although last year the hearing conflicted with the NCAA basketball tournaments. We timed the hearing this year so we wouldn't have any conflicts like that."

The turnout was still down from record turnouts in 1991 and 1992, when more than 9,000 people attended the hearings, he said.

In general, voters supported many of the proposed rule changes, with the statewide majority approving 60 of the 85 questions. However, voters rejected by narrow margins, proposals to allow hunters to use hunters choice or bonus antlerless deer permits to take antlerless deer during the bow season.

Statewide results from a survey on baiting deer showed that hunters remain split on the issue, with 43 percent indicating they believed all deer hunting over bait should be prohibited and 57 percent indicating it should not be prohibited.

The following is a sampling of questions and statewide vote results:

*Extend the pheasant hunting season closure from early December to December 31: 4,995 yes, 1,195 no;

*Extend the beaver trapping season in Zone A from March 15 to April 30: 4,397 yes, 1,146 no;

*Create a central zone for otter harvest: 3,612 yes, 148 no;

*Increase the otter bag limit from two to three in the north zone and from one to two in the central zone: 3,403 yes, 782 no;

*Allow hunters to use hunters choice permit for antlerless deer during the archery season: 3,361 yes, 3,709 no;

*Allow hunters to use bonus antlerless deer permits during the archery season: 3,380 yes, 3,420 no;

*Expand the coyote hunting closed area during the gun deer season to include the region of the state north of Highway 29: 3,390 yes, 2,468 no;

*Establish a 26-inch length limit and two per day bag limit for northern pike in 28 southern counties: 3,837 yes, 1,358 no;

*Establish a minimum length and a daily bag limit for northern pike on select waters around the state: 2,929 yes, 2,343 no;

*Increase the statewide length limit for muskellunge to 34 inches in 1995 and 36 inches in 1996: 4,061 yes, 1,904 no;

*Close the early trout season in 11 southwest counties: 2,527 yes, 1,096 no;

*Establish a statewide duck season between October 8 and November 6: 1,058 yes, 3,737 no;

*Ban the use of Swedish hooks in all waters: 3,766 yes, 1,053 no;

*Eliminate the net proceeds tax for mining and replace it with a depletion allowance based on the value of the mined ore: 2,716 yes, 40 no;

*Eliminate exemptions from existing environmental regulations for mining: 2,467 yes, 157 no;

*Should DNR and Natural Resources Board defend and protect criteria used to select lakes and rivers for outstanding and exceptional resource waters classification: 2,550 yes, 97 no.

Goeden Wins Wilmot Feature Event

Don Goeden's modified #27 sprint car.

Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Racing Association (EWSCRA) 1992-93 Modified Champion.

Don Goeden of Kewaskum went to Wilmot on Sat. evening and came home the winner of the Modified Racing Association (MRA) main event. For the last few years, Goeden and other drivers from this area have been competing at the Wilmot Speedway before the Sheboygan Country Fair Race Track at Plymouth opens its facility.

In the feature event Gary Dye of Genesee, started on the pole, with Jim Uttech Jr. of Kenosha, MRA 1993 Champion Lenny Ostroski of North Cape and Dennis Spitz of Kenosha, all MRA top contenders, starting in front of Goeden. (Straight-up start for all events according to the point standings in the MRA rules.)

For the first 13 laps of the 20 lap event there was a see-saw for the lead. When the caution came out on lap 13, Ostroski had taken over the lead from Dye with Goeden in hot pursuit. Ostroski got the jump on Goeden on the restart and it looked as the victory would be his. But on lap 15 another caution came out and this time Goeden eased closely on Ostroski's back bumper. Patience and skill again gave Goeden the green light as he passed Ostroski on the inside of turn three on the quarter mile clay oval for the win and $600.00.

"It was a rough track, but by easing through the corners for that extra bite...I was able to pass him when he went out to the cushion."

New Challenges for Champion Modified Driver

Don Goeden

This year Don Goeden of Kewaskum plans to broaden his horizons, and take on new challenges in the racing field.

He has purchased a sprint car from Darrel Dodd, who had built the chassis for the modified #27. That chassis, the Goeden know how on set up and the skill of driving, won Don Goeden two consecutive championships (1992-93) in the modified division of the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car racing

Association (EWSCRA).

"It's always something I wanted to do," says Goeden. "I know it will take more sponsor monies and time. But I want to try my skills in a different direction." Although his dad, Willie Goeden never competed in the sprint car division, Don still feels he is on the same path his father took years ago.

The elder Goeden pursued a career in the Late Model division and competed at asphalt tracks in the area. He went on to win quite a few features and championships during the 70's and 80's. "I know my dad always like to 'experiment' when he was racing. Now I plan to 'experiment' in this division."

Goeden will be competing in only five shows for the Interstate Racing Association (IRA). This is so he can maintain rookie status in that organization for the 1994 racing season. He could run at Wilmot if EWSCA in Plymouth were ever canceled.

Next Sat., April 23rd there will be a practice run for all divisions of cars that plan to compete on a regular basis at the Beaver Dam Race Track. Goeden hopes the sprint car with the traditional Goeden blue and white paint attire will be ready. "Not only am I looking forward to facing new challenges on the track, but my brother Dave and the crew are eager to learn new set ups in this division."

Events on Goeden's sprint car schedule are: Thurs., July 28th at Plymouth, Thurs., June 23rd, July 21, Aug. 11 at Hales Corners.

Other events pending are: May 1st and Aug. 28th at Manitowoc Expo Raceway.

Goeden will continue to compete regularly at the Sheboygan Country Fair Grounds, Plymouth every Sat. night and defend his modified championship.

Kewaskum Athletics Open Season Saturday

The Kewaskum Athletics Rock River league baseball team opens play with a pair of non-league games this weekend.

On Sat., April 23 the A's will travel to St. Cloud for a 12:30 game. Sunday Kewaskum goes to Mt. Calvary for a game which also starts at 12:30. League play begins on May 1st when Waupun hosts the Athletics in a 1:30 contest.

Kewaskum is looking to improve on its 1993 record of 10-8. Hopes are high as everyone is returning from last years team including five players who earned all-star honors.

Doug Goring was named Most Valuable Player in the Northern Division as well as being the all-star catcher. He led the league in home runs, hits, total bases, and slugging percentage. Doug tied for the lead in runs batted in and doubles. He also was a close second in batting average.

Terry Koth won all-star honors at third base and compiled a season that made him one of Goring's strongest competitors for MVP honors. Koth tied for the league lead in doubles and was second in slugging percentage, runs scored, hits, home runs and total bases. Terry was fourth in the league in runs batted in and batting average.

Dave Donath made the all-star team at second base. He led the league in runs scored and tied Koth for fourth place in runs batted in. He hit six home runs to give the A's the top three home run hitters in the league (Goring had eight and Koth hit seven). Donath also was fifth in total bases.

Don Menzel finished high in the voting for pitcher of the year as well as gaining an all-star berth. Menzel had a 9-3 record while placing in the top five in six out of the seven pitching stats which the league keeps. Veteran Rich Leitheiser was rewarded with a spot in the all-star team outfield on the strength of a solid performance at the plate and in the field.

Solid seasons were turned in by Dennis Aupperle (P), Barry Wenzlaff (OF), Mark Schlosser (2B/OF), Greg Rinn (C/OF), and Rick Peck (1B/OF). Shawn Schneider (P/IF), Kim Marx (2B/OF), Chad Cook (OF/1B) and Randy Schlice (2B/OF) all were productive in their first full seasons with the A's.

The Athletics are looking forward to the addition of several new players. Todd Muckerheide (OF/P), Scott Donath (C/IF), Matt Schlosser (IF/P), Brad Weinrich (IF/P), Aaron Rettler (IF), Robbie Kertscher (OF) and Dave Pauers (OF/P) are all expected to make substantial contributions.

There are some new things in store for this season, including a new home field, a new team in the Northern Division and a new league. With the support of the Kiwanis of Kewaskum and the Village of Kewaskum, the A's are working to make one of the softball/little league diamonds at the Kiwanis park suitable for adult play. This will not interfere with current use for youth baseball and softball. Also new for this year will be the return to Tri-County Nite league play after a few years absence.

One thing that has not changed is the person manning the scorebook. Ted Miller returns for his 34th season as Kewaskum's official scorekeeper.

Lady Indians Outlast Cougars

By Noel Stollenwerk

CAMPBELLSPORT - Kewaskum girls track coach Perry Koth admitted to being a bit concerned early in his team's meet against Campbellsport here, last Thursday.

The Cougars started off strongly, but it was the Indians who finished strong and came away with the win. KHS won nine events en route to a 77-60 win over their rivals to the west.

"They have a nice team," Koth said of the Cougars, who bolted to an early lead. "It was pretty competitive."

Thanks to the Indian advantage in the weights and field events, however, KHS was able to outlast their foes. Sweeps in the shot put and discus paved the way.

Kelly Schreffler added to the Indian dominance in the field events, winning the high jump by clearing 4-11. "That's the best she's ever done," Koth said of the sophomore Schreffler's effort.

"We have a lot of depth in the shot and discus," Koth explained, noting Katie and Becky Yogerst, along with Jenny Goodsell are capable of scoring some points.

Marni Lynn also showed she is able to compete with the best of them, winning both the mile (5:46) and two-mile (12:38). "Those were her best times of the year," Koth said, adding, "She was the first girl to break the 6:00 mark this year."

A couple of regulars, senior Ginger Wiesner and junior Greta Kuphal were limited in their participation. Wiesner had to leave the meet early, while Kuphal is being held out due to a nagging leg injury. Koth said he was being cautious with Kuphal because of last season, when she missed most of the season with a leg problem.

Still, Wiesner took second in the long jump (15-9), while Kuphal helped the 1600 relay win in 4:34

Koth was pleased with the times of Jenny Jagielski and Jenny Strobel in the 100 dash, as each came across the tape in 13.7.

He was extremely happy with the hurdles duo of Heather Downs and Mary Yahr, as well. Downs won the 110 hurdles (16.8), while Yahr took the 300's (51.7). Both times "were very good," according to their coach.

After a relatively easy week, the Indians got back into competition this week with a home triangular (Chilton and Sheboygan Falls) on Tuesday, and an away meet Thursday (Plymouth). The Lady Indians will also take part in the Concordia Invitational on Saturday.

That meet will begin a six-day, three-Invitational period for KHS. After the Concordia meet, the Lady Indians will take part in the County Invite on Tuesday, and the Pewaukee Invitational next Friday.

New Challenges for Champion Modified Driver

This year Don Goeden of Kewaskum plans to broaden his horizons, and take on new challenges in the racing field.

He has purchased a sprint car from Darrel Dodd, who had built the chassis for the modified #27. That chassis, the Goeden know how on set up and the skill of driving, won Don Goeden two consecutive championships (1992-93) in the modified division of the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car racing

The Kewaskum Athletics Rock River league baseball team opens play with a pair of non-league games this weekend.

On Sat., April 23 the A's will travel to St. Cloud for a 12:30 game. Sunday Kewaskum goes to Mt. Calvary for a game which also starts at 12:30. League play begins on May 1st when Waupun hosts the Athletics in a 1:30 contest.

Kewaskum is looking to improve on its 1993 record of 10-8. Hopes are high as everyone is returning from last years team including five players who earned all-star honors.

Doug Gonring was named Most Valuable Player in the Northern Division as well as being the all-star catcher. He led the league in home runs, hits, total bases, and slugging percentage. Doug tied for the lead in runs batted in and doubles. He also was a close second in batting average.

Terry Koth won all-star honors at third base and compiled a season that made him one of Gonring's strongest competitors for MVP honors. Koth tied for the league lead in doubles and was second in slugging percentage, runs scored, hits, home runs and total bases. Terry was fourth in the league in runs batted in and batting average.

Dave Donath made the all-star team at second base. He led the league in runs scored and tied Koth for fourth place in runs batted in. He hit six home runs to give the A's the top three home run hitters in the league (Gonring had eight and Koth hit seven). Donath also was fifth in total bases.

Don Menzel finished high in the voting for pitcher of the year as well as gaining an all-star berth. Menzel had a 9-3 record while placing in the top five in six out of the seven pitching stats which the league keeps. Veteran Rich Leitheiser was rewarded with a spot in the all-star team outfield on the strength of a solid performance at the plate and in the field.

Solid seasons were turned in by Dennis Aupperle (P), Barry Wenzlaff (OF), Mark Schlosser (2B/OF), Greg Rinn (C/OF), and Rick Peck (1B/OF). Shawn Schneider (P/IF), Kim Marx (2B/OF), Chad Cook (OF/1B) and Randy Schlice (2B/OF) all were productive in their first full seasons with the A's.

The Athletics are looking forward to the addition of several new players. Todd Muckerheide (OF/P), Scott Donath (C/IF), Matt Schlosser (IF/P), Brad Weinrich (IF/P), Aaron Rettler (IF), Robbie Kertscher (OF) and Dave Pauers (OF/P) are all expected to make substantial contributions.

There are some new things in store for this season, including a new home field, a new team in the Northern Division and a new league. With the support of the Kiwanis of Kewaskum and the Village of Kewaskum, the A's are working to make one of the softball/little league diamonds at the Kiwanis park suitable for adult play. This will not interfere with current use for youth baseball and softball. Also new for this year will be the return to Tri-County Nite league play after a few years absence.

One thing that has not changed is the person manning the scorebook. Ted Miller returns for his 34th season as Kewaskum's official scorekeeper.

Lady Indians Outlast Cougars

By Noel Stollenwerk

CAMPBELLSPORT - Kewaskum girls track coach Perry Koth admitted to being a bit concerned early in his team's meet against Campbellsport here, last Thursday.

The Cougars started off strongly, but it was the Indians who finished strong and came away with the win. KHS won nine events en route to a 77-60 win over their rivals to the west.

"They have a nice team," Koth said of the Cougars, who bolted to an early lead. "It was pretty competitive."

Thanks to the Indian advantage in the weights and field events, however, KHS was able to outlast their foes. Sweeps in the shot put and discus paved the way.

Kelly Schreffler added to the Indian dominance in the field events, winning the high jump by clearing 4-11. "That's the best she's ever done," Koth said of the sophomore Schreffler's effort.

"We have a lot of depth in the shot and discus," Koth explained, noting Katie and Becky Yogerst, along with Jenny Goodsell are capable of scoring some points.

Marni Lynn also showed she is able to compete with the best of them, winning both the mile (5:46) and two-mile (12:38). "Those were her best times of the year," Koth said, adding, "She was the first girl to break the 6:00 mark this year."

A couple of regulars, senior Ginger Wiesner and junior Greta Kuphal were limited in their participation. Wiesner had to leave the meet early, while Kuphal is being held out due to a nagging leg injury. Koth said he was being cautious with Kuphal because of last season, when she missed most of the season with a leg problem.

Still, Wiesner took second in the long jump (15-9), while Kuphal helped the 1600 relay win in 4:34.

Koth was pleased with the times of Jenny Jagielski and Jenny Strobel in the 100 dash, as each came across the tape in 13.7.

He was extremely happy with the hurdles duo of Heather Downs and Mary Yahr, as well. Downs won the 110 hurdles (16.8), while Yahr took the 300's (51.7). Both times "were very good," according to their coach.

After a relatively easy week, the Indians got back into competition this week with a home triangular (Chilton and Sheboygan Falls) on Tuesday, and an away meet Thursday (Plymouth). The Lady Indians will also take part in the Concordia Invitational on Saturday.

That meet will begin a six-day, three-Invitational period for KHS. After the Concordia meet, the Lady Indians will take part in the County Invite on Tuesday, and the Pewaukee Invitational next Friday.

Heise Named KHS Baseball Coach

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - As an ex-pitcher, Mark Heise thinks that he has what it takes to be a high school coach. Apparently, there are those in the Kewaskum School District who agree with him.

Heise was named the Indians new head baseball coach last week, and he is already busying himself with the details of his new position.

"I'm really looking forward to it," Heise said over the weekend, adding that he has been going over the busing and other team schedules, in preparation for the coming season.

Heise, 45, replaces Doug Goring as the head boss. Goring, who coached the team to a 9-17 record last year, decided to take the head coaching position at West Bend East. He replaces Gary Perkins, who retired after more than 20 years at the helm.

Heise says he sees some similarities between he and Goring, with both getting a chance to return and coach their old team.

"It's a lot like Doug's situation," Heise said. "I'm getting a chance to coach at my alma mater."

Heise graduated from KHS in 1967. He went on to graduate from UW-LaCrosse, earning a degree in physical education. He ran track at LaCrosse, and also played Land O'Lakes baseball for Kewaskum for five years.

After teaching and coaching at West Bend's St. Francis Cabrini for two years after college, Heise took over his father's business - Beechwood Cheese Factory. He has been the owner and operator of the business for the past 18 years.

The past few years he has become active in helping the KHS track program, serving as an assistant coach. He said when the baseball coaching job became available, he decided to go for it.

"I enjoyed working with the kids," Heise said, referring to his experience coaching at KHS. "I just got the itch to get back into it again."

He says being an ex-pitcher will help him "quite a bit," since he is more aware of the intricacies of the game. His fondness for the game will also be of some benefit to him.

"I really do love this game," he said. "I just like being involved in it. I'm one of those guys who can sit and read a rule book for a couple of hours."

He knows, though, that it is the players who will decide his fate as a coach. But he thinks that his familiarity with this year's group will help.

"I know quite a few of the kids," Heise said, noting he has a son who is a senior. "I've seen a lot of those kids play, and I think that we have a good nucleius of kids that are dedicated to the game."

Heise, who is one of five new coaches in the nine-team Eastern Wisconsin (Hilbert was added as the ninth team this year). He says it's no secret as to what will be his emphasis this season.

"We are going to have to work on pitching," he said. "If you're going to win in this league, you need three or four pitchers."

KHS opens its season May 24, with a double header at West Bend East.

Golfers Open Season

By Noel Stollenwerk

HARTLAND - Kewaskum golf coach Joe Harlow had low expectations for his team's season-opening meet here, last Wednesday. With the Indians lack of experience, it was no wonder.

Featuring a starting lineup with no seniors, a junior and four sophomores, Harlow's team could muster only a third-place finish in the triangular. The Indians finished with 262 strokes, well behind host Hartland (227) and Kettle Moraine (235).

The playing conditions were less than ideal, according to Harlow, who said the weather made the Chenequa Country Club course all the more difficult.

"It was cold and windy," he said, adding that Chenequa is "a very tough course," even on a perfect day. Regarding the third-place showing, he added, "we weren't really close."

Nathan Vetter, a lone junior on the squad, was the Indians' top finisher with a 49. Matt Heather was a stroke back, at 50.

"It wasn't the kind of meet where we expect to do real well," Harlow said, noting that Hartland and Kettle Moraine field strong teams this year. "No one really played outstanding golf for us."

Harlow is hoping that somebody will step up and provide some outstanding play this spring. But he is realistic, knowing that this year's team is young and will go through growing pains.

In addition to Vetter and Heather, the Indians will rely on sophomores Luke Chesak, Gregg Serwe, Jim Westerman and freshman Jeff Heller. "He's been working real hard, and has put himself in the hunt (for a varsity spot)," Harlow said of Heller.

Harlow added that he is perplexed at the team's lack of focus when they get on the course. After showing promise during practice rounds, the players seem to lose it when they get into meets.

"When they play against me (in practice), they concentrate," Harlow noted. "We just haven't been able to put things together. But it's early yet."

The KHS coach is hoping to see improvement during the course of the season.

"I'm hoping that we can get some kids to shoot consistently in the mid-40's," he said.

HARTLAND ARROWHEAD (227) - Jensen 41, Geiser 42, Lauterbach 45, Breaker 47, Gleason 52.

KETTLE MORaine (235) - Gossman 42, Dicks 44, Denesha 48, Bergemann 49, Koch 52.

KEWASKUM (262) - Vetter 49, Heather 50, Chesak 52, Serwe 52, Westerman 56.
