Simulated Disaster Held

By Lana Harbeck Kuebl

Area rescue workers and emergency personnel quickly learned to adapt their skills during a simulated disaster held last Wednesday evening at Sunburst Ski Area, two miles south of Kewaskum.

The timely simulation had been in the planning process and scheduled for almost four months prior to it actually occurring. The recent bombing disaster of Oklahoma City seemed to strike home the relevancy and urgency necessitating the practice.

The drill was under the direction of Washington County Emergency Management Director Jim Pamperin and was also held in conjunction with West Bend's St. Joseph's Hospital, which is required to practice mass casualty skills twice a year for their certification. Locally, officers of the Kewaskum Fire and Rescue Squads, were the coordinators.

Rain hampered simulators throughout the drill, but perhaps was a blessing in disguise, considering you cannot predict the weather during a disaster.

The simulation depicted an accident at Sunburst and the first on the scene to respond were the members of the Sunburst Ski Patrol. Rescue units from Kewaskum were paged and dispatched, as were the units of Vital Care Ambulance Service.

Triage officers assessed the wounded on the scene and injuries were prioritized. In all there were approximately 42 "victims" with eight being pronounced dead on the scene and 34 being transported to St. Josephs for treatment of their "injuries."

Assisting on the scene and transporting victims were also emergency units from Campbellsport and Allenton. Members of the 137th Airborne were dispatched from the West Bend Airport to assist in transporting the injured to the hospital, but the low ceiling and inclement weather prevented the use of their helicopters, but they supported with manpower on the scene.

Evaluators were in attendance and shared their findings with participants after the drill. According to one of the evaluators, Police Chief Richard Knoebel of Kewasd. kum, "At first it was kind of i- mass confusion and then when things settled down the workers got to their jobs and things started to fall into place. And this is what a simulation is supposed to do. It shows where your response policy is strong and where improvements need to be made. All in all it was a good drill and I think everyone learned from it."

Tim Miller, Captain of the Kewaskum Rescue Squad, added, "This simulation was an excellent learning vehicle for all parties involved. There were some holes that needed correcting, and these will be correlated into future training."

Joint future drills involving area medical providers are planned for the future to hone rescue skills in the event any type of disaster should occur.

Fourth in a Series of Centennial Recollections Bilgo Remembers Kewaskum's Past

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Augie Bilgo Jr. collects bits and pieces of Kewaskum's past, both tangible items as well as knowledge acquired from those that lived before him. He also has an insatiable quest for recording and copying old photographs, and knows everyone in town who possesses such treasures from the past.

He is the third August Bilgo to call this area his home, with his grandparents starting out in New Fane and moving to Kewaskum when Augie's father was still a young boy. His great-grandparents on his mother's side (Guth) came here from Germany and started the family homestead, which encompassed the entire north end of town, approximately 120 acres. It was the only farm located right in the village, and as the town grew up around it, the cows had to be led home down the center of Bilgo Lane. It became the Bilgo farm when grandfather August married Barbara Guth, and eventually took over the job of running the family business.

Augie's father built the red brick house he lives in today, in 1923. Before that the lot had been the location for log piles that were rolled down the hill to the lumber yard next to the Milwaukee River. At that time a big dam was located there, and the area along River Road was flooded like a lake.

When the wooden dam went out, it was replaced with a stone structure, and when that disintegrated over the years, the WPA came in sometime in the 1930's and moved the dam to it's present location in River Hill Park. The original Guth home is located on Main Street across from LK Heating, and was constructed using bricks made at the old Kewaskum Brickyard, where Union Maid Cheese now stands.

Serving as a rural mail carrier for 37 years, Augie's Dad first delivered using a horse and wagon, and later, the old Hudson. He followed in the footsteps of Fancher Colvin, who delivered mail for Kewaskum in the early 1900's, using two horses and a buggy, and the two of them worked together for quite a few years.

In the early years, four or five carriers were used to handle postal needs for the village. Augie has an old wooden mail carrier's seat in his collection; it's box-like and was built to set atop a wagon, with a seat for the mailman and a compartment underneath with a door to store the mail in.

Sometimes in winter Augie accompanied his father on the mail route to help shovel the way for the old Hudson to get through. "We'd be coming down the road and I'd see folks peering out from behind their curtains," Augie recalls. "When Dad and I went through we sort of plowed the way, and people knew they could get into town then.

They used to say you could set your watch to Dad's mail schedule. "When the Sears and Roebucks catalog came out, he'd make a special trip to deliver them all. Winter meant the tire chains were put on in November and kept on all the way through March. The mail route went as far as Beechwood. Boltonville and New Fane. When horses were still used, they cut across country through the fields, not needing to stay on the roads.

His father also fashioned his own mail delivery vehicle for winter during those early years, a type of model-A car body mounted onto a bobsled. It kept him warm enough to make his deliveries on snowy days. Augie held onto that contraption for years, finally selling it one day for $20.

Growing up on the farm meant lots of chores for Augie and his brother Roger, rising at 5 a.m. to get their work done before school. Summers off meant pitching in wherever the need arose. The grain fields had to be hoed free of thistles, and even as young boys they learned to drive a team of horses. They also raised Belgian work horses, and usually kept six to eight of them for farming, although they sometimes sold the younger ones to other farmers.

The youngsters often started their farm training by feeding the calves, and Augie remembers he and his Dad helping the cows deliver their babies. "In those days, you had to be half farmer, half veterinarian," he states.

Thrashing time was a special time of year for the town, almost as exciting as the county fair. All the kids in town would gather to watch, along with many of the neighbors. A crew of at least 25 men would work together to get the job done, and at noon everyone would pile into the house for a feast of roast chicken and beef, and lots and lots of pies.

Wagon loads of hay were pulled up to the barn, with three slings to a wagon. The slings were connected to pulleys, and after they were loaded with hay, the horses would pull them up to the peak of the barn, and it would fall into the hay mow. Fall was also silo filling time, and all the neighbors would once again help each other out, bundling up the corn and loading it onto a silo filler, so it could be pulled up into the three silos, 30, 40 and 50 feet high.

The Bilgo farm kept a herd of about 20-25 dairy cows, sometimes rising as high as 60 when the calves were born. The milk was sold to the Kewaskum Dairy, where they turned it into cream or butter. When farmers brought their milk into town, they'd stop at one of the eleven taverns in town for a nickel beer, along with the free lunch that was laid out on the bar.

Monthly Fair Day was held on Tuesday, and all the farmers would bring their wares into town to be sold, along with pigs, chickens and horses. A lot of trading and bartering went on in those days. A stockyard was located behind the old firehouse and the cattle would be brought in for sale, and loaded onto the train, where they were shipped off to Milwaukee and Chicago. "I remember my Dad telling me in the days before the depression, the cows would sell for $12 apiece," Augie points out in recalling the different prices back then. "When I was a kid, me and my brother and a cousin would hitch up the horses to a wagon loaded with corn, and we'd drive around town, selling it for a dime a dozen, or three dozen ears for a quarter."

The kids hung out in neighborhood gangs, and the farming crews went from neighbor to neighbor, helping each other out. "I think we really got to know each other in those days because of this," Augie reflects. "We all had to help each other out, and this made us depend on one another." Everyone got together to celebrate the milestones of family life -birthdays, anniversaries, weddings, these were oftentimes events that the entire town would acknowledge together. Much time was spent just discussing the affairs of the world, which existed in part, to be debated amongst themselves as a favorite pastime. Differences of opinion was a fine sport back then, and seems less tolerated in the present days of political correctness.

Friday night was shopping night, and all the stores stayed open late, since they closed Saturday afternoons and didn't reopen until Monday morning. The Eberle bowling alley was always busy with two lanes, and the players used two finger balls back then. In 1922, they began to install water and sewer in this village, and this task took at least ten years to complete.

Traveling of any kind was a big deal when Augie's Dad was young, and if a trip was taken to Fond du Lac or Milwaukee, it lasted several days. Most often it was done by people who had something to transport. Ashes from Kewaskum were taken down to Milwaukee to be made into lye.

"Early on in life, we learned we had to answer to our parents," relates Augie, who says he stayed out of trouble as a youth, choosing to involve himself in sports. "The razor strap was police, judge and jury for most kids."

He enjoyed playing basketball, baseball, and six man football. In high school he was quarterback on the team. Ernie (Doc) Mitchell coached all three sports. "We had great teams because young talent stayed in the community," and Kewaskum had the honor of winning the Land O' Lakes championship for seven out of nine years.

Memories

Shown above is the old Bank of Kewaskum in the early 1900's. The building was torn down a few years after Valley Bank (now Bank Wisconsin) was erected. Prior to the razing, assorted businesses, including an office supply store operated by Richard LaFleur, were located there. To the right of the photo (where the former Sentry Foods was located) is the Lay Lumber building, which was also torn down. The empty lot shown to the left of the Bank later became The Kewaskum Insurance Building, now owned by the Village of Kewaskum. The building was formerly owned by West Bend Savings Bank and currently the only occupant is Attorney Roger McKenna. The Kewaskum Malt House can be seen in the background of the photo. pressing need for land. Augie married in 1953, having already taken over the farm several years before, but both he and his Dad agreed it was time to end an era. Both the high school and Regal Ware needed more space, and the Bilgos sold off 18 acres to each of them in 1957. The rest of the area was sold off to build lots, with August Bartelt purchasing the first lot, measuring 60 x 120 feet, for the sum of $300.

Augie worked in construction for several years around the area and in Milwaukee, but he is most well known for his service to the community. He served as the village's Director of Public Works for sixteen years, and also as Chief of the Kewaskum Fire Department for twelve years. His wife, Verla, has been employed with Sentry Foods for the last thirty years.

The couple have raised four successful children: Doug, a game warden for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources; Jim, an Environmental Specialist at Kohler Company; Debbie Doherty, who is head teller at Bank Wisconsin; and Sherry Thelen, a stylist at Creative Cut in West Bend. Their family also includes eleven grandchildren, the oldest will be graduating from UW-LaCrosse in two weeks. Augie still continues to

St. Francis Capital Corporation Announces 2nd Quarter Earnings

MILWAUKEE -- St. Francis Capital Corporation (NAS-DAQ:STFR) has reported increased earnings for the three and six months ended March 31, 1995.

Net income for the three months ended March 31. 1995 was $2.98 million compared with $1.29 million for the three months ended March 31, 1994. Earnings per share increased to $0.49 for the three-month period compared with $0.18 in the prior year. Net income for the six months ended March 31, 1995 was $5.26 million compared with $3.64 million for the six months ended March 31, 1994. Earnings per share increased to $0.87 for the sixmonth period compared with $0.51 in the prior year.

"We are pleased with the results so far during this fiscal year," stated John C. Schlosser, President and Chief Executive Officer. "The Company is continuing to improve earnings by building upon the value of the capital raised in our June, 1993 conversion."

The increase in earnings of $1.69 million and $1.62 million for the three and six months ended March 31, 1995, respectively, were primarily due to increases in other operating income and net interest income, partially offset by increases in operating expenses and income tax expense.

Net interest income was higher primarily due to increases in earning assets which averaged $1.13 billion and $1.09 billion for the three and six months ended March 31, 1995 compared to $825 million for both the three and six months ended March 31, 1994. The more recent results include the effects of the Company's acquisition of Bank Wisconsin from November 21, 1994 through March 31, 1995 which increased average earning assets approximately $77 million and $60 million for the three and six months ended March 31, 1995 respectively.

Other operating income was higher in both the more recent three-and six-month periods due to gains on mortgage-backed securities and increased income from the operation of the Company's affordable housing subsidiary. Gains during the three and six months ended March 31, 1995 were $265,000 and $187,000 compared with losses of $928,000 and $145,000 during the three and six months ended March 31, 1994. Losses during the prior year were the result of the effect of increased interest rates on the Company's mortgage loan pipeline and includes market value losses from relateds securities. Year to year increases in income of the afforable housing subsidiary were $317,000 and $519,000 for the three- and six-month periods, respectively.

Other operating expenses were higher in both the three and six month periods ending March 31, 1995 due to the inclusion of Bank Wisconsin operations and the affordable housing subsidiary. The Bank Wisconsin, acquisition, effective as of November 21, 1994, added $742,000 and $1.05 million of operating expenses to the results for the three- and sixmonth periods, respectively, while the expenses related to the affordable housing subsidiary increased $179,000 and $451,000 for the threeand six-month periods, respectively.

Total assets at March 31, 1995 were $1.19 billion, an increase of $162 million or 16% from the $1.03 billion at September 30, 1994. Of this growth in assets, approximately $85 million was the result of the acquisition of Bank Wisconsin. Loans receivable increased by $84.0 million, including $45.7 million in the Bank Wisconsin acquisition.

The remainder of the increase was generally in single-family mortgage and consumer loans. Mortgagebacked and related securities (including available for sale and held to maturity) increased $39.4 million. The increase was primarily due to the continuation of the Company's leverage strategy whereby Federal Home Loan Bank advances are utilized to add earning assets. Advances and other borrowings increased $35.5 million. Deposits increased $127.6 milion during the period of which $71.8 million was included in the Bank Wisconsin acquisition. An additional $49.1 million of the increase for the six month period was due to the Company's use of brokered deposits.

Non-performing assets totaled $6.2 million or 0.52% of total assets at March 31, 1995 compared with $7.7 million or 0.75% of total assets at September 30, 1994. The decrease in non-periorining assets was due to the settlement of a loan on a multifamily property in Houston, Texas. The Company charged-off $210,000 on the settlement of that loan. The allowance for loan losses increased to $4.0 million at March 31, 1995 compared with $3.4 million at September 30, 1994. Offsetting the previously mentioned charge-off was the Bank Wisconsin acquisition which resulted in the addition of $694,000 to the Company's allowance for loan losses. Including the multifamily loan, net charge-offs for the six months ended March 31, 1995 were

$232,000. "With the settlement of this long standing Texas loan problem, we have improved our credit profile even further," commented Schlosser. "We believe that the current level of provision is adequate for our current credit risk."

The Company's book value per share was $20.83 at March 31, 1995 compared with $18.40 at September 30, 1994. The Company adopted a change in accounting for ESOP plans which affects the calculation of book value per share by excluding from the calculation ESOP shares not yet released to employees. If the change had been in effect as of September 30, 1994, book value per share at that time would have been $19.67. Shares are included in the per share calculations as shares are released from the plan.

St. Francis Capital Corporation, with $1.19 billion in assets, is the holding company for St. Francis Bank, F.S.B. and Bank Wisconsin. The Company operates 18 offices in Kenosha, Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Washington and Waukesha counties.

Butcher said his last formal performance as director of the Wind Ensemble and Symphonic Band will include new arrangements by contemporary musicians.

KES Holds Annual Folk Fair

The gym was transformed into a World Fair, with booths representing each countries products, traditions, and history.

The Irish Jig was performed at the KMS Folk Fair April 28th.

Various ethnic dances displayed colorful costumes and wellrehearsed routines.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Last Friday, Kewaskum Middle School once again hosted it's traditional Folk Fair, and sixth graders performed both morning and afternoon shows, delighting the audience with an array of ethnic tributes.

Six classes totaling 140 students, worked together to select countries to represent, researching information through the library and writing to the countries to obtain enough material to accurately portray each nation. They took their viewers on a trip around the world, using colorful traditional outfits, original music, and well rehearsed skits, songs, dances, and games.

The students from the classes of Miss Bruss, Miss Countney, Mrs. Gutjahr, Mrs. Pecher, Mrs. Stangl, and Mr. Uhlman had been preparing for this day since Christmas. They gym was divided into sections for each continent, and booths displaying each individual country were decorated with flags, maps, samples of ethnic foods, products, tourist attractions, musical instruments and art objects, as well as historical background. Family, friends, and members of the community enjoyed browsing through the various exhibits, and the room resembled a festive "bazaar" attended by people from all over the world.

Performances included a Mexican Hat Dance, the Irish Jig, Gustaf's Skoal Dance (Swedish), Kye Kye Kule Dance (Africa), the Shoemaker Dance (Denmark), Greek Zorba Dance, Greetings and Hansel and Gretel Dances (Germany). Band selections were also included in the program, and ethnic songs, such as Shalom Chaverim and Oh Caterina were sung by different groups of students. Matt Schroeder played a piano solo entitled "Fur Elise."

School Board Elects New Officers

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The school board's election of new officer's at last Monday night's meeting reflected an attitude of change, following the recent district election on April 2nd.

New officers for the Kewaskum School Board, acting as representatives for the community are as follows: President Neal Weare replaced Ruth Schmitt in a 4-3 vote; Mary Andera was elected as clerk over Karen Sparks 4-3; Sparks was appointed as treasurer 6-1; opposing Ron Beimborn; and John Schulte took over as vice president, facing Ron Beimborn, 4-3. Schulte was also appointed WSP delegate, with Ruth Schmitt as the alternate.

Finance, The Transportation, Buildings and Grounds Committee had recommended the board accept a district insurance package proposal from Wausau Insurance Co. at a cost of $70,340. Mr. Beimborn said he felt the overall package offered the best coverage for their money. Mr. Knoeck from Wausau Insurance appeared before the board to discuss the policy and its breakdown of costs.

Board member Goeden brought up the fact that some of the enhancements, or added benefits listed in the proposal weren't provided in the original specs. "So in other words we aren't comparing apples to apples here," she expressed. "If we let you point out a few things, then we have to let the other companies also have a turn."

The other considered bidder, Kettle Moraine Insurance, was represented by Mitch Ogi. The differences concerning the coverage between the two companies arose under two separate categories: boilers (Wausau's cost of $1,838 compared to Kettle Moraine at $883) and errors and omissions (Wausau at $4,200 and Kettle Moraine $3,465). The two companies were both questioned by the board, with the FTB & G committee standing behind their original recommendation. Ogi pointed out that commercial insurance coverage, although they don't like to admit it, is very fluid, with quotes being flexible. "We are a local agency, out of Kewaskum, and we are aware of the needs of the district," he stated. "The fact is that we have the lowest bid, and I'm quite frustrated and upset that we weren't given the nod. Not only are we the least expensive bid, but we also have very good coverage. I have to face you people on a day today basis and if something isn't right, I won't be somewhere else."

After lengthy discussion, the vote to accept Wausau Insurance coverage failed 3-4, with Andera, Goeden, Weare and Schulte voting no. The Kettle Moraine Insurance policy won out Monday night by a 4-2-1 vote, with Beimborn and Sparks casting no votes, and Ruth Schmitt abstaining.

Another contract up for renewal was Johnson Bus Company's who requested an extension of the current contract by two additional years, with a 3% increase each year, citing current state mandates as the reason for the price increase. The 94/95 school year transportation services cost totaled $756,765, with anticipated charges of $826,958 by the 97/98 year. Dr. Heather explained that the contract was not put out for bids because the last few years they did so, no other bids were received from other companies. The approval of the bus contract passed 5-1-1, with Schulte voting no, and Weare abstaining.

Another long discussion followed regarding the presentation of alternate construction plans for the middle school. So far, the KMS contract totals are under the referendum allotment by $67,507, and the board was able to consider choices from a list of alternates. The board members finally decided to approve the addition of new windows, the replacement of toilets and bathroom renovations, two new HVAC rooms, and chemical resistant wood cabinets. The inclusion of the windows alone will amount to $63,798, but Dr. Heather reminded the board that $175,603 has been earned in interest by the referendum money so far.

At the high school level, construction is under budget by $38,866, allowing the board to add two new toilet rooms, concession stand work, and a new P.A. Console. The board approved the alternates, with Weare voting no, and new windows for the mezzanine at a cost of $14,471 passed 4-3, with Andera, Goeden, and Weare voting no.

In other business that evening, the board approved the Farmington PTO's request for sand volleyball courts, noting that the dirt should be utilized, and not left sitting there.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my husband, our Dad, son, and brother, WILLIAM BRAUN, who passed away one year ago, May 5, 1994:

A heart of gold stopped beating

Working hands were put to rest God broke our hearts to show us That He only takes the best.

We can not bring the old days back

Your hands we can not touch But we'll always have the memories

Of you, whom we loved so much.

Our family chain was broken And nothing seems the same But as God calls us one by one

That chain will link again. It broke our hearts to lose you But you did not go alone For part of us went with you That day God called you home. Only a cluster of memories Sprayed with a million tears Wishing God had shared you

Letter to The Editor

Dear Kewaskum School District Voters,

Thank you for the strong support in re-electing me to a third term. Your overwhelming support, for both Mary Andera and myself, gives us confidence as your representatives to pursue conservative (both fiscally and socially) values and ideals in education. Your support at the voting booth is great, however, participation at meetings is oftentimes even more necessary. Please keep abreast of issues and voice your concerns at meetings or via telephone to your board members. You are needed.

The response from you regarding the content of my recent letters was 100% positive with the exception of two teachers/board members. This is another indication that you are supportive and "tuned in" to the needed changes in today's education system. Again, I thank you. Sincerely,

John C. Schulte

It's probably a safe bet to say that the best 10 years of most any woman's life are between the ages of 29 and 30.

SPRING TIME IS BIKE TIME!

The Kewaskum Police Department would like to take this time to remind everyone about bicycle safety and laws pertaining to them.

Wis. §346.03(9), Rules of the Road, states: "Subject to the special provisions applicable to bicycles, every person riding a bicycle upon a roadway is granted all the rights and is subject to all the duties which this chapter grants or applies to the operator of a vehicle..." In short, this means that all laws pertaining to motor vehicles apply to bicycles, including, but not limited to: Riding on the right side of the road, abiding by all traffic signs and signals, riding single file, etc. NOTE: In the event a child needs to ride on the sidewalk due to safety reasons, they should be aware that pedestrians have the right of way and ride only in single file.

Also, Village of Kewaskum ordinances require that all bicycles operated on the streets of Kewaskum to have a current license affixed to them. The cost of these licenses, which are non-expiring, is $5.00. They can be obtained at the Municipal Building between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

A few safety tips to everyone operating a bicycle are: Keep your bike in good working order, wear bright colored clothing to make it easier for motorists to spot you, put a safety flag on your bike, ride single file, be aware of the area you are riding in and be ready to take evasive action if an obstacle appears and make sure the bike is the right size for the person riding it.

If we all follow these rules and safety tips we should have a safe bicycle season.

> Richard L. Knoebel, Chief Kewaskum Police Department

Tips Offered for Bike Safety Month

Bicycles can be a fun, convenient means of recreation, sport and transportation. With May being National Bike Safety Month, the Wisconsin Council of Safety (WCS) strongly urges all bicycle riders to take precautions when riding by wearing a helmet. According to the Wisconsin Department of Transportation, there were 11 traffic fatalities and 1,646 accidents resulting in injury that involved bicycles in 1993.

"The National Center for Injury Prevention and Control reports that bicycle helmets reduce the risk for head injury by as much as 85%, yet only about 15% of child thick

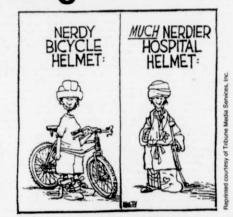

-a chin strap and fastener to keep the helmet in place and

-a lightweight helmet that fits comfortably.

There is no doubt -- biking is a popular sport in Wisconsin. So we are asking people to start, or reinforce, their bike safety habits with National Bike Safety Month and act on those habits every time they get on a bicycle," said Swartz.

The Wisconsin Council of Safety is a non-profit, nongovernmental organization dedicated to making Wisconsin a safe and healthful place to live and work. As Wisconsin's chapter of the National Safety Council, the WCS promotes safety and health programs, resource services and educational materials for community outreach. The Wisconsin Council of Safety says,

"Use your head...

wear a helmet!"

When choosing a helmet be sure that it has:

- A Snell Memorial Foundation or American National Standards Institute approval sticker
- An energy-absorbing liner (at least one-half inch thick)
- A chin strap and fastener
- A lightweight, comfortable fit

KHS Girls Split Double Header

By Tom Menger

After dropping a tough game to Plymouth earlier in the week, the Kewaskum High School girls' fastpitch softball team was looking for revenge in a double header with Sheboygan Falls last Thursday.

The Falcons got off to a quick start in the first game, scoring six runs off of Indian pitcher Stephanie Heberer in the first inning. Kewaskum chipped away at the Falcons, scoring once in the third inning and adding a pair of runs in the fourth, cutting the lead to three.

Falls added three more runs in the top of the fifth inning, stretching their lead to 9-3.

The Indians mounted a small comeback in their half of the sixth, when Debbie Neumann reached on an error, Shelly Williams walked, and Missy Luedtke singled to load the bases for Kewaskum. Neumann later scored on a double play, and Tanya Krahn slapped a twoout single to bring in Luedtke.

Stacy Gavin came up next and smashed a double, scoring Krahn, but Gavin was tagged out trying to stretch the hit into a triple.

The game was called after the Indians' half of the sixth inning, due to time restraints.

In game two, Kewaskum scored once each in the first and third innings to take a 2-0 lead. Sheboygan Falls came back, however, scoring three times in the bottom of the third, and crossed the plate once more in the fourth to take a 4-2 lead.

Kewaskum regained the lead in the top of the fifth inning when Tiffany Laubach blasted a bases-loaded triple. Krahn, Neumann and Susie Vrana all scored on Laubach's hot shot to left field, giving Kewaskum a 5-4 lead.

Vrana later scored on a sacrifice fly by Keri Ritz.

Indian hurler Michelle Thull shut out the Falcons in the last half of the inning, earning Kewaskum a 7-5 victory and improving the Indians' record to 1-3 overall.

KHS Fifth at Co-Ed Invitational

By Missy Rohrer

Last Saturday the boys and girls track teams traveled to Concordia University for a co-ed track invitational.

Rather than individual boys and girls team champions, there is only a school championship awarded. The points from the girls team and boys team are added together to determine the championship. All participants in an event score points for the team regardless of where they place.

Because of this scoring system, depth along with talent becomes a key factor to winning the meet. This hurt Kewaskum's chances because of the low numbers of participants out for boys track. Kewaskum finished fifth with a total of 535 points while Wisconsin Lutheran won the meet with 752 points.

On the girls side, coach Perry Koth was more than pleased with his girls' results. "There is some real good competition here and we held our own today," said Koth. Actually the girls more than held their own, scoring 394 points in the meet. The next highest girls point total came from the winning school Wisconsin Lutheran's 365 points. This margin would have been even greater except that the 1600m relay team for Kewaskum, which finished third, was disqualified when one of the runners cut in a couple of steps early, thus loosing 24 points. "One of our girls cut in a few steps early, it's no big deal," stated Koth.

The KHS throwers certainly let people know they were ready to compete taking first and second in both the shot put and discus. K Yogerst led the way by placing first in both events (34' 10" - shot) (104' 1" - discuss). Right behind Katie in second place was Becky Yogerst (discus - 97' 4") and Rachel Nysse (shot - 34' 7"). "We really look strong in this area this year. Coach Rizzardi is really bringing along the two sophomore throwers (Nysse and Katie Yogerst), and Becky has always been a dependable thrower for us," commented Koth. What appears to be another strength this year is the sprint relays. Greta Kuphal, Jenny Strobel, Erin Stockhausen and Jenny Jagielski run both the 400m relay (53.7) and the 800m relay (1:52.1) and took first in both events. According to Koth the handoffs were not the best" ... but we are running very well at this point." In the distance events, Marni Lynn ran well placing third in the 3200m run with a personal best time of 12:09.8, and second in the 1600m run with a time of 5:41.5. Marni also ran the anchor leg of the 3200m relay along with Carrie Wiesner, Jamie Gaffke and Missy Rohrer, in a time of 10:51 which was good for second place.

Koth felt that Lynn was picking up right where she left off last year. That should be good news for Koth because Lynn qualified for the state meet in the 800m run last year as a freshman. Koth plans on running Lynn hard in the following week to see exactly what level her conditioning is at. "She will be putting in a lot of work in the Washington County and the Pewaukee meets this week," said Koth.

About the meet overall, Koth said, "I thought we had a lot of good performances. We stayed very focused considering that prom is tonight and many of the girls had to leave early because of it."

Other athletes and their places were: Missy Rohrer -400m run (4th - 68.4), 3200m relay (2nd), 800m run (5th -2:48.3), triple jump (3rd - 29' 1"); Jamie Gaffke - 3200m relay (2nd), 1600m relay (DQ); Carrie Wiesner -3200m relay (2nd), 300m hurdles (6th - 56.6), long jump (5th - 14' 0 1/2"), 1600m relay (DQ); Greta Kuphal - 100m dash (5th -13.7); Jenny Strobel - 100m dash (6th - 13.8); Mary Yahr - 100m hurdles (5th - 17.9)m 200m dash (6th - 29.6); Joanne Thull - 100m hurdles (7th - 19.0); Suzi Gauvin -1600m run (10th - 7:40); Jessica Repovsch - 400m dash (10th - 70.9), 1600m relay (DQ); Julie Froemming - 300m hurdles (5th - 56.6); Jenny Jagielski - 200m dash (3rd - 27.5); Laura Weiss -1600m relay (DQ); Erin Stockhausen - long jump (6th - 13'3 1/5"); Kathy Deshotels - triple jump (2nd - 29' 3"); Sarah Bausch - high jump (3rd - 4'6"); and Kelly Schreffler - high jump (8th -4.4").

KHS Boys 7th at County Outdoor

By Tom Menger

While the KHS girls were busy capturing the Washington County Outdoor Track Meet title, the boys' track team had a tougher time, winning only one event and placing seventh overall.

"We just don't have enough athletes," KHS coach Jerry Gosa commented. "Matt Tonn and Andy (Matthies) are both out with injuries... we don't have any depth."

Travis Jacak netted Kewaskum's only win, easily outleaping the rest of the field to earn the high-jump crown. Jacak's jump of 6'4" was a full eight inches better than the second place finishers.

The Indians also earned three fifth place finishes, with David Gosa running the 1600 m in 4:51.6, Brian Butschlick leaping 17' 10 1/2" in the long jump, and the 400m relay team of Aaron Kurth, Andy Rix, Justin Benzing and Gosa, finishing in 48.9.

Brad Luterbach vaulted 8'6", good for sixth place.

Team totals were Germantown 143; Slinger 123; West Bend West 83; West Bend East 79; Kettle Moraine Lutheran 41; Hartford 40; and Kewaskum 17.

KHS Girls Track Team Captures County Crown

By Tom Menger

"I spent more time as a cheerleader than as a coach," Kewaskum girls' track coach Perry Koth said after the Washington County track meet held here recently. Koth certainly had much to cheer about, as his team captured first place, with 140 points, edging out West Bend East (128) and Germantown (100).

With East leading the Indians 124-123 going into the 4x400m relay, Kewaskum's Carrie Wiesner, Mary Yahr, Laura Weiss and Jamie Gaffke, raced to a time of 4:26.6, winning the relay and the meet title.

Kewaskum won all four relays, placing first in the

The field events were led by Becky Yogerst, Katie Yogerst and Rachel Nysse taking first (Katie - 34' 11") and second (Rachel - 33' 113/4") in the shot put and first (Katie - 104' 2") and second (Becky - 103' 1") in the discus. "I don't know of any team who has three girls good as these three," stated Koth. The high jump placed three people: Kelly Schreffler (first, 4' 10"); Sarah Bausch (third, 4' 10"), a personal best, and Jessica Repovsch (fourth, 4' 7"). The triple jump also placed three people, Nadalie Reindl, (second 28' 8"), Missy Rohrer (third, 28' 7 1/2"), and Kathy Deshotels (fifth, 27' 8"). In the long jump Carrie Wiesner placed second (14' 2 1/2") and Erin Stockhausen, fourth, (13'7").

The girls remain unbeaten as a team with two invitational titles already under their belts. Coach Koth however, is cautiously optimistic about his team. "The last time we started this strong was in 1990 (EW conference champions), but the season is still young and we have a lot of improving to do before we start thinking about that," said Koth., "This Friday we are at the Vanderpan in Sheboygan Falls. The results of this meet will tell us a lot about our team."

Team Results: Kewaskum 155; Thomas Moore 77; Pewaukee 71; St. Francis 32; Cedar Grove 19.

"She is a dedicated, hard working athlete who is easy to coach. I expect great things from her."

The 400m run scored two places with freshman Laura Weiss running a prsonal best time of 65.9 (second) and sophomore JamiGaffke placing fifth (69.8) running with a sprained ankle. Said Koth, "Jamie is all heart and a tough competitor. She didn't have to run tonight, but she knew we had no one to run the 3200m relay if she didn't, so she ran anyway. I can't say enough about her attitude."

The 1600m relay (Carrie Wiesner, Mary Yahr, Julie Froemming, Laura Weiss) finished first, running it's best time of the year (4:26.7).

The field events were led by Becky Yogerst, Katie Yogerst and Rachel Nysse taking first (Katie - 34' 11") and second (Rachel - 33' 113/4") in the shot put and first (Katie -104' 2") and second (Becky -103' 1") in the discus. Indian Girls Run Away With Invitational Honors

After outscoring powerful there were no teams in this meet said Coach Perry Koth after the viduals would be challenged in their events." It didn't take long for that to occur. After the 3200m relay team (Carrie Wiesner, Missy Rohrer, Jamie Kuphal, Jenny Strobel, Jenny Jagielski, Erin Stockhausen) continued to run well with a sec(Stockhausen) in the 200m dash, and a first and second in the 400m and 800m relays (Kuphal, Strobel, Stockhau-sen and Jagielski).
