Plan Commission Remains Neutral on Proposed Development Roadway Access

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

Preliminary plans on the development of a three acre parcel of land adjacent to Highland Drive on the eastern village limits, were brought before the Kewaskum Plan Commission on Tuesday evening's meeting.

The proposed 32-unit development by K.T.R.M., LLC is within the Village's existing zoning on R-4 Multi-Family land.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt opened discussion to explain to the Commission when the condominiums were developed, the parcel of land was divided into three lots.

At that point in time, sewer could not be extended past the existing asphalt on Highland Drive. Also, an easement on the west side of the condominiums was established but the road itself has not been dedicated at this point in time.

Lengthy discussion followed on the roadways leading into the proposed development.

The proposal was actually brought before the commission by the developers for general discussion, so they (the developers) would have some insight on how they could proceed and what would all be involved in the process.

Following discussion, it was decided the Plan Commission would take a neutral position and matters would be turned over to the Village Board for Public Hearing.

In other action the Plan Commission also approved the final plat for Sunset Estates II and the Certified Survey Map for Gary Gavin for a portion of land zoned R-1, adjacent to Edgewood Road, for the creation of three lots as previously discussed.

Seeking Donations for Centennial Banners

The Kewaskum Centennial Committee is seeking donations for banners commemorating their 100th anniversary celebration as shown below.

The Village has budgeted monies for the purchase of a dozen banners, but the committee would like to see additional banners purchased to add to the festive decor of the celebration and the community.

Businesses, private citizens or civic organizations may contribute the entire cost of a banner or whatever they care to donate.

Anyone who donates the full price of a banner may designate their preferred on which light pole they would like the banner to be placed, and the village will try to accommodate.

The committee is discussing the possibility of placing a plaque on the poles thanking the contributor for donating the banner.

If you need more information or are interested in purchasing a banner for the light pole in front of your business, please contact Village Administrator Dan Schmidt at 626-8484 or Lana Kuehl at 626-2626 by Monday, January 30.

Pledge and Prayer Prompts Debate New Policies Will Go Before Board

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

A new policy written up by the Kewaskum School District Policy Committee on Monday, January 16, will go before the school board February 13 for approval, which requires students in grades K-12 to recite the Pledge of Allegiance daily while in school.

Committee members voting for the acceptance of the new policy included John Schulte, Neal Weare and Connie Schulist, Marcia Theusch and Ruth Schmitt voted no. Three of the four members are also on the school board.

The three hour session included debate from the audience as well as committee members, over whether or not patriotism and respect can be enforced by policy, or simply developed through curriculum.

Another policy that will be taken to the Board passed 5-0 that night, and addressed the subject of prayer in school, and states that no district employee shall require students or staff to say prayers or prevent them from the expression of private prayer within the school district. It basically supports what is already in our state constitution.

The board also discussed creating a policy on holiday programs with respect to tradition and religion, but opted to table that until the topic can be further researched.

Town of Scott Checking Options For New Recycling Program

By Bernadette Mondloch

A meeting is being held on February 2, in the Town of Scott to work out details on a new recycling program for the town.

Town Supervisor Dale Burke and Town Clerk Colleen Narbatovics have been touring various recycling operations and investigating costs for the purchase of machinery necessary to process recyclables brought to the town's center. Plans include the purchase of a baler which will accommodate paper, cardboard, tin and aluminum.

The original plan also included the purchase of a shredder for plastics, but their investigation has determined that baling would be less costly and is more acceptable on the market scene.

A number of markets have also been looked at and a plan of action will be completed at the February 2 meeting. Citizens are asked to attend and to participate in the program. It is hoped that once established, the town will be able to accept items from neighboring municipalities but for the present time, it will only be for town residents.

At the January meeting, the board approved the purchase of bins for storage, a large, lighted sign, a number of small movable signs and the equipment necessary for displaying them, a hand skid truck, pallets, a pamphlet rack for educating residents, and a fork lift. The board is also looking into a change of hours for the center to be open but for the present time, hours will remain as is.

The project is to be partially financed by a recycling grant in addition to the present grant being received by Scott and neighboring municipalities.

Zoning changes were approved for Floyd Klug and Jim Brown. The Klug property, located in Section 32, was changed from A-1 and A-2 to A-5. The parcel is made up of Class 3, 4 and 6 soils and is 60% wooded, the balance being hilly.

The change for Jim Brown involved a .25 acre being changed from R-1 to Wagons Ho!

Get your horses shod and your wagons ready to join Kewaskum's Centennial Wagon Train, traveling back to 1895.

On June 10th, the village will be celebrating its 100th anniversary of existence, and part of the festivities will include a real wagon train that welcomes any horse drawn vehicle (wagons, carts, carriages, buggies, etc.) brave enough to make the treacherous six mile journey from Ashford to Kewaskum. The ride should go smoothly, barring any interference from the calvary or renegade outlaws.

Not to worry, since the committee has found three highly respected wagon masters to make sure your journey is a pleasant one. (Just don't rent "Wagon's East" before this event!)

Dan Nauman, the village's smithy, will be on hand to make sure things run smoothly. You can sign up with him by calling 626-2208. Everyone knows Bud Schmidt and his team of big horses, will lead with confidence, and he can give you the lowdown at 626-4278. Then there's Matthew Harvey, who still plants the old-fashioned way with his team of Belgians. Tell him you're coming along and give him a ring at 533-8267.

The wagon trail also welcomes along all horses and riders to be lookouts along the way. Be sure to wear your traveling clothes, though everyone's taste is different, and you can also dress yourself up in the finest fashions of 1895. Ladies, don't forget your parasols if the day turns out to be a hot one.

The Centennial Committee is looking for sponsors for this event. Anyone interested in sponsoring participants, riders, wagons, etc., please contact one of the aforementioned wagon masters.

Cool Treats." They also plan to have on hand the famous Dairy Queen ice cream cakes for your sheer delight.

Mehrings also plan to feature an indoor play area for kiddies, also for your convenience they will have a drive thru window.

Also in the phone interview Jerry stated that they plan to have the store completed by late April or early May, depending on when asphalt can be installed. A Dairy Queen road sign was erected on December 7.

Jerry and Nancy are excited about joining the growing Kewaskum community, and invite you to stop and say "hi" at their other stores.

Applications are still being taken for the management team, if interested please call Nancy at 338-3369.

Town of Scott

B-1 and Brown was issued a conditional use permit allowing antique restoration, wood working, antique gun and sword restoration and machine shop metal working on his property located in Section 13 (Batavia).

Mobile Home Park Licenses were approved for Four Seasons, Hoeft's Resort and Lake Seven.

Francis Meyer was reappointed as the Town Building Inspector for a one year term expiring on December 31, 1995.

Mrs. Lloyd Merkel was appointed as a liaison to the Census Bureau for the 2000 bicentennial census to work on establishing accurate maps and address listings.

Other approvals included: (1) the purchase of a new phone for the highway building, (2) a $150 running board for the new utility truck (installation included), (3) certified survey map for Evelyn Kauber and (4) a revised recycling ordinance and (5) operators license for Bonnie Perringer.

The Scott Town Board has passed a resolution commending several of its citizens on the work done to restore order to the Scott Union Cemetery located on County Road D, west of Highways 144 and 28.

A citizens committee comprised of Malinda Garbisch, Orville, Jim and Mark Ramel, headed by Melvin Moths, worked to straighten monuments, cut weeds, fill in low spots and make general improvements at the town cemetery. Town Chairman Lester Benzschawel expressed his thanks for a job well done.

Town of Scott Chairman Lester Benzschawel will seek another term as a write-in candidate because he missed the deadline for filing his nomination papers. Despite the fact that he had secured sufficient signatures on the nomination papers, Benzschawel said, "I forgot to get those darn papers in." While still in office, he would like to complete work on the town's recycling program and completion of the Random Lake Joint Community Library project.

The little boy ran up to his father and showed him the top half of a bikini bathing suit which he had found on the beach. The father said: "Come quickly and show Daddy exactly where you found it."

Village Hires New Employee

Among the business taken care of at Monday night's Village Board meeting was the hiring of an employee to fill the vacancy that was left on the village crew after the retirement of Gregor "Crickets" Rohlinger recently.

The Board voted unanimously to hire Joel Doepke, 33, who currently resides in Cedarburg, contingent upon the passing of his physical examination. Doepke will start at $8.42 per hour.

Seven out of the 38

applicants were called in for a personal interview, with Doepke receiving the Board's recommendation.

Blacksmith Forges Old World Traditions

Blacksmith Dan Nauman operates Bighorn Forge in Kewaskum.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Blacksmith Daniel Nauman of Kewaskum was recently talking about the symbolism of the dragon, which happens to be a reoccurring theme in some of his hand-made pieces. "When you think about it, the dragons that appear in stories and mythology are always a barrier between the main character and whatever they are after. In my case, it was the obstacle (learning how to make it) I had to overcome to become a real blacksmith."

Nauman not only got over his struggle, (or battle, as he calls it) with ironwork, but has become a sought after artist whose work appears in galleries and museums, as well as businesses and private homes.

Leaving his job as a salesman and becoming a skilled blacksmith was not a choice that was easily made. It was back in 1979 that the seed was first planted when Nauman watched a working blacksmith in Cedarburg and decided he wanted to try his hand at this type of metal crafting. At that time, the blacksmith, Leon Piwoni, offered classes in his shop, and Nauman spent several years learning and working there, at one point managing the shop for awhile. "I traded my time for the experience, and for me that was worth all the knowledge I received."

For sixteen years, Dan continued to practice his skills, always picking up where he left off after a regular full-time job, which often left him unfulfilled, like there was a piece missing in his life. "I always wanted to have a business of my own. At one point in my life I was a taxidermist, but I needed to know I was good enough to make a living as a blacksmith, and I didn't know how to do that."

That search took him across the country to train with some famous "master smiths," which number very few these days. The most notable perhaps, was Francis Whitaker of Carbondale, Colorado, who's done work for Gerald Ford and John Denver. Nauman has trained with him on four different occasions, and has come away with feelings of great accomplishment, and the honor of receiving Whitaker's praise.

Nauman also received a grant from the Francis Whitaker Blacksmithing Educational Foundation to photograph the work of another famous blacksmith, Cyril Collnik of Milwaukee, whose work is evident throughout the big city. Collnik arrived here from Austria in the late 1800's to demonstrate his abilities at the World's Fair, and is looked upon today as one of the country's greatest blacksmiths.

Dan hired a professional photographer and together they recorded Collnik's work. In 1982, he was asked to do a demonstration at the Pabst Mansion in Milwaukee in conjunction with a show on Collnik's work, and Nauman also has some of his work on display at the Villa Terrace Decorative Arts Museum in Milwaukee, along with the work of the masters.

One of the latest learning experiences took him to Boise, Idaho on scholarships to practice the art of Repousse', meaning, "hammering from behind." This form of metalwork is more delicate in nature, and can be used with iron, as well as tin, silver or gold.

Bighorn Forge became an official business in 1991, but it took until 1993 for Nauman to go at it full time. "Every job I had I always felt something was missing, but now I am more fulfilled than I've ever been in my life," says Dan, expressing his enthusiasm for his trade, "and I tell everyone about it because I want them to feel the same way I do."

He employs four part-time people, and trains them right on the job, one of which is a woman working to become a blacksmith, which is unusual for the field.

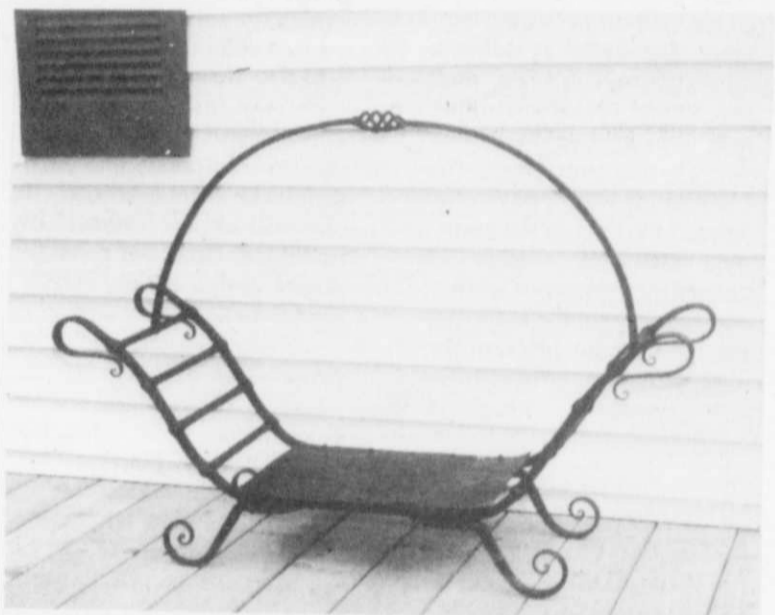

Each piece done at Bighorn Forge is totally hand forged. "I don't even own an arc-welder," Nauman adds, who feels that to be a true blacksmith means that 100% of his work could've been made prior to the advent of the Industrial Revolution. It's very different from being a fabricator, who uses all modern machinery and 20th century methods. Nauman's iron work must see a fire and also be forced. Twice a year, he demonstrates at the Old Wade House, which hasn't any electricity. No problem for Dan, who seems right at home with an old bellows in his hands.

"It's a very, very labor intensive product that takes years and years of training to create a final piece you're happy with," he explains. "For years, I was fighting with the iron, before I learned to give in and dance with it."

He points out that wrought iron is almost a pure iron product with silica added, and is rarely used anymore. Instead he works with mild steel, which has a small percentage of carbon added to it, to make it hard.

Throughout time, the blacksmith was always considered the king of the craftsmen since other laborers like carpenters, masons, cooks, and farmers got the tools they needed from the blacksmiths. The basic techniques for hand forging iron have remained the same throughout history, and the same methods apply though the styles may change with the times.

"You have to start with your foundation before you can really get ahead or go anywhere else with the art form," he stresses. "The mood and era people lived in were always reflected through the style of blacksmith work that was done."

Recently, Nauman's work has moved from traditional forms to a more contemporary approach. To be a true artist, he feels that a person must always strive to create something new and unique, and that's what he tries to incorporate into each design he's done before. "I can still express myself in traditional work, but contemporary design is very fulfilling for me."

Before he starts any new project, he draws it up on paper, working closely with the customer to get a feel for their tastes and lifestyle. One of his largest works was an iron railing that when finished, measured 600 feet in length and weighed over 3,000 pounds.

Originally from the Mequon/Cedarburg area, Nauman and his wife, Toni Farrell, moved to the Kewaskum area and settled on five acres with a farmhouse, workshop, and plenty of room for their horses, dogs, cats, and geese. Toni is an accounts payable manager for the Richardson Industries Corporation, located in Sheboygan Falls. She is also the Secretary/Treasurer for Bighorn Forge.

They share a love for horseback riding, and Dan has resparked his interest in the 4th Kentucky Calvary, a reenactment group. Toni has been researching the clothing of the era, and is interested in doing period fashion shows for special events.

Bighorn Forge offers both custom and production work, with some of their products available through catalogs. Various stores also offer his ironwork, such as the Fireplace Ltd. in Milwaukee, the Design Forum in Butler, and Down to Earth in Cedarburg.

His design services include fireplaces, door hardware, kitchen utensils, gates, railings, window grilles, decorative lighting and more, with a wide range of expertise including baroque, Victorian, Early American, and contemporary.

"Wrought iron is a most human material... it must be formed with genuine interest," Dan adds. "Quality hand forged iron has virtues that no machine can produce: the passion and character of the person shaping the material."

Igloo Alert at KES

The children enjoy working in the Igloo, three at a time.

Mrs. Kasten's Kindergarten class is pictured around the Igloo. They almost all fit inside!

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The kindergarten classes at Kewaskum Elementary School have recently been studying the lives and traditions of the Inuit (Eskimo) people, and as an added bonus, each classroom now contains an Igloo, thanks to their teachers, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Kasten, and parent volunteer Dawn Marchant.

The Igloos, made completely from plastic milk cartons donated by Kemps Dairy, are roomy enough inside to fit three students comfortably, where they are allowed to finish schoolwork, play games, or enjoy their snack.

"It took about a week and a half to construct them both," Mrs. Wright explains. "It was quite a job getting the milk cartons into our cars and over to school. We had bags of them lining the hallways."

The cartons were hot glued together, and through simple trial and error the shape took form. The likeness to a real Igloo, or at least our conception of one, is very striking, and the kindergartners enjoy experiencing a "hands on" approach to the subject they're studying.

Both Igloos will be stored away to be used for future classes, they just haven't quite figured out where yet!

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

THANK YOU KEWASKUM, for your generous contributions to the United Way of Washington County. Your donations allowed us to meet and exceed our goal of $33,700. Many children, adults and seniors in Washington County will find 1995 a warmer, healthier, friendlier, safer and more productive year, thanks to your support.

Earlier in the campaign, I listed business contributors to that point. The following companies participated in the second half of the drive: Bank Wisconsin, Quad Tool, Subway, Equitable Insurance, Kewaskum Public Schools, Kewaskum Frozen Foods, UPS Drivers, Regal Ware Corporate and Employees, Sunburst Ski Hill, Best Trailer and L.K. Heating.

A special thank you to individuals who work outside Washington County, but sent their donations to the local fund, and to retired persons who generously continue their support of the United Way.

A team of dedicated volunteers from our community deserve my thanks for their time and effort on this worthwhile cause: Jerry Gosa - school coordinator, Carol Vetter - Regal Ware coordinator, Kim Peterson - Regal Ware loaned executive, Mindy Jung, Sharon Miller and Lousie Martin - community volunteers. Thanks to all of you, we were able to "Make a Difference..Reach Out".

The D.A.R.E. program is very important to me! It has taught me how to deal with stress, stay away from drugs, deal with peer pressure and how to say "NO" to drugs. Deputy Butth is lots of fun to have as a D.A.R.E. teacher! D.A.R.E. means Drug Abuse Resistance Education.

It is important to stay drug-free because there are many things that can happen to me if I take drugs and most of them are bad. The things that can happen to me are called consequences - the results of something that I do or chose not to do.

I also had a work book and learned a lot of new words like drug, self-esteem, risk, assertiveness, intimidate, and more.

In D.A.R.E. I learned to stay away from drugs. I know what will happen to me if I smoke or drink because my relative started smoking at age 12 and he is 68 years old now. So that equals 56 years of smoking and 52 years of drinking. Now, he can barely walk. He's always falling, and has to use a wheelchair to go to the bathroom. He is always coughing up tar from his lungs and his wife has to feed, clean, bathe, dress, and undress him. Also, drinking has given him ORGANIC BRAIN SYNDROME (like AL-ZHEIMER'S DISEASE). I don't want to end up like that so I will not do drugs. If I am asked to do drugs I will think of the consequences and my relative. I can not believe and understand why people want to do drugs! Drugs are so uncool!

Instead of doing drugs I have alternatives - different choices you have to help you stay drug-free and trouble-free. Some of mine are: THE JUST SAY NO CLUB, GIRL SCOUTS, INTERMURALS, PIANO, OM, and CHOIR.

In one class we talked about youth gangs - any group of young people whose members take part in acts of violence or other activities that break the law. We learned that gang members usually wear big baggy clothes, earrings and starter jackets. Gang members also like to do violence. I also learned I should not imitate them or I could get in trouble with a gang member. I think if I want to imitate someone I should imitate a role model.

Also, to stay away from drugs, I can set goals in life and then work hard to accomplish them. Some of my goals are: TO BECOME A TEACHER, TO GO TO COLLEGE, TO GO AROUND THE WORLD, AND TO HELP SAVE ANIMALS AND THE ENVI-RONMENT.

In D.A.R.E. there are "8 Ways To Say No" they are:

- 1) Say "No Thanks"
- 2) Give a reason or excuse
- 3) Broken record (repeated no)
- 4) Walk away
- 5) Change the subject
- 6) Avoid the situation (stay away from places where drugs are dealed)
- 7) Cold shoulder (ignore the person)
- 8) Strength in numbers (hang around with non-users)

Using these will help me say "NO" to Friendly, Teasing, Indirect, and Heavy Peer Pressure. All in all D.A.R.E. has taught me a lot!!

By: Jenna Leigh Gehl

D.A.R.E.

D.A.R.E. has taught me that drugs don't count. What is important is that I want to be all that I can be. I try my best to do my best. This means that I will not take drugs or drink. I learned that I can stand up for myself and to say NO to drugs. D.A.R.E. has also taught me to say no when I don't like something that people are doing to me or someone else.

Drugs don't do anything for you except kill you. You might not notice it at first but you will sooner or later. I want to be drug free and violence free.

I can't think of any good reasons to try drugs. It doesn't make you look good or feel good. All it does is take away your reputation and your life. I want to keep my life as long as possible. My Dad smoked and he died of a heart attack when he was 42 years old.

So what I'm saying is don't throw away your life.

KHS Board of Education
January Student of the Month

Sophomore Joe Fellenz, son of Joseph and Cynthia Fellenz, has been selected as the Student of the Month for January. Joe is enrolled in robotics, algebra, English 2, Spanish 2, driver's ed, United States history and biology. In nominating Joe, one of his teachers said, "Joe just keeps improving tremendously. He decided to get at least a 3.0 average. In my class he is getting an A- after one year and the first quarter of this year with poor grades. I really want him to get some recognition for this."

Our life is a beautiful thing but it won't last if you abuse it with drugs. So which way do you want to go...the drug way or the right way?

I want to thank Deputy Butth for spending his time with us. I have learned that I can and will say no to drugs. I have also learned about violence, drug abuse, consequences for your actions, pressures, self-esteem, assertiveness, stress and stressors, media, risks, and youth gangs. I think I have learned a lot of things from D.A.R.E. Daring to say no comes from your heart, mind and family. I think all the kids in class have learned a lot from you, Deputy Butth, so thank you very much.

IN MEMORY

In memory of Lauretta Stange:

We watched through all your suffering
And often had to cry
For we knew that very soon
We'd have to say good-bye
When days are sad and lonely
And everything goes wrong
We need to hear you whisper
Cheer up and carry on.
Everytime we see your picture

You seem to smile and say
Don't cry. I'm in God's keeping
We'll all meet again some day.

Loved and remembered by her husband, children and grandchildren

HT School Adds Foreign Language to Curriculum

By Louise Martin

In a continuing effort to provide students with many opportunities, Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum has added foreign language instruction to its curriculum for grades two through eight.

Although not a mandated academic requirement by the Milwaukee Archdiocese, the staff at Holy Trinity realizes that technology has made our world smaller. Exposing the young students to different cultures, customs and languages presents a real growth opportunity for them.

In order to have foreign language available to the students, school principal Mrs. June Gauvin, suggested TLI-N Network instructional television courses.

Viewed in their respective classrooms, grades two through six are studying the full year beginning Spanish three days each week. The instruction incorporates not only the study of the language, but art, literature and music as well.

Grades seven and eight are participating in awareness programs in Latin, Spanish, French, German, Chinese and Japanese.

The program comes with complete lesson plans and the staff has found it to be very well organized. Written suggestions are welcomed and the teachers can call anytime if they have questions.

Funding for the satellite program was provided by the Holy Trinity Home and School Association. The staff of Holy Trinity School is pleased to provide this stepping stone in student communications.

These Kewaskum area Girl Scouts will be selling you all the Girl Scout cookies you could want.

This may be the start of New Year's diets for many Americans, but it's also the kickoff week for "The World's Largest Bake Sale."

Girl Scouts in the Manitou Girl Scout Council will be selling Girl Scout cookies Jan. 26-Feb. 12. Cookies will sell for $2.50 per package. And there's something new coming out of the oven this year that's good news for the health conscious.

What's new this year is "Snaps" a low-fat, iced oatmeal 'n raisin cookie. So if you're worried about your New Year's diet resolution, don't worry. There's a new cookie just for you. But if you are the more traditional type, the Girl Scouts are still offering their all-time favorites. According to Girl Scouts' research, the top selling Girl Scout cookie is... Thin Mints, which account for about one-fourth of all cookies sold. If you would like to place an order and have not been contacted, telephone Lois at 626-4555.

Selling Girl Scout cookies began in the early 1920s when the Girl Scouts and their mothers used to bake cookies at home. Today, the bake sale is the world's largest, with proceeds from the cookie sale going to help pay for travel and camp scholarships for girls from low-income families, barrier-free campsites, special program projects and events, training for Girl Scout volunteers, and to provide essential services to troops, groups and individual Girl Scouts.

All of the program resources, training materials, and communication support a troop receives comes through the council structure.

Through voluntary participation in the cookie sale, local troops earn proceeds from the cookie sale and girls in the troop decide how these proceeds will be spent. In the past girls have chosen to use the proceeds on troop overnight, field trips, badges and patches. They have donated to other worthwhile organizations, and provided food for food pantries.

Besides being the number one fund-raiser for local Girl Scouts, cookie sales also teach young girls important skills in teamwork, managing money, setting goals and leadership. Through the generosity of the public, Girl Scouting is able to continue for the more than 5,000 girls in the Manitou Girl Scout Council. The council serves girls and adult volunteers in the seven counties of Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Calumet, Ozaukee, Fond du Lac, Dodge and Washington.

Traffic Fatality Total Levels Off

According to preliminary data compiled by the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT), an estimated 705 people were killed in 615 crashes during 1994.

The preliminary 1994 totals are virtually equal to those recorded last year (when 703 people died in 616 crashes) and well below the five-year average of 745 fatalities and 651 fatal crashes. The 1994 fatality total is the third-lowest recorded since 1945, when traffic crashes took 633 lives.

Among those killed in 1994 traffic crashes were 418 vehicle drivers, 171 vehicle passengers, 57 motorcyclists, 9 bicyclists and 50 pedestrians.

"The last few decades have brought remarkable reductions in traffic fatality and injury rates. Our engineers are building roads with more safety features than ever, while public education and enforcement of tough laws have helped reduce unsafe behaviors such as driving while impaired by alcohol or drugs, speeding and not buckling up," said WisDOT Secretary Charles H. Thompson.

Thompson said 1995 promises to usher in a new era of safety improvements with the development of Wisconsin's "Safety Management System." Under federal law, the state must have a Safety Management System that improves the coordination of traffic safety initiatives among government entities, with volunteer groups and with the private sector.

Once underway, the Safety Management System will set in place more formal mechanisms for sharing data on traffic trends, identifying priority traffic safety problems and targeting the most effective remedies, finding and using emerging technologies with safety applications, and more. "We already have great cooperation on traffic safety in this state, but this System will move us to the next level," Secretary Thompson said.

Thompson noted that each year, traffic safety improvements are harder won, because it involves reaching the people most resistant to safety messages and least concerned about tough laws. "We need to find new ways of addressing problems where traditional solutions have reached a plateau in their effect. In the years to come, we're going to have to be much more strategic in identifying specific problems and targeting the most efficient and effective solutions. That's what the Safety Management System is all about," he emphasized.

WisDOT is convening a "Coalition of Safety Partners" including representatives of law enforcement, local government, safety advocacy groups, the judiciary, and the private sector to help create the Safety Management System, which must be in place by October of this year and fully operational by October 1996.

HT Girls 'B' Team Winning Streak Remains Intact

Continuing their undefeated season, the Holy Trinity Wildcat girls "B" team leapt past St. Matthews of Campbellport for a 32 to 19 final. This January 20th game was the sixth consecutive victory for the Wildcats.

For the third game in a row, sixth grader Sara Williams scored ten points. Fifth grader Jenny Kopecky had six successful steals and five points. Sinking for eight points, was her classmate, Roberta Rinzel.

Other point contributors included Becky Bohn with three, Jackie Broecker, Dani Nass and Emily Rinzel with two. Colleen Gosa had an impressive six rebounds.

The fans can witness if game number seven is indeed a lucky number for the Wildcats on Friday, January 27, at 5:30 p.m. in the Kewaskum Middle School gymnasium. The girls will be testing their skills against St. Marys of Eden, who during the season's first half, proved to be a tough match.

Student Council Welcomes Area Senior Citizens

On Sunday, January 29, the Kewaskum High School Student Council will be hosting their annual dinner and bingo for all area Senior Citizens.

HT Boys 'B' Team Loses to St. Marys

Friday the 13th proved to be an unlucky day for the Holy Trinity Boys' 'B' team. After having the game postponed for one week, Holy Trinity took on their opponent, St. Marys of Mayville in Rose Hall.

Mayville took the lead early in the game and kept it. Holy Trinity came to within three points, but St. Marys managed to hold off the attack. The final score was Mayville 30, Holy Trinity 25.

An early fire Wednesday morning destroyed the service garage owned and operated by Frank Kadinger in New Fane. Lost also when the building burned to the ground, were two trucks, tools and all other contents of the building. The Kewaskum fire department responded to the call with 16 men to fight the blaze in bitterly cold 16 degree below zero weather. Cause of the blaze was not determined. The building was insured.

Gerald R. Geidel, 25, R. 1, Kewaskum, and his fiancée, Patricia N. Nigh, 21, Kewaskum, narrowly escaped death or serious injury when the car in which they were riding was struck by a speeding northbound Chicago and North Western passenger train at the First Street crossing Friday morning. The collision occurred when Geidel was traveling east across the railroad tracks. As he was crossing the tracks he saw the approaching train and accelerated his car in an effort to get across the tracks. But the train struck the right rear of Geidel's car. Geidel said he did not hear the train's whistle. The engineer of the train told Police Chief Hlavaty the train was traveling about 80 miles an hour. Geidel and Nigh were removed to St. Joseph's Hospital by Kewaskum ambulance for treatment and later released.

Telegrams from the war department received this week officially listed two young men from this village as missing in action on the western front in Europe. On Monday afternoon, Mrs. Marcella Oppermann received a telegram that her husband, T/5 Arnold W. Oppermann has been reported missing in action since December 27 in Belgium. On Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dreher received a similar message informing them that their son, Pvt. Marlin Dreher, has been reported missing in action since December 20 in Luxembourg.

Norbert Dettmann, Rt. 1, Random Lake, has just been awarded a $50 war bond in recognition of his outstanding work done in soil conservation. Norbert was one of five boys in the state to receive this award, which was presented to him at a meeting of the Washington County 4-H leaders in West Bend recently. Norbert, son of Harvey Dettmann, has been a 4-H member for the past six years and has been a junior leader of the Boltonville 4-H Club the past year. He is a graduate of West Bend High School. He was awarded a $25 war bond and a trip to the national club congress in Chicago for his work in dairy production last year. He was chosen as one of Washington County's outstanding junior leaders this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Nic Uelmen of Route 1, Kewaskum, received a letter last week informing them that their son, Pfc. Uelmen, was wounded in action in Germany on November 26, and had returned to the states. The Uelmens had received no previous word that their son had been wounded and believed that he was still overseas. He was a member of the 754th Field Artillery Battalion. Pfc. Uelmen is the twelfth man from Kewaskum and routes reported wounded or killed in action in November and December besides two that have been reported missing. According to the letter he was confined to an overseas hospital for about three weeks and then was sent back to the states. Pfc. Uelmen served overseas only three months before he was wounded. In the service since July 24, 1941, a period of three and a half years, he was sent overseas in August of 1944. He saw action in France, Belgium and Germany.

Plans have been drawn for the new proposed Kewaskum Aluminum factory at a cost of $50,000.00. The new structure will be 183 feet long, 50 feet wide and two stories high. John Stanage, designer and contractor of Milwaukee will do the construction work. It is expected that the factory will be in full operation by June 1st, 1920. When the new structure is completed, it will be one of the most modernly equipped factories in the state.

Timblin Leads Wildcats to Victory Over Campbellsport

Holy Trinity Wildcat A-team Boys hosted the St. Matthews Lions of Campbellsport in basketball action on Fri., Jan. 20th at the Kewaskum Middle School.

In a game that started slow for the Wildcats, the only Holy Trinity score in the first quarter came when Jason Strobel was fouled and capitalized sinking both shots. The first quarter ended with the Lions leading 8-2 over the Wildcats.

The Holy Trinity Defense came alive during the second quarter getting the Wildcats fired up and back into the game. A nice shot by center Shaun Timblin, plus a rebound shot, tied the score ten all with less than three minutes remaining in the half. A good defensive effort by Holy Trinity prevented the Lions from scoring. The score remained tied at halftime.

The Wildcats began the third quarter with full court press. The Lions scored just into the quarter taking the lead. The Wildcats didn't give up. They worked the ball passing and dribbling until team member Jason Strobel went for the layup and scored. As the Lions were in-bounding the ball under the Wildcats' basket, Strobel was there for the steal and scored again.

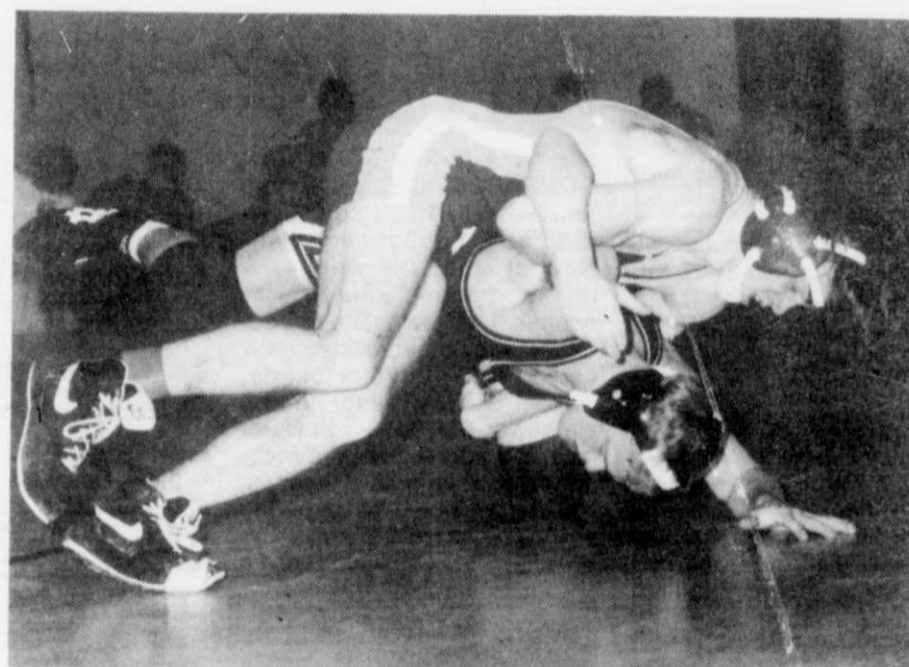

Holy Trinity played a good man to man during the quarter adding ten points to their score and held the Lions to six. At the end of the quarter Holy Trinity continued to hold the lead 20-16.

The Lions attempted to slow the game in the fourth quarter. The Wildcats continued to hustle on defense and offense. Playing became more intense as the Wildcats increased their lead and the Lions tried to even the score. With just over two minutes remaining, Holy Trinity led 28-24 as the Lions began to creep up. The Lions ran into foul trouble trying to get the ball. Timblin added another two points at the charity line with just one minute remaining. The crowd rallied their players as the teams went up and down the court in a game that could go either way. With just five seconds left, Timblin went coast to coast and scored giving the Wildcats their fourth conference win 32-28.

Shaun Timblin led the team with 14 points and 11 rebounds. Jason Strobel added ten points, followed by Jarrod Gruber with six and Eric Wenniger with two. Jason Butschlick had three steals and Luke Martin had two assists.

The Wildcats will be at home again Fri., Jan. 27th when they host St. Mary's of Eden at Kewaskum Middle School. Games will begin at 5:30 p.m.

In the third round of the Waupun Tournament, Tim Gundrum of Kewaskum, pins Don Saylor of Markesan in 2:30.

Cougars Defeat Indians, 50-35

Campbellsport's ball handler Dave Bothe, #20, tries to get closer to the basket, as Kewaskum's Kevin Klahn, #14, proceeds to stop the move, during the Indians' 50-35 loss to the Cougars on January 17.

Joe Rettler, #44, Kewaskum and Aaron Magness, #22, Campbellsport, go head to head battling for the rebound.

Wildcats Split Weekend Games

In their first action since the Christmas break, the Holy Trinity Wildcats boys basketball A-team played back-to-back conference games on January 14 and 15.

The Wildcats enjoyed a victory at home against St. Marys of Mayville, 33-20, on Friday night.

Saturday the Wildcats traveled to Lomira to challenge the undefeated Consolidated Catholic Schools of Lomira and Theresa (CCLT) Raiders. The Raiders improved their conference standing to 5-0 as they defeated the Wildcats 42-33.

Friday, Mayville struggled against the aggressive Wildcat defense. Holy Trinity played well drawing few infractions and took advantage of Mayville turnovers.

Shaun Timblin led the Wildcats with 13 points, 12 rebounds and four steals. Eric Wenninger added ten points and had nine rebounds. Jason Strobel contributed six points and four steals. Jarrod Gruber added another four points, five rebounds and also had four steals.

Being the first team to defeat the CCLT Raiders this year just was not to be for the Wildcats on Saturday. The Wildcats held a slight lead over the Raiders at halftime 19-15, using good passing techniques, but a patient Raider team would take advantage of Wildcat turnovers in the second half.

Two minutes into the fourth quarter, the Raiders took the lead. The coaches called three timeouts trying to refocus the team, but as hard as the team tried, the Wildcats just couldn't turn play around even with Jason Strobel's successful three point bucket with 1:12 remaining.

Eric Wenninger led the team with 13 points, followed by Jason Strobel with nine, Shaun Timblin added eight and Luke Martin contributed three. Shaun Timblin had the team-high 15 rebounds, followed by Jarrod Gruber and Wenninger with six each. Jason Butschlick added three assists and Strobel had three steals.

The Wildcats will have a chance to play the Raiders on their home court, with perhaps a different outcome, later this season.

Freshmen Girls on Winning Streak

By Tom Menger

Although the varsity and JV girls basketball teams have been struggling lately, Kewaskum's freshmen girls have won four in a row, and are piecing together a good season.

Against a bigger, more physical Kiel team, the frosh were able to jump ahead early and stay on top for the win, 34-27. Kewaskum was able to dominate and out-score Kiel in every quarter until the fourth, when the Raiders mounted a small comeback to make it a close game.

Ozaukee, Kewaskum's next opponent, was able to contain the Indians for the first half of their game last week, but Kewaskum bounced back with a strong third quarter and coasted to a 43-34 victory. The 15-4 third quarter run for the Indians was highlighted by Carrie Wiesner's 11 points.

Next up for the surging girl's team was conference rival Sheboygan Falls. What once looked like a tough game on Kewaskum's schedule turned out to be an easy victory as the Lady Indians shot down the Falcons by a score of 52-22. Erin Krueger led the team with 14 points, and all of the girls got extensive playing time.

Perhaps the toughest test for the Indians came against the undefeated Plymouth Panthers. After falling behind by one after the first quarter, Kewaskum was able to control the rest of the game en route to a 42-36 victory. Carrie Wiesner and Megan Ramthun led the Indians with 11 and 10 points, respectively, as Kewaskum improved their record to 8-3 (4-2 conference).

JV Girls Scoring Woes Continue

By Tom Menger

The scoring woes continued for the Kewaskum girls' JV basketball team last week, as they fell to the Plymouth Panthers, 40-19.

Kewaskum started off well against the Panthers, and they were able to keep the game close until the half. Plymouth came out of the locker room and used a stingy defense to force turnovers that led to easy baskets and a big lead.

"We lost our mental toughness," Coach Keith Amundson said after the loss, seeming discouraged with his team's recent slide.

Jackie Hass and Becky Heisdorf were Kewaskum's top scorers, with six points apiece.

KHS Freshmen Defeat Cougars

By Tom Menger

Before beginning their second round of conference action, the Kewaskum freshmen boys basketball team had to dispose of Campbellsport.

Both teams started off well, but Kewaskum started to pull away in the second half, leading by as many as ten. Campbellsport was able to make a small comeback, but it wasn't enough, and Kewaskum held on to win, 46-43.

"We played just well enough to win," Coach Shaw said of the effort, noting that his teams' attitude has been starting to pick up as of late.

Ryan Martin led Kewaskum with 18 points.

HT Boys 'B' Team Loses Cliff Hanger

It was a game that "should have been but just wasn't meant to be."

The Holy Trinity Boy's B team lost a heart breaker to Campbellsport by a score of 25 to 24 on Friday at the Kewaskum Middle School. H. T. started the game scoring first and held onto the lead late into the fourth quarter. It was in the fourth that the H.T. offense shut down and Campbellsport on the other hand kept on whittling at the H.T. lead.

With little over a minute to play, the lead exchanged hands.

Campbellsport tried to maintain possession of the ball, but H.T. made a last second attempt with the ball just missing the target. Those players scoring for H.T. were: Mitch Strobel, eight; Josh Repovsch, six; Jacob Stoffel, four; Mark Schrauth, Nick Thorn, Paul Mertz all with two each.
