Contract Approved for New Principal

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

At their monthly board meeting, members of the Kewaskum school board voted to approve a contract for the new Wayne/Farmington Elementary school principal, Kieth Kriewaldt of Plymouth.

A letter was sent to State Superintendent John Benson requesting a one year provisional license for Mr. Kriewaldt, and it was noted the new principal has submitted a written plan for completion of his approved program leading to a regular license for an administrative position. The two year contract covers the 95-97 school year, and his starting date was November 20, at a salary of $52,000 per year. Mrs. Goeden thanked Mr. Larsen for taking time out from his retirement to serve as temporary principal.

Bus driver Erv Gorecki was on hand to address the problems bus drivers are experiencing with heavy congestion along School Street. "Picking up and dropping off students on School Street has been a problem for years, and has been getting worse as time goes on," he told the board.

His request was to change it to a one way street so all traffic flows in the same direction, adding that traffic from Regal Ware turning off onto School Street creates a bottleneck in that area. Busses come into the school from the east and the west, but traffic flows in from the south, and when parents park along the street to pick up their children, busses can't get through. He also indicated that accidents have happened in this congested area, and the issue also involves a safety factor.

The board approved sending a letter to the village requesting School Street be changed to a one way street, with Mr. Johnson pointing out that many residents in the vicinity supported this change.

tive Nichole Heinecke reported on the recent National Honor Society induction, and also related to the board how upset students were with the new restriction applying to hooded garments. Board member Mary Andera told the board she had attended the NHS ceremony, and said it brought out all areas students are recognized for, using very innovative ideas. She commended those who put the program together. A total of 34 KHS students were inducted into the society this year.

Board member Jeanne Goeden congratulated Larry Ammel and the entire crew of "Hello Dolly," telling everyone the enthusiasm displayed by the students in their recent performance was excellent. She also asked the board and audience to keep Kelly Wagner in their prayers. Kelly is a second grader at Farmington Elementary School, and recently suffered severe injuries after she was hit by a car. She is in a coma at Children's Hospital in Milwaukee, and a fund has been set up at West Bend Savings Bank in her name.

Mrs. Lora Schreiber appeared before the school board, stating she wanted it to be public record that she had nothing to do with the recruitment of Charles Johnson as new acting interim superintendent for the district.

President Weare asked for a motion to approve the payroll and accounts payable in the amount of $907,993.98, and board member Ruth Schmitt made the motion to approve this amount, with the exception of $1,800 to be paid to Charles Johnson. She stated the board never approved this payment, and board member Karen Sparks seconded the

Public Hearing on 1996 Budget Monday

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

In spite of the fact this is the time of year when the tedious task of budget work must be faced, the Kewaskum Village Board recently handled other agenda items.

Diane Horlamus of the Washington County Humane Society was present at the last meeting to address the board with her concern regarding wolf hybrids. Ms. Horlamus would like to see Washington County and each municipality adopt some type of ordinance regulating wolf hybrids.

According to Horlamus, "They're not a predictable animal and there's been some real horror stories throughout the country on people that own a wolf hybrid and treat it like a dog, which it isn't, because their behavior is so unpredictable."

Horlamus stated she was not interested in an ordinance telling people they couldn't have them. Rather the ordinance she prefers would be the one that regulates the type of enclosure the animal is kept in.

Horlamus does not favor the idea of the wolf hybrid being kept on a leash, and walked like a dog. She feels the animal is too dangerous and it is too easy for them to pull away from a human.

Horlamus also would like to see the enclosures housing the hybrids contain some type of steel or concrete on the bottom for these animals are "notorious diggers" and could easily dig their way out of the enclosure.

She stated, "It's a real concern of mine. We have a lot of them in the county and we've seen some real aggressive behavior." She added, "You can't really tell people what they can and can't own, but if they're going to have something like that, I think it would only behoove each municipality to make sure it's housed safely."

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles shared with the village board the statistics regarding analysis of the

Home Decorating Contest

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce has announced their plans to again sponsor their annual Home Decorating Contest for village residents.

Hopefully, the weather will once again get above the freezing point, and this will encourage all residents to get outside and string miles of lights around their residences. On the chance the weather will not rise above 32 degrees until April, it is also acceptable and perhaps more wise, to string those lights and decorations inside.

With the Christmas parade fast approaching, it is hoped Kewaskum can turn itself into a real "Winter Wonderland" for all our guests and visitors to admire.

More information will be forthcoming in a future edition on prize amounts and when the judging will take place. Stay tuned.

Candidacy Papers Must Be Filed by December 5

All village and school district residents are reminded that the deadline for filing candidacy papers and non-candidacy papers is rapidly approaching. The deadline for filing non-candidacy papers is Friday, November 24.

Any electors desiring to be a candidate for either school board or village board, must file a Sworn Declaration of Candidacy at the respective offices of the School District (1450 School Street) or the Village Municipal Building by Tuesday, December 5th.

There are three positions open on the Kewaskum School Board and three positions open on the Kewaskum Village Board. Please exercise your civic right and duty to serve on one of these boards. Perhaps it's time for all of us to stop grumbling about the decisions of our local government and see what it is like to walk the proverbial mile in the other guy's moccasins.

It's so easy to sit back and criticize, not so easy to jump in there, get our feet wet and stand up for the courage of our convictions.

Annual KEYS Christmas Concert Set for Dec. 4

The annual Christmas concert to benefit the KEYS Scholarship Fund will be held on Monday, December 4, 1995 at 7:30 p.m. at Kewaskum High School.

KEYS is a non-profit organization established to accept gifts to provide additional scholarships for Kewaskum High School graduates.

The Moraine Chorus and the Kewaskum Swing Choir have graciously donated their time and talent to perform this concert to help raise money for KEYS.

The Moraine Chorus is made up of people from Washington County that love to sing on a semi-professional basis.

The Kewaskum Swing Choir is made up of Kewaskum High School students who demonstrate an above average ability to sing and dance and "make very spirited music." The KEYS Christmas concert is the only Christmas concert that the Swing Choir performs.

This concert is a primary fund raiser for KEYS. Plan to attend the concert to hear the excellent Christmas music provided by the Moraine Chorus and the Kewaskum Swing Choir on Monday, December 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $2.00 (donations for more than that will be accepted) and are available at Miller's Furniture, Kewaskum, Kewaskum High School and at the door on the day of the concert.

New Principal

motion. The board voted down this motion, 4-3, with Goeden, Andera, Schulte and Weare voting no, and Beimborn, Schmitt and Sparks voting yes.

Jeanne Goeden turned around and made a new motion to approve payment of all the bills, including the questioned amount, and the new vote turned the tables 4-3, with Weare, Goeden, Andera and Schulte voting yes, and Schmitt, Beimborn and Sparks voting no.

High School principal Charles Heidner brought information to the board about the possibility of adding girls' golf as a high school sport. He said he had polled female students at the middle school level and found eight girls that show interest in playing on a golf team, with five being a common number.

Costs are estimated to add $2,600 to the athletic budget, and Mr. Joe Harlow said he would agree to coach the team. The board approved the addition of girls golf for the fall of 1996.

Since Irene Heather is resigning her position as high school gymnastics coach at the end of the 1995-96 school year, the status of girls' gymnastics was discussed, along with the possibility of forming a co-op team with another school in the future. Mr. Heidner pointed out the difficulty of finding gymnastics coaches, and in the event the numbers of girls participating drops (12 presently compete), or they cannot find a replacement coach, a co-op may be the only answer. Mrs. Heather asked that everything possible be done to provide the opportunity for these girls to continue the sport.

Mr. Westphal appeared before the board, asking that the KHS soccer team be allowed to join another conference, to give the players a chance to compete with more teams. The board went along with the change, giving the team a chance to play 12 to 14 games, instead of only four.

In other action items, the board approved the installation of six operable, insulated windows for the Farmington library and kindergarten rooms at a cost not to exceed $11,167, with funds coming from the maintenance budget. The project should be completed by March, 1996.

Other approvals included removing eight broken urinals at the high school, and replacing them with six new ones, at a price of up to $7,700, also coming out of the maintenance budget, and the purchase of two new replacement vehicles, a van and a pickup truck, for school use, for a total cost of $18,000. The board OK'd Kathy Robinson's request for a new mixer and attachments for the FES kitchen, at $4,003. This cost comes out of the Fund 50 food service account.

Mr. Johnson received approval from the board to accept the district audit report, which indicated the auditors found the district had complied, in all material respects, with accounting requirements, and told the board this is a fine testament to Dr. Heather and the district staff, Jeanne Jacak and Deb Russell.

Three new district appointments were approved by the board that evening as follows: a limited term contract for Bonnie Schultz to replace Doris Olk as a third grade teacher at WES; Bob Gonwa as assistant wrestling coach at KMS; and Thomas Lowka as assistant KMS girls' basketball coach.

Resignations were approved from KHS yearbook advisor Christine Piotrowski, JV girls' basketball coach Keith Amundson, freshman girls' basketball coach Ken Soerens, KHS food server Beatrice Manthei, and two maternity leaves were accepted from Marilyn Krantz, KES CD-Exceptional Ed. Needs Instructor, and Margaret Nelson, third grade teacher at KES.

Jamie L. Gaffke, daughter of Lynn and Jim Gaffke, was named as student of the month.

Discussion Held on School Contingency, Interest Fund

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

While Hunzinger Construction is going through their final contingency lists, and checking them twice, so are members of the Kewaskum School Board, and questions have arisen over the allocation of funds, and what bills were paid out of which accounts.

At this month's Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds committee meeting, Hunzinger Construction presented contingency summary lists for both the high school and middle school as of November 1, and what now remains in these funds, although some costs are still estimated until finalization.

The contingency funds were established at the beginning of the construction project to pay for unforeseen or unexpected costs that can arise in situations where extensive remodeling is done. These funds are controlled by Hunzinger Construction, although equipment and labor appearing on the contingency lists are approved by the board.

Kewaskum High School started out with a contingency fund total of $318,481.00, and as of the first of this month, the remaining balance is $78,732.70. Some of the larger costs drawn from this account includes air conditioning, closets and shelves for the music area, overtime allowance, steel revisions, and DLHR required revisions.

The beginning total of $100,000 for Kewaskum Middle School has been brought down to $37,658.00, with large expenses seen in areas such as additional asphalt work, and new flooring in existing areas. This leaves a combined total contingency amount of $116,390.70.

Fund 45 is an interest account earned from the original referendum total borrowed at the beginning of the district's project. Total interested earned through September 30 was $265,914.91. This amount has been reduced to $147,182.68 by the payment of alternates (additional equipment or remodeling approved by the board) and the removal of asbestos. According to Brian Cohen of Hunzinger Construction, all asbestos removal is regulated and payment had to be done through Fund 45 for liability reasons. This account is controlled by the school district.

At last Monday night's school board meeting, Mr. Cohen told the board that all projects at KMS should be completed and closed out by the originally scheduled date of December 11th, and at the high school by the end of this month. All bills should be paid in full by the next board meeting, so final figures can then be presented, and if there are any outstanding items, they will be included on a separate list.

Final acoustical treatment of the band and chorus areas has been held off to this point so Mr. Ammel and Mr. Bertelsen could evaluate the sound, and add the appropriate treatment per their recommendations. Total costs should not exceed $22,000 for the two rooms, with payment coming out the high school contingency fund. This would bring the fund down to approximately $56,732.70.

Board member Jeanne Goeden had questions concerning why certain items were taken out of the interest fund, when prior school board minutes show that the school board had approved payment through the contingency fund. "I'm going according to our motions we've had in previous meetings, and the majority of the motions are all saying it's taking them out of the construction contingency fund, which would be your (Hunzinger's) fund. As I see it, some of the things are not being taken out of there."

She brought up the fact some of the alternates were not taken out of the contingency fund either, and felt some sort of explanation was in order as to who approved the payments from these accounts. "The nature of our contract is any money that's not spent, goes back into the district," Cohen explained. "So the big picture is, whether you take the money out of the contingency or out of the interest referendum, when the project is left over, there'll be one big pot of money remaining. I believe the intent of the interest money was to use that as a secondary contingency."

Goeden said that the way she understood things, the construction company was hired to build with the allotted referendum money totaling 5.4 million dollars. If money was taken out of the interest account to pay bills, then that money would have to be considered "in addition to" the referendum total. "Anything that would come out of our interest money would make your budgeting a lot easier," she told Cohen.

"That is incorrect terminology," Cohen maintained. "There are items that are not part of our visual scope of work," he explained, citing asbestos removal as an example. Addressing the entire board, Cohen emphasized, "These (list of items) have been issued and passed out since March/April. All of the items have been there and listed for everybody to see. I've answered all your questions, I've been to endless and countless Buildings and Grounds committee meetings. What questions do you still have left?"

According to Mrs. Goeden, approximately $30,000 for alternates were taken out of the interest money, when past meeting minutes indicate they were supposed to be using the contingency fund for these expenses. Hunzinger pointed out that early in the project, when some of the alternates were being presented, questions arose as to whether there would be enough contingency money to complete the project, and the board agreed to take some of them specifically out of interest money. "Part of the rationale behind that was whatever's left over from the contingency, whatever's left over from the interest, falls in the same pot," he declared.

"It's still the idea is that when some things are taken out of the interest that makes your good," she answered.

Board member Karen Sparks ended the discussion with one of the only other comments made by board members regarding this subject. "When we talk about this final pot of money, that money cannot be spent however we want. It has to spend on one of those two buildings. It can't be spent elsewhere in the district. I just don't know where this (entire conversation) is going."

Junior Jamie L. Gaffke, daughter of James and Lynn Gaffke, is our October Student of the Month. In nominating Jamie, one of her teachers said, "The attributes I most admire about this person are her total honesty and individuality. She would never succumb to peer pressure and let another student copy her work. She studies hard and does all of her work. ## WINTER PARKING

The Winter Parking Restrictions and Snow Emergency Parking Restrictions go into effect at mid-night (12:00 a.m.) on December 1, 1995.

Municipal Code Section 7.04(3) Night Parking Restrictions, reads as follows: Signs have been erected at or reasonably near the corporate limits as provided in Section 349.13, Wisconsin Statutes, no person excepting physicians or licensed emergency vehicles on emergency calls, shall park or stop any vehicle on any public street or highway within the village between the hours of 2:00 A.M. and 6:00 A.M. from December 1, to April 1, of each year; provided that, notwithstanding such restrictions vehicles may be parked a period of time not longer than 3 minutes for actually loading or unloading of passengers, and provided further that no other regulation restricting parking as to place, time, or manner violated thereby.

The fine for violating the ordinance is:

$5.00 if paid within three (3) days of the issuance of the parking citation.

$10.00 if paid after ten (10) days but before 28 days.

After 28 days, the amount is $25.00 and a notice will be sent to the Motor Vehicle Department to suspend your vehicle, registrations and refuse renewals until the citation is satisfied.

An important fact is the owner of the vehicle is responsible for the payment of the citation whether or not he was the operator.

Municipal Code Section 7.04 (4) Removal of Illegally Parked Vehicles. This section covers the issuance of citations to and possible removal of such vehicles in violation of this ordinance. In addition to other penalties provided by Section 7.04(6) of this code, the owner or operator of a vehicle so removed shall pay the cost of the towing and storage.

Board Approves K.A.P. Contract

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

For awhile it seemed like a brand new battle had begun at last Monday night's school board meeting over the Collective Bargaining Agreement between the Kewaskum Auxiliary Personnel and the Kewaskum School District, but the board surprised residents by approving the contract with an untraditional 5-2 vote.

The KAP contract for the 1995-97 school year had been worked out through mediation, since two previous sessions between bargaining committees proved unsuccessful, and the contract had reached the board Monday night for approval.

Board members John Schulte and Jeanne Goeden said they could not accept a provision within the contract which granted Kewaskum Auxiliary Personnel one day funeral leave for an "intimate friend."

The entire clause reads, "In the event of a death of a relative not listed above or a death of an intimate friend, an employee will be granted one (1) day of funeral leave to be deducted from sick leave."

Schulte said although it was a well written contract, he was against the funeral provision for a variety of reasons. "It covers an awful lot of people, is very subjective language, very unclear," adding he'd talked to the board's representing attorney, who agreed it was very subjective in nature. When asked by board member Karen Sparks if he had attended the meeting as part of the negotiating team, Schulte related that he was only able to attend a portion of that meeting, since he had another meeting to go to in Sheboygan that same evening.

Board member Ron Beimborn told the board that specifics of the contract could not be discussed in public until the contract was approved, and board president Neal Weare said that he thought it could be discussed, but he would be willing to hold off until they acquired some legal counsel regarding this matter, and then meet in closed session at a later date.

"This was not really negotiations, this was mediation, and the next step is arbitration," Beimborn explained, pointing out that both sides bargained in good faith. "If the board at this time chooses to vote this down, and this then in turn, goes to arbitration, I could virtually guarantee you, that we will lose in this process."

Ruth Schmitt strongly urged the board to put aside whatever differences they've had and accept this proposal, in light of the morale in the district being at an all time low, and this would hurt the atmosphere even more.

KAP president Scott Reif addressed the board, and the public at this point, bringing up the fact that after two negotiation sessions between the KAP and the board, an impasse was reached and both sides agreed to mediation. The mediation took place on October 3, and after 7 1/2 hours the two teams reached an agreement at midnight. "It's important that the public realize that the board is taking steps, to again, create mistrust in the district," he stated.

Mr. Schulte was attacked by members of the audience and some of the board for failing to remain at the mediation, and now, second guessing the decisions made at the "11th hour." "It has to come on to the agenda as an item," Schulte related. "That's when I can first say anything about it, so I'm doing what I'm supposed to do." Looking at things as a taxpayer, he said he had to ask why we were paying for that.

Karen Sparks asked for a clear definition of "good faith bargaining," since the term had been used several times throughout the discussion Ruth Schmitt answered, "it's as current an agreement and as honest an agreement as you can reach at that particular time," she stated, as a member of the bargaining team for the district. She stressed that when Mr. Schulte left the meeting he left a list of concerns, and Schmitt and Beimborn made sure those concerns were addressed, and added that the mediator asked them on several occasions to drop those requests. "That's part of the reason we sat there until midnight," she expressed.

Neal Weare stepped in at this point and said he had, through the years, been a part of several negotiating teams, and in his opinion, he would've liked to have seen a little more time spent between the two groups to sit and discuss it, before entering so quickly into mediation. "I have some grave concerns, and maybe it's best to hold off until we can sit down and discuss it," he told the other board members.

Scott Reif told Mr. Weare that the attorney for the board was the one who had originally reached the impasse, and that's why they went to mediation. "We aren't happy with all the language either," he said, "but we are willing to work with the school district here."

After the lengthy discussion was ended, the board voted to approve the KAP contract with Weare, Andera, Sparks, Schmitt and Beimborn voting yes, and Schulte and Goeden voting no.

HT Students Collecting Cereal Box Tops for Cash

Local students are participating in a program to earn cash for Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum.

The program, called General Mills School Change Program, lets students, parents, educators and friends collect qualifying box tops from General Mills cereal and turn them in for cash.

For every qualified General Mills cereal box top collected between now and February 29, 1996, General Mills will refund 25c to Holy Trinity School for whatever the school needs most. As an added incentive, schools will receive an additional $50 for the first 1,000 qualifying box tops collected.

Students at the Holy Trinity School welcome the help of parents, families and friends in collecting qualifying box tops from General Mills cereals. A qualifying box top is the top flap of a General Mills cereal box that has the "better if used by" date of September 1, 1995 or later printed on it. Box tops may be sent or brought to Holy Trinity School, 305 Main Street, Kewaskum.

The school is very excited about the program. They have set a goal to collect 500 box tops and plan to use the money for their computer program.

The program is offered to all accredited public, private or parochial elementary schools in the states of California, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia or Wisconsin. The program ends February 29, 1996.

St. Joseph's Hospital Purchases Oakbrook Medical Complex

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend has purchased the Oakbrook Medical Complex at 1201 Oak Street, West Bend from Silverbrook Associates, a local business partnership.

The acquisition of the four-acre property, located immediately south of the hospital, was completed on Thursday, according to Gregory T. Burns, executive director of St. Joseph's Community Hospital.

Thomas W. Kieckhafer, president and chairman of the Board of Directors of St. Joseph's, said the purchase will benefit the hospital and residents of West Bend and neighboring communities. "The Oakbrook property presents a unique opportunity for St. Joseph's as it plans for the future. The acquisition is an appropriate and wise decision in keeping with the hospital's Strategic Long-Range Plan to meet the health care needs of a growing population," said Kieckhafer.

"The property is the largest parcel of land adjacent to the hospital that provides opportunity for development. Its purchase gives the hospital flexibility for strategic initiatives that are important to the future success of the hospital and to its ability to better serve the community," said Burns.

The Oakbrook site includes a 25,000 square foot building, a parking area and green space. The building is currently occupied by 16 tenants who provide medical and health-related services.

Burns said the hospital intends to operate the building as it is currently being used, and would like to retain the present tenants.

The single-story building was built in 1977 and expanded in 1981. The office suites range in size from 480 square feet to 2,552 square feet. Each suite has independent controls for electric, heating and air-conditioning services.

Hospital officials did not disclose the purchase price.

St. Joseph's Community Hospital is located on approximately eight acres of land bounded by Chestnut and Oak Streets, Ridge Road and Silverbrook Drive. The hospital has expanded several times and acquired additional acreage since its founding in 1930.

IN MEMORY

In memory of JANE EGGERT, Jan. 27th, 1957 to Nov. 25, 1993:

You are not forgotten,
loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory lasts,
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we'll miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

Sadly missed and loved by Dad, Mother and family.

A GIFT FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY -- A subscription to the Kewaskum Statesman, serving you and your family for 100 years!

IN MEMORY

In memory of Reuben and Sylvia Schultz:

What we would give to clasp your hands,
To hear your voices, to see your smiles,
As in the days that used to be.

But some sweet day, we'll meet again,

Beyond the toil and strife,

To clasp each other's hands once more,

In Heaven, that happy life.

Loved and missed by your children and grandchildren

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all my friends, neighbors and family for all the cards. A special thank you to Rev. Jim Bettin and my sister and brother-in-law, Jani and Brother Warner of Beech Craig. They took me into their home for ten days while I recovered from my knee operation.

Again, thanks to everyone!

In Loving Memory of

who passed away 10 years ago today, at age 24, Nov. 24, 1985:

Silent but deep are the tears that we weep.

We try to be brave and content from your tragic death.

Gone is the face we loved so dear; her voice is what we long to hear.

Only God knows how much we miss you, Judy.

Only God knows the pain we bear.

And the loneliness and heartache that the family share.

We do not know what pain you bore, we did not see you die.

We only know you passed away and could not say goodbye.

So Goodbye Dear Judy; we miss you so and we all love you,

This you know.

We ask of you to save a place for briefly now that we're apart.

We will later join you in God's heart.

Much loved & dearly missed by your son, daughter, your mother, father, two brothers, two sisters, nieces, nephews, relatives & friends.

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper reserves the right to reject and/or delay publication on any letters to the editor. There is nothing "political" in this decision. We have 48 hours from deadline to print. We do not have enough time to devote hours to the many, many letters we have received without the other news falling by the wayside. Therefore, we have come to the conclusion that the letters must be printed on a space/time available basis. Thank you for your understanding.

November 14, 1995

Dear Editor,

I was saddened to hear the news of my dear friend Hilda Becker. I have written a tribute to her. I don't know if you still accept articles of this type for publication, but I hope that you might find it meaningful or worthwhile.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Robby Smith

HILDA... A LEGACY OF LOVE

The first time I met Hilda Becker was in her kitchen. Looking back, that seems appropriate because I can't ever seem to remember Hilda without thinking of her in the kitchen, busily banging pots and pans. I wanted to move to Kewaskum to be near the love-of-my-life, who was managing the ski area. I hadn't stopped to think about any of the details or consequences that would be involved in a 1500 mile move, I just knew I wanted to be near him. Hilda was introduced to me, and in the next breath, was asked if she'd let me live with her! Looking back through the eyes of time, I can appreciate what a remarkable woman Hilda was. Who would take in a complete stranger, much less a scrawny nineteen-year-old girl? Hilda did, and without a moment's indecision!

Hilda worked like that. She looked at a situation, made a decision, and followed through. I moved in a few weeks later. She was honest from the start. The only room available was a bedroom in the back of the house and it has no heat. It would be cold, she said, but I was welcome to live with her.

Cold was an understatement, but she had warned me. The shock of the ice-cold bed sheets was dulled by her wonderful cooking and mothering. She was amazed that I could sleep until noon after working late at the ski hill, but nevertheless, she was always there to cook me a hot breakfast (to thaw me out) and send me on my way.

I was the envy of the ski hill. I'd come to work clean and well-fed. When it was suppertime and everyone else was resigned to yet another greasy burger and fries, I would trot across the street to a home-baked meal, accompanied with a wonderful dessert. Hilda and I enjoyed each other's company. She told me stories about living on a farm and all about her youth, and I regaled her each evening with news items about the colorful characters that were a part of life at the ski hill. It was always hard to tear myself away from her warm, yellow kitchen and go back into the freezing winter night to finish my work at the ticket office or bar.

By the end of the ski season, I had survived not only the back bedroom, but a tremendous ice storm. I was also to become a bride. We told Hilda the news before almost anyone else. She was delighted and although she wouldn't be able to come to the wedding in Utah, she agreed to cater a second reception in Kewaskum where we could celebrate with our newfound friends. Friends were a bonus of knowing Hilda. Because of her friendship, her children and their families, blended into one large extended family for me to grow and find happiness with.

Many years have gone by since I met Hilda. I moved across the country again and have been married almost twenty years. I've even done some mothering of my own. I still can't cook like Hilda did, and if I was asked to take in a stranger, I know I'd hesitate a moment or two. Hilda taught me the meaning of unselfish service to others. She modeled the show of her work. She showed in her life that sometimes it's worth taking a risk, even if you're not sure of the consequences. She lived a life that showed Christian love, even to a complete stranger. The Lord has called Hilda home, but instead of dwelling on her loss, I'd rather remember that the world is a much richer, much warmer, much happier place because she lived here and continues to live on in the many lives she was able to touch with her love.

In addition to J. Goeden, the other three 'majority' School Board Members were in attendance at the PRESS Conference on November 5, 1995 (see Jeanne Goeden letter, Statesman, November 16). There were Kewaskum parents there as well to learn more about this organization -- our first contact with organization after reading much of their printed material.

We came away with many concerns even though their name "Parents Raising Educational Standards in Schools" and their mission statement are non-controversial and could be used by hundreds of organizations.

Our concerns fall into two areas: first, PRESS's list of 'red flags' and secondly, how our majority board members are and will apply this organization's philosophy in Kewaskum.

For example, one of PRESS's 'red flags' or concerns has to do with integrated curriculums as they feel it blurs the lines between subjects. In Kewaskum, one very successful integrated curriculum program is the sixth grade folk fair. Why then, in the middle of last year's folk fair presentation, was one of the sixth grade teachers approached by a Board Member questioning the origin and content of the script.

Another example is PRESS' support of an 'intensive phonics' only approach to reading. Much has already been addressed in Kewaskum on this, but when does it become appropriate for a Board Member to write a letter to an administrator outlining "his" ten goals for the K-3 Reading/language arts curriculum. (J. Schulte letter to C. Strand 4/20/95). Another item on this Board member's list includes discontinuing the use of computers in the K-3 grades.

We made a phone call to Mr. Sweet, one of the conference presenters and founder of the National Right to Read Foundation -- a pro-phonics advocate. At the conference he repeatedly referred to the failure of whole language in California. In our phone conversation, he stated "Wisconsin is not a failing state." Yet, every PRESS member, and our four Board members, wish to abolish whole language based on California's experience without further study or evaluation of its use in Wisconsin.

Kewaskum is not a failing district -- yet this is the type of over generalization and 'jump on the bandwagon' approach that is the rationale for changing our local educational process.

These are just two of the examples of how our majority Board members are using the PRESS organization to impose their own personal goals on all students in the district. It seems our four Board members have a 'mission' to 'fix' education in Kewaskum without first determining what needs to be fixed. Through the actions of the board, it is apparent that they feel teachers, parents, and administrators lack the knowledge to be included in this process.

We further question these Board members' affiliation with PRESS since this "Second Annual Conference" on Saturday, November 11, was not their first contact with the organization. Both N. Weare and J. Goeden were published in their newsletter (Spring 95 issue) and Mr. Weare is their official school board liaison as of May 95.

We are not against change i.e. "school reform." We know that education needs to change to keep pace with today's changing world. Change is constant. But change should be based on an evaluation of what's working or not working and take into account the needs of all students in the District.

We are concerned that the changes being proposed for Kewaskum are the personal goals of the Board members and/or the PRESS organization and are not in response to the needs of our children.

To the Editor
Kewaskum Statesman

I feel as a West Bend resident, what goes on in the Kewaskum school board is really none of my business.

After reading Saturday's West Bend News, I had to respond to that left wing, radical, extremist article written by our great journalist and now education specialist from West Bend.

The school board in Kewaskum was elected by the majority of the people who apparently trust that they will work to create a school district that will produce a product that will be able to read, write, spell and add 2+2 and come up with 4.

Where does a CEO from West Bend get off trying to label them as the religious right? What business is it of a CEO in West Bend to criticize the method they are utilizing to teach reading or any subject? Doesn't the CEO from West Bend know that California has a major move going on to switch back to Systematic Phonics after they found the Whole Language method a dismal failure.

The worst that can happen is that Kewaskum will start producing graduates that can read their diplomas, add 2+2 and get 4 and perhaps possess some family values. What is so scary about that?

It is funny to note but while the debate in Madison on AB237 was going on a couple of professors from the University sent a letter to the Assembly stating how successful our state reading program is. They stated that we were in 3RD place in the nation on the National Assessment of Reading Progress test. (NAEP)

Now for the facts, Wisconsin came in third with a score of 225 out of 500. That is 45%. Maine came in 1ST with 229 out of 500. Now I went to school in the 50's and being a nostalgic old fool who can read, write and spell, perhaps I am not seeing this as clearly as I should. Please enlighten me.

Our children have been used as experiments long enough and apparently the good people of Kewaskum feel the same way or they would not have elected the school board they have.

When West Bend is creating 100% literacy and all kids graduate from West Bend able to read, write and spell... then and only then does anyone from West Bend have the right to criticize other communities and their school boards!

Al Moehr,
West Bend

WB Art Museum Seeks Entries from Local Artists

The West Bend Art Museum offers an opportunity for all Washington County artists, 18 years and older to display their art work from December 6 through January 7, 1996. This annual exhibition is a popular event that showcases local art work as well as the work of the Friends of the West Bend Art Museum.

The Local Artist Exhibit is a juried exhibition that provides local residents and gallery friends with an opportunity to publicly display their creative talent in an art museum setting. Much of the work in the exhibition will be for sale to the public.

Artists are eligible to submit up to two pieces of work. All work must be original and can be done in any media. Each year the gallery attempts to hang at least one work of art from every artist submitting work for the exhibition.

Registration forms and additional information may be picked up at the gallery during regular art museum hours (Wednesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m.) or by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to the West Bend Art Museum, 300 South 6th Avenue, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095. Entries must be delivered by December 1st during regular hours. A reception will be held for the artists on December 10 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Artists exhibiting and members of the community are invited to attend this festive holiday season reception.

Holy Trinity First and Second Graders Tour Wade House

The first and second graders of Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum took a field trip to Wade House, the state historical site at Greenbush on October 25. They toured Wade House, the carriage museum, the blacksmith shop, and finished off their trip with a fall picnic. They all enjoyed seeing what life was like at a 100-year-old inn on the plank road between Fond du Lac and Sheboygan. Shown above, left to right, Eric Cain, Ben Schickert, Jeff Thull and Randy Hestekin watch the guide show how to weave.

growth of Kewaskum. Gilles stated between 1980 and 1990 the village grew 5.6%.

In the last five years between 1990 to 1995, the village has grown by 18%. Gilles stated the major reason he brought up the statistics was, "the growth affects us in providing services and we have more to take care of. I guess I feel the crew has responded to the challenge of doing more and taking care of more things and maintaining more things with the increases that we've had. We're not asking for any additional help, but I guess I just wanted the board to be aware of the growth factor and the fact that gives us more to do."

Preliminary budget review included discussion and the announcement the Public Hearing on the 1996 budget would be held on Monday, November 27, 1995 at 7 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Kewaskum School Board Member Jeanne Goeden was also present to introduce the School District's new interim superintendent Charles Johnson to the Village Board who graciously welcomed him to our community.

'BOO'ster's Haunted House Extends Thanks

The Kewaskum Booster Club wishes to thank everyone who made this year's Haunted House a great success.

Since last year, Bob Kohn had hopes of someday, returning a Halloween Haunted House to the Kewaskum community. In an article published in this newspaper, he offered his indoor, heated car wash for any organization that would care to undertake it.

Joy Kuhnke read this article with great interest and immediately called Terry and Cindy Cartwright, Booster Club organizers of the "Let There Be Light" project, and club presidents Mike and Vicki Froemming. With their approval, Joy dove in and the Haunted House was off and running.

Since the lights for the track/football field would benefit the entire community, and the Booster Club wanted the profits to go toward the lights, Joy's idea was to make this a fun community project... not just a project for the Booster Club alone.

After three weeks of articles and advertising and talking to businesses soliciting volunteers, the Kewaskum community came through. Many thanks Kewaskum!

First of all the following people put in many long hours after their daytime jobs. These brave souls built the Haunted House in six nights. Not listed in any particular order are Al and Cindy Ratzel, Kevin Nelson, Steve May, George Eggert, Todd Lemke, Becky Kuhnke, Joy Kuhnke and Christy Christenson.

Besides building everything, they chased for supplies and even took on parts for the showing of the Haunted House (except for Al... guess we need our police on the road too!)

Thanks to all who really took a bite in their roles of Haunted House personnel: Jason - Steve May (yes, it was a real chain saw); Jason's victims - Becky Kuhnke and Leah Thompson (a seven-month-old baby); the crazed gourme's - Todd Lemke and Kevin Nelson; Deadhead in room (family night) - Tina Thompson; Dr. Death - Bruce Towell, Stanley Steinert, Joy Kuhnke and Steve Pace; Witches - Vicki Towell and Jean Schmitt; Vampires - David Bartelt, Andy Thompson and Josh Boegel; Spooks in the woods - Kevin Nelson, George Eggert, Kari Forbish (and her brother, friend and sister); Freddy - Jared Ramthun; Spooks in the van - Steve Gross, Steve Pace and Christina Lentle; Grim Reaper - Greg Eckl and Christy Christenson; guide and trouble shooter - Joy Kuhnke; props - Vicki Gross, Debbie Lentle, Jane Charles and Kevin Nelson; security - Kevin Nigh and two friends and ticket sales - Cindy Ratzel, Diane Grechmidt and Charleen Barutha.

The following, ages

10 to 16, volunteered almost every night. They all rotated roles and did a great job. Everyone played witches, Jason's victims, gourme's helpers, Dr. Deaths, dead persons, "Hand in the Box," and spooks in the woods. They were: Angie Thull, Katie Schladweiler, Crystal Kuehl, Katie Kopecky, Amber Broeders, Amber Burtard, Jessica Schmitt, Laura McCambridge and Sara Ratzel.

Many spooks came already in makeup and some needed help from Bruce and Vicki Towell.

We would also like to thank the following businesses and people who donated supplies: Al Ratzel for all his work; Dick's Bend (Lomira and West Bend), Video Post, Doctors Inn Bed and Breakfast, Video Station, West Bend Savings Bank, Joys of Grooming, Loehr's Meats, Star Auto, Kewaskum High School, St. Joseph's Hospital, Engelhardt and Sons, Twohig's Furniture, Miller's Furniture, Eckl's Main Street Inn, Duenkel Photography, Joy Kuhnke, Al and Cindy Ratzel, Kevin Nigh, Kevin Nelson, Todd Lemke, Mike Froemming, Tracy Steinert and everyone who donated tree trimmings and bagged leaves that were taken off of your lawns.

A big round of applause to Bob Kohn of Kohn's Mobil on Highway 28 (Main Street) in Kewaskum, for closing the car wash for three weeks.

And as we all know, what goes up, must come down. In three nights everything was taken down by Kevin Nelson, Al and Cindy Ratzel, Becky Kuhnke, Steve May, Todd Lemke, Christy Christenson, Bev May, Tracey Steinert, "Little Becky" Steinert and Joy Kuhnke.

Everyone who helped thank their spouses and families for putting up with them being gone every evening for nearly three weeks.

Everyone must of had fun spooking those who attended, because when the evening was done, they all sat around in "Jason's room" for awhile, talking about how well the evening had gone and the thrills they had when someone truly got scared.

Many, many thanks to all who went through the first Haunted House that's back in Kewaskum.

We apologize for anyone who was left out. You were very much appreciated, but Joy Kuhnke might not have gotten your name. She also hopes everyone's names are spelled correctly. If it is her request that you call her at 626-2506.

Spring Turkey Application Deadline is December 10

MADISON -- Hunters interested in participating in the 1996 Wisconsin turkey hunting season have until December 10 to submit permit applications.

There will be more than 75,000 permits available for the 1996 spring season in 39 turkey management and state park hunting zones. The Department of Natural Resources turkey advisory committee will meet in December to finalize permit numbers.

The proposed permit level for 1996 is an increase of about 7,000 over the 1995 spring season. The DNR received about 73,300 applications for the 68,280 permits that were available for the 1995 season, resulting in more than 10,000 applicants not receiving permits. Hunters harvested 15,323 turkeys in the spring 1995 season.

"The main reason hunters are not successful in getting a permit is because they apply for a zone that is over-subscribed or they restrict their choice to a period that has more applicants than permits," says Tom Howard, DNR wildlife ecologist and turkey management specialist.

"Hunters can maximize their chances of getting a permit if they select all six hunting periods and list more than one zone on their applications," he says.

The spring turkey season is conducted in six five-day periods beginning April 10. Each period runs Wednesday through Sunday. The bag limit is one bearded or male turkey.

Hunters can apply for a specific period and for a specific turkey management zone, or they can apply with no preference. Any permits that are not issued -- those in under-subscribed zones or time periods -- during the first drawing are issued in a second drawing.

Landowners who apply for a permit are given preference over non-landowners and hunters who applied for but did not receive a permit in the previous year are given preference over first-time applicants in the drawing. For more information contact Tom Howard (608) 935-3368 or Cami Brown (608) 264-6046.
