St. Michael's Church Celebrating 150th Anniversary

A modern St. Michael's Church was built after a fire destroyed the old field-stone version in 1971.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

St. Michael's Catholic Church will be celebrating their historic 150 year anniversary in 1996, making it's parish one of the oldest found in Washington County.

Current pastor, Father Roger Zens, has painstakingly compiled a detailed history of it's existence, and most of this story is the work of his research and dedication to St. Michaels.

The congregation of St. Michael's Church was founded very shortly after the first settlers arrived in the area, and records from the Archdiocese of Milwaukee indicate that it was incorporated on October 6th, 1846. The pastor of St. Lawrence Church, Father Schraudenbach, would travel the 25 miles between parishes to minister to the members of St. Michaels, which was one of several mission churches in the area at that time. He served them all, and it is presumed the first Sacramental records of St. Michaels were kept at St. Lawrence, at least for the first eight years.

The first baptism was recorded in St. Michael's own Baptismal Register on March 8, 1855. Difficulty in reading the old records is due to the fact many are worn and faded, most are written in Latin using old German script, and, as Father Zens states, "worse, the handwriting of some of the priests reminds one of a doctor's prescription. Father Caspar Rehrl had the worst handwriting of all the priests in the first 75 years of the parish's existence."

The founding families of the congregation left their homes in Prussia Germany in 1846, to avoid religious persecution, to seek better opportunities for their lives. They sailed across the Atlantic Ocean on the ship "Clinton," and arrived in the port of New York 52 days later. Hearing about the frontiers of America (which was then the midwest), they decided to seek out an area conducive to farming, which was their accustomed livelihood.

Names such as Rodenkirch, Thull, Herriges, Theusch, Hammes, Laubach, Klunke, Keller and Schneider, are still familiar to this day, and between them, they purchased several thousand acres of land in what is now the Town of Farmington in September of 1846. One of the settlers, the well known Michael Rodenkirch, was anxious to start a church, and pushed the bishop of the Diocese of Milwaukee to establish one. Until that time, church services were held in his home, and Father Schraudenbach came to offer Mass to these people once a month.

Through Rodenkirch's urgings, a small log church was erected on the property of Theodore Thull in 1847, for less than $25. It was built by Hubert Herriges, and other records indicate that a log school building was also constructed, but whether this became an actual parish school or just a place to teach religion is very uncertain.

The parishioners decided to name the parish St. Michael, in

School Board Still Awaiting Word from District Attorney

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The Kewaskum School Board is waiting for word from Washington County District Attorney David Resheske, on whether he will take action regarding a possible violation of the state Open Meeting Law.

Board member Ruth Schmitt filed a written complaint with the district attorney's office last week, after a special school board meeting was called Friday, November 3 to approve requesting a one year provisional license for new interim superintendent Charles Johnson.

Schmitt charged that proper notice was not given for a last minute change in agenda items, and was concerned with other procedures followed in the hiring of Johnson. She also indicated that board president Neal Weare may have overstepped his authority when he approved payment of $1,800 in consultant fees to Johnson before his contract with the district was signed.

Another point raised by Schmitt was the fact that the board agreed in closed session to pay

Johnson a flat rate of $300 per day, and when benefits were added to this, she was not consulted. "I was the only one who wasn't contacted," Schmitt stated, after it was verified that all the other members of the board were notified over the phone of this change.

Weare had met with the school board's attorney after the closed session and it was decided at that time, under the attorney's recommendation, to add the benefits. He then proceeded to call all board members, and states he tried to contact Mrs. Schmitt, but was unable to reach her. Schmitt wrote in her complaint to the district attorney, that this was not official notice.

Her charges were backed by board members Ron Beimbom and Karen Sparks, with Sparks indicating that Weare had assured her and others, both publicly and privately, that no honor of Michael Rodenkirch's patron saint, St. Michael, the Archangel. They did this to show their appreciation for his leadership, guidance, and wisdom, since these early pioneers considered Rodenkirch their leader.

Having their own place of worship meant a great deal to these people, whose very survival often depended upon the good will of friends and strangers alike. Stories are told that young couples would leave their infants at the house of Jacob Thull, and cross the road to attend church services. "They would lay them on the beds, and the Thulls often had a house full of babies," Zens states.

By 1853, at least 27 families faithfully attended Sunday Masses, now held by Father Michael Beitter, and it was apparent more room was needed for the growing congregation. In 1855, a new fieldstone church was completed on property donated by Peter Schneider, along with a small school and a two room rectory. It was in this same year that the first parish constitution was accepted, and a parish cemetery was planned on five acres of land near the church building. Construction costs at that time were a staggering $800.

In 1858, the famous Father Caspar Rehrl took over as pastor of St. Michaels, well known for his missionary zeal and founder of over 30 Catholic parishes in central southeastern Wisconsin. He used St. Michaels as his headquarters while working in this part of his territory, until Father John Reindl took over in 1862.

As the congregation continued to grow over the years, a larger, two story fieldstone school was built to accommodate the number of children wanting to enroll, along with a convent to house the staff of teaching nuns who came from St. Joseph's Convent in Milwaukee. In 1884, a new brick church was built, featuring a wooden main altar and two small altars, all handcarved. It was adorned with a 120 foot steeple tower which overlooked the surrounding landscape. The new church could accommodate 250 adults, and would take care of the congregation's needs for many years of growth.

In 1896, Archbishop Frederick Katzer came, and in a special ceremony, made St. Michael's Church structure a "Consecrated Church" on the occasion of the church's Fiftieth Jubilee. In this same year, a new rectory was built, one of which still serves to this day as the parish office and the residence of the parish priest. The planned cemetery was finally added in 1905.

Several different priests served the needs of the church throughout the years, and each added their own personality and tradition to the history of St. Michaels. Serving the congregation the longest was Father Joseph F. Beyer, who arrived in 1911 and remained until 1934.

Elderly parishioners remember Beyer as a legendary figure with "a presence greater than life," a man both loved and feared, and Father Zens states that "old timers claim when he spoke, everyone listened for fear that God might strike them down on the spot if they failed to do so, and if God did not do so, Father Beyer would have his own way of making one feel his wrath."

The late 1960's and early 70's would be a challenging decade for the small country parish. In 1969, St. Michael's grade school was closed down since the School Sisters of St. Francis were no longer staffing small Catholic schools in the area. A second big change came in 1971, during the middle of a snowstorm.

On January 4, 1971, a freak bolt of lightning struck St. Michael's bell tower, a bolt that was said to be so powerful that it jarred villagers out of their beds, broke windows, and knocked out electrical power as well as telephone service. "It seems that the only person not awakened by the lightning bolt and it's crash of thunder was the pastor, Father Bonesho," Father Zens writes.

Once awakened, Father Bonesho rushed to save what he could from the now burning church, rescuing the Blessed Sacrament and a few other items. The Boltonville, Kewaskum, and Fillmore Fire Departments responded, but there was little they could do except prevent the fire from spreading to nearby buildings. St. Michael's church burned to the ground that morning, bringing the congregation to tears.

To raise needed funds above and beyond the insurance money, cream city bricks from the church were sold at 2c apiece, with one buyer purchasing 25,000 bricks at one time. Eventually, enough money was raised to erect a new, modern St. Michael's Church, with the cornerstone being laid October 31, 1971.

Community Worship

The churches of Kewaskum were invited to share in a community worship service on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday, November 22, beginning at 7 p.m.

Sharing in the service are Holy Trinity Catholic, Peace United Church of Christ and Living Waters congregations. The event is being hosted by Holy Trinity, which has the largest seating capacity.

Father John Brophy, Rev. Joseph Brath and Rev. James Bettin will all take part in leading the worship. In addition, there will be lay readers from these churches, and a joint choir from Holy Trinity and Peace Churches will sing, "Praise to the Lord, Alleluia" and "Thank You, Jesus." Worshipers will be greeted by members of the three participating congregations.

A social hour sponsored by the three churches will follow the worship. A warm welcome is extended to everyone to this evening of praise and thanksgiving.

Kewaskum School District Policy For Emergency School Closings

District Administrator Charles B. Johnson has released for publication the current policy to be utilized when school is to be called off.

As in the past years, radio stations WBKV (1470 AM and 92.5 FM West Bend), KFIZ (107 FM and 1450 AM Fond du Lac), WHBL (1330 AM and 97.7 FM Sheboygan), and WTMJ (620 AM Milwaukee) will be used to announce school closings because of bad weather or other emergency situations.

When school is being called off in the morning, the announcement will be on the air as early as possible. When school has begun but weather is bad, or turns bad, it is advised that parents, guardians, and other responsible parties listen to one of the radio stations during the day for possible school closing announcements.

The district is very hesitant about closing school during the day because we are concerned that parents or others may not be home when children arrive. Sometimes, however, this becomes necessary to avoid excessive problems with getting students home on busses at a later time of the day. Every effort will be made to announce school closings during the day at least an hour before we dismiss the students.

It is important to remember that if school has been cancelled it means that all activities for that day and evening will be cancelled and rescheduled as necessary.

Band Christmas Trees on Sale

The members of the Kewaskum High School Bands are once again selling trees for your Christmas delight. The musical tree lot is located in the parking lot of the Kewaskum Mall by the Booster Club van. They will also be selling the Booster Club wreaths.

The Scotch trees are priced at $14.50 and $18.50, depending on size and the Balsam begin at $27.00.

Hours will be 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Setup will begin this Saturday morning and there will be some beautiful trees for you by the afternoon on Saturday, November 18.

The lot will be closed on Thanksgiving Day and will open at 11:30 a.m. on the Friday after Thanksgiving. The lot will close at 4 p.m. on Sunday, December 3, due to the Christmas parade.

Profits made through this fund raiser will go to the students selling trees for their trip to Orlando, Florida in spring of 1997.

St. Michael's School Board

cal paper adds, "With the dedication of the new church, St. Michael's parish would begin a new era. Because the parish no longer had a grade school in operation, a few families would send their children to a Catholic school in the neighboring parishes, however, the vast majority of children would attend public school and the need was critical to form a good religious program. All the pastors since the closing of the grade school devoted considerable time and energy to provide for this religious education of the children."

Father Roger Zens, who is the current pastor of St. Michael's congregation, was first appointed the administrator of the parish on January 31, 1989, and in 1990, he was made pastor of the parish.

St. Michaels is planning a year long celebration, marked with a number of special events to celebrate their 150th anniversary as a parish, starting off with a Polka Mass that was held at the Amerahn Hall in Kewaskum this past October 29th, and culminating toward a very special Mass planned for October 6, 1996, with Archbishop Weakland.

Seven hundred members of the church look forward to the year ahead, and to the future, which promises continued growth for the small country parish whose humble beginnings trace back to the early pioneers, the first settlers of this region.

moneys would be paid to Mr. Johnson until the DPI had officially approved Johnson's position within the district. "My concern is with the legality of the timing of such a payment, regardless of whether the amount is classified as payment to a consultant or to an employee," she stated in a recent letter to board members and Mr. Resheske, speaking as treasurer of the school district.

President Weare has responded to above allegations by claiming the contract did include the provision for payment of the six days Johnson spent with Dr. Heather in October preparing for the transition, and that the consensus of the board at Friday night's meeting showed that board members Jeanne Goeden, Mary Andera, and John Schulte agreed with this claim. Because of this consensus, Weare did not request a vote, although it had been listed as an action item on the agenda.

Johnson was paid as a district consultant, and Ruth Schmitt alleges that this title was not approved by the board at any of their meetings. Mr. Johnson did officially begin working for the district last Wednesday.

As of this printing, Resheske had not yet made a decision regarding the investigation.

Letters to The Editor

November 7, 1995

Dear Editor,

As a taxpayer of the Campbellsport School District, I must say Hurray! for Neal Weare. It is refreshing to read of a public school board member who refused to be intimidated by a mob of teachers and faculty and stuck to his guns to do what is best for the taxpayers and students.

Kewaskum is lucky to have such an informed and dedicated School Board President as Neal Weare. I believe strongly that Neal has the students best interests at heart by voting to hire Mr. Charles Johnson as School Superintendent. If Kewaskum would ever be foolish enough to get rid of Neal Weare, we could sure use him and his guts up in Campbellsport.

Sincerely,
Jim Guell,
Eden, WI

Thanks to the combined efforts of Mrs. Carol Zoerb, (Gifted and Talented Coor.) and Mrs. Peggy Henke, (Elementary Art Teacher) our Gifted and Talented program is starting a new project.

Mrs. Zoerb chooses the students, by how they qualified, from tests they were given. Mrs. Henke then works with these students on the project. OH! by the way, last year, Mrs. Henke won the teachers award from the Wisconsin Association of Gifted and Talented and the Herb Kohl Fellowship Award. What an honor to have such a talented individual, in our district. She will be working with 12-13 students, during this week, and another 12-13 students, after Christmas vacation.

There were more students that qualified, but they could only take so many. Why?

Since this program was started, it was allotted so much money, but thru the years, has never been given an increase in funds.

At one time, they were able to have parent helpers, in each building, due to no increase in funds, they are unable to have helpers. So with no helpers, there isn't enough time for two people, to do as much as they would like to do.

Something else I was made aware of!

One-third of the students, in our district, are gifted and talented in other areas beside art, such as math and science. Due to the small amount of money, given to the program, these students are unable to use their talents creatively.

Seems to me, that a program, such as this, would be something, you would want to give more financial support to. Teaching students to be more creative, in what they do. To help them know, how to take what special talents they have, and be able to make it work, when they are out in the working world.

Lu Ann Potter

P.S. I will let you know, when this project is done, so you can take a look, at what our students can do, with the help of qualified people.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:
To the Kewaskum School District Resident,

At the last few school board meetings it was stated that some of our school board members were members of a group called P.R.E.S.S. P.R.E.S.S. was termed "right wing" and "scary" by a few outspoken community members at these board meetings. I decided to do a little investigating, so on November 11th, I attended the Second Annual Education Conference sponsored by P.R.E.S.S. held in Waukesha.

Let me first say that P.R.E.S.S. stands for: Parents Raising Educational Standards in Schools. I found out that P.R.E.S.S. is made up of parents, grandparents, teachers, school board members, administrators, legislators and other professionals from across the state. What the people seemed to have in common is the desire to raise the academic standards in our schools by using the back to basic methods of teaching (called "tried and true methods" by speaker Robert Sweet, President of the National Right to Read Foundation). So dedicated to these values are the members of P.R.E.S.S. that members traveled from as far as Rhinelander through the snowstorm to attend. Almost all who signed up made it to the conference.

As I talked to some of the members (teachers) they told me they were looking for more direction for raising academic standards in the classroom, while the parents I spoke to seemed to want faculty and administration accountability as to what was being taught and how.

While I didn't leave the conference as an expert on P.R.E.S.S., I did come away with an understanding as to why they are so frustrated with the "dumbing down" of our children's education. We as parents, teachers and administrators can't just have a child feel good about himself by lowering our expectations of him. He needs to challenge our children. It is through this challenge that they will achieve success and build positive self-esteem. P.R.E.S.S. believes this is accomplished through a basic fundamental approach to education. The state of California has just realized this and has thrown

To The District:

It is a pleasure to serve as Kewaskum's interim Superintendent of Schools. We wish to thank the District and the School Board for this opportunity. The hope is that with time the decision will prove correct and beneficial to the District.

In the short time here, one is already impressed, even proud, of your children and the professionals within the Schools who work with them on a daily basis. Your children, our students, are worthy of our every effort to further their development and well being.

Sometimes, what becomes valuable begins with a simple act in faith and a willingness to commit without promise of reciprocation. We commit, and look forward to the period ahead with confidence. A confidence that comes from an intention to do good, to serve well, to act responsibly.

Please accept our gratitude and sincere best wishes.

Always,

out the whole language approach to reading (after 10 years of rapidly declining reading scores and dismal test results) and are returning to the basic phonics and direct instruction approach.

A retired administrator once told me that there aren't any bad teachers, just bad administrators who don't evaluate and motivate teachers to make them better. Speaker Charles Sykes from WTMJ radio promoted the idea of merit pay for good teachers. He emphasized that merit pay would reward the teachers who are doing outstanding work (as most of our teachers are doing) and that the end result would be a level of excellence in the education our children receive.

Most of all, P.R.E.S.S. is telling parents to get involved in the schools. While we are asking for more accountability from the schools, we too, as parents must take more responsibility for our children's actions while in school. Discipline problems hinder not only the teachers' effectiveness in the classroom, but other students' education as well. Become aware of your child's work. Use common sense and ask yourself some questions. Is my child's spelling being corrected in a writing assignment no matter what the subject? Is my child learning to read by sounding out the word and following the rules of our language?

You may hear that P.R.E.S.S. was "teacher bashing" when in fact, P.R.E.S.S. is calling for an accountability that is a wake up call to the qualified and competent teachers to stand up for what they know is right and put an end to the "touchy feel-good" watered down education that has swept through our nation.

Parents and grandparents have a lot at stake in the future generation. They are going to be our bankers, bakers, future leaders, etc. in a very competitive world market.

Sincerely,
Jeanne Goeden

P.S. As I patronize some of the local businesses, you the good people of our community have given me many supportive comments. Thanks to those of you who have expressed their gratitude to me for having the courage to hire Charles Johnson to lead our district.

County Forests - Opportunities for Deer Hunters

Anticipation is rising among the 650,000 gun deer hunters who will take to the woods for the 1995 Wisconsin white-tail deer season. All are hoping for good tracking snow and a successful nine-day hunt. However, with more and more "No Trespassing" signs popping up every year, some are just hoping to find a place to hunt. The following information may be helpful.

Wisconsin's County Forests comprise more than 2.3 million acres of public lands, most open to gun deer hunting.

The 28 county forests are a Wisconsin invention dating from the days of the Great Depression when much cut over land was simply abandoned. Today these highly productive forests stretch from Lake Superior to as far south as Monroe and Juneau counties. Virtually every acre is quality deer range.

Charles Fleischman, who manages 42,000 acres in Oconto County as their forest administrator, surveyed his colleagues across the state. Based on this information, he thinks chances of bringing home a trophy or a supply of venison is better if you hunt these public lands.

"It appears that hunter success rates in the County Forests, on a square mile basis, are somewhat higher than the state average. The objectives of County Forests are to provide for a renewable timber resource, protect ground and surface waters, enhance wildlife habitat, and afford public recreation. These forests are not static. We create openings; we are constantly renewing our forests. This provides the forest edges and openings and abundant food supply needed by white-tail deer. To the extent that antler development is related to diet and age, it would seem that the chance for getting a really nice buck is a bit better in these locally managed forests than in the state's deer range as a whole."

Fleischman points out that some of the northern county forests have less hunting pressure -- anywhere from 15% to as much as 50% less. "In counties like Bayfield, Ashland, Douglas, Price and Oneida -- what people like to call 'Up North' -- the chances of taking a mature buck from County Forest land is much better. These are big bodied animals with antler development to match."

Fleischman says hunters should study information put out by the Wisconsin DNR to locate deer management units with a smaller number of Hunter Choice permits. "The less Hunter Choice permits, the less hunter pressure," he asserts.

For the deer hunter who tries a County Forest for the first time, Fleischman offers this advice. "As a general rule, we do not permit permanent tree stands. Also, we do not allow damage to trees -- no nails, no wire, no twist-in climbers. We are producing renewable natural resources, which also creates excellent conditions for white-tail deer. The trees and the land base belong to county residents; they expect these resources to be treated with respect.

There are also rules regarding access to the County Forest -- some roads will be gated and some will be blocked by earth berms. "Some hunters may be unhappy with this," Fleischman says, "but, it's a boon for the hunter who is looking for a more natural, quality hunt."

Counties have special provisions for the handicapped hunter. To learn about these special areas and other rules and regulations specific to each county forest, it is necessary to check with the County Forest Administrator.

Secret to Successful Holiday Turkey is Safe, Simple Cooking

Each year, new recipes and techniques come out that promise a great holiday turkey with minimal effort. But a University of Wisconsin-Extension food safety specialist says some guidelines on handling, cooking and serving turkey are important in order to avoid foodborne illness.

"Salmonella may not be quite as common in turkey as it is in chicken, but all raw meat, fish and poultry carry harmful bacteria that can lead to illness," said Joyce Albrecht, Family Living Agent, UW-Extension.

"Some important points to keep in mind include washing all surfaces that come in contact with raw poultry, thawing the bird safely, roasting the bird in one continual cooking period and checking internal temperatures of the bird with a meat thermometer before serving."

Albrecht said an easy way to clean countertops and utensils used on raw poultry is by washing with hot, soapy water, then rinsing with a bleach solution of one teaspoon bleach to one quart of water. Or, you can use anti-bacterial soap. Also, if you store raw poultry in the refrigerator, place it on a tray so juices don't drop onto and contaminate other foods.

While you may have seen a turkey defrosting on a countertop at room temperature, Albrecht said that method promotes the growth of harmful bacteria. Instead, she said you can defrost it in the refrigerator. A faster way is thawing in a sink full of cold water. Figure a half an hour of thawing time for every pound of turkey. Change the water frequently to make sure it stays cold.

If you are serving a fresh turkey, store it in the coldest part of your refrigerator. Fresh turkeys can be stored only a day or two before roasting. If you don't plan to cook it within 48 hours, freeze the bird as soon as you bring it home.

"Remember, the safest way to cook stuffing is in a casserole outside the turkey," Albrecht said. "However, if you prefer stuffing the turkey, do it immediately before you are ready to cook. Also, make sure the stuffing reaches an internal temperature of 165 degrees F. If you buy a pre-stuffed bird, follow the directions for roasting carefully. Most suggest you roast the turkey without thawing it.

If you plan to grill your turkey, make sure the coals are hot enough. Turkeys need a heat source of around 325 degrees F. The best way to grill a turkey is using indirect heat. Spread hot coals in a ring around the outer parts of the grill, with a drip pan in the middle directly under the turkey.

No matter how you cook your turkey, use a meat thermometer. Insert the thermometer into the thigh muscle between the thigh and the body of the bird and roast to 180 degrees F. In the thickest part of the breast, the temperature should be at 170 degrees F. when completely cooked.

Weight 8 to 12 pounds - 2 3/4 to 3 hours (unstuffed), 3 to 3 1/2 hours (stuffed); 12 to 14 pounds - 3 to 3 3/4 hours

To figure cooking time, allow 15-20 minutes per pound of turkey at 325 degrees F. However, if you are using a foil wrap or cooking bag, cooking time could be significantly less.

After serving your turkey dinner, leftovers should be taken off the bone and quick-chilled by spreading the meat in shallow containers in the refrigerator until cold. Or, freeze leftovers immediately. Leftovers should be eaten within three to four days. Gravy and meat broth leftovers last one to two days.

A BIRTHDAY MEMORY

In memory of my husband, our father, grandpa, and great-grandpa, ROBERT F. GAVIN, on his birthday, November 15th.

We hold in our tears when we speak your name. But the ache in our hearts remains the same.

No one knows the sorrow that we share.

When our families meet and you're not there.

Nothing will ever be more beautiful than the memories that are of you.

To all of us you were some one very special.

God must have thought so, too.

Sadly missed by wife Joyce, and family.

Kewaskum T-Ball Teams

Our sincere apologies to all the little area T-ball participants, their parents, and their coaches for not having the chance to run these photos sooner. With all the school news occurring, letters, and the massive amount of other news that has seemed to accumulate in our office, space for running seven pictures on one page has been at a premium. Now with the holidays fast approaching, we have made a decision to run two of the photos each week. We sincerely hope this meets with everyone's approval. Shown above is our first T-ball team (submitted without a name). Pictured are, front row, left to right: Thomas Paulus, Amanda Calliari, Kimberly LaDuke, Ashleigh Heintz, Matthew Ratzel, and Randy Hestekin. Back row: Nicole Aublitz, Coach Greg Gutjahr, Kathryn Clement, Marcus Belger, Kayla Pierce, Ben Johnson, Bryan Sabel, Jeffrey Paulus, Michael Gutjahr and Coach Jeff Paulus. Missing: Bridget Dreher and Coach Alan Ratzel.

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Mid-Monthly Meeting
October 16, 1995
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Mid-Monthly Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert Wagner presided. All Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee William Kulas, seconded by Trustee John Borland and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the October 2, 1995 meeting were approved as printed.

Assistant Fire Chief Mark Herriges, September 1995 monthly report: Fire calls - 0, Year to date - 21; Jaws of life - 2, Year to date - 24; Rescue calls - 15.

Chief of Police Richard L. Knoebel, September 1995 monthly report: Criminal arrests - 31, Criminal investigations - 54; Traffic warnings - 161, Traffic citations - 64; Adult arrests - 11, Juvenile arrests - 17; Property stolen - $1,954, Property recovered - $1,000; Parking warnings - 26, Parking tags - 9.

Director of Public Works, Jerry Gilles informed the Board that leaf pick-ups were being scheduled with the first being October 24, 1995.

On a motion by Trustee William Kulas, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the issuance of Operators Licenses upon proper payment of fees and documentation for the following:

Nass, Pam, Kewaskum, WI.
Hanrahan, Patrick, Kewaskum, WI.

Klahn, Jean M., Kewaskum, WI.

Note: The Police Department had no objections to any of the applications.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed the following with the board:

- 1) Review of Taxpayer and League bulletins.
- 2) Review of the Budget Control sheet for September 30, 1995.
- 3) Review of the building permits for September, 1995.
- 4) 1995/96 Election update.
- 5) Review of correspondence.

Chairman of the Public Works Committee, Trustee William Kulas reviewed briefly with the Board the review of the Department of Public Works Budget proposal for 1996. Discussion on the departmental budget and general budget discussion will take place under new business.

Board Representative for the Plan Commission, Trustee David Goeden announced a Commission Meeting scheduled for October 31, 1995 at 7:00 p.m.

Board Representative for the Mid-Moraine Municipal Association, Legislative Committee, Trustee Robert Stoltzmann reported that the Committee met and has recommended support for opposition to AB 290. It was also noted the next meeting was scheduled for January 10, 1996.

The Village Board reviewed the final adjustments made to the proposed Fire Department budget for 1996. On a motion by Trustee Harry Roecker, seconded by Trustee John Borland and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized sending the tentative dollar amounts and contracts for fire protection service to the Town of Kewaskum and the Town of Auburn as proposed.

On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the signing of the lease with the Fox Valley & Western LTD for an extension of the Municipal Building Parking lot and Main Street parking. The cost of said lease for 95/96 is $410.53. On a motion by Trustee John Borland, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized sending a letter to the State Trust Fund requesting the possible borrowing of funds for the purchase of a new tank truck for the Fire Department estimated to cost between $80,000 to $90,000. The request will be for $90,000.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed again the variety of categories within the Public Works Department's budget. Overall the department's budget is down in both general and outlay compared to 1995.

The budget in general was discussed for 1996. It was noted that the Village had substantial growth again reducing state revenues. If only the real growth was considered the Village could generate additional funds in the levy while keeping the tax rate at a zero percent increase. This would still indicate some property tax payers would realize increases because of their property values increasing due to the reassessment which was mandated. They will be decreasing by $173,577 or down by 10.4%.

On a motion by Trustee William Kulas, seconded by Trustee John Borland and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board scheduled the budget public hearing for November 27, 1995 at 7:00 p.m. The other departmental budgets as proposed for 1996 will also be heard at public hearing this same evening.

On a motion by Trustee John Borland, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the snowmobile route within the Village of Kewaskum for 95/96.

On a motion by Trustee David Goeden, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85(1) (c) of the statutes to consider employment, compensation and performance of public employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent."

It has been brought to our attention that the students mentioned in Jaime Schmitt's article on the Hooded Sweatshirt Issue in last week's paper were charged with disorderly conduct and suspended for refusing to go back to class, after they had been asked to do so, NOT for wearing the hooded sweatshirts as the article seems to insinuate.

Following Basic Rules Helps Ensure Safe Hunt

MADISON -- State hunter education specialists say virtually all firearm accidents could be prevented if hunters follow the three main rules of gun safety and expect every hunter in their group to do the same:

*Treat every gun as if it were loaded -- and constantly check to be sure whether guns are unloaded or not. Every year, people are shot with firearms that were assumed to be unloaded.

* Always be sure the muzzle is pointed in a safe direction, and remember that shot can easily penetrate brush and bullets can go through walls and vehicles.

*Be positive of what your target is and what is beyond it. If you're not sure, don't shoot. Never shoot unless there is a safe backstop behind your target.

TREE STANDS CAUSE OF MANY ACCIDENTS

A considerable number of accidents each year are related to hunters using elevated tree stands. Hunters who plan to hunt from tree stands should follow additional safety measures that can help prevent tree stand accidents.

*Make sure homemade stands are substantial and made of sound lumber. If using a commercially-made stand, make sure all nuts and bolts are tight.

*Choose a tree that is truly vertical or one that leans slightly away from the direction the hunter will be facing. Hunters who sit upright or lean back a little in stands are less likely to fall.

*Make sure a stand is secure and put weight on it gradually.

*Use a hauling line for raising and lowering equipment. Guns must be unloaded and arrows in a covered quiver.

*Always use a strong safety strap or line attached from the hunter to the tree itself.

*Stay alert and stay awake.

What is School-To-Work?

Wisconsin's new School-to-Work educational initiative combines career exploration with school based and work based learning. School-To-Work allows students to connect the traditional classroom with the real world of work.

Under the banner Skills for the Future, the Wisconsin initiative is a partnership involving students, parents, educators, employers and local state and federal governments. School-to-Work has three components - career exploration, school based learning, and work based learning.

The world that today's young people are growing up in is more technological, computerized, customized and internationally competitive than ever before. A strong academic and technical foundation will be necessary to survive in an ever changing workplace. The best jobs will go to those who are well educated and highly skilled. School-to-Work prepares students for a job, technical college of a four year college or university.

How will students benefit from School-to-Work?

- They will develop stronger academic and technical skills.
- They will recognize the need for math, science and communication skills in the technological world of work.

- They will develop good work habits, problem solving, leadership, communication, critical thinking and teamwork skills.

- They will be exposed to work based "classrooms" and learning.

- Their parents will be more actively involved in their career exploration and development.

- They will be well educated and highly skilled for the job market.

How are the Kewaskum Schools involved?

The School District of Kewaskum is part of the Washington County consortium including the West Bend, Germantown, Hartford, and Slinger schools. These districts received a grant of $115,000 and are working cooperatively to educate businesses, parents, teachers, counselors, students and local communities about this important initiative. The Kewaskum Schools must match the "in-kind" contribution for its share of the consortium grant, according to George Allman, the local School-To-Work coordinator.

We are on the road, trying to avoid the bumps and potholes, to offering our young people new options for their futures. Options that will make them more employable and more successful in the world of work.

Two-Day Parent Education Workshop

The Youth and Family Project will be hosting a two-day parent education workshop titled, "Who's In Charge At Your House?"

This informative series will be discussing 1-2-3 Magic - a program which provides easy-to-follow steps for disciplining children, ages 2 to 12.

Please join us on November 22 and November 29, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at Fifth Avenue Methodist Church. We will preview the 1-2-3 Magic video and have a group discussion the first week and Dan Laurent, MS, Director of The Youth and Family Project will join us on November 29, to further our discussion of the 1-2-3 Magic concept.

Gun Deer Season Opens Nov. 18

The 1995 deer gun season will begin on November 18. This year's hunt is forecasted as one of the best ever. With over 577,000 hunters through permits available throughout the state, this year's harvest should approach the 300,000 total deer harvested.

This is, of course, dependent upon the weather we have on opening weekend, for most of the deer taken, are taken on the first two days of the season.

Now that I have predicted a really good deer gun season for the area, let's consider some of the problems when expectations are high. Often times, when the deer season forecast is excellent, hunters expect to be successful.

Hunters expect that everyone should get a deer and actually put more pressure on themselves than in a normal season. Even more pressure is on the hunter who may have purchased an extra deer tag or maybe two of them, to fill these tags.

Remember, not all the tags issued are going to be filled. In fact, less than 50% of the bonus deer tags will be filled by hunters.

High expectations and pressure to fill tags can lead to unsafe hunting practices. An over-anxious hunter can be a dangerous hunter, to himself and to others.

Be sure to remember the three rules of safe gun handling and safe hunting this deer season: Treat every gun as if it were loaded; always point the muzzle in a safe direction, and be SURE of your target and beyond.

The final rule, being sure of your target and beyond, is one of the most important, especially in a year of high expectations among hunters. Before you shoot, be sure it is a safe shot. If not, DO NOT TAKE IT!

No one goes into the deer season thinking about being involved in a hunting accident, but they do happen every year to someone who thought it couldn't happen to them.

Finally, show respect to other hunters, to private property owners, and to the game you are hunting.

Let's make it a safe season we can be proud of!

Deer Hunting is Boost to Economy

"Bow deer hunting is underway in Wisconsin, and opening day for gun season is this weekend. Hunting in Wisconsin is not only a traditional and cultural activity, it has an impressive economic impact," said Lt. Gov. Scott McCallum on his weekly radio program, "Insight on Small Business."

McCallum's guest this week was Kevin Wallenfang with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

"In a typical year we get about 670,000 gun hunters during the nine-day gun season. About 30,000 of those will be non-residents. Most of the out-of-staters come from Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan, but we really draw them in from all over the country," said Wallenfang.

The economic impact of deer season is impressive according to McCallum.

"That's right," agreed Wallenfang. "If we were to put the economic impact of deer hunting in terms of total sales as if all of our deer hunters spent all their money at one business, that business would rank in the top 15 of the most profitable companies in the state. We estimate each hunter spends an average of $380 during a hunting trip."

"That amounts to a big economic boost. For instance, we see about $23 million dollars just in license sales, and $255 million spent on lodging, gas and food. When you total up everything, hunting accounts for nearly $500 million a year to the economy in Wisconsin," said Wallenfang.

The deer herd in Wisconsin this year is estimated at 1.5 million. Wallenfang says that's the largest herd count in the state since modern management techniques have been used to track deer. He says they'd like to see 450,000 deer harvested this season.

Respect Landowners' Rights

Rural landowners have property rights that hunters must respect. Here are some tips that can help hunters get along with landowners:

- Whether private land is posted or not, you are trespassing if you enter the land without written or verbal permission.
- You can't obtain permission to enter private land "second-hand" from another hunter. You must contact the landowner yourself.
- Don't wait until the last minute to get permission to hunt on private land. Pounding on the landowner's door at 5:00 a.m. opening day is not the way to make a positive first impression.
- When asking permission, be specific about what kind of hunting you want to do. Some owners have preferences.
- Specify the maximum number of people who might hunt with you. Some landowners welcome hunting parties of two or three, but larger groups.
- Write down your name, address, telephone number, and vehicle description and license number for the landowner.
- Before hunting, have the landowner describe the extent of the property and the location of the property lines. Stay on the land you actually have permission to hunt.
- Ask the landowner where and how far you can drive on the land. Do not tear up trails or farm roads with 4-wheel-drives. When in doubt, walk.
- Stay away from farm animals and don't shoot near them.
- Under Wisconsin law, it is illegal to shoot within 100 yards of a building devoted to human occupancy without permission of the owner or occupant. To be on the safe side, don't shoot or carry loaded guns near any building.
- Shooting at bottles, cans or signs isn't "target practice" -- it's vandalism.
- Leave all gates as you found them -- open or closed. Don't walk or drive in fields with unharvested crops unless the farmer has said it's OK. Do not cut or damage fences.
- Don't litter. Don't even leave empty shells behind. And pack out any litter you find.
- Finally, thank the landowner each day before you leave. Thank his or her later, too, with a Christmas card and a stick of venison sausage.

By Perry Koth

The Kewaskum High School soccer team had a season of ups and downs and a lot of excitement. Their overall record was 5-12, but they played better than what their record indicates with several of the games being one point losses.

The team, which was started three years ago and has been coached by Manny Alvarado, had 22 players this year which included nine freshmen, six sophomores, four juniors and three seniors.

The highlight of the year was Kewaskum's defeat of Cedar Grove in the sub-regional game. The game was played in a hard driving rain with the temperature in the forties. After being down 4 to 0 at halftime, the defense shut out Cedar Grove in the second half, while the offense scored five goals (including the winning goal with less than two minutes left) for the victory. The win enabled them to move on in the tournament and play a veteran Grafton team which beat the Indians convincingly.

Coach Alvarado has reason to be optimistic with freshmen Jeremy Krueger, Andy Christopherson and Bob LeMay returning after playing well throughout the season. Coach Alvarado also noted that sophomores Rhett Engelking, Eric Lieven and Junior Josh Christopherson were the strength of the defense.

At the awards banquet held last Thursday, seniors Tony Olla and Troy Maertz were named the Co-MVP's for the 95 season. The two of them scored a combined 25 goals this season.

Alvarado feels the team provided a lot of excitement this year and feels that there is a lot of hope for the future.
