School Board 'Tackles' September Agenda

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

In less than an hour, the Kewaskum School Board tackled it's September agenda, finishing in time to view Monday night's Green Bay Packers game.

Principals from each school reported the opening of the 1996-97 school year went smoothly, despite a sewage main break at the high school and a hot water heater failure at Kewaskum Elementary. "There was a positive, upbeat feeling throughout the week, commented KHS principal Larry Wilson, adding that the new lights on the football field were an indication that "school matters to the community." He also announced that there will be a high school debate team this year.

Per request from the Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds committee, the board approved Communications Support Systems of Appleton to recable both the middle school and the high school, at a total cost of $44,750.

Cravillion Architecture, Inc. of Appleton was hired to analyze the district's facility options from a list of eight presented to them by district business manager George Allmann. These eight alternatives are possible tuture solutions for accommodating the district's continual growth. and include, 1) A new 900 capacity high school; 2) A new 500 capacity elementary school; 3) Updating the present elementary school; 4) Remodel and expand KES; 5) Expand Wayne Elementary by two classrooms; 6) Remodel Beechwood School and expand by two classrooms; 7) Expand KHS. with auditorium and media complex tied to KMS; 8) Expand Farmington Elementary by two classrooms.

The architectural assessment of these would alternatives include develop drawings, models, floor plans, as well as providing a cost analysis, and meeting with faculty, staff, administration, and the school board. Cost of the options study is $8,000, to be applied to the architect's fixed fee if the district approves one of the proposed plans.

An all-faculty, three year staff development writing plan was approved for the district, through the UW-Oshkosh. The Fox Valley (Continued on Page 7)

School Board Votes to Change Meeting Schedule

by Sharon Callaway Roznik

Effective in October, the Kewaskum School Board has voted to change their monthly board meeting schedule from the second Monday of the month, to the second Thursday of each month, on a trial basis until the end of this year.

Board member Mary Andera brought up the request, stating that many town board meetings and various committee meetings take place on Monday nights, and school district residents are faced with having to decide between school and their communities, not to mention the Packer schedule. Board president Jean Goeden was in support of the change, and pointed out the American Legion and the Kiwanis also meet on Monday nights, and both groups have expressed interest in attending the school board meetings. Although discussion did include changing the starting time from 7 p.m. to an earlier hour, president Goeden felt it should be left the way it is for now.

absent from the meeting. Weare saw a problem in the nessecity of publishing the agenda almost two weeks-before the actual meetings take place. "Knowing how things change within that week prior, I think we're asking a lot," Weare stated. "We're going to sit here and spend a portion of the evenings going through all the new additions, deletions and corrections." Timblin told the board Thursday night meetings would conflict with his coaching schedule, but he would somehow work it out.

Andera hoped that the change would encourage greater public attendance of the school board meetings, and the audience will be monitored over the next three months to see if there is any improvement. Any permanent change in the board meeting schedule would have to go through the policy committee. The next school board meeting date Thursday, Oct. 10th, at 7 p.m.

You can help make a difference by volunteering to donate blood at the next Kewaskum Community Blood Drive scheduled for Wednesday, October 2nd from 1:00 - 6:00 p.m. at Kewaskum High School

School District Welcomes Two New Administrators

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The Kewaskum School District recently welcomed two new administrators to their community's schools, and members of the school board officially approved their contracts at this month's board meeting.

John Wolfenberg has filled the position of assistant principal at KHS, replacing Larry Wilson, who became the new high school principal this past summer after Charles Heidner resigned.

Wolfenberg started his new job on August 21, and is "partially moved here from Buffalo, New York. "I was notified I got the job on August 13, and I started work on the 21st, so half of our things are still there. I could write a book on this move," he relates.

He grew up in Wauwatosa where his parents still live, and his brother resides in the Kewaskum School District. "I was interested in moving back to the area so we could be closer to family. Also, New York has the second highest tax rate in the country," he points out.

Wolfenberg was previously employed for eight years as the athletic director of Nichols School in Buffalo, a private school of 650 students in grades five through twelve. With 72 teams, and the largest athletic program in western New York, Wolfenberg had seven of his players drafted by the NHL.

Other teaching experience includes his work at a private K-12 academy in Elgin, Illinois, where he served as Dean of Students and Athletic Director.

The new assistant principal will be working in the area of discipline with students, with some budget and curriculum evaluations. His salary was set at $53,000 for the first year of a two year contract.

He and his wife Janis are looking for a home within the school district. Their children include Todd, a senior at KHS, Chelsea, in eighth grade at Kewaskum Middle School, and Josh, a third grader at Farmington.

An administrative contract for Chad Kyle has been approved, to assume the position of Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds, effective Sept. 30. Kyle replaces Fred Boehlke, who resigned from his position to take on the role as head custodian of the high school, formerly served by Dave Van Assche, who passed away this summer.

Kyle is currently district manager for a company based in San Clemente, California that deals in property management. His job involves overseeing the maintenance and landscaping of several 100 to 600 unit buildings located across the west coast.

His new role as buildings and grounds Superintendent of the Kewaskum schools will include working with a janitorial staff of nineteen employees, five of which are head custodians at each of the schools, and directing the maintenance of all the buildings, surrounding grounds, and equipment.

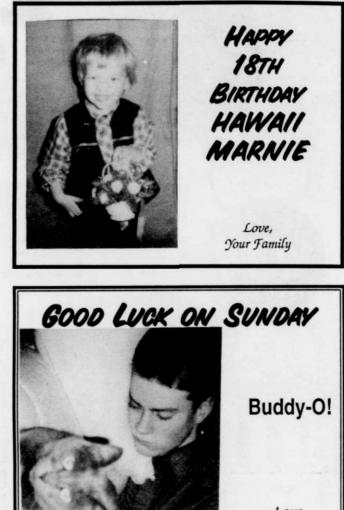

His decision to move into the area involved the desire to be closer to family. "We would like to settle down in a small town. It's an ideal place to raise a family," his wife Jill states. Jill is sales manager for the Hilton Hotel in Irvine, California.

Kyle was selected out of a group of ten candidates that were interviewed through a committee process, and will receive a starting salary of $46,000 for the first year of his two year contract.

Famous Author Speaks To Kewaskum Teachers

Kewaskum High School Music Instruc-tor/POPS Co-ordinator Larry Ammel, left, welcomes author/educator Dr. Bill Mitchell to Kewaskum for a motivational inservice for the district's teachers.

Internationallyacclaimed author/educator Dr. Bill Mitchell greeted the Kewaskum teachers back to school with his program about encouraging positive habits and principles within the schools.

The author of books including The Power of Positive Students and The Power of Positive Parenting, was making his first speaking engagement in Kewaskum.

Dr. Mitchell's talk and workshops centered on a program called the Power of Positive Students (POPS), which he developed while a superintendent in South Carolina. The POPS program emphasizes positive thinking, positive reinforcement, and the building of self-esteem -- for students as well as for staff members.

Kewaskum High School started its involvement in the POPS program five years ago, through the KHS Student Council, with a mini-grant from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction.

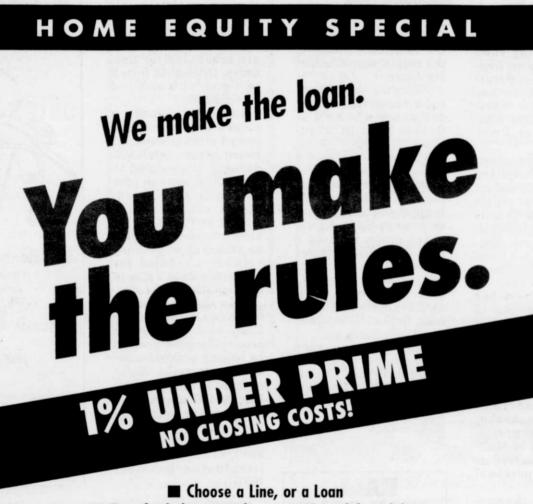

The POPS program at KHS currently includes bi-weekly homerooms, student activities, and motivational posters throughout the school, and the POPS ideas that positive attitudes and positive actions will have tangible, positive results.

By helping make happier students, Dr. Mitchell has found that students can learn more readily, and that they will be more willing to do so.

As Dr. Mitchell wrote in The Power of Positive Students, "When we take the time to teach kids to like themselves, we get the best of both worlds."

The real danger is not that computers will begin to think like men, but that men will begin to think like computers.

Reverend Key to Receive Seminary Alum Award

Rev. William W. Key

MILWAUKEE -- Rev. William Walter Key, formerly of Kewaskum, will receive the fifth annual "Annecy Award" from Saint Francis Seminary Salesianum Alumni/ae Association.

The award commemorates the city where St. Francis de Sales was bishop and where both St. Francis and St. Jane Frances de Chantal, patrons of the Seminary, are buried.

The award highlights the good work of any person who has been a student in any of the formation programs of Saint Francis Seminary (e.g. priesthood, lay certificate and lay degree, diaconate and college).

The award will be presented to Father Key at the annual Alumni/ae meeting to be held on Sunday, September 22, at the Seminary. Father Bill was chosen for the exemplary way in which he has ministered to the deaf community locally and nationally, and his willingness to expand his horizons to meet the needs of the Hispanic community at St. Lawrence Parish, Milwaukee, where he serves as pastor.

Father Bill, emulating St. Francis de Sales, the patron of the deaf, has served the deaf community in the Archdiocese of Milwaukee for the past 14 years. He recently chaired a five-year study on the spiritual needs of deaf people.

He has recently copublished the first of its kind book entitled, "Eye-Centered," after a study he did for the National Catholic Office for the Deaf. He has also served for six years as chaplain for the International Catholic Deaf Association.

"Proud to be DRUG FREE!"

For yet another year, the Kewaskum District's elementary school will each be sponsoring a "Just Say No Club" for all interested students in grades 3, 4, and 5.

The clubs, headed by Elementary School Counselor Cheryl Taylor, focus on drug awareness and prevention. They also emphasize the positive message that "it's O.K. to say no."

One of the clubs' goals is to raise money through sucker sales to purchase flags and red ribbons for Wisconsin's "Red Ribbon Week," October 14-18. "Red Ribbon Week," endorsed by Congress since 1988, encourages the display of red ribbons to draw attention to the destruction caused by alcohol and other drugs in America. With this year's sucker sales, the clubs' six year combined contribution to the cause should climb over the $1000 mark. Meetings for the "Just Say No Club," will be: KES, Sept. 23; Wayne, Sept. 25; Farmington, undetermined at press time. For more information about sucker sales or the "Just Say No Club," contact Ms. Taylor at 626-2136.

new position with the district is twofold: working with kids having gifted and talented needs, and being responsible for the district's public relations.

"It's an exciting opportunity to do the things I love most--working with teachers and their students, and writing," he stated.

Mr. Casetta has worked with children of all ages, in Wisconsin and throughout the Midwest. He's happy to be in the Kewaskum schools.

Mr. Casetta explained, "The program for students with gifted and talented needs is evolving here. The district already has wonderful activities and staff members in place. My goal is to build on past success--make the program something that can be accessible and exciting for an even wider range of students, teachers, and parents."

Another goal he has is to let the community know the things that happen throughout the school district via press releases to area media outlets.

"There are terrific things happening in our schools on a daily basis: fun events, interesting classes, remarkable achievements." He smiled as he added, "I just hope I can find the time to write it all down."

In the meantime, Mr. Casetta will work throughout the district, but be based at Kewaskum Elementary. He invites anyone wanting more information about the program for students with gifted and talented needs to drop him a note.

TOMATO SAUCE FOR FREEZER Ellie Jalas

Here is the perfect way to save tomatoes for winter.

- 20 large tomatoes, washed, cored and quartered 4 large onions, chopped
- 4 large carrots, pared and shredded
- 1/2 c. parsley, chopped
- 3 Tbsp. sugar
- 2 Tbsp. salt

3/4 tsp. pepper

Put all ingredients in large kettle; bring slowly to boiling, stirring often. Lower heat and simmer 30 minutes or until mixture thickens. Cool slightly, then measure 3 cups at a time into blender, cover and whirl at high speed until smooth, about 1 minute. Pour into freezer containers in serving size portions, leaving 1/2-inch headspace. Seal, label and date. Makes 16 cups.

Using Tomato Sauce: When ready to use sauce, place block of frozen sauce in a medium sized saucepan; cover and bring to bubbling over very low heat, stirring occasionally. Season as you wish.

For a mildly flavored sauce, add 1 teaspoon leaf basil, oregano or thyme to each 2 cups of sauce. Serve over pasta, with meat loaf or in casserole dishes where ever tomato sauce is called for.

Theusch Reflects On Sheriff's Race

by Sharon Callaway Roznik

Now that the primary elections are over, Captain Jack Theusch can relax and begin making plans for his new role as Sheriff of Washington County.

"It was a rather close race, and I'm happy with the results," he commented on Monday. "I believe now we can move forward, and I anticipate working with the community on an even closer basis."

Theusch will begin his new career on January 1st, 1997, after he runs unopposed on the November '96 ballot. He defeated Jim Grover of Hartford 6,997 to 6,337 votes in last Tuesday's primary election, and Grover has announced he does not intend to run as a write-in candidate in November's general elecof Operations within the department, and working to finalize budget figures, which besides the election campaign, has been taking up most of his times these days.

Theusch will be replacing present Sheriff Robert Schulteis, who announced his plans for retirement at the beginning of the year, and served as Theusch's campaign manager.

After 25 years with the Washington County Sheriffs Dept., he sees the need to address some pressing issues, including expansion of the Huber and secured juvenile facilities, and increasing community involvement as the county continues to grow at a record setting pace. "Crime will also be on the rise, so we need to open up communication channels between the community and the department," he emphasized.

Jack and his family reside on a homestead farm built by his grandparents in the late 1860's. They raise between 50-65 head of dairy heifers and work 250 acres (150 rented) of cash crops. His wife, Marcia, is the Economic Development Coordinator for Washington County. The couple have two children, a son Ryan, a freshman at UWWC, and their daughter Erin, who is a freshman this year at Kewaskum High School. He has also served as Farmington Town Chairman for nineteen years.

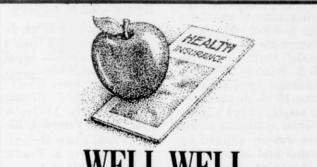

The Washington County Clerk's office announced on Tuesday that the Board of Canvassers will be meeting Friday, Sept. 20th, for an election recount of Kewaskum played a key role in Theusch's success, and he is thankful to the community for being a major supporter of his campaign for Sheriff. "A lot of people here worked very hard for me, and it will not be forgotten," he commented.

For the time being, he is busy trying to clear up odds and ends as Captain starts with beautiful wedding invitations. Come in and let us show you invitations, announcements, napkins, bridal books and accessories

This was possible due to the "brave" parents who helped the children catch their insects and also to Mrs. Gassner, who is now sharing her classroom with the collection, while the children observe as they hatch and grow.

The Wayne Elementary PTO is currently sponsoring a fund drive to replace the old playground equipment on the school grounds. These new apparatuses will replace the old equipment that were becoming unsafe for the children to use, and hopefully they will enjoy many years of use.

The fund drive will consist of profits from various projects done by the PTO and also from donations they are taking from now until October 31. Please drive out and take a look at the new equipment, the children and parents are all very excited to see it progressing.

To buy socks that fit: wrap the bottom part of the sock around your fist. If the sock is the right size, the heel will just meet the toe.

GREENBUSH - One man's junk is another man's treasure. This is the philosophy of Plymouth resident, Lester Eichstedt, owner of a profitable salvage business located at State 23 and County A in the town of Greenbush.

He initiated the operation in 1959 with one truck and has built it up to an 8-truck endeavor with 200 regular customers residing within Sheboygan, Calumet, Fond du Lac and Washington counties.

Yet, the unassuming entrepreneur is quick to discredit himself for having completed only four years of grade school rather than capitalizing on the fact that several years back he was running four separate businesses at the same time.

He follows the philosophy of letting nothing be wasted, convinced that everything, even discarded goods, has a value. Not surprising considering his parents' frugal finances during his childhood years.

Eichstedt is blessed with an innate business sense. Since 1959 he has collected metal - sheet iron, cast iron, finished steel, heavy iron, copper, brass and aluminum cans - hauling these items to three scrap dealers in three separate counties. for a farmer, Clarence Post. Eichstedt's salary in 1933 was $15 per month.

Shortly later he resigned from that job and began working for Straub's mink ranch near Campbellsport for two and one-half years.

He then spent the next several years as an employee of Johannes Canning Factory in Knellsville, near Port Washington, until he was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1942.

"I went to Germany and was in the front line," he said. "I had my right arm and elbow broken in eight places from artillery. One finger on my left had was broken, and I had sharpnel in my chest.

In order for Eichstedt's right arm to heal, it had to be re-broken then reset in a surgical procedure. A nine-month recuperation period in the hospital followed. "They needed my hospital room in Germany, so they sent me to North Carolina," he said.

Following his discharge from the Army Sept. 13, 1945, he returned home to reside with his parents. "I bought a brand new car," he recalled, "a top-of-theline 1946 Chevy Fleetlane."

At this time, 1946, he was working at the Baskin Rendering Plant, Saukville. He learned through a newspaper ad that Art Ludwig, a Campbellsport farmer, wanted to sell his milk route.

Eichstedt purchased the one-truck route, hauling milk in cans to Stella Cheese Co. in Campbellsport that first year. He earned 12 cents per hundred pounds from the farmers and 8 cents per pound from Stella Cheese Co.

In the second year he added another truck, eventually increasing the business to a five-truck operation with four employees and 85 customers. At the peak of his business, he hauled 650 cans of milk. He himself drove one of the trucks.

That year too, he started hauling the milk to 33' LB.

35' LB.

Passini Cheese Factory, in the town of Mitchell. He continued doing so for the next 19 years, until 1966.

He married the late Gladys Kober in 1947. She assisted him with the milk route. (Gladys died in 1993).

"She was a hard worker and drove one of the milk trucks. She would take the load in and unload it," he said.

The couple had two daughters, the late Mary Langlois and Judy Walters, a Glenbeulah resident.)

The couple purchased a 160-acre farm in Mitchell and farmed there from 1947-67.

They milked 45 cows with the help of a farmhand. Eichstedt also hauled cattle to a Milwaukee Stockyard and to Midwest Stockyards, Lomira. He was driving on the milk route too and in 1959 also began collecting and hauling salvage to scrap dealers.

In in the early 1960s he experienced back problems. So, in the late 1960s he sold the milk route, and in 1967, they sold their farm and moved to 417 Western Ave., Plymouth.

But Eichstedt continued his salvage business. In 1970, he purchased the Greenbush farm located one-fourth mile out of Greenbush at State 23 and County A. He rents the farm to another family and stores the salvage he collects on that property until he has a sufficient amount of a specific item to haul to a scrap dealer.

Over the years, he discovered the method of increasing his profits in the salvage business. "I separate everything to get the biggest dollar," he said.

"When I load up stuff at a place, it's all mixed up. Then I take the cast iron off on one pile, the good iron on another pile, the sheet iron on another pile."

Presently, cast iron brings in about $100 per ton and automobile motors about $90 per ton.

The greatest demand in the line of salvage today is for sheet iron.

Due to environmental concerns and to the advent of recycling over the past several years, "things have really changed in the business," he noted. "There is a big demand for these items.

Business has improved every year. I'm picking up the same type of items, but there a lots more of them."

When new customers contact him about picking up salvage, he tells them, "It might be a couple of days until I get there, but I promise I'll take care of you."

Two faithful part-time employees are his grandsons, Jeremy and Jason Roth. "I'm very proud of them," Eichstedt said. "They are hard workers."

It's that same "go-getter" work ethic which led to Eichstedt's success as a small business owner. He says he is a very early riser, sometimes getting up at 3 a.m. to begin his long workday.

He is grateful for having something to occupy his time, particularly because his wife died three years ago, and he is all alone. However, he faces another challenge a battle against cancer.

"I take treatments," he said, "and I take pills morning, noon and night. Once a week I go to Woods Hospital for shots."

Yet, he hangs on to prayer and hope. "At my age anything can happen," he said quietly, tears filling his eyes.

The difference between an itch and an allergy is at least $25.

He has come a long way despite his early setbacks. He was born in Kewaskum in 1918. His parents, Lidia and Art Eichstedt, who worked for a nearby farmer earned only $75 per month. They had seven children.

Due to his parents' insufficient income, he decided to strike out on his own and left home at age 15. He went to work

Letter to The Editor

414 Area Code Decision Needs Your Input

Dear Editor,

Right now, the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin is considering a decision that will have a dramatic effect on telecommunications customers in the 414 area code.

Eastern Wisconsin has joined other areas across the country in running out of telephone numbers due to population growth, economic progress and an explosive demand for communications services. To meet these needs, in 1997 a new area code will be added.

Calls will cost the same after the new code is added. Phone numbers and local callings areas will also be unchanged. So why should you care if a new area code is introduced in eastern Wisconsin? Because at this point, no decision has been made about which customers will retain 414, and which customers will be assigned the new area code.

The Commission is currently looking at two main alternatives... a geographic split or an overlay. With the geographic split as proposed, the Milwaukee area would retain the 414 code, while calling areas north of Port Washington would be part of the new area code. With the overlay method, customers would keep their assigned telephone numbers in the 414 area code. As existing telephone numbers exhaust or new competitive services are introduced within an exchange, numbers in the new area code would be assigned to the new services.

In listening to our customers, we have heard local and clear that they want to retain their existing area code assignments. GTE's service territory is outside of the Milwaukee area and with the split as proposed, the vast majority of our customers would be assigned the new area code. Even with this solution, the Milwaukee area's growth rate is so high that another split would need to occur in a few years. So GTE's initial choice would be an area code split, but with the metro Milwaukee area being assigned the new area code, and the 414 area code being retained by customers outside of the Milwaukee area. That way, it is unlikely that customers outside of the Milwaukee area would be affected by a second split when Milwaukee again runs out of numbers.

Thursday, Sept. 19, 1996

Since that arrangement has been unacceptable to many major telecommunications providers, our second choice would be an area code overlay designed to allow 7-digit dialing to present local and extended area service (EAS) points.

Either of these decisions would allow the majority of GTE customers to retain their present 414 area numbers. This decision is not a technical issue. GTE is prepared to provide the new area code whether the Commission approves a geographic split or the overlay plan.

Our position is that you, the public, have the most right to decide which solution bests meets your needs. The Commission has scheduled public hearings throughout eastern Wisconsin over the next few weeks. The feedback that they receive at these hearings will carry heavy weight in their final decision.

The addition of a new area code is a "good news" story. It means eastern Wisconsin is experiencing unprecedented economic prosperity and more consumers are taking advantage of new communications offerings

-- cellular phones, fax machines, pagers, computer modems, and the like.

As a consumer you need to do three things. First, consider the impact of the decision on your home or business. Second, let your feedback be known. And third, read the material provided to you in the news media and by your communications vendor so the transition to the new area code will be as smooth as possible for you.

Youth Duck Hunt to Be Held on Sept. 21

MADISON -- A spe-cial duck hunt for youths between the ages of 12 and 15 will be held in Wisconsin on Saturday, September 21.

The Department of Natural Resources will waive all license requirements for youth duck hunters on this day, but the youths must have successfully completed a Hunter Education Course, explained Jon Bergquist, DNR waterfowl ecologist.

This will be a superb opportunity for adults to introduce youngsters to the sport of duck hunting in a situation with less hunting pressure and a great chance for success." Bergquist said.

All youth hunters must be accompanied by an adult age 18 or older and each adult may accompany no more than two hunters. All other normal season bag limits, non-toxic shot and hunting hour requirements (hunting hours begin 30 minutes before sunrise) apply. Bergquist also recom-mended that persons planning to participate in the special hunt watch for news of local educa-

Individuals Place Well for KHS Cross Country Teams

The Kewaskum High School boys and girls cross country teams competed in two big meets this past week.

On Tuesday, they hosted the Washington County Invitational at the Hon-E-Kor golf course. Against some very strong competition from the West Bend and Hartford schools, Marni Lynn and Carol Neumann were able to capture All County honors by placing fourth and sixth respectively, with times of 16:54 and 16:57 for the 4000 meter course.

Rounding out the girls team were Emma Chambers (20:29) and Jenny Jagielski (21:04).

For the boys team, David Gildersleeve breezed through the 5000 meter course with a time of 19:45 followed by Danny Wall (22:04), Henrik Lorenz (22:16), David Mertz (23:31), and Chris Weninger (24:40).

On Friday, the teams traveled to Mayville for the Mike Hulbert Invitational. Competing against 20 teams with almost ideal weather conditions, each runner managed to run a personal best time.

Honors again went to Marni and Carol by plac-ing ninth (16:17) and tenth (16:19) respectively out of 200 runners.

Top runner for the boys was Jay Krolnik in 19:57. The teams next meet is this Saturday at the Ripon Invitational.

tional clinics. Some outdoor clubs and conservation organizations are planning the clinics in anticipation of the youth hunt.

"A little classroom instruction followed up by a day in the field really can do a lot to get a new hunter started on the right foot," Bergquist said.

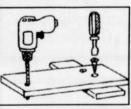

Adults and youth will only be allowed to hunt Canada geese on that day if the season is open in the zone in which they are hunting and if all hunters possess the required licenses, stamps and permits, Bergquist said.

"Since adults may not hunt ducks, there should be extra time to spend observing the youths and sharing pointers that may come as second nature to experienced waterfowlers, but should not be taken for granted, he said.

Safety with both firearms and watercraft should always come first, Bergquist emphasized. Experienced waterfowlers should take extra time to point out prominent features that identify different species and sexes of ducks in flight.

The option to have a youth hunt was offered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and approved by waterfowl hunters at four public hearings across the state.

"This is an opportunity that strongly supports the emphasis DNR Secretary George Meyer has placed on youth outdoor skills as a way to further and preserve Wisconsin's strong hunting, trapping and fishing heritage," Bergquist said.

To avoid splits when using lag screws in soft wood, drill a pilot hole that is one-half the diameter of the screw head.

Mickey poses with some of his friends in Kewaskum Elementary's "Magic Kingdom of Learning."

The "Magic Kingdom of Learning" is the 1996-97 school year theme at Kewaskum Elementary. Mickey Mouse-shaped signs, graphs comparing favorite Disney characters, and displays includ-ing Cinderella's "Magic Kingdom" castle are found throughout the halls as another way to add some "magic" to the school day.

Teachers chose the "Magic Kingdom of Learning" theme last spring, counting on the Disney familiarity and reputation for fun to provide a unique atmosphere for the current school year. In that vein, teachers are encouraged to wear some type of Disney apparel on designated days each month. Plans are also underway to possibly incorporate the Disney/Magic Kingdom of Learning theme into some school events as well.

Last year, a pioneer/ centennial theme was promoted to coincide with Kewaskum's own centennial celebration. Other school year themes have included states and countries.

In an advisory vote at the annual school election Monday, electors of the Kewaskum Community School District indicated they favor returning the $155,000 borrowed for the swimming pool. The vote was 452 to 254 in favor of returning it. A total of 713 persons turned out for the 1 to 8 p.m. election. Electors also approved a 1971-72 totaling budget $1,832,906 calling for a tax levy of $1,391,793 and a mill rate of $21.34. The mill rate is subject to change depending on the amount of state aids which the state legislature will decide upon. The mill rate could drop as low as $19.44. In a five-way race for two three-year terms on the school board, Thomas Gundrum of the Town of Farmington was elected and Richard L. Edwards of Kewaskum was reelected.

A group of Milwaukee investors has purchased the Wunderberg Ski Area near Kewaskum and will operate it next winter under the new name of Sunburst Ski Area. They plan to make about $60,000 worth of improvements before the season starts. Improvements will include three new runs, including a "nursery slope," extension of an intermediate run, improving a trail that will be reserved for racing, addition of five new rope tows (the area now has two, plus a t-bar tow), installation of a small jump on one run to satisfy "mogul hoppers," and remodeling and redecorating the chalet.

Thirteen members of this year's Kewaskum Indians Scenic Moraine Conference baseball team have been awarded letters for the summer season recently completed. The letter winners in-

An excellent season came to a premature end for the Kewaskum Athletics on Sunday as they lost a hard fought battle to the Watertown Cardinals by an 8-6 score.

Four times previously in the playoffs, the A's played in games where the season ended for the loser. Four times Kewaskum sent the opponent home for the season. This time it was the Athletics season that came to a halt with a loss, as the Cards were crowned the 1996 Grand Champs.

Shawn Schneider continued his string of strong mound performances in the playoffs. He went the distance allowing eight runs on nine hits. The difference in the game was the three unearned runs the A's allowed in a difficult first inning as three different players committed errors.

The Athletics found themselves on the wrong end of a 4-1 score following a solo homer by the Cards' Kevin Murphy in the second inning. They answered in a big way in the top of the third inning as they exploded for five runs.

Mark Schlosser singled and Kevin Klahn walked to set the stage for Curt Schroeder's three-run blast which tied the score. Kewaskum quickly grabbed the lead on a sharp double by Doug Gonring and a long homerun by Terry Koth.

Watertown chipped away at the lead with single runs in the third and sixth to knot the score at six. The score stayed that way until the bottom of the eighth, when Kevin Murphy smacked his second home run of the game. Curt Schroeder, Doug Gonring and Terry Koth led Kewaskum offensively. Schroeder collected two hits (including a home run), scored twice and drove in three runs. Gonring doubled among his two hits and scored a run. Koth homered to drive in two runs.

Besides finishing as playoff runner-ups, the Athletics finished third in the Northern Division regular season play. They also finished in the money for the second consecutive year in Class A of the SWABA Tournament. Kewaskum finished with a 16-8 mark in Rock River league play (including playoffs). The A's were 7-5 in Tri-County play and 4-4 in non-league play to give them a 27-17 record overall. League/Tri-County banquet will be held Saturday, November 2, at the Hustisford Firemen's hall. The public is welcome. For ticket information, call Dave Donath at 626-2916 or Ron Theusch at 626-8385.

Indians Nearly Steal Game from Favored Falls

The 2-0 Sheboygan Falls Falcons came to town last Friday night to play the 1-1 Kewaskum Indians in the Conference opener for each team.

Falls brought with them a high-powered offense (123 points in their first two games), featuring runningback David Wulff, last year's conference rushing champion with 1700 yards.

Kewaskum was clearly the underdog going into the game, as the Falcons have been picked to win the EWC this year by most of the coaches in the conference.

In the first quarter it looked like it could be another big blowout for the Falcons as on their third play from scrimmage, Wulff took a handoff through the left side of the line and raced 59 yards for a score.

On the next Falcon possession, Wulff ran for 20, 16 and 22 yards before taking it in from the one yard line to give Falls a 14-0 lead halfway through the first quarter. Wulff finished the first quarter with over 150 yards rushing.

If you left the game early, however, you missed what turned into a real EWC battle. The Indians made some quick adjustments to the defense and slowed the Falcons down for the rest of the quarter.

Meanwhile, the offense started moving the ball in the second quarter and just missed scoring before the end of the quarter as a pass from Kevin Martin just went off the fingertips of runningback Eric Kopecky in the end zone. The half ended with the score 14-0 in favor of Falls.

The second half belonged to the Indians as they stopped Falls on downs on their opening drive and then marched the ball 60 yards on 10 plays, as Kevin Martin ran the ball in from the 15 for a touchdown. Cotter's kick made it 14-7 early in the third quarter.

The Indians moved the ball consistently the second half on drives of 60, 40 and 28 yards, but could not get into the endzone for a final score of 14-7.

Kewaskum had what appeared to be one last chance to tie or win the game as Falls punted with about three minutes left in the game. The Indians started at their own 26 yard line and drove the ball to the Sheboygan Falls 48 before they lost the ball on downs as a fourth down play slipped out of Eric Kopecky's fingers with a minute left in the game.

It appeared that the game was over, as Falls needed only to run out the clock. On a fourth and one at the Indian 43, and 26 seconds left on the clock, Falls decided to go for it.

The quarterback kept the ball and ran for an apparent first down but before he was tackled, Robbie Manthei stole the ball from him and the Indians had one last Martin's first pass was incomplete after which he connected on a ten yard pass to Ryan Rammer for a first down. With seven seconds left, Martin threw a desperation pass into the endzone which was intercepted as time expired.

Kewaskum intercepted two passes, one each by Rammer and Troy Staehler. The Indians ran 25 plays in the second half compared to just 13 for Falls.

While Wulff ran wild the first half with 175 yards rushing, the second half he was held to 45 yards rushing for a game high total of 220 yards on 33 carries.

Kewaskum was led by Kevin Martin with 93 yards on eight carries.

The loss puts Kewaskum at 1-2 overall, and 0-1 in conference play while Falls goes to 3-0 and 1-0.

Kewaskum travels to Chilton on Friday to face the 0-1 Tigers. Game time is set for 7 p.m.
