Kimetha Sparks and Cindy Tevich of Eccentrics by Kimetha

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Those looking for something unique to dress up the home, office or business will enjoy Eccentrics by Kimetha, Kewaskum's latest business addition.

Kimetha Sparks opened her new store this past Monday at 203 Main Street, and offers the community a variety of silk and fresh floral arrangements, along with gifts for baby on up to grandma. "We specialize in weddings and funerals, and take great pride in designing something different than the ordinary," Kimetha emphasizes, who gained experience previously working in the floral department at Pick and Save in West Bend.

Her flair for the unusual is sparked by a sense of humor and an abundance of energy she passes on to the people she meets. Originally from Seoul, Korea, Kimetha was adopted in 1959, by Wisconsin natives, Alice (Nohr) and Lorin Byers. She grew up in Milwaukee, with two sisters and six brothers, five of which were international adoptions. Later, her parents moved to the West Bend area.

As an adult, Kimetha moved out west and owned a restaurant in Nevada, returning to this area when her mother became ill, and eventually passed away. Her father, Lorin Byers, now resides in Kewaskum, as well as her brother Robin.

This past year her marriage to Robert Sparks has created a new family for her, including Spark's children, Courtney and David. "I have them and my family to thank for all the encouragement,"

Kimetha states. "They were very mentally supportive of me and the new business."

Haunted House Could Become a Reality Here

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Some members of Kewaskum's business community have expressed interest in creating a Haunted House for the upcoming Halloween holiday, but they need your help in starting up the project.

Joy Kuhnke, owner of Joy's of Grooming, is asking residents of the community to give her a call at 626-2506 if they would like to see this project become a reality. If enough interest is expressed, Robert Kohn will donate his gas station/car wash for the site of the Haunted House.

As the organizer of the event, Joy states that the high school Booster Club would coordinate and run the Haunted House, and would be willing to help build the house, if enough donations were received.

Items needed would include old lumber, old or new Halloween decorations, labor (can be donated in one hour increments on weekends), and money. Fund raisers would be encouraged, and even collecting pennies would help! Items could be dropped off at Kohn's Mobil Mart on Main Street in Kewaskum, or Joy's of Grooming in St. Kilian.

All proceeds raised would benefit the Booster Club, and their ongoing project to light the high school football field.

If there is enough interest generated in the village, this fund raiser could become a reality, so please be sure to contact Joy at the above number or Robert Kohn at 626-2707, and let them know your opinion, and how you could help with a project that would give the children in the village and the surrounding area a safe Halloween thrill, and raise money for a good cause at the same time.

Village Resolves Parking Problems

By Lana Harbeck Kuebl

Two separate parking problems were resolved last Wednesday evening by the Kewaskum village board. The regular Monday evening meeting was switched to Wednesday due to the Labor Day holiday.

Third Street residents were requesting the Board revisit action taken on parking limitations placed there previously on August 7.

Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt put together a list of options available to resolve the difference of opinions on the parking limitation. Prior to the meeting, the restriction placed on Third Street at the August 7 meeting was no parking on the north side.

Village President Robert Wagner opened up discussion by asking Police Chief Richard Knoebel which option he was most comfortable with.

Knoebel answered, "The option I would say would probably be your best bet would be option number eight. No parking 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. and no parking 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Those are our busiest traffic times. That way the people in the neighborhood would still be able to be parked in front of their house, and on both sides of the street, during the day. And the students wouldn't be parking there because... they would have to come out and move it before the two o'clock time. That would be my recommendation."

Third Street residents who had opposed the north side restrictions agreed to being able to live with option number eight.

The board then voted unanimously to option number eight which states there will be no parking on both the north and south sides of Third Street between the hours of 7 to 9 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. on school days.

Discussion then opened up on another parking problem brought to the attention of the board at the August 21st meeting. At that meeting the issue of the possibility of eliminating one or two parking spaces on the north side of Main Street near the intersection with Parkview Drive was brought up.

plays silk arrangements in styles from Victorian rose gardens to oriental simplicity, offering all colors and all types of flowers. Live plants, blooming plants, and fresh cut flowers fill the place with the essence of summer, and customers can hand pick their own bouquets, or make use of their designer's creative abilities. Custom arrangements can be done using silk or fresh flowers, and a large selection of vases are on hand to choose from.

"Our emphasis is on weddings and also funerals," Sparks points out, "and some of our designs can be seen at Prima Bridal in West Bend. We work with them, and put together all kinds of bridal arrangements." Stressing the consultant aspect of the business, Eccentrics will send designers to your home, office, or business, to help plan a design scheme for the interior, or limited exterior work, such as window boxes, patios, decks, and flower pots. "Flowers and plants have always been a popular way to dress up a room," Kimetha maintains, and these days silk are just as popular as fresh arrangements.

Rentals on silk arrangements, bouquets, and green plants, are also available, on a monthly basis, or for that special party, banquet or particular occasion. They also offer balloon bouquets and classy wraps (gifts inside a balloon) with a day's notice. Eccentrics by Kimetha is a member of the Professional Floral Association (PFA), offers a delivery service within a 50 mile radius, and AFS, an international wire service that ships floral gifts anywhere in the world.

The store also carries a line of plush animals, baby mugs for all occasions, baby gifts, floral and plant containers and gift cards. Kimetha's four-year-old son, Jesse, enjoys helping arrange the stuffed animals any chance he gets.

Two full-time designers are available to meet customer's needs. Kimetha herself has three years experience in design and her store manager, Cindy Tevich, has 18 years of experience in the field. Sparks' sister, Heidi Johann, is employed as assistant manager.

Eccentrics by Kimetha is open six days a week, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. VISA, Mastercard and Tyme cards are accepted. Orders can be left on the answering machine and will be promptly filled in the morning, by calling 626-8827. A grand opening is planned for the weekend of October 6 and 7.

"I'd like to give a special thanks to all the people that have supported me the past few years, and helped make this possible," Kimetha adds, and invites the community to visit the new store and check out some new ways to dress up your home or business.

mann asked, "Where do we stop, eliminating parking spaces?"

The possibility of placing two-hour parking restrictions on the street was brought up, and Police Chief Richard Knoebel commented, "If you're looking at two hour parking... I'd suggest you'd leave it the way it is. With a two-hour zone, then you'd have to have someone marking tires."

Trustee Gary Gavin stated, "There's a lot of dangerous intersections in this town." He suggested common sense and attentive driving was the only way to handle a dangerous intersection.

Trustee William Kulas said, "I would be against eliminating parking stalls. We've taken too many parking stalls away."

President Wagner asked the Police Chief what the history was on the intersection... whether or not there were a lot of accidents reported there.

Knoebel commented, "We've had accidents there. I've said it's just a poorly built intersection the way it is. It's a hard intersection to see and it's been that way ever since I've been here. We've eliminated parking stalls and it has helped. But like your saying you'd have to eliminate darn near the whole thing in order to get a good, clear view."

Trustee Gary Gavin stated, personally he would rather work on developing something to eliminate the parking of semis on the street to begin with.

Knoebel added it was a state and federal highway and you can't stop it. Further discussion again ensued on this issue.

But Knoebel said, "They know what the rules and regulations are. We can limit the parking, but every body's limited to everybody."

It was decided to leave the parking on Main Street as it is, and hopefully the upcoming winter parking restrictions will eliminate some of the problems.

The first laundromat was the Washateria opened at Fort Worth, Texas, by J.F. Cantrell on April 18, 1934. It had four washing machines that charged by the hour.

The interior of Eccentrics tastefully represents their talents in floral design and eye for color.

The new business offers floral designs in silk and fresh arrangements, as well as gifts for the home, office or business.

Thompsons Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mervin and Pearl (Peterson) Thompson recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary in the small Montana town of Hot Springs, where they moved to, from Kewaskum, in June of 1995.

Twenty-five relatives and new friends gathered at the Hot Springs Indian Center for a dinner sponsored by the Thompson's daughter, Jo Rainbolt (Mary Jo Thompson), who lives in Hot Springs, and granddaughter Kristen Schloemer.

Kristen, a graduate of the University of New Mexico, lives 70 miles away from Hot Springs in Missoula, where she is vice president of Neptune, Inc. Another granddaughter, Kori Schloemer, is an attorney in Ketchum, Idaho.

The Thompson's daughter, Pat Cardarelle flew in from Denver and surprised her parents. Merv's brothers, Ken and Leonard, of Las Vegas, and Ken's wife, Carla, were among guests. His sister, Arlene, and husband Sam, from California, visited before the anniversary.

Dinner was catered by Rosetta Casselli and music was provided by fiddler and pianist, Matt Oleson, a Norwegian the same age as Merv, 85, and cellist Lee Zimmerman.

The Thompsons were well known and loved in Kewaskum. Merv, a retired construction superintendent, was active in World War II veteran activities and had served as Town Chairman. Merv and Pearl belonged to Peace Church and directed the Kewaskum Senior Center for 15 years.

They are adjusting to a new life in Montana, but miss their many Wisconsin friends and are looking forward to an October visit from granddaughter Debra Martell, and great-granddaughter Rachel.

'Back to Books' Drive Now On at Post Office

KEWASKUM -- It's back to school time, and Kewaskum area residents can play a part in the state's largest children's book drive. In the second annual "Back to Books" drive from September 11-16, Kewaskum area residents can donate their new or used children's books to the "Books for Kids" program by simply bringing their books to the Kewaskum post office at 347 Main Street. Donations will be accepted from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Last year, "Books for Kids," sponsored by Milwaukee's Next Door Foundation (NDF) and the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, raised 40,000 books for Milwaukee's central city children through this single drive. Because of the heavy demand for children's books, the drive is expanding to 152 post offices in the southeast Wisconsin ZIP Code areas of 530, 531 and 534.

"There is still a pressing need for new or used children's books," said Kewaskum Postmaster Bonnie Eldredge. NDF is asking us for help because they have since given away most of those 40,000 books to Milwaukee families."

The NDF is looking for everything from pre-school picture books to pre-adolescent readers. The NDF needs good-condition kids books and asks that magazines, textbooks and discarded library books NOT be donated.

The drive is sponsored by the Next Door Foundation, The Milwaukee Journal Sentinel and the U.S. Postal Service.

Turkey Shoot a Huge Success

Adam Helsell takes aim on the Pistol Shoot.

Perry Etta sets his sights on breaking a quivering balloon to bag his turkey.

The live fish pond was again a popular attraction for Turkey Shoot patrons, with 290 fish being caught. The largest measured 14 inches.

By Statesman Staff Writer

NEW FANE -- The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club's 43rd Annual Turkey Shoot received a shot in the arm from Mother Nature on Sunday.

With clear skies and temperatures in the 70s, the weather was absolutely perfect for the club's annual festival, which was another huge success this year.

Over 5,000 persons attended the event, which featured numerous firing lines and shooting contests. A pistol shoot, rifle line, trap shoot, duck shoot, BB gun shoot, as well as bow and arrow and compound bow shoots all provided marksmen and markswomen with the opportunity to win an 11-pound bird for their Thanksgiving dinner.

Nearly 400 turkeys were awarded to those accurate shooters, while another 75 cornish hens were given out as well.

The event's trout fishing pond was also a huge success, according to Jerry Stollenwerk, who along with Roy Swanson served as the festival's co-chairmen. A total of 628 anglers took their try at landing one of the many fish stocked in the pond. A final tally showed that 290 fish were taken from the pond, the largest measuring 14 inches caught by Grafton's Cheryl Gartman. That catch won Gartman a nine-piece Regal Ware cast aluminum cookware set.

Turkey Shoot planners must have known something when they decided to re-schedule the event for a week earlier this year. Initially hoping to avoid a conflict with the bow hunting season, which opens the third week of September, the Kiwanis members benefitted from sunny skies, as well as a Packer off day.

"It proved very successful," said Stollenwerk, noting that last year's $12,000 net profit from the event likely would be exceeded this year. "Participation at all of the events exceeded last year's totals."

Two of the more popular events at this year's shoot were the golf contest and basketball free throw competition, Stollenwerk said.

qualified for the golf shootout held at the end of the day. Finalists competed for a $50 prize for the golfer shooting closest to the pin on a green approximately 135 yards away. Rick Averill wound up netting the cash, coming within less than nine feet of the stick. Jerry Koch, the defending champion in the event, was a close second.

In the basketball shootout a total of 22 persons qualified for the finals. Just two shooters, defending champion Wade Roberts and Noel Stollenwerk, made all three of their shots to advance to the next round. In the end, Roberts outlasted Stollenwerk and claimed his second straight victory in the event, winning a second Huffly basketball backboard and pole set valued at $250.

While the competition was fast and furious, so were the wives of the Kiwanis members, who were kept busy all day behind the food stand, Stollenwerk noted. By the end of the day, all of the food stand's menu had been sold out, a testament to "Chef" Jim Reuther's quality cooking.

"He did an excellent job," Stollenwerk said of Reuther, the head of the bar and kitchen at the West Bend Country Club.

Reuther's cooking was enjoyed by festival-goers from all over the state, as well as from out of state. While awarding a turkey during the day, Stollenwerk noticed that the winner of the bird had a Chicago, Illinois address. While biting his lip about the pending Bears-Packers contest the next day, Stollenwerk asked the man what would prompt him to come this far for the event.

"He said that he looked forward to coming up to Kewaskum every year for the Turkey Shoot," Stollenwerk noted, adding that others from as far away as Madison, Green Bay and LaCrosse also were in attendance. "It's just unbelievable how popular this has become."

Obviously, there were many people who played a role in the event's success, Stollenwerk noted.

"To put on an activity of this type, we need and receive excellent support from community groups and individuals."

Some of those that received a special thanks from the Kiwanis Club include: the New Fane Sportsman Club and its members, the Kewaskum High School Key Club, the Kewaskum Boy Scouts, the Kewaskum Volunteer Fire Department, the Kewaskum Athletics baseball team, the Kewaskum Booster Club, and many other individuals who helped with the set up and/or running of the event.

"Without their help, we could have never pulled this off," Stollenwerk noted.

He encouraged anyone who is interested in joining the Kiwanis Club, whose ranks number 28 members this year, to attend any of the club's monthly meetings held Mondays at the Glacier Inn.

Kewaskum School District Leads the Way... United Way

Fifteen area businesses and organizations are "setting the pace" as Pacesetters for the 1995 United Way of Washington County campaign.

United Way Pacesetters started their campaigns in late August and a few are still in progress. "We're encouraged by the enthusiasm for United Way as displayed by our donors and volunteers in the Pacesetter campaign," said Tom Bast, campaign chair for the county drive.

The Kewaskum School District is the Pacesetter for Kewaskum; to date their giving is a dramatic increase of 28.4% over 1994, and they are still collecting funds.

Other Pacesetter organizations and their campaign divisions are: Glen Milkus, CPA and Kieckhafer-Dietzler; The Threshold; George Hart, DDS; Washington County Department of Social Services; Maysteel Corporation; Midas International; Kerry Ingredients; Wisconsin Electric Corporate and employees; West Bend Mutual Company Corporate; WBKV-WBWI Radio, West Bend Schools Food Service; M & I First National Bank Corporate; Gruber Tool and Die; Super Saver, and Bob Fish Corporate.

Pacesetter results total $75,139 to date, and were announced on September 6 at the Campaign Kick-Off in Hartford. This represents about 8.3% of the 1995 campaign Goal of $910,000.

Highlights of the Pacesetter Campaign: West Bend Mutual Insurance increased their corporate gift by 10%, County employees in the Social Services Department have increased their giving by more than 14%, and Gruber Tool and Die increased employee giving by 52%.

Bast commented, "The Pacesetter results are definitely setting the pace for the remainder of the campaign -- we're optimistic as we begin the Campaign, and thank our Pacesetter donors for their gifts and pledges."

The campaign officially continues through October 31.

Funds raised will benefit 26 human service agencies providing programs here in Washington County in the coming year.

Joy Kuhnke Awarded Groomer Certification

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

On August 18, the International Professional Groomers Association held a special certification program in Elk Grove, Illinois, that required eight hours of grooming dogs and two hours of written testing, and was attended by Joy Kuhnke from Joy's of Grooming in St. Kilian.

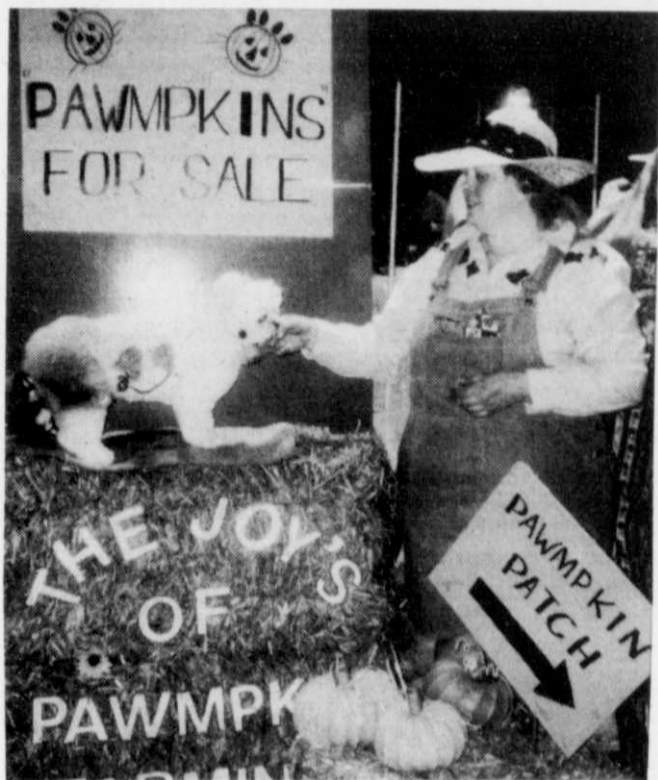

Joy passed all four hands-on grooming tests, as well as the written exam, which covered every type of terrier, 12 AKC breeds in the non-sporting group, and 24 AKC breeds in the sporting group. The IPG exam also tested a groomer's knowledge of coat type, grooming techniques, how to handle each breed's personalities, the origin of breeds, and required coat colors. Joy used the Complete Dog Book from the American Kennel Club as her study guide.

The grooming phase of the testing required work on short legged terriers, such as the West Highland, and long-legged terriers, like the Schnauzer, as well as Poodles and the American Cocker Spaniel.

Certification was awarded at two levels, with Joy receiving the first degree, as a certified groomer. The next step will be to obtain the level of Master Certified Groomer, which she plans to seek this coming October.

As a Master Certified Groomer, Joy will be required to know everything in the AKC's 800 page, "The Complete Dog Book," including the working, herding, hound, and toy groups, and information that pertains to a healthy dog, such as vaccinations, parasites, and the identification of a number of diseases.

Joy can now add the initials CG to the end of her name, as an official Certified Groomer.

Speed Limit Reduction Requested On Midland Drive in Town of Wayne

By Louise Martin

At the August Town of Wayne board meeting, township resident Art Filber presented to board members a petition signed by over 30 residents who reside on Midland Drive requesting the board to consider reducing the speed limit from the current unposted 55 mph to a posted 45 mph.

A lengthy discussion ensued with Midland Drive residents sharing incidents of excessive speed, near misses and increased traffic which is particularly heavy in the early morning and later afternoon hours. Several families with small children reside along Midland. While everyone knows children should never play along or in the road, what happens if a child innocently wanders into the road at the wrong time. Built in 1964-65, Midland Drive is no longer a quiet, quaint country road it once was. It has become a hazardous road with an accident resulting in a fatality just waiting to happen.

This is not the first time a concern has been raised regarding the safety of Midland, particularly because of excessive speed. While the Washington County Sheriff's Department does patrol the road, lack of manpower just does not allow intense patrolling of the area.

Board members were understanding of the request, but explain it is no easy matter to change the speed limit. It's just not a matter of posting signs. The Department of Transportation requires an engineering study and traffic investigation. In addition any change must be documented by an ordinance so action on any future similar situations is consistent.

The concern will again be addressed at the September town board meeting following contact with the town's attorney, the Department of Transportation, sheriff's department and other townships who have addressed similar situations.

In other matters before the board, an inquiry was made regarding the possibility of assessing impact fees on new construction in the town. Chairman Mark Strobel explained impact fees had been discussed in the past, but the legality of such fees was questioned. The inquiry will be directed to the Plan Commission for review.

Fritz Roth was approved as the culvert inspector for the town, a temporary trailer permit was issued to Wesley Fickert, bids are being collected on the replacement of an outside fuel tank and the announcement of a scheduled meeting with the Washington County Highway Commission to review two different proposed plans of Highway H was made.

The Town of Wayne Plan Commission will meet Tuesday, September 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall with the monthly town board meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. on Wednesday, September 20.

Just Ask!

...About Taking Your Medicines Appropriately

(NAPS)—Most of us have access to a valuable source of information, if we just remember to ask timely questions.

Are there any side effects to this medication? Should I be using this medicine if I'm pregnant? Should I put this cough syrup in the refrigerator? What happens if I'm also taking aspirin for headaches?

These are just some of the questions pharmacists hear every day and can answer to help patients get the most from their medicine.

A pharmacist's goal is to help his or her patients and if the patient doesn't understand how to properly take their medication, they simply aren't going to get the benefit they should.

Seefeldt Family Reunion Held

The 56th Seefeldt Annual Reunion of descendants of Christian Friedrich Seefeld (1788-1863) and Anna Sophia Kobs (1792-1837) was held on Sunday, July 30, at River Hill Park in Kewaskum. Special mention was made that the Village of Kewaskum celebrated their 100th birthday this summer.

The 119 family members in attendance started the afternoon's activities with an invocation given by Fred Seefeldt of West Bend. Following the "share a dish" picnic dinner, reunion President Phil Majerus of Fond du Lac conducted the business meeting, during which the present officers were re-elected to the following offices: Phil Majerus, President; Michael Crass of Cedarburg, Vice President; Patricia Hintz of Campbellsport, Secretary/Treasurer; Carole Keller of Kewaskum, Assistant Secretary/Treasurer; Mary Jane Johnson of Destin, Florida, Historian/Newsletter Editor and Fred Seefeldt, Genealogist.

Special recognition was given to Milton and Margaret Seefeldt of Oshkosh, very devoted Seefeldt family members that have supported and assisted with many of the 56 reunions held. We thanked them for their ongoing efforts with a standing ovation.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Mrs. Alma Seefeldt Klug (94) of West Bend and Edwin Bauer of West Bend -- the oldest lady and gentleman present. Rachel Swinford, eight-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Swinford from Neenah was the youngest member present. Ryan and Susan (Majerus) Marzahl of Fond du Lac were the most recently married couple and their marriage date was December of 1994. The longest married couple in attendance were Merlin and Alice Crass of West Bend, married for 52 years.

Mary Jane Johnson of Florida was the family member traveling the farthest distance to attend. The Knoeck family, part of the Gottlieb branch, received recognition as the largest family group, with 25 members present. Mrs. David (Milly) Muench and family from the Marshfield area were the family traveling the greatest distance in Wisconsin. The Linus Hergges family traveled the shortest distance.

Face painting was done by Jane Crass and Rebecca Casper which was an event that pleased the children in attendance. This was followed by an old fashioned game of "tug of war."

The following persons serve as Vice President/Representative for the branches: August/Friederica Branch - Beth Hergges and Audrey Klumb; David Branch, Bob and Yvonne Fink of Fond du Lac; Gottlieb Branch, Alice and Michael Crass; Wilhelmina Branch - Jim Schmidt of West Bend; and William Branch, Milton and Margaret Seefeldt.

NEWS from our neighbors

Bishops to Visit West Bend

West Bend's three Catholic parishes will welcome Archbishop Rembert Weakland and Bishop Richard Sklba on a special two-day visit Sunday, Sept. 17 and Monday, Sept. 18.

The visit will include a Town Hall Meeting focusing on issues facing the church, a luncheon with West Bend business leaders, and a variety of other events.

The bishops will meet with parish leaders, volunteers, parish staffs, youth and senior citizens in special group sessions. They will also visit residents of the Samaritan Home and Meadowbrook Manor.

Numerous volunteers from all three parishes - St. Mary's, St. Frances Cabrini and Holy Angels - have been working together for months to organize the busy two-day calendar, planning refreshments and scheduling drivers to and from the events.

Several events with the bishops are planned to involve all parishioners and interested persons.

They include:

- An old-fashioned Ice Cream Social Sunday, Sept. 17 at St. Frances Cabrini, 1025 S. 7th Ave. from 2-4 p.m. Ice cream, refreshment, games and music are planned. The bishops will meet and socialize with the community.

- A Town Hall Meeting, Sunday, Sept. 17 at St. Frances Cabrini at 7 p.m. Archbishop Weakland and Bishop Sklba will respond to topics of current interest at Catholics and the community, such as the shortage of priests, women's issues, church reform and the possibility of a new parish in the West Bend area.

Mark Landva:ter, who chairs the committee organizing the Town Hall event, said the bishops consider the Town Hall meeting an important reason for, and a high point of, their visit.

"It's an important meeting from their perspective. It's a formal gathering addressing current issues," he said.

The bishop's visit will come to a close with a special prayer service and social Monday at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's, 1610 Monroe St.

Archbishop Weakland will focus on Christian responsibility as it relates to the business community when he meets with West Bend business leaders Monday, Sept. 18, at 11:30 a.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 3245 Lighthouse Lane. "Laity in the Marketplace" is the topic of Weakland's address to the invited audience.

Among the other events set for Sunday are: a catechists' Sunday liturgy and brunch with Bishop Sklba at Holy Angels, 9:30 a.m., a meeting with religious education students at St. Frances Cabrini at 1 p.m.; Archbishop Weakland will have a discussion and pizza with teens at St. Mary's, 4:30 p.m.; Bishop Sklba will have a discussion and dinner with special ministry groups at Holy Angels, 4:30 p.m.

Monday begins with a school liturgy with Archbishop Weakland at St. Frances Cabrini at 8:30 a.m. Bishop Sklba will have the liturgy at Holy Angels. At 10 a.m. the bishops will meet with parish staffs at St. Mary's. Bishop Sklba will have lunch with seniors at St. Mary's at 11:30 a.m.

At 1:30 p.m. Monday, Archbishop Weakland will visit Meadowbrook Manor and Bishop Sklba will visit the Samaritan Home. School teachers from the parishes will meet with the bishops at St. Mary's at 3:30 p.m. and at 4:30 p.m. the bishops will have supper with the parish priests at Holy Angels.

A tri-parish council meeting will take place at 6 p.m. at St. Mary's.

A prayer service and social will close the bishops' visit at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's.

The bishops' visit is part of the Milwaukee Archdiocese's 150th anniversary celebration. During the on going celebration, the bishops are visiting all of the parishes in the archdiocese.

First Holy Trinity Social Fest Proves Successful

For all of those who supported the Holy Trinity Home and School Association by buying a ticket, by having a good time with food and fun, drink and friends, they are grateful.

You have helped us in a great way by showing your love and support. We are pleased to report we have profited the school with approximately $10,000.

If it wasn't for the many, many donations from the following people and area businesses, we couldn't have made this profit. If we forgot you, we are sorry, but God will remember you. Thank you Catholic Knights, Timblin Property Management, Gruber Tool and Die, T & Vern's Sports Bar, Kettle Moraine Electric, Strobel Oil, James Westphal, Margaret Jung, Bonne Belle Motel, Amy Zettler, Bank Wisconsin, Kohn's Mobil, Kewaskum Floral, Kewaskum Chevrolet, Prime Time Pub, Dr. Connor D.D.S., Miller's Fine Furniture, Glacier Inn, Henry Timblin Trucking, Shefond Mobil, Nature's Way Archery, Dairy Queen, Homeplate, West Bend Savings, Jim Schaub, University Mobil, C.C. 25 Years Ago

September 11, 1970

A Chicago and Northwestern switch engine and two freight cars derailed on side tracks next to the Sentry Food Store in Kewaskum at 3 p.m. on Saturday. Traffic on First Street was blocked for several hours because of the derailment. According to a trainmaster of the railroad, who was called to the scene from Milwaukee, the derailment was probably caused by "wide tracking" which occurs when rails expand from the heat. An apparatus called a "cherry picker" came to the village from the railroad yards at Butler to put the cars back on the tracks.

All club championship matches in the various flights at Hon-E-Kor Country Club have been completed with new winners emerging in both the men's and women's Class A flights. Tom Larsen of Kewaskum, former club pro, is the new men's club champion. Playing in a steady downpour of rain Sunday, Larsen defeated John Tessar in the 36-hole finals, 10-9. The new Ladies Club Champion is Bev O'Connor of West Bend, who dethroned Audrey Bartelt in Class A Flight. Bev defeated Dolly Ramthun in a close final 18-hole match which went into sudden death. Bev won one-up on the 19th hole.

The Kewaskum Indians of the Scenic Moraine Conference opened the 1970 football season with a non-conference game at Campbelsport Friday night against the Cougars, now members of the new Flyway Conference, and bombed their rivals, 41-12, in convincing fashion.

A daughter, Linda Jean, was born to Mr. and Mrs.

Thomas Thompson, Route 2, Campbelsport on September 2. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Seefeldt, Route 2, Kewaskum, on September 7. A daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Crowley, Fond du Lac, on September 4. Mrs. Crowley is the former Carole Reindl of Kewaskum.

Now playing at the West Bend Theatre in full screen splendor is "Gone With the Wind," with Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh.

Letter to the Editor,

We would like to thank the Kewaskum Fire Department, Kewaskum Statesman, American Legion Post #384, Regal Ware, Bank Wisconsin, Miller's Fine Furniture, Strobel Oil and the other businesses that helped make the MDA fund raiser a big success. We would especially like to thank everyone who donated to MDA. Because of your donation, this could be the year a cure or treatment is found.

Good Morning:

Just wanted to let you know there is one person in the village who appreciates the hard work and creativity in decorating the front window of your office. Whether walking in the evening, driving home after a long day at work or a day of shopping, it's like a warm ray of sunshine! Thank you!

I was one of the lucky winners in the MDA Raffle last weekend. I was happy to read the total amount contributed in the paper. My thanks, also, to the two nice young people who manned the booth.

What a pleasant surprise to find a Marcia Adams recipe, along with an offer to order more recipes in the Statesman! I've been a fan of her shows on PBS for several years now.

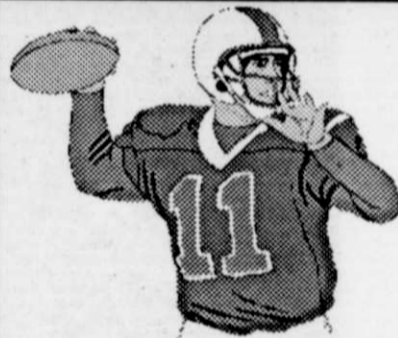

Thank you and keep up the good work!

Nancy Rheingans

EDITOR'S NOTE:

In a world full of criticism, it is extremely gratifying to know occasionally someone takes the time to offer words of praise. Therefore, we felt compelled to print it. Thank YOU Nancy for brightening OUR day.

Deadline Nears to Apply for Bonus Permits

MADISON -- Deer hunters have until September 20 to apply for Hunter's Choice and bonus permits, which would allow them to shoot antlerless deer during the 1995 Wisconsin deer hunting seasons.

Beginning this year, hunters who participate in both the archery and gun deer seasons have greater flexibility in using Hunter's Choice or bonus permits, according to Bill Mytton, deer and bear ecologist with the Department of Natural Resources.

"The new system allows hunters to use antlerless permits during any deer hunting season," Mytton says. Hunters who participate in archery, gun and muzzle-loader seasons could use their antlerless permits during any of the seasons, he notes. A permit must be used in the deer management unit for which the permit was issued.

For bowhunters, this system replaces the bonus archery permit system that has been in place the past three seasons. People who only participate in the bow season can purchase bonus permits over the counter or by phone after November 4, or they can purchase a gun deer license and apply for a Hunter's Choice permit, which can be filled on an antlerless deer only during the bow season.

"You cannot use an archery license to apply on the Hunter's Choice/Bonus Permit application form," Mytton says. "You can only apply by filling in your gun license in the proper box."

Beginning in 1996, hunters will be able to apply for a Hunter's Choice permit using either a gun or archery license. The application date will also be moved up to July 20. This will allow the DNR to issue antlerless permits earlier so archers can receive them before the opening of bow season.

There are no changes under the new system for hunters who only participate in the gun deer season.

"This change does not affect any other normal regulations. You still can only hunt with a bow during the bow season, even if you are trying to fill a Hunter's Choice permit," he says.

There will be 577,335 antlerless permits available statewide for the 1995 seasons. Permit numbers by deer management units are listed in the 1995 Wisconsin Archery, Gun and Muzzle-loader Deer Seasons Application Information and Deer Tagging Options fact sheet distributed with permit applications.

"We hope to mail out Hunter's Choice permits during the first and second weeks of October, so they could be used immediately to shoot an antlerless deer during the early archery season," Mytton says. "Bonus permit orders will be filled as soon as we receive them. Most will probably be mailed from mid-October through early November." Bow hunters do not have to wait three days after receiving the permits to use them, as is required when purchasing an archery hunting license.

The early archery season opens September 16, and runs through November 12; the gun season runs from November 18 through 26; the muzzleloader season runs from November 27 through December 3; and the late archery season runs December 2 through 31.

Emergency Treatment Of Burns

(NAPS)—These tips on the emergency treatment of thermal burns caused by contact with open flames, hot liquids and hot surfaces are from the experts at Shriners Burns Institutes.

Never apply oils, sprays or ointments to a serious burn.

1. Stop the burning. Remove the victim from the heat source.
2. Cool the burn with cold water.
3. Check breathing. Stop the bleeding.
4. Cover the burn with a sterile pad or clean sheet.
5. Maintain body temperature and take victim to the nearest medical facility.

It's important to remember not to apply oils, sprays or ointments on a serious burn. Remember, too, that sunburn may also be cooled with water. If the sunburn is severe or is very extensive, seek medical attention.

For more information on this and other burn prevention topics, write to: Shrine International Headquarters, P.O. Box 31356, Dept. NAPS, Tampa, Florida 33631-3356.

The illusion that times that were better than those that are, has probably pervaded all ages.

YOUR HEALTH

Allergy Sufferers Can Enjoy a Sneeze-Free Fall

(NU) - Ask anyone who has them: Fall allergies are nothing to sneeze at. Red, itchy, puffy eyes. Runny nose. Sneezing like there's no tomorrow.

The good news is that you may be able to get through the fall with barely a symptom, thanks to a free Allergy Management Kit from the American Lung Association and the makers of Tavist-1 and Tavist-D. The kit contains a calendar with year-round tips for allergy and sinus management and more.

Fight Fall Allergies

Here are some tips to help you enjoy fall, even as the allergens fly.

- Avoid being outside on windy days when the air is especially heavy with pollen.
- Wear sunglasses to keep pollen from irritating your eyes. Avoid wearing contact lenses when your allergies are bothering you. They can trap pollens against the eye tissue, causing more irritation.
- Avoid raking leaves or, if you must rake, wear a particle mask. (Raking stirs up molds.)
- At football and soccer games, sit on a blanket or bench to avoid direct contact with pollen.
- Take advantage of the fall planting season to create a sneezeless landscape. Remember that brighter plants such as mums are pollinated by insects and are better choices than plants that rely on the wind for pollination.
- If pets are inside more often, bathe them weekly to prevent accumulation of salivary and skin proteins that trigger allergies.
- Wash sheets and blankets weekly in hot water. (Dust mites are killed at temperatures over 130 degrees Fahrenheit).
- Clean air conditioners, humidifiers and dehumidifiers often to prevent mold growth.
- Avoid oscillating or ceiling fans which keep allergens and dust suspended.
- Dust twice weekly with a damp cloth to capture, rather than stir up, allergens.
- Use double vacuum bags and change them regularly. Or choose a vacuum with a HEPA filter to capture allergens.
- Ask guests not to smoke in your home.

The Healthy Office

Do you suspect that the air in your office is the source of your sinus problems? Chances are you're not alone. Here are some questions to ask to promote a healthier workplace.

- Is smoking forbidden or restricted? Promote a smoke-free policy at your office. Or ask your company to establish a separate, ventilated smoking area in a space that can be avoided by nonsmokers.
 - Can you remove sources of pollution? Particleboard furniture, paneling, partitions, glue, solvents, felt-tip markers and even correction fluids can contain formaldehyde and other volatile organic compounds.
 - Is your office breathtakingly clean? Cleaning agents can contain dangerous ingredients. Ask that nontoxic cleaners be used.
- For more tips and the free Allergy Management Kit, call 1-800-Tavist-D (1-800-828-4783).

Loss Puts KHS in Deep Hole

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM - A fast start is any coach's dream. In a nine-game football season, the difference between a 30-0 beginning and a 2-1 or 1-2 start is almost immeasurable.

So it is no wonder that Kewaskum football coach Clark Pearson is feeling a little nervous these days, after his team committed numerous mistakes in a 21-0 loss at Sheboygan Falls. With hopes of a playoff berth looming before the season began, the Indians' 1-2 record thus far has Pearson reeling.

"It certainly does," Pearson responded when asked if last week's loss put the team in a bit of a hole. "We just have to really improve our level of play now."

Conference champions and sole runners-up automatically qualify for the WIAA playoffs in October. If more than one team finishes in a tie for second place in a conference, several determining factors are used to pick which go to the playoffs.

The Indians have finished tied for second place in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference the past two years. In 1993, KHS ended up 4-2 and won a coin flip that was used to determine the conference's second representative in the playoffs.

The WIAA, however, chose to bypass the Indians and the EW, which turned out to be one of a handful of conferences that had just one team represented in the playoffs.

In 1994, the Indians again finished 4-2 in the EW, but lost the coin flip used to determine the second playoff team.

In order to avoid another probable coin flip, and possible rejection by the WIAA, the Indians can not afford to lose another contest in conference action this season, according to Pearson.

"Probably not," he said. "The past two years we've lost two games in the conference and haven't been able to go to the playoffs."

Further complicating the KHS hopes is that it still has to face two of the top teams, and perennial powerhouses, in Plymouth and Two Rivers, in back-to-back games on September 29 (away) and October 7 (home).

"Those two look real good again," Pearson admitted. "Our kids are just going to have to pick it up a little bit."

Pearson noted that his team has had a habit of performing well in practice during the week, but then making mistakes come game time. And while he likes to see that intensity during practice, he wishes it would be sustained during the games.

"They are working real hard in practice," he said, "but it seems like we get into the games and that's when we make the mistakes."

"We practice well, but we haven't been able to carry it over into the games yet."

Day Football Begins Saturday

By Statesman Sports Writer

KEWASKUM -- It may or may not be permanent, but the Kewaskum varsity football team will play its first home day game this Saturday afternoon against Chilton.

The time and location will have changed, but the opponent's tendencies likely will have not. Once again, the Tigers find themselves in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference's lower echelon, and should provide the Indians the opportunity to christen their new field, adjacent to the high school, with a victory.

"They are not as strong as the teams we've played to this point," KHS coach Clark Pearson noted, although adding his 1-2 squad can not take anything for granted. "If we keep playing like we have been, giving the ball away and not sustaining drives, everybody's going to give us trouble."

The new field may give both teams a little trouble with its landscape. A severe crown on the turf, making the middle of the field much higher than the sideline areas, may take a period of adjustment before teams can become familiar with it.

The Indians have not even been able to get a feel for their new home turf, as maintenance workers have been trying to keep the field clear in order to allow the grass to grow. Thus, Pearson and the Indians will not step on to the field for the first time until the end of this week. Not exactly the kind of home field advantage that a coach would like.

"It'll be like playing on a strange field," Pearson said, even though teams in past years have practiced on the same field daily.

Saturday's game begins at 1 p.m.

More Tags for Goose Hunters

Horicon goose hunters will be happy to hear that the number of tags issued to each hunter will be at least five and that over 50% will receive a sixth tag.

Last year most hunters received only three tags and the daily bag was, one goose per day in the Horicon Zone. This year hunters will be able to take two Canada Geese per day.

The increase is due to the fact that fewer hunters applied this year, and also the quota for the Wisconsin harvest was increased. The tags are being mailed out from Madison beginning this week, with hunters in Period One receiving their permits first. The Period One hunters will begin hunting on September 23.

The duck season in Wisconsin will open at noon on Saturday, September 30th and run through Sunday, October 8th, and then reopen on Tuesday, October 17, and run through Sunday, November 26th. This makes for a 50 day duck season which we have not seen for quite a few years.

The Exterior Goose Zone will open on September 23rd, with a daily bag of one Canada Goose per day through October 8th and two geese per day after that, for the balance of the season.

Overall, the waterfowl seasons this year will provide greater hunting opportunity for all hunters.

One last reminder, Hunters Choice applications must be post marked by September 20th, and remember next year the due date will be July 20th. If you have any other questions feel free to contact me.

Parents Should Limit the Amount Of Fruit Juices They Give Their Kids

During the warm summer months, it may seem that your children are asking for a cold drink every few minutes. Many parents think if they stock the refrigerator with 100-percent juices like apple or grape juice, they're providing their children with wholesome drinks.

However, a University of Wisconsin-Extension nutrition specialist says large amounts of juice - even pure fruit juices -- could lead to an unbalanced diet because your child won't be hungry enough to get all the necessary nutrients available in other foods.

"It's true that fruit juice is more nutritious than fruit drinks fortified with vitamin C, which may contain as little as 5 to 10 percent fruit juice. Aside from vitamin C, orange juice provides iron and fiber, and tomato juice has vitamin A and lycopene, a substance that may help resist cancer," says Karen Kedrowski.

But Kedrowski said parents most often give their children apple, grape and pear juices, which have few vitamins and nutrients, compared with more nutrient-dense orange and vegetable juices.

One study found that children from middle-class families who were below average weight and height also drank large amounts of juice, diminishing their appetites and preventing them from eating enough solid foods to get the nutrients they needed.

Nutrition experts limited the amount of juice the children drank to a half a cup and totally eliminated apple juice from the diets of the children who had diarrhea. Some children are unable to absorb the sugars sorbitol and fructose found in fruit juice. The non-absorbable sugars ferment in the intestines, causing gas, bloating and diarrhea.

"Both fruit and vegetable juices can help children and adults reach the Food Guide Pyramid's recommended five to nine daily servings of fruits and vegetables," Kedrowski said. "But from a nutritional standpoint, it's important that children drink juices in moderation."

She recommends no more than one-half to one cup of juice daily for pre-schoolers and three-quarter cup to one and a half cups daily for school-aged children.

But Kedrowski added it is especially important to get enough fluids in summer because children are more physically active and the weather is hotter.

One of the best fluid sources is water. She also recommended low-fat or skim milk -- which provides calcium, vitamins A and D and riboflavin -- for children over age 2. Babies under 12 months of age should drink breast milk or infant formula. Children between the ages of 1 and 2 need the extra fat contained in whole milk.

Juice drinks, which say on the label how much real fruit juice they contain, and other soft drinks should only be allowed if they do not replace more nutritious foods, such as milk.

For more information on nutrition issues affecting the entire family, contact Joyce Albrecht at the Washington County UW-Extension office, 335-4479.

Dealing With Lactose Intolerance

(NAPS)—Fifty million American adults needlessly give up the dairy products their bodies require for long-term health in a misinformed attempt to deal with a disorder called lactose intolerance.

Their bodies lack enough of the enzyme, lactase, which helps digest lactose—the natural sugar found in milk. Symptoms may include gas, bloating, cramps and diarrhea after eating dairy products.

"Lactose intolerance is best diagnosed by a physician," says Associated Milk Producers, Inc.

(AMPI). "It is managed by changing how you consume dairy foods, not by giving them up."

"In fact, when you stop eating dairy foods, you forego the best and most efficient sources of calcium and vitamin D," AMPI adds. "These are the nutrients that build bones and help prevent bone-destroying osteoporosis, as you grow older."

"One eight-ounce serving of milk provides as much calcium as 15 slices of bread or five oranges. Milk group foods provide about 75 percent of the calcium in the American food supply." If a physician determines that you are lactose intolerant, AMPI offers these suggestions to help you manage the disorder and still obtain the levels of calcium and vitamin D you need for good health:

- Always consume dairy products along with other food;
- Consume smaller, but more frequent, servings of dairy products and other foods containing lactose;
- Whole or chocolate milk is often better tolerated than lowfat milk;
- Eat yogurt containing active cultures; look for the term, "active cultures" on the label;
- Eat aged, hard cheeses, such as Swiss, cheddar and parmesan;
- Try lactose-reduced and lactose-free dairy products;
- Lactase enzyme preparations are available at the pharmacy for people who tolerate only small amounts of lactose.

For a free brochure about lactose intolerance, call Associated Milk Producers at 1-800-332-4790.

Champions Repeat at Hon-E-Kor

"Good golfers are born, not made." The proof of that pudding can be found in the mother-son duo shown above. Mom Debbie Timblin, left, of Kewaskum was runner-up in the Women's Championship Flight, losing to "Cornie" Kauth in sudden death. Son Shaun Timblin won the Junior Badger division. We heard a rumor that golfing Dad Tom even did the caddying for Shaun, but then who caddied for Debbie?

By Statesman Staff Writer

KEWASKUM - Planners recently made the stretches of roadway leading to and from Kewaskum a little wider for traffic expected to come from both the north and south.

Hopefully there will be an influx of quality golfers to challenge several Hon-E-Kor Country Club members that have established footholds on the club championship trophies.

For the second straight year, Craig Anderson walked away with the men's club championship, even though a new format was used this year. Instead of the usual match play format, golfers competing in the men's championship flight this year kept track of total strokes instead of holes won.

It didn't matter for Anderson, though, as he came away with a 219 total for his 54 holes of play, easily outdistancing runners-up Joe Doherty and Mike O'Connor Jr. (224).

Anderson was tied for second place after Sunday's first 27 holes. His total of 114 left him a stroke behind first-day leader Jim Rohlinger, and tied with Clark Pearson, O'Connor and Doherty.

An opening 33 on his first nine holes Monday morning, however, put Anderson ahead to stay.

In the women's competition, once again it was "Cornie" Kauth coming away victorious. It was Kauth's fifth straight club championship, but she had to work extra for this title.

After faltering a bit on the final hole of her match with Debbie Timblin, Kauth needed a 19th hole in order to outlast her foe.

Those winning championships in other flights and divisions are as follows:
FLIGHT 1 - George Billows
FLIGHT 2 - Bob Liebetau
FLIGHT 3 - Brian Dreher
FLIGHT 4 - Brian Dreher
MEN'S SENIORS - Tom Neal
MEN'S SENIOR VETER-

ANS - Frank DeFendl
JUNIOR BADGER - Shaun Timblin

Make a Satisfying Simple Salad

by Judy Murray

(NAPS)—Looking for a satisfying healthy, light salad—that's also simple to make? That's not too much to ask for if you use your microwave to make it.

A growing number of cooks appreciate the speed, ease and accuracy of microwave cooking. This Easy Chicken Salad recipe uses crispy celery, green onions and slivered almonds to add texture to a tasty salad, which is put together in a matter of minutes with a microwave.

EASY CHICKEN SALAD

2 whole chicken breasts, skinned, split and boned (about 1 and 1/2 to 2 pounds) OR 4 cups cooked chicken

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1/2 cup thinly sliced celery

1/4 cup thinly sliced green onions

1/3 to 1/2 cup mayonnaise

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1/2 teaspoon seasoning salt

1/4 cup toasted slivered almonds, optional

Place chicken breasts, thicker edges to the outside, in large pie plate. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Cover with wax paper and microwave on High power 11 to 14 minutes, turning over at half time.

Stand covered, 2 to 3 minutes.

Stir together mayonnaise, lemon juice and seasoning salt. Cut chicken into chunks and place in bowl with celery and green onions. Add mayonnaise mixture and mix well. Sprinkle with slivered almonds if desired.

Second-Half Miscues Cost Indians Games Against Falls

By Statesman Sports Writer

SHEBOYGAN FALLS -- Against weaker competition, it is possible to make a few mistakes in a football game and still come away victorious.

Playing a team such as Sheboygan Falls, however, such luxuries do not exist.

The Kewaskum Indians found that out the hard way last Friday night, as they committed several miscues in the second half of their game with the Falcons, and paid for it by handing the hosts a 21-0 victory.

The loss, KHS' second in a row, dropped them to 1-2 on the year, and 0-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

It was a tough way to get the conference schedule started, as KHS coach Clark Pearson reflected on a key holding call and a couple of fumbles that turned the contest in the Falcons' favor.

"It could have been a different ballgame," Pearson said of the mistakes that plagued his squad. "The game was a lot closer than the score indicated."

Indeed it was, as neither team was able to get on the board in the first half. Both defenses stiffened when they needed to, and things remained scoreless heading into the final two quarters.

The Indians received the kickoff in the second half, and promptly made their bid to forge ahead in the contest. A screen pass from quarterback Brian Butschlick to halfback Ryan Herman netted a 30-yard gain, and KHS was in business in Falls' territory.

The drive made it all the way to the Sheboygan Falls two-yard-line, where KHS faced an important third-and-goal play. A holding call against the Indians on the play moved them back beyond the 15-yard-line, all but killing the drive.

"That was a real key play," said Pearson. "If we would have scored there, the momentum would have been on our side. That (holding call) just changed the complexion of the whole game."

Instead of a short-yardage try at a touchdown, the Indians instead face a third-and-long, on which they committed another penalty. KHS still had an opportunity to put some points on the board, but Luke Chesak's 41-yard field goal attempt was off the mark.

The Indians defense held true to form, stuffing the Falcons after the hosts had moved the chains for one first down. The Indians had the ball back after a punt, starting on their own 27-yard-line.

A sack on the first play moved KHS back to its own 20, and on the next play, fullback Aaron Kurth fumbled on a run up the middle, and Sheboygan Falls recovered.

Six plays later, Falcon quarterback Chris Korff sneaked into the end zone from one yard out on a fourth-and-goal try, putting the hosts on top. Dave Wolff's extra point made it 7-0, Falcons.

On the ensuing possession, Herman fumbled on the first play, allowing Sheboygan Falls to set up shop inside the KHS 30-yard-line. This time it took eight plays before Korff once again found the end zone, this time on a scramble from six yards out. Wolff once again converted the point after, and KHS found itself down 14-0 minutes into the fourth quarter.

"Those fumbles just killed us," Pearson said. "You just can't fumble down there (deep in your own territory) against a good football team like that."

A demoralized Indians offensive unit went three plays and out, punting the ball back to the Falcons. From there, the hosts ran right over a tired KHS defense, using just six plays before Justin Gigstad scored on a one-yard plunge to seal things.

"They ran through us pretty good on that last drive," Pearson said. "We were pretty demoralized after those two fumbles led to the touchdowns. We had a definite defensive letdown at that stage."

After holding Falls' offense to minimal yardage in the opening half, the Indians defensive unit finished the contest allowing a total of 240 yards, including 216 on the ground.

The Indian offense, meanwhile, accounted for just 107 total yards. A big weakness came in the rush offense, where the team picked up just 35 net yards in 33 carries.

ries. "Our offensive line is simply not holding their blocks," Pearson said. "Our line play has to improve."

Pearson noted that the line lost starting tackle Jason Schmidt for the rest of the year after the three-year starter suffered a broken ankle in the game against Horicon the previous week. With Schmidt out, and center Nathan Scheel just getting back into the lineup after he was injured, the KHS line has already undergone its share of changes.

"We've made some changes, but we still have to do a better job of blocking," Pearson pointed out.

The KHS coach complimented linebacker Joe Rettler for another fine showing on defense. Pearson also cited cornerbacks Jim Kopecky and Jim Westerman.

"We had a fine team defensive effort of three quarters," Pearson noted.

"We held them to very little yardage."
