

Teachers Get New Contract

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM- It took longer than anticipated, but the Kewaskum Board of Education and the school district's teachers finally agreed on a contract at the School Board's monthly meeting last week.

The teachers had been without a contract since September, after a previous tentative agreement was shelved. The new agreement, ratified at a Kewaskum Education Association meeting earlier this month, was approved by the School Board on a 6-0 vote.

The agreement calls for a 3.8 salary and fringe benefit increase for each of the contract's two years. The base salary for the 1993-94 school year is $22,161, and jumps to $22,709 for the 1994-95 school year.

In addition, the new contract stipulates teacher probation periods to be increased from two to three years, and the teacher lay-off date was moved from May 20 to June 15. Insurance coverage for early retirees was moved to age 65, and a guarantee of elementary prep time was included. Also, high school teachers only have to supervise one activity per semester.

In other administrative matters, the Board voted to approve the hiring of two new principals for the Kewaskum Elementary and Middle Schools. Katherine Crowley was hired as Kewaskum Middle School's new principal, earning a salary of $55,500. Crowley replaces David Jones, who is retiring after this year.

Also retiring is Elementary school principal Tom Larsen. He will be replaced by Kevin Steinhilber, at a cost of $52,000 per year. Steinhilber was formerly elementary school principal in Reedsburg, while Crowley was an assistant principal at Templeton Middle School in Sussex.

Also approved at Monday's meeting was the hiring of two and a half additional Exceptional Education Need teachers, and one full-time aide. The full-time EEN teachers are for the elementary and middle schools, and the four positions combined will cost $89,000.

Open House Dress Party To Benefit River Walk

Proceeds from an Open House Dress Party scheduled for Wednesday, May 25, have been earmarked for the proposed Kewaskum River Walk Project.

The Dress Party, with the latest fashions being supplied by Dress for Less, will begin at 7 p.m. in the downstairs meeting room at Valley Bank, 1225 Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum.

If you were one of the lucky ladies who attended the Secretaries Day Style Show and Luncheon but didn't have time during your lunch hour to browse through and try on your fashion favorites, here is your chance to do so.

Come as you are, no need to dress up to try on clothes... and if you can't be there at 7 p.m., drop in whenever you can. We'll be there until everyone gets a chance to try on everything and make their final decisions. Remember, these fashions are popular labels and nothing is priced over $40. At that rate, you'll be able to afford a couple! School is almost out... you don't have to sink your hard-earned dollars into designer jeans for the kids for another three months. Now is the perfect time to treat YOURSELF!

And don't worry if your makeup isn't on straight... we don't care... and our favorite Mary Kay lady, Wendi Dreher, will be there to share makeup tips to go with your new Memorial Day weekend outfit. Need a total makeover? Wendi can probably help you with that to.

There will be refreshments and some snacks, or treat yourself to a special piece of dessert. There will also be some door prizes and extra surprises!

Everyone is invited... it's an open house... slip on your jeans... don't bother to freshen your makeup... call up a friend and join us. It will be strictly an informal evening. Just a chance to do some shopping without having to leave town. And, just think... the proceeds from everything you buy will directly benefit YOUR community.

I'll bet this is the first time anyone told you to buy something pretty for yourself to make your community a better place!

River Walk Project Calls For Community Pride

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

It started about three years ago, when Superintendent of School Grounds Fred Boehlke noticed erosion occurring near the Milwaukee River, which is located on part of the school property.

He referred the problem to Troy Kuphal, who happens to live in Kewaskum and is employed with the Washington County Land Conservation Department.

Kuphal made several trips to the area to see what could be done about the problem. "The erosion is taking place on about 800 feet of stream bank, caused from years of debris being thrown there, such as barbed wire and concrete blocks. Throwing this stuff on the banks causes vegetation not to grow," explains Troy. "So does trampling the area from constant walking on it."

High school biology teacher Bill Lickel, was also concerned about the problem, and wrote a grant to obtain monies to develop the area, but the grant fell through. Meanwhile, the Kewaskum Lions and Kiwanis heard about the need for funding, and agreed to raise money for the control of erosion and improve the school district land for the benefit of the community and its schools.

They will be working on fund-raisers including the upcoming community Steak Fry being held in River Hill Park on June 13. The project will also be obtaining state and private cooperation.

"A trail will be developed along the river near the middle school," says Lickel, "and will start progressing this year and hopefully it will be finished in 1995."

There will be four steps to the initial project Troy points out.

- 1) Prevent water from rushing across the road due to the erosion.
- 2) Clean out the debris cluttered along the banks of the river.
- 3) Plant native vegetation in the vicinity and,
- 4) Develop a trail without damaging the stability of the site, including a foot path to control traffic. This is the first phase of the River Walk Project.

The site will be further utilized in the future through a wetlands classroom, involving the digging of two ponds near the river, east of the high school, and planting trees and native grasses, creating a woodlands area, flower plot and learning stations along the trail.

Lickel understands the great potential for education in this endeavor. "The biology classes, agriculture, and other science classes will be able to compare life in the rivers and ponds. Art classes will also utilize the area.

It will all be located on school property."

Construction classes as well as members of the FFA have initially indicated they'd be interested in doing some of the work. If there are enough funds, the ponds can be possibly be started this fall.

"The 16 acres of lowland area can include several wildlife ponds, observation decks, all around school property, Troy reflects. "There are possibilities of a stream side park." The concrete, curb and gutter work will be done with village improvements, and installed by contractor. A lot of the trail building and cleaning will be done by volunteers, students and local groups.

The initial approval of the River Walk Project by the school board was based on the project raising its own funds and it needs the support of the entire community.

"The stream bank corridor serves as a natural filter," states Troy, "and we should be proud of it. So often people just lose their sense of pride. The area has a great deal of value, and it should be reclaimed for its rich resources."

The finished River Walk Project could very well be one of the few examples of its type found in any communities across the state.

Indian Nickname to Stay

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - Despite the recent trend toward political correctness in regard to school mascots, Kewaskum High School's "Indian" nickname and accompanying logo will not be changed in the near future.

That was the consensus of School Board members at last Monday's monthly meeting. District Administrator David Heather had asked that there be some discussion on the matter, after Kewaskum was one of 60 school districts in the state to receive a letter from State Superintendent John Benson regarding the matter.

In his letter, Benson asked districts to be aware of using ethnic nicknames and logos that are offensive to minorities. Nicknames involving Native American origins were the most-often cited.

But Heather said that he had received only one inquiry regarding the KHS nickname, "and that was several years ago." He recommended that the name be left as it is, and for the Board to retain local controls on matters such as this.

Rummage Sale Set for June 18

Saturday, June 18, is the date that has been chosen for this year's citywide rummage sale being held throughout Kewaskum.

An extensive advertising campaign is being planned to generate interest and draw large crowds to the village. It is also planned to have maps available showing the location of each of the rummage sales.

To offset the cost of the advertising and to afford having the maps printed, each participant is asked to make a $3.00 donation.

Start accumulating your treasures and set June 18 aside to have a wonderful day. If you have any questions, you are asked to contact Richard Yahr at 626-4369.

The Poppy

What is the Poppy? It is an emblem of sacrifice. In the season of Memorial Day, the poppy makes us recall the sacrifices which have been made by men and women who gave their lives so our country might be saved.

Did you know: In the Spring of 1919 poppies bloomed in abundance in the Battlefields of France where so many had died in battle. The American Legion was the FIRST National Organization to adopt the poppy as its Memorial flower in 1920.

American Legion Auxiliary adopted the poppy in 1921 at its organizing convention.

County HeartRide Fights Disease

West Bend will be hosting the Washington County Division Heart Ride, on June 19th.

This event is a non-competitive, just-for-fun event, that is expected to draw participants of young and old. This event will raise money for cardiovascular research, community education and programs through both sponsorship and donations.

Scigraph, Inc. is the main sponsor of the American Heart Association's Heart Ride in Washington County, with other community businesses also involved.

The route will be directed through the scenic Northern Kettle Moraine area, allowing the participants full enjoyment of the beautiful green landscape that the Washington County area has to offer.

There will be a five, twenty-five, and fifty mile route to absorb the natural splendor that the Kettle Moraine region has to offer.

"Cardiovascular disease, including stroke, are Washington County's number one killers," said Kathy Meulemans, the American Heart Association's Area Director. "They affect people in their thirties, forties and fifties... often their most productive years."

Children are also at risk for cardiovascular diseases. There are two ways to combat this horrible disease -- finding the cure through research, and most importantly, preventing them in the first place. We'll have a lot of information at the HeartRide on how to help prevent cardiovascular diseases, including getting the regular exercise that helps strengthen your heart muscle."

The Goal for the HeartRide is to educate the public on the prevention of cardiovascular diseases and to present an enjoyable and beautiful ride for a Sunday morning and afternoon. For more information on how to participate or sponsor a HeartRider, call the American Heart Association, C/O John Knaak, West Bend Mutual Insurance at 334-6312.

Fraud and The Elderly

Older people are especially vulnerable to con artists' tactics. Beware if someone tries to convince you of impending disaster, such as a dangerous furnace or leaky roof. Such tactics should ring alarm bells.

*Avoid pressure that you make an immediate decision. A legitimate deal leaves time for you to think it over.

*Don't be pressured into making a down payment to guarantee that you will go ahead with the deal.

*Never sign a contract with blanks. (A con-artist may tell you that the rest of the information will be filled in later.)

*Be wary if you are told not to read the "small print."

*Never give your credit card or bank card number to someone you don't know.

The pyramids of Egypt contain enough stone and mortar to construct a wall ten feet high and five feet wide running from New York City to Los Angeles.

Do We Get Enough Selenium?

Selenium has been touted for its role in preventing heart disease and cancer. Some, however, say it can be toxic.

Much research remains to be done to fully understand the role of selenium, but, thanks to our nationwide distribution of food products, it appears we get enough of it.

The Food and Drug Administration's annual market basket examination of ready-to-eat, store-bought foods has never found selenium levels to be higher or lower than those recommended by the National Academy of Sciences for the 14 years it has evaluated selenium in foods.

Hence, too much or too little selenium is not a threat to most of us. In the United States, this essential nutrient comes primarily from grain and other vegetation grown in the Great Plains. It also comes from fish and meat products.

Louise Martin named 'Club Woman of the Year' at Kewaskum Juniors Annual Banquet

Members of the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club culminated their 93-94 club year with their annual awards/installation banquet on Saturday, May 14th at the Glacier Inn in Kewaskum.

Following dinner and conversation, President Holly Knurr welcomed members and their guests. President-Elect Donna Beck announced the Kewaskum Juniors had received 13 awards at the Sixth District Convention in New Holstein and nine awards at the State Convention recently held in Fond du Lac.

The awards received were for projects completed in 1993 in the departments of the arts, education, home life, public affairs, international affairs, conservation, public relations, and membership.

Kewaskum Juniors also received National recognition from Chevron for three community improvement projects the club completed in the past two years.

Those projects were the sun-shelter at the Kiwanis Park pool, the playset in the Kiwanis Park and the community information gazebo. The club was also recognized as the second highest club in the state for sponsorship of the Kids In Kindness program, a program directed at the second grade level promoting animal and environment care.

For the second consecutive year, Kewaskum Juniors were awarded the prestigious state Unity In Diversity Award. Members are pleased and proud to be the recipient of such an honored award. Finally, the Kewaskum Juniors were presented a three-star club award which was based on the level of involvement in their community.

In a rose installation ceremony, Holly Knurr installed the officers for the 94-95 club year. The officers for the ensuing club year include President

Donna Beck; Vice President Carol Sabel; Recording Secretary Annette Stommel; Corresponding Secretary Patty Clayton and Treasurer Louise Martin.

Following the installation, Donna Beck presented a club appreciation gift to Holly Knurr for her leadership as our president this past year. Holly, in turn, presented gifts to those who served on her executive board.

The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the Club Woman of the Year. Holly Knurr was pleased to announce Louise Martin was selected by fellow club members as our 1993 Club Woman of the Year.

Louise has been a member of Kewaskum Juniors for seven years and was recognized for her many contributions to club projects and departments, her supportive nature and dedication as a volunteer. This club year Louise served as corresponding secretary, public relations and public affairs chairman. The Kewaskum Juniors feel very fortunate to have Louise as a member.

As members reflected on their many accomplishments this club year, they look forward to another year of community service. Membership in Kewaskum Juniors is open to any woman with an interest in volunteerism and new friendships. You are invited to call Donna at 533-4929 for more information.

Even the wisest among men welcome people who bring money more than those who take it away.

Holly Knurr and Donna Beck present Louise Martin the Club Woman of the Year plaque.

Holly Knurr passes the President's Pin to Donna Beck.

Tan-talizer Tanning Studio Opens

Kewaskum's newest business is Tan-talizer Tanning Studio, Inc., located on Main Street.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

A tropical breeze blew into Kewaskum recently by way of two young women realizing their dream of opening a business together.

Tan-talizer Tanning Studio Inc. held an open house this past Sunday to introduce the community to their new tanning business located at 133 Main Street. Owners Sue Goeden and Laurie Hadrick talked about opening a studio for the past five years, but were waiting for the right location to open up.

"When it did we figured it was now or never, so we went for it," says Sue confidently, pointing out, "Laurie and I have both enjoyed tanning for years, and have worked to combine the best ideas from places we've visited."

Tan-talizer is a colorful addition to the streets of Kewaskum, with bold island colors, palm trees and added touches that pamper customers and anticipate their needs.

"The touch up corner" holds a wide array of necessities for people on the go from home to office, including a large mirror and counter, curling iron, contact solution, hair products, makeup removal, and more. "It's a place you can come and get ready for work, and there's room to be comfortable," explains Laurie.

The studio has three 1994 Sun

Dash digital tanning beds, with a 2-1/2 minute delay. Tanning time is programmed into the beds, according to skin type and other health factors. A body fan is connected directly to the bed for comfort and ease.

Each individual fills out a registration form and their skin is evaluated according to tanning ability. Also certain medications taken have to be listed as they can affect the skin's ability to tan. The idea is to build up gradually, using lotions to moisturize and prepare the skin.

"The tanning here is completely controlled," adds Laurie. "Tanning too fast from the sun leads to cancer. Our beds give off five to ten percent UV of light compared to the sun at 50 vv's and up."

Moisturizing also stimulates melanin growth, while tanning increases the metabolism, decreasing cholesterol and producing vitamin D. Laurie is a nurse at the Menomonee Falls Surgery Center, and comments that, "doctors have been prescribing tanning beds as a treatment for depression."

A fourth room holds a stand-up bed, containing more bulbs for faster results in half the time. Tan-talizer has room to expand with two more beds in the near future.

The new owners will be splitting shifts at their new business as soon as school lets out for Sue, since she is a teacher at Hartford Rossman Elementary School.

Tanning hours are Monday through Thursday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Friday 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Moisturizing lotions are available to purchase along with bright summer shirts. The studio will also be announcing some summer specials later in the season.

The average combination lock has from 100,000 to 1,000,000 possible combinations.

We hope that we'll meet again someday.

So we may re-unite our family.

We all love you, Geri.

We want you to know we care.

May God take care of you, and keep you, with Him

A Message from the Postmaster

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers and how is everyone doing today? I think spring has finally arrived and summer is right around the corner---what do you think? With just a bit of luck, we should be able to drain the gas out of the snowblowers and get that lawn mower ready. All in favor? YES!!!

Well, what's new at the Post Office? First of all, we do have new stamps coming out that I think many of you might be very interested in. April 23rd, the Buffalo soldier stamp went on sale. April 28th, we have the Silent Screen stars and also the new booklet of flower stamps. These "newest" stamps are all on the larger side---something that some of you like and some of you do not care for. Please remember that the newest stamps are on display at the Post office but DO FEEL FREE to ask any one of the clerks at the window for a "look at the selection" as there are just so many stamps available. We will be more than happy to give you a "few of these"---just whatever you would like---"pick and choose." To some people a stamp is a stamp but then there are others that do enjoy the variety---we AIM TO PLEASE each and everyone of you.

The self-adhesive stamps now come in five varieties and are VERY popular with so many of you. Personally, I call them the "NO LICK-EMS"---just peel and stick. Please keep in mind that these stamps do not cost any extra. Your choices are: traditional eagle, rose, squirrel, love or the modern eagle. More and more customers are coming in and "just loving" the fact that stamps do NOT have to be licked---have YOU tried them? Stop in soon and see what you are missing!!!

STAMP COLLECTORS-- I have some interesting information just recently received that many of you might be interested in. Collecting stamps is an interesting, informative and very worthwhile hobby. If there is anyone out there that would like more information on starting a stamp collection---please stop in to see me and I will be more than happy to spend some time with you explaining the different ways and means of collecting stamps. Parents---feel free to stop in with your children that might be interested in stamp collecting--- I will be more than happy to share information and give you some FREE handouts to get you started with this hobby!!!

PACKAGING MATERIAL-- so many of you have been totally surprised when you notice the "array" of mailing materials available to you. There is a HUGE display of envelopes, boxes, tape---just whatever you might need hanging above the door to my office. Other than that display, we have other larger boxes also. Got something to mail but do not know what to mail it in? Please stop in the Post Office as we will be more than happy to assist you. The only thing we do not do is wrap it for you but will be more than happy to assist you in anyway that we can.

TOUR of your local POST OFFICE--- a couple of weeks ago, "gramma" had her grandson visiting her for the day. She brought him into the Post office. I listened intently as she explained that "back here is where they get all the mail ready." I walked over and said---"Hi, would you like a tour of what goes on back there? Well, "gramma and grandson" got a "look behind the scenes" and really thought it was pretty interesting. As your Postmaster, I TOTALLY welcome ANYONE that would like a "look behind the scenes." Your group can be "small or large"--- ages make no difference (just ask the recent visitors---3-4-5 year olds as they really had alot of fun and DID learn something "from the other side of the stamp counter." Interested? Please give me a call and I will be MORE than happy to set something up for you--- this is YOUR Postal Service and you just might be very interested to see what happens to your letter "after you drop it in the slot" or---just what happens when all that mail comes in the back door early in the morning and how does it get through all the stages until it is delivered to me?

New collection boxes---NO--- did not forget the promise to put up a collection box other than the Post Office. By POPULAR demand, this box will be put up by the Sentry store in the near future. Then--- have some OTHER NEWS--- for those that have requested---YES, we will have a drive-up box at the Post Office. It will be located on the side of the building and the "ally" will be designated as "ONE WAY" to try to alleviate any accidents. Hope to have BOTH boxes in place as soon as possible and will relate further information on this in future columns.

Well, that is about it for Postal news for the week. Mom and Dad are "packing" to come back from Florida and I am just counting the days. Thanks to Elmer and Betty Hallen who took time out of their busy vacation schedule to give mom and dad a call when they were in New Port Richey for a dinner. As far as Chrystal goes---Parents are you gearing up for the "move" FROM college? As a "seasoned" three year "vet" of this---a "word to the wise"--- DO NOT WAIT until final moving day ---get what you can out of there week by week. Yes, I know it is going to seem that they "and 12 other people" are moving back home but do take it in stride. I keep saying to Chrystal---could you JUST take one day and go through this stuff---do you really want it all? Her answer---"Mom, I have no idea what is going to be in style in the years ahead---and we do have a three bedroom condo right?" "Yes, Chrystal"--- and I just "count to Ten" and guess what?---I SURVIVE and so will the rest of you college parents. PATIENCE--- they will not live with us forever will they? Well, then--- THEY may not live WITH us FOREVER but their MEMORIES---CLOTHES (did not want to get rid of)--- MEMENTOES (cannot throw them out) JUST MAY---HANG IN THEIR COLLEGE PARENTS. Until next week, TRY to have a GOOD DAY---A HAPPY EVERYDAY!!!

Your Postmaster,
Bonnie!!

1994 NORTHERN KETTLE MORAINES STATE FOREST and ICE AGE RESERVE NATURALIST PROGRAM

This area is internationally known for its famous glacial features and interesting array of plants and animals. You are invited to learn more about this important part of our heritage by visiting the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center and participating in the Naturalist Program.

In summer, the program offers nature walks, talks, auto tours, evening programs, visiting guest speakers, etc. The events, offered at the Center of the Mauthe or Long Lake Recreational Areas, are easy and enjoyable ways to learn more about the area. During other seasons, group interpretive programs are available upon request.

The Center is one mile south of the Village of Dundee on State Highway 67 in the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest, about 55 miles north of Milwaukee.

EVENING PROGRAMS

Evening programs are held at the Ice Age Center on Saturdays, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Most programs require 30 minutes to an hour or more.

SATURDAY, MAY 28 -- "Our Fine Feathered Friends of the Forest" -- These colorful creatures are our focus for this evening.

The entire year previous to the hike was spent reading, researching, dehydrating, conditioning, and anticipating, the 2,146 mile trek. What we anticipated and what we got were worlds apart." Join John and Cate Wenzel from Plymouth, Wisconsin, as they relive this adventure of a lifetime.

SATURDAY, JUNE 25 -- "Wisconsin Animals" - Wille's Game Farm and Zoo near Brandon, Wisconsin is a unique educational facility which teaches about animals first hand. Mr. Wille began working with wild animals in

Who needs sand? Kewaskum Jaycees are again holding their annual sandbox fill on Saturday, May 21, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

There will be a one to two mile radius limit of the village for deliveries. Donations will be accepted and used for local projects. One project being worked on is a play gym set for one of the parks in town.

Due to the rapid growth of our area, if apartment complexes call this must be stated. Single dwellings and or single apartment units will have first priority due to the availability of the sand. Sand will not be delivered if no one is home unless advance notice is given and placement of sand is verified. Call 626-2073 for sand delivery.

The Kewaskum Jaycees is a volunteer organization doing local projects for the community. New ideas are always welcome.

Meetings are held the last Thursday of every month at 8 p.m. at the Legion Hall. Members are between the ages of 21 and 40.

Come and see how you can make a difference or call 626-

Fish for the Future

By Lee Kernen, Director
DNR Bureau of Fisheries Management

American pioneers were overwhelmed with the abundance of timber, fish and wildlife they found in North America, and many thought these resources were inexhaustible. They never dreamed that all the big pine could be cut or that all the elk could disappear. Great Lakes commercial fishermen continued intensive harvests, even as they saw the number of fish declining.

No one thought of harvesting natural resources at a rate that would allow an annual harvest, as we do today. We call this sustainability. It is the long-term management of a resource that allows an annual harvest without weakening or losing the resource base for future generations.

Instead of shooting a million deer in one year and then closing the season, wildlife managers issue tags that allow hunters to shoot the number of deer each year that keeps the statewide herd at a sustainable level.

The Department of Natural Resources uses similar management techniques for timber and fish.

The key to this type of management is to know how much harvest a resource can take. Foresters, for example, know that it takes a clear cut aspen stand about 40 years to regenerate and be of harvestable size again... they call this a 40-year cutting cycle.

Wildlife managers deal with much shorter cycles. A deer can grow from a tiny spotted fawn to a 120 pound forked buck in just 18 months. Pheasants start out as a tiny puffball of down in May and by October, have become a cackling rooster, gaudy with color as it rockets skyward in front of a hunter. From egg to trophy in six months!

Fish fall between wildlife and timber when it comes to generation time. At six months, a walleye is lucky to be six inches long and as big around as your thumb. At 1 1/2 years... the same age at which that deer has become a 4-point, 120 pound buck... a walleye in northern Wisconsin is only ten inches long and weighs five ounces.

In fact, it takes four to five years for a walleye to reach the legal length of 15 inches, and a decent fish of 20 or 21 inches is seven years old. A trophy walleye of 25 to 28 inches is easily 12 to 15 years old. Muskies are even longer lived. The 48 pound monster recently caught in Round Lake near Hayward was 18 years old and was hatched back in 1975. But the average musky harvested by anglers in Wisconsin is only six to seven years old.

Panfish live and mature much faster, of course. It takes four years to grow a nice round 9-inch yellow perch that any angler would be pleased to put in his cooler. Bluegills, too, can grow to a nice pan size of seven to eight inches at 4 to 5 years of age. Even at that, it still takes about as long to produce an eight-ounce bluegill as it does a four-to-five-year-old trophy buck!

Replacement time for fish means that if we harvest the larger fish too rapidly, it will take years to grow their replacements. Who wants to fish in a lake that has only small fish in it? Most anglers like to dream of tying into a real lunker; or at least they like to think that such a trophy lives in the lake.

Wisconsin has some beautiful fish, and thousands of whopper northern pike, muskies, bass and walleyes are caught and harvested every year across the state. But the numbers of such trophies in each lake can be surprisingly low.

Beautiful Lake Tomahawk near Woodruff has an area of 3,400 acres and sports a population of about 8,400 adult walleye. Biologists estimate that only 830 (10 percent) of these fish exceed 25 inches in length. Big Lake near Boulder Junction is 850 acres in size and has an estimated 550 adult muskies swimming in it, but only about 50 of them are larger than the 40-inch minimum size limit. As you can see, large gamefish are really quite a scarce resource.

The next time you or your partner catch a beautiful 19-inch bass, a 33-inch northern, or a 26-inch walleye, take time to appreciate that it took ten years for the fish to get to that size. And if you catch a second, please consider releasing it for the future.

Statewide Clinics Will Help Plan for Duck Hunting

MADISON...Persons interested in hunting ducks and geese can sign up early for a one-day Waterfowl Hunter Education Clinic co-sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources and the Wisconsin Waterfowl Association.

Several clinics are being planned statewide for August and September. The location of the clinics will depend upon the response from the public, according to Scott Loomans, DNR Waterfowl Hunter Education Clinic coordinator.

Each clinic is designed to help beginning waterfowl hunters develop the basic skills needed for safe and successful hunting. Experienced hunters will also have a chance to brush up on duck identification while learning new skills.

Waterfowl ecology, habitat management, hands-on identification practice with wings and duck skins, shooting and hunting techniques, calling, and new waterfowler's gear are among the topics that will be covered in the clinics.

Lunch will be served and everyone who attends will receive a copy of the National Rifle Association's 278-page "Waterfowl Hunting" handbook and will have an opportunity to win door prizes.

Anyone interested in signing up for a clinic should contact Scott Loomans at (608) 261-6452, or write to Waterfowl Hunter Education Clinic, c/o Scott Loomans, Bureau of Wildlife Management, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.

Experienced waterfowl hunters who might be interested in serving as an instructor or presenter at one of the clinics should contact Randy Krenn of the Wisconsin Waterfowl Association at (414) 524-8460.

Don't Toss Those Coffee Grounds

We recycle motor oil, plastics, glass, newspaper, Christmas trees, and leave our grass clippings on the lawn. But most of us toss our coffee grounds into the garbage.

Coffee grounds are acidic and can help amend our poor alkaline soils that also are low in organic matter. The grounds can reduce the pH value a little over the years.

In addition, they also offer some nutrients to plants. Coffee grounds are 2% nitrogen, .4% phosphoric acid and .5% potassium.

So enjoy your morning cup of coffee and then dig the grounds into your vegetable garden or rake them into soil around trees and shrubs. This way, you'll be giving your plants their morning cup of coffee, too!

SHEBOYGAN FALLS - With just one meet at the end of last week, Kewaskum girls track coach Perry Koth expected big things from his team at the Vanderpan Invitational here, Friday, May 6.

While he got several fine efforts, Koth was a little disappointed with his team's second-place showing (112 points) at the annual meet. New Holstein took first place with 150 points.

"Our younger kids did really well," Koth noted, although adding that many of his veterans, "looked flat. If they (veterans) had given some of their top performances, we'd probably have won it."

No other squad gave either the Indians or Huskies much of a run. Sheboygan Falls was far back in third (78), followed by Plymouth (76), Southern Door (72), Elkhart Lake (68), Oostburg (65) and Howards Grove (41).

"I knew that they (New Holstein) would be tough," Koth said, pointing out that the Huskies were second to Two Rivers in the Ripon Invitational a week earlier. "It seemed like they were double placing in every event."

Kewaskum had several double places as well. But even more impressive was the effort put forth by junior Greta Kupahl, who won two individual events, and helped the 1600 relay to a second. For her performance, Kupahl was named as co-female athlete of the meet. Kupahl shared the honor with New Holstein's Sheila Kobat, who won both the 1600 and 3200.

"Greta was just exceptional," Koth said. "She was the exception, I guess, as far as the veterans went. She had a superb meet."

Kupahl won the 100 dash (13.1), 200 dash (27.3), and teamed with Ginger Wiesner, Mary Yahr and Missy Rohrer for a 4:21.7 clocking in the 1600 relay. All three times were season-bests.

Wiesner also accounted for a first, as she won the long jump with a leap of 15-4.75. "That's not really a great jump for her," Koth said, "but it was good enough."

KHS recorded one other individual win, that coming in the high jump where Kelly Schreffler cleared 4-10.

Wiesner added a second in her specialty, the 400 (64.1), while Marni Lynn also was second in the 3200 run (12:15.9) with her best time of the season. The 3200 relay, consisting of Lynn, Michelle Thull, Rachel Chambers and Rohrer, combined for a second (10:57.9) as well.

Katie Yogerts added a pair of thirds, in the shot put (33-10) and discus (94-9). Yogert's shot put mark was a season-best by more than a foot.

Yahr didn't have a good day hurdling, according to Koth. The junior finished fifth in the 100's (17.2) and eighth in the 300's (53.5). "She just seemed tired," Koth said, noting Yahr had a lot of trouble with timing her steps.

Freshman Jenny Jagielski had an up-and-down type of day. The young sprinter did great in the 100 and 200 dash preliminaries, clocking the second fastest qualifying times in both events. Both Jagielski false-started in the 100 finals, and then turned in a 28.8 in the 200, good enough for fifth. Her preliminary time of 27.8 in the 200 would have taken second. Jagielski also added a seventh in the long jump (14-1.75), and helped the 400 relay to a fifth.

"It's a little disappointing knowing that we could have won (if everyone was performing)," Koth said of the outcome.

"I'm still optimistic about our chances Thursday (at conference), though."

Thursday the Indians will travel to Sheboygan Falls for that EW Conference meet. Kewaskum will challenge New Holstein and Two Rivers for the top spot.

"Everyone is going to have to perform well," Koth noted. "If we have a letdown, then we won't have a chance to win it."

After the conference meet, the Indians will have just the EW relays (Thursday) before opening WIAA regional action on Monday, May 23 at New Holstein.

Lady Indians 1-1 In Hartford Tourney

By Noel Stollenwerk

HARTFORD, May 7 - The end results showed just a 1-1 record for their efforts, but Kewaskum girls softball coach Janet Molebash said her team played extremely well in its first appearance in the Hartford Tournament, here, Saturday, May 7.

The Lady Indians couldn't touch Hartford pitcher Jenny Pinkowski in the opener, as they were no-hit by the Orioles and lost 16-0. KHS came back strong in the consolation bracket, however, outlasting Waukesha West 8-5 to salvage a split on the afternoon.

"I thought the girls played real well," Molebash said of her squad. "We just ran up against a great pitcher in the first game."

Pinkowski used her speed to perplex Indians hitters, who didn't have much of a chance against the talented Orioles.

"She was really fast," Molebash said of the HUH pitcher. "They just have a really solid team. They blew us away."

The Orioles, who remained unbeaten on the year, scored four times in the opening inning. But Kewaskum held in there, not allowing another run until the fourth. But that's where things caved in for the visitors.

Freshman pitcher Becky Heisdorf began having control problems in the fourth, walking a total of eight Oriole batters in the frame. Coupled with a pair of KHS errors, the walks led to nine Hartford runs, and that put the game out of reach.

"She did pretty well until the fourth," Molebash said of her young pitcher. "The walks really hurt us."

Defensively, the Lady Indians committed just three errors. "For us, that's great,"

Molebash said. "I thought we played very well in the field."

The loss sent KHS into the consolation bracket against Waukesha. The Lady Indians wasted no time in getting on the board, scoring six times in the opening inning.

After the first three batters of the inning drew walks, Michelle Gundrum followed with a run-scoring single. Another walk to Tanya Krahn scored a run, and Susie Vrana's sacrifice fly made it 3-0. An error, a hit batter, a walk, and another flyout made it 6-0 Indians.

KHS had a chance for more, but Cheryl Michaels was tagged out trying to steal home on a passed ball. Michaels was also injured on the play, severely cutting her knee on the slide. The wound took 20 stitches to close, and Michaels will be lost for the season.

"She wanted to go back out there and play," Molebash said, noting the injury was much more serious than originally thought. "I haven't seen anything like that. After that point, the girls really weren't into the game."

After the half-hour delay due to Michaels injury, KHS came back to score twice more in the second. But that was it for the Lady Indians' offense.

Waukesha came back to chip away at the deficit, and scored twice in the seventh to make it 8-5. But KHS held on, recording just its third win of the season.

"It was probably the best game we've played all year," Molebash said of the win. "We played really well in the field again (four errors). Their (Waukesha's) walks really hurt them."

The Indians, are now 3-9 on the season. WIAA Regional action begins on May 24.

KHS Drops Pair To New Holstein

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM -- The Kewaskum girls softball team took their recent hitting woes to new levels in the first game of its doubleheader against New Holstein here May 2.

The Huskies' Becky Haensgen shut down the Indians with a no-hitter in the opener, as New Holstein scored a 12-0 shutout. The Lady Indians finally got things going offensively in the second game, but it wasn't enough as they lost 14-9.

"We didn't have a very good night," KHS coach Janet Molebash said of the doubleheader losses. "We just didn't play well again."

Haensgen was the reason for that in the opening game, as she mowed down seven KHS hitters on strikes, while walking one. KHS was able to reach base in just two innings, and never threatened to score.

"She threw a curve, which the girls really weren't used to," Molebash said of Haensgen.

KHS pitcher Tanya Krahn, meanwhile, gave up six New Holstein hits, and received no help from her defense, which committed six errors. Most of those came in the sixth inning, when New Holstein erupted for eight runs to put the game out of reach.

In the second game, the Indian bats finally came alive to the tune of nine base hits. Still, a slow start in the first few innings spelled doom for the Lady Indians.

Despite Good Effort, Kiel Proves To Be Too Much for Lady Indians

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM - The Kewaskum girls softball team turned in one of its better efforts for about half of its game with Kiel here, Thursday, May 5. Unfortunately, it wasn't enough to do the trick.

The Lady Indians fell apart late in its contest with the Raiders, losing 13-1. As has been the case all season, errors were the story of the game.

"We played a lot better than we have been," KHS coach Janet Molebash said of the outing. "But we still had a lot of errors. Way too many of them."

The Lady Indians committed 11 miscues to be exact, including four in a stretch during the fourth inning that broke the game open.

Kiel jumped out to a 3-0 lead after the top half of the third, but the Indians scored in the bottom half of the frame. Debbie Neumann doubled, and then later scored on a single by Kim Resch, cutting the deficit to 3-1.

But Kiel came right back and took advantage of the four KHS errors in the fourth. The

"We made a couple of errors right away that didn't help us at all," Molebash said. Those errors led to four Husky runs in the opening inning, after KHS got on the board with two tallies in the top of the first.

More KHS miscues led the way to four more New Holstein runs in the second. Stephanie Heberer had her problems on the mound, uncorking several wild pitches to score a couple of Husky runners.

"Then they had a real long inning," in the third, according to Molebash. New Holstein extended its lead to 14-2 with six runs in the bottom of the third, and appeared to have things well in hand.

But the Lady Indians chipped away, scoring three times in the fourth and two more in the sixth, cutting the margin to 14-7. Missy Junk's triple in the fourth scored two runs, while Michelle Gundrum added a pair of singles to help the rally.

Heberer also helped herself at the plate, drilling a two-run triple in the top of the seventh to make it 14-9. But that's the way it stayed, as Husky pitcher Chris Sessing closed out the doubleheader sweep.

The twin losses dropped KHS to 2-6 on the year, including 2-5 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

(Game One)
N. Holstein 210 108 - 12 6 2
Kewaskum 000 000 - 0 0 6
(Game Two)
Kewaskum 200 302 2 - 9 9 9
N. Holstein 446 000 0 - 14 7 6

Raiders collected only one hit in the inning, but scored five times to make it 8-1.

After scoring a single run in the fifth, Kiel put the game away with a four-run sixth. Keri LaDuke started the winning rally with a home run.

"We just couldn't get the bats going," Molebash said, noting her team had just three hits. "We only had two bad innings. Other than that, we played a pretty good game."

Stephanie Heberer started on the mound for the Indians, and "pitched a much better game," according to Molebash. Despite giving up eight walks in the game, Heberer "showed more control than in the past."

The Indians fell to a 2-8 overall with the loss. KHS is 2-7 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. Kiel, meanwhile, improved to 6-1 in the EW.

KHS Golfers Can't Handle Plymouth

By Noel Stollenwerk

KEWASKUM, May 4 -- Not even the home course advantage could help the Kewaskum golf team against Eastern Wisconsin Conference rival Plymouth here, last Wednesday.

The talented Panthers had little trouble with the Indians, winning the dual meet 163-193. All four Panther counters had rounds of 45 or less, while KHS' best round was a 45.

"They have a real good team," KHS coach Joe Harlow said of Plymouth, which was led by Ryan Lisowe and Eric Schieble, who each carded 39s. "I thought we'd shoot a little better on our home course."

The best round any KHS player could turn in was Luke Chesak's 45. "That was his best so far," Harlow noted. "He's certainly capable of those type of rounds."

Matt Heather was the next best Indian finisher, carding a 48.

The loss left the Indians with an 0-3 meet record in the EW.

PLYMOUTH (163) - Lisowe 39, Schieble 39, Kelser 40, Burkhardt 45.

KEWASKUM (193) - Chesak 45, Heather 48, Serwe 49, Westerman 51.
