E & E Game Farm Caters to Bird Hunting Enthusiasts

By Sharon-Callaway Roznik

The land comprising the Kettle Moraine area is well known as prime hunting grounds for a variety of large and small game, and enthusiasts are drawn to its lush marshland, open meadows, thick woodlands, and varying terrain. Two friends, who happen to be neighbors with adjoining land, capitalized on nature's bounty by opening a 200 acre Hunting Preserve for pheasant and other game birds.

E & E Game Farm opened this past year under the direction of Perry Etta and Greg Engelhardt, who were both familiar with the opportunity the land could offer. "This is old pheasant land," Etta points out, that he started hunting years ago with his father and Harry Koch. "We used to raise a couple of hundred pheasants and let them go on opening day, just to hunt with friends."

Now hunting is business to them, stemming from a project they started one day with good friends... building large flight pens to contain the pheasants. This undertaking lasted throughout the summer, and once the basic wooden frame, or structure was completed, large nets were secured over the entire pen, allowing the birds to fly short distances. Etta kept noticing the variety of land, and the same thought continued to play on his mind... "this place would be ideal as a preserve for game bird hunting."

The partners started this summer with 1,600 birds acquired from Joe and Cheryl Nolan of Midwest Pheasant

Home Decorating Contest Sunday

Kewaskum is beginning to look like a Currier and Ives scene, as more and more homes are being lit up in joyous preparation for the holidays.

Residents only have a few days left to decorate if they want to get in on the annual Chamber of Commerce decorating contest, which will be judged this year on Sunday, December 18 from 6 to 10 p.m.

Cash prizes will be awarded to at least a half dozen village residents in various categories.

If you have been procrastinating like a good portion of us (and muttering under your breath that next year you are putting up the decorations in July), the judgement day is nearly here. But then if you are an optimist and feel there is no sense in rushing into the season... there's still plenty of time left. We have the whole weekend, right? There's no telling what you can accomplish in one weekend. Now if only there was a store that sold lights in sets of 500... it's getting to the point, if there was only a store that had colored lights left! Oh well, I guess clear lights are just as pretty. Hopefully, someone has them left yet.

And just think... we procrastinators will have the advantage of having "fresh lights" (barring any tricks from our friendly weathermen). The early birds have to dust snow off their decorations.

Speaking of dusting... put the paper down for now, and get ye down into the basement and dig out and dust off all your decorations you packed away last year and the year before. I'll bet there's a clever way to incorporate the two and make a beautiful display that just might take the first place award.

This year, let's try to have every street decorated to the max. Visitors will flock from miles around, just to see our decorations. And while they are here, they will also see what a fine community we are.

Area residents, this is also your chance to view everyone else's displays while they are all lit. Turn on your decorations Sunday... grab the kids... and hop in the car and view the "Winter Wonderland" Kewaskum becomes the week before Christmas. From what I've seen so far, the village will be echoing with oohs and aahs of glittering de-"light."

If Mom Nature cooperates, photos of some of the winners will be published next week.

Hurry now... get those lights out!

Town of Scott Board Issues Zoning Changes, Conditional Use Permits

By Bernadette Mondloch

Zoning changes and issuance of conditional use permits dominated a large portion of the November meeting in the Town of Scott.

Kenneth Kohl was issued a conditional use permit to conduct a wholesale hardware business at the corner of School Street and State Highway 28 in Batavia. A zoning change from R-1 to R-2 was done to accommodate plans for a house at that location. The business will not generate traffic and will not include any type of showroom.

A rezoning from R-1 to B-1 and a conditional use permit for a tavern and food bar, including an upstairs rental unit was issued to Donald Horn for 3.7 acres located in Section 13 (Batavia).

A rezoning from R-1 to B-1 and a conditional use permit for a clothing sale and manufacturing business and living quarters was issued to Michelle Deitsch for .263 acres in Batavia.

Requests for rezoning from Shaun and Kim Eckmann was denied by the planning commission because the Eckmanns failed to appear at the planning commission meeting.

Requests from Terry Weber, Jim Brown and Norbert Degnitz were tabled until the December meeting because they were not received in time for the November agenda.

During the public input portion of the meeting, members of the Batavia Fire Department suggested that the town provide some assistance for maintaining, insuring and grass cutting at the Hilltop grounds, currently owned by the fire department. Ken Kohl explained that previously some of the financial assistance came from the local athletic club but it no longer has any funds.

Town Board members questioned the legality of supporting a facility which it does not own and suggested that it be discussed at the annual meeting in April. Supervisor Richard Bemis suggested a "fund raise" be held by those who make use of the recreational facility.

Assessor Carlyle

VanDriest was questioned about the feasibility of removing the Hilltop property from the tax roll by making it tax exempt. At one time the property was exempt but several years ago when it was leased out to private parties, it became taxable and has remained so ever since, despite changes. It is now being operated on a part-time basis by the fire department and therefore the request for tax exempt status.

VanDriest replied that if the property is producing income, it is assessable but as it is being operated now, it may qualify for the tax exempt status. He will be consulting with the Department of Revenue before the end of the month. If the change is made, the Batavia

Fire Department could experience a $2,500 drop in expenses.

VanDriest requested a $1,000 raise for the 1995 assessment. It will be considered as part of the budget process. VanDriest is now receiving $4,500 annual salary.

Chairman Lester Benzschawel was appointed to serve on the Random Lake Library Building Committee, giving him the authority to vote on building decisions. Supervisor Richard Bemis was appointed as an alternate for Benzschawel.

Plans for purchase of machinery necessary to process recycled materials for a profit is being consid-

Twas the Night Before...

On Wednesday, December 21, the night before the last day of school before Christmas vacation, the Kewaskum high school music department will be presenting their Christmas Concert. The program will be held in Rose Hall and starts at 7:30 p.m. The concert will include some traditional Christmas music as well as some not so traditional. All four performing groups, the concert band, treble choir, symphonic band and concert choir, will be singing and playing for you at this annual event.

Please take some time from your busy schedule, forget the shopping that still isn't finished, and sit and relax as the musicians play and sing music for you.

Admission is free, Rose Hall is warm and the music is ready. See you on Wednesday, December 21, at 7:30 p.m.

E & E Game Farm

Exotic birds, some with six foot long tail feathers, are available for those hunters interested in mounted trophies.

Ranch, who raise about 30,000 Ring-neck pheasant a year to supply to game farms such as E & E. The birds are contained in three areas; Engelhardt's pen is 150 x 100 feet, located at the entrance to the game farm. Etta keeps some stock down on his farm in two pens, 75 x 100, and 30 x 60.

The pheasants do well on medicated feed, and are fitted with blinders since they tend to be cannibalistic in captivity and will try to peck each other. Breeding takes place in May, with a ratio of ten hens to one rooster. In 23 days, the eggs hatch, and the day old chicks are placed in incubators to prevent loss until they are old enough to be transferred to the open pens.

The Game Farm also offers Chukar partridge and Bobwhite quail for hunting parties, as well as a variety of exotic pheasants for those interested in mounting trophies. Some of the exotics carry tail feathers over six feet in length. "Chukars and quail are great for hunters who want to work their pointing dogs," Perry explains. Customers are welcome to bring their own dogs to use or they can take advantage of E & E's dog rentals, with or without accompaniment of handlers.

"We have on hand two chocolate labs, a yellow lab and German Shorthairs - all highly trained bird dogs eager to hunt." Doug Hammes is instrumental to the business as their dog trainer/handler, and often can be seen running alot of the hunts for Greg and Perry.

E & E can handle up to three hunts in the morning and three in the afternoon, with different packages available depending on the size of the group and the amount of birds released. There is a minimum release of three birds per gun. Some of the more popular group hunts include a one-half day hunt with 15, 25 or 50 birds released, or the 100 bird hunt which includes the rental of the farm for the entire day. This is popular with businesses looking to entertain clients. Afterwards, the new clubhouse offers a relaxing setting perfect for executive entertaining, as well as large families who enjoy hunting together.

The land is stocked and maintained to always provide an excellent hunting experience, from September through March. Three separate hunting areas guarantee plenty of room for different groups to hunt at the same time. Blaze orange is mandatory, and hunters must check in before and after the hunt, and all birds must be tagged before leaving preserve boundaries.

Since this is their first year in business, Etta and Engelhardt are busy planning for the future, and expanding to meet the needs of their customers. Trails have been cut through the 200 acres, but they will be adapting them to meet the needs of the handicapped, allowing disabled veterans and others to enjoy the thrill of the hunting experience.

E & E hopes to draw businessmen from Chicago and out-of-state areas interested in hunting the exotic birds for trophies, by promoting themselves at the annual Milwaukee Sports Show. "We'll offer a full weekend of hunting, including local accommodations and dinner at area restaurants," Perry explains. By that time their new clubhouse will be completed, located in a separate building.

If hunting isn't your idea of fun, but you love the taste of game birds, Greg and Perry offer fully cleaned and dressed pheasants for $8.00 apiece, or a smoked bird for just $12.00... a welcome appetizer for the holiday table.

"This (hunting preserve) is the way of the future, with hunting areas becoming more and more limited with greater restrictions," Etta adds. "Here no license is required, and you can shoot as many birds as you want, including different kinds."

For more information on

E & E Game Farm contact Perry at 626-2820 or Greg at 626-4349.

The pheasants are kept in three netted pens, which allow them to fly short distances.

Merry Christmas!

We're all aglow with the spirit of Christmas and we want to share it with you. Thanks.

Holiday Concert At Middle School

It's time for the first concert of the school year for the Kewaskum Middle School.

The choirs and bands will present a holiday concert on Tuesday, December 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the KMS gym.

The sixth grade choir and band will perform first, followed by the seventh and eighth grade and the jazz band will present the finale.

Happy holidays!

ELEGANT DINING ON A SHOESTRING

If you are planning a festive, holiday dinner party, but don't have the extra cash to spend on elegant table decorations, try this:

Fill a crystal bowl with tinted water and add floating candles. Use as your centerpiece. Make your own placecards, and tuck them into holders made from pinecones. Finally, small, individual candles at each place setting will create a glistening effect and dazzle both you and your guests!

Band Trees On Sale

As the final days before Christmas march along, the Kewaskum High School band members are still busy with their tree sales located at the Kewaskum Mall.

While the same variety is available, the selection is getting smaller. With that in mind, the last days sale will be taking place beginning this Saturday, December 17, and continuing through Tuesday, December 20.

All trees will be 25% off on Saturday, 30% off on Sunday, and 40% off on Monday and Tuesday. So if you have been waiting for the chance to save some money on your Christmas tree, this is your big chance.

Balsams, Frasers, Scotch and White Pine are all waiting for you. The hours are Monday through Friday, from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on the final Tuesday they will be open from 3 p.m. until the tree lot is taken down and cleaned up.

All profit from this sale goes toward the music trip to Texas in March of 1995. Thank you for your patronage this holiday season.

The Kewaskum Women's Club Christmas Party will be held on Saturday, Dec. 17, at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ruth Schmitt, 8065 Kettle Moraine Drive, Kewaskum.

Each member is asked to bring 1/2 dozen Christmas cookies. Guests are welcome to attend. Call 626-2337 if you would like a ride.

CHRISTMAS NUT COOKIES

1 1/2 c. unsalted butter, softened
1/4 c. Crisco, room temperature
3/4 c. sugar

1 c. finely chopped nuts
2 Tbsp. vanilla
4 c. unbleached, unsifted flour
Powdered sugar

Cream butter, Crisco, and sugar. Add other ingredients (except powdered sugar). Be sure to work in all the flour, use your hands, if necessary. Roll into a large ball, wrap in plastic wrap and refrigerate several hours or overnight.

Before baking, allow the dough to sit at room temperature till just soft enough to handle - about 1/2 hour. Preheat oven to 300 degrees.

Roll into small walnut sized balls; place on ungreased cookie sheet 1" apart. Turn oven down to 275 degrees, bake for 30-35 minutes until done. Cookies should be very light colored. Cool 15 minutes, then roll in powdered sugar.

A Parade Thank You

A very special thank you is extended to all who participated in this year's Kewaskum Christmas parade.

Whether you helped decorate an entry, sang in the parade or at the tree lighting, attended, or even purchased a tree light, you all contributed to the success of this year's event.

Thanks to all the moms, teachers and troop leaders who put forth a lot of time and effort in helping the children and groups get prepared and organized.

A pat on the back and a big thanks to all the young people who became involved in the parade by dressing up as elves and in other costumes.

Many, many thanks to all the residents of Maple Dale Manor and Maple Dale Apartments who did us a great service by filling the 1,200 goody bags, thereby freeing our time for all the other parade business.

Thanks to the Kewaskum High School band and Larry Ammel for their usual excellent performance.

Special thanks to Chamber President Lee Kempf who always goes that extra mile for all Chamber events and helps to make sure they come off without a hitch.

Thank you to all the Churches, Schools and Church Choirs for providing all the delightful music and much gratitude to Chamber member Joe Minz who did another great job entertaining his many fans.

Thanks to Bank Wisconsin for allowing us to place our fund raising lights on their tree and providing electricity. Without the sale of the lights, there would be no parade.

Thanks to Chief Richard Knoebel and the Kewaskum Police Department for their assistance with traffic control which never became a problem due to their capable handling of the situation and our thanks to the village crew for their able assistance.

And lastly, our deep gratitude and appreciation to Tim Miller, Sandi Amerling, Don Sedgwick, Larry Martin and the always-willing-to-help members of the Kewaskum Fire Department who handled the parade lineup with their usual ease and expertise they are kind enough to show us every year. Many thanks to the fire department also for opening up their facilities, complete with hot chocolate, for warmup and convenience.

Time and space prevents us from thanking the many, many "behind the scenes"

ered to assist in the town's waste reduction. Although no definite plan is in action, ideas and prices are being sought for the project. A paper baler, glass crusher and paper shredder, all with three phase motors, could cost as much as $20,000 plus another charge of $10,367 to install electricity from Brazelton Drive to the town hall.

The possibility of the same equipment with single phase motors and a fork lift necessary for the operation is being considered to keep the cost at a minimum. Supervisor Dale Burke will conduct further research on prices and equipment.

If the project becomes a reality, it is expected that 25% of the cost of purchasing equipment will be covered by an outright grant from the DNR plus 33% by the annual recycling grant program.

A list of volunteers willing to assist with weekly recycling, compiled a few months ago has not been utilized. Chairman Benzschawel asked that the committee be utilized and a schedule be activated immediately. Anyone interested in being added to the list should contact the town clerk.

An operator's license was issued to Mary Behnke.

October building permits were issued to Mark Leibham, garage, $6,000; Richard Kapinos, re-roof; Janet Graf, permit extension; Jeff Scannell, house, $87,000; Sharon Straub, garage addition, $5,500.

by Sharon Callaway Roznik

Two certified snowmobile instructors were recognized this past Saturday for their years of service by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Bob Staehler of Kewaskum and Jim Bertram of Campbellsport, received plaques that were presented to them by Conservation Warden for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, Doug Bilgo.

Staehler was honored for 20 years of service, having taught 1,064 students over the past 22 years. Bertram received an award for ten years, as a volunteer instructor.

The presentation took place during their recent snowmobile safety course, which drew a record number of participants. 75 youths from as far away as Mt. Calvary, St. Cloud and West Bend traveled to attend the course, which was one of the first offered this season.

Sponsored by the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs and the Campbellsport Sno-Cougars for the past ten years, the club follows a course developed by Wisconsin Snowmobile Safety Instructors and the DNR. Children ages twelve to sixteen, learn snowmobile parts and maintenance, driving, winter survival (including emergencies and first aid), regulations and courtesy and ethics.

Students receive eight hours of classroom instruction, plus time on a snowmobile course where they are required to maneuver the vehicle. Passing students receive a snowmobile safety certificate, allowing them to operate a snowmobile by themselves.

H.T. Students Observe National Chemistry Week

National Chemistry Week was held from November 6 to 12 this year. Students in grades four and five from Holy Trinity School had the opportunity to participate.

The week began with a visit from Professor Gutow, a local chemist. He talked to the students about what chemistry is and how it is present in our daily lives. The students learned that chemistry is all around them including in themselves.

On November 7, the students visited Discovery World in Milwaukee. There they had the opportunity to do hands on activities that dealt with chemistry. They had loads of fun trying all the displays and activities.

The students wrapped up the week with a few experiments dealing with calcium. The students in grade four and five worked together and had a few discoveries of their own.

Professor Gutow explained the chemistry of a soccer ball to interested students.

Lac Lawrann Legacy Published

Lawrence Maurin of the Lac Lawrann Conservancy in West Bend will sign personalized copies of the new book, Lac Lawrann Legacy, on behalf of his wife, Ann Maurin (the author).

The signing session will take place on Sun., Dec. 18, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. at the Little Professor Book Center in the Paradise Mall, West Bend.

Ann Maurin, who wrote a journal about the Lac

Lawrann Conservancy from 1955 through 1980, passed away in 1991 of Alzheimer's Disease. She and her husband, Lawrence, donated the Lac Lawrann Conservancy to the City of West Bend in 1979. Anyone is welcome to visit the Conservancy during any of the regularly scheduled public tours.

Volunteers of Lac Lawrann Conservancy published Ann's journal last month, and entitled the book, Lac Lawrann Legacy. Proceeds from the sale of books will be placed into the Conservancy Trust Fund for eventual purchase of additional land, renovation of buildings, and educational materials and programs for the public.

Lac Lawrann Legacy sells for $12.95 and may be purchased at the Kewaskum Pharmacy, 927 Fond du Lac Ave. (next to Sentry) and all bookstores in West Bend.

NOTICE

Kewaskum Businesses & Landlords

Very soon new provisions of the Wisconsin Waste Reduction and Recycling Law, known as 1989 Wisconsin Act 335, will go into effect. The law and its accompanying administrative rules, NR 544, contain specific requirements for how businesses manage their recyclables. By January 1, 1995, all Wisconsin businesses will be required to set up or contract for recycling collection services for eleven new recyclable items (in addition to four items already banned from landfills).

The law also requires every local unit of government responsible for recycling (the Village of Kewaskum is one of these "responsible units") to pass its own recycling ordinance. The Village of Kewaskum's ordinance, in effect as of March 15, 1993, is much the same as other responsible units across the state, and follows the basic format required by state law. The state law, and the Village ordinance, require all owners of commercial, retail and institutional and industrial facilities to:

- 1) Provide adequate, separate containers for recyclables;
- 2) Provide for the collection and delivery of recyclable materials to a recycling facility;
- 3) Notify in writing, at least semi-annually, all users, tenants and occupants of their properties about the recycling program; and
- 4) Notify users, tenants and occupants of reasons to reduce and recycle, which materials are collected, and how to prepare the recyclables for collection.

If you have questions regarding this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me at (414) 626-8484.

MARION J. GEIB

Marion J. Geib, nee Plum, of Silver Creek, died Tuesday, Dec. 6, 1994, at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, West Bend, at the age of 66.

She was born Aug. 21, 1928, in Fillmore, to Elmer H. and Hildegard (nee Schulz) Plum. For a time she worked at Amity Leather Products Co.

After her marriage to Richard P. Geib on June 11, 1949, at St. Martin's UCC, Fillmore, they settled in Silver Creek where she lived up to the time of her death.

For many years she worked as a waitress at the former Old Fort Silver, A&K Catering and the former Edlee's Inn.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Gary (Ann) of Adell and Ronald of Fond du Lac; four grandchildren, Tony, Christie, Tim and Kerri; a great-grandson, Keith; her mother, Hildegard Plum of West Bend; a brother, Carl (Jeanette) of Campbellsport; a sister, Carol (Donald) Voeks of Silver Creek; and other relatives and friends.

Preceding her in death was her father, Elmer H.

She was a member of St. Paul's UCC, Silver Creek, the Ladies Guild of St. Paul's and the Royal Neighbors of America, Sweet Briar Camp 2882.

Funeral services were held Friday, Dec. 9, at 7 p.m. at the Schmidt Funeral Home, West Bend. Rev. William Wiederanders, pastor of St. Paul's UCC, officiated and burial was at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in St. Martin's UCC Cemetery, Fillmore.

Visitation at the funeral home was Friday from 3 p.m. until the time of services.

MABEL B. LUECKE

Mabel B. Luecke, nee Bauer, of West Bend, died Wednesday, Dec. 7, 1994, at the Samaritan Home, at the age of 91.

She was born Sept. 15, 1903, in the town of Addison, to the late Carl and Elizabetha (nee Meinhardt) Bauer, and married William H. Luecke on May 12, 1923, in Hartford. He passed away in October, 1962.

She had been employed for almost 19 years at The West Bend Co. in the tacking department, and was a member of St. John's Ev. Lutheran Church and its Ladies Aid and Altar Guild.

Survivors include seven children, Adelia Dins of West Bend, Mildred (Earl) Harper of Virginia Beach, Va., Lloyd (Val) of Fond du Lac, Loris (Gerald) Daley of Dover, N.H., Roger of West Bend, Joen Lutz of Bellville and Betty (David) Hamann of Cedarburg; 27 grandchildren; 24 great-grandchildren; a sister, Ella Hansen of Kewaskum; other relatives and friends.

Preceding her in death were a daughter, Edna; a daughter-in-law, Joyce Luecke; two sisters, Lily Kissinger and Hulda Buckholtz; and three brothers, Alvin, Carl and George.

Funeral services were held Monday, Dec. 12, at 11 a.m. at St. John's Ev. Lutheran Church, West Bend. Rev. George A. Mumm officiated and burial followed in Washington County Memorial Park.

Visitation at the church only was Monday from 9 a.m. until the time of services.

The Myrhum Funeral Home, West Bend, served the family.

LINDA BRAUN PALMEN

Linda Braun Palmen, nee Harris, of Campbellsport, died Thursday, Dec. 8, 1994, at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, at the age of 57.

She was born Nov. 21, 1937 in Cainbridge, Ohio, to Charles and Josephine (nee Allen) Harris, and married Denis Palmen of Aug. 17, 1989, in Campbellsport.

She was a member of St. Frances Cabrini Prayer Group in West Bend.

Survivors include her husband; six children, Debbie Marx of Campbellsport, Chery Marx of Friday Harbor, Wash., Penny (Don) Schloemer of Campbellsport, Julie (Dan) Ketter of Campbellsport, John Marx of St. Petersburg, Fla. and Jennafer Braun of Campbellsport; her mother, Josephine Harris of Slinger; three stepchildren, Daniel (Diane) Palmen of Milwaukee, Denise (Jim) Russel of Kenosha and Dana (Bob) Marquart of Oshkosh; seven grandchildren; four step-grandchildren; two brothers, Charles (Beverly) and Jeffrey (Kim), both of Milwaukee; a sister, Patricia (Ronald) Schmidt of Slinger; other relatives and friends.

Preceding her in death was her father.

Funeral services were held Sunday, Dec. 11, at 7 p.m. at the Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport. Cremation followed.

Visitation at the funeral home was Sunday from 4 p.m. until the time of services.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Thank you for your love toward me and my loved ones.

GIFT GIVING

Gently tucked into the Kettle Moraine just south of the Kohlsville creek off County Trunk D, a simple A frame houses a unique presentation of the Christmas Nativity. Fabricated of steel, Mary and Joseph watch over the Christ-child lying in a manger. Stable animals are present to honor the couple and their offspring.

There is a donkey; a sheep and her newly born twins; plus a lying down cow and calf...all which bring a sense of serenity to the warmly lighted scene.

This particular Christmas presentation is a part of the non-profit Faith Haven Corporation's Life of Christ Sculpture Garden being established at 5519 Hy. D. The nativity itself was made possible through the donation of steel for the A frame by Walters Buildings, Hy. 41. East of the Nativity is a display of shepherd crooks denoting the first visitors to the holy child and the three wise men with their camel.

A bit east, Mary and Joseph's flight to Egypt with their son is depicted with Mary astride a donkey as Joseph leads it. To the north one finds the lad, Jesus Christ, among the priests and doctors in the temple, discussing matters of the spirit in conjunction with human purpose. Then, to the east, John the Baptist is portrayed baptizing the young Christ man- God...a steel fabricated dove reminds the viewer of the Lord's words: "This is my son in whom I am well-pleased."

A compilation sculpture of the American Indian Thunder-bird and cross of Christ has been placed nearby.

Future additions to the sculpture garden will include depiction of the ministry of Christ, His crucifixion, and ascension. The general public is welcome to walk the garden during daylight hours. Park in the 5519 Hw. D. drive-way and walk directly west, and across a wooden bridge to enter the garden.

The Faith Haven Non-profit Corporation, established to serve the greater community, provides adult Horsemanship Classes; a summer two week Horsemanship camp for children and adults; a monthly bible study; Old Fashioned horse-drawn hay rides and sleigh rides; plus, by appoint-

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ROGER KUEHL, who passed away two years ago, Dec. 17, 1992:

There is a road called remembrance where thoughts and wishes meet,

We take that road in thought today to one we cannot meet;

You filled our life with happiness and you gave us all your love,

For the time we shared together, we thank the Lord above;

To your resting place we visit and place flowers there with care,

But only "God knows the heartache" when we turn and leave you there.

Loved and missed by wife, Ruth and family.

THANKS TO ST. JUDE

Thanks to St. Jude for all favors granted.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

"Snow and Ice Removal"

The snow and ice season has arrived bringing along some problems. To alleviate the problem or to clarify a few items, let us refer to the Municipal Code, Chapter 8.09, which covers "Snow and Ice Removal."

I. SIDEWALKS TO BE KEPT CLEAR. The owner or occupant of any lot or parcel shall promptly each day. Remove all snow and ice which may have fallen or accumulated upon the sidewalk in front of each lot or parcel; provided, when ice has so formed that it cannot be removed, the owner or occupant shall keep the same sprinkled with a material which will prevent the sidewalk from being dangerous to pedestrians. If the owner or occupant fails to comply with this subsection, the Director of Public Works shall cause the snow or ice to be removed or sprinkled as required in this section and the cost thereof assessed against the property as a special tax or charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in sub. (3).

If the Village Director of Public Works ordering such removal of snow and ice, a minimum charge of $25 shall be affixed as the expense of such removal or treatment. If the cost of removal or treatment exceeds the $25 minimum, the actual cost for such work, per occurrence, shall be charged plus a 10% handling charge.

II. SNOW NOT TO BE DEPOSITED IN STREET. No person shall cause to be deposited snow from his premises or sidewalk abutting thereon onto any street in the Village without a permit from the Director of Public Works who may require to be paid a fee sufficient to reimburse the Village for the cost of removal of such snow.

III. ASSESSMENT OF COST. If after the report of work is filed and billed the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If not paid by October 1, the cost thereof will be assessed against the property as a special tax, etc.

As for this and all ordinances a penalty is also provided for in Chapter 25.04 of this Municipal Code.

Indian Matmen Roll Past Wisconsin Lutheran

By Statesman Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE - The Kewaskum wrestling team wasn't intimidated by WISAA private schools power Wisconsin Lutheran here last Tuesday night. As it turns out, other schools may become intimidated by the Indians.

After the Indians impressed coach John Nell with a 46-27 victory over the Vikings, the KHS coach thinks that better things may lie ahead for his team.

"I think we are coming along nicely," Nell said. "That was a real good meet. I was real impressed with Wisconsin Lutheran. And we just hung in there, and never gave up against them."

The Indians sealed the dual meet victory by winning the final three matches via pinfall, and four of the five final matches in all.

The lone loss in those five bouts was just as encouraging as the wins, Nell added. At 160 pounds, KHS' Matt Heather stayed right with Wisco's Andy Tesch, who was a top-four finisher at the WISAA state meet last year.

"That match went right down to the last second," Nell said, noting that Heather just missed a takedown late in the match, and eventually lost 5-4. "That was really good for Matt."

Rich Farchione followed with a pin at 171 pounds, thus remaining the only unbeaten KHS wrestler at 5-0.

Tim Gundrum closed out the KHS win with a pin (3:05) over Wade Hatchkins. "He had another tough boy," Nell said of Gundrum's match. "But he kept right in there, and had a big throw. He was able to put the guy down right after that."

Also recording pins for the Indians were Josh Dieringer (119 pounds), Jake Thull (130), Jason Czaja (140), Erik Kopecky (152), and Richard Wulff (189).

"I thought that Kopecky's match was the turning point," Nell said, reporting that Kopecky was trailing Matt Naumann in the second period before reversing the hold and following with a pin. "That really turned everything around right there."

The win gave the Indians a 4-1 dual meet record.

JV, Frosh Girls Lose

KEWASKUM - No Kewaskum girls basketball team had any success against the tough squads from Two Rivers here, last Tuesday night.

In addition to the Lady Indian varsity squad getting blown out, both the KHS JV and freshmen girls teams suffered defeats at the hands of the Purple Raiders.

Despite 27 points from Tiffany Laubach, the Indian JV's couldn't stay with the Raiders, losing 52-41, Jackie Haas also chipped in seven points for the JV's, who dropped to 0-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, and to 1-5 overall.

The KHS freshmen, meanwhile, came much closer to victory. A late turnover, however, prevented the go-ahead basket and led to a 38-37 loss for the frosh, who dropped their first game of the year after two victories.

Erin Krueger's 10 points paced the KHS frosh.

The Indian JV's lost their fourth game of the year just four days earlier, falling to Oostburg, 50-26.

Haas, along with Becky Heisdorf, scored eight and six points, respectively, to pace the JV's.

Holiday Stress Survival Tips

As the holidays approach, lifestyles have a tendency to become busy and sometimes stressful. Milwaukee Psychiatric Hospital offers these helpful tips to reduce stress and enjoy life during the holidays.

*Prioritize all that needs to be done during the holidays. See which plans or events you can do without.

*Take time out for yourself during the week. Don't burn yourself out by doing too much.

You'll be happier and healthier with some relaxation time just for you.

*When getting together with family and friends, suggest a pot luck menu. People love to share favorite recipes and it will help you out as well.

*A gift of your time or self to someone is more valuable than an elaborate gift and appreciated just as much if not more.

*Don't over do it. Enjoy the holidays in moderation and refrain from having too much of any one thing, food, cocktails, etc.).

Two Rivers Manhandles Lady Indians

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM -- The worst should be behind the Kewaskum girls basketball team. At least that's what coach Dave Rizzardi is hoping anyway.

The Lady Indians ran into yet another tough foe here, last Tuesday night. This time it was the Two Rivers express that rolled right over the Lady Indians, handing the hosts a 69-37 spanking.

The loss dropped KHS to 1-5 on the year, although the Lady Indians' losses have come at the hands of some stiff competition.

The Purple Raiders were just another in the long line of KHS foes that seem to be among the best teams in the state. It was the third straight game in which the Lady Indians had faced a team rated in the top ten in its respective division.

Two Rivers, rated first in the state in Division 2, didn't have an easy time with KHS in the first half, however. The Lady Indians played Two Rivers tough, and trailed by just 31-18 at the half.

"We played a very decent first half," Rizzardi said. "We did a good job of breaking their press, and got some good shots. They just weren't falling."

While the Indians may have entered the lockerroom at halftime on a high, it was the Purple Raiders who came out flying in the third quarter.

The visitors scored the first 19 points of the second half, boosting their 13 point advantage to a 50-18 lead. All totalled, the third quarter saw Two Rivers outscore the Indians by a 23-1 margin, giving the Raiders a 55-22 lead heading into the fourth.

"We just had a bad third quarter," Rizzardi explained. "They came out fired up, and we were flat. They were making a lot of easy shots, and ours just weren't falling."

The Raiders' Angie Gates helped put the Lady Indians away in the third. Usually known for her shooting, the guard dished out several assists while also contributing seven points in the quarter.

"She didn't hurt us with her shooting as much as she did with her passing," Rizzardi pointed out. "Their whole team was passing the ball real well."

KHS may have contributed to its own woes by not playing tough, aggressive defense, Rizzardi added.

"Defensively, we need to work harder," he said. "We are not doing a good job of talking on the court. They were able to set some back screens and we were not talking enough."

KHS played the Raiders evenly in the final stanza, but that was not nearly enough to offset the pounding laid on by the guests in the third quarter.

"We expected it from them," Rizzardi said of KHS' respect for the highly-regarded Raiders. "I thought we played well in the first half, but we just couldn't sustain that."

Kelly Schreffler led the Indians with 13 points, seven coming in the final eight minutes of play. "She was shooting the ball well," Rizzardi said of Schreffler's three-pointers.

Tanya Laubach also had a strong final quarter, scoring six of her eight points in that stanza.

With the toughest part of the schedule behind them, the Lady Indians can now concentrate on winning some Eastern Wisconsin Conference games. KHS plays New Holstein this Thursday and Chilton next Tuesday, both games that Rizzardi feels his team can win.

"We've got to focus on our next two games now," he said. "I think we are now going to face some opponents that are more at our level."

HT Boys B-Team Wins Cliff Hanger

The Holy Trinity boys B-team, after winning a scrimmage game on Thursday, December 8 against St. Frances Cabrini by 23-16, faced St. Matthews of Campbellsport on Friday, December 9 at Campbellsport.

The game began with St. Matts taking the lead. However, this was short lived and the game see-sawed back and forth with no more than a three point difference until the fourth quarter when St. Matts with a little less than three minutes to play, was ahead by four. Holy Trinity then came alive and with a solid offense, tied the game and eventually won it by a score of 24-20.

Holy Trinity outscored St. Matts in rebounding. Solid rebounding was done by Jake Stoffel, Jon Boedeker, Paul Mertz and Mark Strobel and excellent defensive steals were done by Mitch Strobel, Josh Repovsch, Noah Koch, Luke Piwoni, Jon Boedeker and Mark Schrauth.

Josh Repovsch led the scoring with eight points. Mitch Strobel had seven, Jake Stoffel had four, Mark Schrauth had two, Nick Boedeker had one.

Holy Trinity Boys B-Team Wins Opener

The Holy Trinity boys B-team won their first game of the season for their new coach, Tom Herriges, by a score of 9-4.

The opponent, St. Marys of Barton, was held scoreless until the fourth quarter. Although there was not a lot of scoring, a good defensive game was played by the Holy Trinity Wildcats who also outscored St. Marys in rebounds.

Turnovers occurred frequently by both teams, but was expected because of the number of new players on both teams. Holy Trinity has six players returning from last year and 11 rookies. The scoring was done by the following players: Mitch Strobel - 2, John Boedeker - 1; Tim Branta - 2; Ty Wietor - 2, and Nick Thorn - 2.

Indian Wrestlers Whip Two Rivers

By Statesman Sports Writer

TWO RIVERS -- While the Kewaskum High School athletic teams have had some trouble with Two Rivers' squads in the past, things might be on the verge of changing, beginning with the two schools wrestling programs.

That would seem to be the case at least taking into account the past two meetings between the Indians and Purple Raiders. After shutting out Two Rivers in last year's dual meet, the Indians whipped the Raiders 69-6 here, last Thursday night.

The victory gave KHS and coach John Nell a 5-1 dual meet record for the year.

"We've been doing real well against them the past two years," Nell said in a definite understatement. "I think we've lost one match in all of the matches on JV and varsity over the last two years."

The lone blemish on the Indians' slate came in the opening bout of the varsity match. Craig Trecinski, whom Nell admitted was a little inexperienced, lost his battle with Darin Lichterig, getting pinned in the first period. But from that point on, there was no stopping the KHS express.

"Once we got rolling, everything that we did was right," Nell said. "It seems like that's the way it goes. When it's going good, it's real good, and when it's going bad, it's real bad. I've been on both sides of those."

In addition to three forfeits in the first four matches, the Raiders also couldn't handle the Dieringer brothers. Josh won for KHS at 119, while Tyler had little trouble with Kevin Hoard at 135.

"He pretty much beat him up," Nell said of Tyler's effort, while the freshman Josh, "has been wrestling real well. He had a real nice effort."

It was smooth sailing for the Indians after that, although Matt Heather was involved in a scary incident in his 160 pound match against Chris Menden.

After Heather reversed a takedown try by Menden the Raider wrestler, "got a little high on Matt," according to Nell, who said that Menden hit his head on the mat during the action. Not wanting to take any chances, Menden defaulted the match, and was taken by ambulance to the hospital for precautionary measures.

"They just wanted to be very cautious," said Nell, who already had a wrestler suffer a concussion this season.

That happened to Joel Dziejdz in the season-opening triple dual at Campbell-sport. Nell says that Dziejdz who hasn't been on the mat since, may be getting closer to returning to action.

"We just don't know yet," Nell said, noting Dziejdz has a doctor's appointment this week. "He's feeling alot better, and has been doing some running. We just don't want to see that happen again."

A rugged competitor, Dziejdz is smart enough to know that staying off the mat is the right thing for him to do at this point, Nell said.

"He's a rational kid," Nell said, adding, "but he's not one to like sitting out like this. Hopefully, he'll be back real soon."

Nell can afford to keep Dziejdz out of the lineup for a while, as the Indians have just one more meet coming up before the holidays. That will be at Chilton on Friday.

"They are going to be real tough," Nell said. "They have some good boys at the upper weights, so we are going to have our hands full."

But the brief layoff is beneficial to the Indians, who haven't had much time to work on techniques, according to their coach.

"We surely can use the practice time," Nell said. "I think it will help us make a lot of nice gains."

Snowmobilers Reminded to Have Registration Validated

Snowmobilers are reminded that they can have their snowmobile registration applications validated at the Mauthe Lake Forest Headquarters Monday thru Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The Ice Age Center on Highway 67 will NOT be validating snowmobile registration applications. It is suggested that applicants bring personal checks or money orders when registering their snowmobiles.

Snowmobilers, when transferring a registration, must have the signed certificate of registration or a signed statement from the previous owner which includes their name and address. The statement should also include the sale price and the name of the person that the machine is being sold to.

Without this information, the snowmobile cannot be registered.

If you have any other questions concerning snowmobile registration, contact Warden Doug Bilgo at 626-2166 or 533-5041.

Post Office 'Sparkling' with Student Art

The Kewaskum Post Office is "sparkling" with student art work. Postmaster Bonnie Eldredge invited local schools to decorate the post office for the holiday season.

Elementary art students from Wayne, Farmington and Kewaskum schools have been busy creating gingerbread men and women, candy houses, bears on chairs and bears that care, and glittery ornaments, under the guidance of art instructor Mrs. Peggy Henke.

With the help of volunteer moms, Carol Maul and Linda Enright, this student art work is on display for the community to enjoy. Stop in and visit the Kewaskum post office and enjoy the decorations of the season.

Linda Enright (right) and Carol Maul help display student art work from the Kewaskum Public Schools at the Post Office.

Wreaths, Garlands Add Holiday Sparkle to Homes and Businesses

MADISON -- There's a new niche in the Wisconsin Christmas tree business, according to Bob Williams, marketing consultant with the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection.

Wisconsin is the nation's number three producer of Christmas trees. In the last few years, wreath and garland production has grown tremendously, says Williams. "Wreath and garland makers are gleaming the best tips from evergreens -- mostly from Balsam firs along with some Fraser firs and pines -- to make fresh green products."

Wreath producers use the tips, the new green growth, to fashion the products. Often, these quality finished products are sold in bulk for resale to wholesale Christmas tree merchants. Others are sold at "Choose and Cut" farms in their Christmas stores.

"Shopkeepers know that an attractive store exterior encourages visitors to come in and browse; home owners use outdoor wreaths and garlands to offer a glimpse of gracious hospitality," says Williams. "Decorate your home or business with real evergreen wreaths and garlands, produced by members of the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers Association.

'Tis the Season to Be Jolly or Stressed Out?

By Judith A. Pollard

The holidays are fast approaching. Some people have their gifts bought and wrapped, while others are dreading the holidays.

There are family gatherings to try and arrange so that in-laws, aunts, uncles, cousins, grandparents, brothers and sisters (the list can go on and on and on) are happy and all of the expectations of the season have been met. The key word here is EXPECTATIONS. Unrealistic expectations of ourselves and others can create emotional havoc.

The media creates a truly fantastic holiday season of joy and happiness. No matter how hard we try, "buying into" this perfect image leaves many feeling inadequate. The belief that everyone "should be happy all of the time" creates as much stress as the emphasis on gift-giving may create financial stress.

Holidays are advertised as a time of warm, cozy family relationships. Unfortunately, the season only heightens the problems many are experiencing with their families or in their lives, which increases the pain. Some also experience the feeling of "aloneness" or family gatherings may trigger painful memories.

It is easy to feel overwhelmed by what the media portrays as reasonable and then end up scurrying about without enjoying the activities (e.g., family gatherings, shopping, wrapping, concerts, pageants, parties, baking, cooking, etc.).

Remember, holiday stress is temporary and can be positive. Maybe it is time to work together with family and/or friends on solutions to decrease stress and develop new rules to handle stress.

Listed are some possible new ways to reduce holiday stress:

* Don't be concerned about "shoulds" and "oughts." Decide on a few simple new traditions which fit your lifestyle and present situation.

* It does not really matter when you shop, shop when you feel like it (it does not have to be early or late).

* If mall shopping is stressful, shop by mail.

* Remember that your gift is NOT your love tied in a bow, it is simply a gift.

* Delegate and include others in responsibilities and tasks. It may not be done exactly your way, it is the cooperation and teamwork that counts and makes others feel that they "count."

* Don't go to extremes on spending, eating, baking, or drinking.

* Eat the right foods - complex carbohydrates are found to have a soothing effect on frazzled nerves (vitamins and fruit may also be beneficial).

* Family favorites may be simple things, find out what they are.

* Lighten up! Sometimes a good laugh or cry is just what you need.

* Share your feelings with someone who will accept you where you are at - unconditionally.

* It is OK to plan and do something you like to do - rather than concentrating exclusively on helping others to feel happy.

* Nurture your mind and spirits by reading excerpts from inspirational books (e.g., Chicken Soup for the Soul).

* If needed, give yourself permission to seek professional help to get through the season and enjoy life. (You will be among millions who have already done so). You are not alone!

After reading the above ideas, you may want to pick one or two which may be helpful. Before you spend a lot of time or energy trying to "fix" or change something, make sure it is something which you can control. And, if it works, don't "fix" it! Watch the level of serenity rise by lowering expectations and becoming more accepting of yourself and others. Enjoy each day by living one day at a time.

"Do not compare yourself with others, for you are a unique and wonderful creation. Make your own beautiful footprints in the snow."

Select a 'Choose and Cut' Tree for a Special Holiday

Christmas tree growers begin preparing for the holiday season, long before the snow falls. The planting, cultivating, and shaping of trees starts eight to 10 years before a tree is ready for harvest.

Once the crisp days of November and December arrive, many families trek to a tree farm to select their own special "choose and cut" tree.

For some people, the tree cutting expedition is a tradition, an educational experience, and part of the mystique, happiness and joy of the season. "Visiting a 'choose and cut' operation is something many people like to continue year after year," says Bob Williams, marketing consultant with the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. "Trees are not something people have to have, but want to have in their homes."

Virginia Mountford, executive secretary for the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers Association, says that tree quality is always superb in Wisconsin, and this year is no exception. "We're a natural tree growing state. Wisconsin ranks third among the states in the production of Christmas trees, after Oregon and Michigan. Purchasers will have no problems finding a top quality tree."

Price varies among retail lots and farms. "Tree prices are based on the size and species of the tree as well as grooming techniques used to prepare the tree for sale," says Mountford. Some producers charge buyers by the foot and others have a fixed price for each tree.

Wisconsin buyers have many different types of trees from which to choose, including Scotch and White pines, Balsam and Fraser firs, and Spruce varieties. Mountford feels, "The final choice depends on what qualities are special to each buyer."

The "choose and cut" method of purchasing a tree enables buyers the opportunity to select one that will be unique to their family. "Every real tree is an original. There is nothing better than one-of-a-kind," Mountford says.

"Remember, real trees are also a renewable, recyclable resource. Most artificial trees contain non-biodegradable plastics and lack the originality and fresh scent that the real trees have," she adds.

For a brochure on the care of your fresh-cut tree and a directory of Wisconsin "choose and cut" tree farms, send a stamped, self-addressed business-size envelope to the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers Association, P.O. Box 105, Arlington, WI 53911. County extension offices also have information on local "choose and cut" operations.

Real Dairy Egnog Adds Festive Flavor to the Holiday Season

Melt-in-your-mouth butter cookies fresh from the oven awaiting colored icings. A fire blazing in the fireplace as snow falls gently outside and the strains of traditional Christmas carols echo throughout the house. A memorable holiday dinner with all the trimmings served to loved ones gathered around the family table. The sights, sounds and tastes of the holiday season are instantly recognizable to all of us. Another taste that says "holiday" like no other is delicious, Real dairy egnog.

What better time is there than the holidays to enjoy the creamy goodness of dairy egnog? A carton of this delicious dairy beverage kept on hand complements any holiday occasion. The traditional taste of Real dairy egnog is simply delightful served alone as a beverage ladled into punch glasses. Or complement plates of home-baked holiday baked goods like cookies, breads, stollens or muffins with Real dairy egnog while entertaining holiday guests, wrapping presents or trimming the tree.

For an extra-indulgent treat, top glasses of egnog with soft dollops of Real whipping cream. Or sprinkle with the traditional topping of grated nutmeg. Add a festive touch by sprinkling egnog with crushed peppermint or butterscotch candy, toasted coconut or grated chocolate. Make flavorful stir sticks with small candy canes or cinnamon sticks.

Use egnog and other handy ingredients to create other unique beverages for serving at holiday gatherings. Stir a small amount of peppermint extract or chocolate syrup and vanilla into a quart of dairy egnog. For a sparkling holiday punch, mix equal portions of egnog with carbonated water. For a special touch and flavor, use ice cubes made with egnog to chill the filled punch bowl.

Showcase your creativity and add a holiday flavor to traditional recipes by using Real dairy egnog in recipes that are easy to prepare. For example, substitute egnog for a liquid in a pancake or waffle mix or for milk when making French toast to serve at Christmas brunch or breakfast. Give packaged cake mixes a unique taste by substituting egnog for water.

The traditional taste of premium, Real dairy egnog is easy to enjoy in a variety of ways. It adds a festive flavor to holiday celebrations with the fresh taste that's synonymous with the season.

WISCONSIN EGGNOG SPARKLE COOKIES

2-1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup butter, softened
1 cup granulated sugar
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup dairy egnog
1/3 cup red decorating sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Combine flour, baking powder and nutmeg; set aside. Cream butter and granulated sugar at medium speed of electric mixer. Add egg yolks; beat until fluffy. Blend in egnog. Add four mixture, mixing until thoroughly combined. Refrigerate two hours or until firm. Combine decorating sugar and cinnamon. Roll dough into 3/4-inch balls; roll in colored sugar mixture to coat. Place two inches apart on to lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 400 degrees F for 8 to 10 minutes or until set. Makes approximately 5 dozen.

The Christmas season reminds us that there is hope for peace on earth. We wish that peace to you!

Salvation Army Begins Its Red Kettle Drive

"Bells will be ringing," as the song says throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Thanksgiving weekend began the traditional start of the Red Kettle Drive in 74 rural communities. These communities are part of the Service Extension Program's kettle goal of $201,000, which is part of the $780,000 Christmas goal for this program.

"This will be the first year that we have the red kettle drive in every county of The Salvation Army's Wisconsin and Upper Michigan Division. The kettle effort not only raises a significant portion of local assistance money in each county, it is a wonderful way to say, 'The Salvation Army is at work right here in your county,'" comments Ken Tregellas, Service Extension Director.

"In showing people that The Salvation Army volunteers are active in their community through the Red Kettle Program, people are made aware of the arrangements that can be made to meet human need," said Tregellas.

What a wonderful way to help those, who you may not know are in need, in your community. Kettle volunteers are always needed!

Celebrate Sensibly

Butter cookies, fruitcake, fudge, eggnog.

With so many tasty temptations at hand during the holidays, eating sensibly sounds like a drag. Still, nobody looks forward to the post-New year's panic to lose weight, either.

The best way to prevent a belly or bottom from burgeoning this season is to keep total calorie intake moderate and to exercise. Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL), fraternal benefit society that provides insurance and volunteer opportunities to its 1.6 million members nationwide, encourages this healthy approach at its home office in Appleton. Every year the organization holds a holiday recipe contest emphasizing healthy alternatives.

This year, contest entries featured non-alcoholic punches and low-fat appetizers and entrees. The three winners of the 1994 Aid Association for Lutherans Healthy Holiday Recipe Contest were Low-Fat Party Vegetable Spread, Festive Fruit Glow Punch and Holiday Chicken Tetrazzini.

The appetizer spread recipe was submitted by Charlene Brittnacher of Greenleaf. "This recipe proves that fat-free foods can be tasty and enjoyable," she said. "This colorful spread has the look and taste of the rich kind made with regular cream cheese, but doesn't have the fat."

Sandy Schmit of Freedom says her non-alcoholic punch recipe is a good holiday beverage "because you can serve it to people of all ages. Kids enjoy it as much as adults. It looks real pretty in the middle of the table, too."

Rebecca Hart of Oshkosh won top honors in the entree category for a low-fat version of her grandmother's Chicken Tetrazzini recipe. She said the dish is perfect to serve while family or friends are visiting during the holidays.

"It's real easy to make, and I think people are looking for that since there are so many things to do during the holidays," she said. "Besides being easy, this recipe is delicious."

Diane Bemis, a registered nurse in AAL Employee Health Services, said, "These recipes are good examples of how holiday dishes can be both flavorful and healthy. No one has to feel deprived when they choose to celebrate sensibly."

LOW-FAT PARTY VEGETABLE SPREAD

- 2 tablespoons water
- 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon chicken bouillon crystals or 1/2 chicken bouillon cube
- 1 (8-ounce) package no-fat or low-fat cream cheese, softened at room temperature
- 2 to 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1/4 cup finely chopped cauliflower

- 1/4 cup finely chopped broccoli
- 1/4 cup shredded carrot
- 1/4 to 1 teaspoon salt-free or other favorite herb seasoning blend

Combine water and chicken bouillon crystals or cube in small glass bowl. Microwave on high until bouillon is dissolved, about 15 seconds. Add softened no-fat cream cheese; blend thoroughly with fork or electric mixer. Add finely chopped vegetables and seasoning blend. Mix well. Pour into serving bowl. Serve as a spread with crackers, bagels or cocktail bread. Makes about 28 (1 tablespoon) servings.

Nutrition analysis (per serving): Using no-fat cream cheese, 11 calories, 0 grams fat, 0 percent calories from fat. Using low-fat cream cheese, 15 calories, 0.5 gram fat, 31 percent calories from fat.

HOLIDAY CHICKEN
TETRAZZINI

- 8 ounces spaghetti
- 2 cups sliced mushrooms
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 1 cup skim milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups cubed, cooked chicken breast
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook spaghetti according to package directions; drain and pour noodles into a large bowl. In a shallow non-stick fry pan sprayed with vegetable oil cooking spray, sautee mushrooms until tender; add to cooked spaghetti.

Melt margarine in saucepan. Blend in flour until thoroughly combined. Add chicken broth. Cook, stirring or whisking constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Add milk, salt and pepper. Add half of sauce to chicken and half to spaghetti. Layer spaghetti and chicken in casserole dish or round glass baking dish. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Play It Safe When Preparing And Serving Holiday Meals

With all the commotion surrounding the holidays, it's tempting to try to take some short cuts when preparing turkey. But some time -- and space-saving techniques could result in foodborne illness, according to Joyce Albrecht, University of Wisconsin-Extension Family Living Agent.

Examples of risky preparation and serving techniques include:

-- Thawing the turkey on the kitchen counter. It may be quicker than thawing in the refrigerator, but the outside portion of the bird thaws first, causing bacteria to grow rapidly at room temperature.

Thawing in the refrigerator or in a cold water bath is safest. In the refrigerator, allow 24 hours for each five pounds of turkey. In cold water, submerge the bird in its wrapper, allowing about 20 minutes per pound of turkey.

-- Stuffing the bird the night before to save time in the morning. The cavity of the bird insulates the stuffing from cold temperatures, allowing bacteria to multiply. The stuffing ingredients can be mixed the night before, but should be stuffed into the bird immediately before cooking.

-- Cooking the turkey overnight at a low temperature. Cooking below 325 degrees is unsafe. Instead, roast during one continuous time at 325 degrees until the turkey is done, using a meat thermometer to test internal temperatures. The turkey is done when the inner thigh registers 180 degrees and the stuffing registers 165 degrees.

Letting the turkey sit at room temperature until cool. No cooked or raw meat should be left out more than two hours. Instead, remove all meat from the bones after the meal and store in shallow containers in the refrigerator. Leftover turkey and stuffing should be used in three or four days.

-- Refrigerating a deli turkey, then reheating it the next day. Cooling a whole bird in a home refrigerator probably will take longer than two hours, so harmful bacteria can grow.

Instead, try to pick up your holiday turkey immediately before the meal. Ask the deli or caterer when the turkey will come out of the oven. Turkeys with the stuffing still in them may not be safe. Ask that stuffing be packaged separately. Hot turkeys should be too hot to touch, at least 150 degrees. If you are purchasing a cold turkey, it should feel cold to the touch.

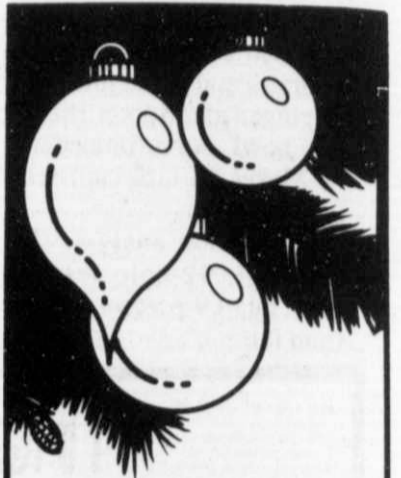

If you want to safely save time and space when cooking your holiday meal, Albrecht said you may want to:

--Grill the bird on a covered grill to free up the kitchen and oven.

--Bake stuffing separately in a covered casserole to save roasting time.

--Use a cooking bag to significantly reduce cooking time.

For more information on preparing a safe holiday dinner, contact Joyce Albrecht at the Washington County UW Extension Office at 335-4479; 644-5204 or 342-2929.

Fresh Greenery, Heirlooms Set Festive Holiday Table

Let these ideas spark your own imagination and creativity for presenting holiday foods!

* Line tins or wicker baskets with antique lace napkins or tea towels. Add freshly baked muffins or breads and top with a sprig of baby's breath. Tuck in a ramekin of flavored butter.

* Bring added warmth and color to a holiday spread. Cover a buffet table with a star quilt sprayed with a protective fabric coating to guard against spills.

* Holiday cookie cutters or small grapevine wreaths can double as napkin rings at individual place settings. A simple bow tied through each one will add a festive touch.

* Create a centerpiece all your own. Stack an heirloom cake pedestal with miniature pumpkins, squashes, gourds, pomegranates and dried artichokes. Tuck small twigs, dried leaves or fresh sprigs of fragrant herbs between the vegetables and fruits.

* An array of glass candlesticks of differing heights makes an interesting centerpiece. Add fresh flowers, fall foliage or Christmas greenery at the base. Be careful to place decorations away from burning candles.

* Spray the tips of pine cones lightly with gold paint. Scatter them among holiday foods on a buffet table.

* Unusual containers such as an antique fan-shaped vase can be used for serving sauces, fruit preserves or whipped cream.

* Dress up a glass pitcher of eggnog by adding a few fresh or silk flowers. Tie the flowers to the handle with a piece of decorative twine or ribbon.

* Garnish holiday foods with edible seasonal flowers or fresh herbs such as thyme, rosemary or purple basil. Butter pats look especially festive adorned with a tiny blossom or sprig.

* Dress up the base of a holiday cheesecake. Wrap shimmering ribbon around the bottom and tie in a simple bow. Add a shiny ornament or holly sprig for the finishing touch.

* Place wedges of assorted cheese from Wisconsin on fresh lemon or grape leaves. Accompany with clusters of grapes, apple slices and chutney.

* Weave holiday ribbons through a grapevine wreath and nestle a favorite holiday cake, such as buttery cranberry pound cake, in the center.

* Warm up guests with a mug of hot chocolate. Offer a variety of toppings such as whipping cream, cinnamon sticks, grated chocolate or candy canes.

* For a touch of spice, sprinkle sweetened whipped cream with ground cinnamon, nutmeg or allspice -- a great topper for eggnog, hot chocolate or coffee.

* Cover boxes or coffee cans with decorative paper or twine and line with colored tissue, cellophane or foil. Tuck favorite butter cookies inside and tie with a pretty plaid ribbon.

* Decorate a tree with edible ornaments. When baking cut-out cookies, poke a hole near the top with a drinking straw. Bake and decorate as desired. Thread a narrow ribbon through the hole and tie a knot at the end.

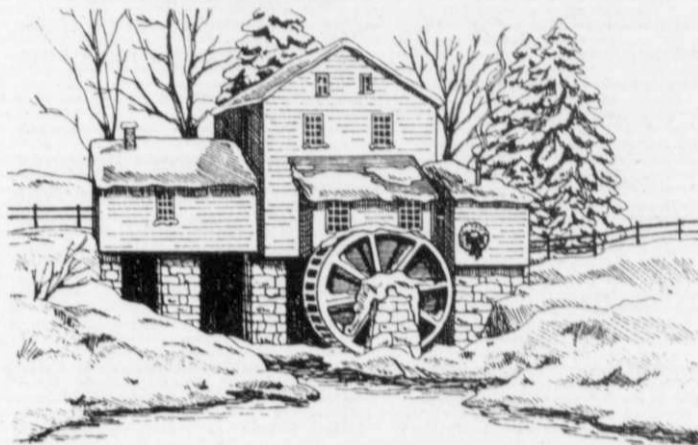

* No time to frost a single layer cake or brownies? Place a doily on top of the cake. Sprinkle powdered sugar over the top and carefully remove the doily to reveal the pattern.

* Make a simple buttercream frosting* and spread between two butter cookies to form a sandwich cookie. If desired, roll edges in finely chopped nuts, grated semi-sweet chocolate or colored sugar.

*QUICK BUTTERCREAM - Combine 2 cups powdered sugar and 3 tablespoons softened butter. Add milk or cream, one tablespoon at a time, to reach desired consistency for spreading or glazing. Stir in extract and/or food coloring, if desired.

Recipe for Safe and Bright Holiday Season

As you put up your home's holiday lighting display, indoors and outdoors, make sure you include two vital ingredients: safety and energy efficiency.

"Giving your lighting display some thought will help keep you and your family safe, and help hold down your electric bill," said Don Coe, Wisconsin Electric Power Company's public safety coordinator. "Before you put up your lights, check light cords and replace any that are frayed. Use extension cords outdoors only if they are approved for outdoor use, and buy extension cords that are long enough so you don't have to connect several shorter cords."

Indoors, lights never should come in constant contact with draperies or furniture and remember to turn off decorative lights when no one is in the room or if no one will be home for a long period of time.

"The longer lights are on around a natural Christmas tree, the sooner the tree will dry out," said Coe. "Natural trees can burn, so it's essential to exercise care when using them."

He noted that you can hold down the costs of running those lighting displays by using midget lights to decorate your tree and your home. "Midget lights use less than half the electricity of regular lights, and it costs about one cent to run 200 midget lights for three hours. By comparison it costs about 21 cents to run 200 standard holiday lights for three hours," he said.

A six-to seven-foot-tall tree may be decorated with approximately 300 miniature bulbs, which use about the same amount of electricity as a 100-watt light bulb.

"You can save even more by using shiny ornaments and tinsel or garland to reflect the tree's lights," Coe added. "Placing the Christmas tree in front of a mirror will seem to double the visual impact and brightness of the lights. The tree also can help light the outside of your home as well as the inside if it's placed in front of a window."

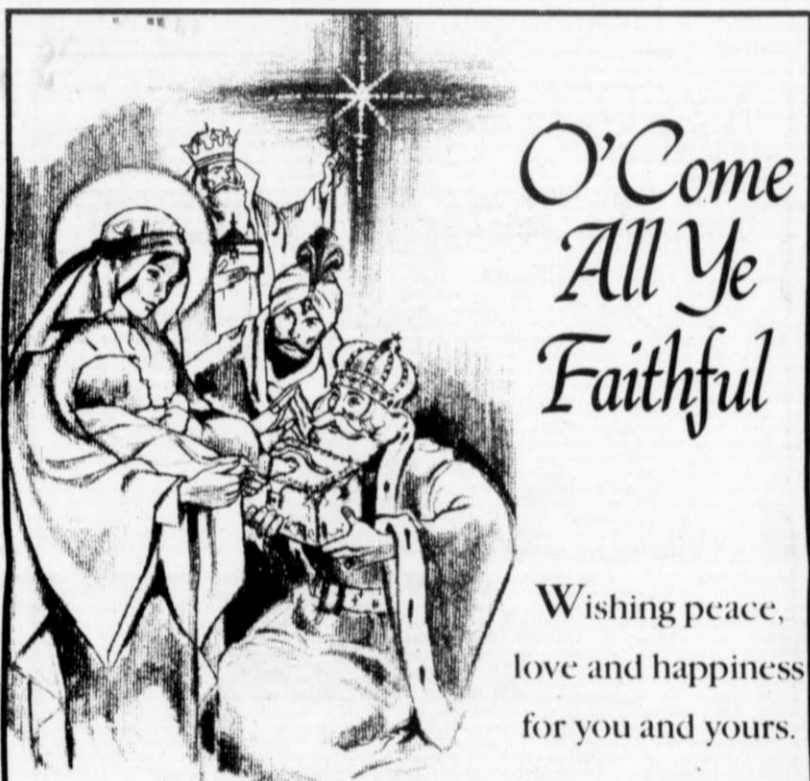

Using energy-efficient floodlights outdoors also can help hold down energy costs. They come in holiday colors and typically use 85 watts of electricity but provide almost the same amount of illumination as a 100-watt floodlight.

"Keep safety and energy efficiency in mind when planning your lightings displays and you'll enjoy the holiday season that much more," said Coe.

Some Toys Can Make a Child Lose Sight of Things

ed in 1958, dedicated to saving sight and eliminating preventable blindness. For more information, call (414) 765-0505.

Last year at least 14,000 children suffered eye injuries while playing with toys, according to hospital emergency room reports. The figure does NOT include injuries treated in outpatient clinics or doctor's offices. Ninety percent of all eye injuries could be prevented. Prevent Blindness Wisconsin urges shoppers to consider safety and fun when purchasing toys for children this holiday season. Prevent Blindness is offering a free brochure Some Toys Can Make a Child Lose Sight of Things to help reduce the number of toy eye injuries this year.

"Too many shoppers don't know what safety features to look for when purchasing toys," says Kathy Nelson, Prevent Blindness Wisconsin's executive director. "That is one reason why toys now rank as the number one cause of eye injuries in children."

Prevent Blindness - Wisconsin offers these toy safety shopping tips:

* DON'T buy toys that shoot or include parts which fly off.

* READ age, instruction and safety labels on toys.

* CHECK for breakage, defects and potential hazards.

* LOOK for the symbol, ASTM F396, which indicates the product meets national safety standards.

HOLIDAY WEIGHT-WATCHING TIPS

The urge to splurge is what nutrition specialists and diet advisers call an eating disorder that afflicts millions of Americans every holiday season. It's chief symptom is an uncontrollable desire to sample all the varieties of holiday foods and drinks - sometimes at one sitting.

If you're a holiday splurger, there's hope for you - in fact, it's even possible for you to have your cake and eat it too. However, nutrition specialists advise that you make it angel-food cake made with egg whites and no yolks! And forget the icing. That's where most of the calories are.

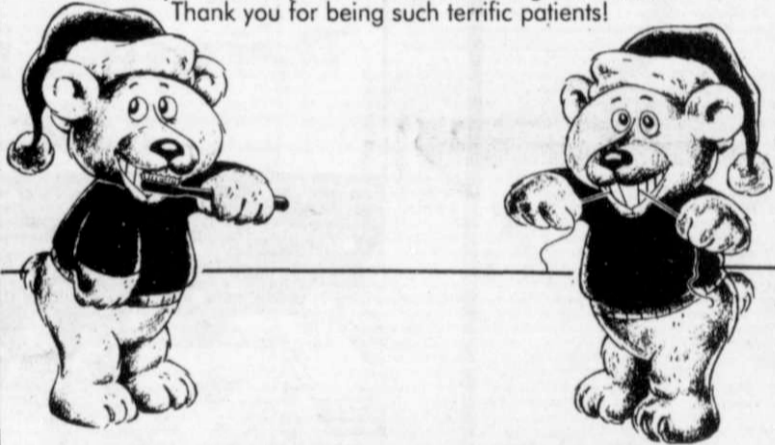

There are also other ways you can defeat the urge to splurge and still enjoy the holidays. For instance, stick with the traditional turkey for big holiday meals. It's naturally lower in fat and cholesterol than many other meats. But remove the skin before you eat it.

In addition, substitute a seasoned stock for butter when sauteing meats and use low-fat margarine instead of butter on bread, potatoes and other foods. Substitute skim milk for whole milk in recipes and forget about rich sauces on salads, using herbs and other seasonings instead.

Finally, just say "no" to the terrible C's: candy, cheesecake, cookies, frosted cupcakes, cream pies and custard. Instead try nonfat frozen yogurt, fruit sorbet or ice milk. And if you must attend holiday parties, eat a nutritious snack before you go, to take the edge off your hunger. Your reward will be a lower cholesterol level and slimmer waistline.

A Message from Bonnie

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers and how is everyone doing today? Are you all getting ready for Christmas? Like many of you, I just don't know where the year went and in just a few short weeks, Christmas will be here --WHEW!!

As YOUR Postmaster, I have lots of "fun things" to announce so please allow me to get right into it okay: Last year we had two schools participate in decorating the lobby of the Kewaskum Post Office. I am pleased and proud to announce that THIS year; we have FOUR schools INVOLVED -- this is GREAT!! The four include: My Little Friends Daycare, Holy Trinity School, St. Lucas School and the Art students from Farmington and Wayne Elementary schools. CUSTOMERS--PLEASE make sure that you stop in and view the TERRIFIC talent of OUR children. We, at the Kewaskum Post Office are VERY excited about THIS project.

This will also be the SECOND annual "Eternal tree" decorating at the Kewaskum Post Office. Letters have been sent to ALL schools concerning the contest PLUS THAT letter has been posted in the lobby for those that "may miss it." If you recall, last year--we had 27 ENTRIES and ALL of them were really FANTASTIC. Customers--YOU come into "play" with THIS as EACH of you will be given a chance to vote on YOUR favorite. Voting will take place from December 27th THROUGH January 6th.

OH--excuse me--my telephone is ringing. Okay, I am back and guess who that was? It was my buddy, Santa calling from the North Pole. He was calling to ask if the letters to Santa box is up at the Post Office. I told him that it was and he has designated two of his VERY SPECIAL elves to stop in and pick up the letters a couple times a week so that he can answer EACH and EVERY one of them. Santa told me that Mrs. Claus has Santa and the reindeer on a "diet" and exercise program so they can eat all the cookies and sugar that will be left by all the children. Santa also told me that his BIG BOOK of children shows that the "Kids from Kewaskum" are VERY helpful to mom and dad, doing their best in school and he is REALLY excited about this stop to Kewaskum. (GOOD JOB--KIDS AND KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK OKAY?)

The Christmas RUSH is

upon us at the Kewaskum Post Office. How can YOU help us to move YOUR mail a little bit faster? Well, as in other years--ALL mail has to be cancelled and sorted BEFORE leaving Kewaskum. We CERTAINLY do NOT want to inconvenience ANYONE but a FEW things that you could do for us to assist us in the volume of Christmas mail would be:

-- Bring ALL mail to the counter (when we are open) as that helps us NOT to have to "face it" (make sure the stamps are all the same way) before we put it through the cancelling machine.

-- Separate your IN TOWN (Kewaskum only), Campbellsport, 530--to 534--in ANOTHER bundle, the REST of the state in yet ANOTHER bundle and THEN--the rest of the UNITED STATES in YET ANOTHER bundle. Do you HAVE to do this? DEFINITELY NOT but anything that you can do to assist us will CERTAINLY be appreciated. OUR sorting then gets down to MORE particulars as

WE have to sort hand-written and type-written. After 20 years in the Postal Service, I am certainly ATTUNED to the Christmas season and TOTALLY realize the PUSH and EXTRA work that must be done by myself and ALL of my employees but WE all have to do OUR part to EFFICIENTLY move the Christmas mail and any assistance given by OUR customers will DEFINITELY be TOTALLY appreciated. IN ADVANCE, I thank you for YOUR co-operation in this matter.

Sweet Gifts for Holiday Giving

"A homemade gift from the kitchen is a true token of affection," says Betty Rosbottom, cookbook author and founder of La Belle Pomme Cooking School at Lazarus Department Store in Columbus, Ohio. "Lovingly wrapped and ribboned, the sweetest gifts are the ones you make for family and friends."

When baking gifts for giving, Rosbottom uses the highest quality ingredients -- like real butter. Its taste is unmistakably rich. In addition, butter enhances the flavor of other ingredients, making them more pronounced.

Just one bite of the elegant yet easy CHOCOLATE ALMOND MINI-TORTES, made with creamy butter and bittersweet chocolate, will convince you that butter brings out the true intense flavor of chocolate. Tender and moist, these bite-size sweets are baked in mini muffin cups making them neat-to-eat party treats or gifts. A spoonful of chocolate glaze crowned with sliced almonds provides the finishing touch. Because the tortes are made with all-natural butter, they keep well and stay fresh longer. If you're planning ahead, these mini-tortes can be made several days in advance and kept refrigerated or frozen until you're ready to package them.

Tabletop designer Nancy Wall Hopkins believes that the package is just as important as its contents. "Homemade treats deserve handmade containers," she says. Hopkins suggests using on-hand household items or materials which can be purchased inexpensively from craft or hobby stores.

Decorate a round cardboard box by gluing twine or cording around it. Sponge on gold acrylic paint for a dazzling finishing touch. Or simpler yet, glue dried leaves or flowers onto a plain box. Using "natural finds" as she calls them, is environmentally friendly and consistent with the trend toward do-it-yourself.

Package treats in the boxes lined with tissue paper or carefully place in cellophane bags. Attach gift tags decorated with colorful stickers and tie with a red or green ribbon for a colorful holiday presentation. Be sure to include a copy of the recipe for other gift giving occasions throughout the year.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND MINI-TORTES

TORTES

- 4 ounces bittersweet chocolate, broken into small pieces
- 1/2 teaspoon instant coffee powder
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, at room temperature
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup finely ground almonds
- 1/4 cup fine, dry plain bread crumbs

GLAZE

- 4 ounces bittersweet chocolate, broken into small pieces
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
- 2 teaspoons honey
- Sliced or slivered almonds

For tortes, melt chocolate in top of double boiler over hot, not boiling, water. Stir in coffee powder. Remove from heat and cool slightly. In larger mixer bowl, cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add melted chocolate mixture, almonds and bread crumbs, beating just until smooth. Divide batter among 24 paper-lined mini-muffin cups (1-3/4 inch diameter). Bake at 375 degrees F for 12 to 15 minutes or until a wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool slightly; remove tortes from pans and transfer to wire rack; cool 30 minutes.

For glaze, place chocolate, butter and honey in top of double boiler over hot, not boiling, water. Stir constantly 3 to 4 minutes or until smooth and shiny. Transfer to small bowl; cool about 10 minutes to thicken slightly. Spread about a teaspoon of glaze over top of each torte; top with almond slices. Makes two dozen.

NOTE: Tortes can be cooled, covered and refrigerated for two to three days. Bring to room temperature 30 minutes before serving. To freeze tortes, cool completely in refrigerator until glaze is set. Freeze in an airtight container. Transfer to refrigerator the day before needed; bring to room temperature 30 minutes before serving.

CAROLLING PARTY

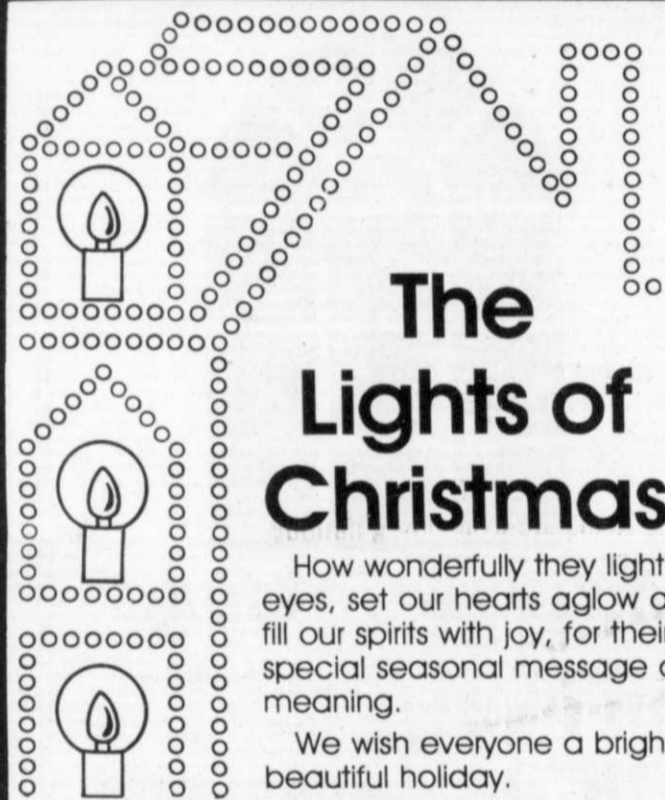

Make copies of the sheet music for your favorite holiday songs, gather a group of friends together and go carolling around the neighborhood, encouraging others to come out and join you.

After you've made the rounds, invite everyone back to your house for hot cider, tea and hot chocolate. If you don't want to brave the elements, gather everyone around the piano or put on a cassette of recorded music and sing along.

We value the friendships we've built with customers like you. Hope you all have a happy holiday!

1995 Christmas Shopping Ideas

By Jack Trzebiatowski
Washington County
Agriculture Agent

Get your Christmas shopping done easily this year by getting clothing that promotes the 1995 Wisconsin Farm Progress day show.

"Agribusiness on the Urban Edge" is the theme for the 1995 Wisconsin Farm Progress Day show to be held in Washington County. The event will be held July 11, 12 and 13 at the Dan and Marge Neuburg farm located south of Slinger.

The Publicity Committee developed the theme and a logo showing an urban setting in the background, with a tractor in the foreground. The logo and theme are being used to promote recognition for the event. The color selected for the show is jade green.

The clothing items to promote the upcoming event include sweatshirts, tee shirts, golf shirts, jackets and hats. Sweatshirts in medium, large and extra large are priced at $13.00. Extra extra large sweatshirts are $15.00. Golf shirts in medium, large and extra large are priced at $12.00, extra large and extra extra large at $13.00. Tee shirts in sizes of small, medium, large, and extra large are only $6.00 with extra extra large sizes at $7.00. Jackets in all sizes are available for $18.00 and caps for $5.00.

The items are available from the following locations:

Nehm's Floral - Slinger,
Associated Bank - Slinger,
Associated Bank - Jackson,
Farmer's Inc. - Allenton,
Carmel Lanes - Allenton,
Bank Wisconsin -
Kewaskum, First National Bank - Hartford, WTKM -
Hartford, Wolf's Fuel -
Richfield, UW-Extension -
West Bend, and Gehl
Company Human Resources
Department - West Bend.

Show your support for the show, and provide people on your Christmas list with some high quality clothing items. The green color will be very appropriate for the holiday season.

The Farm Progress Day Show will bring over 100,000 visitors to the county for the three day event. Over 500 commercial exhibitors are expected to be a part of the show.

Tasteful Holiday Gifts From The Kitchen

Need a gift idea that's always the right size and highlights your good taste? Offer a selection of home-made baked items from your holiday kitchen! All the hard-to-buy for persons on your Christmas list will appreciate a tasteful gift of Real butter cookies, bars, muffins and other baked goods made with Real dairy products from Wisconsin.

It's so simple, too. Gather a variety of holiday tins, plates and baskets. Add a selection of baked goods separated between layers of decorative holiday tissue paper. Include a copy of the recipes using Real Wisconsin dairy products like butter, buttermilk, and whipping cream so your gift can be enjoyed all year long. For an added touch, prepare some flavored butters, place in small crocks and include in the tin, plate or basket.

For a festive touch, tuck in small holiday cookie cutters and/or tree ornaments. Cover the plate or basket with decorative or colored plastic wrap and tie together with strands of colored curling ribbon. Wrap the tin in gala holiday-colored flat ribbon and top with a large bow. Now you have a one-of-a-kind gift for that special someone!

SURPRISE!!!

To really surprise that special person with a "small gift", wrap red or green crepe paper ribbon around the gift...and keep wrapping until a ball is formed. Use strong tape to hold it closed. You may want to wrap the tape all around the ball one time.

Now tape on a gift tag or an instruction card. The ball can be hung as a tree ornament until opening.

MRS. JIM BEAM'S BOURBON PECAN CAKE

- 1 pound seedless raisins
- 1 cup Jim Beam Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey
- 1 pound or quart broken pecans
- 1 cup butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 6 eggs
- 3 1/2 cups sifted flour (all purpose)
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. baking powder

Soak raisins in bourbon overnight. Cream butter with sugar gradually adding one egg at a time, beating after each addition. Add flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Add raisins and pecans, mixing well. Pour batter into a greased and lined tube pan or greased and floured bundt pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours or until cake is done. Cool cake on rack. After cooling, wrap in cheesecloth soaked with bourbon and place in airtight container.

FAMILY SPOTLIGHT

Lessons of the Christmas Season

By Father Val Peter
Boys Town

(NU) - During the holiday season we ask our alumni to write back to the boys and girls of Boys Town today and share their thoughts and feelings about how Christmas was when they were here.

Our purpose in doing this is to help our youngsters understand that we at Boys Town are a family, and that this family has many lessons to teach and to learn. We share with you a couple of these lessons:

My thoughts go back to the first Christmas I spent at Boys Town, to the gifts we received both from Boys Town and relatives and friends back home.

That first Christmas I noticed some of my classmates did not get any gifts from back home. I came to realize that some of my classmates had no one else or no one who could afford to send them a Christmas gift.

This realization was the greatest gift of Christmas of 1957. It relieved me of my self-pity and brought me to the realization that the world is full of less-fortunate people.

I'm truly a better person today because I spent the Christmas of 1957 at Boys Town.

—John, Class of 1959

I arrived at Boys Town on the dawn of Christmas Eve, 1949 ... That first Christmas I saw lots of other kids who seemed to have as many troubles as I did.

Those who felt sorry for themselves were miserable. But those who put their troubles aside and shared with one another were on the road to happiness.

It started small. A warm meal, a bit of laughter, a safe place, and a friendly hand and caring voice. I never forgot that. I have passed the lesson on to my children and now even to my grandchildren.

—Joe, Class of 1958

Please take time in this holiday season to recapture that sense of peace you had when you were younger. Please take time to teach your children the true meaning of Christmas. Please take time to share with those who will come after you the lessons you have learned, the lessons of peace and hope and joy.

Father Peter is executive director of Boys Town, the famous home for troubled boys and girls in Boys Town, Neb., and in California, New York, Louisiana, Texas, Florida, Nevada, Rhode Island, Iowa, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C.

Enhance Holiday Baking Traditions With Real Dairy Products from Wisconsin

Traditions, especially those shared with family and other loved ones, enrich our lives and the celebrations and special times we share. Particularly meaningful are the traditions we participate in during the holiday season.

Baking is a time-honored tradition in many households at this magical time of year, as homemade holiday baked goods add to everyone's enjoyment of special seasonal gatherings. And special holiday recipes call for only the finest ingredients -- like premium, Real dairy products from Wisconsin.

Quality dairy products from Wisconsin add a distinctive flavor and palate-pleasing texture to all your holiday baking. For example, what would butter cookies be without the addition of Real butter?

Nothing tastes like Real butter, and there is simply no equal for adding flavor, richness and tenderness to your favorite holiday cookie recipes. Buttermilk adds not only a tender texture, but a tangy flavor quality to muffins and breads. And cream adds a rich taste to many recipes, either as an ingredient or whipped and used as a luscious topping.

Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board is offering a special holiday brochure, "Welcome Back to Holiday Baking in the Wisconsin Dairy Tradition," featuring recipes for several bar cookies made from one simple butter dough recipe. This convenient Four-Way Crumble Dough recipe can be used in four different bar cookie recipes that saves time in the kitchen during the busy holidays.

Other cookie, muffin and bread recipes are also included that use Real quality Wisconsin dairy products, and there is a section of ideas for giving holiday baked goods as gifts. Try one of the six recipes for flavored butters and make homemade breads and muffins extra-flavorful and delicious.

To get a free copy of the new four-color holiday brochure, simply mail a postcard with your request to Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board, Dept. HB-7294, 8418 Excelsior Drive, Madison, WI 53717.

Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board, the non-profit organization funded by the state's 29,000 dairy farm families, promotes the awareness, sale and consumption of Wisconsin dairy products.

recipes. May be used immediately or stored in refrigerator or freezer for three days. Makes 9 cups or 12 dozen bar cookies.

DAIRYLAND TRI-TOPPED CHEESECAKE BARS

- 2-1/2 cups Four-Way Crumble Dough
- 2 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 eggs
- 4 squares (1 oz. each) semi-sweet chocolate, melted
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds
- 1/2 cup coconut
- 2 bars (2.07 oz. each) chocolate covered peanut and caramel candy bars, chopped
- 1 cup maraschino cherries, well-drained, chopped

Press dough onto bottom of 10x15-inch jelly roll pan. Bake at 350 degrees F for 10 to 12 minutes or until firm to the touch. Beat cream cheese, sugar and vanilla at medium speed of electric mixer until fluffy. Blend in eggs at low speed; stir in chocolate. Spread over crust. Sprinkle almonds over 1/3 of cream cheese mixture; sprinkle coconut over almonds. Top another 1/3 of cheesecake mixture with candy bar pieces. Top remaining 1/3 with chopped cherries. Bake at 350 degrees F for 25 minutes. Cool; cut into squares or bars. Makes 4-1/2 dozen. NOTE: Substitute 1/3 cup dairy cream for chocolate squares to make a plain cheesecake layer.

FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Santa Claus, by any other name, is still Santa Claus. In France he is known as Pere Noel and in Norway and Sweden as Jule-Nisser. Even in Cajun country, he is known by a different name - Papa Noel.

In South Africa, children believe that Father Christmas comes out of the jungle and in England, he is downright skinny. However, whether you call him Santa, Saint Nicholas, or Father Christmas, this jolly old elf is still the most recognized symbol of the holidays.

A HISTORY OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS

One of the things we look upon as a joy at Christmas is the giving of gifts. While the practice of gift-giving is most often attributed to the three Wise Men who brought gifts to the infant Jesus, the giving of gifts or candles and wreaths was actually practiced by the pagans.

In addition, at the Calends (a three-day Roman New Year's celebration that began on the first day of the year), houses were adorned with lights and greenery, and presents called strenae were given to friends, children, and the poor.

As time went on the gifts became more elaborate. Sweet things were given to ensure the sweetness of the coming year. Lamps were gifts to wish light and warmth. Money or gold or silver objects were a wish for increasing wealth.

The early Church frowned on gift giving as a pagan custom, but the people enjoyed it too much to abandon it, and so finally the Church accepted the idea and sanctioned it. Gift giving could commemorate the splendid gifts of the Magi to the infant Jesus. By the twelfth century, gifts on Christmas Eve were becoming a custom.

In England, from the seventh to the 13th century, the year was reckoned from Christmas Day.

Thanks for your continued support.

Holidays Affect Teen Work Hours

How does the approaching holiday season affect hours that teenagers may work? State labor law allows teenagers to work more hours on any week when there is no school.

Fourteen and 15-year-olds can work eight hours a day and 40 hours a week. They can work any time between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. as long as there is no school the next day.

There is no limit to the hours 16 and 17-year-olds may work in a given day. They can work up to 50 hours a week. Overtime must be paid for hours in excess of 10 a day or 40 a week, which ever is greater.

They may work between 5 a.m. and 12:30 a.m. as long as there is no school the next day.

Employers are not required to give workers holiday time off or holiday leave pay unless the employer previously has agreed to do so.

Questions? Contact the Labor Standards Bureau of the Wisconsin Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations at 608-266-0026.

EASY TO MAKE CHRISTMAS DOME ORNAMENTS

Decorate your tree this year with heirloom quality, do-it-yourself Christmas Dome Ornaments. Year after year, these classic home-made ornaments will bring joy and pleasure to your family. Not only are they perfect for Christmas tree trimming or for displaying on the mantel, they also make wonderful stocking stuffers and unique gifts that everyone will prize.

To make Dome Ornaments, you'll need one clear acrylic tree ornament, one green felt square, one 1/2" gold foil star, 12" red double faced satin ribbon, a handful of polyester fiberfill, one village miniature, tacky glue and scotch tape, all available at Leewards.

Cut out the felt square to fit the back half of the acrylic tree ornament and glue the felt in place. Next, glue the fiberfill to the base of the felt tree to resemble snow. Then, glue the village miniature above the snow at the base of the felt tree. Glue the gold star on the felt backdrop, above the village miniature. Next, put the tree halves together and tape it at the bottom of the tree base. Finally, tie a two-loop bow (like tying your shoelace) to the top of the plastic tree.

YULE LOG TRADITION

The traditional lighting of the Yule log dates back to the time of the Saxons and Goths, who burned such a log at their festival of the winter solstice.

A great Yule log, which was often the whole trunk of a large tree, was ceremoniously hauled in with the youngest member of the assembly riding astride as the Yule sprite. The log was then lighted with a piece of wood carefully saved from last year's log.

This ceremony was to ensure good fortune for the household during the coming year.

TIGER BUTTER

1 pound white chocolate, broken into 1 inch pieces

1/2 cup chunky peanut butter

1 cup (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

Place white chocolate in a 1 1/2 quart microwave safe bowl. Microwave on high 1 to 2 minutes or until melted. Add peanut butter and microwave on high 2 minutes or until mixture is smooth and creamy. Blend well. Spread mixture into a 15 1/2 by 10 1/2-inch jellyroll pan lined with waxed paper.

In a 2-cup microwave-safe measuring cup, melt chocolate morsels on high for about 2 minutes. Pour melted chocolate over peanut butter mixture and swirl through with a knife, or drizzle melted chocolate on top of mixture using fine tip of pastry tube to make stripes. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Store in refrigerator.

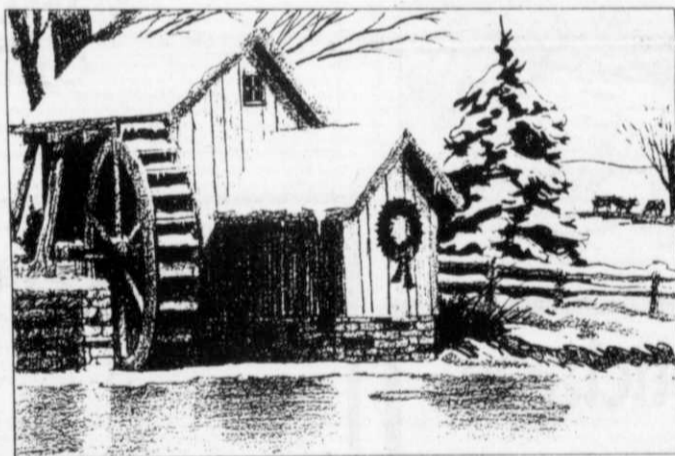

Makes about 2 pounds of Tiger Butter.

Holidays Affect Teen Work Hours

How does the approaching holiday season affect hours that teenagers may work? State labor law allows teenagers to work more hours on any week when there is no school.

Fourteen and 15-year-olds can work eight hours a day and 40 hours a week. They can work any time between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. as long as there is no school the next day.

There is no limit to the hours 16 and 17-year-olds may work in a given day. They can work up to 50 hours a week. Overtime must be paid for hours in excess of 10 a day or 40 a week, which ever is greater.

They may work between 5 a.m. and 12:30 a.m. as long as there is no school the next day.

Employers are not required to give workers holiday time off or holiday leave pay unless the employer previously has agreed to do so.

Questions? Contact the Labor Standards Bureau of the Wisconsin Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations at 608-266-0026.

EASY TO MAKE CHRISTMAS DOME ORNAMENTS

Decorate your tree this year with heirloom quality, do-it-yourself Christmas Dome Ornaments. Year after year, these classic homemade ornaments will bring joy and pleasure to your family. Not only are they perfect for Christmas tree trimming or for displaying on the mantel, they also make wonderful stocking stuffers and unique gifts that everyone will prize.

To make Dome Ornaments, you'll need one clear acrylic tree ornament, one green felt square, one 1/2" gold foil star, 12" red double faced satin ribbon, a handful of polyester fiberfill, one village miniature, tacky glue and scotch tape, all available at Leewards.

Cut out the felt square to fit the back half of the acrylic tree ornament and glue the felt in place. Next, glue the fiberfill to the base of the felt tree to resemble snow. Then, glue the village miniature above the snow at the base of the felt tree. Glue the gold star on the felt backdrop, above the village miniature. Next, put the tree halves together and tape it at the bottom of the tree base. Finally, tie a two-loop bow (like tying your shoelace) to the top of the plastic tree.

Inexpensive and interesting activities, such as the Christmas Dome Ornament, can be found in "Leewards Projects and More," a 64-page book filled with 40 wonderful holiday crafts.

YULE LOG TRADITION

The traditional lighting of the Yule log dates back to the time of the Saxons and Goths, who burned such a log at their festival of the winter solstice.

A great Yule log, which was often the whole trunk of a large tree, was ceremoniously hauled in with the youngest member of the assembly riding astride as the Yule sprite. The log was then lighted with a piece of wood carefully saved from last year's log.

This ceremony was to ensure good fortune for the household during the coming year.

TIGER BUTTER

1 pound white chocolate, broken into 1 inch pieces
1/2 cup chunky peanut butter
1 cup (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

Place white chocolate in a 1 1/2 quart microwave safe bowl. Microwave on high 1 to 2 minutes or until melted. Add peanut butter and microwave on high 2 minutes or until mixture is smooth and creamy. Blend well. Spread mixture into a 15 1/2 by 10 1/2-inch jellyroll pan lined with waxed paper.

In a 2-cup microwave-safe measuring cup, melt chocolate morsels on high for about 2 minutes. Pour melted chocolate over peanut butter mixture and swirl through with a knife, or drizzle melted chocolate on top of mixture using fine tip of pastry tube to make stripes. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Store in refrigerator. Makes about 2 pounds of Tiger Butter.

Think 'Designated Driver' This Holiday Season

Holiday revelers should "think designated driver" this year -- then put that thought into action, according to the American Automobile Association's Wisconsin Division.

"Designating a driver has become a fundamental part of a happy holiday season," said Triple-A spokesman Michael Bie (bee).

"People who think about using a designated driver -- and then try it -- will be following thousands of other responsible motorists in safeguarding against tragedy." The designated driver concept has gained such widespread acceptance that most Wisconsin bars and restaurants will offer free non-alcoholic beverages for the drivers, said Bie.

"There is higher public consciousness today when it comes to alcohol," said Bie. Triple-A notes that alcohol-related traffic fatalities declined by 13 percent from 1982 to 1992. "While progress has been made, alcohol still has a major influence on highway crashes in Wisconsin," said Bie.

According to the National Safety Council, more than half of all motor-vehicle fatalities occurring during the holidays are alcohol related. In Wisconsin, alcohol contributed to 42 percent of all vehicle fatalities in 1993, claiming the lives of 297 people; another 8,093 people were injured.

"The designated driver concept is easy to implement," said Bie. "One person -- the designated driver -- simply agrees not to consume alcohol for the evening and to drive home friends or family members who have been drinking. Someone else takes a turn next time."

In addition to free or reduced-price non-alcoholic beverages, some bars and restaurants have created innovative efforts to provide safe rides for patrons during the holiday season.

"Triple-A urges all holiday revelers to put their loved ones first and volunteer to be designated drivers. Next time, someone else can do the same for them," said Bie.

Triple-A Wisconsin, serving more than 462,000 members across the state, continually works to improve conditions for motorists.

BUTTER MINTS

1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
2 teaspoons butter, flavoring
1/8 teaspoon oil of peppermint
1 (16-ounce) package powdered sugar

Yellow paste food coloring
Combine first four ingredients; beat at low speed of electric mixer until blended. Add a small amount of food coloring and mix until blended.

Press mixture into mint molds or roll into small balls and flatten slightly. Yield: about 7 dozen

HOLIDAY RELISH

4 cups whole raw cranberries, ground
2 apples, washed, cored and finely chopped
Juice of 2 oranges

1 (8-ounce) can crushed pineapple

1 cup chopped pecans

2 3/4 cups sugar

Combine all ingredients, mixing well. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Yield: about 2 quarts.

'Christmas Through the Years' At Old World Wisconsin Dec. 17-18

"Go to the tree" at Old World's St. Peter's Church where a wood stove will warm celebrants as they join in joyous communal singing of traditional hymns.

Christmas in the 19th century was a time for quiet and intimate family and community celebrations. This holiday season visit Old World Wisconsin to experience the social and religious meaning of Christmas before it became a commercial holiday.

In the homes and churches of early Wisconsin settlers, Christmas was a special time, but its celebration was very different from our celebrations today. Newly arrived immigrants still clung to special Old World holiday foods and traditions. Gifts were simple, often fruits, nuts, or useful articles like warm knit stockings or "store bought" shoes.

The display of a Christmas tree was introduced by German immigrants and only gradually became a common American custom in the latter 19th century. At first very few families had Christmas trees in their homes. Instead, they would "go to the tree" at church or school, and this was part of the special community celebration of Christmas.

You, too, can "go to the tree" at Old World's St. Peter's Church where a wood stove will warm celebrants as they join in joyous communal singing of traditional hymns, recapturing the sense of community that typified Christmas celebrations in the 1880s. Ten flickering candles placed on the altar will cast a golden glow over the seasonal motto, "Glory to God," simply fashioned from evergreen boughs hung over the altar. Hung with gifts, paper chains, homemade ornaments, fruits and gilded nuts, the tree will dominate the front of the church. Beneath the tree, simple, but useful gifts await the children.

Quiet Civil War-era Christmas observances will be contrasted with the more elaborate and festive Victorian Christmas of the 1870s. With loved ones recently lost or away serving in the war, an 1860s Christmas focused on sending gifts of food or clothing to their loved ones, working, or quietly remembering a more joyous past. A happier and more plentiful time for many people, the 1870s Victorian celebration includes a small, freshly cut evergreen tree, holiday decorations and the tempting aroma of fresh cookies, cakes, and holiday breads.

As guests walk through the door and into the kitchen of a northern, rural Wisconsin Finnish Christmas set in 1915, their senses will fill with the intriguing sights and the mixed pungent and sweet aromas of visku velli, limpuu bread, rutabaga, loora, and pickled herring. Above the kitchen table will hang a delicately fashioned Finnish himmeli. Though small in size, a pine tree hung with apples, popcorn, paper chains, and candles will dominate the parlor with its symbolic importance. Imagine taking a traditional Finnish sauna on Christmas Eve, then anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Finnish Joulu-Pukki, the Christmas goat.

Spend time browsing a small historic country store stocked with oysters, fruits and nuts for rural 19th-century Christmas feasts.

As you shop for that special Christmas gift at the museum store, stocked with a tantalizing array of stocking stuffers, ethnic cookbooks, children's period toys, books and games, and a selection of adult and children's apparel or take refreshment at the Clausing Barn Restaurant, you and your children may even meet Old St. Nick himself.

As featured on CNN's special Christmas program broadcasts in 1993, six historic structures at Old World Wisconsin will be open for "Christmas Through the Years" from 11 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on December 17 and 18. The historic site is located on Highway 67, just south of Eagle. Admission is $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for children. For more information call 414-594-2116.

As you shop for that special Christmas gift at the museum store, or take refreshment at Clausing Barn Restaurant, you may even meet Old St. Nick.

Wishing you good cheer!

Holiday Gifts Can Help the Environment

You may be approaching the holidays with a dread of trying once again to choose the perfect gift for that special friend, relative or spouse who "has everything." Why not try a gift that gives something back to the environment?

The Wisconsin Waste Reduction Coalition, a partnership of private businesses, state agencies and University of Wisconsin-Extension, has produced a flyer full of ideas that help the giver and receiver reduce, recycle and reuse. Among the group's ideas for environmentally friendly gifts are:

- a cloth tablecloth and matching cloth napkins
 - cloth or string shopping bags
 - a compost bin or recycling bins
 - gift certificates to resale shops
 - a lunch box or insulated lunch bag
 - reusable party or picnic dishes and utensils
 - rechargeable alkaline batteries and a charger
 - reusable storage containers
 - stationery made from recycled paper
- Gifts that specially save water and energy might include:
- bus passes
 - compact fluorescent light bulbs
 - insulated bed pads for waterbeds
 - a water heater blanket
 - a water-saving shower head

Living gifts include:

- a house plant or potted evergreen
- seeds for spring planting
- your time--doing child care, house work or yard work

The Reduction Coalition also offers these tips for reducing waste in your own home as you prepare for the holidays:

- make edible ornaments and write holiday greetings on cookies instead of cards

Holiday Hours at County Offices

The Washington County offices will be closed as follows for the Christmas/New Years Holidays:

They will close at 12 noon on Friday, December 23, 1994 in observance of Christmas Eve, and will be closed all day, Monday, December 26, in observance of Christmas Day. They will be open for business as usual at 8 a.m. Tuesday morning, December 27.

They will close at 12 noon, Friday, December 30, 1994 in observance of New Year's Eve, and will be closed all day, Monday, January 2, 1995, in observance of New Year's Day. They will be open for business as usual at 8 a.m. Tuesday morning, January 3, 1995.

-place gifts in reusable tins, baskets or decorative bags

-cut the picture out of a holiday card and reuse it as a holiday postcard

-reuse wrapping paper, boxes, ribbons and bows

A Christmas Miracle

by A.Mi

Since the end of October, I had scattered handfuls of shelled corn, daily, for a rather thin-appearing pheasant hen. As winter drew nigh, she more and more belied her wild inclinations...ever more closely approaching the "hand that at least in part, fed her." The contribution of corn to her diet seemed to do its job for each passing day she appeared brighter and more lively.

Christmas week brought with it warm feelings, but, oh, awfully nasty, blustery cold weather. As Christmas Eve drew nigh, I worried about my feathered friend for she had missed her feeding time three days in a row! Had a bud turn of fate befallen her?

Just before leaving for church on Christmas Eve I went out into the yard one more time to check the corn I had placed with hopes that she had "been there." To my dismay, every kernel was still in tact. Then, I noted a set of tracks leading up to an overturned barrel. Carefully, I shined by flash-light the rein. To my utter amazement, cozily curled up in that barrel was a red fox...and couched safely between his rear and forepaws was my pheasant hen. Sleepily the fox turned his head gently caressing the bird. Unbelievable, I exclaimed to myself!

A gust of icy wind sent a shiver across my body. Then, as I turned away to leave for church, an enlightening word of Holy Scripture flashed through my mind: "And the lion shall lie down with the lamb." Indeed, this was what Christmas is all about. The gift of everlasting LOVE and PEACE.

We wish you
a Christmas filled with love.

Thank you.

RECYCLE YOUR OLD CHRISTMAS TREE

by
O.J. Robertson

Our Christmas tree was a beautiful medium-sized, tapered live pine. As I took it down after the holiday season, I wondered, "Is there some way a used Christmas tree can be put to further use?" It would be a waste to toss such a pretty thing on the trash heap.

As I dragged the tree across the snow in the back yard, the movement disturbed the snowbirds which I had earlier tossed out for them. As I watched their quick flight, an idea came. Why not make the pretty pine tree into an outdoor feeding station for the birds?

With a hatchet, I sharpened the trunk of the tree into a sharp point so it would bore into the snow-covered ground. I stationed the tree by a fence where the birds would have more privacy and so all winter long the birds were a joy to me.

A Christmas tree is nice in the house. One is nice, too, if you share it with the birds. If you have a live tree, think about recycling it. Just keep the food supply ample and you'll have feathered friends every day. Chances are some of the birds will nest and raise a family near your home when summer comes.

SANTA'S CLUB

Joining "Santa's Club" at Christmas time is a fun way to keep children entertained.

Whoever plays Santa must know the trick which is to bring something that begins with the same letter as the child's first name.

To begin, Santa explains that he has a club that everyone can join. But, to join, each child must offer a gift to Santa.

Next, he tells the children that there is a trick to the game and to listen carefully and they will discover what it is. Now, give an example by saying, "Richard can bring a radio, Jane can bring jelly, Bill can bring balloons."

Then give each child a chance to join Santa's Club.

Merry Xmas?

Did you ever wonder how we came to use the abbreviated version of Christmas? This tradition actually began in the early years of the Christian Church. In Greek, X is the first letter of Christ's name and it was frequently used as a holy symbol.

inspecting each ornament and leaving a trail of dusty gray webs.

When the Christ Child saw this, He smiled as He thought of how brokenhearted the mother would be over the dusty tree, so He reached out and blessed the webs turning them into shimmering, sparkling decorations. The tree was even more beautiful.

And so it became a custom in the Christmas season to have a spider among the other decorations on the tree.

The Legend of the Christmas Spider.

Long ago, in Germany, a gentle mother was cleaning her house for Christmas Eve (the day on which the Christ Child was to come and bring gifts.) Not a speck of dust was left. Even the spiders had fled to the attic.

Christmas Eve came at last. The tree was decorated, and the children were excited; but the spiders were frantic for they could not see the tree.

The oldest and wisest spider suggested that they sneak through a crack and await the Christ Child. The tree was so high the spiders could only see one ornament at a time. They scurried from branch to branch,

TIS THE SILLY SEASON DOWN UNDER

The Yuletide holidays in Australia are known as "the silly season," a time for crowning the Cockroach Queen, competitive skydiving and the tossing of the equivalent of a telephone pole.

In the land Down Under, Christmas is a balmy summer of surf championships, yacht racing and cricket matches. To be sure, Australians celebrate the holidays with the age-old traditions of caroling, Christmas trees and Santa Claus, but leave it to the saucy Aussies, to accentuate their climatic difference.

In Western Australia, Boxing Day, December 26 is celebrated with cheery competitive madness where folks participate in the Cockroach Crawl, the Tinnie (can of beer) Toss and the Lemon Drop Seed Spit. The culmination of the day results in the annual crowning of the Cockroach Queen.

Come Christmas day in the remote desert mining town of Coober Pedy, South Australians retreat underground, not to dig in their opal mines, but to escape the heat and worship in one of the five underground churches.

Finally, a quaint custom that has developed in some parts of Australia over the years is that of celebrating Christmas in the middle of the year. These festivities, known as Yulefest, are a cheery manner of indulging in hot roast meals and heavy Christmas pudding during the cooler winter months.

In some countries, particularly in northern Europe, "Christmas" presents are given out on December 6, the feast of St. Nicholas.

Just a few handy words to express our profound gratitude...

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND MANY THANKS!
