Machine is First of Its Kind in the Midwest

Quad Tool Adds State Of the Art Boring Bar

Quad Tool's new Mitsubishi CNC Boring Bar arrived October 26th and is one of the first of its kind in the midwest.

Bar, that's attracting attention as one of the first of its kind in the midwest. "We had to travel to Michigan to first get a look at this type of Machine," owner Vernon Jung points out. "Now we have people coming from other states to view ours."

The $600,000 plus piece of machinery was on its way to Kentucky from Japan, when Quad Tool ordered the boring bar, preparing for its arrival by building a 45" thick reinforced foundation to hold its 58,000 pounds. It took two weeks to set up the machine and with a full B axis rotary table, Jung explains this will enable the business to seek out new clientele and shorten job times. "It's a big, big investment, but we're investing in our future, he maintains. Quad Tool has grown from its original six employees, to 32, their work comprised of 40% plastic injection molds and 60% die cast mold dies. "It was a battle at first, and lots of hard work," Vern states, "but we've done it and continue to have structured growth."

Packer Mania Thrives Here

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Dressed in green and gold for the occasion, the community for the most part, gathered around television sets this past Sunday with high hopes the Green Bay Packers would earn a well-deserved trip to the Super Bowl.

Employees at local businesses such as Sentry Foods and Shefond Mobil Mart, donned the colors of the day, and busily checked out football game staples of chips, brats, soda and colorful Packer cakes. There was even green and gold bread. One cashier related, "I'm so nervous, it's good I'm working - I can't take watching the game!"

Packer flags were hoisted up flagpoles, proudly flapping in the breeze, and a "snow helmet" appropriately spray painted, decorated a lawn on Fond du Lac Avenue. Kewaskum even made the pages of the Madison State Journal, with Associated Press picking up the story of the Carrie Tieman - Norm Neu wedding.

Since their wedding day happed to coincide with the Packer's playoff game with the San Francisco 49ers, the couple felt compelled by loyalty to accommodate their guests. Bridesmaids wore green velvet dresses, the cake was decorated in green and red (representing both teams), and television sets greeted guests in the entryway of Holy Trinity Church in Kewaskum.

After the ceremony, the bridal party stopped at Prime Time Pub to cheer their team on until half-time, then proceeded to their rescheduled dinner and reception, where people gathered around more TV sets, many sitting on the floor. The couple reside in Campbell-

Principals Give Monthly Report to School Board

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

This month's school board meeting began with a new policy in force, an optional Moment of Silence preceding the Pledge of Allegiance.

Another new concept began this evening, with principals from district schools reporting achievements for the month.

Mr. Zarling spoke about the RAH (Reading at Home) program the Kewaskum Elementary students are involved in. Students are called at home during specific time periods, to see if they are caught reading at home with their parents, and receive a reward for their efforts. This semester, they are reading their way around the community, in honor of Kewaskum's Centennial celebration.

Principal Kriewald talked about the recent fifth grade DARE graduation at Farmington Elementary, and the beginning of this pro-gram at Wayne Elementary. Their PTO is in the planning stages of installing new playground equipment. High School principal Charles Heidner told the board that students were busy preparing for semester exams. On January 6, KHS hosted the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Honors and Music Festival, attended by 97 vocal music students and 105 instrumental students. They worked with clinicians in each of their areas throughout the day. KMS Principal Crowley highlighted their Reading is Rewarding Competition, in which students received rewards through the generous donations of area businesses. She invited parents and board members to stop by the school and visit their "wall of fame," and also added that she has been working with the teachers on a brochure which explains middle level losophy, and how it's implemented at KHS, which will be available soon to those interested. Board member Ruth Schmitt addressed the board with concerns she had about the hiring of two permanent substitute teachers for a period of two months, without board approval. "Why isn't it on the agenda tonight?", she asked Dr. Johnson, stating that policy requires the board hire all personnel required for teaching and supervision services. "If Dr. Johnson hopes to build my trust, I will gladly welcome either changing the policy or following the policy."

"It's been done before, and later OK'd," board member Jean Goeden pointed out, and Dr. Johnson said that it was a new program to get substitutes to the buildings in a timely fashion." "We have two substitutes come in on a regular basis, and at least we'd have that stability," he explained. They receive a standard fee per day with no benefits, and are already employed with the district. "Since the money was being spent anyway, I didn't see this as a formal agenda item," he explained.

Schmitt maintained that this is a new job description, with a salary of $3,000, and it needs board approval. The item was placed on next month's agenda.

A lengthy discussion, sometimes heated, revolved around the upcoming WASB (Wisconsin Association of School Boards) Assembly beginning January 17th, and how the board's delegate, John Schulte, should vote on various proposed reso-lutions. Schmitt and board member Mary Andera hashed out resolutions pertaining to financial equity and revenue limit exemptions, which left the audience somewhat in the dark, behind all the unfamiliar technical jargon. "At this point the whole board has not directed me on each and every single item as to whether I should vote yes, or no," Schulte pointed out, and it was indicated it would be more beneficial to the board to discuss this at a special meeting next year, so everyone could express their viewpoints on each topic at length. "We could be here until one in the morning," Andera, who had notes on every proposed resolution, commented.

District Superintendent Charles Johnson told the board that a K-3 Task Force has finished their report assessing the current state of the K-3 curriculum, based on an extensive review of the current curriculums and

Fire Destroys Barton Home

The Kewaskum Fire Department was called out on Saturday, Jan. 13th to aid in fighting a fire that destroyed a ranch home in Barton.

Damage to the home, located at 2997 Smith Lake Rd., is estimated around $80,000, not including contents. Owner June Matter arrived home about 5:45 p.m. on Saturday, after being gone for two hours to find her living room filled with smoke.

West Bend and Kohlsville Fire Departments also fought the blaze, which engulfed the house and left only a shell frame standing. The cause of the fire has yet to be determined, but it was not regarded as suspicious.

Matter was treated for smoke inhalation at St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend, and later released.

staff observations. The report will now be sent to all K-3 teachers in the district, asking for their comments and input. Recommendations will be presented to the board at their next meeting.

Approvals for the evening included a teaching contract for Elizabeth Hubbard as district reading teacher, and the purchase of 51 desks and chairs at FES, at a cost of $3,891.30. Elizabeth Isaacsen and Marilyn Petermann were hired to replace Marilyn Krantz and Peggy Nelson, during their leave of absence, and Jody Lynne Mundigler was approved as new intern elementary guidance counselor.

The administrative team chose Mary Reilly-Kliss as Teacher of the Quarter, and board president Neal Weare awarded her with a plaque in recognition of her dedication and numerous achievements.

Jean Goeden announced that the Friends for Kelly Wagner have organized a fund raiser to help Kelly and her family through her recent accident and continuing hospitalization. A dance is planned for Saturday, March 30, at Fillmore Hall, with continuous music, and door prizes. Everyone was encouraged to support this worthwhile event.

The student representative reported on the success of the recent preschool, hosted by the KHS child development class, as well as the student council holiday sharing program, and the January 6th Honors Band and Choir Concert. Upcoming events include

Christensen Serving Near Bosnia

Marine Capt. Erik L. Christensen

January 10, 1996 (FHTNC) -- Marine Capt. Erik L. Christensen, a 1986 graduate of Campbellsport Public High School of Campbellsport, is currently in the Adriatic Sea near Bosnia serving with Marine All Weather Fighter Attack Squadron 251 embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS America.

Christensen is one of more than 5,000 Marines and Sailors aboard the ship supporting the peace implementation operations in the former Yugoslavia. Christensen's squadron is part of the 11-ship battle group that includes more than 80 tactical aircraft, and ships and submarines armed with Tomahawk cruise missiles. Christensen has traveled more than 15,000 miles since leaving Norfolk, Va., in late August.

Christensen most recently returned to the Adriatic Sea after going to the Persian Gulf to help enforce the no-fly zone over Southern Iraq. Christensen and fellow squadron mates traveled more than 4,000 miles in just nine days after receiving orders to return to the Adriatic Sea.

As the peace implementation forces began to days of NATO air strikes against Bosnian Serb military targets in support of U.N. initiatives in Bosnia. Aircraft from Christensen's squadron flew missions during the three-day period that targeted military storage and ammunition depots, anti-aircraft missile defense systems, command and control facilities, and military communications systems.

Christensen's squadron, home based at Marine Corps Air Station Beaufort, S.C., flies the F/A-18C Hornet, a twinengine supersonic strike fighter capable of providing protection against enemy aircraft, delivering ordinance on targets ashore and at sea, and providing close air support for troops on the ground.

While most of the deployment has been spent at sea, Christensen and fellow Marines also visited Greece and Italy, and had an opportunity to visit local sites. Christensen's involvement in the deployment is an example of the mobility of naval forces and how Marines and sailors can respond on short notice to crises around the world. These forces can dominate coastal and ocean areas while projecting sustained power and presence wherever U.S. interests are involved.

USS America is scheduled to return to the United States in February.

He joined the Marine Corps in December 1990. Christensen is a graduate of Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, with a BS degree.

"We've also been working with Phillips Broadband (Magnavox) building larger cable components for third world countries," Jung adds. "Installing cable into these areas in the next ten years should be a real boom." All profits are invested back into the company as they continue to expand their technology to remain competitive and stay in the forefront of the field.

They've also added a new Pro-E software work station to their design department, the latest in design software, for use by their two full time design engineers, and a workstation with Camax 3-D programming. "We have to be aggressive to stay current," Vernon explains. "It's expensive, but the company has to do it."

This year, one of their goals is to increase teamwork capabilities, and Vern realizes how lucky he is to have this very talented and skilled labor force. "They've built the reputation we have," he asserts.

Working closely with the high school co-op program, the business offers a four year apprentice training program, and presently has three apprentices working at Quad Tool. sport, where they now await next season's Packer comeback.

Some Kewaskum natives were lucky enough to view the game in person, and in the midst of Cowboy territory, things got a little rough for these devoted Packer backers.

Tom and Debbie Timblin of Kewaskum left here at 5:30 a.m. Sunday morning with 137 other game goers from around the state, and returned home in the wee hours Monday morning. "It was a neat experience," Tom related, except for the fact they were lone Packer fans buried amid screaming Cowboy sup-porters. "Our seats weren't around other Green Bay followers, so rible. Rude fans called names, threw shredded cheese on the Timblins, and one man from the group they traveled with, was "beaten up" in the rest room. "We also stood for three hours," he adds, since once the game started, Cowboy rooters never sat down."

that makes those Texans ornery, but Tom says it best when he states, "if we would've had them here (at Lambeau Field), none of those things would've happened."

Gary and Linda Gavin of Kewaskum had a better experience, as their group of 350 people were all basically seated in the same area, and nine charters stayed together at the same hotel.

"The crowd was awesome," Gary asserts. "I've never heard anything as noisy, the sound from being in the dome was intensified. If there ever was a home field advantage, this was it." Although he agrees the crowd was extremely rude to Packer fans, he says, "I did meet some Dallas people who were cheering for the Packers, they said their team had gotten too cocky." "The whole experience was very intense, and was by far, one of the best games I've gone to as far as excitement goes, Gavin added. "It was well worth the money." Linda, a diehard Cowboy fan since the age of 15, (sorry, Linda, I had to tell, it's my job) was thrilled her team won, but also gave credit where credit was due. "Green Bay played a great game, they did the best they could," she related.

It was a day to remember for everyone, taking us back to the 60's, those glory days for

By Monday morning, when this photo was taken, this Packer helmet, constructed from snow, seemed to depict how all Packer fans were feeling. A little beat up... a little deflated... a little worn down... but nevertheless, grateful for a wonderfully exciting season and totally optimistic that next year looms even more promising. The snow helmet, located at the Scott Fideler residence at 1118 Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum, was indeed a beautiful sight to behold last week and residents delighted in its presence.

Green Bay and the State of Wisconsin. Sunday's 38-27 defeat hit us hard, and most Kewaskum residents felt those football blues come Monday morning, but just for a little while. There's always next year, and when Green Bay takes home the title, we'll be the ones dancing, Dion.

Reflections from Texas Stadium

By Tom Timblin

My wife Debbie and I were fortunate enough to be able to attend last Sunday's NFL Championship Game in Dallas. We left early Sunday morning and flew down with 137 other Packer fans from the Greater Milwaukee area. We didn't know anyone else, but nevertheless, we all had fun together.

When we arrived in Dallas, we all boarded a bus to go and eat brunch before the game. After a spicey meal, we walked a couple of blocks to the Texas Schoolbook Depository Building, the site of the John F. Kennedy assassination. We walked up to the sixth floor and peered out the corner window where Lee Harvey Oswald fired his shots. It was a very sobering experience and alot of people had tears in their eyes. We also went down and stood in the grassy knoll where the actual shots that killed President Kennedy were fired.

We were shown the list of 108 people that witnessed those shots that the Warren Commission covered up. Sadly the area was covered with O.J. grafitti. Maybe we'll never know what happened! 1000 miles from Kewaskum, I heard someone yell, "Hey! There's my landlord." We greeted a fellow Kewaskumite and I guess it truly is a small world after all.

The real reason for writing this message, is to describe how the Dallas fans treated us during the game. We were all split up -- two tickets here and two tickets there. Debbie and I were wearing our green number 92 and number 4 game jerseys, and therefore stuck out like the

Either our parent raised us to know better, or there's something in the water down there I just stood there in Dallas, reflecting for awhile and then wished my children could have witnessed the scene, but I'm not sure they would have understood or appreciated the historical significance. That actually was the high point of my day... but onward to Texas Stadium.

We arrived three hours before the game to attend a huge tailgate party. As we were walking in the parking lot, proverbial sore thumb.

We were in the lower deck near the north goal line, row 35. Nice seats. But we were surrounded by arrogant, smartmouthed, disrespectful Cowboy fans that gave us grief unmercifully the whole game. One of our group of fans had dressed up in a blaze orange deer hunting suit with ear muffs and the whole outfit (it was 70 degrees (Continued on Page 15)

St. Michael's Catholic Church, at St. Michaels, located about three miles east of Kewaskum, was destroyed early Monday morning by fire believed to have been caused by a bolt of lightning striking the steeple of the church. The bolt of lightning struck the tower with such force at about 2:40 a.m. that the entire community was awakened by the terrific concussion. A severe thunder clap following in the wake of the lightning bolt was felt in the entire community, including not only St. Michaels, but Kewaskum, West Bend and the entire area said they had never heard such a severe concussion. It was more like an explosion or sonic boom, only louder. A neighbor residing across the street from the church, who was awakened, was reported to have said that from his window he saw the top of the steeple burning after the bolt struck. The flames appeared to be burning out when he saw flames suddenly shooting out of the interior of the church, where the lightning evidently caused a fire or explosion. Just about everyone in the St. Michaels vicinity was aroused by the bolt and the resulting fire. It is odd enough to have an electrical storm in this section of the country in January, but even more unusual for such severe lightning and thunder. Three fire departments fought the blaze, including Boltonville, Kewaskum and Fillmore. As the church could not be saved, firemen concentrated their efforts on saving the school, hall, parsonage and other buildings on the grounds. Fire Chief Elmer Belger of Boltonville said his department was called at 3:14 a.m. and when they arrived flames were coming out of the northeast corner of the roof, where a lightning rod had burned off. He said his men were on duty until 9:10 a.m. Monday. Kewaskum firemen remained on the scene until 6:30 a.m. The bolt of lightning not only caused power and telephone service to be disrupted in the St. Michael's community, but also broke windows as it rocked the area. The Rev. William Bonesho is pastor of the congregation of about 80 families. The church was built in 1884.

Contracts totaling $425,678 for additions and improvements to the village sewage treatment plant were awarded by the village board at its regular meeting Monday night.

Three area fishermen escaped possible drowning when their car broke through the ice and sank to the bottom on Lake Winnebago on Saturday afternoon. The fishermen in the group included Richard "Dugan" Dreher of Route 2, Campbellsport, David Oppermann and "Tiny" Michels of West Bend. Dreher and Oppermann are both former Kewaskum residents. The trio had been fishing out of Pipe on the east shore of Winnebago and they were returning to shore when the mishap occurred. The car they occupied was owned and driven by Michels. It was reported the fishermen were about one mile out of Pipe when they hit a water spot on the ice. Another vehicle ahead of them got across the spot but their car stalled, probably from the motor getting wet. The front end of the car sank through the ice, but fortunately, the rear end got caught on some hard snow which held it up long enough for the men to escape although they were in water up to their chests before they managed to get out of the car. Michels was the first to escape, followed by Dreher, and Oppermann broke a window to escape it was reported. None of them were injured.

Up to now, the trucks had been operating out of Green Lake.

The village board of the village of Kewaskum met in regular monthly meeting with President Miller presiding. The village board recommended that the fire department retain the entire property adjacent to the village hall for future use as a village hall and quarters for the department.

IN MEMORY

In memory of my beloved husband MER-LIN "SAM" ERNISSE, who passed away one year ago, January 17, 1995:

It's hard to believe it's been a year since God has called you home, But now you're resting in His place without any more pain or suffering.

It was like yesteryear I could hear your voice, laughing and crying together, sharing your time with me.

You were always there for me when I needed you.

It's been a long year not having you around, I've learned life is too short and I had to learn it the hard way without you. You're always on my mind and in my heart. Your memories will be here with me always, and you'll never be forgotten because you were my best friend, my companion, my lover and my beloved husband.

Reflections

down there).

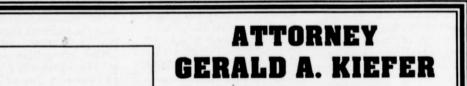

This gentleman was surrounded and beat up by a mob of drunken Cowboy fans in the bathroom. We were pelted with shredded cheese every time Dallas made a big play, which was unfortunately, pretty often. One Cowboy fan pulled out a $100 bill and said, "look at this you country bumpkin Packer fan. You probably have never even seen a bill this big!"

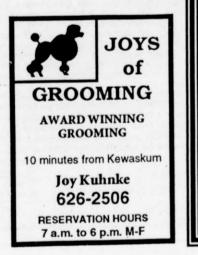

I thought to myself, I had to give up quite a few of those denominations just for the privilege of being abused by him!

After the wheels came off in the fourth quarter, there was no living with them. They were sneaking up in back of Packer fans wearing cheeseheads and ripping them off and whipping them like Frizbees, 30 rows down. We left a few minutes before the game ended, and were told to get out of Dallas and take our pathetic football team with us. When we got back to the bus, we heard countless other horror stories.

Now we're not fortunate enough to be season ticket holders at Green Bay, but we were lucky enough to see three games at Lambeau Field this year, including the dreaded Bears game. We sat next to some Bears fans and had some goodnatured fun, back and forth, the way it should be.

I can't ever imagine Packer fans being as rude and inconsiderate as those Dallas fans were. If that's what it takes to be on the cutting edge in a big city like New York or Dallas, I'm sure glad I'm just a plain old down-toearth cheesehead. I'll wear it like a badge of honor!

PTO Survey

These replies were received to the Parent-Teacher voter guide organized by the Farmington PTO and the Kewaskum Middle School parents which was based on a survey performed by Cedarburg Schools. We hope that this information is helpful to you in making your decision at the polls on February 6, 1996.

Out of the eight candidates, four responded to the survey, two declined to provide answers, but two provided their thoughts: Karen Sparks (KS) and Ruth Schmitt (RS).

1. In general, which of the following do you support?

Use of computers in the classrooms, all grades ...strongly support KS, RS. Integrated or multi-curriculum activities ... strong-ly support KS, RS

Integrated or multi-grade curriculum, primary ... mild-ly support KS, RS

Phonics-only reading instruction ... strongly oppose KS, RS

Elimination of non-academic courses ... strongly oppose KS, RS

Using non-certified instructors ... strongly oppose KS, mildly oppose

Gifted/Talented programming, all grades ... strongly support KS

Including religious literature in the curriculum or classroom ... mildly oppose KS, mildly support RS

Public funding for private schools ... strongly oppose KS, RS

School-to-work programming ... strongly support KS, RS

Outcome-based education ... mildly support KS, RS

Human growth education, all grades ... strongly support KS (to varying degrees), RS

2. What do you feel is the maximum number of students for one teacher classrooms? Should it be the same for Elementary, Middle, and High School levels?

KS: (K-2, 21; 3-4, 25; 5-6, 27; 8-12, varies) Maximum does not equal optimum; smaller numbers are better. High School really varies depending on subject, safety issues, lab space, etc.

RS: Lower elementary classes (K-2) should stay under 25 students. All class sizes must be determined by the profile of students, i.e., level of learning abilities, frequency of discipline problems.

3. Of the various reading components. A phonics-only reading program would not be acceptable.

4. Do you support par-ent/guardian involvement in school classrooms? In devel-oping curriculum? If so, how would you encourage this in Kewaskum Schools? KS: Parental involvement in classrooms is a major asset in our district, and is greatly appreciated. Even more important is each parent's involvement with their own child at home. This is enhanced by communication good between school (teacher) and home. Parental involvement in curriculum development is more difficult due to scheduling. This activity takes place when teachers and staff are most available, and many parents work at regular jobs. This is an ongoing dilemma.

RS: There must be parent/guardian involvement whenever possible so that the parent and teacher work in partnership to help students achieve. Developing curriculum needs to be an ongoing process and must meet the expectations of parents. Every effort must be made to hold meetings at convenient times of the day or night when working on curriculum. Community inputs should be sought through surveys, as well. 5. Briefly describe what you feel your role as a Kewaskum School Board Member will be. Also include your perceptions on Administrator's, the Principal's, and Staff's responsibilities for setting and implementing policy, budget, curriculum development, individual school and classroom decisions.

KS: The Board's role should be to develop policy and meet the requirements stated in the statutes. The Board delegates the administrative tasks and should not micro manage. Ideally, everyone, board and staff, teachers and parents, works together as a team. The board provides leadership, and works through the superintendent as an official legal entity, and not individually, excepting in our role as parent or grandparent. RS: My role as a school board member is to become informed on all issues being considered and to act in the best interests of the school district. Setting policy and following the policy will help board, administration, and staff to understand who does what and who is in charge. School board members must always be looking at and improving the overall operation of the district. Self nterests must be avoided at all times.

career focus must be K-12. RS: Public education will be more focused on career selection and preparation for the future. Students will be required to demonstrate their levels of competence. Students will be able to choose school-to-work or apprentice programs in addition to college prep.

7. What do you feel are the strengths and weaknesses in the education that a child receives in the Kewaskum Public Schools?

KS: Our staff is highly trained and dedicated; students receive individual attention, standards are high, test results are above average in the top state in the nation. We have a developing weakness in the technology area (computers) and must find a way to upgrade hardware and improve access

RS: Although our district spending level per student is in the lower half of all districts school in Wisconsin, our students score well above more than half of all districts. We have a dedicated, hard working staff and updated facilities. I fear that our technology needs will not be met due to a lack of funds. I also fear special interest groups may block the process of continuous improvement of educational opportunities.

8. What do you feel are the three most important issues that the next Board of Education will have to address? What are your solutions?

KS: 1) Planning for future space needs - a process is just beginning which may address that area, but the board will have a tough sell if it needs money for anything. 2) Continuing to operate a fine program under current revenue caps - only continued population growth will bail us out here! We need to advocate for kids, and educate taxpayers in "enlightened self-interest" Coming together as a board to insist on proper proce-dures for ourselfs and the district - striving to main-tain good working relationships is very important, as is honest communication.

RS: 1) The school board must put aside their personal differences and focus on education. solution: set ground rules, follow board policy, and act in accordance with the law. 2) To develop a plan of action to accommodate the problems that come with rapid growth. solution: gather information, set priorities, educate the public and put plan into action. 3) to work within revenue caps and keep quality education. solution: gather information, set priorities, educate the public and put plan into action. 3) To work within revenue caps and keep quality education. solution: watch every penny spent and allow no waste of funds. 9. What one topic would you like to see the Board address this year, and describe your interest in it. KS: If we can't begin to address; our energies will be funneled off into suspicions and paranoia. And yet we cannot in good conscience let what may be illegal actions go unchallenged. I hope the board makes peace by focusing on solving problems, and acting honorably.

RS: The board has no choice but to look at how the growth in population in our district will be accommodated. I am interested in keeping the small, "neighborhood" elementary school concept.

Candidate Lisa Maul offered this: Dear PTO:

I am a mother of 3 children. I am the Wayne PTO president at this time. I have helped on the building referendum, to get that passed. I am a member of the booster club, go to all the school board meeting and I am a concerned parent.

As to question 1), you can't answer this type of question without explaining your thoughts and views.

As to the rest of the questions, you can't answer briefly. A lot of them should be answered in depth, and if any time you want to walk to me personally, I'd be more than happy to talk.

Candidate Larry Fechter

offered this:

Thank you for your interest in my views. I find the topics too complex to simply answer in this format. If I am still a candidate after the primary, I would be more than happy to discuss my views on these issues in detail, at an open forum.

Farmington PTO and the Middle school parents wish to thank the candidates for their insights and replies, and for taking time to respond to this pre-primary survey. We wish all of the candidates well, and hope to gain an in-depth understanding on your views on the issues and reasons for running for the Kewaskum School Board at a future date

The Junior Womens Club of Kewaskum is offering a voter forum at Kewaskum High School on Wednesday, January 24, in the evening. Further information will be coming up. We hope to see all interested in this issue there!

Kewaskum Boys Win Tourney Consolation Championship

By Perry Koth

On January 13 and 14, the Slinger Jaycees sponsored a 7th and 8th grade boys and girls basketball tournament.

A Kewaskum tournament team consisting of Tim Bonlender, Billy Cook, Curt Koth, Chris Koth, Aaron Sieser, Josh Stangl, Jason Strobel and coached by Perry Koth, competed in the 8th grade division and was able to win the Consolation Championship.

The team drew a tough opponent in the first round when it had to play a strong Brookfield Central team. Central's team was big, athletic, and had a lot of depth, as it defeated Kewaskum by a score of 47-27. The game was close the first half with Kewaskum leading at one point, 15-14.

The Lancers aggressive defense, various half and full court presses, and solid rebounding, created problems for the smaller Kewaskum team, which allowed them to slowly pull away in the fourth quarter. While the Brookfield Central team eventually advanced into the finals of the tournament, Kewaskum moved into the consolation bracket.

The next opponent for the Indians was the Slinger 2 team and the results were much different. Kewaskum clearly had the advantage throughout the game and easily won by a score of 47-27.

The Indians used solid team defense to hold Slinger to just six first half points while scoring 23. Tim Bonlender, Aaron Seiser, and Billy Cook controlled the boards while Curt Koth, Josh Stangl, Jason Strobel and Chris Koth applied intense pressure on the ball handlers defensively.

The consolation championship game featured Kewaskum against Brookfield East. Once again it was no contest as the Indians broke out to 7-2 lead and never looked back as they won the Consolation Championship game 52-23. The Indians used intense man-to-man pressure to create numerous turnovers and some easy breakaway baskets. Chris Koth hit his first four shots including two three-pointers to get the Indians off to a fast start. Billy Cook and Jason Strobel drove the lane often for some easy baskets. Josh Stangl missed only one shot during the game, and Curt Koth made some amazing layups inside. When the Spartans went to a zone defense, Tim Bonlender and Aaron Seiser (playing a high-low post) were able to dominate the paint scoring nearly every time they got the ball.

The Kewaskum players impressed several officials and coaches with their good passing, and how well they played together as a team. Although the players had had only two practices prior to the tournament, most of them had been a part of a tournament team earlier this year that played in Manitowoc.

Kewaskum High School's head basketball coach Dave Shaw, coached them in that tournament. The players also spent a lot of time at open gyms last summer. The extra time they put in was obvious to anyone who watched them play.

The only regrets they had as a team, was that they had to play the best team in the tournament first, before they had a chance to play together for a game or two. They all felt it would have been a different game if they had played Brookfield Central in the third game rather than the first game.

HT Boys 'A' Team Still Undefeated

With the season now half over, the Wildcat Boys A Team remains undefeated. On Friday evening, January 12 in Lomira, the Wildcats defeated CCLT by a score of 38 to 26.

A tough defense again played a major factor in the win. At the end of the first quarter, the score was Holy Trinity 15, CCLT 3. During the second quarter, Holy Trinity allowed CCLT only an additional seven points while they scored 12. In the third quarter, CCLT tightened up its defense and allowed Holy Trinity only four points to their six. However, at this point, the game was too far out of reach for CCLT.

Rebounding was shared by nine members of the Holy Trinity squad. The team had a total of 20 rebounds. Again Jason Strobel led the team with five rebounds followed by Jacob Stoffel with four. Turnovers by Holy Trinity were kept to a minimum.

Eight team members scored during the game. These included: Jason Strobel 18, Jason Gruber 5, Mark Schrauth 4, Jacob Stoffel 3, Pat Bohn 2, Mitch Strobel 2, Nick Staehler 2 and Jesse Boegel 2.

The next game for the Wildcats will be on Saturday afternoon on January 20, at St. Marys in Mayville.

Wildcat 'A' Team Girls Win Again

The Holy Trinity "A" team girls basketball team got very balanced scoring in soundly defeating the girls from CCLT 47 to 24, in a game played at Lomira High School.

The Wildcats, who saw nine of its players score, came out and did a nice job of passing and looking for the open man. CCLT played tough through the first quarter with the 'Cats only able to get a lead of 10 to 8.

After a switch in defenses to start the second quarter, the girls started to take control of the game. CCLT turned the ball over numerous times resulting in quite a few fast break baskets for H.T.S. Meanwhile, point guards Amy Piwoni and Lynn Wiesner were able to penetrate into the lane and as a result, earned trip after trip to the free throw line. The results were a 26 to 16 halftime lead.

The second half started the way the first ended, with the Wildcats smothering defense forcing turnovers and then taking advantage at the other end. Seven players scored for Holy Trinity in the third quarter allowing them to take a 41 to 19 lead into the final stanza.

With extended playing time the Wildcat bench showed that the future is bright. Led by the aggressive play of Becky Bohn and Bridget Beck, the girls held their own in the fourth quarter and finished out the game in fine fashion.

The Wildcats were led in scoring by Piwoni and Jenny Kraft with eleven and ten respectively. Following them were Katie Kopecky with seven, Wiesner with five, and Amber King and Emily Rinzel with four apiece. Finishing the scoring were Lisa Schickert, Bridget Polzean and Erin Weiss with a basket each. Next up, a trip to Mayville on Saturday, January 20.

Indians Win First Game

By Perry Koth

If you work hard and long enough things will eventually fall into place. Last Thursday night things came together for the Kewaskum boys basketball team and coach Dave Shaw as they earned their first victory of the season after nine defeats by beating the Kiel Raiders 56-45.

The Indians used strong first and fourth quarters to handle the 1-8 Raiders. "The team took a step in the right direction tonight," said first year coach Dave Shaw. Shaw was very pleased with junior Jason Bartelt, who played very well defensively. Bartelt had missed several games with an ankle injury and is just now starting to come back.

Kewaskum looked and played confident the first quarter, building a 15-7 first quarter lead. The second quarter didn't go quite as well for Kewaskum as Kiel closed the gap to 23-22 at the half.

The Indians, who have had a pattern of playing inconsistently during past games, started the second quarter with numerous turnovers and allowed Kiel back into the game.

But as the quarter progressed, the Indians settled down and began to play well again. The third quarter was a defensive battle as neither team hit double figures for the quarter (KHS 8, Kiel 6). While Kewaskum never trailed after the middle of the third quarter, the outcome was no sure thing until Brian Butschlick stole the ball, made a layup, got fouled and made the foul shot, to give Kewaskum a 47-40 lead with less than a minute and a half left in the game.

Kewaskum made 19 of 28 free throws in the fourth quarter as the Raiders were forced to foul when Coach Shaw decided to use a four corner offense to make use of his guards and their ability to penetrate. Kewaskum scored a season high 25 points in the fourth quarter to seal the victory. Dan Jeserig led the Indians in scoring with 19 while Jeb Jungwirth and Kevin Dobke chipped in with 12 and 9 respectively. Kiel meanwhile, was led by Terry Mintner and Jamie Arenz with 11 apiece

While Shaw was very relieved to finally get that elusive first win, he and his team are not going to be satisfied with how they played. "We have alot of work left and we can not be satisfied with where we are at, Shaw said. "We feel that we have a good chance to win several of our next games but we have got to keep improving to do that." Kewaskum hosts Sheboygan Falls on Tuesday, January 16.

HT Boys 'B' Team Defeats Lomira

The Holy Trinity boys "B" team racked up their second win against Lomira last Friday night. They had some stiff competition and were tied 6 to 6 at the first quarter and down at the end of the first half when the score was 16 to 10.

But the boys rallied and gained strength in the next half, winning the game by a final score of 34 to 23.

Josh Repovsch made 12 points as lead scorer, Adam Hubacek made eight and Nick Thorn had six. Bryan Kraft scored four points, and Ty Wietor and Noah Koch each made one basket.

The next game will be on Saturday, January 20, at 12:30 in Mayville.
