Jerry Taff and Crew Film Portions Of Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival

Town of Scott Board Acts on Zoning Changes

By Bernadette Mondloch

Town of Scott board members acted on a number of zoning changes at their recent meeting.

A 5.42 acre parcel owned by Ivan Steurwald (Section 12) was changed from A-1 to A-2. A two-acre parcel was rezoned from A-1 to A-6 (Section 25). A request from Louis Luedtke had a 12-acre parcel rezoned from A-3 to R-1 (Section 17) and a 30-acre parcel in the same section was changed from A-1 to A-3. Both properties border an established subdivision and were platted by Luedtke several years ago.

John Reseburg (Section 7) has purchased 3.5 acres from his neighbor, Ralph Hausner, and therefore requested that it be changed from A-2 to A-1. The addition of the Hausner property to the Reseburg land brings it to 35 acres and Reseburg requested a conditional use permit which would allow him to erect a non-farm residence. The use permit was issued.

St. Stephen Lutheran

Church, Batavia, was given a change from R-1 to R-2 for the house portion of the church property and a change from R-1 to P-2 for the church portion of the property.

A request from Jesse Randall to rezone a two-acre parcel from A-1 to A-6 (Section 25) was withdrawn.

During the citizen input portion of the meeting a question was asked about when the town was going to do something about farmer's farming within the right-of-way along town roads. The reply was that the town would follow through with restrictions as soon as the county does the same on its roads.

The Town of Scott has applied for exemption of the county library tax in the amount of $23,556.87.

Dallas Wixom and Gary Held have been reappointed to three year terms on the Town Planning Commission.

The Recycling Ordinance amendment is being amended to include disposal of appli-

Area Couples Killed In Bus-Car Crash

A Kewaskum couple lost their lives in a fatal car crash in Michigan's Upper Peninsula on Thursday, October 6th, when their car collided with a bus near Iron Mountain.

Leroy, 75, and Marcella, Bechler, 73, of Kewaskum were returning home from a trip with friends, Raymond and Doris Degnitz of Random Lake, traveling southbound on Michigan's Highway 95. The driver of the car, Leroy Bechler, was trying to cross the two west-bound lanes of Highway 2, around 9:30 a.m. when he collided with a James Transit Charter bus.

All four passengers in the car were pronounced dead at the scene. The driver of the empty bus, Becky Munn, 38, of Stambaugh, Michigan, was taken to Dickinson County Memorial Hospital and treated for her injuries. She was later released.

The Bechlers were both retired from Regal Ware and had two grown children, John Bechler (Betsy Kupperman) of Kenosha, and Helen Ann (Norbert) Poch of Mt. Calvary, three grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

The couple were active members of St. Lucas Lutheran Church, and enjoyed traveling with friends and playing cards.

Funeral services were held on Sunday at St. Lucas Lutheran Church in Kewaskum. Memorials are directed to the St. Lucas Building Fund or the Winnebago Academy School Building Fund.

United Way Hits 49%; Kewaskum Marks 47%

Not only was the October 7th United Way Mid-Campaign Breakfast report meeting lots of fun, it also highlighted the progress of the Washington County campaign to date.

"We're at the 40% mark in funds raised for the United Way campaign already," said Jerry Mehring, Co-Chair of the Washington County annual drive. The announcement of a total of $426,644 in gifts and pledges received to date includes nine of the twenty-seven divisions already past the 60% mark.

Campaign volunteers, board members and agency representatives watched as a special "Milk Pitcher" was filled as division reports were made. This tied into the dairy theme being used for volunteers in the 1994 campaign.

"We're pleased with business contributions, employee campaigns and individual gifts to date, and expect the positive momentum to continue for the rest of the campaign," said Gayle Van Ess, Kewaskum Division Chair.

Van Ess is working with five other volunteers in the Kewaskum Division. They are: Jerry Gosa, Mindy Jung, Louise Martin and Sharron Miller, and Loaned Executive Kim Peterson from Regal Ware.

Dollars raised and percentages of the division goals are: Kewaskum - $15,575 - 47%; Hartford - $30,779 - 20%; Slinger - $10,166 - 57%; Richfield, Hubertus and Colgate - $505 - 17%; Newburg - $480 - 48%; Jackson - $2,325 - 12%; Allenton - $10,290 - 70%.

County Employees - $4,961 - 64%; Other Professionals - $150 - 11%; Physicians - $8,925 - 59%; Real Estate - $2,203 - 65%; Dentists - $995 - 33%; Contractors - $2,387 - 32%; Clergy - $635 - 61%; Attorneys - $6,095 - 72%; Nonprofits - $11,464 - 53%; Accountants and Business Services - $2,475 - 62%.

West Bend Division: Key Firms - $215,009 - 65%; City Employees - $7,131 - 65%; Commercial - $2,637 - 33%; Education - $4,442 - 17%; Financial - $39,864 - 64%; Industrial and Manufacturing - $1,875 - 8%; Retail - $8,962 - 34%; Special Gifts - $29,863 - 54%; Transportation - $6,451 - 54%.

The campaign will raise funds for 65 programs provided by 26 member agencies serving more than 23,000 people in the coming year. The next report meeting will be October 21.

Wilson Named 'Mississippi Flyway Waterfowl Officer of The Year'

LA CROSSE -- Russell Wilson, Department of Natural Resources Conservation Warden at La Crosse, has been named the 1993-94 "Mississippi Flyway Waterfowl Officer of the Year" by the 12-state Mississippi Flyway Council and Ducks Unlimited. The award was presented by Jim Ware, Senior Group Manager of Ducks Unlimited and Steve Nifong, of the Mississippi Flyway Council.

Wilson, who is the son of Larry and LaVilla Wilson of Kewaskum, received the award recently at Ducks Unlimited's National Headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee. The presentation was made during the Mississippi Flyway Councils annual meeting to make recommendations on waterfowl harvest and to discuss the status of waterfowl. It is the first time a Wisconsin Conservation Warden received the award.

Wilson is a ten-year veteran with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. His work area includes Pools 7 and 8 of the Mississippi River near La Crosse, including Lake Onalaska where some 65,000 canvasback ducks are present during migration.

His nomination emphasized Wilson's work on waterfowler education, wetlands' protection and youth education.

During the fall of 1989 a vegetation die-off forced canvasbacks to fly into backwater areas along the Mississippi in search of food. This presented some special enforcement problems as many hunters were not expecting diving ducks in the small backwater areas.

His nomination said, in part, "Recognizing the threat to canvasbacks, Russ began to work with federal agents and refuge managers of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to address the problem." Wilson worked with the USFWS to develop a canvasback identification video and to set up and conduct hunter workshops before the duck season.

The nomination continued, "He has been involved with canvasback identification efforts since the inception by giving presentations on duck ID, discussing hunting regulations and promoting waterfowl hunter ethics."

In addition, Wilson has worked with the Greenwing youth program of Ducks Unlimited to help youngsters understand the role of the conservation warden and to learn duck identification.

In 1993, Wilson protected waterfowl habitat enforcing state water law by making several arrests for violations involving marshes or tributary streams and investigated a variety of water regulatory problems. He investigated several illegal fills of marshes, illegal water diversions, illegal dredges and obstructions of waterways, the nomination said.

In addition, he conducted many environmental investigations including pollution-pesticide problems involving hazardous waste, solid waste, and wastewater disposal cases.

Wilson coordinated a Mississippi River cleanup effort that linked volunteers and members of resource agencies in the La Crosse vicinity to remove truckloads of barrels, tires and other debris from backwater areas.

He also presented hunter education course presentations to 173 hunter safety students during 1993 and certified several new hunter education instructors.

Wilson praised the work of local sports club members and the general concern for waterfowl among people in the La Crosse vicinity. "I really enjoy watching the wide variety of birds that migrate through the area. It is also rewarding to work in a community that cares so much about the resource and the waterfowl hunter."

In 1991, Wilson received the Department of Natural Resources' Western District Outstanding Service Award. The annual award is based on nominations by co-workers.

GTE Makes Local Calling A Better Value Than Ever

SUN PRAIRIE -- Beginning October 1, many GTE customers saw their long-distance rates reduced as the company expanded its Extended Community Calling service throughout Wisconsin.

Extended Community Calling (ECC) allows customers to call adjacent communities within a 15-mile radius without paying long-distance charges. These calls, which were billed at long-distance rates, now will be billed at a flat rate of 5 cents per minute.

For example, a 30-minute call within this 15-mile area cost customers approximately $3.66 under long-distance rates. With ECC, that same call costs $1.50.

Customers do not have to sign up for the plan; it's automatic. Once ECC is established in a community, the customer's telephone bill will show each call made and the number of minutes billed, similar to long-distance bills.

ECC is available in addition to existing Local Calling and Extended Area Calling service. Local Calling and Extended Area Calling service areas remain the same, with customers having the benefit of calling even more communities at reduced rates under ECC.

Placing ECC calls requires dialing only seven digits rather than 1 plus the number. When dialing outside of their area code, customers will still dial 1 plus the area code and the seven digit telephone number, but at the same reduced ECC rates.

GTE customers who use automatic dialing equipment, such as autodial telephones, facsimile machines, or modems, are reminded to reprogram that equipment for ECC. This reprogramming is especially important for customers who use an automated dialer, such as Lifeline equipment, to dial any type of emergency service.

ECC was approved statewide by the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin in 1993 and will be phased in through 1996. ECC was created to address concerns over the size of some local calling areas around the state. The plan primarily benefits suburban and rural residents who generally have smaller local calling areas and in some instances had to pay long-distance charges to call their local schools, doctors and businesses.

"GTE is pleased to offer Extended Community Calling and provide expanded calling areas for our customers," said Dennis Blair, GTE State Vice-President/General Manager. "ECC service allows customers to call nearby communities at a savings of about 60 percent over current long-distance rates."

At a later date, GTE will also be providing additional ECC routes at the new five cents per minute rate. All routes are scheduled to be in place by year-end 1996. GTE will have placed over 900 ECC routes in service by year-end 1994. GTE will notify customers as additional routes become available.

Customers with questions about ECC should contact the GTE business office listed in their local telephone directory.

GTE serves 1,186,000 customers in more than 1,900 communities in the Illinois/Wisconsin region. The corporation is the largest U.S.-based local telephone company and the second-largest cellular-service provider in the United States. The corporation is the fourth largest publically owned telecommunications company in the world. GTE also is a leader in government and defense communications systems and equipment and aircraft passenger telecommunications, directories and telecommunications-based information services and systems.

Extended Community Calling is being phased in throughout Wisconsin. All ECC routes will be completed by year-end 1996. As of October 1994, new Extended Community Calling services have become available for customers in the following communities served by GTE: from Allenton (414) 629 to Kewaskum (414) 626; from Random Lake (414) 994 to Kewaskum (414) 626; from Waubeka (414) 692 to Kewaskum (414) 626.

To dial
long distance within your area code, simply add your area code.

1+ (your area code) + the number

With so many new telephones, cellular phones, fax machines, modems and pagers, quite frankly, we need more phone numbers. So here's how GTE is freeing up a slew of new ones: Instead of dialing '1' plus a seven-digit number for long distance within your home area code, now simply dial '1' plus your area code, then the number.

Easy, huh? Oh, and don't forget to reprogram any auto dialing equipment you may have. Speaking of auto dialers, GTE offers "Speed Calling-8," a time-saving feature that stores up to eight frequently called numbers. To order, call 1-800-346-4300. Then, whether you're dialing long distance or not, it's even easier.

It's amazing what we can do together.

COLOR-HAPPY

by A.Mi

One wonders how thrilled our native Americans must have been each fall in Wisconsin with the colorful change of nature. Our hardwood trees boasting their fantastic colors...the Jack in the Pulpit's bright red berries...the darling Doll's Eyes...and how about the navy blue of the Wild Grape! Indeed, I could go on and on!

Just as they must have annually enjoyed the colorful plumage of our lovely birds who decorate our yards and forests, they surely looked forward to each autumn. And we, too, with them in this day and age, have the privilege of fall and its wonderful presentation of very special COLOR.

And with that change comes the wildlife preparation for the cold, dormant months still to come. Both the flora and fauna plus all animals have their very own manner of "getting ready." Just as we wash the storms and hang them...check the doors and windows for air leaks...they line their earthen holes with grasses to keep out the cold and pocket away food storage to carry them over those months of non-growth or fruition.

Have you taken the time recently to hike the trails of nature? To catch first-hand the beauty of the season?

Have you noted the heavy, glossy fur coats appearing on many wild mammals? Observed the over-all earth tint change from green and sky-blue to a whole array of colors framed by billowing white clouds? If not, give it a try. There's truly nothing as lovely as Wisconsin in the fall.

I know, for I have been tramping the hills and dales and drinking in the 1994 beauty of our Wisconsin.

It's not a bit funny to sneak up real fast on old folks at cross-walks and give them a blast.

Potter Visits Farmington School

Mrs. Deb Stone, Kewaskum High School Art Instructor, brought her potter's wheel to Farmington Elementary School last week and demonstrated how to make clay pots for the Farmington Elementary Art Enrichment students. After her demonstration, Mrs. Stone worked individually with each student on the wheel to create a pot.

In addition to teaching, Mrs. Stone is a professional potter. She manufactures and sells her unique pottery to retail shops and florists around the country. The children were enthralled with her enthusiasm and expertise about clay.

The artistic Farmington students, in addition to making clay pots, are creating a bulletin board for the school hall using creative clay pieces.

This is the second year the gifted and talented art enrichment students are using their talent to improve the aesthetics of the building.

Wisconsin is third in the United States in financial health, up from fifth place in 1992.

FIRE SAFETY

Smoke Detector Do's And Don'ts

(NAPS)—Buying a smoke detector today could save your life tonight. Here are some simple do's and don'ts on how to install and maintain your detector from the experts at First Alert, the leading manufacturer of fire safety products:

Your smoke detectors work 24 hours a day, every day. If they are more than ten years old, it's a good idea to replace them with new ones as you would replace any constantly used appliance.

• Do, when installing smoke detectors, always follow manufacturer's instruction exactly. Place smoke detectors in every bedroom and on each level of your home, including basements.

• Do test your smoke detectors at least once a week by depressing the test button, which tests all detector functions to insure proper working order.

• Do replace batteries when necessary, at least twice a year.

• Do clean your smoke detector at least twice a year.

• Don't remove a "chirping" battery from the smoke detector to silence the noise. Do replace the failing battery immediately.

KHS Spirit High In Spite of Saturday's Drenching Rain

It rained on Kewaskum's Homecoming parade, but in spite of it all, spirit and enthusiasm was high as the sophomore's float, "Whale Take All But De-Feet," rolled down Main Street on Saturday. The sophs took first place for their original float.

The freshmen took third place for their entry.

The football team rode in the parade and even though they got drenched in the parade, they came to the game Saturday afternoon, prepared to win, and beat the Huskies they did, in overtime, 14-6.

To preserve labels on medicine bottles, apply a thin coat of clear nail polish.

The Junk Car Ordinance is being amended to allow a vehicle which may be involved in potential litigation with proof furnished by court order, attorney or insurance company, to be exempt from the provision which calls for issuance of a citation ordering its removal from the premises.

Developers of Hickory Hollow Subdivision questioned whether or not a specific lot is buildable because its size does not conform to the current zoning ordinance or if the entire plot would need to be revised. The board felt that because the subdivision was approved by the county in 1979, it should stay as it is and so the lot is buildable.

Only two bids were received for the one ton utility truck to replace the 1985 GMC in use now. Adell Motors, Adell, bid $23,946.85 with or without a trade but no guarantee of a delivery date "due to a shortage of motors." The Bob Fish bid was $21,325 with a $3,500 trade in price to bring the total to $17,825 and delivery guaranteed in 30 to 90 days.

The board is considering accepting the Fish offer without trade and to attempt to sell the old truck while reserving the right to purchase the trade if the sale does not go as predicted.

The Town Road Superintendent has reported a number of signs being vandalized and sign posts being broken off at various locations. He has also experienced stones and large rocks in the grass along the roadsides which is causing damage to the town mowing equipment.

As part of its recycling grant request, the town is making plans to purchase equipment necessary for processing of recyclable material. These plans include a machine for grinding plastic jugs, a glass crusher and a paper baler.

A disagreement about the requirement of a building permit for a "portable deck" involving Building Inspector Frank Mayer and Clara Trapp was resolved with payment of the fees as required by Mayer.

A total of 57 building permits have been issued through the end of August. August permits were issued to: Alan Flanders - restore front porch - $1,000; Thomas Stenberg - siding and windows - $8,800; Terry Krueger - electric service - $350; Dennis Janz - Duplex, side by side - $84,900; Richard Bemis' - remodel - $18,000; Norman Preder - garage - $7,600; Ms. Ed Cudnohoske - electric service - $500; Dr. Ken Nickolson - re-roof - $5,000; Craig Warnecke - reside home - $5,000.

Despite Rain, Kettle Kountry Kolors Attracts Thousands to Kewaskum

Andrew Kuehl, left, Kewaskum's answer to "Barney the Purple Dinosaur," performed live and sang, "I Love You," to the audience. Hypnotist Dr. Al Snyder, right, told Andrew, among other things, that he was "Barney," and thus, a new "Barney" was born. Andrew had absolutely no recall of singing, but just between you and I, it was next to impossible to get the microphone out of his hands the next day! No... we are not renting him out for children's parties this year.

The strolling mimes were a new feature added to Kettle Kountry Kolors this year and they wandered among the people Saturday and Sunday. (No, Jane, they don't need a microphone.) In the background of the photo, is a new Kettle Kountry Konvert, Canvasback Woodworks of Negaunee, Michigan, who displayed his handmade lawn furniture in the craft area outside. In spite of the rain on Saturday, and the chilly winds on Sunday, they loved our festival and plan on returning next year.

Wayne Martin's puppets were one of the main attractions in the Children's Tent this year and brought smiles and cheers from a packed-house audience.

Jerry Taff, center, and his Channel 12 film crew shown to the left, took part in the firing of the authentic Civil War cannon which was a part of the Civil War Encampment. (More photos on the Civil War Encampment and the Buckskinners will be printed in next week's issue).

Sheepshearer Ron Hahm demonstrated how to make a sheep shiver on Sunday, not an ideal day for someone to take your coat away.

The Wisconsin State Patrol brought in "The Convincer," which is a setup that simulates a car accident at a speed of approximately five to ten miles an hour and shows how important wearing seat belts can be even in minor fender-benders. Joan German of the State Patrol also displayed the State Patrol's "roll over cage." Shown above is Kewaskum Police Officer Tom Bauer, (back to camera) buckling in his next "crash victim."

Country Line Dancers Katie Galabinski, left, and Joyce Halfmann, center, took part in the Country Line Dancing demonstration to the country music of "Nashville Sounds" on Saturday afternoon.

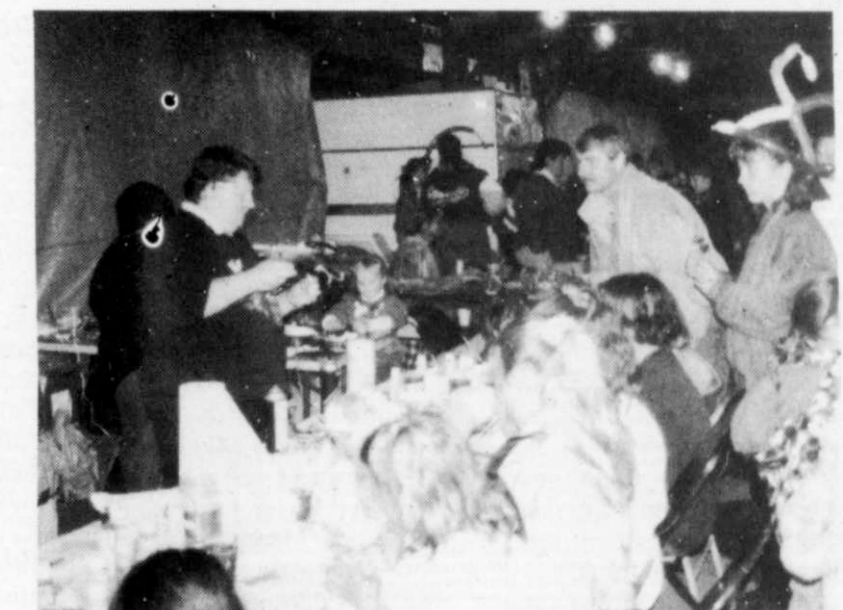

Nancy Ramthun of The Crossroads displayed her Terry Redlin prints in the huge craft tent all weekend.

Tom Timblin, left, of Kewaskum, accepts a year's membership from Jim "Jonesy" Korth of Hon-E-Kor Country Club. Tom won the playoffs in the Hon-E-Kor Hole-In-One Golf Contest.

Scott Branta of West Bend was the overall male winner in the KEYS 5K Walk/Run held on Sunday morning. Sue German was the female winner. The run netted the KEYS Scholarship Fund nearly $4,000.

Joanne Hall is shown standing above teaching in her "Make It and Take It" craft booth, another new feature in the South Pavillion this year. There was never an empty seat on Saturday nor Sunday and children and adults alike waited in line to be shown how to make their own crafts. It was heaven-sent for the children on Saturday, who tired quickly of playing in the mud outside.

Perennial Kettle Kountry favorite, "Crackers" the Clown entertained children and adults in the South Pavillion during the gloomy weather on Saturday. Shown modeling "Crackers" latest handiwork is Stephanie Vetter.

MILK . . . The Perfect Partner

Milk and honey.
Milk and cereal.
Milk and cookies.

For years, people have paired milk with their favorite foods. No matter how you enjoy it... flavored or unflavored... from a glass or a carton, milk provides a nutritional complement to any meal or snack. That's something we often take for granted.

What makes milk such a perfect partner?

Milk is made up of essential nutrients... protein, carbohydrates, vitamins, minerals, fat and water. These nutrients make dairy products an important part of a balanced diet, say nutrition experts at Dairy Council of Wisconsin.

Protein, for example, helps your body build and repair tissue, helps fight infection, and supplies calories for energy. Carbohydrates also give you energy.

Although vitamins perform many important functions, your body cannot make most vitamins itself... they must come from the foods you eat. Milk has riboflavin (vitamin B2) to help your body turn the foods you eat into the energy you need. It also has vitamin B12 for healthy blood. Fortified milk is a good source of vitamin A for vision and healthy skin, and an excellent source of vitamin D for bones and teeth.

Among the most important nutrients in dairy products is calcium. This mineral is vital for building and maintaining healthy bones. Studies show that calcium consumption throughout life is important in preventing osteoporosis, or "brittle bone" disease.

Fat, too, is an essential nutrient because it provides energy. It also carries vitamins A and D throughout your body. The fat content of dairy products available today varies, allowing consumers to select those that fit their needs and lifestyles.

The water in a glass of milk is important, too. Water maintains your body's temperature... in other words, it helps you "keep your cool," and carries vitamins and other nutrients throughout your system.

DCW nutrition experts recommend eating a balanced diet based on the Food Guide Pyramid, which includes the following daily:

- * two to three servings of milk, cheese, yogurt and other dairy products;

- * two to three servings of meat, dry beans, eggs and nuts;

- * three to five servings of vegetables;

- * two to four servings of fruits;

- * and six to eleven servings of bread, cereal, rice and pasta.

They recommend selecting a variety of foods and eating in moderation.

Dairy Council of Wisconsin is a non-profit nutrition education and marketing association whose work in Wisconsin, northern Illinois and Northwest Indiana is made possible through funds provided by dairy farmers.

A Birthday Memorial to Robert Felten

I look up in the sky at the brightest star; I keep wondering where you are for I know that somewhere you are watching over us all. If on cue, the star starts to blink; I feel my heart start to sink. The star shines bright from all around to let us know of your presence and share the memories of your laughter and sense of humor. I know this star will always shine bright, because stars like you are often rare. God has not promised skies always blue, sun without rain or joy without sorrow or pain, but God has promised strength for the day and light for the way.

Only a cluster of memories sprayed with a million tears, wishing God had shared you just a few more years. Everytime I see your picture, you seem to smile and say, don't cry, I'm in God's keeping and resting in peace. We'll all meet again someday. We do not need a special day to bring you to our minds; the day we do not think of you is very hard to find. The Lord has taken you from our homes, but He never will from our hearts.

Moraine Park is Part of 'Work Not Welfare' Pilot Program

Moraine Park Technical College, in conjunction with area business and employment agencies, is participating in Fond du Lac County's Work Not Welfare initiative. This welfare reform pilot program could serve as a state and national model based on its effectiveness at ending welfare dependency.

The focus of Work Not Welfare is to offer welfare recipients the training they need to find entry-level jobs that allow for advancement and offer reasonable pay and benefits. Participants of the program are trained for one year and have an additional year to find employment. Health insurance and day care costs are covered during the two years, but all aid is terminated at the end of the second year. Fond du Lac County is one of only two in the state to pilot the program.

"The combination of community and business support is vital to the success of this program," said Dennis Nitschke, Moraine Park's Vice President for College Relations and Marketing. "Cooperation and open communication between the agencies involved is a must."

Fond du Lac's Social Services Department, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR), Advocap, the State Department of Health and Social Services (DHSS), Moraine Park and area businesses are coordinating efforts to make the transition from welfare to work a "seamless one," Nitschke said. "We're currently looking at the services that each organization offers so we don't overlap or duplicate any processes."

Nitschke said that although the organizations involved are only six weeks into planning the Work Not Welfare program will be implemented January 1, 1995. "What we're doing now is trying to find a process that will coordinate everything that DVR, Advocap, Moraine Park and the county and state Social Services departments offer."

Nitschke explained that Moraine Park has identified three main customers whose needs must be met through the Work Not Welfare program: the participants currently receiving government aid, area businesses and the county government. All three depend on the other for the program to succeed - the Work Not Welfare participants need the county to fund their training, employers need a well-trained work force and the county needs the cooperation of area businesses to offer job training.

From January 1 through June 30, 1995, all 750 welfare recipients in Fond du Lac County will be interviewed to see what type of training they will need. "Some of the people on welfare don't have their high school diplomas and others are single mothers who haven't been in the work force for years," said Nitschke. "During the first year they will get the basic training they need - like their GED or re-entry support - along with job training so they can obtain continued employment."

Nitschke said Work Not Welfare is different from previous "workfare" programs like CETA and MDTA because it's not a quick-fix solution - it focuses on changing attitudes and behaviors along with offering job training. "It's the first rung on the ladder," Nitschke explained. "The other programs were six to 18 weeks of mass training. Work Not Welfare combines both academic and occupational learning and encourages continued education and training."

Moraine Park may be looked to for testing and assessment of Work Not Welfare participants, minority support, special needs services, career exploration, re-entry components such as self-development, non-traditional career planning and success skills, and general motivation for participants.

"We (Moraine Park) are a responsive part of the whole effort," Nitschke explained. "The county Social Services department is the driving force."

Nitschke said he's glad Moraine Park is involved with the Work Not Welfare Program and that the community and area businesses are supporting the initiative. "It's no longer an option," Nitschke said. "Everyone has to get involved."

Indians Flat in Loss to Kiel

By Statesman Sports Writer

KIEL - Any chance that the Kewaskum volleyball team had left in hopes of challenging for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference championship went up in smoke here, last Tuesday night.

The Lady Indians came out of the gates very flat against Kiel, and the result was predictable. The Raiders took advantage of the Lady Indians' inept play to post a 15-3, 15-10, 7-15 win over KHS, thus eliminating the Indians from contention in the EW.

"We didn't play very well at all," a disappointed KHS coach Dave Rizzardi said of the defeat. "They came out fired up, and before we knew, it was over."

The Indians weren't ready for the Raider onslaught, falling behind big early in the first game. KHS never recovered, and suffered the lopsided loss.

It was much of the same in the second game, with Kiel jumping out to an early lead. KHS did put up a fight however, with some good serving from Deb Neumann.

"(Neumann) had a nice run to get us back into the game," Rizzardi said, reporting that KHS battled back to within 10-8 in the second game. "We just couldn't overcome the slow start, and they held on."

Rizzardi said that the Indians were without Michelle Thull for the contest, as she injured an ankle and was unable to play. The veteran KHS coach said though that he doesn't think it would have made much of a difference.

"I don't really know if that mattered much," he said of Thull's absence. "It was just a bad night for us all around. Our defense just wasn't there for us."

Senior Mary Yahr led the Indians with nine total points, while Shelly Williams was the Indians' top setter with 11 assists.

Rohrer, Feind Win at Regionals

By Statesman Sports Writer

WHITEFISH BAY - The revamped WIAA girls tennis regional tournament, which now puts schools into their respective divisions, had Kewaskum coach Glenn Eichstedt first puzzled, then beaming here, last Tuesday afternoon.

"Being the first time ever in a division two regional, I really had no idea what to expect," Eichstedt said regarding the new format.

After two of his players were able to advance to the Sectional level, however, Eichstedt said he was more than happy to make the switch.

KHS' Missy Rohrer and Margaret Feind both advanced from their respective flights, earning sectional berths and praise from their coach.

"I am very pleased for them," he said, noting that the senior Rohrer and sophomore Feind each went undefeated on the day.

Rohrer, seeded number two in the first flight, had to win just one match in order to advance to Thursday's sectional at Kohler. The Indian veteran did just that, easily handling Shorewood's Caroline Probst, 6-2, 6-2.

Feind, meanwhile, was seeded third in the third flight. She opened against Grafton's Jenny Scott, winning rather easily 6-0, 6-1. Feind then came right back, beating Cedarburg's Megan Hammann 6-2, 6-2, in order to move on.

"It was quite a match,"

Eichstedt said of Feind's second contest. "Margaret just played very steady and solid."

Feind and Rohrer were the lone KHS players to advance in the meet, although several other Lady Indians played very well.

"We won all four of our first-round singles matches," Eichstedt pointed out. Meredith Frac, who came into the meet with a 14-match win streak, extended that string to 15 straight with a first-round win over Shorewood's Carolyn Geiser.

But Brown Deer's Fatima Marten ended Frac's win streak and high school career with a 6-2, 6-2 win in the second round.

"It was tough to accept," Eichstedt said of Frac's loss. "She played very well. She kept attacking and was very active. Marten just covered the court a little better."

Eichstedt also had praise for senior Anne Mertz, whom he put in the fourth singles flight, despite Mertz being a doubles player all season.

Mertz responded well, winning her first match in three sets, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2. She dropped her second match, however, and was eliminated from sectional competition.

KHS didn't have any success in doubles competition, losing all three of its first-round matches, winning just three games.

"We knew going in that we didn't have much of a chance in doubles," Eichstedt said. "And we didn't have any luck at all."

Still, Eichstedt was pleased overall with the team, which finished third (10 points) in the meet, behind the host Blue Dukes (24), and runner-up Cedarburg (12).

"It was a good measuring stick for us," he said. "It shows that we are among the top schools in the area in division two."

KHS Spikers Fall to Falcons

By Statesman Sports Writer

SHEBOYGAN FALLS - It was a much better effort than was put forth two nights earlier against Kiel, but it was too little, too late for the Kewaskum volleyball team here, last Thursday night.

The Lady Indians gave Eastern Wisconsin Conference contender Sheboygan Falls all it could handle in their contest on the Falcons' home court. But the Lady Indians couldn't get the crucial points when they needed them, eventually losing to the Falcons, 12-15, 15-17, 13-15.

While he was happy that his team bounced back from the Kiel match and put forth a fine effort, KHS coach Dave Rizzardi said that the Indians still are not steady.

"We have talent," Rizzardi said of the Indians. "We just are not showing any consistency. We definitely have our moments. Other times, we just fall asleep."

The Indians fell behind big in both the first and second games, only to stage comebacks that fell a bit short each time. In game one, the Indians battled back to within one, at 12-11, but the Falcons regrouped after a timeout, and pulled out the win.

In the second game, KHS again struggled in the early-going, only to tie the score at 13-all. But a missed serve gave the Falcons a side-out, and Falls never trailed again, eventually outlasting the Indians.

"That was very uncharacteristic of us," Rizzardi said of the missed serve. The Indians lead the EW in serving percentage, but the untimely miscue, "is a good indication of how it's gone this season."

Kelly Schreffler led the Indians with 12 points, while Shelly Williams had another nice night setting with 18 assists. "She's still our most consistent setter," Rizzardi said of Williams.

"We could have placed the ball better," Rizzardi went on to say about the loss. "But they are a good team. They are one of the top two teams in the conference," along with Two Rivers.

The Indians, meanwhile, dropped to 6-5 in the EW with one contest remaining, at home against New Holstein Tuesday.

The comet that returns most frequently is Encke's Comet. It comes by every 3.3 years.

Senior is First-Ever from KHS to Qualify Rohrer Advances to State

By Statesman Sports Writer

KOHLER - Kewaskum senior standout Missy Rohrer made history here, last Thursday afternoon, becoming the first Lady Indian tennis player ever to advance to the WIAA state tournament.

Rohrer, playing in the top flight, won her first match and thus qualified for the state meet to be held this weekend at Madison.

"We're just thrilled for her," KHS coach Glenn Eichstedt said of Rohrer's accomplishment. "She deserves all the credit in the world. She works so hard, and demands so much of herself. It was just great to see."

This is the first year that the WIAA has divided schools into their respective divisional rankings. In the past, all schools competed at the same level, with smaller division three schools having to battle the biggest schools in the state at the regional level.

Rohrer used the move to the division two competition as a springboard to the state meet, as she needed just one victory Thursday to advance.

She got that right away, beating DePere's Jill LeBouton 6-2, 6-2 in the opening round.

"It was a great moment," Eichstedt said of Rohrer's momentous win. "It was great to see her totally relaxed and enjoying what she had accomplished."

Rohrer's day wasn't over, though, as she had to continue playing in order to determine the top three places in the flight. She was pitted against Kohler's Susannah Wood in the semi-finals, and looked to be in good shape early, leading 5-2 in the first set.

But Wood, who lost to Rohrer in straight sets earlier this season, stormed back to win the opening set in a tiebreaker, 7-6 (7-2). Rohrer recouped, however, rolling over Wood 6-0 in the second set.

Rohrer then won the first two games of set three, but once again Wood rallied. The Kohler ace won the next five games, on route to a 6-3 third-set victory, sending Rohrer into the third-place match against Cedarburg's Jill Draheim.

Rohrer, who began play at 8:30 in the morning, "showed a lot of determination," against Draheim, according to Eichstedt. Rohrer beat Draheim 6-4, 6-4, ending her day over eight hours after it began, with just two hour-long breaks along the way.

"It was a very demanding day for her, against probably the best competition she's ever faced," Eichstedt said.

Margaret Feind also took part in the sectional, although she could not qualify for the state meet because she was in the third flight. Only players in the top two flights may advance to the state meet, thus discouraging coaches from putting their top players in lower flights in the hope that they can advance.

Despite having little to play for, Feind played well, taking third in the flight.

After an opening-round loss to Kohler's Laressa Mueller (6-1, 0-6, 1-6), Feind beat Sheboygan Falls' Rita Goodlet 6-4, 6-3.

"She totally controlled (Mueller) in the first set," Eichstedt said of Feind's effort. "She just became tentative. She didn't keep being aggressive."

Eichstedt noted that Mueller, who was the last player to beat Feind before the match (September 8), went on to win the flight, so Feind, "was probably the second-best player (in the flight)."

Feind finished the season with an 18-4 record.

Rohrer, meanwhile, improved to 20-3 on the year, and will take part in the state meet at 6:30 this Thursday at Madison's Neilson Center.

Surprise Pass Lifts KHS to Homecoming Win Indians Outlast NH in Overtime

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM - Playing in a steady rain the entire afternoon, the last thing that the New Holstein defense expected from Kewaskum in overtime was a pass.

So KHS coach Clark Pearson called for a surprise pass play that worked to perfection. That score was followed by a tough goal-line stand by the Indian defense, allowing KHS to post a 14-6 overtime victory against the Huskies in the Indians annual Homecoming contest.

The constant rain played a big role in the contest, with both teams struggling to move the ball on offense.

"It made both teams play pretty conservative," Pearson said of the elements. "It was difficult for runners to cut, so it was definitely a factor."

It became more of a factor in the overtime, and elected to play defense first. In high school football, both teams get four downs from the ten yard-line, and then attempt an extra-point try.

After KHS' Rich Farchione gained three yards on the Indians' first play from scrimmage, Pearson called for the pass play. Indian quarterback Dan Survis dropped back and found Travis Jacak open in the end zone, giving KHS the lead.

"I definitely don't think they expected us to pass," Pearson said. "Dan hit him perfectly with the pass. He was wide open. They were fooled on the play."

Pearson elected to go for two points, and a pitch to running back Cory Rammer did the trick, with Rammer scampering into the left corner, giving the Indians a 14-6 advantage.

But the game was far from over, as New Holstein's Jesse Buechel gained nine yards on the Huskies first play, giving New Holstein a second-and-goal from the one.

After John Vorwerk was stopped for no gain on a quarterback sneak, Kewaskum's Jason Schmidt made a huge play, stopping Buechel behind the line of scrimmage for a two-yard loss.

That brought about fourth down, and Vorwerk's connection with Buechel was stopped short of the goal line, giving the Indians the victory.

"We had good pressure on him on that last play," Pearson said, adding that the entire defense "played very well all day."

Farchione got the Indians on the board first, as he broke through the middle and rambled 25 yards for a touchdown early in the second quarter. The two-point attempt failed.

"We caught them in a seven-man front, and he got through that," Pearson said of Farchione's run. "He broke a tackle at the line of scrimmage and just took off."

New Holstein was able to tie things just before half-time. The Huskies returned a KHS punt 20 yards, and then caught a break when the Indians were penalized for a late hit on the play. That put the ball inside the KHS 25, and a facemask penalty kept the drive alive.

Buechel capped off the short march, scoring from the two yard line. The extra point try missed, and things were tied at 6-all.

Neither team was able to mount much of an attack in the second half. The Indians did drive inside the Husky 30 yard-line, but a fumbled snap and a penalty helped stall the drive.

Defensively, the Indians were stellar. They held New Holstein to just 52 total yards, including 46 rushing.

"I was pleased with the entire defense," Pearson said, individually citing Matt Wiedmeyer, Paul Reis and Andy Mathias for their efforts.

Offensively, the Indians gained 200 yards, including 171 on the ground. Farchione and Rammer led the way with 85 and 57 yards, respectively.

"We didn't make any mistakes on offense," Pearson said, adding that was important due to the weather conditions. "We were pretty solid in that respect."

The victory gave the Indians a 2-2 mark in the EW, with two games to play. Friday, the Indians will travel to Kiel, who lost to Sheboygan Falls last week, 35-0.

"They are a little thin this year, so Sheboygan Falls was able to wear them out in the second half," Pearson said, noting the Raiders trailed just 14-0 at half, and twice had the ball inside the Falcons five yard line and didn't score.

"They move the ball pretty well," he added. "They just have some trouble stopping teams, though."
