Odekirks Will Remain Part of Buckskinners Encampment at Kettle Kountry Kolors

The Odekirks as Buckskinners at Kettle Kountry Kolors Family Fun Festival in Kewaskum.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Jack and Millie Odekirk feel most comfortable surrounded by remnants of the past, and their home on Auburn Lake is filled with historical accounts of the making of our country.

"When my daughter visits, she comes through the door singing that tune from the Munsters, 'Their house is a museum,'" Millie remarks, as they scurry about packing the old station wagon for yet another weekend where they can play out their roles as "Buckskinners," joining with other like-minded enthusiasts who gather to reenact history, pre 1840.

Their love affair with the past began when Millie helped research a genealogy book on the Odekirk family, originally spelled Ouderkerk in Dutch. Jack's forefathers arrived in New York around 1630, and a historical account follows the family through involvement in the Revolutionary War, the Civil War, up until the present day.

"I have a muzzle loading gun that belonged to my great, great Uncle Sherman Tuttle, who fought in the Civil War," Jack points out, proudly displaying the prized possession that links his life with the past. Millie adds, "In high school, I hated history, but Jack's genealogy got me going, and now I'm hooked."

The couple first heard about the Buckskinners and their reenactments in 1981, and attended their first "Rendezvous" that same year in Steuben, up in Crawford County. The nationally known group was formed in the mid sixties, started by Muzzleloader enthusiasts, and has grown into a camaraderie of men and women dedicated to authentically recreating the rough and primitive lives of the fur traders during the 1800's.

Camping beneath the Bennington Flag of '76, the Buckskinners dress the part and live the part several weekends throughout the season, beginning in February, when they meet for an indoor Rendezvous in Oshkosh.

"We really don't have much organization, we just hear about them by word of mouth, and at this first meeting they announce all the Rendezvous for the upcoming year," Millie explains.

The Odekirks try to attend about 11 each year, ending with the Buckskinners Encampment at the Kettle Kountry Kolors Family Fun Festival in Kewaskum each October. They'd like to attend more, but Millie and Jack are getting up there in years, "and I've got to have time to come home and wash clothes and take care of the garden," Millie declares.

The Buckskinners camp is dotted with canvas lodges, teepees, wall tents and lean-tos, where colorful characters stroll through the area dressed in leather, fur, feathered caps, and Hudson Bay blankets. "We cook on open fires, and I use iron frying pans, the kind I've used all my life," Millie relates. "I've got a big old coffee pot, antique silverware and knives, and we cook and eat simple, basic foods -- bacon and eggs, pancakes, roast chicken and hams on a

Sheriff's Recount Continues

The controversy surrounding the recent partisan primary election for Washington County Sheriff is fraught with charges that range from fraud to process abuse to the elderly being accused of incompetent voting.

Defeated candidate James Grover called for a recount of voter ballots last week, after losing the election to Captain Jack Theusch by 660 votes. In his petition he stated the decision was based on his belief that elderly voters at the Cedar Ridge Retirement Center and Samaritan Health Center may have been improperly influenced, and the lack of voter turnout led him to question the official ballot count.

Grover's campaign has hired Milwaukee attorney Alan Eisenberg to handle legal matters.

The recount which includes almost 15,000 ballots, began last Friday and may continue through the end of next week, depending on the length and number of interviews and testimonies from election workers and other involved parties.

Members of the Washington County Board of Canvassers include George Nehrbass (R), Rita Etta (D), and Deputy County Clerk Marlene Garbisch. Questions have also been raised by Attorney Eisenberg involving the legality of the board, and a decision made on Thursday by state election board officials replaced Garbisch with West Bend City Clerk Barbara Barringer. Rita Etta has been replaced by Hope Nelson.

However, state officials believe that the legality of the Board of Canvassers would have no impact on the outcome of the election, since they do not touch the ballots.

Grover's investigation into his defeat will include talking to elderly residents of both named centers, questioning poll workers as to the possibility of voters misinformed about straight party voting, and gathering witnesses to support his beliefs.

Meanwhile, Jack Theusch has hired Kewaskum attorney Gerald Kiefer as his attorney. As far as the recount is concerned, as of Tuesday, the spread basically remained the same between the two candidates after recounting the six wards of Addison, Barton, Erin, Farmington, Germantown and Hartford.

The ever confusing situation continues to grow even more confusing as the days go by. Results of the recount will be printed in next week's paper.

Generations of Schleifs trust St. Joseph's Community Hospital as a partner in their family's health. It's where their babies were born. "The care was excellent and the people were wonderful," said Ella of the caring attention her husband Philip received before his death in 1994.

Area communities are getting bigger, but St. Joseph's still has a hometown feeling that means so much, the Schleifs say.

spit."

Jack wears a pair of buckskin pants, a cotton shirt, and his wooden shoes, which reflect his Dutch roots, and is known for his handmade wooden pipes.

"Fur-trading was unique to this part of the country," Jack mentions, pointing out that the French traversed rivers from Montreal, Canada to Prairie du Chien, using the waterways as trading highways. They show off their collection of old maps brought along for public display, especially the children, who are often brought to the Buckskinners' events on class field trips.

"We have three different maps of Wisconsin; this one was drawn up in 1619 from what the Indians told the French by word of mouth, and this 1833 map shows Wisconsin as part of the Northwest Territory," Millie explains. "We have a show and tell on Fridays when a lot of the school children come through."

Each Rendezvous is different, lending to the excitement, anticipation, and preparation. They are held across the state and nation, in towns like Crivitz, Hartford, Crandon, Saukville, Prairie du Chien, and Kewaskum, to name a few. "The three biggest in the state are at Saukville, Prairie du Chien and Hartford," Millie states. "At Oshkosh, there's canoe races, in Cascade, there's a muzzle loading shoot, every one is something to look forward to."

The weekends are filled with wild and burly competitions -- black powder shooting, knife throwing, tomahawk "hawk" throws, spear tossing, wood carving, canoe racing -- at these raucous Rendezvous the hearty Buckskinners show off an array of age old skills our ancestors once possessed to survive. Jack points out that the muzzleloaders they use are replicas, "the originals are too expensive to use," he maintains.

Various craftsmen display their wares, ranging from beadwork and animal skins, to forged iron work, wooden bowls and carvings, knives, even period clothing can be purchased if you're in the mood for buckskin or bulky woolen coats made from blankets. "There's always a blacksmith in the bunch, and they always draw a large crowd," Millie states. "That's where we bought our grill to put over the fire."

For the Odekirks, the weekends mean fun with friends who have earned a lot of crazy nicknames, nightly music around a campfire, visiting a friend's lodge to, "shoot the bull," a Friday night fish fry in town, and a Saturday pot luck. Millie recently bought a handmade dulcimer from neighbor Al Stutzman, and is teaching herself how to play. Jack has always enjoyed wood working, including building his own furniture, but a touch of Parkinson's has kept him from his workbench these days.

Kewaskum's Kettle Kountry Kolors is the end of the season for the couple, who have organized the Buckskinners Encampment along the banks of the Milwaukee River since the festival's beginnings. Last year, they had 23 lodges set up for the event, and they expect a lot more coming to join in this year's Rendezvous.

Now their friends, Willie and Betty Wil-

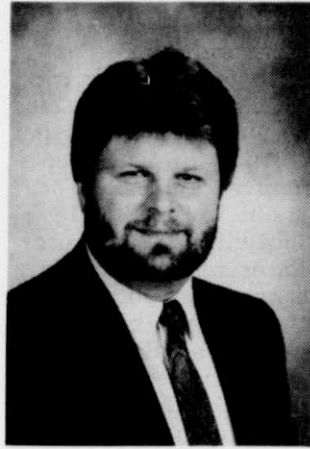

helme will be taking over their job, since Millie also has some medical problems; she battles diabetes and has suffered a light stroke. Last year, the couple were honored at Kettle Kountry Kolors by their fellow Buckskinners, who performed an Elder Ceremony for the Odekirks.

They boarded a canoe and rode past the bridge to a little circle of land, where the peace pipe was passed and a gift was given to this special couple. "It ended up with us all laughing, when one of the ladies fell into the river when she tried to get back in the boat. She had to drive back to Milwaukee for a change of clothes," Millie chuckles.

The Odekirks still live on land that was once a part of a 199 acre parcel owned by Jack's grandfather and father, surrounding Auburn Lake. Most of it has been sold off, and homes now cluster along the shores that were once farmland. Jack is retired from the West Bend Company, and together the couple has raised five children, Kathy, Dave, Carol, Gary and Sharon.

Buckskinners at heart, they plan to continue their weekend Rendezvous, heading out in the early mornings, with the old station wagon loaded down with lodge poles strapped to the top, as long as the car itself. "We plan to keep on going as long as our health holds out," Millie asserts, and invites everyone to stop by the Odekirk lodge to say hello at the upcoming Kettle Kountry Kolors Fall Festival in Kewaskum, October 12th and 13th at River Hill Park.

Town of Wayne Holds Vision Meeting

By Louise Martin

What is your "vision" for the town of Wayne in the year 2010? What do you think the township should look or be like? What are the issues that need to be addressed to reach this vision?

Residents of the town of Wayne were asked to consider these questions and others as the town's Planning Commission hosted their first land use plan meeting on September 10th. Over 100 residents assembled to share ideas in creating the preferred future for the town of Wayne to the year 2010.

The information generated at the vision meeting will aid in the preparation of a survey that will be sent to all town property owners. U.W. Extension Resource Agent, Dan Wilson will assist the town with the tabulation of the survey results.

The Planning Commission recognizes that the development of a land use plan is a monumental task and encourages public participation in the planning process.

Another town meeting will be held in late November or early December when the results of the survey and vision meeting will be shared. Town newsletters will also be sent during the planning process to keep property owners informed.

The town is currently under an 18 month land division moratorium in effect until December 1997 and has contracted with SEWRPC (Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission) to be the township land planner.

Dr. Van Ess Will Sponsor Extra WES Students

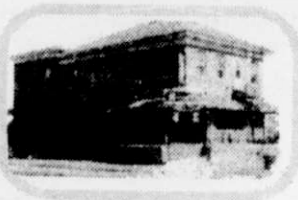

Dr. Stephen Van Ess has volunteered to sponsor an additional 20 students from Wayne Elementary School for the KEYS 5K Walk/Run to be held on Saturday, October 12, at 9:30 a.m.

Dr. Van Ess chose to sponsor additional students from Wayne because his dental assistant, Linda Beske, is the wife of Dan Beske, a fourth and fifth grade teacher at Wayne Elementary. "We would like to see more elementary school students involved in this event," commented Dr. Van Ess.

With this great opportunity for students to participate for free, KEYS officials hope more students and their families will participate.

KMS Principal
Clark A. Pearson

Most Kewaskum residents know the name of Clark A. Pearson. Mr. Pearson arrived as the high school principal in 1972, taught math at KHS from 1984 to 1996, and has had a hand in coaching football and basketball, as well.

Now, as principal of the middle school, the setting has changed, but his educational goal has not: "To treat each student as you would like your own child to be treated."

Mr. Pearson grew up in Wisconsin's Florence County (about 90 miles north of Green Bay, adjacent to Michigan's Upper Peninsula). His teaching career, however, took him further south into the state. Before coming to Kewaskum High School, Mr. Pearson taught and coached in New Holstein, Kiel, and Greendale (where he was also assistant principal).

Along the way, he's even found some time to enjoy hunting, golf, and raising three children: Eric (now 26 years old), Sara (24), and Bret (21).

Currently, Mr. Pearson has been especially excited about an upcoming program at KMS.

"We are working on an athletic intramural program after school for

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of CARNEL KOEPKE, who passed away one year ago, September 28, 1995:

You are not forgotten,
loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we'll miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

Sadly missed by wife and family.

Dear Readers of Washington County,

Do you know how easy it is to get in touch with your state legislator? If you had been at the Hartford Golf Club for the Washington County Republican Women Dinner-WCRW last night, you could have mingled or sat with Senator Mary Panzer, Representative Lolita Schneiders, Mickey Lehman or Glenn Grothman. Campaign reports and discussions were happening with Sue Jeskowitz (State Assembly 24th District) and Mary Schuette (former candidate Clerk of Courts). Last spring the WCRW organized a political carnival at Heidels, Jackson, and for free you could have had popcorn and again talked with those legislators plus Senator Alberta Darling, Representative Dan Vrakas, every single Washington County Courthouse elected official and hopeful candidates. The reason these people attend events, especially the carnival, is to talk to you, listen to your concerns, your compliments and your suggestions in a relaxed, out-of-the-office setting.

We are lucky to have people representing us in Madison, that want to keep their finger on the pulse of the citizens of Washington County. Please let them know you appreciate their effort to stay in contact with us. Volunteer to accompany them while they walk around your district, send money to help them campaign or go to the functions our legislators will be attending so you have the chance to really know them and discover the quality of character of your elected officials.

At the GOP annual brat fry, several of our citizens were discussing some literature they picked up at church that questioned Senator Darling's voting record on pro-life bills. They were able to discuss their concerns with Alberta because they all made the effort to attend this function. The senator explained the "rest of the story" that the literature failed to print and everyone is wiser and happier. Give your legislator, or school district, a chance to explain what you've read or heard before you get to the polls. They would rather be "bothered" than lose your precious vote.

Call the Republican Election office to become part of the exciting Wisconsin for Bob Dole for President campaign team. Phone 306-1155 or fax at 306-1156. The office is located in downtown West Bend at the corner of Walnut and South Main. Remember what it felt like in '92 to wake up and discover Bill Clinton was elected to the White House... let's not put ourselves through that again. Do all you can now to bring lower taxes, common sense, decency, integrity and respect back to the office of the President of the United States and our State Senate, as well as, maintaining the majority so the positive direction the "contract" has lead Congress can be continued. Can you imagine how wonderful it will be when the oval office, the senate and the house are working together to lower taxes, reform welfare and end big government? WOW... but that is a topic for another letter!

Holy Trinity Third Graders Visit Riveredge Nature Center

Mrs. Goham's third grade class of Kewaskum's Holy Trinity School visited Riveredge Nature Center on September 11, to explore natural communities.

The class was transported and chaperoned by first time visitors Father John Brophy, Mrs. Rinzel, Mrs. Cochran and Mark Herriges.

Katelyn Korth, David Timmers, Tamara Baughman, Ashley Cochran, Amanda Bunkelman, and Christina Nitschke concluded that the most important thing about Riveredge is that it is a home for animals, bugs and plants, and that we can learn about the Communities in Fields and Forests there.

Amanda Bunkelman, Brian Herriges, David Timmers and Lora Jo Christie liked catching bugs and studying them. Ashley Cochran liked the plants best.

Brian Timmers, Ashley Feucht, Tamara Baughman and Lora Jo Christie liked the Forest Community best. Lora Jo favored the Forest because there were no BEES!

Ben Schickert was fascinated with picking up a slug in the Forest. He could see his food passing through his body and observed that "He like, turns into a little hill or something."

Bryan Sabel likes going to Riveredge because he likes nature. While there, he caught a slug and a little green bug. David Timmers caught two worms and another bug. He likes the worms the best.

Chad Piwoni enjoyed swinging the big net and catching bugs in the field, but all found it hard to let them go so they could stay in their habitat.

Eric Cain feels that the most important thing about Riveredge is catching bugs which are consumers. He discovered that there were lots of grasshoppers in the Field Community and none in the Forest Community.

Jeff Thull and Amanda Bunkelman liked catching spiders in the cubes. Jeff found his under a rock and let it go.

Matthew Rinzel best liked catching a "sargent" beetle and then letting him go in the Field Community.

Randy Hestiekin found the most exciting thing about Riveredge was getting to look at a worm and a grasshopper inside a magnifying cube - but not at the same time.

Katelyn Korth summed up everybody's discovery that John and Terri, two of the naturalists at Riveredge were great! They helped Ashley Cochran discover that she liked her cocoon best.

Kyle Rieden found it a lot of fun learning from Terri Cooper. She was very nice and he liked going to Riveredge to enjoy looking for animals; he caught a frog and a grasshopper.

The weather was perfect... much was learned... and all had a good time.

The class would like to thank everybody at Riveredge for the opportunity to visit.

KES First Graders Witness Butterfly Transformation

Daniel Lueck jumps excitedly as Mrs. Robrahn guides the new Monarch out of its temporary home.

Mrs. Robrahn's first grade class waits for the newly-emerged Monarch to take to the skies.

"Yay!" cheered the first graders as the final monarch butterfly fluttered into the sky.

For the past several years, Kewaskum Elementary teacher, Jean Robrahn has gathered monarch caterpillars so her first graders could watch the transformation from caterpillar to chrysalis (sometimes mistakenly called the cocoon) to butterfly.

The entire process takes about four weeks, although it varies from caterpillar to caterpillar. Once the butterflies started emerging, however, releasing them became a daily part of the classroom routine.

"This year, we also got to see a butterfly or two actually come out of the chrysalis," offered

Mrs. Robrahn. "It was fun for me and the kids had a blast."

To enhance the real-life excitement of seeing such changes, the first graders also tied in some everyday studies to the caterpillars. Students made booklets about the changing process, caterpillars were counted and noted (29 of 30 caterpillars became butterflies), and even a hallway mural was created.

And, of course, each day, Mrs. Robrahn's first graders gathered outside to cheer the first flights of the new butterflies.

Plastic surgeons can do almost anything with a nose, except keep it out of other people's business.

Bereavement Support Group to Meet Oct. 3

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is sponsoring a bereavement support group Thursday, October 3, to help individuals who have lost a baby during pregnancy or the first year of the baby's life. The free support group is meeting from 7 to 9 p.m. in the hospital's conference room A.

Jennifer Klug, RN-MSN, is the lead facilitator for the group and Kathy Valind, R.N., is a facilitator and trained bereavement support counselor. Both are nurses at St. Joseph's Community Hospital's New Life Center.

The purpose of the group is to offer encouragement and support; women, friends and family members are invited to attend the meetings.

The group meets on the first Thursday of each month. More information about the support group is available by calling the New Life Center at 334-8361.

Yeska Family Reunion Held

On Labor Day weekend, the descendants of Anton and Stella (Paluka) Yeska gathered at the Homestead in Neshkoro, Wisconsin for their annual reunion. The Lord blessed us with beautiful weather, for which we were grateful.

Soon, a "village" of campers and trailers assembled, nineteen in all. On Saturday a feast of barbecued beef, turkey breast, Kewaskum summer sausage (my contribution), and other goodies were enjoyed by all.

In the evening, a square dance caller called the shots and it worked out fine. Even the children participated. Then we did the "hokey pokey," the Virginia reel, and wound up with the Macarena, the latest dance craze.

Us oldies retired soon after, while the younger set enjoyed the campfire where the sparks almost reached the shining moon.

Sunday morning at 11 a.m. we had Holy Mass celebrated by Father Joe Schlaefter with about 60 people in attendance. The Liturgy was arranged by Kathy Luty. After, we went across the road, and sang, "Happy Anniversary" to my sister's neighbors. They were pleased.

On Sunday afternoon, a road rally was enjoyed by some, while others played sheepshead. In the evening, a few of us went to Silvercryst at Wautoma, to celebrate a niece's birthday. The evening also brought talent night.

We had a violin solo by Chris Luty, accompanied by his dad on the guitar. Other song selections were performed by the children and a duet, "Grandpa Tell Us About the Good Old Days," was sung by Mrs. Streit and her daughter. She is with the Sweet Adelines.

My contribution was the following:

Another year has passed of course,
It's 1996.

The Lord has blessed us once again,
Who says age and looks don't mix?

Kempiaks have the chore,
Of handling this shindig.

We're looking forward to the joys,
I know they will be big.
Maybe my letter is lucky,

I'm hoping that it is,
But leave it to Auntie Helen,

In lottery, she's a whiz.
Hank and Lucy are on the go,

With trips and cribbage too,

I try my luck at Bingo,
Could I borrow some from you?

Dot and Tony are looking to Their 50th in '97.

Who says a union that's like theirs,
Wasn't made in heaven?

Millie is holding down the fort,
Since Sonny left the scene,

Son, Michael, living near at hand,
Helps keep her life serene.

I hear he's quite proficient
In CPR they say,

And as captain of the fire department,
Makes for a busy day.

Other members of this family
Have numerous talents as well.

Impossible to name

them all,

We're proud as you can tell.

I could ramble on and on,

This gathering means a lot,

But Polish heritage prevails,

So, I know where to stop.

God bless us each and every one,

As our festivities begin,
Let's make it a humdinger,

As the other ones have been.

Tough Competition for KHS Runners at Ripon

This past Saturday the Kewaskum High School boys and girls cross country teams competed in the tough Ripon Invitational. While the total team scores were not that impressive for the Kewaskum harriers, the individual results were great, according to Coach Drexler. Marni Lynn, top runner for the Kewaskum girls, toured the 4000 meter course in 16:56 for a 3rd place finish overall. Carol Neumann was next, battling for her 7th place finish in 17:21. They were followed by Emma Chambers, 19:45 for 30th and Jenny Jagielski, 20:55 for 42nd.

For the boys team, David Gildersleeve again placed the Kewaskum harriers over the 5000 meter course for a 24th place finish in 19:59. Next came Henrik Lorenz in 21:40 for 35th, David Mertz, 41st in 22:23, Chris Weninger, 47th in 23:10, and Danny Wall 50th in 23:54. Coach Drexler pointed out that "Danny is usually our number two or three runner but he was hampered by cramps during the race and still managed to finish." Chris Weninger was the only runner to run in a personal best for Kewaskum. But as Coach Drexler pointed out, "It is difficult to compare the times from one race to another, each course is laid out differently and has its own unique characteristics." Coach Drexler also feels that "at this point in the season the athletes are progressing very well toward their season goals."

KMS Runners Compete at Home

The Kewaskum Middle School hosted the KMS Cross Country Invitational last Thursday. Competing for the girls in the 3200 meter race were Heather Rieder placing second overall in 15:17, Colleen Gosa, third place in 15:19, and Tina Ketting, fifth place in 16:04.

"These were some very good times turned in by the runners over a demanding course," said Coach Drexler. "It was a new course this year, so we could not compare previous times."

For the boys team, Josh Reposvch "kicked it in" with a great time of 14:51 to take fourth place overall. Brian Wall came in next for the Kewaskum team with a time of 15:34 to place eighth, Paul Mertz was ninth with 15:43, Tim Branta, 12th in 17:20, Darrel Waubeking came in 13th in 17:24, Tony Keeley, 14th with 17:25 and Mark Schrauth was 15th in 17:48.

The meet was won by the Mayville teams, winning both the boys and girls races. Kewaskum placed second. The next meet for the KMS runners will be the Slinger Invitational on Thursday, October 3.

Indians Shutout Chilton, 41-0

Coming off a tough defeat against Sheboygan Falls in the conference opener, the Kewaskum football team came roaring back by soundly defeating the Chilton Tigers last Friday night at Chilton.

The Indians were favored to win this contest, but in High School football, you never know for sure what is going to happen. The Indians took their first possession and drove from their own 35 to the Tiger 10 before loosing the ball on downs.

The Indian defense, which dominated the Tiger offense the entire game, stopped Chilton on three plays and after a short punt, Kewaskum took over on the Chilton 22 yard line. Three plays later, Eric Kopecky scored the first of Kewaskum's six touchdowns from a yard out, and the 41-0 rout had begun. Kopecky rushed for 171 yards on 18 carries as the Indians ran at will against the Tiger defense.

Kevin Martin was the next Indian to put Kewaskum on the board as he ran it in from the seven yard line completing a 66 yard drive. After the Indian defense stopped Chilton's offense, it was the special team's turn to score as junior Ryan Rammer returned a punt 65 yards for a touchdown to give Kewaskum a comfortable 21 point lead midway through the second quarter.

Sean Cotter converted all three extra point kicks before pulling a hamstring and having to leave the game. The Indians were not finished scoring however, as Eric Kopecky scored his second touchdown on a 22 yard run, capping off a 55 yard, four play drive, after a Chilton turnover. With Cotter out, the Indians went for two points, but the run failed.

The second half was more of the same for the Indians as the defense stopped Chilton on three plays and the offense once again went to work. Taking over on their own 45 yard line, the Indians marched 55 yards on seven plays, capped off by Dan Jeserig's 20 yard touchdown reception from Kevin Martin. Martin's two-point conversion run made the score 35-0, Indians.

Anytime a team gets ahead by 35 points or more in a game the continuous clock rule goes into effect (the clock does not stop except for timeouts). With the clock running and Kewaskum playing reserves on both offense and defense, Chilton was able to move the ball but they still could not get the ball into the endzone.

Meanwhile, the offense continued to move the ball, as Jim Kopecky ran one yard for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter. Robbie Manthei also had a 16 yard touchdown run which was called back by a procedure penalty.

For the game, the Indian defense held Chilton to 144 yards of total offense and nine first downs. In the first half, Chilton managed only three first downs and 77 total yards. Kewaskum had 359 yards of total offense including 301 yards rushing.

Head coach Perry Koth was pleased with every aspect of the game especially the defense which shut out the Tigers. "The defensive line did a great job of taking away the fullback," said Koth. He also was pleased with Ryan Rammer who along with returning a punt for a touchdown, had two interceptions.

The win evens Kewaskum's record at 2-2 overall and 1-1 in conference. The Indians who have a bye in conference play this week travel to Manitowoc this Saturday to take on Manitowoc Roncalli. Game time is set for 1 p.m.
