Village Ponders Taking More Main Street Parking Spaces

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

A potentially dangerous intersection at Main Street and Parkview Drive in Kewaskum and the possibility of eliminating more parking on the north side of Main Street was brought to the Village Board's attention again at their August 21st meeting by Nanci Goeden.

Goeden, armed with signatures of Regal Ware employees who use the intersection frequently, stated, "Awhile ago it was brought up to take parking spots away at the intersection of Main Street and Parkview Drive due to visibility. I know people have rights to park where they want to, but with big trucks parked by the corner, visibility is still not there. We are requesting that another parking spot be taken away so that visibility can be increased for the safety of drivers from both ways."

Goeden further stated she had collided with another vehicle recently at that intersection due to the fact the other vehicle pulled out because the driver could not see around the semi parked there. She said, "I know the semi has a right to park on Main Street, but he has to either park up farther or something because a lot of people are complaining about it."

Trustee William Kulas asked where Goeden was suggesting the parking spot be taken away, to which Police Chief Richard Knoebel replied it was the northwest corner.

Chief Knoebel added, "I agree. We've discussed this intersection on so many occasions. It's just a bad intersection, obviously. There isn't a lot of control that we've got on Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue because they are state and federal highways. We can't just control truck parking, we have to control all parking. If trucks can't park there, nobody can park there."

Trustee Gary Gavin added, "The Village also bears responsibility to the business people that have businesses on that street. We've eliminated two of them (parking spaces) already on that street."

Chief Knoebel added there was a total of three parking spaces taken away, two on the one side of the street and one on the other.

Gavin reiterated, "You have three or four different businesses there, plus the post office. They have rights, too, to have parking there, but I agree with you, the semi's parking there is not good."

Board President Robert Wagner added, "I have no problem with eliminating it, but again we have been criticized quite often in town for taking parking stalls away."

Goeden added, "On Main Street when people pull out and you can't see, who's gonna get hurt, but the people. It's not the businesses that are gonna get hurt from it. It's gonna be the people if they keep pulling out."

After further discussion, the board agreed to look at the problem more in depth and place the issue on the agenda for the next meeting being held Wednesday, September 6, due to the Labor Day holiday. More news on this issue will be forthcoming (I'm sure) in next week's paper. Stay tuned.

Early Farm Days Sunday

The Kewaskum Historical Society will be celebrating "life in the old days," at their 21st Annual Early Farm Days on Sept. 10th.

The Society's 1847 log cabin museum will play host to a variety of old-time displays, situated along the banks of the Milwaukee River. Gas, steam, and miniature engines, antiques, farm equipment, old time craft demonstrations, and tours of the museum mark the day with memories of Kewaskum's recent Centennial Celebration held this past June. Early Farm Days recognizes Kewaskum's one hundred year milestone with special entertainment this year.

Come to River Hill Park on Sunday and enjoy the sounds of the Barbershop Quartet performing from 1:30 to 2:45 p.m. Afterwards, the Kettle Moraine Squares will be demonstrating their footwork, starting at 3 p.m. Free horsedrawn wagon rides will be available throughout the day - just the thing for a leisurely Sunday stroll through the park.

Members of the Historical Society will be serving their famous fall harvest stew cooked outdoors in their big, black caldron. Roast beef sandwiches, hot dogs, homemade desserts, and refreshments will also be available - as well as carryouts and fresh baked whole pies.

Commemorative collector buttons will be on sale for a $1 donation, and the money will be used to support the operation and maintenance of the Museum and Log Cabin.

Admission is free for all! The event will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., at River Hill Park, along the west side of the river. Exhibitors are always welcome.

Arbitration Proceedings Favor Re-Hiring Allmann

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Former Kewaskum Middle School teacher, George Allmann, has been assigned the administrative position of curriculum specialist for the school district, after winning his job back through arbitration proceedings between the district and the Kewaskum Education Association.

A 25-year veteran with the school system, Allmann was suspended from teaching in December, 1993, and later fired by the district in June of '94 after alleged reports from some of his students claimed he interacted inappropriately with them, citing incidents that took place between August, 1992, and December, 1993.

The felony charges of causing mental harm to a child were dropped by Circuit Judge James Schwalbach after a hearing on March 6th. The charges had been filed by the District Attorney's office, and the court case had interrupted arbitration proceedings that would determine if the district had just cause in their decision to not renew Allmann's contract.

Arbitrator Frank P. Zeidler's 40-page decision dated August 10th, ruled that there is just cause for the district to impose discipline on Allmann for his actions, but not just cause for non-renewal, because he was not subjected to progressive imposition of discipline through warning for unprofessional conduct.

Zeidler stated the discipline would consist of layoff for the 94-95 school year (without pay), no compensation for the use of sick leave in the 93-94 school year, and the first year of renewal, Allmann would not be assigned to a teaching position at the high school or middle school level.

The ruling did acknowledge the fact that Allmann engaged in unprofessional and inappropriate conduct with his students, and, in Zeidler's opinion, conduct that demeaned and denigrated students in order to assert dominance over them.

The school district accepted the recommendation of the arbitrator to reinstate Allmann and assigned him to the curriculum position, left vacant after Connie Strand resigned as curriculum coordinator to become principal of Campbellsport Elementary School.

Allmann had been a K-12 reading specialist in the district, and his new position in administration will earn him a salary of $46,000.

Kewaskum Artist Featured in Persimmon Hill Magazine

OKLAHOMA CITY -- An article on Kewaskum artist Dan Gerhartz is featured in the summer issue of Persimmon Hill magazine, the official publication of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. The article highlights an oil painting demonstration Gerhartz presented at the Hall during the Prix de West Invitational Exhibition.

Gerhartz used fellow artist Paul Calle, Stamford, Connecticut, as his model for an oil portrait. The white-bearded, ruddy complexioned Calle was colorfully dressed in a plaid shirt, with a red kerchief around his neck and a silver longhorn steer bolo resting on his chest. Atop his head was a furry cap made from a raccoon pelt.

Gerhartz deftly outlined Calle's head and shoulder and then began busily filling in the background. He moved around frequently as he painted, leaning right, left, squinting, sighing, and then pace six to eight steps back from his easel for a different perspective.

The article relates how he tediously worked on details involving his coon-skin hat and Calle's nose and eyes, before unexpectedly placing a streak of bright red across the forehead, near the hairline. "The audience was mesmerized, avidly waiting to see if Gerhartz would leave the red spot there or paint over it," the article notes. "At the end of the demonstration, the audacious red daub was still in the painting. In some mysterious way, the crowd agreed, it looked just right."

Persimmon Hill is an award-winning national quarterly magazine devoted to preserving the myths and legends of the West. It is available through a $35 membership in the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, or a $20 annual subscription.

Over $2,000 Collected for MDA

Shown above is Ed Miller of Miller's Fine Furniture Store, Kewaskum, as he draws the winning raffle ticket for the La-Z-Boy rocker/recliner donated in conjunction with the MDA fund raiser organized by the Kewaskum Fire Department and American Legion Post #384. Ed served as a member of the Kewaskum Fire Department and Rescue Squad for many years. Shown below is Adam Miller (no relation), son of Karen and Tim Miller of Kewaskum, who was the lucky winner of the draw.

A preliminary donation of $2,091 was proudly presented to the Muscular Dystrophy Association in Milwaukee on behalf of Kewaskum area residents and business community by Kewaskum Fire Department members, Larry Martin and Tim Miller, in culmination of joint fund raising efforts by the department and the American Legion Post #384. At this writing, final figures are still being tallied, but it is expected the total amount will be close to $2,500.

Funds raised will help many people afflicted with muscular dystrophy but close to home here in Kewaskum it will help the Gene Zorn family. A volunteer member of the Kewaskum Fire Department and Rescue Squad, Zorn has four family members with a confirmed diagnosis of muscular dystrophy, his wife Sandy and their children Jerry, 9, Brittany, 4, and Matthew, 3. Their oldest son, Zach, will soon undergo testing because of muscular difficulties he is experiencing.

Special thanks and recognition to the following businesses and individuals who helped make this year's fund raiser a success: Regal Ware, Inc.; Miller's Fine Furniture for the donation of a La-Z-Boy rocker/recliner in a special raffle, Bank Wisconsin employees for organizing an MDA benefit cookout; the Kewaskum Statesman and Kuehl's Suds and Spirits for conducting an MDA raffle during Labor Day weekend; Lee Kempf, of the American Legion, for his assistance and for organizing the Volley-A-Thon tournament; all who participated in the tournament, Kewaskum Fire Department members, especially fund raiser organizers Tim Miller and Larry Martin, all of the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce businesses who responded with raffle items and donations,

A Homemade Pie That's Just Peachy

(NAPS)—When I'm asked to name my favorite fruits, golden-yellow peaches picked at the peak of ripeness are always at the top of the list. Sweet, juicy peaches lend themselves to so many delicious recipes, but none are more satisfying than a homemade peach pie fresh from the oven.

My classic recipe for peach pie is a true delight because it's so simple to make and only requires a few ingredients. To thicken the pie's juices, I always rely on Minute® tapioca because it gives consistent and reliable results. During baking, the tapioca pearls swell and become transparent and as the pie cools they subtly thicken the juices. The result is a delicious homemade pie with brilliant color and fresh fruit taste.

For 16 more recipes for homemade fruit pies, send for Minute Tapioca's handy pie chart which hangs inside your cupboard. To order, send a self-addressed business-size envelope to: Hunter & Associates, 41 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10010, Att: Fresh Fruit Pie Chart. Allow 3-4 weeks for delivery (limit 2 per household). Offer expires 12/3/95.

HOMEMADE PEACH PIE

4 cups sliced peeled peaches
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup Minute tapioca
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
1 tablespoon margarine or butter
Mix peaches, sugar, tapioca and lemon juice in large bowl. Let stand 15 minutes.

Heat oven to 400°F.

Roll 1/2 of the pastry to 11-inch* circle on lightly floured surface. Line 9-inch* pie plate with pastry, allowing 1/2-inch overhang. Fill with peach mixture. Dot with spread. Roll remaining pastry to 12-inch circle. Cover pie with pastry; seal and flute edge. Cut several slits to permit steam to escape.

Bake 55 to 65 minutes or until juices form bubbles that burst slowly. Cool.

Makes 8 servings.

For lattice top crust: Roll remaining pastry to 12-inch circle. Cut into 10 (1/2-inch) strips with pastry wheel or knife. Place 5 of the strips over filling. Weave lattice crust with remaining strips by folding back alternate strips as each cross strip is added. Fold trimmed edge of lower pastry over ends of strips; seal and flute edge. Bake as directed above.

* Roll pastry 2 inches larger than pie plate.

Advent of Competition in Electricity Business Promises Lower Prices, More Choices, New Products for Wisconsin's Farming Industry

MILWAUKEE -- About 50 years ago, the nation's farming industry transformed through the introduction of electric power to the rural areas of the United States. Now, the electric industry itself is undergoing a transformation that will change it as dramatically as electrification changed the farming business.

Milwaukee-based Wisconsin Electric Power Company is actively encouraging adoption of a plan to change the industry in a way that will lower rates and create new products for electric customers throughout the state, including farm customers.

"We believe a competitive marketplace offers customers better value than a regulated one," says Chris Schoenherr, Wisconsin Electric's senior local affairs representative. "Although the electric business in our state is in fine shape, we believe we can make a good thing better by introducing competition."

Wisconsin Electric's plan for the future calls for competition in power generation - the part of the business that produces electricity - and customer service - the part of the business that provides the metering, billing, and value-added services and products. In transporting electricity, a single provider is still the lowest-cost option. Regulation would continue in transmission and distribution - the "wires" part of the business that delivers electricity. Reliability, safety and environmental protection also would remain regulated.

"Reliable, low-priced electricity is critical for the continued success of our $6 billion dairy industry in Wisconsin," says dairy farmer and State Representative Judy Klusman. "The state is now reviewing ways to bring the benefits of competition in the electric power industry to all consumers, including farm consumers. Because electricity is such an important commodity on my farm and every farm, this is an issue that we should track."

Schoenherr says a competitive electricity market will offer farm customers several major benefits:

*Lower prices. The combination of excess electricity and competition to serve customers will drive prices lower than they are today. As a guarantee, Wisconsin Electric's plan recommends a price cap to ensure customers pay no more in the new electricity marketplace than they do today.

*More choices. Customers will be able to choose from a number of electricity suppliers competing on price, service and products to meet customers' needs.

*New products. To compete for customers, customer service companies will develop a wide array of products and services to meet customer needs. A company specializing in serving farm customers would purchase low-cost power and package it with optional services that farm customers want.

Schoenherr says a competitive market responds better to customer needs than a regulated market. "If there's a need, someone finds a way to meet it," says Schoenherr. "We expect to see new companies serving specific markets such as farmers. Farm customers represent as much business as a medium-sized commercial customer such as a McDonald's restaurant, so we expect to see companies formed to compete for their business just as we expect to see competition to serve all types of customers."

The competitive market in general will reduce prices for all types of customers, but in the farm sector, real-time pricing and more sophisticated energy management services can provide significant savings to farm customers, according to Schoenherr.

Rather than paying an average cost for electricity, customers taking advantage of real-time pricing will buy their power for the actual cost, which changes every hour. Since the actual cost typically is highest in the early afternoon, customers who use most of the energy at other times of the day can realize significant savings, especially if they use new energy management equipment.

"I think you'll find companies offering many innovative ideas to attract and retain customers," says Schoenherr. "Real-time pricing is one, but you'll probably see companies offer total energy solutions that include everything from owning and maintaining electrical farm equipment to being a one-stop source for all types of energy needs -- electricity, natural gas, propane or other fuel."

The Public Service Commission of Wisconsin is studying ways to bring the benefits of competition to the state. The commission will issue a report to the Wisconsin Legislature in December.

Anyone interested in more information about the advent of electric industry competition can call Wisconsin Electric at 1-800-565-7872.

Wisconsin Electric Power Company serves about 938,000 electric customers in three non-contiguous areas in southeastern Wisconsin (including the Milwaukee area), the Appleton area and portions of northeastern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Governor Okays More US 41 Freeway Conversion in Fond du Lac County

Governor Tommy Thompson has approved a $2.2 million contract to eliminate three intersections and private accesses to US 41 in Fond du Lac County.

As one segment of Governor Thompson's Corridors 2020 Plan, this project is part of the multi-phase conversion of UW 41 into a limited access freeway from Milwaukee to Green Bay. Corridors 2020 was created in 1989 to foster economic development and meet inter-regional/intercity transportation needs.

"Conversion to freeway status will provide for more efficient traffic flow and eliminate the hazards of slow-moving vehicles turning into or crossing high speed, high volume, traffic," said Robert Packee, director of the southeast Wisconsin district of the Department of Transportation.

The contractor, Reliance Construction Company, Inc., of De Pere, was expected to start work on the 6.1 mile project in late August.

The project runs from the Dodge/Fond du Lac County Line to the south city limits of Fond du Lac at WIS 175, except for a 1.3 mile length of US 41 near Fond du Lac County B.

A separate contract to build a full diamond interchange at Fond du Lac County B was to be placed for bidding in September, 1995. Because of budget constraints, that project has been tentatively rescheduled for bidding in March, 1996.

Work under this present contract includes eliminating access to US 41 at Fond du Lac County Y (Campbell Road), Church Road and Lost Arrow Road. Overpasses will be constructed at County Y (Campbell Road) and at Lost Arrow Road. Church Road will have cul de sacs constructed on each side of US 41.

All private drive access to US 41 will be removed. Median crossovers between northbound and southbound lanes of US 41 will be removed. New crossovers will be built for emergency vehicles only.

When this project and the County B interchange project is completed, the only access to US 41 between the WIS 49 interchange and the WIS 175 interchange will be at the future County B interchange.

County Y (Campbell Road) and Lost Arrow Road will be closed to cross traffic during overpass construction. Church Road will be closed for construction of cul de sacs on both sides of US 41 and Hamilton Road will also be closed during this project.

Hamilton Road will be permanently closed as part of the future County B interchange work. Hamilton Road west of US 41 will have a cul de sac and east of US 41 it will be turned south onto a new frontage road to County B. Upon completion of the County B interchange, the access ramps to US 41 at the County F underpass will be removed.

Because of the expected loss of about 20 acres of wetland due to this project, approximately 48 acres of wetland will be restored and enhanced between WIS 26 and Fond du Lac County C near the Fond du Lac/Winnebago county line. Native trees, shrubs, seeds and other wetlands rootstock will be planted and pond and marsh areas will be improved.

The project is scheduled for completion in summer, 1996 and will be paid for 100% with state transportation funds.

Exhibition at WB Art Museum

The West Bend Art Museum is pleased to announce the following exhibition: PHOTOGRAPHS OF A SMALL PLACE: WORK BY DRAKE HOKANSON, from August 30 to October 8.

Photographer Drake Hokanson explores with evocative results the images of a small town in Iowa. He is concerned with the marks and structures we make upon our landscapes. The field patterns, brick store fronts, flower gardens, roads, fences, corn cribs and snowmobile tracks, are evidence not only of what we have done, but who we are.

Hokanson spent a year in Peterson, Iowa, a town of 390 people, in Clay County, situated in northwest Iowa. A common, ordinary town, Peterson provided a rich field of study for the photographer. Hokanson's black and white prints surpass pure documentation. Hokanson states, "My richest delight and greatest challenge as both a photographer and writer is to tease apart the interconnected threads holding people to their places, and to explore the details of things we build on the land. I look for the common, yet significant, elements, symbols, and icons that define a place. In Peterson, I sought to interpret in visual terms some of the myriad connections among people, the land and the place. These connections, after all, are what make a place home."

Hokanson has authored two books that include his photography, has contributed to two others, and has published dozens of articles in state, regional and national publications. His first book, Lincoln Highway: Main Street Across America, won acclaim from Mark Holborn, editor of APERTURE and from AMERICANA, THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR and many others when it was published in 1988. The book is now in its fifth printing. In Hokanson's second book, Reflecting a Prairie Town: A Year in Peterson, he traces a story of a small town through its history, geography, people and contemporary life. This text includes the photographs now on exhibit. Drake Hokanson is currently an assistant professor at Lakeland College, Sheboygan, temporarily living in Japan on sabbatical.

A public reception will be held on Sunday, September 10 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Light refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited to attend. Hostess for this reception is Barbara Schall.

The West Bend Art Museum is located at 300 South Sixth Avenue in downtown West Bend. Normal art museum hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m. For more information call the art museum at 334-9638.

OSHKOSH -- About 1,525 new freshmen were expected for the fall semester beginning September 6 at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. That's more than a nine percent increase over last fall's 1,395.

The increase comes in a year when the number of high school graduates increased only by seven percent.

The new UW-Oshkosh freshman class will not only be larger but will maintain the high academic profile of last year's best-ever freshmen class, university officials said.

"We are pleased by the number of quality students who have chosen UW-Oshkosh," said Chancellor John E. Kerrigan.

With most new freshmen registered, the percentage ranked in the top half of their high school graduating class is just over 94%, according to Roger J. Herold, director of enrollment management. A year ago, 94.3 percent of new freshmen were ranked in the top half of their high school classes. Only UW-Madison in the UW System had a higher percentage.

The average ACT score for 1995 fall freshmen is more than 22, Herold said, or about what it was for the 1994 class.

The university's total enrollment on opening day will meet the target set by the UW System Board of Regents. It is expected to be down slightly from a year ago at 10,400. About 1,425 will be graduate students. About 17% of the total enrollment will be freshmen.

The freshman class will include a smaller percentage of women in 1995: 57.3 percent, down from 59.1 percent in fall 1994. The total enrollment will be 58.9 percent women.

Area incoming freshmen at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh for the 1995 fall semester include:

KEWASKUM - Sara M. Eckes, 9393 Windy Acres Drive and Daniel M. Survis, 339 Braatz Drive.

CAMPBELLSPORT - John M. Dexter, W2319 Rustic Drive; Sandra M. Fleischman, W2949 Route 4, and Melissa J. Konitzer, W2373 Rustic Drive.

By State Representative Glenn Grothman

The Woman's Right to Know bill, a bill I authored, would ensure that any woman seeking an abortion would receive pertinent, accurate information 24 hours prior to the abortion. Under my bill, the woman will receive a booklet prepared by the State's Department of Health and Social Services which will include vital medical information, such as pictures of and facts regarding the developing unborn child, accurate information describing the methods of abortion, and the medical and psychological risks associated with the abortion.

As expected, the bill generated widespread support as 45 assemblymen and 14 state senators signed on to the bill.

Nearly five hundred citizens came from across the state to register their support of the Woman's Right to Know bill at a public hearing held at the Capitol on July 27. Letters in favor of the bill continue to flood legislators' offices.

It only makes sense.

The original version of the bill was introduced in mid-June, but at the July hearing testimony was given that showed that, unlike normal clinic or hospital procedures, doctors who run abortion clinics have a "get 'em in, get 'em out" mentality. Abortions are almost always performed the same day the woman comes into the clinic and normally, she does not even see the doctor until she is on the table, ready for the abortion. Signs are in the waiting room stating that women must pay before their consultation, indicating the priority these clinics have. Frequently these women have strong misgivings about their abortions, but are pushed by boyfriends or husbands afraid of their additional "financial burden." These women may never get over their decision.

It is very interesting to compare the abortion clinics way of doing business with normal doctors who frequently insist upon waiting periods for their patients on elective surgery as they carefully go over the alternatives. Currently, under Wisconsin law, if you sell something at an irregular place of business, you have 72 hours to change your mind. Nevertheless, on this significant decision, abortion clinics have slipped through the cracks of normal, civilized behavior.

The bill was amended and improved at my request to allow a woman to go to her hometown doctor rather than the abortion doctor at least 24 hours before her appointment. Testimony indicated that abortion doctors were seldom impartial, not even using the word "abortion," but only referring to "the procedure," not even using the word "fetus," but using the term "tissue." Several other states already have a reflection period and its time Wisconsin caught up with them.

On August 24, our substitute bill easily passed the Assembly Committee on Children and Families by a vote of 6-3. The Woman's Right to Know bill now moves forward to be voted on by the full Assembly on September 21, to be followed by the state senate shortly thereafter. I am hopeful it will pass.

This bill is long overdue. Everyone, whether for or against abortion, should support the Woman's Right to Know legislation. It simply allows each woman to make a fully-informed and voluntary abortion decision. It truly is a woman's right to know.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of LUELLA LIEPERT, who passed away Sept. 9, 1994:

Life goes on and a year has gone by,
But - precious memories never die,
After the end of one said year,
Our hearts ache with sadness and God only knows -
How much we miss the one we loved so dear.
Living on, in this world of sorrow and strife
Unit we will meet again in heaven
To live "together forever" in that happy life.

Sadly missed by husband and family.

Allan Weinert C.S.S.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schoofs, Kewaskum, professed final vows at a ceremony of Religious Profession during a Concelebrated Mass on Saturday, August 22, at the college chapel at Holy Redeemer College at Waterford.

The annual homecoming reunion of the Hubert Hergiges, Michael Rodenkirch, Thull, Altenhofen, Peter Joseph Schneider and Laubach pioneers' offspring was held at St. Michaels on August 16.

Sunday, August 23, 1970 will be a day long remembered by Bill Fabian of Milwaukee, who on this day shot his first hole-in-one at Hon-E-Kor Country Club. Bill recorded his ace on the 200-yard, par 3, 7th hole of the course. Fabian was playing with his son Bill Jr. and two friends from Milwaukee. A Milwaukeean, Bill has been a member at Hon-E-Kor for a number of years, where he is past club champion. His wife is the former Myrtle Fellenz, a native of the Kewaskum area.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brace, Kewaskum, on August 20; to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Friedemann, Kewaskum, on August 20, and to Mr. and Mrs. Barry Murre, Kewaskum, on August 21. Kewaskum Community Schools opened last Friday and according to the district's newsletter circulated this week, first day attendance was up by 76 students over last year, and is up by 404 over first day attendance in 1966, the first year of K-12 operation. First day enrollment in high school is 658 students, an increase of 39 over last year's opening day figure of 619. First day attendance in the elementary schools is 1,256 pupils, an increase of 37 over last year's enrollment of 1,219. This brings the total enrollment in the school district to 1,914, an increase of 76 over last year's 1,838.

Holy Trinity Parochial School opened last Friday, August 28, with Mass at 8:10 a.m. The enrollment of 255 pupils is down by five from last year when the enrollment was 260. Thirty-one children started school in the first grade. They are: Ken Bauer, Colleen Beisbier, Laura Beisbier, Rene Beisbier, Thomas Brown, Laurie Etta, Danny Felten, Janet Gross, Debra Gruber, Matthew Hanrahan, Jane Hergiges, Robert Jandre, Lou Klahn, James Konkol, Joel Kudek, Karen Kudek, Karolyn Kutz, Carol Lehmann, Patrick Miller, Jacqueline Mueller, Michael Paul, Pamela Perkins, Michelle Rodenkirch, Diane Rohlinger, Robin Schmidt, Jacquelyn Stoffel, Steven Straub, Tami Timblin, Timothy Tischendorf, Jean Weinand, and Randy Westerman.

The Kewaskum Indians will open their nine-game 1970 football season tonight (Friday) with a non-conference at Campbellsport, starting at 7:30 p.m. The Cougars (together with North Fondy) left the Scenic Moraine Conference this year to join the new Flyway Conference, thereby ending a 30-year conference rivalry between these two teams. Kewaskum, coming off its best 11-man football season ever, has 13 returning lettermen, including all-conference quarterback Mike Doherty and defensive back Joe Backhaus. But much of the "beef" on last year's team is gone. Coach Joe Harlow, starting his sixth season here, is searching for replacements for Ron Theusch and Glen Weinreich, who carried the ball for a total of 1,200 yards last year.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schallie, Route 1, Kewaskum, on August 27. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Spurlock of Lawton, Oklahoma, on August 30. Minutes of Village Plan Commission

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission
June 27, 1995
7:00 p.m.

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert H. Wagner called the meeting to order. Members present were John Stephani, Richard Schmidt, Frank Beesten, Zoning Administrator Richard Zarling (Mr. Zarling arrived at 7:18 p.m.) and Administrator Daniel Schmidt. Paul Ziebert, Charles Waala and David Goeden asked to be excused and were absent. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and the Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Frank Beesten, seconded by John Stephani and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Commission approved the minutes as printed for May 23, 1995.

Motion by John Stephani, seconded by Richard Schmidt and unanimously carried, the Commission authorized the Temporary Sign permits for Farmers Union (Cheese Store) and Kohn's Mobil Station. It was noted the one year time frame is from the date of placement of the existing signs.

The Plan Commission indicated that when the Zoning Ordinance is reviewed for changes we should review the Temporary Sign requirements.

Mr. Rick Kania of SEWRPC was present, for discussion on the Master Plan, and more specifically Chapter 6 Objectives, Principles and Design Guidelines (part 2 of 2). Mr. Kania instructed the Commission and others involved to review the chapter and to bring back their input at the next Commission meeting. The Commission reviewed in detail with Mr. Kania approximately half of Chapter 6 (part 2 of 2). The Plan Commission didn't finish the review, but did make progress. It was noted that when the Zoning Ordinance is reviewed a permit for parking lot placement and installation should be included, as well as standardizing the term street terrace.

On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Frank Beesten and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Commission adjourned the meeting. Roll call vote was 4 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 3 "Absent."

Training, Trusting: The Third Step to Thinking, Playing, Like a Champ

by Tom Kite with Dr. Bob Rotella, Special Advisors to Chrysler-Plymouth

(NAPS)—If you ask me how I became the PGA Tour's all-time leading money winner, I'll give you a one word answer—consistency. You need skills, of course, but consistency is the key to reaching your potential and staying on top of your game. It's also one of the biggest challenges every golfer faces. Together, Doc and I have worked for more than ten years on perfecting a physical and mental routine to help me meet this challenge at every tournament, on every hole.

Here are a few tips Doc and I recommend to help you play consistently:

Build your own pre-shot routine: Realize that the precise routine that works for me may not work for you. But make sure you have one. Make it a habit: Practice your routine until it becomes effortless and automatic. This takes repetition—both physical and mental.

Pick a precise target: Determine where you want the ball to go on every shot. Lock your eyes and mind into the target.

Throw away fear: If there is any anxiety or doubt, walk away from the ball and start over again.

Stick to a strategy: Determine a game plan in advance of each round and commit to it. Stick to your game plan through good and bad play. Trust you will play great if you do.

So, next time you're out there, take a page out of my play book—make consistency a priority and enjoy the results.

Kewaskum I Little League Takes 3rd in Tourney

The Kewaskum I Little League team finished a fine season this year by taking second in league, after losing a play-off game for first, and capturing third place in the Campbellsport tourney.

In the first game of the tourney Kewaskum faced the Campbellsport Cubs. The first inning saw Jason Strobel single and then steal 2nd and 3rd. He was knocked in on a single by Billy Cook. The second inning produced seven runs and sent 11 batters to the plate. Kurt Koth, Dave Lettow, Nick Tibbs, Josh Strassburg, and Jason Calliari all walked with the last two getting RBI credits. Jason Strobel followed with a sacrifice fly and Chris Koth reached on fielders choice. Billy Cook was next and hit one deep to fence for a three run home-run. The scoring ended with a single by Bobby Ogi and scoring on a single by Curt Koth.

The 3rd produced no runs for Kewaskum. The 4th inning saw the bats swinging. Billy Cook started it off with a single followed by a walk to Bobby Ogi. Dustin Melzark flew out to the shortstop and Dave Lettow singled in two rounds. Nick Tibbs followed with another single and Josh Strassburg walked, the bases full. Jason Calliari then bated a two run double and Chris Koth slammed a three run home-run.

The scoring ended for Kewaskum when Billy Cook hit a triple and scored on a single by Bobby Ogi. The final score Kewaskum, 16 Campbellsport, 1.

The second game of the tourney pitted Eden 2 against Kewaskum. Eden scored one in the bottom of the first, but Kewaskum answered with all of the needed runs in the top of the second. Billy Cook singled, stole second, and scored on a base hit by Bobby Ogi. Bobby moved to third on a single by Curt Koth. Curt stole second and both runners scored on a single by Nick Tibbs. Nick was then hit in when Dave Lettow hit a home-run to the right center wall. Eden came back to score four in the fourth to make it a 6-5 game.

While Kewaskum could only master just two more hits by Jason Calliari and Curt Koth in the last four innings, their defense and pitching took over. The Kewaskum pitchers struck out eight batters while allowing just four hits. The final two outs of the game came on a strike out and throw of the base runner trying to steal second by Chris Koth.

The final two games of the tourney saw the batters of Kewaskum struggling to score needed runs. In the third game of the tourney against an All-Star team from Fond du Lac, Fond du Lac scored two in the first and three in the second for a 5-0 lead. Kewaskum finally answered when Josh Strassburg led off with a double down the left field line. Chris Koth doubled Josh in and Billy cook followed with a double of his own to score Chris. Bobby Ogi singled to score Billy but Bobby was gunned down at second.

Fond du Lac answered with two more in the 4th to make it a 7-3 game. Kewaskum brought the lead back to within two when Jason Strobel reached base on an error and Chris Koth doubled him in. Chris then scored when Billy Cook hit a ball the second baseman couldn't handle. That was all the scoring Kewaskum could master. Fond du Lac scored three more in the 5th for a 10-5 win.

The final game of the double elimination tourney for Kewaskum was against Newburg. Again the offensive punch wasn't there. Kewaskum scored one in the 4th when Billy Cook singled and advanced to third on two consecutive wild pitches. Nick Tibbs singled Cook in. In the 6th Chris Koth led off with a single and then consecutive walks to Cook and Ogi loaded the bases with no outs.

But Jason McKeever struck out, Nick Tibbs grounded into a fielder's choice scoring Koth, and Dustin Melzark struck out for the final out. Nick Tibbs had two singles for the game while Joshua Strassburg, Chris Koth, Jason Calliari, and Billy Cook each collected one. Final score Newburg 8, Kewaskum 2.

The Kewaskum I Little League team ended with an 11-4 overall record.

"Wisconsin's black bear population is in very good shape throughout the north and the population is continuing to expand," says Bill Mytton, DNR deer and bear ecologist.

The black bear season opens September 9 in the zone where dogs are not allowed, and for hunters using dogs in the zone where it is allowed. The season opens September 16 in the zone where dogs are allowed for hunters who hunt over bait.

Acorn and berry crops were good in 1994 and bear were in excellent condition when they went into their dens last fall, Mytton says. Population surveys conducted over the winter indicated cub production was excellent.

"With the addition of these cubs, the 1995 fall bear population will be over 7,200," Mytton says.

Even though the black bear population is continuing to increase in the north, more people are also applying for bear tags, making it difficult to draw a harvest permit, Mytton says.

"In 1994, only those with five or more preference points were assured of getting a bear kill tag. It is unlikely that the number of bear licenses sold in 1995 will be much lower than last year, when nearly 26,000 were purchased. So the waiting time will remain at about six or more years," Mytton says. Each continuous year that a hunter applies but does not receive a kill permit, he or she receives a preference point.

Last year a significant number of hunters reported multiple sightings of bears, and several trophy bears over 500 pounds were harvested.

Outlook Good For Bear Hunters

Grothman: Committee Kills Bureaucratic Snafu

MADISON -- In a decision which will have wide-ranging effects on the health care system in Wisconsin, the Joint Committee for Review of the Administrative Rules struck down an emergency rule put forth by the Office of the Commissioner of Insurance (OCI).

The committee, which is co-chaired by State Representative Glenn Grothman (R-West Bend), took up the issue after fellow legislators complained that the OCI rule contradicted legislation passed by lawmakers last year.

In 1994, the Legislature approved a law which would allow doctors, nurse anesthetists, and other specialists such as optometrists and chiropractors to form so-called "service corporations." These organizations, previously open only to doctors and nurse anesthetists, enhance health care by allowing for teams of specialists to provide coordinated health care services.

Act 473 did not permit the new members of the service corporation to obtain insurance coverage individually from the Patient's Compensation Fund, a state-administered account which pays out in the event of certain malpractice suits. The Act did allow the expanded Service Corporations to obtain this coverage as a group.

When the OCI issued administrative rules to regulate access to the Patient's Compensation Fund, however, it excluded all expanded Service Corporations from Fund coverage.

Grothman's rules review committee responded by holding a public hearing at which testimony on suspension of the rule was heard from the OCI and various practitioner's groups. West Bend was represented by local resident Steve Engelbrecht, who testified for suspension of the undesired portion of the rule. The committee ultimately decided to suspend the rule, on an 8-0 vote with two members absent. Grothman termed the vote a victory over an unresponsive bureaucracy.

"Several legislators who were concerned about the implications of this rule tried unsuccessfully to have it changed by the OCI," Grothman commented. "This suspension shows that those who suffer the effects of bad rulemaking can do something about it through the rules review process."

Grothman took over the Assembly co-chairmanship of the Joint Committee for Review of Administrative Rules at the beginning of the year.

Mautz - The quality paints made for performance - not price

Many paints are not made to sell for a special, competitive price. Mautz paints are made for performance. We think you'd rather spend more, and get a product that does the job right . . . that goes on easier, protects better, looks better and lasts longer. So, we don't cut things out to offer a low price. We add things in, to offer a better product.

Like premium quality pigments to protect longer and resist fading. And stronger, more expensive "binders", to hold the pigments on the surface better for maximum beauty and protection. And extra fine grinding of the pigments and binders to provide a smoother product that brushes out easier, goes much farther per gallon, washes easier and resists dirt pick-up and weathering.

There's more to paint than price. There's Mautz.
