Computers Are Here to Stay!

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

Rumors and gossip have been spreading like wildfire and running rampant throughout this school district and beyond in reference to a recent news article published in the Milwaukee Journal/Sentinel implying that School Board President Neal Weare intends to remove computers from the elementary schools.

Because this matter appears to be the "talk of the town," this newspaper decided to contact Mr. Weare to clarify any previous statements made and explain EXACTLY what his intentions are in regards to the computer issue.

In a phone interview on Monday, School Board

Benefit for Bill Prost Saturday

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Bill and Jean Prost have lived in Kewaskum since they were first married in 1971. In fact, the couple will be celebrating their 25th anniversary come July.

Folks from around the area know Bill as an avid hunter and all-around sportsman. He could often be found at the Campbellsport Sportsman's Club, trap shooting on a league. For a few years he served as the club's director, and for 15 years he instructed youth through a Hunter's Safety program.

Prost is a name known in car racing circles and around the Plymouth Speedway, where he enjoys burning up the track racing super modified cars in the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Association. He follows the Winston Cup and Indy racing series, perhaps dreaming for that chance to step into the spotlight shared by big time drivers.

"He's also a big Badger's and Packer's fan," his boss Barb Bubb points out. "If either of them are playing on TV, that's where Bill's at." Bill works for Barb at Kloke Ready Mix in Campbellsport, but their relationship extends beyond the workplace. "He's a good friend, and I'm happy to help him in any way I can," she maintains.

This past Christmas, Bill and his family received the news that he is suffering from lung cancer, which made for a difficult holiday season. Jean, who works at Regal Ware, and Bill have two great sons; Bret is in the Navy stationed in Pearl Harbor, but will be returning home permanently on Thursday, and 15 year old Brian is an active teen attending Kewaskum Middle School.

Bill, age 47, recently finished a series of radiation treatments performed at Community Memorial Hospital in Menomonee Falls, and is now beginning chemotherapy, at the Kettle Moraine Treatment Center in West Bend. "So far he's been doing pretty well through all the treatments, and the results are very good -- it's put the cancer in remission," Bubb related, who has been staying with Bill during the day to keep him company.

What started out as a little idea to help raise funds to defray the Prost's mounting medical bills, has turned into a big event, thanks to Kloke Ready Mix and the A.A.L. Branch #26. A benefit dance and auction has been put together for Bill, and will be held Saturday, March 16 at the Amerahn on Highway 45 in Kewaskum.

Spring Election Here Tuesday

Six Seeking to Fill Three School Board Vacancies

Voters on Tuesday will be the ones making the ultimate decision on which of the six remaining candidates will fill the much touted three vacant school board seats. Incumbents Ruth Schmitt and Karen Sparks are being challenged by Jon Downs, Larry Fechter, Lisa Maul and Tom Timblin.

Downs and Timblin are village of Kewaskum residents. Fechter resides in the Town of Farmington and Maul in the Town of Wayne.

Much publicity has been afforded this hotly contested race from the day candidates took out their nomination papers, continuing through a grueling primary and ending with the voter's decisions on Tuesday. For months, candidates have been extremely verbal on their reasons for wanting to secure one of the school board's three seats.

Now the decision falls into the hands of the voter who will ultimately

Ms. Thull plans to attend Concordia University to study Occupational Therapy and Music. She is the daughter of Ralph and Mary Lou Thull, Kewaskum.

Katrina Gilles is a member of Peers 4 Peers, HOPE (earth club), Forensics and FLAGS (international club). She also participates in Track, Varsity Cross Country, is an editor for Smoke Signals (the Area voters will also be voting on the Presidential Preference, Judicial, and County races,

Four Vying for Three Village Board Seats

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Elections to fill three seats on the village board will take place at the polls on Tuesday, March 19, with one incumbent and three newcomers vying for the positions.

Robert Stoltzmann

Robert Stoltzmann, 350 Braatz Drive, has served as a trustee on the Kewaskum village board for three years, and is the only incumbent entering the race this time around. William Kulas and John Borland chose not to seek re-election.

Mr. Stoltzmann and his wife Bonnie, have enjoyed living in the village since 1972, where they've raised three children: Scott 32, Sue 29, and Paul 19. Bob is employed at West Bend Elevator and Bonnie works at Fleet Farm in West Bend.

He is well known by residents for his dedication to the Kewaskum Fire Department, serving three years as Fire Chief, and presently as part of the fire fighting crew. An avid snowmobile enthusiast, Stoltzmann is a member of the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs, and a past president of the club.

"I'm seeking re-election because I find the job interesting and informative," he states. "Since we are losing two seasoned members of the village board, I felt it would be beneficial to keep one incumbent in the seat, who knows how government works."

Warren Dums

Newcomer Warren Dums (pronounced Doms), 1410 Stark Street, moved from the Medford area with his family six years ago. He attended Rib Lake High School, and Wausau Technical School, where he received a degree in Mechanical Design, and also served his country as a member of the U.S. Military in the Vietnam War. He is currently employed as operations manager and also part owner of American Exchanger Services Inc. of Allenton, a company that repairs and rebuilds heat exchangers. Their primary customers are paper mills, refineries, utilities and power plants.

Warren and his wife Patti have two daughters, Rachel 9, and Karissa 6, who attend Holy Trinity School. An active family man, he is also vice president of his church's Home and School Association and served on their Social Fest committee.

"I've been attending village board meetings on and off for a few years, and I was surprised by the poor attendance," he points out. "Nobody goes, and I was interested in seeing how the town is run and who was running it." He obtained filing papers to run for a position on the village board four years ago, but later chose not to file the papers.

Dums states that he likes the town as it is, but is concerned with the rapid growth of multi-family housing, and the impact it may have on the community in the future. If elected to the position, Warren expects it to be a great learning experience, and a chance to help serve the community and bring in new ideas.

Jon Kenworthy

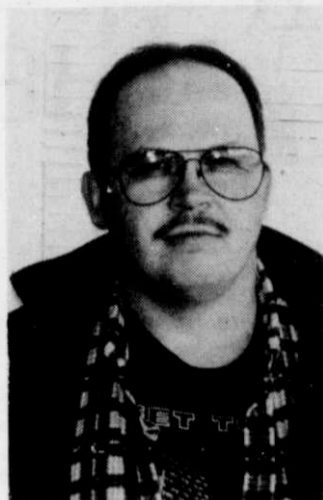

Jon Kenworthy, 115 Elm Street, has lived in Kewaskum for two years, and is running for a public office for the first time. He and his wife Denise have two boys attending Kewaskum Elementary School: Nathan 8, and Dylan, 6. They also have a one year old son, Ian, toddling around the house.

Kenworthy commutes to Brown Deer, where he is employed with the Wago Corp., a manufacturer of electronic connectors. Denise is a nurse, working with the elderly at the Samaritan Home in West Bend. He is also a free lance writer, and has recently been working on his first book, the story of Ub Iwerks, one of Walt Disney's first animators and the creator of Mickey Mouse. As part of his research, he visited Burbank, California, a couple of weeks ago, attending a reception for Disney animators, and word of his book was met with enthusiasm.

"I think of Kewaskum as being on the edge of all the new growth the county is experiencing, and I feel it's a very exciting time for the community," he comments, "but I'm very surprised by the lack of interest and low attendance at the village board meetings." Kenworthy sees his seat on the board as a way to "evangelize" for the village board, and change the impression people have. When I first went door to door seeking signatures for nomination, many people didn't really know what the board did, or it's real purpose, and

I'd like to have the chance to change that," he stated.

Daniel Kerlin

The village's third new candidate, Daniel Kerlin, 1551 Fond du Lac Avenue, considers himself an honest, family oriented person, who would like to see the village

Renovations Made at Hilltop Laundry

Shown is the interior of the newly-renovated Hilltop Laundry in Kewaskum.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Hilltop Laundry in Kewaskum has had a recent facelift, and much needed expansion as it continues to be the village's sole Laundromat, in charge of serving a rapidly growing community. It's done this job well in the past, but it's doing an even better job of it now, although owners Ken and Carol Weddig wondered if the renovations would ever be completed.

The remodeling was begun in April of '95, but a series of unforeseen circumstances, (which we won't get into here, but they really were unforeseen) backed the work up for about six months. The new improved Laundromat opened its addition about nine weeks ago, and it's made a real difference for customers, that are on the increase as Kewaskum continues to grow in population.

"We really needed to do this," Ken maintains. "It was getting so crowded with all the multi-family housing, and quite a few failing septic systems." The Weddigs redid the entire exterior with new steel siding, full insulation, all new windows, and a new roof. They eliminated one of the two entranceways, and added an air lock for additional warmth during the winter months. Two brightly colored signs add a finishing touch to the modernized exterior.

All new duct work accommodated the venting of additional dryers, and the building also received a new air conditioning and furnace system. The interior addition measures 22 1/2 by 48 feet, offering more room for sorting and folding laundry. Six 25 pound washing machines, four 18 pound washers, and a dozen more 30 pound dryers inhabit the new area, along with a handicapped accessible bathroom. "It's helped eliminate crowding quite a bit," Weddig points out, adding that there is still some minor work left to do.

The owners give credit to the following persons and businesses who worked on the remodeling of Hilltop Laundry: Chuck Schultz and Mike Nigh for all of their carpentry work, Bob's Heating and Air Conditioning and Kettle Moraine Electric.

KMS to Present Spring Concert

board hit the front page of the newspapers more often than the school board, but for issues that are positive and beneficial to the community.

A member of the community for the past eight years, he is employed with Strattec Security Corp. in Milwaukee, previously a part of Briggs and Statton. His wife, Cheryl, works for the West Bend Police Department. The Kerlins have two daughters attending Kewaskum Elementary School, Jessica 8, and Jodi 6. He also has a 17 year old daughter, Jennifer, who lives in Milwaukee.

Dan's hobbies include bowling, hunting, and rebuilding automobiles, and is proud to state he's very good at the latter. He recently rebuilt a '77 pickup truck, but tore it apart again, always ready to revise and improve. His future plans include drag racing at Union Grove.

"I feel this would be a great opportunity to get more involved with the community," he emphasizes. "When I took out papers, these positions on the board were uncontested, and I felt that it was only fair that the voters of this community have a chance to elect who they want to the board, as well as what they want to see done. I would like to have a say so on what's going on in Kewaskum, and that's why I'm also going to be attending the school board meetings."

Now it's time for the voters of Kewaskum to make their choice, and also appreciate the fact they have a choice, thanks to citizens like the above who've seen the need for increased community involvement and interest in how decisions are made, decisions that impact the entire community. Vote March 19th, support the political process, and let your voice be heard.

Two bands are scheduled for this special evening; Evergreen will be playing from 7 to 9 p.m., followed by Nashville Sound, crooning the tunes from 10 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

A spectacular auction is planned, with a long list of donated items that include a ten gun cabinet, getaway packages, including a night in a FantaSuite at the West Bend Inn, Owen Gromme prints, Terry Redlin plates, food processors, rotisseries, numerous gift certificates, and much more. The auction will take place from 9 to 10 p.m.

Computers

President Weare stated he was not sure how the statement about removing computers from the elementary schools got into the Journal/Sentinel article. He felt possibly statements he made might have been misconstrued, shortened or edited.

Weare stated, "I did not mean completely take out the computers in every classroom from K-8. It was my intention to give the K-3 students the basics first from which to base their knowledge, and then use the computer as an additional learning tool."

Weare used the analogy, "You don't try to teach someone in the third grade algebra without them having acquired basic math concepts first."

Weare does feel there is a lack of continuity among the elementary schools throughout the district in regards to how the computers are being used. He believes all the students across the district must be treated equally. He stated, "The district has hired a consultant to tell us where we are lacking and where we can better utilize what we already have."

In conclusion, Weare added, "I didn't give up my right to voice my concerns and opinions. And my personal opinion is we have to get back to basics. However, I would never, ever advocate taking all computers out of the schools and it would be ludicrous to even think of taking computers out of the 5-8 grades."

In retrospect, common sense has to tell us, irregardless of how Mr. Weare feels about computers and whether he was misquoted or not is inconsequential. The fact remains that one person cannot make the decision for the entire board of education.

Two other board members contacted have stated that the computers are here to stay and the issue is being studied. Computers are NOT coming out of the elementary schools. The only question is HOW to use the computers in a way that is most advantageous to all the teachers and students who have the desire to utilize them.

It is this writer's opinion that Kewaskum is one of the finest communities in this country. Conservative? Yes, we all know that. Maybe that's a part of our heritage... maybe that's what is part of our "charm." But regressive? Anti-technology? I don't think so. I believe every resident in this community and school district, including ALL members of the school board, realize our children cannot exist in today's world without computer knowledge.

What I don't understand is why some of the news media seems to find such perverse pleasure in making all small communities look like illiterate fools who don't know what's good for them. We are quite capable of governing ourselves without constant intervention, thank you.

Girl Scout Week March 9-16

March 9-16 Girl Scouts in the Manitou Girl Scout Council will join Girl Scouts nationwide in celebrating Girl Scout Week. March 12, 1996 marks the 84th anniversary year of Girl Scouting of the U.S.A.

When Juliette Gordon Low started Girl Scouting in 1912 her mission was the same as it is today, to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens. Now as then, girls need a place especially for girls - where they can enjoy close friendships, expand their horizons, develop a sense of purpose, and explore answers to those all-important questions. That place is Girl Scouting.

The Girl Scouts are calling America to action Tuesday, March 12, when we will celebrate the second annual Girl Scouts' Be Your Best Day. Girl Scouts are asking everyone in the nation to pledge to be the best on that day. Whether it involves an individual commitment, a pledge to do something special for their community, or a promise to do a good deed for a friend or neighbor, the Be Your Best campaign is a chance for everyone to celebrate the values of our country and of Girl Scouting.

On Girl Scout Sunday, local Girl Scout troop 247 will be participating as ushers at Holy Trinity Church, and Girl Scouts will be visiting local nursing home residents.

On March 17, Girl Scouts and their families will enjoy a pot luck dinner and awards night.

The Manitou Girl Scout Council serves more than 6,500 girls and adults in the seven counties of Calumet, Dodge, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc, Ozaukee, Sheboygan and Washington.

The Family Technology Program will be hosted by Kieth Kriewaldt, principal of Farmington School as part of a Family Fun Night at the school. Microsoft Corporation, the world's leading software developer is sponsoring the event with the support of Family PC magazine and Gateway 2000.

According to a study done by the Software Publishers Association, educational technology has been found to have positive effects on student attitudes toward learning and on student self-concept.

Farmington Elementary School is hosting this event to show the community how technology can make learning more fun and to demonstrate to its parents how computers at home can enrich their children's learning experience at school.

The program will be held Friday evening, March 15, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Farmington Elementary School, 8736 Boltonville Rd.

Parents and their children will experience technology in action. They will have a hands-on opportunity to explore Encarta '96 reference software, the Magic School Bus series and other educational titles running on the Windows 95 operating system.

For more information contact Kieth Kriewaldt, principal of Farmington Elementary School at 414-692-9032 or Marilyn Kemp, Family Technology Night Presenter at 414-285-3227.

'Ask the School Board Candidates'

Only one question was submitted this week for our school board candidates prior to our Friday noon deadline. One question, "If elected how would you promote harmony on the board," unfortunately was phoned in about an hour after the questions for this week had been mailed to the candidates. I guess we will have to wait a few months to see how the candidates answer that question.

Though somewhat brief, and not totally fueled by voter interest, the column was enlightening, gave voters some insight on how the candidates felt on a few issues, and was fair to all the candidates, giving them all a chance to research and think about their answers, without having to be placed verbally "on the spot."

In retrospect, we will definitely give some thought to doing the column again next year early enough in the election process and including village board candidates. We are also seriously considering the idea of totally eliminating all "Letters to the Editor" that are in reference to emotionally charged local political issues.

This year, much of our school news had to put on the proverbial "back burner" due to the tremendous influx of letters. And did all the name-calling and innuendo do anyone any earthly good? I don't think so. It got out of hand and it will be a long time before it all fades into a bitter memory, no matter how the election turns out.

This column was originated to help you, the voter, come to an election day decision. But the most important decision you can make is taking advantage of your right to vote. Yes, your vote can and does make a difference. Vote March 19.

In fairness, answers to the question are printed according to how the candidate is listed on the ballot.

Question #1

AS A PROSPECTIVE SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER, WHAT WOULD YOU SUGGEST THE DISTRICT SHOULD DO TO HELP RAISE THE LOW GRADEPOINT AVERAGES OF THE KEWASKUM STUDENTS WHO RECENTLY PARTICIPATED IN THE DPP'S MUCH PUBLICIZED WISCONSIN STUDENT ASSESSMENT SYSTEM KNOWLEDGE AND CONCEPTS EXAMINATION?

LISA MAUL

Any time your kids grades start slipping, what is the first thing you do as a parent? You make them buckle down and start studying harder to bring the grades back up to where they should be. Privileges are also taken away from the child until this is accomplished. The grades come up, the grade point follows, simple as that.

It's what we have to do at school that matters the most. The Curriculum Coordinator is going to have to make sure we (as a district) are doing everything possible. To find out the areas where we are the weakest and stress the importance of trying to improve those areas.

The teachers are going to have to help in this by emphasizing to the class, to be the best they can possibly be, and not to settle on just getting by. Competition between the students is very important, and to be competitive in class will help in the work place. Let's get the children working at different levels in class again, and not hold the quicker learning children behind, because it takes someone else a little longer to learn the same material.

Finally, the parents' involvement in their child's education is extremely important. We have to take control of the educational system and make sure these kids are learning what they need to know to survive in this world. We have to get rid of the feel-good society. Our kids are being brought up with the idea that it's all right to fail, but the important thing is to make sure they feel good about themselves. Who cares if they got the answers wrong, let's just make them feel good that they tried! ENOUGH!

If this continues to be the foundation of not only our educational system, but also our society, there will be an ever-increasing moral, spiritual and industrial decline in our society.

If we all work together we can accomplish this very challenging problem this School District faces. We have to all become INVOLVED and EDUCATED about our children's future.

JON DOWNS

I believe as a school district, we should desire to improve our standing in regard to such testing as the Wisconsin Student Assessment System Knowledge and Concepts Examination. While raising our performance level is our goal, I would like to put the recent scores in perspective.

First, although the average scores were lower than the rest of Washington County; they were average or better when compared nationally. Again, I absolutely want to raise the scores in the future, but I do not want to characterize them as "low." Let us remember that the public school system in Wisconsin was rated first in the nation last year, and Kewaskum was in the top half within the state.

The point is, as a school district our educational goal is to improve our performance level locally, statewide, and nationally. It is my understanding there is a current effort to relate our present curriculum to known national standards. I have only recently learned of this effort, and if I become elected to the school board I plan to pursue this in more depth.

These types of efforts are imperative to achieving improvements. As a school board member, I would like to coordinate this type of research to include the curriculum coordinator, school staff, and the board. My efforts would focus on working together to achieve academic excellence.

KAREN K. SPARKS

The question as stated is a bit misleading. Other than honor roll listings in the local papers, the general public does not have access to grade-point averages (that is, the quarter or semester grades) of students, nor to my knowledge is there a statistical correlation made locally between grade-point averages and the results of the state-mandated WSAS group tests. Many non-curricular things influence how students do on tests, including factors such as motivation, test anxiety, distractions during testing, misunderstanding of directions, unfamiliarity with question type, personal health or family circumstances on the day of the test, skipping breakfast (I am serious!), over-achievement, under-achievement, the list could be endless, and I will spare you. (Think of all the reasons you may or may not do well at a task on any given day).

So, as a board member: What would I do to raise the WSAS test scores of the students who participated? Looking at this problem requires considering why test scores sometimes drop, then considering reasonable and practical attitudes and options.

Any attempt to answer this question can sound like "making excuses," when none are required. Over-reacting is counter-productive and unnecessary, unless one is trying to make political capital over this issue. I hope that these test results aren't used to point blame or to indicate that "these low scores are the legacy of our former administrators," to paraphrase a recent letter to the editor. Fortunately, most think that this is a ridiculous notion, and a disservice. When test scores rose by 17 points two years ago, what "caused" that? A new curriculum, overnight? Hardly. My guess is, a changed test environment, a different test, or a different group of students, in some combination. Fluctuations are normal, especially ones this small. We can explore possible reasons and share opinions, without passing judgment. There are many questions I could ask, and perhaps some of the answers will have come out at the board meeting Monday evening, well after the Monday noon deadline for this response in the paper.

First, historically, how has each group of students fared on large-group tests in the past? Each grade level has its own composition in terms of ability, attitude and motivation, and educators know that occasionally a group comes through the system that is notably above or below average in some or all of these aspects. If a group tends to do less well on standardized group tests, and I am not saying we know that is the case here, the testing environment becomes even more important to get a true and fair picture of the group.

Next, what were test-day conditions like this year? In past years, our curriculum coordinator, (formerly Connie Strand; this year, George Allmann) has worked with teachers and principals to set up the best testing environment, within reason, for each grade level. Did that happen this year?

Some schools go to great lengths to produce high scores, even providing breakfasts or nutritious snacks on test days. Research supports these nutritional efforts. Others may do testing in small groups, locate students with attitude or discipline problems separately (to avoid disruption for others and encourage their best performance), communicate the benefits of doing a good job for students' career planning efforts, prepare students specifically for the test ("teach to the test"), give lots of positive reinforcement, and more. If we expect to be accountable and compare ourselves to other schools in looking at the results, we must compare ourselves in test administration and environment, as well as in curriculum.

Was it a level playing field this year? How can we tell? Is using so-called "artificially created testing environments" considered cheating, for the purposes of this test? I hope that is not the attitude Mr. Johnson espouses. Our district administrator and curriculum coordinator must answer that question. I don't consider providing the best possible testing environment, as most other schools attempt to do, to be out of the ordinary. We owe it to our students and their parents. For the results of the 8th and 10th grade tests to be useful to families and the school for planning purposes, it needs to be a fully supported best effort.

The issue of whether we should "teach to the test" bears a closer look. It is a genuine dilemma. If we follow state curriculum guidelines, we expect that our students will do well on state tests. That presumes that the tests follow the same guidelines, which they often do not. Example: This year a 10th grade math short-answer question was about probability. Many math texts and teachers place that as a lower priority than other areas, and many excellent math students did not have a clue what to do. Their scores reflect it. Will we revise our curriculum to include probability earlier, to better prepare students for the test in case that question is on again? We could. If we did, is that "teaching to the test"? Or, should all students know about probability? WSAS must think so. What do we leave out, or spend less time on, if we include probability? Can we do that in 8th grade math, for example, instead of learning how to "cast out nines"? Or, where else? You see, it gets interesting. Curriculum revision is and should be an on-going process. Any positive, constructive ideas are surely welcome.

Some would object that we want local control over our curriculum, and should not bend to subtle state mandates about what we should teach, disguised as test questions. The board could take that position, that we totally go our own way, but then we take the chance of lower test scores than districts that do "teach to the test." That's fine too, but we must expect and live with the results. When public school choice kicks in, people will look at these scores, among other things, to decide where to send their children to school. In an ideal world we would have it both ways, and maybe even influence DPI.

This is a really long answer, but we have a complex issue; thanks for your patience. We can only control for just so much, and as a board, we have to do our best to support our students, teachers and staff at a time like this when fingers could be pointing wildly all around. I agree with Mr. Johnson that we shouldn't over-react, and would add that we also shouldn't over-generalize or go on the defensive. We may never know (one seldom does) the reasons for a change in scores, we can only guess. But like weather patterns in Wisconsin, I can guarantee you that sometime they will change again! We should be aiming for improvement based on good research all the time, in a positive, calm way, and need to keep this in perspective. It is up to board members to educate the public, provide leadership and set a good example here.

RUTH SCHMITT

This question seems to refer to two separate issues. Perhaps there is confusion as to the correlation between raising gradepoints and raising test scores. I will attempt to address both issues. However, I do not have access to the grade-points of students who took the test, so it is difficult to be specific about solutions.

Certainly, gradepoints can be raised with intervention by school district personnel. I believe that tutoring opportunities are provided during the school day for students who seek help at the high school and middle school. In addition, there is a reading specialist available to students at the elementary and middle school level.

When students are going through stressful, difficult times there are counselors available to help and guide them. Sometimes, community agencies can be accessed to provide special services in such areas as abuse, alcohol and drug addiction, or any adverse situation that is preventing success in the classroom.

Gradepoints can be improved in many ways. Ultimately, it is up to the individual student to take responsibility for his/her success in school. Student motivation is a key factor in raising gradepoints.

I am assuming that each candidate is expected to comment on the lower test scores received by students this year. Over the weekend, I did what research I could to discover what methods were used last year versus those employed this year. I have personally observed the methods used in testing in West Bend for the past two years, as well.

Clearly, the testing methods used last year worked well. Other schools in our conference and surrounding area have structured their testing schedules, preparation for the test, and testing environment much the same as we did last year. Some schools even exceeded Kewaskum in the efforts made last year to ensure success.

For whatever reason, a decision was made NOT to follow last year's very successful methods of administering the test. If a district expects to do well, there must be a "level playing field." How can we expect success when students do not realize the importance of the test results? Other school districts make it very clear that the outcome is important, remove all distractions, and monitor students during the testing time. Some districts vary their curriculum to make sure the subject to be tested has been covered by students prior to the test.

It makes me very angry to think that our students were set up to do poorly. It would have been so easy to call other districts and find out what steps needed to be taken to help students do well. I believe if they had followed last year's testing methods, the scores would have been higher.

I strongly recommend that steps be taken to help students to have equal opportunity to score well on the state test. If not, we must give little attention to the results and look for other indications of student ability at all levels.

LARRY FECHTER

My suggestions treat the root of the problem and not just the symptoms. Unlike others, I find the recent resignations and potential new board members, a step in the right direction. Our new administrators must be people who respect others, who will identify and rise to the challenges and people who can show positive leadership. A person that can have the management skills to bring people together, even if their philosophies and/or ideologies differ. You cannot be a mug woump. Now as for myself on the board, the same applies. Myself and all other board members must continue to strive toward these principles. It all starts at the top.

You may ask where are the teachers in all this. My observation and experience as a manager has taught me that most employees do not enjoy coming to a place of employment that is in disarray. But the only way this will change is to become part of the solution and not part of the problem. I simply would ask the teachers to follow their hearts. Do not be misled by others who continue to cry chicken little.

Though the school board, administrators and teachers are paramount, the parents have to become more involved in their children's education. We as parents have to compete with other distractions our kids have today, but we have to rise to the challenge. Then with our house in order we can start on the road to successful test scores, new programs, better athletics and simple pride.

To end, I would like to use a favorite analogy of mine. The coaching staff for Tampa Bay is leaving town, let's get a Green Bay staff in place, with hopes of a Super Bowl.

TOM TIMBLIN

There are going to be a lot of complicated solutions to this question. The simple fact of the matter is that we currently have a school district polarized by school board personality conflicts.

This may sound simplistic to some but it is the root of the entire problem. The two incumbents that want you, the public, to re-elect them, have a combined 13 years of experience on the Kewaskum School Board. During their tour of duty, we have plummeted to dead last academically in Washington County in combined test scores. This is not name-calling or mud-slinging. This is pure unadulterated fact. You have all seen the newspaper articles. Instead of standing up and exercising some degree of accountability, the two have decided to throw out a smokescreen. Let's play the victim card. It's not our fault... it's Board President Neal Weare's fault. Like Mr. Weare or dislike Mr. Weare, the bottom line is that he isn't up for re-election this year. He is a non-issue.

One of our principals recently told me that the only two pro-education candidates are the two teachers who are currently on the board. This whole notion that teachers are the only ones smart enough to be involved in the educational process is nonsense! I am not trying to be combative or confrontational with our professional staff, but I think there needs to be more parental input.

Unless we bury the hatchet and start to renew a degree of cooperation in the chain of command, all of the well-intentioned programs on earth will not bring unity or higher test scores. I don't believe our kids are any less intelligent than the kids in Slinger, West Bend, Campbellsport or Germantown. I do believe our kids can sense all of the disharmony we are currently embroiled in. You can cut it with a knife. Our kids deserve better! It is time to respectfully retire the two incumbents and move ahead with our future. It has been suggested that three fresh new faces on the board will blindly follow the status quo and represent only one view. That just is not going to happen. There is going to be a myriad of vibrant, dynamic new ideas brought forward.

And lastly, every cloud has a silver lining and that includes another administrator leaving. This gives us an opportunity to find a new enthusiastic, motivated individual that wants to work with the board and wants to be a part of Kewaskum's resurgence. I am excited about our future. Let's get to it!

I would also like to thank the Kewaskum Statesman for providing this forum to the residents. We are lucky to have such a community-oriented newspaper.

KHS Forensics Team Advances to District

Kewaskum High School forensics participants had great success at subdistrict competition Tuesday night, March 5. The students traveled to Ozaukee High School for this, their first step on the way to State. All thirty-five participants received at least 16 points (out of a possible 25) from two of the three judges, qualifying them for district competition. Six students earned one or more perfect scores of 25. John Hahn (Poetry), Carrie Krell (Prose), Brad Luterbach (Radio Speaking), Bridget Baum (Story Telling), and Lisa Dehler and Beth Herriges (Solo Humorous) received one or more perfect 25 rounds. Several students had more than one score of 24. In the category of Play-Acting, Laura Fleischman and Jenny Goodsell scored three nearly perfect rounds of 24 points each. Amy Liepert, in Poetry, also had two rounds of 24 points.

Other KHS students faring very well included the following: Heather Amerling, Jenny Ebert, Katrina Gilles, Brian Kleinke, Jenny Schulte, Gregg Serwe, Jill Weiss, and Jennie Theisen (Group Interpretive); Tina Kamrath, Sarah Ritger, Carrie Stoffel, Tammy Theisen, and Eric Van Demark (Play Acting); Renee Dahman and Jackie Wendegatz (Poetry); Marnie Winninghoff and Sarah Bausch (Four-Minute); Jenny Immel and Jane Sparks (Ferrago); Troy Staehler (Radio Speaking); Matt Fehlhaber (Moments in History); Crystal Herriges and Emma Chambers (Solo Acting Humorous); Jody Schmidt and Coral Choinski (Prose); and Jennifer Schmidt (Demonstration).

Coaches Judith Jacak

and Elizabeth Rydzik are very pleased with the results of this first meet and look forward to taking this talented group to conference and district competition.

Moraine Musicians Will Meet Monday

Moraine Musicians will have their final meeting on Monday, March 18, at 7:00 p.m. in the St. Frances Cabrini Church Hall, 1025 S. 7th Avenue, West Bend. A group of thirty young people, ages 4 through 14, know as THE SUNSHINE GENERATION from Ozaukee County will brighten up Cabrini Church Hall with song, dance and plenty of enthusiasm. THE SUNSHINE GENERATION is an international organization with over 200 chapters in the United States alone. It was founded twenty years ago to promote the fun in accomplishment of performing. The Ozaukee Chapter, which was organized seven years ago, is planning a trip to perform at Disney World in June. This will be a great opportunity to get to know some of our neighbors to the east and wish them the best of luck at Disney World.

Another date for Moraine Musicians to mark on their calendars is Saturday, March 23. The Winners of the Concerto contest held in February will perform with the Moraine Symphony Orchestra at the Cedar Theater at 7:30 p.m. This is a great way for the family to enjoy some fine music together, while showing support for these accomplished young people.

A final date to note is Sunday, March 31, 2:00 p.m., UWWC. MAPMTO will hold their annual Honors Concert and present plaques to those who have earned them. The 6th Grade Concerto Winner will be the featured performer, followed by those students in Division II who performed exceptionally well at the Festival.

This is a busy music month, giving Moraine Musicians ample opportunity to enjoy and participate in lots of great musical experiences. Don't miss any of them!!

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF SPRING ELECTION AND PRESIDENTIAL PREFERENCE VOTE MARCH 19, 1996

OFFICE OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY CLERK TO THE ELECTORS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a nonpartisan spring election and a Presidential Preference Vote to be held in Washington County, on March 19, 1996, at which the officers named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, for a referendum, if any, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, an elector shall give his or her name and address before being permitted to vote. Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth or machine and cast his or her ballot except that an elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

At the Spring Election, where lever machines are used, depress the lever or button at the right of the candidate's name. Where a marksense system is used, the elector shall fill in the oval next to the candidate's name.

To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the elector shall write the name of the candidate of his or her choice in the space provided and fill in the oval on the write-in line, where a marksense system is used.

On referenda questions, where lever machines are used, depress the button or lever next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or the elector shall depress the button or lever next to "no" if opposed to the question. Where a marksense system is used, the elector shall fill in the oval next to "yes" if in favor of the question, or fill in the oval next to "no" if opposed to the question.

At the Presidential Preference Vote, where lever machines are used, the elector shall select the party of his or her choice and depress the button or lever next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice or shall, in the alternative, depress the button or lever next to the words "Uninstructed delegation", or write in the name of his or her choice for a candidate in the space provided.

When a marksense system is used, the elector shall select the party of his or her choice and fill in the oval next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice or shall, in the alternative, fill in the oval next to the words "Uninstructed delegation", or write in the name of his or her choice for a candidate in the space provided.

If an elector spoils a ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initiated by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the elector shall return it to the election official who shall issue a proper ballot in its place. Not more than five minutes' time shall be allowed inside a voting booth. Unofficial ballots or a memorandum to assist the elector in marking his or her ballot card may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

After casting his or her vote, the elector shall leave the voting booth, properly deposit the ballot, and promptly leave the polling place.

After an official marksense ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the ballot sleeve provided so the marks do not show. The elector shall then insert the ballot in the voting device and deposit the ballot sleeve or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit.

An elector may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the elector declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing, or understanding English, or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the elector's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the elector.

March Is Red Cross Month

Across the nation, chapters of the American Red Cross are conducting an awareness and financial campaign during March. Jackie Wicklund, Executive Director of the West Bend Chapter, explains the mission of the Red Cross frequently to individuals and groups.

Wicklund indicates that the campaign slogan, "Help Can't Wait" describes much of the work of the Red Cross. For example, the Red Cross provides the community with such assistance as disaster aid and safety courses. She cites assistance with recent home fires in the area. Other assistance includes service to military families and community service such as transportation for medical care.

The West Bend Chapter encompasses the Villages of Jackson and Kewaskum and the Towns of Barton, Farmington, Jackson, Kewaskum, Trenton, Wayne and West Bend, and the City of West Bend.

Although the chapter receives financial assistance from the United Way, donations are needed to meet the growing needs. Volunteer time is also needed.

Wicklund urges anyone willing to assist to contact the Red Cross Chapter at 2410-B S. Main Street in West Bend, or call 334-5687.

A Message from Bonnie

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers and how are you all doing today? Next week is a VERY EXCITING time for the Postal Service and for each of you. Please allow me to tell you all about it.

To encourage a revitalization of letter writing, the U.S. Postal Service is celebrating National Card and Letter Writing Week from March 18-23, 1996. The theme for National Card and Letter Writing Week is "GIVE THE GIFT OF LETTERS." The gift that lasts forever.

In Kewaskum, the week will be celebrated by treats and coffee (as you mail your letters) courtesy of the employees of the Kewaskum Post Office. We look forward to seeing each of you. Mail a letter, have a treat ON US and put a smile on someone's face with the letter that you have written.

This week, I encourage everyone to participate in National Card and Letter Writing Week. Everyone has SOMEONE who would love to receive a letter from them. Whether it is your mom and dad, an old friend... even the editor of this fine newspaper... there is SOMEONE out there who would love to receive a letter from YOU! (EDITOR'S NOTE -- Sorry Bonnie... nearly everybody already wrote a Letter to the Editor this week!)

With the advent of the "now generation" -- a generation raised on fast food, taxes, computers, faxes and overnight mail -- the art of pouring out hopes, dreams or thoughts in a letter has almost disappeared. Would you believe that TODAY -- less than 4% of the mail that we receive at home is personal letters? IT IS TRUE and this is your chance to make a big difference in somebody's life! Please join us in corresponding to someone!

Your letter may become a gift that will last forever. If you are like me... we procrastinate a lot and say -- "yea, I should write to so and so," and then all of a sudden -- the big world "takes over" and those seemingly good intentions are put aside.

Think about it right now! Is there someone out there that would just smile from "ear to ear" to receive a letter from you? Okay... don't hesitate. "Jump on the bandwagon" for National Card and Letter Writing Week and write that letter TODAY!

Here are a few helpful hints on addressing that special letter:

1. Center the address on the envelope.
2. Write, type or print NEATLY.
3. Always include an apartment or suite number.
4. Always use and abbreviate a directional if necessary.
5. NEVER guess on the zip code. If you are unsure, just pick up the phone -- dial 626-2575 and we will be more than happy to assist you.

6. Use black or blue ink -- avoid pastel colors.

7. Write a complete return address in the upper left hand corner.

Looking forward to seeing you during this SPECIAL WEEK. Until next time, TRY to have a GOOD DAY -- a HAPPY DAY!

Your Friend
and Postmaster,
Bonnie

YMCA Offering Prenatal Class

Pregnancy is a very special time for a woman, and there are many benefits to remaining fit during that time. The Kettle Moraine YMCA is pleased to continue offering Prenatal/Postpartum Exercise Classes.

This medically approved program consists of a gradual warm-up, 15-20 minutes of low impact aerobics, a gradual cool down, 15 minutes of strength exercise and a 5-10 minute period of stretching and relaxation.

Firmer, better toned muscles help you feel better, give you added strength, and improve flexibility and circulation. Improve your self image, and have fun sharing in the experience with other women in the YMCA Prenatal Exercise Program.

The next session begins March 19. Classes are held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30. For more information, call the Kettle Moraine YMCA at 334-3405.

Purina Pets for People Program Through County Humane Society

We all know that adopting a shelter pet can help provide an unwanted animal a home, but have you considered the positive impact it can have on the owner's life?

"Adopting a shelter animal is a win/win situation. Not only do these animals need a good home, but owning a pet can enrich your quality of life," says Dianne Horlasmus, Executive Director of The Washington County Humane Society.

Studies have shown that owning a pet can help people live healthier, happier lives. Owning a pet has been credited with helping to lower a person's heart rate and blood pressure and reduce stress. As most pet owners will agree, a pet can also be a great cure for loneliness.

The Purina Pets for People Program, an adoption program funded by Purina Pet Foods, was founded in 1983 to encourage shelter animal adoption and educate people about how to be responsible pet owners. "Responsible pet care requires more than just food, water and a run in the backyard," says Char Bebiak, head animal trainer and behaviorist for Ralston Purina Company. "Training, veterinary care, proper exercise, good nutrition and lots of love are all part of the commitment people should make to their canine or feline family members."

This year, Purina has recommitted itself to assisting senior citizens in our community. Purina will donate $50 to help cover the cost of adoption for each qualifying senior. In addition, Purina will provide Pets for People adopters with a Purina "All You Add is Love" kit which includes a pet food sample, plus a dog or cat food bowl, pet care video, and training

Dr. Schenck to Speak To Support Group

Dr. Jeffrey W. Schenck, gastroenterologist at St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend, will speak to a meeting of the Crohn's Disease and Ulcerative Colitis Education and Support Group Thursday, March 21, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the hospital's four east conference room.

There is no fee, but advance registration should be made by calling the hospital's Health Promotion Services Department at 334-8268.

The support group is sponsored by the hospital and was formed recently to provide information and support to people with serious bowel disorders. Group facilitators are Sherie Kruse, educator, and Anne Wick, a registered nurse at St. Joseph's Community Hospital.

Friends and adult family members are welcome to attend.

Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis are serious inflammatory diseases of the small and large intestines. Both diseases may cause diarrhea, abdominal pain, rectal bleeding and fever. Symptoms can be mild or disabling.

Letters to the Editor

February 24, 1996

Dear Editor,

I would like to respond to a letter in the West Bend News dated 2/17/96 regarding the Kewaskum School Board election: VOTE KEWASKUM!!

The Kewaskum School District voted in the primary election and selected the three (3) best candidates and now is the time to elect them to our School Board, namely TOM TIMBLIN, LARRY FECHTER and JON DOWNS.

Let's stop all the rhetoric of name calling -- he did this -- he did that -- they did that and I am a Saint.

The "Major in the Marines" being Dr. Charles Johnson, is well qualified for the position of Superintendent. He has an honorable discharge from the Marine Corps, has taught college and missed a year of grade school teaching. Does this disqualify him? He has been doing a sterling job, but cannot and should not have to endure these personality clashes.

Teachers, active or retired, have no place on any school board any more than a convict has the right to select his own parole board. Conflict of interest! The letter was written by the same person who said that to recite the Pledge of Allegiance takes too much time away from school work (15 seconds).

VOTE TOM TIMBLIN - LARRY FECHTER - JON DOWNS.

Dear Editor,

As I read the "Letters to the Editor" section in last week's Kewaskum Statesman, I saw entry after entry either complaining or worrying about computers being taken away from the schools.

I feel the people of Kewaskum need to wake up and realize the BIG problem is our school board. Why would five administrators of the Kewaskum School District leave in the time period of one year? It sure isn't about getting higher salaries or "better jobs." For example, Principal Charles Heidner is taking a $3,600 cut in pay and has to pay $400 to get out of his contract, just to leave the district. Who's next to leave?

It's disappointing when our own board president is too blind to see these facts. As Kathy Charland stated in last week's Statesman, "Is it possible that our leadership is coming from a person who just knows what is best?"

Our school board tends to focus on two issues; money and the image of themselves. Because I'm not old enough to vote, I felt it was important to ask all voters to take a second of their time and think about the children of the future, not the money in their wallets or their friends who are running for school board. But think of the future leaders of a better tomorrow.

KHS Student,
Jenni Weston

Dear Editor:

People who know me today find it difficult to believe that as I was growing up, June Cleaver of "Leave It to Beaver" fame was my role model. Never in a million years could anyone back then have convinced me that I would enter the political arena some day.

During the years spent raising our children, I was a traditional mom. The few times I ventured out in the evening were often spent watching the actions of the Kewaskum School Board. For me, this was just as interesting as any football game on TV Monday evenings.

Having raised three children, I knew then that I only had one chance to ensure that what was happening in school was giving them the best possible educational opportunities that our district could afford. I have always believed that the key to all children's success in any of life's endeavors, depends upon the quality of education at school, as well as at home.

My background as an elementary teacher in the 60's and my occasional work as a substitute teacher has given me a good background in what schools should look like and how they should work.

Although I have not belonged to a union in over 30 years, I am accused of aiding and abetting my "union comrades" by Tom Thompson and others. If I am such a threat, then why did Neal Weare appoint me to the negotiations committee? Why have I been selected by the Wisconsin School Board Association to serve on the State Bargaining Goals Committee for the past two years? With revenue caps in place, just how much damage can I do? Keep in mind that the top vote getter in the primary works full time in Northern Ozaukee School District.

Common sense should tell most voters that much ado has been made over very little in order to discredit me as a candidate. I would appreciate your vote for school board on March 19.

See you at the polls!

Sincerely,
Ruth A. Schmitt

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I think computers are very important in a classroom. It has helped me to learn how to type and where the keys are on a keyboard. The computer has helped me learn where paragraphs should be, and has helped me learn language skills. Computers help me learn math skills and hard-eye coordination. On certain programs it has helped me learn geographical skills and facts about states and monuments. I think computers are really important for future secretaries, mathematicians, and technicians. Face it, computers are the future. And in the defense of saving computers, I stand.

To the Residents of the Kewaskum School District:

There are two issues I would like to address that keep surfacing in this campaign: my employment as a counselor, and so-called board in-fighting.

Making an issue of my employment in another district is a smoke screen to fool the uninformed, who may believe that all professional educators think alike or are "controlled" by a union. Statewide, bargaining is severely limited by the new laws and spending caps; I can hardly jeopardize that process. While I would be proud to be considered a voice for reasonable educators, I am not seeking that; I consider myself, more importantly, a voice for reasonable parents, and for all citizens who favor moderate views and progressive education in Kewaskum. Do you really believe that I am controlled by the NEA, WEAC, a local union, or any other group? (If so, my husband would like to know how they do that....!!) The real issues here are that I don't agree with the board majority on some crucial issues, and am not afraid to speak up. If I had an ultra-conservative agenda (and there are teachers who do), I would be welcomed with open arms. Another candidate is employed by a school and this issue does not surface for him. Read the Feb. 29th Milwaukee Journal/Sentinel to learn more about the fear that we may become some kind of a "model" for ultra-conservative or regressive practices. By speaking out, I may lose this election, but it will be worth it to have forewarned the public.

The issue of so-called in-fighting is difficult to address out of context. Ask any regular audience attendees at board meetings what this is about, and they will probably say that it is about issues and proper board procedures. Personalities can surface with any group that has strongly held viewpoints. My work every day involves helping children to work together, "play nice," tell the truth, not spread rumors, and follow the rules; inter-personal mediation only works if there are willing parties (children or adults) who are motivated to get along. I am amazed by the long history and precedent for this problem among adults on the school board; it was there before my election, and without effort on the part of every board member, it will continue.

It was a difficult decision to run again. Like most folks, I do not enjoy spending time in a hostile environment. My hope is that by addressing this issue the board will "get it," and whoever is elected March 19 will benefit. I have not burned bridges, or personally attacked any other board member or candidate; as an optimist, I have not given up yet on the process. Every school district gets exactly the Board it deserves. Get involved, get informed, ask us all questions. And don't forget to vote March 19.

Karen Sparks,
Treasurer,
Kewaskum
School Board

March 9, 1996

Dear Editor,

I would like to first thank you for your time and patience in allowing me the space for my letters and for the letters they have generated.

In response to Lora Schreiber's letter on 2-29-96, this is just another attempt to defend and camouflage the N.E.A.'s resolution, B-9 Sexual Orientation Education, training for all teachers, raising awareness, and promoting acceptance of homosexuality.

Lora Schreiber's acceptance of W.E.A.C. President Terry Craney's explanation: "It's intent is to simply support tolerance, respect, and to help improve self-esteem," is a typical outcome based education answer where there are no rights or wrongs.

I suggest that Ms. Schreiber and Mr. Craney need to look up resolution in the dictionary where it shows: "a course of action determined or decided on."

With the N.E.A.'s resolution to "correct student values" and to change their beliefs that were taught to them by Parents and Church, it is clear to see by her own words which type of values Ms. Schreiber favors.

I don't think we need to teach any of this when as a nation our public school graduating classes have students who cannot fill out a job application or write legibly and 20% cannot even read their diploma.

Our public school system has come a long way since our Christian founding fathers started it so their children could learn to read the Bible. The Bible creation, and phonics have been thrown out, evolution, alternate life styles, and whole language have been brought in, and the United States once the envy of the world has dropped to nearly the bottom, all in the name of "tolerance."

In the Feb. 29, 1996 Milwaukee Journal interview with Karen Sparks and Ruth Schmitt, they have labeled the "other" four board members as the "Religious Right" and feared that if they, Sparks and Schmitt, were not re-elected, the board would lose an opposing view which creates a balance. What type of label would they put on themselves then which would create this opposing view?

I think the "Christian cleansing" from our public school system through the N.E.A.'s resolution B-9 and its willing accomplices needs to be stopped.

So Karen Sparks and Ruth Schmitt have shown us what their views are so I urge everyone to support any of the new candidates for school board with your vote on March 19.

A return to the traditional method of teaching "phonics" and the correct spelling of words will be a welcome change and make the Kewaskum School District an example for all schools to follow.

Also, if someone sees Harry Knoelke, please give him a clue.

Thank you,
Tom Thompson
Campbellsport

*****

Use Your Head,

Since I have had some experience in this area, I just wanted to make a "balancing" statement in regard to the upcoming school board elections.

We can most likely expect the same old "education bashing" letters about electing school employees to serve on school boards. They try to create a phobia (fear) of those employed by school districts, and how they will do some "evil" deed. As I am sure you know by now, two candidates are full time employees of other school districts. They are Larry Fechter and Karen Sparks.

Neither has given any sign (Sparks by past record, Fechter by statement) that they would serve in a biased way. The fact that they are associated with education should be considered an asset, not a liability. Do not doctors serve on medical boards and lawyers on bar associations? Why? Because they know about their fields of employment, what works and what does not.

As for one other candidate, Ruth Schmitt, I hope she would be judged for her years of service to our school district, and her thousand of hours of dedication to education. If you have not noticed, never once has she ever been questioned about her voting record, or her knowledge of educational issues.

Judge her on her accomplishments, and her integrity -- not on some emotional conjecture that misleads voters and supports a radical agenda. Do not be led away from the real educational issues. Vote for whomever you want, but support the candidates for the right reasons -- judge them honestly and educationally.

March 11, 1996

Dear Kewaskum District Residents,

The following is to correct false information that has been spread to cause confusion, fear, and mistrust. While I won't address all of the fallacies, three of the most popular will give you an idea of how you are being misled. You need to keep in mind who is doing this, why, and the divisive results they have caused.

COMPUTERS - Nobody on this school board has called for or proposed the elimination of computers in the elementary grades! What really was proposed by me was to discontinue use of the computers "as teaching tools" in K-3. The main reason I made such a proposal was because the IBM program "Writing to Read" contained many misspelled words and wouldn't even accept the words if the child entered the correct spelling. For instance, goat is not spelled got! IBM would sell us a new version without the misspellings. However, the new program still contained several misspelled words. How administrators let us spend more money that way irks me. Then, IBM says they could fix the problem, just for our district, for somewhere around $100,000. Never mind, I couldn't get anywhere with IBM nor administration. The more I thought about it, the less need I saw for the computers in K-3. (That doesn't completely rule out other uses in K-3). It didn't make good financial sense either. We have a greater need for computers in the 4-12 grades. Kids catch on fast to these machines. I say -- learn to read and write well beginning with a teacher, pen and paper. Send pre-fourth graders to a computer lab to learn the keyboard so that when they do a report in fourth grade they can rapidly type out their thoughts instead of tying up the computers hunting and pecking. Of course, there is more to it than what I'm writing here. Now, if I'm so wrong then, at least discuss it and substantiate your position. Don't just throw stones and make up lies to deceive others. If I hadn't pressed these issues with the help and support of some other board members, do you think we would have the "K-3 Task Force" or the revival of the JET committee to look into these matters? If this so-called all powerful current board majority was so ruthless, it could have just enacted some changes. To sit back and do nothing, lamenting what a great program and administrative team we have, no debate, no direction from the board, would be a crime. That is not pro-education.

PHONICS - Nobody on this school board has called for or proposed a "phonics only" method. Trying to change the focus of the issue in the minds of the public so as to discredit certain board members and thus elevate oneself to get re-elected is wrong!

From 1970 to 1979 we had one kind of program, from '79 to '85 another, from '85 to the present, another with whole language entering in the early '90's. The phonics has been weakened to where our staff concurs and sees the need for some changes.

The board is now being presented with a "balanced" program to meet the needs of all the students and their different ways of learning. That's progress! While phonics is by no means the end-all, it is a necessary basis for most students. And, it isn't just about spelling. (Quite frankly - some students aren't going to be good spellers no matter what method is used. That doesn't mean they can't be good readers).

So you see, when candidates are continually asked what they think of a "phonics only" method, they haven't been asked the right question, but, you the public are then misled into thinking that this is the direction of the board. It is not -- never has been.

ADMINISTRATORS - Five administrators have left our district recently. Only one cites stress as one of the reasons. This contrasts with a comment on BKV (by one of the hosts) that said all five left due to stress. All but one went to higher paying positions. This contrasts with a recent editorial saying the opposite.

I would have to say that almost all were good at administrating -- that doesn't mean they were all highly desirable administrators. Some would have been better off working with the board and not against or on their own agendas. Sometimes when one leaves it precipitates another's leaving -- that should be no surprise.

So if you really want to know why five have left, I must say it ranges from stress, differences in ideology, moving up the ladder, higher pay, something different to do, and knowing that if you can't stand the heat you get out of the kitchen.

I have no regrets or hard feelings and wish them all well with their careers. We all try to do what we believe is best within our budgets for education.

You need to see the 10th Grade Assessment Test Results and the comparisons to other area school districts. We are embarking on a new era. Hopefully we will retain all the positive results (other than tests) of the former administration and know what changes are needed to support the "one year old majority" that I am happy to be a part of.

Sincerely,
John C. Schulte

Sporting Licenses Expire March 31

MADISON -- Anglers and hunters should note that most Wisconsin sporting licenses expire on March 31.

The Department of Natural Resources adopted a uniform expiration date for most licenses to make it easier for sports people who purchase multiple licenses.

DNR licenses are available from county clerks, from many sporting goods outlets, and from district, area and certain other DNR offices. Fishing, sports and Conservation Patron licenses for the upcoming year will go on sale in mid-March; hunting and archery licenses will be available later this spring.

"Outdoor enthusiasts who participate in a variety of sporting activities may want to consider purchasing a Conservation Patron License," says Ruth Ann Raftery, DNR license sales supervisor.

"If purchased individually, all of these licenses and permits would cost more than $200. The Conservation Patron License costs $100, so it is quite a bargain," Raftery says.

The Conservation Patron License includes annual resident hunting, trapping and fishing licenses, state stamps, several application fees, park admission sticker and bike trail pass, and an annual subscription to Wisconsin Natural Resources, an award-winning, bi-monthly color magazine produced by the DNR.

On March 2, the Lake-Moraine music conference of middle schools held its annual solo and ensemble festival at Slinger Middle School.

Senate Passes Woman's Right to Know Act

MADISON -- Wisconsin's informed consent bill cleared another hurdle March 8, on its way to becoming law when the State Senate passed the Woman's Right to Know bill on a bi-partisan vote of 17-16.

Introduced in the Assembly by Representative Glenn Grothman (R-West Bend) and in the Senate by Sen. Gary Drzewiecki (R-Pulaski), Assembly Bill 441 profoundly revises Wisconsin's current informed consent statute by ensuring that a woman seeking an abortion would receive detailed and accurate information at least 24 hours prior to the abortion.

A troublesome amendment which may make the bill unconstitutional was approved by the Senate, forcing the bill back to the Assembly for concurrence.

"We were delighted a majority of senators realized the importance of this legislation. However, being present at the vote, I am convinced that the senators did not realize the grave consequences of this amendment," said Grothman, adding, "We are hopeful the Assembly will take up the bill next week to clear up this problem and get the bill to the Governor's desk quickly."

The Woman's Right to Know bill passed the Assembly 59 to 37 on September 28.

Seeking Support For Fireworks

The Village of Kewaskum's Centennial Celebration was a large success, because of the people, organizations and businesses of the community working together and giving financial support.

The fireworks last year on June 10, and July 3, were just one such example of such community support. It has been suggested to try and carry on and rally to have bigger and better fireworks each and every year. With this in mind, we are asking for everyone's support.

Please consider a donation to go towards the annual Village of Kewaskum and area's fireworks. If a specific display or ground display is desired, just ask and the Village will be happy to work with you. You may either contact the Village of Kewaskum, 204 First Street, P.O. Box 38, Kewaskum, WI 53040-0038 (phone 414-626-8484) or the Kewaskum Statesman, 250 Main Street, P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040-0098 (phone 414-626-2626).

Names of all who donated towards the fireworks will be published in a future edition of the Statesman.

Also, if an organization or an individual desires to provide music in the shelter or base of the hill prior to the fireworks also contact the Village or the Statesman.

Thank you!

GRANDMA'S HANDS

by Mary E. Zinda

(In memory of Mathilda Stern)

Of my memories of her, one stands clear in my mind,
And that's of her hands, both gentle and kind.

They showed every year of her long, hard life,
Most of them spent as mother and wife.

Hard work was no stranger and suited her fine,
You could see the results in every fine line.

She used those hands to work factory and farm,
And keep four babies safe from harm.

Her hands cooked fine meals and baked many a thing,
And never adorned but her wedding ring.

Her hands wrote me letters which made my day bright,
They made me laugh with the things she'd write.

I stood next to Grandma and for the last time,
That large, wrinkled hand layed softly in mine.

Though my hands aren't as aged, a resemblance I see,
And that part of Grandma is always with me.

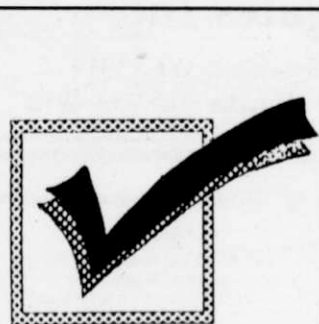

Happy Birthday Grandma, we all miss you.

Students May Become Future Veterinarians

Dr. Charles Ogi visited Farmington Elementary School to talk about Veterinary Science as a career.

Did you know that 70% of veterinary students today are women? Did you know that veterinarians can specialize, like medical doctors, in specific areas of animal care? Did you know that large animals eat metal?

Dr. Charles Ogi, a well known Kewaskum Veterinarian, shared this information and much more, at the first of six "Career Cafes" at Farmington Elementary School on Wednesday, March 6. Dr. Ogi met with 25 third, fourth, and fifth graders who are interested in veterinary medicine. He talked about his practice, the skills and education needed to become a veterinarian and he showed equipment used to treat large animals.

Students had lots of questions for Dr. Ogi and he stressed the importance of working hard and getting a good education.

"Career Cafes," an enrichment opportunity that is part of the district School-To-Work initiative, are going on simultaneously at all three elementary schools and the middle school for the next three months. Students sign up to have lunch with a business or professional person in a career area that interests them. As you can see, Dr. Ogi may have lots of competition in the future!

Liniment in large doses will be the call for some hearty local residents when "Bob" Crosby brings his real live donkeys to town for a Donkey Basketball Show.

The event will be sponsored by the Kewaskum FFA Alumni, and will be held in the Kewaskum High School Fieldhouse, on Sunday, March 31. Starting time is at 2 p.m. with the Fillmore Fire Department versus the Kohlsville Fire Department in the first game, followed by a game pitting the Kewaskum FFA members against a team of various high school students.

All four teams have been training extensively for this monumental event. Team coaches want to be ready physically and mentally and rumor has it that expert rodeo riders have been contacted on their expertise in riding.

Winners of the two games will meet head on in an eight minute championship bout immediately following the second game. Each of the first rounds will consist of two eight-minute halves with a 15 minute intermission between the games.

The Crosby Donkey Ball Company from Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, will be providing the beasts of burden.

Adding to the fun are rules accompanying the game, such as not holding the ball for more than 15 seconds, no out-of-bounds, time-outs for emergency only, the wearing of padding and football helmets, and the fact that each player is responsible for his own donkey while it is on the floor and a broom and shovel will be handy at all times.

Tickets can be purchased from the Fillmore and Kohlsville Fire Departments, Sentry Foods in Kewaskum, and the high school office at 626-2166. Ticket prices are $5 for high school students and adults in advance, and $7 at the door. Grade school stu-

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Mid-Monthly Meeting
February 19, 1996
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Mid-Monthly Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert Wagner presided. All Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee John Borland and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the February 5, 1996 meeting were approved as printed.

A public hearing was held on the request of Paradise Development Group a/k/a West Bend Clinic for the rezoning of the property at 1731 Fond du Lac Avenue, known by tax key no. V4-0003 from AG-1 Exclusive Agricultural District to B-2 General Retail and Service District. Dr. Todd Hammer and Bruce Steinhardt were in attendance to explain the proposed project. It was noted that the access for the development would be by means of a 35 foot private driveway just south of the existing drive. Also that it is likely that a free standing pharmacy may follow the construction of the clinic which is to house a full range of medical services and four doctors. There were six neighbors/citizens in attendance regarding this matter. On a motion by Trustee John Borland, seconded by Trustee William Kulas and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent."

A public hearing was held on the request of Kewaskum Frozen Foods for the rezoning of 130 Forest Avenue (known by tax key no. V4-0103) from R-2 Single Family Residence District to B-4 General Business and Warehouse District to accommodate the construction of an addition to the existing facility. Mr. Robert Beisbier, owner of Kewaskum Frozen Foods, and Mr. Tony Holschbach from Horizon Construction were present to explain the proposed project. It was noted that the alley to the northwest would remain as is and that the addition proposed would be for cooler and freezer expansion. Also the request is to allow for the continuance of the two residential structures on Forest Avenue. Seven area residents were present and had some questions. The matter of side yard was discussed indicating that a 7 foot area would be required. Also discussion regarding a natural buffer of sorts was suggested. The parking and adequacy thereof for the tenants of the dwellings was a point of concern. On a motion by Trustee John Borland, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent."

A public hearing was held on the request for a Conditional Use Permit for the property located at 130 and 124 Forest Avenue (known by tax key no. V4-0103 & 0102) which is currently zoned R-2 Single Family Residence District to accommodate the construction of an addition to the existing facility. The Conditional Use Permit is to allow for the continuance of the two residential structures on the front side or abutting Forest Avenue. The five points that were suggested as being included in the Conditional Use Permit by the Plan Commission were reviewed and discussed. It was noted point 3 pertaining to parking, should address some additional parking. It was also suggested that a point should be added to include the addition of a natural buffer from the residential area to the west. A final point to review said permit on an annual basis was also suggested. On a motion by Trustee Harry Roecker, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent."

Chairman of the Park and Recreation Committee, Gary Gavin reviewed several items discussed and recommended for Board action at the Committee meeting held February 19, 1996.

On a motion by Trustee William Kulas, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the Kewaskum Athletic Club to solicit quotes for the outfield fencing on the SW diamond. It was noted that only $2,500 has been budgeted for said work but that the Club will cover the balance and is hoping that the Village will reimburse them the second $2,500 in 1997.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee John Borland and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the Kewaskum Athletic Association to run an adult league on the NE diamond on Thursday nights and to also run the large concession stand. It was noted that the Association would pay the umpires, operators and pay for the lights. The profits would be split 50/50 with the 50% coming to the village or related non-profit activities.

On a motion by Trustee John Borland, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized advertising for summer part-time Park and Recreation employees.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee William Kulas and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the use of River Hill Park by Holy Trinity, August 31, 1996 at no cost.

Board Representative for the Plan Commission, Trustee David Goeden announced a Plan Commission meeting scheduled for February 27, 1996 at 7:00 p.m.

Action was taken on Ordinance No. 96-1 an Ordinance rezoning 10 acres from AG-1 to B-2 for Paradise Development Group as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee John Borland, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Certified Survey Map for the aforementioned 10 acre parcel for Paradise Development, 1731 Fond du Lac Avenue. Action was taken on Ordinance No. 96-2 an Ordinance rezoning 130 Forest Avenue, for Kewaskum Frozen Foods from R-2 to B-4 as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee William Kulas, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Certified Survey Map for the aforementioned 130 Forest Avenue, plus the existing residence at 124 Forest Avenue and the existing plant at 118 Forest Avenue.

On a motion by Trustee Harry Roecker, seconded by Trustee John Borland and carried by the majority voice vote, the Board amended point 3 on 96-CUP.01 to reflect parking on premise that at a minimum needs to be graveled for the residents in conjunction with parking for the employees. Trustee William Kulas, Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and Trustee David Goeden voting "Nay."

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee William Kulas and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board amended point 6 on 96-CUP.01 to require a natural buffer on the west side of said project.

On a motion by Trustee David Goeden, seconded by Trustee John Borland and carried by the majority voice vote, the Board amended point 7 on 96-CUP.01 to require an annual review of this Conditional Use Permit for the first two years and then reconsider said review in the future. Trustee William Kulas, Trustee Gary Gavin and President Robert Wagner voting "Nay."

Action was taken on Conditional Use Permit No. 96-CUP.01 including the aforementioned amendments as attached hereto:

Trustee David Goeden brought up for discussion the condition of the railroad crossing on Second Street. It was noted that the resurfacing of the street and railroad intersection was discussed during the preparation of the 1996 budget but not included because of financial constraints. Also it is hopeful that in 1997 the two sidings would be of no use and would be removed by the Railroad, making the crossing more durable. The matter of the railroad signals on Main Street was also discussed in reference to getting the current signals replaced with signals that have arms closing the crossing. In further discussion it was suggested that the old signals could then be placed at the Old Fond du Lac Avenue railroad crossing. By consensus the Board directed the Administrator to send a letter regarding all three of these points to the Railroad and Department of Transportation.

State Representative Glenn Grothman was present to discuss some pending legislation with the Board as follows:

1) He noted that this next year everyone should see their property tax decrease because of the amount of money the State will be giving to the School Districts. The amount of decrease is projected to be between $400 to $500. It was also noted that in subsequent years the public could expect the property tax to again creep upward.

2) He noted that there are some concerns regarding the W-2 proposal at the state level in reference to child care and that related cost.

3) He noted that the Brewer Stadium issue is again in the fore front and causing some delay on other legislation.

4) He discussed the status of the Farm Land Use legislation and indicated there would be additional discussions on the topic.

5) The proposed tenant law was briefly mentioned as well as the abortion waiting time legislation.

The Village President Robert Wagner and Village Board thanked Representative Grothman for coming to the meeting and sharing information.

On a motion by Trustee John Borland, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85(1) (c) of the statutes to consider employment compensation and performance of public employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction and Chapter 19.85(1) (e) of the statutes to deliberate and negotiate the disposition of public lands. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent."

Play begins Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. and will continue throughout the day until 11 p.m. or longer.

Finals on Sunday are scheduled to begin around 10 a.m. and will feature a large shoot-off around noon. Play will continue until approximately 7 p.m.

Spectators are invited and more than welcome to watch the activities. All profits made from the tournament will be turned over to the Kewaskum Booster Club, who will be assisting during the weekend's event.

Fifty-nine teams, with 12 people per team, plus their families, from throughout the state of Wisconsin will be guests in our community over the weekend. It is our job as their hosts to make them feel welcome so they will want to return again and again and again!

Daggett Wins Honors

The Missouri Valley Conference Indoor Track and Field Championships were held February 23 and 24, in the University of Northern Iowa's Uni-

Dome in Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Sue Daggett, Captain of the Women's Division I Illinois State University Track and Field team took first in the 5,000 Meter Run, first in the 3,000 Meter Run and third in the 1600 Meter Run leading the Redbirds to the Women's Conference Championship for 1996.

Illinois State University Head Coach, John Coughlan, was named the 1996 Most Valuable Coach in the Missouri Valley Conference and Sue Daggett received the prestigious honor of being named Missouri Valley Conference Women's Track Most Valuable Athlete 1996 of the Track and Field Championships.

Earlier in the indoor track season, Sue Daggett qualified in the 5,000 Meter Run of the NCAA Nationals to be held in Indianapolis, Indiana in March.

Sue, an Academic All American Athlete, is the daughter of Wallace and Joan Daggett, 1248 Roseland Drive, Kewaskum.

Good judgment comes from experience and experience comes from bad judgment.
