Fire Guts Boltonville Duplex

Fire completely destroyed this duplex at 1611 Highland Drive in rural Boltonville on Monday morning. The rental unit was owned by Dan and Nancy Rodenkirch of Boltonville.

An early morning fire completely gutted a rural Boltonville duplex on Monday morning. The fire broke out at about 9:15 a.m. at 1611 Highland Drive in the two family residence owned by Daniel and Nancy Rodenkirch. All tenants escaped uninjured.

The Boltonville Fire Department was initially paged out when the fire was reported. When Boltonville Fire Chief Joe Enright arrived on the scene, he quickly communicated the fact the house was "fully engulfed" and immediately requested full mutual aid from the Kewaskum and Fillmore Fire Departments. The Newburg Fire Department was dispatched later and a unit of the West Bend Fire Department assisted in filling air packs.

The Red Cross and St. Vincent DePaul Society were at the scene to offer assistance to the tenants, Katherine Taylor, who lived downstairs with her four children, and upper flat tenants Shellie DuDeVoire and Mike Beine. It was reported another tenant, April Weston, also lived downstairs.

According to Nancy Rodenkirch, U.S. Representtative F. James Sensenbrenner, who was traveling from his Town Hall Meeting in Kewaskum to Newburg, was one of the first people on the scene and called 911. He stayed on the scene to offer assistance and the use of his car phone.

Firefighters remained on the scene most of the morning with some remaining a good portion of the day. According to one fireman, two firefighters were treated on the scene for heat exhaustion and/or smoke inhalation.

The fire, which is still under investigation, was reported to have started in a downstairs bedroom.

Linda Kirst of Kewaskum will probably never be superstitious again after winning $31,400 on Friday the 13th at the Wisconsin Lottery MONEY GAME.

The bad luck never materialized for her on Friday, as Kirst won $6,400 in the first four rounds of play, earning her a chance to spin the Bonus Wheel, where she collected an additional $25,000. She purchased her winning ticket at O'Connor Quik Mart III in West Bend.

Linda, who is employed at Kewaskum Pharmacy, was accompanied to the show by her brother, Mike Reul. She plans to use her winnings to pay off some bills and then

Questions on School District's Building/Remodeling Program Answered

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Architects and contractors were on hand an hour before the start of last week's school board meeting to answer questions from board members, as well as the public, concerning plans for the middle school project, and the building timetable, and discuss the high school project, which is rapidly approaching the final design stages.

John Miceli and Dave Dellagnese from Eppstein, Keller and Uhen, are ready to receive bids from contractors for KMS, with a January 31 deadline set so all bids could then be brought to the next school board meeting on February 13. Miceli pointed out that at that time a review needs to be made as to where they are in the overall budget and discuss a number of alternatives that need to be decided on.

Board member Goeden brought up that fact that new ADA rules and regulations will be taking affect two years down the road, and questioned whether the building will be adequate enough to meet those standards.

She was told the building is being designed to meet the current laws, primarily because they do not know what to anticipate as yet, and what will not apply to this school. The design is now set up to comply with all state requirements, which are usually more stringent than the ADA.

Last Thursday, the plans were sent to the state for final review by building inspectors. They also discussed the new design for the bathrooms, which will be an L-shape without any doors, hoping this will deter the problem of smoking in the restrooms. The board approved the construction drawings and specifications for this project, with digging set for no later than March 1, depending on the weather.

Moving on to the preliminary plans for the high school, the architects answered questions regarding the mezzanine area of the new gym, above the locker rooms, to make it less claustrophobic. Principal Heidner pointed out that this area will be well used, not only for wrestling, but also Phy. Ed. units on life sports (such as aerobics), and after school fitness type activities that will be developed, including a new school club called, "PRIDE," open to all students.

The board brought up putting in a basement area, as an option, but considering the budget, the architects did not see this happening. A zipper Construction commented, "we do want to be a little bit cautious with these alternates and add-ons," seeing the plans have already taken the budget into consideration.

School District

The four candidates were announced for the upcoming school board election April 4. They will appear in this order on the ballot: Ray Engelking, John Kallen, Mary Sparks, and Karen Sparks. The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes will take on the three year terms, and the candidate with the third highest votes will receive the one year term. Andera was in the audience and introduced herself to the board, stating her concerns about property taxes, and expressing her interest in following the political process. "I want this to always stay a good district," she stressed.

Among other topics, Principal Heidner reflected on the holiday sharing activity and program which took place last month at the high school. Homerooms were paired up together, and worked with 20 needy families, donating money, presents and food items. "The families were overwhelmingly pleased," remarked Heidner.

Afterwards, an all school program was held to congratulate the students, with faculty grilling out burgers for everyone. He also noted that this past week, students were preparing for their final exams.

Key Club Advisor Len Soller talked about the meal the club served to 150 seniors at the middle school on December 18, with 21 students raising monies, cooking, and serving the food for this event. The meal had fallen by the wayside the past few years, but Soller said, "I think we'll try it again next year," seeing it was such a success.

Board member Neal Weare pointed out that a meeting has still not been set up regarding the Write to Read concerns, and we are now well into January. District curriculum coordinator Connie Strand assured him that she had been working with the company, and that a conference call meeting would be set up as soon as possible, with the delay being caused by a change in the IBM contact for the school. Weare also announced that a policy meeting would take place January 31 at 3 p.m. in the district office, discussing the drug free policy of the school district.

Jean Goeden told the board that the Washington County Farm Bureau Women had donated seven Ag books to the elementary school, and added that two full scholarships are available for any elementary teacher to attend Ag. Ed. 302, a three credit, one week graduate course. Anyone interested can contact Connie Strand or Nancy Dognitz.

She also brought up developing a resolution to be addressed at the next meeting regarding the return of the million dollar exemption under fund 30 for capital improvements and expansion. Many regarded this as a good idea, with positive affects not only for our district, but others as well, and it was suggested the item be brought up at the Wisconsin School Board Convention this month.

Connie Strand discussed curriculum progress, and a reading strategies report developed by Janice Straub, a reading specialist who presented an in service to the elementary teachers January 13. Regarding where this came from, Strand explained, "at the beginning of the year, at the very first staff development meeting, we asked the teachers two questions. What should students know and what do you think they know now?" The development of reading strategies to help the children be better learners. Also, grade level meetings will be held starting January 23.

The other two main areas she will be working on is revitalizing the Tech Ed Department, (such as getting equipment for a CAD program, a computer lab that can also be utilized for interactive programs with language arts, improving the auto class and graphics); and the computer literacy curriculum.

Mrs. Rosenthal received unanimous approval from the board for a trip to Germany, slated for June 12 through July 3. Three or four students have already expressed interest, although costs are not available until sometime in February. Pat Alvarado will act as chaperone.

The bulk of the meeting was taken up by a lengthy and tedious discussion of the pros and cons of many of the items and resolutions to be brought up at the upcoming WASB convention, and how board members wanted President Schmitt to vote at the delegate assembly. Not everyone was in agreement, and it was suggested next year, the board meet before scheduled board time, to allow for enough input from everyone involved. Ruth Schmitt, John Schulte and Dr. Heather will be attending the convention.

Other approvals included the partial resignation of KMS Home Economics teacher, Ms. Newall, who wants to retain teaching grades six and seven, and give up teaching two eighth grade classes to Kathy Hetzel; and the approval of a limited term contract for Marlene Erickson at KES, who is filling in for Mrs. Butcher on maternity leave.

The board okayed the official placement of a kindergarten into first grade for the remainder of the school year, under recommendation from psychological reports, teachers, and the gifted and talented coordinator.

Joseph Fellenz was recognized as Student of the Month and his picture will appear in a future edition.

According to Jerry and Nancy Mehring, co-chairs of the 1994 Campaign, the fund drive is officially "over the top" to finish at $875,788. "We are so very proud of the 300 plus volunteers who put their heart and soul into the campaign, and really personified the 'Make a Difference, Reach Out' campaign theme," said Jerry Mehring.

In Kewaskum, the campaign goal was exceeded with a final total of $34,128 compared to a goal of $33,700.

Mehring stated, "Once again, our donors in Washington County came through and showed that our community is truly committed to meeting needs and ensuring necessary services for friends, neighbors and co-workers. United Way helps right here -- and the generosity of so many is humbling."

In addition to finishing the campaign at the 100.3 mark, this is the highest amount of money ever raised by United Way in the county.

"When you first begin a campaign, you are optimistic that you'll reach your goal," said Nancy Mehring. "Along the way, you're reminded of people's generosity, of our blessings and that we can help those who really need help. Going over the top is just wonderful!"

Board President Rick Edwards commented, "On behalf of the United Way Board of Directors and the United Way agencies, I would like to compliment the hard work and ongoing efforts of all our campaign volunteers."

Special Guests Attend Farmington D.A.R.E. Graduation

Special dignitaries from around the state included, left to right, Robert Kenzer from the office of Representative Mary Panzer, Representative Glenn Grothman, and State Attorney General James Doyle.

Groups of students performed D.A.R.E. skits that they wrote themselves.

Deputy Butth talks to parents during the program.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Farmington Elementary School's fifth grade D.A.R.E. graduation was held last Thursday, with a host of special guests gracing the occasion.

State Attorney General James Doyle was the keynote speaker, discussing the importance of D.A.R.E. programs in Wisconsin's overall fight against drugs. The anti-drug education program uses law enforcement officers to teach young people in schools across the state, the consequences of drug abuse and ways to avoid peer pressure to use drugs. The program now includes 14 schools within the county.

Doyle, who has served as Attorney General since 1991, congratulated the fifth graders for the work they had done toward creating a drug-free future. Also attending the event were

Washington County Sheriff Robert Schulteis, State Representative Glenn Grothman, Assistant District Attorney Mike Mahoney, and Robert Kenzer, from the office of Rep. Mary Panzer. Schulteis, Mahoney, and Kenzer addressed the students from Ms. Kowalski's and Mr. Leader's classes and parents, recognizing the students for their participation as well as the program.

New emphasis was placed this year on violence and gangs - how to avoid violence and deal with angry feelings. The classes were led by Deputy Paul Butth from the Washington County Sheriff's Department, who spent several weeks working with the students. Each was required to write an essay, complete a workbook, and create a poster using the D.A.R.E. theme.

Two children from each class were chosen to read their essays, and this year, Jenna Gehl and Dan Wilkomm from Ms. Kowalski's class and Scott Joers and Adam Smith from Mr. Leader's class had that honor. Winners of the poster contest included Sheila Erler, Amanda Gessner, Brian Chilson, Jenny Link, Megan Desmaris and Nicole Herrmann.

Groups of students performed their own skits with topics that ranged from drunk driving to peer pressure and parties. The graduates also heard from Principal Kevin Steinhilber and School Board President Ruth Schmitt. Deputy Butth hosted the event, and told parents, "consequences is a big issue we learn about in D.A.R.E. Consequences doesn't mean just getting in trouble - there are other times when it comes to play."

Top students were chosen from each class to receive medals for their essays and D.A.R.E. bears were awarded to students showing the most honorable effort. The winners included Jenna Gehl and Scott Joers, medal winners, and Kyle Kedroske and Lauren Schultz, bear winners.

At the close of the graduation, the fifth graders were presented with certificates and pins by Sheriff Schulteis and Deputy Butth, and proceeded through a receiving line that included their special guests from around the state. The graduates and guests enjoyed refreshments following the ceremony, provided by the P.T.A. and D.A.R.E. parents.

Kewaskum School District News

Vicki Bourdow of Honeywell presents David Drexler, Kewaskum Middle School teacher, with his grant while Honeywell's Tom Nowak looks on.

Kewaskum Teachers Win Mini-Grants

The Honeywell Corporation has awarded educational mini-grants to five Kewaskum teachers for innovative projects that directly benefit students.

Vicki Bourdow, Honeywell Sales Consultant/Vertical Markets, and Tom Nowak, Schools Market Specialist, presented the awards at the December school board meeting.

Carol Zoerb, Gifted and Talented Program Coordinator, kindergarten teachers, Marilyn Kasten, Irene Stradtman and first grade teacher Jean Robrahn, received a $500 grant for "Take Home Totes," a project to provide continued learning at home through hands-on projects, activities, games and stories. The "Totes" will promote creativity, critical thinking and hands-on learning opportunities that are an extension of the kindergarten and first grade classrooms.

David Drexler, a middle school technology teacher, will receive $400 for a solar energy project he has developed for eighth graders at Kewaskum Middle School. Students will experiment on solar energy and will gather data using solar collectors they will build.

The purpose of the Honeywell Educational Mini-Grant Program is to encourage and reward imaginative teaching, directly benefitting students, and foster cooperation between communities and public schools. Honeywell received 100 applications this year and two were awarded to the Kewaskum teachers, indeed an honor for the school district.

KMS Music Department

In December, the choirs and bands at KMS performed a successful holiday concert which was the culmination of months of work. Now they will begin to slowly prepare for the next concert scheduled for March 21.

There are other activities, however, during these cold winter months. Twenty eighth grade students were selected to participate in the Moraine Music Conference Honors Festival at Badger Middle School on Saturday, January 14. Eighth grade students from our ten school conference joined forces for a concert that highlights outstanding musicianship.

On March 4, the solo and ensemble festival will be held at Hartford Middle School. Members of the KMS 7th and 8th grade choirs and bands will prepare music to be performed and judged at the festival. This festival gives the students a chance to prepare individual or small group pieces which encourages their personal musical development.

All of these concerts and festivals are open to the public.

WHO AM I?

PETER PAN

I was listening to the stories trying to hear more,
When I realized my shadow was gone, hidden in the drawer.

I took the kids and the girl and flew off into the pale moonlight,

Heading for the star that was just to the right.

We went to a place called Neverland,

With the pirates and mermaids all at hand,

A place where your imagination can run free,

For it was where the Legend of Captain Hook and Peter Pan came to be.

by Angie Bingen - 7th Grade

ME.....

I am a pen.

I ink in the morning, I ink at night.

I ink on paper, my ink is light.

Blue and white is my color.

But when I run out, my owner gives a holler.

I don't like it when I'm chewed,

I just can't bear the sight.

Now I'm home in my locker locked away,

All snug as a bug, all tucked in tight,

As sleepy as I am, I must say goodnight.

By James Thelen - 7th Grade

MAGIC LAMP

I'm made of gold or silver too,

I help make people's dreams come true.

Just rub my face and make a wish,

A diamond ring or golden dish.

You only get three magical tries,

But, please my master, don't you cry.

I'll do my best so just don't pout,

I'll make you famous without a doubt.

I have one rule, so you see,

I can't help you with a he or she.

by Brooke Zanow - 7th Grade

Odyssey of the Mind

"Odyssey of the Mind" (O.M.) is a school activity that many of you have probably heard of, but didn't understand what it was.

"O.M." is a "sport" of the mind. The team is made up of seven people and one coach. There are five divisions: Primary, Division 1 Elementary, Division 2 Middle School, Division 3 High School, and Division 4 College.

"O.M." encourages students to solve problems creatively. The teams are given several problems. The problem may involve mechanics, engineering, music or history, for example. Each require the team to accomplish certain tasks in a specific time. The team then chooses which problem they would like to solve. Their solution is usually in the form of a skit.

The skit has a theme, which is chosen and developed by the team. Points are awarded for the creativity and involvement of the theme throughout the skit. Many other parts of the solution are also judged.

This year's problems are: "Math Party," "The Mail Must Go Through," "Vaudeville," "A New Twist," "Time Traveler," and Scientific Safari."

"Math Party," requires the team to create a skit about a party. The party's activities will be described by using numbers and other mathematical terms. The team must use addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division, and must describe a geometric figure. The skit must involve the audience in some way, and there has to be some humor involved. This is a primary level problem.

"The Mail Must Go Through," asks the students to design and create a system to sort and transport mail. The team is judged on the creativity of the system. This is a Division 2 and 3 problem only.

"Vaudeville" is a problem for Division 1, 2, 3 and 4. The team must create a vaudeville show with at least three acts, and a commercial. One act's theme must concern a positive part of society. The team must carry all costumes and props in a suitcase. The size of the suitcase is limited.

"A New Twist," is also offered to Division 1, 2, 3 and 4. The team must create a balsa wood structure. It will be tested by balancing and supporting as much weight as possible. It will also go through a series of twists during the competition.

"Time Traveler" requires the team to create a time machine that performs specific tasks. A member of the team must take two journeys through time. This is a Division 1 and 2 problem.

The last problem, "Scientific Safari," involves the creation of a vehicle which must be powered by two different power sources. The team must capture poachers, tag animals, and complete various other tasks.

These long term problems aren't the only 'problems' students need to solve in "O.M." We also do something called spontaneous. Spontaneous can be what's called, "Hands On" or Linguistic. When working with a "Hands On" spontaneous problem, you are given specific supplies and are told to perform a specific task.

For example, you could be given, toothpicks, straws, string, scissors, and glue. From these materials we may have to make a tower or some kind of standing object in a short period of time and then we are awarded points. The higher the object the more points the judges award us.

In the Linguistic problem the judges will give us a sentence with a blank or something like this:

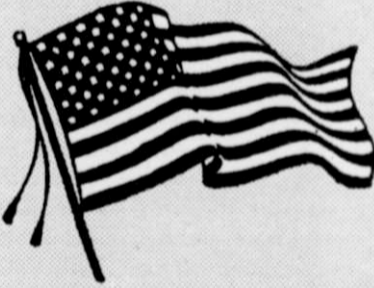

Name as many "boards" as you can think of.

After the judge has given us this sentence we are allowed one minute to think and two minutes to respond. An example of a common response to this could be: blue board. An example of a creative response could be: a school board or "All Aboards." The creative responses are awarded more points than common responses, but of the five team members that are involved with this problem, if one person gets stuck, the whole team is stuck. No one is allowed to help this person, which can make for hard feelings afterward, in some cases.

As you can see, being a team member of "Odyssey of the Mind" requires you to think creatively while solving a problem. It takes dedication, teamwork and enthusiasm to be successful at this "sport."

Regional competition is in March this year. The first place winners will advance to the State Competition which is held in April. Good Luck O.M. Teams!

Petersons Honored

East Central/Select Sires honored Jim and Carla Peterson from Kewaskum for their herd's outstanding production. At an annual meeting held in West Bend, Jim and Carla received a bronze award for ranking 15 percent above the state's production average for milk, fat and protein.

In 1994, the 49 herd averaged 15,927 pounds of milk, 769 pounds of fat and 601 pounds of protein on an official Dairy Herd Improvement test. As members of the Cooperative, Jim and Carla rely on East Central/Select Sires to provide top-of-the-line dairy genetics at affordable prices.

East Central/Select Sires, headquartered in Waupun, is an artificial breeding operation that serves over 6,200 dairy and beef producers in southern Wisconsin. As a member/owner of Select Sires, East Central/Select Sires helps to make up the largest Artificial Insemination (A.I.) Cooperative in the world.

New Poison Control Number Announced

A new toll-free "800" number will provide our state's parents quick access to Wisconsin's poison centers, according to Rep. Carol Owens (R-Oshkosh).

The nearest branch of the Wisconsin Poison Center System can now be reached at 1-800-815-8855. The number is in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"We owe a debt of gratitude to Governor Thompson for joining the Legislature in making this possible," said Rep. Owens. "This will help preserve the lives of our precious children."

In addition, the Poison Center of Eastern Wisconsin will make available "Mr. Yuk" stickers, including the new number, beginning in January.

The art of quilting, still popular today, has been practiced for thousands of years. Soldiers of the Middle Ages wore quilted coats and hoods under their armor.

THE WINTER MIRACLE

by A.Mi

Somehow or other January has a way of not only being the variety giver weather-wise, but also the provider of all sorts of almost unbelievable opportunities. Let me clarify this for you:

Now that the real winter cold has finally arrived, my wife has laid out for me that "extra clothing" so important to ones comfort when spending time in the out-of-doors. After bundling up, I visited a good old friend of mine and he suggested that I accompany him on his visit to a good old friend of his. Sensing that something good might come of this, I agreed. And off we went!

To my utmost surprise, his friend insisted that we accompany him on a trek almost unheard of to me...hiking a trail that he had cleared years ago and which cannot be traveled except when the tundra has undergone a DEEP FREEZE. "Too wet and dangerous, my friend explained. So off we hiked.

I had never heard of a prepared trail for winter only. I was not only surprised by its contribution to my sense of beauty, but I was fascinated by the fact that someone had actually or I should say, forceably hewn it out of the wilderness to make such winter beauty passable and possible to enjoy.

But the many wild animal tracks observed, I soon learned that it was not only the human who enjoyed this trail privilege, but also an abundance of the forest-wetland residents. And wintering-resident birds! What a variety!

After this experience, I wondered long and hard at the vision of this man...and finally concluded that it must have been a miracle of thought and action...to carve out a special avenue for human, animal, and bird alike to enjoy in the most dormant and frigid circumstances allotted to this old world of ours. Extra-ordinary, like Jack's artistic etchings on a plain, old storm window.

A group of Kewaskum youth formed their own hockey team on Saturday and cleaned off a part of the frozen Milwaukee River to play their game.

Area Church To Show Film

Meet Robbie Steele (Marietta DePrima)... an ambitious, aggressive attorney with a Vancouver-based law firm. Her win-at-all-costs mentality leaves her with a reputation for cutthroat practices, and lands her such nicknames as "Ice Queen" and "The Terminator" among her own colleagues, not to mention the competition.

Robbie's current challenge is getting the highest dollar possible for her client's (Hagan Beggs) sale of Vancouver's pro-hockey team, the Blades. Her ace card is recruiting star Cody Harris (Ken Olandt) to sign with the struggling Blades. This may be the only chance to see hockey if the NHL stays on strike.

What Robbie doesn't count on, however, is that Harris, whose past reputation as a brawler attracted the fans, has changed -- he's become a Christian. And he's not the only one to change... Robbie's colleague in this case, Tom Spivak (John Shepherd), finds his own life moving in a new direction because of Cody's influence.

As the tension increases in the case, on the ice and between her and Harris, Robbie's hard outer shell begins to crack. She battles with herself to remain in control, something she's always been able to do. This time, though, she begins to realize that maybe winning isn't everything... maybe there's more.

PowerPlay is the newest dramatic film from World Wide Pictures, the motion picture ministry of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association.

In the Service

Navy Seaman Recruit Jeremy J. Korneli, son of Mike J. and Deb J. Korneli of 920 Fond du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum, recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Illinois.

During the eight-week program, Korneli completed a variety of training which included classroom study, practical hands-on instruction, and an emphasis on physical fitness. In particular, Korneli learned naval customs, first aid, fire fighting, water safety and survival, and a variety of safety skills required for working around ships and aircraft.

Korneli and other recruits also received instruction on the Navy's core values - honor, courage and commitment; and what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct. Korneli joins 55,000 men and women who will enter the Navy this year from all over the country.

Men and women train together from their first day in the Navy just as they do aboard ships and at shore bases around the world. To reinforce the team concept, Korneli and other recruits also were trained in preventing sexual harassment and ensuring equal opportunity.

Even as the naval service gets smaller over the next few years, highly motivated young people like Korneli are still finding an opportunity to improve their knowledge and education as they become part of the most highly technical naval force in history. This year alone the Navy will have more than 57,000 job openings and opportunities, most of which include guaranteed training.

Korneli is a 1993 graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Make New Year's Resolution To a Lifetime of Healthy Eating

By Joyce Albrecht
Family Living Agent

It's estimated that the average American gains six to seven pounds between Thanksgiving and New Years, yet loses only five pounds in the following months.

One-third of Americans are overweight, and a third of Wisconsin adults say they are trying to lose weight.

Obesity is a long-term, chronic condition that does not disappear after a "quick fix," according to a University of Wisconsin-Extension nutrition specialist.

An ongoing treatment program that includes healthy eating and regular exercise is the best way to control weight, even if the results seem to be slow.

People truly interested in improving their health and trimming extra weight should set some attainable goals for the New Year and for the years to come.

These include:

-Be realistic about your weight. Obese people often can improve their blood pressure and cholesterol levels by losing as little as 10% of their body weight. Even if you want to get down to 130 pounds, your body weight may stabilize at 150 pounds. Aim for a gradual weight loss. If you keep it off a year, try losing another small amount and maintaining that weight.

-Eat a variety of foods.

Rather than severely limiting calories or eliminating high-calorie favorites, use the Food Guide Pyramid to emphasize whole grains, fruits and vegetables. Make a resolution to eat the recommended five servings of vegetables and fruits each day.

-Use the new nutrition labels available on most foods to limit dietary fat. "Nutrition Facts" on the new labels include the number of calories and grams of total fat and saturated fat.

Sixty-five grams of fat per day is a reasonable amount for most adults who eat a daily diet of 2,000 calories. This represents 30% of daily calories from fat.

-Realize that a "fat-free," "low-fat," or "reduced fat" label does not give you permission to eat unlimited amounts of that food. Manufacturers often add sugar to compensate for decreased fat in products, so calorie levels may still be high. Three Oreo cookies have 160 calories and seven grams of fat, while three of the reduced-fat cookies have 140 calories and five grams of fat.

-Gradually increase physical activity. Exercise is one of the most reliable predictors of successful weight management. An effective first-year goal would be to work up to four or five 45 minute walks each week, or 30 minutes of a more intense activity, like bicycling or running.

If you gradually increase the amount of activity and vary the types of exercise you do, you are more likely to avoid "burnout" or relapses into more sedentary behavior.

For more information on nutrition and wellness issues, contact Joyce Albrecht, Family Living Agent at the Washington County UW Extension Office, at 335-4479; 644-5204 or 342-2929.

Bonnie Verhunce

Bonnie Verhunce, who formerly played at Kewaskum, participated with the Madison Area Technical College Trojan Cross Country team this season.

"Bonnie was an enthusiastic member of the team this year. She improved a good deal and if it had not been for a knee injury that prevented her practicing for about a half of the season, she would have improved even more," according to Coach Bille Hausler.

The Trojan Cross Country Team won the WJCAA Co-ed title for the second year in a row, while placing second in both men's and women's races at the meet. Three MATC runners competed at the NJCAA meet at Alfred State in New York.

Wildcats Remain Undefeated

Even Friday the 13th could not tarnish the Holy Trinity undefeated season as they were victorious over St. Marys of Mayville.

Mayville's attempted fourth period comeback was unsuccessful when Holy Trinity made a last minute surge for a 27 to 19 final.

Sixth grader Sara Williams was high scorer with eight points, while her classmates Jackie Broecker hooped five and Bridget Polzean, four. Lynn Wiesner scored two and fifth grader Jenny Kopecky pumped in five.

The girls were at it again early Saturday as they increased their winning streak to five by gliding past CCLT of Lomira.

An aggressive defense and hot offense proved to be no match for Lomira as the Holy Trinity Wildcats pounced to a 43 to 14 victory.

Jenny Kopecky continued to illustrate her ball stealing abilities and drove in for a total of nine points. Top scorer again was Sara Williams with an impressive ten points. A good defensive showing by sixth grader Jackie Broecker proved to be effective.

True teamwork can be seen by the nice spread of the remaining points. Lynn Wiesner had five and four points each were scored by Jackie Broecker and Becky Bohn. Bridget Teofilo downed three while the Rinzel sisters, Emily and Roberta, each had two. Also sinking the ball for two were Bridget Polzean and Erin Weiss.

The girls record will continue to be tested on Friday as the Wildcats will be challenged by St. Matthews of Campbellsport. Fans can cheer for the Wildcats at 5:30 in the Kewaskum Middle School gymnasium.

Holy Trinity 'A' Girls Split Weekend Games

The girls basketball "A" team from Holy Trinity earned a split in two league games this past weekend.

On Friday, in a game that had been postponed from January 6th due to inclement weather, the Wildcats played host to the squad from Mayville. After a slow start offensively, the Wildcats found themselves trailing at the half by the score of 12-8.

They started the second half by full court pressing, and trying to create turnovers. The Mayville team did a nice job breaking the press and were rewarded by some easy baskets.

The Wildcats weren't able to make up any ground and were eventually defeated by a score of 27-18. Scoring for Holy Trinity were Amy Piwoni with nine points, Carol Neumann with three, and Amber King, Jenny Kraft and Katie Kopecky with two each.

On Saturday, the team travelled to Lomira to face CCLT. In a battle of two evenly matched squads, the score see-sawed back and forth creating a first quarter tie at 10, and a half time tie at 18.

Excellent defense was played by the Wildcats, especially Mary Rinzel, Emma Chambers and Robyn Wolf. In the third quarter the Wildcats started to pull away due to CCLT's foul trouble and numerous trips to the charity stripe. At the end of three, the score was 28-22, 'cats.

This trend continued in the fourth quarter with the Holy Trinity leading by free throw line time after time. The final score was 36-26 and the Wildcats had been to the line a total of 42 times.

Leading the scoring for Holy Trinity were Amy Piwoni with nine points. Following her were Katie Kopecky with seven, Jenny Kraft with five, Nicki Wessing, Carol Neumann and Amber King with none each. Mary Rinzel and Dani Wietor finished the scoring with two and one points respectively.

Next up for the Wildcats is the twenty team Plymouth Invitational Tournament Thursday through Sunday. In between they will host Campbellsport on Friday, January 20, at the Kewaskum Middle School.

JV Girls Suffer 31-21 Loss

By Tom Menger

The Kewaskum JV Girls basketball team came out flat, and couldn't seem to find the mark offensively, as they dropped a 31-21 decision to Kiel last week.

In what Coach Keith Amundson called a "slow" game that saw poor shooting by both teams, the Lady Indians dropped their record to 4-7 (2-2 conference).

"You can't expect to win with 21 points," Amundson said of the loss, noting that his team shot only 50% from the free throw line. "I want us to be up around 60% to 70%," he stated.

Becky Heisdorf and Ann Bodden were the leading scorers for Kewaskum, with seven and six points respectively.

Boys JV Team Wins With 3rd Quarter Point Explosion

By Tom Menger

After getting their first win of the season last week, the JV boys basketball team was looking to keep the ball rolling against conference rival Sheboygan Falls.

Trailing by one at the break, Coach Dale Schatz must have motivated his young Indian team, as they came out of the intermission and exploded for 25 points in the third quarter.

The Indians did it with their "D," using a tough press to force turnovers that led to easy baskets.

"We played well in the third quarter, and did a good job holding the lead," Schatz said of the 65-60 victory, which improved the team's conference record to 2-3 (2-6 overall).

Dan Jeserig led the Indians' scoring attack with 25 points, and Jason Bartelt added key free-throws down the stretch to seal the victory.
