New Bank Wisconsin Sign Erected

Just prior to our pasteup deadline on Tuesday, a crew from Poblacki and Sons of Milwaukee, began the tedious process of removing the old Valley Bank sign on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum. Later in the day, the sign was replaced with a brand new Bank Wisconsin structure. Shown in the above photo is an unidentified Poblacki crewman, left, and Tim Miller of Bank Wisconsin, right. The new sign can be seen horizontally in the background of the photo, being lifted off the truck by a crane.

Governor Approves US 45 Improvements in Kewaskum

Gov. Tommy Thompson has approved a $906,121 contract to improve 1.3 miles of US 45 between Washington County H and WIS 28 in Kewaskum.

Musson Bros., Inc., Rhinelander is to begin the project next spring. It will take three to four months to complete, weather permitting, said Ron Cech, design supervisor for the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

One lane in both directions will be open to traffic throughout the project, Cech said.

Existing pavement has deteriorated since the last rehabilitation in 1978. The project will provide smoother driving, improve safety, widen part of the roadway and improve traffic flow through and on both sides of the intersection of US 45 and WIS 28 with new pavement markings included. The wider roadway will accommodate distress lanes, intersection capacity, and make the width consistent with that of the urban portion.

Traffic frequently is congested in the area and the accident rate is slightly higher than the statewide rate for comparable roadways. Cech noted that 73 accidents occurred in the area between 1990-92, including 15 at the US 45 intersection with County H at the south end of the project.

The urban portion of the roadway will be repaved with asphalt. The rural portion will be reconstructed and widened from the existing 30 feet to between 48 and 52 feet, consistent with the width of the urban portion. Curb and gutter and sidewalks will be added.

New curb and gutter with sidewalks also will be installed, along with traffic signals, on the east side of the road at the H-45 intersection.

The box culvert bridge over North Creek will be widened, consistent with width of the improved roadway. The bridge over Kewaskum Creek will not be improved.

The area carries an average daily volume of up to 13,600 vehicles, a number projected to reach up to 18,250 in 20 years. Volume includes about 9% truck traffic.

Federal funds are to pay 80% and Village of Kewaskum funds 20% of the project's cost.

Parade Committee Asks You to Share the Spirit

Christmas... a time of peace and good will. Last year's idea behind the annual Christmas parade was, "The Joy of Giving," and what a success it was. Boxes and boxes of food and other donations were collected during the parade.

This year, the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, in collaboration with Kewaskum High School, would like to try and top last year's sharing with another food drive to be held in conjunction with the Christmas Parade December 4.

If your family enjoys the lights, music, the costumed characters, the bags of goodies from Santa, and the joy and festivity the annual Christmas parade brings, please respond by sharing a food donation.

Santa's elves will be collecting these donations from all the youngsters and grown-ups along the parade route. Just watch for the gaily decorated trailer marked Chamber of Commerce Food Drive Donations and pass your items along to the elves. Children will be rewarded with a treat bag.

This will be a perfect opportunity to show your youngsters the true meaning of the Christmas season... it is better to give than receive.

If you wish to make your donations prior to the parade, there will also be food drive boxes located at West Bend Savings Bank, Bank Wisconsin, My Little Friends Day Care Center, Video Post and the Kewaskum Statesman. Feel free to let your children drop off food donations at any of these places of business.

If you haven't already done so, mark those calendars on December 4, to be on hand for the annual Kewaskum Christmas Parade at 5 p.m.

Also, if anyone wishes to participate in the parade, plan on being at the Kewaskum Fire Station prior to 4 p.m. for lineup. You say you're too busy... we all are... but don't lose sight on what the holiday is all about... sharing the love and peace of Christmas with your family, friends and neighbors.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call Joan at 626-8131, Shawn at 626-4155 or Lana at 626-2626. We're hoping to hear from all of you!

And please... don't forget to purchase your tree or memorial light (coupon on page 5) to help underwrite the cost of the Christmas parade. Next week, the storybook boards, listing all contributors' names, will be erected adjacent to the tree and memorial star in front of Bank Wisconsin. The tree and memorial star will be lit just prior to the parade and it is our sincere hope to illuminate the entire sky in front of Bank Wisconsin as the parade passes by!

More details on the parade will follow in next week's issue, but beat the rush and purchase your light now.

School Board Approves Hiring Assistant Cook, Discontinues KES Breakfast Program

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Congestion in the high school lunch room, approval of preliminary plans for the middle school addition, and the problems with the Write To Read program were just some of the topics discussed at this month's school board meeting.

Food Service Supervisor Kathleen Robinson appeared before the board requesting additional aid in the high school cafeteria due to long lunch lines between the hours of 10:30 and 12:30. Lunch service has increased from 787 students in 1987 to 1,127 in 1994. She cited a student survey conducted asking, "if you don't buy hot lunch, what is your reason?" The overwhelming response was, "the line is too long. By the time I get my food, there's no time to eat."

Robinson stated that the students are "packed and congested like cattle," creating disciplinary problems. An assistant cook was approved by the board to speed up the serving line, control waste, and allow Robinson more time to devote to food purchasing, and to implement new computerized programs.

A discontinuation of the KES breakfast program was also approved due to lack of student involvement. Robinson stated that only twenty children participate in the program and the district is losing $50 per week. The problem lies in the time factor, with students starting school at 9:05, and needing to eat before this.

Nomination papers for individuals running for school board seats will be available from December 1st through January 3rd, with the terms of Mr. Engelking, Mr. Schulte and Mrs. Sparks expiring.

Several parents voiced strong concern over the Write to Read Program, with board members Jeanne Goeden and Neal Weare also questioning the legitimacy of a computer program which uses nine misspelled words to teach children to read. These words, such as snake, smoke, and house, eliminate the silent "e."

Weare pointed out that he was led to believe the new 2000 program would eliminate the problem, yet it still exists. "I think it's counter-productive," stated Richard Zarling, Administrative Representative for the SEC Steering Committee, and Gayle Van Ess questioned why she had to be there again, when the same nine words were the topic of a previous board meeting held last year.

Goeden moved to instruct teachers to not conduct lessons that used the misspelled words until IBM came and eliminated the problem. The request was approved by a 4-1 vote, with Beimborn and Sparks abstaining. President Schmitt's no vote reflected her opinion that the matter should be decided in the classroom by the teachers, not voted upon.

A representative from the architectural firm of Eppstein, Keller and Uhen of Milwaukee discussed preliminary plans for the proposed classroom addition at the Kewaskum Middle School, and presented concept drawings that define the scope of the project.

Jeanne Goeden asked if this will stay within the allocated budget amounts for the KMS addition, and was told they have remained within cost limits. Board member Engelking questioned the sturdiness of some of the moveable classroom partitions, and the architect indicated the sound barrier to be better than a regular classroom. The preliminary designs were approved, along with the contracts for architectural services as well as with Hunzinger Construction Company for the building project.

Mrs. Goeden reported on the elementary school curriculum, indicating the need to give parents directives on goals for each level of education, and review and update some of the books and materials used. The core subjects will receive a general review by the teachers, using small groups with the SEC process. There are still a few positions to be filled on this committee, and anyone interested should contact Connie Strand.

In other business, President Ruth Schmitt complimented Student Representative Andrea Bonlender on the success of the recent KHS musical, "Bye, Bye Birdie," and the payroll was approved in the amount of $2,639,346.83.

Further board approvals included increasing the contracts of Lora Schreiber and Shary Witte from 50% to 100% in the remedial reading program. Both have worked in the district for a number of years as the chapter I teachers for the area of language arts. Paula Biewer was appointed as new assistant gymnastics coach for the 94-95 school year and James Schaeffer as the middle school assistant wrestling coach. Schaeffer is a former KHS wrestler.

Future discussions will take place on the '95 sidewalk issue, with Neal Weare suggesting they meet with the village board regarding installation plans.

Senior Jim Rochon, son of Bill and Mary Rochon, was recognized as KHS Student of the Month for October.

Mr. Brooks was nominated by two teachers for this honor. One said, "Russell has been working diligently to complete his work. He has asked for help when it has been needed and has completed extra work to supplement his grade." The other teacher said, "Russell has begun his second year of high school with a positive attitude about school, his peers, and most of all, about himself. He no longer feels rejected or alienated. He feels like an accepted, positive part of KHS. This is a major change in a positive direction for a unique young man."

United Way: Kewaskum at 100%; County Close Behind

The Kewaskum portion of the United Way of Washington County drive has surpassed the 100% mark of its $33,700 goal for 1994. As of November 17, $33,707 has been collected in gifts and pledges.

The County is at 97% overall, with nine of the 26 divisions meeting and exceeding their goals so far. "We're pleased with the progress to date," said Jerry and Nancy Mehring, county-wide co-chairs, "and confident we'll surpass the $873,000 goal in the next few weeks," they said.

Kewaskum School District Announces Policy for Emergency School Closings

District Administrator Dr. David Heather has released for publication the current policy to be utilized when school is to be called off.

As in past years, radio stations WBKV (1470 AM and 92.5 FM West Bend), KFIZ (107 FM and 1450 AM Fond du Lac), WHBL (1330 AM and 97.7 FM Sheboygan), and WTMJ 620 AM Milwaukee) will be used to announce school closings because of bad weather or other emergency situations.

When school is being called off in the morning, the announcement will be on the air as early as possible. When school has begun, but weather is bad, or turns bad, it is advised that parents, guardians, and other responsible parties listen to one of the radio stations during the day for possible school closing announcements.

The district is VERY hesitant about closing school during the day because we are convinced that parents or others may not be home when children arrive. Sometimes, however, this becomes necessary to avoid excessive problems with getting students home on busses at a later time of the day. Every effort will be made to announce school closings during the day at least an hour before we dismiss the students.

It is important to remember that if school has been cancelled it means that all activities for that day and evening will be cancelled and rescheduled as necessary.

25 Years Ago

November 14, 1969

A.G. Koch, Inc., operator of a general store in Kewaskum for many years, is going out of business. A "Going Out of Business" sale is now on. Koch's store is now in its fourth generation of operation by a member of the Koch family. The business was established by August G. Koch and following his death, was taken over as a corporation by his sons, Arthur and Erwin Koch, both of whom are now also deceased. Later the business was purchased and operated by a grandson, August E. Koch, and at present is being managed by a great-grandson, Terry Koch, son of the August Kochs.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yogerst, Route 2, Kewaskum, on Nov. 5.

Marriage vows were exchanged by Kathleen Ann Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Meyer, Kewaskum, and Albert J. Schulteis, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schulteis, Jr. of Richfield on October 25, at Holy Trinity Church.

The Kewaskum Community pool moved close to becoming a reality when the school board decided on final plans at the Nov. 10 meeting. At an informational meeting held last month, 65 voters favored the original $390,000 plan; 39 the $325,000 alternate, and 25 persons favored no pool at all. The board members decided on the lowest cost plan. The $325,000 olympic size pool will be 42 feet by 75 feet with 3,150 square feet of swimming and diving area. Included in the $250,000 of funds that presently exist for building the pool, is $75,000 raised by the Kiwanis Club and community donations. This leaves a balance of $75,000 required to build the pool, which the school board has decided to borrow. Electors will have 15 days to request a referendum on borrowing the $75,000. A petition containing the signatures of 500 electors in the school district would be necessary to secure a referendum. The school board cannot legally call for a referendum for this type of funding.

Friends of the Kettle Moraine to Meet

The Friends of the Kettle Moraine will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m. at the Ice Age Visitor Center near Dundee.

The featured speaker will be Tom Fredricks, an environmental engineer with Cardinal Engineering, who will present a slide show on "Kayaking in Alaska."

The Friends of the Kettle Moraine celebrated its tenth anniversary this year with an October banquet honoring its Charter Members.

The Friends of the Kettle Moraine is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting a greater appreciation of the Kettle Moraine State Forest-Northern Unit. The Friends have been very active in hosting special events and in concession operations on the forest.

A special invitation is extended to the public to attend.

For more information, contact Walt Adams, N1765 Highway G, Campbellsport, WI 53010, phone (414) 626-2116.

The man was lecturing his daughter on snobbishness. "Remember," he pointed out, "we're all made from the same mold."
"Of course that's true, Pop," the daughter replied, "but some are moldier than others."

Mike Paul showing an antique wooden skate to the second graders at Farmington Elementary School.

Second graders in Kewaskum Schools study "community" in social studies.

At Farmington School, students start the year by exploring the concept of change, how places and lifestyles are different today, compared to the 1800's.

The second graders learn about the past by listening to the book Little House in the Big Woods, story by Laura Ingalls Wilder. They travel to Pioneer Village, an outdoor museum, to experience life of long ago. Parents and other relatives of the students are invited to come to school and share experiences or antiques they have collected.

Mike Paul, of Paul Auction Company, has become a regular resource of this social studies curriculum. He has been visiting the second grade classrooms for the past few years, continuing the work that his father, Jim

Paul, had done previously. He brings a variety of items to the classroom and patiently assesses items that the children bring to school.

His knowledge and expertise foster an appreciation of the value of antiques as well as the lifestyles of the people who used them. The students are fortunate to have Mike Paul as a reliable source to provide an enriching opportunity to learn that no textbook can equal.

Kewaskum Middle School Art

Grade six art students have been collaborating with social studies classes to create handmade paper.

The students studied Egypt in October, and we thought it would be fun for both students and teachers to create traditional Egyptian paper and paint traditional Egyptian designs. As a spin-off project, students are creating individual, personalized symbolic pins to wear using their paper. The results are amazing; wearable art sends messages!

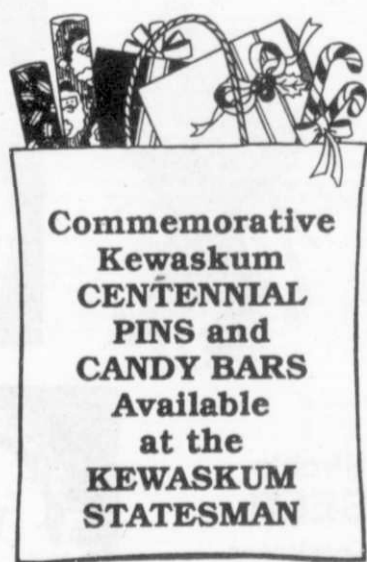

Grade seven has been extremely busy and working very hard. These creative seventh graders have been studying African masks and designing their own personalized mask. Scrap metal, cardboard, wire and papier mache are just a few of the supplies they are using. These students are geniuses when it comes to sculpture!

Grade eight artists are drawing from a still life, using graphite and paper. Students are working on concentration skills, learning shading and proportion techniques as well as PATIENCE! They are doing a tremendous job, and the drawings should be complete before Thanksgiving.

Way to go artists at KMS! Art class has been great.

Mrs. Schumacher-Rasmussen

Penny Wars a Huge Success

War has been declared! No, not World War III, but Penny Wars!

The first two weeks in October, the Kewaskum Middle School Student Council had a competition between the homerooms to see which ones could collect the most pennies.

The eighth grade homerooms of Mrs. Reilly-Kliss and Mr. Heckel collected the most. The seventh grade homeroom of Mrs. Uhlman and the sixth grade homeroom of Mr. Uhlman were the next big winners.

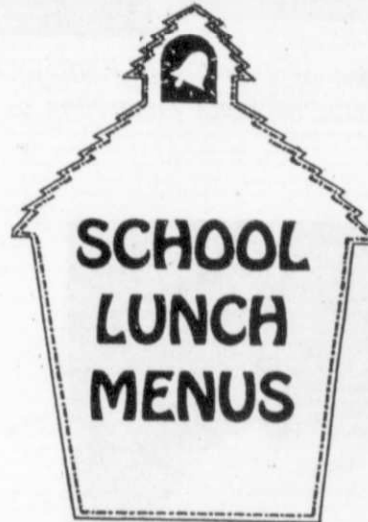

When the members took the money to Valley Bank to be counted the coin-counting machine ran up to a total of $905.57!

The Student Council would like to thank all of the students and parents who "emptied" their change pockets and purses to help us out.

They would also like to thank Valley Bank of Kewaskum and Sharon for counting and bagging all that money!

BOOK FAIR! BOOK FAIR! BOOK FAIR!

The Kewaskum Middle School, Parent Advisory Council is sponsoring a holiday book fair on November 28th, 29th and 30th. This is a wonderful opportunity for students to purchase books that interest them. Reading, English and Literature teachers will be taking their classes to the book fair during the day. The fair will be open just for parents on Tuesday, November 29, between 3 and 4:30, in the school library. Come and purchase some holiday presents. The money raised for this event will be used by the PAC to help purchase items for the school and run activities for the students. If you can help out during the book fair, please contact Lisa Stoffel at 626-2813.

The Toning Shoppe Now Open

The warm, friendly storefront of The Toning Shoppe, located at 203 Main Street in Kewaskum, beckons passersby to stop in and say hello.

A birdseye view of the seven toning tables designed to strengthen and tone muscles while still providing adequate relaxation.

Jessica Wigman of Jackson, certified massage therapist, demonstrates the technique she uses on one of her customers at The Toning Shoppe.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

These days, everyone is aware of the role health and nutrition play in the well-being of an individual trying to maintain a home, family, and a full-time job. Stress ranks as one of the number one complaints heard by physicians, therapists, chiropractors and other health professionals seeking to remedy this American problem.

The reduction of stress in our lives can be accomplished through a variety of techniques, and Linda Thorn of Kewaskum, is offering the community a chance to feel better about themselves through the use of relaxation and muscle strengthening.

The Toning Shoppe, Ltd., located on Main Street, offers seven motorized tables that support body weight and at the same time stretch and flex muscles by moving body parts repetitiously in a condensed amount of time. Because body weight is supported and does not have a resistance to fight against, muscle mass is diminished in size rather than increasing, resulting in a "sleek" total look.

"You do not get sweaty, sore or tired because you aren't fighting against gravity," explains Thorn, who became interested in the technique when she took classes offered in West Bend.

After several months she found it difficult to find the time to continue, along with her busy work schedule, and decided other people in

Kewaskum must feel the same way. "This town is growing fast and I felt we needed a place where anyone could come and work out their tension while working on maintaining proper health for their bodies."

Finding a central location was a plus for the business, and landlord Dave Ramthun renovated the inside of the building to fit Linda's needs, who insisted the interior create a peaceful, home-like atmosphere.

Green plants, wicker, and crafts make the three rooms accented in gray, green and mauve. The Toning Shoppe fits your daily schedule into theirs, offering early morning and late night sessions.

Working with toning tables, the principle is similar to Nautilus equipment, but in reverse. On the Nautilus type of program, the equipment provides the resistance and the body does the pushing and pulling.

These tables provide the pushing and pulling and the body does the resisting. Most physicians and chiropractors recommend toning tables because they exercise the

From the Pages of Menagerie

Throughout the year, we will be running excerpts from Kewaskum High school's literary all-conference publication "Menagerie," featuring the writings of our students.

Opening Day

Miles beyond family I lay among greens of the forest,
Among the midst of the morning sun.

Like sounds of an alarm clock,
out rang shots-
Echoing throughout each direction,

Rumbling in the stereo.
Soldiers in orange have come out to play.

The smell of terror has filled the air.

My brother's groans of agony
pour into the sky;
Dodging my predators, I desperately run for freedom.

IN MEMORY

In memory of Reuben and Sylvia Schultz:

We will never forget the days,
When you left us and went away.

We will never forget your smiles,
They will last for a long, long while.

We will never forget the cheer,
That you brought us each and every year.

Deep in our hearts, your memories are kept,

And we will love and cherish them and never forget.

Loved and remembered,
by your children and grandchildren.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our parents and grandparents, Charles Neumann and Dorothy Kissinger.

You are not forgotten loved ones,

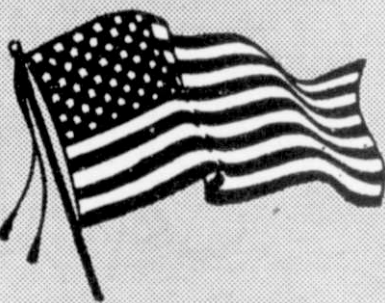

Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memories last,

We will remember you
We miss you now, our hearts are sad

As time goes by, we miss you more.

Your loving smiles, your gentle faces,
No one can fill your vacant places.

We miss you.

The students at Holy Trinity School are off to another great school year. Not only are the students working hard academically, but they are striving for success. The theme for the 94-95 school year is "Pride in Ourselves, Pride in Our Work, and Pride in Our School!"

This year at Holy Trinity School, all of the students in grades one through eight, are divided into "House of Prides." In each "House of Pride" the students work together as a Pride Team to achieve a school wide goal.

The eighth graders are the captains of their Prides and they have a lot of responsibility. They are in charge of their entire Pride and must make sure that all the students work together to finish the desired task.

The students are doing a fantastic job in their "House of Prides" and are making a lot of new friends of all ages. They meet in their "House of Prides" every Friday for Mass. They also get together in school once or twice a month to do special activities or plan special school events.

Already this year, the students have met in their "House of Prides" to work on two special school events. The first special time they met they worked on making self-portraits for Back-to-School Night. All of the self-portraits were hung in the students room or put in their chair. The parents enjoyed looking to see if they could find their child's self-portrait. The self-portraits turned out super and the students succeeded in making "Back-to-School Night" a success.

They recently celebrated "Grandparent's Day" at Holy Trinity School. The students got together in their "House of Prides" to make all their Grandparents a special gift. The Prides worked together and put a lot of time and effort into making sun catchers. The students and their grandparents started the day off with morning Mass. After Mass, the grandparents visited the classrooms and worked with their grandchildren on various activities. The day ended with a family picnic lunch. A good time was had by all!

I wonder what the "House of Prides" at Holy Trinity School will do next?

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Joel James Kumrow who departed from us 20 years ago on Nov. 29, 1974:

Twenty years have past,
Since we seen our Joel last.
You're in our hearts every day
Loving and thinking of you in our own special way.
We know God has you in his tender care,
The sorrow we no longer
need to bare.
Someday we'll all be together
again,
From the love of our family
this poem we send.

Sadly missed by his loved ones,

IN MEMORY

*In memory of
Jane E. Eggert
1/22/57 - 11/25/93*

We hold in our tears when we speak your name
But the ache in our hearts remains the same.

No one knows the sorrow
that we share.
When our families meet and you are not there.

Nothing will ever be more beautiful than the memories that are of you.

To all of us you were someone very special - GOD must have thought so too.

Sadly missed by her Dad and Mother and family.

In loving memory of

Though her smile is gone
And hands we cannot touch,
And we have so many mem-

Of one we loved so much;
Her memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part,
God has her in His keeping
We have her in our hearts.

Toning

back without impact or strain. Moving in only "natural ways," the increased flexibility and range of motion is also beneficial to arthritis sufferers.

Linda adds, "this passive form of exercise utilized just two or three times each week in one hour sessions is equivalent to doing two hours of calisthenics each day."

One of her new customers, Eileen Schmidt of Kewaskum, is happy with the results she's obtained so far. "I love it. The increased circulation has helped my sinuses. I felt a difference after three sessions. I felt loosened up, not so tight all over."

Other benefits of toning include increases in the blood flow and oxygen, the flushing out of fat inducing acid waste, the realignment of body structure, posture, and stance, and a steady reduction of total body inches.

Customers are supervised and shown correct positioning on each of the seven toning tables. Exercise should not be painful in any way. This active/passive concept is very much the same as yoga, the passive giving the spinal support systems a chance to rest and increase the flow of blood to these areas. It does not mean that work is not in progress. "Stretching is not a prelude to exercise," Thorn maintains, "it is exercise."

The Toning Shoppe also offers a separate work-out room equipped with a Pro Form Cross Trainer with a stepper and a PTS Turbo 1000 Aerodine exercise bicycle. Arriving this week will be the Pro Form Crosswalk treadmill and a new machine on the market - the Health Rider, designed to increase cardiovascular circulation. Fifteen minutes on this machine is equal to one hour of high impact aerobics for your heart rate. Video tapes of the various equipment are on hand to watch and learn from.

Jessica Wigman of Jackson is scheduling appointments at the Shoppe as a certified Massage Therapist. She has completed 650 hours of theory and practicum during a seven month course at the Aesthetics University in Wauwatosa, and was granted certification this past July. "I used to go to a chiropractor, and they had a massage therapist. It looked so interesting," Jessie recalls. "I enjoy helping people look and feel better."

"Massage Therapy is no longer deemed sexual or embarrassing. Never at any time is the client exposed," she stresses. "All records are confidential." Massage is very therapeutic - not at all painful.

Wigman practices Swedish techniques, focusing on total body relaxation using mineral, almond or safflower oils. Benefits of massage include nerve stimulation, increased metabolism, increased elimination, improved digestion, nourishing of the skin tissue, and relaxation of muscle spasms, to name just a few.

An ACU electronic massage table is also located in her room, equipped with a built in stereo system. It can be used in conjunction with a massage or at the end of toning sessions. The cost is $5 for a fifteen minute ACU massage.

In the future, the business will also offer complete body wraps as well as possible Tai Chi workshops, stress related seminars, weight control classes, and a special "men's night."

Linda's mother, Lucy Erickson of West Bend, will be filling in during the hours Linda works as head of Advertising Sales at the Kewaskum Statesman. Friend and head of business operations at the Toning Shoppe, Cheryl Kuehl, has been instrumental in making the business a reality. "Without the help and support of my family and friends, including my husband John, I couldn't have done this," Linda states. "We needed this, and Kewaskum needed this."

A Christmas Open House will be held December 3, offering the community a chance to stop in and try out the machines, enjoy some refreshments, take advantage of some special package prices, and visit with the staff to find out what they're all about.

They will also be hosting a "Styles on Video" hairstyle exploration December 9, with Sheryl Kerhin, offering over 500 styles to try on through video tape without any risk. Call for an appointment.

Minutes of Village Plan Commission

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission
September 27, 1994
7:00 p.m.

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert H. Wagner called the meeting to order. Members present were John Stephani, Paul Ziebert, Gerald Stollenwerk, and Administrator Daniel Schmidt. Zoning Administrator Richard Zarling, Richard Schmidt and David Goeden asked to be excused and were absent, also Donald Mlodzik was absent. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and the Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Gerald Stollenwerk, seconded by Paul Ziebert and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Commission approved the minutes as printed for August 30, 1994.

Mr. Jerry Mehring of PJR Management was present to review his Certified Survey Map as proposed. The location is the corner of CTH "H" and Fond du Lac Avenue (USH "45"). The Plan Commission has reviewed the preliminary site plan for the proposed Dairy Queen. Mr. Mehring is proposing to divide the existing lot into two parcels. On a motion by John Stephani, seconded by Gerald Stollenwerk and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Commission recommended the approval of the lot division as per the CSM and authorized the signing of said CSM and sent the matter to the Village Board for action.

The Plan Commission reviewed the request of Jules and Gwendolyn Dreher requesting a Conditional Use Permit to allow for a Bed and Breakfast with three bedrooms as proposed in Ordinance No. 94-8 amending 5.6 of the Zoning Ordinance. The correspondence was reviewed. It was felt that the requesting party should provide verification for adequate parking. Mr. Jules Dreher arrived with sketches regarding the parking situation. On a motion by Gerald Stollenwerk, seconded by John Stephani and unanimously carried, the Commission sent the matter to the Village Board for public hearing with a favorable recommendation.

The Plan Commission reviewed the request of Jules and Gwendolyn Dreher requesting the rezoning of the property located at 1121 Fond du Lac Avenue from R-2 Single Family Residence District to R-3 Two Family Residence District to accommodate the one bedroom apartment, which was set up in the doctor's office. (tax key number V4-0188). On a motion by Gerald Stollenwerk, seconded by John Stephani and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Commission sent the matter to the Village Board for public hearing with a favorable recommendation.

Mr. Rick Kania of SEWR-PC was not present to discuss the proposed Land Use Plan for the Village but did ask that the Commission think about how they would like to see the street cross sections planned for in the future.

The Administrator discussed the possibility for the placement of a Park and Pool Lot, with the possible placement of one being adjacent to the proposed Dairy Queen on USH ROW.

On a motion by John Stephani, seconded by Paul Ziebert and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Commission adjourned the meeting. Roll call vote was 4 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 3 "Absent."

The Winter Parking Restrictions and Snow Emergency Parking Restrictions go into effect on December 1, 1994.

Municipal Code Section 7.04(3) NIGHT PARKING RESTRICTIONS, reads as follows: Signs have been erected at or reasonably near the corporate limits as provided in Section 349.13, Wisconsin Statutes, no person excepting physicians or licensed emergency vehicles on emergency calls, shall park or stop any vehicle on any public street or highway within the village between the hours of 2:00 A.M. and 6:00 A.M. from December 1, to April 1, of each year; provided that, notwithstanding such restrictions vehicles may be parked a period of time not longer than three minutes for actually loading or unloading of passengers, and provided further that no other regulation restricting parking as to place, time, or manner violated thereby.

The fine for violating the ordinance is:

$5.00 if paid within three (3) days of the issuance of the parking citation.

$10.00 if paid after ten (10) days but before 28 days.

After 28 days, the amount is $25.00 and a notice will be sent to the Motor Vehicle Department to suspend your vehicle registrations and refuse renewals until the citation is satisfied.

Tips for Selecting a Wild Game Processor

MADISON -- Now that you've bagged your trophy buck, where do you go to process the venison? "Many hunters process their harvests themselves," says Neal Sanders, food bureau chief of compliance at the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. "Other hunters have someone else process the venison and they have two choices."

One is to go to a licensed meat or retail food establishment that handles venison. Another option is to choose an unlicensed processor," Sanders says.

Sanders says licensed facilities must observe the following requirements:

*Store venison separate from all other meat, poultry and food products.

*Process venison at times different than other meat and poultry.

*Identify and tag all venison products as "NOT FOR SALE."

*Accept only skinned, wholesome, fresh-skinned venison in food-quality containers, such as clean food bags or plastic ice cream buckets. Dark-colored garbage bags may contain toxic resins and are not suitable for storing edible foods.

Because venison is a very lean meat, Sanders says venison sausage usually contains pork or beef meat and suet. Only licensed meat and retail food establishments may add these regulated products to venison. Unlicensed processors may only skin and cut venison. They may not add regulated meat products to venison.

To select a good unlicensed processor, Sanders suggests:

* Know your processor. If you or friends have had good experience with an unlicensed processor in the past, you may wish to continue doing business there.

*Pay attention to how the carcass is handled when it is carcass and later taken inside the processing area. Is the meat hung up or thrown on the ground or floor? Is it hung outside or in a cooler? Would you want to eat other meat products, like beef or pork, processed here?

*What is the physical appearance of the staff? How is the staff dressed? A bloody apron goes with the meat processing business. However, do staff members smoke or chew tobacco in the processing area? Would you want this person handling other food you eat?

*Notice the overall appearance of the processing area. Is it reasonably clean? Although meat processing areas can get quite messy, you should not see insects, rodents, birds, dogs, cats, or other animals. Are doors and windows closed and not blocked open? Is the air free of off-odors which might indicate poor storage or decay?

Sanders says, "Your answers to these questions will let you know if an unlicensed processor meets your standards or if you need to look for a processor who will provide the service you want. To have the finest quality venison products, you must start with a wholesome animal, add superior ingredients, and use processors who meet your personal quality standards. These are the things that help provide good eating for months to come."

over the country to buy our pups," Ned pointed out. "The last litter we had, we had nine pups sold, but she only had three." Ned and June are growing out one of the males from that litter, now seven weeks old. They guarantee all the dogs they sell. Along with their five Muensterlanders, their kennel contains English Cockers, Chesapeake Bay Retrievers, an English setter as well as other hunting breeds.

"These little dogs also make great family pets. They have wonderful temperaments, and get along great with kids," Ned states, who does all the kennel work along with June.

"I don't want to hire anyone to help," the 79-year-old insists. "It's my way of spending time with the dogs. I know if one is not right, and they look forward to seeing me each day."

Muensterlaender Pointer 'One of His Kind'

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

When you ask Ned Sengpiel of Kewaskum about the best dog he's ever had, he'll answer emphatically, "my Muensterlaenders," a German breed that has won the hearts of hunting enthusiasts across the country.

Ned and his wife, June Knowlton, have a right to boast about their breed, since Fritz, their Small Muensterlaender Pointer, was the only one of his kind in the nation to qualify for a Prize 1 in the Utility Test under NAVHDA (The North American Versatile Hunting Dog Association).

His interest in the dog world began with Great Danes - raising and showing them for thirty years, and at one point, owning the top brindle bitch in the country. From there he moved to Rottweilers, then Bloodhounds. "They all became too popular," Ned explains. "The show ring was crowded and political... it was a matter of who you knew."

After his first wife passed away, he was out of dogs when a friend sent him a Chesapeake Bay Retriever, resparking his interest in the dog world. He also acquired an English Field Cocker which Sengpiel calls, "a marvelous dog, but not quite strong enough."

One day, while reading Gun Dog Magazine, he came across a little known breed that seemed to fit his description of the perfect hunting companion, the Small Muensterlaender Pointer. Rare in this country, Ned's search began to find a pair he could import to the states, which was difficult due to strict regulations and control of the breed in Germany.

A judge who happened to be the technical director for Stars and Stripes Magazine, was a friend of Ned's, and was over in Germany at the time Ned was looking for the dogs. He agreed to pick out a pair with good quality and breeding potential for Sengpiel and ship them back to the states.

Into their lives bounded a three-year-old male named Fero and a two-year-old female, Catja, with a hefty price tag of $16,000. They would go on to produce four beautiful litters for Ned and June and help establish this breed within the states.

The Small Muensterlaender Pointer belongs to the versatile hunting breeds as an all-purpose gun dog, excelling in the retrieval of wounded game. Spaniel-like in appearance, the dog is chestnut or roan and white in color with areas of brown flecking, medium in size, well-proportioned, and is an elegant, strong animal with much self-confidence.

Combining intelligence, desire, and fidelity, the breed is quickly adaptable to varied terrain or quarry and his master's preferred methods. As one of the smallest gun dogs, the Muensterlaender is known to be tough, strongly built, and full of nobility. He also possesses a great love for water work along with a solid pointing capacity, meticulous tracking ability and great endurance - even under difficult climate conditions.

According to the Muensterlaender Club of North America, the breed descended from the German hunting dogs of the 13th and 14th centuries and became widespread in hunting circles around the 1860's, described as a "pointing spaniel." The breed neared extinction in the years that followed, with serious breeding starting up again in the 1890's. A standard was established in 1912.

An early breeder wrote that, "farmers kept their dogs around them in the house, which was not usual at that time. It may well have been because the farmers realized that not only was it comforting to them to have the beautiful dogs in the house, but they also got much better performance from them as hunting dogs because of the animal/human relationships that developed in the house."

In Germany today, the Muensterlaender is ranked third in popularity, and their breed club has over 3,800 members. "There's about 150 of this type here in America," Ned adds. "Since 1969, only 15 have qualified in utility tests, two of which were from my kennels. In Germany, the tests are much, much harder - using them for tracking deer and boar hunting. At one time, they were required to kill a fox to qualify."

Sengpiel's dogs were trained in the German language, so he had to retrain them to respond to his commands. "They're bilingual!", he declares. June points out that she has found them to have certain cat-like qualities, which seem to be confirmed as one of their younger dogs, Barney, races full speed toward her, stops short, stands and embraces her around the waist in a giant bear hug.

NAVHDA member Dennis Brath of Caden Kennels in Campbellsport handles Fritz at the trials and also owns one of his female pups. An intense training session took place in Texas last February, when the dog was shipped down there for two months of daily workouts.

There are strict requirements for breeding and registering these dogs. Hips must be certified, and both the sire and dam should have qualified in a NAVHDA Natural Ability Field Test or it's equivalent. A breed warden is assigned in this country to oversee all potential matings.

True versatile tests cover every aspect of the dog's ability. The Natural Ability Field Test is a measure of the young dog's versatile instincts and the Utility Field Test measures a gun dog's usefulness to the on-foot hunter. The final step, the Invitational, measures the advanced skills of a fully trained versatile champion, in which the dog has to be invited to participate. Fritz received such an invitation, but was unable to attend at the time.

All dogs are rated against a standard, not other dogs. Some of the more common versatile breeds are the Brittany, German Shorthaired Pointer, German Wirehaired Pointer, Vizsla, Weimaraner, and Wirehaired Pointing Griffon.

To earn a Prize 1 in Utility

Testing, Fritz was required to search for, find and point game and retrieve shot birds to hand, remaining steady to wing, shot and fall; to track and retrieve a 100-200 yard drag; and perform a water sequence demonstrating obedience by heeling through a zig-zag course to the blind and then remaining by the blind while the handler leaves, goes out of sight, and fires his gun twice.

After the handler returns to the blind, the dog retrieves a thrown duck after remaining steady through a sequence of shots. The final test involves a blind search for a live duck across water with emerging vegetation. During the entire test the dog is scored on use of nose, desire to work, stamina, cooperation and general usefulness to the foot hunter.
