Fund Set Up for Victims Of Christmas Day Fire

A fire relief fund has been set up at Bank One and National Exchange Bank in Campbellsport and Fond du Lac for the victims of a fire that tragically destroyed their Town of Ashford home on Christmas Day.

Dave Brunet and Terri Zuber are temporarily staying at the Holiday Inn in Fond du Lac, while they search for a home in the Fond du Lac/Campbellsport area to rent for a few months until they get back on their feet.

The fire, which occurred December 25, engulfed the house in flames, and left the couple with only the clothes on their back. Terri and her seven-year-old son, Victor, were attending church services at the time, while Dave remained at home, narrowly escaping the flames, which apparently started around the fireplace and spread through the living room and front of the house.

Brunet, who suffers from debilitating injuries caused from a motorcycle accident four months earlier, requires the use of crutches and a wheelchair, both which were lost in the fire. Zuber was also involved in the accident, and needs surgery to regain full use of her left arm.

While Terri attended church, Brunet had gone to lay down for awhile to try to relieve some leg pains, was later awakened by smoke alarms and dialed 911.

The Campbellsport, Eden, and Lomira Fire Departments responded to the call, resulting in over thirty firefighters working to extinguish the fire for over two hours.

Nothing could be saved, not even the Christmas gifts opened earlier that morning. Brunet was taken to St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac, where he was treated for smoke inhalation.

Three of their four dogs survived the ordeal, but Boots, a black Labrador puppy, became confused by the fire, and apparently ran back into the house after Brunet had rescued the puppy from the burning building.

Terri's father, Vic Zuber of Fond du Lac, says the couple is "thankful to God for the outpouring of the community support. Still the reality and shock of the situation is hitting them now."

Dave runs a welding and repair business, and is president of the Ripon based Masters Motorcycle Club. Terri, a high honors English major at Marian College, was scheduled to student teach this past fall, but her injuries way-laid all plans.

The three of them, along with the three dogs, are seeking a temporary home for a few months. They are willing to rent a one level house or mobile home with two or three bedrooms in the Fond du Lac/Campbellsport area. Anyone able to help, can contact Vic Zuber at 583-4297.

Contributions of clothing would also be appreciated, and will be accepted at Vic Zuber's office at 131 S. Main Street (New York Life Insurance Company) in Fond du Lac, across from the National Exchange Bank.

Blood Drive January 9

Bank Wisconsin in Kewaskum will be the site for the Blood Center of Southeastern Wisconsin's January Blood Drive. It will be held in the lower level Community Room on Tuesday, January 9, from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

St. Joseph's Hospital Announces Board of Director Changes

At the recent annual meeting of St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend, Inc., three longtime friends were recognized for their outstanding leadership and dedication to the hospital and the health care needs of the community.

Stepping down is Reuben Schmah, who served as board president and chairman since 1993. From 1975 to 1993, Schmah served as vice president. He was elected a director of the board in 1970 and at the recent meeting was elected to serve another term.

Retiring from the board are Betty O'Meara and Howard Kruepke, who together provided 34 years of leadership and service.

Mrs. O'Meara joined the board in 1975 as director and chaired the hospital's Legislative Committee since 1980.

Mr. Kruepke, President of Kruepke Trucking, Inc., began his term as director in 1981 and served as a member of the Audit and Finance Committee since that time.

"Reuben Schmah provided leadership as president and chairman during an important period of planning for the future of the hospital," said Gregory T. Burns, Executive Director at St. Joseph's Community Hospital. "And Betty O'Meara and Howard Kruepke each made significant, positive contributions to the delivery of health care in West Bend and neighboring communities."

In addition to Schmah, individuals reelected to the board were Allen C. Koepke, Mark A. Nielsen and Robert J. Steiner.

Sharon S. Ziegler and George E. Prescott were elected as new directors to serve three year terms.

Burns commented, "We are fortunate to attract Sharon Ziegler and George Prescott to our Board. Both are extremely active in community activities and will be a great asset to the hospital in the years to come."

Sharon Ziegler is currently completing a two year term as southeastern Wisconsin district chairman of the Wisconsin Hospital Auxiliary Association, Inc. She is also actively involved with the United Way of Washington County, the West Bend Art Museum Memorial Foundation Board, the Lakeland College Board of Trustees and the Friends of Sculpture Committee for West Bend's River Walk. She previously served as president of the St. Joseph's Community Hospital Auxiliary.

George Prescott is President and Chief Executive Officer of Prescott's Supermarkets, Inc. He currently serves on the board of West Bend Mutual Insurance Company and previously on the boards of Bank One, West Bend and Roundy's, Inc. Other community activities include terms as president of the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce, the West Bend Noon Rotary Club, and the United Way of Washington County.

Newly elected officers of the board include Thomas W. Kieckhafer, President and Chairman; John A. Dedrick, Vice President; Richard A. Larson, Treasurer; and Gregory T. Burns, Secretary.

Mr. Kieckhafer, president of the West Bend Company, was elected to the board in 1990 and served as vice president since 1993.

Mr. Dedrick, president of West Bend Mutual Insurance Company, was elected to the board in 1982.

Mr. Larson, chairman of West Bend Savings Bank, was elected to the board in 1975 and has served as treasurer since 1977.

Said Burns, "Our community hospital is fortunate to have excellent volunteer leaders to guide our organization as we continue to provide high-quality, cost-effective services that respond to community needs."

AISE Seeking Host Families

As Americans, we are fortunate to live in a country which people from around the world are eager to visit.

The American Inter-cultural Student Exchange, a non-profit educational foundation, is seeking host families for high school foreign exchange students for the 1996-97 school year.

AISE exchange students live with American families and attend local high schools during their ten-month cultural exchange experiences. Host families provide students with room and board, and a loving, family atmosphere in which to live.

Students learn about our government, our history, our customs and our language, as well as leaving a lasting impression of their cultures in the minds and hearts of their American host families and peers. AISE seeks to shorten the perceived distance between countries around the world, while at the same time showing foreign teens why the American people cherish their country so.

Call AISE at 1-800-

SIBLING for more information on hosting a foreign exchange student. A world of adventure awaits you!

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor

I keep hearing where are the facts?

Here are a few facts
1. Wisconsin is 3rd on the NAEP test scores score 225 out of possible 500 (45%)

2. 85% of minors entering the Juvenile Justice System are unable to read and have little or no knowledge of Phonics.

3. 25-28% of our children cannot learn to read using the whole language method sprinkled with incidental phonics.

4. Children taught using Systematic Intensive Phonics can read and understand 24,000 words by the end of 4th grade. (This method is used in less than 15% of our schools nation wide.) Children taught the Whole Language method should be able to memorize 1,554 words by the end of 4th grade. (This method is used in approximately 85% of our schools nation wide.)

5. In a study by the U.S. Department of Education of 50 reading programs it was determined the average cost per pupil for a Phonetic program was $30.34 and the cost for a Non Phonetic program was $214.53. Out of your budget which would you buy?

6. A third of all college students need remedial training in reading and math.

7. The nations report card shows that almost half of fourth-graders and 31% of eighth-graders cannot read at even a basic level. Many leave high school unable to read their diplomas.

8. It is not the money that is the problem. Real per pupil spending has grown 62% since 1975, 40% since 1980, Where did it go?

Letter to the Editor
Dec. 28, 1995

Dear Sir,

The State of Wisconsin currently sells life insurance policies to citizens who wish to buy them, which is a program that has been in effect since 1911. This program has allowed parents, grandparents, and others to buy small policies of under $10,000 which are not available from private insurers.

Now Republicans in the legislature want to eliminate this program because it "competes" with private sector insurance companies. This program costs you absolutely nothing and provides benefits for many people otherwise NOT AVAILABLE to them at a reasonable cost. It does not pay to build multi-million dollar castles for insurance companies or pay six and seven figure incomes to their executives.

But this program does not provide campaign contributions to lawmakers like the insurance lobby does, and they have sought to get rid of it for a long time. People who want to choose from policies available in the private market should do so, and they do in overwhelming numbers. But so also they should continue to have this opportunity available to them.

Why would your lawmaker want to take away a right that is currently available to you at no cost? Why not write and find out. Contact your local state senator or state representative and stop this raid on a program by the Republicans that has served our state and its citizens well for decades. Who will benefit from its demise? Those lawmakers who vote to get rid of it and those insurance companies who want to charge you more for a product currently available to you at a reasonable cost.

Please write your local legislator and urge him or her to vote "NO." You can bet your local insurance agents will be writing and counting on the fact that this raid is about to occur until it is too late.

Sincerely yours,
Marlin D. Schneider

Eva Gracyalny taking Grandma and Grandpa out for lunch.

Kewaskum Elementary School was buzzing with activity on November 21 as the children welcomed their grandparents to spend the afternoon, "back at school."

In conjunction with the Centennial theme and Thanksgiving, "little pioneers" could be seen all over the school as they dressed for the occasion. The cafeteria was bursting at the seams as well over 120 grandparents shared a pioneer Thanksgiving feast of turkey and trimmings prepared by the hot lunch staff. M-m-m good!

Grandparents shared what school was like when they were young, demonstrated different talents and hobbies, and even played musical

Drivers Needed for Meals on Wheels

A hot, nutritious meal takes the chill out of a cold winter day. Hot meals delivered by Meals on Wheels volunteers are especially important to West Bend residents who are unable to cook or shop for themselves, according to Sallie Konruff, manager of Food and Nutrition Services at St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend.

But five to ten more volunteers are needed.

"If you own your own car, have 30 minutes to spare from 11 to 11:30 a.m. every other week and like to help others, Meals on Wheels needs your help," said Konruff.

Meals on Wheels are prepared by the Food and Nutrition Services Department at St. Joseph's. Drivers pick up the meals at the hospital and deliver them to recipients' homes. Fifty-six persons are currently served by Meals on Wheels.

Konruff said there are several reasons people choose to have Meals on Wheels:

"With shorter hospital stays, many patients are discharged before they are able to resume their usual routines such as shopping and cooking. They may not be able to prepare hot meals safely. Or they may need to have special diets, such as low sodium, low fat or diabetic, that they are not used to cooking. Meals on Wheels provides support by delivering a well-balanced nutritious meal according to each recipient's nutritional needs."

Recipients pay $3 for the noon meal and $1.50 for a light evening meal, delivered at the same time.

"Meals on Wheels is really a rewarding program, for both recipients and volunteers. Many people look forward to the hot meals -- and the smiles," said Konruff.

Konruff said persons interested in becoming Meals on Wheels volunteers should call her at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, 334-8383.

Breast Feeding Support Group

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is holding a breast feeding support group meeting Monday, January 8, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. or Wednesday, January 10, from 1 to 3 p.m. in the hospital's New Life Center classroom. The importance of touch in holding and handling a baby will be this month's topic.

The free, informal support group addresses common concerns for those who are breast-feeding and those who are interested in learning about breast-feeding.

To register or for more information, please call St. Joseph's Community Hospital's New Life Center at 334-8361.

Business Counseling

As a small business owner you must wear many different "hats." Reading or attending seminars will help you improve your skills, but sometimes you need to speak with someone.

For help in understanding how to solve specific business problems, or for answers to your start-up questions, you are invited to make an appointment with Fred Schmidt, the new University of Wisconsin-Extension Area Business Agent. Free and confidential 90 minute appointments can be made by calling 414-335-5204.

These sessions will be held on Monday, January 8, and Tuesday, January 16, at 1 and 2:30 p.m. at the UW-Washington County Campus office, located at 400 University Drive in West Bend.

Holy Trinity Presents 'Three Wee Kings'

Who will be King? That was the question asked by the three Magi who went in search of a King, guided by a bright and shining star.

In the Christmas tradition, Holy Trinity School held its annual Christmas concert on Thursday evening, December 21, in Holy Trinity Church. To an exuberant and watchful audience of parents, relatives and friends, in a church decorated with the beautiful and colorful artwork of the students, the school children, under the direction of Mrs. Terri Christie, presented "Three Wee Kings."

Mrs. Christie, the school's music teacher, used an artistic and eclectic approach to the musical presentation. Through songs, dance, prose, and acting, many talented students, with the help of creative costuming, assumed the roles of animals and celestial characters in the presentation.

Camels danced, stars were witty, lions sang, and goats, sheep and donkeys bickered back and forth among themselves, each assuming that one of them had the potential to be king. What a surprise occurred to all of them when only a human baby was found in a crib!

Christmas with all its bright lights, glitter, shopping, expeditions, presents, and festive food many times loses its real meaning. Too often we are caught up in all these worldly things, forgetting what Christmas is really all about. Through advent preparations culminating in a night of remembrance (the Christmas concert), the Holy Trinity faculty strives to impart to the students that loving, sharing and the giving of oneself unselfishly are the true meaning of Christmas.

The concert ended with the living nativity. The first grade students with their bright, angelic faces played the roles of the characters. A very solemn "Silent Night" echoed throughout the Church and inspired the onlookers to have a greater appreciation of God's gift of love and happiness -- the Infant Jesus.

The smallest plane ever flown is the Bumble Bee Two, designed and built by Robert H. Starr of Arizona. It was 8 ft. 10 in. long with a wingspan of 5 ft. 6 in.

Moraine Musicians To Meet Jan. 8

The Moraine Musicians will start out 1996 with a fanfare of brass presented by The Washington Brass Quintet. Don't miss a great opportunity to hear one of our area's best brass groups on Monday, January 8, at 7 p.m. in the theater at UWWC.

Even though this quintet blows some mighty "mean" horns, they don't have the power of Gabriel to blow down the walls to make more room, so get there in plenty of time to sign in and still find a seat.

Start out the year with a "root-a-toot-toot." See you at UWWC on Monday, January 8, at 7 p.m.

A Sure Thing: Delicious Caramelized Desserts Made Safe And Easy

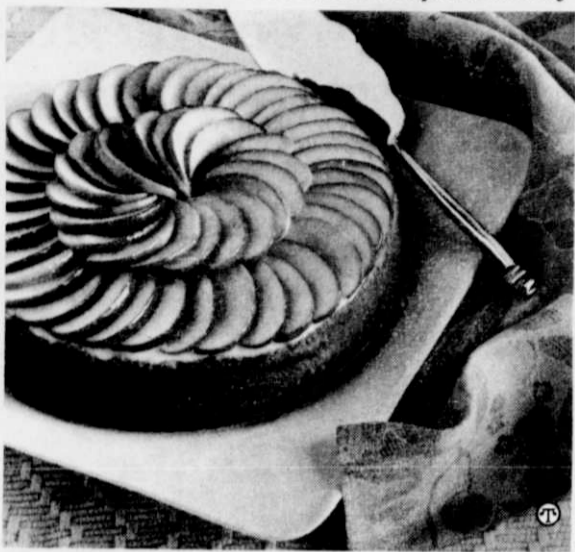

(NAPS)—With its rich taste and creamy texture, caramel enjoys a long tradition of adding delight to desserts. Many drizzle it over ice cream or baked apples, or use it as frosting for cookies and cakes. Not everyone, however, is familiar with how easily caramel can be made from a popular baking pantry staple, sweetened condensed milk.

To safely caramelize sweetened condensed milk, it is important that consumers follow an approved method (instructions to follow). Heating an unopened can in the oven or in a pot of boiling water, as some consumers have done in the past, is a dangerous practice that could cause serious injury. Heat causes expansion, and an unopened can—regardless of its contents—may explode if heated. Never heat an unopened can. The makers of Eagle® Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk recommend that consumers follow these safe and easy methods of caramelization:

STOVETOP METHOD: Pour sweetened condensed milk into top of double boiler; cover. Place over boiling water. Over low heat, simmer 1 to 1-1/2 hours or until thick and light caramel-colored, stirring occasionally. Beat until smooth. Cool. Chill.

OVEN METHOD: Pre-heat oven to 425°. Pour sweetened condensed milk into an 8- or 9-inch pie plate. Cover with aluminum foil; place in larger, shallow pan (broiler pan). Fill larger pan with hot water. Bake 1 to 1-1/2 hours or until thick and light caramel-colored. Remove foil; cool. Chill.

Practice the art of cara-melization by preparing Caramel Apple Cheesecake, a sumptuous dessert that combines the sweet goodness of apple with the classic richness of cheesecake and caramel. It's a safe and easy bet that you'll find it irresistible.

CARAMEL APPLE CHEESECAKE (Makes one 9-inch cheesecake)

- 1 1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/8 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 1 (14-ounce) can Eagle® Brand Original, Low Fat or Fat Free Sweetened Condensed Milk (NOT evaporated milk), caramelized
- 3 (8-ounce) packages cream cheese, softened
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 3 eggs
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

- 2 medium all-purpose apples, cored and sliced
- 1 tablespoon margarine or butter

Preheat oven to 300°. Combine crumbs, sugar and melted margarine; press firmly on bottom and 1-inch up side of 9-inch spring-form pan. Reserve 2 tablespoons caramelized Eagle® Brand; spread remainder over prepared crust. Bake 15 minutes. Meanwhile, in large mixer bowl, beat cheese, sugar and flour. Add eggs, 2 tablespoons milk and vanilla; mix well. Pour into prepared pan. Bake 1 hour or until set. Cool. In large skillet, cook apples in 1 tablespoon margarine until tender-crisp. Spread reserved caramelized Eagle® Brand on top of cheesecake. Arrange apples on top of cheesecake. Chill. Refrigerate leftovers.

Wayne PTO to Buy New Playground Equipment

By Greg Shaske, Age 8

Exciting things are happening at Wayne Elementary School. The PTO will be buying playground equipment. Some of the other equipment is dangerous. We're collecting Campbell soup labels, General Mills cereal box tops and "We Care" Pick and Save receipts. Don't throw away those boxtops! Bring them to Wayne Elementary School. Give them to any kindergarten through fifth grade student. Our goal is 500 boxtops. Shown above are two children from Wayne who will like to play on the new playground equipment. One of them is me, Greg Shaske, and the other is my brother, Eric. Thank you, PTO!

Cleaning House Could Yield Treasures

(NU) - From time to time, everyone feels the need to dispose of unused items that are accumulating dust around the house.

So, before winter sets in for good, you decide to start cleaning a long-untouched attic. Among the items you'd like to get rid of is a large steamer trunk left behind by the former owner.

Before disposing of it, however, you decide to examine its contents. A quick look inside reveals some musty old linens. Sorting through them, you find an old baby doll with a lace dress, a tattered bonnet and tiny shoes tucked into a yellow pillowcase.

The doll's head is made of a hard material that is soiled, and the body is loosely jointed. A semi-detached wig seems to be made of human hair.

Closer examination of the doll's camisole reveals a small pin with the word "Heinz." Next to the doll, you discover an old newspaper clipping about a doll contest sponsored by the H.J.

Heinz Company in Pittsburgh. The winner of the contest was to receive the doll. Could this be the prize?

How do you go about identifying the doll? Would the doll, in this condition, have any value to a collector? Will restoration lessen or increase the value?

To find the answers, you need an experienced and qualified appraiser of personal property.

So, how do you find a professional capable of making these important determinations? Make a toll-free call to the American Society of Appraisers, a multi-discipline professional society representing more than 6,500 appraisers in the United States and 24 other countries.

By contacting the American Society of Appraisers, you'll be assured of finding the right valuation expertise. Members of ASA have demonstrated knowledge, education and experience. They have undergone an intensive screening and testing process. Those who have earned a professional designation in one or more specialties are accredited, an achievement that's based upon criteria including strict adherence to the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.

How can you distinguish an ASA appraiser from others? Look for the designation "FASA," "ASA" or "AM." All three designations indicate that the appraiser is a member in good standing with the American Society of Appraisers.

When you meet an appraiser, be sure to request a sample report, a list of recommendations, and the appraiser's qualifications and fee structure.

For more information about the American Society of Appraisers, call toll free at 1-800-ASA-VALU and ask for Department NU. Or write to the American Society of Appraisers, International Headquarters, Dept. NU, P.O. Box 17265, Washington, DC 20041.

Decorations Adorn Post Office

The Kewaskum Post Office would like to extend their thanks to the four groups of children and teachers from My Little Friends Day Care Center, Holy Trinity School, St. Lucas School and the Kewaskum, Wayne and Farmington Elementary Schools who decorated the post office for the holiday season as shown in the photos on this page. The post office lobby was brilliant with holiday colors again this year. Many grandparents, parents, patrons and the postal employees enjoyed the creativity of the children on a daily basis.

Sledding Does Not Have To Be Dangerous to Be Fun

MILWAUKEE -- Last winter, a time of fun turned into a trip to the hospital for a number of area children.

Nearly 50 children were treated at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin for sledding-related injuries, Jeni Wincek, RN, trauma program coordinator at Children's Hospital, said. Ten of the children required hospitalization, with injuries in most cases to the face, head and back, she said.

"Winter fun should not be life-threatening, yet often it is," Wincek said. "Adults and children need to keep safety in mind when they are sledding or tobogganing. Taking the necessary precautions helps ensure that outdoor wintertime activities are safe and fun and not life-threatening."

Wincek offered the following tips for safe sledding:

*Inspect a sledding course for hazards before you begin. Trees, fences, rocks and telephone poles can cause serious injuries. Hay bales may not always provide sufficient protection.

*Make sure the run at the bottom of the hill is long enough for the sled to stop safely on its own.

*Avoid hills with extremely steep inclines.

*Never sled near traffic, roadways, parking lots, rivers or bodies of water.

*Sled only during daylight hours.

*Sleds and toboggans should never be used on the same hills. Toboggans, which are more difficult to control than sleds, should be used only on toboggan-specific runs. Contact your local parks system to find out the location of such facilities.

*Icy hills are especially dangerous. Always sled on hills that are snow-covered or where the snow is packed and not ice-covered.

*Small children should be accompanied by an adult.

*Insist that children wear bicycle helmets while sledding.

*Do not ride head-first or on your stomach. Ride in a sitting position or feet-first while lying on your back. Support your body with your elbows.

*If an adult rides on a sled with a child, the adult should sit with the child seated snugly in front, between his or her legs.

*Avoid sledding over snow bumps.

*Stay alert, keep your eyes open and use common sense.

*When going back up the hill, walk along the side of it away from downhill traffic.

To find out where sled and toboggan hills are located in your community and the hours they are open, call your local parks system.

If an individual is seriously injured, call emergency medical personnel immediately, Wincek said.

Children's Hospital is a private, independent, not-for-profit regional pediatric medical center. The hospital serves all children in Wisconsin and Michigan's Upper Peninsula who needs its specialized services without regard to race, creed, color or ability to pay.

Tips for Safe Jump-Starts

For the many motorists who will attempt to jump-start their vehicles this winter, safety should be the primary concern, according to American Automobile Association's Wisconsin Division.

"Jumper cables can be a valuable tool for stranded motorists," said AAA Wisconsin spokesman Michael Bie, "but a car's battery system involves corrosive acid, explosive gas and voltage that can damage sensitive electrical components. Safety must come first."

The first step in jump-starting any vehicle is to check the owner's manual for instructions and precautions specific to that vehicle.

"There are unique procedures for many cars," Bie said. "Not following the manufacturer's instructions can cause injury to the motorist and significant damage to the vehicle."

In addition to checking the owner's manual, AAA Wisconsin offers the following general tips for jump-starting a vehicle:

- Keep open flames away from vehicles. Batteries can produce explosive hydrogen gas.

- Make sure the two vehicles are not touching. This could cause gasoline in the fuel tank to ignite.

- Check both batteries for cracks, freezing and damaged terminals.

- Carefully inspect the condition of the jumper cables for missing or frayed insulation.

- Never lean over the battery when jump-starting.

- Disconnect electrical add-on equipment such as cellular phones, alarms and stereo amplifiers before jump starting.

- When connecting and disconnecting jumper cables, avoid letting the loose ends touch other metal parts.

Regular inspection of the battery, battery terminals and cables can many times detect trouble before a jump-start is needed.

Bear Kill Permits for 1996 Fall Hunt Explained

A number of people, myself included, have been wondering what their chances are in 1996 to receive a Bear Kill Permit. First of all, applications for a kill permit are due on the Friday nearest January 15th. This year it will be January 12, 1996.

Applications must be postmarked on or before January 12th, to be considered for a kill permit. If you are one of many who has been sending in over the past several years be sure not to miss a year, if you do, you lose all preference points accumulated, up to that point, and will have to start the process over again.

Now, what are your chances of getting a Kill Permit in 1996? Well, better than normal. The number of kill permits to be issued in 1996 has gone up considerably. A total of 4,550 Kill Permits will be issued in 1996.

Zone A will have 1620 permits available, Zone A1 will have 1600 permits available, Zone B will have 735 permits available and Zone C will have 595 permits available. The minimum number of preference points needed to draw a kill permit is five in Zone A and B, and three in Zone A1 and C.

Keep in mind that not everyone with this number of preference points will receive a kill permit. For example, most people with five or more preference points in Zone A will draw a kill permit, but there will be some who will not draw a permit. Bait hunters will have first chance in 1996, with the season opening on September 14 for bait hunters and on September 21 for hunting with dogs.

The information collected over the past years has indicated that the bear population is higher than first thought. This is the reason for the increase in the number of Kill Permits being issued along with the increased number of damage complaints which are being received.

If you have any other questions on this topic or any other, feel free to contact me.

A memorial fund has been established in Mrs. Feiten's name.

I have heard with admiring submission the experience of the lady who declared that the sense of being perfectly well-dressed gives a feeling of religion in power, which is powerless to bestow.

Satisfy A Caramel Sweet Tooth

(NAPS)—Delightfully sweet and flavorful, caramel is undoubtedly one of America's favorite flavors. Enjoyed right out of the bag, combined with chocolate, or paired with apples, the taste of a golden-bronze caramel always hits the spot.

This recipe for Fabulous Caramel Clusters is the ultimate in caramel delight and is simple to prepare. Chopped pecans and rice cereal squares are tossed with melted caramel and then baked to create a crunchy caramel candy jumble perfect for any occasion. For best results, choose only KRAFT caramels for this recipe as they are well-known for their rich-creamy taste and superior meltability.

Bag them for lunchboxes or set them out for after-school snacks or TV munching. Any way you serve them, family and friends are bound to cluster 'round these tempting caramel treats.

'95 Is Safest Hunting Season on Record

MADISON-- 1995 was the safest hunting year on record, with 54 accidents, only one of which was fatal. Additionally, the fatal accident was the result of a self-inflicted wound, and was not attributed to the misconduct of another hunter, according to Tim Lawhern, hunter education administrator for the Department of Natural Resources.

"Hunting has come a long way when you compare the record of safety statistics," Lawhern says. "Five years ago Wisconsin had 93 accidents with five fatalities. Ten years ago, there were 98 accidents with nine fatalities. And in 1908 there were 111 accidents with 44 fatalities during the deer season alone. Interestingly, there were only 20,000 hunters afield in 1908 compared to 700,000 who participated in the 1995 hunt."

Lawhern credits the state's Hunter Education Program and the requirements for blaze orange clothing as the two most prominent factors that attribute to this year's safety record.

"While our goal is to eliminate all hunting accidents, hunting is actually safer than most other outdoor recreational activities," he says.

Hunting is safer than fishing, bicycling, and even golfing according to a report from the National Safety Council.

In comparing the ratios of accidents per 100,000 participants that require hospital treatment, hunting has 7.5, fishing 141, bicycling 905, and golfing 141.

Lawhern commends Wisconsin's 4,000 volunteer hunter education instructors for the progress in reducing the number of hunting accidents, but adds that all hunters must take an active role in reducing accidents.

First, he recommends that all hunters take a hunter education course. During the 1995 deer season, 91% of the accidents involved persons age 22 or older, the age group for which a hunter education certificate is not required to purchase a license.

Next, Lawhern said, every hunter is responsible for making sure their hunting partners are following safe practices and let them know when they are not.

"Several times this deer season as I checked groups of hunters, a safety violation was committed by an elder member in the presence of a recent graduate of a hunter education course," Lawhern said. "Without exception, when the young hunter was asked what was wrong they immediately stated the act was both unsafe and illegal."

"Ask yourself, what kind of example are you setting if your son or daughter knew both the laws better and acted more ethically than you."

All hunters should follow the three rules of firearms safety, with the acronym TAB.

*Treat every firearm as if it is loaded;

*Always point the muzzle in a safe direction;

*Be certain of your target and what's beyond it.

Eleven gun deer accidents were self inflicted, and 14 accidents involved hunters who either were not sure of their target or what was behind it, Lawhern said.

Hunters should also be sure to "plan their hunt, and then hunt their plan." Too many hunters are participating in deer drives and not preparing or following their hunt plans, he said.

"As a sobering tip, 93% of the gun deer accidents in 1995 involved members of the same hunting party. Choose your hunting partners as if your life depended on it, because it might," Lawhern said.

Parks to Begin Accepting Camping Reservations Jan. 10

MADISON -- Campers planning ahead for next summer's camping season can begin submitting campsite reservation forms to Wisconsin State Parks beginning on January 10.

"Some campers like to submit their campsite reservation forms as early as possible to ensure that they get their favorite campsite during their summer vacation," explains Kimberly Currie, state parks customer relations specialist with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. "It's not uncommon for prime campsites, such as those near the water, to be reserved months in advance for holiday or busy weekends," she said.

Nearly 50 state park and forest campgrounds have campsites that can be reserved with the reservation form. All state park and forest campgrounds also have campsites that are available on a first come basis. When state campgrounds are full, each park provides a list of nearby private campgrounds to campers.

Reservations must be made directly to the park at which campers wish to reserve a campsite, either in person or through the mail using a DNR campsite reservation form. State park and forest campsite reservation forms can be obtained from all state parks and forest campgrounds or by calling (608) 266-2181.

Also beginning this summer, the number of state parks and forests accepting telephone reservation for any reservable sites that remain open as of June 1 will increase from six to more than 40, Currie says. Telephone reservations are accepted Mondays through Fridays 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. from June 1 through August 31. Peninsula and High Cliff state parks will accept telephone reservations for a longer period, beginning March 1 and running through October 31.

"Campers will also have the option this year of using credit cards to make their campsite reservations at most state parks. The charges will be applied only to confirmed reservations," Currie says. Mastercard or Visa are accepted.

While most campgrounds that accept reservations will accept telephone reservations and credit cards, there are some exceptions. The Lapham Peak Unit of the Kettle Moraine and the Northern Highland-American Legion state forests and Newport, Roche-A-Cri and Rock Island state parks do not have the ability to accept telephone reservations or charge fees to credit cards.

Camping Fees for type A and B campsites will remain the same for 1996, Currie says, but the type C classification for campsites has been eliminated. In most instances, campsites that were rated as C sites and are now rated as B. The following campgrounds will see a $1 to $3 per night price increase this year because of this change: Amnicon Falls - family campsites; Gov. Dodge - backpack sites;

Kettle Moraine Northern Unit - backpack and horserider campsites; Kettle Moraine Southern Unit - Pinewoods and Whitewater family campsites, backpack sites and horserider camp; Black River State Forest - Castle Mound family campsites; New Glarus Woods - family campsites; Northern Highland-American Legion State Forest - wilderness campsites; Rib Mountain State Park - family campsites; and Pattison State Park - family campsites.

Camping fees range from $7 to $12 nightly depending on the type of campsite, time of year, weekday or weekend camping, and whether the campers are Wisconsin residents or nonresidents.

One improvement visitors commonly request at state campgrounds is shower facilities, Currie says, and several properties have added new shower facilities including campgrounds within Blue Mound, Lake Kegonsa, and Big Bay state parks, and the Northern Highland-American Legion and the Black River state forests.

For more information contact Kimberly Currie at (608) 264-6035.

Turkey Stamp Design Contest

MADISON -- Artists interested in entering a contest to select the 1997 Wisconsin Turkey Stamp design contest have until March 1, 1996, to submit their entries to the Department of Natural Resources.

Wisconsin requires turkey hunters to purchase a stamp to hunt in Wisconsin. Funds raised through the sale of stamps are used for turkey management and habitat restoration.

The department has used a contest to select the design for the stamp since 1984. A painting of a male (gobbler or tom) flying through the woods, by Arthur Anderson of Onalaska won the 1996 Wisconsin Turkey Stamp design contest.

Anderson's artwork was chosen as the best from 34 entries last year. The winning entry is chosen based on its anatomical accuracy, proper habitat setting, artistic composition and suitability for reproduction as a stamp.

The design must be the artist's original creation and cannot be copied or duplicated from previously-published art, including photographs. An artist may submit only one entry and any artist who has won the contest during the preceding two years is ineligible.

For a copy of contest rules and an entry form, write to the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, Wisconsin Turkey Stamp Contest, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707-7921.

Entries in the 1997 Wisconsin Turkey Stamp contest will be judged about mid-March by an independent panel of judges.

wildlife shrubs can enhance a property's wildlife value, encourage songbirds to nest, conserve energy, prevent soil erosion, or reforest an abandoned field.

DNR foresters can assist landowners in developing a management plan to accomplish specific goals for their property and tree planting. Foresters are available to advise landowners on species selection, site preparation, planting methods, federal tree planting cost-share programs available, tree planter rental and other important considerations in establishing a successful forest tree planting.

Forest tree seedlings and wildlife shrubs will be distributed in April and early May 1996. Landowners can pick up their tree seedlings and wildlife shrubs at the state nurseries in Boscobel, Hayward, or Wisconsin Rapids, or at a central location in most counties designated by the local DNR forester.

Conifer tree species available include red pine, white pine, jack pine, Norway spruce, white spruce and white cedar. Wildlife shrubs available include mixed crabapple, red osier dogwood, silky dogwood, hazelnut, ninebark, wild plum and wild grape. There is also a number of hardwood tree species still available, including red oak, green ash, sugar maple and silver maple.

Applications to purchase nursery stock are available at the state nurseries, local DNR offices or by writing Wisconsin DNR, Bureau of Forestry, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707.

Forest Trees, Wildlife Shrubs Available from DNR Nurseries

MADISON -- Landowners interested in planting trees on their property next spring should begin their planning this winter, including placing orders soon if they wish to purchase trees and shrubs from the Department of Natural Resources.

"This is the time of year to begin planning and ordering nursery stock for establishing a plantation in the spring of 1996," according to Trenten Marty, a nursery specialist with the Department of Natural Resources.

Forest tree seedlings and wildlife shrubs are available from the Department of Natural Resources nurseries for Wisconsin landowners. The DNR provides seedlings at cost of production to encourage reforestation within the state.

"Landowners who want to plant trees and shrubs next spring should place their order as soon as possible," Marty says. "There is quite a bit of demand for forest tree seedlings and wildlife shrubs and we anticipate our nurseries will be sold out of stock by springtime."
