Residents Vote 25-18 to Reduce Long Term Debt At Annual Meeting, Despite Some Displeasure

Sharon Callaway Roznik

Taxpayers of the Kewaskum School district will be paying more in 1996-97 than anticipated in a community effort to reduce their loan term debt, voting 25-18 on a resolution that adds $1 per $1,000 of equalized value to the district's debt service levy.

The vote took place at the Annual Meeting and Budget hearing, held Monday at the high school, but not before several residents voiced their displeasure at having to give up a percentage of their tax relief.

Board member Neal Weare, who acted as chairman for the meeting, pointed out that to his understanding, should there be future changes in the school state aid formula, the board can take that dollar off. "This would be something, that as long as I'm on the board, I would request and ask be done on a year to year basis," he stated, and could be brought up again at the annual meeting.

The $5,612,457 approved tax levy still reflected a $3 drop per thousand from last year's figures, and taxpayers will be seeing a tax rate of $11.42 per thousand of equalized value, calculated at a 7% increase in the value of district property. Property owners are presently paying in at a rate of $14.42 per thousand.

WEEKS WIT

We are all born into the world with nothing. Everything we acquire after that is profit.

Audience member Clara Trapp felt that the public should have been allowed to take action on an item like this with a referendum vote, but Weare pointed out that legally the board was not required to seek voter approval on the tax increase, and the board was being prudent in bringing this to the public in the first place.

Curriculum/Business manager George Allmann told everyone in attendance that it was their intent to keep the district in a strong fiscal position by reducing the debt, and increasing the fund balance, a district valued at $491,458,619, based on equalized valuation increasing by 7%. The scheduled 1996-97 loan payment on the district debt including a 1992 debt, is $713,060, and will leave a remaining balance of $4,990,000. The debt is scheduled for retirement in the school year 2008-09.

Board member Tom Timblin felt that this was a one time opportunity, and it would show wisdom to take advantage of the situation and demonstrate the board's conservatism with the taxpayer's hard earned dollars. Community resident Elmer Hallen agreed with the concept, as long as it was for one year only, but another resident, Frank Beesten, was strongly opposed to the tax increase, telling the board, "what you're proposing is to skim 25% off the property tax relief, that we've been waiting 20 to 30 years for, and I absolutely have no use for it." He went on to explain that it was his understanding when the 5.45 million dollar referendum was passed, the voters were told cost estimates to repay the loan over a fifteen period would be approximately 92 cents per $1,000 of equalized value." The school district gets 56.9% of the taxes that I pay in property taxes," he emphasized, "so you're increasing my school taxes by 8%."

Allmann said that the plan is essentially reducing the amount of state aid expected by the district, rather than increasing the taxes. With an expected increase of $2,045,087 over last year's state aid, or an approximate increase of 46%, residents would see a tax rate of $10.42 per thousand of equalized value, down $4 from last year, without the district's $1 tax levy." Based on DPI figures, most of the district's in the state are asking for referendums to use that increase to build or construct new technology," he added.

Another district taxpayer said that the district would not be paying off their "mortgage" any sooner, and that in reality, the $481,599 paid by the $1 increase in the 1996-97 school year would only save $300,000 in interest payments on the long term loan."

Tornadoes Rip Through Surrounding Area

The Oakfield residence above is nearly buried by debris and limbs ripped from trees during the fury of the tornado that struck that village last Thursday evening, shortly after 7 p.m.

The Kewaskum Community can breathe a sigh of relief as we were once again spared from the wrath and fury of the dark side of Mother Nature. Neighboring communities all around us, however, were not as lucky as tornadoes twisted down from ugly, ominous skies and tore apart the residences, buildings and lives of people in Oakfield, Beechwood, Eden and Marytown.

Funnel clouds were spotted and also skimmed down in many other surrounding areas, but did not wreak the havoc and destruction that was seen in the aforementioned communities.

As one breathed in the stifling heat and humidity on Thursday, you knew that the day would not go by without some type of weather warning

Board Inspects Village Pump Stations, Addresses Water Drainage Problem

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

An extremely light agenda faced village board members at the July 15th meeting and those in attendance handled their "appointed rounds" swiftly and adeptly. Business at hand was taken care of in a record time of 33 minutes.

The Public Works Committee had met prior to the regular meeting to inspect pump stations number one, two and three and public works facilities so that discussion could begin on needed improvements and recommendations could be made for future work and budgetary items.

Committee members also visited and inspected a drainage problem area between Roseland Drive and Fond du Lac Avenue, in the hope of coming up with a possible suggestion for a solution.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles, therefore, opened the discussion at the regular meeting by first addressing the July 4th water main break at the Second Street railroad crossing. Gilles stated that 75,000 gallons of water was lost, almost all of the water held in the number one tower and that it didn't take very long for that tower to drain almost all the way to the bottom.

Gilles added the break was a lengthwise one that went three to four feet. Workers took out a total of seven feet to make sure they were past the crack so that it wouldn't run in the future. Gilles said, "it was kind of nasty."

Gilles further explained, "We inspected the pipe after we had it cut apart and the pipe on the inside does not look pitted... it looks okay. The outside of the pipe looks okay. That pipe has been in there a real long time. That's old, old, old pipe. That's the third break we've had between that intersection and Fond du Lac in the last two years. We had one about halfway down between the dairy and Glacier Processing and then we had one other break more toward the Railroad Street intersection."

Gilles added, "both of those occurred in the wintertime, and now this one blew out in the summertime. That's a 10 inch main so that drops a lot of water when it goes. We've had problems down there. The pipe doesn't show that evidence, as far as being deteriorated, but I guess it's something that we may want to talk to our engineers about and see what their recommendations are."

Gilles also said that particular break "really let loose" and lifted the asphalt nearly six inches.

Trustee Bob Stoltzmann asked if the railroad gave any indication if they wanted to rebuild that portion or do something else there.

Gilles stated, "I can't get a commitment out of those guys. They say next year, if not next year, then the year after. Well, which is it? I don't get a definitive answer out of them on that."

In conclusion, on a lighter note, Gilles reported an electric stove has been wired up and is operational at the Kiwanis Park shelter. He said, "We bought one about a month ago out at the auction, and all the burners work, the oven works. It's a real nice stove. So people that rent the kitchen in the shelter will now have a stove to use over there. We're all set to go on that."

President Bob Wagner also thanked the Director of Public Works for the tour of the pump stations and the public works facilities.

In a review of correspondence, President Wagner reminded board members of the Clean Sweep Program that will be held August 2nd and 3rd at the Slinger Fairgrounds and at the West Bend Municipal Building. The Clean Sweep Program is being sponsored by Washington County.

Chairman of the Public Works Committee Warren Dums reported on the pump station and village garage inspection, and the review of the drainage problem area on the property located on Roseland Drive behind Herriges Oil.

Trustee Dums stated, "A berm was suggested to alleviate the problem." Dums added that Herriges would probably regrade a little.

President Wagner added that "water problems are really supposed to be worked out between the different property owners." In the absence of Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt, who was ill, Wagner stated he was unsure if the village actually has an ordinance addressing water drainage problems. He added, if the municipality does not have an ordinance, they should.

Trustee Dums asked the Director of Public Works if he felt there was any other recommendations he needed to make for the future.

Gilles added the only other item that was not mentioned in the report was the motors in number two pump station. He said, "They are really old. They came with that station back in the fifties and we may want to look at putting a generator into that station to be able to run the booster and the well pump at the same time."

Gilles added, "That station powers the lift station that's beside Mike Bergers, on the Milwaukee River on the east side. If we size that generator accordingly we can also run that with the generator out of the pump house." He stated he will look into it for discussion at a future meeting.

"I didn't report your credit cards stolen, because the thief is spending less than you did."

"Your Trusted Partner for Life-Long Health"

Generations of Schleifs trust St. Joseph's Community Hospital as a partner in their family's health. It's where their babies were born. Where they came to get ankles mended, and where six-year-old Kelsey had her tonsils out. The staff made Kelsey so comfortable, she didn't even cry, said her mother Gayl.

"The care was excellent and the people were wonderful," said Ella of the caring attention her husband Philip received before his death in 1994.

Hazardous Waste Clean Sweep Program in County

Disposal of Hazardous Waste has been a persistent problem throughout history. Disposing of our wastes down the drain or on the garbage truck are inadequate for disposing of materials we no longer want or need.

Toxic chemicals are stored in almost every room of a typical American home. We have cleaners in the kitchen, disinfectants and air fresheners in the bathroom, hobby supplies and pesticides in the basement or garage, to name a few.

Washington County has been awarded grants of $15,000.00 from the Department of Natural Resources and $35,000 from the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection to provide the community with a convenient, central collection point for the safe, economical and environmentally sound transport, treatment and/or disposal of hazardous wastes.

The County will NOT be accepting paint as part of the Clean Sweep. It's too costly for the County to dispose of paint. Residents can dispose of paint by letting it dry and putting the dried paint in with the regular trash. Thin layers of paint in a shallow box work best for drying the paint.

The last time the County had a Household Clean Sweep it cost about $124,000.00 to dispose of the chemicals, and almost two thirds of that cost was to dispose of paint.

In 1996, an Agricultural Clean Sweep will be run in conjunction with the Household Clean Sweep. The dates for both clean sweeps will be August 2, 1996 from 3 to 6 p.m. and August 3, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Drop off locations are at the West Bend Municipal Garage, 251 Municipal Drive, West Bend, and the Washington County Fairgrounds, 314 Washington Street, Slinger.

LA CROSSE -- A local student majoring in therapeutic recreation at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse has received an internship.

Brenda Falk, Kewaskum, is interning at Clearview in Juneau, Wisconsin.

UW-La Crosse therapeutic recreation graduates have gained notoriety among colleagues. Since 1990, UW-L students taking the National Certification Exam from the National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification have scored well above the country's mean average. Through UW-La Crosse's program, students are prepared for positions such as therapeutic recreation specialists. These professionals provide treatment, leisure education and recreation participation programs for those with illnesses, disabilities, or special needs.

The UW-La Crosse internship program, in its 21st year, makes on-the-job training and clinical experience available to students to complement their academic studies. Internships are available at businesses and organizations worldwide in nearly every discipline.

UW-La Crosse, founded in 1909, is one of the 13 four-year comprehensive institutions in the University of Wisconsin System. UW-L has around 8,700 students in nearly 80 undergraduate and 18 graduate academic programs, many with special accreditation. It was named one of the top 30 colleges and universities in the Midwest by U.S. News and World Report's 1995 College Guide.

Drivers Needed for Meals On Wheels

A growing number of residents in West Bend who are unable to cook or shop for themselves would like the services of Meals on Wheels, but more volunteer drivers are needed.

Barb Mihm, coordinator of Food and Nutrition Services at St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend, said an additional ten new drivers are needed to meet the demand for the hot, nutritious meals. She said some of the new meal program participants have recently returned home from the hospital and are not yet physically ready to prepare meals for themselves.

Meals on Wheels are prepared by the Food and Nutrition Services Department at St. Joseph's. Drivers pick up the meals at the hospital and, using their own cars, deliver them to recipients' homes between 11 and 11:30 a.m. each day.

Mihm said volunteers may sign up to drive once every other week or more often, and should have their own car.

People interested in becoming Meals on Wheels volunteers should call Mihm at St. Joseph's Community Hospital, 334-8383.

Neumanns Host Student From Project Self-Help

Fred Neal, age eight of Sidon, Mississippi is spending 17 days with the Roger Neumann family of Kewaskum.

Fred arrived on Sunday, July 14. He has two sisters, Monqutta, 10, Shay, five, and one brother, Eric, six. His mother, Maxine, is a construction worker. She drives a dump truck, bobcat and front-end loader.

Fred enjoys playing baseball with his cousin and swimming. Pizza and lasagna are his favorite foods. At the Neumanns he enjoys riding bike and playing video games.

The population of Sidon is around 550. Fred says if you go three blocks and four turns you are out of town. Fred attends Ride Sun School and will be in the third grade. His favorite subject is math and someday he would like to be a policeman.

The program Fred is participating in is called Project Self-Help and Awareness, Inc. Its purpose is to promote better understanding among all people. The project was started with Project Understanding in 1968 by a black woman in Mississippi and a white law student of the University of Wisconsin, both of whom were very active in the civil rights movement in the South.

They found that a great deal of myth existed about each others' cultures. A number of families in the South were interested in having their children learn more about the north and its people. The law student placed an ad in a Madison newspaper asking if any families were interested in hosting a black child for several weeks during the summer. Quite a number of people responded and since then many counties and areas in Wisconsin have been matched in the exchange program.

For more information about becoming a host family, helping to drive the buses, chaperoning the buses or obtaining a VHS video tape about the program, please contact the Neumanns at 626-2936.

School board numbers indicate a total interest savings of $310,918 over a 13 year period would be seen with a one time principal payment of $456,609.05, the amount expected to be collected from a one year, one dollar increase. Total projected interest due on the loan over 13 years is $764,778. "There's different ways of saving money besides taking taxes," Clara Trapp reiterated, "and I think it's time our school board starts thinking in that line."

The 1996-97 proposed school district budget of $11,907,795 asks for a tax levy of $5,612,457, down from last year's levy of $6,624,306. Based on the 7% increase in equalized valuation, the resulting mill rate on a $110,000 home would be $1,713, a decrease in $450 from 1996.

Red Cross Launches Appeal For Disaster Relief Funds

To replenish funds currently being used to provide relief to victims of the Oakfield tornado, the American Red Cross has launched a $150,000 fund appeal.

"Those of us who have been fortunate enough to be spared from such a catastrophe are urged to come to the assistance of Wisconsin residents in need by making contributions to the Red Cross disaster relief fund," said Executive Director Mrs. Jackie Wicklund.

The Red Cross is now using previously donated funds to provide emergency aid including Red Cross vouchers for clothing, food, rent, medication, basic home furnishings, occupational supplies and other essentials. All Red Cross assistance is free of charge.

After emergency needs are met, the Red Cross will work with government disaster recovery agencies and other private organizations to help families requiring additional assistance. Red Cross workers will continue to help these families for weeks and even months as they continue with their recovery.

To date, Red Cross relief efforts have included: establishing emergency shelters; providing more than 1,000 meals for victims and emergency workers; handling more than 150 inquiries from relatives concerned about family members believed to be in the affected area; and meeting with families at the Red Cross service center to give them vouchers that they used to purchase items that meet their specific disaster-caused needs.

"These vouchers not only allow disaster victims to meet their specific needs but they are used to purchase items from local merchants, thereby to restore the local economy," Wicklund said.

The American Red Cross is not a government agency; it relies on voluntary financial contributions to provide disaster relief. To help victims of this tornado and other disasters, send a financial contribution to: The American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund, 2410 S. Main Street, Suite B, West Bend, Wisconsin 53095.

Tornadoes

and it came around 3:30 p.m. in the form of a tornado watch. Shortly before 7 p.m. the intensity of the situation boiled to a head when three storm cells fused together right near the Village of Oakfield.

The tornado, which weather personnel deemed nearly an F-3 in intensity, officially hit Oakfield at 7:13 p.m. when the electrical power lines feeding clocks in that village were ripped apart. It is hard to comprehend the damage this storm did in the less than two minutes it was estimated to be on the ground. The hardest hit areas of Oakfield resembled a battlefield, only it seemed worse, with the debris strewn everywhere.

An estimated 47 homes were totally destroyed and another 55 suffered major damage. Two churches and five businesses were also near destruction, along with barns that were torn apart and livestock that were killed. The worst destruction seemed to be centered around the Friday Canning Company which was nearly leveled by the storm's unabashed violence. The turbulence of the funnel cloud sent Oakfield debris as far eastward as Sheboygan. However, due to the gentler hand of the Lord, lives were spared. It seems unbelievable when you stand in the center of the wrath of the tornado, that no one was killed. Nineteen residents, some who had to crawl through the debris from their basements, were injured, but not a single life was lost.

It was estimated that nearly $50 million in damages was suffered by the residents of Oakfield, but through the storm, they survived, with an uncanny strength and determination, that with the help of God, families and newfound friends... they will rebuild.

Tornado Watch/Warning

Do you know the difference between a tornado watch and a tornado warning? These terms are used by the National Weather Service and knowing what they mean can save your life.

A watch is issued when conditions are favorable for the development of tornadoes. If a tornado watch is issued for this area, you should get ready to take emergency action. When a tornado warning is issued, it means that a tornado has actually been spotted or seen on radar. The warning will tell you where the tornado is and the direction it is moving. If you are in or near its path, you should take shelter immediately.

Hundreds of vehicles were also destroyed in Oakfield as the force of the tornado that struck, pulled off roofs and sent trees limbs and debris crashing through the air as if they were projectile missiles.

This Oakfield residence was literally "sucked" right off its foundation and then set back down.

It is obvious by the above photos taken of the front and rear of the homestead on the Floyd Klug farm located about eight miles northeast of Kewaskum, that a tornado either touched down or was very, very close. The large tree in the front yard was literally torn from its trunk and laid up against the roof and side of the house. Large limbs were also strewn up against the house in the rear. Another huge tree in front of the Irvin Lepp farm in the same area was snapped off and had to be cleared off the road. The storm's fury was also witnessed in the cornfields in the area that were flattened.

1995 Ties the Record for State Boating Accidents

MADISON -- 1995 tied the state record for highest number of accidents since 1967, when the state began keeping records, according to Bill Engfer, Department of Natural Resources boating law administrator. On the other hand, he adds, fewer fatal accidents occurred than in any year on record.

State records show 15 persons died in Wisconsin boating accidents last year, as compared with 19 during the 1994 boating season. Engfer says the total represents a significant reduction from the recent average of 20 to 21 boating fatalities per year. Conversely, 231 boating accidents were reported last year, up from 175 reported in 1994, and tying the state record set in 1988.

Calling it "the best of times and the worst of times," Engfer attributes the situation to a shift in statewide boating enforcement priorities resulting from an approximate one-third reduction in federal boating dollars since 1992.

Because there is a historical correlation between boating accident numbers and the state's ability to put boating safety patrols on the water, the reduction in federal funds has changed the nature of the state's boating enforcement efforts.

"With fewer dollars to fund state and local boat patrols, we've been forced to target locations and time periods associated with the most serious boating accidents," Engfer says. "Almost without exception, that means targeting intoxicated operators."

Because federal safe boating funds, cut in 1992, have not been restored, Engfer says enforcement priorities this coming year will continue to reflect the shortfall.

"Wardens and local enforcement officials always have the flexibility to respond to new problems that emerge on local waters. But intoxicated boaters are the most deadly threat we've identified, and our bottom line is the need to save lives," Engfer says.

Engfer says DNR records show a significant increase in boat registrations last year, with personal water craft accounting for much of the increase.

"We've found many of our problems stem from the mix of watercraft types and activities you'll see on the water in any given day. More responsible boaters are the ones who consciously try to avoid conflicts and work to get along with each other," Engfer says.

Excerpts From Menagerie

The following poem was taken from the 1996 Edition of Menagerie, an All Conference Writers magazine, that includes the work of KHS students.

Deepness

So dark and cold like a freezer with the door shut.

Deeper and deeper you fall into space.
Time is the never ending piece.
Involved in nothing, beginning everything.
The mind begins to wander,
You keep slipping deeper and deeper.

As the smell of fresh air,
Fills and engulfs my lungs and nose.
I begin to breathe deeper and slower.
I drift deeper and deeper.
My eyes begin to shut.

Listening to everything, and hearing nothing,
Recalling, remembering, as far as I can go.
Childhood of the past is the space,
That is so dark, so cold like a freezer with the door shut.

September 13 is the date chosen by the Board of Education Monday night for another referendum on the package building plan that electors turned down April 6. The amount of money to be called for was not established, but Jack Fieweger representing the Schutte-Mochon architectural firm suggested the amount of the first referendum be used, which was $2,915,000, plus one percent per month for the time that has elapsed between the two referendums, to offset rising building costs.

PRAYER OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(Never known to fail).

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my Mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mary, I place this prayer for your hands (three times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you.

JV Indians Lose One to Sheboygan, Defeat Falls

By Jenny Immel

The JV Indians finished off their season winning one of two games played last week.

On Monday, the Indians traveled to Sheboygan and lost to the Royals, 14-4, with the game ending because of the ten-run rule. Tuesday, the doubleheader scheduled at home against the New Holstein Huskies was canceled, as the Huskies forfeited because of a lack of players.

The solo win last week came against the Sheboygan Falls Falcons. The Indians were almost perfect, as they only committed two errors throughout the entire game.

After two outs at the top of the seventh, Weston Leiberger ripped a double. A single by Joe Thull and an error by the Falcons sent Leiberger in to put Kewaskum in the game, 1-0.

The Falcons couldn't come up with anything before time ran out, and the game ended 1-0 in favor of Kewaskum.

Coach Rockhill was pleased with the team's efforts and performance. He also took note of freshman John Immel, saying, "John clipped the wings of the Falcons tonight with his pitching."

Immel pitched all seven innings with only three walks and gave up no runs. This was Immel's second start of the season, and his first time pitching seven straight innings.

Thursday's game at Plymouth was canceled due to the rain. All make-up games had to be rescheduled by last Friday, so the game will not be made up. The Indians finished 9-8 in their conference.

Indians Defeat Slinger in First Game of Sectionals, Lose to WB West in Second

By Tom Menger

After being ousted by Slinger in last year's WIAA baseball tourney, last Tuesday's 6-4 victory came as sweet revenge for the Kewaskum Indians, who sent the Owls packing and earned the right to move on to the Sectional round for the first time in Mark Heise's three year tenure as coach.

Slinger opened the game with a single run in the top of the first, but the Indians weren't intimidated, coming back in the bottom of the frame to rally for four runs of their own.

Erik Kopecky reached on an error to lead off the Kewaskum half of the inning, and moved to second when Slinger's pitcher, Erik Kamrath, threw away a pickoff throw.

Jason Bartelt singled in Kopecky to tie the game, and was allowed to make the 90 foot trek to second when Kamrath balked. Tim Gundrum followed with an RBI single to give Kewaskum the lead, 2-1.

Josh Christopherson reached when his hard grounder was misplayed by the Owls shortstop, leaving runners at the corners with one out.

The Indians showed some excellent base running skills next, working the double steal to perfection.

Christopherson broke for second on the pitch, and got himself in a rundown that allowed Gundrum's pinch runner, Kevin Martin, to score from third. When Martin scampered home to make the score 3-1, Christopherson wisely moved up another base. This set the stage for a squeeze by Luke Chesak that brought Christopherson in and gave the home team a 4-1 lead.

Dan Jeserig, who started the game on the hill for Kewaskum, was pulled in the second inning after loading the bases. Joe Rettler came in and mopped up, allowing only one of the runners to make it home, preserving the Indians lead at 4-2.

Kewaskum scored two insurance runs in the third, behind Gundrum's double, a pair of walks, an error, and a single by Christopherson, elevating their lead to 6-2.

Rettler allowed Slinger to score single runs in the fifth and sixth innings, but held the Owls in check in the seventh to pick up the 6-4 win.

Kewaskum had only four hits in the contest, and committed three errors, but they weren't as costly as the four mistakes by Slinger.

Revenge was also the story in Friday's Sectional game at Grafton against West Bend West, but this time West avenged last year's loss to the Indians, beating Kewaskum 4-0 this time around.

The only runs of the game came in the third, when the Spartans scored four times off Indian starter Dan Jes-erig. Jeff Potter's two run double with two out was one of only two hits in the frame

Kewaskum's season ended at 14-13, but Heise wasn't disappointed. "We had some tough games this year, but the guys showed some real guts and alot of heart. I'm really proud of them."
